

Two hold-up men 'take' liquor store for $750

Lock cooler on manager

Two black men, between 20 and 30 years of age, held up the Caprock Liquor Store here between 5:30 and 5:45 p. m. Monday and escaped in a light blue late model car with a reported $664 in cash and checks.

The holdup loss included $364 in cash, about $300 in checks, and a pair of eye glasses valued at $90. Mrs. Ollie Stevens, who manages the store with her husband, Roy, said she thought the pair "were kidding" when they entered the store, one of them with a gun in his hand, and told her, "This is a hold-up."

She said the one with the gun wore "a green hat with something around it," but added "about all I saw was that gun." She said one of the two yanked the telephone cord out of the wall. The one with the gun ordered her into the back room after his companion had opened the cash register and cleaned it out.

The one who had gone through the cash register then went through Mrs. Stevens' purse and took some things from it, including about $80. They then ordered her into the walk-in cooler box and shut the door.

"When they came back to the cooler a moment later, I thought this is it," Mrs. Stevens told The Dispatch.

"But they just grabbed my glasses.

"I asked them please not to take my glasses, but they told me they'd bring them back. I hope they don't though. I don't want to see them again."

Mrs. Stevens said the hold-up pair did not know she could get out of the walk-in cooler by opening it from the inside.

"I waited until I was sure they were gone before I came out," she told The Dispatch. "Then I couldn't report the hold-up immediately because the phone was out of order and I couldn't leave the store."

She asked the first customer who drove up to the store to call the police, explaining about the hold-up. The customer drove to the Hudman Texaco Service Station and the police were alerted at 5:50 p. m.

Police Officer Jim Howard, who spent most of the night on the investigation, said a rancher reported to police that a light blue, two-tone car with two blacks in it was in the turn lane on Avenue F to turn east on the Clairemont highway at about the time of the hold-up.

Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman "hot footed" it clear to Clairemont looking for the pair.

Area economic corp. reformed

Jack Alexander, who heads both the Post Chamber of Commerce and the Garza County Community Action Committee, represented Garza County last Wednesday afternoon at a membership meeting of Southwest Economic Opportunities, Inc., in the Hale County courthouse in Plainview.

Southwest Economic Opportunities, Inc., was organized in the fall of 1972 as a economic planning corporation to provide planning and technical assistance for both business and community development of a South Plains group of counties, including Garza.

Glen Thompson, county judge of Cochran County, is president of the organization.

Five counties were represented at the reorganization meeting last week. It was decided to seek to bring the Lubbock area into the organization and to contact SPAG in an effort to start developing a program making use of a large amount of available federal funding in this field.

Mike Cornells in San Angelo

Dr. J. Michael Cornells visited here recently with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cornells, on his way to San Angelo where he has moved with his wife, Becky, and their son, Christopher.

Dr. Cornells, a native of Post and a graduate of the high school here, has completed a four-year residency at Parkland Hospital in Dallas.

Dr. Cornells' practice will be in general and vascular surgery. He is on the staff of St. John's and Shavano Memorial Hospitals.

but found no trace of them. Other law enforcement units were asked to check other major highways out of Post, but the car wasn't seen again.

Mrs. Stevens said her husband was home for supper at the time. "I'm glad he was,"

she said. "If we'd both been there, one of us probably would have gotten hurt. They told me when they took me to the back room I was a calm, brave woman, but I don't know about that."

Officer Howard said one of the two hold-up men was about 5-6 in height and weighed 130 pounds, and the other was about six feet tall and slender.

The officer said the hold-up car was believed to be either a late model Chevrolet or Pontiac.

FREE BARBECUE, FIREWORKS, ETC.

All in readiness for July 4th celebration

Everything appeared in readiness today for Post's sixth annual Free Fourth of July Celebration in City-County Park Thursday.

Earl Chapman, who again heads the barbecue effort, sounded the keynote to the community celebration, when he told The Dispatch Tuesday:

"Everybody wants to help this year. Our cooperation is 100 per cent. It's mighty pleasing to have everybody pitch in together this way."

The celebration officially kicks off Thursday with the 10 a. m. flag raising ceremony which will be in charge of the local VFW post and Commander Gene Gandy.

A variety of club-operated food, drink, and game booths are scheduled to open for a day-long run at the same time.

In the afternoon, the bingo party to raise funds for night lighting of the tennis courts will begin at 1 p. m. and the free entertainment from a flatbed truck bandstand at 1:30 p. m.

Several bands have volunteered their efforts for the celebration.

The park swimming pool will open its regular run at 1 p. m.

The celebration then will be climaxed with a free barbecue with serving of barbecued chicken, beans, onions, pickles and bread beginning at 5:30 p. m. and with a free fireworks display from across "the lake" at dark — about 10 p. m.

Don Pennell and Don Ammons will be in charge of the fireworks.

The barbecue serving — which is expected to draw about 2,500 people — will begin an hour later than usual.

The community celebration is sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce and besides Chamber funds many businesses contribute directly toward the success of the celebration.

Drought gets worse, but disaster sign-ups slow

Garza County's drought continued to deepen this week but cotton farmers were doing just the opposite of breaking down the doors of the county ASCS office here to sign up for disaster payments.

Jim McGehee, county executive director of the ASCS, told The Dispatch Tuesday that between 60 and 65 per cent of the farmers have yet to complete their certifications.

He urged farmers to report their acreages by July 15 or they will not be eligible for disaster payments, deficiency payments, or price support loans.

McGehee said the sign-up business was "pretty slow" at his office.

County Agent Syd Conner said some stockmen are beginning to haul livestock water and others are hauling livestock to market.

He estimated only 8,000 to 10,000 dryland cotton acres planted in the county this year to date, to go with 14,000 to 15,000 irrigated acres, but said there probably wasn't that much left.

Judy Norman is youth director

Judy Norman is the new temporary youth director for the city-county youth center here. Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick, chairman of the youth board, announced Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Norman, who will be a senior at Texas Tech University this fall, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Norman. She has been the first assistant to Joe Giddens in the summer youth program here for the last two years.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick said the summer schedule for the youth center will be from 6 to 10 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday nights, and from 6 to 11 p. m. on Friday and Saturday nights.

1,167 library books for June

At the rate Post Public Library patrons are reading some 12,500 books may be checked out here in 1974 as the library heads into its ninth year of operations.

The June library report this week showed a total of 1,167 books checked out for the month, bringing the total for the first half of the year to 6,178.

No new books were added to the library's shelves for the first time in many months, leaving new acquisitions for 1974 at 309.

Of the 1,167 books checked out for June, 666 were adult books and 501 were for juveniles. For the six months, 4,934 adult books have been checked out and 2,344 juveniles. (Youngsters do more library reading in the summer when not involved with school work.)

Miscellaneous revenue for the month totaled $13.20 with $8.30 in book fines and $4.90 in book sales.

Babe Ruth district tourney set here

The West Texas Babe Ruth League 1974 District Tournament, District 4, will be played on the Babe Ruth diamond at David Nichols Park here beginning Monday, July 8, and continuing through Friday, July 12.

There will be five teams, including the Post All-Stars, in the double elimination tournament, the winner of which will advance to the area tournament in the Babe Ruth League playoffs.

The tournament's opening game will be at 6 p. m. Monday between Brownfield and Tri City, with Lamesa and Post playing the second game at 8 p. m.

Lynn County, which drew a first round bye, is to play the winner of the Brownfield vs. Tri City game at 6 p. m. Tuesday, and in the night's second game, the losers of the Brownfield vs. Tri City and Post vs. Lamesa games play each other.

The eighth game of the tournament, which may or may not determine the champion, is scheduled for 7 p. m. Friday. (See Babe Ruth, Page 10)

ANNUAL BENEFIT SEPT. 28-29

Artists, 32 ropers are to take part in OS event benefit

Group of 38 artists, the group to participate in the exhibit art in the annual O. S. Ranch Exhibit Sept. 28-29, Mrs. Prather announced the artists will be from the O. S. Ranch for the year. The field for the OS Roping also was announced by Mrs. Prather. The field of Silverton will be defended this year as the 1972 winner.

The preparations for the OS Roping and art exhibit are moving steadily along. Much of the work is concentrated on the catalog for the year. It will go to press in the future. John Meigs of Reno, N. M., is writing the biographies for the artists this year.

pick-up found Justiceburg

Abandoned Rancho pickup was stolen Tuesday in Abilene, was found in a pasture 27 miles from Justiceburg last Friday. Sheriff J. A. Holleman told The Dispatch.

John Boren spotted the pickup and reported it to

This is to report some "good news."

Railroad installers have been working for about 10 days now on installing the new automatic crossing gates at the Santa Fe's Main street crossing.

The last we heard, which was about a week ago, they hoped to have the gates up and in operation by this weekend.

Another "good news" item. We guess it is not really news, but just our own observations.

It's that the city and county law enforcement arms are meshing very well. They are working together, respecting each other, and getting the job done.

We know The Dispatch's No. 1 story today is about the armed liquor store holdup. But both the police and sheriff's department are working on this together, and it wouldn't surprise us any if they get just a little luck to see them "break the case."

Post and Garza County are like a lot of small cities and rural counties. They have their share of "law problems" and there is a considerable turnover from time to time in law enforcement personnel.

But right now, the situation here looks good to us. Things have settled down. There is a more quiet air of professionalism. And cases are getting solved.

Police Chief Jim Trulove and his officers and Sheriff Holleman are "getting something going" which we think the folks in both city and county will like.

Trio caught in stolen car

Three white local juveniles, under 16, are in Garza County jail following their apprehension last Wednesday night by Scurry County sheriff officers and state highway patrolmen near Snyder in a Plymouth Fury II which had been stolen less than an hour before from Mike Ayala's home in Mill Village here.

Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman told The Dispatch all three youths recently were involved in the burglary of the White Auto Store and two of the trio had been involved in other recent local burglaries.

The trio was apprehended in the stolen car after a son of Ayala's saw his father's car driven up to US-84 and turn south toward Snyder.

In addition to the preaching by Bonner and the singing by Campbell, there will be special music and testimonials. Accompanists for the crusade will be Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick on the organ and Mrs. Boo Olson on the piano.

A nursery will be provided at the First Baptist Church for children through three years old.

A breakfast for all men of the community is scheduled for 7 o'clock Sunday at the First Baptist Church, according to the general chairman. He also said the evangelist and evangelist-singer will be in the Sunday morning services at the First Baptist, which are broadcast over radio station KPOS.

BOLL WEEVIL PROGRAM
The High Plains area has been designated as part of the first of nine target zones in a national boll weevil elimination program, planned for full implementation in 1975.

The overall plan involves the elimination of the pest by properly integrating the use of various techniques that have already proved successful in controlling the insect.

This year, previous to the implementation of the program, growers are being urged to participate fully in a voluntary production - diapause program.

"The work of the High Plains people in their already existing weevil control program has put them a long way ahead in preparing for the national eradication plan," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

For the past 10 years, the High Plains Cotton Growers Association has each fall employed a diapause control program along and below the Caprock, geared to prevent the pest from going into hibernation and surviving the winter.

Some $1 million has been spent yearly on the High Plains control program, with the aid of matching funds from the USDA and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

While money is collected from 27 counties for the program, 20 of those counties don't have a boll weevil problem at all but consider payments as an insurance policy against infestation.

Estimated cost of the nationwide program is $654 million for a ten-year period.

"Members of the High Plains Cotton Growers Association can be proud of their very successful program of containment," White commented.

"If the thoroughness of the planned national elimination program along with local determination are any indications, we may be reaching toward a time in Texas when we can say goodbye to the boll weevil," he added.

White cautioned, however, that the burden of the nationwide effort will still be on the local farmer.

"The federal government is not simply going to come in and take over. We will still be responsible for the bulk of the work, but for the first time, on a nationally coordinated basis," White said.

In the first year of the actual elimination program in a zone, in-season control by cotton growers in all fields will be mandatory.

Included in techniques planned for coordination to eliminate the pest are the use of attractant chemicals, the introduction of sterile weevils to suppress populations, and effective use of available insecticides.

Farming control techniques include fast harvesting and timely stalk destruction or plow-down soon after harvest to minimize the number of weevils that go into the physiological hibernation state called diapause.

Elimination of the boll weevil, aside from sharply reducing the cost of cotton production, would also be an environmental aid by dramatically cutting the amount of insecticides used nationally.

Listening Post

By GEORGE L. MILLER

Every good book has to come to an end. The only story I know that keeps on going is the TV Soap Opera. (And that's what I can't forgive them for — nothing ever ends on the darn things!)

Now I reach the end of my column.

It was about time I quit anyway. Now that the library has come of age and Pee Wee is doing so well as the full-time librarian, I don't know nearly as much about the goings-on down there as I used to. I've been getting out of touch.

And since we're so well established there are more and more of you who use the library regularly. You don't need "The Listening Post" to tell you what's going on in the library. You can see for yourself.

But it's been fun reporting the library news these past years. Working with the library kept me in touch with the things I love most — people and books. I've made new friends with both.

I'm mighty proud of the library. I've said before it's the number one success story in Post, and so far I haven't heard anybody disagree. This remarkable little library made a name for itself all over the state with accomplishments that no other library has been able to match. It's been easy writing a column about it, it's always made headlines breaking records and exceeding goals. Everybody likes a winner, and that's what I've been privileged to write about.

Now I have to say "The End". I take many memories with me as I leave Post, and the library will be one of the brightest. Not only has it given me countless hours of personal reading pleasure, it gave me a civic project that was worth every minute I ever spent on it.

To you who worked so hard to help the library grow, I say again, "Thank You." To you who have used the library, and will continue enjoying it, I say "Lucky You!"

And finally, to all you friends who have kept up with our library by reading "The Listening Post" I say "Boy, am I going to miss you!"

Happy reading, everybody!

Postite, others hurt in collision

Adrian Cook, 35, of Post, and James K. Applewhite, 56, of Tahoka, who were injured in a car-pickup collision Saturday afternoon at Loop 289 and the Slaton Highway, were still in Methodist Hospital Tuesday morning, but both were reported in satisfactory condition and expected to be dismissed soon.

More seriously injured in the accident was Mrs. Kate Vandlingham, 47, of Lubbock, who underwent surgery at St. Mary's Hospital and later was admitted to the intensive care unit in serious condition.

STRETCHING MOISTURE
Home gardeners can follow certain practices to "stretch" available moisture, points out a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Use a good mulch at least two inches deep around shrubs, flowers and other plants. Soak the soil to a depth of 6 to 10 inches when watering. Apply fertilizer, insecticides or fungicides to plants only when the soil is moist. Cut the lawn one-fourth to one-half inch higher. Take care of lawn and garden work early in the morning or late in the afternoon.

Babe Ruth crown is riding on one game

White Sox, with slim odds, are riding on one game to win the Babe Ruth League crown Saturday night.

The Sox scored their first inning run on back-to-back doubles by Bratcher and Kent Craig.

There was no more scoring until the third inning when the Braves plated five runs to make the score 11-1. The runs came on a walk to Greene, a single by Davis, a fielder's choice, a walk to DeLeon and doubles by Pete Morales and Jeff Williams.

The White Sox got two runs in the fourth when Raymie Holly was hit by a pitch, Shedd reached first on an error, Mike Holly walked and Donnie Greathouse doubled.

The Braves padded their lead with single runs in the fifth and seventh frames, while the Sox got one in the fifth and four in the sixth.

Dan Sawyers started on the mound for the Braves and went the distance. He yielded nine hits, including two doubles and a single by Greathouse.

The Indian-Southland game was a wild one before the Indians finally won it, 18-13. The winners out-hit Southland, 10 to 6, but 13 bases on balls and three hit batsmen helped keep the losers in the game.

Southland led 2-0 after one inning, but the Indians went ahead to stay with five runs in the second inning and six more in the third. Southland scored eight runs in the third, then came back with three in the fourth, after the Indians had scored two, to knot the score at 13-13. That was all the scoring for Southland, however, with the Indians getting two more in the fifth and three in the sixth.

Roger Mullenix was the winning pitcher, with Ricky Sanchez relieving him in the sixth. Southland used three pitchers, Sherman Daugherty, John Sertuche and Frankie Valdez, with the latter being charged with the loss.

Of the Indians' 10 hits, Quinonez got three of them and Bryan Compton and Kyle Duren two apiece. Nathan Wheeler got two of Southland's six safeties.

In Friday evening's doubleheader, the Braves beat Southland, 11 to 7, in the first game and 16 to 5 in the second. In the first game, Eleno DeLeon, who relieved starter Jimmy Odom in the first when Southland scored five runs, was the winning pitcher. Frankie Valdez was the loser, relieved by Compton, who relieved him in the second inning. Shawn Scott led the Cub batters with three hits in four official trips, with Virgil Morris getting two hits.

Southland could manage only two hits off Kent Craig in the White Sox' 17-0 win. Both of them came in the third inning on singles by Frankie Valdez and Sabel Rodriguez. Craig fanned six batters in the five-inning game.

The White Sox got 12 hits off three Southland pitchers, including a home run and a double by catcher Ronnie Bratcher. Shortstop Raymie Holly and second baseman Mark Shedd each got two hits, with Kelly Baumann, Ray Curtis, Kent Craig, Mike Holly and Donnie Greathouse also getting hits for the winners.

Deer hunters in Texas have good season

AUSTIN — Hunters in Texas brought home more than $16.5 million worth of venison during the 1973-74 hunting season, according to statistics from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Hunters killed 10,260 mule deer and 366,033 white-tailed deer.

The average mule deer weighed 90 pounds when it was field dressed and produced an estimated 45 pounds of boneless meat.

White-tailed bucks averaged 78.5 pounds field dressed and produced approximately 39 pounds of boneless meat, and white-tailed does averaged 56.6 pounds field dressed and produced about 28 pounds of boneless meat.

Based on the price of ground chuck beef ($1.20 per pound) at the time of the hunting season, the mule deer meat was worth $554,040 and the white-tailed deer meat was worth $16,013,738.

The department estimates there were 50,000 bow hunters and 560,000 firearms hunters during the last deer season. The estimated mule and white-tailed deer population during the hunt was 3,622,000.

Lubbock district of Pioneer Natural Gas has new manager

AMARILLO — Joe L. Price, former manager of Pioneer Natural Gas Company's operations in the city of Lubbock and presently manager of the company's Odessa district, has been named manager of the Lubbock district effective July 1.

In the announcement, Larry R. Shortes, company vice president and manager of Pioneer's West Texas Division headquartered in Lubbock, said that Price would be replacing the late John Sims in the Lubbock position.

Price, who has been with Pioneer since 1950, has held various managerial positions with the company since he began his employment in Plainview. He was named district manager of the Brownfield district in 1957 and later became district manager at Big Spring. In 1968, he was transferred to Lubbock to become manager of distribution operations in the city and was named district manager at Odessa in January, 1973.

Wilke-Wright vows pledged in Church of the Nazarene

Lillie Pauline Wilke and Jerry Dean Wright pledged their vows June 28 at 8 p. m. in the Church of the Nazarene, 1001 E. Perkins, uncle of the bride, of Ropesville, Tex., officiated the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. R. B. Wilke of Ropesville and Mrs. Cullon O. of Maljamar, N. M. The bride wore a formal gown of white organza, fashion- with lace ruffles at the neck, and a U-yoke in the front. The top of the dress was capped with a lace cuff. A-line skirt featured three tiers of lace encircling the waist. A matching lace edged full length veil of nylon so you can wash it if the flappole breaks. I mention this because it (the flappole) looks a little flimsy to me.

Other than that, it is a fine flag and if you would like to have one like it, it came from the "Horchow Collection" and I would be glad to loan you my catalog.

Tips for Consumers

By PAULA CAWTHON
Asst. Co. Ext. Agent

Retail beef prices probably will not go any lower, although beef continues in relatively large supply. There are frequent advertised specials on many cuts, so this is a good time to do a little extra buying for the freezer — look for best values on round steaks and roasts, beef liver, ground beef, chuck roasts, and steaks. Pork values include hams, picnics, end-cut loin roasts and chops, Boston butts, shoulder roasts and steaks. Fryer chickens and turkeys take the bargain spotlight in many markets, and grade A, large-size eggs offer economy and quality.

Turning to fresh fruits and vegetables, items in good supply at most reasonable prices are sweet corn, squash, snap beans, okra, carrots, dry yellow onions, cushaws, black-eye peas, radishes, green onions and cabbage. Also Valencia oranges, bananas, cantaloupes, honeydew melons, watermelons, and Santa Rosa plums are in good supply. Apricots are in peak supply this month, although quantities are small, and prices are generally high.

Consumer Watchwords: Quality and prices will vary on cherries, plums, pineapples, peaches, white grapes, nectarines and strawberries. Make these selections carefully.

Adult Citizenship Seminar scheduled

WACO — A number of county Farm Bureau leaders from over the state are expected to attend the first annual Adult Citizenship Seminar here July 16-17, sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau, according to J. T. (Red) Woodson, TFB president.

The state farm organization has sponsored a citizenship seminar for high school students the past 11 years and is this year adding a session for adults, Woodson said. He explained that the Adult Citizenship Seminar is being planned because of widespread demand for such an affair patterned after the highly successful young peoples' seminar.

CROP INSURANCE
Due to the high cost of getting a crop in the ground, crop insurance may soon become a necessity, believes an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. No commercial companies write "all risk" crop insurance in Texas, but such type of insurance is available in 84 counties from the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. Its main purpose is to protect farmers from a total crop failure, so the amount of coverage available is limited.

Potluck by Rosemary Chapman

I've just been reading a new library book by Marie-Louise Mastai called "The Stars and the Stripes" which deals with the American flag as art and as history from the birth of the Republic to the present. It is truly a beautiful book and since the Fourth of July is just around the corner, you might want to try it soon. It will bring your patriotism to a fine pitch!

After years of meaning to, Earl, the kids and I finally got around to buying a flag of our own last week. It came with a golden eagle for the top of the flappole and the flag itself is made of nylon so you can wash it if the flappole breaks. I mention this because it (the flappole) looks a little flimsy to me.

Other than that, it is a fine flag and if you would like to have one like it, it came from the "Horchow Collection" and I would be glad to loan you my catalog.

chickens with and Mike Sanchez and the city crew have already taken the 20 barrels that Burlington Industries gave us for trash clean-up to the park.

Our two chief chicken cooks, Rutsy Dean and Gene Gandy, are laying plans for the big day and their chicken cutter-uppers, Tim Pettyjohn, Joe Neal Clary, Kurt Chapman and Gregg Pollard are hoping to break last year's record of cutting up 1,130 chickens in one hour and 15 minutes.

Jack Hair and Billy Joe McKamie are cooking the beans and lucky Ann Greer is cutting up 150 pounds of onions. She could probably use some help — call 2929.

Shirley Storie is certainly collecting some interesting prizes for the tennis bingo. A string of Ada Lou Bird's trade beads and silver jewelry from Judy and A. J. McAlister's "Southwest" shop should be enough to make anyone want to play. If not, there's always Gene Hayes' two free Mexican dinners and Charles McCook's free office call, etc., etc., etc. Step right up, ladies and gents!

Charles Tubbs is Shirley's favorite person this week. He couldn't think of a prize to give so he came up with a cash donation. These are always acceptable. I am supposed to remind you.

Testing food at the Band Booster, Post Art Guild, Xi Delta Rho, and Holy Cross Church booths is where I plan to spend most of my time Thursday evening. For some people, the Fourth of July is never complete without a stomach ache.

All in all, it sounds as though another good celebration is shaping up — Post being nice to Post! Our only problems last year were (1) running out of chicken and (2) children throwing firecrackers at people. Earl took care of the first (we hope) by ordering 1,350 chickens and I, personally, will take care of the second. The first horrible little child who throws a firecracker at me will get his head smashed in.

POST VISITORS — Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Butler were their daughter, AIC Rifalynn B. Tudbury (above), and son-in-law, Sgt. John L. Tudbury III. Sgt. and Mrs. Tudbury are with the U. S. Air Force and have been assigned to Karamursel in Turkey where he is with the Security Police and she is with the Security Service. During their three-week visit in Post they toured the local countryside by motorcycle, visiting places of historic and geographic interest and visiting friends here and in Slaton and Lubbock.

Cafeteria director attends state meet

Johnnie Willson, director of the Post school cafeteria, attended the National School Food Association convention in Dallas June 17-20.

The purposes of the organization are (1) to improve the health and education of the school children through nutritionally adequate and educationally sound, non-profit school food service programs; (2) to maintain and further develop high standards of school food service; (3) to develop between school personnel and the general public such united efforts as will assure for every school child adequate school food service programs; (4) to promote interest in the recruitment and training of school food service personnel and to improve and protect their status.

At the breakfast and second general session, the Post School Food chapter was presented a certificate and gavel.

Mrs. Willson also attended the House of Delegates meeting.

Born of a Revolution, this country began with a pledge: liberty and justice for all. Now . . . nearly 200 years later . . . we, the American people, are still striving for these goals. It's easy to find fault . . . but it takes dedication and unity to bring about change, as our forefathers did.

We have the freedom now to do it peacefully. Let's celebrate that freedom and honor our nation for what's been achieved. Then let's join together with a renewed sense of purpose.

Accident victim is home after month in hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wartes' guests this weekend were their children and grandchildren, the Ronnie Neeley family from Fort Worth. They will be visiting the rest of the week, the Glenn Hill family from Plainview, the Charles Stahl family from Wolforth and Allen Hill from Lubbock. Also Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Waters from Crosbyton. Some of the grandchildren will naturally have to stay at grandma's most of the summer — off and on.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McGehee just returned from Bandera where they visited a niece, the McCuiston's. Bandera is close to Kerrville and they said it was really nice and cool.

Tommy Lumsden has had his three children visiting him. Rita, age 13, Bobby, age 9 and Jeffery, age 8, will be going home this week. Tommy is the bookkeeper at Hackberry Co-op.

Judging team finishes high

Garza County's 4-H livestock judging team tied with Mason County for third place in competition at the state-wide Texas Junior Hereford Field Day in San Angelo last week. The Garza County team had to settle for fourth place, however, when it lost the toss of a coin to determine the third and fourth place teams. The Caldwell County team was the first place winner.

The competition was close, according to County Extension Agent Syd Conner, with only six points separating the four top teams.

Members of the Garza County team are Cindy Bird, Andy Williams and Tony Conner.

The local grants were among 50 approved by the governor totaling $7.2 million.

Group elected to seek pastor

The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church last Sunday morning following the worship service elected a pulpit committee to seek a new pastor to succeed the Rev. George L. Miller, who will preach his final sermon here Sunday morning.

Named to the committee were Bob Macy, Earl Chapman, Maury and Tiana Shiver, Giles and Nelda Dalby, Bob Arheiger, Dr. Charles Tubbs and Bobby Macy.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and children are moving next week to Weatherford, Okla., where Mr. Miller will become campus pastor at Southwestern Oklahoma University.

Babe Ruth —

 a ninth game is necessary, which will result if neither of the teams is undefeated after Game 8, it will be played after the conclusion of Game 8.

The district tournament here is for Babe Ruth League players who are 14 or 15 years old. The tournament for Babe Ruth teams of players 13 years old is to be at Brownfield July 15-19.

One night last week, local Babe Ruth League officials, parents of some of the players, managers, coaches and other volunteers worked at the local diamond to get it in shape for the tournament starting Monday.

SEPTIC TANK CARE

Home septic tanks can handle sewage properly if they are installed correctly and receive regular maintenance, says an agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It's important that the tile drain field is long enough to allow complete absorption of effluent by the soil. A grease trap between the kitchen sink and septic tank helps the overall system. A grease trap needs cleaning at least twice yearly. Sludge should not be allowed to accumulate higher than within 12 inches of the discharge pipe. Septic tanks need a yearly inspection although cleaning may be necessary only every two or three years. Avoid using harsh cleansers as they will destroy the bacteria needed to decompose organic matter.

FEWER COWS, MORE MILK

Texas dairymen have culled their herds by some 8,000 cows, but they expect to produce about 30 million pounds more milk and butterfat during 1974, reports an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. With continued good prices, total income from dairying should increase from $261 million last year to about $300 million in 1974. But feed costs have increased 47 per cent while the prices received by dairymen have increased only 30 per cent. That's a net loss of 17 per cent.

Good records necessary for coming farm census

Farmers and ranchers, get ready for the 1974 Census of Agriculture! Keep good records of your farming operations this year! This is the request of the Bureau of the Census, the federal agency that will conduct the 20th nationwide Census of Agriculture during the first part of 1975. The bureau is part of the U. S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration. Farmers will receive their report forms by mail early in January. They should fill them out and mail them back promptly. Having accurate and detailed records will make it easy for farmers to do this. Questions will be much like those in the last previous agriculture census which covered farming and ranching during 1969.

Questions will ask for acreage of cropland harvested; quantity and market value of major crops produced; acres irrigated and means of irrigation; acreage treated with pesticides, lime and other chemicals; acreage fertilized by kind of fertilizer (dry, liquid, gas).

Questions on livestock and poultry will cover the number of each kind on the farm as well as the number sold and the sales value. Quantities and sales value of their products will be sought.

Details will be requested about farm products produced or marketed under contract. A few questions will be included about hired and contract labor, the number of workers and cash wages paid; also about any injuries to workers.

Further expenditure questions will cover amounts spent for feed, fertilizer, pesticides, lime, gasoline and other farm fuels, machine hire, and livestock and poultry purchases.

There will be questions about the various types and uses of land, such as cropland not harvested, other pasture and woodland, and about the value of land and buildings on the farm.

Operators will be asked about farm related income such as recreational services, custom-work provided other farmers, or payments for participation in Government farm programs.

Two types of report forms are being prepared: one for farms with sales of $2,500 or more, and another less detailed form for places with sales of less than $2,500. No matter which form a farmer receives, he need answer only those questions that apply to his operation. He should skip questions that apply only to other types of agricultural operations.

By federal law, every report is confidential. It may be seen only by sworn census employees and may be used only for statistical purposes. The mail method reinforces confidentiality. It also allows the farmer to complete the report at his convenience with accurate information from his records.

LETTERS To the Editor

"MISUNDERSTOOD"
 I am writing this for another reason, too. I didn't know I was telling anyone how to dress, how to raise kids or what music to listen to. I hope no one else misunderstood my letter. If you did, I am sorry. I was only stating a fact, that is true, but I most certainly wasn't telling anyone what to do. I don't have the right.
 The most important thing I want to get straightened out is, no I am not trying to take our Lord and Savior's place. He is so great only he could forgive my sins. He died on the cross for my sins. Only he could do that. I don't think anyone could really give their life for other people's sins. And as for me comparing myself to him — oh, no, I would never.
 As I wrote in the second paragraph of the letter that caused so much trouble, I was in sin; I committed a lot of sins; Jesus forgave me. I am a new creature, but no I am not the Lord and Savior because he knew no sin, he was holy. Jesus, when he was on this earth for 33 years, never committed a sin. I wish I could say that, but I can't. But my sins are all covered by the precious blood of Jesus. He gave me a new life, a new reason for living, something worth living for.
 I might add if anyone doesn't like what I write, don't read it. And as for this man, he is my cousin; I love him.
 Why can't I express my opinion? Everyone lets people know the way they live anyway, why can't we write about it? There are more beer bottles up and down Main Street every morning than there are in the wet part of town. I love this town and the people in it or I wouldn't care if we had a Crusade or not. I wouldn't care where we all spend eternity if I didn't love them.
 The Lord knows my heart and knows why I wrote another letter. He knows, and I know, I mean no harm and no ill feeling to anyone.
 Thank you,
 Mrs. Jane Hair

If you did, I am sorry. I was only stating a fact, that is true, but I most certainly wasn't telling anyone what to do. I don't have the right.
 The most important thing I want to get straightened out is, no I am not trying to take our Lord and Savior's place. He is so great only he could forgive my sins. He died on the cross for my sins. Only he could do that. I don't think anyone could really give their life for other people's sins. And as for me comparing myself to him — oh, no, I would never.
 As I wrote in the second paragraph of the letter that caused so much trouble, I was in sin; I committed a lot of sins; Jesus forgave me. I am a new creature, but no I am not the Lord and Savior because he knew no sin, he was holy. Jesus, when he was on this earth for 33 years, never committed a sin. I wish I could say that, but I can't. But my sins are all covered by the precious blood of Jesus. He gave me a new life, a new reason for living, something worth living for.
 I might add if anyone doesn't like what I write, don't read it. And as for this man, he is my cousin; I love him.
 Why can't I express my opinion? Everyone lets people know the way they live anyway, why can't we write about it? There are more beer bottles up and down Main Street every morning than there are in the wet part of town. I love this town and the people in it or I wouldn't care if we had a Crusade or not. I wouldn't care where we all spend eternity if I didn't love them.
 The Lord knows my heart and knows why I wrote another letter. He knows, and I know, I mean no harm and no ill feeling to anyone.
 Thank you,
 Mrs. Jane Hair

I am writing this for another reason, too. I didn't know I was telling anyone how to dress, how to raise kids or what music to listen to. I hope no one else misunderstood my letter. If you did, I am sorry. I was only stating a fact, that is true, but I most certainly wasn't telling anyone what to do. I don't have the right.

PLENTY OF WATER

Once considered too dry to support extensive agriculture, Nebraska in fact lies over great groundwater reserves, National Geographic says. At least 40,000 shallow wells and many storage reservoirs irrigate more than 5,000,000 acres.

GUESTS OF YOUNGS

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jurd Young in their home at Two Draw Lake were their sons and daughters-in-law, William and Ruth of Lubbock and Shirley and Margie and children, Tammy and John, of Midland; their grandson, Erwin Young, and wife and their four children, and Deann Woods of Lamesa and Gerald Craig of Tahoka.

Will journalism ruin us?

Like many other holders of public office, State Rep. W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah likes to turn his guns on the press when something turns up concerning him that perhaps shouldn't have been going on.

Last week, the story broke that the state has paid $2,404 for charter airplane trips Healy has made since the Constitutional Convention, to which he is a delegate, began in January.

Healy is entitled to travel expenses between Austin and his district, but, according to the Associated Press, one charter flight for which the state paid was from Paducah, Healy's hometown, to Lubbock. Another trip, costing $331.50, was from Lubbock — outside his district — to Austin.

In answering the charges, Healy said charter airplane flights are the only sensible way for him to travel between Austin and Paducah and that he can't get home and back unless he does fly.

Healy said a lot of other things, too, but we are mainly concerned with the AP report that he reiterated his charge that "half of the Capitol press has relatives on the state payroll," and then added that three things are going to ruin the country, "socialism, communism and journalism."

Our comment on that is that the only way journalism will ever ruin the country is for the press and other news media to stop letting the man in the street know what is going on. — CD

1874 too long ago for us

The Dispatch editor and County Judge Giles Dalby "got together" via telephone one day last week and agreed that a news release from the office of Agriculture Commissioner John C. White would have made a good story for The Dispatch if Garza County was 30 or 40 years older than it actually is.

Both The Dispatch and Judge Dalby had received copies of the release, which began with: "Farmers and ranchers in Garza County whose families have held the same land since 1874 or before will be honored by the Texas Department of Agriculture's 'Family Land Heritage Program'."

The program, which will be initiated July 1, will "pay tribute to those families who have proved their respect for and dedication to the land," White said.

What really "killed" the story was the requirement set forth in the news release that "the land must have been in use for agriculture by the family since 1874 or before . . ."

There just wasn't any land in such use in what is now Garza County in 1874. Either Commissioner White or someone in his office needs to brush up on their Texas history as it pertains to this particular area of the state. — CD

Why no bat champ trophy?

Now that the summer youth baseball seasons are at an end except for the playoffs, The Dispatch wishes to add its thanks to those of league officials for all the help received from adults in the way of umpiring, score-keeping, grounds-keeping, announcing, etc.

Several hundred youngsters here are eager to play baseball every summer, but it would not be possible for them to do so except for the direction and other assistance received from their elders.

Special thanks are due sponsors, managers, coaches and league officers. Except for attempting to write accurate reports of the games from the scorebooks faithfully brought in or sent in two or three times each week by the score keepers, we didn't contribute anything to the operation of the baseball program. But that doesn't keep us from wondering why the Little League didn't award a batting championship trophy this year instead of two sportsmanship trophies.

We are sure both youngsters who received the sportsmanship trophies deserved them, but it appears to us that the league batting champion this year also deserved a trophy, since each of the previous years' batting champions has received one. — CD

Reminder to dog, cat owners

The best way pet owners can help solve the city's stray dog problem and at the same time help prevent an attendant and much more serious threat, that of rabies, is to bring their dog or cat to the rabies vaccination clinic on the City Hall parking lot Saturday, July 13.

While the possibility of rabies and of humans being bitten or otherwise infected by a rabid animal exists the year-round, it is more prevalent in the summer months, which may, or may not be, the reason one period of the summer is known as "dog days."

After the animal is vaccinated at the clinic here, vaccination tags and licenses will be available. So, by having their pet vaccinated, owners not only will be helping keep down the threat of rabies, but they will also be abiding by a city ordinance that requires the vaccination and licensing of dogs. — CD

Our contemporaries say . . .

With the increasing costs of driving our cars, we sometimes wonder if we can continue to afford it. The costs of operating a car includes, besides gasoline, such items as license, insurance, repairs, and depreciation. Most of us forget that a very large percentage of this cost goes on even while the car sits in the garage. — Bridgeport, Ill., Leader.

OUR CAT Blackie isn't on the program at Thursday's July the Fourth celebration, but, as the picture shows, he's writing a speech anyway, just in case a speaker doesn't show up at the whinging.

The man up the street says going to a party with your wife is like going on a hunting trip with the game warden.

AN ENGLISH newspaper, The Manchester Guardian, reports of an accident happening to a construction worker in the British West Indies. In a letter to his employer, the worker gave this account of the accident:

"When I got to the building, I found that the hurricane had knocked some bricks off the top. So I rigged up a beam with a pulley and hoisted up a couple of barrels of bricks."

"When I fixed the building, there was a lot of bricks left over. I hoisted the barrel back up again and secured the line at the bottom, and then went up and filled the barrel with the extra bricks. Then I went down to the bottom and cast off the line."

"Unfortunately, the barrel of bricks was heavier than I was and before I knew what was happening the barrel started down, jerking me off the ground. I decided to hang on and halfway up I met the barrel coming down and received a severe blow on the shoulder."

"I then continued to the top, banging my head against the beam and getting my fingers jammed in the pulley. When the barrel hit the ground it busted its bottom, allowing all the bricks to spill out. I was now heavier than the barrel and so started down again at high speed."

"Halfway down I met the barrel coming up, and received severe injuries to my shins. When I hit the ground I landed on the bricks, getting several painful cuts from the sharp edges."

"At this point I must have lost my presence of mind because I let go of the line. The barrel then came down, giving me another heavy blow on the head and putting me in the hospital. I respectfully request sick leave."

The tallest tale of the week: It really rains in Arkansas. One time one of the creeks got so high you could see under it.

THE FARMLAND NEWS reports on solutions to energy shortages as suggested by pupils from an elementary school in St. Louis.

How do these grab you? "Don't drink so much water, then you won't have so much humidity in you and you won't feel the heat so bad."

"Let birds fly around the house to keep the air circulating."

"Play records of real blowy winds and sleet and stuff and shake jingle bells before the news every hour."

And then winter comes, how about trying these? "Lower people's body temperature to 68 degrees."

"Make it a rule that there has to be at least two people in every big bed that uses an electric blanket."

"When beds aren't in use take the blankets and put them around the room to help hold the heat."

"Put more hot sauce in the food."

"Don't have so many days of school."

And these were recommended for any season:

Give free ear plugs to everyone so if somebody starts talking about how hot or cold he is, nobody has to listen."

"Eat more carrots so we can see just as good with less light."

"Dip everything that's made in stuff that glows in the dark."

"Don't stay in more than one room at a time."

Who can argue with this advice?

I'm cutting this short because The Dispatch is coming out early for the July Fourth holiday. I'll see you at the park Thursday.

MESQUITE SPRAYING
Low volume aerial application of herbicides can cut costs and still be as effective as standard dosages in controlling mesquite, according to a brush control specialist for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Low volume spraying can reduce the use of diesel oil by 6 pints per acre and water by 18 pints per acre compared to conventional four gallon volumes. This greatly reduces the cost of brush control work.

HEIGHTS of FAITH

By Edgar L. Fox

... Whatever you ask in prayer, believe that you receive it, and you will. Mark 11:24

By putting a curse upon the fig tree, Jesus taught his disciples to have faith in God. They marveled at the sudden withering of the tree, and Jesus said, "If you have faith and never doubt, you will not only do what has been done to the fig tree, but even if you say to this mountain, 'Be taken up and cast into the sea,' it will be done. And whatever you ask in prayer, you will receive, if you have faith." (Mt. 21:21,22)

The highest and biggest mountain I know anything about, so far as man is concerned, is the mountain of self. Dwight L. Moody said, "I am my own worst enemy." I can say the same about myself. Perhaps "self" is one mountain Jesus talked about.

In the Scripture for today, Jesus said that if we want to receive what we pray for, we must forgive one another. When the mountain of self is standing there, it is pretty hard to forgive another or to confess our mistake and ask forgiveness.

Since unbelief and lack of forgiveness hinders victory, let us have faith in God and in each other, and forgive one another.

Prayer: O Lord, forgive our selfish ways. Lead us into greater heights of faith so I may better do your will through Jesus Christ. Amen
