

Post's July 4th blowout fused

Post's annual Fourth of July celebration, expanded into two full days this year for America's 200th birthday, appears sure to become "the biggest ever" Saturday and Sunday in city-county park.

Packed into the Saturday schedule are the usual beef barbecue, to be served at 3:30 p. m., at $1.50 per plate, a twice-as-big free fireworks display that night, plus the 7 p. m. presentation of the patriotic musical "I Love America", a

Mrs. Bicentennial contest on the park showwagon at 4 p. m., and a skit-told history of Garza County to follow the musical at 8 p. m.

The morning and afternoon will include a wide variety of contests, both at the swimming pool and in the park, for the young and the young at heart. (See complete schedule on page 6.)

The park will be partially filled by a wide variety of game and food booths sponsored by churches and local organizations with each booth to be decorated in red, white and blue.

One of the most unusual of these is the Post Antelope Booster Club's dunking booth where a "celebrity dunking" is scheduled at 5 p. m.

"Celebrities" signed up to date to be dunked include Postex Manager, Ed Bruton, County Attorney Preston Poole, Football Coach Jackie Brown, Chamber President, Charles McCook, Jack Kirkpatrick, City Councilman Jim Jackson, Basketball Coach, John Alexander, and Ronald Simpson.

Celebrity dunking tickets will be sold for 50 cents each and a drawing will be held at 5 p. m. to see who gets to dunk whom.

As of Wednesday there were eight entrants in the Mrs. Bicentennial contest and style show, sponsored by the El Tejas club.

Two out-of-town judges will select winners based on the authenticity of the costumes worn by the entrants, each of whom must be 30 years of age or older.

The Mrs. Bicentennial Contest is slated for 4 p. m. Saturday at the show wagon, a trailer recently purchased by the city from Lubbock which folds out into a stage. It is being repainted by the Green Thumb Crew.

Patriotic musical is celebration feature

The patriotic portion of Post's Bicentennial Fourth of July celebration will come at 7 p. m. Saturday in city-county park when the Post Community Chorus, sponsored by the Post Music Club, presents "I Love America" under the direction of Dan Zeigler.

The 50 to 60 minute patriotic musical, written by John W. Peterson, will feature five soloists and a chorus of 35 to 40 voices.

Soloists for the occasion will be Marita Jackson, Nancy Shaw, Connie Zeigler, Cindee Jackson and Jim Jackson.

The orchestral accompaniment is all on tape.

Members of the chorus, who have been practicing together since May, include besides the soloists:

Jane Davis, Bobby Norman, Pat McCowen, Louise Dietrich, Delbert Rudd, Dana Pool, Glenda Morrow, Kathy Thuet, Judy Houston, Carol Williams, Georgie Willson; Dan Hodges, Joy Pool, Ralph Howell, B. L. Thomas, Patty

Kirkpatrick, Jim Cornish, Jennifer Miller, Katie Mae Martin, Joann Kocurek, Tonya Rudd, Scott Houston, Kay Lamb, Lee Ann Hodges, David Morrow, Danny Shaw, Delores Redman, Suzanne Pass, and Kelvin Thomas. The chorus — you guessed it — will be dressed in a wide variety of red, white and blue according to individual choice.

Huntley resigns as hospital director

Sexton Huntley, Garza Memorial hospital board director for the past 12 years and the board's current chairman, has resigned.

He announced his decision verbally to The Dispatch last weekend and told Hospital Administrator Perry Hunsaker of it the same day.

Huntley appears frustrated and told The Dispatch he felt it was time he stepped aside.

He obviously is miffed by the receipt here of a $10,000 fetal monitoring machine for the hospital which he says directors have not yet authorized to purchase. Huntley also says he doesn't think the board should come down $1,000 on its proposed price of a site for a nursing home next to the hospital.

As this newspaper understands it, Huntley did not submit a written resignation.

The hospital directors will hold their July meeting at the hospital at 6:30 p. m. tonight and at that time are expected to consider appointment of a replacement for Huntley on the board and the naming of a new chairman.

Wayne Childers currently is vice chairman of the board. Gene Moore is secretary. Other board members are Bo Jackson and Charlie Brown.

As for the fetal monitoring machine, a piece of equipment requested repeatedly by Dr. William C. Wilson, Hospital Administrator Hunsaker told The Dispatch that hospital board members had agreed verbally to its purchase but apparently simply had overlooked documenting it in the minutes.

"The machine is not paid for," Hunsaker said, "and if the directors decide tonight not to buy it, it will be sent back. They had agreed on the machine before they hired me to be administrator as I understand it."

As for the $1,000 off the nursing home site, this is the current situation.

The board two months ago voted to offer the site north of the hospital to Dr. Howard of Lubbock for $10,000. The Lubbock physician has not

Kam Huntley buried here

Graveside services for Russell "Kam" Huntley, 14, of Corpus Christi were held Monday at 4 p. m. Monday at Terrace Cemetery with Homer Jones of Graham Church of Christ officiating.

Burial was directed by Mason Funeral Home of Post.

Huntley died at about 5 p. m. Friday in Corpus Christi after suffering an electrical shock while charging a car battery.

Kam had attended Post schools during the 1974-75 school year and participated in the summer baseball program during the summer of 1975.

He was born in Post and had lived in Corpus Christi for the past 10 months and was a freshman at Flour Bluff High School there. He was a member of the 4-H club and manager of the high school track team. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Funeral services for Huntley were held at 3 p. m. Sunday at Flour Bluff Church of Christ in Corpus Christi.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn B. Huntley of Corpus Christi; two brothers, Glenn Derek and Ronald Terry both of the home; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sexton Huntley and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Peel of Post.

Rotary honor to Alexander

Jack Alexander was recognized as Rotary service man of the year at the Post Rotary luncheon Tuesday noon.

Jim Cornish, retiring club president, presented Alexander with a book, "The World of Rotary," which tells the story of Rotary activities the world over mostly in pictures.

Cornish announced Alexander's selection at the conclusion of a review of the 1975-76 club year which ended with the Tuesday meeting.

Gene Moore will be inducted next Tuesday as the incoming president of the Post Rotary Club.

Alexander headed the club's fund-raising pancake supper last November, the project to raise $1,000 to make Tom Bouchier a Paul Harris Fellow, and has stepped in as the club's sergeant at arms and secretary in the last three months.

While we did plan a special edition of The Dispatch for Post's Fourth of July Bicentennial celebration, there are a number of unusual ads of a patriotic nature in today's edition.

The one we specifically wish to call attention to is the Rucker A Well Service ad on page 13 which contains the first full color photograph published in The Post Dispatch in its 49 year history. (Next year this newspaper will be in line to celebrate a mini-centennial of its own.)

We could also add that it is the most expensive page advertisement ever printed in The Dispatch — simply because printing a colored picture is so expensive we haven't undertaken it ourselves.

Let us explain that to print such a picture, a color separation must be made with a negative for red, another for

Band earning money by loading chickens

Members of the Post Antelope Band have come up with a new way of financing some of their activities that seems to be working rather well.

The system however may be a little hard on the egg salad or chicken salad sandwich consumption for the band members.

They are working at the Cal-Maine Chicken Farms located just outside of Post, loading chickens for shipping to canning factories.

The band members, or a crew of approximately 25, began their first job Sunday night when they took chickens out of one of the five houses, and loaded two trucks. The process includes taking the hens out of the cages, hanging them, (live) on a rack, which is then pushed out to the trucks and they are then loaded into cages on the trucks and are shipped live to the factories.

Scott Houston, band director, is very encouraged by the workers and their enthusiasm and states that they are all doing a great job. They will

PHS class of '46 plan 30th reunion

The Class of Post High School, 1946 will hold a class reunion on Saturday, July 3, at 8 p. m. in the bank community room.

Members of the class are reminded to be present and to notify any out of town members of the class of the reunion.

LEFT BEHIND — The burglars or burglars who ransacked the rural home of the Robert Lee Mocks over the weekend pulled out everything and dumped most of it on the floor. It's impossible to show the real devastating effect in the camera's eye but this sheriff's department photo shows some of the damage wrought.

$100 reward put up on rural burglary

A $100 reward has been offered by the Garza Sheriff's Department for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the burglar or burglars who ransacked the home of Robert Lee Mock rural residence over the weekend.

Gene Gandy estimated that the family was left away on a fishing trip worth at least $2,000 worth of cash, gas and a wide variety of items. The burglary was reported by the Mocks returned home early afternoon.

Items included: a portable television set, a clock radio, electric shaver, cassette recorder, cartons of Marlboro cigarettes also were taken, as well as 40 books of stamps, a blue set of sheets, every pair of socks, towels, and wash in the house, a Polaroid diamond pendant; a water brush; a 1960 PHS book with the initials W. Mock; a watch.

Writ of mandamus action filed on woman judge

Judge Louise Green is defendant in a writ of mandamus action filed in court by four local men charged with gambling.

The writ of mandamus action is being filed in the county court hearing before Judge Giles W. Green before pleading guilty and paying a $52.50 fine.

They were not informed of their rights "but only understood if they did not plead guilty and pay the fine, they would go to jail."

The petition for writ of mandamus has been filed by Elmer, George Mindieta, Johnny Quintana and W. Bell.

It is contended that upon the advice of Harvey Morion of Post, attorney for the city, Judge Green refused to accept

1976 tourist edition of Post Dispatch goes through traveler's hands

The 1976 Tourist Edition of the Post Dispatch began going through traveler's hands here last week.

Thousands of copies of the guide tabloid are printed and made available for free distribution through local tourist stops, gas stations, restaurants, motels, garages, liquor stores,

The edition features local scenes of the year of interest to travelers, such as the Old Steer and Art Exhibit (Oct. 2-3), the Fourth of July celebration, and the Stange Holden Aug.

The money taken included a small jar of bicentennial quarters, about $20 worth; two bicentennial mint set of coins, four $100 bills plus $100 in smaller bills.

Guns taken were an 870 shotgun, two barrels and case, case is Gibsons with name engraved; a .22 rifle with scope, serial number 121460973; a 30.06 with scope, bolt action with magazine; and a 308 automatic, serial number 192953.

Sheriff Gandy said entrance was gained by the intruder or intruders by prying the door open.

The law enforcement officer said the house had been thoroughly ransacked with everything dumped on the floor. Even flower pots were dumped on the floor to be sure something hadn't been hidden inside.

The sheriff theorizes that they found some money they really turned everything upside down.

The Mock home is located several miles northwest of Post on US-84 at the FM-211 intersection.

Community service to be largely musical

The community worship service of faith and freedom at 7 p. m. Sunday evening, July 4th, in city-county park will not only include Chaplain Philip Grimmett of Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock as the guest speaker but also a wide variety of music from eight Post churches.

The music, as announced by music coordinator for the service, Louise Dietrich, includes:

A trio, composed of Barbara Reece, Dortha Jackson and Margie Kennedy, from the Calvary Baptist Church singing, "Statue of Liberty" by Neil Enloe.

A duet by Sharon and Ed Bruton of the Assembly of God Church, "I've Been Changed" and another duet, "Redemption Draw the Neigh" sung by Rev. Richard and Laquita Harrison of the same church.

The Holy Cross Catholic Church choir, under the direction of Molly Conoly, singing "Sons of God" and "Gloria, Gloria, Alleluia."

The Church Bell Choir of the First United Methodist Church will play "American the Beautiful" and the church choir of the same church, under the direction of Patty Kirkpatrick, will sing "Prayer for America" by Terry Kirkland.

A First Baptist Church trio, composed of Connie Zeigler, Kay Lamb and Lee Ann Hodges, will sing, "Why Should I Worry or Fret" by William Gaither.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Shaw of the Trinity Baptist Church will sing a duet of "Do You Know My Jesus."

Representing the First Presbyterian Church will be soloist David Morrow, one of only four vocalists named as outstanding in the UIL state meet at Austin in May, singing a patriotic medley, arranged by Georgie Willson which will include "This Is My Country," "This Land Is Your Land" and "God Bless America."

Glenda McAfee and Mark Shedd, representing the Church of God of Prophecy, will sing a duet "Jesus Is Coming Soon."

Youth center is reopened

The Post Youth Center is being reopened this week on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 10 p. m. for all young people from the eighth through twelfth grades.

Decision to reopen the youth center, closed in May, was made at a meeting of the youth center board last Thursday night.

With the local youth baseball season, virtually over, it is expected there will be more interest in center activities.

Mrs. Irene Fry is the youth director.

The board is looking forward to scheduling special events for young people when the new community center is completed and made available.

Quilt given museum for a birthday prize

The Garza County Museum committee was presented this week with a Bicentennial quilt, made by Mrs. Frank (Aylene) Runkles, to be given away in August when Garza County celebrates its 100th birthday.

Mrs. Runkles designed and tacked the quilt and presented it as her gift to help the museum complete its plans to be open as soon as possible.

The quilt will be displayed at the Post Public Library and on July 3, at the park in the Culture Club booth. Chances will be sold on the quilt with proceeds going to the Museum association.

The Museum will be open during the weekend on Friday from 3 p. m. until 5 p. m. then on Saturday from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and again the same day from 2 to 4 p. m. On Sunday, the hours are from 2 to 4 p. m. The public is invited and urged to tour the museum during these hours.

Many holiday closings July 5

After the two-day Fourth of July celebration here Saturday and Sunday, there will be a lot of local closings Monday to observe the Fourth of July holiday on July 5.

Closings include courthouse, city and state offices; the First National Bank, the post office, both Southwestern Public Service and Pioneer Gas offices.

That's not counting those who might need to "rest up" after a two-day Fourth of July celebration.

Our 8th birthday party

Post, which has been holding a Fourth of July celebration every freedom holiday for the last seven years, can look around this year and find most of her neighbors doing it too.

That's because the Fourth of July this year is the focal point of America's Bicentennial as the 200th birthday of freedom with the signing of the Declaration of Independence. (Actually the Declaration of Independence wasn't signed on the Fourth of July, but that is no matter.)

According to the Lubbock Avalanche Journal Sunday, some 40 West Texas communities will stage a wide variety of July 4th celebrations this year, many of them two day affairs (Saturday and Sunday, July 3-4) with Lubbock putting a lot together for what it terms a four-day celebration (Friday night when Mrs. Lyndon Johnson dedicates the Ranching Heritage Center at Texas Tech through Monday.)

That really takes care of the weekend. Denver City's is more unusual than most. It is holding its Fourth of July today (Thursday, July 1) so all the celebrants can scatter to the four winds and other celebrations on the upcoming weekend.

Last year there were only three or four Fourth of July celebrations in the area and Post's was the most elaborate.

Post has expanded its celebrations to two days this year and has added a lot more Saturday afternoon action, scheduled free presentation of a patriotic musical for Saturday evening, and has added a Mrs. Bicentennial contest for women 50 and over as well as doubled the size of the fireworks display. That is really "beefing up" the annual birthday party for Saturday.

Sunday's program under the Post Ministerial Alliance will be highlighted by the ringing of the bells, a church team softball tournament, an evening family picnic in the park on a community scale, and a park religious service in the park Sunday night.

The merchants have been asked to close Saturday for the holiday observance, and most of them are expected to do so.

A two-weeks vacation shutdown of Postex Plant, which began last Friday night, will trim the size of the crowd although the Fourth of July celebration has always been held during the week of the Postex vacation shutdown.

It's the one community event of the year in which everybody pitches in and enjoys some hours in the park together.

So plan to come out and have a good time Saturday and Sunday.

Such a celebration is literally a mass of detail, but all generally fit together pretty well. We hear a lot more folks than usual will be working in the park this year to make Post Bicentennial Fourth of July celebration a real success.

Rural patrols offered

The rural burglary reported on today's front page points up one new sheriff's service here Garza farmers and ranchers should take advantage of more often.

That service is a patrol past any rural home from which the family will be away to check things over.

Sheriff Gene Gandy offered this service to rural residents when the joint city-county law arm was formed last year.

With burglars hitting more and more rural homes all over this area, it's a good idea to call the sheriff's department when one is going to be gone for a few days so officers can drive by for a look now and then.

Many Post residents have been in the habit of doing this for years when they are going to be gone on a trip or vacation.

Sheriff Gandy points out that it's the job of his law arm to protect rural areas as well as those in town and rural residents who are going to be away can have their homes patrolled in their absence.

While we were going over this with Sheriff Gandy this week, he pointed out another angle which is causing law enforcement officers a lot of trouble — the use of CB radios to report the whereabouts of officers to alert burglars and drug users.

It seems the citizen band radios are not just used to report on "smokies" who might hand out a highway ticket.

We don't know what the answer to that might be — but we suggest unmarked sheriff cars.

Center policies needed

There are lots and lots of questions to be asked and answered about the use of Post's new community center.

Within a couple of weeks, the center should be completed and ready for use. At least it looks that near to being finished to us.

But a whole lot of things need to be worked out about use.

For example, when the city rented air-conditioned space between the bank and the postoffice for a center not many years ago they set up use policies which left the center vacant most of the time except for youth activities.

It seems to us that some money needs to be budgeted for proper operational costs so that wide community use can be made of the facility.

The Dispatch has suggested and suggested that the city council — and probably the county commissioners court who is putting up operational funds — get busy on the project so we won't have administrative delays on the center's use once it is finished.

AUSTIN—Texas Good Roads Association wants $500 million a year in additional state highway fund revenues to avert a financial "crisis" in road building.

The 2,000-member group, at its meeting here, adopted a resolution calling on Gov. Dolph Briscoe and the legislature to deliver the funds.

Suggestions: using highway user tax revenues now going to the general fund or tapping other general funds and new sources.

The resolution also proposed restructuring state highway user tax rates to make them "responsive to inflation."

Studies indicate a backlog of $11 billion in highway improvement projects and anticipated revenues for construction during the next 20 years of only $1.9 billion, TGRA said.

All existing revenue will be needed by 1980 to maintain the existing state highway system, with no funds available for upgrading obsolete roads and bridges for new construction, the resolution continued.

TGRA said Texas highway user taxes are now the lowest in the nation.

Parties Battle
Democrats and Republicans wound up their state conventions, and Democrats are still fighting.

Houston City Controller Leonel Castillo has announced he will oppose Calvin Guest of Bryan for chairmanship of the state Democratic party if he can get backing.

Castillo already is campaigning with various caucuses within the party.

Gov. Briscoe served notice at the Houston convention he is determined to keep Guest for a third term as chairman. But Briscoe didn't do so well in electing his choices to Democratic National Committee places at the Houston convention. And the same delegates who served there will be back for the September session at Fort Worth, where state party control is determined.

Industries Locate
Fourteen new industries which may make Texas $67.2 million a year richer elected to locate in the state during May.

M.W. Industries Inc. and Optron, Inc. (manufacturing crystal holders and electronic systems) picked Mineral Wells, where they will add 400 jobs and $10 million in payroll.

Others are San Antonio Shoe Company; Pinkert Welding Manufacturing Company, Dallas; Sticks and Stones Unlimited, Dallas; Norton Co., Stephenville; Fisher Controls Co., Sherman; Synthetic Materials Corp and Accco of Texas Inc., Houston; U.S. Steel Corp., Baytown; Activa Products Inc. and Martex Glass Co., Marshall; Diesel Exchange Inc., Longview and Dumas Milling Co., Dumas.

Courts Speak
Texas Supreme Court agreed with an intermediate court that a city can add fuel adjustment costs to gas and electric bills without city council authority every month of the charge.

The high court ordered an intermediate court here to consider on its merits a district court decision prohibiting the State Board of Pharmacy from enforcing a limit on prescription drug advertising.

In two other actions, the Supreme Court:

— Agreed to hear oral arguments in General Dynamics Corp.'s suit to recover more than $2 million in franchise taxes paid under protest during 1968-1971.

— Refused to direct Henderson County Clerk Joe Dan Fowler to let an abstract company copy its computer magnetic tapes used as index of property records.

Short Snorts
A computer system is being used to insure accuracy and current status of voter registration lists.

Frank P. Youngblood has resigned as Railroad Commission director of gas utilities.

The state plan of governor's committee on aging will be submitted to public hearings July 12-15 in Abilene, Dallas and San Antonio.

Federal funds are a-available to pay disaster unemployment assistance to persons who lost jobs as a result of the June 15.16 flood in Harris County.

A U.S. Supreme Court decision threw out fair labor standards act amendments which would make minimum wage and overtime regulations applicable to state employees.

The Texas Public Utility Commission has opposed a provision for intervention by the Federal Energy Administration in rate matters pending before state regulatory commissions.

BY BARRY TRASK

He was acclaimed an authentic American hero. Yet he was not a native American. And he won his renown under an assumed name. Some official honors were denied him until 133 years after his death.

Christened John Paul, he was born in Kirkcudbrightshire, Scotland in 1747. At age 12 he went to sea, 10 years later he commanded the merchant ship "John". On a trip to the West Indies he gave a sailor a severe flogging. The sailor died. John Paul was charged with murder.

Eventually freed, in 1773 he gained command of the "Betsy." His crew mutinied, and one of them was killed. John Paul was again charged with murder. Threatened with hanging, he fled his native land.

In America he found a new country, a new name, and a new career.

Presumably to mask his identity, he added Jones to his name. He became John Paul Jones. The Revolutionary War gave him a chance to go back to sea. In 1775, he received a Lieutenant's commission in the Continental Navy. Soon promoted to Captain, he responded by raiding Whitehaven, England. It unnerved London to have far-off colonies attacking the old homeland.

In France Jones' hero-status began to grow. There was much lively talk of invading England; John Paul Jones to lead the naval forces, Lafayette to lead the land forces, with Liverpool the first target.

These ambitious schemes were scrapped. They did aid Jones in his plans for a larger, heavily armed ship to replace his small frigate, the "Ranger."

Thus began a saga that led to a victory perhaps no parallel in the history of Naval warfare. An old, leaky East India merchantman was converted to a warship, the "Bonhomme Richard," named after Ben Franklin. Its big guns were not tested. Two exploded when fired. Crew members were killed. One deck was wrecked. No one dared fire the remaining big guns.

On Sept. 3, 1779, in the Irish Sea, Jones met a British convoy. The battle began. The "Bonhomme Richard" attacked the better armed "Serapis". Jones took his ship close in. The muzzles of the guns nearly touched. The riggings became entangled.

The British Captain asked Jones if he had struck his colors. Jones famous reply belloyed over the din, "I have not yet begun to fight."

After three hours of fierce hand-to-hand fighting the "Serapis" surrendered. Within a few

Right Around Home

STEP INTO THE TIME MACHINE AND SEE PEOPLE OF 1776 IN THE FLESH

When the National Park Service play, "Little Look Around," came through this part of the country recently, the audience got a chance to see Ben Franklin, Abe Lincoln, Mark Twain, and Annie Oakley who were visiting their future to see if America was still in working order.

Now another production, "People of '76", is skipping across America. But instead of bringing the colonial villager into the future, the National Park Service is giving you the opportunity to step into the past.

If you attend the production, which will stop at Fort Smith National Historic Site, Ark. and Santa Fe, N. M., you can walk through a space warp into the 1700s, to the small colonial village of New Bristol.

If you're not timid you can talk with New Bristol's citizens including Continental Army regiments, British Redcoats, the town preacher, the gunsmith, a leatherworker or any of the other villagers.

Be careful how you act in New Bristol. Remember that you are in the 1700's and if you mention Judge Parker at Fort Smith, or the Santa Fe Trail or airplanes or picture-taking to these people, you might get some funny looks!

The walk through the time machine is free and you can take it from 1 to 4 p. m. and from 6 to 8 p. m. Tuesday and Wednesday, July 13-14 in Fort Smith, Ark. and Santa Fe, N. M. The "Bonhomme Richard" sank. But John Paul Jones and the Continental Navy had their victory.

In 1905 Jones' body was brought from Paris and interred in Annapolis. In 1925, 146 years after the noted battle, John Paul Jones was elected to the Hall of Fame.

I AM THE NATION

I WAS BORN on July 4, 1776, and the Declaration of Independence is my birth certificate. The bloodlines of the world run in my veins, because I offered freedom to the oppressed. I am many things, and many people. I am the nation.

I am 213 million living souls — and the ghost of millions who have lived and died for me.

I am Nathan Hale and Paul Revere. I stood at Lexington and fired the shot heard around the world. I am Washington, Jefferson and Patrick Henry. I am John Paul Jones, the Green Mountain Boys and Davy Crockett. I am Lee and Grant and Abe Lincoln.

I remember the Alamo, the Maine and Pearl Harbor. When freedom called I answered and stayed until it was over, over there, I left my heroic dead in Flanders Fields, on the rock of Corregidor, on the bleak slopes of Korea and in the steaming jungle of Vietnam.

I am the Brooklyn Bridge, the wheat lands of Kansas and the granite hills of Vermont. I am the coalfields of the Virginias and Pennsylvania, the fertile lands of the West, the Golden Gate and the Grand Canyon. I am Independence Hall, the Monitor and the Merrimac.

I am big. I sprawl from the Atlantic to the Pacific. My arms reach out to embrace Alaska and Hawaii. 5 million square miles throbbing with industry. I am more than 5 million farms. I am forest, field, mountain and desert. I am quiet villages — and cities that never sleep.

You can look at me and see Ben Franklin walking down the streets of Philadelphia with his breadroll under his arm. You can see Betsy Ross with her needle. You can see the lights of Christmas, and hear the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" as the calendar turns.

I am Babe Ruth and the Super Bowl. I am 110,000 schools and colleges, and 330,000 churches where my people worship God as they think best. I am a ballot dropped in a box, the roar of a crowd in a stadium and the voice of a choir in a cathedral. I am an editorial in a newspaper and a letter to a Congressman.

I am Eli Whitney and Stephen Foster. I am Tom Edison, Albert Einstein and Billy Graham. I am Horace Greeley, Will Rogers and the Wright brothers. I am George Washington Carver, Jonas Salk and Martin Luther King.

I am Longfellow, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Walt Whitman and Thomas Paine.

Yes, I am the nation, and these are the things that I am. I was conceived in freedom and, God willing, in freedom I will spend the rest of my days.

May I possess always the integrity, the courage and the strength to keep myself unshakled, to remain a citadel of freedom and a beacon of hope to the world.

This is my wish, my goal, my prayer in this year of 1976 — two hundred years after I was born.

Auto accident kills 1 in 4

COLLEGE STATION — Will be among the 25 percent of drivers who will have a traffic accident this year?
 It has been estimated that out of every four drivers in the U. S. will have a traffic accident in 1976," says Dr. Neilson, an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Furthermore, highway accidents are the leading cause of death for Americans under age 20.

However, drivers can do things to decrease their chances of being injured in a traffic accident.

First and foremost, wear a seat belt," advises Neilson. Experts estimate that 10,000 lives a year would be saved if everyone used seat belts while driving. Drivers who wear seat belts are reducing the odds that they will be seriously injured or killed in a severe car accident.

BEING RESTORED — A historic Galveston landmark, the Stewart Building, above, is undergoing refurbishing as part of the city's Bicentennial effort to restore and preserve "The Strand" Texas' most colorful business area of the 1880's. The 93-year-old structure is located at the entrance to The Strand, Galveston's nineteenth century commercial center, then known as "Wall Street of the Southwest." Business and civic leaders are joined in a multi-million dollar project that is restoring The Strand as the modern-day center of downtown Galveston's commercial and cultural activity. The area, which has become a major tourist attraction, includes one of the nation's largest concentrations of "iron front" buildings, a form of architecture popular a hundred years ago.

God may be applying plumbline

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the July article sponsored by the Post Ministerial Association and written by one of its members.)

GOD'S PLUMBLINE
 The plumbline has several uses. It is used by the surveyor to make sure his transit is in the right position over the bench mark. The dictionary defines a plumbline as, "A line or cord having at one end a weight (as a plumb bob) and serving to determine verticality." The plumb bob is a weight, like the sinker on a fishing line.

The plumbline can also be used to determine if a building is straight or crooked. A person can stand on the roof of the building and hang the plumbline by the side of a wall. In the Bible, God used the plumbline to refer to the nation of Israel, and He compared the nation to a house whose walls were not straight. God spoke to Amos, and Amos said, "Thus he showed me; and, behold, the Lord stood upon a wall made by a plumbline, with a plumbline in his hand." (Amos 7:8). God asked Amos what he saw, and Amos said he saw the plumbline. And God said, "Behold, I will set a plumbline in the midst of my people Israel: I will not again pass by them any more." (Amos 7:8).

The truth which Amos recognized was that God was using the plumbline to test the nation Israel.

Perhaps God is today testing America to see if it has stood true to Him. Our Founding Fathers believed in spiritual principles of justice, mercy, righteousness, integrity, honesty and truth. Have we, as a nation, departed from these principles? If so, then God is testing our nation to see if it is willing to make the necessary changes.

These necessary changes will involve a return to the foundation principles upon which our nation was founded. We can sleep, as did Rip Van Winkle, for twenty years and then plan to wake up to see what has happened. But God might not give us twenty years. The other alternative is to awaken from our lethargy and sleep and take our stand as responsible citizens and insist that we return to our founding principles. This will also involve a return to our God.

The Consumer Alert
 by John L. Hill
 Attorney General

AUSTIN—Protecting the consumer was a major concern of the attorneys general from more than 40 states and U.S. territories attending the 70th annual meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General recently.

Our office, which hosted the meeting in San Antonio, was an active participant in meetings of the 14 N.A.A.G. committees, where much substantive discussion of consumer-related matters took place, and where resolutions were hammered out which later were adopted by the N.A.A.G. general assembly.

One such measure, proposed by our office's chief of consumer protection, Philip Maxwell, resolved to ask that Congress amend federal bankruptcy laws to close a loophole which in effect permitted violation of state consumer laws by unscrupulous merchants in certain limited instances.

Consumer protection attorneys said that some states have reported cases where corporations that are defendants in deceptive trade practices suits brought by state attorneys general have used federal bankruptcy laws to circumvent justice.

This comes about when the corporation being sued files a petition for bankruptcy. Under current federal law, all state legal actions are then held up until the bankruptcy proceedings are settled. Some corporations allegedly have misused this provision of the law as an obstructionist tactic to evade state legal actions, while continuing to operate under a special "Chapter 11" bankruptcy provision.

Another resolution passed by N.A.A.G. supports enactment of federal legislation to require that packaged foods and other products be labeled uniformly. We emphasized, however, that states should not be limited in their efforts to see that consumers purchasing such goods get the full weight or measure stated on the package.

We felt that consumers, retailers, intrastate packagers, farmers, and manufacturers all need to be assured that the weights and measures indicated on packaged goods are accurate.

In line with that feeling, we additionally opposed any efforts to prohibit or impede the use of statistically valid methods of determining if there are short weights or measures in lots of packaged goods.

Antitrust efforts to protect the public received the attention of the assembled attorneys general also, in the form of a resolution favoring parens patriae legislation recently passed by both the

Fresh vegetables are best buys' of week

COLLEGE STATION — Heavy vegetables in "heavy" — some with lower prices than a year ago — are in the "best buys" currently in the produce departments, Mrs. Cyath says.

Among them are cabbage, green peppers, corn cobs, along with squash and potatoes.

"A good choice" is dry beans.

Consumers can expect price increases on Southern varieties — and on okra — as the summer season progresses, she said.

Cyath is a consumer education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, The Texas A.M. University System.

Watermelons continue in supply and quality, but prices probably will remain until after July 4th.

"Honeydew melons are not as plentiful — due to a hail in the Rio Grande Valley earlier in June."

"Texas cantaloupe are plentiful, mostly in small size."

Soft, summer fruit is increasing in supply, and prices are more attractive. Items in particular are peaches, plums, grapes, nectarines and cherries.

At meat counters, consumers can find forequarter cuts reasonably priced, the specialist said. She cited warmer weather accompanied by less consumer demand as one reason for lower prices on those cuts, "making chuck cuts economical buys."

Cuts she termed "moderate to economical" in price are a few of the quick-cooking beef steaks, ground beef and liver.

"Pork prices remain high — with Boston butt roasts and smoked picnics generally the best value."

"By carefully comparing prices, good values can be found on quarter-loins cut into chops, semi-boneless hams, bacon, roll sausage and liver."

Fryer chicken prices remain about the same "with very good values offered," the specialist said.

"Also, several markets feature turkeys — with attractive prices on drumsticks and thigh roasts."

CONSUMER WATCHWORD Check the fish counter for values on seasonal fresh fish. For consumers who "shy away" from cooking fish because of cooking odors, there is the alternative of an outdoor fish fry or the outdoor grill.

MR. AND MRS. PAT BLACKLOCK Celebrate 50th anniversary

Focus on Home Economics COPING WITH STRESS OF PARENTHOOD

A couple helps reduce the day to day stress of rearing children when they share their concerns with each other.

When a mother says, "You will never guess what happened today," that is dad's clue to help her let off a little steam by listening.

It is important to be able to discuss stressful situations when they occur. Through discussion, a couple can come to some agreement on rules for the guidance and discipline of their children. Parents can learn to anticipate and decide how to handle many situations before they occur.

When parents can talk honestly and openly about their concerns in raising a family, they are on their way to solving the problems they face. They learn it is possible to change some of the situations troubling them.

It is hard for some parents to admit that living with children can be difficult and frustrating at times. They think others expect them to be perfect — loving, supportive parents who never lose their tempers.

And they may feel guilty when they find they don't feel the same way about their children all of the time.

If a parent has difficulty expressing how he feels, then his emotions may be expressed in other ways. Headaches, tenseness or fatigue often occur when a parent has difficulty coping with the stress of living with children.

Some parents drink, smoke or "pop" pills too much when under stress — but this does not solve their problems. Sometimes changing the situation is a better solution.

Parents can better cope with the stress of child rearing if they occasionally plan time for themselves. Dinner, a movie, a relaxing walk after dinner, or a quiet weekend for two without the children, when the budget permits, can work wonders.

Moms and dads are people too. Taking time to just be themselves can help them do a better job of being the kind of parents they want to be.

PLAYING TOGETHER GOOD FOR PARENTS, CHILDREN Everyone benefits when parents plan time to be with their children to enjoy things the children find interesting.

"Playing together helps both parents and children. But unfortunately, most parents don't seem to have much time for their youngsters except for the daily routine of coping with them.

Jobs, chores, community activities, hobbies and television occupy most of a parent's time.

Playing together helps deepen the parent-child relationship. It gives the child a chance to learn more about the art of being involved with others. And the child feels good about himself when he knows his parents are interested in what he is doing.

A child also works out his tensions, uses his muscles and improves his coordination through play. And both parents and children benefit from the physical exercise they get playing together.

Summer is an excellent time for parents to become more involved in children's outdoor play. Swimming, hiking, bicycling, kite flying, baseball, jumping rope or games like hide and seek are just a few activities which can bring parents and children closer together.

As It Looks From Here . . .

OMAR BURLESON, M. C. 17th District, Texas

OMAR BURLESON, M. C. 17th District, Texas WASHINGTON, D. C. — A recent 5 to 4 decision of the U. S. Supreme Court denied the Civil Service Commission the right to exclude aliens from federal jobs. The effect of this decision is to give foreigners equal access to a payroll supported by the American taxpayer.

The case before the Supreme Court dealt with aliens who have entered the Country legally and have properly registered with the U. S. Immigration Service but the decision can be little comfort to the seven million or so Americans who are unable to find a job.

Those who are legally registered really represent only a small percent of all the aliens in this country. Every year, every month and every day we are having a virtual invasion of aliens seeking the freedoms and economic opportunities offered here in the United States.

Not long ago, the immigration service conducted a series of raids in the New York City area. According to their report, there are six to eight million illegal aliens in that one location. It is estimated that the cost to the nation is $13 billion annually. At a time when a number of members of Congress are attempting ways to stem this tide of illegal entrants, there is an organized effort to lower the barriers even more.

One does not have to assume the attitude that America is for Americans only but the present situation is utterly ridiculous. While jobs which should be available to American citizens are being given aliens, the Immigration Service is out looking for "wetbacks" who are willing to do jobs that employers can't otherwise fill. Farmers and ranchers can't get hands, partly because there are too many ways for people to get by without working and the work is hard. Whatever it is, the alien is usually willing to work because he has no job. We seem to be looking in the wrong places to solve their problem.

During the great migrations from Europe beginning around the 1800's, millions entered this promising land and were greeted by the lines of Emma Lazarus' which are engraved on the pedestal of the Statue of Liberty. Remembered most are the last lines:

"Give me your tired, your poor, Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free.

The wretched refuse of your teeming shore. Send these, the homeless, tempest-tost, to me.

I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

They came and through the years made great contributions to the arts, letters and sciences and made America richer. Today, that door has swung wide — rendering virtually meaningless the sacrifice and toil of those who came before. The political forces cause many legislators to continue to support those efforts to permit more and more immigration but to also tolerate the illegal entrants.

Aside from those filling jobs which should be held by American citizens, aliens become welfare recipients, receive medical benefits and even Social Security. By reason of many dependents they pay very little taxes, if any. There is nothing to prevent an illegal alien from getting a job, joining a union or doing about any of the things a native born citizen does to earn a living. It seems that we are so busy protecting the rights of aliens we overlook the rights of American citizens.

It is time we face up to this problem as some other nations are now doing. For instance, New Zealand, Canada, West Germany and others are cutting immigration.

It is one thing to be considerate of any human being but it is only right that first protection be given to Americans, both the native born and the naturalized citizen.

Morrow one of six in voice

AUSTIN — Anderson High School in Austin — for the third consecutive year — has been named winner of the Sweepstakes Award in the 1976 Texas State Solo-Ensemble Contest held recently at the University of Texas.

The contest attracted more than 11,000 top high school musicians who had earned superior ratings in regional University Interscholastic League contests throughout Texas. Baton twirling also was part of the contest.

The Sweepstakes Award is given to the high school winning the greatest number of points in solo and in ensemble vocal and instrumental performances.

Of all the students participating, only 28 were cited by the Judges as "outstanding performers" of which only six were in voice. They included: Post, David Morrow, voice, Post High School.

Holiday death toll cited

LUBBOCK — "The most celebrated holiday in 200 years will occur this month and with it regrettably will be many unnecessary holiday deaths," Major C. W. Bell, regional commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety announced today.

"Texans will join other Americans in an all out salute to this great country of ours over the holiday period. Last year over the Fourth of July period 49 persons lost their lives on Texas roads and highways in the holiday slaughter," Major Bell added, "It is up to each one of us to do his part to avoid such a high death toll by driving defensively and remaining alert to the driving hazard."

The Texas Department of Public Safety will be on full alert on all roads and highways of the area to control traffic, lower speeds and get the drinking driver from behind the wheel. All of the services including the Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Drivers License, Motor Vehicle Inspection, and Safety Education will be on conspicuous patrol to become a deterrent to traffic violators by both their presence and actions.

"We in this region hope to have the safest Fourth of July holiday on record to add as our part of the tribute to a great country's Bicentennial Celebration," Major Bell summed up, "our people are the ones the celebration is for and what better way to celebrate than by keeping them alive."

100,000 Texas kids reading

AUSTIN — Young readers at Post Public Library are participating this summer in the Summer Reading Club, co-sponsored by the library and the Texas State Library.

They are among more than 100,000 youngsters from throughout the state who will be spending part of their summer vacations reading for fun this year. They will be keeping records of what they have read in red, white and blue reading logs.

"Movin' On . . . Then and Now" is the theme for 1976. Children dressed in appropriate costumes are shown in a canoe, horse-drawn trolley, balloon, early train, stagecoach, early automobile, steamboat, biplane, helicopter, and moon rover.

These pictures appear on the posters as well as on the reading log-activity books that each participant will receive. Each reading log also includes a cut-out figure that may be used to move across a time line that shows vehicles in their proper place in history.

Public library summer reading programs focus upon reading for enjoyment. Public library collections include a wide range of both informational materials and fiction. In addition to the books they read as participants in the Reading Club, youngsters will also see films, puppet shows and other programs that will be carried on in the libraries.

The Fourth of July is Post's "togetherness holiday." This will be the eighth straight year in which an afternoon of fun in the park, a big community barbecue, and a free fireworks display has highlighted the local holiday. Only this year—because it will be America's 200th birthday of freedom—the traditional park festivities have been expanded into two days and many new events have been added.

New ones like the presentation of the patriotic musical, "I Love America" by the Community Choir, the Mrs. Bicentennial contest, the history of Garza in skit form, a beard judging, a celebrity dunking, and lots more. The fireworks display this year will fittingly be the biggest—the costliest ever. Don't leave town for the Fourth of July holiday—and don't stay home. Come down to the park and let's all have a good time together.

Fire Dept. Cardinals are '76 Little League champs

Red Sox suffer pair of losses on final night

The Post Fire Department Cardinals, managed by Ronnie Dunn, are the 1976 Post Little League champions, despite the fact their stretch winning streak came to an end last Thursday night in a loss to the First National Bank Dodgers.

The whole thing actually wasn't settled until Tuesday night when the Red Sox completed games against both the Deeres and the Tigers — and lost both of them.

The twin defeats dropped the Sox down to third and moved the Storie Tigers into the runnerup spot in the final standings a half game ahead of the Sox but one and one-half games behind the Cardinals.

The Dodgers after whipping the Cardinals 4 to 3 to really tighten the pennant drive came back the next night to whip the contending Red Sox 13 to 10, thus starting the Sox on a string of three straight losses at the end.

The two games completed Tuesday night by the Red Sox with such disastrous results to their title hopes were the May 25 game with the Tigers, which was tied 2 all after the end of five when it was called by the umpires, and the disputed June 18 game with the Deeres in which the Sox had rallied for four runs in the bottom of the sixth to score an apparent 16 to 15 win. But the game was protested after completion because the Red Sox had used an ineligible pitcher for the sixth inning. The league rules committee ordered the final inning replayed with the score 15 to 12 in the Deeres favor, wiping out that winning rally.

On Tuesday night, the final inning was replayed. Neither team scored and the Deeres won the game 15 to 12. Playing out the May 25 game with the Storie Gin Tigers, tied 2-2 going into the sixth, the Cards and the Tigers battled the last inning without a score sending the game into extra innings.

In the seventh the Red Sox got a run in the top of the frame when Derek Wall singled with two out and Catcher Wade Giddens followed with a ground rule double to score Wall.

That put the Sox ahead 3 to 2 and kept their pennant hopes alive. But the Tigers clawed back to score three runs with one out on Steve Curbs bases loaded double.

Billy Martinez was hit by a pitch to open the inning. David Foster singled, and Arthur Garza walked to load the sacks and set the stage for the game winning blow by Curb.

Dana Scott and Kim Norman teamed up to pitch the Dodgers exciting 4 to 3 win over the Cards last Thursday night, giving up out one hit in the final inning.

The Dodgers held a 2-1 lead on the basis of a three-hit spurge in the top of the third.

It stayed that way until the last inning when a pair of walks and a single by Dana Scott boosted their margin to 4 to 1. But the Cards gave it a last ditch try with three walks and a single with none away scoring two runs and apparently putting them in position to come from behind and win, but a strikeout and then a pair of fielder's choices in which lead runners were cut down at third and home ended the rally in some real excitement.

The Dodgers came back Friday night with a bat-around seven-run rally in the fifth to come from behind and take a 13 to 8 lead over the Red Sox just to show they weren't playing favorites with the contenders.

Final windup for the league came last night when the teams met at Little League Park for announcement of the all-star team and presentation of team championship and sportsmanship trophies.

After that, everybody went to the swimming pool for the league's annual swimming party with hot dogs on the side.

UNPLAYED GAMES
 The two league games not played at the end because they would have no effect on the final league standings were the Yankees vs. Red Sox, washed out on May 28, and the Deeres vs. Cardinals, originally scheduled for last Saturday night when the Cards participated in the Lubbock Invitational Tourney as the Post representative.

Coach Morrow changes mind, to stay in Post

John Morrow, girls' high school basketball and track coach, will be back for the 1976-77 seasons.

Supt. Bill Shiver told The Dispatch this week that Coach Morrow has withdrawn his resignation request, leaving no necessary steps still to take in putting him back on the payroll.

Morrow was the last of the Post coaching staff to resign to follow Athletic Director Bobby Davis to Calallen High School, a AAA high school on the outskirts of Corpus Christi for the 1976-77 season.

Then he changed his mind. Last week, he talked the situation over with Athletic Director Jackie Brown and Supt. Bill Shiver and then asked that his resignation be withdrawn.

Since he already had been recommended by Brown for the coaching position and been offered a contract by the school trustees in the spring, no additional steps were necessary.

Morrow, who has coached both basketball and track in the girls program here the last two years, told The Dispatch Sunday that "we have been very pleased with living in Post and have enjoyed this community as much or more than any other in which we've lived during my coaching career."

He said both Brown and himself are looking for an assistant girls coach to recommend to fill the final vacancy.

VACATION TRIP
 Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walls and Derek, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Walls and Mrs. Fieta Walls have just returned home from a week's vacation after visiting in Bagdad, Ari., where they were joined by Mrs. Herbert Walls sister and husband, and all went to Lake Mead and did some fishing, toured Las Vegas and then through the mountains of Utah. On their return home, they stopped in Amarillo and picked up their grandson to keep him for a week.

Women's league to be formed

All ladies and girls interested in playing softball this summer are urged to meet at the Little League Park Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. to try and organize.

One team has already begun practice and interest is high enough to try and organize some additional teams.

Games will be played on Monday and Thursday nights.

Girls between the ages of 12 through senior year, and ladies from senior year and up are urged to attend. Age brackets will be divided into separate teams.

Lubbock layman to be guest speaker

Dr. J. D. Bilbro, a layman from the Lubbockview Christian Church in Lubbock, will be the guest speaker at the First Christian Church in Post Sunday. His message is entitled "Christ the Only Way."

Cards score 6-0 win, then bow in Lubbock tourney

The Post Fire Department Cardinals, representing the Post Little League, were eliminated from the Lubbock Invitational Little League tournament Monday night after scoring a first round 6 to 0 victory Saturday night over Lubbock Western League's No. 1 team, the Cubs.

The shoe was on the other foot Monday night as the Athletics, the Dixie League's No. 1 team, continued their 16-game winning streak by shutting out the Post team, 9 to 0.

The flu bug slowed the Post team in the loss and four errors greatly aided the Lubbock attack.

In the big Saturday night win, Post picked up two first inning runs on walks to Kraig Peel and Tim Tannehill, a pass ball and Chris Belongia's single to center.

A couple of walks, a passed ball and a muffed pickoff at second produced the third run

Savory, natural goodness of flavorful brown bread

Bring the spirit of 1776 to your table with "New England Baked Brown Bread." Served warm and buttered, it's an ideal accompaniment for a crock of piping hot baked beans for Saturday night family suppers.

Unlike traditional brown bread that is steamed for hours, this recipe is quick and easy to prepare in loaf pans coated with improved "Teflon II" non-stick finish.

NEW ENGLAND BAKED BROWN BREAD
 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
 1/2 cup whole wheat flour
 1/2 teaspoon soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup sugar
 1/2 cup margarine
 1/2 cup raisins
 1/2 cup molasses
 1/2 cup buttermilk

In a large mixing bowl thoroughly blend the two flours, soda, salt and sugar. With a pastry blender or sharp knives cut in margarine. Stir in raisins.

On low speed of mixer blend in molasses and buttermilk to dry ingredients. Beat only until mixture is smooth. Turn into two lightly greased "Teflon II" junior loaf pans (8 1/2 x 2 1/4). Bake at ANY PROPER BOSTONIAN will vouch for the fact that even the best baked beans are not complete without a serving of rich hot brown bread. But now with an easy new recipe and the help of bakeware coated with "Teflon II" non-stick finish, there's no reason why you can't enjoy this old New England favorite with all your meals.

350° F. for 40 to 45 minutes or until wooden pick thrust into center comes out clean. Remove from pans; cool slightly before slicing. Makes 2 loaves.

US exports continuing to increase

COLLEGE STATION — Agricultural exports continue to increase, and Texas is a big contributor to this foreign trade.

Texas ranks fourth in the nation in farm export sales and leads in exports of cotton, tallow and lard, hides and skin, says Charles Baker, a marketing economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It is also a major exporter of rice, grain sorghum, meat products, citrus and peanuts.

"As a whole, the U. S. agricultural export business, which employs about one million people directly or indirectly and generates more than $30 billion in business activity, has increased significantly in the past three years," points out Baker.

"Farm export sales for the period from 1970 to 1972 averaged $8.1 billion a year. From 1973 to 1975 sales averaged $20.4 billion a year, and farm export sales for 1976 should reach $22 billion."

Baker notes that one of the main reasons for this jump is an increase in grain and wheat shipments to the Soviet Union.

"The volume of agricultural exports for 1976 should exceed 100 million metric tons which would be a 20 per cent increase over the 1975 farm export volume," says the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Exports of grain, wheat and soybeans make up about 90 percent of this volume."

As far as agricultural imports are concerned, their value for 1976 is expected to be about $10 billion, a slight increase over 1975 due mainly to higher values for coffee, cocoa, crude rubber and spices, Baker explains.

Thus the U. S. agricultural trade balance, the difference in the value of agricultural exports and agricultural imports, for 1976 is expected to be about $12 billion, slightly below the 1975 balance.

"It's true that man does not live by bread alone, but some do okay on crust."

AN EIGHTEENTH CENTURY KITCHEN has lost none of its charm in being updated. Now a keeping room, the fireplace is still the focal point. Accessories of a Colonial kitchen and an old weathered one decorate the fireplace wall. A large window now brings in additional light and the beauty of the outdoors. Deteriorated pine floors have been replaced with Briarwood ceramic tile by American Olean. The natural-looking deep brown-black textured tile fits easily into the Colonial role and blends with the textures of lovingly polished wood, the gleam of brass and the warmth of the stone. Stray sparks from the fireplace won't harm its surface and maintenance is easy with a sponge mop and a mild detergent. The simplicity, honesty and straightforwardness of the Colonial architecture have been retained. Only beauty, comfort and utility have been added. ## Rabies record is improving

COLLEGE STATION — Although rabies cases in animals are still numerous, the dreaded disease is generally a thing of the past as far as human infections are concerned.

Some 3,200 cases of rabies were confirmed in animals in the United States in 1975, according to the latest report by the Public Health Service. The total was down almost 500 cases from 1973. Texas was the leading state in 1974 with 396 cases.

However, no human rabies cases were reported during 1974, the first year on record that no human deaths resulted from rabies.

"Rabies cases in humans have been prevented mainly by the vaccination of pet dogs and cats," points out Dr. Armstrong, veterinarian for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "This has protected pet populations, particularly from contacting the disease from wild animals."

In Texas, wild animals accounted for 236 of the 1974 cases.

Texas motorists are served by 17,000 service stations.

Texas energy production costs double in 4 years

ELLAS — Cheap energy is according to "76 Facts in Texas Oil and Gas," in the annual series published for free public distribution by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn.

The leaflet features facts and figures on Texas oil and gas and the industry's economic impact on Texas.

Summarizing energy production costs, "76 Facts" points out that total expenditures for production, development, and operation of oil and natural gas in the U. S. jumped more than 100 percent between 1971 and 1975, reflecting the upward trend of wages, drilling costs, and other factors.

The federal price controls on domestic oil production, American energy companies are paying world prices to foreign nations (the OPEC cartel) for the oil used in the U. S. supply subject to the summary states.

When compared to figures for the past years, the latest figures in "76 Facts" show a decline in Texas oil and gas production and a continuing depletion in the state's reserves.

The ratio of wildcat wells drilled and discovered in 1975 fell below the previous year, although total drilling was up.

Other highlights include: Gasoline demand by Texans reached a new high for 1975.

The Texas economy benefited from increased wellhead value of oil and gas, which totaled $15.2 billion last year. This output also generated additional tax dollars for the Texas treasury, since production taxes are based on value.

Payments to Texas land and royalty owners moved upward. Employment in the Texas petroleum industry increased in 1975, along with wage rates and payroll outlays.

"76 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas" may be obtained free on request to the Association, 1341 W. Mockingbird Lane, Suite 1111-E, Dallas 75247.

A Lion member since 1960, he is the first Brazilian ever elected to serve as International President. LOOKING BACKWARD to hair styles of 1776 produces an updated Bicentennial "do" for America's Junior Miss 1975. A college freshman, Julie Ann Furbush loves the look of this nostalgic-laden style for prom wear, and says it's really an easy one for any girl with shoulder-length hair to copy. The day of the big dance, Julie washes her dark brown hair, rinses it well, then follows with Breek Creme Rinse to counteract that fly-away look and give her healthy young hair extra gleam. She sets it on large rollers, brushes it up and away from her face, then pins a cascade of loose curls on top. The finishing touch to this demure style is added when she pulls a few tendrils out at forehead, temples and back.

Heritage center will be dedicated

LUBBOCK — Dedication ceremonies for the Ranching Heritage Center and its David M. DeVitt and Mallet Ranch Building will highlight the July 2 formal opening events of Texas Tech University's outdoor exhibit of ranching history.

Texas has 65,472 miles of oil pipelines; 27,490 miles of trunk lines; 24,794 miles of gathering lines; 13,188 miles of product lines.

My Neighbors

"True, we don't want to appear to over-react, but then, neither do we care to appear to under-react. So let's just give the facts."

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will dedicate the center in the ceremonies which begin at 6 p. m. at the center on the grounds of The Museum of Texas Tech University.

U. S. Rep. George Mahon will also participate by leading the audience in singing "America the Beautiful" to the accompaniment of the Texas Tech Bicentennial Band.

Dale Robertson of film and television fame will be master of ceremonies.

The ceremonies will be preceded by the Texas Tech Bicentennial Longhorn Trail Drive, winding up a journey of almost 500 miles from San Antonio to the center. The Longhorn parade through Lubbock will begin at 3 p. m., Friday, from the South Plains Fairgrounds and move down Broadway, north on University, and west on 4th Street to the Ranching Heritage Center.

Following dedication ceremonies there will be a chuckwagon supper for visitors and a country dance from 8 p. m. to midnight on The Museum Plaza.

The center, a 12-acre exhibit of historic buildings authentically restored to depict the history of ranching in America, will be open Friday, July 2 from 10:30 a. m. to 3 p. m., with hosts in the various buildings to interpret for visitors. On-site activity-demonstrations start Saturday, July 3. On that day they will take place from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m., on Sunday from 1 to 6 p. m. and on Monday, July 5, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. All events, but meals and a tent show, are free to the public during the opening.

Drug abuse school required

The five Post youths recently charged with possession of marijuana, a misdemeanor offense, in county court have pleaded guilty and Monday received sentencing.

The five — Randy Lee Peel, George T. Pierce II, Jewell Odean Cummings, Jr., Randy Ray Bell and David Wayne Childers — were each fined $25 and $50 court costs by Judge Giles W. Dalby and sentenced to 90 days in the county jail.

The jail sentence then was probated for one year with conditions of probation including a 10:30 p. m. week night and midnight weekend summer curfew and attendance of a drug awareness school being worked out by Probation Officer Ed Sawyers.

Writ filed—

In writing the petition for the writ, Miss Ray told the county court that "the offense for which they were charged was not, and is not, illegal, in fact they were engaging in an activity which was legal in that they were gambling not in a public place but in a private home.

The Dispatch has been told deputies Mike Crawford and Bill Drewell made the June 4 arrest in an empty house, which belonged to one of the four charged.

Huntley quits—

accepted the offer. He says he would pay $9,000 and points out he lost $1,000 forfeit when he did not take up his purchase option on the property two years ago.

Hunsaker said he has told Dr. Howard if he wants to make a firm counter offer to put it in writing so it can be presented to hospital directors for consideration. Dr. Howard has yet to put the $9,000 offer in writing.

As for other hospital problems, the departure of Dr. Chana after ending his 60-day practice here Friday evening now leaves Post with a single physician for a short period. Dr. Harry Tubbs is handling emergency cases for the hospital with Dr. Chamber of Tahoka available on emergency standby if needed.

Dr. Wilson is out of the city on his vacation and won't return until sometime after the July 4th holiday.

Hunsaker reports that Medicare auditors are now working their second week here auditing hospital records for the hospital's fiscal year ending in September, 1975. They are expected to complete it by the end of the week.

The audit was requested by hospital directors to determine why the hospital doesn't have sizable Medicare payment coming for that hospital year.

The water situation at the hospital has been improved considerably by installation of a new water tank, Hunsaker reports. About half of the patient rooms also have been repainted during the normal hot weather slack season.

Dispatch third in editorial contest

The Post Dispatch was the third place winner in editorials in its circulation class in the 1976 Texas Press Association Better Newspaper Contest, results of which were announced at the TPS's summer convention in San Antonio Friday.

Postings—

(Continued From Page One) blue, another for yellow and a fourth for black. The roll paper is then threaded through the printing press so that the picture is imprinted four times with each of the basic colors, all carefully registered.

The color separation requires special camera work and Ed Neff's picture was sent off so the four basic color negatives could be shot. Needless to say, it's an expensive process.

Then the Snyder News charges a bundle extra for each extra color ink required in a press run so there are three "extra ink charges" to be added to the color separation costs besides the normal cost of the page ad.

So turn over to page 13 and take a look at Rocker A's "Happy Birthday, America" page.

Dan Zeigler, director of the community chorus, is so fired up for the presentation of "I Love America" Saturday night that he told the chorus at Sunday afternoon practice that he'd like to find a red, white and blue tux to wear for it. Any of you young guys about Dan's size got one hanging in your closet?

The community worship service in the park Sunday night is worth going to just for the music alone we decided after reading the musical talent from eight local churches. Louise Dietrich has lined up for that service.

Taking nothing away from all the other fine singers who will participate, just hearing David Morrow sing a patriotic medley with that tenor voice of his is worth all the time and effort right there. It shows pretty easily that we are a real fan of this talented youngster. And there are lots more musical goodies on that program besides David.

"A fellow with a stable mind can show a lot of horse sense."

July 4th—

Gene Gandy is head cook for the all night Friday night cookout in the park.

There will be enough barbecued beef brisket — 1,250 pounds to be exact — potato salad, bread, beans, onions and pickles to feed 2,500 people at $1.50 plate.

The meal will cost a lot more than the $1.50 charge per plate despite the volunteer cooks, free firewood and wholesale purchasing.

Contributions by many Chamber members and others will make up the difference.

The fireworks display, boosted by a $350 contribution from the Garza County Historical Committee, is going to feature as the final shot the largest and most expensive fireworks display ever fired on "the fourth" here.

So don't get sleepy and go home early.

The Sunday portion of the two-day celebration, sponsored by the Post Ministerial Alliance, is all new.

It begins with each person worshipping Sunday morning at the church of his or her choice.

The ringing of the bells here — joining the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia and thousands of bells across the nation — is scheduled promptly at 1 p. m. The mobile First United Methodist Church and the high school spirit bell will be rung in the park and will be joined by the First Christian Church bell from the church.

A unique softball tournament, consisting of five and maybe six different church teams, will be played at the Babe Ruth Park beginning at 1 p. m.

Rules include five men and five women on the field at all times for each team.

Entries reported to The Dispatch include First Presbyterian, Holy Cross Catholic, First Baptist, First United Methodist, the Church of God of Prophecy and the Calvary Baptists.

A family picnic at 5 p. m. in city-county park will be followed by a community church service of faith and freedom there at 7 p. m. (See separate story for details on this service.)

Cotton badly needs rain

Most Garza cotton is badly in need of rain, County Agent Syd Conner told The Dispatch yesterday.

He said young cotton in certain areas is unable to root down through dry top soil to reach deep sub-surface moisture.

The county agent said such cotton is "standing still" but can't for long. Rain will enable it to grow. A lack of rain will cause it to wither and die.

The power mower has become a part of the Texas family scene, but it can be as dangerous as a coiled rattlesnake. There's no refuting the labor-saving qualities of mowers, but they should be handled as carefully as you would a rattler, says Dudley J. Johnson, chief of the Consumer Health Bureau of the Texas Department of Health Resources. Cuts, bruises and puncture wounds are typical of the injuries which the machines can inflict. The gasoline used to power these mowers causes fires which have killed people and burned down the homes of others, says Johnson. More than 30,000 adults and children are treated each year in hospital emergency rooms for injuries associated with power lawn mowers, says the US Consumer Product Safety Commission. These are the more serious injuries requiring medical treatment. There is no clear picture on the number of painful minor injuries treated at home.

Accidents can happen in many ways.

Nancy was mowing long, wet grass when it became clogged in the discharge opening. When she tried to dislodge it, the whirling blades struck her fingers. One finger was amputated.

Jim's father was mowing grass in a hickory tree grove. A nut struck by the blade ricocheted off the house and hit Jim, blinding the right eye.

A man using a riding mower on a steep backyard terrace started a sideways turn. The machine rolled over. His left leg was so severely cut it had to be amputated.

Mr. Smith was mowing a lot with a garden tractor when he backed up, striking his son who had been playing behind the tractor. The boy's left foot was amputated.

Do any of these accidents sound familiar?

They are accident patterns which are repeated time after time. These patterns are:

1. Contact with the rotating blade. This often occurs when the victim is clearing the discharge chute; when the victim adjusts the machine without turning it off and waiting for the blade to stop; or when the machine hits an obstacle such as a rock and the victim's foot slips under the housing.

2. Propelled objects — wire, rocks and twigs can be shot out either through the discharge chute or from under the housing. Many victims in these cases are bystanders.

3. Overturning — riding mowers used on steep slopes are involved in this type of accident most often.

4. Mower running over the victim — this often occurs when a riding mower or garden tractor is being driven in reverse. Push type mowers are dangerous when the operator pulls the mower backward over the foot, or slips going uphill, allowing the mower to roll backward.

Experts at the Texas Department of Health Resources say that reel lawn mowers are safer than rotary lawn mowers, primarily because their blades move more slowly than those of rotary mowers. A common accident pattern with reel lawn mowers, however, is attempting to release the reel when it is jammed by a twig or other object without first shutting off the engine.

Since reel lawn mowers cannot cut tall grass efficiently, most consumers prefer rotary mowers. Almost 90 percent of all power lawn mowers manufactured each year are rotary mowers. Their blades can reach speeds of 200 miles per hour and can hurl objects 50 feet or more, unless the mowers are equipped with chute deflection. If your mower has a deflector, don't take it off, thereby invite an accident to happen.

How about the gasoline to power your mower? It can be a time bomb just waiting to explode or catch fire.

One of the biggest "don'ts" in handling gasoline is to store it in a glass container. And, keep it out of any garage or storage room in which a water heater is located. Gasoline fumes — in case of a fire — can be as explosive as dynamite.

Gasoline should be kept in a well-ventilated area (not from your living quarters) in tightly-capped safety cans. Don't refuel a mower while running or while the engine is hot. And, never refuel a mower indoors because the vapors may be ignited by a spark.

Aspirin is best for arthritis

CHICAGO — Confounding the popular belief that "new" is always synonymous with "better" is aspirin, the oldest anti-inflammatory drug of all, reported Dr. Thomas Kantor of New York University at a scientific meeting of The Arthritis Foundation here last week.

Each time a new drug for arthritis is approved, patients clamor for it, but aspirin is still the "drug of choice" for arthritis because it is still the best, Dr. Kantor said.

Moreover, he indicated, research is finally starting to reveal how this "wonder drug" actually works, which may lead to the discovery of a new drug which truly is better.

Dr. Kantor spoke at one of several clinical seminars for physicians, part of week-long arthritis foundation meetings held at the Hyatt Regency Chicago Hotel. His subject title was "Aspirin Revisited," a review of the proper role of aspirin in the treatment of arthritic conditions today.

"Most patients feel short-changed when their physicians send them home prescribing 'only' aspirin," Dr. Kantor said. "They fail to realize that it is really three drugs in one. First, it is a pain killer. Second, it brings down fever. Third, it reduces inflammation." Since inflammation is what causes pain and damage to joints, aspirin's anti-inflammatory power is the most important to the arthritis sufferer.

Many patients and even some doctors, fail to realize that when aspirin is used as an anti-inflammatory for arthritis, it must be taken at a much higher dosage level than if it is simply taken for pain, Dr. Kantor stressed.

He reviewed the two principal ways in which physicians should use aspirin in the treatment of arthritis — all by itself, or as a supplement together with one or more other anti-arthritis drugs. When used alone, as much aspirin is prescribed as the patient can tolerate, and the blood level of aspirin should be checked periodically by laboratory tests. Some physicians increase aspirin dosage until the patient complains of "ringing in the ears," an early sign of toxicity which is easily reversible.

Dr. Kantor pointed out that, whereas it ordinarily matters little whether a patient takes a few more aspirins than prescribed, at high dosage levels a small change in the amount taken may have a great effect on toxicity. People also respond very individualistically to aspirin. Some can take much more than others, while a few can't tolerate it at all.

Even though aspirin is nearly one hundred years old, until recently scientists paid little attention to how it works. Current research aimed at understanding its mechanisms may hasten the discovery of a drug that is a more specific anti-inflammatory and thus can be given at a lower dose than aspirin.

According to Dr. Kantor, there is increasing evidence that aspirin suppresses the production of prostaglandins, a recently discovered group of hormone-like substances that seem to regulate matters inside cells of the body. Some of these prostaglandins have been shown to play a major part in causing inflammation.

Dr. Kantor believes that aspirin also somehow modifies the effects of lysosomal enzymes that are directly responsible for inflammation and damage found in arthritic joints. "It is known at present," Dr. Kantor said, "whether aspirin does this by stabilizing the membranes of cells, thus preventing the escape of the enzymes, or by decreasing the release of the enzymes from the lysosomal sacs inside the cells. Either mechanism would do the trick."

Like all effective drugs, aspirin can have side-effects. Almost all anti-inflammatory drugs are hard on the gastro-intestinal tract, and aspirin can cause ulcers. It affects blood clotting, and it can have a detrimental effect on the liver, especially in children.

The fact that aspirin is an over-the-counter drug is an accident of its birth rather than a sign of its safety. It was developed by Felix Hofmann in the 1890s, long before there was an FDA to review medications. The German scientist developed aspirin because he desperately wanted to alleviate the severe pain suffered by his father, an arthritis victim who was the first to benefit from this "wonder drug."

Actually the use of salicylic acid — aspirin's parent compound — to treat fever and — arthritis is much older. Salicylic acid is found in the bark of the willow tree, whose medicinal properties were known to primitive man, the Romans and the American Indians.

More interesting still was its use in 18th century England based on the Doctrine of Signature which held that where malady occurs, nature provides a cure nearby. The willow tree "delights in a moist, wet soil", an environment then believed to favor chills, pain and rheumatism. It seemed to be the ideal candidate for a remedy.

The ancient Greeks believed that pearls were formed by raindrops falling into open oyster shells.

Bill, as he is called by his many friends at Postex, was presented his award and certificate for completion of 25 years continuous service by Bobby Waters, Greige Mill superintendent, and Plant Manager Ed Bruton.

The long time loom fixer first came to Postex in 1933 and stayed until 1942. Bill recalled that when he started in 1933 he earned 19 cents an hour. Bill left in 1942, but returned the same year and left again in 1951 and returned in 1951 and decided to stay that time.

Hughes will retire at age 65 in December of this year. He is at home with his wife, Vesta, at 601 N. Ave. P.

Burlington names three new directors

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Burlington Industries has elected three new members to its board of directors, Chairman Horace C. Jones announced today.

They are John W. Simmons, chairman and president of Morton-Norwich Products Inc., in Chicago; Ernesta Drinker Ballard of Philadelphia, president of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society; and Donald R. Huges of Greensboro, corporate vice president-finance and controller of Burlington.

No Tolerance

"Bureaucracy does not tolerate the spirit of independence, it spreads the spirit of submission."

The crape myrtle, an old Texas standby, is getting more and more popular every year. This is mainly because the hardy plants are so attractive and easy to grow.

Crape myrtles, which produce flowers ranging from purple red to white in color, will bloom through long periods of the hot Texas summer. The shrubs are grown mostly in the southern United States and are considered a nearly ideal plant by many nurserymen, homeowners and landscape architects.

Crape myrtles should be planted in warm sunny locations in a good, well-drained soil. Planting in a sunny place will usually prevent powdery mildew, a common disease of crape myrtles, which can be treated with applications of Actidione PM or Benomyl.

Annual applications of a complete fertilizer will speed up growth and blooming. Dwarf crape myrtles make excellent borders along buildings or walkways and are also good for use in mass plantings. Heavy pruning of dwarf varieties during the winter results in increased blooming in the spring.

However, tree type crape myrtles should be pruned lightly. "Remove only the small branches of tree type crape myrtles so the tree's sculptured trunk can be seen."

Crape myrtles can be propagated from cuttings taken in mid-winter and placed in damp garden soil, says the county agent. "It's best to move large shrubs or trees when they are dormant, but container grown plants can be moved any time," he says.

—O—
Any student or summer

employee who expects to make $2,350 or less during the year need not pay any federal income tax.

"If a student or summer employee expects to earn $2,350 or less and does not want income tax deductions taken out during the year, he can file a W-4E Form with his employer certifying that there is to be no tax deduction during the year."

"However, if at any time after this form is filed, an employee earns more than $2,350, he must file a regular tax withholding form and standard deductions will begin."

An employee who is eligible to file a W-4E Form may prefer to have income tax deductions made during the year and then file for a tax refund after January 1.

An employee who earns more than $2,350, has earned more than $750 in unearned income such as tips or dividends, or is being claimed as a dependent by his parents must file a standard income tax return.

The newly appointed director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service told the more than 1,000 members of the organization's professional staff last week that "the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is great because it has learned to be responsible to the needs of the people of this state. We have a solid base on which to build, and we must build on the legacies left by Dr. John E. Hutchison." (Hutchison retired on Feb. 29 after 18½ years as Extension director.)

In his message at the conclusion of the biennial state extension conference, Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel said, "The direct involvement of people in the design and execution of extension educational programs has been a key factor in the effectiveness of extension work. We must continue to strengthen this involvement through the county program building committee process. This is the single most important thing that we can do."

The director noted that an organization must change with the changing environment if it is to remain strong and effective. Of course, such changes would require careful consideration.

Pfannstiel also emphasized

Motorcyclist is killed at lake

White River Lake had a motorcycle fatality Saturday.

Chester George (Buddy) Spurlock, 28, of Lubbock, was pronounced dead at the scene when the motorcycle he was riding went out of control and slid off a road embankment on the east side of the lake late in the afternoon.

The machine rolled over Spurlock's body. The Lubbock man reportedly was riding around the lake when the accident occurred.

The team approach in extension work in which county agents (generalists) are supported by specialists in various subject areas. And he stressed the use of the result demonstration method of teaching as a key tool for effective education.

He called for a continued positive outreach approach to provide educational opportunities to farm and ranch people as charged by the Smith Lever Act of 1914 which created the Cooperative Extension Service.

The new director also called for the involvement of more adult leaders in the 4-H program which is administered by the extension service.

Pfannstiel pledged his support to the goal to make Texas No. 1 in agricultural income in the nation by 1980. "With all the technology and expertise that we have available, we can make this happen."

$2,309 in bond sales in April

Lewis Herron, county chairman for the Savings Bonds Program in Garza County, reported sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in the amount of $2,309 for April 1976. Sales for the first four months of the year totaled $19,661 which represents 15 percent of their assigned dollar goal.

Sales in Texas during the month amounted to $21,912,800 while sales for the four-month period totaled $95,165,176 with 35 percent of the yearly sales goal of $272.4 million achieved.
