

Post's 'juvenile drug problem' gets airing

Cooperation is sought

Post's juvenile drug problem got its best public airing ever Monday night at the special joint meeting of the Post City Council and the Garza County Commissioners Court to discuss law enforcement with Sheriff Jim Pippin.

The pity of it was that the Post school trustees weren't present to participate because much of the discussion concerned the sale of marijuana to students on the streets surrounding Post High School and the difficulties imposed by laws protecting the individual for the sheriff's department without help to cope with it.

Most of the discussion on the juvenile drug problem concerned the sale of drugs to local students "on the streets around Post High School" by "known pushers."

Councilman Wilson declared that he is trying to get 100 persons to meet with the school board in the near future over the drug problem in an effort to establish a united front of parents, school officials, law enforcement officers and the general public against the pushers.

He told the group there are a lot of "irate parents who are just about ready to (See Joint meet, Page 10)

Trio meets with Bergland

The Garza Farmers "strike office" here reported Tuesday afternoon it had received a phone call from Bill Aten, one of three Garza farmers with the "paritycade" in Washington D. C. reporting that they had sat in on a meeting with Secretary of Agriculture Bergland.

Bergland was reported as saying he was in favor of 100 percent parity but that "there was no way he'd help farmers get it."

Aten said he also had been in a meeting with the deputy secretary of agriculture and that Congressman George Mahon was being very helpful in arranging meetings in which farmers could explain their problems.

Aten reported they were not discouraged, but not encouraged either.

A meeting with Senator Benson of Texas is being scheduled.

The trio — Aten, Elvus Davis and Jim Bob Shults — arrived in Washington at 5 a. m. Monday and the temperature was zero in the nation's capital. They will return home Saturday.

3 promoted in bank

Larry D. Willard, president of the First National Bank of Post, announced Wednesday that the board of directors at its January meeting promoted D.O. (Rob) Robinson to vice president and cashier, Jay C. Bird to vice president, and Linda Waldrip to assistant vice president.

Robinson joined First National Bank in October, 1976 as cashier. Prior to this, he was associated with an Odessa bank since 1971. He began his banking career after being honorably discharged from the U.S. Army (Airborne), and has experience in all phases of bank operations.

As vice president and cashier, Robinson has management responsibility in the areas of internal operations, personnel, purchasing, financial accounting, regulatory reporting, marketing, and is bank security officer.

He currently serves as (See Promotions, Page 7)

Garza farmers meet again to hear 'strike reports'

A hundred Garza farmers and ranchers, plus a few Post businessmen and Post-Plant representatives, turned out for the second American Agriculture Movement meeting last Thursday night in the Post Community Center, but no action was taken to set up a "strike office" here because one already was in operation supported by donations of well over $1,000.

B.L. Thomas, who "chaired" the meeting, set the tone of it in his opening remarks when he declared:

"We should not interfere with anyone else's rights to reach our goal of 100 percent parity."

After hearing three speakers, there was a question and answer period before the meeting was adjourned without planning any actions.

Those present were told they could make any donations they wished to support the Garza farm strike activities before they headed for home.

Between $1,000 and $2,000 already was in the bank

Paul Jones in statement

Paul Jones has released to The Dispatch the following statement:

"I would like to announce my candidacy for Garza County treasurer. I have lived in Post and Garza County for 32 years. I served 12 years as county commissioner of Precinct I, and I feel like this would help me to serve as county treasurer."

"I would appreciate your vote and influence in the Democratic primary in May. I will try and visit with all of you before election time."

Two Ticer memorial funds established

Camp Post to be dedicated to Ticer.

Scoutmaster Jerry Stegall said Bud Jones is undertaking the campsite improving as his "Eagle project" and will be assisted by other members of the troop and possibly some fathers of troop members.

Contract price for the campsite improvement is $2,400, according to Stegall. (See Memorial, Page 7) from contributions made during the week which followed the first meeting at the Graham Community Center.

It was announced that three, possibly four Garza farmers would fly off to Washington over the weekend to participate in the "paritycade" which began in the nation's capital last week.

The Garza "strike office" telephone number here is 495-3700, the group was told.

Post Rotarians Told Tech med school aims at rural health care

The area in which the Texas Tech Medical School can make its greatest contribution as a medical school is in solving rural health care problems, Dr. Richard A. Lockwood told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in the Post Community Center.

Dr. Lockwood is the medical school's vice president for the health sciences centers.

At present, he said, he is forced to move slowly because "we are limited in both resources and manpower."

Earlier, Dr. Lockwood had said that "the unique features of this medical school go beyond our regional plans for health center."

"The ivy tower days of medical schools are gone,"

Faye Cockrell in statement

Faye Cockrell, who has filled as candidate for county treasurer, has authorized The Dispatch to issue this statement in her behalf:

"I have served six years as county treasurer before Pauline Coleman became treasurer and I enjoyed the work."

"I am a widow with an elderly father to care for. I have lived in Garza County most of my life. I pledge to put forth all my efforts to do an efficient job if elected."

"I will issue further statements and will try to see as many voters as possible before election. I ask for the consideration and support of all voters."

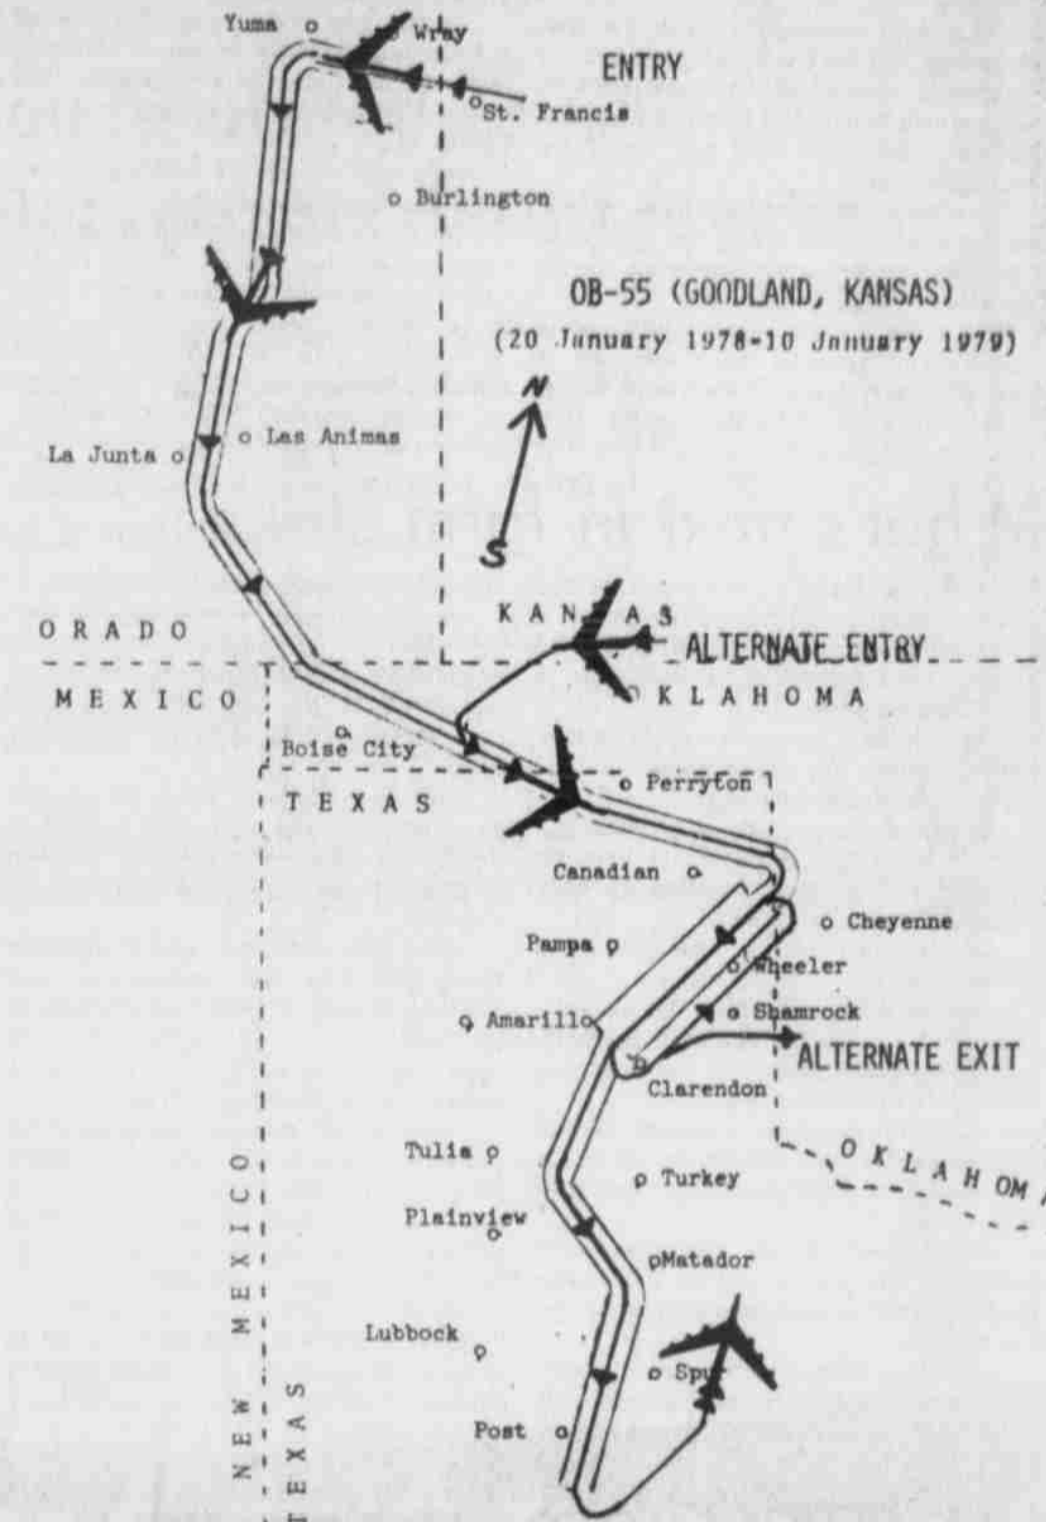

he continued. "Medicine is everybody's business now. This means medical schools need to involve themselves in the field of health care."

Dr. Lockwood said the Tech medical school already has set up demonstration projects at Shallowater and Crosbyton to "expose students and professional personnel to the problems of small community health care."

"We want to prove to our residents that they can practice just as well in rural communities as in large cities," he declared.

As for the new teaching hospital in Lubbock, Dr. Lockwood said, it will open Feb. 1 and "I can say its (See Rotary, Page 2)

SAC announces low level bombing route

HQ SAC, OFFUTT AFB, NEB.— Strategic Air Command (SAC) bombers will fly a new low level training route in Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas, beginning last Friday, Jan. 20. The route will be used until Jan. 10, 1979. The giant eight-engine B-52 Stratofortresses and swing-wing FB-111 fighter-bombers will fly the training route at subsonic speeds along a center line of an eight mile wide corridor at altitudes ranging from 600 to 2,000 feet above the ground. The route will be used to measure precision bombing, navigation training and electronic countermeasure activity.

Two more contested races develop here

Two more Democratic primary races have developed this week for Garza County, Dick Tanner, county Democratic chairman, has announced.

One is a three-way contest for county commissioner of precinct 4 and the other is a two-way challenge for county ty treasurer. This brings to three the number of contests for county offices in the May primary.

Aircraft do not carry bombs on these training flights. All bombing is simulated and radar scored by ground based scoring sites. Radar bomb scoring (RBS) equipment will be located near La Junta, Colo.; Hitchland, Tex.; LeFors, Tex.; and Post, Tex. These sites, using radio and radar signals, measure the accuracy of simulated bomb releases and simulated launching of short range attack missiles (SRAMS).

The Strategic Air Command conducts low-level bombing and navigation training to assure bomber crews are kept combat ready at all times. The routes are changed periodically to provide unfamiliar targets and radar returns. Populated areas are avoided as much as possible and all (See SAC bombing, Page 3)

2 snows bring .11 moisture

Post received its first measurable moisture for 1978 with snows Friday and Tuesday afternoon.

But it didn't amount to much — only .11 of an inch of moisture both together.

Post received an inch Friday with .93 inches moisture content and an inch and a half Tuesday afternoon containing .98 of moisture.

Public must get involved

Every community has its marijuana problems these days, especially with their juveniles.

It is not a very popular subject for open discussion, but the one Monday night in the joint city council-commissioners court session with Sheriff Jim Pippin and most of his law enforcement staff was one of the best we've heard.

We think the point was made — and agreed upon — that taking the marijuana "pushers" off the streets here is not one for the sheriff's department alone.

The lawmen must have full public cooperation, especially the cooperation of parents, if they are to be successful.

As many agreed at the meeting, they know the identities of the pushers, but knowing is not enough. Proof is required and proof is not easy to secure if the sheriff's department doesn't have help.

As one who understands the situation commented Monday night: "Aroused parents can do more in five minutes than the sheriff's force can accomplish in 30 days without help."

If the public wants the situation cleaned up, it must itself get involved.

Today's laws protecting individual rights and liberties make it difficult for the law officers to move in — and pushers know it.

Without help, Sheriff Pippin and deputies have done a good job in tackling our narcotics problem. With concerned help, they can do a whole lot more.

What's next in farm strike?

The best thing to come out of the current American Farmers strike so far is the tremendous educational campaign the farmers have mounted to tell their story to the American people.

Their leaders are correct in saying they cannot achieve any major gains until the public understands their plight.

The farmers have done an excellent job, and at little real expense, in hanging "loose" and hanging together to gain attention to their problems.

The Dispatch endorses their goal of 100 percent parity.

Achieving it is a problem without easy answers. We've listened to a lot of proposals and we've looked over what the American Farm Movement has had to offer.

It should be done somehow in the market place without government edict. But that doesn't mean the government can't give a lot of help.

The farmers in the movement have generally been careful not to turn away public support by unpopular actions or the use of force.

Upcoming next, after the "paritycade" in the nation's capital comes to an end, will be the need to sustain their momentum in keeping their problem before the public.

So far, the word "strike" has just been an attention getting name for the educational and political thrust of the movement. In the end will the farmers really strike — and refuse to plant their crops?

That is a decision which up to now hasn't been made by most of the farmers. If the time comes it will be a difficult decision to make on any scale large enough to be effective.

After the political possibilities in Washington from the "paritycade" are assessed, it may be found that Congress in this new session will take some forward steps which will give farmers a big boost toward that 100 percent parity goal.

If the farmers turn their attention to the political arena in time to make their weight felt at the November general election, they can in many states exert tremendous political weight despite the fact that they are a minority as a voting bloc.

We see the farmers' chances brighter in the political arena to make some gains than by trying to strike and in so doing "pulling themselves under" if they can't turn things around quickly.

Governor's race 'heating up'

The Democratic governor's race is "heating up."

Attorney General John Hill, who is opposing Briscoe in the primary, is now beginning an investigation of a scandal which has popped up in the governor's office of Migrant Affairs. It is alleged this office contracted funds to a private firm which has been paying the salaries of up to 42 members of the governor's staff.

Hill stands to gain a lot of points here. No one is saying Briscoe is personally mixed up in it, but since his office has control of the program he is going to wind up with a good share of the blame — especially in an election year.

Another angle is the teachers' endorsement of John Hill, the first endorsement ever by the teachers of a gubernatorial candidate. How much voting support does the endorsement mean? That's questionable. The committee which voted the endorsement has only a hand full of members. The thousands of other teachers were not consulted. Here the governor is mounting a fierce counterattack.

He explained that actually in a sense "we've been trying to start two medical schools at one time" as we develop medical centers in both Amarillo and El Paso as well as the school at Texas Tech University."

The medical school official said all junior students now enrolled have been moved to El Paso where a hospital already was available for their use.

"We now have 46 students in each class with no senior class," he said. "Next fall we will go to 60 students in our freshman class, the next year 80, and the third year either 100 or 120."

"We can't keep all our students in Lubbock because we need about six beds per student for their junior year. This means we plan to handle 40 to 50 students in each of our three present health centers and we can put others in a fourth center now being considered for Odessa, Midland or Big Spring in the Permian Basin."

Dr. Lockwood was introduced by Dr. Bill Tinney, program coordinator for the Texas Tech Medical School and president of the South Plains Perinatal Association.

Both were introduced by Mayor Giles McCarty who had charge of the program.

A Plea to the People of Garza County WE NEED YOUR HELP!

What Is The American Agriculture Movement?

The American Agriculture movement was conceived to preserve the family farm system, the most efficient food-producing unit in this nation. We have little time left as more than 25 percent of farmers and ranchers will be forced to either liquidate or re-finance their operations this year. We have lost equity and enormous sums of money for the last four years, and we are now on the verge of bankruptcy. Unless something is done, only big money entities, or possibly the government, will be left to produce the food.

The American Agriculture movement is not another farm organization. There are no memberships, dues, secretaries, or presidents. We are a group of individual farmers, ranchers, and agribusinessmen, unified together in order to achieve the fair price of 100 percent parity for all agricultural products.

The American people today pay only 16.8 percent of their total disposable income for food. The people of other nations purchase food in a relatively raw state, yet these nations spend a minimum of 28 percent of their income for food. By achieving parity pricing, it will increase the percentage by 3.1 percent to a total only of 19.1 percent. This is by far the cheapest and best food in the world. By eliminating speculation, boom and bust from the market, and excessive profits from some middlemen, we can achieve parity and raise the price to consumers very little. The 3.1 percent shift of total disposable income is only a small shift in priority, but means the difference between existence and non-existence of the family farms.

We do not want government subsidies. At this time we are actually subsidizing this nation and the world with cheap food and fiber. For each unit of agriculture products produced, the American farmer and rancher must put part of his equity with it when it is sold and consumed. It would be the same as a laboring person receiving no payment for his work each week and instead, having to pay $100 from his own pocket for the privilege of having that job.

1977 Net Farm Income Will Be Less Than Half 1973 Net Income While Costs Continue To Climb

We are a minority of people, less than 4 percent of the population, and consequently have no political voting power. We are tired of government dominance, speculation, manipulation, and big money influence in our market place. In 1973 when cattle prices were close to parity, the government put on a price freeze. In 1974 the government said plant "fence row to fence row," and we could sell these products to hungry nations. We planted fence row to fence row and an export embargo was placed on agricultural products which destroyed our market and created a surplus. This cost the American producer and the American economy billions of dollars. Whether we like it or not, we no longer have a free market system. We can no longer exist with those types of manipulations. Our only hope is to tie Agriculture prices to the parity concept through law.

The 1977 Farm Act... Help or Hinder?

After being threatened with veto by President Carter because it offered too much to the American Farmer, the bill was passed with the following provisions for the cotton producer:

**A direct reduction in disaster payment provisions by 25 percent or more under natural disaster conditions such as drought, hail, flood, etc.

**A loan rate for 1978 of 7 cents to 8 cents below publicized figures.

**A provision advocated by the National Cotton Council and passed into law calling for the IMPORTATION of cotton when prices reach 130 percent of the previous 36 months' price. Importation could be triggered on our cotton at 42 cents when it reaches 54.6 cents. The NCC is clearly controlled by mill, trade, and warehouse interests whose primary goal is plenty of cheap cotton without regard to the price-cost squeeze of the producer.

**A target price that has not kept up with the spiraling costs of production.

Another major problem concerns the import of palm oil by our government from the south sea islands in direct competition to cottonseed oil and other crop oils. The importation of palm oil, high in cholesterol, has suppressed cottonseed prices in 1977 and previous years causing loss of income to South Plains farmers in millions of dollars. The 1977 loss to area farmers on 3 million bales at $10 to $20 per bale was in excess of $30 million. THESE IMPORTS MUST BE STOPPED.

Ambulance pact 'found'

The city council discovered in a joint session Monday night with the county commissioners' court that they had neither received nor considered a new cooperative agreement between city and county for operation of the ambulance service.

The city council adopted the agreement in November but by error the agreement was not forwarded to the city.

All this came up in a discussion of the ambulance operations with Dee Justice following a law enforcement hearing.

The agreement had been worked out by a joint ambulance committee.

The council put the agreement on its February agenda for prompt consideration. The city and county governing bodies also heard a report from Red Smithy of Lubbock, representing the engineering firm doing the preparation for the upcoming 1978 paving project here, that the 12 blocks of paving will cost an estimated $137,022.11.

Of this amount $119,149.66 is for paving and curb and gutter and $17,872.45 for engineering costs and contingencies.

The city also plans to put a new topping on West Main Street and estimated cost of this was $14,606.40.

Seniors planning 'Gong Show' here

A meeting of the planning committee for senior class fund raising met Wednesday in the home of Coach Greg Eubank.

Tune in to TEA forbids 'senior trip' on school time

By David Morrow

Congratulations to the eighth grade girls for their win over Slaton. This is an accomplishment not many Post basketball teams seem to bring off, although they all put up a stout fight. Hang in there everybody and look toward the rest of your games... it's not over yet.

The juniors met with representatives from Herff-Jones to look over the selection available for their class rings. As I know from past experience, there is a dizzying array of stones, colors, styles and emblems to choose from. It will be interesting to see what the choices will be.

I want to take this opportunity to wish the student council the best of luck in their march against birth defects. With the weather as uncertain as it is, there may be a few problems, but Donna's expert leadership should pull it through. As a former member of the student council, I appreciate the problems and obstacles that it faces when it tries to complete a project. As in any organization, all the members need to pull together in order to have a successful council. The March of Dimes is a worthwhile project and I wish you luck again.

Of course I'm a little prejudiced, but the "Gong Show" sponsored by the senior class shows signs of being a real blast. Make your plans to attend now.

Program given at Crosbyton

Five members of the Post High School choir traveled to Crosbyton Monday to present a program to the Crosbyton music club.

The group included the boy's quartet, David Morrow, Bryan Elliott, Steve Shedd, and Mark Williams, and Melodie Willson. They were accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. Willson.

The students presented a program of songs from the Rodgers and Hammerstein Musical, "South Pacific." The quartet sang "Younger than Springtime," "Nothin' Like a Dame," and "Some Enchanted Evening." Melodie gave her renditions of "Wonderful Guy," "Happy Talk," and "I'm Gonna Wash Dat Man Right Outta My Hair." Steve sang "Bali Hai" and David presented the song, "This Nearly Was Mine."

The program was very well received by the Crosbyton ladies and the singers thoroughly enjoyed performing for them.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL
Mrs. Faye Horton returned to her home Monday following major surgery in Lubbock's West Texas Hospital. She is reported to be recuperating satisfactorily.

The senior class met Tuesday to vote on graduation announcements and discuss the annual senior trip.

After discussing styles, prices, and format of the announcements, class members voted for an invitation in ivory, with embossed lettering spelling out "Pride of '78". The printing on the inside is superimposed over the figure of an antelope. Seniors will be ordering their announcements, name cards, and thank-you notes sometime this week.

Greg Eubank, senior class sponsor, relayed some information that caused a

March against birth defects here today

The Post High School Student Council will be sponsoring a march against birth defects today.

Members of the student council will be going door-to-door asking for contributions. These contributions (which are tax deductible) will be sent to the March of Dimes to aid in research for the prevention of birth defects.

High School and junior high school student councils all over the United States will be participating in this program. Funds collected will be used to finance research to protect the unborn, provide medical service for both mother and child, and to provide better education for physicians and nurses.

Lopes, Does both score victories at Cooper

Boys grab close one in overtime, 53-49

Coach John Alexander's Post Antelopes opened second half district play Tuesday night at Cooper with a 53 to 49 overtime win over the Cooper Pirates to put them in a tie for district leadership.

The win followed a 79 to 36 thumping by the Slaton Tigers at Slaton Friday night to wind up first half play and leave the Lopes with a 1-5 tally for the first half.

Coach Alexander in commenting on the Slaton loss said the Lopes had "a bad game" as the players "let down" after playing eight or 10 good games in a row.

At Cooper, the Lopes got off to a slow start, unable to hit in the first half, and went into the dressing room at intermission trailing 18 to 22. In the first period they managed but a single field goal and were down 12 to 5.

Coming out for the second half, the Lopes held Cooper scoreless until Post had zoomed into an eight-point lead. Cooper trailed in the fourth period to knot the game with a Post shot missing at the final buzzer.

In the overtime, Post scored off the opening tip and never trailed. Brad Shepherd took the tipoff from Ronnie Bratcher and went in for a layup. After that, Post made three of four free throws to increase their margin to three.

Seven players got into the scoring column with Raymie Holly and Evans Heaton tied with 10 each. Bratcher and Shepherd with nine apiece, Bryan Compton and Tim Morris with six each and Cliff Kirkpatrick with three.

The Slaton game could be classed as "a disaster."

After the first period, which found the Lopes trailing by only four, Slaton outscored the Lopes 19-4 in

Joint meeting---

(Continued From Page One) take the law into their own hands." Wilson proposed to try to come to some understanding as to how to combat the problem which he says stretches all the way down through high school into junior high.

He said he didn't think the public realized how close many angry parents were to forming a vigilante movement.

Officers described their difficulties in coping with the problem without the help of parents and the public. New laws to protect an individual's rights protect "the pushers" from arrest without cause or search without search warrant.

The "pushers" are often teenagers themselves, some only a year or two out of school.

Councilman William Wilson agreed that our own laws "have almost tied our hands."

County Judge Giles Dalby said that "we've protected personal rights so much it is difficult to enforce the law. 'It's a tough job for officers," he said, "because if they follow students they can be charged with harassing them. If we could only get the parents involved."

Sheriff Pippin said "the people don't want to get involved enough to help us and refuse to sign complaints upon which arrests can be made. Parents cooperation is needed."

The large group generally agreed to one statement: "Parents can do as much in five minutes with solving the problem as officers can do in 30 days. There is nothing quite as tough for a youngster to face as an aroused parent."

A deputy added that "95 percent of our law violations are by juveniles and all must be handled with a strict procedure provided by the juvenile code."

One comment was that a parent-teacher organization is needed here to help cope. Another was that the problem should be carried to school trustees.

No real confrontation developed between the city council and Sheriff Pippin as had been expected.

Mayor Giles McCrary in a opening statement told Sheriff Pippin that the council's "sole purpose in calling this joint meeting is to publicly and formally invite the sheriff or his personal representative, to meet with the council at each regular monthly meeting."

Sheriff Pippin, who brought almost all his law enforcement staff with him to the meeting, replied he would attend such meetings if notified by letter in advance as to when they would be held.

He said the letter he had received inviting him to this meeting was the first notification he had ever received. Mayor McCrary said the sheriff would be first on the agenda so that he would have to stay no longer than necessary.

While the mayor was ready to drop the matter at this point, Sheriff Pippin insisted on having officers who had accompanied him explain the instances raised in the letter to him the council had said it wanted to discuss with him.

Deputy Tom Burns began this phase by reporting he was the officer on duty when the call came in on Christmas eve of the shooting of Robert Greathouse.

"I was at the scene in two minutes and from the time we received the call it was only 12 minutes until we had Greathouse in Garza Memorial Hospital."

On the emergency ambulance run to Lubbock on Jan. 7, the second item raised in the council's letter, Deputy Burns again was the officer on duty when the call came in. He said it took only six minutes to get a crew and the ambulance off on its run. Councilman Jim Jackson who drove the ambulance that day confirmed this.

The third point raised in the council's letter to the sheriff was "the increased severity of our narcotics problems."

First, the sheriff said, his department had been busy in this field and has handled 19 narcotics cases with some "busts" since he came into the office Nov. 3, 1976.

Although he said he did not want to imply that there was no drug problem in Post, he thought the narcotics situation "was better now and not worse here."

Pippin said information on narcotics is "hard to come by" and his department "needs the people's help" and the help of parents to clean it up. He added, "I've never made the statement that I'd catch all of them."

As for the fourth point in the letter—the council's inability to receive any information as to the activity of the law complex except the bills—Sheriff Pippin said all the information on the calls we get and what we do is all written down in our logs and is available "to you."

Pippin then asked Deputy Burns to present some law enforcement statistics about the department since Pippin was sworn in almost 14 months ago.

Burns reported some 2,422 recorded calls handled by the sheriff's department in this period with a total of 261 offense reports filed by officers. Five hundred and 39 prisoners have been handled with 375 being justice of the peace or municipal court cases, 200 county court cases, and 53 district court cases.

Seventeen prisoners were sent to the Texas Department of Corrections, 38 were released to other agencies, and 100 were released on probation.

A total of $38,627.92 was collected by various courts on cases worked by the department, including $11,193.72 to the county court, $4,468.10 to the county from justice of the peace court, and $21,532.10 to the city on municipal court cases, not counting an estimated $2,500 uncollected revenue in county court cases.

In the 14 months, $40,890 in property was reported stolen and of this amount $19,972 in property was recovered.

The sheriff's department has answered 302 ambulance calls, investigated 238 automobile accidents and have issued 574 traffic citations.

Major crime investigations for the same period include one homicide, one rape, one aggravated robbery, 16 aggravated assaults, 18 burglaries, 45 thefts over $200, five auto thefts, and 19 narcotics cases. Of all these cases, 75 percent have been cleared by arrests. There are no major burglaries unsolved during this time.

During the same period, the department picked up and destroyed between 375 and 390 wild and stray dogs with about 30 dogs picked up being returned to owners.

The bottom line of this report read: "A lot of this work was done while the department was short-handed."

Sheriff Pippin also announced that Bob West who was present is preparing to teach an eight-hour first aid course for deputies, ambulance drivers, and possible ambulance volunteers and others who may want the course.

In his statement opening the law enforcement discussion Mayor McCrary said the sole purpose of the meeting was "to establish some communications and continue to hold hands with the commissioners court and sheriff."

He said it was not the intent of the council to go into the items stated in the letter to the sheriff.

"The council has consistently attempted to work with the sheriff by honoring all reasonable requests for equipment, manpower and salaries without exception," he said. "We have consistently indicated a desire to work with the sheriff. We have funded $66,565 of the sheriff's office expenses, or 50 percent this fiscal year."

"A joint law enforcement committee was established to council with the sheriff for the purpose of keeping a working relation. The members of this committee from the council have had difficulty in asking questions and receiving answers."

"The council has an obligation to the citizens of Post to ask questions, express views and relate certain public concerns brought to our attention. 'Sheriff, if you agree to this request, the council will be optimistic in solving any problems or questions by simply maintaining communications with you and your department.'"

After the sheriff had completed his requested presentation, Brenda Bass brought up the case of a neighbor shooting to death her 11-year-old dog some weeks ago. She wanted to know why the neighbor wasn't arrested for shooting firearms within the city limits. A deputy said there no witness to the shooting. Mrs. Bass said the neighbor admitted it to her. Pippin said a deputy had been sent

Girl Scout cookie sale begins Friday

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale will begin at 4 p.m. Friday, Jan. 27, according to Mrs. Nell Morris, local chairman.

The sale will last for two weeks and end on Feb. 12. Girl Scouts will wear uniforms or pins and sell cookies for $1.25 per box. A new chocolate chip cookie has been added to the regular chocolate and vanilla creme, scot tea, mint, savannah, and a cheddar-cracker.

Approximately 60 first, second and third grade Brownies will be selling cookies locally. The local program has been drastically reduced in membership due to the lack of leadership.

Profits from the sale will be used to support troop activities and council program activities including maintenance and improvement of Camp Rio Blanco, a year round camp site east of Crosbyton. Two-week scholarships to attend the camp or other council-related activities will be presented to girls who sell 100 or more boxes of cookies. Other awards include one-week scholarships, T-shirts, posters, patches and certificates.

Approximately 5,000 girls from the eighteen county Caprock Council area will take part in the sale.

Two more-

(Continued From Page One) ago, has filed again and will contest Paul Jones, former county commissioner of Precinct 1, for the office. She is now the legal secretary of Attorney Carl Webb.

The three-way commissioners race in precinct 4, the southeastern portion of the county, has brought incumbent Herbert Walls two challengers.

One is Billy Greene, a Postex Plant worker, who made the race for the office against Walls four years ago, and Howard Sprayberry, currently an auto salesman at Harold Lucas Motors here who has long shown interest in county politics.

The filings of Cockrell, Greene and Sprayberry are the only new ones reported this week.

The first contest was for precinct 2 commissioner where incumbent Ted Aten is opposed by L. E. (Sonny) Gossett Jr.

Democratic Chairman Dick Tanner announced this week that 6 p. m. Feb. 6 is the deadline for filing and anyone who intends to file for county office must either have the filing papers in Tanner's hands by that hour or a receipt for a certified mailing of the papers postmarked before that deadline.

Tanner also reminded prospective candidates that each candidate must file his appointed campaign treasurer's name with County Clerk Carl Cederholm before the candidate can file with Tanner for office.

In this issue is the third story on the site and the bombing run and two drawings to give readers a good idea of what's happening.

As we remember the site is now just about operational and the bombers will start coming sometime after Feb. 1.
