

Four of many artists coming to Post for 'OS weekend'

STARTED IT ALL — Tom Ryan of Stamford had the largest role in creating the OS Art Exhibit when he agreed to serve as art exhibit chairman. A top cowboy artist himself, Tom extends the traditions to exhibit, insuring a top quality show.

COMING FOR FIRST TIME — Nicholas Firlfires of Santa Barbara, Calif., shown above has exhibited his work in several OS Art Exhibits, but this will be the first time he has been able to come to Post from his West Coast home for the "OS Weekend."

WORKING WITH MODEL — An Indian girl models for Juan Dell, Santa Fe sculptress, as Juan works in her studio with wax preparatory to having a bronze cast. Juan, who formerly lived in Lubbock is a regular fixture at the OS Art Exhibits.

WESTERN WOOD-CARVER — Most unique of all the artists at the OS Art Exhibit is John Kiffelson of Fort Collins, Colo., who "sculptures" in wood and paints them. He will have a wood carving here next weekend 55 inches long and 20 inches high, which carries a $16,000 price tag.

WORLD STEER ROPING CHAMP COMING — Charles Good of Elida, N. M., who won the world champion steer roping title for 1976 at the National Finals Roping in Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 12, will be one of the 35 top ropers competing here Oct. 3 for the OS Ranch Steer Roping crown and the $10,000 cash goes with it. This picture was made at the OS Roping in 1972. Good has a regular participant.

'76 world champion steer roper to be after record OS jackpot

Charles Good wins Finals

The new 1976 world champion steer roper, Charles Good of Elida, N. M., will be in the field of 35 who will be roping for the world record $45,000 cash jackpot in the OS Ranch Steer Roping here Sunday afternoon, Oct. 3.

Jim Prather didn't have to leave a slot open for the new champion. Good has been an OS Ranch Steer Roping "regular" for years.

Good won the world crown Sept. 12 at the National Finals Steer Roping in Laramie, Wyo. In previous years, the world title went to the steer roper who finished the season with the most prize money in the Association of Professional Rodeo Cowboys sanctioned events.

But it was changed this year to the roper who came out of the National Finals with the most prize money. Good earned the title by winning $3,063 in the three-day contest, including first place in the 10-steer average.

The title actually was decided between Good and Roy Thompson of Tulsa, 1975 world champion who finished runner-up this year, when Good won second in the 10th go-around with a run clocked in 14.32 seconds.

His 182.24 seconds for the ten-steer average was nearly a full minute faster than Sonny Worrell of Altoona, Kan., who was second in the average. Thompson was third in the average.

IN GET-TOGETHER WITH POST LEADERS YESTERDAY

Burlington official explains

Burlington's problems and successes were discussed with Post community leaders in the new community center Wednesday morning at a coffee-get-together session by N. E. Garvin of Greensboro, N. C., division manager of the 10-plant Burlington Domestics of which Post is one.

Garvin was introduced by Ed Bruton, Post manager.

No major announcements were made. Garvin had not met Post community leaders before so the session was arranged.

Garvin said profit-wise the current fiscal year will be "a really good one" for Burlington.

probably the second best in the young, progressive company's history.

He explained that the Domestic Division of Burlington which manufactures all types of items for the home, is virtually a $100 million corporation by itself.

Garvin said 65 percent of all material now used by Burlington in sheeting has color printed on it. He said the No. 1 sheet pattern in the country is a scene of a sunrise over the desert produced by Burlington.

He described how free lance artists now make their living selling patterns for sheets although Burlington has its own design department too. He said the division prints 1,500,000 yards of cloth each week, most of it at a Virginia plant which prints 12 colors on white sheeting at a rate of 90 yards a minute.

Burlington Domestics has seven regional sales offices in this country with the Dallas office being the one for this Southwest area. Post is one of (See Burlington, Page 12)

100 drawn on jury panel for record damage suit

The largest law suit ever filed in Garza County — $1,200,000 worth — is set for trial at 1:30 p. m. Monday in district court here before Judge George Hansard.

It heads the civil court docket and is expected to last most, if not all week unless it is settled out of court within the next few days.

The suit is brought by Gene Wiggins, guardian of the estate and person of Raymond Wiggins against the Santa Fe Railroad as a result of a flaming midnight pickup truck-train crash at Post's Main street crossing May 8, 1974.

A jury panel of 100 citizens have been drawn for the case.

Larry Joe Carter, 19-year-old Crosbyton football player who was the driver of the pickup, was instantly killed in the crash.

According to the petition filed in the suit, Wiggins allegedly suffered such severe injuries as to render him incompetent both physically and mentally for the rest of his life.

Two Lubbock law firms oppose each other in the case.

Bob Huff and Associates represent Wiggins and the firm of McWhorter, Cobb and Johnson represent the railroad.

The "big sweat" over rain for the OS Weekend just won't happen this year.

Now Post has a community center, the OS Ranch Art Exhibit would be moved into the center should the six-mile ranch road off US-84 to the OS Ranch house become impassible due to prolonged rain.

The steer roping would be postponed.

Of course, any such divided OS "weekend" wouldn't be nearly the financial success a pretty weather one would, but it wouldn't be a total disaster either.

With artists and art buyers coming long distance postponement of the exhibit has always been virtually impossible.

The OS weekend to date has (See Postings, Page 12)

'OS weekend' coming up

Another "OS weekend" is little more than a week away and the way it is shaping up it should be a humdinger.

The benefit for West Texas Boys Ranch is now well established, but that doesn't mean it is resting on its laurels, so to speak.

Jim Prather has turned the steer roping this year into the world's richest ever with a $45,000 jackpot. This will concentrate renewed interest on this western sporting event.

Also added to the program for the first time is a cutting horse contest.

On Saturday it will be another of those dawn to darkness action days with the jackpot team roping getting under way at 7 a. m.

On the art side, the art exhibit in the OS ranchhouse is now recognized among the Cowboy Artists of America as the No. 2 show each year in the nation. (They reserve the No. 1 ranking for their own show which will follow the OS in Phoenix with Senator Barry Goldwater as the master of ceremonies at their annual banquet.)

And then there is all the rest that goes with it to make it such a memorable weekend for Post — the boys from the ranch staying overnight in local homes, the artists and their wives coming for the weekend, the influx of visitors from far and wide for the art and the roping.

Prather will be the first to tell you he didn't create all this by himself, although certainly he is the "top gun." The "OS weekend" is the total contribution of a group of really creative Post folks, who hold one committee meeting each year, and then get busy individually and get their jobs done.

It is a tremendous undertaking by local volunteers.

The rewards for all this effort have been gratifying. Post probably is today better known over a wider area than any town its size in this region simply because of its "weekend" and the thousands who have come to enjoy it.

There is no denying the cultural uplift here either as visiting artists have become good friends with local folks and have visited and sketched and painted in the area, and been locally commissioned to do various works.

And the part we like best is that the boys who come for the weekend from West Texas Boys Ranch are not only guests that Saturday night in local homes but that there are always more homes open to them than there are boys to go around.

So another "OS weekend" is upon us. It should be another great one to enjoy.

Proposed prisoner exchange

Most readers have been hearing from time to time about all the young Americans who are now prisoners in Mexican jails, most of them on drug charges.

To be exact some 372 Americans are in Mexican prisons. There also are 1,100 Mexican nationals in U. S. jails and prisons.

It wasn't so many months ago that one youth's father paid a former Vietnam war vet to "break" his son out of jail. The story really made headlines when the U. S. promptly indicted the war vet for the jail break mission.

A year ago they made a movie about another prisoner who escaped another Mexican prison via helicopter. As we recall, it was another true life tale.

On the front page of the Dallas News Sunday was a big feature story about a Dallas man who says he has lived a two and one-half year nightmare in Mexican prisons, that included torture (with a cattle prod), beatings, extortions and prolonged hunger.

The story was smuggled out of the Mexican prison where he is being held on a drug possession conviction in which he claims all his individual rights were denied and of which he maintains his complete innocence.

Like the other stories this is a fascinating

one. With Texas bordering Mexico, one doesn't have to tell Texans to be careful when they cross the border because "the law" is mighty different south of the border as local folks have experienced for themselves.

With the language barrier and the completely different cultures, both the Mexican and American finds himself "lost" in the other nation's prison system. It is particularly so for young Americans because in the United States the individual's rights are protected and he can maintain contact with the outside world.

So many young Americans in Mexican prisons have become a real problem for the continued good relations of the United States and Mexico.

The president of Mexico recently proposed to repatriate the 580 Americans in Mexican jails for the 1,100 Mexicans in U. S. jails. Negotiations between the two countries are now being held although some feel the "prison exchange" will never happen.

Well, what if it did happen? What do we do with the 580 American prisoners? Do we put them up in American jails instead? Do we free them with a legal slap on the wrist? Do we spend millions of dollars in a hopeless attempt to legally review each case?

Registration deadline near

Deadline for registration for the upcoming presidential election here in Garza County and throughout Texas is Oct. 1.

On the front page of today's Dispatch is a voter registration form which may be clipped, filled out and mailed or taken to County Tax Assessor-Collector T. H. Tipton in the courthouse.

Texas needs a better voting record. In 1960, only 41.2 percent of voting-age Texans went to the polls. In 1966, that figure fell to 20.8 percent and in 1972, 45.3 percent voted. In all national elections, Texas has been below the national average in voter participation.

Only by showing enough interest and responsibility to take a voting role in citizenship can America be truly a responsive democracy. And you can't vote, if you're not registered.

Contract for school signed

Speed Fab-Crete Corporation of Fort Worth signed a contract Friday with the Southland Independent School District to build the new Southland School for $442,000.

The contract has been under negotiation since bids were opened and Speed Fab-Crete selected as the low bidder with several alternatives decided upon.

Ground is expected to be broken on the new school within five weeks, according to Southland Supt. Thomas V. Alvis.

The contract calls for completion of the pre-cast concrete-walled building within 140 working days which means it should be ready for school use with the beginning of the 1977-78 fall term.

LUBBOCK — The 1976 annual meeting of Plains Ginners Association will be held on Saturday, Sept. 25 at the Lubbock Country Club in Lubbock from 9:30 a. m. to 2:00 p. m. Over 300 High Plains ginners and allied industry people are expected to attend.

The meeting will feature addresses by Texas' 19th district congressman George Mahon; Donald A. Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers Inc., Lubbock; Tony Price, executive vice president of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, Dallas, and Pete Brown, southwest area supervisor of the National Cotton Council, headquartered in Memphis, Tenn.

Bill McCasland of Lubbock, President, will give the annual report to the membership.

Congressman Mahon, chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee in Washington, has served the people of the High Plains area in Congress since January, 1935. "Mr. Mahon for 42 years has been a moving force behind agricultural progress on the High Plains," said McCasland, "and we are both pleased and honored to have him for our program."

The ginners association will honor the Congressman with its first "exceptional Service Award." No other individual has been so honored since the organization's inception in 1923, McCasland notes.

Johnson will review what PCG is doing and plans to do toward ensuring the future of the cotton industry on the High Plains, stressing the need for "total involvement and a united effort if the industry is to control its own destiny."

Price, whose statewide organization has kept ginner interests in the forefront as government regulations on air pollution and safety have been promulgated, will outline the latest developments and suggest practical answers to some of the problems that arise from air pollution control, Occupational Safety and Health Administration rulings, and other government regulatory activities affecting ginners.

The National Cotton Council is planning an intensive educational campaign in connection with a producer referendum scheduled in December of this year and Brown's remarks are expected to center on information that will be used in that campaign. Cotton producers will vote in the referendum on whether to increase the $1 per bale they now contribute to Cotton Incorporated for that organization's research and market development activities.

Preceding the business meeting on Saturday will be the association's annual golf tournament, with players teeing off at the Lubbock Country Club from 9:30 a. m. to 11:00 a. m. Friday.

Community action group hears volunteer request

The Garza County Community Action board of directors met Tuesday night at the Lorenzo Alexander Community Center and heard a request for volunteers to help administer the swine flu vaccination.
 A training session for the volunteers was scheduled for two hours this morning in the community center.
 Paula Valdez reported to directors she no longer is in charge of the alcoholism program in this area but is working in the family planning program since Liz Menchaca resigned from that position.
 Luis Perez of Levelland, director of neighborhood centers, told directors funds for the alcoholism program have been cut drastically but Garza County would be served by a worker from another county.
 Mrs. Bessie Strawn, school nurse, was highly complimentary of the Well Baby Clinic in getting a group of children ready with shots to go to school for the first time. She also discussed school health problems with directors so that information could be passed on to parents.
 Center Director Sue Shyne reported that all Green Thumb operations, including acceptance calls for the mini-bus, have been moved to the community center lightening her work load somewhat.
 Mrs. Joan Smith made short talk concerning plans for the Post special school for the remainder of 1976-77. She said the school would continue at present location this year and then be taken over by the Post school district at the beginning of the 1977-78 fall term. She asked for information on a child who could be helped at the school.
 Jack Alexander, chairman of the directors, presided over the meeting.
 The Veterans' Administration will spend more than $4 billion on health care for veterans this year.

Focus on Home Economics

By PAULA CAWTHON
County Extension Agent

Praise or blame — which is easier to express? Studies indicate that couples more often show disapproval of each other, rather than exposing their more positive feelings. And this is surprising since we all need, want and benefit from signs of appreciation and affection from those we love.

Why is it so difficult to express pleasure, appreciation or gratitude to our spouses for the many thoughtful things they do to make life more meaningful to us? One reason may be that we feel such declarations of love and affection leave us more vulnerable, or are a sign of weakness. Sometimes we are guilty of taking one another for granted and forget how much others have enriched our lives.

Marriages are strengthened when husbands and wives realize the importance of sincere recognition of other's accomplishments. Couples also can indicate their love and appreciation for their partners by the way they treat one another — both in public and in private. A relationship based on mutual love and respect, provides feelings of self-confidence and support.

Husbands and wives acknowledge the worth of their partners when they live by justice and fair play. This means they try to understand and respect one another's point of view, even if they disagree. A relation based on justice and fair play is one where responsibilities and satisfactions are shared.

Another way couples can show their love and appreciation for one another is to respect the need for privacy.

When you can understand that your partners need to be alone is not a withdrawal of his love, then the situation does not seem so threatening to you personally. In fact, the time one spends alone with his thoughts often leads to greater appreciation of loved ones.

When was the last time you showed your love and appreciation for your husband or wife? Showing affection is not always easy, but the repercussions of pleasure, feelings of self-worth and pride make it one of the most important things you can do for your marriage partner today.

WDA holds convention Texas A&M campus

The Texas Home Demonstration Association is celebrating 50 years of meeting women's economics needs in the state convention held on the Texas A&M University campus, September 17-19.

Four women from Garza County attended. They were Davis, Nona Lusk, Thelma and Paula Cawthon.

Davis was honored as a year member at the convention. Other 50 year members from across Texas were honored.

Some demonstration clubs under the direction of the Agricultural Extension Service.

Home demonstration clubs have the largest membership of any other woman's club in the world.

What do these women have in common that interests young and old, rural and urban, and highly educated to average educational level women all over the world?

The Homemaker Creed gives an insight. "We believe in the present and its opportunities, in the future and its promises — improving, enlarging and endeavoring the greatest institution in the world — the Home."

Over 29,000 women belong to the Texas Home Demonstration Clubs and Extension Home Economics Study Groups. They are interested in their home, their family, their community and their country — also in self-growth. Each home demonstration club meeting offers its members an opportunity to receive an educational program that is planned around the family, home, community or county need request.

Education is an important part of the organization, but there are many other opportunities offered besides education and the immeasurable social aspect. It is also hard to measure self-growth. Leadership growth and self-confidence often happen without realizing when or where it was happening.

Because of the desire to satisfy the needs and the interests of all members, home demonstration clubs and family living committees in each county sponsor many varied programs, where all women have an opportunity to enjoy and improve themselves.

Home Demonstration Clubs and EHE Study Groups have open membership. Anyone interested in joining an active club or organizing a new club of eight to ten persons should contact the county extension agent, Paula Cawthon, who will see that individual interests are met.

Good Antelope hunting is forecast for Oct. 2-5

LUBBOCK — Range conditions are improving across the Texas South Plains and Panhandle with 1410 antelope permits being issued to Texas landowners by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The season has been set in the Panhandle for Oct. 2-5 and in the Permian Basin-Transpecos for Oct. 2-10. One buck antelope by permit is the daily and season limit and hunting prospects have been listed good in all three regulatory districts. "There are still some dry areas where the grasses and forbs are not abundant," said Jack Parsons, regional wildlife supervisor.

"The late rains have improved the prospects for a good season and our aerial surveys have indicated about the same number of animals as last year," Parsons continued.

The count last year in the Panhandle totaled 1602 with 1583 counted this summer by P&WD field personnel and these landowners have received a total of 266 permits.

Borden and Garza counties show an increase of eight animals from the 1975 count with 295 antelope permits being issued in the Permian Basin. The largest number of permits issued is in the Transpecos district where 849 were sent to property owners.

Hunters must obtain this permit from the landowners before the animal is bagged.

The permit must then be attached to the antelope immediately upon possession and remain attached until the carcass has been processed.

The recommended procedure is to fasten the permit to horns or forelegs with string or wire. Make sure the permit is not lost or stolen while in transit.

The largest number of complaints from landowners and the P&WD involve hunters who herd-shoot. After the first shot, most antelope herds become wary and shots become longer and longer. Many times the only target is a nice buck antelope moving across the prairie at 60 mph.

Hunters who shoot at these animals in herds are increasing their chances of wounding or killing does which are illegal.

Several complaints have been received concerning hunters who herd antelope with a vehicle which is also illegal.

A flat-shooting rifle and a careful stalk on foot by a sportsman provides the ultimate test of the true antelope hunter and whether he succeeds or not will depend upon his hunting-shooting ability and a little luck.

Wilson blanks Whiteface 34-0

WILSON — Friday, September 17, the Mustangs from Wilson took a trip to Whiteface and treated their hosts badly, rolling to their third win of the season 34-0.

Wes Wilke was high scorer for the evening, beginning his accumulation of points with a 13 yard touchdown run at 2:23 left in the first quarter. In the second quarter he charged for his second touchdown from the seven-yard-line. And Senior Wilke made his third trip to paydirt at the end of the third quarter. Junior Mike Ramirez scored with a two-point conversion play and then one minute later carried from the 20 to score. Wilke and Ramirez were joined in the point column by Sophomore Lucio Trevino.

Outstanding defense helped Coach Charles Seagler's Mustangs, ranked No. 2 in the area, to do the job. Senior Mark Brieger had 16 tackles, and Wes Wilke, playing on defense as well as offense, had eight. The defensive unit had the Antelopes punchless, holding them to 132 yards rushing and eight yards passing while recovering eight fumbles. Senior Carlton Henderson also had one interception.

The Mustangs play host September 24 to the Christ the King Trojans who hope that being at home will slow down the potent Wilson offense.

Nine hurt in Garza crashes

LUBBOCK — The Texas Highway Patrol investigated eight accidents on rural highways in Garza County during the month of August, 1976 according to Sergeant Kenneth G. Evans, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and nine persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first eight months of 1976 shows a total of 37 accidents resulting in two persons killed and 27 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 80 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for August 1976, shows a total of 566 accidents resulting in 16 persons killed and 319 injured, as compared to August 1975, with 596 accidents resulting in 16 persons killed and 292 persons injured. This was 30 less accidents, the same number killed, and 27 more injured in 1976 at the same period of time.

Construction training funded

Early day settlers return here for visit

Charles and Bur McClain stopped by The Dispatch Tuesday morning to purchase two copies of the Garza County History, "Wagon Wheels" and to track down some of the family history. They both, along with their family were early 1900 settlers in Garza County. Bur McClain is from Eugene, Oregon and Charles is from Tacoma, Washington. They stated they were in the area to visit their home place and just see what it was like now.

The family moved to Garza County from Fayetteville, Tennessee and settled four sections of the Spur Ranch that was opened to settlers. Bur McClain stated that he was the first white child born in Garza County, on July 6, 1902, being born at home with an aunt, Mrs. Andy McClain acting as mid-wife for his mother. There were approximately 12 families living in Garza County at that time but other children were born in Kent County where there was a doctor. Charles was about five years old when he moved here. There were 12 children in the family, four of which were born after coming here to settle, although all were not born in Garza, since the family left and moved to Gray County in 1904.

The older children attended school in a building at Two Mile, where a cousin, Eugene Clark, taught for some time. Mrs. Rufus Gerner, a niece, was acting as driver and escorting the pair on their tour.

Air safety session held

Over 20 Post and area private and student pilots met last Tuesday night in the community room for an aviation safety clinic.

The program was presented by FAA Accident Prevention Specialist Ray C. Rayney and Lubbock Air Controller Don Jones. All agreed it was a very interesting session.

Items covered included air traffic control, how to get in and out of a controlled airport, radar control, pre-flight and in-flight tips, accident review and weather recognition and avoidance.

An interesting demonstration with the vertigo chair proved to all that there is no such thing as "seat of the pants" flying in instrument conditions.

The clinic was sponsored by Burlington Industries, Rucker A, KPOS, Harold Lucas Motors, the Post Chamber of Commerce and the FAA.

Tough Lope defense keys 14-6 upset over Floydada

Wyatt, Dorland, Baker spark slashing attack

A hard tackling Post Antelope defense took almost all the big plays away from Floydada swiftness Jay Womack and Mickey Minnett in Antelope Stadium here Friday night as Coach Jackie Brown's club surprised the Whirlwinds with a 14 to 6 victory.

But for a fumble deep in their own territory in the third period after stopping the only Floydadada sustained march of the night on the Post 9, the Antelope defense would have had a shutout.

dadada sustained march of the night on the Post 9, the Antelope defense would have had a shutout.

With Randall Wyatt and Jimmy Dorland, two previously injured veterans, moving into the starting backfield at full-back and wingback respectively, the Lope offense picked up momentum to score two first half touchdowns and outrush the Whirlwinds for the night.

Post won the toss and slammed 68 yards from the opening kickoff in 13 running plays for their first touchdown. Wyatt got the score on a three yard plunge.

Buddy Britton converted from placement and it was 7-0 Post with 6:11 left in the quarter.

Randy Baker, who played another fine game both on offense and defense, sprinted down the field under Britton's kickoff and recovered the ball for Post on the Floydada 25.

This time the Lopes couldn't get untracked and the ball went over to Floydada on its 20 after a fourth down pass off a fake field goal formation by Quarterback Brad Shepherd was too tall for End Matt Allison.

Floydada got one first down on a 17-yard keeper by swivel-tipped quarterback Womack before being forced to kick and the Lopes were on their way to their other score of the night.

Baker fielded Jay Lackey's 43-yard punt and broke away on a 40-yard return to Floydada's 37 where the Whirlwinds were flagged for a personal foul on the tackle and the ball "walked" 15 yards down to the Floydada 22.

Wyatt hammered for six, Dorland went outside for five and a first down on the 11. Baker slammed for one and Butch Booth got four to the Floydada six as the first quarter ended.

Dorland took a pitchout wide for four and it was fourth and one on the Winds' three. Booth got the yard and a first down. Wyatt bucked for one. Then Dorland took a pitch from Shepherd wide around the left side to score standing up from two yards out. Britton again converted and it was 14 to 0 with 10:06 left in the half.

Neither team threatened for the remainder of the quarter with Floydada getting into Post territory for the first time in the game with nine seconds on the clock when Fullback Calvin Reece picked up 12 yards on a draw for a first down on the Post 41.

Floydada took the third period kickoff and ran and passed their way to a first down on the Post 45 before losing the ball on a fumble on the Post 38 with Linebacker Perry Rogers covering the loose football.

The Lopes drove it back to Floydada's 35 before a "sack" of Quarterback Brad Shepherd trying to pass and a penalty forced a punt.

The Winds took the ball on their 20 and launched their only sustained drive of the night when Womack slipped through the middle of the line and dodged his way for 44 yards before being caught on the Post 36.

On the second play he then threw a perfect strike to lanky split end Morris Keele for 23 yards to the Post 10.

Floydada got five on a pitchout. A second running play gained only a yard. Then Guard Britton hit Womack solid for a four-yard loss back to the nine-yard-line.

On fourth down, Womack passed into the end zone for Keele but Allison got one hand on it and knocked it away.

On the second play after Post took over, Baker fumbled and Rick Carthel recovered for Floydada on the Post 11.

This time Womack and Floydada weren't to be stopped. Womack got two on a keeper. Then he faked 40 his fullback running over the right side and slipped back over the left side and ran untouched for the touchdown.

A bad center snap on the attempted conversion kick left the score 14 to 6 with 3:09 left in the third.

Post drove back from the next kickoff to Floydada's 37 before a five yard delay penalty stopped the drive and Britton kicked into the end zone.

The two teams were locked in a punting duel in the fourth

Frosh lose to Floydada 28-8

Floydada 28, Post 8 was the score when the Post freshmen team played there last Thursday afternoon.

Post scored first when Scott Walker took a pitchout from quarterback Mike Macy on the second play from scrimmage and ran 42 yards for the TD. The conversion for two points was good when Walker passed to Rance Adkins.

Floydada then took the ball from the first play of scrimmage and scored for six points, extra points were no good. The score at half was 14 to 8.

Floydada scored again in the third, and again with two minutes left in the game.

Coach Lane Tannehill said all 37 boys got to play, and hope that this week at Colorado City to get the "fifth" quarter started so that the boys who don't get to play as much in the game will have an opportunity to get more game type experience.

The freshmen will play at Colorado City this afternoon (Thursday) at 5:30.

Exes consider grid game

All ex-students interested in playing in an exes football game are asked to meet at 2 p. m. Sunday at Holly's Drive in to discuss such a project.

If Post can organize a team efforts will be made to schedule a game with a neighboring community.

period when with three minutes left to play a strange Lope lateral was fumbled away to Floydada on Post's 32.

That gave Floydada one final chance to tie the score, but the tough Lope defense was equal to the task. Womack got nothing on a keeper, three two incomplete passes, and Baker came up with a slashing tackle of a Floydada runner on a tricky reverse for only four yards.

Post took over but was forced to punt and Baker came down under the punt and nailed the fleet Minnett before he could take a step after catching the ball.

Womack got Floydada to midfield with a 20 yard pass to Minnett with 13 seconds left and threw for 10 more to Split End Keele to the Post 40 before throwing an incomplete on the final play of the game.

The Post blackshirts pretty much ruled the line of scrimmage whether on defense or offense. All of which was a lot of improvement over the loss the week before at Coahoma.

The fact remained that Floydada couldn't sustain an attack against the more rugged Post defense. The Lopes offense continued to make yardage throughout the game but any kind of loss or penalty usually was enough to stop a drive as the Lopes still lacked a real aerial threat.

PIGSKIN 'PICK OF THE WEEK'

Lopes to skin Wolves—barely

Your pigskin prognosticator, who picked the upset special of the week last week when he named the Lopes to blow over the Floydada Winds, likes Coach Jackie Brown's resurgent club this week to skin the mighty Colorado City Wolves this Friday night in Antelope Stadium.

The visitors are going to be bigger by far than the Lopes, but the Lope attack appears a bit more potent. The Wolves are having trouble getting over the double stripe, having done it only twice in three games, but they have a toughie defense.

Last week The Dispatch's premium picker had six of nine right for a .667 percentage for the week to make it 19 out of 28 for the three-week season and a .680 percentage. We were wrong in picking Olton over Lockney. Tahoka over Idalou and Denver City over Levelland.

Here's our other picks this week:

Littlefield at LOCKNEY: Those Longhorns have a rugged

Junior leads Southland win

SOUTHLAND — Junior Buxkemper totaled some 216 yards in 20 carries as the Southland Eagles extended their new winning streak, after stopping a long losing drought last week, by stomping the Bethel School of Carlsbad, N. M. Matadors 44 to 0 Friday night.

Junior also scored four touchdowns and kicked one extra point to account for 31 points.

The Eagles will be out to make it three in a row when they play Cotton Center here at 8 p. m. Friday.

Danny Saldivar pulled off the offensive unit were both outstanding in the much tougher Lope defense.

The offensive line were off the ball much better Friday night — all of which makes the backs look better.

Football Highlights film, the 1964 Gator Bowl Highlights in which Texas Tech defeated Auburn with Jack Kirkpatrick leading the Red Raiders as quarterback, and the Post-Colo-defense and that ought to be enough for Littlefield after that beating they took from Slaton.

Tahoka at COAHOMA: We're thinking the Bulldogs may be the best team in District 4AA. This will give a good comparison between Post and Tahoka who will open district play against each other at Tahoka next week. Tahoka gets a lot of offensive yards, but not quite enough points.

Olton at FLOYDADA: We may be wrong going this way, but it's hard to figure Coach Wilson losing two in a row, especially with an elusive runner like Jay Womack at quarterback. Still we're wondering if the Winds "have it" this year as a ball club.

IDALOU at Cooper: If Idalou can beat Tahoka, they should scalp the Indians.

FRENSHIP, Open. Gosh, an easy one.

Abernathy at SLATON: The Tigers appear to have their best season ever going for them this year, so far. And we think that will extend at least into district play. Remember, they've NEVER beaten Denver City and guess where they play them this year?

DENVER CITY at Lovington: The Mustangs may be 1-2, but they haven't lost two in a row yet and we doubt if they will the rest of the year. Of course we don't know how tough the New Mexico club is this year.

ROOSEVELT at Memphis: Last we heard of Memphis the Lopes beat them in the bi-district playoffs about 19 years ago. The Eagles were humiliated by Seagraves last week, so we dunno.

Last week's results:
Post 14, Floydada 6.
Lockney 12, Olton 7.
Colorado City 10, Cisco 0.
Morton 21, Cooper 8.
Idalou 22, Tahoka 18.
Seagraves 51, Roosevelt 0.
Frenship 33, Ralls 0.
Slaton 47, Littlefield 7.
Levelland 21, Denver City 20.

COACH JACKIE BROWND SAYS—

Lopes will be ready for bigger Wolves

Coach Jackie Brown, noting satisfactory improvement both in the play of the offensive line and the entire defense in the victory over Floydada last Friday night, predicted Tuesday his Post Antelopes will be ready to play another good ball game against the big Colorado City Wolves in Antelope Stadium Friday night.

"We concentrated last week on getting the timing into our ground game," Coach Brown said Tuesday. "Now we can work on other things too, like the passing attack."

Brown said the squad came out of the Floydada game without injuries and that he anticipates no starting lineup changes for the Wolves.

Mike Waldrip, the lanky senior end who had a pin placed in his finger last week in an operation in Lubbock to correct a practice injury, remains doubtful for the Colorado City game. He had not returned to practice Monday afternoon.

Coach Brown was pleased with the showing of Jeff Greene and Erik Howard, starting for the first time as offensive tackles.

Colorado City will be the biggest team the Lopes have faced to date, and probably the toughest defensively.

Wolf offensive starters include two 200-pounders and three 190-pounders, and in Steve Belvin, who booted a 30-yard field goal against Cisco last Friday night they have a 272-pound starting defensive tackle who is mighty hard to move out of there. The Lopes faced Belvin last year and found other places to run for a rather easy win, breaking the game open in the second half.

JVs bow 21-0 to Floydada

"We played good solid football, but we made mistakes and our mistakes beat us," said Coach Jerry Reynolds of his junior varsity squad who lost to Floydada 21 to 0, in a game played there last Thursday night.

"It was a real defensive ball game through the first quarter but then the 'Winds took charge and capitalized off our mistakes." During the last two minutes of the ball game Jeff Williams was taken from the field by ambulance suffering a strained neck and mild concussion. He will be out of action for at least three weeks.

The junior varsity will play the Colorado City JVs tonight (Thursday) there beginning at 7:30.

The Colorado City Record reported that actually the Wolves needed "only a half the football field" to beat Cisco 10 to 0 at Cisco last Friday night.

Cisco never got the ball across their own 42 yard line the entire game and spent most of the game pined inside their 30. Cisco made only two first downs, one of them on a penalty and totaled but 14 yards rushing and 14 yards passing — which was supposed to be the best part of their game.

Meanwhile, the Colorado City offensive spent most of the night in the same end of the field although they managed but one touchdown and a 30-yard field goal.

Against Cisco, the Wolves totaled 237 yards on offense, 197 of that rushing and 41 yards passing and lost three fumbles which helped hold down score.

Frank Sanchez became first Colorado back to gain yards in a game getting steps on 19 carries. Fullback Gary Hulme, a solid 190-er, got 49 on 16 cracks into line, and Quarterback Torres managed the number on eight carries.

The Wolves also shut Class AAA Sweetwater have only been scored on three touchdowns — by Stan Guard Mike Babb played of his best games ever against Floydada for the Lopes as Matt Allison turned in excellent blocking job.

Coach Brown expects to the air attack functioning on the ground game is starting roll.

POST ANTELOPES

VS.

COLORADO CITY

8 P.M. FRIDAY, SEPT. 24

In the Colorado City Wolves, Coach Jackie Brown's improving club will face the biggest team they've played this year—and probably the toughest defensive football team. Slaton is the only eleven in three starts to score on the Wolves. The other two shutouts were Cisco and Sweetwater, the latter a AAA school. On the other hand the Wolves although picked to win 6AA have had considerable trouble scoring touchdowns. They managed only two so far plus a field goal in three games. So don't look for a high scoring affair when the Wolves and the Lopes get together in Antelope Stadium Friday night. Although, of course, one never knows . . .

Student council off to organized start

Student council officers are really getting the student council going and have planned a lot of activities for the year. These officers are Hope Johnson, president; David Morrow, vice president; Dale Redman, secretary-treasurer; and Gloria Martinez, reporter.

tional program committee, school and city beautification or service committee, homecoming committee, constitutional committee, fund raising committee, social activities committee and the evaluating committee.

The educational committee will plan two assemblies for the high school.

The school and city beautification or service committee will plan beautification and clean-up programs for the student body.

The homecoming committee is planning this year's homecoming which will be Oct. 8th.

The constitutional committee is writing a constitution for the high school to draft. This committee is made up of the student council officers and the four class presidents.

The fund raising committee is raising funds to support the other committees.

The social activities committee plans the entertainment phase for the high school student body. These programs are not educational, but are for amusement purposes only.

The evaluating committee is evaluating how well the other committees are doing.

The student council also plans to raise money for charities such as muscular dystrophy, etc. The student council is in service for the city as well as the school.

This year, the student council is an accredited member of the Texas Association of Student Councils. This organization is giving a lot of support to the Post High School Student Council.

The student council is made of three junior and senior class representatives along with their class president. There are two freshmen and sophomore representatives as well as their class president. Each club and organization has one representative. That brings the total to roughly 35.

The student council is planning a good, productive year, and the whole student body is behind them.

CALIFORNIA GUESTS
Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Wood of California were Sunday guests in the home of Mrs. Vera Gossett in Post.

Change in pep rally

For a change of pace, the high school pep rally was held immediately before the football game Friday night. A lot of students attended, as well as adults. Everyone seemed fired-up and ready to give Floydada a real football game.

This week's speech was given by David Morrow. The topic of his speech was pride in school and in everything you do. The speech gave a lot of thought to the audience, and you have never heard such applause as when he got through.

The cheerleaders awarded the spirit stick to the band this week. The band has really been backing the football team this year and really was pleased to get the spirit stick.

The pep rally this week will be at 6:55 p. m. in the junior high gym. All are urged to attend.

Howard to help plan workshop

E. A. Howard, Vocational Agriculture Teacher in Post High School, will be leaving Tuesday for Austin where he will attend a meeting to plan the 1977 Inservice Workshop for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture which is scheduled for August 2-5, 1977 in Dallas.

The meeting is attended by elected representatives from different areas in Texas. Howard will be representing Area II which includes 87 different schools and approximately 117 teachers of Vocational Agriculture.

He will return late Wednesday following conclusion of the meeting.

Great beef buys due in meat market cases

COLLEGE STATION — "Excellent" beef values are available in Texas grocery stores as the plentiful supply of heavy beef continues to show up in local markets, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist.

She cited chuck roasts and steaks and a variety of steaks for broiling as the "excellent values."

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

"Good" values at beef counters include ground beef, round steaks, boneless roasts and liver.

"Pork prices continue on the high side — with Boston butt roasts, quarter loins cut into chops and pork liver leading the list of fresh cuts.

Eddie Reece in high spirits with job

Eddie Reece is working at Cockrum's this year on the HECE work program.

Eddie likes the program because it lets you know what the working world is about and it can get you started in a business.

besides waiting on customers, Eddie keeps the shop and dark room clean. This includes cleaning the ink off the presses.

Eddie isn't sure of what he will be doing after he graduates, but he does admit that his work now could be a possibility.

Does Eddie enjoy his work? Of course he does. He says, "I love to learn about the presses and all of the things you learn when you are working at a shop like this."

Eddie is in high spirits with his job, and ever one should be grateful that the high school has a work program like this.

The FHA held its first program meeting of the year Monday with Karen Williams presiding.

Kelly Mitchell gave the devotional and song. She was helped with the song by Steve Sheppard and Julie Compton. The new senior and junior officers were then introduced. The FHA then discussed the cystic fibrosis drive and the selling of Stanley products.

Punch and cookies were served immediately following the meeting.

Booster Club picks jump suit

The Post High School Booster Club had a meeting last week for a showing of what their new suits will look like this year.

The suit committee has really gotten busy and selected a sort of jumpsuit for the club. The jumpsuits will be black and will be worn plain until it gets cold. The committee then plans to wear white turtlenecks underneath the suits. The booster club is getting busy on these suits and plans to have them made in time for homecoming.

Carolyn Cruse, Renee Claiborn, Debbie Wyatt and Juanita Hernandez are members of the suit committee.

Mike Waldrip returned to school Thursday after having a pin put in his third right finger Tuesday. Mike will be out of football for a while, but is giving the team all the encouragement he can.

We have another case of injured bones. Her name — Kelly Mitchell. It seems that while she was doing a back bend in her acrobatics class, she broke her arm right by the elbow — OUCH! They may have to operate, but they're not sure yet. The really bad thing about Kelly's break, besides that it hurt, is that Kelly is a high school cheerleader. All the kids in high school feel bad about Kelly's misfortune, but she'll be up and cheering with both arms again before you know it.

The explorers club had an ice-cream supper and movie Saturday night. The charge was 75 cents for any high school student. There were a lot of kids attending. Along with the regular movies like Bugs Bunny, the Little Rascals, the Marx Brothers, and the Three Stooges, was a Post High School original. The movie was produced and directed by Sergeant Swell!

Steve White and Mark Short, seniors at PHS, accompanied by Silas Short, left Friday afternoon to attend Senior Day at Texas A&M University in Bryan. Activities were scheduled all day Saturday with a tour of the campus, dorms and the School of Veterinary Medicine. As an added attraction they also attended the A&M and Kansas State football game Saturday afternoon. The trio returned home early Sunday morning.

Last week's column had an article about the drama club needing old furniture and old clothes. We only received one call all week. The call was from Mary Landreth who donated a four-piece sectional couch. A lot of other things are needed, so scrounge around in the attic or any place else, and see if you can find anything. We sure can use it.

A near panic caught the third period government class Friday. It seems that while watching a film on Japan, the bulb in the film projector burst. Vickie Gannon screamed, and the whole class ended up in pandemonium. It seems that Coach Alexander had been telling the class that someday a man might come into the class and kill every student. I guess Vickie thought that this was the time. But next time Vickie, you had better say your prayers first, and then scream. It can help.

Does every boy remember how he used to get up in the morning just to watch his dad shave? And then you would say to yourself "Boy, I can't wait till I'm old enough to shave!" Well, the time will come in every boy's life when he will say to himself "Now what did I ever see in that?" That is the sign of maturity — so they say. Well if that's maturity, I'm not so sure I'm ready. What really is funny about shaving when you're young is the jokes that people dream up to tease you. Remember Uncle so and so saying, "Shave? Why all he's got is a little peach fuzz. Ha, Ha!" Then you wanted to jump in a hole and pull the dirt in with you. I'll have to admit that it is embarrassing to have your 5 o'clock shadow come at 12 midnight, but what can someone expect for a maturing beard? Now I'll tell you what is really embarrassing. It's when you first learn to shave and you go to school looking like a paper-mache doll with kleenex all over your face. I can remember telling some kids that I ran into a rosebush and the doctor had told me to put kleenex on the wounds. But now that I think about it, who was I fooling? You know how you have to pull your nose up to shave under it? Well, have you ever had it to accidentally slip and cut it with the razor? I have. I did it one morning, and a girl at school asked me if every boy had to shave his nose. Boy, was I mad. What really hurts though is when you get up one morning and decide to be daring, and don't shave. Then you go up to someone and say, "I forgot to shave this morning." Then he or she says, "Oh really, I didn't notice." You know, life's funny that way...

OMAR BURLESON, M. C. 17th District, TEXAS

OMAR BURLESON, M. C. 17th District, Texas
 WASHINGTON, D. C. — The House finally enacted a new bill this past week. It has been in the making for more than two years. It is called "The Tax Reform Act of 1976" but it depends on who is writing the bill.

week in efforts to write an editorial on the bill. It finally editorialized to the effect that because of the complexities and technicalities involved, the measure should be rejected. The report accompanying the bill contained 646 pages of explanation but about every section is subject to interpretation and application to the taxpayer.

In legislation of this kind, it becomes a matter of trying to balance the good against the bad. In other words, it is not all of one or the other. In legislation of this sort and, as for that matter in other major legislation, seldom is it found to be a matter of clear choices. The acceptable and the objectionable must be sorted and weighed on its merits. How does it affect people? How does it affect our overall economy and does it bring about fairness insofar as possible? These are the things looked for in reaching a decision.

For instance, the estate and gift tax section is an improvement on the present law which has not been updated since 1942. Under present law, there is a $60,000 exemption on the estate of a deceased. This is brought up to $120,000 and increased to $175,000 in five years. The surviving spouse will be allowed $250,000 or one-half of the estate tax free, whichever is greater. Other benefits are provided.

An objectionable feature is what is called an appreciation tax though, in fact, it is a capital gains tax imposed on the heirs to the estate when they sell the property. The value on which the appreciation is based is set on next January

This is a feature never included in our tax code but the concept has been around for many years. It amounts to the heirs paying a tax on property on which a tax has already been paid.

Another highly objectionable feature is another attack on intangible drilling costs. The supporters of this provision call it closing a "Loophole". The effect is to levy a tax on losses which could have no other effect than further restricting exploration for more oil and gas. Most of the supporters seemed to believe they were getting at the "big oil companies" but, in fact, it only applies to the individual independent oil operator and not to corporations at all. It is a self defeating provision. It is hoped that later on this may be eliminated but the chances are not good. The Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee assures those of us in opposition that he will do his best to give us a chance to vote on this provision which was not possible under the rules during the consideration of the Conference Report.

These two provisions, among others, were enough for 26 of us to vote against the Conference Report, 13 of which were Texas Members.

The artists who will exhibit are now sending in the names and descriptions of the art items they will have here for sale and exhibit.

Lincoln Fox of Alto, N. M., who was one of the most popular sculptors here last year, is going to have one bronze you won't want to miss.

It's a life-size bronze of an Indian medicine man entitled: "Shaman with Bear Skull". Life size means it is six feet tall, the biggest ever exhibited here. The price tag is a "biggie" too — $30,000.

Fox plans to have 10 different bronzes here next weekend.

Rotary governor challenges club

District Governor John Tyler of Midland Tuesday challenged the Post Rotary Club to undertake a project to put a plaque of the Rotary Four Way Test in each classroom in the Post schools, beginning with the lower grades.

Governor Tyler conducted a Rotary club assembly in the small meeting room of the Post Community Center Monday evening and addressed the civic club at their luncheon Tuesday in the city hall auditorium.

In a challenging talk, Tyler urged club members to commit themselves to the four Rs for Rotary — risk, reaction, responsibility, and reward — and be real Rotarians and not just members of Rotary.

At the start of his talk he congratulated Tom Bouchier, the club's only Paul Harris fellow and urged Rotarians to give greater support to the Rotary Foundation program, to reactivation of an interact club in Post High School, and to an exchange student project.

Education loans, not to exceed $600 in each academic year, are available to eligible GI Bill students from the Veterans Administration.

Big OS weekend---

Marvin Cantrell of Nara Visa, N. M., entered the finals as 1976 Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association champion for winning the most money in the event during the regular season. His pre-finals earnings were $10,223. He won $517 at the finals.

All of these ropers mentioned — Good, Thompson, Worrell and Cantrell — are entered in the OS Steer Roping assuring area fans of the finest possible field for the event.

Actually, the roper who wins the title will probably win three times more than Good won in the National Finals becoming the world champion, more than Cantrell won all season as the PRCA champion for 1976.

The four-head average for the OS under the new $45,000 jackpot format will place at least once among the top four in the four go-rounds and win considerable more prize money to go with it.

The winner of each go-round gets $2,000 with $1,500 for second, $1,000 for third and $500 for fourth.

Runnerup in the four-head average will draw $7,500 with third netting $5,000 and fourth paying $2,500.

Since each roper puts $1,000 entry fee into that $45,000 jackpot himself, with $10,000 added, there will be plenty of "pressure" on almost every throw.

But the top winners at the National Finals won't be the only "ropers to watch" in the OS event.

Two newcomer replacements are Tom Ferguson of Miami, Okla., and Phil Lyne of Artesia Wells.

Ferguson has been the all-around champion of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association for the last two years (1974, 1975) and is so far ahead this year with $74,420 in total prize winnings nobody has a chance to catch him.

Lyne was the all-around champion for 1972 and 1973 before Ferguson moved to the fore and ranks 13th in the national standings this year among the calf ropers with $15,262 in winnings.

Ferguson leads both the calf ropers with $29,266 and the steer ropers with $42,149 on his way to his third straight all-around title.

Of the top 16 finishers in the National Finals Steer Roping, the OS Steer Roping field has 10 of them. Besides Charles Good, the new champ, others are: Roy Thompson, Tulsa, second, $2,675; Walt Arnold, Silverton, third, $1,938; Sonny Worrell, Altoona, Kans., fourth, $1,318; James Allen, Santa Anna, Tex., seventh, $930; Olin Young, Peralta, N. M., tied for ninth with $775; Troy Fort, Lovington, N. M., eleventh, $646; Marvin Cantrell, Nara Visa, N. M., twelfth, $517; Tim Prather, Snyder, fifteenth, $258; and H. L. Todd, Burlington, Colo., sixteenth, $129.

Entry books for the Saturday morning, Oct. 2, team roping at $60 per team and the GRA open approved barrel race closed Saturday, as well as for the NCHA approved cutting horse contest scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. Oct. 2. Fifty also were issued invitations for the Saturday afternoon calf ropers.

Place drawings for the contestants were made at the ranch yesterday.

As in past years, boys from West Texas Boys Ranch who come to Post for the "OS weekend" will spend Saturday night as guests in Post homes.

So will many artists who are coming to the OS weekend with their wives as well as exhibiting their bronzes and paintings in the OS Ranch Art Exhibit.

Some of the art to be exhibited here already is arriving via commercial carriers, although artists coming will bring their own art to be exhibited with them. They are scheduled to arrive by noon Friday, Oct. 1.

That means a hectic afternoon of hanging all the art in the ranchhouse by David Newby in time for the Friday night Art Preview Party which is expected to attract several hundred art buyers and collectors from all over the southwest and west.

Also added for those who come to the ranch early Sunday, Oct. 3, to spend the day is a 9:30 a. m. Brush Arbor Worship Service which will be conducted in the historic Chinaberry Grove between the ranchhouse and the big roping pen by the Rev. Tom Pass, First Presbyterian Church pastor. World wide communion will be offered outdoor worshippers attending.

Barbecue will be served both Saturday and Sunday noon at the ranch with West Texas Boys Ranch bringing volunteer cooks in from San Angelo as in former years.

The Saturday night, Oct. 2, dance, another part of the "weekend" will be held on the outdoor, covered slab at the Post Stampede rodeo grounds.

The Solid Country will play for the dance with Tony Booth, nationally known western singer from California, being the featured entertainer for the four-hour event from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Burlington—

the three national distribution centers for Burlington sheets, the others being at Greensboro and Los Angeles. He explained that Burlington sheets are sold to both Nieman-Marcus in Dallas and Hemphill-Wells in Lubbock.

"We don't sell to jobbers and distributors," Garvin explained, "so we have a hard time getting our products into the small towns."

He said Burlington was first in quality, first in style and fourth in sales volume in sheet sales in the U. S. today.

In answer to a question as to why the demand for sheets was "softened" causing production cutbacks here, Garvin said that sheets last longer now as they can be laundered 160 times today as compared with only 70 in the past.

Another reason, he said, is that the hard-pressed housewife caught in the inflation puts off buying sheets so she can buy food for the family table.

"We found out," Garvin said, "that one of our problems in making money was letting our inventories get out of control. We're not going to do that anymore. Now we operate with a minimum inventory."

The division manager said: "We are concerned about our people" in discussing production cutdowns, which Burlington now does by shutting down for a week.

"We don't do as much as our competitors who have gone to three and four-day weeks and by closing for a week our employes become eligible for unemployment insurance with a maximum check of $63 a week."

Garvin pointed out that Burlington pays this back to the state in increased unemployment taxes.

He also discussed sharply rising energy costs, the boost in cotton from 32 to 79 cents a pound, and even new government controls (via OSHA) for which Burlington is spending $35 million for dust control to meet new government standards.

NUMERO UNO EN LA BOLETA (S.J.R. 49)
Revocando Secciones 49-d and 49-d-1 del Artículo III de la Constitución de Texas, S.J.R. 49 enmienda Sección 49-c del Artículo III de la Constitución de Texas para disponer y autorizar $400 millones adicionales de bonos para el desarrollo de agua en Texas que se puede emitir a la aprobación de dos terceras partes de los miembros de cada cámara de la Legislatura para tales fines de desarrollo del agua que la Legislatura pueda prescribir.

La enmienda contiene prohibición específica contra el uso de fondos del estado para el desarrollo de recursos acuáticos del Rio Mississippi y también requiere que antes de que pueda encargarse de cualquier proyecto particular para el desarrollo de agua que requiere un gasto de mas de $35 millones de producto de los bonos, debe de ser aprobado por resolución de la Legislatura.

La enmienda remueve el requerimiento constitucional que ciertas rentas deben de ser usadas para retirar bonos para el desarrollo de agua y el encarecimiento de la calidad de agua y remueve el limite constitucional de la tasa de interés en tales bonos.

La fraseología de la enmienda propuesta tal como aparecerá en la boleta es lo siguiente: "La enmienda constitucional autorizando un incremento de $400 millones de la cantidad de Bonos del Desarrollo de Agua en Texas que podrán emitirse al ser aprobada por dos terceras partes de la legislatura, enmendando y consolidando disposiciones de Secciones 49-c, 49-d, y 49-d-1 del Artículo III de la Constitución de Texas; y revocando Secciones 49-d y 49-d-1 del Artículo III de la Constitución de Texas."
