Eight hand radio thieves hit jackpot in Post Monday night. They stole at least eight CB radios from cars and pickup trucks parked in front of local businesses. From one they also

E. Parker dies at home age of 80

Funeral services for J. E. Parker, long-time community leader and Garza County judge for 22 years, were conducted at 10 a. m. Wednesday in the First Methodist Church. Parker, 80, who came to Post 10 years ago after serving 12 years as county judge, an office which he was first elected in 1964 during his service as county judge that he appointed Garza County Historical Society Committee and the present to preserve this historic past began. Parker was born in El Paso in 1896, and lost both his parents at an early age. He was raised in Sulphur, Okla., by his mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howe, and their own children became as brothers and sisters to him.

Parker was teaching school in Garza County when he was a young man when he was called to the bar. He was called to the bar in 1924 and he worked for her in the grocery business until he died. (See Parker, Page 10)

He came to Post 10 years ago from Portland and had a retired civil service position.

SAFETY AWARD PRESENTED — Phil Young of Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. presents a safety award to Postex Plant manager Ed Bruton for the plant's record of 1,000,000 hours without a disabling injury. The goal was set May 13 and with no injuries since that date the Postex record has grown to 1,000,000 hours. — (Postex Plant Photo) carried off a rifle and a pistol. Seven of the CB thefts were reported to the sheriff's office. The other was picked up from a local insurance office. There may have been others, unreported and uninsured. Those reporting lost CB units were Neal Clary from his pickup parked at 315 North Ave. S, Bobby Terry, two gone from a pickup and car parked at 901 W. 6th; two from Bob Carpenter from car and pickup at 906 West 5th; one from Jerry Bush's pickup at 905 W. 6th; one from Jimmy Hodges, along with rifle and pistol from vehicle at 13th Street and Ave. S; and one from James Dye in the 800 block on West 5th.

Barbecue Boss Lewis Holly reports everything set for the annual "cookout" with 1,250 pounds of beef brisket ordered — enough to feed 2,500 people at Post's Bicentennial July 4th barbecue Saturday evening, July 3.

Fact is, through Jim Jackson's help the Chamber saved $187.50 on the big meat order by getting the order in early when the beef brisket price was only $1.04 a pound. It's $1.19 a pound today, 15 cents higher.

Holly has planned the food for 2,500 — about 700 more than were served last year — as he anticipates a bigger crowd because of the bicentennial.

L. D. Jackson is supervising the cooking of 300 pounds of beans for the barbecue and prepared potato salad has been ordered.

Prepackaged eating utensils, napkins, salt, pepper, etc., have been ordered this year and this should save a lot of scrambling around for the various items at the last minute. Purchased in a case lot, Lewis has ordered enough for the 1977 July 4th barbecue as well.

The decision to use only beef brisket in the barbecue this year should enable the all-night cooks to put uniformly tasty meat on everybody's plate this year. Holly also points out it can be sliced easier to go further as well.

Sheriff Gene Gandy is in charge of the barbecue. (See Postings, Page 5)

Car knocks down fence

Somebody unsuccessfully tried to turn into the alley between Julian Smith and Ed Bruton's residences on North Avenue S about 12:30 a. m. Tuesday. Instead they smashed into Smith's back fence and knocked a good portion of it down.

The noise awakened a neighbor who got up and looked up in time to see the car pulling away. Smith slept through the crash and reported Tuesday he even thought the damaged fence was covered by insurance.

50 YEAR CAMP POST SCOUTER — Ike Crenshaw is shown here with a camp box that he made himself for the first camp session he attended, which was also the first scout session held in Camp Post in August of 1926. He made the box himself and used it during all his scouting years. He was a member of Troop 4 of Lubbock.

Scouter recollects Camp Post's 50 years

By BETH SHORT
Boy Scouts and Scouters, representing years from 1926 through 1976 were present at the C. W. Post Memorial Boy Scout Camp Tuesday night to celebrate the camp's 50 years of service to South Plains Scouts. Ike Crenshaw who was a member of the first troop of scouts to use the camp facilities in August of 1926 gave a history of the camp to visitors and shared some of his memories during the growth of the camp. He was also present at the barbecue held in 1926 to dedicate the camp, when over 2,000 were present for the opening. Members of his family representing three generations were present for the evening.

FORMER TV PERSONALITY — Ford Mitchell, of Lubbock or George Washington as he was known Tuesday night at Camp Post, is shown with a blunderbuss that was part of his history lesson for those attending the camp's 50th anniversary celebration. He also gave the history of George Washington's life.

John F. Lott of Lubbock and Jack Baker of Lubbock were given awards for their help in teaching Woodbadge Courses over the years. Ford Mitchell, or George Washington as he was known during the evening, gave a most complete history of George Washington and his life as an early day pioneer. He gave the similarities of Washington's life as a young man and the life of

New events for 'OS weekend'

A cutting horse contest, sanctioned by the National Cutting Horse Association, is a new added event for the "OS Weekend" here Oct. 2-3.

Jim Prather, who heads the committee who sponsors the OS Ranch steer roping and art exhibit, has told The Dispatch that the cutting horse contest will be a new feature on both days of the benefit weekend for West Texas Boys Ranch.

The contest will be conducted in a separate pen from the big steer roping pen.

Another new event on the weekend schedule this year, according to Prather, will be a Sunday church service on the ranch to be conducted by Presbyterian pastor, the Rev. Tom Pass.

July 4th celebration about ready to go

Post's Bicentennial Fourth of July Celebration — scheduled for a Saturday and Sunday, July 3-4, observance in city-county park — appears to have something for everybody.

For participants, there are plenty of contests to enter. For watchers, there will be lots of good things to watch, including all the participants, and the fireworks display.

For eaters, there will be the beef barbecue, plus all the food and drink sold by various clubs and organizations Saturday afternoon and evening, and the family picnic Sunday evening.

And for music lovers there will be an afternoon of hand music Saturday capped with the presentation of the patriotic musical, "I Love America" by the 40-voiced community choir.

The Post Chamber of Commerce is in overall charge of the Saturday activities with the Post Ministerial Alliance taking charge Sunday of what is called a "community celebration of faith and freedom."

Rites Friday Rosa Day

Funeral services for Rosa Venette Day, of Levelland, formerly of Post, were held Friday June 18, in the First United Methodist Church in Post with the Rev. Dillard Day, Baptist Minister of Cliff Side Baptist Church in Dallas, officiating.

Mrs. Day was a retired Postex worker and had only lived in Levelland four years. She died June 17 at 2 p. m. in Cook Memorial Hospital in Levelland following a lengthy illness.

She was a member of the Methodist Church and a resident of Garza County for 13 years before moving to Slaton to live with her daughter and then moving four years ago, also with her daughter to Levelland. She was preceded in death by one daughter, Joy Lynn Dosier.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Loyd Horton of Levelland; seven grandchildren (See Day rites, Page 3)

(4-H group of Amy and Lisa Cowdrey, Mark Short, Bruce Sanderson and Steve White) on show wagon.
3 p. m. — Water polo contest conducted by Fire Chief Neal Clary and firemen with fire hoses used.
3:30 — Volleyball tournament, with ribbons to be awarded seven members of winning team. Each team to have someone over 40 and under 12. Contact Joe Giddens for team entry.

ROCKING CHAIR SINGER — Eddy Nicholson, who sings bluegrass gospel songs out of a rocking chair, will present his unusual program, "Folks Ain't A-Livin' No More" at 8 p. m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church as a special Post bicentennial event with the public invited.

Eddy Nicholson will sing bluegrass gospel

A rocking chair, normally identified with age and aches, is a vital part of one man's performances.

He is Eddy Nicholson, a Tennessee Hillybilly who has parlayed a smoothly produced package of down home stories, bluegrass style gospel songs and genuine mountaineer philosophy into a program now enjoying national success.

The unique program is called "Folks Ain't A-Livin' No More."

The First Baptist Church is bringing Nicholson to Post for a Bicentennial event at 8 p. m. Sunday evening, June 27 with the entire community invited to come and hear him.

Nicholson's program will replace the church's usual Sunday evening church service and is scheduled so others may attend their own evening services and still come hear Nicholson.

Stolen car is found in lake

Eddie Holly reported his 1970 Oldsmobile stolen early Friday from the parking lot of Western Danceland.

The sheriff's department recovered it 24 hours later — from the bottom of south lake in city-county park. It has been driven into the east end of the lake off the entrance road into the park.

holiday mail service here, effective July 1.

Beginning Saturday morning, July 3, window service at the postoffice will be discontinued on Saturday mornings. Mail will be boxed and delivered on all routes, both city and rural, on Saturdays through.

Effective Sunday, July 4, mail will no longer be boxed in the local post office on Sundays and holidays. No mail will be dispatched out of Post on Sundays either. McAllister said, pointing out that letters mailed on Sunday will not leave the post office here until Monday.

To mail letters on holidays, letters must be placed in the out of town drop located at the rear of the post office.

The Dispatch understands these economy moves are being taken on a national scale in an effort to trim the mounting postal deficit a little.

Five youths are charged

Five Post youths were arrested last week for possession of marijuana by Deputy Bobby Dean. Misdemeanor charges of possession have been filed against each of them in county court.

Randy Lee Peel was charged with possession of marijuana of less than four ounces and more than two ounces.

Charged with possession of less than two ounces of marijuana were George T. Pierce II, Jewell Odean Cummings Jr., Randy Ray Bell, and David Wayne Childers.

Mostly wind, sand, thunder

Plenty of wind-blown sand and lots of thunder and lightning have been reported in June thunderstorms here, but very little moisture.

Post officially received .06 of an inch Monday night and .13 of an inch Tuesday night. That brought the June total to only .56 of an inch, the other .36 falling on June 13.

Another Post 'doer' is gone

Post bid farewell to another of its pioneer oldtimers yesterday at the final rites for J. E. Parker, a man who has been a part of the local scene for the last 60 of this town's 89 years.

He served as county judge for 12 years and before that had a business career as a grocer and baker.

He wrote in Wagon Wheels, Garza's own history, that his greatest satisfaction as county judge was appointing the first Garza Historical Survey Committee and getting that very active program of preserving the past started here.

He served this community well as a member of the city council and of the school board as well as 12 years as county judge. He was a charter member of the Post Rotary Club and one of its presidents.

J. E. gave a great deal of his time to work in the Methodist Church here. He was a steward in the church for over 40 years, served several years as chairman of its board, and until he died Monday was the last surviving member of the building committee which was in charge of building the present church in 1927.

To many here, he simply was "Mr. Methodist."

He worked with the Boy Scouts and for 23 years served on the draft board after seeing army service in World War I.

J. E. was one of those kind of men who didn't quit work at 5 p. m. He found lots of community jobs worth doing and spent a busy lifetime doing them.

We are all in his debt today — and in the debt of the men and women like him who helped to build Post into a solid, great-place-to-live town. But we think he enjoyed making his contributions and got his satisfaction from life in doing what he could from day to day.

Baseball workers saluted

The Dispatch tips its editorial hat to all the Post and Garza folks who have been involved in the Babe Ruth and Little League summer baseball programs here.

From a sidelines viewpoint, we think the operation of the two leagues this year was one of the smoothest on record. And they worked well together when cooperation was essential.

We dare not try to name everyone involved under Norma Baumann, president of the Babe Ruth League, and Bob Carpenter head of the Little League, both of whom did an outstanding job.

Managers, coaches, umpires, and dozens of others who helped in many ways all contributed their share to the success of these two baseball programs.

The thought struck us that the summer baseball program probably involves more Post folks working together in harmony than any other program on this community's annual calendar.

While all the hue and cry is over winning, the big gainers in the summer baseball program are all the youngsters who have the chance to participate. And they wouldn't get the chance year after year without the dedicated efforts of dozens of adults who voluntarily do all the jobs so necessary to keep the leagues in operation.

No rural monster

A few months ago a Dispatch editorial called attention to the fears felt by many Texans in rural areas that the federal health planning and resources development act of 1975 would doom the small community hospital.

Not so, reports Senator Lloyd Bentsen in his weekly news letter this week.

The Texas lawmaker said he has been assured by the secretary of health, education and welfare that just the opposite is true.

"The first priority stated in the act singles out rural areas for special attention," H. E. W. Secretary David Mathews was quoted as saying. "We cannot support any approach which would adversely affect the ability of rural areas to maintain adequate health care services," he said.

Mathews insists the Health Planning Act of 1975 is not a new program which will involve the federal program more deeply in local medical affairs. Rather than increase the involvement of federal government in local matters, it takes authority away from the bureaucrats in Washington and gives more responsibility to state and local officials.

Senator Bentsen said Mathews has reassured him that the new law will not close rural hospitals in Texas and concentrate hospital services in urban areas instead. Mathews said the concentration of hospital services in urban areas would be contrary to the law, which singles out rural areas for special attention.

The Texas senator says he realizes federal government quite often misses the goals it sets by wide margins because when the bureaucracy finishes issuing its edicts and guidelines and regulations, the results are far different than what was originally intended by congress.

Bentsen says for this reason he got the H. E. W. secretary on record early and that he will continue to keep a watchful eye as implementation of the Health Planning Act is carried out.

All of which is good news.

The Dispatch however, will add one further note of caution. While the bureaucrats in Washington may not be making decisions which will doom rural hospitals, a new regional layer of bureaucracy which administers the act may become the culprit. The control of such regional health councils of course lies with the big population centers, all of which would be delighted to become medical centers at the expense of the small towns.

So let's keep our guard up and watch carefully what is happening with the organization of the regional health authority for the Lubbock area.

BiCentennial Bits

BY BARRY TRANK

In practice they were second cousins to pirates. Yet a thin veil of legality gave them recognition, respectability and sometimes renown. They were called privateers.

The custom started in the 15th century, and came to full flower in the 1700s, lasting until 1856 when leading nations met in Paris and declared that privateering should be abolished.

Lacking strong navies, many nations commissioned privately owned ships to assist them in time of war. Privateers were fast, armed sailing ships. Under their commission, called "letters of marque", they attacked enemy merchant ships, sank or captured them, and confiscated the cargo.

The Captains of privateers at times had blind spots in differentiating between enemy ships and ships of neutral or friendly nations.

The Continental Congress, acting more boldly, in March, 1776, turned loose American privateers to prey on British shipping. However, most of the commissions were granted by the States. The ships sailed under State flags.

Sam Smedley went to sea at age 15. Three years later he commanded his own ship, the "Defence," which he sailed under the Connecticut flag, 89 feet long, with a 25 foot beam, drawing only 8 feet of water, it easily outlasted most British vessels.

On one cruise in 1778, Smedley "fell in with three British privateers. He captured two of them — these captures producing upwards of $8000 alone." During the war he captured 14 British vessels. From these prizes he became a wealthy man.

Abraham Whipple and crew once disguised his ship "Providence," and joined a British convoy bound from the West Indies to England. On each of the consecutive nights he captured a ship from the convoy, and headed it for Boston. Eight of them reached that port, their cargoes worth a $1,000,000.

The scope of privateering during the Revolution was impressive. Some 90000 men took part; more than the total number of Continentals and militia in any year, 1776 only excepted.

Over 2000 rebel privateers nicked Britain's commerce for $18 million. Aside from the disruption of trading, this freebooter approach yielded little to the war effort. The prize money was divided mostly between the crew and the ship's owners, making many of them wealthy. Privateering came close to becoming synonymous with profiteering.

For the ambitious and adventurous privateering promised excitement and riches. Army recruiters, promising $5.00, with honor and glory thrown in, found themselves in the second echelon.

THE PRICE THEY PAID

Have you ever wondered what happened to those men who signed the Declaration of Independence?

Five signers were captured by the British as traitors, and tortured before they died. Twelve had their homes ransacked and burned. Two lost their sons in the Revolutionary Army, another had two sons captured. Nine of the 56 fought and died from wounds or the hardships of the Revolutionary War.

What kind of men were they? Twenty-four were lawyers and jurists. Eleven were merchants, nine were farmers and large plantation owners, men of means, well educated. But they signed the Declaration of Independence knowing full well that the penalty would be death if they were captured.

They signed and they pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor.

Carter Braxton of Virginia, a wealthy planter and trader, saw his ships swept from the seas by the British navy. He sold his home and properties to pay his debts, and died in rags.

Thomas McKean was so hounded by the British that he was forced to move his family almost constantly. He served in the Congress without pay, and his family was kept in hiding. His possessions were taken from him, and poverty was his reward.

Vandals or soldiers or both, looted the properties of Ellery, Clymer, Hall, Walton, Gwinnett, Heyward, Rutledge, and Middleton.

At the Battle of Yorktown, Thomas Nelson Jr., noted that the British General Cornwallis, had taken over the Nelson home for his headquarters. The owner quietly urged General George Washington to open fire, which was done. The home was destroyed, and Nelson died bankrupt.

Francis Lewis had his home and properties destroyed. The enemy jailed his wife, and she died within a few months.

John Hart was driven from his wife's bedside as she was dying. Their 13 children fled for their lives. His fields and his grist mill were laid waste. For more than a year he lived in forests and caves, returning home after the war to find his wife dead, his children vanished. A few weeks later he died from exhaustion and a broken heart.

Norris and Livingston suffered similar fates.

Such were the stories and sacrifices of the American Revolution. These were not wild-eyed, rabble-rousing ruffians. There were soft-spoken men of means and education. They had security, but they valued liberty more. Standing tall, straight, and unwavering, they pledged: "For the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of the Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other, our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

They gave us an independent America. Can we keep it?

Four attend music camp

LUBBOCK — Four students from the Post area participated in the annual Music Camp that was held June 13-19 on the campus of Lubbock (Texas) Christian College.

The week's activities included instruction in choral and instrumental music, marching, training in music fundamentals, song directing and sight-reading.

The young musicians also participated in a picnic, basketball, roller skating, miniature golf, softball, a variety show and a campfire devotional.

Music camp is held each year for junior and senior high students under the direction of Dr. Wayne Hinds, head of the LCC Music Department. A staff of 15 instructed, while 18 LCC students were counselors for the teens who lived in the men's and women's dormitories.

The camp drew 210 participants from 10 states, including Alabama, Arizona, Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Texas and Wyoming.

Post students attending were Allen Carpenter, William Morrow, Rachelle Smith and David Weaver.

Texas hunting seasons for 1976 are announced

LUBBOCK — The new 1976 hunting seasons have been set by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission and hunters can plan their outdoor trips to the field this fall.

Deer season for the Panhandle has been set for Nov. 20 through Dec. 5 and the season on the South Plains runs from Nov. 13 through Jan. 2. The turkey season in both regulatory regions runs concurrently with the deer season.

Texas deer and turkey hunters pumped over $132 million dollars into the state economy last year according to a Texas Parks and Wildlife Department economic study. Sales of various hunting licenses, including the combination hunting and fishing license, accounted for some $6.4 million of the total.

More than one-half million hunters harvested 348,953 white-tailed deer in 1975 and 11,066 mule deer were bagged in west Texas during the same period.

The turkey harvest increased 122 percent during the 1975 season and this increase over 1974 was attributed to a poor spring hatch and a conservative approach by landowners in the harvest of turkey on their property.

Quail hunters will have from Nov. 13, 1976 through Feb. 13, 1977 to hunt both scaled and bobwhite quail. Detailed information about each county will be available in the new 1976-77 Texas hunting and fishing guide. There are no changes in the daily or possession limit for these popular upland birds.

The antelope season for the Panhandle will be Oct. 2-5 and for the South Plains, Oct. 2-10. An aerial survey of the antelope is being conducted this month and results will be studied and predictions made later this summer.

The popular prairie chicken season for 12 of the Panhandle and South Plains counties will be Oct. 16-17 with no changes in bag limit or methods of harvest. A 21 percent increase in the number of birds counted on the booming grounds in the Panhandle suggests a good production year for the fast flying birds.

The tough aoudad sheep hunters will have Nov. 6-12 to bag their elusive quarry with only 33 percent of the hunters being successful over the last few years. Camouflage and alertness seems to typify these caprock-dwelling sheep.

Area pheasant hunters will again have two full weeks to chase the wily ringneck in the Panhandle when the season begins Dec. 11 and continues through Dec. 26.

Continued rains and good hatching and fawning conditions are being observed by P&WD personnel at the present time and a projected forecast of good hunting is indicated.

The new 1976-77 Texas hunting and fishing guide is in the final stages of production and it should be available at license vendors by Aug. 10. Complete county-by-county information listing dates, bag limits and methods and means of taking game birds and animals will be included in the free guide.

Hunters are reminded to contact landowners early for permission to hunt this fall as the number of sportsmen increases each season in the field.

THERE'S HISTORIC GRAFFITI AT EL MORRO NATIONAL MONUMENT

There is a guest register at El Morro National Monument that is a little out of the ordinary. It stands in front of the visitor center, a slab of sandstone placed there so that you might record your name.

It provides a kind of living history lesson, because people have been recording their names on the big sandstone slab behind the visitor center for centuries.

The big bluff — known as Inscription Rock — is closed to further graffiti today, so that the historic messages recorded on it will not be destroyed.

Prehistoric Americans were the first to carve on Inscription Rock, which is located on NM-53, just south of Interstate 10 between Grants and Gallup, N.M.

The 200-foot high bluff, called by some the world's largest astrophotograph album, played an important part in the movement of Spaniards across the Southwest — it served as a landmark and the small pool at its base supplied water for weary travelers.

If you take the self-guiding trail along the base of the cliff, you'll see where Don Juan de Oñate recorded his presence.

"Paso por aqui," begins the Oñate inscription. "There passed by here the governor Don Juan de Oñate on his return from the discovery of the sea of the south, April 16 of the year 1598."

Starting with Oñate's inscription, there is an almost continuous record of 160 years of exploration and conquest.

You'll also see the markings of soldiers, gold seekers, cattlemen and other early western explorers.

In 1849, Major Simpson rested his United States troops in the shade of El Morro. His name and the name of R. H. Kern, an artist who accompanied him and recorded the carvings on the Rock, appear there.

On early traveler of interest is L. Edward F. Beale, who in 1857 led a camel caravan from El Morro en route to Zuni and the West Coast. The marks had been imported for use in the Southwest.

Above the pool, you can see the nests of swallows attached to the cliff. Part of the fun of a visit to El Morro is studying the life and animal life and the history of the area.

A second trail will take you to the top of the cliff and on the way you will pass out of the

Twin Cedars Nursing Home News

By INA COX

Hello, I am the new activities director at Twin Cedars, and will try to give you some news about the home each week.

Everyone enjoyed the Sunday services brought to us by Edgar Fox of the First Christian Church.

We would like to thank Mrs. Jimmy Bird for the beautiful knitting yarn she gave the residents of the home.

Mrs. Evelyn Roach Listikow and Mr. Howard Ferguson are new residents of the home and we want to make them welcome.

Maude Dobbs, one of our nurse's aides was visiting in Dublin, Tex., a few weeks ago, and while there she visited Mr. and Mrs. Luther Harper in the nursing home there. They are former residents of Post and they asked that she give their friends in Post their best wishes. They are fine. Maude is now visiting in California.

Since we haven't had a column for some time, it's impossible to list all our visitors at this time, but will try to list them in the future.

Upper Sonoran life zone, dominated by pinon and juniper and into the Transition Zone, where Ponderosa pine and oak grow.

At the top of the bluff the ruins of two pueblos are preserved. There Indians left carvings of men, goats, winged serpents and birds on the face of the cliff.

There is a small campground and picnic area at El Morro and camping supplies and meals are available at the small town of Ramah, 13 miles from the monument. Overnight accommodations can be found at Gallup, 58 miles away, and at Grants, 43 miles away.

If altitude concerns you, remember that the visitor center is at 7,218 feet.

If you are planning a vacation Right Around Home, write the National Park Service, P. O. Box 728, Room P-3 Santa Fe, N. M., 87501, for a trip planning guide to those parks within an easy drive of your home.

Shower for Mrs. Ledbetter

The honoree opened an array of gifts which were then displayed.

The serving table was covered with a yellow cloth and centered with a baby arrangement of votive candles and hand-crocheted flowers in pink, yellow and blue. Nut filled cookies, punch and mints were served by alternating hostesses.

Hostesses for the event were Mmes. Bud Howell, Melvin Williams, James Stone, Delton Moore, Q. R. Maxey, E. E. Peel, Elmer Cowdrey, Brenda King, Lewis Mason, Jerry Bush, Ronnie Graves, Noel White, Bobby Cowdrey, Silas Short, Bryan Maxey, Pearl Wallace, Mary Cowdrey, A. O. Parrish, Carl Fluit, Bob Lusk, Delwin Fluit, Viva Davis and Joella Sparlin.

SIMPLE, YET ELEGANT, this contemporary dining room would be a welcome addition to any home. Washable wall covering, Formica® plastic and other washable surfaces make it easy to care for with Glass*Plus™ glass, appliance and cabinet cleaner. The round pedestal table with cushioned swivel chairs comfortably seats four; the low-styled counter and cabinet (in rear) provide both storage and serving space. Recessed lighting accents decorative accessories and lends a romantic mood to everyday dining.

SILK RETURNS TO HIGH FASHION

Silk, once an elegant fabric only for royalty, is back on the fashion scene available to housewives.

Silk is being offered in pure silk or in blends in soft pastel colors. The most popular silk and silk-cotton blends are woven to satisfy the wash and wear requirements.

This fabric has insulation and absorption qualities that make it wearable year-round. It's warm in winter and cool in summer.

The most important fabrics are crepe de chine, soft broadcloths and slubby shantung.

Garments designed in silk feature three-piece vested skirt suits with softly tailored lines and a blazer jacket.

The soft shirt dress in pure silk linen is a seasonable style for wearing all year.

But sewing silk requires special care in construction to produce a professional looking, longer lasting garment. Shortcuts in sewing silk are not appropriate.

June nuptials are announced

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baldwin of Omaha, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. William S. Bevers of Post wish to announce the marriage of their children, Cheryl and Larry in the Parkside Baptist Church, Omaha, Neb., June 12.

The Bevers are at home at 111 11th St., Post.

The family of the late E. C. Hill met June 13 in Post for a family reunion in the home of Letha and Guy Parks.

Those present included, Joyce and Harry Pouder, Jaunice and Bill Surface, Freddie and Orville Sexton, and Rhonda and Milk Sexton all of Oklahoma City; Hoyt and Margo Hill of El Canyon, Calif., S. E. and Kat and Jana Hill of Little Rock, Ark., Jemie and David Harthorn, Dale and Dean Harthorn, Judy Pitts and Bryan, Greg and Todd Pitts all of Tulsa, Okla., and from Post, Wanda Morris and Ambers and Jewel Parrish.

Former Post woman now in Honolulu

Staff Sergeant Kenneth Hopkins, his wife and son are now stationed at Hickman AFB in Honolulu. Mrs. Hopkins, is the former Sandra Guichard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Guichard of Post.

Scouter —

Boy Scouts in our time.

The slide presentation he presented began with Washington's life and followed through to his death complete with the story behind the paintings made of Washington during his lifetime.

Ford is serving as Roundup Chairman for the South Plains Council this year.

Chief Runkles who the first camp ranger of Camp Post and served for many years was present to complete the remembered history of the camp and to share some of the humorous memories concerning the boys who made the camp what it is today.

He recalled the time he was on a nature hike with a group of scouts and a golden eagle swooped down among them captured his prey which was a small animal, and lighted near them on a rock. He glared at the group as if to challenge them to just try to take his lunch. Also the time a young scout came breathlessly into the camp and said, "come quick, there is a little man from a flying saucer in a tree watching us," which turned out to be, when investigated, a coon sitting on his perch, probably seeking safety from all those noisy scouts.

Several collections of mementos collected through the 50 years the camp has been in service were displayed during the evening. Copies of the first scout hand book and many of the first items used at the camp have been preserved by those who enjoyed the camp over the years.

charge of the all night barbecuing effort and cooks will wear bicentennial vests and hats to add a real holiday touch to the affair. City Manager Pete Maddox and city workers have promised to come up with enough fire wood delivered to the park for the barbecue fires.

Not only will the barbecue be bigger and better this year but so will the fireworks display. It will be capped off with a big bicentennial flag, which is the most expensive item in the fireworks show. So don't go home until you see the flag.

One final celebration note. It isn't easy to get all the details of all the contests lined up sufficiently far in advance that the full story can be told the interested public. You'll find the time schedule for the two-day Post celebration in today's lead story and there will be more details to go with the schedule in next week's issue.

This 'trail drive' on streets only

LUBBOCK — Come 1977, there will be only a few who can say, "I remember the Longhorn trail drives of 1976 because I was there."

Some who will have the most vivid memories are those who ride in the symbolic Texas Tech University Bicentennial Longhorn Trail Drive from San Antonio to the Ranching Heritage Center in Lubbock. There still is time to sign on for the ride.

The Longhorns are now "in training" for the drive at the YO Ranch in Mountain Home — choosing their lead steer, picking a "buddy" with which they'll travel the distance, and deciding a pecking order to find their place in the herd.

These are decisions the Longhorns make for themselves, and by the time the 70 animals start the drive June 27 they will know which steer they are following, and they'll horn out any steer that gets out of line.

The Texas Tech Longhorn drive will be different from most this Bicentennial year. It will last from June 27 to July 2, arriving in Lubbock in time for the formal opening ceremonies at the Ranching Heritage Center at The Museum of Texas Tech University. The opening is scheduled for July 25.

The 12-acre Ranching Heritage Center has a score of historic ranch buildings authentically restored, furnished and landscaped to depict the development of ranching in the American West. Mrs. Lyndon Johnson will dedicate the center July 2. Its interpretive program was made possible by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, Washington, D. C.

While most Bicentennial trail drives are relatively short and move through open country, the Texas Tech drive — like the Ranching Heritage Center itself — will give urban dwellers an honest look at their history.

The drive will move through main streets in San Antonio, Kerrville, San Angelo, Stamford (in time for the 46th annual Texas Cowboy Reunion), Midland and Lubbock.

In the open country, the animals will be trucked. The arrangement is partly a concession to the difficulties in mixing cattle herds and impatient, 55-mile-an-hour highway traffic. The major goal, however, is to let the greatest number of people possible have a look at their past, an era that faded in the turn of the century.

Any who want to join the drive for the entire route, participating in Bicentennial festivities in the towns through which it moves, should write or phone the YO Ranch, Mountain Home, Tex. 78058 or 512-640-3222.

In each town, sheriff's posse and riding and rodeo clubs are invited to participate. Club officers should contact local Bicentennial committees or phone Dr. J. Wayland Bennett, 806-742-4277. He is the Texas Tech coordinator for the drive. Charles Schreiner III of the YO Ranch is trail boss. He also was the first president of the Texas Longhorn Breeders Association of America, organized in 1964 to recognize the Texas Longhorn's link to American history, to promote the breed practices and to encourage the development of herds to preserve for posterity a magnificent breed of cattle.

The Longhorn is as American as the land the animal dominated in the last century. The developed as wild stock out of Spanish ancestry.

Longhorns are big, raw-boned and rangy, with slatted sides and a squarish look. Steers on the Texas Tech drive will weigh about 1,500 pounds each. They have long legs with the huge front quarters making the front legs appear shorter. The head is large and long. Some have a thatch of hair between the horns. The neck is short. Hair is coarse and thick with a heavy dewlap beneath the neck.

The horns are either oxbow or corkscrew, and they grow as long as the animal is healthy. On a steer they can be six feet or longer.

No two longhorns are exactly alike in color. They can be mulberry, speckled and ring-streaked, slate, mouse-colored, dun and brown, yellow and cream, or spectacular shades of red.

The steers being trained for the drive — by honking horns and molesting them in other ways they might encounter on the trip — come from four ranches. They are from herds belonging to H. C. Carter, Austin, Carter McGregor, Wichita Falls, Dan Harrison Jr., Houston and Charles Schreiner, Mountain Home.

This month the trail herd was filmed at the YO by Doty Dayton Productions which is producing a commercial motion picture, "The Saga of Jimmy Dee, Pony Express Rider 1860," a family western by the same company which produced "Where the Red Fern Grows" and other "G" rated films.

Along with the stars there will be appearing in the film the Texas Tech trail drive ramrods, Texas Special Ranger Jimmy Dee (whose real name is James DeLesdernier), cowboy cartoonist Ace Reid, Van Poorman and Charles Schreiner IV.

Cantaloupe are good price choices now

COLLEGE STATION — Cantaloupe and honeydew melons are good choices, pricewise, at most Texas grocery stores currently, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reports.

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System.

"Also, this is the season for Granny Smith apples from New Zealand — and they're good for eating fresh or for cooking," the specialist said. First-of-the-season fruits appearing on the market include Bing cherries, Perlette grapes, peaches, nectarines and plums.

"These are rather costly now, but prices have already started trending downward," Mrs. Clyatt noted.

Fresh vegetables now in adequate supply — "especially good in salads" — are tomatoes, radishes, spinach, Romaine, green onions, new-crop green cabbage, cucumbers and a variety of leaf lettuces.

"Also, sliced zucchini squash is an appetizing addition to the salad bowl," the specialist added.

"Budget boys in the fresh-vegetable department are carrots, yellow onions and red potatoes, while corn offers last eating at attractive prices. "If consumers want to can or freeze corn for later use, they should start looking for those good corn values now," Mrs. Clyatt advised.

Lorenzo Alexander Youth Council News
Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick donated a pool table to the Lorenzo Alexander Center.
Remember last week when the Levelland softball team challenged the Youth Council to organize a team in one day to play them? Well, we did but, they didn't. It's obvious that Post does strike fear in the hearts of other towns.
Saturday did not only mean the beginning of another weekend but, the beginning of unity among the youth and elders as well. The celebrated 19th of June brought together about 450 persons to the center for a barbecue. The turnout included a family from Ft. Worth and various individuals from Lubbock, Slaton, Tahoka and Snyder.
We wish to thank the many people who donated their time, effort and utensils to make the barbecue a success. A special thanks to Mr. "Budda" Harris, Mr. Mack Porter, and Ms. Martha Davis.

The barbecue was topped by a swimming party of some 100 young people. Those who entered the area had to participate whether they wore swimming trunks or not. Center Director Larry Johnson stated, "that the 19th was the best day in all the years of my life." "It seems like Christmas," one person said.
Ms. Hope Johnson has volunteered to conduct an arts and crafts class 5:30 to 7:00 p. m. on Fridays.

The council meeting Sunday organized a fund raising and planning committee. Chairmen appointed to the two committees are Ken Curtis and Mrs. Bobbie Porter respectively.

Cards lead Red Sox as Little League finish nears

Billy Martinez hits 3 homeruns in one game

Post's Little League is closing in on its widest finish in years with the Fire Department Cardinals two victories up on the George R. Brown Red Sox but the two teams tied with three defeats each in the loss column.

Final regular season games and necessary makeup contests to follow next week will decide the outcome but with a protested game last Friday night likely to play a very large role in determining the 1976 league champion.

As the protested game was played the Red Sox came up with a big four-run rally in the last of the sixth to defeat the Taylor Tractor Deeres 16 to 15 — but.

Bob Carpenter, league president, explained it to The Dispatch this way:

The Red Sox used an ineligible pitcher in the top of the sixth, by putting back on the mound a pitcher who had pitched earlier but been removed.

When the Deeres objected to the umpire at the time, he ruled it legal because such a change is permitted in Babe Ruth play.

The Deeres went down in order and then the Red Sox came up with their rally and won the game. The protest was lodged after the game was completed, due to the umpire's incorrect ruling, and by league rules was not a legal protest.

The rules committee took the big mixup into consideration, caused by the lack of knowledge of the rules by the Red Sox manager, and ruled the final inning of the game be replayed. That leaves the Deeres leading 15 to 12, and could wind up being the loss that cost the Red Sox the title if they can't come up with another winning rally in their half as they did Friday night.

To further confuse the finish, the league accepted a Lubbock invitation to send its first place team to a Lubbock Invitational Tournament Saturday night. The league decided the team in first place Saturday will represent Post.

The regularly scheduled Saturday night game between the Red Sox and the Yankees was played Monday night in an effort to give both contenders the fairest possible shot at the invitation.

The schedule of makeup games to be played and the date of the annual awards night ceremony are yet to be announced.

Each of the two title contenders, the Cardinals and Red Sox, rang up three victories in the past week's play with the protested game between the Deeres and Red Sox not figured either way in the standings.

The Cards scored an easy 19 to 3 win over the Yankees last Thursday night, whipped the Deeres 11 to 8 Saturday night, and won a well played 3 to 2 decision over the Tigers Monday night.

The Red Sox won a 16 to 8 victory over the Dodgers last Thursday, a 7 to 9 weather-shortened four inning game over the Yankees Monday night and squeezed by the Tigers 11 to 10 Tuesday night before rain washed out the second game.

The Cards managed only three hits in routing the Yankees 19 to 4 in a game shorted to five by the 16-run rule last Thursday night. Catcher Chris Belongia got two of them.

The Red Sox had to score a run in the bottom of the sixth on a walk and an error to take their Thursday night victory from the Dodgers after the Dodgers had scored two in the top of the sixth to knot the score at 15-15.

Gilbert Perez got three hits for the Dodgers in that one, including a homerun in the Dodgers' five-run rally in the second.

First baseman Brad Greer got three singles in four tries for the Tigers Friday night to lead them to their 12 to 10 win over the Yankees. Pitcher James Brown cracked out three hits in three official trips for the Yanks.

On Saturday night, Dana Scott smacked a homerun with one on and two singles in five trips to lead the Dodgers to their 14 to 6 victory over the Yankees.

The Deeres batted around in the top of the sixth to score six times and load the sacks before going down to an 11 to 8 loss to the red hot Cardinals who now are on quite a win streak. The Cards got six of their own in the fourth and four more in the fifth with Chris Belongia contributing a triple to the big rally in the fourth.

Kevin Craig got the Cards' all-important 3-2 win over the Tigers Monday night. He gave up both Tiger runs and both Tiger hits in the first and then retired 18 of the next 19 batters he faced with the 19th getting aboard on an error.

Not only that but he scored the winning run himself when he doubled to lead off the fifth. Ray Gonzales threw a one-hitter at the Yankees in shutting them out 7 to 0 for the Red Sox Monday night in the moved-up game cut to four innings by the weather. The winners managed but a pair of hits in scoring in every inning but the first.

The Red Sox came up with another of their do-or-die final inning rallies Tuesday night. Trailing 5 to 10 going into the bottom of the sixth they scored six times with singles by Pitcher Milton Williams, Danny Martinez, and Ray Gonzales mixed with walks, a hit batsman and an error.

Leftfielder Billy Martinez of the Tigers turned in the Babe Ruth feat of the Little League season in this one when he hit three homeruns over the fence to drive in a flock of runs.

He hit one over the center-field fence in the second, another over the right field fence in the third, and after getting a life on an error his next time at bat cracked his third homer over the rightfield fence in the sixth.

Post scored four runs in the third to go in front 6 to 3 and Tahoka didn't get even again until the bottom of the fifth. After the second inning rally, the Post club couldn't buy a hit for the last five innings.

Against Slaton here, the visitors cracked three over the fence for homeruns with Casey Zachary falling completely over the fence and out of the park trying to catch the final one in the fourth.

Randy Baker knocked one out with Dan Sawyers aboard for Post's only runs in the third as the locals trailed 4 to 2 when the wind blew the game away.

The locals, who have completed the first half of their schedule, will journey to Brownfield Saturday night and play Tahoka here at 8 p. m. Monday night. The locals' league record is one win and four losses.

"They were great hosts," Holly declared. "Even the ump were great."

Indians grab second with two victories

Manager David Perez's Indian's came up with two more victories last weekend, one of them a 12 to 3 thumping of the White Sox, to pull away from the Braves and clinch runnerup honors in the final Post Babe Ruth League standings.

The White Sox, which split its final pair, won the league championship for the third straight year.

The Indians finished with four straight victories since the umpires ended a controversy by declaring their last start against the Braves a 6-6 draw.

Since the Indians finished two games up on the Braves, there was no need to play off that tie game.

The Braves made the Indians' job much easier by dropping their final two starts.

The last place Cubs scored their third win in 14 starts with a 12 to 11 decision over the Braves Thursday night, and the White Sox closed Saturday night with an easy 13 to 6 win over them which saw League Batting Champ Raymie Holly collect four hits in five trips.

Leslie Looney, one of the league's best pitchers, shut the White Sox down with five hits and three runs Thursday night while his mates collected ten and batted around in the sixth for a five-run rally. Looney struck out a dozen.

Despite three hits each by Monty Rogers and Lance Dunn of the Braves, the Cubs rallied for the winning run in the bottom of the seventh on Mark Greer's hit with two away to score Catcher Danny Gunn who had walked.

The Braves were trailing 11 to 4 after five innings but got five runs in the sixth and two more in the top of the seventh to tie the score.

On Saturday night, the Cubs managed only two hits off Hiram Martinez of the Indians and fell to the runners-up, 7 to 1.

Girls tied for softball lead

Things couldn't be more even than they were in the girls softball league through Tuesday. Each of the three teams with a victory and loss apiece were tied for first — and last.

After the Bears opened with a 4-2 win over the Sharks on June 14, the Dolphins came through on Wednesday, June 16, to beat the Bears 5 to 4.

Then on Monday of this week, the Sharks came back to beat the Dolphins, 5 to 3.

Debbie Brown cracked the first homerun of the season as she scored three times in three trips to the plate to lead the Dolphins to their 9 to 4 win over the Bears. Catcher Amy Habb also slammed a triple, as the Dolphins scored in every inning.

The Bears got one in the first and three in the second on a five-hit burst, but were shutout the final three frames.

with Bryan Compton getting two singles and a triple for the winners in four trips.

The Indians won it with a six-run rally in the fifth.

The White Sox put their game with the Braves away early Saturday night with a six run burst in the fourth to take a 9-2 lead. Kelly Baumann started and Raymie Holly finished up. Holly got three hits in four trips.

Teenage team drops 8-6 game at Tahoka June 19

Post's teenage team dropped an 8 to 6 decision to Tahoka at Tahoka Saturday night and were trailing Slaton 4 to 3 here Monday night in a homerun contest when the wind blew out the game after three and one-half innings.

The Slaton game was scheduled to be completed here Wednesday night after The Dispatch went to press.

Tahoka rallied for two runs in the sixth inning to break a 6 all tie and notch the victory Saturday night on an infield error and two singles.

Manager Lewis Holly said the game was the most enjoyable baseball game for both teams in a long time and the two clubs talked for 15 minutes after the final out before leaving the field.

"They were great hosts," Holly declared. "Even the ump were great."
 Post went lead 3-0 in the top of the first and Tahoka tied it in the bottom half and took a 3-2

Hard boll weevil fight coming up along caprock

Field Services for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, "we are going to have a bigger and tougher job this year." PCG initiated the control program in conjunction with the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1964 after entomologists warned that weevils were on the verge of becoming a severe problem in cotton production all across the organization's 25 counties. "There is no reason to believe," Dean says, "that we won't be able to hold the line against weevils this year as we have in the past, but it's pretty obvious now that we'll have to spray a great many more acres than we have sprayed in a long time."

Weevil traps are located along a 300-mile zig-zag line just above the Caprock from Briscoe County south through Floyd, Motley, Dickens, Crosby, Lubbock, Lynn, Garza, Dawson,

Martin and Gaines Counties. All traps caught more weevils than is normal for May, confirming that the mild winter and early spring rains this year were conducive to a high survival rate among hibernating insects. Insecticide sprays are normally started in the last week of August and cover all acreage shown by trappings and manual surveys to have significant infestations. Cotton sprayed in the first application of 1975 came to only 22,300 acres. In-migration of weevils from areas outside the program control zone during the season ballooned the total acreage treated at least one time to about 250,000.

Trapping records give a strong indication that in-migration in 1976 again will exert great pressure on the program. Only 42 traps in the Swenson area of Stonewall County, outside the control zone, caught over 28,000 weevils in May of this year. By comparison, in the "hottest" part of the control zone, the Fluvanna area of Borden and Scurry Counties, 451 traps caught only a little over 10,000 weevils. All traps in the control zone averaged catching 12 weevils per trap while the average outside the zone was over 600 per trap.

And, officials point out, these figures also show how the control program has held down weevil populations within the treated zone.

"Already this year we are finding weevils along the eastern edge of Lynn and Dawson counties and at other points where in 1975 they didn't show up until September," Dean reveals, "which means we'll very likely be starting out with a control zone double or perhaps triple the size of last

New roof for Algerita hotel

Work has begun to reroof the historic Algerita Hotel, David Newby, president of the Garza County Heritage Association, has announced.

First work on the old building began last Friday when the Texas Roofing Co. tore the old roof off the building. Jerry Osborne was then to do some truss repair work before the Lubbock firm came back to put a new roof on the building.

The heritage association, which now owns the building, has some $15,000 in federal and matching funds, to work with.

Newby said other efforts to secure the building would be to seal all windows now only boarded over and to repair a crack in the rear wall.

Vacations are well spent, if spent just inside your income.

Why do many seaside resorts have more moderate temperatures than surrounding areas? Because water is slow to increase or decrease in temperature. And this affects the air temperature of nearby shores.

Gas caps left with sheriff

The dispatcher in the sheriff's office heard a pounding on the north door of the law enforcement building about 10:30 p. m. Monday. The door is kept locked at night.

When she went to the door she found no one, but a sack of gas tank caps setting just outside the door.

The sack contained a dozen gas caps of all sizes, shapes and colors.

Apparently somebody's conscience had gotten the better of him — or her.

Strangely enough, the sheriff's office has received no reports lately of any missing gas caps.
