

Required jail improvements here will cost $92,060

Inspector due Dec. 22

The Garza County Commissioners Court was told Monday that it will cost $92,060 to bring Garza County's new 10-prisoner jail up to minimum state jail standards.

The estimate has been submitted by Whitaker and Hall, Lubbock architectural and engineering firm.

It would include $29,310 for a 1977 square foot addition to the present jail at a cost of $30 per square foot; $25,000 for jail equipment for three single cells, day room, and locking devices; $15,000 for jail equipment which includes new security ceilings of steel, light fixtures, doors, hardware, visitation equipment, etc.; $1,750 for a communications system with central station, and eight remotes which are vandal proof; $4,000 for an exterior exercise area; $1,200 for an exhaust system; and $14,800 for an emergency generator recommended by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards.

The oral presentation in the competition constitutes 60 percent of the total score and the legal brief makes up the remaining 40 percent.

Judges for the final round of competition will include Justice Harry A. Blackmun of the U. S. Supreme Court and other high appellate judges and legal scholars.

Hamilton graduated from Post High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Hamilton of 5212 26th St., Lubbock. He earned the bachelor's degree from Texas Tech in 1975.

The sheriff advised the court that he has received a letter from Guy Van Cleave, executive director of the Texas Jail Standards Commission, that Inspector Joe Slater will make an inspection visit of the Garza jail Dec. 22.

According to Van Cleave's letter, the inspector in cooperation with Pippin and the commissioners' court will establish some type of time frame for completing the correcting of discrepancies made in a jail inspection several months ago.

County Judge Giles Dalby told The Dispatch Wednesday that representatives of the Whitaker and Hall firm plan to meet with the jail inspector to argue on some items the state commission says the jail here is not in compliance with.

After all, the Garza jail is only five years old and most Texas jails are in much worse shape.

The Texas jail commission was established and their new jail regulations set up after the Garza jail had been built here as a portion of the law enforcement building in 1973 at a cost of $198,000, with all but $28,000 from the county paid by a federal grant.

Judge Dalby explains that the county jail at that time was designed only as a temporary holding facility as a regional jail facility was to be built for long term use, but the regional facility never materialized.

One of the problems with the local jail is that a certain number of one prisoner cells are required, whereas all local cells are two prisoner cells, a recreational room and an exercise area are required together with specified communications and safety equipment.

While the two-prisoner units could be torn out it would weaken the security and it would be easier to add on to the present building to add the one prisoner cells.

The county now knows the cost for total minimum compliance with all state standards. The next step is to determine via the inspector whether the whole $92,060 will be required and if so, how to pay for it.

In other actions of the court Monday:

The court awarded to Harold Lucas Motors the purchase of a pickup for $5,190 with the vehicle to be paid for from R&B equipment fund of Precinct 3.

The court awarded Penner Tubbs Co. of Lubbock the contract for the purchase of a Plymouth police special for the sheriff's department at a cost of $6,244.07. The Lubbock bid for the sheriff's car was the only one received.

No action was taken after Sheriff Pippin presented bids for drapes for the law enforcement building. County Clerk Carl Cederholm, who requested a new typewriter for his office, was requested to secure prices on such a machine for consideration at the next meeting.

United Fund tops $10,000

Garza County's 1978 United Fund drive moved passed the $10,000 mark today toward its $10,750 goal.

"We're in the showdown stage now," Drive Chairman Jim Cornish said. "This will be the last report until we announce whether we did or didn't this year."

He said more is in sight in the business and farm and ranch divisions, but that just about everything else has been wound up.

Walter Didway, Postex Plant employee division chairman, reported Tuesday that the drive there this year has netted $1,298 in cash and pledges, which is considerable better than had been expected 10 days before.

But this is still about $225 under last year's Postex effort, though better than the year before.

"We're getting checks and cash mailed in from both farmers and ranchers," Cornish said.

Some of these had been written letters and asked to send in their contributions by Farm and Ranch Division Chairman Tommie Williams.

One farmer stopped me at the grocery store last week and handed me a $20 bill "for the fund", Cornish related.

County Attorney Preston Poole, courthouse employee division chairman, reported in with 12 contributions totaling $98.

Fred Perkins, ASCS and SCS employee division chairman, turned in seven contributions for $36. Dr. Tom Pass reported $60 from the ministers division in two contributions.

Hospital Administrator Ed Zintgraf, who heads the hospital employee division, reported 16 contributions totaling $77. There was one from the postal employee division for $10, and two from highway department employees for $21.

Cornish predicted the closest finish in the last ten years "if we can make it." He urged all in the farm and ranch division who intend to act on letter appeals for donations to make them quickly so the drive can be completed.

He said he will concentrate on winding up the work in the big business division in which there are still no reports on over 25 firms.

the way home from on and a Thanksgiving with our son-in-law, Chris, and two daughters, Sunday we decided that the solution to the nation's energy crisis is simply to use up all the excess energy of our three-year-old and eight-year-olds.

Somebody could figure out a plug that in, he would light up just a lot of parents' eyes, but not major cities too. At that level we are fantastic.

As a steady ride home, with 30 minutes to go before the Dallas boys kicked off in Arlington via the boob weren't really in the Christmas mood yet down though we did pump body for a Christmas and tried to put our own spin, which is mainly about our shirt, pajama and house slipper sizes.

the mail Monday put me in the mood — a package of 8 track stereo tapes Christmas music. The letters, et al are returned to the C Castle here for Christmas holiday after the festivities in the last year. I think which came when Walt, non-in-law, found out a devil of a time it is to top a Christmas tree.

We're already browsing stores looking for gifts use we're a firm believer in shopping at home because it's easier, less expensive, safer, and less consuming. It's hard to list all those advantages.

LUBBOCK — Third-year law student David Hamilton of Texas Tech University, will travel with the school's Moot Court team to compete in the national finals in New York, Dec. 12.

The competition, which is sponsored by the Young Lawyers Association of the Bar of New York City, will include approximately 22 teams from top law schools in the nation.

Other members of the team are Randall R. Moore of Frost and legal brief writer, Kerwin B. Stephens of Gustine. Both are third-year law students at Texas Tech. Coaching the team is Donald M. Hunt, adjunct professor in the Texas Tech law school.

The team earned the right to compete at the national level by going undefeated in the regional meet in Austin in October. The Texas Tech team competed against law schools from Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Topic for this year's competition concerns the rights of associate lawyers in a firm to unionize. According to Hunt, the topic brings up questions which revolve around professional being allowed to organize and unionize and under what conditions.

In moot court competition a hypothetical case is presented as if to the U. S. Supreme Court or other appeals court. One team must appeal the decision

Retirement plan ready

A meeting of all county employees was held Wednesday to explain the new county retirement system which will go into effect Jan. 1.

The county will make all the contributions to the plan — six percent of the employees' salaries — with no contributions required of employees.

Coverage will begin in the program when an employee has worked for the county a full year. The full retirement system is in operation for that employment after three years of employment, County Judge Giles Dalby explained to The Dispatch Wednesday.

The plan has been underwritten by Insurance Associates of Lubbock.

Power to be next president of Rotary

Tom Power is the president-elect of the Post Rotary Club, it was announced at the club's weekly luncheon Tuesday in the Post Community Center.

He will succeed Walter Didway as president July 1 when the new Rotary club year begins. Power is now serving as first vice president of the club.

Kent rancher into '78 race for Congress

Fike Godfrey, who resigned last month as executive vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, officially launched his campaign for Congress this week by pledging the use of "West Texas common sense" in trying to help solve the problems facing Washington.

Godfrey, a Kent County rancher and former automobile dealer in Spur, served the West Texas Chamber, which represents 132 counties, for seven years. In making his formal announcement for the congressional seat being vacated by U.S. Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson, Godfrey noted that he had worked with all members of the Texas congressional delegation and would not need "on-the-job training" to start representing the 17th District.

"Frankly, I am excited over the prospect of carrying on my efforts to bring industrial development to this district with the resources of a congressional office to back me up," Godfrey told a gathering of supporters and news media representatives in Abilene.

"I look forward to representing the views of the people of this district trying to bring some of their common sense to Washington decisions in trying to help solve the many critical problems which are facing us," he declared.

first vice president; Charles Adams, as secretary; Dr. Frank Pickett, as bulletin director; and Walter Didway as sergeant-at-arms.

James Mitchell will continue to serve as club treasurer, a position he has held for the last eight years.

The club elected Dee Justice and Fred Perkins as new directors who will replace outgoing directors Curtis Hudman and Danny Shaw.

Post man killed in crash here

In one of the few Garza county fatal accidents of 1977 to date, Leonard Wayne Ward, 22, of Post, was instantly killed about 1:30 a. m. last Friday morning at the intersection of the mill loop with US-84 at the southeast edge of the city.

Sheriff Jim Pippin said investigators found Ward apparently tried to make the turn off the highway onto the loop road at too fast a speed, and his car crashed through the guard rail into a deep pit.

No one apparently witnessed the accident which was reported to authorities here via CB radio by a passing motorist who saw the wrecked car from the highway.

Ward, who came to Post 4½ months ago from Mountain View, Calif., was an employee of Joe McCowen's Texaco No. 1.

His head was crushed and body mangled by the impact, investigators reported. He was driving alone

Juvenile arrested for marijuana

Sheriff Jim Pippin arrested a 16-year-old Slaton juvenile boy Tuesday night as he was driving around Southland "high" on marijuana with a juvenile girl with him.

The boy was released to his parents and he was to appear Wednesday morning before a juvenile judge in Lubbock on the charge. A small amount of marijuana and smoking equipment for the drug were confiscated from the car.

in his Chrysler station wagon which was a total wreck.

The Mason Funeral Home, which handled local arrangements, sent the body to the Gross Mortuary in Hot Springs, Ark., where funeral services were conducted Tuesday in the mortuary's chapel, followed by burial in Pleasant Hill Cemetery in Hot Springs.

Decorating contest for homes announced

The Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce is again sponsoring Post's Christmas home decorating contest.

Homes will be judged according to overall outdoor Christmas decor on the weekend before Christmas.

First prize will be $50 cash with $30 for second and another $20 for third.

Anyone wishing to enter their homes in the contest are asked to call Chamber Secretary Joy Greer at the Post Chamber of Commerce office, 495-3461.

The entry deadline will be 5 p. m. Friday, Dec. 16.

Winners will be notified and will be announced in the last edition of The Dispatch before Christmas.

Burlington officials to speak here Dec. 7

Post community leaders have been invited to a meeting at 1:30 p. m. next Wednesday in the Post Community Center to hear two Burlington officials discuss topics of interest, including local operating schedules and plans for Postex Plant.

Invitations to the meeting have been extended by letter by plant manager Don Smith.

William L. Beerman Jr., of the Corporate Public Relations Department at Greensboro, N. C., and Noel E. Garvin, executive vice president of manufacturing for Burlington's Domestics

Division will speak at the meeting.

Imports and governmental affairs as well as plans for Postex Plant will be discussed.

Several such meetings have been held in recent years as a way to explain Burlington's problems and viewpoints to community leaders here and maintain good communications.

The meeting is not expected to last over an hour as the Burlington officials will be on a tight schedule.

Possibly some other Burlington officials will also be on hand.

Alfonso Urtado of Lubbock, who was named on a Garza warrant here, walked into the Lubbock County sheriff's office last week and gave himself up.

He was on bond in Lubbock County on charges of burglary and DWI and now faces state charges of parole violation.

Pippin and Texas Ranger went to Urtado's home in Lubbock seeking to arrest him on the warrant two weeks ago but he wasn't there, and they couldn't find him in Lubbock.

The FBI failed to find him in Wilder, Idaho, where he was reported to be staying with kin. Then he was reported seen back in a Lubbock lounge shortly before he gave himself up.

Garza charges have to wait

Sheriff Jim Pippin thinks the case of who shot into George Mindieta's home here on Halloween night has been solved, but it may take quite a long while yet to bring the alleged assailant to trial.

$63,587 for manpower job

Garza County already has been allocated $63,587 under three different titles from the U. S. Department of Labor under the manpower program, Garza Manpower Director J. R. Johnson announced this week.

This is enough to provide 25 jobs with year-round funding, Johnson said. Fourteen of these jobs are already being filled.

Johnson said that more funding is expected and could reach as high as $100,000 for the first year under a new joint manpower effort with Lubbock County.

He said this would be about $50,000 more than has been assigned to Garza County under the previous manpower allocation system.

Some political thoughts

Large fields of candidates are plumb serious as they are already putting organizations together and trying to establish "name recognition" for the 1978 Texas political races to come.

With Congressman Omar Burleson retiring, there already are a lot of bright and shining faces on the campaign trail around this big district.

You ask one how many will really put on a full-bloom campaign and they'll tell you several will drop out in a few months. But they don't say who. We think they are mostly hoping.

The candidates, as we've met them coming through Post, appear to be top caliber men with experience, most all with conservative leanings because this is a conservative district, and all well bitten by that dangerous political bug. From first observation, we would say several have the qualities to make a good congressman though right now we don't know who has the money and support to win.

Even more interesting is the race that is cropping up for the Texas governorship.

Governor Dolph Briscoe is back at the voting counter to ask for a third term. Now those terms are four years in length, it could make Dolph the first Texas governor to serve a decade, if he wins.

We doubt if he has shown the ability to deserve such longevity.

Arrayed against him for the Democratic nomination are Texas Attorney General John Hill and former governor, Preston Smith.

Our Lubbock neighbor is attempting a political comeback after being swept out of office when the voters cleaned political house after the Sharpstown scandal. Normally, a political comeback isn't easy unless a candidate carried strong affection from the voters or had a tremendous record. To attempt a comeback after Sharpstown will be double difficult.

But Preston isn't the kind of a guy who campaigns in newspapers with glib statements. He really gets out and pumps hands and talks to people. In this kind of vote getting he has shown surprising strength.

But his chances can't even be listed at 3 to 1. They probably are much longer than that. At least for right now.

The attorney general is a different kind of candidate. Like most Texans, especially West Texans, we have never seen him and probably never will unless he is elected governor. The strongest factor in his favor in this race is that Texans may think it is time to try somebody else, that Briscoe has had time enough.

On the Republican side, Bill Clements is a surprise kind of straight talking candidate who may set the issues straight for the voters even if he doesn't win.

The former deputy secretary of defense, 1973-77, is a Texas oilman who is going to take the oil-energy issue to Briscoe, if Dolph is the Democratic standard bearer.

Clements points out that Briscoe "made a terrible mistake" in believing a Jimmy Carter letter last fall. In that letter to Briscoe and Louisiana's governor, Carter indicated he would favor oil and gas deregulation.

So Briscoe went out and stumped hard for Carter. Carter won Texas over Ford by a small margin or he might not have been president today. The letter and Briscoe's help probably were the deciding factors, as former president Gerald Ford indicated in Lubbock recently.

Since his election, Carter has turned away from his campaign stand for oil and gas deregulation. It well may mean Texas suffering from heavy new energy taxes and more national control of our important petroleum and gas industry. If that comes to pass, Briscoe's support of Carter in 1976 is going to be a real campaign issue against the governor in 1978, both in the primary and in the general election.

Probably another Republican or two will jump into the race.

When a lot of candidates start running against a two-term office-holder the voter can judge that a lot of political poils figure the office holder is about to get beat.

But that may not happen. The energy bill is still locked in senate-house conference. Briscoe might ride through again on his one campaign pledge he keeps when elected — no new taxes for Texas. That one is always popular with everybody.

Here's An Indisputable Fact About NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS

Nuclear Plants Set New Energy Record

A significant milestone in the history of man's use of energy was passed this year: electricity generated by nuclear power plants in America surpassed that generated by hydroelectric plants.

The Federal Power Commission reports that nuclear plants accounted for 12 percent of all the electricity produced in the United States in the first six months of 1977. The nuclear total was 123.8 million megawatt hours (A megawatt is 1 million watts).

This exceeded hydro-generation, which totaled nearly 110.4 million megawatt hours.

Nuclear power is now challenging natural gas (13.2 percent) for third place (fuel in electricity generation, behind oil (17.3 percent) and coal (46.1 percent)).

It would indeed seem that nuclear power is vital in meeting our energy needs.

GREEN TANK WAS NAMED
 Editor:
 Last time my husband and I were traveling to Post, we noticed a green tank beside the tank of water on Snyder Highway. It had picnic tables and a one-eyed cowpoke on it. That tank, so I have been told, has been there for many years and by a tiny spring of water at the bottom of the tank. That historical fact gives a few facts about the tank but part of the history just couldn't be written there. So just this morning I thought I might like to know the story.
 You know that the cowboys called it "green tank"?
 Late Morris Neff told me that he was a few cowboys for a while, and had taken all the hands he could. However, the day of the round-up he had a cowpoke sitting in the bedroll in the edge pasture. Neff rode out and asked the man what he was there for. The man told Neff that he wanted a job but he had no horse. His horse had gone lame and been sold in Snyder. The old cowboy, who had a blind eye, and looked first bucket of water, the mules moved forward and the wagon turned over in the tank of water. Sugar, flour, coffee and beans all sank to the bottom of the tank, while tin pans and cups floated on the water. Morris Neff looked back and couldn't see the chuck wagon as he sent another cowhand to investigate the matter. The cowhand found the new cook cussing and profusely at the mules and trying to set the chuck wagon up-right again. The poor fellow, according to Mr. Neff, was so humiliated until no one had the heart to hooraw and razz him as was the usual custom. But from the day of that accident (or blunder) until now, the old time cowhands call that tank "Green Tank" because "Green" Serratt was the name of the old one-eyed cowpoke.

"Green" Serratt was my great-uncle. My father said he could guess where "Green" got his name, but no one ever knew his real name if he had another one.
 In March 1966, (I was told) Green died at the hotel for retired cowboys in Dermont where he had lived for about ten years. He died before I learned he was in Dermont, so I never knew him. How ironic that since I was twelve years old, I would ride past that tank and say "There's ole Green Tank." I learned the story after I was an adult.
 Please, say howdy to all the folks in Post. I think of you often.

PUBLIC NOTIFICATION
 We have been advised by the Texas Department of Health Resources that on September 19, 1977 one sample failed to meet the microbiological maximum contaminant level of their Drinking Water Standards, as well as those of the Environmental Protection Agency - National Interim Primary Drinking Water Regulations.

The coliform organism is an indicator of contamination and is not harmful in itself.

All other samples taken by the City of Post met all requirements of the Texas Department of Health Resources and the Environmental Protection Agency.

Bridal couple write own wedding vows

Kay Ahlstrom and Stephen King, of Dover, Delaware, exchanged double ring vows which they wrote and delivered themselves in a noon wedding held recently in Thornton, Iowa.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Max R. Ahlstrom of San Jose, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. James King of Roswell, N.M. The groom is the grandson of Mrs. Marvin Dunlap of Post.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leo Wilson, pastor, before an altar decorated with red roses and evergreens. Candles were lighted by Michele and Sharlene Drefs, both nieces of the bride.

Escorted by her grandfather, George Ahlstrom, the bride wore a full length gown of organza over taffeta. Vertical bands of embroidered eyelet adorned the bridal gown and train. Her fingertip length veil fell from a matching embroidered eyelet cap. She carried a white Bible surrounded by a bouquet of white carnations and chrysanthemums, highlighted by a single red rose.

Jeanne Abrahamson, served as maid of honor. She wore a full length gown of pale blue crepe with floral headdress and matching bouquet of baby roses and mums with blue streamers. Bridesmaids were Michele Brannigan, of Dover, Del., and a cousin, Jo Ann Thompson of Mason City, Iowa. They wore mint green dresses and headdresses styled identical to the maid of honor and carried matching bouquets.

Best man was Chris Rausch of Dover, Del., and Keven and Phillip King of Roswell, N.M., brothers of the groom, ushered and served as groomsmen.

Wedding music was provided by organist Irma Schaeffer, Kenneth King, brother of the groom sang "I Was In His Mind", and the "Wedding Song."

Following the ceremony, a luncheon reception was held in the church parlor. Serving for the reception were Mrs. Robert Vining, Mrs. Paul Frey, Mrs. Martin Drefs, Mrs. David Watermillier and Mrs. Rose Marie Drefs registered the guests.

The bride is a graduate of Leland High School in San Jose, Calif., and King is a graduate of Goddard High School of Roswell, N.M. Both are serving in the United States Air Force stationed at Dover Air Force Base.

Those attending the ceremony were Mrs. Releigh Watermillier, maternal grandmother, and Mr. and Mrs. George Ahlstrom, paternal grandparents of the bride, the bride's great grandmother, Mrs. Rena Landon, and Mrs. Marvin Dunlap of Post.

Other guests attended from California, Illinois, Maryland, Texas, New Mexico, Oregon, South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. Travis Gilmore of 415 South Ave. H announce the engagement of their daughter, Jenda Raye, to Stewart Franklin Rowe Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Franklin Sr., of Greenville, Tex. Miss Gilmore is a 1975 graduate of Post High School and attended Texas Tech University and Lippert School of Court Reporting. She is presently employed at the Texas Commerce Bank, Dallas. Stewart, a 1970 graduate of Greenville High School, is a 1974 graduate of Texas Tech and a 1977 graduate of Texas Tech University School of Law. He is presently employed by Arthur Young and Co., of Dallas. The couple plan a Jan. 7 wedding at the First Baptist Church in Post.

EVA RODRIGUEZ

March 18 is wedding date

Mr. and Mrs. Salvadore Rodriguez of Southland announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Eva, to David Magallanes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Magallanes of Slaton.

The bride-elect is a 1976 graduate of Southland High School and a graduate of Jessie Lee's Hair Design. The future bridegroom is presently a sophomore at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

The couple plan to marry March 18.

Sorority puts up yule tree

Gamma Mu Sorority met Monday night, Nov. 28 at 5:45 at the home of Helen Mason.

The members stuffed Christmas stockings to take to Twin Cedars Nursing Home. The members then went to the home to put up their Christmas tree and decorated the lobby. While the tree was being put up Sharlot Sparlin played Christmas carols on the organ while members and nursing home staff sang carols. The club then went back to the home of Mrs. Mason for refreshments of sandwiches, chips, cake and cranberry punch.

The members present were Irene Fry, Julie Hudman, Sharlot Sparlin, Johnny Norman, Loveta Norman, Ruth Ann Young, Orabeth White, Jane Mason, Helen Mason, Kathy Fluitt, Sara Holder and Jana McAlister.

The sorority Christmas party will be Dec. 17 in the Woman's Clubhouse. There will be an exchange of presents.

Backstage crews are busy on 'Tom Sawyer'

Backstage crews are hard at work on the Dec. 13 production of Tom Sawyer. Curtain time for the Middle School Operetta will be 7:30 p.m. to permit younger members of the family to attend the production.

Those in charge of crews are Holly Dunlap, properties; Andy Rosas, scenery and lights; Jerri Baumann, programs; Suzanne Hernandez, make-up; Julie Rivera and Tina Rodriguez, costumes; Kirk Thomas, publicity; Patti McClellan, ticket sales and house management.

Tickets will be sold only at the door which will open at 7 p.m. They will cost $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12. Proceeds will be used for spring field trips by the choir and 8th grade drama classes.

"Tom Sawyer" will be shown to the Middle School students Thursday Dec. 15. Directors are Mr. George Willson and Mrs. Priscilla Williams. Student director is Mary Lou Garza, who will also be a stage manager along with Nonnie Bright. High school student Randy Hudgens will run the lights.

Sea animal fossils found

The geology class of Post High School went on a field trip recently.

The class traveled to the section of the caprock near Fluvanna to observe the fossil remains and structure of this particular part of the earth's crust.

Fossils were identified from the Jurassic and Cretaceous periods of global history. The Fluvanna cap is rather unique for this part of Texas, being an outcrop of limestone and conglomerate that shows the buildup and erosion of several centuries. Fossils were found of ancient sea animals, showing that this part of the country was once covered by a prehistoric sea.

The students left before lunch and spent about three hours on the site. They were accompanied by Mr. George Pierce and Coach Jackie Brown.

THANKSGIVING VISITORS

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C.K. Pierce were their daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Grape, Karla, Phillip and Roger of Memphis, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mountz, Austin and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wells, Michael and Shelly.

Tune In to Morrow

By DAVID MORROW

Well, the Thanksgiving holidays are over and it's time to get back into the daily grind until Christmas. Everyone seems to have had an enjoyable holiday, and we certainly needed the rest.

Youth Center hours change

The Youth Center hours will change this week to Thursdays and Saturdays instead of on Tuesday nights. The hours will remain the same with Thursdays from 7:30 till 10 and Saturdays 7:30 till 11.

Thursday night will be a decorating party for the community center. Trees will be decorated and decorations made for the inside of the center.

All youth center members are urged to attend and help in the decorating.

153 Middle School annuals are sold

One-hundred and fifty-three annuals were sold in the Middle School Antelope Memories competition. Top math students vied to sell the most annuals.

Winner of a free annual each were Pam Riley who sold 42, Dana Dudley 36, D'Linda Tyler 26, Gilbert Perez and Lisa Holly each with 13, and James Lee with 12.

Karla Kennedy, a senior member of the HECE program, is employed by the Post Independent School District as a P.E. assistant.

Karla assists Mrs. Patricia Reynolds with fourth and fifth grade students during their gym periods. She works from 11:45 to 12:35 and then from 1:35 to 3:45. Karla's help is invaluable because most of the P.E. classes are large and need the supervision of more than one person. She helps the children in their activities, which include basketball, running, volleyball games, and exercises.

The classes will soon begin work toward their presidential physical fitness tests, which can qualify a boy or girl for an award.

Karla says that she really enjoys her job and working with the youngsters.

She plans to make elementary education her career, so this work is valuable experience for her. Karla wants to attend West Texas State University in Canyon after graduation.

Spotlight on SENIORS

RONALD BRATCHER
Ronald Bratcher is in the senior spotlight this week. Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bratcher and has lived in Post all his life.

During his years at Post High School, Ronald has participated in all of the varsity sports—football, basketball, and track. He has also been a member of the FCA, the drama club, and vice-president of the sophomore class.

Ronald likes to ski, and enjoys spending time with friends. After graduation, he plans to attend Angelo State University and major in forestry.

Ronald says that he likes attending a small school because he gets to know everyone and do a lot of things.

NANCY CLARY
Nancy Carol Clary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Clary, has a busy life at PHS. She has lived in Post all her life. Nancy's hobbies are showing animals in stock shows, swimming and cooking.

Nancy has been a valuable asset to the Doe's basketball and tennis teams. She is captain of the basketball team this year. She also holds office as secretary of the National Honor Society, HECE historian, FHA first vice-president, and alternate representative to the student council. Nancy was also president of the sophomore class.

Nancy has participated in the drama club, UIL persuasive speaking, 4-H, the FHA sweetheart contest, the junior play and the all school play.

Nancy plans to attend Angelo State and really doesn't know what she would like to do in the future. She says that she has enjoyed going to Post High School, and feels that it has prepared her for a good career.

Area cotton price drops $1.25 bale

LUBBOCK — Prices paid High Plains cotton growers were steady to $1.25 per bale lower the week ending Nov. 25, according to Paul R. Dickson, in charge of USDA's Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock.
 Growers sold mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and better, staples 31 through 34, mikes 3.3 and above for around 43.75 cents per pound. Mixed lots of mostly grades 31, 41, 32, and 42; staples 30 through 33; mikes 3.5-4.9 brought around 43.35 cents per pound, Dickson said.

High Plains Classing Offices graded 290,000 samples this week, bringing the season's total to 1,548,000. This compares with only 406,000 samples graded by Nov. 25 last year, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Predominant grades across the High Plains this week were grade 31 at 22 percent, grade 41 at 27 percent and grade 32 accounted for 24 percent.

Staple lengths were mostly staple 31 at 31 percent, staple 32 was 30 percent and staple 33 accounted for 16 percent.

Micronaire was mostly in the desirable 3.5 to 4.9 range at 83 percent of the total. Eleven percent was high and six percent was lower.

Three percent were reduced one grade because of grass and two percent for bark.

Average breaking strength of High Plains cotton registered 86,000 pounds per square inch.

GIN paid growers 58 to 70 dollars per ton for cottonseed, mostly 63 to 64 dollars.

Lopes, Does drop games at Lockney Tuesday

JV girls are only winners in 3 games

Post's two varsity basketball teams lost at Lockney Tuesday night preparatory to their entry into their first cage tournaments of the young season this weekend.

Coach John Alexander's inexperienced Lopes took a beating on the boards and lost Evans Heaton in the first period on a turned ankle as they bowed to the Longhorns, 63 to 45.

Coach John Morrow's Does fared no better, losing to the Lockney girls, 53 to 39.

The Post Junior Varsity girls, coached by Chili Black, were the only winners at Lockney, taking the preliminary, 39 to 33.

In the boys game, Brad Shepherd led both teams in scoring with six fielders and five frees for 17 points. Raymie Holly added eight, Ronald Bratcher seven, Cliff Kirkpatrick five, and substitutes Clinton Curtis and Tim Morris four each.

Lockney pulled away in the second period to a 33 to 21 intermission lead after holding only a two-point advantage, 15 to 13, after the first quarter. In the first half, the Horns lengthened that lead a bit in each period.

In the Does' loss, Lockney broke on top and Post girls were never close. They trailed 15 to 6 at the quarter and 31 to 17 at the half.

Kerri Pool led the Post shooters with 13 points, closely followed by Nancy Clary with 12, Debbie Wyatt, who has been high point in most of the previous games was held to four fielders for eight points and Karla Kennedy scored six.

Starters for Post were Clary, Wyatt and Pool on the attack unit and Sylvia Curtis, Lisa Cowdrey and Sharon Johnson on defense.

The Post JV girls got rolling in the second period with 14 points to move out in front and go on to victory in the prelim after trailing 7 to 6 at the end of the first period. It was 20 to 13 for Post at the half.

Carolyn Pringler, with seven fielders and two frees led the Post attack with 16 points. Donna Baumann had six, Karen Perkins and Susan Sawyers three each, Karla Duren, Leanna Davis, Dana Babb, Dana Bird and Kathrin Bullard two each, and Christy Workman one.

7th boys lose at Cooper

Coach Joe Giddens seventh grade boys basketball lost a close one Monday night in their opener of the season bowing to Cooper there 40 to 37.

Tim Tannehill led the locals in scoring by tossing in 17 points, Will Kirkpatrick had 10 and Wade Giddens, six.

Post got off to a slow start having scored only seven points at the half, but came on strong in the third period scoring 20 points to Cooper's four.

The team will play Slaton here next Monday night beginning at 5:30.

Lopes whip Winds here, 46 to 40

Any time a young ball club wins one, it's a good feeling. The Post Lopes got the glow last Tuesday night with a 46 to 40 win over the Floydada Whirlwinds here.

The Lopes pulled away in a 14-4 third period after holding only a 22 to 20 halftime advantage.

Post had five players in the scoring column with three in double figures.

Evans Heaton led the way with 13 points, Bryan Compton followed with 12 and Ronald Bratcher scored 10. Other scoring came from Cliff Kirkpatrick with six and Brad Shepherd with five.

The locals did not have a particular good shooting night, hitting 21 of 64 from the field for only 33 percent and 8 of 20 from the line for 40 percent. The Lopes pulled in 45 rebounds, which made them the winner.

Coach Jerry Reynolds' Post JV boys also rang up a victory in the preliminary with a tight 40 to 36 win over the visitors.

Dale Redman was the top shooter for Post in this one with 12 points. Mike Dye and Larry Rodriguez had seven each, Shawn Scott six, Barry Tyler four, and Jackie Stelzer and Rance Adkins two each.

Post jumped in front 15 to 7 in the first period and were never headed though they failed to pull away. They scored 39 percent from the field and 46 percent from the charity line.

Does split two, lose starter on injury

Coach John Morrow's Post Does split a pair of pre-Thanksgiving games last week with Levelland and Floydada respectively on the local court to even their season record at 2-2, but lost starting guard Kelly Mitchell for a number of weeks, possibly the season, with a dislocated elbow.

Kelly suffered the injury in the victory over Floydada and has the injured elbow in a cast and arm in a sling.

The Does lost to Levelland, 63-55 in overtime Monday night, Nov. 21, but came back Tuesday night, Nov. 22, to down Floydada, 43 to 35.

Levelland jumped into a 10 point lead in the first period, 19 to 9 and maintained it through three periods, leading at the start of the final quarter, 49 to 38.

But the Does put on a real scoring charge to outshoot the visitors 17 to 6 in the fourth period, leaving the score at knotted at 55 all at the end of regulation play.

That big rally was all the Does could muster. Levelland tallied three fielders and a pair of free throws in the overtime period while the Does failed to get a single point.

Debbie Wyatt again led the Post attack with 11 field goals and four free throws for 26 points with Dana Giddens getting 10, Karla Kennedy eight, Nancy Clary six, and Kerri Pool five.

The Does shot 42 percent from the field, 23 out of 55, and 60 percent from the charity stripe, 9 out of 15.

B. Veretto with 29 points, K. Barnett with 14 and L. Griffin with 18 scored 61 of Levelland's 63 points.

In the Tuesday night victory over Floydada, Debbie Wyatt didn't get her shooting eye until the third quarter but went on to total 21 points after being held to two first half fielders.

Kerri Pool scored 11 points and Nancy Clary 10 with Karla Kennedy adding the other one.

Post jumped into a 12 to 6 first period lead, only to see Floydada close it to three points, 22 to 19 at the intermission. The Does pulled away to 34 to 27 in the third period.

Kerri Pool led the Does in rebounding under the offensive board with 7 while Sylvia Curtis had tops in caroms on the defensive end with six. Altogether Post pulled down 29. The Does hit 17 of 43 shots from the field for a 40 percent shooting night.

Starting at guard for Post were Mitchell, Peggy Jackson and Lisa Cowdrey with Nancy McCowen, Curtis and Sharon Johnson also seeing action for the defensive platoon.

Danna Giddens, Dana Bird and Karla Duren also saw action with the attack unit.

Tahoka into round of 8

Two Clifford Bailey touchdowns and tough defensive play gave the Tahoka Bulldogs a 13 to 9 regional win over Kermit at Andrews last Friday night and moves them into the quarter-finals against state-ranked Childress at 8 p. m. Friday in Kimbrough Stadium in Canyon.

While the Bulldogs were advancing further than any Tahoka team has ever gone in the post-season playoffs, the No. 10 Childress powerhouse blitzed Littlefield 41 to 7 at Canyon.

Childress already has eliminated No. 2 ranked Spearman, 19 to 3, in bi-district.

The Childress Bobcats have advanced to the state finals the last two seasons so they will hold a big edge in playoff experience over Tahoka.

Bailey, who was held to 93 yards on 43 carries at Andrews, now has 2,276 yards on 406 carries for the season and ranks 10th on the all-time single season rushing lists for Texas AA gridgers. If he could have a big night against Childress he could move up as high as fourth.

Tahoka built up a 13 to 0 lead against Kermit on touchdown drives, entirely on the ground, going into the fourth period. But Kermit Jackets drove 46 yards for a touchdown in seven plays.

Kermit then put Tahoka in a hole on their own two with a 60 yard punt. Tahoka took a safety rather than attempt a punt from its end zone thus getting a free kick from their 20. They then held on for the victory. In two playoff games to date, the Bulldogs haven't completed a pass.

Does play today in 13-team tournament

Coach John Morrow's Post Does will take the floor at New Home at 11:40 a.m. today to meet Seagraves in the first round of the Hub of the Plains Basketball Tournament.

If the local girls win that opener, they will meet the winner of the Dawson vs. Frenship first rounder at 3:40 p.m. Friday. Should they lose, they will meet the Dawson-Frenship loser at 1 p.m. Friday in the losers' bracket of the double elimination affair.

The bracket drawing is a bit unusual with 13 teams entered in the three-day affair which winds up on Saturday night.

Other clubs are New Home, Plains, McAdoo, Christ the King, Motley County, Smyer, McCamey, Sands and New Deal, all of them but Frenship and Post being Class A schools.

Post originally was matched against Motley County in the bottom of the bracket, but Seagraves was switched down from the upper bracket to the lower bracket so the Seagraves girls could clear the tourney in time for the Seagraves football post season playoff game Friday night.

Frosh romp to win at Cooper

Post's freshman boys basketball team scored a 56 to 33 district win over Cooper at Cooper Monday night with Jessie Taylor hitting eight fielders and two frees for 23 points.

Coaches Lane Tannehill and Jerry Reynolds had seven other players break into the scoring as 10 players saw action.

Alvin Taylor had eight points, Leslie Willard seven, Drew Kirkpatrick and Barry Wyatt six each, Lance Darn five, Barry Morris three and Benny Kennedy one.

Post led 6 to 4 at the quarter but poured in 20 points in the second quarter for a 27 to 12 lead.

The frosh will meet Slaton here Monday night.

7th girls grab opener 27-12

Coach Lu Allen's seventh grade girls basketball team opened the season with a win over Cooper here Monday night 27 to 12.

Darla Jackson led the scoring with 10 points and D'Linda Tyler had six. Other scoring for Post were Cynthia Poole, Verdy Taylor, Tina Green and Charlicie Daiby each with two and Rhonda Adams had three.

The girls will play Slaton there next Monday night beginning at 5:30.

Ronnie Price scores 25

Ronnie Price had a hot hand in tossing in 25 points for Coach Greg Eubank's eighth grade boys basketball team when Post defeated Cooper Monday night, 43 to 33.

Others scoring for Post were Odell Curtis with six, Steve Fielder had five, Gary Lamb and Brent Howard each had two.

Survey in panhandle shows more pheasants

LUBBOCK — The ring-necked pheasant population has shown another increase in the Texas Panhandle according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department survey figures compiled during early fall census counts.

"Survey lines are run every year along designated roads throughout the Panhandle and South Plains and a 6.4 percent increase was tabulated upon completion which is about normal," said David Dvorak, project wildlife biologist.

"Last year, a 58 percent increase set the record for hatches and numbers of pheasant counted on our survey lines, but this will not happen every year," Dvorak continued.

Another indication of a stable producing pheasant population is the ratio of one male pheasant to every female pheasant. This ratio will drop during the season as pheasant cocks are harvested by hunters leaving the desired ratio of one male bird to three-four female birds during the nesting season next spring.

The Panhandle pheasant season opens Dec. 10 and continues through Dec. 25 with a daily bag limit of two cock birds and a possession limit of four cock birds.

The Panhandle regulatory counties hosting the hunt include: Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Cottle, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Floyd, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hansford, Hardeman, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lipscomb, Moore, Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, and Wheeler.

One county of the Permian Basin regulatory district (South Plains) will have a nine-day season from Dec. 10 through Dec. 18. Terry County was opened to this limited hunt with the same daily and possession limit as the Panhandle although, the pheasant population is very small compared to some northern counties.

Indications of the pheasant reproduction in Terry county show a carrying capacity that will not increase unless landowners furnish more habitat suitable to pheasant. The short season should interest landowners in planting more grain and cover even though most landowners will not allow any hunting this first season.

CONSERVE KITCHEN ENERGY — Saving energy in the kitchen is a concern of the Federal Energy Administration.

of our food is highly used, and even that which is not may have come from far away, at an extra cost in energy. So when it gets to us, our food has already been treated, processed and packaged, and when it is again from market shelves, it has been cut down on energy output—in preparation—the Office of Conservation suggests ways to the consumer:

1. Avoid peeking in the oven in the crockpot. Use a meat thermometer, a meat thermometer or time-temperature checker to check minimum cooking time for the food you are cooking. Or use a light to help you see when the oven is on. Make sure the door seal is tight and working.
2. Plan complete oven cooking that can be cooked all at the same time. Turn off the oven when there is about 15 minutes of cooking time left—the oven will be not enough to finish the cooking.
3. Match pots and pans to the size of the burners. Use pans with flat bottoms for close contact with burner. A pot on too large a burner allows heat to escape.
4. Cover saucepans with tight-fitting lids whenever possible. Food will cook faster at a lower temperature.
5. Preheat oven only for baking, and then only for about ten minutes.
6. Set surface burners on high setting only briefly; lower setting will usually work just as well.
7. Prepare double recipes of some foods—such as stew, soup and lasagne. Freeze for later use.
8. Keep your gas range pilot adjusted. It could be using more fuel than necessary.
9. Put pots and pans on the range before burner is turned on so heat is not wasted.
10. Use your oven instead of surface units when possible. Less heat is lost in confined areas.
11. When practical, thaw foods before cooking.
12. Use glass or ceramic pots and pans on a conventional range; the heat can be lower 25 degrees without losing cooking efficiency.
13. Heat only as much water as you need; it will heat more quickly.
14. Use specialized appliances—popcorn poppers, toasters, skillets—when possible; they use less energy than the range does.
15. Use the vent fan to exhaust air heated by range-top cooking. This eases the burden of your cooling system, but don't let fan run needlessly.
16. Cool several dishes at once by dividing the skillet with foil inserts.

New firm in job survey

SNYDER — Representatives of a major appliance manufacturer will conduct an employment survey here Nov. 30 through Dec. 2 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Snyder Chamber of Commerce office.

The firm is considering location of a new plant in Snyder with an early 1978 startup of 125 full-time employees with future expansion expected to increase the payroll to 400.

A large percentage of jobs will involve light assembly work which will be filled by women. Jobs also will be available for men.

Survey information will be used to contact prospective employees when the plant begins operations on an eight-hour day shift, five days a week basis.

Of course, the firm will not move to Snyder unless a large enough labor supply is indicated by the survey. Survey information was taken earlier this week at Roby and Colorado City for the Snyder plant.

Fruits, pork offer best market values

COLLEGE STATION — Fruits and pork offer several good values to Texas grocery market shoppers this week, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System.

FRESH FRUITS — Most economical choices are grapefruit, oranges, tangelos, tangerines, cranberries, apples, grapes, bananas and pears.

FRESH VEGETABLES — Best buys are potatoes, dry yellow onions, carrots, cooking greens, cabbage, broccoli, hard-shelled squash, rutabagas and sweet potatoes.

PORK — Good values include butt-end roasts, quarterloin cut into chops and rib-end roasts.

POULTRY — Fryers on "special" are likely, since they have had a "back seat" to turkeys recently. Egg prices are slightly higher, but Grade A, large-size eggs are generally the best value.

BEEF — Fewer "specials" is a trend, so check for economy buys carefully. Consider chuck roast and steaks, ground beef and beef liver.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS

For baking and cooking economy, use dry milk or evaporated milk mixed with water—either will work in any recipe calling for milk.

In Loving Memory to Our Dad — Fred Gossett

It saddens our hearts
To realize the time has come
For us to part.

But God loved you too
With your laughing eyes of blue,
So much like the Beautiful rainbow's hue.

Your calendar years of eighty-three
I wonder—Could this ever be;
Because you were so young
At heart you see.

God had a plan—
When he gave this man
To be our Dad.
How could we be sad?

Because we said good-bye
Not only to Our Dad,
But to the best friend
We have ever had.

Your life on this earth
Could not be measured
By your earthly worth,
But for the legend you taught—
Not only to us—
But to your family and friends
you see—

By your action, word and deed—
Never forsaking a friend in need.

So dear Dad,
We shall not be sad,
But will be forever Glad
To be able to say—
Yes, this man was our Dad.

To a beautiful garden
You may have gone.
Your work is done
And you have earned your perfect rest.
And the setting sun
Has sealed your life's quest.

Though you are gone
You still live on
In our garden of memory—
And in the thought of those Memories
We shall remember
The things you said and did.
Then you will always be close to us—

In all our days ahead.

Farmers, ranchers oppose food policy

COLLEGE STATION — The foreign and domestic food policy of the United States is generally held in disfavor by Texas farmers and ranchers, a recent survey shows.

The survey, conducted by Dr. Ronald Knutson, economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, shows that the majority of Texas producers favor a reduction in the food stamp program and a tightening foreign food aid program.

"Regarding the food stamp program, producers voiced strong feelings that people should work for a living and that only those families in extreme poverty or receiving a minimum level of nutrition should receive aid," noted Knutson. "They felt strongly that the food stamp program has gotten out of hand in terms of size and scope. Although beef and milk producers are the greatest beneficiaries of the program, their attitudes varied little from other producers."

Knutson pointed out that the domestic food aid program has been expanded to attract the support of urban congressmen for the new farm bill just passed. This program is administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and last year took 60 percent of the department's budget. In addition to food stamps, the program includes school lunches and child nutrition.

"As far as foreign food aid is concerned, most Texas agricultural producers felt that this should be limited primarily to emergency situations," said Knutson. "They favor efforts by the recipient country to control population as well as to increase food production as a condition for foreign food aid. In actuality, however, such food aid programs tend to increase dependence on aid, foster further population growth, depress prices in the recipient countries, and thus reduce incentives to produce."

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Williams, Mrs. Pat McCowan, and Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Rogers, Jr. were in Lovington, N.M. over the weekend. They attended the funeral of their uncle, Wallace Awalt.

The Graham Methodist Church was treated to a puppet show Friday night, Nov. 25. The program was presented by Jackey Yates and his family. Jackey is the son of the pastor of the church and has presented the puppet show in several churches in the Dallas area.

"On the 'right to food' issue, Texas agricultural producers again showed their displeasure of any give-away program without a willingness on the part of the recipient to care for himself and work for a living. They feel that a 'right to food' exists only for those who have financial resources to buy on the open market and who are willing to work," noted the economist.

"Domestic and foreign food aid programs will continue to be major political issues in the years ahead," emphasized Knutson. "They are issues that are receiving strong reaction from consumers, government officials, Third World nations and the church, and they will continue to have marked effects on agricultural producers."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

AUSTIN—Legislative tax policy planners received a super-roxy picture of the state's economic outlook and governmental income potential.

One storm cloud on the horizon, however, is the uncertain energy picture and, particularly, the specter of an "anti-Texas" federal energy package emerging from congress.

"Everything looks good," Houston economist George Crosby told the House Ways and Means Committee at a special hearing here. "The energy situation is the main uncertainty."

Crosby noted Texas is the fastest-growing state among the top 20, unemployment is below the U.S. average and declining, and an increase in industrial plant construction is offsetting a decline in residential building.

Bill Alloway, a revenue estimator for State Comptroller Rob Bullock, said income from the sales tax bill will continue to increase at the rate of 11.8 per cent and 11.3 per cent during the next two years—reaching a total of $4 billion for the 1978-79 fiscal period.

In spite of a decline in production, natural gas taxes also are continuing to increase. Severance taxes on gas are expected to reach $550 million in 1978 and $670 million in 1979, according to Alloway's forecast.

The Ways and Means Committee also was reminded that Texas is one of three states which taxes gasoline at under seven cents a gallon (five cents). At four per cent, the Texas sales tax is about mid-range for the nation. The cigarette tax is among the highest (18.5 cents a pack). The gas severance tax also is among the highest, and the oil severance tax rate about mid-way for the oil-producing states.

Outside Sales Approved

Texas Railroad Commission allowed a major Texas gas distributor to sell surplus natural gas out of state without prior approval.

Lo-Vaca Gathering Company, however, must credit part of the profits from such short-term interstate sales to Texas consumers, the commission determined.

The commission said the surplus sales could have as much as seven to 12 cents per thousand cubic feet effect on potential gas cost increases.

The interstate sales further would have to be interrupted and gas returned to Texas when needed by residential consumers. Copies and detailed descriptions of each sales contract must be filed with the commission for subsequent review.

Logs Are A Luxury

Wood for the home fireplace is becoming a luxury fuel, depending on where and how you buy it, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Brown's survey noted wood which sold for $30 to $35 a cord two years ago, mixed loads of green and dry firewood, now ranges from $60 to $95, with some quoted as high as $120 a cord.

Brown advised wood buyers to be aware of how much wood makes up a legal cord. He said a rick can be a ripoff since there is no legal definition of that measure, and there is no definite number attached to "a pickup load."

A legal cord of wood is a reasonably tight stack of logs measuring four feet wide, four feet high and eight feet long, or 128 cubic feet. Prices vary. In Central Texas, oak is quoted at $60 to $70 a cord. In metropolitan Houston and Dallas, though, oak will cost you $75 to $90 a cord. Mesquite is also bringing $95 to $120 in Houston and Dallas.

Attorney General Opinions

A city may lease a spoil disposal site for production of marine life (mariculture), Atty. Gen. John Hill determined. In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The Board of Nurse Examiners can promulgate rules regarding the use of titles indicating that a person is a licensed registered nurse. Prosecution must be based on violation of the law, not the rule.

Policy of the Adjutant General's Department requiring employees to retire when they become eligible for two annuities, such as military reserve retirement benefits and reduced social security benefits, is invalid.

A periodic listing of new Texas businesses in Texas Employment Commission files is public information.

Wilson County Memorial Hospital District includes all of Wilson County except those portions previously included within the Nixon Hospital District.

Federal, State Courts Speak

The Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals sent back to the U.S. District Court at Tyler an order of major changes and additions to Texas Youth Council programs. The higher court said the lower court erred in refusing to let TYC offer additional evidence of reforms it had made since the 1973 trial.

The U.S. Supreme Court has set arguments December 7 in a case testing federal agency powers to order Texas natural gas diverted into the national pipeline system against wishes of the owner.

Atty. Gen. Hill is appealing a federal district court decision which, he says, could permit national banks to act as unauthorized insurance agents.

A Houston probate court hearing on the Howard Hughes estate case has been recessed until December 5 after attorneys for the temporary executors claimed Assistant Atty. Gen. Rick Harrison prevented them from getting a deposition from longtime Hughes aide Noah Dietrich. Meanwhile, the State of California is trying to stop the Houston proceedings by U.S. Supreme Court order.

Short Snorts

The Railroad Commission has denied protests of 17 Texas cities against Lone Star Gas Co.'s accuracy in figuring costs of gas based on out-of-period adjustments.

New voter registration certificates for 1978-79 are being mailed to registered Texas voters this month. The old certificates should be used for voting until next March 1.

The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission has approved a $30 million state bridge replacement program involving 143 structures.

CARE aid to cyclone victims

DALLAS — "In response to an urgent appeal from our CARE director in India for aid to survivors of the disastrous twin cyclones that struck Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu, leaving thousands homeless or dead, CARE immediately began feeding survivors and sending blankets and clothing to the hardest hit areas," according to Majorie H. Pinschmidt, Southwest Regional Director of the international aid and development agency.

"We were able to authorize provision of $65,000 worth of aid because we are confident that the American people will want to help CARE feed and shelter the survivors as well as begin rehabilitation work as soon as the emergency relief effort is completed," Ms. Pinschmidt said.

Reporting directly by cable from the scene of the disaster, Alan Turnbull, director of CARE in India, explained: "We used food from our supply for regular CARE feeding programs in Tamil Nadu, to feed 75,000 people. And when the second cyclone struck later, this time leaving a trail of damage in Andhra Pradesh, including an estimated 100,000 homeless and 1500 dead in Guntur City alone, we rushed an initial shipment of 11,000 pounds of nutritious bread and glucose biscuits to the worst affected areas. We also supplied a bakery in Hyderabad with flour for the production of 14,000 pounds of bread a day. Fifty thousand rations of bread are being air-dropped tomorrow and a facility in Hyderabad is ready to produce 40,000 pounds of ready-to-eat food a day, all of which will be sent to the victims of the emergency. In addition, we have purchased blankets, clothing, and medicines which are being distributed to victims."

Contributions may be sent to CARE-India Cyclone Fund, P.O. Box 50457, Dallas, Tex. 75201.

(Continued From Page One) energy problem, in such a way that people will not be bankrupted simply by using their cars and keeping their homes comfortable," said Godfrey. "We must solve the inflation problem, which was caused by unnecessary wasteful government spending.

"We must create more jobs, so that our young people can earn a living when they are ready to go to work. We must put the Social Security system back on a sound basis, so that the people, who have paid into it throughout their working lives, will be able to collect their benefits when they retire.

"We must eliminate unnecessary and abusive government interference in the affairs of small business, because it is stopping the creation of new jobs in the private sector," said Godfrey. "We must make it possible for farmers and ranchers to make a reasonable profit on their labor and investment. We must get tough on crime and the increasing use of narcotics, which is growing steadily worse.

"And, above all, we must maintain a strong defense for our nation—strong enough to deter aggression—or else we will find that solution to all our other problems are meaningless," he declared.

Godfrey said that, with the help of such people as Congressman Burleson, he has learned to work with congressional and federal procedures while representing West Texas on many trips to Washington during the last seven years.

Godfrey also noted that he and his wife had spent their vacations for many years traveling to foreign countries. He said the visits they have made to 24 foreign countries would give him a helpful perspective in dealing with foreign affairs matters.

LUBBOCK — Proposed 1978 normal cropland acreage and set-aside acreage regulations need significant changes if they are to be compatible with High Plains conditions and farming practices, according to the organization representing cotton producers in 25 counties surrounding Lubbock.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Lubbock, made this point Nov. 10, along with specific suggestions, in response to Department of Agriculture proposals published in the October 14 Federal Register.

The Agriculture Act of 1977 calls for the establishment of a Normal Cropland Acreage (NCA) base for each farm and stipulates that planted acreage each year be no greater than that base minus any acreage the farm may be required to set aside under cotton, wheat or feed grain programs.

USDA proposed that NCA's be established from the acreage planted to specific crops in 1977, plus "any other field crop significant acreage which is recommended by the State ASCS Committee." PCG suggested that the most normal cropland acreage in 1975, 1976 or 1977 be used to establish NCA's "to give all parties greater assurance that adjustments can and will be made for abnormalities in 1977 cropland acreage."

In the designation of set-aside acreage the Department put forth hard and fast rules concerning which land would not be acceptable. In lieu of this, PCG asked that the decision on eligibility of set-aside acres be left largely in the hands of state and county ASCS committeemen who are familiar with regional conditions.

USDA also proposed that an approved cover crop be required on set-aside acreage by the normal period for planting spring crops. To this PCG responded that the establishment of a cover crop is not always possible on the High Plains because of inadequate moisture. "We do not believe it is the intent of Congress or the administration to declare ineligible for program benefits a farmer who is unable to establish a cover crop because of drought, sand or other conditions beyond his control," PCG said, "nor is it in the nation's best interest to have farmers using scarce energy supplies and depletable irrigation water for the sole purpose of establishing cover crops."

PCG also objected to USDA's intention to flatly deny all grazing of small grains used as a cover crop on set-aside acreage. PCG urged (1) that grazing of spring wheat and other small grains be permitted in the same manner as those crops are normally grazed when planted for harvest, and (2) that grazing be permitted in November and December on 1978 set-aside acreage planted to a small grain crop in the fall for harvest in 1979. "When these crops are planted in the fall and attain good growth," PCG pointed out, "they can and often do suffer severe cold weather damage unless grazed in November and December."

Anyway, we think shopping at home at Christmas time is lots of fun. And after we play those 8-track through another time, we're ready to start.

Drug sentence draws appeal

Delgado Collazo, formerly of Post who now lives in Snyder, was arrested recently in Snyder with 11 pounds of marijuana in his possession.

Since he was on probation from a felony conviction of marijuana possession in Garza County, Scurry and Snyder officials brought him here for trial before District Judge George Hansard for parole violation.

Collazo waived his rights to a trial by jury and was found guilty by Judge Hansard who sentenced him to a five year term in the penitentiary.

Collazo immediately appealed the conviction and was released on a $5,000 appeal bond. As for the marijuana charges in Snyder he is out on a $7,500 bond on those charges too.

Needlecraft club has holiday lunch

The Needlecraft Club met Nov. 18 at 1 p. m. for a Thanksgiving luncheon at the bank community room.
