Little britches rodeo here this weekend

Something that's going to have everyone wondering that there were only 173 entries at the Little Britches Rodeo which was held at the Post Dispatch rodeo ground Friday and Saturday night.

The rodeo, which was due to start Tuesday, are still open, according to Tommy Young of the sponsoring Garza County Junior Livestock Association.

Normally, entry lists total 300 to 350.

Both Friday and Saturday night shows will start at 8 p. m. Doc Edwards of Girard is the stock producer.

Six events are on the program — barrel race, flag race, pole bending, bareback riding, calf or bull riding and ribbon roping — in three age groups, pee wee boys and girls, 12 and under; junior boys and girls, 13 through 15; and senior boys and girls, 16 through 18.

In the pee wee ribbon roping an adult must do the roping with the pee wee carrying the ribbon. This is only optional in the other two divisions.

Entries should be made to Young by calling 806-629-4328 after 6 p. m.

It's not a two-hour show with a lot of after show activity. "We just keep going until it's over," Young explains. "It could last to midnight or one a. m."

Spectator admission is $2 for adults and $1 for youngsters.

An all-around buckle will be given for each age group but a contestant must enter at least three events to qualify.

Entry fees are $5 for each event in the pee wee division, $10 per event in the junior division, and $15 for each event in the senior division.

The pee wee event is calf riding, but in the junior and senior division it's bull riding.

Oil production is boosting tax valuations

When the price factor also was involved.

County Judge Giles W. Dalby told The Dispatch Wednesday that the county's taxable valuations roughly figure to increase a million dollars.

The estimated new taxable valuation, figured at 25 percent of true value, is $19,382,000 as compared to $18,394,000 for the past year.

Most of the increase is due to increased oil production, but the Cal-Maine chicken farms, a substantial new industrial operation, goes on the county roll for the first time this year.

Patricia Bilberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Bilberry and a senior student at Post High School was awarded the highest band award given at Post High School, the John Philip Sousa Award at the annual band concert held Sunday afternoon.

Patricia along with other members of the band were honored for their contributions to the band program and for their outstanding accomplishments during the year.

David Morrow was outstanding high school band member; Susan Jackson was outstanding member of the junior high band; Pam Riley was honored for the sixth grade band and Rhonda Adams was honored for the fifth grade band.

The annual spring concert held each year included each band from the fifth grade through high school.

The fifth grade band played two numbers, "Processional Hymns of Faith" and "Mambo from the Congo."

The sixth grade band played "Space Cadets," a cornet trio composed of Phil Tyler, Trushell Marks and Craig Peel.

The senior cornet trio of Mike Hair, Ray Martinez, William Halford, accompanied by George Wilson played "Trumpets" (See Band concert, Page 12)

Medicare audit asked by hospital

Perry Hunsaker, hospital administrator, told hospital directors at a special meeting last Thursday evening that he has asked for a Medicare audit of Garza Memorial Hospital records in the hopes of recovering some of the $42,000 from Medicare and $14,000 from Medicaid the hospital billed the government for during a period through Sept. 30, 1975, but has not received.

Hunsaker conferred with the hospital's auditor in Lubbock on the matter last week before calling Dallas and requesting the audit.

Hospital directors agreed the hospital had nothing to lose.

The hospital was notified here in March that the Medicare and Medicaid had determined the amount was not owed.

The $56,000 in dispute is a sizable sum as far as the hospital's operation is concerned. Hunsaker told the board he wanted to understand the procedure for determining what charges Medicare and Medicaid would pay.

The board has approved a request from Dr. Harminder Singh Chana, Post's new physician, that he be permitted to collect fees from emergency calls and these fees not be deducted from his $5,000 monthly income guarantee from the hospital board for his first year in Post.

This action had been omitted from The Dispatch's story of (See Hospital, Page 12)

Two stores to open Monday

Johanne Norman and Jane Terry have each purchased portions of Raferti's and will open separate stores side by side Monday.

Mrs. Norman's store will be a ladies ready-to-wear and gift shop known as Jae's at 220 East Main. Next door east at 222 East Main, Mrs. Terry will launch "Terry's Togs", a children's clothing shop for both boys and girls.

The wall opening between the two store buildings will be closed.

See announcement ads on the two new stores on page 5 of today's Dispatch.

County alerted after rabid skunk is shot

Adults and youngsters were cautioned by Dr. William Wilson, county health officer, that rabies exist in Garza County's wild animal population following positive identification of a rabid skunk.

The skunk was shot in the Close City community after it had bitten a dog and killed some chickens. The head was sent to the state laboratory in Austin by Veterinarian Ed Murry of Spur where positive identification of rabies was reported Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Wilson told The Dispatch Wednesday morning that he would encourage all pet dogs and cats to be given rabies shots. He said he will try to arrange for such a clinic to be set up here in the near future.

Any bites from any animal should be reported and the advice of your physician sought in such instances, the county health officer said.

"It is early in the season and we have to presume that other members of the county's wild animal population have the disease," he added.

Postex records million hours without lost-time accident

If you thought you heard the "Mill whistle" last Thursday at 4:23 p. m., you did.

Postex Plant was announcing its reaching a goal of one-million safe man-hours, this is the first time Postex Plant has achieved this goal.

Since the last lost time accident of September 23, 1974, all Postex employees have been watching the safe man-hours grow larger and larger until the goal of one-million was reached at 4:23 p. m., Thursday, May 13.

A management meeting was called by plant manager, Ed Bruton, at 4:00 p. m. to announce the arrival of the one-millionth safe man-hour at 4:23 p. m. Approximately five minutes prior to the exact time of reaching the goal everyone assembled in the boiler room of the maintenance department where the whistle control is located.

At exactly 4:23 p. m. Bruton pulled the control and the whistle blew for one full minute.

Bruton said, "This is an enviable goal. All industries try to reach this goal and few ever do." Bruton said, "Our employees' spirit of teamwork and cooperation in the area of safety and accident prevention has been the one thing that has made this accomplishment possible."

"We are going to continue to increase the safe man-hours. We want to set a record that will be difficult to break," Bruton said.

Certainly it is fitting this cotton week that practically all of Garza's cotton farmers are out in the fields planting. So if the pickup traffic is a bit light in town, you know why.

It's great to have a front page story for our annual cotton week edition today like Postex Plant reaching 1,000,000 man-hours without a lost time accident. And for an unusual cotton week edition ad, take a "tour" of Postex on page 3.

Next week, The Dispatch will publish its "graduation edition" with pictures of all Post and Southland high school graduates.

Here's more on the July 4th national bellingring from the national capital. The Freedom Bell Society, headed by Bob Hope and founded to enable Americans to take part in a nationwide ringing of bells for the Bicentennial, has joined the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration's bell-ringing program.

The Liberty Bell itself will peal forth for a full two minutes at 1 p. m. CDS July 4th in a symbolic national ceremony to be conducted by the Sons of the American Revolution in Independence National Historical Park in Philadelphia. This will be in commemoration of the passing of the first two centuries of American nationhood.

Bells across the nation will peal with the Liberty Bell (See Postings, Page 12)

Three coaches resign here

Three local coaches offered their resignations here this week to follow Coach Bobby Davis to Calallen High School just outside Corpus Christi next year.

They are Don Black, Carroll McDonald, and Danny Chisum, Supt. Bill Shiver told The Dispatch Tuesday. Mrs. Linda Black, Don's wife and a local teacher, also resigned.

July 4th barbecue plate charge will be $1.50

The charge for the July 4th bicentennial barbecue this year will be a $1.50 per plate, Chamber of Commerce directors voted at their May meeting last Thursday noon.

The barbecue actually will be held Saturday evening, July 3rd.

At present, a two-day celebration is still in the works.

Feature events on Saturday will include besides the barbecue the presentation of a patriotic musical by the community chorus and the "biggest ever" fireworks display in city-county park.

Lewis Holly is chairman of the celebration.

A bicentennial parade appears at the moment not to be in the picture because of the difficulty of staging such an event in mid-summer.

Due to the rush of activities with the approach of the close of school, the Chamber has had difficulty in getting committees to meet and complete plans, but all this is expected to be finished in early June.

Attending the May directors session were Charles McCook, president; Curtis Hudman, Lewis Herron, Robert Cox, Holly, Lee Norman, James Dye, Harold Lucas and Chamber Secretary Joy Greer.

New officers are presented

The American Heart Association meeting was held Tuesday night, May 11th at 7 p. m. in the Bank Community Room, for the purpose of presenting the new board members and officers for 1976.

A review of the activities of the previous year were discussed and new members were welcomed into the group.

Zoe Kirkpatrick will remain as president, Dr. Chana was elected vice-president, Janet Peel, secretary, Molly Conoly, treasurer and Madge Webb, publicity. Sharron Morris is memorial chairman, Jana McCallister, program director and Kathy Rankin is campaign chairman.

Delegates who were selected to attend the Lubbock meeting Wednesday May 19 were Rene Fluit, Alma McBride, Henry Wheatley, Zoe Kirkpatrick, Jana McCallister and Dr. and Mrs. Chana.

New members welcomed into the group were Sharron Morris, Rene Fluit, Dr. Harminder Chana, Janet Peel, Jana McCallister, Ryan Nichols, and Mary Cowdrey. Members remaining on the board were Paula Cawthon, Brad Lott, Alma McBride, Kathie Rankin, Henry Wheatley, Zoe Kirkpatrick, Pat Thompson, Madge Webb and Molly Conoly.

Mrs. Windham is understudy

When Ira (Dad) Greenfield retires as the tax assessor-collector of the Post Independent School District in August, Mrs. Billie Windham will succeed him.

Supt. Bill Shiver announced this week that Mrs. Windham is now working as Greenfield's understudy in the tax office. She is scheduled to attend a tax assessor's school this summer.

Greenfield has held the school tax position for over 20 years.

3 new wells in P-M-A field

R. S. Anderson of Midland has completed three new small wells in the P-M-A field, seven miles north of Post.

They are the No. 2 and No. 3 Carlisle and the No. 3 Barker.

The No. 2 Carlisle produced 42 barrels of oil daily and 131 barrels of water on test from 3,293 to 3,419 feet; the No. 3 Carlisle 29 barrels of oil and 182 barrels of water from 3,315 to 3,443 feet; and the No. 3 Barker 42 barrels of oil and 98 barrels of water from 3,293 to 3,394 feet.

Roof raising to be held Saturday

A "roof raising" will be held Saturday May 22nd at the American Legion Building, Post 270.

Work will begin at 7 a. m. and will continue until completed. Free meals will be furnished for the workers.

All members and interested persons are urged to join in the work.

Sr. citizens to be honored

As a tribute to Senior Citizens Month in May, the Barnum Spring Home Demonstration Club is sponsoring an ice cream supper and game night for senior citizens at 7 p. m. Thursday, May 27, in the 4-H building here.

All senior citizens are invited to attend, eat, play games, visit and have fun. There is no charge.

What to do with a billion

Governor Dolph Briscoe said in San Antonio the other day he will ask the next session of the Texas Legislature to create a billion dollar capital reserve fund for use in harder times.

Where does the billion dollars come from? From the current state tax surplus that's where.

Comptroller Bob Bullock has estimated Texas for the next fiscal biennium will bring in $2.6 billion more in taxes from all sources than it has been doing these past two years.

"However encouraging this news may be to the people of Texas," Governor Briscoe told a district Lions convention, "we must be very aware of the fact that most of the additional revenue is being received from our oil and gas production — a source that eventually will be exhausted."

Briscoe went on to emphasize that at the present rate of production, Texas' proven oil and gas reserves will last less than 10 years. Pointing out when this happens, Texas will be in the same financial dilemma that now confronts many other states of the nation today, the governor vowed to hold the line on taxes and declared the increased revenue should be saved for the future.

It will remain to be seen whether our form of democratic government can prudently save and not squander such a tax bonanza.

More than that, Briscoe's words gives us

Real old-time flavor

We know a lot of Garza folks are planning to attend Borden County's unique Bicentennial Celebration at Gail next Saturday and Sunday, May 29-30.

In fact, a number of Garza folks are involved in the celebration.

Borden County has lots of togetherness and determination to tackle big assignments and have been working on their two-day show for almost a year now.

The Saturday morning parade will be right out of the old west with Indians, buffalo, longhorns and lots of mule and horse-drawn floats.

There will be a neighborly buffalo barbecue at noon, a big historical program in the school auditorium and finally a wild west show Saturday afternoon that may be something just short of fantastic with imported Indians from South Dakota, buffalo, lots of cowboys, even an old calvary horse troop, and who knows what else.

Riley Miller has pulled out all the stops in helping to plan the parade and wild west show. The second day, Sunday, will be

New trash system logical

Post is moving toward a containerized trash system as the best answer to the problems of community cleanliness, cost, and manpower.

What is involved basically are metal containers into which householders place all their trash. The trash truck automatically picks up and empties the containers on its rounds.

It's not just a system for the cities. Already a large percentage of the small towns have turned to it. Most of Post's neighboring communities already have such systems.

Some of the advantages of course include wiping out the dog problem of dogs upsetting trash cans to get at garbage and trash blowing everywhere. Gone too is the problem of keeping the lid on the trash can and the problem of mowing the grass around trash cans or racks.

food for thought here in Garza County where oil is currently carrying half or better of the entire tax load.

Oil production in the county seems certain to have a much longer future life than only a decade with the existing energy crisis which has made small well operation again profitable.

But whenever the day does come, all local units of government should be completely out of debt.

Certainly, it will be good economics if the state, like everybody else, can put something back for a rainy day.

Governor Briscoe's principal contribution of leadership has been in the field of fiscal responsibility. He has exerted all the power and influence of the governor's office to prevent a spending run-away as the state passes through a relatively boom growth period. He has successfully resisted new taxes.

Now he is proposing tax savings for the future and his economic thinking finally is spreading to legislative leaders.

Whatever Dolph's shortcomings may be elsewhere, he has given Texas a rallying point in citizen efforts to stop the growth of big government at the state level.

His proposal of a billion dollar tax reserve is politically unique. We won't estimate his chances of pulling it off. Probably his chances basically depend upon the support he gets at home from the voter. So think it over.

"homecoming day" with Baylor football coach, Grant Teaff, the featured speaker at the morning worship service in the football stadium.

There will be a free lunch at noon and an afternoon of singing and visiting with plaques to the oldest visitors and the one coming the longest distance for the Borden get-together.

How can you anticipate the size of the crowd you might draw to a celebration like that? The answer is it can't be done with much accuracy. The Borden folks are figuring 2,000 visitors will pour in. That will be quite a crowd to handle.

The Dispatch will predict that the size of the crowd is the only conservative figuring done for the Borden Bicentennial. We think it will be much bigger, especially for the parade and wild west show on Saturday.

This may be the last time you'll ever have the chance to see this touch of the Old West. Our advice — don't miss it. When you mix it with all the natural West Texas neighborliness inherent to "doings" in this area, you have something with real flavor.

Certainly, it is ideal for the Post business district where trash pickup has been a tough, daily problem. It should keep a lot of trash from blowing all over the business district every time a high wind comes up.

As for disadvantages, they are minimal.

One basic one for the householder is that he or she will have to go a bit further to empty the trash as the containers will service four houses not just one. It means the pickup is dependent upon the operational efficiency of the trash truck and its quick repair in times of breakdown.

The cost is not a problem. Enough will be saved in labor costs from the present system to finance the installation of the entire containerized system with new truck and all the metal containers.

After a few years, the new system will even produce an operational savings in cost.

Needlecraft club meets

The Needlecraft Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Jack Kennedy.

After a short business session Mrs. Kennedy read "All Aboard America — Here Comes the Freedom Train." It was a magazine article about the 21-month-long journey of the American Freedom Train which will cross the American continent twice during the two Bicentennial years of 1975-76.

Then "Maytime" by E. Wesley Woodruff was read and all the conversation changed from the Bicentennial theme to nesting birds and flowers.

The state of Maine has thrown the gauntlet squarely at the feet of Texas eggmen, as the Central Maine Egg Festival seeks to find the world's largest chicken egg. To be eligible, eggs must have been produced by the species Gallus domesticus (a domestic chicken) on or after August 1, 1975.

Any individual or egg association in the world may enter a chicken egg to be judged at the Central Maine Egg Festival on July 31, points out Dr. William O. Cawley, poultry specialist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The winning entry will be gold plated and mounted on a base featuring a plaque denoting all pertinent information.

Eggs must be shipped uncooked, contents intact and prepaid at the entrant's risk to the World's Largest Egg, Room 334, Hitchner Hall, University of Maine, Orono, Maine 04473. Entries must arrive on or before July 29. Eggs should be sanitized in a disinfectant solution before packing, points out Cawley.

Size will be determined by the volume or milliliters of distilled water which the egg will displace. All measurements will Approximately 400 employees produce a quality fabric in this modern textile plant below the rim of the colorful and historic caprock.

Burlington Industries acquired the Postex Plant in 1955. Since that date the plant has seen many improvements in its physical structure and working conditions.

In addition to manufacturing the sheet fabric, Postex bleaches and finishes, sews, packs, warehouses, and distributes the finished product to its many retail and institutional customers. Burlington also merchandises under its own brand, "Burlington House."

Postex Plant is one of eight plants of the Domestic Division. Other plants in the division are located at Sherman and Memphis, Texas, Durham and Jamestown, N. C., Calhoun Falls, S. C., Brookneal and Drakes Branch, Va.

Comfy Cotton Says:

SPECIAL HANDLING IS FOR MAIL.

There's never a worry about special water or drying temperatures, soaps, or bleaches when you wear cotton. Wash cotton in the hottest water, dry it at any temperature, use the strongest soaps and bleaches. Cotton's strong. It can take the roughest wear, the most thorough cleaning, and come out really clean and sparkling fresh every time. So call for cotton. And leave special handling for the mail.

Comfy Cotton Says:

SCRATCHING IS FOR CHIGGERS.

Nothing is more irritating to the skin than a stiff, boardy shirt or dress. That stiff feeling that scratches all day long. Cool, comfortable cotton gives you a soft, pleasant feeling. So when you're looking for comfort, look for cotton, and leave the scratching for chiggers.

HOME-MADE MACRAME — Dotty Wills (Mrs. Billy Wills) is shown with some of her hand-made macrame which will be displayed in a booth at the Arts & Crafts Show at Borden County's Bicentennial celebration, May 29-30. Made of dyed jute in attractive colors, painted pots and beads in complementary colors, Dotty's creations total some 36 in all. One in picture immediately behind her was done for a baby's room. It is white with a variety of colored beads and ABC blocks incorporated in the design. Mrs. Wills, who lives on the Mardes Clayton Ranch west of Gail became interested in macrame when she and her husband began this art work while he was recovering from an illness.

Borden's history in quilt

Some lucky person is going to come away from Borden County's two-day Bicentennial celebration Sunday, May 30, at Gail with a quilt which tells the history of Borden County in its 77 blocks.

The quilt has been a near year-long project of Borden County's Arts and Crafts Committee and will be a feature at The Country Store, which will be set up for May 29 in the 4-H Barn.

The historical quilt is made up of 76 unbleached muslin blocks, eight inches square, with a 16-inch center block that is a detailed map of Borden County.

Each block is embroidered or appliqued and represents a historic event, farming and ranching theme, native bird or animals.

And of course, there is the first flag, the 1776 and 1976 emblems and to bring the quilt up to date an oil well with a pickup sporting a CB radio antenna.

The blocks were designed by Mrs. Jack McPhaul. The hand work has been done by many Borden County women.

The quilt squares are bordered in red calico print with blue blocks at the corners. Mrs. Herman Ledbetter and Mrs. Short Farmer were responsible for quilt construction. Mrs. Delia Edwards of Lamesa did the quilting.

The arts and crafts committee is also sponsoring the County Store which will feature displays and items for sale by 23 area artists and craftsmen. Boutique items and baked good will be furnished by the county women for the store.

A concession stand will serve foods and drinks as well.

Bob West and Southwest, both of Post, will be among the exhibitors.

Bob will display his leather goods. Southwest will display turquoise, Indian art and crafts.

Other exhibitors include W. C. Store of Santa Anna, children's and doll furniture; Theatus Green of Spur, toy painting; South Plains Genealogy Society of Lubbock, barbed wire and history related items; Pots by Hirst of Snyder, pottery.

The ring is still in good condition and has the initials GMH inscribed inside. It could either be a man or a woman's ring about size 7. He stopped with the ring out in hopes that the owner of the ring might like to recover it.

Mr. Smith travels all over the country with his metal detector to vacant school yards, parks and any other place he thinks he might find some objects of value.

Last week he spent some time in Tahoka which paid off, when he found a wedding band, an engagement ring and some ver-

White Sox, Braves win Babe Ruth league openers

Defending champs rally to win in seventh, 7-4

Manager Boog Holly's White Sox, defending Babe Ruth league champions the past two seasons, opened the 1976 Post baseball season in fitting style Tuesday night.

They put together a four-run rally in the top of the seventh to come from behind and defeat the Indians, 7 to 4, in the loop opener.

As for the seventh inning rallies, the Braves did even better in the nightcap of the twin bill. Leading 10 to 8 going into the final frame, they scored nine times in the top of the seventh to win a 19 to 9 decision from the Cubs.

Raymie Holly went the route for the White Sox, giving up six hits, to get the victory.

He didn't exactly scatter the hits, however, as the Indians bunched singles by Bryan Taylor, Bryan Compton, Dobie Quinonez and Hiram Martinez together with an infield error on Matt Lemon's hopper and a walk to Larry Dodson to score all four runs in the third with none away.

Holly then settled down to retire the side and give up but one hit the rest of the way.

The Indians loaded the sacks in the fourth on two walks and an infield error, but Holly got the side out without permitting a ball to be hit out of the infield.

Work day set at Grassland Cemetery

A work day is scheduled for the Grassland Cemetery next Thursday, May 27, or during next week.

Everyone is invited to come visit and work.

The Veterans Administration has guaranteed more than nine million home loans since World War II.

Leslie Looney had an even better pitching performance going for the Indians until the White Sox came to bat in the top of the seventh.

Up to that point he had allowed only three hits and three runs and had a 4 to 3 lead with three outs to go.

Then with one gone, Mike Holly walked, Jessie Taylor singled, Raymie Holly walked. Raymond Gonzales got a life on a fielder's choice and with two gone Randy Ammons singled the final runs home.

All told, the Braves collected 15 hits, seven of them in the final inning, in their victory over the Cubs.

Lance Dunn was the starting pitcher for the Braves and was relieved by Scott Walker during the Cubs' five-run third inning rally. In three at-bats, Walker collected a single, double and triple and scored twice.

The Braves got four doubles and a triple in their big seventh inning rally to go with two singles, three walks and an error for the nine runs.

Danny Gunn went the route for the losers. The Cubs picked up 10 walks as well as nine hits. Gary Baker strolled up to first on walks in four straight plate appearances.

The only thing missing from this one was an over-the-fence homerun.

The league returns to action tonight with the Cubs playing the Indians in the 6 p. m. opener and the White Sox taking on the Braves in the nightcap.

On Saturday night, the White Sox will play the Cubs in the opener with the Indians meeting the Braves in the nightcap.

Next Tuesday night's matchups will see the White Sox against the Braves in the first one and the Indians vs. the Cubs in the second.

Happy Birthday America" theme for banquet

The "Happy Birthday America" theme of the 1975-76 Senior Banquet which was held in the junior high gymnasium Saturday night.

Guests entered the gym and were seated at the banquet table. The old court into a white and blue bonanza. A canopy of blue and white sheets decorated the three hundred guests took part in the scene including a "Old Glory" behind the table.

At the conclusion of the program all the guests reluctantly began to rise to leave. Some guests chose to have their pictures taken while in their formal and tuxedos as a professional photographer had been hired by the junior class to help everybody catch the fun in pictures.

Sophomore servers for the banquet were dressed in red, white and blue costumes with star studded hats and vests. Serving at the banquet were Butch Booth, Cindy Kirkpatrick, Bruce Waldrip, Nancy Clary, Randy Baker, Debbie Wyatt, Brad Davis, Kelly Mitchell, Raymie Holly, Peggy Jackson, Brad Shepherd, and Nancy McCowen.

Following the banquet the gym was transformed into a dance floor and everybody unwound to the music of "Angel Dust." The dance lasted from 10:00 p. m. until 1:00 a. m.

About 2 a. m. the dance turned into a movie theater and the crowd enjoyed watching "American Graffiti." After the movie seniors and juniors parted company and attended their respective breakfasts hosted by the mothers and a few dads.

As the sun came up a few energetic people were still up and moving but the majority surrendered to exhaustion and went home to catch a couple hours of sleep in order to attend church. The night was an eventful and smoothly run affair and the teenagers of Post will be trying to catch up on sleep as well as many of their parents for several days to come.

The Elementary, Junior High School and the High School choir will present their annual Spring Concert, Thursday, May 20, in the Post Primary Auditorium. The program will begin at 8 p. m. There is no admission charge.

The Elementary choir is made up of 80 voices and will sing the first part of the program. They sing with piano, bell, bongo drum and ukelele accompaniment.

The Jr. High School choir is made up of 45 voices. Guitars are used with this group.

The High School Choir is made up of 60 voices and will follow the Jr. High Choir. Their accompanist is Mrs. Nancy Kemp. Students, who qualified for the State Contest May 31, will sing their contest selections. These students are David Morrow, Jennifer Miller, Donna Walker and Amy Cowdrey.

Georgie M. Willson is Director of the Post School Choirs.

PHS student is kept busy

Kim Trammel is a member of the PHS program, Home Economics Cooperative Education. Kim is employed at the Post Primary schools.

Not only does Kim help prepare packets and study programs but she also watches the children at recess and reads and tends to them in the classes.

She works with the first grade classes and helps the teachers whenever possible. She works in the mornings and until 12:30 in the afternoons.

Kim has truly enjoyed her work and has gained knowledge on child behavior as well as other useful future experience in elementary education.

Gene Thomas honored at Post FFA barbecue

By VIRGIL MORRIS

The Post Future Farmers of America, had a barbecue honoring Mr. Gene Thomas, who has been teaching Ag. at PHS for the past three years. The meeting was also the last meeting of the school year for all Post FFA members.

Nearly 60 members were present as Virgil Morris, chapter reporter, presented Mr.

Thomas a gift certificate from the chapter as a token of members' appreciation for his hard work for the chapter in the past.

After the members put away their steaks, potato salad and red beans, Mr. E. A. Howard awarded two members for outstanding achievement for the 1975-76 school year.

The Greenhand award went to freshman, Greg Pollard son of Mr. and Mrs. James Pollard and the Star Farmer degree was given to sophomore, Virgil Morris, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan J. Morris Sr.

The Aggie award for the month of April went to Barry Tanner. And the Aggie award for the month of May, went to Rex Cash.

After an overall clean-up, the members dispersed and will await another year of Vocational Agriculture during the next school year.

At a recent district Future Farmers of America meeting held at Wilson, Virgil Morris, a PHS sophomore was elected as Mesa District reporter for the 1976-77 school year by delegates attending from the eighteen Mesa district schools. Delegates attending from Post were Shorly Bilberry, Danny Gunn and Steve White.

At the area convention held in Lamesa, Virgil Morris won the door prize which was a gun rack for a pick up. Both Mr. E. A. Howard and Mr. Gene Thomas, PHS Ag. Teachers accompanied Greg Pollard, Danny Nelson and Virgil Morris who were delegates for Post. The convention was held, May 7.

City's sales tax for April $3,242

This is the return of the 1 cent sales tax for the period ending April 30, 1976.

Shooting the Breeze

By NAN HAIR

The end of school is just around the corner and as a senior it seems too hard to believe. What with all the many activities that the graduating seniors are involved in it often becomes difficult to get a breath and just prop your feet up for even a minute.

Thursday night, May 20, several seventh grade students and their mothers will be having a party at the Youth Center. The party will begin at 8:30 p. m. and will end at 8:00 p. m. with the mothers furnishing all the refreshments.

Thursday afternoon the Vocational Office Education students will be honoring the employers and the supervisors at a luncheon at 12:00 noon. Jackson's Cafeteria will be catering the affair.

Friday afternoon at 3:00 the V. O. E. girls and their employers have been invited to an afternoon tea at the office of H&M Construction.

Tuesday night, May 18 several drama club members from PHS invaded the home of PHS drama and speech teacher, Miss Diane Lewallen for their annual Academy Awards banquet. All the members attending were attired in costumes of all types. It may have made an odd sight to neighbors unaware of the festivities, but all the members had a fun time.

Monday afternoon, May 17, several senior girls were honored at a swim party and basket supper at the home of Mrs. Jack Lott. Also hosting the party were Kim Lott, Patty Kirkpatrick, and her daughter, Cindy Kirkpatrick.

Attending the party were Jennifer Miller, Kim Mitchell, Pam Carpenter, Genetta Kennedy, Christy Davis, Lorry Chapman, Patricia Bilberry and myself.

All of the senior girls mothers also attended the party, which was thoroughly enjoyable and despite physical appearances the party was not all wet.

Students who will be attending PHS next fall will be arranging their own schedules for the coming year Friday afternoon. The students will be choosing their own classes and times for those classes. Several graduating seniors will help any or all of the students who may need their advice.

Tuesday afternoon, May 18, the graduating seniors met in front of the high school building decked out in their black caps and gowns. Mr. George Pierce and Mrs. Beth Walker had a time arranging all the students in their places but were finally able to take a picture of the entire group for the annual. It was some feeling wearing those gowns and knowing that graduation is truly only a few days away.

The 4-H Share the Fun group of Mark Short, Steve White, Bruce Sanderson, Amy and Lisa Cowdrey entertained at a board of directors meeting for the White River Youth Camp at White River, Tuesday night, May 18. The group will be attending competition at A&M University in June. Unfortunately the group made a little boo-boo. Mark Short began playing "Folsom Prison Blues," but the group was singing "Blowing in the Wind." Amy stopped the group and turned to Mark saying "What song are you playing?" Mark turned a bright shade of red and murmured, "What song are you singing?" The group did get it all together and did a great job.

Earlier this year when students began signing for class preferences for the coming year it was feared that due to lack of student enthusiasm the Vocational Office Education class would have to be dropped. Fortunately eleven students changed their preferences and signed up for the class. This number is one over the state requirement for participation. I for one am relieved to see this outstanding program did not end up in the out category.

Elections for student council president and vice president are being run a little different this year from any year in the past. After a meeting last week two names were submitted as approved candidates for each office. Other students who wish to run for an office must obtain a specified number of signatures from students and teachers plus must maintain a high C average.

It is truly hard to believe that the school year is winding up. The excitement is mounting. For all interested seniors we have only four school days left.

Cheerleaders are elected

Junior high and freshman cheerleaders were elected last week for the coming 1976-77 school year.

Junior High cheerleaders are Marinette Hays, Holly Giddens, Stella Harper, Lana Dunn and Deann Ammons.

The title of the film is "The Safest Show on Earth." Materials are provided by the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety for the purpose of stimulating youngsters to become more aware of pedestrian, bicycle and passenger safety fundamentals.

In the Safety Ranger Program, students create their own illustrations. These illustrations are reproduced in Austin by Canson Associates Limited, designer of the program. Each class receives a custom produced filmstrip using work done by that class. The filmstrip and a sound recording become the property of the school.

Last year, nearly 250,000 Texas School children participated in the Safety Ranger Program. The program is offered free to all Texas 4th grade classrooms this Fall.

Garza pioneer's daughter writes of 'good old days' here

EDITOR'S NOTE: Marjorie Hostler is the daughter of the late Mrs. H. C. Smith, who lived in the county seat of Justiceburg in 1905. The county was organized in 1903. Her father was Garza attorney and county clerk. She was a true Garza pioneer and lived in Justiceburg in October, 1940. Mrs. Hostler now lives in Clifton, Pa.

population 2,000 — located in northwest Texas. Most of them had moved there in 1907 when the town was first built, or shortly afterward. The year 1907 had also been a depression year and maybe some had come to make a fresh start. They had come from many places and for many reasons.

Post was the county seat and the trading center for the farmers and ranchers who lived within a radius of 15 miles. Although we boasted a cotton mill which had been built by C. W. Post, the great cereal magnate and founder of our town, we were deeply affected by the good or bad times of our agricultural people. The nearest neighboring town was, in those days, a two hour drive over flat, open, semi-desert countryside.

I remember the natives' courage and ability to cope the year of the dust bowl. We were on the edge — not even considered part of it, but we felt we had our fair share. We could see the big black clouds at a distance which warned us the dust was coming our way. Any persons out on the open highway knew they had about 30 minutes before pulling off on its shoulder — lights on — and to pray another car would not hit them.

The air would become so thick with fine-grained dust, it was often impossible to see the front of one's own car. At home, upon first sighting the dust clouds, people would grab old newspapers (always kept handy), crumple and soak them in water, and rush them to the window sills and pull the windows closed over them. The papers didn't keep out all of the dust, but helped a lot.

Everything in the house would still be covered with silt when the storm was on about an hour (or less) later. There was a strong wind and never a great deal of physical damage. Fortunately, most people had a great sense of humor. I think now a good sense of humor was necessary for survival in that part of our great country. Those less hearty had already returned East or moved on to California. When the storm had passed and skies were blue again, windows were opened to blow a little of the dust out of the curtains before picking up oily dust cloths and sudsy cleaning rags to start again the never ending battle with the dust. And, of course, there were crops that year and there wasn't enough grass for the cattle. We prayed for rain.

And I also remember their frustrations one year when we had plenty of rain. The crops were beautiful, but the prices were so low the cotton farmer could not afford to have the cotton picked. He could only have enough feed harvested to take care of his own livestock. Their wives hadn't enough money to buy the jars required to preserve the vegetables from their own gardens. The price of beef was so low the ranchers could hardly afford to ship their cattle to market. For most people, there was simply no money. The barter system was used a lot. One good, kind, honest man owed my dad some money and made arrangements to pay him in frying size chickens. We ate an awful lot of chicken that year — fried, baked, stewed — you name it. You can keep it! I have already had too much chicken for one lifetime. The ability of these people to adjust, keep their faith, and help one another was an accepted way of life.

Despite the many problems, there was an undercurrent of excitement because we were well into the machine age, and lifestyles were changing rapidly. There were some people, like my Dad, who had mixed emotions about some of this. There are always those who will be hurt by progress. In our vicinity, one was a blacksmith, another an iceman.

My Dad, a lawyer and a judge, had the foresight, together with other community leaders, to promote and get the County to build a large red brick ultra modern court house in 1927. No doubt it was the biggest and best for a town our size in West Texas, and is still being used nearly fifty years later.

Yet, he would not buy an electric refrigerator for our home until the iceman started selling them. Nor would he rent his farm land to a farmer who used a tractor. He must own a team of horses. I do not doubt that the tenant paid a neighbor who owned a tractor to plow at least some of his land. My Mother sometimes took a rather dim view of my Dad's attitude because she thought progress was great and her enthusiasm knew no bounds.

Because of advances in technology, our communication and transportation were better than they had ever been. As a result, the rural communities were beginning to close down their one and two room school houses and build large, well equipped consolidated schools. Or students were being bussed into town. Almost everyone was now getting at least a high school education.

All shared in the belief that through education and hard work any problems could be solved and anything could be accomplished. If you wanted to do something bad enough, you would find a way. It was as simple as that. Opportunity? You made it — you didn't wait for it.

A number of the young people managed to go to college. There were quite a few who worked all or most of their way through, although a degree didn't help much to get a job at that time. These people were still optimistic and now our elected representatives in Washington were joining together with others from all over the United States to get help as soon as possible for all the unfortunate people throughout the whole country.

The American people must not ever have to live through another depression such as this one. Laws were passed and programs were set up to not only help the people then, but to make certain that America would never have so bad a depression again. The rest, of course, is history.

Through the year, there have been those who have developed knowledge and skills which have brought us into the jet age, the computer age, and have put men on the moon. They have not, however, been able to control the rainfall for the farmer or the morality of mankind. We still have too little rain some years and then there are dust storms. We still have unemployment and people losing money on investments. We still have many problems, but in over 35 years, there has never been a repeat of the depression in the 1930s.

Now, when I read in the paper or hear on the news there is a drought, I am sorry for the farmer who has planted his seed and nothing has grown. I know, however, he is going to have enough money to buy seed for next year and to pay his taxes. In the 1930s there were many who didn't.

I also know that the small farmer of the depression years has long ago given up farming and moved to the city to get a job that will give him a steady income. Technology has made those jobs available as well as making farming a big business. Because of the machinery available to him, one man can cultivate many acres of land — a must, to make a living. I also know that when a drought has been severe enough to create shortages, my costs will undoubtedly skyrocket.

When I hear about a "bumper crop", I know the farmer is going to realize a profit from his labors. I also know my costs probably won't go down very much. But we need those farmers and those ranchers. If they go out of business, we are in real trouble.

I hear of the poor retired people on fixed incomes in our wild inflationary times. I hear that some have only their Social Security. And I remember when they didn't have that. If they had no private income they were completely dependent on the charity of their children or community.

Through Social Security we have given at least some dignity to the senior citizens who would otherwise have nothing of their own. They also have the advantage of a good health insurance program and they have better health than in years gone by. I'm sorry they can't all be rich, but it was never so.

I hear of my neighbor who is at home sick or injured, and I know his job will be waiting for him when he goes back to work. I grieve for the man with a family who will never be able to work again, but I know his family will get Social Security benefits. And I'm sorry when someone has lost his job through no fault of his own, but I know that he will get unemployment insurance so that he can take more time to find the job that will suit him best.

The problems have not really changed so much. We have many honorable intelligent people at the helm to lead us through our bad times in a way that no American will have to live through another depression such as the one in the 1930s.

We have knowledge and technology. Opportunities are unlimited, and luxury abounds. We also have pockets of poverty, illiteracy and ignorance. It is rarely safe to walk on the streets on any big city after dark. We are stumbling for answers to the energy crisis and pollution. And now our scientists are calling for an international probe of our global climate. We are threatened with another ice age and we don't want to get caught and be unable to cope.

Hopefully, the majority of American children will have the thirst for knowledge and enthusiasm for the new, as my Mother did, yet proceed with my Dad's foresightedness and caution.

These will probably look back some year to these times as the "Good Old Days". Oh dear! What a gloomy forecast.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE YOUNG VOTER

Dear Young Voter of Garza County:

The last Primary Election in our county was reflected everywhere in one disturbing thing—you didn't vote!

Many of you had reached 18 between elections, and this was your first chance to exercise your right as an American, to use your first vote. Where were you?

June 5th you have another chance to stand up and be counted as a responsible, valuable part of our democratic form of government on our 200th birthday.

Whether you vote for me is not so important—as whether you vote!

Band concert—Gazing at Garza

By MAXINE MARKS
 Garza County, created in 1876, has an area of 870 square miles of level to hilly land, laying partly on the Llano Estacado and partly in the breaks of the lower plains. It is drained by tributaries of the Brazos River. The soil varies from sand to loam to clay. It's altitude runs from 2500 to 3000 feet, and has an average rainfall of 20.5 inches. The mean annual temperature is approximately 60 degrees.

Early explorers reported very little water except for seasonal rains which filled the canyons and dry water courses. The region was almost unsettled until the early 1870s, when buffalo hunters were gradually replaced by cattlemen. The OS Ranch of Andy and Frank Long grazed range cattle over unfenced lands south of the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos in the eastern part of the county. W. C. Young and Ben Galbraith, later known as the Llano Cattle Company, headquartered in a dugout on a ranch in the northwestern part of the county in 1879.

This site, the Curry Comb Ranch, was the scene of an Indian raid in 1883. J. B. Slaughter, whose ranch holdings lay between the Yellow House and McDonald Creeks, was in the area before 1880. Charley Dalton, in the eastern area of the county, and German B. Stout, who settled on the Yellow House Creed in 1885 were other early day settlers. In 1882 Jim and Finis Kindsey sold their holdings on the Double Mountain Fork to the Square and Compass Ranch, which put up the first wire fence in Garza County in 1884.

Rollie Burns, foreman of the ranch, brought his wife, the first woman in the county, to the ranch in 1884.

Big project for cub scout

The Post Library has a Bicentennial display which was collected by Larry Crane as a Club Scout project. He will be in Philadelphia this summer to participate in some of the Bicentennial activities. Larry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crane, has already attended a "1776" church service and was on hand when the American Freedom train arrived in Odessa.

He has quite an enthusiasm for the 200th birthday celebration, as well as a growing collection of souvenirs.

Post has at least one more bell it could ring on freedom's holiday. It's the Antelopes victory bell which peals forth after Post high football victories and goes with the team to out-of-town games.

Why not have our young people ring the victory bell while adults ring the Methodist church bell. One would be commemorating the past, the other ringing in a bright new future for America.

Rollie Burns, foreman of the ranch, brought his wife, the first woman in the county, to the ranch in 1884.

Postings—

Now that the Methodists have had their church bell brought down from their church tower so it can be mounted on a movable platform for the July 4th bell-ringing here, we would have just one other suggestion to add.

Hunsaker reported the hospital has received its flame photometer for the laboratory ordered the week before and it already was installed and in operation.

The hospital administrator said he has obtained estimates on the cost of replacing the two tanks on the hospital's water system which the board may consider as the first step toward solving its plumbing problem.

Attending the session were Directors Sexton Huntley, Gene Moore and Wayne Childers, Hunsaker, Director of Nurses Laverna Jones and Dispatch Editor Jim Cornish.

Grant Teaff—

the Texas football world by guiding his Baylor Bears to the Southwest Conference football championship in 1974 and into the 1975 Cotton Bowl, was named national football coach of the year, been chosen head coach for three national all-star games, authored a book about his life, and has been elected third vice president of the Texas Baptist Convention which owns and oversees the operation of Baylor University.

Teaff, former Snyder high school football star, is one of the nation's most sought-after speakers, traveling from coast to coast to share his Christian testimony and love for Baylor University in highly motivating speeches to the youth of the land.

One of the four principal events on the opening day of the celebration Saturday, May 29, will be the 1:30 p. m. program in the school auditorium in which most of the school youngsters will take part.

School participation is one reason the celebration was scheduled in May instead of during the summer.

Ginger Brooks of Big Spring will open the program by singing "America's Birthday." Other segments of the program or episodes, include Patrick Henry, Francis Scott Key, westward movement, civil war, Borden County history, prohibition and flappers, depression, World War II, 50s and 60s and the Grand Finale with Uncle Sam.

The other three events on the Saturday program are the parade at 10 a. m., the buffalo barbecue at noon, and the wild west show at 3:30 p. m.
