Hereford youths held here after clubbing patrolman

Caught after wrecking car

To kill the local highway patrolman, the pair jumped back into their car, a 1973 Ford Torino, and about a half mile from the point of where they were stopped on US-84 by Morris they turned west on FM-389 and drove off at high speed. Morris said he attempted to follow them, but "lost them" and then radioed for assistance. While officers searched for his young assailants, Morris was treated for bruises and lacerations. (See Saturday roundup, Page 16)

Two Hereford youths were jailed here Saturday night within two hours after one of them allegedly clubbed Highway Patrolman Jerry Morris to the ground and then threatened to kill Morris with the highway patrolman's own 30-30 carbine while his buddy held the dazed officer down. Morris, who stopped the pair northwest of Post on US-84 after his radar clocked them at over 100 miles an hour, told The Dispatch he was "jumped" from behind by one of the youths with a stout wooden club, some call a "amacho".

Felix Herrera Cavozos, 17 the older of the pair, is in the county jail here in lieu of a $30,000 bond set by Justice of Peace Racy Robinson, charged with aggravated assault on a peace officer. The younger member of the arrested pair, a near 17 year old juvenile, was brought before District Judge George Hansard here Tuesday afternoon. The judge ordered the youth detained in custody for 10 days so a diagnostic study of him could be made by the state. County Attorney Preston Poole told the court he intended to file a motion seeking to try the juvenile as an adult. Judge Hansard said he wanted to see the results of the study of the youth before ruling on such a motion. According to Texas Criminal law when a person is 17 he is considered an adult. The juvenile will be 17 Easter Sunday. The pair were arrested by Lynn County Deputy Sheriff O. D. Woodie, who sighted them trying to hide north of Johnny Haire's farm home west of the Pleasant Valley community. Sheriff Gene Gandy said 10 to 12 officers from "all over this area", including officers from Lynn County, Jayton, Spur, and highway patrolmen from other nearby points took part in the search for the pair after Patrolman Morris radioed in news of their attack on him. After the juvenile threatened election judge had certified that 193 votes had been cast, but only 154 had signed voting lists at the Southland box plus 19 absentee votes, which totals 173, and the tally sheets showed 115 against consolidation to only 59 for which totals 174 votes. Judge Dalby said at least one convicted felon had been allowed to vote at the Southland box contrary to state law and five Lynn County residents of the Southland district had been permitted to vote absentee in the Garza County Clerk's office here whereas only Garza residents should have been permitted to vote absentee here. (See Consolidation, Page 16)

Consolidation vote canvass refused, discrepancies cited

The Southland consolidation election still is not quite over. The Garza County Commissioners court Monday refused to canvass the election returns of the balloting in the Garza portion of the Southland school district because of discrepancies. County Judge Giles W. Dalby told The Dispatch that the

Cajun humorist will be sports banquet speaker

A crowd of between 400 and 500 are expected to hear Justin Wilson, Cajun humorist and one of America's most sought after dinner speakers, at the annual All-Sports Banquet in the high school gym here Saturday night. The banquet will honor all Post High School athletes who have participated in football, basketball, track and tennis for the 1975-76 school year. It is sponsored by the Antelope Booster Club with tickets priced at $7 each. Tickets may still be obtained from Joe McCowen, booster club president, other club directors, or Joe Giddens at the school. Justin Wilson is a raconteur extraordinary and goodwill ambassador for the Louisiana Cajun. A safety engineer by profession, he traveled up and down the bayous for years telling Cajun stories. He found an ever growing market for his tales and finally was persuaded to put them on record. His first album sold over a million copies. He now has released a total of 15 albums and two singles, all best sellers. Wilson also is author of a best-selling Cajun cookbook, author of a book of humorous Cajun stories, films a syndicated cooking show for educational TV, serves as an instructor on (See Sports banquet, Page 16)

April 24 set as Cleanup Day

Saturday, April 24, has been designated as Post Clean-Up Day by the Bicentennial Committee of the Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce. All volunteers are asked to meet at City-County Park at 9 a. m. that day. Youth groups turning out should have one or more adult sponsors with them. Organizations are asked to make a sign naming their organization and fasten it to the pickup and truck transporting them on their day's assignments. Prizes will be offered clubs and organizations doing the best jobs. Everybody is going to be given the opportunity to get a piece of the action.

John Boren heads trustees

John Boren was elected president of Post school trustees Monday night at the board's annual election following the swearing in of three new board members—Clarence Gunn, Mrs. Wanda Mitchell, and Jack Loft. Boren succeeds Silas Short as the board's presiding officer. K. W. Kirkpatrick was named vice president and Mrs. Mitchell secretary. The three new trustees had a fairly light agenda for their first meeting. Budget changes approved was an increase in the lunchroom subsidy for ice cream and other supplies totaling $1,853.48 for the remainder of the school year, an increase in the subsidy for electricity for the lunchroom for $140, and $2,906.44 in salary for Sandra Alexander to head the high school's new external degree program through May 31. In other actions, trustees approved the transfer of the (See John Boren, Page 16)

Almost inch of rain in 1st shower

The first moisture of consequence for 1976 came in a welcome thunderstorm Monday morning with a total rainfall for the day measuring between .80 and .90 of an inch here in Post. Officially, Post rainfall was .85 of an inch. Rainfall was lighter in eastern and southern parts of the county and heavier in the northern part, where up to two inches was reported. As usual, County Agent Syd Conner had an old familiar word for it: "Spotted."

Some enthusiastic local folks claimed readings of "over an inch" on their local gauges. The gauge at the courthouse read .9 of an inch, according to Conner. It rained off and on most of Monday and then cleared Tuesday. Monday also brought the spring's first tornado watch for this portion of the South Plains. Conner said farmers reported Monday moisture penetrated four to six inches into the soil. He said another inch and a half or two inches — "the way it fell Monday" — and there would be enough to plant on, although cotton planting time is still a month away. Speaking of planting, the county agent reported some sunflowers planted this week on irrigated acreage in the county.

Other purchase award winners included: Friends of the Museum, $350 to Bill Craig of Tahoka for his sculpture, "Lufkin"; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Chapman, $150 to Michael Atkinson of Lubbock, "Digging for Texas Gold"; Dr. and Mrs. Charles McCook, $150 to Ted Bell, of Floydada, "Golden Autumn"; Dalby Cattle Co., $150 to Bill Craig of Tahoka, a sculpture "Cosostoga"; Giles C. McCrary, $100 Mac Carow, Lubbock an oil portrait, "Circuit Rider"; Texaco Wholesale, $75, Mike Gowen, "Rags to Riches"; and Sentry Savings Association, $75, Peggy Foy of Brownfield, "Water Supply."

Directors are now taking local applications for the administrator's position. They agree they would rather employ a local person and have that person learn the job than employ an outsider familiar with the job and probably lose him within a relatively short time to a larger hospital. Two applications had been received by the weekend.

9 indictments returned here

A Garza district court grand jury returned nine indictments to District Judge George Hansard here late Tuesday afternoon, but at Dispatch presstime Wednesday the indictments were still in County Clerk Carl Cederholm's office for processing before they could be served by Sheriff Gene Gandy and his deputies. The Dispatch doesn't print the names of those indicted and charged until they have been served. The grand jury, which worked all day Tuesday, was composed of Gene Moore, Iureman, Lewis Ammons, Tony Rodriguez, Mrs. Marion Crane, Jimmy Hodges, Mrs. Willie Burleson, Tom Harman, Johnny Kemp, Ronald Joe Babb, A. J. Baumann, Don Ammons and Carlos Bass.

Interim post to Mrs. Peel

Mrs. June Peel has been named as interim administrator of Garza Memorial Hospital to serve until a new administrator to succeed Donald Windham can be selected. Mrs. Peel, who has been assistant to Windham and also is medical records librarian, was named as interim administrator by hospital directors at a special meeting last Thursday morning. This is Windham's last week in the administrator's position after being given two weeks notice he was being relieved of his duties April 5. Mrs. Peel will be paid the administrator's salary for the period of time she serves as the interim hospital head. She told hospital directors that her loyalty was first to the hospital and she would accept the additional duties. Directors are now taking local applications for the administrator's position. Beards now 'in' for men

A beard growing contest for all Post men started Saturday for Post's Bicentennial Fourth of July celebration. Chamber directors, who held their regular April meeting last Thursday noon continued to discuss plans for the celebration. They advise there will be a penalty for men who don't grow beards but no definite plans have been made for the penalty. The Dispatch failed to note in last week's story plans for the beard growing contest. All Chamber directors and Chamber Secretary Joy Greer were urged to attend a workshop in Lubbock Tuesday. Curtis Hudman, vice president, presided over the meeting in the absence of Charles McCook who was out of the city. Other directors attending were Margie Wilson, James Dye, Lewis Holly, Robert Cox, Walter Didway, and Lewis Herron.

Record awards for art show

The sixth annual Easter Art Show sponsored by the Post Art Guild was held Saturday and Sunday in the junior high gym with a total of 228 entries, and a record amount of $1200 paid in purchase awards. The overall quality of the show could be judged by the fact that several paintings other than those winning purchase awards were sold during the course of the show. Vickie Clark, an artist from Seminole, won double honors at the show this year, with her painting, a pastel portrait, "Where Has the Time Gone", which was judged as best in show by Ted Rose of the Abilene

Time to make center rules

It won't be long now — ten or eleven weeks maybe — until Post's new community center will be completed. Or should we say the "first phase" will be completed.

So in the next two and one-half months, some preparations need to be done about implementing operations.

First, we need a set of rules for public use of the center. These won't be exactly easy. There will be those who will favor high enough rents to pay utility and janitorial costs. And then whoever makes the rules must consider that if the rental is too high the center will get only minimal use and its whole purpose will have been defeated at the start.

So the rule making won't be easy and will require more Solomon-like qualities than you might think at first glance.

Then there is the youth center operation. Since the planned "team room" is still on the drawing boards, this means that youth center operations are going to have to be conducted from the community center itself.

That will require another good study to determine the youth center needs and how best they can be fitted in with community center needs in the same facility.

What The Dispatch is suggesting is that the city council get busy with determining who is going to determine all this, so the determining can begin.

Let's not be caught like Lubbock has been with a huge convention center virtually complete and no plans or budgeted means to exploit its advantages.

This newspaper will say frankly that we feel the rental rules on the "rented community center" between the bank and postoffice were a big high.

But this is a public issue which needs facing now before the pressure goes on to come up with an immediate answer.

Nice guys on motor bikes

The Trail Riders Motorcycle Club of Lubbock which sponsors two motorcycle enduros each year on a leased course on the U Lazy S Ranch south of Post have more or less adopted Post as "their own."

When they began the Caprock Enduros here several years ago — which last year blossomed in the spring into the Post National Enduro — Post Library boosters were taking on all kinds of projects to raise funds to expand the Post Public Library. So they ran the concession stand for the second enduro — and even were on hand at the crack of dawn to cook a rather fabulous breakfast for any who were really hungry before tackling the 100 miles of cross range country motorcycle trails.

Actually, with a sandstorm and all, the long days to dark enterprise didn't make a whole lot of money.

But the Trail Riders were impressed. At their next meeting they made a generous contribution to the library's building fund. And if our memory serves us right there were other generous gifts after the first one.

After the highly successful second annual

Post National Enduro April 4, the Trail Riders celebrated with a barbecue on the U Lazy S this last weekend.

So they voted to donate $500 to the Post Community Center.

As we hear it, next year it is the Trail Riders turn to hold a banquet and they hope to come to "their town" and rent the new Post Community Center for that banquet. Of course, they said, the $500 gift to the center didn't have any rental condition attached. They just liked Post and wanted to help.

In our Dispatch coverage of the enduros we have found the Trail Riders to be a fine organization with a lot of enthusiasm and talent.

As far as Post is concerned, we are pleased to be appreciated, although we do not know what we have actually done to merit the strong financial support of the Trail Riders.

We hope the club comes to Post for that banquet in our community center in 1977 and all the members ride their motor bikes down from Lubbock for the occasion.

We think a parking lot full of motorcycles would make an unusual news picture for The Dispatch.

Spring comes at last

Spring came to Post and Garza County Monday, quite a bit late according to the calendar.

Spring is the season of rebirth. It is the season when dormant things begin to grow. For some reason, Easter to us has always helped to signify the coming of spring, because it is the holiday of rebirth of the human spirit.

When we say spring arrived here Monday we mean it arrived with a fresh downpour, a rolling bit of thunder, and was ushered in the night before with a bit of lightning.

Until the first shower comes in dry West Texas, it is very hard indeed to say that spring is here.

Spring means different things to different people of course. To the farmer it is the busy season. To the homeowner, it signifies time to get out in the yard and into the garden.

To the sports fan it means that baseball is back in season and for parents of the young it means that Little League is just a few evenings away.

For the weather-minded in this area, it means the tornado season is at hand and thankfully a few thunderheads which can spew violent raindrops as well as hail and high winds.

For almost all of us, young and old, it means the end of winter and of "indoors boredom" and of that old yearning to be off and on the move to see something new.

On school campuses it usually spawns "the silly season", but no new fads have as yet put in appearance. Streaking seems to have been the fad to end all fads.

The roar of the power mowers will soon sweep the residential districts on evenings and weekends.

The guests visited the classes as they were in progress and observed the teaching techniques of our Post school teachers. The classroom being visited above is the first grade class of Mrs. Loucille McBride, and several of her students are shown visiting with the girls. The Senoritas originally were scheduled to tour Postex Plant but that had to be cancelled because of a scheduled visit to the plant at the same time of a group of Burlington Industry officials. Injured man has skin graft

Gerald Braddock of Justiceburg underwent skin grafting on his legs Friday in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock following three surgeries on his legs injured March 29 when a windmill he was helping erect fell on him on the Walter Boren Ranch.

According to his mother, Mrs. Martha Cass, the accident occurred 26 miles from Snyder when one of Bill Criswell's crews was erecting the windmill.

She said Gerald suffered a broken left leg and a broken right ankle. He is in room 242 at Methodist Hospital.

Common sense is a great help in solving all our problems.

Farm Topics

Where green forage on pastures and ranges is still short due to lack of moisture, cattle may be inclined to feed on tender buds, flowers and small leaves of shin oak. The result could be disastrous.

Cattle, sheep and goats grazing shin oak can be poisoned. Shin oak poisoning is especially prevalent during April when shin oak is putting forth new growth.

Signs of shin oak poisoning include a blood stained diarrhea or constipation. Animals may also have a rough hair coat, dry nose and lack of appetite and may become thin and drawn. The tannin of shin oak upsets the digestive tract and kidneys of the affected animal.

What can be done to remedy the situation?

One step would be to pen the livestock and feed them for three to four weeks. Feed supplements help reduce losses, but the best remedy may be to add calcium hydroxide (hydrated lime) to the feed.

One feed formula that is both palatable and economically feasible to prevent shin oak poisoning. It includes 600 pounds of alfalfa meal, 1000 pounds of cottonseed meal, 120 pounds of vegetable oil and 200 pounds of calcium hydroxide. A custom mixed feed is also available from several feed companies.

Creep feeding calves and feeding cattle at the rate of four pounds of formula daily starting about a week before flowers and buds appear on shin oak is advised. A late frost which would cause regrowth on the oak could extend the feeding period.

Rotarians 'tape' bikes here Saturday

Post Rotarians "safety taped" between 50 and 75 bicycles Saturday morning in the bank parking lot to make the bikes more visible to motorists should they be ridden after dark.

"We could have handled several hundred more," Gene Moore, chairman of the club's safety committee reported. Assisting him in the taping were Supt. Bill Shiver, sheriff Gene Gandy, and Jim Cornish.

Rotary back to first grade

Everybody got their dates mixed up Tuesday or the Post Rotarians would have been guests of Mrs. Loucille McBride in her first grade classroom.

As it turned out, a party of Burlington Industry officials pre-empted a Postex Mill tour by some 30 young Mexican senioritis visiting in Lubbock, so the senioritis ended up in the first grade classroom instead of the Rotarians.

Mrs. McBride kept her date with Rotarians by coming to the Rotary luncheon at city hall and making a talk illustrating a lot of the educational props and equipment she uses these days and showing off some of her students' work.

"No matter how many new things there are to work with," she told Rotarians, "they'll never replace teachers."

Gazing at Garza

By MAXINE MARKS

The first important building Mr. Post ordered for the new town below the Caprock was an immense stone store building. It was to have eight large mercantile stores on the first floor, and an equal space on the second floor for offices and an auditorium. The imposing structure would be 160 ft. square.

Actual work started on June 16, 1907. The basement in the rear half of the building was dug to a depth of 10 feet and walled with concrete. Then the outer walls of the building were begun with stone from the area quarry. By July 4th the building was up several feet, a false floor laid inside, and the enclosed area provided ample space for dancing which went on at the time of the July 4th barbeque and celebration.

VISITS DAUGHTERS
Mrs. Lucy King is visiting her daughters in Plainview and Kress this week.

Focus on Home Economics

"Just being a man" is the most important aspect of fatherhood. From their dad's examples children learn what it means to be masculine. Watching and listening to their father helps children perceive how men should behave. They learn that men are more than only fathers they're husbands, career men, citizens and individuals with varied interests and talents," she said.

The best gift a father can give a son or daughter is himself — spending time working and playing with his children.

Fathers also help their children become more sociable and behave acceptably as they interpret the codes of society. They show and tell children what is right and wrong — what they can and cannot do, and why.

Fathers are one of the children's prime links with the wide world of the community. Through his conversations, interests and activities, a father influences his child's attitudes about the community.

Being a father is closely tied with being a good husband. Children benefit from family situations where father and mother share their work, friends, concerns, along with their joys too. The child's attitudes about home and parental roles are shaped by these early contacts with both father and mother and remain with him all his life.

Fathers' roles have changed over the past 20 years. They are becoming more involved with affairs and child rearing and realizing that fathering is a full time position beginning with the baby's birth.

Fathers are as essential as mothers in the lives of their children. For best physical, mental, emotional and social development, a child needs involvement with both parents inough play, decision-making discussions and everyday activities.

HUNDRED MORE FOR CENTER — Joella Sparlin, president of the VFW auxiliary, presents a $100 check, profits off the VFW benefit chili supper Saturday night, to Maxine Marks, chairman of the Post Community Center committee, for the center's equipment fund. Lopes bid for title tonight

Coach Lane Tannehill's Post Antelopes will be running, jumping, vaulting and throwing for their third consecutive district 4AA track championship on Denver City's all-weather track tonight.

"If the entire squad performs well and our relay teams come through we will have a chance at it again," Coach Tannehill told The Dispatch Tuesday afternoon.

Expecting a strong challenge from Slaton, Post is banking heavily on their relay teams for a lot of points as well as several good individual performances.

The Lopes, with good team depth, also are expected to come up with some fourths, fifths and sixths which may in the end decide which team carries home the team trophy in their school bus.

Because of the Easter holiday, a night meet is scheduled for the running finals with the field events getting under way at 1:30 p. m.

Post Does are runnersup in district meet to Roosevelt

Coach John Morrow's Post Doe track team, which edged out Roosevelt for the District 4AA track crown last spring, failed in an all-out effort to do it again at Frenship last Thursday and finished as the runnerup, 16½ points behind Roosevelt.

Roosevelt tallied 131½ points to 115 for Post.

Cooper came in a strong third with 107 followed in order by Slaton with 73, Frenship 55, Tahoka 34, and Denver City 11½.

The difference this time could have been a dropped baton by the Does' 880 yard relay team of Karen Williams, Patricia Bilberry, Jodine Tipton and Brenda Price, the same quartet which placed second in the 440 yard relay.

Post was disqualified for dropping the stick. Roosevelt won the event and picked up 20 points. Had the Does taken this relay, they would have finished a few points ahead of Roosevelt.

Only first place winners for Post were Brenda Price with a sparkling 25.4 seconds in the 220 yard dash, her best time for the distance this spring, and the mile relay team of Patricia Bilberry, Genetta and Karla Kennedy and Jodine Tipton who had a 4:15.7, also their best time of the spring in that event with 64.3, 63.9, 63.8, and 63.5 quarter times for the four girls respectively.

First and second place finishers in the district qualified for the regional meet which will be held April 23-24 in Odessa. Post qualified nine girls in eight events.

Other district qualifiers besides the mile relay team and Price in the 220 are:

The 440 yard relay team of Williams, Bilberry, Tipton and Price, second in the district with a 51.9 second clocking;

Dana Giddens, second in the 80 yard hurdles, after recording an 11.7 in the preliminary heat, her best time of the spring and an 11.8 in the final.

Genetta Kennedy, second in 100 yard dash with 11.9 clocking, her best of spring.

Christi Conner, second in the 880 yard dash with a 2:39.1, her best time of the spring.

Joni Hays, second in the shot with a 36 foot, 2 inch toss, her best throw of the spring.

Karla Kennedy, second in the high jump with a four foot, eight inch leap.

Other Post point winners in the district meet at Frenship included:

Genetta Kennedy, fifth in the 220 dash in 29.9, and Karla Kennedy, sixth in the 220 at 28.2; Karen Williams, fifth in the 60 yard dash with a 7.6; Linda Steer seventh with a 7.9 in the final of the same event after running a 7.6 in her preliminary heat.

Donna Ammons, fifth in the 80 yard hurdles with a 12.7 time; Hope Johnson, fourth in 880 with 2:48.8; Joni Hays, third in discus with 90 feet, 10½ inches; Patricia Bilberry, fifth in high jump with four feet, six inches; Brenda Price, fifth in long jump with 15 foot, four inch leap, her best of spring; and Genetta Kennedy, fourth in triple jump with 32 feet, 4½ inches.

The Does have an open date this Easter weekend before returning to action in the regional meet at Odessa with their nine qualifiers.

Each clinic participant will receive individual as well as group attention, plus strategy sessions. The three instructors will utilize the newest of tennis drills and teaching methods.

Seventh grade girls win district track crown

Coach Chili Black's seventh grade girls track team won the district championship last Thursday at Frenship with Stella Harper and Marinette Hays leading the way winning two events each with record times and jumps.

Post scored 123 points to 104½ for second place Tahoka, 100 for Roosevelt in third, 79 for Slaton, 67 for Denver City, 35½ for Frenship and 18 for Cooper.

Harper set a new record of 7.6 seconds in winning the 60 yard dash and scored another record by winning the triple jump with 28 feet, 6½ inches.

Hays sped to a new record of 12.2 seconds in winning the 100 yard dash and took the long jump with a leap of 14 feet 6½ inches for another new mark.

Both girls also ran on Post's fourth place 440 relay team with Holly Giddens and Amy Thuet and second place 880 relay team with Sharla Macy and Sherry McElroy. Harper also took a third in the long jump and Hays a second in the triple jump.

Other point winners for Post included:

Shooting the Breeze

By NAN HAIR

Yes, for the holidays! With Easter vacation coming I'd like to remind everybody to drive safely. By the time Sunday is here across the U. S. several little "Easter egg hunters" will be victims of senseless car accidents. Let's all drive defensively and look out for the other guy.

Lorry Chapman and family are going to Procter Lake for the holidays and Christy Davis may be going, also. I hope they have a great time minus any undue sunburn. As for me I plan to eat, eat, eat.

Seniors at PHS are finishing their reading of selected novels in English IV. The choice of novels were gothic romance such as "Jane Eyre" and "Wuthering Heights" and adventures such as "Ivanhoe" and "Lord Jim". All students must do the assigned activities for their novel and have them handed in before each deadline. It has really been a nice change from writing term papers and learning grammar.

Congratulations to Jenny Miller and Edward Price who were elected Mr. and Miss PHS. I cannot think of a higher honor which could be given to a PHS senior. These two are truly great choices and have given their all during their years in PHS.

Congratulations are also in order for Marinetti Hays, Stella Harper and Donna Baumann who have set Jr. High records in their different track events. I'm sure we can expect to see exciting things coming from these three young athletes when they get in high school.

The seventh grade girls track team has won the District crown. Congratulations to these young athletes, also.

Good luck to all the regional qualifiers in track and U. I. L. events. Several students from PHS will be traveling to Odessa next week to further their accomplishments, drive carefully and show them those No. 1.

Everybody needs to mark their calendars and attend the All-Sports Banquet this Saturday night, April 17th. The guest speaker is a real chuckle! You can call Joe McCowen and he can either sell you tickets or he can tell you somebody that can. The banquet is one we should all support because it is honoring all our outstanding athletes in every sport.

Happy Easter and may the "Easter Beagle" leave you the biggest, most beautiful egg.

Failure is no excuse to quit — the future always remains.

Open house is huge success

Post Plant Manager Ed Bruton said last week's public open house at the big sheeting plant was an unqualified success.

He estimated approximately 228 persons toured the plant Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the Friday group being by special arrangement from Tahoka because they couldn't come Thursday.

The county official said he did not think the discrepancies would change the outcome of the election, but the court did not feel it could canvass the voting and he said he could not certify the outcome of the election.

Judge Dalby noted that the county commissioners court has no authority to open the ballot boxes and recount the ballots.

He said Wednesday morning he was writing County Attorney Preston Poole and District Attorney Joe Smith letters telling them of the court's actions and its reasons.

He told The Dispatch the attorneys then could petition District Judge George Hansard for a recount of the ballots to make a legal certification of the election's outcome.

The court agreed to follow their decision of Jan. 12 in the budgeting of $12,500 from revenue sharing funds to be used for center operations this year.

The court at that time indicated that it would each year consider community center operational costs at budget-making time.

In other actions Monday, the court:

In an other somewhat controversial action at its Monday meeting, the court unanimously agreed not to sign a proposed contractual agreement with the City of Post on the community center.

senator but as head of the Texas delegation to the Democratic convention. After all, Bentsen is what the first Texas presidential primary May 1 is all about.

Lan doesn't take long to tick off the issues, his father's stands on them and what the senator can do for Texas.

After all, politics isn't a new game to Lan. He traveled over 35,000 miles making over 300 appearances in his father's 1970 campaign. And this year he worked hard out of state in Senator Bentsen's rather short-lived bid for the presidential nomination.

He started his own real estate company in Houston in 1973 and today the firm is a successful brokerage, management and development company.

Besides politics, Lan like his dad has proved he has the touch. He obtained his bachelor of arts degree in English from the University of Texas in Austin in 1969 and his master's in business administration from Harvard's top-ranked Business School in 1972.

Lan doesn't waste time. Take Tuesday for example. He started out in El Paso and by mid-afternoon had worked his way up to Post after stops in Midland, Odessa and Andrews. Tuesday night he planned to be hard at work on the big Texas Tech campus. Sixty-one stops are still on his schedule between now and May 1.

Two guilty pleas here

Garza District Judge George Hansard accepted two guilty pleas here Tuesday.

Edgar Earl Osby pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary of the Ince-Fina Service Station here Dec. 21, 1972, and was given a probation sentence of two years in prison.

Joseph Ferguson entered a guilty plea to a charge of delivery of marijuana. Judge Hansard entered no finding of guilt and placed Ferguson on conditional probation.

tions on the right side of his face at Garza Memorial Hospital.

Within a short while, officers found the pair's car wrecked west of Pleasant Valley.

Sheriff Gandy said apparently they had been traveling at such high speed on the dirt road that the drainage hump at the intersection had been enough to overturn the car. Neither youth was hurt in the wreck.

They got out and walked across a field to the Haire farm home where Cavozos offered Haire $20 to drive them to Lubbock, but Haire refused. So they walked north from the house on down the dirt road.

Minutes later, when Sheriff Gandy inquired at the Haire home if they had seen the two youths, he was told which way they had gone.

About this time, the Lynn County deputy spotted them trying to hide and made the arrest.

The state-issue carbine they had taken from the highway patrol car had been damaged in the auto accident and they threw the wooden stock away near the accident scene and then later threw away the rest of the weapon because they told officers it was too heavy to carry.

Both parts of the damaged gun were recovered.

Patrolman Morris told The Dispatch that after clocking the pair in the car at slightly over 100 miles an hour he stopped them. He told them he was arresting them for speeding and for littering as he observed them throwing out beer cans on the right of way.

The younger of the pair was to drive into Post behind the highway patrol car but signaled the officer he didn't have enough gas left in the tank to drive into town.

After Morris went back to check that out the youth was following a step behind him back toward the highway patrol car when the youth "jumped" him with the club.

Morris said he didn't know where the youth got the club. He said he was smashed on the side of the face at least twice and knocked down.

The juvenile then grabbed the carbine from the highway patrol car and told Morris he was going to have to kill him.

We got the idea from the banner headline on the April edition of the Bicentennial Times, published by the American Revolution Bicentennial administration in Washington, D. C., which arrived in this week's mail.

—O—

There's even a senate resolution on the subject setting the time and the hour.

—O—

John Guthrie popped in the office this week to announce that he has won a trip for two to Switzerland in a sales contest for White and Elna Sewing machines. John, with the help of some Dispatch advertising, sold 60 new sewing machines and beat out the Lubbock dealers and a whole lot of others around here for the trip, which will be coming up in October. John and his wife will fly over and back and be gone a week.

—O—

The Guthries will love that picturesque little land. We did when we barged around Europe for 13 weeks on a shoestring back after we had graduated from college. (We won't mention the year.)

—O—

Hey, everybody! Get out those dancing shoes! You'll find your invitation in this issue of The Dispatch to Gail's big Barn Dance tomorrow night (Friday, April 16). The Borden County Cancer Society is sponsoring the affair at the Gail livestock barn and it will be a real "barn burner". Last year it raised $4,000 for the cancer fund (admission is by your donation) and there are lots of special features.

—O—

When a bustling little community like Gail goes to work on a project it always turns out to "be something" and this is another "something." Still another will be coming up in late May when they stage their Bicentennial celebration including a wild west show complete with wild horses and South Dakota Indians. We understand Riley Miller is readying something you won't believe. One Gail gal (everybody has a job) is supposed to sew shirts for the Indians for the wild west show. She already has about 30 made.

"I told him he couldn't do that," Morris told The Dispatch. "I said killing me would only make things worse for him." Morris said the two then talked in Spanish and left abruptly with the carbine.

TEXAS TALK
By FRED MYERS

Cardboard chewing cattle may become more common during the next few years. Researchers say cellulose in cardboard provides a much better diet for cattle than newspaper materials which were experimented with for several years. Giving the new product the title, "Runose", promoters are pushing for acceptance of treated corrugated boxes as a viable feed supplement in the feedlot for commercial feeders. Developers advocate grinding or pelleting of the boxes, then mixing with whey (waste material from cheese making) or other materials to make the boxes more palatable. One of the key researchers for this project is Dr. John Campbell of the University of Missouri. Dr. Campbell says the process of manufacturing the boxes may increase their digestibility which "approaches or even exceeds the digestibility of common forages". For cattle, "box" lunch may take on a whole new meaning.

Extension phones.

They're well within your reach.

Hightailing it from your living room or bedroom to answer the phone in your kitchen is inconvenient, inefficient and a pretty amusing sight to onlookers. So why not add an extension or two? It's easy enough to arrange. Just call your General Telephone business office. We've got desk phones, wall phones, decorator and pushbutton phones. In plenty of styles and colors. Which makes our extensions as easy to look at as they are to get at.
