Top hands in OS calf roping too

7 of top 13 to compete

The seventh annual OS Steer Roping and Art Exhibit is all set for the OS Ranch, 13 miles southeast of Post this weekend with large crowds expected for the nationally acclaimed cowboy and western art show and two very full days of roping and riding.

There is an Old Timers' Breakfast at 8:30 a. m. Sunday as a new addition to the crowded "OS weekend" schedule, and there will be some new artists and cowboys to attract attention.

The calf roping will feature seven out of the nation's top 13 calf ropers in 1977 earnings in a field of 50 in the Saturday afternoon invitational calf roping.

They include Roy Cooper of Durant, Okla.; No. 1, $37,679 in earnings and defending 1976 champion; Tom Ferguson, 1976 world champion all-around cowboy and current No. 2 calf roper with $34,942 in earnings; Junior Garrison of Marlow, Okla., No. 7, $29,019; Barry Burk, Duncan, Okla.; No. 8, $18,361; Pow Carter of Fort Sumner, N. Two holdup men get $3,480 here

Two masked young blacks held up the Piggy Wiggly Super Market shortly after closing time Friday night, tied up two store employees and one of their wives with a jump rope, and escaped with $3,480.

The Garza district court and jury Monday "no billed" one area black who had been arrested Saturday in connection with the holdup.

Sheriff Jim Pippin told The Dispatch Tuesday afternoon that the Saturday arrest was made after one of the three persons tied up in the holdup had identified him by voice and facial features although he was masked.

The sheriff said his department now has a new lead in the case.

The case was presented to the grand jury because it was in session and all witnesses available. The jury found not enough evidence to charge the man with the holdup.

The holdup occurred at 9:28 p. m. as Gary Newdiger, second assistant manager, his wife, Bernice, their several weeks old baby, and Tommy Reed, another store employe were walking out the door of the closed store.

The two masked blacks came from around the corner, one with a long-barreled 22 caliber revolver in his hand and ordered them back into the store.

They took them to the dairy aisle on the east side of the store, which cannot be observed from the street, hit the two men hard in the small of the back to knock them to the floor and tied them all up. They permitted the mother to hold the baby in the basket though her hands were tied.

Before tying up Newdiger, they made him open the safe (See Robbery, Page 12)

NOT JUST MAN'S WORLD — Juan Dell of Santa Fe is one of the three women artists who will be among the 37 invited to exhibit cowboy and western art at the OS Art Exhibit here. She will attend in person as will a majority of the artists exhibiting.

Algerita may become senior citizen center

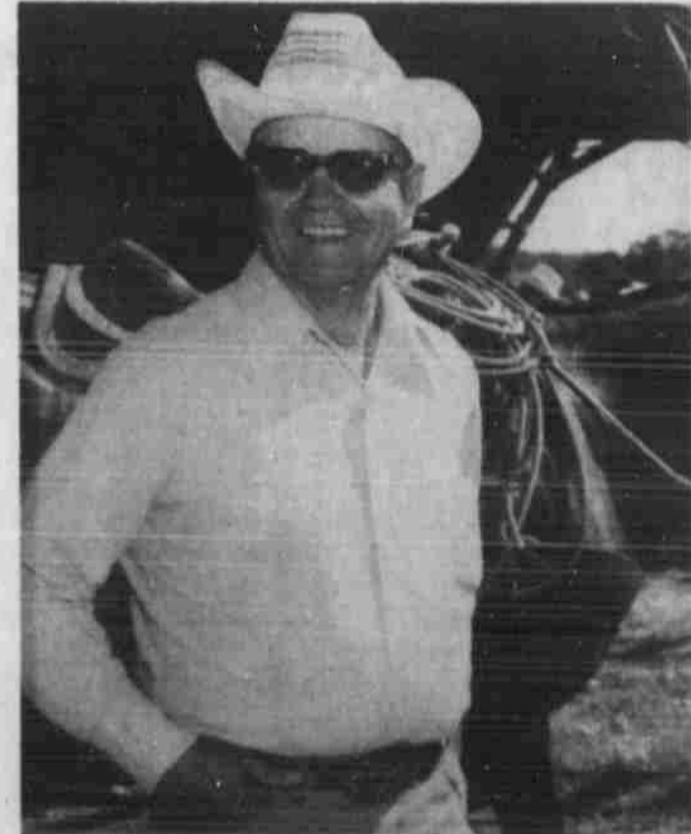

The Garza County Heritage Association at a special meeting Monday afternoon in the bank community room voted to spend $500 for overall development plan for architects for the historic Algerita Hotel.

Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Maxine Marks, Garza representatives to the area agency on aging of SPAG revealed plans of Betty Shann, projects director of the agency, for a $15,000 grant from her agency for the development of much of the ground floor of the old hotel into a senior citizens center to be used by the Garza Trail Blazers Club.

David Newby, president of the association who presided, said the organization has $3,300 left to spend on the buildings restoration and for every dollar of this spent will receive 50 cents back in matching restoration funds.

Development of a Senior Citizens Center in the hotel's ground floor would enable the Trail Blazers to have various craft rooms in which work could be left between sessions.

Shaw captured virtually every major roping, title and served as a director of the Turtle organization, forerunner of the Rodeo Cowboys Association, and then on the RCA board for many years.

United Fund hearing set

A budget committee was named to determine the needs of participating agencies in the 1978 Garza United Fund Drive at a meeting of fund directors Tuesday evening in the bank community room.

Jack Alexander was named chairman of the budget committee again and he named Curtis Hudman, Donald Windham, Larry Willard, Allane Ammons and Jim Cornish as committee members.

The committee will meet at 4:30 p. m. Thursday, Oct. 6, in the community room to hear requests from all organizations desiring to participate in the fund campaign this year.

Any organization which did not participate in this year's campaign last fall but wishes to this year is asked to contact Alexander for a (See United Fund, Page 12)

New administrator hired for hospital

Ed Zintgraff, 26, the assistant business manager of the Central Plains General Hospital in Plainview for the last six months, has been hired by the Garza Memorial Hospital directors as the new hospital administrator here effective Oct. 1.

Zintgraff was one of two applicants interviewed for the position at a special meeting of the hospital board at 7 a. m. last Thursday morning.

Following the two interviews, Zintgraff was offered the position and accepted.

He will succeed Perry Hunsaker, who recently resigned as administrator effective Sept. 30.

Zintgraff came to Post Monday to spend this week working with Hunsaker before taking over his duties Saturday.

ED ZINTGRAFF

The Plainview hospital where he has been employed is a 150-bed private hospital.

A native of San Diego, Calif., Zintgraff just completed work on his master's degree in educational administration at Texas Tech University before accepting the Plainview position.

He took his bachelor's degree from the University of Redland near San Bernardino with a dual major of business administration and political science.

Asked his opinion of Garza Memorial Hospital, Zintgraff termed it "a good, well organized rural community hospital."

He is single. (See Hospital, Page 12)

Welcome for 'OS weekend'

The seventh annual "OS weekend" begins here tomorrow with dozens of Post and Garza volunteers handling their big variety of "weekend jobs" like pros in support of Jim Prather's still growing western promotion to benefit West Texas Boys Ranch.

The "weekend" has become the big one of the year for Post as it becomes the focal point for the world's best steer ropers and the country's leading cowboy and western artists.

Post and Garza homes are opened to guests, ranging from artists and ropers, to the youngsters from boys ranch who come to town to help serve the two big barbecues.

Something new is added to the busy "weekend" schedule each year to keep it interesting and a little different—but basically the whole pattern was established six years ago and has proceeded along the same lines since and with few exceptions the volunteer workers who helped Prather then are still handling the same job today.

The "OS weekend" has always been blessed with good weather which of course is essential to its success, since the ranch itself is located seven or eight miles off the highway.

But in recognition of the "OS weekend" that ranch road has been improved so much over the years, it could take quite a bit of rain now without trouble. The only problem now would be parking—as yet there are no all-weather parking lots on the OS, just pastureland.

This community not only works for its "OS weekend", but thoroughly enjoys it. Certainly, our town is more art conscious today than ever before and a lot of the folks are on a first name speaking basis with a lot of the outstanding artists who return year after year for "the weekend."

While raising a sizable sum for West Texas Boys Ranch, the "weekend" is worth the time and money spent to the big crowds who come to watch two days of top caliber roping and go through the ranch house and look at all the western art on exhibit there.

So on the eve of another "OS weekend", Post and Garza county extend another warm welcome to all of their visitors and look forward to all the fun in store.

Social Security--political ripoff

The social security system in the United States has been a political ripoff for a long time. Within a few short years it will be flat broke unless some gigantic influx of funds is generated.

To see what has happened, let's look at the system as it developed from the Great Depression Years.

Social security started as a small deduction from almost every employee's pay check. His or her employer matched that deduction and every month the employer mailed a social security check into Internal Revenue.

But as more and more people retired at age 65 and looked to social security to pay their way in their golden years, the political pressure mounted. Social security checks simply were not that big.

So constant pressure was made on politicians to increase the social security checks. At first when this was done there was a corresponding increase in deductions.

But that couldn't go on forever. They are now 5.8 percent of the employee's salary. The employer matches it. For a firm with a sizable payroll that is a real tax bite.

But still the pressures to make the social security payoff bigger didn't subside. So the politicians looked for other ways to increase "the take" in an effort to keep up with the outgo.

At the start, social security taxes applied only to the first $4,800 of a person's salary. That figure has been increased steadily. Now it is over $15,000 and likely to go much higher, despite the fact that the individual with the big salary cannot hope for a fair return on his social security contribution.

To first understand what is wrong with social security, we must realize it is a retirement plan, not a welfare plan. The checks are for everybody who has paid into the pot the required number of months, not just for those who need it.

Consequently, as the public has mixed up the idea of retirement plan and welfare in their own minds, a lot of unfairness has entered the social security system.

One of President Carter's pressing needs is to solve the social security dilemma and keep the system from going broke.

Among the proposals for doing this are two "political" suggestions. One is to use general tax money for social security. That is no good, because it confuses social security even more with a welfare dole for the aged.

The other is to impose all the added cost on the employers, making their contributions greater while leaving the employees' contributions the same, on the theory that this will displease the fewer number of voters.

It's also a political answer which deserves trash can disposal.

The only solution we see—but one which takes a fair degree of political courage to enact—is to keep the social security system as it should be—a retirement system, paying out only in proportion to what is paid in and keeping it solvent.

Then for all the aged who cannot live on such social security checks, welfare should step in with the balance. More and more today big industry, big unions, governmental agencies, etc. are adopting retirement plans to provide additional funds to go with social security.

Such plans within a few years should materially help the national economic picture for the aged.

But to simply reestablish the social security system as a true retirement system in which the paid-in funds are invested until they are used is going to cost billions and billions.

We don't know anybody but the Arabs who could finance that.

The other day a trial balloon was floated on raising the mandatory retirement age from 65 to either 68 or 70. That would take a lot of pressure off social security and enable a lot of older folks to continue to earn their way a while longer.

A lot of folks won't like that, but surprisingly it will please quite a few others who dread stepping off life's treadmill and settling into the rocking chair.

We should never have let our politicians have control over social security in the first place. Let's face it, the ones who stay in Washington are politicians first and lawmakers second. Social Security is one program which is defeated if compromised. And it has been compromised so much, it is ridiculous.

Since the heat pump pulls much of its heat right out of the air, it actually saves energy as it works. In fact, the heat pump delivers as much as two units of heat for every one unit of electricity it uses. That's an efficiency story that no other system can equal. And the heat pump does it all in your own home without flame or water. Just electricity—pure and simple.

price policy."

"But the one thing that people feel strongest about is the amount of red tape and governmental control over more and more aspects of people's lives."

"I hear people say, 'We aren't going to ask you to get the government to give us anything — we just want you to go up there and hold the line — do all you can to cut back on spending and federal control.'"

Rhodes said a number have asked him how long it will take as a new congressman to have any influence in Washington.

"My answer is that seniority is on the way out in Congress. In recent years the rules have changed to take much of the power away from committee chairmen."

"Today it's more what you know than you know and a willingness to be active, creative and work hard that helps a congressman to be effective."

Rhodes said he felt the issue of leadership would be paramount in the coming election campaign.

"This district needs a representative who knows the people, who believes what they believe, who will be aggressive on their behalf," Rhodes declared.

"In my practice and in my businesses, I have become closely involved in the lives of thousands of people through the years."

"For me, politics will always be a personal thing. I believe I can make a difference in Washington."

The 45-year-old Rhodes is a senior partner in the Abilene law firm of Rhodes, Doscher, Chalk and Heatherly.

He is also engaged in a number of business enterprises in West Texas, including banking, oil, and gas, farming and ranching, and retail merchandising.

He serves on the board of directors of Citizens National Bank in Abilene, and also on the board of Connally Oil Co. of Abilene.

He is chairman of the board of Gibson's of Duncanville, and also board chairman of Hale Farm Supply in Haskell.

He is president of Big Ed Oil Co., and the Christi Co., Inc. He is a member of TIPRO (Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners.)

Rhodes was born into a farming family in Hugo, Okla., and has wheat farms in Oklahoma. He also has a cotton farm in Haskell County and Charolais and Hereford cattle in Taylor and Bosque counties.

Rhodes is active in numerous community activities, including the boards of the Abilene Philharmonic, the Abilene Zoological Society, and the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

He is a frequent speaker for older citizens groups and recently won a state award for service on the governor's senior citizen symposium, the Generation Connection.

Rhodes is married to the former Nancy Fanson. They have four children: Ed and Christi, students at Abilene Christian University; Annette, an Abilene High School junior; and Sherry, a ninth-grader at Lincoln Junior High.

The family are members of the Highland Church of Christ in Abilene. Rhodes serves the congregation as a deacon and a Bible class teacher.

ABILENE VISITOR

Mrs. Mell Pearce of Canyon left Saturday morning to visit her daughter Kemmie Emensinger for a week. She will return to Post Saturday.

A.L. (Dusty) Rhodes let his feet in his first year of campaigning for the U.S. House of Representatives.

The Abilene attorney and businessman announced his candidacy as a Democrat on August 16 with a one-day flying tour of the 17th Congressional District.

Rhodes' announcement came one week after Congressman Omar Burleson, who served the District in Washington for 32 years, announced that he would retire at the end of the present term.

Since announcing his candidacy, Rhodes has visited over 50 cities in 31 counties, and has been putting together a campaign organization that will be active in all 33 counties of the 17th Congressional District.

"I've been talking with businessmen, farmers, and ranchers, elected officials and hundreds of friends from all walks of life," Rhodes said.

"The campaign is off to a great start. Support is strong in every county," he said.

"Wherever I go," Rhodes said, "the issues that people raise run along similar lines."

"The economy, especially energy, is on everybody's mind," said Rhodes. "And so is agriculture — farm

"I have announced my candidacy for Governor of Texas. I'm confident I can and will win."

According to a statewide poll, 8 out of 10 people are ready for a new governor. The poll only confirmed what I've been hearing all over Texas this year. People are against the idea of anyone holding the state's highest office for 10 years. No governor has asked for 10. No governor has been given 10. It goes against a tradition that's as old as Texas itself.

There are other reasons folks are ready for a new governor. State spending has jumped from $3 billion to $8 billion the last 6 years. The Dallas Morning News reported, 'during Briscoe's years in office, nearly all state government will have gone on a spending spree. And the Governor has done nothing to discourage it. He's vetoed less than two-tenths of one percent of the two previous budgets and not one penny's worth of the current appropriations; it's the first time that's happened in twenty years. In a related story, the News pointed to the fact that during the Briscoe years the number of employees paid by the state has risen by 50,000.'

"And, while we've heard the boast of 'no new taxes,' we've seen our property taxes increase by $1 billion along with substantial hikes in state licensing fees."

"I've traveled the state this year, visiting with folks. Whatever their overall assessment, most Texans lacked confidence in the present governor's persuasiveness and vision. They felt he had failed to measure up to their expectations and to live up to his promises."

"Texans are hungry for an effective gubernatorial spokesman on energy policy. They are frustrated that our governor hasn't been able to get the Texas viewpoint across in Washington. They are wondering, too, why our governor hasn't been speaking out forcefully for a farm policy that would help our beleaguered farms and ranches."

"I fully agree with the people's assessment; that's why I'm seeking the office of Governor."

"I'm proud of my record as Attorney General and Secretary of State. It shows that I'm not afraid to roll up my sleeves and work hard. It indicates that I have the ability to assemble a capable staff, that I prefer to work closely with people, and that I'm not reluctant to make changes when they can benefit the state. I'll be this kind of governor, given the job."

Twin Cedars Nursing Home News

By FLETA WALLS
Sunday services were brought to us by the First Baptist Church with Rev. Glenn Reece officiating. Next week's services will be by the Nazarene Church with Rev. Phillip Daniels. Bill Bartlett honored Mrs. Laura Bartlett with a birthday party last Monday afternoon. Bill brought cake and punch for everyone here and then she provided musical entertainment. Our residents enjoyed the party.

A lady from Graham has been crocheting houseshoes for all the ladies here. They are colorful and attractive and will be warm for the winter ahead. Our residents are proud of the shoes, and we are sorry we failed to get her name.

Dink Boren and JoElla Sparlin brought several dresses to our ladies. These are useful and appreciated by all.

Visitors this week included Ruby Bostick, Myri Mathis, JoElla Sparlin, Dink Boren, Rena Ferguson, Willie Mason, Richard Bird, Lucille Walker, Ruby Kirkpatrick, Paul Sherrill, C.A. Walker, Jim Hundley, Sybil Cockrum, Gladys Tipton, Esker Stone, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry McAlister and others who failed to register.

The employees and residents of Twin Cedars with the family of Howard Ferguson in this time of grievance. Mr. Ferguson had been with us only a short time this stay but was a past resident of the home. Until next week....

County okays law proposals

The Garza County Commissioners Court Monday accepted the recommendations of the city-county law enforcement committee and voted to authorize Sheriff Jim Pippin to appoint reserve deputies for special events, and to reduce the probation time of deputies who are certified from six months to 30 days to qualify for top law enforcement pay.

In another action, the court decided to open only four polling places for the constitutional amendment election in November to hold down costs and because of a expected light turnout.

Boxes to be open will be No. 6 at the Graham Community Center, No. 2 at the Southland school, No. 4 at the Justiceburg community center, and all the rest at the county courthouse here.

The court received bids on a loader but took no action. It approved an order from Judge Hansard granting Probation Officer Ed Savers a $25 a month raise, an action which should have been taken in January, discussed plans to implement the manpower program and county insurance.

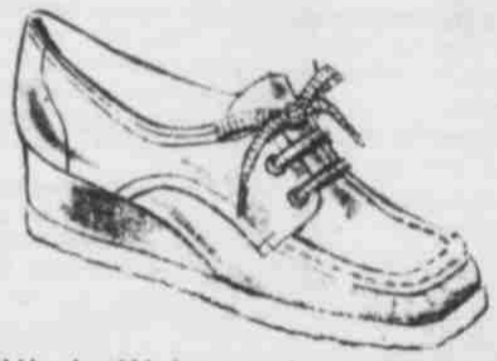

Another try for grass

Directors of the Post Community Housing Association meeting Tuesday afternoon decided to reseed rye grass at its housing project for a winter stand as soon as moisture permits, after losing to the dry summer weather an effort to plant bermuda.

Robert Cox reported progress on preparation of the application for a new federal loan for additional rental units to be built at the present site.

The storm windows ordered several months ago have finally arrived and will be installed soon. It was reported warranty work by the contractor is finally nearing completion.

The directors got their first tax bill this past week — a city tax bill of slightly over $900.

With built-in arch, soft uppers, bouncy soles and a fit that's almost as comfortable as going barefoot.

Council to sponsor Black and Gold days

The Post High School Student Council held their organizational meeting last Wednesday. President Donna Josey welcomed the members and told them of her viewpoints and goals for the 1977-78 year.

The student council is composed of representatives from each class level and also from various organizations and clubs in the school.

Active members of the council are as follows: Donna Josey, president; Nita Jo Gunn, vice-president; and Meg Reed, secretary. Senior class representatives are Bruce Waldrip, Kelly Mitchell, and Chuck Bass, Dale Redman, Karen Perkins, and Karla Duren represent the junior class. Sophomore representatives are Lynn Simpson, Kirk Stevens, and Carolyn Pringler. Representatives for the freshman class include Alonzo Luna, Marianne Hays and Patricia Craig.

Danna Giddens represents the Drama Club on the council. Butch Booth is representative for the band, and Nancy McCowen represents the FHA.

During the meeting, various projects were discussed to raise funds and increase student awareness at PHS. Some of the fund-raising projects that were tentatively discussed were the sale of key chains and T-shirts, and a possible talent show. These and other projects will be examined in more details in future meetings.

The student council also plans to become more active in boosting spirit at PHS. They plan to sponsor a "black and gold day" every Friday during football season. This will involve the entire student body (instead of just the cheerleaders and the booster club) in backing the Antelopes all the way.

"I think that the student council should be much more active in student affairs than it has in the past," states Miss Josey. "I pledge my best efforts toward making a better situation for the students at Post High School."

Tune in to Morrow

By DAVID MORROW

While attending a performance of "Kiss Me Kate" in Lubbock last Thursday, we received a rather big shock. The leading actress was singing a song about her hatred of the male sex in general. Unfortunately, she got a little more specific when, in the course of the song, she came into the audience, leaned into my face and screamed "I hate men!!!" I jerked back in my seat (almost fracturing Chuck's shoulder in the process) and stared at this crazy woman in horrified fascination. My heart had barely got back in its proper place when Kerri leaned over the seat and asked "did she have bad breath?". Ms. Thurman did not have bad breath and she was a very talented actress, but, needless to say, I haven't been quite the same since.

FHA enjoys patio party

Everyone enjoyed a meal of hot dogs, chips and Cokes. Afterwards a short business meeting concerning this year's projects for the FHA was held.

Those attending the meeting were: Gloris Martinez, Virginia Fuentes, Laura Mason, Cristal Didway, Jarita Norman, Jeff Greene, Mike Riedel, Gregg Pollard, Cliff Kirkpatrick, Tim Morris, Jeff Williams, Danny Gunn, Randy Baker, Rex Cash, Teri Taylor, Melinda Adams, Karen Taylor, Penny Shedd, Nelda Reyna and Darlene Johnston.

Also Barbara Dudley, Carolina Basquez, Mary Alice Castro, Tammye Colazo, Irene Samora, Beth Elliott, Belinda Fluit, Jody Palmer, Debbie Tyler, Cindy Terry, Nita Gunn, Evans Heaton, Donna Josey, Charlie Cendalski, Danny Nelson and Randy Conner.

Also Pauline Sepeda, Patricia Sepeda, Janice Bradbury, Sherri Morris, Laurie Belongia, Julie Troxell, Jessie Martinez, Isabel Pena, Jendy Thomas, Dana Babb, Donna Baumann, Kelly Mitchell, Meg Reed, Sherri York and sponsors Mrs. Marion Wheatley and Mrs. Carolyn Sawyers.

There has been a lot of talk around school about the number of people who cut out on Friday afternoons and skip the pep rally. There may be other things that seem more important, but think about this. A lot of people have gone to a lot of trouble to give the football team a good boost of pride and spirit. The cheerleaders work very hard on their yells and skits, and the band and twirlers spend quite a bit of time working on their features. The Antelopes are really a super thing we have going at PHS and they deserve the support of every person in the student body. Come on out this Friday afternoon...you may get a case of "spirit fever". The Lopes need YOU!!!

On a more positive note, however, the Booster Club really did an outstanding job at the Colorado City game last Friday. When the going got rough for the team on the field, the Booster Club, the band, and the fans let them know, in no uncertain terms, that we were behind them all the way. And that's really special to a team...to have everyone pulling for them. So let's all keep it up and GET A BULLDOG!!

Students see dog show

A dog show featuring Chow-chows and Siberian Samoyeds was the first Middle School assembly of the year. The program was presented to the students Monday, with funds being furnished by the student council.

The trainers of the dogs were Inge and Robert Williams. The couple is originally from Germany but now live in Florida.

There were ten dogs in the show. Six of them were white Samoyeds, two were mixed breed, and the others were reddish-brown chows.

During the show, Mrs. Williams called Carl Harrell, Michele Hill, Patty McCowen and Bobby Hensler from the audience to help her with some tricks. Some of the props used in the performance were a slide, a cart, a Siberian sled and a special ramp.

Name contest for annual

The Post Middle School Student Council will sponsor a contest to select a name for the Middle School annual. Any member of the student body or faculty may enter a suitable name. The contest will be held throughout the coming week.

The student council will screen the entries and narrow them down to ten finalists. The judges will then vote on the names and select a winner. The creator of the winning name will receive $10.

Judges for the contest will be Jennifer Wilson, Darla Jackson, Tina Greene, Kathy Kirkpatrick, Cindee Jackson, Melissa Morrow, and Mrs. Paula Unberhagen.

FHA to make CF fund drive

By DONNA JOSEY
A Cystic Fibrosis drive will be conducted by members of the Future Homemakers of America Monday, Oct. 3.

To insure children's health and well-being, everyone should know the following signs of lung damaging disease: recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing, excessive mucus, pneumonia more than once, excessive appetite and poor weight gain, clubbing (enlargement of fingertips).

Postites are asked to please aid the FHA in this drive to help save the lives of children from this disease which has no known cure.

Drama club attends play

Members of the drama club attended a performance of "Kiss Me Kate" in Lubbock last Thursday.

The play was produced by the Lubbock Theatre Center with the cast taken from the citizens of Lubbock.

"Kiss Me Kate" is a musical comedy about a group of actors trying to do their interpretation of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew". Some of the familiar Cole Porter tunes in the show are "Brush Up Your Shakespeare" and "Another Op'nin', Another Show."

Those attending the play were: Donna Josey, Terry Smith, Jarita Norman, Cindy Terry, Danna Giddens, Chuck Bass, Kerri Pool, David Morrow, Leanna Davis, Jay Young, Tim Tatum, Benny Jackson, Rhonda Rogers, Mindy Morris, Amy Thuett, Randy Hudgins, Mike Smith and sponsors, Miss Jane Tice, Mrs. Linda Linn and Mr. Richard Wheelus.

The play was very entertaining and everyone had a good time at the performance.

GARZA COUNTY DAY
Thursday, September 29 will be Garza County Day at the South Plains Fair. On that day Rose Askins will perform dances accompanied by music of Ray Trent's Echo Boys and by the Senior Citizens Band of Hockley County. On Friday, Garza County will be represented by Maxine Marks and Ola Keeton and will display arts and crafts of Inez Hartel and Mrs. Arnold Sanderson. Postex Mill will also be represented in the display.

Lopes edge Wolves with last minute TD, 21-14

Kirkpatrick breaks loose for 89 yards

Post's Antelopes scored its third one-touchdown triumph of the season Friday night at Colorado City by driving 58 yards to score the deciding tally with a little more than a minute to play for a 21-14 win over the Colorado City Wolves in their final non-district game.

Halfback Randy Baker bucked the final two yards on fourth down with only 1:16 on the clock as the left side of the Lope line simply shoved the Wolves back across the double stripe to give Baker all the help he needed.

The score made up for Baker's hobble of the third period kickoff on the Post 23 which set up the Wolves for their tying touchdown.

Baker, who led the Post attack with 107 yards in 21 carries, also lost the handle on the ball in plunging for the Lopes' second touchdown late in the second period with Split End Evans Heaton alertly covering the loose football in the end zone for the touchdown.

In fact, the Lopes fumbled the football more times against the Wolves — six by count — than in just about their first three games combined, but they recovered all those mistakes but the one which led to Colorado City's tying score.

The Lopes, who are improving just enough each game to keep their record unblemished, added a new dimension to their attack at Colorado City in turning halfback Cliff Kirkpatrick loose for the first time.

Cliff picked up 89 yards on 14 carries, according to The Dispatch's play by play, including slipping loose outside for 25 yards in the third period and getting another 14-yard gainer in the fourth.

Statistically, the Wolves outgained the Lopes slightly in total yards, but the Lopes showed a ball control offense which scored on drives of 45 yards after a fumble, 60 yards, and 58 yards while being stopped only once when Colorado City took the ball away on its five after a 66 yard Lope march.

Colorado City's attack was much more sporadic. The Wolves got their first touchdown when the Lope secondary pass coverage broke down and Quarterback Frank Sanchez passed long to wide open end Jay Feaster who ran the last 15 yards of a 49-yard scoring play.

Their second came on the kickoff fumble and a 23-yard drive which included Sanchez fumbling the ball to a teammate for a 14-yard gain.

The only other time the Wolves got close was in the first period when a flock of Lopes covered a Wolves' fumble at the Post 26.

Sanchez carried the main offensive load for the Wolves. He picked up over 100 yards passing with four completions and ran for another hundred, including a 51-yard breakaway run right up the middle of the Lope defense in the first before being run down by Defensive back Kohen Josey.

This is the way the game went:

Post couldn't get its offense untracked until late in the first period when after stopping a Colorado City drive by fumble on its own 26, Steve Davis covered another Wolf hobble on the home team's 45 after the Lopes had been forced to punt.

Post scored in nine plays with Kirkpatrick getting his first touchdown of the season from two yards out with 8:56 left in the second period. Center Leslie Looney converted his first of three straight point-after kicks.

Colorado City came right back to score in four plays after the kickoff with the 190-pound Sanchez faking the run and then throwing long to Feaster who had nobody near him for 49 yards and a score.

Linebacker Raymie Holly broke through to block Donnie Williams' conversion kick and it was 7-6 Post with 7:15 still on the clock.

Kirkpatrick returned the Colorado City kickoff to the Post 40 and the Lopes marched 60 yards to score in 32 plays with Baker going the first eight before fumbling into the end zone with Heaton recovering for the score with 1:24 on the clock.

In the last 84 ticks, Colorado City moved from its 39 to the Post 22 before time ran out. In the first half, the Lopes did not attempt a single pass.

When disaster struck on the third period kickoff Fullback Randy Messer bucked in the second Wolf TD and Sanchez passed to Bill Jordan in the end zone for the two conversion points to tie the game.

Post moved 66 yards on the next kickoff before losing the ball on downs on the Colorado City five. The big gainer was a 41-yard pass play from Quarterback Brad Shepherd to Split End Evans Heaton on the Wolf 26. After a first down on the 10, Shepherd got caught for a 16 yard loss and the Lopes could get only 15 back on the next three plays.

The Lopes then cranked up in the fourth period for their winning touchdown drive which took a dozen plays.

Colorado City failed to put together any scoring threats in the second half after tying up the score early in the third period.

Greg Pollard at tackled had his best defensive game for the Lopes, making a flock of tackles.

Fullback Butch Booth was injured late in the first period and did not return to the game until the second half. He had only 11 carries for 37 yards due to the leg injury and loss of playing time.

Josey picked up 21 yards on eight carries.

'Old Prog' turns in perfect score

Just in case his readers aren't paying much attention to the Old Prognosticator, this is to point out he had a perfect Friday night last weekend picking the winners in every one of the eight games involving Post and its seasonal opponents, which by the way is considerably better than the A-J "guesser" was able to do.

The 8-0 for the week boosted his seasonal record to 27 right in 35 games for a 77.1 seasonal percentage.

He isn't so sure this week though, starting with the POST-Tahoka district lid lifter here.

It's the Lopes vs. Fullback Clifford Bailey who has amassed 701 yards rushing in four games all by himself, including two better than 200-yard nights and a flock of long td runs. The Bulldogs shut down the Lopes last year and this one promises to be a hair-raiser, especially when you consider the Lopes seem to play only just good enough to win. Still and all, the Tahoka defense isn't the strongest so here's casting a cautious vote for the Lopes.

Here are the other picks, including some little known teams which makes it tough:

WYLIE at Coahoma — This is a 6AA matchup between two clubs not expected to go anywhere. Wylie has been losing more than winning but manages to get a flock of points on the board as in its 53-33 loss to Kaufman, 12AA title contender, and its 33-6 win over Bangs. Coahoma is yet to win and may have a hard time doing so the rest of the way.

River Road of Amarillo at LOCKNEY — River Road scored a 7-3 win over JA favorite Sanford-Fritch last Friday night, but Lockney tailback Danny Clark, who got 210 yards in a loss at Littlefield last week, ought to be the difference here.

LITTLEFIELD at FLOYDADA — Littlefield has been capable of handling everybody so far but Slaton and the Winds, though tough defensively, don't have the Tiger stroke on the attack. Won't be easy though. Beating Floydada never is.

MERKEL at Colorado City — Here's a close one.

JVs remain unbeaten

Post's undefeated Junior Varsity club rang up victory No. 4 with a 19 to 16 win over Colorado City here last Thursday night, which saw the visitors tally two touchdowns in the fourth period to tighten up the score.

Wingback Shawn Scott put Post on the scoreboard in the first period when he swept right end, cut back through a broken field and raced 50 yards for a touchdown. David Hawkins kicked the conversion point.

Fullback Darrell Reece got the second touchdown in the second period when he went 20 yards on a trap play for the tally. A two point conversion try failed.

In the third, Quarterback Rance Adkins capped a 65 yard Post drive with a 10-yard scoring run on a keeper.

Colorado City in the fourth period scored on a 10 yard pass against the second team defense and made the two conversion points. The first team defense went back in, but the visitors with momentum going tallied again with three minutes to play and again added the conversion points to make the final score 19 to 16.

The Post JVs will open district play at Tahoka tonight in the second game of a twin bill. A 7:30 p.m. kickoff is scheduled.

- Post 21, Colorado City 14
- Tahoka 28, Coahoma 14
- Idalou 47, Lubbock Cooper 18
- Denver City 42, Lovington, N. M. 15
- Floydada 13, Olton 3
- Littlefield 27, Lockney 14
- Roosevelt 25, Memphis 6

Middle school clubs in home openers

Post's seventh and eighth grade football teams, after three straight games on the road, will make one of their two home starts of the season here tonight in a twin bill against Tahoka to open district play in Antelope Stadium.

The Middle School teams will play six on the road this year and only two at home after playing just the reverse last year with most of their games at home.

The seventh graders will start it off at 5:30 p.m. Coach Joe Giddens' seventh grade team remained undefeated at Colorado City last Thursday night with a 20-0 victory.

Quarterback Tim Tannehill scored two of the three touchdowns and passed for the other.

He capped a long first period drive by sneaking over from one yard out for

Lopes face top back in 5AA lid-lifter

Coach Jackie Brown's Post Antelopes have no reason to underestimate the dangerous threat to their unbeaten string which will be posed by the Tahoka Bulldogs here in Antelope Stadium Friday night in the District 5AA lid-lifter.

The kickoff for this one moves up to 7:30.

Not only were the visitors the only district team to defeat the Lopes last season, but there is Fullback Clifford Bailey to be reckoned with again.

Bailey, a 195-pound junior, is probably the outstanding Class AA running back on the South Plains. Certainly, he is No. 1 in District 5AA.

His credentials are undisputable.

He leads the South Plains in scoring in AA ball with 10 touchdowns and 6 points after for a total of 66 points in four games. That averages out 16½ points per contest. Nobody else is even close to that.

He is probably the South Plains rushing leader, too, but a statistical comparison is not available. Bailey has rushed for 701 yards in the four games, twice going over 200 yards a game and getting well over 100 yards in each of the other two.

Last Friday night against Coahoma, a common foe with Post, Bailey ran for 216 yards, his best of the year, and scored three touchdowns on runs of 1, 14 and 5 yards and ran over a pair of extra points.

Looking at it statistically, Bailey has scored as many points — 66 — in four games as the entire Post attack.

Bailey's success lies in his ability to break tackles and then turn on his considerable open field speed.

The difference between Tahoka's 2-2 record and Post's 4-0 lies in the two teams' defenses. While Tahoka has outscored Post 49 to 66, the Bulldog defense has been giving up points in fistfuls too. Ninety-four points have been scored against Tahoka in the four outings, an average of 23½ points per game, while the Lopes have given up but 21 points in four and have two shutouts on their record.

The Bulldogs, who run a T-attack, have a quick quarterback with good speed in 160-pound senior Ed Roberson. Roberson is a fair thrower and his favorite target is Leslie White, 155-pound senior halfback.

The Lopes are expected to be at full strength for their first district start.

Fullback Butch Booth suffered a broken blood vessel in his leg in the first quarter at Colorado City, but returned to action in the second half although not at full speed. He is expected to be 100 percent for Tahoka.

Just in case your memory of last year's game is not good — maybe because of the pain of it — Tahoka had Post to a total of 145 yards of offense in a 12 to 7 victory. Post managed to cross midfield only twice. The Bulldogs fumbled eight times and lost half of them to the Lopes. But Bailey broke inside right end 10 yards for one touchdown and on a "fumble dribble play" Tahoka scored the winner.

Freshmen overpower Colorado City, 44-12

Coach Lane Tannehill's freshmen turned in the biggest scoring performance of any Post team this season in overwhelming Colorado City's frosh, 44 to 12, here last Thursday night.

Wingback Charles Curtis, who tallied half of Post's six touchdowns, got the scoring parade under way in the first period by sweeping end 45 yards for a touchdown.

Colorado City came right back to tie the score at 6 all with a touchdown of their own, but they didn't get close again.

End Jesse Taylor got the second Post counter in the period when he ran 45 yards on an end-around. Quarterback Drew Kirkpatrick passed to End Alvin Taylor for the conversion points.

In the second period, Jesse Taylor threw an end-around pass to End Alvin Taylor on a scoring play covering 50 yards. Curtis swept end for the conversion points. Curtis then broke 25 yards for his second touchdown on a sweep and Kirkpatrick passed to J. Taylor for the conversion points to make the score 30-6 at halftime.

After a scoreless third period, Curtis got his final tally on an 18 yard end run in the fourth.

Post's final touchdown came when Defensive Tackle Raymond Raymundo blocked a Colorado City punt, picked up the loose football and ran it in 34 yards for the six-pointer. Fullback Jimmy Delarosa went off tackle for the conversion points.

Colorado City then got its final touchdown against the Post second team defense.

The freshmen will open district play at Tahoka tonight with a 5:30 kickoff.

Cub Scouts set parents' session

There will be a Cub Scout parents training session for all interested parents with boys of Cub Scout age on Pack and Den Leadership in the First National Bank community room at 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 29 according to Fred Perkin, Cubmaster of Pack 314.

Perkins says this meeting is only for the parents and anyone desiring further information on this training session should contact him.

POST ANTELOPES

VS.

TAHOKA BULLDOGS

ANTELOPE STADIUM

FRIDAY, SEPT. 30

KICKOFF WILL BE AT 7:30 P.M.

Clifford Bailey, 195-pound junior fullback for the Bulldogs who is hard to stop and possesses breakaway speed, is one of the best backs in District 5AA this season, if not THE BEST. In four games he has rolled up over 700 yards running and scored a flock of touchdowns against top opposition, including the No. 1 Class A club in the state and the No. 6 Class AA team. Stopping Bailey will be the name of the game for the Lopes as they open district play Friday night. They remember too Tahoka was the only district team, with Bailey then a sophomore, to beat them last year.

OTHER GAMES THIS WEEK

— TONIGHT —

5:30 Post 7th grade vs. Tahoka 7th grade in Antelope Stadium, 8th grade teams to follow in second game.

5:30 Post Freshmen vs. Tahoka Freshmen at Tahoka, JV teams to follow.

$16,551; Ronny Sewalt of Chico, Tex., No. 12, $15,332; and Kim Gripp of Hereford, Tex., No. 13, $15,207.

These were the listed earnings two weeks ago by the professional Rodeo Cowboys Association and they may have been increased since then.

Besides the galaxie of calf roping stars there is the Saturday afternoon match calf roping between Roy Cooper, the 1976 champion and 1977 leader and Phil Lyne, 1971 and 1972 world champion calf roper.

Now if its quantity roping you want, be out to the OS at dawn Saturday — and that is meant literally — as the team roping with a field of 336 teams is scheduled to get under way at 7 a. m.

Most unusual aspect of the steer roping which winds up the "OS weekend" at 2 p. m. Sunday is that waiting in the wings in case of a "no show" is quite a substitute.

He is the National Steer Roping Finals champion, 19-year-old Guy Allen, who is bringing his roping horse in the hope that he can substitute this year as he did last year.

The girl's barrel race has been moved to a 9 a. m. Sunday slot in the roping arena this year due to the heavy Saturday calf roping schedule.

Sixty girls are entered in the race, including Cindy Bird and Joy Jean Basinger of Garza County.

Tom Ferguson, professional rodeo's first $100,000 a year prize winner, will be one of the new attractions, competing in both the calf roping and the steer roping. The three-times world's all-around cowboy is well on his way to his fourth title this year.

Olin Young, who won the average in the National Steer Roping Finals, will be back to defend his title in the steer roping against 34 of the best steer ropers in the business including many of this season's leading money winners as well as world champions of former years.

The NCHA approved cutting horse contest is scheduled for 10 a. m. Saturday with the top 12 horses working again at 12:30 p. m. Sunday.

Of the 37 artists invited to exhibit in the OS Art Exhibit in the ranch house, 26 are coming to Post for the "OS weekend" in person and 21 of these will be guests in Post or nearby ranch homes.

Ronald Thomason of Weatherford, Tex., one of the artists, is bringing with him a well known golf and TV personality, Byron Nelson of Fort Worth.

Nelson is a former U. S. golf star and now one of the leading TV golf commentators.

Artists who will attend the "OS weekend" in person include Brownell McGrew, Gary Atkinson, Wayne Baize, Clark Bronson, Ken Bunn, Don Crowley, Juan Dell, Steve Devenyns, Lincoln Fox, Rod Goebel, Jim Hamilton, Una Hanbury, John Kittelson, Bob Lee, Pat Mathieson, Mrs. George Phippen, Frank Polk, Don Pollard, Tom Ryan, Roy Swanson, Thomason, Jodie Boren, Renee Hughes, Morris Rippel, Clark Huling, and David Sanders.

Betty Harney, associate editor of "Artists of Rockies and Golden West Magazine" published in Colorado Springs also is coming to do a feature article on the art show.

The Art Preview party begins at 5 p. m. Friday at a donation charge of $15 per person with reservations requested in advance. Several hundred art collectors expected to attend to get the first chance to buy some of the $200,000 or more of cowboy and western art which will be on exhibit.

At the conclusion of the evening, art donated by participating artists will be auctioned off with all proceeds going to West Texas Boys Ranch.

The OS Ranch Art Committee is having a luncheon honoring OS artists Friday at the Cross H Ranch with Giles and Nelda Dalby and Nancy Macy as host and hostesses.

Admission at the OS cattleguard will be $4 each day to the general public which entitles the person to see as much of the art and roping as he or she desires. A combination souvenir ticket for $7.50 for admission both days also is available.

Other features of the weekend will include the Saturday night dance on the outdoor slab at the Post Stampede rodeo grounds to the music of Weldon Reed and his Solid Country with Pake McEntire of Kiowa, Okla., twice OS steer roping champ, the featured western singer.

Incidentally, should Pake win again Sunday afternoon he will permanently retire the big silver Giles Connell trophy to his own mantle.

In its second year will be the 9:30 a. m. Sunday brush arbor worship service in the ranch's chinaberry grove and the big roping pen. Rev. Tom Pass is in charge of the service with the Rev. Dave Gentry, chaplain for West Texas Boys Ranch at San Angelo, bringing the sermon.

Last year the "OS weekend" raised a total of over $40,000 for West Texas Boys Ranch.

A barbecue will be served at noon both Saturday and Sunday with a $2.50 donation per plate asked. There also will be a refreshment stand for the big crowd at the roping pen both days.

Hospital-

In another major action last Thursday the hospital board discussed at length with Dr. Ricardo M. Rodriguez and Dr. James Chua Tuan their future plans.

The pair reportedly have been unofficially offered $50,000 annual guarantee package by the Lynn County Hospital each to move to Tahoka and practice there.

Garza hospital directors told the pair they could best afford only one and made a substantial guarantee proposal to Dr. Rodriguez. They explained if both doctors wanted to stay here the guarantee would have to be substantially less to each.

Hospital directors are expected to meet again shortly with the two doctors to firm up any future plans.

The directors also scheduled another special meeting for noon Wednesday to give final approval to the hospital's new budget, which will become effective Oct. 1.

This will be the public budget hearing. The directors recently held a working session on the budget and went over it item by item in an effort to make it as realistic as possible on both anticipated income and expenses.

Local folks keeping West Texas Boys Ranch boys this weekend include Willie and Irene Burleson, Don and Margie Pennell, Edwin and Linda Lewis, Jim and Mona Boles, Monk and LaVina Palmer, Felipe and Margaret Romero, Don and Joy Greer, Robert and Patsy Craig, Pete and Juanella Hays, Bob and Barbara Palmer, R. B., Bea and Boyd Dodson, and Royce and Marianne Hart.

It was announced Wednesday that Walt Garrison who will be the arena director for the OS Steer Roping has been named the first official American Horseman by American Horseman Magazine. Walt was chosen from a group of outstanding horsemen based on "his total image of fair play, athletic superiority, sportsmanship and his reputation as a rodeo superstar."

from which they took all the money except for $30 in quarters and $15 in pennies.

One of the holdup men wore a ski mask and the other what looked like a mask made one of a jean leg with holes cut in it.

After the holdup pair left it took the three tied-up young people only about five minutes to free themselves and call the sheriff's department.

Sheriff Pippin and two deputies reached the store in two minutes.

No one heard a car drive away after the holdup pair left, but officers figured it was parked close by.
