Post's city dads Monday night unanimously voted to deny a variety of small rate increases which General Telephone Co. has requested.

Coupled with the motion to deny the boosts was the explanation that councilmen "feared" any income increases here would boost the phone utility over the maximum legal return of eight per cent set by state law.

Harvey Morton of Lubbock, attorney for the city, presented the rather complicated telephone rate increase request which would have made six minor changes but would not effect the basic monthly rates on business or home phones.

Two of the rate changes would have been decreases. One change would have boosted pay phone calls from 10 cents to 25 cents and resulted in an estimated 40 per cent reduction in the number of such calls.

The total rate changes would have resulted in a predicted annual revenue increase of only $4,809 for General Telephone in Post.

Asked for his opinion, Morton said he feared the eight per cent maximum return set by state law would be exceeded if the rate changes were granted. He said the present rate of return is 7.94 per cent.

Mayor Giles McCrary also pointed out that Post is one of a very few communities in Texas under an old tariff (See City council, Page 12)

New Methodist pastor arrives

Conrad M. Ryan is the new minister of the First United Methodist Church, having taken over duties of the church last Sunday. He replaces Kenneth Metzger who was recently moved to Memphis.

Mr. Ryan came to Post from Hale Center, where he was minister for one and one-half years. He has spent most of his years preaching in the South Plains area, having held churches in Hale Center, Abernathy and Ralls.

His hometown is Paducah and was raised adjoining the 6666's Ranch.

His wife is Geraldine and he has three married children, Mrs. Wanda Powell who lives with her husband and two children on the Cal Farleys Boys Ranch, where they have been employed for 12 years; (See New pastor, Page 12)

Sheriff Gandy asks full term

Sheriff Ewell E. (Gene) Gandy has authorized The Dispatch to announce that he will seek a full four-year term as the head of the city-county law enforcement arm.

Gandy was appointed sheriff last spring and has supervised the expansion of the sheriff's department in a joint city-county law arm.

He said he would make a statement later as to his candidacy.

Sam Ellis into Pct. 1 race

Sam Ellis, a resident of Garza County and the Southland community for 49 years, has authorized The Dispatch to announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for county commissioner of precinct 1.

In his announcement, Ellis said his office would be dedicated to equal representation for all of Precinct 1 as well as for all of Garza County in the work of the commissioners court.

In the farming, ranching, implement and hardware business in the Southland area, Ellis served on the Garza County School board until it was dissolved in 1972. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge and past master and past district grand master.

He presently is a member of the Garza County Museum Association, chairman of the Garza County Soil and Water Conservation District, and a member of the advisory board of the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG). Ellis was born in Crosby County Sept. 10, 1913.

Barbecue raises $500 for Legion clubhouse

Archie Gill, Post commander for the American Legion here reports that the benefit barbecue held Saturday night brought approximately $500 toward the improvements to be made to the Legion Hall.

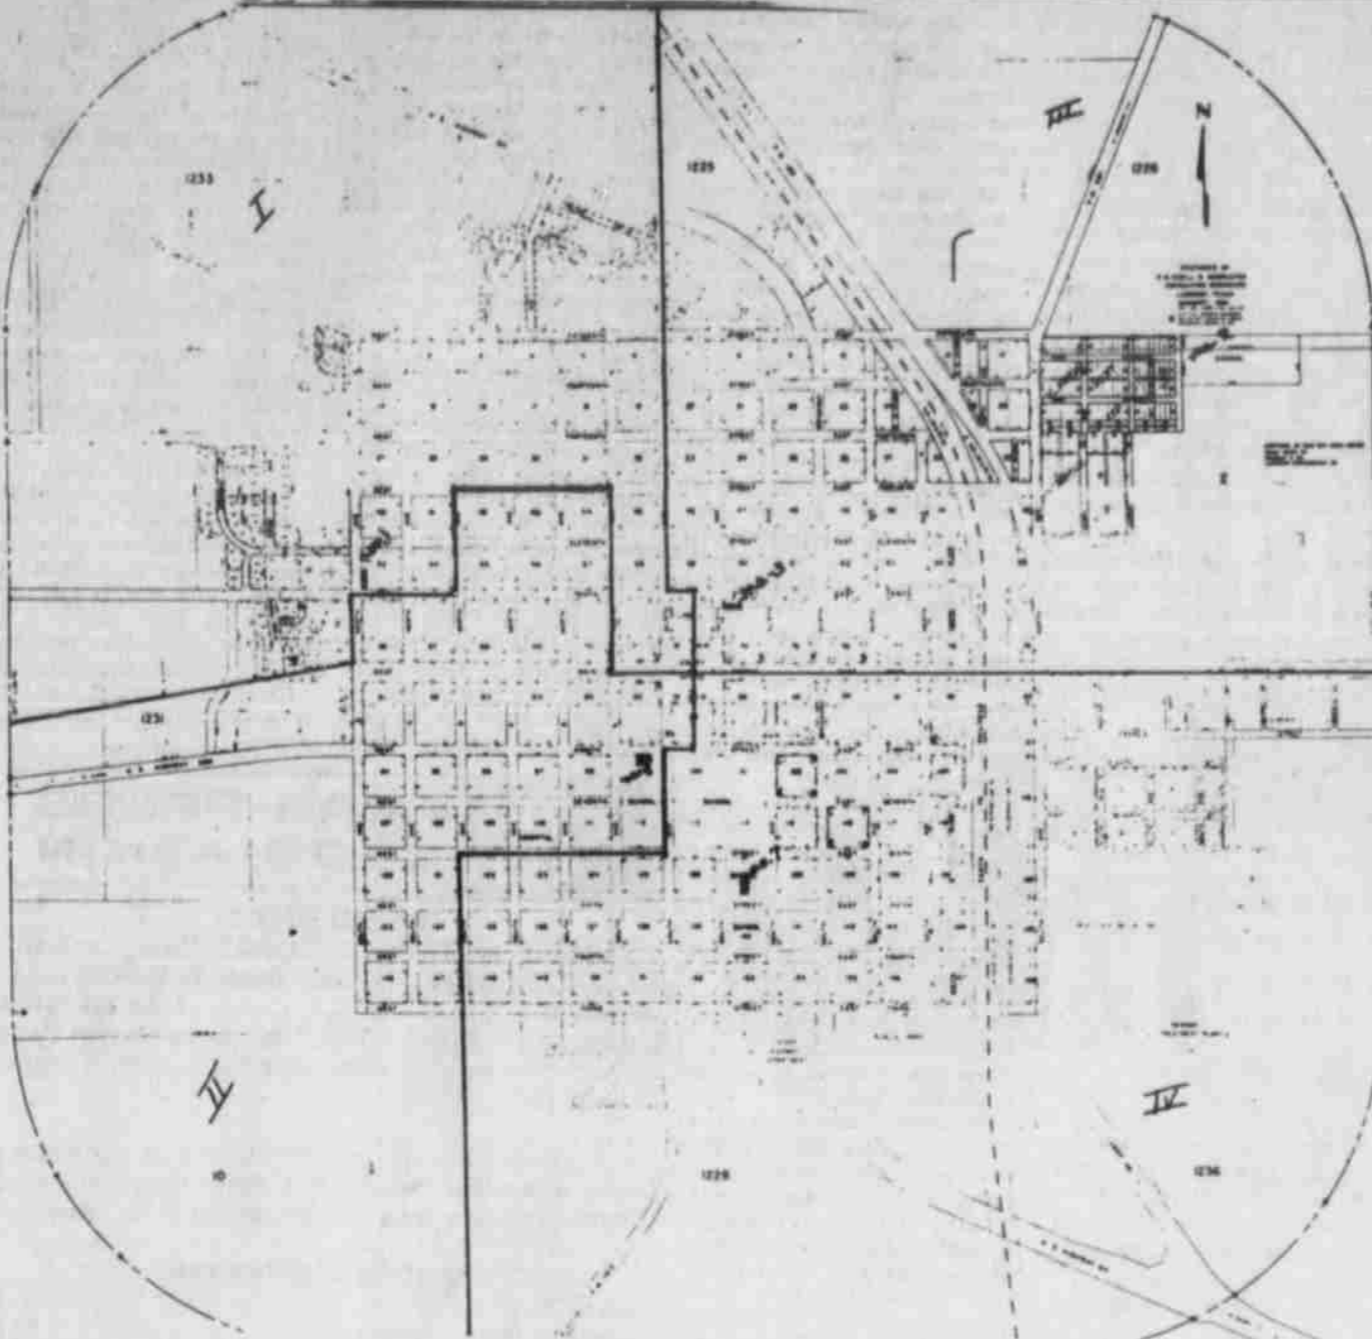

A total of 164 people were served during the meal, with the meat being donated by Legion member, George Sneed.

Among out of town guests at the barbecue were Ollie Branson of Big Spring, a representative of the VA Hospital for West Texas and Eastern New Mexico; Don McCray, 19th District Commander of Big Spring; and C. G. McKenzie, Chairman of VA affairs and Rehabilitation of Lubbock. Gill told The Dispatch that Legion volunteers will start re-roofing the building "the first Saturday we have decent weather." Some 18 members of the post have volunteered for the big "do it ourselves" project with funds raised to date going for materials.

The commander said a new ceiling and paneling of the walls also is planned once the roof is on.

The first "work session", Gill said Tuesday, will be held at 7 p. m. Monday, Jan. 26, at the Legion Hall. He urged all who want to help to turn out at that time.

New county precincts shown

Whoever is writing sports for the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal doesn't seem to know that the Post Antelopes are right behind the Roosevelt Eagles who play the Bulldogs Friday night as Tahoka's only contender for first half honors. (The Lopes have already beaten Roosevelt at Roosevelt.)

Just trying to keep up with all the basketball which is played here is a big enough problem for us. We worked our way through a stack of nine scorebooks Tuesday afternoon. We well understand how the A-J could "lose a team or two" in trying to cover all South Plains basketball at the varsity level.

Covering the Southland school situation isn't easy for The Dispatch because after several years of wrangling between contesting school factions everybody is publicity shy when it comes to talking to a newsman. We wish we could be more explicit on whether or not the new consolidation move is any new realignment of Southland voters or just another "holding action" against a Southland school building program.

Post appears probably on its (See Postings, Page 12)

NEW BOUNDARIES MAPPED — Shown top are the boundary lines of the county commissioners' four precincts in the City of Post and below are the boundary lines for the county's rural areas. Compare with maps on page 12 of old boundaries to note differences. Precincts 1 and 2 have decreased considerably in size and precincts 3 and 4 increased to break the precincts to near equal population totals for the first time. The new precinct lines were adopted last week by the Garza County Commissioners court and also brings changes in many of the county's nine voting precincts. The blackest lines on the maps indicate precinct boundary lines. Voter certificates which T. H. Tipton will mail out in March will indicate the voting box in which the voter will vote. The Dispatch has been told.

New petitions filed for consolidation of Southland district

Petitions have been received by Garza County Judge Giles Dalby, Lynn County Judge V. E. Jones, and Lubbock County Judge Rod Shaw asking that a special election be called to vote upon the consolidation of the Southland School Districts with the Post and Wilson School Districts.

The earliest the election can be called is Saturday, April 3, Judge Dalby told The Dispatch after receiving his petition by mail this week.

The petitions seek a vote to approve consolidation of all that portion of the Southland School District lying within Garza County to the Post Independent School District.

Those portions within Lynn and Lubbock County are asked to be consolidated with the Wilson School District. Most of the Southland district is in Garza County.

Since no voters live on the small portion of the Southland district within Lubbock County, no special election would have to be called by Judge Shaw of Lubbock County.

Only voters of the Southland, Post and Wilson school districts would vote on the consolidation. A majority would have to approve in all three districts for the consolidation to take place.

Judge Dalby told The Dispatch there were signatures of 20 or more voters from each of the school districts on the (See Petition filed, Page 12)

Schools seek pilot program

Post school trustees Monday approved the application of the Post schools to the Texas Education Agency for a pilot "external degree program."

The program would enable out-of-school adults to obtain high school degrees instead of a general equivalency degree through the GED program which has been operating here.

In another action, trustees extended the contract of Supt. Shiver for an additional year through June 30, 1979.

Shiver reported to trustees that an open house for the Post schools is being planned for 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., March 11 with Dr. Ben Harris, consultant in the local schools' instructional program, speaking to parents at 8:30 p. m. in the primary school auditorium on the accomplishments made here to date.

Trustees approved the changing of the schools' free lunch program to now include a "reduced price lunch" of 20 cents for students from families within a specified income category. The state will pay the difference between the 20 cents and the full meal costs of 65 cents for elementary students and 70 cents for students in (See Pilot program, Page 12)

Only 7 filed, deadline nears

Feb. 2 will be the deadline for candidate filings for the Democratic primary in 1976, N. C. Outlaw, chairman of the Garza County Democratic Executive Committee, emphasized this week.

Applications for place on the Democratic ballot are to be filed with Outlaw at his home at 303 Mohawk Drive here.

Outlaw told The Dispatch Monday that candidates filing up to that time with him included:

Sheriff Ewell E. (Gene) Gandy and Jim Pippin; county attorney, Preston Poole; tax assessor-collector, T. H. Tipton; county commissioner, pct. 1, Silas Short; county commissioner, pct. 3 Ben Sanchez and V. L. (Buster) Shumard.

JOE SMITH

Joe Smith seeks another term

District Attorney Joe Smith of Seminole Wednesday authorized The Dispatch to announce that he will seek reelection to another four-year term in the 196th judicial district, which includes Garza County.

Smith will complete his first four-year term in 1976.

He said he would make a statement on his candidacy later.

Two state hearings held on need for nursing home

Testimony was taken in two hearings in Austin Friday and Monday on issuing a certificate of need to one of two contesting parties to build a new 90-bed nursing home here in Post.

The Texas Health Facilities Commission is not expected to rule until possibly mid-February on whether H. H. (Hank) Huntley of Luling, Tex., or a group headed by Dr. A. R. Howard of Lubbock will be granted the certificate.

Dr. Howard's group, which announced intentions to construct such a home here over a year ago and then backed off until high interest rates came down enough to make the project feasible, filed a protest against granting of a certificate of need to Huntley, former Post resident and a brother of Sexton Huntley.

The Friday hearing, as The Dispatch understands the rather complicated procedure, was to take testimony on Dr. Howard's contention that he had a waiver on a certificate of need, now required under a new federal law for the construction of any type of health facilities.

The Monday morning hearing (See Nursing home, Page 12)

County uses bidding to award insurance policy

The Garza County Commissioners Court is the latest local governmental body to award its insurance business on the basis of low bids by local insurance agencies.

The court Monday awarded Tom Power Insurance Agency a policy to cover insurance needs on county vehicles on a low bid of $2,221.

The only other bid received was from Bryan Williams & Son for $2,440.

In other actions, the court: Approved purchase of citizens band radios and base station for the sheriff's department at a cost of $975 installed with maintenance at no additional cost. The CB units had been requested last week by Sheriff Gene Gandy to enable citizens to report emergencies to the sheriff's department via CB communications.

Sheriff Gandy and County-District Clerk Carl Cederholm appeared before the court to draw the names for the 1976 county salary grievance committee. Names of those drawn were Mrs. Richard Dudley, Robert Cox, Roy Teaff, Prudencio Basquez and Ted Tatum. These citizens will serve with elected officials on the committee.

The court received from County Attorney Preston Poole and approved boundary line descriptions for the re-districting of the county's voting precincts to equalize voter population.

Buck Craft in Pct. 1 race

T. D. (Buck) Craft, manager of Planters Gin, has authorized The Dispatch to announce his candidacy as a Democrat for the county commissioner precinct 1 Post in the spring primary.

This will be Craft's first campaign for political office. Craft said he would make a statement on his candidacy later.

Lots of voting changes

When the county redistricted its four county commissioner districts to make them virtually equal in population size, it also moved a lot of folks around in the voting precincts.

Since both commissioner districts one and two lost considerable territory in the redrawing of precinct lines while the other two gained in size, that means that the county's nine voting precincts changed considerably too as voting precincts do not overlap county commissioner precinct lines.

While The Dispatch today is printing maps to show the new commissioner precinct boundaries both in Post and Garza County, it would be difficult to map the voting precincts.

Come the primaries late this spring, a lot of voters will be marking ballots in new voting precincts. As The Dispatch understands it voters when they are mailed their voting registrations will be told on the form in which voting box they vote.

Those who want to know about changes can of course inquire from either T. H. Tipton's tax office or from the county judge's office.

It is quite remarkable, how equally the four county commissioner precincts in total population.

According to a special census made this summer, new precinct one will contain 1,145 persons, precinct two 1,068, precinct three 1,108, and precinct four 1,103. This compares with former voter registrations for the precincts in their former boundaries (no population figures broken down available.)

Precinct one, 986 registered voters, precinct two, 663 voters; precinct three, 450 voters; and precinct four, 285 voters.

It is easy to see quite a bit of leveling had to be done to equalize them on a population basis as required by law.

Present boundaries must be approved by the attorney-general's office in Washington, D. C. which has 90 days in which to act on the new boundaries. It is hard to see how they could complain about this equalizing, although both candidates and voters are going to be mixed up for a while.

Hundreds of Garza voters will be voting in different voting boxes and in different commissioner precincts this year.

To find out where you'll vote and in what commissioner district you'll have to compare the 1976 boundary line maps with the old 1972 boundaries as printed in today's Dispatch.

Unusual public service

Mrs. Ruth Ann Newby has just completed six years of service on the important criminal justice committee of SPAG and is stepping out to be replaced by Judge Giles Dalby.

Mrs. Newby has served on this committee, which approves all law enforcement funding in the big SPAG area from federal sources, from its very beginning.

At the start, she was the only woman on the 18-member committee, but now there are three others. When she completed her second three-year term on the committee she was about the only public representative left. All the others were sheriffs, police officers, probation officers, judges, or the like — all had some law enforcement position.

At the start the committee met at night for its monthly meetings which put an added burden on Mrs. Newby in her attendance.

She says she loved the committee work and found it very interesting. She served quite faithfully for this wide West Texas area.

Such public service is seldom recognized by the public on whose behalf the effort is undertaken. That's why The Dispatch is calling editorial attention to Mrs. Newby's long and unusual service.

The way we hear it she made a mighty efficient committee member too.

Garza County will continue to be well represented with Judge Dalby who was elected to succeed Mrs. Newby.

New 'industry' coming

Even though it is virtually impossible to draw a prison sentence on one's first offense, except in some murder cases, Texas has between 18,000 and 18,500 Texans in prison. Projections show prison populations will swell to 25,310 by 1980 and could even go as high as 27,000 in another four years.

To meet the growing shortage of bunks behind bars, the prison system is going to ask the next legislature to provide funds to construct a prison farm in West Texas.

The site hasn't been selected, but one is needed where the land can grow both vegetables and cotton because the prison has a need to feed and cloth its prisoners.

Plans call for a canning plant, a textile mill which would produce cloth for inmate uniforms, and irrigated acreage besides the cell blocks, dining hall, gym and chapel.

The farm can be built for under $38 million if performed with convict labor but the estimated cost would climb to $232 million if the state awards a contract for the work.

All of which is interesting.

We suppose it won't be long before West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be tightening their political strings in an effort to attract this new "prison farm industry."

Bicentennial Bits

By BARRY TRASK

The Bishop of St. Asaph, an officer of the official Church of England, and the deistic son of an emigrant dyer from Danbury, toiled together for freedom.

He was the youngest son of the youngest son for five generations. He was named Benjamin Franklin. His father wanted him to be a Presbyterian minister. But the care and feeding of thirteen children diverted funds for schooling.

At age 12, Ben became an "apron boy." Five years later, in Philadelphia, he began his incredible career as printer, propagandist, inventor, amorous adventurer, scientist, diplomat and senior revolutionary.

Deism was a movement advocating natural religion, based on reason rather than revelation. Earth, heavens, man, animals — all parts of an intricate machine, with God revered for the marvels of His universe, rather than for His power over mankind; God, "the divine watchmaker."

The movement was encouraged by the Enlightenment in Europe, the so-called Age of Reason. 18th-century intellectuals were excited by the scientific discoveries of Galileo, and Descartes, and Newton, and his findings on gravity.

When he was 22 Franklin adopted a simple creed, with a deistic Christian God of infinite power, which he would not use in arbitrary fashion.

His deistic views remained with him all his life. A month before his death Ezra Stiles asked him to comment on the divinity of Jesus. Franklin refused. He said, "I expect soon an opportunity of knowing the truth with less trouble."

Jonathan Shipley, age 35, was consecrated as Bishop of Asaph, a large and prominent see. As part of the official apparatus of England, the Church of England had great influence. So it must be presumed that Shipley had been closely screened by the king and his ministers.

Even so, he soon began showing sympathy for colonial problems. His broad-minded attitude induced Franklin, in 1771, to seek him out. A warm rapport developed.

Shipley was most effective in introducing Franklin to men of influence, regardless of their political persuasion. He made the printer-philosopher the most notable American figure in Britain. He was Franklin's best overseas friend.

In 1774 Shipley wrote his fellow church leaders, "My Lords, I look upon North America as the only great nursery of freedom now left upon the face of the earth." He gained the support of only one, Bishop Hinchliffe of Peterborough. His own support lost him his chance to become Archbishop of Canterbury.

Well, ideas accept no barriers. They jump fences, and span oceans. The Bishop of Asaph, and the senior American revolutionary, rejected adversary tags. They preferred labels of amity, and brotherhood.

Fryers, grapefruit in bargain spotlight

COLLEGE STATION — Fryer chickens and grapefruit take the "bargain spotlight" in many grocery stores across Texas this week, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist, reports.

Fryer features include whole birds — as well as parts, she added.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Of the grapefruit supply, she said its quality is "excellent," while its lower prices are due to the large crop.

Other economical fruit buys include oranges, tangerines, tangelos, and pears. Banana prices are a bit lower, but apple prices vary with variety and size of fruit.

At vegetable counters, sweet potato and broccoli prices are lower — with the same prediction for cabbage and carrots in upcoming weeks.

CONSUMER WATCHDOG Dairy features this week include a variety of cheap low-fat milk, sour cream, yogurt.

"Consumers shouldn't lock rutabagas as a delectable flavored vegetable dish, — both supply and quality excellent," Mrs. Clyatt adds. "Vegetables in the modern price range are Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, beets, eggplant."

In meat sections, beef prices are stable, and good values appear on chuck cuts, ground beef, some steaks for broilers, chunk bologna and liver. "Pork prices show no significant change, but best values are Boston butt and quarter cut into chops. Smoked cuts lower prices include picnic, roll sausage."

In the egg department, prices vary — with a few instances price decline. Generally, large size eggs are the best value.

BACK TO STRAY DOGS

I have been away from Post for several years but received the Post Dispatch weekly. Some time ago I read of the new dog ordinance and was happy to see the rules that were written to handle stray dogs and pets. I am now a resident of Post and wondering if the dog ordinance is still in effect. One week ago I walked out to my front yard only to find seven dogs loose in the yard and one afternoon I had to beat a large dog off of another dog before it killed the smaller dog. These incidents are common occurrences and the county sheriff, who lives on our block, does not appear to be concerned with the mob of dogs that roam the block.

I am not a dog hater as my family has a pet but she is not free to run as she pleases. Children are not safe to play with so many dogs loose and I would like to see some response on the part of our city government in advising the public, once again, of the responsibilities of pet owners and what action citizens should take regarding stray dogs.

The situation on 12th street is bad and needs help!

Sincerely,
Jack Gordon
(EDITOR'S NOTE: To report a stray dog call the sheriff's department who will relay the information to a special dog catcher who is now working 20 hours a week on evenings and weekends. The city and county share this special expense. The city council Monday night thought the situation has improved considerably with many dogs picked up, but many still at large.)

WANT AD BILLING CHANGE

Due to the recent increase in first class mail rates, The Dispatch this week adopts a new policy on billing one-time want ads. The customer is not required to pay on order, but if he or she does not pay by billing time at the end of the month, then a 25 cent billing fee will be added to send out the bill. This change applies only to one-time insertions in which billing costs without the charge would mean a loss on the transaction rather than a profit. The "25 cent reminder fee" can be avoided by prompt payment. Your cooperation will enable Dispatch want ad rates to remain the same.

Bank 'egged' and bank sign 'stoned'

The First National Bank was "egged and stoned" early Sunday morning, Sheriff Gene Gandy reports.

Vandals threw a rock through one of the pole-mounted time and temperature signs in front of the bank, breaking a hole in it.

A good number of eggs were thrown against the west wall of the bank next to the parking lot.

Collier talks stock market

Bob Collier had to get permission to address the Post Rotary Club at its Tuesday luncheon in city hall on the stock market.

His company wired approval, required by a securities commission regulation.

Collier, who is now a stock salesman, told Rotarians he got interested in the stock market because of a Rotary club program on the market back in 1959.

"There's more to it than picking a stock and watching it go up," Collier said. He explained many of the aids given investors through market analysis.

HOW HEALTHY IS YOUR PERSONALITY?

Much more is known about how to recognize and to maintain physical health than is known about mental or emotional health.

Physical health is body contained. Mental health is reflected in the individual's feelings, responses and reactions towards others.

In order to assess a healthy personality seven qualities can be used. Ask them of yourself in this manner:

—What is the movement of the personality? Is it toward or away from others? Is there more like than dislike for others? Is there warmth or coldness?

Each of us has an opportunity to create a climate of warmth when we are near others. In such an atmosphere each individual becomes his best self.

—Is there balance between the give-and-take in relation to others?

The healthy personality is able to accept or take as well as give. Most of us get a great deal of satisfaction out of giving but find it hard to accept as easily as we give. Talking and listening, our daily practice of give and take, are very effective ways of checking to see levels of individual give and take.

—Is there some skill development?

Skill or competence in handling materials is essential to building self-confidence and gaining the confidence of others. Confidence is reflected in the responsibilities we take on voluntarily or accept when assigned.

—Is there pleasure in creative privacy?

You are interesting if you are interested. The individual who enjoys his own resources, his own self, has real texture in the quality of his living. If you like yourself, you will be liked. Do you plan time for creative privacy?

—Is there capacity to suffer disappointment?

Our maturity shows in the ways we react to unwanted, disappointing experiences: resentment — a childish reaction; realization that disappointments happen to everyone; learning to translate personal loss into an understanding of how other people feel.

—Is there a sense of possibility?

The top-level personality is hopeful, optimistic. If there is hope, there is a feeling that things can be done.

—Is there a sense of something greater than oneself?

Recognition of the existence of something greater than oneself helps to avoid self-centeredness, uneasiness, unhappiness and an unhealthy personality.

Conrad-Gardner vows read here Saturday

Miss Vivian Carol Conrad and Michael Alan Gardner were united in a double ring ceremony, Saturday, Jan. 17 in the home of the bride's mother, in Post.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frances Conrad of Post and the groom is the son of Milton Gardner of Tulsa, Okla. The Rev. Jimmy Kennedy, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church read the double ring ceremony.

The bride escorted by her uncle, Terry Bryan of Lubbock was given in marriage by her mother. She was attired in a gown that she designed herself, of floor length white satin, with a powder blue sash jacket. The dress was fitted at the waist by a matching sash with puffed long sleeves fitted at the wrist with wide cuffs. Her own white Bible she had had since childhood was the traditional something old, and completed with pennies in her shoe for good luck and her veil was borrowed.

Mrs. Diane Conrad, sister-in-law of the bride, of Post was matron of honor. She was attired in a dark red velvet dress with white lace trim and wore a white carnation corsage.

Eddie Conrad, brother of the bride of Slaton was best man. Traditional wedding music was presented by Tracy McAlister on the organ.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother. Serving were Mrs. Kathy Johnson of Post and the bride's aunt, Iris Hillhouse of Arkansas.

The bride's table was decorated in blue net over white with red candles flanking the centerpiece of red and white flowers. Guests were served a three-tiered wedding cake baked by Mrs. Opal Rudd.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Vivian Bryan.

The couple will be at home in Post at 315 East 12th. The bride attended Post schools and is a graduate of the Job Corp Training Center in Guthrie, Okla. The groom attended high school and college in Tulsa, Okla.

He reported his teachers are exceptional and also explained the new teaching methods used for the 480 students from the first grade through the fifth grade.

Alexander concluded his talk by showing members drawings made by students, giving their ideas of club women on their way to attend a meeting. Some were very realistic.

Refreshments of sandwiches, olives, nuts, pie and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Malouf, to Mrs. Jack Burrell, Lee Davis Sr., I. L. Duckworth, J. H. Haire, R. L. Marks, Glenn Polts, Ed Warren, C. R. Thaxton, and guest Mr. Alexander.

The next meeting will be Jan. 28 at the Club House with Mrs. Pearl Storie and Mrs. Glenn Potts serving as hostesses.

News from Post High School

By EDITOR NAN HAIR

Shooting the Breeze

By NAN HAIR

I must be looking old for my young age. While working in the concession stand during the Denver City basketball game, Jan. 16 a player from the D. C. junior varsity asked me what class I taught at PHS. Can you imagine the nerve of that guy.

The use of C. B. radios is a fever which is apparently never going to cool. Phrases and words used while talking on a C. B. are becoming commonplace language around Post and other areas. For some people it is hard to remember the "10-36" when they are at an enjoyable "10-20". And when asking a question one should not be surprised to be answered by "10-4" or "negative." And when looking for a friend you may have "twin 7's" on your "good buddy." Quite often you can make acquaintances with a C. B.'er just passing through your "home-20" and if you are lucky they may catch you on the "flip-flop."

There are even songs on the theme of using a CB radio. Two of these are "Convoy" and "Never Run Front Door for the White Knight." If you can understand CB "lingo" the songs are quite enjoyable. If you don't the songs will only be a mixture of weird words and repetitious numbers.

Half the fun of listening to a CB are the different and far-out "handles" or names. You can catch anything from the "Shady Lady" to the "One-eyed Jack."

One thing is for sure when you are speeding down the highway you better look out for "Smokies," "Bears," or "Holsteins" taking "pictures" and giving out tickets. And if you cannot spot them on the highway you better beware, there may be an "Eye in the sky" or a "Bear in the air."

C. B. radios are not only a lot of fun but are quite useful in businesses and in emergency situations where a person may not have access to a telephone. So when you are "modulating" always remember courtesy pays. Truckers who are traveling always try to communicate on channel 19 and if you are just visiting why not go to another channel and give them a "break."

In closing it's been nice "modulating" with you "good buddy" and we'll give you a "shout shout" on the "flip flop." I'll be keeping my "ears" on. Have a nice week and I will be "10-10" and listening in.

Plans under way for sweetheart contest

The Post chapter of the Future Homemakers of America are making plans for the annual sweetheart contest.

The contest which is to be held Feb. 14 will feature apprehensive beauties representing all the activities and organizations of PHS competing for the title of FHA Sweetheart.

The presidents of the classes are in charge of decorations. The chairman is David McBride. Committee members are Bryan Davis, Joni Hays, Melanie Holly, Isabela Pena, and Karen Taylor.

The vice presidents are responsible for preparing the order of the program and the entertainment. Janeyce McDonald is the chairman. The members are Kent Craig, Edward Price, Kathy Manuel, Genetta Kennedy, Bernie Perez and Linda Steele.

In command of the committee contacting speakers, M. C. and writing thank you notes to participating persons will be secretary, Dawn Fielder. Other members of this committee are Pat Raymundo, Karla Kennedy, Susan Troxell, Kathy Manuel and Steve Holder.

Publicity will be under the jurisdiction of the reporters. The chairman of this committee is Debbie Wyatt. Other committee members are Sandra Bostick, Mary Villa, Mary Ann Sanchez, Melba Guajardo, and Debbie Pearson.

Candidates in the contest will be judged on beauty, talent, and poise. All organizations of PHS are holding meetings to select their nominees. A list of the participants will not be made until January 26 when final preparations will be made.

During the meeting seven students were awarded their chapter farmer degrees. They were Butch Booth, Ramey Holly, Steve Davis, Bud Jones, Virgil Morris, Vickie Gammon and Rodney Gray.

Virgil Morris read a report on the Mesa District banquet which he and several others attended. Donna Josey, chapter sweetheart, competed with several other sweethearts in the district for the title of Mesa District sweetheart.

Cotton prices are up again

Grower prices were $5 to $7.50 per bale higher during the week ending Jan. 16, according to Paul R. Dickson in Charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office.

Farmers sold mixed new crop lots of mostly grades 32, 42 and 33; staples 29 through 31, mikes 3.3 through 4.9 for 49.00 to 50.50 cents per pound.

Mixed lots of mostly grades 42, 52, 33 and 43; staples 28 through 31, mikes 2.9 and lower brought 41.55 to 42.50 cents.

The USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reported trading was active and growers offered new crop cotton in moderate volume, Dickson said.

Prices paid growers for cottonseed ranged from 80-100 dollars per ton, mostly 80-90 dollars.

Grades 42, 52 and 43 were the predominate grades classed this week. Grade 42 accounted for 32 per cent, grade 52, 18 per cent and 42 was 12 per cent.

Bark reductions were assigned to 38 per cent of the samples classed.

An early warning system against influenza has been put into operation in Texas through the Texas Department of Health Resources.

Dr. M. S. Dickerson, chief of the TDHR's Bureau of Communicable Disease Services, says outbreaks of influenza can have traumatic effects on a community, cutting sharply into school attendance and the ranks of the working public.

"The severe and disruptive effects of epidemic influenza on a community can be mitigated, however, by the early detection and early diagnosis of an outbreak," said Dr. Dickerson. "This is accomplished by a thorough surveillance system that is presently operational throughout the state of Texas."

In the past, the Department of Health Resources has received weekly reports of notifiable communicable diseases in the state from reports of private physicians. These "flu-like" illness reports, which are still continuing, are published by the Department in its "Texas Morbidity This Week." But in addition to these physician reports, influenza surveillance is placing another finger on the pulse of the disease.

Influenza is being monitored through 19 school systems, 12 industries and 13 large hospitals. These monitoring units are distributed in such a way as to detect illness in any part of the state at any time. Weekly data is regularly communicated to the Bureau of Communicable Disease Services.

Selection of schools, hospitals and industry for reports wasn't just by chance. When influenza enters a community, one of the first changes noted, says Dr. Dickerson, is an appreciable rise in the number of patients seen in outpatient clinics and emergency rooms. "Daily and weekly changes will be watched," he said.

"Although influenza affects all age groups," said Dr. Dickerson, "age-specific prevalence rates are highest among primary and secondary school children at the onset of an epidemic. Thus, this population serves as a good index for influenza activity."

School and industrial absenteeism and hospital emergency room visits give a quantitative estimate of current influenza activity.

The Department of Health Resources utilizes its Public Health Region operation and big city health departments in channeling information into Austin. Through them, local doctors and hospitals have been alerted to look for influenza symptoms in patients.

Just appearing to have influenza isn't good enough for the department. Laboratory confirmation is necessary for influenza, as well as the particular strain. Proper testing equipment for throat swabs and blood serum specimens have been provided to reporting points around the state. The specimens taken may be tested in regional laboratories or the main laboratory in Austin.

"If we can get an early alarm, we can pinpoint the outbreak and individuals can set up certain safeguards. Those with upper respiratory infections can stay home and not spread the infection. The success of the program is tied in with early detection and prevention," said Dr. Dickerson.

As the new year got underway, Dr. Dickerson said there had been no outbreaks of influenza in the state.

"But," he added, "it may be coming." Influenza of the A-Victoria strain has been isolated in Hawaii. Since there is heavy travel between Hawaii and the mainland, it can be expected to be brought in, Dr. Dickerson said.

Health departments in Austin, Fort Worth, Houston, Dallas, Waco and Amarillo, together with Public Health Region headquarters in Harlingen, Abilene, El Paso, Lubbock and Tyler, are primary reporting points. They receive reports from other towns and from hospitals near them. These hospitals are: Hendricks in Abilene; Shannon in San Angelo; Medical Center in Tyler; Memorial in Corpus Christi; Mercy in Laredo; R. E. Thomason in El Paso; Providence and Hillcrest in Waco; Methodist in Lubbock; Northwest Texas in Amarillo; Parkland in Dallas; Brackenridge in Austin; John Peter Smith in Fort Worth; and Ben Taub in Houston.

Dr. Dickerson said this reporting system can be used also for reporting other communicable diseases and is another way in which the Department of Health Resources is working for a healthier Texas.

Resuscitation course offered here Jan. 29

In a conversation with Zoe Kirkpatrick, president of the Garza County chapter of the American Heart Association, it was learned that about one million persons in the United States experience acute myocardial infarction each year. More than 650,000 die annually of ischemic heart disease. About 350,000 of these deaths occur outside the hospital, usually within two hours after the onset of symptoms. Thus, sudden death from heart attack is the most important medical emergency today.

It seems probable that a large number of these deaths can be prevented by prompt, appropriate treatment. In addition, many people who die as a result of such accidental causes as drowning, electrocution, suffocation, drug intoxication, or automobile accidents could be saved by the prompt and proper application of cardiopulmonary resuscitation and emergency cardiac care.

Basic life support CPR training can now be extended to the general public, starting with specific need groups such as policemen, firemen, lifeguards, rescue workers, high-risk industry workers, and families of cardiac patients, and then expanded to include training of school children and other segments of the general public.

In Post, such groups as the firemen, local nurses and nurses aides, several young people of a 4-H group, and high school students in a health class have been instructed in the techniques of CPR. Now this three hour course is being offered to the general public. Husbands with their wives are urged to come, along with those who have cardiac patients living in the home.

"It was through the efforts of local donations that we were able to buy the mannequin, 'Resusci-Anne' last year. Now that we have this amazing machine and can offer the course in CPR, we hope many will take advantage of it," said

Mrs. Kirkpatrick. This cardio-pulmonary resuscitation training will be offered Thursday, Jan. 29 from 7 to 10 p. m. at the bank community room free of charge. The instructors will be Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Kathy Rankin.

TEXAS TALK
By FRED MYERS

Cotton competition continues to develop new markets as evidenced by two recent happenings. One has been the successful development of flame-retardant cottons as highlighted last year when New York City Fire Commissioner John T. O'Hagan announced that all New York firemen will start wearing "Fire Stop" uniforms (100% cotton). That decision came after nearly a year of testing the cotton material against synthetic products. Second development involves current research at the Southern Regional Research Lab in New Orleans where scientists have produced glass from cotton. Cotton glass has a good chance for extensive use since it has the unique ability to bond together other glasses of different composition. Although product possibilities include nearly every thing made from glass, most immediate use will probably be scientific glassware.

Post varsity teams invade Slaton court Friday night

Second half of district play opens Tuesday night

The two Post varsity teams and the boys JV team will journey to Slaton Friday night to conclude "Slaton week" for local cage teams with Post coaches involved hoping the three games turn out better than those on Monday and Tuesday nights.

Coach John Alexander's Lopes, with a 4-1 mark in district play, need a victory over the Tigers to stay within "tying distance" of the unbeaten Tahoka Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs scored a 61 to 50 victory over Cooper Tuesday night to up their league mark to 5-0. They still must meet the Roosevelt Eagles Friday night.

The Eagles, who whipped Frenship 58 to 42 Tuesday night, are tied with the Lopes with 4-1 marks. The Roosevelt loss was at the hands of the Lopes, 49 to 44, at Roosevelt on Jan. 6.

Slaton's Tigers dropped a road game at Denver City Tuesday night, 37 to 49.

Slaton in a rebuilding year, has yet to win a district game but have "stayed in" all their first half starts to date.

"They'll be ready for us," Coach Alexander predicted. "They always are."

Second half district play will open Tuesday night when the Lopes and Does invade Cooper with the girls JV teams meeting in the preliminary.

The Lopes will settle their chances to grab the second half bunting early meeting Roosevelt and Tahoka here in consecutive games Friday night, Jan. 30, and Tuesday night, Feb. 3 respectively.

With both the two contenders to be played on their home floor, the Lopes figure to be in a better position for a second half title run than in the first half when they lost to Tahoka on the Bulldogs home floor after big Mike Waldrip got into early foul trouble and had to sit out two periods with four fouls.

The Post Does will be measuring Slaton's district leading Tigers at Slaton Friday night. The two schools are real sports rivals.

With two losses on their record in first half district play, Coach John Morrow's club will be getting ready for a fresh second half start with the home court advantage coming up, at least against Slaton.

The Post boys and girls junior varsity teams will both be entered in the three-day New Deal JV tournament this weekend.

The Post girls will open play at 11 a. m. today in the eight team affair against Frenship with the boys taking the floor at 12:30 p. m. today against the Frenship boys in first rounders.

The schedule leaves the JV boys with two games for Friday — a tournament game at New Deal and the preliminary at Slaton.

"If we are scheduled to play both places at the same time we will split our squad," Coach Danny Chisum told The Dispatch Wednesday. "If not we'll just play both of them Friday."

Freshmen bow at Slaton

Coach Lane Tannehill's freshman cage team suffered defeat against Slaton Monday night there 50-32.

Slaton led all the way with the score 12 to 9 at the end of the first quarter, and 22-18 at the half.

Cliff Kirkpatrick scored 13 points for the night, with Bryan Compton getting 11 and Tim Morris three.

The freshman will be in a tournament Thursday at Tahoka meeting Christ the King at 5:30. If they win they will play at 4 p. m. Friday, but if they should lose they will play at 2:30 p. m. Friday.

The next district outing will be against Frenship, here next Monday night.

7th girls break 'Slaton spell'

Coach Chili Black's seventh grade girls broke the Slaton cage spell here Monday night, rolling to a 31 to 20 victory over Slaton.

The game was no runaway, however. It was just a good fourth period for Post which made it look that way.

Post went into the final quarter with a 19 to 18 lead and popped in a dozen points while Slaton managed only two.

Slaton took an 8 to 4 first period lead, but Post knotted it at 12 all at the half.

Marinette Hays and Stella Harper tied for top honors for Post with 11 points each. Holly Giddens added seven and Amy Thueti got the other two.

Frosh girls in loss to Slaton

Slaton's freshman girls routed Coach John Morrow's Post frosh girls, 58 to 28 here Monday evening.

The visitors took a 12 to 4 first period lead and extended it to 31 to 9 by halftime. It was 44 to 19 at the end of the third.

Dana Bird scored 13 points for Post and Karla Duren tallied seven.

Post 7th grade girls lose Idalou final

Coach Chili Black's Post seventh grade girls bowed in the finals of the Idalou tournament Saturday to the host Idalou club, 26 to 23.

The locals had defeated Crosbyton last Thursday in the first round 26 to 13, and then squeezed past Abernathy, 24 to 23, in the semi-finals Friday.

Holly Giddens led the Post scorers in each of the three games, scoring 10 against Crosbyton, 12 against Abernathy and 11 against Idalou.

A cold third period cost Post the championship.

Rallying from a 4 to 5 deficit, the locals took an 11 to 8 lead in the second period. But the shots wouldn't fall in the third which saw Post score only two points while Idalou was adding nine to take a 17 to 13 lead.

It was a standoff in the last quarter with Post outscoring Idalou, 10 to 9.

7th grade boys lose in finals

Coach Don Black's seventh grade boys team lost to Christ the King, 26 to 24, in the consolation finals of the Idalou tournament Saturday.

J. Taylor led the locals in scoring with 11 points.

Post dropped its first round game to Crosbyton 26 to 18 but then came back to advance into the consolation finals with a 40 to 17 win over Abernathy.

Kirkpatrick led Post in scoring in the Abernathy victory with 10 points as 10 Post players broke into the scoring column in the easy triumph.

No district players named

District 5AA drew a blank when the state AA all-state football team was announced over the weekend.

Not a single player from the district was named on either first or second team offense or defense.

Floydada and Olton placed three each from this West Texas area, Tulia two and Littlefield one.

Receiver Donzell Minner, guard Gary Nixon and running back Kelvin Ratliff represented Floydada which bowed to the Post Antelopes on the Whirlwinds home field earlier in the season.

State finalist Childress placed four.

State AA champ LaGrange led all teams with four players on the first team.

Eighth grade boys bow at Slaton

Post's eighth grade boys team dropped a pair of games to Slaton by big scores within a four-day span.

Slaton romped to a 31 to 15 triumph here last Thursday with the teams playing a return game at Slaton Monday and Slaton again winning 34 to 22.

Slaton whips eighth girls

Slaton's eighth grade girls routed Coach Chili Black's Post eighth graders here Monday evening, 49 to 26.

The visitors broke it open in the third period by outscoring Post 18 to 6 after holding a 22 to 12 halftime lead.

Carolyn Pringler led Post scorers with 16 points, followed by Donna Baumann with 10 for the remainder of the local points.

7th grade boys in loss to Slaton

The Post seventh grade boys dropped a 29 to 22 district game at Slaton Monday evening with Drew Kirkpatrick leading local scorers with nine points. J. Taylor had seven.

Slaton led all the way.

Freddie Barner named on merit list

Freddie Kay Barner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Williams of Post, was named to the Merit list for the last semester of school at Western Texas College in Snyder.

The Merit list is made up of students who have a grade point average of 3.5 or more while enrolled for at least eight but fewer than 12 hours of work.

JV boys split pair at Slaton

Coach Danny Chisum's Post junior varsity boys were eliminated in the second round of the 10-team boys division of the Slaton JV tourney last Thursday.

The locals defeated Floydada 46 to 37 in the first round Wednesday with Dan Sawyers showing the way with 16 points.

But it was a different story against the Class AAA Andrews JVs on Thursday, 72 to 39.

Sawyers led the local attack in this one with 10 points.

Kim Hester named to TWU net team

Kim Hester a freshman student at Texas Woman's University in Denton, was notified Tuesday that she was chosen as a member of the varsity tennis team. Try-outs were held Monday.

Kim is a 1975 graduate of Post High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hester of Post. While in Post High School, Kim was a member of the local tennis team.

It's not that lots of money makes everything good... It's that too little money makes everything bad.

Lopes roll but Does lose in overtime

Coach John Morrow's Post Does dropped a 59 to 58 non-district decision to the Spur girls at Spur Tuesday night while Coach John Alexander's Antelopes and the Post boys junior varsity rolled to easy victories.

All ten players broke into the scoring column for the Lopes as they outscored Spur's Bulldogs in every quarter and really broke it open with a 23 to 6 second quarter for a 64 to 35 victory.

Mike Waldrip hit eight fielders and two frees for 18 points to lead the locals with Jimmy Dorland the only other Lope in double figures with five fielders for 10.

Other Lope scorers include Bryan Davis 6, Mike Shepherd 6, Kyle Duren 2, Ed Price 6, Rodney Teaff 2, Randall Wyatt 5, Shorty Hester 4 and Dan Sawyers 5.

The Does jumped off to a 13 to 6 first period lead, watched it melt away to a single point, 24 to 23, at halftime, pushed it back to five points, 42 to 37, by the end of the third and then couldn't hold off Spur who tied the game at 54 all at the end of regulation play.

Joni Hays, Post's high scoring forward, fouled out after tallying 24 points in the first three periods and wasn't around to help keep the Doe offense functioning at the close.

High scorer for Post was Karen Williams with 29 points on 14 fielders and a free. Genetta Kennedy tallied the other five Post points.

Essie Kelley of Spur was the gunner in the host team's attack with 10 fielders and 17 out of 23 free throws for 37 points.

Coach Danny Chisum's Post junior varsity scored a 47 to 34 win in the preliminary, breaking a rather close game open with a 16 point spurt in the third period to add 10 more points to their six-point halftime margin.

Randy Baker led the Post shooters with 18 points, followed by Brad Shepherd with 12, Evans Heaton with seven, Brad Davis and Jim Hays with four each, and Steve Shedd with two.

Coach John Alexander's Post Antelopes stayed a game back of unbeaten Tahoka in the first half District 4AA race which ends this weekend with a 60 to 51 victory over the Denver City Mustangs here Friday night.

It brought the Lopes' district record to 4-1 with only Slaton left to play.

Lopes lead all way in beating Mustangs, 60-51

Coach John Alexander's Post Antelopes stayed a game back of unbeaten Tahoka in the first half District 4AA race which ends this weekend with a 60 to 51 victory over the Denver City Mustangs here Friday night.

It brought the Lopes' district record to 4-1 with only Slaton left to play.

Kyle Duren led a balanced Post attack for the first time this year, hitting for nine fielders and 18 points off a fast break and from just about any position on the court.

Mike Shepherd and Jimmy Dorland popped in a dozen points apiece and Mike Waldrip had 11 points.

Bryan Davis was held to only four points by Denver City with Shorty Hester getting the other three points.

The Lopes raced away to a 20 to 10 first period lead and were never headed, taking a 31 to 20 intermission lead into the dressing room and entering the final stanza with a 46 to 30

Post JVs win in overtime

For pure excitement, preliminary was "the best Friday night here in the state" twin bill with Denver City.

Coach Danny Chisum's Post junior varsity squeezed out a 50 to 49 victory over the Mustangs in overtime, with the locals getting four of their six points on free throws.

The charity points came the right time because regulation play the locals managed only 12 out of 30 hit four of six in the overtime with Brad Shepherd getting three of four.

It was a nip and tuck game throughout with Post leading the quarter 16 to 13 and at half 29 to 28, but falling back 41 to 38 going into the third period.

Shepherd led Post with 13 points with Ronnie Brantley adding 13 and Randy Baker

JV girls win consolation

The Post JV girls grabbed consolation honors in Slaton Saturday by defeating Tahoka 40 to 35 with Nancy Giddens leading the offense with 10 points in a game which saw locals in the scoring column.

The local team dropped a 38 decision to Floydada in the first round, but bounced back to defeat Roosevelt in the consolation bracket 42 to 37 to advance to the finals.

Nancy Clary led the locals these two games too with 11 points against Floydada and 10 against Roosevelt.

Donna Ammons was second high against Roosevelt with 10 and tied with Cindy Kirkpatrick for runnerup scoring both against Floydada with eight each.

Farm Topics

SYD CONNER
Garza Extension Agent

COLLEGE STATION — Farmers are finding it increasingly difficult to be heard in Washington.

Producers interests in agricultural policy are taking a secondary position to interests of foreign policy, consumerism and labor. Secretary Butz is no longer calling the shots on farm policy. Unless farmers are able to take charge, farm programs may actually be a noose around the producer's neck.

That's the contention of Dr. Donald Knutson, economist in marketing and policy for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who spoke at an Extension Service Press Day banquet at Texas A&M University Jan. 13.

Producers must consolidate involves freely exporting to make foreign governments more dependent on the United States as a source of supply. The theory behind this is that a foreign power will not bite the hand that feeds it.

"On the other hand, the stick policy makes access to U. S. grain dependent on support of U. S. policy by the recipient government. If food is used as a stick, the producer is in danger of being denied free market access from time to time."

While food diplomacy receives a lot of attention, organized labor and consumerism stand as even greater threats to producer access to foreign markets, argued Knutson. In both 1973 and 1975 the impact of exports on domestic food prices was the primary reason for export controls. This reflects the fact that President Ford listened to George Meany more than to producers or Secretary Butz.

"Target prices, food reserves and the future of commodity programs stand as the major domestic farm policy issues," noted Knutson. "Farmers feel that in return for full production there must be reasonable assurance that prices will not fall below production costs. They are opposed to reserves because they lower prices. Commodity programs such as those on rice and peanuts appear to be on the way out."

"For agricultural producers to get a fair shake in future farm policies, they must make their voices heard — as one strong body rather than as individual commodity groups. Farmers need a strong right hand in Washington or else they will have to continue catering to the whims of those who desire to use agriculture as a pawn," emphasized the economist.

George Washington never threw a silver dollar across the Potomac River. If anything, he threw a shilling across the Rappahannock River.

 petitions he received. To be legal, such petitions must contain at least 20 qualified voters out of each school district.

The Garza County Judge told The Dispatch the only way a special election to be called earlier than April 3 would be to successfully petition the governor to declare an emergency.

The Southland school district has been split for several years over the proposition of building a new school or giving up the community school and consolidating with the Post, Wilson or Slaton school districts.

Two consolidation votes have been rejected in recent years, one with the Post district. A big bond issue was voted by a narrow margin, but sale of the bonds has been blocked for months by court action taken by those opposed to a new school because of the cost.

The school district's taxes have been greatly increased. Recently, Southland school tax collector Max Chaffin resigned.

Steadily rising construction costs during the period of court delay has boosted the estimated cost of the planned building well above the amount of the bonds voted.

Judge Dalby told The Dispatch Tuesday he would be attending a SPAG meeting Wednesday in Lubbock with the other county judges involved and it is possible they could discuss the situation and possibly agree upon the date for the election, as it must be held on the same day in the three school districts.

If the new consolidation move is defeated, another consolidation vote for the school district can't be held for at least a year.

 was on Huntley's application for the certificate of need, application for which he filed in November.

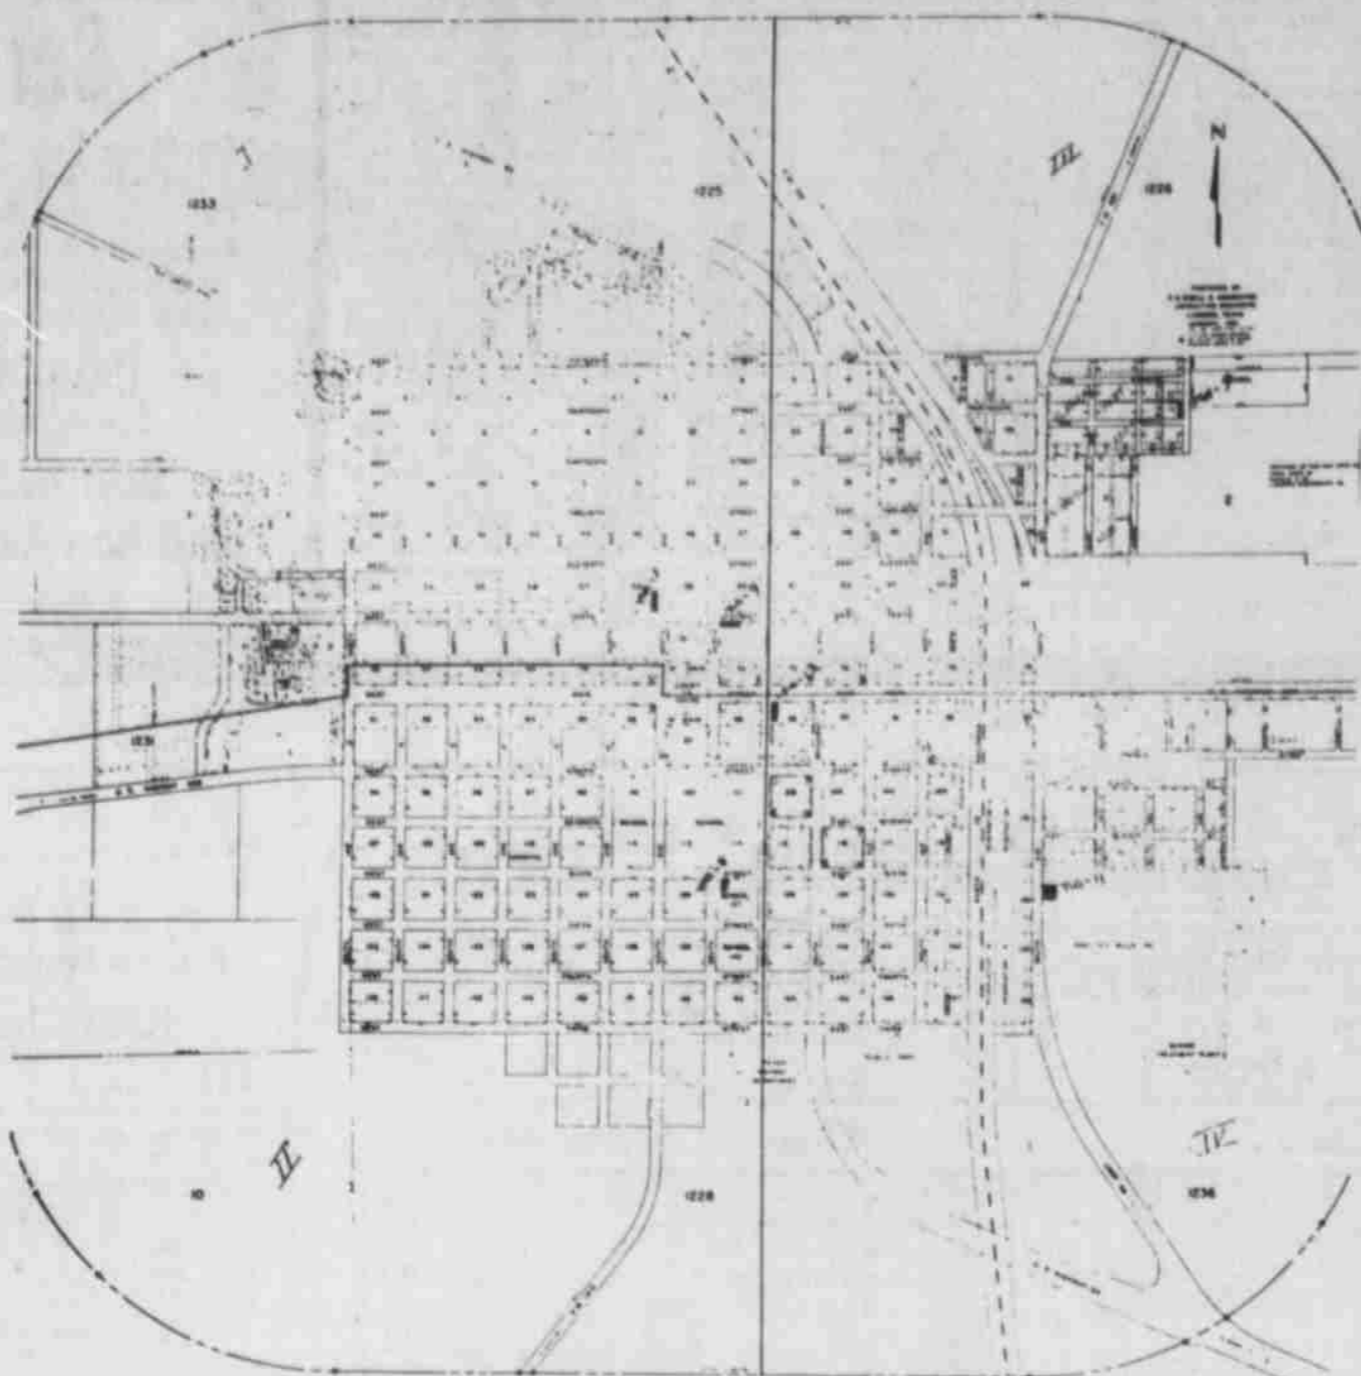

The hearing was necessary because Dr. Howard's group contested Huntley's application. When the Monday hearing was held, however, representatives of the Dr. Howard's group did not show up at the hearing and according to the hearing officer did not notify the commission in advance the group would not be represented.

Donald Windham, Garza Memorial Hospital administrator, testified at both hearings and Mayor Giles C. McCrary represented the City of Post at the Monday hearing to emphasize this community's need for a new nursing home. Windham also testified as to the need for such a facility.

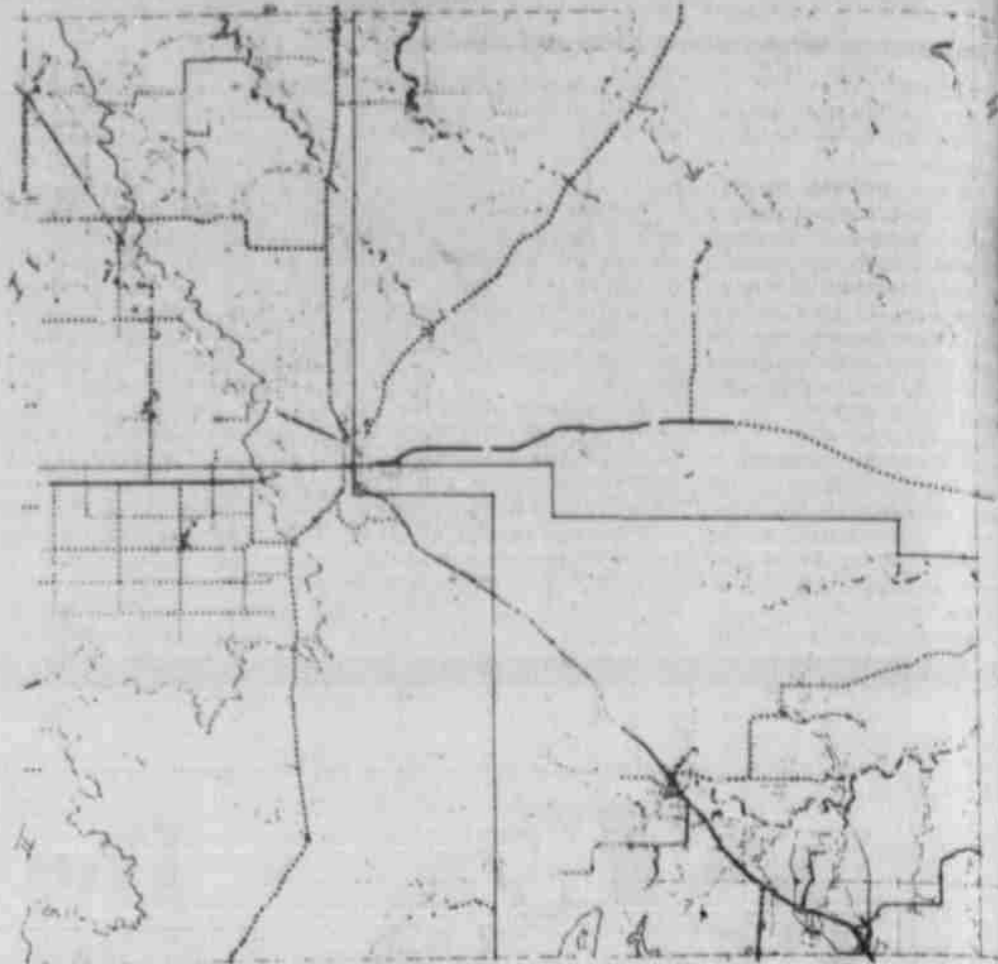

Huntley's plans call for a building of some 20,000 square feet with 45 rooms and 90 beds, it was brought out at the hearing. He is purchasing the land next to the local hospital from the hospital to build the home if granted the certificate of need by the state commission.

The three-member commission must rule within 90 days of the filing of Huntley's application which would put the final deadline in mid-February although the ruling could come system and the utility's request for the grades was intended to upgrade the tariff system here to the present one.

The city council denied a general phone increase here some time ago on the same grounds.

The proposed rate decreases would have removed the 25 cents monthly extra charge for the 917 color telephones in use in Post and would have removed the $1.75 monthly charge for extension billing key for 56 phone systems here.

General Telephone was not represented at the meeting as the council earlier had requested that all contacts with the city be made by the utility only through Morton.

In other actions, the council: Approved business building permits for a new $40,000 Allsup's convenience store and authorized Attorney Morton to draw up an intergovernmental agreement for the city and county's considerations for the construction and operation of the city-county community center. a $60,000 Dairy Queen, both to be located on north Broadway. Authorized Mayor McCrary to represent the City of Post at an Austin hearing Tuesday morning for a certificate of need for a new nursing home here.

Approved the county's $5,715-98 bill to the city for its share of joint law enforcement costs for the month of December.

Authorized the special dog catcher to work 20 hours weekly for the next six weeks with a bill for half the costs to be sent to the county. This would bring total cost of the effort to get stray dog packs off city streets and out of the county's rural areas to $1,500.

Authorized up to $4,000 now being spent on new tennis courts in city-county park to be paid for with federal revenue sharing funds.

 way to obtaining a big new nursing home next to the hospital. Once the legal details are cleared in Austin on a certificate of need, actual construction may come in a relatively short time. We hope so.

In the meantime, the search for a third physician for Post goes on. Another prospect, a general practitioner, is reported interested and is due in soon for a look.

 The Education Service Center at Lubbock had originally notified Shiver that Dave Briggs of the Borden County ISD would train bus drivers in Borden County, Post and Southland with the course to be located in Post.

The superintendent then conducted considerable correspondence without success seeking to have Jack Alexander, local principal, be trained to conduct the course here instead of somebody outside the school district.

The local administrator reported to trustees that the cost of civil appeals has overruled the district court and given approval to male teachers wear beards. (The Post district has not had a hair requirement for male teachers.)

The free lunch program also will continue with the "reduced price lunch" being a required addition. Shiver told the board all parents are being notified of the chance in the lunch program by a letter to be taken home by students.

The board approved Supt. Shiver accepting the invitation from the University of Texas to lecture to a Ph. D. candidate class for three hours Feb. 21 on "small school financing." Shiver's expenses will be paid by the university.

After reviewing unsuccessful efforts of Supt. Shiver to have a Post administrator trained to serve as instructor for Post school bus drivers, trustees voted to appeal to the Transportation Division of the Texas Educational Agency, and then to continue the appeal if denied right on up to the Commissioner of Education and even to the legislative committees concerning education and transportation affairs of the Texas legislature.
