

Heat wave is no problem for kids at swimming pool

for local teenagers to swim and have fun as shown in picture number two. The four are Vicki Gannon, Raymie Holly, Randy Baker and Kelly Mitchell. Sara Hudman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hudman, finds a way to beat the heat in the kiddie pool in the third picture but

and are from Ozona. Jennie is another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hudman. In the fifth and last picture on the right, Raymie Holly is shown trying to do a fancy dive at the pool but his form leaves something to be desired. — (Staff Photos)

PROPERTY OF LIFEGUARDS — Shown above are four local youngsters to do odd jobs at the swimming pool and all of whom recently completed life saving course and are qualified life guards. 90-bed nursing home sought here

Austin sets hearing

H. H. (Hank) Huntley, former Post resident, has petitioned the Texas Health Facilities Commission in Austin for a certificate of need to build a 90-bed nursing home here.

A hearing on the application has been set for 10 a. m. Sept. 12 in the commission offices, 1600 West 38th, in Austin.

In a "notice of hearing" appearing on page 4 of today's Dispatch, Huntley says his plans for the "Huntley Nursing Home" in Post calls for a building containing 20,000 square feet at a total project cost of $480,000.

Anyone who seeks to become a party to this certificate of need must file an affidavit of intent with the commission by 5 p. m. Aug. 17, according to the hearing notice.

If no notice of intent to become a party is received and granted, the commission may proceed without a hearing on an application for Certificate of Need at any time after Aug. 22.

Readers will recall that Huntley was an applicant for such a certificate of need two or three years ago, but the commission granted the certificate to a Lubbock group, who did not proceed with construction because of what it called "inflationary costs."

Huntley, who is a brother of Sexton Huntley, former chairman of Garza Memorial Hospital directors, at present operates a rest home at Luling, Tex.

If the certificate of need is granted, it is expected the nursing home will be built next to the hospital on property now owned by the hospital but offered the Lubbock group as a rest home site.

Judge chosen on jury here

Here's one of those believe it or nots. Ripley was always looking for.

County Judge Giles Dalby was chosen Monday on a district court jury.

He was the 80th juror listed on the jury panel for the $100,000 damage suit brought by Estine D. Blakey, et al, of Lubbock against Neil A. Jackson, Snyder oil operator, alleging pollution of five sections of Garza ranchland.

They reached Dalby's name looking for the 12th juror and he was the final juror selected.

The trial was still in progress Wednesday and wasn't expected to be completed before sometime Thursday.

Foreign group visits ranch

A group of 40 young people from all over the world were scheduled to visit the Beach Ranch, 15 miles east of Post, Wednesday and look over operations of a West Texas ranch.

The group is composed of exchange students and is being sponsored in this West Texas area by Lubbock Lions clubs. They were to make the trip from Lubbock to the ranch by bus and have lunch at the ranch, Kay Beach told The Dispatch.

July averages hot 95 to date

It's been hot.

"Weatherman" Glen Barley reports that for the last 19 days — that was July to date — the average daytime temperature for the entire period has been 95 degrees.

That made it hotter than June, normally the hottest month of the summer, which had a daytime average of 93.

Traffic arrest turns up wanted man

Alex Flores Jr., was arrested here Saturday for a traffic violation. When he was checked out, it was found he was wanted in Georgetown, Tex., for felony theft.

An officer from Georgetown came to Post for him Monday.

IT BOUNCED A LONG WAY — Rev. Gene Prevo, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church, surveys the damage done by a run away spare tire. The fire came loose from a passing truck on Highway 84 early Tuesday morning, bounced over a bar ditch, bounced over a cable fence kept bouncing until it hit the window on the church, knocking loose some nine bricks on the ledge. Estimated bouncing length was some 80 feet. — (Staff Photo)

Rodeo parade prize money is boosted

Prize money for rodeo float parade winners and winners in the parade's decorated bicycle division have been boosted by an action Friday noon of Post Chamber of Commerce directors.

At their July meeting in the Post Public Library, directors voted to share costs with the Post Stampede for $300 in parade prizes for the Post Stampede Rodeo parade at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 11.

First prize for floats has been increased to $125 cash with second prize upped to $90 and third to $50, the kind of prizes which should encourage a good number of entries and hence an interesting parade.

First prize for decorated bicycles will be $20 with $10 for second and $5 for third.

The 37th annual Post Stampede Rodeo is scheduled for Aug. 11-12-13 and as a special feature this year will have a wild buffalo race on the program each night.

This will be a first time ever for Post.

L. J. Huffman of Waco, Tx., will be the rodeo producer.

Events will include bareback bronc riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, barrel racing with a jackpot each night, team roping and bull riding.

Each event will be one go-round, or one head with $30 entry fee for each except for team roping which requires a $40 entry fee.

Boy is shot in leg here

Jant Ticer, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ticer, is in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock for examination and treatment after accidentally shooting himself in the leg while cleaning his gun at his home here Saturday night.

The boy was admitted to Garza Memorial Hospital for treatment after the accident and was sent to Methodist Hospital Tuesday for examination by a surgeon. The bullet had damaged a nerve and lodged in a leg muscle.

Post to finish paying off long water debt this year

The city has a better reason for celebrating its 70th anniversary to the water saving course and are qualified life guards. Taking a break on the pool deck Tuesday afternoon were Pat Mitchell, Eddie Britnell, Leslie Rogers and Scott Walker. — (Staff Photo)

Garza vote favorable in beef referendum

Garza's eligible ranchers for the beef referendum to provide funds for research, marketing and promotion. The city's $530,000 debt is finally being paid.

This month the municipal bond issue is in the process of being paid off. The last two $25,000 principal installments and $2,002.25 interest on $380,000 worth of revenue sharing bonds issued July 5, 1958 to help fund Post's water needs before the White River Lake came into being.

Sometime this fall, before the fiscal year ends Sept. 30, the city plans to pay the final $44,000 principal plus interest on $150,000 worth of improvement bonds issued Oct. 1, 1950—27 years ago.

Actually, Post's water debt was not scheduled for complete retirement for three more years.

But returns on investments made on city sinking funds against the two bond issues was such as to almost permit the $380,000 issue to be retired one year early and the $150,000 issue three years early.

The annual principal payment on the $150,000 bond issue was only $11,000. The final four years are being paid this fall.

This leaves the city of Post without any bonded indebtedness for the first time since who knows when.

The Dispatch noted that the bond and interest sinking fund had no funds scheduled for next year when last week's budget story was written but Mayor Giles McCrary was out of town attending a funeral. City Councilman Bill Pool had gone fishing, and City Secretary had departed on a short vacation in New Mexico, so detailed information was not available.

Retirement of the bonds by fall will mean that the rather considerable time deposits held in the water and sewer fund, originally intended for sewage plant construction, will soon be freed for use. It could not be used as long as water bonds were outstanding against the fund.

Match lighter was wanted

When the Eastern State Hospital at Williamsburg, Va., refused to extradite Gary Albright Lodge last week as an escapee, Sheriff Jim Pippin turned the man who struck a lot of matches in Southland loose.

The next morning, the law enforcement teletype notified Pippin Lodge also was wanted for three counts of armed robbery and assault in Virginia.

Pippin put out an alert to area lawmen to be on the alert for Lodge and he was arrested a short time later when he hitch-hiked a ride into Jayton.

Virginia authorities extradited Lodge back to Virginia and came and picked him up at Jayton.

New law office open here

A new law office will be opened in the McCrary building here Aug. 2 by James R. (Jud) Finney, Jr.

The office will be operated by the Lubbock law firm of Finney, Harriger, Brauer and Graef which has a staff of 14 attorneys, including Finney.

At the start, the law office will be opened two days a week on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

"We're here to stay permanently," Finney told The Dispatch Tuesday.

Finney and the firm hopes to do enough legal business to be self-sufficient here to avoid eventual daily operation of the office with even employment of additional attorneys.

Finney has been with the law firm for seven years. He was a member of the first graduating class of the Texas Tech Law School. He was reared in Lubbock where his father was an attorney since

New school aid bill to aid Post schools

The $945.4 million increase in state aid to schools, passed last week by the Texas Legislature in special session, appears to be good news for Post School district.

But Supl. Shiver told The Dispatch he has adopted a "wait and see attitude" until he gets the final word from the Texas Educational Agency in Austin.

According to figures released by State Representative W. S. (Bill) Healy, Post will pay $114,100 less in local fund assignment (from property taxes here) for state aid and will receive $120,100 in additional state aid next year.

The new state funds are in addition to $50,100 estimated increased in salaries for the Post school faculty.

If The Dispatch reads Healy's computer print out correctly total estimated state aid for the Post district next year would be $567,800 out of an estimated $855,900 general operating fund budget.

Shiver, in refusing to be drawn into speculation until he has actual figures from the Texas Educational Agency, explains that the last time the legislature passed a school aid bill it was supposed to benefit the Post district by $50,000 but wound up costing district taxpayers about $46,000 more.

Nothing like that is likely to happen this time, however.

One factor which doesn't enter into the printout's calculations is the increase in the Post school district's taxable oil values this year over last year. These will increase the local fund assignment.

Shiver is awaiting word from the TEA on what amount of "goodies" the Post district can expect before completing the school district's 1977-78 budget.

The expense portion of the budget has already been completed. What is awaited is the amount of local fund assignment the Post taxpayers will have to pay.

Whether the new state aid package will mean a tax reduction here or not will depend upon actually how much in the final analysis the school district is benefited by the new school aid.

Debt retirement good news

The public announcement, made in this issue of The Dispatch, that the City of Post this fiscal year is retiring the last of what used to be a very big water debt is good news indeed, especially to Dispatch readers who lived in "the other water era" before White River water became available in abundance.

For several decades the very existence of Post depended upon finding enough water wells that the town could survive the hot summer's heat and keep its Postex Plant which required a considerable amount of water use.

In those years, the main expenditures of city government went into that water search and the cost of drilling new wells.

In our first years in Post, beginning in the summer of 1957, hardly a summer went by but what the mayor had to call for a ceasing of lawn watering several times to build up the city's water supply in the old reservoir up on the side of the caprock.

A time or two, Post all but ran out of water.

The White River Lake brought an end to that municipal torment, but when the lake opened, Post owed almost a half million dollars in water bonds. For the last 12 years we have been retiring them.

This year, Post will finally pay off its final water obligations — three years ahead of schedule.

It's a great feeling to be clear of debt and it's a feeling Post hasn't known in so many years we have no accurate way of really knowing how long it has been. But it has been at least 27 years because the current bond issues date back to 1950.

Will Burleson retire too?

The announcement last week by George Mahon that he will not seek reelection to Congress next year could conceivably set off the march into retirement of several Texas congressmen.

Congressman Bob Poague, who actually is a year or two older than Mahon but doesn't have George's seniority, has announced that he will say by fall whether or not he will seek reelection, or step aside.

And in our own congressional district, there are rumblings that Omar Burleson could also be ready to quit.

Congressman Burleson hasn't said a word about it as yet, but he may be having thoughts. Certainly, he has undoubtedly heard that if he does decide to run he probably is going to face some allout opposition this year. That fact alone may help him make up his mind, just as the race Mahon had last year in his district may have hastened his decision to step down.

Dusty Rhodes, an Abilene attorney, says he is considering the race. He is not criticizing Burleson as yet giving the veteran congressman the opportunity, if he so wishes, to gracefully retire.

Garza was "detached" from Mahon's congressional district in the last "redistricting process" a few years ago and added to Burleson's. Our Congressman has only been to Post once or twice since.

Mac McKinnon, in his column in The Colorado City Record, writes that Burleson would be "difficult if not impossible to beat" in a head to head contest simply because he has been in Washington so long he has voter identification and has done his share of favors for constituents.

But McKinnon is no Burleson lover.

"Burleson is espoused to be a conservative," McKinnon writes, "Although he has done little if anything to promote conservatism in the federal government. For some 40 years he has done little except draw a pay check. For instance, last week, he voted to keep the $12,500 pay raise given Congressmen last year but voted for Congress not to get a cost of living increase this year.

"Anyway for someone who has been in Congress for 40 years or so, you'd think they'd have some political clout. As one local political observer pointed out, Burleson has only passed one major piece of legislation in his career and by the time it got through Congress, he had it so messed up that the bill didn't mean anything."

Remember When

10 YEARS AGO

Police launch drive against dogs running loose by picking up 58 and forcing owners to "bail them out." Police Chief Bill Gordon estimates town has 600 dogs running loose. Egg-sized hail rips some of Garza's prime cotton fields in Pleasant Valley area, cutting swath two miles in length and doing thousands of dollars in damages. Dick Kennedy, quarterback of Post's co-district champions, named to play in Green Belt All-Star game at Childress. In "wildest accident here in years" paroled reformatory youth from Abilene in a stolen car smashes up four local vehicles and possibly hits a fifth during the noon hour, doing $2,000 in property damage but injuring no one. S-Sgt. Dwayne Capps, a tank commander in Vietnam war, returns home from service.

15 YEARS AGO

White River Water district seeks additional $450,000 loan from state in addition to present $4,000,000 just to be on safe side. Engineer predicts water deliveries from White River may be able to be started sometime in 1964. Feasibility report on waterflooding big 489-well Garza field awaited with operators indicating probability of purchasing water needed from White River. Carlyn Carlisle, Sherry Bevers and Susie Jo Schmidt are candidates for queen of Post's 15th annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo.

25 YEARS AGO

Morris Neff wins unusual beauty contest in being named homeliest man in the county at Post Lions Club's Play Day benefit event which attracted 2,000 people. Neff won a car as a prize, but not a new one. Judges were five pretty women.

Four from Post attend band camp

Four students from Post participated last week in the third annual Angelo State University Band Camp which attracts high school students and band directors from across Texas. Approximately 400 persons attended this year's camp which offers clinic sessions in band twirling, ensembles, stage bands and drum majoring, among others. Those attending from Post were Billy Carpenter, Brent Howard, Clay Moore and Jimmy Ticer.

GSA 71 was top variety

LUBBOCK — GSA 71 was the major cotton variety planted on Texas High Plains this year, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. Ginners, seed dealers, farmers and others interested in cotton seed responded to the survey.

Paul R. Dickson, in Charge of the USDA's Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock said, "Last year's survey showed Stripper 31 was the major variety in 1976."

Dickson listed this year's top four varieties by percentages as GSA 71, 17 percent; Paymaster 303, 14 percent; Stripper 31, 11 percent and Paymaster 18, 10 percent.

Farm accidents take 2,000 lives annually

ARGE STATION — A large total of some farm workers are the job every year in the country. But in these human accidents cost much more!

Usually, people do not know the true size of the losses. The word "accident" is often used as a synonym for "safety," says Dr. Gary S. a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. "More often an 'accident' is a planned, uncontrolled operation of a planned machine which results or has the potential to result in a loss of lives."

cause personal injury, but often they cause a combination of economic losses which may not at first be obvious, notes the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"Individuals not only lose full earning power during injury recovery but may suffer decreased lifetime earning power as well as decreased educational and vocational opportunities due to permanent physical injury," explains Nelson.

"Besides the obvious direct costs of medical care and equipment damage, accidents cause businesses to lose the valued talent and skill of their workers, cause increased insurance costs, and may trigger public liability and litigation costs. Production may also be lost due to unavailability of processing equipment due to damage."

When an accident occurs, businesses lose the productivity of the injured worker as well as that of other workers who are disrupted while attending to the accident victim's needs. Businesses owned and operated by one individual suffer the greatest losses of productivity and profits, emphasizes the safety engineer.

Other losses involve the cost of hiring replacement workers, the supervisor's time in training new workers, and the wage cost due to lower output of replacement workers during the break-in period.

"Further costs are incurred," explains Nelson, "when products spoil because the injured worker is detained or unavailable to process them. Also, products may be damaged or spoiled by a worker because he is less efficient due to his injury or by a replacement worker due to inexperience.

Wage and production losses may be incurred further when workers are affected by the injured's lack of output or teamwork. There may be delays or work inefficiencies because the injured is temporarily absent or, after returning to work, is slow or needs help from others.

"The hidden costs of accidents can be many times that of the obvious costs," contends Nelson. "When accident losses are viewed in this light, a small investment in accident prevention can mean increased profits by minimizing losses and conserving the resources which maximize productivity."

SUCCESSFUL GARAGE SALES

Successful garage sales depend on organization. The following are ideas for planning and staging a "neighborhood" marketplace:

Advertise your garage sale with signs in the neighborhood (if customary), bulletin boards at community centers and grocery stores — and classified ads in the newspaper.

Most shoppers check newspaper ads Wednesday through Saturday — advertising these days will bring you its wide readership. Draw attention in the ad to big items you want to sell — list brand names, color, size or other characteristics.

Consider combining your sale with a neighbor — or friend, or having a "Block Sale" — in which several people on the same block at the same time.

Holding a sale with others provides company during the lulls and help during the crowds.

Check local ordinances for permit requirements for holding a garage sale. Many cities limit the frequency and length of a sale, as well as the number and placement of signs.

Be ready the day before by organizing the items for sale. Price all items ahead — this will keep prices reasonable, even under crowd pressure.

Some experienced garage sellers will not sell ahead their starting time to avoid selling something not intended for sale or sell below the price they would have set later.

Bargaining is part of experience, so be flexible when you price items.

CHARCOAL COOKING HOW TO PREPARE CONTROL FIRE

Charcoal fire is ready for outdoor cooking once it is a rosy bed of coals covered with grey ash — but if flames are still visible, the fire is not ready.

Achieving a good bed of coals for meal preparation depends on several basic steps.

Preparing to 'Fire'
Start the fire 30-60 minutes ahead of time so flames can die down and the coals turn grey.

To begin, stack briquettes in a pyramid, soak lightly with charcoal lighter fluid, and let stand one minute, and then light. Never use fuel oil, kerosene or gasoline to start a fire — as they are highly flammable, and the smoke leaves an oily taste on the food.

Add Dash of Hickory
Hickory chips add a distinctive flavor to charcoal meats, so if they are in the outdoor cooking plan, prepare them early by overnight soaking in water.

After the fire is lit, drain the chips and place a small mound of them in the fire center — a handful is sufficient.

Long-term cooking of larger meat cuts may require additional chips later.

Fire Control
To keep fire burning, protect it from drafts that might cause over-heating and "hot spots."

If more charcoal is needed, place new pieces at the fire edge and move them into the center once grey ash covers them. For quick extra heat, simply knock the accumulation of ash from the burning charcoal.

To control flames produced by fat dripping onto hot coals, keep a spray bottle of water handy — or a bit of baking soda.

Charcoal Cooking — Meats
Charcoal grilled meats are unbeatable — especially when outdoor chefs know the basic "how-to's."

Cooking is ready to begin once the fire is a bed of rosy coals covered with grey ash.

Grilling Guidelines
Place meats on the hot grill, allow them to sear on one side, baste with sauce or butter, cook half of total cooking time — and then turn them over once.

Turning meat only once retains more moisture.

If turning meats, always use tongs — as forks leave holes that allow tasty juices to escape.

If fire flames up as fat drips on the coals, sprinkle flames lightly with water or a little baking soda.

To slow down cooking, remove a few coals — or raise the rack. To speed cooking add coals along the fire edge and transfer to the center once grey ash covers them.

Hamburger Grilling
Pack ground beef patties very firmly so they will hold together during cooking. Cook hamburgers one-half to three-fourths inch thick for five to ten minutes on each side about three inches from the fire.

Beef Steaks
Grill steaks five to six inches from the fire. For a one-inch-thick steak — medium rare — allow 20 minutes total cooking time. For a two-inch steak, allow 35-40 minutes.

Pork Chops
Cook pork chops fairly well done about four to six inches from the fire. Allow 35-40 minutes for one-inch-thick chops.

Chicken
Cook the inside first, the skin side last. Allow 25-30 minutes for chicken parts, and cook them about four to six inches from the fire. Cook split halves six to eight inches from the fire for about 45 minutes.

VISITS IN DALLAS
Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gonzales and Michael flew to Dallas last Friday to visit friends. While there they attended a baseball double-header between the Texas Rangers and Cleveland Indians. They returned home Sunday.

Wedding will be Sept. 10

Mr. and Mrs. Billy McKamie of Post are pleased to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Jana Kathleen to Doyce Ray Haney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray (Jeep) Haney of O'Donnell.

Their vows will be read on September 10, 1977 at the First Christian Church of Post.

The bride elect was graduated from Post High School and is enrolled in Jessie Lee's School of Beauty in Lubbock. The future bridegroom graduated from O'Donnell High School and is employed with Halliburton, Inc. in Big Spring.

Demonstration on outdoor cooking

Emily Cauhape, home economist for Pioneer Natural Gas, gave an outdoor cooking demonstration recently for the county Home Demonstration Club.

Miss Cauhape prepared shish-kabobs, corn casserole, peach up-side-down cake, and french bread on the outdoor grill.

Those attending were: Irene Mitchell, Virginia Custer, Faye Payton, Mae McMahon, Loucille Morris, Viva Davis, Nona Lusk, and Paula Cawthon.

Quilting frames are given center

The Community Center has acquired, as a donation, some quilting frames and would like to begin quilting sessions as soon as possible. The frames can be left up until a quilt is completed, and can be worked on any day except Tuesday.

Those having tops ready to be quilted can bring them down and get their friends to help with the quilting. If anyone has a quilt to donate, we will try to help sell it if we can get enough quilts to justify having a sale.

We would also like to have quilt scraps if anyone has them available and would like to donate them.

Slaton wins Little League Area tourney here

Champs beat Post 2-0 in semi-final round

Post won third place Saturday night in the Area IV Little League tournament here after losing a 2-0 decision in Friday night's semi-finals to Slaton which went on to win the area title.

In certainly the best played game of the tourney, Tim Tannehill deserved a better fate as he went the route in the loss to Slaton, giving up only two singles and no walks.

Three infield errors accounted for both Slaton runs. Post had good scoring opportunities in the third and sixth, but despite six hits, couldn't get the big blow at the right time.

Southland boy on squad

BROWNWOOD — Monroe Buxkemper, Jr., of Southland is one of the 18 players selected to play for the West 6-man football all-stars in the East-West All-Star game here Saturday night as the feature of the 32nd annual six man football and basketball coaching school, which opened there Monday.

Kickoff time is 8 p. m. The all-star basketball tilt is scheduled for 2 p. m. Saturday in the Brownwood Coliseum.

The 60 players participating in the two games practiced here this week and were housed in a Howard Payne University dormitory.

$60,000 up in fair premiums

LUBBOCK — A record $60,000 in premiums is being offered to exhibitors during the 60th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here Sept. 24-Oct. 1.

Fair General Manager Steve L. Lewis said the cash awards are outlined in new catalogs being distributed throughout the South Plains and eastern New Mexico area.

Lewis said much of the increase in premiums went to a pair of new shows for 4-H and FFA youths, a junior sheep show, both new to the fair slate.

The colorful new catalog also details complete fair activities, rules, entry fees, deadlines, schedules, entertainment and other pertinent data.

More than 4,200 have been mailed, Lewis said.

A big lineup of stars also has been carded for Fair Park Coliseum. In addition to the popular fiddlers' contest on opening day and a free entertainment package on the closing Saturday, the following shows will be here:

Charley Pride, with Dave and Sugar, Sept. 25, 3:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. shows only.

Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass, Sept. 26, 3:30 and 7:30 p. m. shows only.

Mel Tillis and the Statesiders, Sept. 27-28, 7:30 p. m. shows only.

Barbara Mandrell and Ronnie Prophet, Sept. 29-30 7:30 p. m. shows only.

Tickets for all shows will be available next month, Lewis said.

GRANDDAUGHTER HERE Miss Tracy Ray is visiting this week in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ray.

Tannehill had two hits in three appearances to lead the local attack with Scott Lewis, David Farquhar, Danny Martinez and Milton Williams getting one apiece.

In the third place playoff game Saturday night, the locals rapped out 13 hits to win an easy 16 to 3 decision. In this one, Tannehill had four singles in five trips to give him six hits in eight at bats for the tourney.

Williams went the route for Post on the mound and gave up only three hits to Cooper which got all of its run in the fourth when two more infield errors got the rally going.

Post put this one out of reach in the bottom of the first with a six run burst. The locals added one in the second, four more in the third and the last five in the fifth.

Farquhar and Bill Black each picked up two hits against Cooper with Jeff Lamb, Chris Belongia, Richard Cisneros, Bill Ayala, and Paul Valdez getting one hit each.

In the final against Tahoka, Slaton had to rally for three runs in the top of the six to come from behind for a 5 to 3 victory.

Four Tahoka errors, a walk and a single brought in those winning runs.

Pitcher Robert Basquez hit a homerun for Tahoka in the fifth to break a 2-2 tie and give Tahoka its 3-2 lead.

Tahoka on Thursday night defeated North Lynn, 16 to 3 to advance into Friday night's semi-finals against Cooper.

Cooper scored 12 runs in the first two innings—nine of them in the second—but Tahoka came back with enough runs in late innings to pull out a 16 to 15 decision.

Tahoka went to bat in the bottom of the sixth with the score knotted at 15 all, but pushed the winning run across a walk, error and single with one away.

With 17 possible divisions, the tourney will get under way next Thursday, July 28 at 8 a.m. with the junior singles with play continuing through the finals Sunday, July 31.

Local players are urged to fill out and mail their entry blank which appears elsewhere on this page to the Post Tennis Club by the Monday deadline.

Due to the limited facilities, it may be necessary to limit the number of entries in certain divisions. Therefore entries should be mailed as early as possible.

Not only Post players but those from Floydada, Gail, Hale Center, Lockney, Petersburg, Slaton and Tahoka are invited to compete here. That will make for more competition and more interesting play.

Divisions of play include junior high singles and doubles, both boys and girls; high school singles and

School aid-

All local teachers will receive raises with starting teachers and more experienced teachers getting small ones, but veteran teachers getting considerable boosts.

For example, state supported minimum pay for beginning teachers will be increased from $8,000 to $8,460 while a teacher who has been at the top of the scale for two years would get a $1,474 raise from $11,780 to $13,254.

Part of the determination of the amount of local fund assignment will depend upon Post school trustees.

The new state aid bill left the choice to each school board between putting farm land in at agriculture value or market value in calculating local fund assignment.

If trustees choose market value that number will be multiplied by .0018. 'Ag values' however, would be multiplied by .0021.

Even the kids themselves got something out of the aid bill.

The new school year is cut from 180 to 175 classroom days.

According to Heatly's printout, Southland schools will get $22,400 in increased state aid, salary boosts totaling $7,400, and a reduction of $46,300 in local fund assignment.

Neither school district would receive any of the state fund for helping to equalize poorer school districts.

According to Rep. Heatly, the most important single feature of the bill is the recognition of agriculture use values for determining each district's share of the foundation program cost.

Heatly said under the bill passed the local fund assignment will be based on a rate of 20 and one-half cents per $100 of agricultural use value instead of 35 cents per $100 on full market value under current law.

Lynn agent to retire

TAHOKA—William B. Griffin, Lynn County Extension agent for 30 years, will retire Aug. 31, ending a 33-year career with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

3 hurt in June accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Garza County during the month of June, 1977 according to Sergeant Ken Evans, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and three persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first six months of 1977 shows a total of 23 accidents resulting in 15 persons killed and eleven persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for June, 1977 shows a total of 538 accidents resulting in 15 persons killed and 355 persons injured as compared to June, 1976, with 560 accidents resulting in 10 persons killed and 338 persons injured. This was two less accidents, five more killed, and 17 more injured in 1977 at the same period of time.

The 15 traffic deaths for the month of June, 1977 occurred in the following counties: Six in Wise, one each in Bailey, Hale, Lubbock, Parker, young, Collingsworth, Foard, Gray, and Wilbarger.

to the condition of the water. That's why we wrote the editorial.

—O—
Richards must be an unusual kind of humorist if he thought that editorial actually made a joke of the deputy sheriff who had said he "hesitated about drinking the water" after seeing people on the lake shore pollute it.

—O—
It is ridiculous to quote a deputy sheriff on whether or not your water supply is fit to drink. But it is no joke.

—O—
Richards asked Tuesday "who are the water experts?" Well, how about the Texas Water Quality Board and the state board of health (or whatever its present name is.)

—O—
There has not been one water sample from the White River filtration plant rejected by either as unfit to drink since the lake opened for the primary purpose of supplying drinking water to four member towns 12 years ago.

—O—
That same White River filtration plant has been awarded the title of outstanding filtration plant operated in the state of Texas for its size.

—O—
Five raw water samples are taken daily from White River Lake and are tested both in the White River's water lab and in the state lab at Lubbock. There has been no change — note, Afton, no change — in the quality of the water in those samples since the lake opened in 1965. The samples don't indicate things are getting any worse.

—O—
When you question, Afton, or quote anybody but an expert who questions the drinking qualities of White River water you are doing the water district a real injustice.

—O—
We don't know how many little old ladies you have scared half to death to date with your lake stories, but quite seriously, Afton, we think you are completely out of line.

—O—
The four member towns have stood together for some 20 years to build and operate White River Lake. It's quite a remarkable achievement which we for one would like to continue. Your newspaper's intimation that White River water may not be fit to drink is the first attack from within against the district's operations we know of.

—O—
You must realize, Afton, that in raising such a question, wrong as it is, you are attacking the actual integrity of the water district — its director, personnel and board — although you make no reference to any of them.

—O—
Our editorial point was — and is — that a newspaper has no business writing about something it knows really nothing about or in quoting people on something they know nothing about, in this case the quality of our drinking water which is a darn

Easter Seal Society work grows bigger

The Texas Easter Seal Society with its network of affiliate treatment centers and volunteer chapters and representatives provided, in the year ending Aug. 31, 1976, some 485,215 units of appropriate therapies to 11,726 handicapped children and adults of Texas. This is an increase of 958 disabled citizens served in 1976.

This growth in needed services requires a concurrent growth in public support. Total income to the Texas Easter Seal Society and its affiliates increased by $668,581. This represented an increase of 25 percent over the previous year. It is this measure of support, reflecting as it does public confidence in the programs of the Easter Seal Society, which made it possible for handicapped Texas children and adults to receive needed therapies, equipment and services.

The Easter Seal Action Line program initiated in June of 1976, provides information, referral and follow-up services to the disabled of the state has proven to be a much needed and very successful service. Beginning last June with only 22 calls a month, the Action Line is receiving an average of 225 calls today. This service is designed to serve as a link between the handicapped and those services needed. With just a call, persons can receive assistance in locating services they need, where it can be obtained and who can provide it for them.

"Actually, the need to spend additional money in establishing new service programs is not as important as we would suspect," stated William E. Russell, executive director of the Texas Easter Seal Society, "but a more effective use of current budgeted programs is needed through a referral service such as the 'Easter Seal Action Line.'"

The fact of such increases prompts the Easter Seal Society of Texas to constantly evaluate the needs of the handicapped; to strive not to duplicate existing resources; to advocate for the needs of the disabled; and, to identify unmet needs.

Easter Seal Action Line, a serious matter.

—O—
We do not condone lakeshore sex, or urination and defecation in White River Lake, as you say exists. Your deputy is well qualified to do something about that. But to intimate that this has contaminated our drinking water is so untrue, it is ridiculous.

—O—
The only "funny thing" we can think to report in this column is that White River water district manager, Al O'Brien, last night confirmed that "the lake is turning over again because it is so hot." The turnover started around Aug. 1 last year. We know White River water doesn't taste very good right now, but it is not for reasons A. E. has been writing about. And it is still fit to drink.

24 hour toll-free number (1-800-492-5555), can be used by any disabled person and their families to obtain information regarding help they may need. The public is reminded that if they are handicapped, or if they know of anyone who is handicapped and is in need of help in locating a needed service, call the Easter Seal Action Line's toll-free number 1-800-492-5555, night or day, seven days a week.

Persons in Garza County may contact Sue Shytle at the community action office or Martha Compton for information on referral forms.
