Big enrollment in youth summer recreation here

With 171 youngsters registered by Tuesday and another 30 to 50 girls expected to sign up this week for softball league play, the youth summer recreational program is off to a great start.

Joe Giddens, director of the program, reports this is the second largest number ever to sign up for summer recreation in the history of the program.

Registration was held Saturday morning. More registered Monday despite the Memorial Day business holiday and more signed up Tuesday.

The two girls softball leagues won't get play started until next Monday evening.

The two leagues will play one game an evening, Monday through Thursday beginning at 5 p. m. at "TW Park."

The sign "TW Park" which hangs atop the backstop at the new ball park just south of the high school gym was Giddens' idea.

The T stands for Jodine Tipton and the W for Mike Waldrip, the two high school youngsters who put the park into first class shape in May as a health class project.

Arts and crafts are back in the recreational program this year, due to better city-county funding, and have drawn big classes.

Just about everything offered in the way of recreation has drawn an enthusiastic response from the youngsters, Giddens reports.

The recreation program is conducted mornings only, except for the evening girls softball, and will last six weeks through July 7.

Giddens is busy getting the softball teams organized and practicing this week in advance of league play. He already has six women volunteers for team managers and he says he understands there are sponsors who will provide team caps for each team in the competition.

The city also is putting in a water line at the softball park, Giddens reports, to aid thirsty ball players and fans.

Dee Justice at Mason & Company has something well worth dropping in to look over — Add Jones' historical picture collection of this area. Dee has all the framed photos hanging on the west wall of the store and it takes a bit of time to look them all over. A lot of folks haven't had the opportunity to see the Justiceburg pioneer's picture collection — and this is a fine opportunity.

The automated kind of trash containers are starting to arrive in Post on a load a day basis. City Manager Pete Maddox told us yesterday. He has received four loads in the last four business days. Pete expects to finally have the city's order filled in another 10 days if deliveries continue at the present rate. The new containers now are being placed in the residential areas so stay alert for their arrival in your neighborhood.

We haven't heard what is going to happen to all the trash cans, but the city ought to offer to pick them (See Postings, Page 12)

Swim pool is now open

The city-county swimming pool opened Saturday for the summer season with Mark Bevers and Jay Kennedy in charge of pool operations.

The pool will be open six afternoons each week, being closed Mondays.

Hours are 1 to 6 p. m. Tuesday through Saturday, and 1:30 to 5:30 p. m. Sundays.

Admission charges are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for youngsters 12 and under.

Kennedy will announce next week plans for the first of two summer sessions of swimming lessons.

Rotarians hear 4-H winners

The Post Rotary club Tuesday got a "dress rehearsal look" at Garza County's district 2 representative in the Texas 4-H Roundup at College Station next week in the "Share the Fun" competition.

"The County Five and Company" presented their state number, as well as several others, at the civic club's Tuesday luncheon in the Post Community Center.

The Country Five is composed of Amy and Lisa Cowdrey, Mark Short, Tommy Reed and Steve White with the Company being Belinda Fluitt, Jerri Blacklock, Brent Mason and Barry Tyler who act out in tableau form the songs the County Five sings.

Rotarians also heard Serree Jerden of Tahoka, the district's public speaking representative, give her patriotic talk.

The farm and ranch management team of Karen Perkins and Dana Bird which will also go to the state round-up had a schedule conflict and could not appear on the Rotary (See Rotary Club, Page 12)

Joint session held on center

The city council and the county commissioners court held a joint meeting last Wednesday afternoon to seek an understanding concerning responsibilities for operations of the Post Community Center.

Prior to the meeting, Mrs. Maxine Marks, who holds a management position in the federal aging program here, resigned her position on the community center board.

The vacancy is expected to be filled with the city council and commissioners court agreeing on a replacement for Mrs. Marks.

District Legion head in Memorial Day talk

District Four American Legion Commander Harry Riggs of Plainview told a small turnout for Memorial Day services in Terrace Cemetery Monday morning that American war dead "bought the eternal quiet and beauty just as they bought freedom for another generation in crisis for mankind, for America and for the dignity of man."

In his talk he quoted General John A. Logan, who 109 years ago proposed the custom of a "day" to honor America's honored dead, as saying, "Let no ravages of time testify to coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and individual republic."

Andy Stelzer, VFW Commander, presided over the brief 10 a. m. services jointly sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

The Rev. Gene Prevo gave the invocation.

Taps were played by William Halford and Kelly Baumann. The benediction was given by the Rev. Tom Pass.

Those present were asked to take and place flags on the graves of veterans buried in the cemetery.

Gold Star Mother Mrs. Tom Henderson placed the symbolic flowers at the flagpole marker.

Preceding the Memorial Day service in the cemetery, the VFW served its annual Memorial Day breakfast free to all comers.

Wynn Stewart to sing here Friday

Wynne Stewart, nationally known country singer, will come to Post Friday night for two family night concerts in the Post Community Center which are being sponsored by the Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce.

The success of the concerts, starting at 8 and 9:15 p. m., will determine whether or not other entertainment stars will be booked into the center in the future.

May moisture here was 3.02

Post got a lot of flash and noise out of an early morning thunderstorm yesterday to get June off to a damp start, but had totaled only .06 of an inch of moisture up to 8 a. m.

Last week, including last Thursday night's thunderstorm, Post officially received only .35 of an inch and 1.9 of that was recorded on May 23.

All told, official rainfall here for May totaled 3.02 inches.

As for temperature, Post is still awaiting its first 100 degree day, although it got mighty close Memorial Day when the Monday high was 99 degrees.

Stewart will appear in concert with Weldon Reed and the Solid Country, well known area band.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for children 12 and under.

The Women's Division will operate a soft drinks refreshment stand during the concerts.

During concert intermissions, one square of dancers from the Lubbock Square Dancers club will perform.

Any profits from the concert, as far as the women's division is concerned, will go for community projects. What they would like to be able to finance would be a lighted marquee for the community center on which community events could be advertised.

One of Wynn's top tunes is "It's Such a Pretty World."

He's been singing publicly since he started out in church at the age of five and once operated the Nashville Nevada Club, the home of country music in Las Vegas, but gave it up to get back to singing on the road.

He particularly likes to sing in small towns.

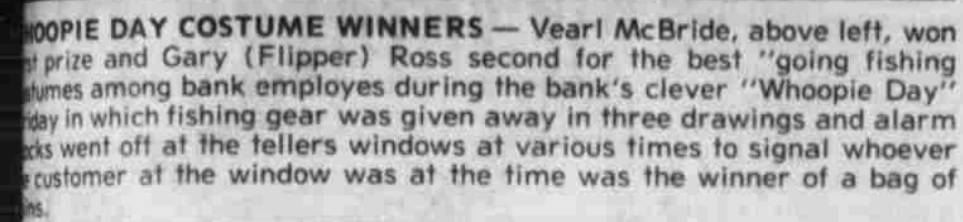

That's why Post is fortunate enough to book him.

Shepherd rites here Tuesday

Funeral services for Otis G. Shepherd Sr., Grassland community farmer, were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in the First Methodist Church here by the Rev. Ed Porter, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Grassland.

Shepherd, who was 74, was pronounced dead on arrival at the Lynn County Hospital in Tahoka Sunday. He had been a resident of the Grassland Community for 58 years.

Survivors include his wife, Annie Mae; three sons, Otis Shepherd, Jr., and Clyde Douglas Shepherd, both of Post, and Billy Mack Shepherd of Midland; three daughters, Mrs. Mamie Lee Burdick of Houston, Mrs. Joann Marie Whitaker of Phoenix and Mrs. Melba Jo Smallwood of Slaton; two brothers, Truman of Post and Bruce of Levelland; seven sisters, Mrs. Rebecca Babb and Mrs. Louzell Chandler of Post, Mrs. Verna Hester of Fort Worth, Mrs. Bernice Lawson of (See Shepherd, Page 12)

8 scholarships given at commencement

Eight of the 68 members of Post High School's 1977 graduating class found some of the best surprises had been saved for last at commencement in Antelope Valley Friday night.

They were the scholarship recipients. Eight and their names are: Tom Shiver, scholarship recipient from the Educational Agency for the tuition in any supported university for freshman year.

Mark Kirkpatrick and Tom Shiver, freshman scholarships from the Post Council of Church and Colleges, if either or choose to enroll at one of the member institutions.

Patrick qualified as top scholar in class and as valedictorian and Miss Shiver as salutatorian.

Jodine Tipton, academic scholarship for $150 from State University.

Kyle Duren, scholarship from Post faculty.

Hope Johnson, scholarship

from Garza County Benefit Association.

Steve White, Gamma Mu Scholarship.

Carita Wood, the Ella Mae Hudman Memorial Scholarship.

Perry Rogers, Xi Delta Rho Scholarship.

Tom Lewis, junior high instructor selected by seniors to give the commencement talk, advised the graduates to "get right with God."

Lewis said the America he reads about in history books with its great religious strengths and ties "is not the same America I see today."

"We are a nation that has turned away from God. We are a nation that is in a state of moral decay. We run to our churches on Sunday and give 'lip service' to God but we don't want to hear about (See Graduation, Page 12)

The other first division winner was Steve Shedd also a junior, in baritone solo.

Morrow's first division rating in oboe solo was the first to be won by an Antelope band musician.

Tiana Shiver received a Division II rating in flute solo and won a second place medal for her flute solo.

Kerri Pool received a Division III rating in twirling. Dana Giddens was given a Division III in flute solo; and the flute trio composed of Patricia Posey, Tiana Shiver and Dana Giddens received a Division III rating.

Accompanying the Post contestants to Austin were Georgie Willson and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Stringer and two children.

3 Div. I ratings in state music contest

Post won three first division ratings at the state UIL music contest in Austin Monday with David Morrow, a junior, winning two of them in oboe solo and tenor solo.

For the second consecutive year, Morrow also was

Conrad Ryan is reappointed here

The Rev. Conrad Ryan has been reappointed as pastor of Post's First United Methodist Church.

He was among 205 appointments announced Tuesday night in Abilene for the 66-county Panhandle and South Plains area at the 68th session of the Northwest Texas Annual Conference.

Charles Hastings was named to the Southland Church.

Legion post to take over remodeled home

James Cole Post No. 270 of the American Legion, reactivated in the last year, will be back in its remodeled home next Thursday following a 9:30 a. m. ribbon cutting ceremony that day in which Boy Scout Troop 318 will present the building back to the post.

Mayor Giles McCrary and City Councilwoman Maxine Marks will participate in the festivities.

The scout troop has repaneled the inside of the building and a new kitchen has been installed after the building was reroofed last year.

The Scouts as a fund raising project will serve a public lunch Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the post home, beginning at 11 a. m., for $1.50 a plate with a big menu including meat loaf, fried chicken and Mexican food. The meal will be served through 5 p. m. all three days.

The Legion post plans to rent the building for private parties as a means of post income and interested persons should contact Matt Matthews at 495-9936.

The post also is initiating a series of Thursday night public bingo parties beginning at 8 p. m. with the first one next Thursday night. The scout troop will serve from the kitchen throughout the party for those wishing dinner.

Dispatch Editorials

Starting the third decade

After 20 years running the same weekly newspaper, we don't think it is any longer necessary to make some editorial promises about what is planned for the 21st year.

If we haven't proven, one way or the other, what we can do in the first 20 years, so be it.

When we came to Post 20 years ago and bought The Dispatch from Eddie Warren, we came because we wanted a newspaper of our very own, and The Dispatch was what we could afford.

In the last 20 years we have had no reason to regret the decision. Newspapering is one of the best lives we know — providing one likes to work at it. There is considerably of that involved.

Small town life is the best in the world if one lives in the right small town. And we do.

When we got our original mortgage paid off, we borrowed some more and put it back into new equipment for the newspaper.

When we retire the present notes at the bank, there probably will be something else worth investing in for The Dispatch.

What we believe in most is trying to put out a darn good newspaper.

Self-help beef program sound

When cattle raisers start registering across the nation next week and then vote on the beef referendum in July, they will be trying to establish a self-help program for beef the cotton producers already have working for themselves successfully.

The cotton raisers not only have a checkoff system for promotion, market research and development, but it is working so well it wasn't so long ago they voted to increase the ante per bale to make an obvious good thing better.

The Beef Research and Information Act now will permit the beef producer to do the same thing for his product and virtually every beef organization in the country is solidly behind the plan.

The Dispatch views it as the answer the cattleman has been looking for without governmental controls to stabilize his market and probably reduce the wild price fluctuations which are so devastating today.

All segments of the beef industry would contribute .3 of one percent of each beef sale voluntarily and the dissidents could get their money back simply by asking for it.

The program, controlled by the beef industry all the way, would provide funding for research, market development, and advertising. States which already have been councils wouldn't be shut out either. The council would get some operating money for themselves.

The bottom line is that the program would work for the benefit of the entire American beef industry. It should not only enlarge the market but stabilize it and develop it.

Tom Middleton, the Garza chairman of the organization promoting the beef referendum effort, has really gone to work on this and deserves the full support of Garza big and solid cattle industry.

Starting Monday through June 17 let's get a good registration at the ASC office. And then vote your convictions in July in the referendum itself.

This newspaper has no doubts about the outcome of the referendum if sufficient registration interest can be established. The program is well organized, sensible and sound.

The cattlemen are a remarkably independent breed, but they realize there are times they must stick together and work for a common goal, just like an old-time cattle drive.

So far, so good on lake

So far, so good on the proposed Post Lake.

Lubbock voters showed no significant opposition Saturday to the initial water bond outlay which in a few years will total something like $88 million and within five will double their water bills.

Hardly anybody in "Tech town" even bothered to vote. It was an expected ho hum thing.

But politics being politics, it was significant that the leading Lubbock minority organizations actively supported the water bond proposal. Since the water bonds will be paid off out of water revenue — at least at the start — one could have expected a little opposition from the poorer areas. But it didn't happen.

In fact, the built-in "no vote" was not even significant in any of Lubbock's Saturday propositions. Everything passed.

Nothing was shot down.

As for the water samples from the Justiceburg site, it is expected they will be no worse than what Lubbock is receiving now from Lake Meredith. It won't be as good as White River water but then neither will the Post Lake's water supply.

The fact remains that Lubbock waited too long to plan ahead for a permanent water supply. When they finally got around to it, there wasn't much left in the way of a choice. Justiceburg is a good long way from Lubbock but within the same radius, to our knowledge, they have no other choices.

You have to get off that Caprock and down into canyon and cattle country to build lakes. And a very few of them have a sufficient drainage area.

Now we wait for the water quality tests — and time for official Lubbock reaction.

Remember When

10 YEARS AGO
David Newby and Harold Lucas, co-chairmen of Chamber tourist committee complete arrangements to show world's only sextuple oil well as new tourist attraction; both houses of legislature pass bill without dissenting vote to permit establishing of Garza Hospital District with its own taxing power providing majority of voters within district approve its creation; twenty-six Post teachers off for summer school, ten to Texas Tech; for those complaining of local heat, Mrs. W. O. Smith reports that her son, Ensign Third Class Weldon Joe Smith wrote that the beach on which his LSC is based in the Vietnam War zone had a temperature of 132 degrees recently; engagement of Sharla Faye Pierce to Jimmie Wayne Wells is announced with wedding date set for Aug. 26.

15 YEARS AGO
Post school trustees unanimously decide to offer voters school integration as the only way to prevent a big tax boost; Chamber president J. B. Potts named to city council to fill vacancy left by death of Councilman Roy Baker; County Judge J. E. Parker wins another four-year term in squeezing by Lee Bowen's late campaign challenge by only nine votes in Democratic runoff; city receives only second measurable rain of year when .82 of an inch falls during thunderstorm; Piggly Wiggly store manager, Paul Jones in two-page ad pushes strawberries at 19 cents a pint, avocados and roasting ears for five cents each, Armour's sliced bacon for 39 cents pound, fryers for 29 cents a dozen.

25 YEARS AGO
Rodeo was really "big" in 1952. The 11th annual Post Stampede Rodeo draws 14,500 fans for four performances; city, business firms, and industries furnish 35 trucks and haul tons of trash from city to dump to very successful city cleanup day Wednesday. The truck was called the "trash express." Miss Nelda Floyd and Giles Dalby exchange wedding vows in First Baptist Church Monday night and flew out of Lubbock Tuesday for a honeymoon in Florida and Puerto Rico.

HAS HEART ATTACK
Clarence Gunn, local school board member, suffered a heart attack Friday afternoon and was taken to Methodist Hospital. He is reported to be improving and was moved from the Cardiac Unit to a private room Tuesday. He is in Room 809 West.

AUSTIN — The 65th legislature is winding down, with most of its major finance chores unfinished but with significant legislation clearing both houses at a fast clip. As the last week of the session began, lawmakers had still to accept a conference committee's version of a $15.4 billion 1978-79 state budget. They also had yet to resolve differences between the House's $700 million school finance bill and $373 million teacher pay raise measure and the Senate's $820 million wrapup of both subjects. Among issues on which both houses came to terms were the bill to bring Texas unemployment compensation laws in line with federal statutes. The measure also increases maximum unemployment benefits from $63 to $84 a week (with an escalator feature to cope with inflation). Its passage assures Texas employers of retaining $600 million a year in federal unemployment program tax credits and retains $60 million in administrative aid to Texas Employment Commission. The legislature has also passed and sent to the governor a bill to grant Texas motorists an exemption from insurance and drivers license "penalties" for speeding violations in the 55-70 miles per hour category. Major casualties of the legislative session may be bills dealing with property tax reform and the medical malpractice crisis. A variety of law and order compromise bills are finding their way through the legislative maze to Gov. Dolph Briscoe's desk.

Agencies Merged
Merger of three major state water agencies has legislative approval. The consolidation act (SB 1139) combines the Water Development Board, Water Rights Commission and Water Quality Board under a new three-member State Department of Water Resources. The six-member Water Development Board, effective September 1, will exercise legislative functions of the merged department. An executive director will handle administrative functions. A three-member Texas Water Commission will exercise judicial functions of the department. Veteran Texas Water Quality Board Executive Director Hugh Yantis Jr. acknowledges an interest in heading the big new agency.

Universities Reappointed
Briscoe picked Rudolph Garza Jr. of Corpus Christi for the Texas A&I University board. Charles A. Hallmark of Houston was Briscoe's new selection to the Credit Union Commission, while Jimmy R. Williams of San Antonio was reappointed. E.B. "Tex" Mayer of La Grange replaced Elo J. Urbanovsky of Lubbock on the Texas Conservation Foundation. Beeman Fisher of Fort Worth was assigned another six-year term on the Texas Turnpike Authority board of directors. All three members of the board of regents Texas State University System whose terms expired this year were reappointed. They are Mrs. Edward A. Clark of Austin, Lee Drain of Dallas and James L. Powell of Fort McKavett.

Courts Speak
A divided Supreme Court held in a 5-4 decision that a divorce court cannot award one spouse's separate property to the other. The high court upheld lower court findings in favor of a Dumas family doctor in a $626,000 suit alleging malpractice. A $75,835 judgment against the state in a case where a highway department truck injured a woman near Mexia was upheld by the Supreme Court. The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the burglary conviction of a Bryan man who complained officials took a blood sample from him and used it as evidence. The Court of Criminal Appeals also threw out the life sentence given a young Dallas man for killing a Dallas policeman and upheld the death penalty assessed another in the shooting death of an Atascosa County deputy sheriff.

Short Snorts
The bill increasing the penalty for prostitution — for both buyers and sellers has passed both houses and gone to the governor. Edward Muegge "Buck" Schwetz of DeWitt County was selected by the legislature as Texas State Artist May 1, 1977-April 30, 1978. Jack Cowan of Aransas County will have the honor for 1978-79.

Appointments
Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Bill Wallace Jamar Jr. of Brownwood, Edwin Bruce Street of Graham and A.M. Willis Jr. of Longview (reappointment) to the North Texas State

Al O'Brien will head Brazos study group

WACO — The Planning Advisory Committee of the Brazos Basin Water Quality Management Study, in its initial meeting, elected officers and committee members and called for public participation in the development of a water quality management plan for the Brazos River Basin and adjacent coastal areas.

A total of 77 persons attended the first meeting in Waco. The group included interested citizens as well as 41 members of the Planning Advisory Committee.

The committee elected Henry Turner of Dublin as chairman, R. W. Butler of Bryan as vice-chairman and Dewey C. Cox Jr., of Ranger as secretary.

The committee divided the 4,000 square mile Brazos basin into three subdivisions and elected Mayor Benny Howard of Richwood as chairman of the lower basin subcommittee, Mayor Richard Crowe of Buckholts as chairman of the middle basin subcommittee and Al O'Brien of Spur as chairman of the upper basin subcommittee.

Members of the committee from this area are besides O'Brien, manager of the White River Municipal Water District, include Mayor Giles McCrary of

Patsy Sanderson to receive 4-H honor

COLLEGE STATION — Two area 4-H leaders will be among 28 in Texas to be honored at the State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University June 8.

They are Mrs. Patsy Sanderson of Post and George Sides of Rt. 4, Dimmitt. The two leaders will be recognized at a special luncheon as the top adult volunteer leaders in District 2 of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H. Each will receive a special plaque provided by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation, the service organization for 4-H in the state.

Mrs. Sanderson has been a leader for clothing, recreation and crafts in the Post Girls 4-H club for the past 11 years. She has provided extensive leadership in such areas as recreational skills, clothing selection, construction and care, modeling and grooming, and responsibility and cooperation.

The Garza County 4-H leader has personally trained many young 4-H'ers and has also trained adult leaders to provide for more expanded leadership in 4-H project areas. Mrs. Sanderson often drives many miles to bring 4-H members to workshops or other 4-H activities, and has conducted are acceptable to the people they are to serve.

Expanding on this objective, Chairman Turney said, "The purpose of establishing sub-committees is to help provide for more effective local participation in the planning program by holding sub-committee meetings in regions with common economic and geographic characteristics." "We hope," he said, "that members of the public throughout the Brazos Basin and adjacent coastal areas will become involved in this planning effort since the plan, as a schedule for significant future public expenditures and as a guide for protecting our precious water resources, will affect the future lives of every citizen within the planning area."

The Brazos Basin Water Quality Management Plan is being prepared by the Brazos River Authority, under contract with the Texas Water Quality Board, as a part of a statewide program being carried out pursuant to regulations of the Environmental Protection Agency for implementing Section 208 of the 1972 Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments. The proposed work schedule and procedures for developing the plan for the Brazos area, which stretches from the New Mexico border to the Gulf Coast at Freeport and is larger than the state of Tennessee, were explained and discussed at the initial meeting.

Sides, a Castro County farmer, has been a leader for rifle, livestock and fund-raising projects for the Bethel 4-H club for seven years. Through his efforts, youth have gained extensive knowledge in rifle safety and livestock management and have learned how to work together in projects to reach a particular objective.

Sides has an active part in many 4-H activities in Castro County, including the 4-H Council, Junior Leader programs, barbecues, concessions at various events, and the spook house at Halloween.

The farmer serves as chairman of the Castro County Program Building Committee and is also active in church and community activities. He teaches Sunday School, is chairman for fund-raising for the Dimmitt Project Farm, and is a member of the Federal Land Bank Board and the Dimmitt Agri-Industries Board. He is also active in the Bethel Community Organization.

Quilt exhibit for museum

SNYDER — More than 65 quilts and coverlets will be included in a special exhibit scheduled June 5-26 in the Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College.

The museum is open each weekday and from 1-5 p. m. on Sundays, and the public is invited to see the quilt exhibit and other museum exhibits without admission charge.

This is the first time the museum has scheduled an exhibit devoted entirely to quilts, and more than a month has been spent in gathering the items to be displayed. Viewers will see some old, well-known patterns along with some original designs. One of the original designs was made from a geometry book diagram which fascinated a young girl so much that her grandmother worked it into a quilt for her.

There will be some quilting demonstrations and a Victorian Crazy Quilt will be sold to the highest bidder with proceeds to go to the museum.

Cobb-Turner vows exchanged in Dallas

Miss Nancy Elizabeth Cobb and Michael Vaughn exchanged wedding vows Saturday, May 21 at 7 p. m. in the Elam Road Baptist Church of Dallas.

The Rev. James Clayman of Mansboro, Tex., officiated the double ring ceremony with the church decorated in white, candles and the bride's candle.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Leo Cobb of Irving, Tex., and former Dallas residents, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Harper of Dallas, Tex., formerly of Albuquerque, N. M., sister of the groom.

The bride wore a gown of candlelight sheer, fashioned with a scoop neckline, long puffed sleeves, trimmed with imported lace, seed pearls and tiny buttons at the lace cuffs and down the back of the gown. The skirt fell from the empire waist into a long train edged in the imported lace. The gown was designed and made by the bride and her mother. Carrying out the tradition of something new, her gown; something old, a friendship ring given to her mother by the late Mrs. C. M. Voss; something blue, her garter, something borrowed, the six pence in her shoe, a gift from her cousin the late Rev. Wimpy Harper of Africa. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of apricot rose buds, white daisies, baby's breath and apricot ribbons.

Mrs. Cheri Foster, of Richardson, Tex., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Julia Clayman, Dallas, Mrs. Lori Andrews, Irving, and Miss Sandra Turner of Albuquerque, N. M., sister of the groom were bridesmaids.

Flower girl was Pamela Foster of Richardson, niece of the bride.

Candles were lighted by D'Lea and Melisa Nichols, of Irving, nieces of the bride.

Roby Bass of Duncanville, served as best man. Groomsmen were David Verhoven and Ricky Cagle of Dallas, and Phil Foster, brother-in-law of the bride.

Wedding music was provided by Jim Kelly of Dallas on the piano and Mrs. Phil Crenshaw of Lubbock, formerly of Post on the organ. They accompanied Miss Clayman as she sang "If," Randy Cobb, brother of the bride as he sang, "He Loves Me" and Mrs. Randy Cobb, sister-in-law, as she sang "Evergreen." Randy also read a scripture from First Corinthians.

Groomsmen served as ushers.

A reception followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Carter High School in Dallas and attended Dallas Baptist College as a nursing major. The groom is a graduate of Kaufman High School and attended Dallas Baptist College. He is serving with the U. S. Navy stationed in Portland, Oregon. The couple will reside

Vegetables quality, prices are better

COLLEGE STATION — Fresh vegetable quality and prices are better overall, fruit counters offer reasonable prices in spite of "slim pickin's" and beef prices are slightly higher at Texas grocery markets this week, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Claytt.

The consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System reports the buying situation as follows:

FRESH VEGETABLES
Onions and soft-shell squash supplies have increased, prices a bit lower. Head lettuce quality good, prices low. Escarole, endive on plentiful list.

Other economical choices — cabbage, carrots, collards, mustard greens, broccoli, turnip and greens. Green pepper, sweet corn prices are more attractive.

fresh fruit
Fresh fruit counters are seeing their "in-between" season and old stocks are in light supply — but prices are moderate. Navel oranges one of better values — fruit is smaller, so are prices. Grapefruit reasonably priced. Apples, avocados and pears have steady or slightly higher prices.

Bananas are a good value — and strawberries have excellent quality, reasonable prices.

GROCERY MARKET AISLES
Canned vegetables offer stiff competition to fresh ones. Other features include shortening, peaches, pears, pineapple, instant potatoes, nonfat dry milk.

FROZEN FOOD CHESTS
Fine values on frozen vegetables, features on fish fillets, good values on orange juice and complete dinners.

BEEF
Beef prices have advanced very slightly. By careful comparison shopping, consumers can find outstanding values, however, on chuck cuts, ground beef, liver, T-bone and round steaks.

PORK
Prices steady — with

Living cost benefit due

"A cost-of-living increase in monthly social security benefits will be included in checks delivered July 1," according to Laura Peacock social security district manager in Lubbock.

"The increase will amount to 5.9 percent for most people getting social security payments. The automatic cost of living provision was added to the social security law in 1972," Peacock added.

"People getting social security checks do not have to do anything to get the higher payments," Peacock said. "The increase will be automatic."

"Check increases are based on the rise in consumer prices from the first three months of 1977 over the first three months of 1976. Average retirement checks will rise from $221 to $234 per month. Disabled workers checks will go from an average of $248 per month to an average of $262 per month. Average survivor or payments will increase from $517 to $547 per month."

"Social Security benefits are paid to 48,000 people in the Lubbock District," Peacock said.

Since June 3 falls on a Sunday, checks issued in June will be delivered on June 1, 1977.

the Federal Register, August 1976. The final Beef Research and Information Act decision and order, along with the proposed referendum rules, appeared in the April 15, 1977 Federal Register.

According to the referendum rules announced, livestock producers who want to express themselves on this issue first need to register at their local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office during June 6-17, and then vote also at the local ASCS office during July 5-15. At least 50 percent of the cattle owners who register must vote in order for the referendum to be valid, and two-thirds of those must vote affirmatively for the program to carry.

A county meeting for beef producers is being held in the Post Community Center on June 8th at 7:30 p. m. to acquaint producers with the program. This meeting is being called by Tom Middleton, County Chairman of the Beef Development Task Force. The Beef Development Task Force is an organization of key leaders in the beef industry who have organized to promote the program.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has been invited to participate in this meeting to present the provisions of the law.

As with past referendums, the Extension Service of each state has the educational responsibility to present facts about the proposed program, while at the same time maintaining a stance of strict neutrality. The Extension Service of land-grant institutions of nation have been assigned the educational responsibility for the referendum through their USDA affiliation. Efforts of the State Extension Services have been directed both toward creating awareness of the referendum and explaining the law as it applies to the proposed program for the beef industry.

Just as the Extension Service has asked to assist the educational efforts, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices at the local level have been asked to assist with the registration of beef producers in each county during the June 6-17 sign-up period. The ASCS offices also will have the responsibility for conducting the election during July 5-15.

Thus, preparation for any referendum conducted at the national level becomes a

LETTERS to the Editor

BEF REFERENDUM
Dear Editor:
Within a matter of days, every cattle producer in the United States will have a chance to determine the future of the beef industry. On these dates, we cattle-men will be voting on whether or not we want a national program of beef education, research, promotion and market development.
I personally will vote "Yes" on this national Beef Referendum — authorized by Congress last year. Why? I've got several good reasons:
(1) It's needed. The cattle industry has lost millions of dollars during the past three years. We need an aggressive program to promote our product and to work for better markets.

(2) It will be financed, administered and controlled by cattle producers. If passed, the national Beef Board will be organized with 68 representatives from across the country. Based on cattle numbers, Texas will have seven producers on the Board. This board will determine what needs to be done and who should be contracted with to carry out the needed program.
(3) It's fair. Every producer will pay his fair share. Whenever cattle are sold, 3-10's of one percent of the sale price will be set aside — to be collected ultimately at the point of slaughter. If someone doesn't want to participate in the collection program, he can request, and receive a refund of his contribution.

(4) It's accepted. More than 90 cattle producer groups have officially endorsed this "Beef Research and Information Act". These groups represent cattle breeders, calf producers, stocker operators and feeders. They have worked hard to get this program before us and they agree it's the best solution to our problems.
I urge every cattle producer — that includes dairymen — to register at your county ASCS office and then vote "Yes" in the Beef Referendum. It's up to us.
Tom Middleton

Generation Connection in Lubbock June 15

LUBBOCK — Ideas for community solutions to problems of elderly people on the South Plains will be sought at a public forum from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. June 15 at the Lubbock Civic Center, under joint sponsorship of agencies working with older people and organizations of retired persons.
Named the Generation Connection, the forum will seek ideas from persons of all ages, including the elderly, on ways to bridge generation gaps and end the frequent social isolation of older people.
The forum is one of dozen being held over Texas. It will feature workshops on major areas of need and consider solutions on a local basis. Workshop topics will include health, housing, transportation, communication and education, money problems and legal problems.

Upwards of a thousand people, representing rural and urban South Plains areas, are expected to attend, according to C. L. Abernathy, of Plainview, former Hale County judge who is chairman of the area planning committee.
Special invitations are extended for the noon luncheon to area business people who may not be able to attend all the day-long sessions.
"We hope every individual and organization with an interest in the rapidly increasing numbers of older persons among us will come to the forum and contribute their ideas," Abernathy said. "This is intended as an action planning meeting. Those who attend will follow up with work in their own communities."

The First Lady of Texas, Mrs. Dolph Briscoe, is chairman of the statewide task force for the Generation Connection, and will be in Lubbock to address the forum. Her appointees to the area planning committee include Abernathy, Garza County Judge, Giles Dalby, Lubbock City Councilwoman Carolyn Jordan, and Dr. Walter Cartwright of Texas Tech University sociology department.
Justiceburg, Mr. Sam Ellis, Southland, Mrs. W. M. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. R. L. Marks, Post.
Garza County representatives are Mr. Bandy Cash, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Baumann and family visited in Petersburg Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Saffel.
