

Kurt, Earl Chapman fish for arctic char at Hadley Bay

BRIGHT, COLD PLACE — The sun never set during Kurt and Earl Chapman's late summer fishing expedition to Hadley Bay, only 160 miles south of the magnetic north pole, and the temperature remained a chilly 20 degrees below zero which meant they fished and slept in the same set of warm clothes their entire stay. Outside of always being cold and being pestered by millions of mosquitoes — and of course being cold most of the time, they enjoyed catching 18 to 30 pound arctic char, which Earl exhibits upper left and Kurt in center. Right Kurt, back to camera on left tries to get warm, during some fish handling. Lower left, the float planes which were the only means of transportation into and out of this northern fishing "paradise." Earl reports he spent most of his time flying with one of the veteran pilots who had a lot of believable stories about polar bears.

Hospital district approves $30,000 loan

Directors of Garza Memorial Hospital adopted a resolution at a special meeting Monday night to borrow up to $30,000 as needed during the next 60 days from the First National Bank here.

Perry Willard, bank president, was present for the second time with the directors and agreed to the loan terms at six and one-half percent interest rate.

The loan will tide the financially-pressed hospital over until November when the first of some $70,000 plus hospital district 1976 tax money will become available.

Hospital administrator Perry Hunsaker told directors that the hospital had some $20,000 in its checking account, and had received $3,000 from Dr. Chana in checks the Indian physician had received in El Paso since leaving Post in hospital insurance payments, most of which belonged to the hospital which guaranteed his salary.

Hunsaker said he would need only $9,000 to $11,000 at most for the remainder of September. He reported the hospital had outstanding August bills of $15,521.22 and that one bi-monthly payroll of between $17,000 and $18,000 would still come due this month with another at the first of October.

The hospital's auditor, Arthur Davis of Lubbock, also met with directors. He pointed out that the hospital has been receiving approximately $20,000 in patient income monthly.

Director Jack Alexander requested that beginning with October the board be provided with a monthly profit and loss statement on hospital operations, including its cash position.

Directors discussed at length the possibility of trying to get (See Hospital Board, Page 8)

$100,000 oil damage suit

Two Lubbock men and two women one each from Lubbock and Dallas have filed a $100,000 damage suit in Garza district court here against Neil A. Jackson, Snyder oil operator.

According to the suit petition, the four plaintiffs, Estine D. Blakey, John Clinton Blakey and James Edward Blakey, all of Lubbock, and Carolyn Estine Blakey of Dallas are owners of five sections of Garza land on which Jackson is the oil operator.

They allege Jackson has permitted oil to escape from tank batteries and to run down creeks and draws and salt water also to pollute the land, reducing the market value of the five sections by $50,000.

They also ask $50,000 in exemplary damages.

Beyond that, they seek a permanent injunction against further alleged abuse of the land by Jackson.

Camp Post has new ranger

Jerry Stegall, along with his wife, Jetta and Fosterston, Deliberio who is a woman student at PHS, has moved out to Camp Post to take duties of Camp Ranger.

Stegall is not new to scouting, having served two and one-half years as Scoutmaster of Troop 10 at Lubbock before coming to Post.

He has plans to open some camp sites and utilize the area of Camp Post for scouting.

Stegall was employed in Lubbock as a Glue Discounter.

Burglars get $36 safe haul

Burglars broke into the Wylie Co. service station at 612 Broadway Saturday night and took $36.92 in cash, charge cards and checks from the safe.

Investigating officers said the safe had not been forced so the personnel said they thought the safe was locked when they closed the station.

Insurance was gained through a previously broken window.

Nothing else in the station was taken.

Sunday rites held here for Irene Rodgers

Post church welcomes new minister, family

Members of the Post Church of Christ, welcomed their new minister and his family to Post with a watermelon supper following church services Sunday night.

Robert Elliott and his wife, Jan, and children arrived in Post Sept. 7 to take over duties of the church following Bob Connel who moved to Abilene.

The Elliotts have four children, Bryan who is a junior at PHS, Beth a sophomore, Emily, a fifth grader and Stefano who is in the first grade.

The family has been in Italy for the past nine years, and with the exception of Bryan, the oldest who attended the first grade in the states, this is the first school in the United States the children have attended.

Needless to say the children will have some adjusting to do.

Mr. Elliott is a graduate of Sulphur Springs high school and is also a graduate of Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock.

School tax rate is hiked seven cents

New levy to be $1.37

Post school trustees Monday night boosted the school district's tax rate seven cents to $1.37 for school taxes coming due this fall.

The rate boost came despite a $9,500,000 hike in oil valuations which sent the district's taxable property valuations over the $100 million mark for the first time ever.

The $1.37 rate will raise an estimated $1,270,247 toward the school district's 1976-77 budget of $1,782,579, up almost $182,000 from last year.

One of the reasons for the escalating school budget, besides teacher salary increases provided by the legislature and inflation, is that recent school aid legislation in the last two years has doubled this school district's cost to participate in the state school aid program from $201,907 in 1975 to $402,267 for 1977.

A six-year cost comparison provided trustees at the meeting showed the district taxable property valuations have increased from $41,971,895 in 1972 to $100,781,260 — more than doubling.

At the same time, the annual budget has increased each year, rising from $919,883 in 1972 to $1,782,579 for the new school year.

The tax rate for those six years was its highest — $1.46 in 1972 — dipped to a low of $1.13 in 1975, and climbed up to $1.37.

It is interesting to note that salaries, although they have increased from $616,475 to $1,046,956 for this new year, have not increased in nearly the same proportion as have contracted services, supplies and materials and other operating costs.

In the six years, contracted services have climbed from (See School Board, Page 8)

POSTINGS

We weren't sure when we dummed them onto page one how Earl Chapman's pictures of that strange fishing trip of his would turn out, but we figured there were enough fishermen, or should we say, "fisherpersons," among our readers that they would enjoy seeing some of them.

Earl admitted first time we talked to him after he got home that it wasn't the kind of a place one ever went to in the same lifetime and he didn't plan to return there in his, but he found that cold wilderness mighty interesting.

We might as well correct a small error we made in the first column when we reported he and Kurt would be fishing for "arctic shark." These big fish are arctic charrs, but it sounded like sharks to us that day on the phone — maybe because we'd never heard of charrs.

Speaking of mistakes, we heard the sophomore English class drew an assignment last week to see how many errors students could find in The Dispatch.

The whole staff is curious as to how many they found. No newspaper ever gets to press error free unless it is super lucky because there is too much deadline pressure at the end, even for a little country weekly (See Postings, Page 8)

TO BE HONORED — Jim Prather, who will host the OS Ranch Steer Roping and Art Exhibit Oct. 2-3, will be honored later the same month by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Prather will be presented one of the WTCC's three cultural achievement awards for 1976 for the major role he has played in development of the "OS Weekend". The award will be presented in Brownwood Oct. 28.

City to seek available funds for storm sewers

The Post City Council at its Monday night meeting decided to apply to the Texas Department of Community Affairs for $3,000-$2,000 in a grant and $1,000 in matching funds — for planning storm drainage improvements here.

The council decided it wasn't interested in an environmental assessment to employ a consultant to come in and draw up a plan to give the community's business district "a new look."

In other actions, the council: Renewed the contract of Pritchard and Abbott, tax evaluation engineers, at the same rate of four cents per $100 valuation in oil and industrial properties on the rolls.

Voted to advertise for warrants to finance the city's planned trash containerization program. The cost of the new equipment would be paid out in

County adopts 1977 budget

The Garza County Commissioners Court adopted the county's 1977 budget Monday at the conclusion of its public hearing in which the public, as usual, was noticeably absent.

The court has set a 95 cent tax rate again on a taxable valuation of 25 percent of real value. This is the same rate and taxable valuation percentage as in recent years.

In another action, the court accepted the bid of the Harold Lucas Motor Co., for a new sheriff's car of $5,170 for a 1977 Chevrolet Impala 4-door with air-conditioning, tinted glass, heavy duty shocks, and a spotlight. The Lucas bid was the only one received.

The court also decided to advertise for bids on purchase of a used loader for precinct 2.

Heard Bob Schuster with General American present a retirement plan for municipal employees. The council is considering adopting a retirement plan and met again Tuesday to hear one other plan presented by the Washington National Insurance Co.

Chamber plans merchants meet

The Post Chamber of Commerce is planning to sponsor a meeting of local merchants — both in and out of the civic organization — Monday night, Sept. 27, as a sort of community rap session.

Time and place of the meeting will be announced later.

Decision to sponsor the decision was made at a meeting of the Chamber directors last Thursday noon. Attending that meeting were President Charles McCook, Curtis Hudman, Lewis Herron, Lee Norman, James Dye and Secretary Joy Greer.

Sharon Morris was named a Chamber director to fill the vacancy on the board left by Margie Wilson. Sharon operates Trends for Men.

Secretary Greer told directors she would be in Stephenville Sunday through Tuesday attending the CCEAWT conference. She was elected a director of the organization for two years at Odessa last fall.

Tooting a new Post horn

For the first time in maybe a dozen years, the only vacant building on Main Street today — besides that beat-up pool hall and the two movie theaters — is the old Algerita Hotel — and its got a new roof, with who knows how much more to come.

If you took up and down Broadway (US-44) you'll note it is fading fast as a residential street. Post is developing a second business street down the highway — and most of the businesses upon it are catering to busy highway traffic.

The new Ailsup's Convenience Store is the latest to open and only a block north of that a big new Dairy Queen is more than halfway to completion.

Upcoming on Broadway is a major street widening to permit a safe left-turn lane down the middle with two lanes of traffic flowing freely on either side.

The contract for the work already has been let by the highway department to a Lubbock firm and actual construction is expected to get under way in November.

Another sure sign of economic stability and growth is the fact that the new 14-unit rental housing project was filled the first week it was opened. And now there's a waiting list with the board beginning to wonder if it should consider additional units.

Total it all up and Post's retail business — at least from the shopper's viewpoint has never been better.

There is a lot of "young blood" on Main street now, a welcome change from only a few years ago. The board of directors of our Chamber of Commerce reflects the "new thinking" and the "new ideas."

Post is a good, solid community — which is enjoying what amounts to a rebirth at its business core.

Of course there are still a few of us "old heads" around — but we keep acting younger and younger every day.

Post has turned a proverbial corner. It is coming strong now — and is going to continue for years to come. The word is out that it's a great place to live — and raise a family.

One of those who has been away for a number of years, but still calls Post home and firmly intends to move back someday, came visiting again this week and was truly amazed by it all.

Maybe it's time we reorganized the "industrial foundation" and got a new "housing committee" going.

Larry has real bicentennial trip

Larry Crane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crane made a three week Bicentennial trip recently with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Purett and his grandmother, Mrs. Fred Clayton all of Odessa. Larry was on hand July 1 for the dedication and opening of the National Air and Space Museum of the Smithsonian Institute.

Then after tours of Gettysburg, Williamsburg, Jamestown, Washington and New York City, he watched the six-hour parade at Philadelphia on July 4. He arrived in time to see the big fireworks display with the Statute of Liberty in the background.

Larry especially enjoyed seeing the covered wagon train arrive at Valley Forge, and the fleet of sailing ships in the New York Harbor.

On July 8, Larry met with his parents and sister, Lisa, in Portland, Maine, where they ferried to Peake's Island for a few days before returning home.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

By Lyndell Wilkams

AUSTIN — That proposed $298.3 million Southwestern Bell Telephone Company rate increase isn't likely to go into effect until next year, if at all.

The company, under Texas Public Utility Commission rules, had to publish notice in newspapers for four weeks that it plans the raise October 7. That's 35 days from the day it filed recommended new rates with PUC.

The commission is expected to vote September 20 to require Bell to defend its request in public hearings.

Hearings will be held during the next three months, and the regulatory agency has 125 days after October 7 to act on the rate case.

PUC attorney John Bell already has filed a protest that the rates are "excessive," and has requested that action be suspended during the 125 day period. His motions will be considered by the three commission members at the Monday (Sept. 20) hearing.

Also to be considered at the pre-hearing conference next week is a request by Texas Municipal League to permit city governments to intervene in statewide rate cases over which PUC has original jurisdiction.

Richard J. Hoyer, mayor of Monahan and chairman of TML's Public Utility Council, argues that all essential evidence pertinent to the rate case cannot be developed without interventions by city governments and other interested parties.

Aid Up Texas state and local governments are becoming increasingly reliant on federal aid, Comptroller Bob Bullock reported in a recent study.

Federal aid is now running about a fourth of all total revenue received by state government.

The study showed more than $2.2 billion was received by Texas units of government in 1975.

The figure has been increasing about 15 per cent a year, but the increase slowed to 3.5 per cent and 3.4 per cent in 1974 and 1975.

Texas, which ranked fifth in total federal aid among the states, ranks 47th in per capita receipts.

For every dollar Texas contributes in individual federal income taxes to finance federal aid programs, it gets back 82 cents in federal aid, according to Bullock's findings.

Connally On Job

Former Texas Gov. John Connally stepped in as head of the President Ford campaign in Texas after turning down national campaign assignments.

Connally said he expects an aggressive effort in the state, and thinks Ford can win by pinning down Democrat nominee Jimmy Carter on the issues.

A Texans for Ford organization also is forming to wage a particular appeal to independent and conservative Democratic voters.

State Rep. Ray Hutchison of Dallas is expected to be Connally's right-hand man in the state campaign organization.

Carter Leading

A new poll by an Austin-based market research firm found Jimmy Carter-Walter Mondale leading Gerald Ford-Robert Dole substantially in Texas.

The Henson-Hopkins survey of 400 voters in 126 counties showed 51 per cent favored or leaned toward Carter-Mondale to 38 per cent for Ford-Dole. Seven per cent recorded undecided, three per cent declined to answer, and one per cent said they would not vote for either.

Voters under 35 showed stronger support than older ones polled.

In spite of the indicated preference for Carter-Mondale, 48 per cent of Texas voters rate themselves conservative, 38 per cent say they are moderate, and only 11 per cent give themselves the liberal label.

New Texas Rural Caucuses

Texas rural Democrats are going to organize in Fort Worth tomorrow when the Demos gather for their state convention.

Organizers of this rural caucus are not political professions, but active party workers who have piled up impressive victory margins for Democratic candidates in their small counties only to feel forgotten once election time has passed.

Thirteen rural counties feel so far removed from the state's Democratic mainstream they are not even sending delegates to the state Democratic convention.

Explains John Mead of Spicewood, who is a caucus organizer and Marble Falls school district trustee: "When we started trying to change the havoc wrought by the state's new school finance plan in rural school districts we found that, though rural people have the votes on election day, it is people from the city who control how the laws of this state are written. I hope the rural caucus, by making the party leadership aware of this situation, will help us make a change. We are the people who feed this state and if our taxes are so high we can't make a living anymore, we won't be able to continue putting food on the table. I think things will change if we can get our message across, but we must speak with a strong united voice."

The Dispatch is amazed to think that long after the "farm bloc" has lost its swat in Washington that it is going to try to come back into power at the state level.

But it's worth a try.

The debate 'possibilities'

The first of a series of three "Presidential candidate debates" under sponsorship of the League of Women Voters is scheduled for prime TV time next Thursday night.

The only other such debates in the nation's political history very much helped elect Jack Kennedy president.

It is hard to say what may come out of the new round of face-to-face political confrontations.

One could speculate that either candidate might come across the boob tube with so much more force than the other, he would command a clearcut victory and would have little need for further campaigning.

But there also is the possibility that maybe the President would "win" the first, Jimmy Carter the second, and have the nation really draped all over their home sets for the third and deciding one.

Finally, there remains the intriguing possibility that neither will prove effective and that the whole thing will become just a very expensive "ho hum" and drop the whole presidential campaign into a "second rate" category.

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 2, 1976

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 49)

Repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, S.J.R. 49 amends Section 49-c of Article III of the Texas Constitution to provide for and authorize an additional $400 million in Texas water development bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature for such water development purposes as the Legislature may prescribe.

The amendment contains a specific prohibition against the use of state funds for the development of water resources from the Mississippi River and also requires that before any single water development project may be undertaken requiring the expenditure of more than $35 million in bond proceeds, it must be approved by resolution of the Legislature.

The amendment removes the constitutional requirement that certain revenues must be used to retire water development and water quality enhancement bonds and removes the constitutional interest rate limit on such bonds.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the Legislature; amending and consolidating provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d, and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution; and repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution."

H.J.R. 99 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to increase from $100 million to $300 million the aggregate principal amount of Texas water development bonds which may be issued outstanding by the Texas Water Development Board to provide grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"A constitutional amendment to increase from $100 million to $300 million the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement purposes."

Field day for plant center

Public field day will be held Thursday, Sept. 23 at the Soil Conservation Service plant conservation center at Knox City. Conservationist George C. ... announced this week.

Grasses, forbs, legumes, other plants under evaluation at the center will be assessed during the day, ... said. The center serves Texas and Oklahoma.

Guided tours will be conducted through the 92-acre tract from 8:30 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. The center is located on FM 1200 two miles north and two and a half miles west of Knox. Box lunches will be on hand for those who wish to eat at the center.

Local seed growers, seed processors, research workers, extension agents and others interested in search for better plants are invited to attend.

Seed or rootstock from plants that show promise for solving specific soil and water conservation problems are collected, then grown and evaluated at Knox City. The more promising ones are then grown under field conditions on farms of soil and water conservation district cooperators under a wide variety of conditions. Selections that prove superior to other strains available are then released by conservation districts to commercial seed growers. These producers then grow seed and sell it to the public.

Approximately 1,200 different grasses, forbs, legumes, and woody plants are being grown at Knox City. Grass strains proven and put into use by SCS include Selection 75 kleingrass; El Reno, Uvalde, and Vaughn sideoats grama; King Ranch bluestem; green sprangletop; and Grenville switchgrass.

Mrs. Briscoe to head sight drive

HOUSTON — Mrs. Dolph Briscoe, wife of the Governor, will serve as statewide "Sight-Saving Chairperson" for this month's observance of Sight-Saving Month, it was announced today by the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

TSPB State President Gerald Z. Dubinski and Robert A. Hansen, president of TSPB's Austin Branch, said Mrs. Briscoe has filmed a television message for use throughout the state.

Gist of the message, they said, is that six or seven more Texans go blind everyday (actually 225,000 each year) and that half of this blindness can be prevented with knowledge and skills now available — "if we just reach them in time."

TSPB — a voluntarily supported nonprofit organization affiliated with the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness — is the only organization devoted exclusively to a comprehensive, statewide program aimed at PREVENTING blindness, Mr. Dubinski said.

The programs include free vision screening and free Home Eye Tests for preschool age children, free glaucoma screenings for persons over 35, industrial and school eye safety programs, public and professional education and research.

Safety expert offers two home fire drills

COLLEGE STATION — A child who has had the opportunity to practice what to do in a fire has a much better chance of surviving a real fire. Below are two of six drills offered in this series, designed to teach children how to survive a fire.

After the first try, these "fire drills" can be tested during the day or after children are in bed at night by using the signal "FIRE." In the fifth part of this series, a final "rookie" examination will be presented to determine whether your child-reen qualify as "firemen."

A drill called "Don't Gas Mask" teaches children about poisonous gases which are the true killers in fires.

Pretend the house is filling with smoke and that you must get out as quickly as possible. In all the drills, stress immediate escape. Yell "Smoke!" and have the children, wherever they are — in bedrooms, living room, kitchen — grab a pillow or several thicknesses of fluffy material such as a towel and place it over their mouths and noses. The cloth won't filter out poisonous gases in smoke but will relieve some of the irritating effects of inhaling smoke. Then have the children move as fast as they can, keeping close to the floor where the air is best. They should avoid deep breaths.

Emphasize the fact that smoke, not flames, is the Number One killer in fire. It contains large quantities of carbon monoxide and a dozen or so other poisonous gases from burning materials. By far the majority of fire victims are asphyxiated by smoke gases long before flames ever touch them. Sometimes poisonous smoke can knock you unconscious after two or three breaths and can kill you in a few minutes. Smoke always rises, making upper floors where bedrooms are located the greatest fire traps. Be sure children know that wherever there is smoke, there is potential death — so get to fresh air fast.

The next drill is called "Hot Door, Cold Door." As a part of "basic training", firemen learn the dangers of opening a door in a fire. It's something your child must know, too. Teach him never to fling open a bedroom door if he suspects fire. He should apply this test: Put his hand on the door panel and knob. If either is warm, he should not open the door, for heat and gases are on the other side ready to burst in. One lungful of superheated air can fell a person instantly. He must leave the door closed and make his escape another way.

If the door doesn't feel warm, he should brace himself against it, open it a crack and be ready to slam it should smoke or heat rush in. If all is clear, he can proceed through the door with caution.

Make sure young firemen practice this routine until they have it down pat. As a fire drill is being announced, slip a sign under the closed door reading "hot" or "cold" while youngsters react appropriately. Also, make it a nightly ritual to close bedroom doors at night unless this would prevent a bedroom fire from setting off a fire detector located in a hallway. Tests have shown that behind a closed door your survival time is from 5 to 11 minutes. With the door open the survival time is only two minutes. Ideally each bedroom should contain an audible fire detector.

Part 3 of this series provides training in two more drills designed to teach children how to survive a fire.

Coahoma rips Lope defenses for 4 TDs, 27-7 win

Bad snap on punt kick try is 2nd half turning point

Coahoma's red-shirted Bulldogs overpowered the Post Antelopes 27 to 7 at Coahoma last Friday night, but even in defeat the Lope attack showed some improvement.

This time it was the defense which had its problems as the Coahoma ballcarriers early and late found huge holes through which the moved at full speed with only tackles in the deep secondary preventing numerous long touchdowns scampers.

The Bulldogs needed only nine scrimmage plays to roll 46 and 60 yards for touchdowns the first two times they had the ball in the opening period for a 14-0 lead.

At this point, it looked like a runaway with Post unable to move the football and Coahoma running at will.

But the Lopes made "some adjustments" and made a ball game out of it.

In the second period, Post stopped Coahoma's only real offensive thrust on its 6-yard-line and a 24-yard field goal try by Coahoma kicker, Rodney Lee, was wide of its mark.

Not only that but the Lopes took the ball on their 48 yard line and slammed 52 yards in 11 plays for Post's only touchdown with Quarterback Brad Shepherd "sneaking" it in from the half yard line on first down.

Halfback Randy Baker did the "heavy work" on the scoring thrust, getting 43 of those yards on six carries, two of them being end sweeps for 15 and 16 yards.

Kicker Buddy Britton led his first conversion point of the year through the uprights and it was 14-7 with 2:24 left in the half.

The big break of the game came in the third period — and it went against the Lopes at a time when neither team could get their attack really moving.

Post had punched out two first downs to its 48, but stalled and Britton went back to kick.

The center snap sailed high over his head. By the time he retrieved it and tried to run, he was swarmed under on Post's 33 and Coahoma took possession of the football on downs.

Coahoma got a first down at the Post 34, got a clip on a long gainer which pushed them back to the 26.

Bulldog Quarterback Edwin Dickson then faded and threw a long one to Split End Lanny Gass, who had gotten behind the Post secondary in the end zone for the touchdown.

Lee converted for the third time and it was 21-7 going into the fourth period.

The Lopes then put together their best effort of the second half.

Fullback Perry Rogers returned the Coahoma kickoff 32 yards at the Coahoma 48. He plunged for four and then Shepherd danced around on a keeper to escape several Coahoma tacklers at the line of scrimmage and sweep left end for 14 yards on a first down on the Coahoma 30.

Three plays got only two yards. With fourth and eight on Coahoma's 28, Shepherd completed half of his passes of the night throwing an eight-yard gainer to Split End Evans Heaton for a first down on the 20.

Fullback Rogers got one into the line and Shepherd overthrew Heaton deep in the end zone.

Shepherd released the ball too late as he was being tackled on his next pass attempt. The ball popped high in the air and a Coahoma lineman intercepted, and might have gone all the way if he hadn't immediately fallen down.

That was on the 26 yard line and the Bulldogs consumed almost the rest of the fourth period driving 76 yards plus 20 yards in a penalty balance against them for their final touchdown with only 25 seconds left on the clock.

Halfback Jim Bob Phillips got that one from four yards out. This time Lee's conversion kick hit the upright and bounced back.

Britton's shortest punt of the season to date, a 25-yarder, set Coahoma up on the Post 46 only a couple of minutes into the first period. Phillips zipped for 12, Fullback Tracy Frazier added eight, Phillip got one, and then Quarterback Dickson on a keeper cut back up the middle rambled 23 yards for the first touchdown with 8:47 left in the first. Lee converted.

The second Coahoma score was almost a carbon copy of the first. Post couldn't move and Britton kicked 41 yards with Coahoma returning to its 45 and almost breaking it.

Halfback Ken Kelso got 12, Dickson passed 23 yards to Lee who outjumped the Lope secondary for it. Frazier got seven. Coahoma drew a 15-yard holding penalty, but Kelso burst 34 yards up the middle on a "draw" to the Post four. Frazier slashed in from there and again Lee converted. There still was 5:40 left in the period.

Statically, it was all Coahoma. The Bulldogs held a 20 to 11 edge in first downs, 256 to 19 in net running yards, and 64 yards in passing to only 20 for Post.

The Bulldogs were whistled for 95½ yards in eight penalties and it would have been 110 but a personal foul call was whistled against them on Coahoma's one-yard-line during the Post scoring drive. That time half the distance to the goal didn't mean much.

Britton for the second straight game also gave the Lopes by far the best of it in the kicking game with a 40 yard average for five first half boots.

The Lopes didn't kick in the second half, with their one attempt ending in complete disaster due to no fault of Buddy's.

Also on the bright side was the zero on the lost fumbles line in the game statistics.

The inability of the Lopes to come up with their expected aerial threat appears due to the lack of time Quarterback Shepherd has to set up and throw. Most of his throws were hurried against Coahoma and these were being overthrown. One of the nine incompletes was simply dropped.

Coahoma appeared much stronger on the run than expected and their attack had both excellent coordination and timing. In their 5-6 opener, the Bulldogs wallowed around on a muddy field and didn't have much of a chance to do anything, according to Coahoma press box observers.

Crane hunters need permit

LUBBOCK — Sandhill crane hunters will be required to have a special permit before hunting, shooting or harvesting these wintering South Plains birds this fall.

Valuable harvest information was obtained from last years survey which was sent to permit holders at the close of the 1975 season. Figures show that Lynn county lead the nation in the number of cranes harvested during that season.

The 1976 sandhill crane season is open in zone A — Oct. 30 — Jan. 30, and in zone B — Dec. 4 — Jan. 30, 1977. The daily bag and possession limits are set at three and six respectively.

This free permit is available by writing the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Bldg., Austin, Tex. 78701. Please include your name, address and county of residence in the request.

Post JVs beat Lockney with three last half TDs

Coach Jerry Reynolds' Post Junior Varsity notched its second straight victory last Thursday night at Lockney, scoring three touchdowns in the second half to come from behind for a 20 to 6 victory.

Lockney got its tally in the first half on a 30-yard quarterback run around right end on the option. The Post club never

Five special 'days' at fair

LUBBOCK — Five special days have been added to the Panhandle South Plains Fair's calendar this year, Steve L. Lewis, general manager, has announced.

Lewis said area school day would be Monday, Sept. 27; Lubbock school days will be on Sept. 28-29; senior citizens day will be Sept. 30; and college and military day will be Oct. 1.

More than 100,000 free admission tickets will be distributed to students throughout the South Plains and eastern New Mexico area. Tickets also will be given to the area teachers.

On senior citizens day, anyone 60 years or older will be admitted free. Proper identification is needed on college and military day to gain admission to Fair Park.

Area school day is so designated because of the parade of bands, which draws the area students here.

Lopes ready to play against Whirlwinds

The Post Antelopes will be ready to play a good ball game Friday night in their home opener against the Floydada Whirlwinds in Antelope Stadium. Coach Jackie Brown declared Tuesday after the Lopes had a good practice Monday.

"We're improving," Coach Brown said, "but it takes time," pointing out that only two 1975 offensive regulars will be on his starting offensive unit.

As for Floydada, the Winds are a well balanced ball club — a typical Floydada team — with both speed and the ability to throw the ball.

That's Coach Brown's assessment after going over the scouting reports.

Getting Jimmy Dorland and Randall Wyatt, a pair of experienced backs, ready to go at full speed should help the Lopes. Wyatt will be used as an alternate with Perry Rogers at fullback on offense and as a halfback on defense. He has had a sprained ankle and this will be his first game at full speed although he did see limited action against Coahoma.

Dorland also is just rounding into form and will start for the first time at wingback.

He suffered a fractured kneecap this summer and was lost through the first weeks of practice. Now he is ready to run at full throttle.

The Lopes came through the Coahoma game without injuries but will lose Mike Waldrip for the Floydada game nonetheless.

The lanky senior end underwent surgery in Lubbock Tuesday to repair a ruptured tendon in his finger. He suffered the injury in practice, hurt it again in the Lockney game, and played the Coahoma game with the hurt finger taped to the one next to it.

Waldrip is expected to be back in action next week here against Colorado City.

One major lineup shift this week will see Erik Howard starting on the offensive unit at strong tackle and Jeff Greene at quick tackle.

This will permit Danny Saldivar and Casey Zachary, starting tackles who have been starting both ways in the first two games to concentrate on defense.

Coaches want to see if the change improves the defense by taking the heavy work load off Saldivar and Zachary.

Floydada will run a wishbone option attack with the speed represented primarily in Quarterback Jay Womack, who is doing a good job throwing this year as well as running, and Left halfback Mickey Minnett, 155-pound senior.

The Winds are not a big ball club size-wise with Ron Wall, one of the starting tackles, being the only 200-pounder in the regular lineup at 209.

The Winds took a real whipping from the bigger Canyon Eagles, a class AAA club, last Friday night at Canyon 26-6, as Canyon powered their way to 26 first downs and 312 yards rushing and another 102 passing.

Nonetheless, Floydada picked up nearly 200 yards running and passing. The week before, the Winds opened at home with an easy victory over Friona. The kickoff is set for 8 p. m.

FLOYDADA ALWAYS FAVORED, BUT—

Lope upset is seen in opener

Last Friday night's games for the Post Antelopes and their 1976 opponents were plenty tough to predict — as we had correctly predicted — and this corner dropped to a .600 mark for the week picking only six of the 10.

That lowered our seasonal average to .684, 13 out of 19.

This week's games have lots of toughies too, but not as tough as last week, so here goes with our upset special of week:

FLOYDADA AT POST: Just about every other picker will be in the Whirlwinds corner Friday night for the Lopes' home opener, but we think the Lope attack will improve. Remember Post always beats Floydada its share — and Floydada is always favored.

OLTON AT LOCKNEY: Here's a toughie with the 3AA visitors something like Slaton. They're minus last year's star runner, but about everybody else is back.

COACHOMA, open date. That's the easiest of the lot.

COLORADO CITY AT CISCO: The long 150-mile trip won't help the Wolves who have yet to generate an offense but Cisco isn't rated very high in their district — bottom rung to be exact.

Idalou at TAHOKA: In losing to a class Plains team last week, the Lynn County lads piled up a whole lot more offensive yards, if not touchdowns. Idalou "ain't" Plains.

MORTON AT COOPER: One of these days the Indians are going to scalp somebody, but probably not this time although Morton has lost their first two games to much tougher teams.

FRENSHIP AT RAILS: But not by much. The Jackrabbits have scampared to two easy wins since not looking so good in a scrimmage against the Lopes.

But Frenship has won a pair too and are an AA school, which always must be figured.

SLATON AT LITTLEFIELD: The Tigers could get knocked off this week. Littlefield lost by a touchdown 25-17 to AAA Leveland last week Slaton undoubtedly peaked emotionally for

7th graders in Lockney loss

The Post Seventh Grade team bowed to Lockney 26 to 0 here in its grid opener in Antelope Stadium last Thursday night.

The visitors scored four touchdowns on wide end sweeps, tallying one in the first period, twice in the second, and a final time in the third period.

The first scoring run was only for 10 yards but the others were of 30 to 40 yard lengths.

The best offensive thrusts, a pair of them, for the Post team died on Lockney's 30 yard line.

Coach Bill Unberhagen's club will play Colorado City here in its next start.

8th graders whack Floydada

Post's two junior high teams split a grid doubleheader with Floydada in Antelope Stadium here Tuesday night.

The eighth grade team ran to their third consecutive win with a 28 to 6 victory after score was knotted 6-6 at halftime.

The locals got one TD — blocked punt, another was up on a pass interception, the fourth came on the play of the game.

The seventh grade team, looking for its first win, lost second game, 30 to 8 in opener.

Golf tourney this weekend

The annual Caprock Club Golf Tourney will be played in flights of medal play over Caprock Golf Course Saturday and Sunday.

Entry fee for the tourney is $10 and includes a Saturday night barbecue for player, wife at the clubhouse as well as participation in a long drive tourney and putting tourney prior to the barbecue.

Entries will be accepted through Saturday.

8th Graders tally 5 TDs to wallop Lockney

Guard Adolfo Varela shared scoring honors with Fullback Gary Baker last Thursday night as Coach Mickey Long's eighth grade eleven romped to its second straight triumph, this one a 36 to 0 trouncing of Lockney's eighth graders.

For a youngster who hadn't touched the football in a game before, Varela did just great. He first intercepted a pass and ran 30 yards for Post's third touchdown.

Then when the Lockney center threw the ball over the punter's head on a kicking play, he recovered the loose ball in the Lockney end zone for his second touchdown.

Wingback Noel Pena scored the first Post touchdown with a five-yard run and Fullback Gary Baker added the two conversion points.

Baker then rambled 10 yards for the second touchdown but for the conversion try was short to make it 14 to 0. That's when Varela took over. Pena got the two-point conversion after Varela's second touchdown.

Baker wound up the scoring tallying his second touchdown on another 10-yard scamper. This time Quarterback De Kirkpatrick ran in the conversion points.

Again, the entire squad into the game.

The Eighth Graders will play Colorado City here next Tuesday night in their next start.

The Floydada Whirlwinds were trimmed to little more than a breeze by the Class AAA Canyon team at Canyon last week while Coahoma was whacking the Antelopes at Coahoma. That leaves both clubs smarting for a victory with the Winds touting the most experienced firepower. But the Antelopes have a way of winning their share with Floydada, so picking a winner in Post's home opener isn't all that easy.

The opportunities for profit in agriculture over the next 10 or 20 years "at worst are going to be pretty good, and at best will be very good."

This is what Donald Johnson of Lubbock told the annual convention of Area II Young Farmers and Young Homemakers in Lamesa September 11. Johnson is Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., 25-county High Plains Cotton Producer Organization.

"The demand for agricultural products is strong and growing along with the living standards of people throughout the world," he said, "and we in the U. S. have the land, the capital and the know-how to satisfy the demand."

Referring to the group of youthful agriculturists and their wives as "the people who have the energy, the enthusiasm, the training and years in front of you, to do great things in agriculture and for agriculture," Johnson went on to urge that they take an active part in their commodity organizations and in the political arena.

Only in this way, he said, "can you assure that there will be an environment under which farmers can take maximum advantage of the opportunities that lie ahead."

Noting that most of what is being written about farm policy in this election year concerns the policies espoused by the major Presidential candidates, Johnson cautioned the group not to overlook the importance of Congressional races.

"Congress, not the President, writes the laws," the PCG official said, "and from the standpoint of potential effect on agriculture, the outcome of the contests for House and Senate seats may be as important or more important than the race for President."

Reminding the group of the old adage "There ain't no such thing as free lunch," Johnson expressed the opinion that the farm policies proposed by incumbent President Gerald Ford and challenger Jimmy Carter "each carries its own price tag."

The "lunch" Ford is serving and would continue to serve, he said, consists of a market-or-ented farm program with low loans and low target prices which he (Ford) thinks will give farmers the opportunity for maximum profit.

The price of market orientation and little or no government interference, according to Johnson is little or no protection against loss.

Carter, he continued, proposes a hunch of low-risk or no-risk investments served on higher loans and target prices or some other government protection, "which you can be sure will be paid for with either more government control, reduced profit potential, or both, because there really isn't any such thing as free lunch."

The veteran observer of farm programs, emphasizing that he was not endorsing or opposing the farm program philosophy of either party, went on to conclude that farmers in 1976 are faced with two decisions. "First, we must decide on the kind of farm program we want," he said, "and second, we must determine what we are willing to pay for it."

Hospital board—

According to the special state law creating the hospital district, the district can only levy a maximum of 25 cents per $100 valuation without a vote of the people, and must accept the county's tax rolls and taxable valuation.

Since the county commissioners court had acted that same morning to again set the county taxable valuation of 25 percent of true value, the hospital district apparently won't be in line for any increased tax help for at least another 12 months.

The problem of obtaining additional physicians for Post is considered by most hospital supporters as the one which requires immediate solution if the hospital is to survive.

Hospital administrator and directors at present are seeking foreign physicians from three foreign lands — Vietnam, the Philippines and even Ireland — in an effort to solve the situation.

Some close to the situation say the hospital began to lose its economic stability the day Dr. Charles Tubbs left Post for Garland.

Postings—

And speaking of students, one we're mighty proud of for his fast start as our new school page editor of The Dispatch is Tracy McAlister.

Tracy is getting the job done after school and on his own time. This week he launches his new column, 'Youthoughts'. He's already learned to use our camera and in another week or so we figure to have him writing all his own headlines and maybe even making his own school page layouts.

We bet you couldn't find it in the A-J football line scores last weekend, but Coach Bobby Davis's Corpus Christi Calallen team made it two in a row with a 7-4 squeeze win over Corpus Christi Miller last Friday night.

City Council—

Requested joint city-county law enforcement committee to meet with Sheriff Gene Gandy to examine condition of sheriff department's present vehicles and make recommendations to the Garza County Commissioners Court. Councilmen were told the sheriff's department car situation needs considerable improvement for effective operation of officers.

Probation of Moreau revoked

Terry Moreau of Odessa, who plead guilty to the burglary of the Ticer Grocery here Jan. 5, 1973 and received a probation of a 10-year prison sentence, had his probation revoked in a court hearing before District Judge George Hansard here last Thursday.

He was sentenced to not less than two years, nor more than ten in the Texas Department of Corrections and given jail credits.

The probation revocation came because Moreau made a false statement to purchase a firearm at Odessa, this being a federal offense.

School board—

(Continued From Page One) $87,898 to $211,346, supplies and materials from $42,103 to $146,903, and other operating costs from $68,472 to $188,073.

During those six years too, the school district has maintained a surplus which has ranged from $182,159 in 1974 to $294,000 in 1976. It will be an estimated even $200,000 at the end of the new school year.

The reader must understand, however, that the district may pay its cost of operations in its new school year through September and well into October before receiving new tax money and the surplus is needed to finance this portion of the school year.

In another major action Monday night, the trustees extended the contract of Fritchard and Abbott, tax evaluating engineering firm, for another two years but on a reduced rate basis.

The school district, which has been paying 2 1/2 cents per $100 taxable valuation for the work done by the firm in fixing proper valuation for oil and industry in the school district will reduce this to 2 cents per $100 for the next two years.

This was acceptable to the tax engineering firm as the continually increasing taxable property valuations have brought them more dollars each year for virtually the same amount of work. The reduced rate will save the school district about $3,000 a year, it is estimated.

The school district's rate of two cents is only half that of the county's and city's because the school district taxable valuations are more than twice as high as either city or school district, which evens out the return to the tax firm.

Trustees also accepted the resignation of Miss Sherry Woods and employed Miss Carroll Shell to replace her. It employed Richard Kevan Farrar to replace Jimmy McKemie who resigned just before school started.

The board also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Bill Bland as a bus driver and employed Mrs. Shirley Bland to replace her.

Trustees approved the taking of bids for sale of an old army truck, minus a motor, now behind the vocational ag building.

As It Looks From Here . . .

OMAR BURLESON, M. C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — America should take heed of a recent speech made by a Member of the British Parliament as reported in the London Sunday Telegraph. Sir Keith Joseph warned his countrymen that Britain may be on her way out as a free nation through ignorance and oversight. He said that his country might arrive at a condition of totalitarianism, not by deliberate choice but, unwittingly, by the destruction of the free market economy.

Free enterprise has been cruelly eroded in England over the last three decades. Evidently, the vast majority of their citizens look to Government as the chief employer and as the supplier of housing and numerous other services. Very systematically, the Socialist Government has destroyed opportunities for accumulation of capital necessary for the functioning of the capitalist system. Parliamentarian Joseph spoke of his concern that, before long, the British government may be the only major employer. He said that the socialist, moving ever leftward is destroying the future of a free society, including the freedom to price, freedom to create price differentials and the freedom to provide incentives for productive work.

Even the casual observer of British life, including their institutions of higher learning and their media, can see emphasis placed on income redistribution to the point that there is little wealth to redistribute. The social and economic bias against private enterprise creation and the trade unions' restrictiveness on job protection rules lock Britain into a downward economic spiral. As a result, the price of what they call "economic equality" is driving capable people and successful business overseas.

Mr. Joseph says that, "economics depends as much on what people think as what they do." Tragically, millions of Britains are thinking along nonproductive lines. For example, they are thinking of Government-financed holidays, government support of one way or another, instead of ways of promoting efficiency and increasing trade. And, by reason of geography, the British Isles are absolutely dependent on trade.

The Socialist doctrines that dominate the British economy downplay competitiveness and individual initiative. That nation is increasingly divorced from the economic realities of today.

As we have tried to say on innumerable occasions, economic freedom cannot be separated from personal freedoms. This is essentially the direction in which it seems the British have been going for years but it is now rapidly catching up with them and the threat about which Parliamentarian Joseph warns is real and rapidly becoming more acute. It would be well that all freedom-loving nations with a free economic system look at what is taking place in England and be warned — the warning should not be lost on ourselves.

Court decision helps part-time farmers

COLLEGE STATION — A recent Texas Supreme Court decision could save part-time farmers and ranchers many tax dollars, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The court held that farmers and ranches may qualify for agricultural tax exemptions on farm real estate even though they earn more than half their income from other sources," notes Dr. Wayne Hayenga. "Thus, the court relaxes eligibility requirements imposed in an earlier ruling."

The big impact will be in counties that have many part-time or low income farmers who could not previously qualify for the exemption. The Texas Constitution provides that the owner of a farm or ranch may request an "agricultural use" valuation for the property if it is his "primary occupation and source of income," points out Hayenga.

This valuation is based on the productive value of the land, which is often less than the market value generally used for computing tax payments. "The state Supreme Court ruled earlier that a property owner must show that his farm or ranch income was greater than his combined income from all other sources. But, based on opinion by Associate Justice Price Daniel, the court changed the requirement to make it easier for owners to qualify for the exemption."

Daniel wrote . . . "It is sufficient if the landowner shows that he devotes a greater amount of time to his agricultural business than to any other occupation or businesses and that he receives more gross income from his agricultural business . . ."

This ruling will help farm and ranch owners who get incomes from a variety of sources, such as business investments, royalty payments and other jobs, but who spend a majority of their time on the farm, points out Hayenga.

The pep rally really went well last Friday. Everybody was ready to yell. Along with the regular chants, yells and band tunes, a snake dance was done with half the crowd down on the floor running and yelling, "Beat Coahoma." The sophomores received the spirit stick and really deserved it. Keep it up, sophomores.

The Drama Club is looking for donations of clothes and old furniture. Anything will do as long as it's in fairly good condition. A lot of these things are needed for the all-school play that the Drama Club is putting on this fall. If you are willing to donate anything at all please call Jane Tice or Tracy McAlister and they will be glad to pick it up.

The dance really went well last Saturday with a lot of kids attending. When the dance was over, everyone hated to go home, but had to. The students decided that they wanted another dance in the near future.

A disease is hitting the high schools really hard this year. Almost every true-blooded American citizen has experienced the symptoms of this disease once in his or her lifetime. Ask yourself these questions. Have I ever had: (1) Sleepless nights, (2) a skip of the heartbeat, (3) shortness of breath, (4) a clouded mind, (5) twisted tongue, (6) severe skyness? If you answered yes to any of these questions, then you have had the disease that is eating away at the heart of nearly every high school student today. What is it? Puppy Love!

Each of us, at least once in our life, has experienced a young love for someone of the opposite sex. And remember your parents saying that it's just a phase you're going through or that it'll pass in time? Well, did you ever think to ask them how they knew so much about it? That's right, parents learn from experience. Could you imagine your father being droopy-eyed over some cute little thing with freckles and pigtails at sixteen or seventeen years old? Or your mother at that age helplessly drooling over a boy with red hair, a pug nose, and white sneakers who won't even pay attention to her? It's hard enough to imagine them at sixteen or seventeen, but to imagine them experiencing a thing like puppy love is priceless. But don't be surprised if sometimes puppy love turns into marriage, because it does. Your mother may be your father's freckles and pigtails, and your father may be your mother's red hair, pug nose and white sneakers. You know, life's funny that way.

Pork prices to drop, but beef will go up

COLLEGE STATION — Pork prices will drop in the near future, but beef prices will be higher by winter, according to predictions from Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist.

"Consumers can look for lower pork prices in the near future — as supplies are expected to be well above that of last year.

"Currently at pork counters, emphasis is placed on Boston butt roasts and quarter-joins cut into chops. Smoked features include semi-boneless hams, picnics and frankfurters," she added.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

"Beef supplies are more plentiful now — and prices are lower than a year ago. However, producers have been losing money on cattle for some time, and this situation just cannot continue indefinitely.

"The result likely will be less beef on the market this winter — and higher prices on that which is available," she explained.

"At the present time, special prices most often appear on beef chuck roasts, chuck and round steaks, ground beef and liver."

With eggs showing price increases, consumers can get most economy with a simple price-test, the specialist advised.

If there is less than a seven-cent price spread between one size and the next smaller size egg — in the same grade, the larger size is more economical.

At dairy sections, milk, sour cream and a variety of cheese are in the spotlight.

Also, instant non-fat milk is plentiful and helps stretch the milk expenditure, Mrs. Clyatt said.

"It can be used effectively in most recipes calling for milk. It need not be reconstituted for baking purposes. Add it in powder form to the dry ingredients — and add water for the liquid measure."

At fruit counters, economy buys include bananas, grapes, nectarines, pears and prunes.

Cantaloupe and watermelon of good quality have moderate prices — as the season draws nearer the end.

At vegetable counters, economy buys include cabbage, carrots, potatoes, dry onions, yellow and zucchini squash.

"Hard-shell squash supplies are increasing — with butternut and acorn varieties in best supply. Cuslaw, another fall vegetable, is also available and worthy of consideration," Mrs. Clyatt said.

In other grocery store sections, look for specials on jellies, jams and peanut butter.

LETTERS To the Editor

SNAKE STORY

Dear Editor:
Dates and names are in my past, but the actual happenings are too deeply imbedded into my memory to ever be forgotten.

I want to tell you as I have others about a rattlesnake that I saw when I was a lad of 8 to 10, in front of the taxidermist store at Post, Texas. It was in the years of 1922-24?

The rancher, or farmer unknown, stopped his wagon on the corner about a block from the Algeria Hotel, and in front of the taxidermist business. He had six donkeys pulling the wagon, and under the seat of the wagon he had the snakes head tied right up close to the seat, of which was a drivers seat, and in front of the wagon. The snake's body was the length of from the wagon seat to the back of the wagon, hung down and dragged several feet on the ground. The snake was not less than 10 to 12 inches in diameter. The picture embedded in my memory seems to be even larger than that.

We of those years know that it took six donkeys to pull a wagon load of cotton, of which the cotton weighed fifteen hundred pounds. I don't know what a conostoga weighs, but you can rest assured that even an empty wagon being pulled through what we called blow sand was quite heavy for those burros. So a six mule team hookup was normal, even with an empty wagon. In brief, I'll say it didn't take six little mules to pull the snake. The man was stout, and probably loaded the snake by himself.

I will appreciate verification on what I've written here, and believe Post Dispatch may have the data. If not surely some of your readers may have. This particular rattler was caught at the foot of the caprock, and remember the man telling the taxidermist, "that's where I go him."

YUCCA PLANTS GIFT

Dear Editor:
The Board for the Community Center wishes to publicly express their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. D. C. (Billy) Hill for the beautiful yucca plants that they have donated for the planters in front of the building. These plants have added tremendously to the appearance of our Community Center, and we are very grateful for their generosity.

Also, Dr. and Mrs. Charles McCook have graciously donated their used carpet so that the trucks for the tables and chairs can have some padding to protect the walls against marring and scarring when the trucks are pushed through the doors, or left against the walls.

Our thanks go out to all of you who have made the opening of our new Community Center such a success. We are indebted to each group who have used the Center already for their case in helping to keep the building perfect in every way.

Sincerely,
Maxine Marks
