

Many new events for Post's Fourth of July celebration

14 hours scheduled

Post's 10th annual Fourth of July celebration, scheduled for next Tuesday in the city-county park and nearby Nichols park offers a 14-hour program with something for everybody, including those who only want to sit and watch.

A lot of new ideas were being incorporated into the celebration program as The Dispatch went to press this week. By next Tuesday there may be even more on the program than now announced in a double page advertisement on pages 6 and 7 of today's Dispatch.

The two major highlights of the celebration will be the big beef barbecue which will be served at 5:30 p.m. and the also expensive nighttime fireworks display which will get under way in the sky above the South Lake at 10 p.m.

Also included is an afternoon musical at the show wagon with Danny Shaw and Danny Guthrie heading groups which will alternate at playing beginning with Shaw's group at 1 p.m.

Two big morning events will be a swim meet at the pool beginning at 10 a.m. and the Firecracker 500 bike race in Nichols park around the three diamonds at 10:30 a.m.

All kinds of races are planned for the swim meet with entrants divided into three age divisions up through eight-year-olds, 9 to 10, and 11-12.

First place trophies will be given with medals for second and third places in the various events. Swimmers may sign up now at the city-county pool.

The Firecracker 500 is a new bike race sponsored by the Post Lions Club with the First National Bank providing the trophies.

The approximately half mile race will be divided into three age divisions: 6-7 year olds, 8-9 year olds, and 10-11 year olds with trophies for first and second in each division and ribbons for third, fourth and fifth.

No entry fee is required. Youngsters wishing to enter the race should be at Nichols Park shortly before 10:30 a.m. with their own bikes.

Another surefire attraction on the holiday program will be the three-hour bingo game which will be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce's Women's Division from 2 to 5 p.m. A whole room full of prizes have been donated by local merchants for the bingo winners with funds going for division projects.

Also at 2 p.m. will be a

$4,700 fund drive launched

The Garza County Heritage Association, which now owns the Algerita Hotel, launched a donations drive this week to secure $4,700 in gifts to complete the financing of the new senior citizens center which will occupy the lower floor of the building.

Work is expected to be completed in early July on a nine-room center which will include approximately 3,300 square feet of usable space.

David Newby, president of the Heritage Association is also in charge of the remodeling of the ground floor of the hotel into the senior citizens center.

Work on the center has progressed steadily since last November with Newby contributing all his time and efforts to the remodeling. He has been helped by the Green Thumb crew. Only a minimum of professional help has been employed in the center project for specific items such as installing air-conditioning and putting in the drop ceiling grid.

Total cost for the center is now estimated at $27,000 with a little less than half the money now raised coming from private donations. The rest has been provided by government agencies through one program or another.

The center will have refrigerated air conditioning, central heating, all new wiring and lighting with some of the floors carpeted. A big kitchen and large dining room are included.

Restrooms for both men and women are designed for use by wheel chair patients. Newby said an entrance ramp to the center is planned.

The carpet is the gift of Burlington Industries.

Originally an open house for the public to inspect the project was planned for Sunday, July 9, but the open house is now indefinite as to date because of a shortage of ceiling panels to complete the drop ceiling.

An open house date will be selected and announced after delivery of the ceiling panels to complete the project is made.

Dispatch wins two state press awards

The Post Dispatch won a first place plaque in advertising and a third place plaque in community service in the 1978 Texas Newspaper Contest.

Winner in the annual contests were announced Friday morning by the Texas Press Association at an awards breakfast during its summer convention at Amarillo's Hilton Inn.

Publisher Jim Cornish, who attended the convention, received the plaques.

The first place plaque in advertising was a division of smaller weekly newspapers in the state.

Judges, who were members of the Georgia Press Association, cited The Dispatch ads on the three issues submitted as "clean, well thought out, and showing good imagination."

In the community service division, The Dispatch placed third in a broad division covering all semi-weeklies and weeklies in Texas, regardless of size.

The Dispatch was cited for its involvement and support of the 1977 special election to triple the maximum tax for Garza Memorial Hospital to save it from financial oblivion.

Judges, also drawn from the Georgia Press Association had this comment on The Dispatch's entry:

Lubbock rites Monday for Loyd Lanotte

Funeral services were held at the First Christian Church in Lubbock Monday afternoon for Loyd Lanotte, 61, a native of Post who worked his way into leadership of the American trucking industry as president of T.I.M.E.-DC, Inc.

Lanotte, one of Lubbock's business leaders, died at his Lubbock home early Saturday.

As a Post youth, he enrolled in Texas Tech University to study business and became a part-time driver for the Dalby Motor Freight Company. He had worked his way to president of the company in 1958 when it became T.I.M.E.-DC, Inc.

In 1970 Lanotte left T.I.M.E.-DC to become chairman of the board of Armstrong Moving & Storage and Armstrong Transportation, Inc. He sold his interests in Armstrong in 1972 and bought Brazos Transport, Inc., a transportation-oriented holding company.

He was its board chairman at the time of his death.

Lanotte has been a director of the First National Bank of Lubbock since 1963. He also served as a director for Southwestern Public Service, the First National Bank of Levelland, and the Transport Insurance Company of Dallas.

Lanotte was active in Texas Tech's Red Raider

Hospital plans yard sale

Garza Memorial Hospital is having a big yard sale behind the hospital Saturday morning to sell off the room air-conditioners and radiators which have been replaced in the new heating and cooling project.

Some office equipment and miscellaneous items also will be sold.

Prospective buyers will submit sealed bids with the numbered item going to the highest bidder.

The sale will be held from 8 a.m. until noon. Hospital Administrator Ed Zingraff reports.

Livestock directors study 7 building bids

Directors of the 4-H and the Garza County Junior Livestock Association have sold their homes in the city-county area to the county for $1 and hope to accept a bid Thursday night, July 16, for construction of two, all-steel buildings as a future home of the county Junior Livestock Show and Fair.

White, president of the Junior Livestock association, told The Dispatch last week that at a combined meeting Monday night the directors joined as a single body and received seven bids on the proposed construction.

White said present plans call for an 80 by 180 foot building for the livestock show connected to a 40 by 50 foot steel building to be used for the Funeral services for Zola Winkler, 67, were held Tuesday in the First Baptist Church with Jimmy Kennedy, pastor officiating, assisted by Moore, Grassland senior pastor.

On February 13, 1911 in Chickasha, Okla. she died June 25 in Lubbock at Methodist Hospital after a one-day stay.

Survived by H.A. Winkler, her husband, who died in 1933 in Wilson. She had been a resident of Post for the past 12 years.

Survivors include her son, Charles Winkler, a daughter, Louise Greene, of San Diego, Calif.; three sons, Murrel Sales of Frank Sales of Roston, and Wesley of Buckle, Tex.; and a sister, Winkler rites, Page 14

Weekend crackdown on public 'boozing'

Seven persons were arrested here over the weekend for drinking in public in violation of a city ordinance. Five of them have pleaded guilty and paid fines totaling several hundred dollars.

Jim Pippin has told the Dispatch.

One of the 15th is still being in city court before Judge Louise Greene. Sheriff Pippin said three people were arrested for drinking intoxicants in cars on Post's downtown Main street and others in the park.

The board has decided to construct the two buildings on five and one-half acres owned by the livestock association adjacent to the Post Stampede Rodeo grounds northwest of Post on US-84.

White said board members hope to inspect some of the different types of all-steel buildings on which bids have been submitted before making the decision on July 16 on which building to accept.

He also said the association is seeking additional donations to go with the funds from sale of their two buildings with the county and a bank loan to finance the new construction.

The county has told the combined directors that if for any reason their building isn't completed in time to house their 1979 junior livestock show and fair next spring that the county will make its newly purchased buildings available for the events.

In accepting the county's offer of $35,000 for the present two buildings, the junior livestock association will receive $15,000 in cash from the county and $5,000 on each July 1 from 1979 through 1982.

Junior livestock directors plan to have a booth at Post's Fourth of July celebration to show plans for the new buildings to all interested.

By Monday morning, he finally determined the kitten was inside one of the newly constructed walls of the center. He was just about to cut a hole in that new wall to find the kitten when it somehow climbed up one of the pipes inside the wall and a co-worker up on a ladder grabbed it as it came out the top.

So of course he took the kitten home to Ruth Ann. It is now cleaned up, friendly and eating very well. The only trouble is that the Newbys already have two grown cats who don't want the little newcomer moving

Post posse is 3rd at Tahoka

The Post's Sheriff's Posse placed third in the Lynn County Old Settler's parade last weekend.

This makes two trophies that the group has won in three outings.

The posse also entered the Big Spring parade but didn't place. They group did enjoy a good time.

Basil Puckett is the newest member of the riding club which brings the membership to 13. Anyone wishing to join may do so by contacting Jim Jackson.

In addition to the riders, the posse is adding a new feature in the 1929 Oldsmobile owned by Jim Boles which will be making appearances with the club. The next outing will be in O'Donnell Thursday, July 6.

Freedom's 202nd birthday

The real significance of Post's Fourth of July celebration should not be overlooked.

It's more than a busy fun-filled day in the park and a respite from the regular hot summer day-to-day routine.

It's what we like to call Freedom's birthday. It was on July 4 some 202 years ago that leaders of America's 13 colonies signed the Declaration of Independence and thereby they launched what has grown to be the greatest nation on earth.

But we should not only remember that day long ago but also that the fight for freedom still goes on all around the world and even for some here in the United States.

The right to live as free men and women on this earth is a precious one. Freedom's price is always high. And freedom must be guarded with vigilance or it can be easily lost.

We must re-dedicate ourselves to not only guard America's freedom but to support those causes which will help others to become free.

Certainly the most admirable strength of President Jimmy Carter's present administration is his call for freedom and individual human rights for all those who live in lands of both our friends and foes.

America today is speaking up for human rights as never before. Freedom has taken the offensive with the human spirit as its strength and America as its leader.

Happy 202, Freedom!

Tax reforms for Texas

Bob Bullock, the state comptroller who has already announced he will run for governor in 1982, told newspaper people attending the summer convention of the Texas Press Association Friday in Amarillo that there is no tax revolt in Texas.

In a convention speech about California's Proposition 13, Bullock offered a lot of good tax reasons why Texans aren't as angry about their taxes as Californians.

Lumped together it's because Texans pay the second lowest amount per capita on taxes among the 50 states and is far ahead in this regard among major states. And also because Texas ranks 48th among the 50 states on the amount per capita it spends.

The per capita tax burden in Texas is $273. It's $413 in Michigan, $432 in Pennsylvania. And in California it's $500. New York is even higher at $541.

Only little New Hampshire has lower overall taxes than Texas.

Texas property taxes average $213 per person to $413 per capita in California. Even with the seven billion dollar rollback Californians voted, their property taxes won't be lower than in Texas.

In California the combined state and local sales tax is 7 percent. Ours in Texas is 5 percent.

Californians have a personal income tax which costs the average household $400 a year and the rates go up to 11 percent of income. They have a corporate income tax with rates high enough to drive many businesses elsewhere. In comparison, Texas is the only major state in the nation with neither a personal income tax nor a corporate income tax.

California taxes gasoline at 7 cents a gallon. We tax it at 5 cents here in Texas, the lowest gas tax rate in the country and it hasn't been raised for 22 years.

Looking at spending in which Texas ranks 48th on a per capita basis, Bullock said Texas last year spent $6.7 billion or $547 per person as compared to California's $793 per person.

Of the Texas total 3.4 billion, better than half, went for education, public schools and universities and this amount has been increased $637 million for the current year. In the last five years the amount Texas has spent on education has increased 100 percent from $1.7 billion to $3.4 billion.

All of which, Bullock points out, makes Texas No. 1 in all the surveys on business climates. Even California agrees to that. While the Texas tax picture is a whole lot better than California's, Bullock agrees that Texas needs a special session to improve its tax situation. He says we may not have a tax revolt, but Proposition 13 certainly has Texas taxpayers attention.

Bullock tax reform planks for Texas are:

- (1) Kill the 10-cent state property tax because the state doesn't need it anyway.
- (2) Value farm and ranch lands on productivity and equalize property assessments.
- (3) Help farmers, ranchers and other small estates by increasing the inheritance tax exemptions.
- (4) Let's agree on a reasonable limitation on government spending and taxation in Texas.

The Dispatch likes Bullock's propositions. The first three have been offered before but failed to get through the legislature. Now that every politician is afraid all voters are about to take to the tax war path, now is the time to get those three through.

The fourth? All we can say to that is: Wow!!

Bullock failed to offer in his speech what limitations he would consider "reasonable" either for taxation or spending. We don't think a special session can find an answer to that one in a few days of a special session.

We think the fourth one will take some study. But we'd like to see the other three adopted and a study begun on the fourth. That could be done in a week with Texas lawmakers in a state of shock only four months before a lot of them will face the voters at the polls.

Our opinion is that the special session initiative is coming from the politicians who are up for reelection in November, and that Governor Briscoe, who is now a political lameduck, can see where it might be a lot of fun to say: "Okay boys, I'll ask you back to Austin to see what you can do."

Faith "Indeed one's faith in one's plans and methods is truly tested when the horizon before one is the blackest." Mahatma Gandhi said. The truth of this is shown in George Frederick Handel's life. The great composer lost his health; his right side was paralyzed; his money was gone, and his creditors threatened him with imprisonment. He was so disheartened by his experiences that he despaired. However, his faith prevailed, and he composed his greatest work, "The Hallelujah Chorus," part of his great "Messiah." Gandhi added: "There is no cause for despondency for a man who has faith and resolution."

Nine weevils in five traps

County Agent Svd Conner Friday found boll weevils in only five of the 29 weevil traps he has located over the county to help determine if weevils have over-wintered in the county.

There were nine weevils altogether and six of them were in three of the four traps at the Robert Sanchez location, No. 48. Four were in the No. 1 traps and one each in three and four.

Two weevils were caught in the No. 3 trap at the Billy Blacklock location, No. 15; and one was found in the No. 2 trap on the David Tyler location, No. 86.

The other 24 were all blanks, including all traps at Walton McQuien, Harlan Morris, James Stone and John Boren.

Taylor-Clary vows changed June 23

Wedding vows were exchanged between Karen Taylor and Joe Clary Friday, June 23, in the First Baptist Church.

Forming the double ceremony was Rev. Reece, pastor, before a greenery with gladiolas on either side and a unity candle.

Members of the bride are Mrs. R.B. Taylor and the bridegroom is the Mr. and Mrs. Neal a complete look. The bride chose a mantilla of silk illusion bordered with matching lace to that of the gown for her headpiece and the bridal bouquet was of white roses and baby's breath.

Lucille Baker, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a formal length yellow gown of chiffon with a cape to match and carried a nosegay of yellow daisies.

Serving as bridesmaids were Dana Bird, Melinda Adams, and Irma Raymond who wore matching gowns to that of the matron of honor but in apricot and carried nosegays of daisies.

Pamela Baker was flower girl and wore a yellow chiffon dress with ruffled skirt and Gary Pierce was ring bearer.

Candles were lighted by Bryan Taylor, brother of the bride and Donna Massey, cousin of the bride.

Serving his son as best man was Neal Clary. Groomsmen were Shorty Hester, Joe Mason and Ronald Case.

Ushers were Donnie Clary, cousin of the groom and Milton Williams.

Wedding music was provided by Margie Pennell, soloist, who sang, "Twelfth of Never", "More" and "One Hand, One Heart", accompanied by Georgie Willson, organist.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. Featured on the bridal table was a three-tiered wedding cake with bride and groom at the top, six small hearts on the bottom tier surrounding a yellow waterfall. The groom's table featured a chocolate sheath cake with bride and groom setting in the moon.

The bride will be a senior at Post High School and the groom is a PHS graduate employed by Petro-Lewis.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple are residing in Post.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Post, Tahoka, Lubbock, Big Lake and Idalou.

Garza's 4-H dress revue winners named

Kathy Kirkpatrick was the winner in the Senior Division of the Garza County 4-H Dress Revue which was held Monday night, June 26 in the Graham Community Center.

The alternate for the senior division was Jackie Melvine.

The winner of the Junior I class was Angela Melton with Melissa Striblin as alternate. Junior division II winner was Tanya Bland and Renea Melton was chosen as alternate.

The Graham Home Demonstration Club was in charge of the refreshments and decorations for the revue which had as its theme "Ol' South".

The winners of these divisions along with their parents will present their winning entries in the District Dress Revue to be held on the Texas Tech campus on July 6. They will be treated to a luncheon given by the Plains Coop Oil Mills.

Other girls participating in the dress revue included Gina, Diane and Cindy Basquez, Kayla Peel, Cindy Harrel and Charlotte Murphy.

All girls who entered the dress revue received blue ribbons for their entries. County Home Demonstration Agent Paula Cawthon said it was one of the best revues ever.

Stephanie Davis wed to Richard Reynolds

The Hodges Chapel of the First Christian Church in Lubbock was the scene for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Miss Stephanie Davis and Richard Lynn Reynolds.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Elvus R. Davis of Post and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Reynolds of Round Rock.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rick Hale, minister of the South Main Church of Christ of Roswell, N. M.

The couple exchanged the wedding vows they had written before an altar flanked on either side by brass birdcage candelabra entwined with peach gladiolas and ivory spider mums.

The bridal aisle was marked with brass hurricane candles entwined with greenery.

Preceding the entrance of the wedding party, the groom played the guitar and sang a song he had written entitled "Stephanie."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of ivory imported chiffonella adorned with beaded Peau d'Ange lace molding the bodice, which was designed with a sheer illusion yoke encircling the high neckline and long tapered sleeves. The A-line skirt featured a flared flounce hemline below wide garlands of the scalloped beaded lace. The floating skirt extended to a chapel train. Tiny covered buttons closed the back bodice and sleeves. A matching fingertip length veil was bordered with scalloped Peau d'Ange lace and attached to a beaded headpiece in a mantilla fashion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of ivory Symbidium orchids and gypsophila with a detachable orchid corsage.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old, a lavalier set with pearls and centered with an Amethyst stone that her maternal grandfather had given to her grandmother. She wore a blue garter made for her by Mrs. Quannah Maxey and wore a 1953 penny, the year of the couple's birth, in her shoe.

MRS. RICHARD REYNOLDS (Stephanie Davis)

Other attendants included Mrs. Barbie Jones of Lubbock and Miss Patti Bauman of St. Louis, Mo. They were attired in dresses identical to the maid of honor.

Don Durham of Nashville, Tenn., served as best man. Groomsmen were Curt Cloninger of Lafayette, La., and Jay Reynolds of Round Rock, a brother of the groom.

Ushers were Robert Reynolds of Round Rock, brother of the groom, Garry Horn of Austin and Lynn Harms of Lubbock.

Wedding music included several special selections by Cindy Blanton of Amarillo, Terry Reynolds of Lubbock and Dave Durham of Abilene.

Wedding guests were registered by Miss Stacia Hill of Lubbock, niece of the bride.

A reception followed in the parlor of the church.

The bride's table was laid with an ivory miramist cloth and centered with a silver candelabra arrangement of five nosegay bouquets in peach and ivory. It also featured watermelon trays on crushed ice which were filled with melon balls and fresh fruit. The three-tiered wedding cake was surrounded by eight small cakes around the base and decorated with fresh flowers in peach and ivory. Crystal appointments were used. Serving at the bride's table were Miss Karen Potts of Lubbock and Miss Chris Cockrell of Amarillo.

Miss Patricia Davis of Lubbock, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a long flowing dress of ivory and peach floral sheer over peach polyester. The skirt was edged with a deep sheer ruffle. The low neckline was encircled with a flowing elbow length ruffle. She carried a crescent of peach gladiola bulbets, sinuata and gypsophila.

Chocolate cake and coffee were served from brass appointments from the groom's table. It was centered with a three-tiered pyramid of fresh pineapple and assorted fruit. The groom's table was served by Miss Gracie Conner of Dallas and Miss Cindy Blanton of Amarillo.

Upon their return they will reside in Lubbock at 4511 60th Street.

The bride graduated from Post High School and from Texas Tech University in December, 1975, with a BBA in marketing and is employed as a marketing consultant for Southwestern Bell Telephone in Lubbock. The groom graduated from Abilene Christian University in May, 1976, with a Bachelors in social work and is employed as a social worker with the Children's Home of Lubbock.

Out-of-town wedding guests were from Round Rock, Roswell, N. M., Post, Lafayette, La., Nashville, Tenn., Oklahoma City, Okla., Houston, Dallas, Abilene, Austin, Wilcox, Ariz., and Brownfield.

Carnes-Bevers vows in Slaton church

Kayleen Carnes and Joe M. Bevers pledged wedding vows June 10 in the First Christian Church of Slaton with the Rev. Sherman Ervin of Lubbock performing the 6:30 p.m. ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Carnes of Slaton and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.S. Bevers of Southland.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional formal length wedding gown with a chapel length train. She carried a cascading bouquet of white, blue and yellow flowers atop the same new Testament that had been carried in the weddings of her mother and sisters.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Jean Cates, sister of the bride, and bridesmaid was Kim Wilkins of Lubbock.

Bill Bevers of Fort Stockton, served his brother as best man, and Charlie Redman of Post was groomsman.

Acting as ushers were Jim Carnes of Canyon, brother of the bride, Larry Bevers of Ft. Stockton, brother of the bridegroom and Mack Moseley.

Candles were lighted by Sue Bevers, sister of the bridegroom and Mrs. Beverly Warminski of White Deer.

Joel Carnes, nephew of the bride, served as ringbearer and Jocelyn Wilkins, Lubbock, was flower girl.

Soloist Mrs. Laura Kirkpatrick of Lubbock sang "The Wedding Song", and "The Twelfth of Never" accompanied by Len Thaxton, organist of Lubbock.

The bride, a Slaton High School graduate and a senior student in Lubbock Methodist School of Nursing is employed as an LVN with Highland Hospital. Bevers is a graduate of Southland High School and is employed by Western Implement Company in Lubbock.

Following a wedding trip to New Mexico, the couple are residing in Lubbock.

Youthoughts

By TRACY McALISTER

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Tracy McAlister, The Dispatch's high school editor a year ago before he went off to college, is spending most of his summer vacation in hospitals this summer with a bad back. This is the first of a series of summer columns for The Dispatch.)

As most of you know, I have been in the hospital for three weeks now and am still going on strong. Let me tell you that the hospital is not a resort for people who are thinking of taking a summer vacation this year. If you want to sleep like Rip Van Winkle, then this is your kind of place. I have been so groggy that I didn't know night from day.

What I want to tell you about is my wonderful hospital excursion in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

The nurse who was assigned to me must have come out of the stone ages because she was hard as rock. She must have also just gotten out of a Burt Reynolds Look-Alike Contest because she still had not shaved off her moustache. The name tag was Nurse Adams. I don't know what her given name was but from the look of her legs, it must have been Grizzly.

She was built sort of like Muhammed Ali, except that the upper part of her body was built more like a watermelon patch. Yes, indeed folks, Dolly Parton has no chance with this girl around.

Once Nurse Grizzly did a terrible thing to me. She put a thermometer in me and left it there, and left it there. The truth of the matter is that she left it in there for three hours. The really bad part about it was that she left it in the opposite end. It sure was embarrassing when company dropped by. "Oh, Tracy, how good it is to see you. My! Looks as if we have a temperature, don't we? How humiliated can you get?"

Now the nurses up there have this thing about a little squawk box called their lazy machine. It makes you feel like you are calling long distance to Post. And it took them about that long to get me what I wanted.

The bedpan, now that's another issue altogether. It's more like wanting to go to Paris, if you don't have the money you buy an imitation of the Eiffel Tower. If you want to go to the bathroom, you buy an imitation toilet. How they expect you to stay on those darn things without maneuvering is beyond my comprehension. It was more like a roller coaster ride. If your kids want to go to Six Flags and ride the Shock Wave, just sit them on a bedpan and that ought to shock them enough.

And baths! Some things should be left sacred and private between the Lord and I. But Old Grizzly would sit there with me and her binocular eyes. Oh, how I wanted to know what she thought.

And those great hospital

ASCS office upgraded here

The local Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) has under gone dramatic changes recently according meals — They must have taken lessons from the people who makes Gaines Burgers. You know why they serve such slop, don't you? To try to keep you as sick as long as possible so they can steal all of your money.

I also had to go to physical therapy and was treated by a 500 pound 18 wheeler called a human being. Everything about her was just like a dog. You should have seen her wag her tail! During her massages I tended to think she was treating me like Grade F Meat. But her bark was worse than her bite.

After Methodist Hospital, Garza Memorial Hospital is like a blessing. The nurses here are polite and alert. The dietician really worries whether you like the food or not. Even if you want to talk, they will sit and listen to you.

And you know, Post should be might grateful for a hospital in every way.....

to Joe D. Barnes, County Executive Director.

The county office has received an overall up grading based on the increased workload of the past year. Much of the outdated equipment has been totally replaced and a new rotary phone system with two lines has been installed to enable the employees to avoid the annoying busy signal when trying to check on important last minute details of the farm programs.

Also the ASCS office is now open from 8 a.m. — 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. This will enable persons who need the opportunity to take care of ASCS business during the noon hour.

Two new regular employees have been hired to assist with the administering of the farm program and its many changes. Ms. Jamie Sims and Ms. Margaret Bull have been placed on the rolls. Both have previous ASCS experience. Temporary personnel include Cindy Bird, office clerk and Bill Aten, field assistant and appraiser. Ida Mae Wilks and Gwen Carlisle, both seasoned veterans of ASCS, received up gradings and promotions. Barnes pointed out that office clerks in the past have been "short changed" on certain benefits related to their degree of responsibility and job duties but hopes that this past injustice has changed.

Barnes also pointed out that the objective of the local ASCS, with these needed changes, is to restore the concept of service to area farmers by the local office. The service concept has been stifled for several years as ASCS offices have barely been able to keep the door open due to extreme cuts in administrative funds.

The local ASCS office is responsible for administering the overall farm support and conservation programs. Such programs include Disaster Assistance, Deficiency Payments, Agricultural Conservation Program, Emergency Conservation Programs, Emergency Livestock Feed Programs, Commodity Credit Loans, Facility Storage

Loans, and other Special Agriculture Programs enacted by Congress.

The overall responsibility of program implementation revolves around the local farmer elected County Committee. Luther Bilberry serves as chairman, Darrel Jones as vice-chairman and John Boren as member.

Barnes said that while some of our "city cousins" question the need for farm programs, they should realize that if the general populous of this nation is to continue to enjoy the overall economic growth, good cheap food, clothing, and more recreational time than ever before, this nation must continue to have a stable and viable agricultural economy.

This can only be brought about by higher food and fiber prices or moderate commodity prices plus the difference made up by government programs. However this fair price is obtained, the overall price return to the farmer must be consistent with other segments of the economic community or the agricultural community will come to a halt and in a short time so will all other segments of this nations economy.

Sue Cowdrey on LCC honor roll

LUBBOCK — Sue Cowdrey is one of the 126 students at Lubbock Christian College who have been named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the spring semester.

Bad year now official

Garza County's 1977 cotton crop totaled only 35,000 bales off 52,500 harvested acres with the next to the lowest harvested yield per acre in the entire South Plains area, according to official figures from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Garza averaged only 320 pounds per acre as compared to an average for the 25 High Plains counties of 424.1 pounds per acre.

The 25-county High Plains area set an all-time high of 3,214,400 bales of 480 pounds net weight, which greatly exceeded the previous record of 2,888,700 bales set in 1973.

Garza got a dry streak in mid-summer which reduced its 1977 production by half. In fact the 35,000 bales was considerably higher than expected after the cotton suddenly "quit growing".

Roast honors Rangers

The Rangers minor league baseball team was treated to a weiner roast in the city-county park following their final ball game Thursday night, June 22.

The boys and their parents enjoyed hot dogs with chili and all the trimmings and a cake especially made for the team with all their names on it.

The team manager, John Kocurek and team coach, Carrol Dean Eilenburger and helpers, Julia Prather and Paula Eilenburger, presented each boy with a trophy with the team name and date on it. The parents also presented the manager, coach and helper with trophies.

Braves win Babe Ruth crown by whipping Sox

SPORTSMANSHIP AWARDS — Little League presentations were made Saturday night at the Little League Park between games with these six boys earning the Sportsmanship Award, one from each team. Tuesday night makeup game is 'decider'

Manager Roy Seppington's Braves turned back the challenge of the White Sox, 10 to 7, Tuesday night in a makeup game to clinch Post's 1978 Babe Ruth league title.

A White Sox win would have tied the two clubs for the crown and forced a final round of makeup games.

Closing with three straight victories in the final week of play, the Braves knocked the Indians out of a share of the lead last Thursday night by clobbering them 23 to 1. Clyde Cash is the coach of the 1978 champions.

The reeling Indians then lost their last two games as well to slip down into third place in the final standings. Lance Dunn, who gave way to Steve Curb in the sixth, returned to the mound for the Braves to choke off a closing White Sox rally in the seventh and record the all important triumph. The Sox managed only two hits and recorded nine strikeouts.

Catcher Adolfo Varela and Ray Gonzales were the offensive stars for the Braves driving in four and three runs respectively.

Varela's two hits included a three-run first inning homerun and a run scoring double in the third to put the Braves out in front to stay. Gonzales had a single and a double.

Catcher Danny Wright of the Sox hit a homerun in the seventh with two on as the Sox rallied for four runs and had the bases loaded before Dunn returned to the mound to get three straight strikeouts to end the game.

Last Thursday night the Braves came up with the biggest inning of the league season when they tallied 20 runs in the fifth to break open a close 3 to 1 game and romp to a 23 to 1 decision via the 10-run rule.

In that explosion, the Braves smashed two homeruns (Adolfo Varela and Alonzo Luna), two triples, three doubles, and three singles as well as collecting 10 walks.

Varela had a homerun, double and single plus two walks in five trips to the plate, and Chris Belongia, Ronnie Price, Roy Gonzales and Luna all had two hits each.

The Indians got their only run in the first when Barry Morris doubled home Dana Scott who had walked. Curb (See Babe Ruth, Page 13)

All-Stars named by Little League

Fourteen Little League players were named to the All-Stars Saturday night during awards presentations held at the Little League Park.

Those named to the list were Gilbert Perez, Greg Massey, Michael Valdez and Paul Perez, all of the Dodgers; L.D. Harper, Jeff Lamb, Lynn Allen, James Brown and Danny Storie all of the Yankees; Curt Greer and Robbie Williams, Tigers; Danny Valdez and Daniel Gonzales, Red Sox and Curtis Clinesmith of the A's. R.J. Greathouse of the Red Sox and Felix Bustos, Dodgers were named as alternates. Manager for the squad will be John Valdez with Pat Ayala as coach.

The All-Stars will play in the Area IV tournament to be held in Slaton beginning July 17.

In other award presentations, sportsmanship trophies went to Felix Bustos, Dodgers; Lynn Allen, Yankees; Curt Greer, Tigers; Rodney Owen, Red Sox; Robert Shults, A's and Todd Wilson of the Cardinals. President of the League, David Perez, also presented certificates of recognition to each boy on each team and to the bat boys.

First place trophies went to the First National Bank Dodgers, John Valdez, Manager who went undefeated during the season in Little League and to the United Super Market Mets, Bobby Waters, manager for Minor League.

Little League officers, Archie Gill, player agent and Dedra Adams, secretary received recognition as did Minor League officials, scorekeepers, umpires and a special thanks went to all who helped in any way to make the season a success.

Brownfield tennis meet opens July 5

BROWNFIELD — The Brownfield Open Tennis Tournament is slated for July 5-8 here with the entry deadline Monday night, July 3.

Singles and doubles are scheduled for boys and girls and men and women in 10 age groups ranging from 10 and under to 40 and over.

Entries should be mailed to Carey Lee White, 1105 S. Pecos, Brownfield or by calling 806-637-6847. Entry fees are $4 per player per event.

Dodgers finish unbeaten

Manager John Valdez's First National Bank Dodgers completed their undefeated Post Little League championship season last Thursday night with a 25 to 10 victory over the Fire Department's Cardinals as Cleanup Slugger Gilbert Perez smashed three homeruns.

The victory gave the new champs 15 straight wins for the summer season which wound up regularly scheduled play Saturday night.

The runnerup Postex Yankees were five and one-half games behind the Dodgers. Only two games separated the other four clubs, but the third place Storie Gin Tigers were 3 1/2 games behind the Yanks.

Strangely enough, it was the last place Cardinals who finished with a closing rush. They won two out of their last three games piling up 53 runs in those final starts.

The five rain-outs, won't be made up.

Danny Storie and Lynn Allen combined to pitch a one-hitter against the Tigers last Thursday night in a 23 to 8 Yankee victory — but what a hit.

It was a grand slam homerun by Shortstop Curt Greer in the first inning with none away to give the Tigers a very temporary 4-0 lead which the Yanks erased in the bottom half of the frame with an 11-run rally.

Storie, Catcher L.D. Harper and First Sacker James Brown each had three hits for the Yanks in a game shortened to three innings by the 15-run rule.

In the Dodgers 25 to 10 win over the Cardinals that same night, Clifford Redman had four straight singles and Tommy Basquez, Perez and Greg Massey had three hits each in the 17-hit attack.

On Friday night, the Palmer A's outdid the Tigers, 13 to 4, but had to struggle for a 15 to 11 victory. In that one Jay McCook, Curtis Clinesmith, and Robert Shults each had three hits for the winners as Clinesmith went the route on the mound for the victory. Babe Ruth party set Friday night Awards for the Babe Ruth League will be presented at a picture-taking swimming party in city-county park, Friday night, David Nichols, league president, announced today.

All players are requested to be at the park at 5:30 p.m. in full uniform for a picture taking session by a professional photographer unless otherwise notified.

After a swim in the pool, players will go back to the park for hot dogs and ice cream. All parents of the players are invited, too.

The all-star team to represent Post in the 13-15 district tournament will be announced following the eats.

All 13-year-old players in the league — 22 of them — will comprise the Post entry in the district tourney for 13 year olds, Nichols said, so an all-star squad for this age group will not be selected.

This squad of 13-year-olds will swing into district tournament play Monday night at Brownfield in the 6 p.m. opening first round game of the six-team, week-long event.

Post will play Lamesa and if it wins will meet Tri-City (South) at 6 p.m. on the Fourth of July (Tuesday) in a second round game.

If Post loses in the first round, the team drops into the losers' bracket of the double elimination event and will meet the Lynn County-Brownfield first round loser at 6 p.m. Wednesday night.

Finals are scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday and if a second game is needed to decide the champion it will be played

The Babe Ruth 13-15 year old tournament will be held at Lamesa July 10-15 with Post drawing the only first round bye in the five-team field.

Post's first game will be at 6 p.m. Tuesday, July 11, against the winner of the Lynn County-Brownfield first rounder. Tri-City and Lamesa are in the other bracket.

Six-team scramble in slow pitch loop

Six teams are battling for the Post Slow Pitch League title in a race so tight that the club with the highest winning percentage — the Outsiders with an 8-2 record for .800 — are actually half a game behind the Dirty Dozen (10-3 for .769) in the won-lost columns.

At 8-3 are TDY and Black Power with Palmer Well at 7-4 and Brown Brothers at 7-4.

These were the standings going into this week's play and do not count two games — TDY vs. Dirty Dozen and Baptist vs. Black Power — scheduled for Tuesday night.

The Outsiders climbed over the Dirty Dozen into first place by beating the Dirty Dozen 10 to 6 on June 20 and sweeping a twin bill with the Baptists.

No games will be played next week due to the July 4th holiday and the Postex vacation period.

The schedule will resume

Mets lose final Minor League game

The 1978 Minor League champion Mets cracked out seven homeruns in their final game Friday evening to only three for the Texans, but it was the Texans who came up with a 13-run rally in the final frame to come from behind and hand the Mets their only loss of the season, 20 to 16.

Mark Cruz got two of the winners' round-trippers with David Martin getting the other. Socking homers for the losers were Lance Alexander with three, Billy Odom with two, and Mike Wells and Brent Jones with one each.

Roy Holly had four hits for the winners and Alexander, who also had a single and Dwayne Warren had four each for the losers.

In the only other league game, the Rangers hammered out a 24 to 4 win over the Colts. Mike Kocurek led the Ranger attack with five straight hits which included a homerun, triple, double and two singles. Bubba Martin had four hits for the Rangers, including a homerun. All told the Rangers had seven homers. Odom were by Chuck Prather and one each by Eric Odom, Daryl Foster and Linn.

Greg Benham and Andrew Pearson had homeruns for the Colts.

The league is counting games — of which there were two — as a half loss. The Colts had ties so they get another and another loss.

Teenagers take two out of three

Boog Holly's Teenage baseball team played at a .667 over the weekend, winning Wilson and Leveling and losing to Brownfield. Holly brings their league to eight wins against Brownfield and doesn't count scheduled Wednesday game at Slaton. Holly's big win for the week was its 9 to 3 victory at Levelland Wednesday afternoon in which Compton scattered seven over seven innings on the route for the three-all through innings, but then Post pulled away getting a fourth, two more fifth and the last three seventh. Holly had a run for Post and Kelly had two hits in trips to lead the local Brownfield banged out 13 on Friday night in its 7 victory over the including two home- and a single by Roy Dealer, who went the as a pitcher giving up hits. Holly got three of four hits, two home- and a double. He got three times and in two more. Brownfield was leading to 7 after five innings, came up with a six run in the top of the 6th to win going away. The 17 to 8 victory over here Saturday after Post picked up 12 hits, of them for extra. Mark Williams had a five-run rally first with a homerun. Haman, Doug Hall and Houston each had two in the game with four in the locals. Wednesday night game was the final game on the regular season. Holly told The Post Tuesday that his team has two makeup games left to schedule, one with Levelland and one with Brownfield with Brownfield.

County turns down request

The Garza County Commissioners Court turned down a request at its second June meeting Monday that the county pay utility bills for the new senior citizens center in the Algerita Hotel building.

The court said state constitutional provisions do not permit tax dollars to be spent on a private, non-profit organization and that this was the reason for turning down the request which was made by Mrs. Maxine Marks.

In another action, the court unanimously approved the proposal of the Garza Junior Livestock Association and the 4-H board to sell their buildings to the county for $35,000. The county plans to use the building for storage and possible office space.

L. D. Womble appeared before the court to discuss including Garza County in the eight-county drug abuse and alcoholism program but the court put off action until a later date.

The court also took under study proposed liability insurance for the county's elected officials and full-time county employees. Bryan J. Williams appeared before the court to discuss such a program.

The court decided to leave it up to individual county offices whether they would close on just Tuesday, July 4 or also on Monday, July 3.

"For we walk in faith and not by sight." - II Cor. 5:7

Our lives continue to be battlefields where armies of good and evil keep clashing. Shall we call a truce? Surrender? Thanks be to God who gives us the victory in Jesus Christ our Lord! Join with the Presbyterians of Post, as we celebrate our victory in Christ, Sunday at 11:00 a.m.

Postings-

Ruth Ann says she can't tell yet if it's a boy or a girl cat. If it's a boy she suggests calling this little Algerita cat Al, but if it turns out to be a girl, she can be named Rita.

Anyway, anyone who want to give a little happy, well fed orange kitten a home should call the Newbys today.

We've been watching David bringing the new senior citizens center together and we can say what he's accomplished is going to be a very worthwhile asset to Post. It is certainly well worth an investment of $4,700 in donations from Post and Garza citizens who appreciate David's project. The money will go to pay what he hopes will be the last of the center's construction bills.

Remember Post built its remarkable little library the same way - with donations - and its drawn nothing but praise ever since.

The Dispatch got in a dozen copies of Carter White's book, "Big Remuda," over the weekend, and when we called it a "horse book" sight unseen last week we hit the nail right on the head. Everybody who likes horses is going to enjoy this one. Which means there should be a very big market for Carter's book. Of course there are a lot of local mentions. We took a quick look at it Tuesday night and ran across a dozen.

The book sells for $8.50 plus tax, or $8.93 total. The dozen won't be in our office long so if you want one better get in by Friday.

Tracy McAllister is having a perfectly miserable summer with a bad back. He's back in Garza Memorial Hospital again and had a stay in Lubbock's Methodist not long ago. He compares these two hospitals in his first summer column, "Thoughts, in this week's Dispatch. We can only hope that Tracy's bad back doesn't get him back in Methodist again. You'll know what we mean when you read his column.

Last week's Dispatch went to press with its most embarrassing error in our 20 years at its publishing helm. The pictures of two brides were inadvertently switched at the Brazos Offset printing plant in Slaton where this paper is printed. The picture of Mrs. John William Cox appeared over the outline of Mrs. Allen Burns with the Odom-Burns wedding story, and vice versa.

The mistakes shouldn't have occurred. The pictures were properly identified but when the negatives of the brides' pictures were placed on the printing plant they were somehow exchanged.

Newspaper mistakes of course can never be fully rectified or corrected. In this case it is a once-in-a-lifetime error for the brides involved. For all of this we are truly sorry.

But we would be amiss if we did not also voice our admiration for Mrs. Marvin Odom, mother of the bride who came in Friday morning to find out how the mistake had been made.

Weddings are usually more traumatic for mothers of the brides than the brides themselves. So we fully expected a classic tongue lashing for this supreme goof.

But Mrs. Odom, although of course disappointed at our performance, accepted

Ed Brutons stop to visit

Ed Bruton, former Postex Plant manager here, told Post Rotarians at the Post Community Center Tuesday noon he never figured he would be leaving his Georgia resort area to come to Post for a vacation - especially in the middle of a West Texas summer heat wave.

He arranged to stop here a day enroute to New Mexico with his family for a visit with relatives.

He made a short talk explaining activities of the carpet plant he now manages for Burlington Industries at Rabun Gap, Ga.

Rotarians got a laugh when Walter Didway, retiring Rotary president, presented Mrs. Sharon Bruton with a pair of Postex sheets. Sheets have been presented Rotary speakers for years courtesy of Postex, but it brought a chuckle to see the Brutons get a pair.

Bruton said what he misses most is the friendliness of West Texans. He said before the meeting that by reading The Post Dispatch every week "I don't feel I've even been away."

'Walk out' thief grabs TV set

A thief just "walked out" of Western Auto store here last Tuesday with a 7-inch portable black and white television set worth $125.

The sheriff's office said the theft was not reported until Thursday.

15 arrested-

(Continued From Page One) agents and highway patrolmen of a new "place" on North Avenue F called "Steel's Scorpio No. 1" about which Pippin said he had received several complaints because of noise.

The operator and eight other blacks were brought to the station and also charged with drinking in a public place in violation of the city ordinance. All pleaded guilty and paid a total of $350 in fines.

(Continued From Page One) and became involved, personally and editorially, with a specific proposition to keep a local hospital open by urging approval of a referendum to increase taxes. Editorials and news stories document effort, impact, need and involvement.

The Azle News-Advertiser won first in this contest and the Mineral Wells Reporter was second.

The weekly division of the community service contest drew the largest entry list of any division in the Texas Newspaper Contest with 49 entries.

our apology and explanation with all good grace. She then went on to say her daughter's marriage should be truly blessed. Not only had the pictures been switched, but almost a hundred wedding announcements mailed here were somehow never delivered and the bride's wedding gown had almost been ruined two days before the wedding.

Perhaps by the time The Dispatch came along with its post-wedding goof, Mrs. Odom had decided the only thing to do under the circumstances was just to take life as it came.

Some of the other events included on the big holiday program is a slow pitch softball game at Nichols Park at 7 p.m. for both men and women who want to play; a volleyball tournament from 2 to 5 p.m., sponsored by the 4-H organizations; and a horse shoe pitching contest which will have a double run from 2 to 5 p.m. and then from 7 to 9 with time out for barbecue.

The American Heart Association will give a home-made quilt as a prize in a benefit contest to raise funds for the association with contest entries costing $1 each.

Sponsors were still being sought at press time Wednesday for an old fashioned spitting contest and egg throwing competition.

The Meals on Wheels organization will conduct a bake sale from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. to raise money to help with its operations here.

Joe Giddens and the Boy Scouts will open the whole holiday show in the park at 9 a.m. Tuesday when they open their lemonade and iced tea booth.

A flag raising is scheduled at 10 a.m. with Boy Scouts from Camp Post conducting the ceremony.

At 10 a.m., the Gammu Mu sorority will open a coke and food booth, the Trail Blazers will open a food booth, the Post Special School will open an arts and crafts booth, the Antelope Booster club will open its dunking booth for a long day of fun, and the Post Student Council will open its booth.

At 11 a.m., the Calvary

Baptist Church plans to open a puppet booth.

Also on the competitive program will be a tug of war contest open to all comers at 11:30 a.m. with Lee Norman and Don Payne in charge.

At 1 p.m. the Post Lions Club will sponsor canoe rides on South Lake for 50 cents per person for 15 minutes.

Gene Moore, who is in overall charge of the barbecue, reports he still needs more cooks to handle some 1,600 pounds of beef brisket which will be cooked overnight over wood coals at the park.

Admission price for the barbecue, which will be served for two hours, beginning at 5:30 p.m. will remain at $1.50 per person to help defray part of the food costs. What barbecued beef which remains after everyone is served will be sold to those who want to take it home.

With Post caught in a searing heat wave, the outdoor Fourth of July program Tuesday may be just the kind of a lazy fun day everybody needs about this time in a hot summer.

It's always fairly cool in the park shade and generally a breeze can be counted on.

Together with all the scheduled activities, plenty of visiting among old friends goes on throughout the afternoon and evening.

Some 1,200 were served barbecue last year and a similar crowd is expected to show up hungry Tuesday evening.

Winkler rites-

Pallbearers were Joe McCowen, Ed Stone, Weldon Reed, C.B. Terry, Don Sales and Jack Ainsworth.

Honorary pallbearers were Bandy Cash, Allen McCowen, Fletcher Keeton, R.B. Perrin, Ralph Gregg, Ray Smith, Ray Norman, Racy Robinson, Glenn Norman, Henry Key and Douglas Jones.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Record 42 June runs by ambulance

Sheriff Jim Pippin said Wednesday that the city-county ambulance service has made 42 runs in June to that date, the most in any single month yet.

He said deputies made as many of these runs as possible.

Chief Deputy Tom Burns will take a leave of absence in July to tend to some business matters and during his absence, Pippin said the department will be short-handed again which may affect its ability to staff ambulance runs.

New manager-

Castro was a full time Baptist preacher and in music evangelism for the last four years having held 42 revivals a year.

He and his wife, Nora, have seven children. Daughter Elizabeth is married and has one child, a son, Albert Jr., who is in the service in Panama, Danny 16, Priscilla 14, Lydia 10, Ruthie 7 and Naomi, 5.

His family will move to Post as soon as suitable housing is found.

Donation-

In a half page ad on page 3 of today's Dispatch is an architect's drawing of the floor plan of the senior citizens center.

All donations for the project should be addressed to Garza County Heritage Association, Box 40, Post, Tex.
