Garza County district court grand jury last Tuesday Dec. 29 indicted 12 men on a wide variety of charges, including rape, N. Walker, local attorney.

The indictment against Walker reads: "unlawfully exercise control over property, other than real property, to-wit, scrap iron of the value of over $200, without the effective consent of Erwin Young, the owner thereof, and with intent to deprive Erwin Young of said property."

Walker posted $1,000 bail on the charge when served by Sheriff Gene Gandy.

Young returned from Colorado to testify before the grand jury in the case.

Others of those indicted, charges and bond amounts are as follows:

Charlie Darrell Smith of Lubbock, indicted for aggravated rape in the attack on a Denton woman on a Garza road near here last Oct. 24. Smith is still in jail here in lieu of $50,000 bond.

Cruz Villanueva, indicted for knowingly possessing a usable quantity of marijuana to-wit, more than four ounces on Nov. 16, 1975, out on $7,500 bond.

Gabriel Romero, indicted for aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, a knife, causing bodily injury to Elias Martinez by cutting his throat with the knife, $10,000 bond.

Alan Dale Noble, indicted for intentionally and knowingly causing serious bodily injury to Randy Baker on Halloween night by shooting Baker with a hunting arrow, $10,000 bond.

Roman DeLuna, still in custody after two burglary indictments here on Nov. 6. He is charged with the burglaries of the Doyle Fry and Markey Dorland residences. It was in the Dorland home that he was surprised by Jimmy Dorland returning home from football practice.

Robert Cox was chairman of the grand jury.

Other members were Marian Cruse, Prudencio Basquez, Mrs. Lewis Martinez, Mrs. Dale Cravy, Ted Tatum, Mrs. Richard Dudley, Roy Teaff, Mrs. Jack Kirkpatrick, Larry Waldrip and Jack Lott.

Six of those indicted have not been served and it is The Dispatch's policy to withhold information on these indictments until the men charged have either been placed in custody or under bond.

City to get train logs through Post

The city council Monday night postponed action on setting a train speed limit through Post after Paul Buchanan of Slaton, Santa Fe trainmaster for the division, promised to provide a log on the speeds of all trains through Post for a week.

Buchanan told the council that it was his job to enforce speed limits and safety precautions on trains and that the Santa Fe railroad by hard work had risen to the top in safety in recent years.

He said 90 per cent of the trains through Post have a maximum speed of no more than 45 miles per hour and requiring a lower speed might increase accidents by "inviting" the driver to try and beat the train to the crossing.

He pointed out the railroad has lost 15 cross arms on the Main Street crossing here during the last year due to motorists breaking them off in driving around them in front of oncoming trains.

He said Snyder is the only city in this track area with a train speed limit and it is 50 (See City to, Page 12)

Two minor break-ins are reported here

Two minor break-ins were reported by the sheriff's office early Sunday morning.

The one at the Boston Super Dog was only an "arm in". The main serving window was broken and the intruders reached into snatch all within reach which included crackers, candy and a microphone.

At Cecil Foster's Car Wash a towel dispenser was broken into and towels and coins taken.

Library misses 12,000 circulation goal again

For the second year in a row, the Post Public Library just missed its goal of a 12,000-book circulation for the year.

Librarian Pee Wee Pierce reported last weekend in her December library report that 11,667 books were checked out here during 1975.

The 1974 circulation total was 11,955 — 288 more than for 1975, the first drop — though a slight one — ever experienced by the library since its opening.

Only 686 books were checked out in December, usually the smallest reading month of the year for the library because of so many Christmas activities.

These included 548 adult and 138 juvenile books.

For the year of 1975, a total of 8,802 adult books were checked out and 2,865 juvenile books.

The fiction breakdown in circulation included: 3,625 in adult fiction, 1,687 mystery books, 532 westerns, 86 science fiction 174 young adults, 1,118 juveniles and 1,185 easy read books.

The library added only nine new books to its shelves in December, a traditionally slow month for acquisitions to bring new books added to library shelves for the year to 466. A total of 78 books were removed from the library during 1975 due to books lost and books discarded.

Of the 466 new books, 248 were given to the library and

Gene Moore named next head of Post Rotary Club

Gene Moore, Pioneer Natural Gas Co. manager here, was elected president-elect of the Post Rotary Club by Rotary directors meeting immediately following the club's Tuesday luncheon.

Moore, who has served as club director and as its first vice president in past years, will succeed Jim Cornish at the Rotary helm with the beginning of the new club year next July 1.

Walter Didway, personnel manager of the Postex Plant, was elected vice president putting him in line for the presidency the following year.

Lou Marks, who has served as the club's secretary, for the past decade, was reelected secretary for another year and James Mitchell was named again as treasurer.

Charles Adams was renamed editor of the club's weekly bulletin, The Branding Iron, and Jack Alexander was elected sergeant-at-arms.

Cornish next year as the past president will serve as the second vice president.

Directors at the short session also authorized Moore, the club's safety committee chairman and his committee to proceed with a club project to provide safety reflectors for all bicycles of local youngsters.

Details of the project will be announced as soon as they have been worked out, Moore indicated.

At their Tuesday luncheon Rotarians saw a slide presentation on the history of cheese and another on the history of margarine, presented by Alton Hall of Lubbock, a representative of Kraft Foods. Hall said 13 billion pounds of cheese are now produced annually and the average American consumes 414 pounds of dairy products each year.

Joe Shedd introduced the speaker.

$100,000 IN NEW CONSTRUCTION

New Dairy Queen, Allsup store get permits here

Two building permits for $100,000 in new construction were approved by the city council Monday night to get the 1976 construction year off to a very fast start.

One permit calls for the construction of a $60,000 Dairy Queen drive in restaurant at 601 North Broadway, present site of a welding shop.

The new Dairy Queen, which has been promoted quite actively by the Post Chamber of Commerce this past year, especially through Chamber president Ed Bruton, will be a building containing 2,000 square feet.

It is another major step to attract US-84 highway business as well as local quick food orders.

According to City Manager Pete Maddox, the Dairy Food interests already has purchased the site.

The second permit is for Allsup's No. 2 convenience store at 415 North Broadway on a corner location cleared for construction some months ago.

This permit is for $40,000.

According to the Construction firm, who builds new stores for the rapidly expanding New Mexico-based convenience store chain, he hopes to begin (See Build, permits, Page 12)

City will accept bids on community center project

Cash 'found' in budget

The Post City Council by a split 3 to 2 vote Monday night authorized the advertisement of construction bids for phase one of the renovation of the Parrish Grocery building into Post's new community center.

Action came after the mayor's community center study committee turned out full force to urge action now to get the building into usable shape.

Two representatives of the Lubbock architectural firm of Whitaker and Hall — Dwayne McQueen and Mike Martin — appeared before the council to explain detailed plans for the phase one operation.

The first phase will include only the complete renovation of the present building and will cost an estimated $92,000.

Bids for the construction will be advertised for in this week's and next week's issue of The Dispatch and bids then would be opened two weeks later.

The work will include new lighting, new floors, new ceiling, new front and additional air conditioning and the conversion of former storage space in the rear to two small meeting rooms for community groups.

Phase two, which would cost less, would be the addition of a "teen room" and new entrance with new restrooms in the east parking lot of the building. The council refused to authorize detailed plans for phase two at this time.

In voting to advertise for bids, Dr. William C. Wilson made the motion with Councilman Bill Pool and Jim Wells voting in favor of the motion with Councilmen Jim Jackson and Ed Sawyers voting no.

Mayor Giles McCrary does not vote except in cases of a tie, but was clearly in favor of the action.

Jackson commented he wasn't going to vote to spend the money unless he knew where it was coming from.

Later in the evening, he found out.

When the council met with the study committee in December, the committee said it would work with the architects to complete the plans and the council promised to hold a "work session" to study its budget and see where and how the first phase of construction might possibly be financed.

The committee did its job, but the council didn't, not calling any work session through the holiday period.

So at Mayor McCrary's suggestion the council decided to rush through its agenda and do some "budget studying" that same night.

The study committee didn't go home at this point, although some of the big crowd left. Many of the committee stayed to see what the council finally would do.

What the council did was to find $80,000 available from its current budget for the construction with the possibility the other $12,000 might be available by the time it was needed to pay off the contractor in several months. If not, the city would borrow the remainder.

Taking the $80,000 from the budget will not cripple any proposed municipal programs.

As The Dispatch understood it, the city would take $30,000 from current revenue sharing funds, allocate $20,000 more in incoming revenue sharing, take $10,000 from the oil reserve (See City Council, Page 12)

Four arrested after knife point holdup

Three young Garza men are in the county jail and one young Post woman is out on bond as a result of a knife-point robbery at the Graham Co-op Gin office about 5:45 a. m. Sunday.

The money taken in the robbery has been recovered.

Still in jail Tuesday unable to make $10,000 bond each are Johnny Garcia, 22 of Route 2, Post, Tino Hernandez, 19, of 115 East Fifth Street, and Abel Martinez, 18, of 106 East Fifth.

The trio is charged with aggravated robbery, according to Sheriff E. E. (Gene) Gandy.

The girl, Lily Hernandez, 20, also of 115 E. 5th and a sister of Tino, was released on $2,000 bond on a charge of concealing stolen property.

Gandy said one of the three men held a knife to the throat of Mrs. Alma Lucille Morris, who was alone in the office at the time of the holdup.

Stolen, according to Sheriff Gandy, was $97.50 in cash in bills, rolls of dimes, quarters, nickels and pennies, and some loose change, plus $15 in two checks, one Gulf credit card, license plate renewal notices, and the extra key for the gin pickup and seed truck.

The sheriff's force had all four arrests made in different locations within four hours with the first tip being a description of the bandits' car as red by another gin employe.

Methodists get new pastor

The Rev. Conrad Ryan will be the new pastor of the United First Methodist Church here, succeeding the Rev. Kenneth Metzger who has been assigned to Memphis.

These two were among many Methodist parastate changes announced in Lubbock Friday.

The Rev. Ryan comes to Post from Hale Center. He has preached for a number of years at both Ralls and Abernathy as well.

His first Sunday here will be Jan. 18.

FIRST BABY WINNER — Mrs. Albert Castro holds the winner of The Dispatch's first baby of 1976 contest, Stephanie Castro who was born in Garza Memorial Hospital at 3:05 a. m., Jan. 2. — (Staff Photo)

You probably remember the story in last week's Dispatch on only $69,800 on building permits for 1975. Well, the Methodists forgot to get one, or so it seems, for some $100,000 in remodeling of the United First Methodist Church last year or the building permit total would have read a much more respectable $169,800.

Things are looking up, though, for 1976 with two business building permits already approved for a total of $100,000 in new Broadway (US-84) construction.

We call attention to the Page one enrollment story for the second semester at the Post Extension Center.

The only center course which drew big interest in the first semester was the conversational Spanish course and an advanced Spanish course is being offered this group at their request the second semester.

A good general psychology course is being offered and another in office accounting. Both should have broad appeal here. Then there is a course in government at local and state levels. With so much citizen interest in government these days that one ought to spark some interest too.

Some phone boosts sought

General Telephone of the Southwest, following the procedure of Post's recently enacted phone rate ordinance, has applied for the city to increase several types of charges here.

Probably the most important one is to boost pay phone rates to 25 cents a call.

Mayor Giles McCrary told the city council Monday night that the rate requested had been "hand delivered" to him and that he had given it to the attorney for the city, Harvey Morton, for analysis and recommendation.

The city has a prescribed number of days in which to act to block any boosts or they take effect automatically.

None of the regular phone rates to residents and businesses here are affected by the requests, but a variety of charges, such as $1 more per switchboard, has been asked for.

Registration Jan. 14 for Post Extension Center

Registration for the spring semester at Western Texas College's Post Extension Center is scheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 14 at the Post High School from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

This will be the only time students can register in Post. Late registration must be done at the Western Texas College campus in Snyder.

Classes to be offered in Post this semester are as follows:

GOVT 232-Texas State and Local Government will be taught on Monday nights. This course includes study of the constitution of Texas and the state, county, and municipal governments.

SPA 132-Conversational Spanish is a continuation of Spanish 131. It is a 3-hour course, and only students who have credit in Spanish 131 will be allowed to register for this course. Classes will be conducted on Tuesday nights.

BUS 235-Office Accounting is designed for non-accounting majors. Instruction will be given in elementary bookkeeping, emphasizing forms and procedures. Areas covered in (See Registration, Page 12)

Burleson will seek reelection

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Omar Burleson, who represents the 17th District of Texas in the United States House of Representatives, has announced for re-election. He has filed for a place on the ballot in the Democratic Primary Election on May 1, 1976.

Burleson was elected to the 80th Congress from the 17th District and has been re-elected to each succeeding Congress. He is a member of the Ways and Means Committee, considered to be the most powerful and prestigious in the House. In addition, Congressman Burleson serves on the newly created Budget Control Committee which has, as its purpose, relating Federal expenditures to Federal revenues with the goal of reaching a balanced budget.

Power to the people

If ever a citizen committee has performed 101 per cent for Post it is the current community center study committee, chaired by red-headed Maxine Marks.

The only reason we mention the color of Mrs. Marks' hair is because she had her dander up at the city council's January session Monday night.

She outspokenly told the council the committee had done its job but the council, making the excuse of "Christmas holiday rush," had not done what councilmen had promised to do a month ago — hold a work session to see if there was money enough in the current city budget to launch "phase one" of the community center renovation project.

Mrs. Marks not only spoke up pointedly, but she had every member of her committee there in her support, plus several others. The impressive group was so big that this portion of the city council meeting had to be moved into the adjacent Post Public Library to give every one room to sit comfortably.

The outcome of the whole thing was that the council quickly agreed to do their budget homework as soon as possible and upon Mayor McCrary's suggestion decided to do it that very night and hurriedly raced through the remainder of its agenda.

You know what that community center committee did. They just "sat it out" with the council.

There was a lot of plain talk given in Mrs. Marks' support — and everybody in the room got the message which was that the council appointed committee had fire in its eye.

Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick made "a little speech" in which she declared she would like to see the city do all three construction phases at one time and treat the people to a real improvement which most towns have enjoyed years ago. Others spoke their piece too. It was "people power" in action and it had a real effect.

The council did find most of the estimated $92,000 for the first phase in the budget while still keeping some reserves handy in case of trouble before the end of the budget year. Very probably the first phase can be financed without borrowing a dollar. Maybe $12,000 in borrowing would be necessary.

After the council had authorized by a 3-2 split vote to advertise for construction bids and had agreed on how to squeeze most of the construction money out of the current budget, the committee got in a couple of parting licks before they went home at 11 p. m. on getting phase two going.

As was pointed out, it probably would be cheaper to borrow money and build now than not to borrow money and build later after construction prices have gone up higher than the cost of the interest would have been.

Since phase two is the addition of the teenagers room and the new entrance with the new and larger restroom facilities, The Dispatch can't see waiting very long for them. Both are necessary.

The Dispatch warmly applauds the resolute action Monday night of Mrs. Marks and her hard working community center study committee. Long live "people power."

Cotton prices fluctuate $1 down to $2.50 up

Grower prices were $1.00 lower to $2.50 per bale higher during the week ending Jan. 2, 1976 according to Paul R. Dickson in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office.

Farmers sold mixed new crop lots of mostly grades 32, 42, 52, 33 and 43, staples 30 and 31, mikes 3.0 through 4.9 for 46.00 to 47.00 cents per pound. Mixed lots of mostly grades 32, 42, 52, 33 and 43, staples 29 and 30, mikes 3.0 through 4.9 brought 42.50 to 43.00 cents.

The USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reported trading was moderate and growers offered new crop cotton in moderate volume, Dickson said.

Demand was moderate. Prices paid growers for cottonseed ranged from 80-100 dollars per ton, mostly 80 to 90 dollars.

Grades 42, 52 and 43 were the predominate grades classed this week. Grade 42 accounted for 39 per cent and grade 52, 23 per cent and 43 was 11 per cent. Bark reductions were assigned to 36 per cent of the samples classed.

Staples 29, 30 and 31 were the predominate lengths. Staple 29 amounted to 16 per cent; staple 30, 34 per cent; and staple 31, 27 per cent.

Mike readings 3.5 through 4.9 amounted to two percent of the total. Mike group 3.3 through 3.4 accounted for three percent; 3.0 through 3.2 range 16 percent; mike 2.7 through 2.9, 39 percent; and 2.6 and below, 40 percent.

Samples classed at Lubbock totaled 661,000. This compares with 609,000 on the same date last season, the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reported Friday.

Brucellosis quarantine delayed until Jan. 9

DALLAS — The U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced Friday that it is delaying the effective date of its federal brucellosis quarantine on Texas from Jan. 5 until Jan. 9.

According to officials of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), the quarantine is being postponed because of a temporary 10-day restraining order issued Dec. 30 by Judge J. T. Boyd of the state's 64th Judicial District Court in Castro County, Texas. The temporary restraining order requires the Texas Animal Health Commission to bring the Texas brucellosis program into compliance with the cooperative state-federal brucellosis program.

A hearing on the state court action is scheduled for Jan. 8 in Dimmitt, Tex. Issuance of the temporary restraining order by the state court means that Texas officials must comply with uniform methods and rules the national brucellosis eradication program for the duration of the order, according to John M. Hejl, APHIS administrator for veterinary services. Therefore, in view of the state court's action and forthcoming Jan. 8 hearing, effective date of the federal quarantine is being postponed until Jan. 9, he said.

Dr. Hejl also said through Jan. 8 APHIS will continue to cooperate with Texas in carrying out the brucellosis program, including the payment of indemnities to owners of infected cattle.

Postal hike changes

We read somewhere the other day that one of the problems the postoffice department was having their continual deficit was that when they raised their rates they suffered a drop in volume because of it.

That's just a sensible public reaction that the automobile industry found out about too when it tried to hike car prices every few weeks to get back to the days of profit.

The recent three cent first class jump is going to bring a lot of changes.

If we were an enterprising, trustworthy kid looking for a job we know what we'd do. We simply approach a couple of dozen local merchants and offer to hand deliver their bills for say eight cents apiece. A little volume like that would enable the youngster to make several deliveries to the same person.

Of course you couldn't leave the bills in the mail box. The government has a rule against that.

Take our classified ad department for example. The 13-cent first class rate is forcing us into a change in that. It is no longer economically feasible to charge a 75 cent minimum for a one-time only want ad, keep record control of it, and mail a bill out for it at the end of the month. Conservatively put, the mailing costs us about 25 cents, even though we print our own envelopes and billheads. Paper isn't cheap either, nor envelopes, even at wholesale prices.

Not that we particularly want to raise our classified rate.

So what we're offering is simply this. The 75 cent want ad is still there for the same price, providing the customer who ordered it, gets into the Dispatch office before the end of the month and pays for it. If he or she doesn't, then a 25 cent "statement charge" will be added to the bill. What's more only one statement will be mailed. If the customer doesn't want to pay, there is no use sending additional statements. Thereafter that "customer" will be "personally non grata" (not welcome) to use The Dispatch want ad columns again until he mends his ways.

We do not wish to require payment upon receipt of the ad because telephoning in ads is a convenient way to do business. But paying for them is the buyer's obligation, and if he or she forgets to get the "six bits" in by month's end then she or he will have to pay the "reminder fee."

When you call in a want ad now, the Dispatch employe will tell you the cost before hanging up the phone. If it's only a one-time only insertion then getting the correct amount to us in person or with a 13-cent stamp is your choice.

Incidentally our newspaper rates for mailing the paper to subscribers took another jump with the new rates. They've been going up quite regularly, every six months or so as we remember, for several years.

We are not jumping any subscription prices, but we have launched for the first time in years a drive to get all "our mistakes" off the subscription list so we will be mailing Dispatches only to those subscribers who pay in advance.

Burlington ends '75 in better shape

GREENSBORO — Burlington Industries' 1975 fiscal year ended on a note of gradual improvement although most of it had been spent in an environment of severe recession.

In the company's annual report to shareholders issued this week, Burlington Chairman James C. Jones said, "For the first nine months our sales and earnings were at depressed levels, and the record results of 1974 were reversed. Inventories were liquidated at all levels, consumer confidence declined to new lows, housing starts were reduced, and general employment increased."

Mr. Jones said "the pressures of all these factors required substantial curtailment of our production and forced business to a low level in the March-April period. Since that time, a gradual but steady improvement has taken place in our business in the United States."

During the last quarter of Burlington's 1975 fiscal year, he noted, the recovery gained momentum, permitting higher manufacturing activity, improved prices to offset increased costs and a return to better earnings.

Burlington ended its fiscal year, Sept. 27 with sales of $1.95 billion, down from $2.3 billion in 1974, and net earnings of $39.7 million compared to $99.5 million in 1974. Dividends paid in 1975 were $1.30 per share of common stock, compared to $1.50 in 1974.

"At present, we continue to experience a gradual increase in the tempo of our sales and earnings," the Burlington chief executive states. "The improvement in the apparel fabrics part of our business has gained momentum faster than home furnishings or industrial products."

"We believe we are entering a period of increased consumer confidence and that our sales and profits should benefit from this during the coming year," Mr. Jones said. "However, we are aware of the possibility that higher prices may dampen the recovery experienced in recent months, and we are controlling our operations with this in mind."

Capital spending for plant and equipment modernization totaled $104 million in 1975 and may reach the $175 million level in 1976, with about 80 per cent invested for modernization and 20 per cent for expansion.

In reviewing the past year, the report notes that a restructuring and consolidation program was already underway when the economic recession began in 1975. Over a two-year period, 1973 to 1975, company employment was reduced from 88,000 to 71,000 and operating floor space was reduced by 7 million square feet. Overhead expenses for 1975 were reduced at an annual rate of $25 million.

"The restructuring, although painful and difficult for the company, has resulted in opportunities for increases in productivity and the establishment of a keen and aggressive posture in our highly competitive industry," the Burlington chairman said.

Company sales capacity has been maintained at approximately $2.5 billion despite the reductions in employment and facilities.

Burlington maintained and improved its financial position in 1975. By the end of the fiscal year, cash and short term investments had increased to $107 million compared to $32.4 million in 1974.

Energy and fuel availability continue to be matters of concern: "We have attempted to insure ourselves against fuel shortages by increasing inventories and installing facilities which are convertible to alternate energy sources. As a matter of policy, we believe that government regulation of natural gas prices has severely hindered exploration for and availability of this important energy source," he said.

Economic and political uncertainties color prospects for success ahead, Mr. Jones said. "The world-wide economic recession, unrest in many parts of the world, and the continuing assault on the free enterprise system present a challenge to every business enterprise today."

"We are daily confronted with additional governmental regulations and restrictions. While there is some justification and need for many of these regulations, the implementation and enforcement is totally unrealistic at times, creating a non-productive burden that is injurious to company results and to business in general."

WWI emergency tax declining

SAN ANGELO — The excise tax on telephone bills will be reduced 1 per cent — from 7 to 6 per cent — beginning January 1, 1976, as a result of the fourth step of a 10 year reduction.

The tax elimination was enacted as part of the Excise, Estate and Gift Tax Adjustment Act of 1970 calling for successive 1 per cent reductions in the excise tax on telephone bills on the first of each year, until the tax expires Dec. 31, 1981.

General Telephone customers paid an estimated $2.1 million less in Federal Excise Taxes on telephone bills during 1975 because of the 1 per cent reduction in the tax beginning January 1, 1975.

The excise tax on telephone bills was first imposed by Congress during World War I as a "temporary" measure. Although repealed briefly after the war, the tax was reinstated during the depression and has continued ever since at varying rates as high as 15 per cent on local service and 25 per cent on long distance calls. From 1954 until 1971, it stood at 10 per cent.

The Veterans Administration reports that 73 of the 100 senators and 306 of the 435 members of the House are veterans of military service.

Scout banquet set for Jan. 16

LUBBOCK — The Annual Recognition Banquet of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, is set for Jan. 16, 1976 at the Koko Palace in Lubbock, according to Max Tidmore, 1976 Council President.

The banquet provides the opportunity to recognize the Scouters who have done an outstanding job for the Cub Scouts, Scouts and Explorers in the local council. Those to be recognized will include the Silver Beaver recipients. The Silver Beaver is the highest honor a Scouting council can present to a volunteer. This year five individuals will receive Silver Beaver Awards. They have been selected by a committee from nominations. Aiden Barber, the National Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, will be the featured speaker. Mr. Barber is responsible for the administration of the nation's largest youth organization. This is Mr. Barber's second visit to a South Plains Council Annual Banquet.

Recognition for individuals involved in the Council Division of the Sustaining Membership Enrollment Campaign is also planned. The four-part fund raising program is expected to be well on the way to reaching the projected $240,000 goal at the time of the recognition dinner.

WANT AD BILLING CHANGE

Due to the recent increase in first class mail rates, The Dispatch this week adopts a new policy on billing one-time want ads. The customer is not required to pay on order, but if he or she does not pay by billing time at the end of the month, then a 25 cent billing fee will be added to send out the bill. This change applies only to one-time insertions in which billing costs without the charge would mean a loss on the transaction rather than a profit. The "25 cent reminder fee" can be avoided by prompt payment. Your cooperation will enable Dispatch want ad rates to remain the same.

STATEMENT OF NONDISCRIMINATION

Lynegar Electric Cooperative, Inc. has filed with the Federal Government a Compliance Assurance in which it assures the Rural Electrification Administration that it will comply fully with all requirements of the Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Rules and Regulations of the Department of Agriculture issued thereunder, to the end that no person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination in the conduct of its program and the operation of its facilities. Under this Assurance, this organization is committed not to discriminate against any person on the ground of race, color or national origin in its policies and practices relating to applications for service or any other policies and practices relating to treatment of beneficiaries and participants including rates, conditions and extension of service, use of any of its facilities, attendance at and participation in any meetings of beneficiaries and participants or the exercise of any rights of such beneficiaries and participants in the conduct of the operations of this organization.

Any person who believes himself, or any specific class of individuals, to be subjected by this organization to discrimination prohibited by Title VI of the Act and the Rules and Regulations issued thereunder may, by himself or a representative, file with the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250, or the Rural Electrification Administration, Washington, D. C. 20250, or this organization, or all, a written complaint. Such complaint must be filed not later than 180 days after the alleged discrimination, or by such later date to which the Secretary of Agriculture or the Rural Electrification Administration extends the time to filing. Identity of complainants will be kept confidential except to the extent necessary to carry out the purposes of the Rules and Regulations.

AUSTIN — Significant new legislation took effect in Texas January 1.

The acts were passed by the legislature during 1975 with effective dates postponed until start of the new year.

Among the new laws are the following:

—Authority for the Department of Public Safety to cancel licenses following a hearing of automobile inspection stations which are caught requiring unnecessary repairs or equipment.

—Power for the Department of Public Welfare to regulate homes, nursery schools, private kindergartens and child placing agencies for teenagers with special problems. The regulations already have met with controversy from kindergarten operators.

—A requirement that certificates of titles be provided for boats over 14 feet long and for motors of more than 12 horsepower. Purchasers must send necessary forms and a manufacturer's statement of origin to the State Parks and Wildlife Department before new titles will be issued on payment of a $2 fee.

—Placement of new strip mining regulations (coal, lignite and uranium) in hands of the Texas Railroad Commission for enforcement through permits and restoration requirements.

—Provision for Texans to donate parts of their bodies as "anatomical gifts" for transplant purposes by signing a special statement on their drivers' licenses.

Tag System Changed
 Texas car owners are getting new auto registration notices through the mail this week.

Instead of sporting new metal license plates, vehicles will be tagged with small strips of reflective material. Bicentennial red, white and blue stickers are to be fixed to the upper left-hand corner of the five-year plates issued a year ago.

For the first time since World War II, Texans will use old license plates. Plans call for annual reuse of the same plate numbers for the foreseeable future for periods of at least five years at a time.

Beginning in 1978, Texas will go to a year-around registration system. The validation sticker will indicate the month of issue for each car. Registration will occur during every month of the year, similar to present procedures for vehicle safety inspection. The month-of-issue will remain the same for the life of the vehicle.

Insurance Growth
 Seventeen new insurance companies organized in Texas during the last year, and 54 more firms from other states were granted authority to do business here.

State Board of Insurance new annual report shows 1,724 companies are now under the agency's regulation. There are more than 97,000 licensed insurance agents.

Former Post girl wed Saturday in Austin

Miss Candy Renee Gibson, and Terry Lee Powell exchanged wedding vows Jan. 3 in the Allendale Baptist Church of Austin.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Gibson of Austin, formerly of Post.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a William Gayhill of New York design, featuring a scoop neck accented with guipure, long Bishop sleeves and bodice, hem and train of exquisite old-fashioned lace. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white stephanotis surrounding a purple center white orchid with long knotted ribbons.

Maid of honor was Jill Johnson of Austin. Bridesmaids were Kathy Zoch and Mary Gallegos of Austin, Cathy O'Donnell, cousin of the bride of Burnet, and Joy Woolsey of Resburg, Idaho. They wore long dresses having colonial blue velvet bodices with lighter blue skirts.

Best man was Edwin Powell, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Kelly Joe Gibson, brother of the bride, Carl Wieruscheski, Larry Pounds and Terry Ramm all of Austin.

Ushers were Robert Lawless and Micheal Shane of Austin.

Wedding music was provided by Miss Becky Green, soloist, who sang, "The Lord's Prayer," "The Wedding Song," and "One Hand, One Heart," accompanied by Mrs. Sally Ward, organist.

The bride, a graduate of McCallum High School, Austin, attended Southwest Texas University and is employed by the State of Texas Rehabilitation Commission. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Austin Schools and is attending Concordia Lutheran College and is employed by Sears and Co.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Austin.

WEIGHT WATCHERS

HAS A $2.00 NEW YEAR'S GIFT FOR YOU

We at Weight Watchers don't like to talk about going up—going DOWN is our business. We're grateful, along with most other services, our costs have risen steadily for some time now.

Beginning February 2, 1976, we must raise our weekly dues in this area to $3.00. We want you to have an opportunity to join Weight Watchers at our current rate of $2.00 plus the registration fee of $5.00 instead of $7.00 which is a $2.00 saving.

If you join before February 2, 1976, you can do just that—come and remain indefinitely at the old weekly rate of $2.50 as long as you continue to pay your current weekly dues thus remaining a member in good standing.

Lifetime members of Weight Watchers in this area have until February 29, 1976, to check in to remain at the current fee of $2.50. Lifetime members absent two (2) calendar months will automatically be charged the new $3.00 fee.

At a time when there are few bargains, Weight Watchers of West Texas, Inc., is especially pleased to offer you this opportunity during the first months of the New Year.

Sincerely,
Adelle and Bill

Lopes face Tahoka in 'big one' there Friday night

Two starters are injured

Coach John Alexander says quite frankly that the Lopes' game at Tahoka Friday night is "the big one" right now in the first half of district play.

The Tahoka Bulldogs have a 15-1 record for the season to date after opening district play with a 64 to 52 victory over Slaton Tuesday night.

The Bulldogs with four starters back from last season feature the best all-court pressing defense in the region. That is the key to their success plus a well balanced attack.

"Their five starters are the quickest five kids I've seen on one team," Coach Alexander declares, and "they're a well coached team."

The Lopes didn't let the Tahoka press do them in last year and this year they've played against such presses as administered by Dimmitt, Childress and other opponents, but according to Alexander the Tahoka press is the best of them all in its quickness and execution.

Although the Lopes go into the game unbeaten in district play with two wins, Coach Alexander has several other things to worry about, two of them being injuries to key starters.

Big center, Mike Waldrip, injured an ankle in the fourth quarter at Roosevelt when knocked to the floor on a collision during a drive for the basket. Sharpshooting guard Mike Shepherd who was beginning to zero in on his outside shooting suffered a badly jammed finger on his shooting hand which may destroy his shooting effectiveness unless it heals rapidly.

What's more, Coach Alexander says the Lopes played "our poorest game of the season" in the Roosevelt victory.

"We will need all the fan support we can get at Tahoka Friday night," Coach Alexander said. "This is the big one in the first half for us."

Coach John Morrow was obviously well shaken up Wednesday morning after the collapse of the Does in the fourth period of their game at Roosevelt Tuesday night which resulted in an easy Roosevelt win, third straight for the Roosevelt girls in district play.

"I can't explain what happened," Coach Morrow told The Dispatch. "We made some bad passes, committed some mental errors, and then nothing good happened after that."

But one game does not a season make, although it puts the Does in a desperate first half situation as far as their title aspirations are concerned.

Both Roosevelt and Slaton are undefeated in district play to date. If the Does are going to get back in it, they must win the rest of their game and Slaton must beat Roosevelt.

That figuring looks good through the point of Slaton beating Roosevelt, but the key to the Does salvaging a three-way tie in the first half if a Post victory Jan. 23 against Slaton, and that one will be played on the Slaton court.

But some games are scheduled in the meantime and the first is against Tahoka at Tahoka Friday night.

Tahoka has dropped three straight district games, so the Does will have a chance to get back to winning ways in this one.

Then next Tuesday night, Friendship will come to the Post gym. Friendship beat Cooper by a single point the other night so they can provide the Does with stiff opposition.

The Friendship boys with only two starters back from last year have been playing everybody close games — before losing. So it is obvious with

Frosh defeat Roosevelt here

Coach Lane Tannehill's freshmen team came away with a victory over Roosevelt Monday night in the high school gym here 53 to 36.

Post led at the end of the first quarter 10 to 6 and were never headed leading at halftime 20 to 16.

Cliff Kirkpatrick was high point for Post scoring 14 points, Bryan Compton had 13, and Leslie Looney and Dale Redman each scoring eight.

The freshmen will play in the Roosevelt tournament Friday at 5:20 against Idalou. If they should lose, they will play at 4 p. m. Saturday for consolation, but if they win Friday, they will play at 7 p. m. Saturday for the championship.

The next district outing for the freshmen will be Monday night against Cooper.

Lopes grab another consolation crown

Just call Coach John Alexander's Post Antelopes "the consolation champs."

The Lopes won the consolation bracket of Division 1 of the American Legion's Christmas tournament at Amarillo last Wednesday by defeating Childress 53 to 49.

That wasn't the first consolation title they've won in basketball tournaments this year. It was the third straight.

In defeating Childress by four points, the Lopes played some of their best ball of the year.

"Childress probably had as much individual talent as any team we've played this year," Coach Alexander told The Dispatch.

"But our defense was so tight, they managed only 14 points for the first half."

The Lopes went to the dressing room with a comfortable 31-14 lead and sailed into the final quarter with a 41-30 advantage, letting up a little at the finish.

Certainly the game wasn't as close as the final score indicated.

Mike Waldrip, who had a good tournament defensively, finally found his offensive stride in the final to score eight fielders and seven frees for 23 points.

Jimmy Dorland added 10 on five fielders, Mike Shepherd and Edward Price got seven each, Bryan Davis was held to four, and Rodney Teaff got the other fielder for two.

The Lopes got into the consolation finals, after a first round loss to Canyon, by whipping Phillips, 46 to 37.

Post jumped out in front in this one 10-6 at the quarter, led 27 to 18 at the half, and 33 to 25 at the end of three.

Davis led the Post scoring in this one with 14 points on six fielders and a pair of frees with Waldrip and Dorland getting 10 each, Shepherd eight, and Kyle Duren and Price two each.

Canyon swept out through the division to whip Abernathy in the finals 69 to 41 — which was a 15-point bigger margin than that by which they beat Post in the first round.

24 at halftime intermission.

Williams was the rebound leader under the offensive boards for Post with 12 caroms and Brenda Price led under the defensive boards with nine.

The same team started for Post against both Canyon JVs and Vega.

In the Vega game, Williams and Price were again the team's leading rebounders but this time Price picked up 10 off the defensive boards while Williams got only six off the offensive boards.

"The tournament did the girls a lot of good," Coach Morrow said in summary.

Post Does are third in yule tournament

Coach John Morrow's Post Does won third place in their division of the American Legion's Christmas basketball tournament at Amarillo last Wednesday by defeating the Canyon Junior varsity, 60 to 47, in the third place playoff.

They were knocked out of championship consideration in the semi-final round Tuesday by Vega, Class A state runner-up a year ago, 60 to 46.

Vega took the title by defeating Abernathy in the finals.

Coach Morrow told The Dispatch the Does played their best basketball of the season, especially in the second half, in their defeat by Vega.

"Vega has a well balanced attack and doesn't make mistakes," Coach Morrow said.

The balance in Vega's attack was shown by the fact that the winners had four offensive players with from 12 to 19 points each. Heard had 19, Harwell 17, and Briggs and Waters 12 each.

Joni Hays of Post was top scorer in the game with 27 points on eight fielders and 11 free throws. Karen Williams tallied 16 for the Does with seven fielders and two frees. Genetta Kennedy scored Post's other three points.

The three were Post's starting forwards with Amy Cowdrey, Kim Mitchell, and Brenda Price starting at guards.

Lisa Cowdrey, a freshman who has been promoted to the varsity as a guard to give added height in the backcourt during upcoming district play, turned in a good game as a substitute against Harwell of Vega before fouling out.

In the third place playoff victory over the Canyon Junior Varsity, Hays again was high for Post with 27 points on nine fielders and the same number of charities.

Williams got 16 points, Kennedy five, and substitute Brenda Weaver hit six fielders for 12 points for her best point production of the season.

The playoff game was a close one for three periods before the Does outscored Canyon 20 to 6 in the final period after trailing 40 to 41 entering the last quarter. Post led 12 to 10 at the end of the first period, and 25 to

Freshman gals beat Roosevelt

Dana Bird and Kerri Pool shot the Post freshman girls to a tight 36 to 34 win over Roosevelt at Roosevelt Monday night.

Dana tallied 17 points and Pool 15 with Karla Duren scoring the other four for the winners.

It was really a last half effort for the locals.

Roosevelt took a 13 to 6 first period lead and led 20 to 11 at the half, but then Post got rolling. They outscored Roosevelt 13 to 4 in the third period to tie the game at 34 all.

Bird got five of the six baskets Post scored in the final period with Kerri getting the other. Myra Mann, Roosevelt's leading scorer with 23, tallied all 10 of her team's points in the final period.

such efforts they are going to start winning the close ones of these nights. One of the starters back is a 6-7 shooter.

8th girls from behind to win

Donna Baumann led the Post eighth grade girls team to a 24 to 20 road victory over Roosevelt with a 14-point performance, that included four baskets and six of 10 free throws.

Carolyn Pringler scored eight and Susan Jackson got the other two. Donna was the only Post player to hit a free throw. Six others were all missed.

The locals took a 6-2 first period lead and fell behind 8 to 7 at intermission. Post trailed 18 to 16 at the end of the third, but scored eight points in the fourth while holding Roosevelt to a single basket for the win.

Other starters were Leanne Davis, Susan Sawyers, and Linda Martinez.

Lopes open district play, beat Cooper

Coach John Alexander's Post Antelopes took control of their district opener with the Cooper Pirates here Saturday night in the second half and pulled away to an easy 60 to 47 triumph.

It was a nip and tuck affair during the first half with the visitors holding a 12-10 lead at the end of the first period and trailing by only three, 27 to 24 at the intermission.

The Lopes then pulled away scoring 33 points in the last two periods to 23 for Cooper and leading 48 to 33 at the end of the third.

For the first time this season, the Lopes had four players in double figures, the type of scoring balance any coach loves to have.

Mike Shepherd led the way with 19 points on nine fielders and a free, followed by Mike Waldrip with 11, and Bryan Davis and Jimmy Dorland with 10 apiece.

Four other players also were in the scoring with Kyle Duren getting three fielders for six, Shorty Hester dropping through a pair of frees and Ed Price and Garland Dudley each adding a free throw.

The only real weak spot was the Lopes inability to hit their free shots. They managed only 10 out of 21 attempts for a 47 per cent accuracy. Cooper was worse with 7 of 17 for 41 per cent.

None of the Lopes fouled out with Davis the only Post player getting into real foul trouble, winding up with four.

Fehleison of Cooper was the individual scoring leader of the game with 24 points.

Coach Danny Chisum's Post Junior Varsity won a 54 to 45 decision over Cooper's JV boys in the preliminary, jumping out in front in the first period and holding a comfortable margin all the way.

Brad Shepherd led the locals in scoring with 16 points, Ronnie Bratcher was right behind with 15 and Evans Heaton was also in double figures with 11.

Lopes 'free toss' way to win at Roosevelt

Coach John Alexander's Antelopes rang up their second straight district victory and the first away from home, Tuesday night when they defeated the Roosevelt Eagles from the free throw line, 49 to 44.

The locals broke in front 12 to 4 in the first period and were never headed, although Roosevelt got right back in the game in the second period to trail at the half 19 to 14. It was 31 to 24 for Post at the end of the third.

Both clubs opened up in the final period with Roosevelt outshooting the Lopes 20 to 18, but were unable to close the margin but two points.

In the fourth period, the Lopes dropped through 10 free throws in 12 attempts with Mike Shepherd and Kyle Duren hitting three straight each and Jimmy Dorland and Mike Waldrip getting two each. Mike missed the only two free throw efforts for the Lopes of the period.

All told the locals made 15 of 24 charity tries for only a 60 completion percentage, but in the fourth they were accurate.

Coach Alexander couldn't ask for more balanced scoring among his starters, although he might appreciate more of it.

Bryan Davis led the club with 11 points, Shepherd and Duren had 10 each, and Waldrip and Dorland had nine each.

It was only the second game of the season in which Waldrip, the Lopes' big post man, fouled out. The only other time was in the Floydada tournament. His mates had only five fouls among them while the home club was called 17 times for infractions.

The Eagles outshot Post from the field 20 to 17 in fielders, but made only four of 12 free throws, so it can be said the Lopes truly won an important road game at the free throw line.

Does split district tilts

Coach John Morrow's Post Does went into the fourth period at Roosevelt Tuesday night with a 40 to 38 lead over the district leading Roosevelt girls team.

What happened then would better be left unsaid as the Roosevelt girls poured in 25 points and held the Does to a single free throw to ring up a 63 to 41 victory.

The loss put the local Does in a desperation box as far as first half title hopes are concerned. They must win all the rest of them, including Slaton at Slaton, to have a chance.

The two teams Tuesday night had a sparkling game going until the Doe offense and defense came apart in the final canto. It was 10 all at the end of the first period, 27 to 26 for the Does at intermission, and 40 to 38 for the local gals at the end of the third.

Karen Williams led the local scoring with 21, followed by Joni Hays with 14. Genetta

Girls JVs lose to Roosevelt

The Post girls junior varsity dropped a 47 to 38 decision to Roosevelt in the preliminary game of the triple bill at Roosevelt Tuesday night.

The home team jumped into a 13 to 9 first period lead over Coach Gregg Eubank's club and never let go, leading 31 to 20 at the half and 41 to 23 at the end of three.

Nancy Clary led the locals in scoring with 23 points. Karla Kennedy had eight, Donna Ammons, Vickie Gannon and Peggy Jackson two points each, and Cindy Kirkpatrick one to complete the Post scoring.

The Does had a much better night in defeating Cooper here Saturday night 64 to 54 in their district opener.

Hays poured 33 points through the hoops in that one, an even dozen fielders and nine of 11 charity tosses.

Williams plunked in 16 points and Kennedy 13. Weaver got two.

That game too was a real scrap for three quarters with the decision coming in the fourth when the Does outscored the visitors 18 to 9 after going into the period with a narrow 46 to 45 lead.

Cooper had jumped into a 22 to 13 first period lead and maintained a 35 to 38 lead at the half. The Does then overcame the visitors lead in the third to take the 46 to 49 advantage and go on to victory in the fourth.

In that one the Does tallied 14 out of 23 free efforts for 61 per cent from the charity line.

Shooting the Breeze

By NAN HAIR

"To be or not to be" has certainly been the question in the minds of the seniors in PHS. The seniors have been finishing the English IV required study of the Shakespearean play, "Hamlet."

Among other activities was a 500 word theme. The theme was to be written about a topic concerning characters or plots within the play. Many seniors had difficulty in writing their themes in the correct form specified by Mrs. Linn, English IV teacher. Benny Greene is still rewriting his theme which was due three weeks ago. I have faith in Benny and I am sure he can do it.

Another activity is the memory work, in which students are required to memorize and recite at least 25 lines from one of the many soliloquies or dramatic monologues within the play. Mrs. Linn informed the students that "any dummy could memorize a few lines." This must be true. Several students such as Donna Dye and Cathy Howell recited their assignments several days ahead of the deadline.

"Hamlet" has proven to be enjoyable reading for all, with it being a love story, a detective story and an adventure story. Even the male population of the senior class have enjoyed this Shakespearean play.

Congratulations are in order for freshman Lisa Cowdrey who has been named to the varsity Does roster. Lisa played as a guard on the varsity team during the girls participation in the American Legion tournament in Amarillo during the holidays. She has really proven to be an asset for the Does. Good luck Lisa and keep on dribbling.

Mr. Howard has announced the arrival of the official jackets of the Future Farmers of America. The ag jackets were ordered earlier this year by the students. There is always a sense of pride which radiates from all the boys and girls who wear these jackets.

The paper staff has begun preparations to publish a paper at PHS. The paper staff will put their own paper out twice a week. The paper should really be a delight to all the students at PHS. Most important the experience which the staff will receive from the extensive work necessary for each publication will be usable in future years.

PHS welcomes new students

Four students have enrolled in PHS for the first time.

Hoy Darling, a senior, and his sister, Vickie, a sophomore, have transferred here from Nashville, Arkansas. Karen Perkins has moved here from Eastland and Terry Tatum has moved from Haskell.

PHS welcomes these new students and hope that they will find attending school here an exciting and enjoyable experience.

NHS to host 'Career Day'

It appears that plans for the annual "Career Day" at PHS are underway. Students in junior and senior English classes were given questionnaires in which they were supposed to include the careers they were interested in and the colleges which they were interested in attending. From these questionnaires Mrs. Linn and the National Honor Society will be able to determine which colleges, career fields and branches of the armed forces the students are most interested in. They will then extend invitations to representatives of these different groups to give orientations to the students during an entire school day which will be set aside for the "Career Day."

The "Career Day" will take place around the middle of March depending upon the basketball schedules and the availability of a convenient day," said Mrs. Linn, National Honor Society sponsor.

Seniors receive $300 from sale

Saturday, Dec. 20, marked the last day of the Senior Class Rummage Sale.

Kim Mitchell, senior class president said that the class made around $300. The money made from the sale will go into the senior class treasury which will be used to pay for the Senior class trip at the end of the year.

The public response to the sale was really good, especially on the last days when all items were marked at 25 cents and less. Not only did the public benefit from the bargains, the seniors benefitted from the patronage.

Twin Cedars Nursing Home News

In our article last week we failed to mention the VFW Auxiliary women having brought fruit and gifts to each resident. We would like to say a great big thank you to these people.

We would also like to welcome the new residents to the home. They are Lucy Randall, Annie Rivers, and Pauline Hawley.

We have several birthdays this month. Mrs. Cravy has one the 11th, Mrs. Butler, the 16th, Mrs. Rivers, 26th, and Mrs. Hawley the 30th. Happy Birthday to these residents.

Visitors this week were Martha Cass, Lottie Sanders, Paul and Dale Sherill, Eleanor McCrary, Linda Malouf, Bertha Printz and Henrietta Nichols.

TEXAS TALK

By FRED MYERS

Tricycles, bicycles and motorcycles are all a lot easier to ride than a cattle cycle. Most times a lot safer too. Nearly anybody in the beef business will tell you their business depends on the cattle cycle. Stated most simply, the cycle works on the principle that there will continue to be more cattle as the price goes up and when there are too many cattle the price will come down. Simple enough, right? Wrong. The number of cattle is only one part of the cycle. Rates of slaughter . . . spread between feeder and fat cattle . . . supply of money . . . intangibles such as optimism or pessimism . . . influence of outside investors . . . prices of feed grains . . . all these operate on cycles of their own. All are a part of the total cattle cycle. This is the sort of action and interaction that makes the cattle market one of the world's most unpredictable.

Many new tax savings due from tax reduction act

COLLEGE STATION — Americans will save $23.1 billion in tax money this year as a result of the Tax Reduction Act of 1975. And some changes are of particular interest to farmers and ranchers.

Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, advises agricultural producers to give close attention to such tax changes as 1975 draws to a close.

"One change involves an increase in the level of investment credit," points out Hayenga. "A 10 per cent increase in investment credit is in the law through 1976. This credit applies to property bought or under construction after last Jan. 31 and before Jan. 1, 1977."

Rites held for Mrs. Truelock

Funeral services for Mrs. Lizzie Truelock, 78, of Shallowater and formerly of Southland were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church in Southland with the Rev. Boyd Pearce, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Shallowater officiating.

Burial was in Resthaven Cemetery under the direction of Englund's Funeral Service of Slaton.

Mrs. Truelock died at 1 p. m. Monday in St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock after a lengthy illness.

A native of Bowie, Mrs. Truelock moved to Shallowater five years ago from Southland. She was a member of the First Baptist Church in Shallowater.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Terry of Shallowater and Mrs. Al Jones of Shreveport, La.; two sons, M. F. of Shallowater and J. E. of Lubbock; three sisters, Mrs. Lillie Bergh of Denver, Colo.; and Mrs. Dela Carlton and Mrs. Annie Odum, both of Post; four brothers, Roy Rolan of California, L. Z. Rolan of Clovis, N. M., J. C. Rolan of Arkansas and Raymond Rolan of Post; 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

One South Plains death by Tularemia

LUBBOCK — Dr. Dean Evers, D. V. M., Public Health Veterinarian with Public Health Region 2, asks that the public be notified that human cases of Tularemia have occurred recently in the South Plains area. One of the cases, occurring in Lubbock, did result in death to the person infected.

Tularemia is a disease that can be transmitted from infected wild animals to man. The contact with infected animals, usually rabbits, comes when the hunter handles or dresses the game he kills. Another source of infection for Tularemia is transmission by vectors, such as ticks or fleas, that can carry the disease from the infected animal to man.

The rabbit population is unusually high this year and many hunters will be adding rabbit stew to the menu. Dr. Evers stresses that hunters should be warned not to dress or handle these animals with bare hands. Rubber or plastic gloves in good condition should be used. The raw meat should not be handled without protection until it is thoroughly cooked. In addition, care should be taken to see that the raw meat is not exposed to other meats.

Tularemia causes symptoms of acute illness soon after exposure. There is a sudden onset of headache, chills, nausea-vomiting and high temperature.

A permanent change associated with investment credit has also been made. Instead of having to wait to claim the credit when the construction is completely done, individuals can claim credit on progress payments during the construction period, notes Hayenga.

Also, the amount of used property that qualifies for investment credit has been increased from $50,000 to $100,000.

A tax break designed to help small farmers and other self-employed workers will make individuals with an annual income between $4,000 and $8,000 eligible for a refundable tax credit on all earned income, says the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"Earned income is defined as any compensation for personal services and includes wages, salaries and tips, but not pensions and annuities."

People with an income of $4,000 will get the maximum tax credit of $400. As income goes up to $8,000, the amount of credit decreases, Hayenga explains.

"This tax cut operates like a negative income tax when the amount of credit is greater than a person's tax liability. If that happens, the excess credit is refunded."

For the general populace, a significant tax break for 1975 is an increase in the standard deduction to 16 per cent, a one per cent increase over last year. The maximum standard deduction for singles is now $2,300 and for joint returns, $2,600.

"An increase in personal exemptions is also in store for 1975 taxpayers," notes Hayenga. "Taxpayers will be able to deduct $750 plus an additional $30 tax credit for themselves, their spouse and each dependent. However, this extra $30 credit does not apply to the blind or aged."

The maximum income allowable to claim a child care expense deduction has been increased from $18,000 to $35,000. For incomes above this, the amount deductible for child care expense decreases, says Hayenga. If income is $44,000 a year or more, there can be no deduction for child care expense.

The amount of income needed before a tax return must be filed has been increased from $2,050 to $2,350 for 1975. This will be of some help to farmers and ranchers who hire their children, deduct the wages as expenses, and still claim the children as dependents, points out Hayenga.

$389 million improvement program planned by SPS

AMARILLO — Southwestern Public Service Company will invest more than $389 million during the next five years in new equipment and improvements, Roy Tolk, chairman and president of the electric company, announced today.

Expenditures for 1976 will be about $73 million, while the projected expenditures for the other four years range from $65 million to $104 million, the latter expenditure scheduled in 1980. The new equipment and improvements are necessary so that SPS can continue providing electric service for the 45,000-square mile area it serves.

"During the five-year period, Southwestern will be required to borrow about $255 million to meet these construction expenditures," Tolk said. Two new generating facilities to be installed during this period will increase the SPS system capability by more than 700,000 kilowatts, bringing the total capability to just over three million kilowatts.

Harrington Station, northeast of Amarillo, will be the site for the two additional generating units. The first is nearing completion and is scheduled to go on the line in June 1976. The second unit is scheduled for completion in 1978. Both of these units will have a capability of 350,000 kilowatts and will use coal as their primary fuel.

"During the latter part of the five-year period, substantial expenditures will be made on a third 350,000-kilowatt generating unit presently planned for completion in 1981. This unit will also use a coal-fired boiler," Tolk said.

Low-sulphur coal from Wyoming is now arriving at Harrington Station. Approximately 11,000 tons are delivered every four to five days by a 110-car unit train, and SPS presently has about 125,000 tons on hand. This represents about a month's supply of fuel. Southwestern Public Service Company, through its fuel subsidiary, TUCO Inc., is continuing its aggressive program to assure adequate fuel supplies. "The company's traditional suppliers of natural gas have been successful in acquiring additional reserves and, at the present time, indicate that they have adequate supplies to meet their delivery needs," Tolk said. "While the introduction of coal as a fuel to this area will not reduce the cost of electric service, it will act as a stabilizing factor."

Transmission lines and transmission substations scheduled for completion during the five-year period represent an investment of about $60-million with more than $10.5-million being invested in 1976.

The lines will be 115,000 and 230,000 volts and will serve the primary load areas in Southwestern's system. The major transmission project will be a 115,000 volt line from Cunningham Station, near Hobbs, New Mexico, to Carlsbad, New Mexico.

HOLIDAY VISITORS

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rudd over the holidays were their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rylant and family from Galveston, their sons, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Rudd and family from Camp Pendleton, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Rudd from Post. Their other daughter, Mrs. Garry Wright, whose husband is stationed at Ft. Lee, Va., could not be home but did call on Christmas day.

 account, and $20,000 from the city's insurance reserve account.
 That left the $30,000 still in the budget for right of way funds to widen Broadway should the highway department launch the US-84 planned project through Post, and also left the funds the city had placed in the budget for an airport expansion project should federal funds become available before it during the current fiscal year.

If one or both do not materialize, the community center project can be completely financed from available funds without any borrowing necessary.
 Mrs. Maxine Marks, chairman of the community center committee, was quite outspoken in her remarks to the council that the committee had done its job as requested and it was time — that night — for the city to get busy and do theirs.

Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick also made a speech in which she urged the council not only to go ahead with phase one, but all three phases at once so the citizens could enjoy a facility that "other towns have been enjoying for years." She said it was better to do it all at once and not do a little painting here and put in a new light there.

She also said maybe if the men on the council didn't want to act to implement the community center plans the community has long sought maybe it was time to put some women on the council.
 "The women would get the job done," she promised.

The Rev. Ken Metzger also spoke up. He said the community was heavily in favor of a community center and if the council didn't want to do it the citizens could be expected to elect some councilmen who would.

There was quite a bit of plain talk about the community center.
 The community center delegation was so large that the council meeting was moved from the council chambers into the Post Public Library so everybody present would have some leg room.
 Mayor McCrary pointed out that the cost of borrowing money for the construction probably would be cheaper than delaying action and seeing the cost of construction go even higher than the interest cost would have been in the meantime.
 Mrs. Marks indicated to the council that while maybe the miles an hour.

 The council voted to set the same rates of pay for council members following next spring's election as are now in force, $50 a month per councilman and $75 a month for the mayor.

Dr. Harry A. Tubbs was named city health officer for another two years.
 The council received a report from city judge Louise Green that she had collected $348 in fines during the month of September with $325.00 going to the city and $23.50 to the state.

An ambulance report for September showed $635 collected for ambulance runs in November and 14 ambulance calls made in December, six being transfers and eight emergency runs. Collections in December totaled only $370.
 After checking with the attorney for the city, the council decided to ask the Post Community Housing Association to prepare and sign for the city a note to pay for sewer extensions into the new public rental housing project.
 Sewer connections have been holding up start of construction of the project.
 The note would bear the interest that the city is now receiving for bank deposited funds with only the interest due until the housing association gets into operation long enough to begin retirement of the principal, estimated to be around $3,500.
 Directors of the housing corporation held a short special meeting Tuesday afternoon to approve this proposed financing.
