Husband of Carolyn Thomas Haskell Escapes Serious Injury On Resent Flying Mission

Lt. John D. Haskell, former Lubbock oil company employee now in the U. S. Army Air forces in the Mediterranean area and husband of Carolyn Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Thomas of Grassland, escaped serious injury about a month ago when the bomber he was flying went out of control and he was forced to make a crash landing in the Adriatic sea between the east coast of Italy and the west coast of Albania. He had ordered his crew to bail out and every man jumped with the exception of one man who had trouble with his chute. Lt. Haskell then rode the ship down into a sea landing, thereby saving the life of the crew member unable to jump. The crew members were in the water some five hours before being picked up by an Italian rescue boat. Lt. Haskell's wife is residing in Lubbock during the absence of her husband. Lt. Haskell had completed more than 50 missions at the time of the accident and is one of the veteran pilots of the Italian campaign. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Haskell of Loyal, Neb.

Erothers Meet In Italy

Mrs. M. C. Hodges has received a letter from her son Clyde. He wrote that he and Dee have met in Italy and visited for about two hours. They were really glad to see each other as it had been two years since they had seen one another. Clyde sent his mother and sister a brooch from Italy and they are very proud of them. He also sent his brother Floyd a wallet and told him it had a story behind it which he would tell when he comes home . . . which he hopes isn't too long.

Miss Maxine Durrett, who has been working in Midland at the Army Air Base, has resigned her position to accept her former position as teacher in the local high school. We are very glad to welcome her back home and feel that in making her choice she has shown admirable local loyalty.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for January 9

JESUS BUSY WITH HIS MINISTRY OF LOVE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:33-45.
GOLDEN TEXT—I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day; the night cometh, when no man can work.—John 9:4.

Jesus said that He "must work the works of him that sent him" (John 9:4). And so we find Him going straightway about His Father's business. It is a good example He has set for us.

What He did and how He did it will give us many lessons which we may apply to our service. We cannot do exactly what He did, but in His power we may do mighty works.

We find our Lord doing four important things—

I. Healing (vv. 33-34).
We will do well to include verses 29-31 in our thinking, for there we find our Lord tenderly sharing the sorrow of the home of a friend. One can picture the anxious hush that hovered over the home as distressed relatives and friends sought to alleviate the suffering of the one with a fever. They knew the possibility of a serious outcome of the illness. Many of us have gone through that dark valley. All at once there was new hope, and soon there was joy. Jesus had come and had brought healing. Many of us have also had that blessed experience.

Christianity is not a selfish faith, if it follows its Lord. We see in verses 32 to 34 that all the city came to His door with the diseased and demon-possessed, and He healed them all.

The account of the kindly and intelligent care of the sick is written large on the pages of the history of the Christian church. We do not have His divine touch of immediate healing, but we may have His compassion which served the multitude with tenderness and kindness.

II. Praying (vv. 35-37).

The Son of God sought out a place and a time for prayer communion with His Father. How often we who profess to follow Him fail to pray at all. Certainly we need the grace and power that prayer can bring far more than Jesus did. But, we say, we are so busy. So was He. We are tired. So was He. People will not let us alone. They also followed Him. We make excuses, but we have no real reasons for our unfortunate delinquency.

All men were seeking Him (v. 37), but still He took the needed time to pray. It has been said that "if you are too busy to pray, you are busier than God ever intended you to be."

When His disciples wanted Him, they had to look for Him in the place of prayer. Christian workers and pastors, do people find us there?

III. Preaching (vv. 38, 39).

Jesus said, "Let us go . . . that I may preach . . . for therefore came I forth." It bears repetition that while Jesus did many miracles (and not for a moment would we detract from their worth and glory), yet He repeatedly, by word and act, emphasized the importance of preaching.

Foolish though it may seem to the natural man (1 Cor. 1:18-25), preaching the gospel in the power of the Holy Spirit is now, as it has been through the centuries, God's chosen means of accomplishing His purpose. What a pity that churches and pastors are forsaking it for book reviews, dramas, social hours, forums, and what not!

God give us a revival of great, humble, and fearless preaching of the Word!

IV. Cleansing (vv. 40-45).

There is a sense in which the cleansing of the leper was another act of healing, but leprosy is such a striking type of sin that the incident calls for special consideration. Leprosy is like sin in that it is a destructive miasma that pursues its insidious way without revealing its true nature until it is far advanced. It renders a man unclean, loathsome to himself and dangerous to others. At least such it was in the days of our Lord.

Was there then no hope for the leper? Yes; Jesus had come. The smitten man cried out, "If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean." And Jesus said, "I will . . . and he was cleansed."

So may the sinner be cleansed, for "whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Rom. 10:13). He will not turn the vilest of men away, for He came "to seek and to save that which was lost" (Luke 19:10).

There is another important lesson here. The man who was cleansed disobeyed the instructions of Jesus (v. 44), with the result that the Lord's ministry in that place was greatly limited.

We should obey the commands of God without question, and without any deviation from them. Disobedience, even though it be by reason of great joy and enthusiasm, results in confusion. Our Lord knows exactly what should be done in a particular place at a certain time. When He guides, we should conform—for our own good and His glory.

... but what has this automobile to do with your ELECTRIC SERVICE?

FRANKLY, it has nothing to do with your electric service. We use it here to illustrate a point.

Automobiles were "rich man's toys" not so many years ago. They cost a lot of money and they cost a lot to run. They were gas-eaters and oil-eaters. Hills they could climb in high were few and far between. If you got them to fifty miles an hour, the noise and vibration were terrific.

Today millions of American families have beautiful, powerful cars that are smart, outside and outperform the best models of the Twenties in every way yet cost less than half as much.

This progress has not been confined to the automobile. Time was when electric service provided only your light. Today you can use more light, radio, refrigerator, vacuum cleaner, washing machine and many other appliances, and the electricity to operate all of these costs very little more than used to pay for light alone.

Like the automobile, your electric service improves steadily year after year. At the same time, its price comes down. This is possible because of the constant effort of the people of your electric company to improve service and reduce rates. It's an effort that goes on and on. In the last 10 to 25 years, engineering improvements and operating economies of your electric company have made it possible to cut the average price of household electricity about in half. Because of it, your electric service will be better and cheaper in the future than it is today. The credit belongs to a group of people who never content to rest on their laurels, who strive to do their job just a little better today than they did it yesterday. They're the people of your electric company.

You give the enemy a sweet each time you save a kilowatt

BABY'S NEEDS

Some of the wartime crib sheets and baby pants haven't held up very well because the coatings and the plasticizers which keep the coatings from cracking have been hard to get for anything but military purposes. By the end of 1944 more of both will be available for essential needs. Meanwhile there is some talk of making coated pants and sheets pass minimum tests which would measure their resistance to water after a given number of washings.

You'll soon see in the stores, if you haven't already, the results of the drive to produce more children's clothes, from diapers to snow suits; knitted underwear, work clothes; men's shorts.

Servicemen May Get Extra Gas Rations

To aid servicemen in recuperating from illness or wounds received while on active duty, OPA has announced that they may be issued special gasoline rations for use in traveling to and from their homes or other places of convalescence. This special ration will be issued upon presentation of leave papers to a local rationing board and a letter from the attending medical officer certifying that transportation by automobile, rather than by other means, will materially assist in the recovery of the servicemen's health.

Miscellaneous Events

Well, back to school we go and only to find that next week is mid-term exam week and this is none other than "dead week" but isn't it always dead around here?

After returning from the merry holidays we find that Miss Maxine Durrett is back with us and we were very sorry to hear of Marshall Mason's illness. We hope he is soon back among us.

While making some inquiries we find that the Annual Staff is about to complete one-fourth of the annual which is to be sent to the engraving company by Jan. 10. Orchids to you, Betty Williams is Editor-in-Chief of the annual and Marshall Mason, Jr. is Business Manager.

As we go moseying down the hall we see new bracelets, necklaces, etc. that fond beaux gave fond sweethearts. We would love to mention a few but am afraid it would lead to blood-shed on my part.

Back to the teachers . . . We suppose they had a lovely holiday season because they all seem so cheerful. (ha, ha.)

Now, we go into the office to see the events that are to take place soon—what do we find? A basketball game with Tahoka, there. Now if any of you generous folk would like to take a car—both the boys and girls would appreciate it, because there are not enough ways. The game is scheduled for Friday nite, Jan. 7.

MEASURES TO HELP U. S. VETERANS BEING STUDIED

Action has been taken to eliminate delays between the date a soldier is discharged for physical disability and the time he may begin to receive a pension or other veterans' benefits, according to the War Department. Steps have been taken so that before the soldier leaves the army, he may get not only competent advice on the merits of individual claims, but also a decision on them.

Regardless of priorities set up in local employment stabilization plans, all honorably discharged members of the armed forces will be helped to find a job to their liking, whether on war work or not, according to the War Manpower Commission. If the veteran takes a job and is dissatisfied, he has the privilege, for 60 days of seeking other work. Six local offices of the U. S. Employment Service (New Haven, Conn.; St. Louis, Mo.; Ft. Worth, Texas; Los Angeles, Calif.; Minneapolis, Minn.; and Philadelphia, Pa.) have been designated as demonstration centers for veterans counseling and expanded placement programs. By March it is expected the test programs will be expanded to all USES offices.
