23,000 bale harvest 'guessed' by ginners

Over half completed

Garza's 1977 cotton harvest—earliest, smoothest, fastest on record—is half completed, and ginners "guesstimates" are fairly accurate, it will total between 22,000 and 23,000 bales.

That's probably on the high side," as that is what the Dispatch took — the high side" of the ginners' estimates on its "gin check" Tuesday afternoon.

At that time, 12,677 bales had been ginned and there were another 1,111 bales of Garza cotton on the gin yards.

The harvest in the various areas ranged from only the fourth done" at Planters gin to "pretty close the finish" at Hackberry gin where only about other thousand bales are ginned.

Four gins report about half or a little over half ginned, another not half through, another "about a third through," and the last "two thirds through."

Five of the nine gins are ginning round the clock ten days a week with the other four going 15 hours, 12 hours, and 8 hours, one of them 7 days on Sunday, one full on Sundays, and the other ginning Sunday this morning.

There is a gin by gin report: Graham Gin: 2,113 bales ginned, 360 on yard, working 12 hours a day, 7 days a week, about half through, expect somewhere between 3,000 and 5,000 bales by week end. The Dispatch used 3,000 figure.

Glenn City Gin: 2,200 bales ginned, 153 on yard; operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week, over half ginned, expect to wind up

Funeral services were held Monday, Oct. 17 at 10 a. m. in the Throckmorton First Baptist Church for Charles A. Morris, 71, and Annie Whittenberg Morris, 68, with burial in the Throckmorton Cemetery.

Beside the son of Post they were survived by a daughter, Mrs. Morris of Abilene and three grandchildren. Mrs. Morris is also survived by three brothers, Dick and Ray, both of Seymour, and two sisters, Mrs. M. L. Tipton, Mrs. Elita Morris and Mrs. Stone all of Seymour. Mrs. Morris is survived by four brothers, Louis Whittenberg of Wichita Falls, Glenn Whittenberg of Amarillo, Horace Whittenberg of Houston and Wayne Whittenberg of Amarillo.

with between 3,000 and 3,500 bales. The Dispatch using the 3,500 figure.

Storie Gin: 539 bales ginned, 10 bales on yard, ginning 12 hours daily, half day Sunday, about one third finished.

Planters Gin: 406 bales ginned, 71 more on yard, working 15 hours daily, probably will start Sunday work this Sunday, a lot of farmers in area waiting for frost, about one-fourth completed.

Pleasant Valley Gin: No phone and no accurate report, but several hundred bales ginned and harvest in area reported to be nearing completion.

Southland Gin: 1,700 bales ginned, 150 on yard, operating 14 hours a day, seven days a week, over half finished, expect to total around 3,000 bales.

Hackberry Gin: 5,266 bales ginned, half of which is counted as Garza cotton, 600 more on yard, pretty close to finished, working 24 hours a day seven days a week, expect a total of around 7,000 bales.

Grassland Coop Gin: 2,645 bales ginned, one-fourth of which is counted as Garza cotton, 135 more on yard, working 24 hours daily, 7 days a week, about half through.

Grassland Producers Coop: 3,200 bales ginned, one-third of which is counted as Garza cotton, 100 on yard, operating round the clock, 7 days a week, about 75 percent finished, another 1,800 bales expected.

Grades and turnout are good. But as one ginners said, "The only thing killing us is the seed price."

PREPARING DRILL SITE — A new water injection well is going to be drilled at the above location, a half mile south of Post. The George R. Brown well will be the Post Estate No. 45.

Deep wildcat begun

The Hilliard Oil & Gas Company got Oil Progress Week off to a good start in Garza County by beginning to drill an 8,300 foot wildcat test six miles east of Post. The deep test is located about a quarter of a mile south of US-380 on the Kirkpatrick Ranch.

Meanwhile, Everett Windham, who is in charge of George R. Brown oil operations here, announced his firm is preparing to drill a new injection well in its current Post field waterflood and has staked five additional wells. The new well will be the Post Estate No. 45. The waterflood operated by the Brown interests is 10 years old this month, being started in October, 1967. Windham said a new waterflood unit west of Post is in the offing with work on it expected to get under way in 1978.

This is The Dispatch's annual Oil Progress Edition and the reader will find it stuffed with the ads of oil firms of all kinds. A lot of those ads make mighty interesting reading too.

$10,725 United Fund drive opens Monday

Garza's 1978 United Fund with a $10,725 goal will open here Monday with workers starting their rounds in 18 different drive divisions, each based on different kinds of employment as contacts are made on a work site basis.

Drive chairman Jim Cornish said the lineup of chairmen for the 18 divisions are yet to be completed, but most of them have handled the job before and will be

JOHNNY RAY WATSON Young singer to Post church

Johnny Ray Watson, one of America's most exciting young singers and speakers, will be in concert Saturday night, Oct. 22 at the First United Methodist Church here in Post. The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. He will also have the Sunday morning services beginning at 11 a. m.

The public is cordially invited to come and hear this exceptional young man tell of his love of God in song.

'Peeper', mechanical thief in crime news

Two local crime cases may not be so big, but both are mighty interesting. One involves a mechanical thief or thieves who apparently are trying to build himself or themselves a pickup truck out of items stolen off pickups belonging to Harold Lucas Motors.

back again this year. Cornish hopes to wind up the main drive in three weeks with only the cleanup to follow.

"With an earlier start this year we should be through by Thanksgiving and stay out of the way of Santa Claus," Cornish said.

Last year, the fund drive raised $11,091.50 in cash and pledges and wound up with $10,841.50 after collecting all but $250 in pledges.

The United Fund goal has been reached here for the last eight straight years, which means participating fund agencies received their full amount of participation each year.

Participating agencies this year and the amounts they will receive include:

- Red Cross $300, summer baseball $2,500, Boy Scouts $3,000, USO $125, Girl Scouts $3,600, Salvation Army $1,000, Garza County United Fund $50 (for expenses of the drive), Texas Rehabilitation Center $100, and the Texas United Fund $50.

Cornish said he would announce a completed list of division chairmen next week.

The 18 drive divisions include farm and ranch, private citizens, business, Postex Plant employees, Post teachers, postal employees, highway employees, ministers, courthouse employees, hospital employees, Justiceburg community, downtown employees, city employees, George R. Brown employees, ASCS and SCS employees, clubs, and bank employees.

The first contribution was received last week — a check from the Shell Oil Co.

Friday pep rally at courthouse

Post High School's pep rally for the Slaton game Friday afternoon is being moved to the courthouse lawn to get as many adult fans as possible out for the event—especially those in the business district.

The rally will begin at 3 p. m. The Friday afternoon rallies involving the student body, team, cheerleaders, band, and coaches are usually held in the high school gym.

"Come join us and help build the spirit to beat Slaton," Post cheerleaders invite all Post adults.

Dance after Slaton game

The Post Ex-Student Association, which sort of got caught without time to plan by this year's early homecoming, will sponsor a dance for all Post "exes" after the Slaton game Friday night in the Post Community Center.

Music will be provided by Weldon Reed and The Solid Country. Admission is $3 per person. Everyone is invited.

October tax check bigger

The city of Post has been mailed a check for $3,896.52 in October payment of its one percent sales tax collected by State Comptroller Bob Bullock. This compares with only $2,068.75 received for the same month in 1976.

Sales tax totals for 1977 to date are $72,811.70, as compared to only $64,687.22 for the same period in 1976. This is a 12 percent increase for 1977 to date over 1976.

Seminole moves into 5AA, Lope grid slate shuffled

District 5AA will become an eight-school district in 1978 with the addition of Seminole, which is moving down from Class AAA to Class AA. Athletic Director Jackie Brown announced here Tuesday.

At the same time Brown announced the Post Antelopes football schedule for next year which will see Coahoma dropped to make room for Seminole and a complete change on dates for district games which will see the Lopes opening district play with Denver City and Slaton.

Seminole enters the district because the UIL has raised its enrollment limits for the various classes.

The upper enrollment for AA schools effective in 1978 has been increased from 550 to 579. Seminole with an average daily attendance of 570 thus drops from AAA to an AA classification.

Slaton by the way would have gone back into the AAA classification if the upper limit had not been boosted. Slaton's ADA is 571, eight short of the new AA limit for 1978 but well above the old AA limit of 550.

The UIL realignment of schools within districts were announced Monday.

Mills rites here Saturday

Funeral services were held for Lonnie Doyle Mills, 47, at 2 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 15 in the Hudman Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Jimmy Kennedy, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, officiating.

Mills was born in Brownfield, Tex., March 12, 1930 and had been a resident of Post for the last five years. He died at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock Thursday, October 13. He was a mechanic.

Survivors include his mother Amy; two sons, Roger and Jimmy Mills, both of Lubbock; two daughters, Lola and Mary of Shallowater; one sister, Jewel Anstead of San Benito, Tex., and two grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Roger Mills, Jimmy Redman, Z.E. Feagin, Perry Graham and Charles Jacobs. Burial was in the Ralls Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

ectors met in Slaton Tuesday morning to work out 1978 football schedules.

Post will have six home games next year and only four away, but the situation will be reversed for 1979 with six on the road and only four at home.

Home games will include

Floydada, Colorado City, Denver City, Cooper, Seminole and Frenship.

Post's open date will be the second weekend of the season, the spot formerly occupied by Coahoma.

The grid season will open a week later next year with (See District 5AA, Page 16)

CHARLES STENHOLM

Farm leader from Stamford

Charles Stenholm, 39-year-old Stamford farmer who recently announced as a Democrat for the 17th Congressional seat now held by Omar Burlison, says he is ready to attempt the hard job of convincing Congress that rural America needs to be heard.

Burlison has announced his retirement after the current term and the seat will be filled in the 1978 general election.

Stenholm received both his bachelor of science and master of science degrees in agricultural education from Texas Tech University in 1961 and 1962.

He began teaching vocational agriculture soon after receiving his second degree. At the same time he and his father were partners in the family farm near Stamford.

He left teaching to become executive vice president and then president of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Association in 1964. He also became a charter trustee of Cotton Incorporated.

In 1967 Stenholm left the association and became general manager of the Stamford Electric cooperative where he served for (See Stenholm, Page 16)

Sheriff short two deputies

Garza's sheriff's department is two deputies short this week.

Deputy Robert Blaylock, who has worked in the department for over a year, resigned effective Friday to accept a better law enforcement position at Box Springs, a suburb of Dallas.

Sheriff Jim Pippin, who already had an unfilled vacancy in the department, said he has some applications and hopes to fill at least one of the vacancies in the near future.

He is now operating the department with four deputies.

Absentee voting on 7 amendments begins

Absentee balloting for the Nov. 8 election on the seven proposed state constitutional amendments began Wednesday in the county clerk's office here for any interested Garza voters.

Little interest, either in absentee voting or the election itself, is anticipated. The first amendment would expand the current constitutional provisions for denying bail to persons accused of felonies. The second would enlarge the Court of Criminal Appeals from five to nine judges and allow it to meet in panels of three judges.

The third would increase the Judicial Qualifications Commission from nine to 11 members, change its name to State Commission on Judicial Conduct and give it (See Absentee, Page 16)

Over $56 million worth of oil was pumped out of Garza's "oil patches" last year and when the figures are in 1977 may be even a little better. Drilling continues and the successful waterfloods of old fields are being expanded.

Postings salutes our oil industry for the energy and hustle they show. Their ranks may be spread pretty thin over the county on any given working day, but if they could be gotten all together in one place at one time they would be a heck of a lot of hard working guys.

For fans who think moving Seminole down from AAA into district 5AA next year is going to make it tough, how about the Panhandle situation where Perryton, state AAA semifinalist last year, and one of the state's top 10 this year, also dropped back into AA?

For those wondering where Post stands, size-wise in AA ranks, this is to report near the bottom in 5AA. Post's ADA is somewhere between 275 and 300 with the Class A maximum being 254. It would take another raise or two, and some loss in attendance here to drop Post back into Class A.

It is worth pointing out that Post has to have a mighty good athletic program — and it does — to successfully compete with schools the size of Slaton, Seminole in AA, and now Seminole in AA competition.

Post's great street widening project of 1977 is almost complete. Broadway now looks wide, wide, wide, but the only difference is a safe left turn lane up the middle.

Highway Engineer Julian Smith said Tuesday the whole thing will be completed in about three weeks. What is left is putting every driveway back in — in as good or better condition than it was before the widening began. Actually the street itself is done.

Phase 2 of the project, which is going to include the four-laning of the overpass over the railroad at the southern entrance of US-84, should see construction under way within two or (See Postings, Page 16)

Rotarians told all about GSA

Beth Whitaker of Fort Worth gave Post Rotarians a detailed explanation of the operations of the federal government's General Services Administration at the club's weekly luncheon Tuesday in the community center.

A quality assurance specialist and an employee of GSA in supply activities for 17 years, Mrs. Whitaker explained that among the GSA's many activities was a huge supply system for government agencies and the operation of over 10 federal buildings all over United States.

An inspiration to us all

This Oil Progress Week finds the oil industry in Garza County vigorous and healthy.

After all, 1976 was the biggest year ever in oil production for this county with seven million barrels pumped out of the ground and sold for $6,800,000.

The land owners got over $7,000,000 for their share.

Before 1976, 1975 was the biggest year ever. We suspect that following 1976, 1977 is going to be the new "biggest year ever."

Of course, Garza with its over 1,900 producing wells isn't really big as oil production goes, but it is doing all right.

And those little "stripper wells" which were shut down by the dozens a few years back are mostly running again and making a little money because the government does not control the price for the small amounts of oil pumped from them.

The waterflooding efforts in Garza's older fields have proven successful and are sure to continue for many more years.

The fact that 96 new wells were drilled in Garza last year and 73 of them became producers attests to the fact that new production is continuing.

Almost four million dollars was spent in this county alone last year by independent operators drilling wildcats, seeking new oil fields. Of the 24 wildcats, only one became a producer. Who says wildcatting isn't risky?

Our oil industry is a spread-out effort by dozens and dozens of individuals and firms, some producing, others servicing the production. It is hard to get the whole story, hard to see in action, and hard especially for bureaucrats to understand.

But it is thriving — and what makes it work so well is that the oil business — at least around here — is America's competitive economics in action.

In the oil business, a guy can really make a stake for himself if he has the luck, the know-how, and the desire to work hard enough to accomplish it.

We're seeing lots of them do it here. And it makes our oil industry not only one of the anchors of our economy but something which can inspire us all to dig in and do a little better.

And, after all, that's still the America success formula—not the 30 hour week, or triple time on holidays.

Time to unite again

The Garza County United Fund drive, which starts next week, is a major fund raising effort designed to combine five agency drives into a single one and also give smaller organizations which would have no chance to organize a drive in this county the funds they need to continue operation.

United Fund also is designed to control distribution of the money it raises in a fair way. To do this, the organization has a budget committee which studies the fund requests of participating organizations before deciding how much to allocate to each one out of the total goal. In this way, each participating organization is fairly treated, and what is even more important, the giving public is assured that no organization is getting more than it really needs.

The success of the United Fund is based upon two things—the willingness of people to make one single, but adequate contribution to cover all participating agencies involved, and, second, the ability of the organization to reach its goal year after year so that each participating organization gets all the money it needs and not just a prorated share from an unsuccessful campaign.

Garza's United Fund has topped its goal eight straight years now. What little it raises above its goal is put into an emergency fund which is available to fill unexpected needs in the community during the year. Those funds are used only upon a vote of United Fund directors.

In the last several years, the emergency fund has been used several times.

It is true there are other financial drives in the community other than the United Fund. That is because a handful of national organizations prefer in organizing their chapters to make fund raising one of their activities.

Certainly, it is not because any have been excluded from the United Fund.

Each year an invitation is extended to every organization in need of funds to participate in the United Fund.

The difficulty of fund raising in a small community is actually making contact with everybody. When contacts are missed so are the contributions of those people.

Raising money for community organizations which benefit the community is no easy job. It can be made easier by citizen understanding of the need and his or her ready participation when asked.

Let's work together to put the United Fund over the top again.

AUSTIN—Whether rural land can be taxed on the basis of its productivity alone is the subject of a furious round of capitol debate.

House Speaker Bill Clayton set it off when he wrote in his newspaper column that local tax officials should implement a bill providing the tax break for farmers and ranchers January 1. He acknowledged there may be questions raised as to its constitutionality.

Three liberal legislators fired off an answering salvo that the bill was passed contingent on adoption of a constitutional amendment that did not get through the legislature. Without the constitutional change, they claimed, the bill cannot order open space lands valued on a basis other than market worth.

The lawmakers also charged Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Comptroller Bob Bullock with being in on the effort to put over the tax break. Briscoe said he was having no part in the controversy, but Bullock jumped into the fray charging two of the critical legislators voted repeatedly for the bill. The comptroller said he is assigned by law to prepare appraisal manuals for taxing authorities and that is what he will do.

The legislators said the proposed amendment failed because Briscoe and Clayton went along with extending the tax break to major industrial corporations, timber and lumber companies.

Clayton said he or somebody else may ask the attorney general for an opinion as to whether the law can be implemented without amending the constitution.

Crude Oil Stored

Crude oil is now being stored in the Bryan Mound Salt Dome two miles south of Freeport.

The dome is the second underground salt cavern filled with salt water to serve in the oil storage program which calls for squirreling away of 250,000 barrels by 1978, 500 million by 1980 and a billion barrels by 1985. First storage was at West Hackberry, La., near Lake Charles. More than two million barrels already have been put in the ground there.

The Texas dome has a rated capacity of 63 million barrels, West Hackberry about 61 million.

Cost of underground storage is about a sixth the cost of above ground reservoirs.

A billion barrel reserve would last the U.S. about 10 months at the rate of withdrawal of three million barrels a day.

Appointments Announced

Gov. Briscoe named Howard Anthony Bridge Jr. of Marshall, Rupert C. Richards Jr. of McAllen and Tom F. Herling of Laredo to Texas Tourist Development Board.

Briscoe placed six on the new School Tax Assessment Practices Board. They are Mrs. Don Workman of Lubbock, William Benjamin Munson IV of Denison, Judge Sergio Gonzalez Jr. of Del Rio, Jim W. Weatherby of Kerrville, Joseph A. VanDeWalle Sr. of San Antonio and Dr. John E. Codwell Sr. of Houston.

Short Snorts

The Democratic party's national commission on presidential nomination and party structure received recommendations on party rules changes at a hearing here.

Two hundred and forty-seven were hired and another 300 promised jobs by November 1 at the recent Amarillo Job Matching Fair.

Third phase of the Lo-Vaca Gathering Company's lengthy rate case hearing, of interest to many Central and South Texas cities, is under way before the Railroad Commission.

Atty. Gen. Hill has protested U.S. Customs Services plans to curtail air support for Texas law enforcement officers in their efforts to curtail narcotics smuggling.

Sen. Don Adams of Jasper took his term as being governor for a day in ceremonies here Saturday. Adams, was given the traditional honor in recognition of his service as president pro tempore of the Senate during the regular legislative session this year.

The heat pump

"THE ELECTRIC SAVINGS MACHINE"

Here's how heat pump

pumps

Think of it as a two-way electrical wonder, an amazing machine that cools your home or office in summer then automatically reverses itself to heat in winter.

Think of it as a savings machine that costs less to operate than other electric heating/cooling systems now on the market. You know that all air — even frigid arctic air — contains heat. The heat pump just puts this simple principle to work. In winter, it squeezes heat from outside air and pumps it inside. In summer, it extracts unwanted heat from the inside air and pumps it outdoors.

Or consider something already in your home that accomplishes the same thing as a heat pump — your refrigerator. It removes heat from the interior of the box and expels it. Like a refrigerator, the heat pump's basic components are simple — electric motor, compressor, condenser, evaporator, and blower system. Unlike a refrigerator, the heat pump has a reversing valve that lets it change the direction warm air is pumped — inside in winter, outside in summer.

Mark White into AG race

AUSTIN — Secretary of State Mark White resigned Monday to seek the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

Thirty seven year-old Houston lawyer and former Assistant Attorney General Mark White has served as Secretary of State since January, 1973. In announcing his candidacy, White said he views the office of attorney general as one of extreme responsibility to the people of Texas.

"Texans deserve an attorney general who is qualified and determined to lead the way to justice for all—not one who just wants to satisfy a personal ambition," he said at press conferences in San Antonio, Austin, Houston and Dallas.

"The chief legal officer of this state should be a man who has the ability to stand on his own two feet, basing his decisions on the law, legal precedents and common sense instead of on political considerations, past or present, direct or indirect," said White.

White said many people confuse his main opponent, Price Daniel, Jr., with his Supreme Court Justice father, Price Daniel, Sr.

"I am proud to run on my own name and my own qualifications," he said. "I think the voters of this state are fed up with cases of mistaken identity and they want to vote for the best candidate, not the best known name. Fortunately, we live in a country where high offices cannot be passed from father to son."

It's Our 26th Anniversary

In Business In Post

A large segment of the oil industry is composed of independent business men, like ourselves, working in a very highly competitive field to make America bigger and better.

These Oil Facts Tell Garza Story!

Garza County had its "best year ever" in oil production in 1976 with 7,000,000 barrels of oil produced at a total value of $56,600,000.

This compares with 6,800,000 barrels produced at a total value of $53,200,000 in 1975, and an economic stimulation by oil of $40,000,000 for the county in 1974. This is a gain of 200,000 barrels of oil over 1975 with a value increase of $3,400,000.

The 1976 production brought total oil production to Garza fields to 148,955,945 barrels since the first discovery well a half century ago in 1926.

Oil and gas developers and producers spent an estimated $13,900,000 last year drilling 96 wells, including 24 wildcat ventures. Some $3,700,000 of that was lost in drilling 23 dry holes, but the year's drilling netted 73 new oil producers.

According to the Texas Employment Commission, 187 oil and gas industry employes worked in the county in 1976, but this does not include employment by service and supply firms.

Garza ranks 65th among 200 oil and gas producing counties in the state in the total value of petroleum produced last year. It was 56th in 1975.

Garza's royalty owners received as their share a total of $7,200,000 in 1976.

Besides paying a high percentage of school, hospital district, county and even city taxes here, the oil and gas industry paid state taxes of $2,600,000 on oil output in the county and $75,063 on gas production.

Inflation-Fighting FOOD IDEAS

Porches are having a revival. They may take the form of balconies, patios or terraces, but more and more people are taking to their own out-of-doors for reading, resting and dining. Here's a menu that leaves plenty of time for lolling. Acorn squash are nicely stuffed with a canned macaroni product which has its own sauce and meatballs. The flavors blend well and the whole dish can be prepared in about 45 minutes. Serve the stuffed squash with an herby chichory salad and iced tea laced with cranberry juice for extra zing.

STUFFED SQUASH
2 acorn squash
1/2 cup chopped onions
1/2 cup chopped green peppers
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (15 oz.) Chef Boy-ar-dee® Meatball-A-Roni® (macaroni with meatballs in tomato sauce)
1/4 cup crushed pineapple

Cut acorn squash in half, lengthwise. Remove seeds. Blanch in boiling water for 10 to 15 minutes. Remove most of pulp leaving about 1/4" to 1/2" of shell. Dice pulp. Saute pulp, onions, and green pepper in butter. Add Meat-A-Roni and pineapple. Stuff each squash with Meatball-A-Roni mixture. Cover with aluminum foil. Bake in preheated oven, 375°F. for 25 minutes. Serves four.

SPS to build another plant

Southwestern Public Service Company has announced that it will invest in excess of $200-million during the next four years for the construction of a new electric generating station on the South Plains of Texas.

The announcement was made today by Bill Esler, SPS vice president of engineering and construction. Esler said the new plant would be located on the James Ranch about seven miles west of Southwestern's Plant X in Lamb County.

The plant will be called "Tolk Station" in honor of Roy Tolk, chairman of the board of SPS and it will have a generating capability of 565,000 kilowatts. Primary fuel for the station will be low-sulphur coal which will be brought in by unit train from Wyoming.

Construction of the new plant will begin next year and is scheduled for completion in 1982. Plans also call for a second 565,000 kilowatt unit to be completed in 1985.

Career van here Monday

The career van from Texas State Technical Institute will be at Post High School Monday.

The career van is a mobile unit designed to give high school students some insight into various career opportunities at TSTI. There will be a multi-media presentation given inside the van at 30-minute intervals. Films, slides, and lectures will be presented to groups of sophomore, junior, and senior students. The students are organized into groups according to their class advisors.

The career van is a new innovation at TSTI. It will be traveling through various towns in Texas.

Post band to be in practice contest

The Antelope Marching Band will be traveling to Lubbock Saturday to participate in a practice marching contest at Jones Stadium. This contest is designed to help area bands to prepare for the actual UIL marching contest to be held in November.

The practice contest is being sponsored by the Texas Tech chapters of Kappa Kappa Psi and Tau Beta Sigma, a fraternity and sorority established for college band students. A practice contest is relatively new innovation on the South Plains, but area band directors are enthusiastic about the idea.

Bands participating in this contest will first be inspected for uniform cleanliness and condition of instruments. Each group will then perform their show before three judges. No rating will be given, but each judge will prepare a critique designed to help each band polish their show for marching contest. This experience will also give band members a chance to get the feel of the astroturf at Jones Stadium and to adjust to the difference the stadium acoustics make in the sound.

The Post band is scheduled to perform at 6:24 p.m. Band director Jimmie Stringer states that "this practice contest is the greatest idea that I have seen for this area."

Tune in to Morrow

By DAVID MORROW

This week's column is going to be a kind of "bits and pieces" type of thing. I'm going to throw out a few juicy and maybe you'll find something amusing in them.

The other day before band, I was lamenting the lack of really good stuff to write and Karen Perkins informed me that she almost broke her leg several months ago and she didn't see anything about it. So here it is: Karen almost broke her leg several months ago.

Terry Smith is becoming quite well known for her "poems" which deal with any subject you care to name. She entertained us with some of them on the way back from Frenship Friday. Some of the more popular selections include "Snow", "The Major Malfunction", "David Foster", "The Upset Stomach", and "Thrill."

Friday night after the game, several of the band members decided that they needed to go to the rest room before we started on the long trip home. Some of the Frenship people had been really obnoxious previously, so Danna and I decided to accompany the boys just in case any trouble occurred. The restrooms were locked, and as we started back across the field, three large, hairy persons began to follow us. Then several of the boys decided that protecting them was my job, so they pushed me toward the oncoming Ape Brigade. Which was just fine until one

Sherri Bishop gets fast start in career

Sherri Bishop is employed as a teacher's aide at Post Elementary School. She works with the morning kindergarten class of Mrs. Glen Norman. Sherri supervises the classroom and playground activities of the youngsters. She also helps Mrs. Norman prepare various materials for use during class time.

Sherri plans to attend West Texas State University and major in elementary education. She plans to teach kindergarten, so she feels that the experience she is getting will be invaluable to her in her career.

"I enjoy everything about teaching young children," she says. "I am really glad to have this experience."

Sherri is a member of the HECE program at Post High School. This program allows juniors and senior students to attend classes in the required courses and also to work part-time. They receive valuable on-the-job training as well as their salary. Working in this program can provide experience for students to use in their later life.

Middle school to have math club

There will be a math club established at Post Middle School.

This club will be sponsored by Mr. Dennis Ward who teaches seventh and eighth grade math. Approximately 60 students have expressed an interest in the club.

of them began playing with a cute little switchblade. Not wishing to become hamburger meat at the moment, I beat a hasty retreat and got Mr. Stringer to herd our kids back onto the bus. The entire experience was rather uneventful, and I hope that no one in Post is low enough to try the same stunt.

Hey, Everybody, the spirit around PHS is just really fantastic. The loss was just one of those things that happen and we can't let it get us down. Everyone just hang in there and keep up the good work...it's not over yet. Remember, it's Slaton this week, so TEAR UP THE TIGERS!!!

First area chapter of FCM formed

The Post Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Musicians held its organizational meeting recently. The group of about 25 students, led by Mr. Jimmie Stringer, met in the band hall.

The FCM is a nationwide organization based upon basically the same principals that govern the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

The main goal of the group is to "live Christian lives and glorify God through music." Prayer, Bible readings, and general discussion make up the bulk of the activities. The FCM is open to any high school musician.

According to Mr. Stringer, the organization is fairly new in Texas. Members of the Texas Bandmasters Association have gone from their yearly convention to establish chapters in their own schools, but the Post chapter is the first on the South Plains.

For their first meeting, the

That's the question an independent oil operator asks himself every time he drills into the earth. Yes, drilling for oil is risky business.

Exploring and producing is the part we play in America's progressive oil industry. Like thousands of other independent companies—large and small—we compete to supply you with the oil products you need.

America's future growth—in both population and prosperity—will be so great that today all producing and exploration companies are hard at work searching for new supplies of oil. You and your family will need more oil than ever in the future and we're determined that you'll get all you need . . . when you need it.

As It Looks from Here . . .

By OMAR BURLISON
WASHINGTON, D.C. — To help overhaul what is obviously an antiquated concept, the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration is financing a new jury experiment for Federal Courts called "one day-one trial."

Under the system, a prospective juror would spend only one day or the length of one trial at the courthouse and their "public duty" would be fulfilled for the year.

As it is now, John doe is called for jury service and may report every day for a full month and never be chosen to serve. He loses money, and in some instances, has actually lost his job.

There are cases where a prospective juror works at night and attends Court during the day. John Doe's woes are shared by at least two million people called for jury duty each year. Reports say that many of them are bored, frustrated and suffer financial losses because of the traditional 30-day jury system. Experiments have been conducted in Michigan and are being tried in other places. Thus far, after eighteen months, judges and other Court officials say that it is working very well, not only for the juror but that it saves money.

In the system, a juror is selected from a master list of registered voters by a computer. The computer also mails a personal history questionnaire to determine if the person is qualified and acceptable. If qualified, he or she would be either in the regular or standby juror pool. In the latter, the prospective juror would telephone and be told by a recording whether or not to report for duty.

On their reporting day, the jurors are shown a 16-minute film, acquainting them with legal procedures and their role as jurors. They then await assignment. If they are not accepted, they are dismissed at the end of the day and that fulfills their jury responsibility.

If a juror has a legitimate excuse for not serving, it can be determined without his waiting around days before that determination is made.

Officials of Wayne County, Michigan, say that the first six months of the new system's operation, $330,000 was saved. Jurors are paid $15.00 a day and the cost per trial has decreased from $862.00 to $646.00. Indications are that the new system has brought about a broader community representation on juries since seven times as many citizens are summoned and 75 percent actually serve. This compares with 45 percent under the old system in Michigan.

No suggestion is made that the federal system be imposed on State Courts but if this new approach clearly proves itself across the Nation, a similar practice might be adopted in all jurisdictions.

Lopes rally in 4th, but bow to Frenship, 21-20

Baker scores on runs of 99 and 74 yards

Badly outplayed in the first three periods by the Frenship Tigers, in everything but the score, Post's never-give-up Antelopes turned the game completely around in the fourth quarter at Wolforth Friday night, but fell just short of winning by the two-point conversion try and field goal shot they missed in quick succession.

Frenship won the "game of the unbeaten" 21 to 20, as the final Lope thrust ended on a pass interception on the Tigers' 10 with just eight seconds on the clock.

Wingback Randy Baker scored Post's first two touchdowns in the first half with scoring runs of 99 yards with a kickoff and 74 yards from scrimmage to provide the Lopes with a 14 to 7 intermission lead, despite the fact Post made only one first down and Frenship had the ball over 80 percent of the time that first half.

The Tigers lost one touchdown by a penalty and the end of the first half found them on the Post one-yard-line with no time outs left to stop the clock.

In the third, Frenship drove 60 yards and 55 yards for touchdowns, scoring the go-ahead counter on a 17-yard pass on the first play of the final period.

By that time Baker was on the sidelines with a sprained ankle suffered early in the third when he wiped out a blocker and a Tiger ball-carrier for a short loss with a flying block.

But from the time Frenship scored the go ahead touchdown to take a 21-14 lead with only six seconds gone in the fourth, the Lopes rose up and turned things around without Baker to help.

In the time remaining, they rolled up a net of 103 yards, scored a touchdown, missed a two-point conversion, recovered a fumbled Frenship pitchout on the Tiger 10 and then missed a 27-yard field goal.

After failing to move from midfield after forcing a punt, they took the ball on their own 15 with 44 seconds left and moved it to the Frenship 41 with three pass completions in a row from Quarterback Brad Shepherd to Evans Heaton.

Shepherd then stepped up into the pocket and threw long for Halfback Cliff Kirkpatrick who was behind his defender at the Tiger 10, but the throw wasn't quite long enough to reach Kirkpatrick and Frenship intercepted.

In that fourth period, after the Tigers' touchdown play, Post held the Tigers to a minus three yards rushing and no first downs on four possessions.

It was a crazy game that saw-sawed back and forth. Post drew six penalties for 86 yards but three of them were costly and figured directly in the outcome of the game.

In the third period, a 28-yard pass interference penalty was by far the biggest gainer in Frenship's 60-yard march for the tying touchdown. Then Post stopped the Tigers and forced a kick, but a 15-yard roughing the kicker penalty gave the ball back to the Tigers on a first down on the Lope 32 and from there they drove in for the winning score.

When the Lopes were setting up for a field goal try with the line of scrimmage at the 5 in the fourth, they were flagged for too much time and the ball moved back five yards which made it a 27 yard kick and Leslie Looney didn't get a good foot into the ball.

It was hard to believe that Post led 14-7 at halftime, the way Frenship dominated first half play.

Post had the ball for only 10 plays in the first two periods, including two punts, while Frenship ran 45 plays.

Post's only first down came on Baker's 74 yard run from scrimmage in the second period and besides that run they got only eight more yards of offense rushing, up - yards for Kirkpatrick got the loss.

entire first half. Meanwhile Frenship, mixing runs, pitchouts, and passes to keep the Lopes off balance rang up 13 first downs, 140 yards rushing and completed five of eight passes for 44 yards.

This is the way the game went:

Post received the kickoff and on the first running play Fullback Darrell Reece fumbled and Frenship recovered on the Post 42.

The Tigers "scored" in seven plays, but on the "scoring" pass were flagged for having an ineligible receiver downfield and 15 yards marched off.

The Lopes then dug in and held for downs on their own 22.

The Tigers forced a Lope kick-Heaton averaging 38.3 yards per kick for the game—and from their own 39 drove 61 yards in 15 plays for the game's first touchdown with Quarterback Doug Townsend passing the final three yards to Halfback Roy Cruz for the tally. Guard David Norrell then kicked his first of three straight conversions.

Only 13 seconds were left in the quarter, but that was all it took to get the Lopes even.

Baker picked the slithering Tiger kickoff in the corner on his one yard line and came straight up the north sideline. Getting some claring blocks at the 20, he won the footrace for he last 80 yards into touchdown land. Looney converted and it was 7-7.

After an exchange of kicks in the second period, the Lopes had the ball on their own 26 when Shepherd sent Baker over left guard through the first hole of the night in the Tiger line. Baker sidestepped the line-backer, went to the outside and simply outran the safety in a footrace down the south sidelines for his second touchdown. Looney converted again. It was 14-7 with 4:59 left in the half.

Frenship started on its 20, after a kickoff through the end zone, and with the aid of a roughening the kicker and roughening the passer penalties, dove to a first down on the Post two with only time for one play. A plunge by Fullback Lloyd Strong fell a yard short and time ran out.

Post drew a 15-yard penalty on the second half kickoff and Frenship started from its 40 and in 11 plays went 60 yards for the tying score with Halfback Ralph Gonzales sweeping left end on a pitchout for the final five.

After an exchange of kicks, Post started from its own 48 and had a fourth and two on the Frenship 44. They went for it on fourth down and didn't get what would have been only their second first down of the game with 2:45 left in the third.

From there, Frenship went 35 yards, aided by a 15 yard roughing the kicker penalty, for what turned out to be the winning touchdown. Townsend passed 17 yards to strong for the score on the first play of the fourth.

Post then took the kickoff and drove 82 yards for its third touchdown in nine plays.

The big gainer was a 34 yard pass play from Shepherd to Heaton cutting over center and then down the sideline in the Frenship 30.

After that Kohen Josey, who replaced Baker at wingback, slashed 15 yards up the middle for one first down, and two plays later ripped 13 yards more to a first down on the Frenship two.

7th, 8th graders split 2 at Frenship

Coach Joe Giddens' seventh grade team thumped Frenship 30 to 6 at Frenship last Thursday night to remain undefeated while Post's eighth grade team took a 40 to 0 whipping from a very good Frenship club.

The eighth graders lost Gary Lamb, their starting quarterback, after the first few plays and Leroy Gonzales stepped into the vacancy and did a good job. Frenship built up a 34 to 0 lead in the first half.

Billy Martinez, one of the team's best players, was lost for the season in the Cooper game and his presence was missed. Martinez was starting center on offense and starting tackle on defense.

The seventh graders went out in front of Frenship on the first play of the game when Tim Tannehill returned the opening kickoff 65 yards for a touchdown.

In the second quarter, Halfback Wade Giddens scored on a one yard dive play after his 30 yard run took it to the one-yard-line. Tannehill ran in the extras.

A Tannehill to Giddens pass play covering 40 yards brought the third touchdown in the third period and Tannehill again ran the conversion points over.

Tannehill got the final score in the fourth period when he intercepted a Frenship pass on the 30 and ran it across for the touchdown.

The seventh and eighth grade teams, who play only to two homes all season due to an unusual schedule, will play their last home game here tonight in a twin bill against Slaton with the seventh graders getting it started at 5:30 p. m.

Post JVs hand 30-6 thumping to Frenship

Coach Chili Black's Post JV team remains undefeated after beating Frenship 30 to 6 here at Antelope Stadium Thursday night.

In the first quarter, Larry Rodriguez scored from five yards out following a 70 yard drive and then ran over the two points, putting Post on the scoreboard 8-0. Shawn Scott scored in the second on a pitchout from five yards out, capping a 50 yard drive. He also ran over the two extra points.

Larry Rodriguez scored again in the third period from 20 yards out with the extra point no good. Frenship also got on the board when they went in from the three.

In the final period Quarterback Rance Jdkins threw a 40 yard pass to Jimmy Odom to set up on Frenship's three yard line and Rodriguez carried it in from there. Bobby Finch scored the two points.

The JV will play the Slaton JV at Slaton Thursday night beginning at 7:30 p.m. recovery by Frenship enabled the Tigers to kick it down to the Post 15 with 44 seconds left. Shepherd hit Heaton three times in four tries on down-and-outs for 43 yards, but didn't have time to keep pecking away and had to go for the long ball, which wasn't quite long enough.

It was the first loss of the season for the Lopes who have been winning all close ones up to Friday night as if following a movie script.

Frosh rip Frenship 26 to 14

Coach Lane Tannehill's Post freshmen stayed unbeaten in district play last Thursday night by thumping Frenship 26 to 14 here in Antelope Stadium.

Jessie Taylor put Post in front in the first period when he raced 60 yards for a tally on an end-around. The conversion points failed.

After Frenship tied the score at 6 ad in the second, Wingback Charles Curtis slashed in from the five for the second touchdown to cap a 40-yard drive which originated with a Frenship fumble. Curtis dived over for the conversion points to make it 14-6.

Wingback Alonzo Luna dove in from a yard out for the third touchdown to end a 45 yard scoring march from a short punt. The score was 20-6 at the intermission.

Frenship got its final touchdown in the third period to narrow the score to 20-14.

In the fourth, Wingback Curtis ran 60 yards on a punt return before fumbling. Nose guard Bryan Taylor recovered the football for Post on the Frenship 15. Fullback Gary Baker hammered it in for the last touchdown.

The freshmen will make their second and final road trip of the season this evening, meeting Slaton's freshmen at Slaton at 5:30 p. m. today.

Slaton High plans rodeo

Slaton High School Tri State Rodeo will be held October 29-30 at the Livestock Pavilion on the South Plains Fairgrounds in Lubbock.

The rodeo is open to TSHSRA members only and will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30, Saturday night at 7:30 and Sunday afternoon at 1:30.

Producer for the event will be Charlie Thompson's C-T Rodeo Co. Judges will be Kenneth and Pete McKee and the rodeo clown is Steve Holland.

The rodeo is sponsored by the Slaton High School Rodeo Club with a $2 admission.

Packed stadium seen for clash with Slaton

Coach Jackie Brown's Post Antelopes, handed their first defeat of the season by Frenship last Friday night, will be out to get right back into the thick of the District 5AA football scramble by upsetting the state-ranked, unbeaten Slaton Tigers when they invade Antelope Stadium here Friday night.

The biggest crowd here in several seasons is expected. The two rivals have had title shares the last two years and taken turns representing the district in playoff competition.

This time the Tigers rule as favorites. The 21 to 20 loss to Frenship was a bitter blow for the Lopes and quite to point out that all along the district championship race has been at least a four-team affair.

With Tahoka and Frenship the other two contenders, Slaton has yet to meet all three of the other top teams, and both Tahoka and Frenship must both play each other as well as Slaton.

So one loss at this stage does not knock the Lopes out of title consideration. But a victory over Slaton is a must. Two defeats and Post definitely will be out of it.

The Tigers bring to Post a squad containing 22 seniors and a whole lot of talent.

In talent, speed, size, high scoring offense and tough defense, Slaton will be probably the best football team the Lopes have faced this season.

And as Coach Jackie Brown points out, "They are also a well coached football team" under the direction of gridmaster Ed Cook.

The Tigers have a high scoring offense run from a slot I with options, traps, and power sweeps and quite a bit of passing as well as the diversified running attack.

Quarterback Steve White is the passer for Slaton this year and is a better runner than last year's quarterback as well as being an accurate thrower.

Brad Eblen and John Johnson, a pair of tough running seniors, play both tailback and fullback, alternating at the two positions in the Tiger attack. Michael Piwonka, another senior back, also is a good runner.

The big questions in the Antelope camp are how ready will the Lopes' two top running backs be, Randy Baker and Butch Booth.

Booth with a stretched ligament should be better against Slaton than he was against Frenship, after being held out of the game victory. Whether he will 100 percent is still questionable.

Baker, the team's scorer, sprained an ankle in the third quarter against Frenship making an See Slaton game, Page 10

Lopes picked to 'surprise' Slaton

The "upset special of the week", the Old Prognosticator announces, will be the Post "Fourth Quarter" Antelopes surprising state-ranked Slaton Tigers, after getting back on the track with their last minute heroics.

One thing about this one, O. P. points out, is if it develops into a tight one, the Lopes will feel right at home and the Tigers will be completely out of their element.

In other "picks" this week, it's:

FRENSHIP at DENVER CITY. It's the Tigers' turn to have some fun out in the old corral. Frenship is the best AA club we've seen this year.

ROOSEVELT at TAHOKA. Fullback Clifford Bailey & Co. shouldn't have too much trouble with the Eagles. Nobody else has.

Ballinger's COAHULE The Bulldogs have the field advantage and the scoring punch.

FLOYDADA at TULLA. Winds have too much defense and should win not too much again - usual.

This will be "retro week" for Lockney, Colorado City and Cooper.

Last week, the Old Prognosticator had four of five right, missing only the Frenship upset of Post.

That gives him 41 correct in 55 games for a 74 percentage on picking winners on games involving the Lopes and their season opponents.

Results last Friday were:

Frenship 21, Post 20; Slaton 60, Denver City 13; Roosevelt 13, Cooper 7; Floydada 23, Lockney 7; Colorado City 13, Chama 7.

OTHER GAMES THIS WEEK

— TONIGHT —

Smarting from that one-point loss to Frenship, Coach Jackie Brownd's Antelope's will play the "big game" of the 1977 season Friday night in Antelope Stadium when they tangle with the state-ranked, unbeaten and favored Slaton Tigers. A victory over Slaton will put the Lopes right back in the middle of the district race where four good ball clubs rate title shots. In Slaton, the Lopes will be meeting the best ball club in talent, speed, size, and both offensive and defensive effectiveness.

New durable press method found for 100% cotton

NEW YORK — The ongoing search for techniques to give durable press performance to all-cotton apparel has entered an exciting new phase.

It's "vapor phase," a process that is now proving itself in commercial use in the New York garment center.

Developed through research sponsored by Cotton Incorporated, the fiber company of American cotton producers, the process is seen as having almost unlimited potential for opening up new markets for cotton.

"It's the wave of the future," says Williams Siegel, president of Vapor Processing Company, a thriving young New York firm that holds the license as the first commission vapor phase finisher in the country.

In full operation for only a few months, Siegel's leased vapor phase processing unit is now in use on a 24-hour basis, applying durable press finishes to garments made by various manufacturers from corduroy, denim and other all-cotton fabrics. Buoyed by his early success, Siegel already is looking ahead to acquiring more units and expanding his commission business to locations in the South.

Both Siegel and James P. Hangle, Cotton Incorporated director, apparel mill marketing, see the vapor phase process as the key to unlocking the door for cotton in markets dominated by other fibers.

"The big place I see for this is in tailored clothing," says Siegel. "Permanent press never worked in this area."

He proudly displays the suit he is wearing—an all-cotton suit processed in the vapor phase unit.

"I can wear this suit all day and it won't get wrinkled—not even in hot, humid weather," he says.

Hangle agrees that vapor

phase could make cotton a major factor in "areas in which we have never been competitive," such as men's dress suits and slacks and women's tailored clothing.

Looking at successful tests run on the vapor phase unit with a variety of fabric types, Hangle predicts, "For the first time cotton will be able to go toe-to-toe in these areas. What we're talking about now is total wardrobe."

When Siegel talks about the potential of vapor phase, the textile industry pays attention. He earned his reputation more than a decade ago as one of the pioneers of permanent press—the process that revolutionized the textile industry by introducing the concept of "easy care" fabrics that didn't require ironing and resisted shrinkage. As one textile trade publication put it, "Siegel probably knows more about permanent press than anyone in the industry."

One of the major drawbacks of permanent press, however, was that it had a weakening effect on cotton. This led to the extensive development of high synthetic blended fabrics and the prevailing thought in the textile industry that durable press for all-cotton fabrics was unattainable.

Siegel also realized, though, that in the permanent press curing process, "It was the cotton that was the reactive fiber; the polyester did nothing but strengthen the blend."

He knew, too, that "everybody wanted 100 per cent cotton, the public recognized that cotton was more comfortable."

Believing that "the next logical step in the evolution of durable press was to go to 100 per cent cotton," Siegel became involved in several experiments with companies seeking answers to the problems.

Meanwhile, the new vapor phase system was being developed by scientists at the Stanford Research Institute in California under a research contract awarded by Cotton Incorporated.

Assigned the patents for the new system, Cotton Incorporated granted an exclusive license to American Laundry Machinery Industries (ALMI) for developing the equipment. ALMI began building the hardware and sub-licensing the process to apparel manufacturers.

The first units were used to process industrial uniforms and career apparel, mostly of polyester-cotton blends. The first adaption of the new system for all-cotton was accomplished by Quality Mills, whose "Quality" men's knit shirts under the Cross Creek label hit the market last fall with immediate success.

Siegel, meanwhile, saw in the emergent vapor phase system the breakthrough he had been seeking to give durable press finishes to a wide range of cotton fabrics—woven as well as knits.

"I knew of ALMI, and I knew of the position of Cotton Incorporated had taken," he relates. "I went to Cotton Incorporated to determine their interest in seeing a vapor phase unit operating here to serve the New York garment district."

As Siegel puts it, "Cotton Incorporated showed a positive interest." A new venture was born, with Cotton Incorporated providing technical assistance for Siegel's new business, and Siegel agreeing to make the reactor available for Cotton Incorporated to test various fabrics and to help sell more manufacturers on the advantages of using cotton.

"Quite frankly," says Siegel, "this company would not have been possible without the help of Cotton Incorporated."

Since Siegel's vapor phase unit arrived in mid-1976, frequent visitors to his facility have been Brian W. Jones, associate director, textile chemistry research, at Cotton Incorporated's research center in Raleigh, N.C. and Walt Milne market manager.

"When I first got the machine, Brian and Walt were here at least once a week," Siegel says. "Sometimes, they were here two or three times in a week—checking out the machine, calibrating the machine and giving technical assistance."

"Cotton Incorporated and my company have a mutual interest, but I see it as more of a friendship relationship," Siegel adds. "Whenever they need to use the unit, I try to squeeze them in. I feel indebted to them; besides, we're both looking for the same end result."

Those end results are finding the right treatment levels to give durable press properties to as many types of cotton fabric as possible. Sometimes, this requires extensive tests.

As Jones explains, "It's a question of getting just the right balance between the wear strength and abrasion resistance of the fabric and acceptable durable press performance. We have to find the right level of treatment for each fabric."

Milne, on the other hand, is most concerned with the proper balance of market products. He pursues the various opportunities in the marketplace to insure exposure of the vapor phase system to the customers who will be using the process.

With Jones' technical assistance and Milne's market expertise, Siegel has successfully treated apparel made of many types of all-cotton fabrics—twills, saateens, denims, corduroys, velours, double knits, single knits and others.

"You can literally boil the garments treated by this process," says Siegel. "And it won't change the fiber memory. And the garments will always have a soft hand."

Other advantages of the system, he says, are color retention for the lifetime of the garment, keeping it looking new; shrinkage control, and moisture absorbency for better comfort.

Siegel's philosophy in opening the business in New York was to provide vapor phase processing to the smaller manufacturers "who can't afford the equipment and don't have the space or technical know-how to put in the equipment."

His biggest surprise has been "the way the big guys jumped on it." In addition to a number of smaller companies, such big names as Wright Manufacturing, a division of Oxford Industries; H.D. Lee, Brooks Brothers, Sears and J.C. Penney have sent garments to Siegel for either commercial processing or testing.

The unit is processing some 20,000 garments a week. "With improvements in efficiencies, we should be able to do 50,000 a week," Siegel says.

In addition to being used as a testing facility and to showcase products for Cotton Incorporated to demonstrate the effectiveness of the process to the apparel industry, Siegel's unit is

Seasonal food items may ease budget

COLLEGE STATION — Fall vegetables and fruits, increasing in supply, may ease the week's budget, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System. But expect higher dry bean prices, especially pintos, due to heavy rains in some growing areas.

Pumpkins are plentiful, and seasonal vegetables include cooking greens—mostly collards, mustard and turnip tops—sweet potatoes, broccoli and rutabagas. Also acorn and butternut squash, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, potatoes and dry yellow onions.

In fruits, several varieties of grapes are available, with tokays often lowest priced. Cranberries are more plentiful, as are new crop apples—with the best apple prices on smaller size bagged apples. Pears, bananas, and oranges are priced right.

At meat counters, today's pork-pork is high in nutritive value—is leaner. Good buys: Boston butt roast, quarter loin cut into chops, semi-boneless hams, and some brands of bacon are moderately priced, as well as frankfurters, liver and roll sausage.

Beef supplies are ample. Featured cuts this week include chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, some boneless rolled roasts, ground beef and beef liver.

Fryer chicken—supply and price remain about the same, but notice the difference on whole and on cut-up fryers. Be your own butcher and save, Mrs. Clyatt suggests. Eggs are attractively priced for the season, with Grade A large generally the best value. Also, turkey parts are priced low. Frozen vegetables in heavy supply include broccoli, corn-on-the-cob, and frozen potatoes. Also look for plenty of canned corn, tomatoes, and tomato products.

gressive tackle, after scoring Post's first two touchdowns on long runs. It is an unusual kind of sprain, according to Coach Brown, with no swelling and not really involving the ankle joint but being above the joint. It was giving Baker considerable pain over the weekend.

The rest of the Lopes are expected to be in top shape. Both Booth and Baker probably will be in the starting lineup.

Slaton has scored 230 points in six games this season for an average of almost 40 points per game, while holding all opponents to only 19 points, the best defensive record among AA clubs on the South Plains.

Only two touchdowns, two field goals and one extra point has been scored against them.

Bolstering their scoring offensive statistics were romps of 68-0 against Abenaithy in pre-district play and 60-0 against Denver City last week at Slaton with Slaton fans roaring "more, more" after every touchdown.

The Tigers' longest scoring drive was only 48 yards as four of the Slaton touchdowns were set up by miscues of the Denver City punting unit. Two center snaps sailed over kicker Ruben Rodriguez' head and he was unable to get either kick away, a third was blocked, and a fourth was "shanked" for only nine yards off the side of Rodriguez' foot.

The Denver City Press reported the Mustangs were riddled with injuries and sickness for the game after having three starters, all backs, knocked out in the Tahoka contest.

Kenneth Harvey, a Mustang lineman for three seasons, was moved to fullback and got 60 yards on 16 carries, and Freshman Bruce Speights was elevated to the varsity because of the injury situation and gained 14 yards on five tries.

By the first of the year, the highway department hopes to let contracts for the complete reconditioning of US-380 from Lee Davis' place on to the eastern county line. That will be a major rebuilding project with the grades smoothed down, etc.

When Slaton comes to town Friday night we're going to have a great game between two fine high school football teams. We hope Slaton fans are given courteous treatment here. We have a good sports rivalry going, and let's keep it that way — a good one.

If you don't think politics isn't popping around West Texas, take a look over on the classified page. There

One never knows in the newspaper business, but one gets "feelings" when something is wrong. We got such a feeling after writing this week's gin check story which indicated a harvest of 30,000 bales for Garza County.

So we checked our figures, and the ginners guesses with County Agent Syd Conner. He was amazed. He just didn't believe it. He said his last "guesstimate" was 18,000. Then we asked him if the Pleasant Valley area had a huge crop and their gin was going great guns 24 hours a day this year after having all that trouble with another operator a year ago.

He told us they hadn't been running very long and were almost done. "But they told me on the phone they had already ginned 3,300 bales had 300 on the yard and weren't even half finished," I said. Syd shook his head — sideways.

So we checked with Lewis Herron at the bank. He agreed with Syd. He couldn't believe any 30,000 bales for the county, and especially that 7,000 bales for Pleasant Valley Gin.

So we called "pleasant Valley gin" back. That same sweet voice confirmed yesterday's count. We told her we had a lot of doubters. Well, to make a long story short, we had been talking to a gin near Brownfield which we think was named Pleasant Valley too. When we asked the phone operator for the gin's new number last week she had given us the number of the gin near Brownfield.

So, we hastily rewrote our harvest story, took about 7,000 bales off the guesstimate of the ginners, and were pleased to think we had had enough sense to check it out (investigative reporting it's called today) and that we still had our "sixth news sense" to tell us when something was wrong.

Our Pleasant Valley gin we found out hasn't gotten a phone installed yet.

What helps the producers of food, fiber and energy," he said, "helps us all, and what hurts them hurts us all."

"Businessmen, manufacturing people, consumer, agricultural and energy producers, and senior citizens share the same basic problems: Costs of production and costs of living are rising every day because of inflation; government regulations that have no relation to the needs of the country punish producers and consumers instead of encouraging production, initiative and peace of mind."
