Politics are warming up in Texas. Governor Dolph Briscoe kicked off his campaign for reelection (third term) in which he seeks to become the first man in Lone Star history to serve in the governor's mansion for a full decade.

He has two opponents ready — and maybe more coming. One is Lubbock's Preston Smith who is ready on the campaign trail in his western hat. He filed the capital's press in Austin this week and kept it on for emphasis while he lambasted Briscoe.

We're not sure how many have filed for Omar Burleson's congressional seat in his district. They haven't been through Post yet, or even made contact by phone or mail. We think it is four to five — and there may be more there too.

It looks like a big political year coming up.

Sandersons attend southern 4-H forum

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Sanderson, 4-H leaders from Garza County, were two of Texas' 20 delegates at the 1977 Southern Region 4-H Leader Forum, Rock Eagle 4-H Center, Eatonton, Georgia, recently.

Some 400 4-H adult workers from 13 southern states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands participated in the 1977 forum.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson participated in small workshop groups where club ideas of 4-H and techniques for more effective youth work were exchanged. Other training activities in which Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson were involved were recreation demonstrations, forum assemblies, state group meetings, vespers, and informal discussions with

Sixth deputy joins force
 The county sheriff's department is back to full strength this week with the employment of Tom Burns as the sixth deputy by Sheriff Jim Pippin.

Burns, who is 38, is a certified officer who has had three years experience with the sheriff's office at El Paso and two and one-half years with the Culbertson County Sheriff's office at Van Horn.

He is married and has one child at home, one son in college and another son in the Navy. His family will move to Post from Van Horn at mid-term.

Burns began his new duties here Monday.

Winners are named in 4-H food show

"Energy Savers" was the theme for the Garza County 4-H Food Show held in the Post High School Homemaking Department Saturday, Nov. 5.

Thirty-one 4-H boys and girls entered foods in the junior and senior divisions of side dish, main dish, snacks-beverages and breads and desserts.

District winners are seniors, Katrina Chaffin, bread-desserts; Pam Riley, snack-beverages; Amy Ault, main dish; and Connie Halford, side dish; juniors Renea Melton, main dish; Carl Harrell, side dish; Tanya Bland, snacks and beverages and Terri Kirby, breads and desserts.

These winners will represent Garza County in the District 4-H Food Show to be held Saturday, Nov. 12 at Texas Tech University.

Others receiving ribbons in the local show were: Senior bread and dessert — Katrina Chaffin, blue; Jerri Baumann, red; snacks and beverages, Pam Riley, red; main dish, Amy Ault, blue; side dish, Connie other 4-H leader delegates. Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson will help plan the 1978 Texas Leader Forum to be held at the Texas 4-H Center near Brownwood on April 7-9, 1978.

ATTENDED 4-H LEADER FORUM — Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Sanderson, 4-H leaders from Garza County, recently attended the 1977 Southern Region 4-H Leader forum, held at Rock Eagle 4-H Center, Eatonton, Georgia.

Two amendments voted down in small turnout

The smallest turnout of Garza voters within County Clerk Carl Cederholm's long memory went along with voters throughout the state in the special constitutional amendment election Tuesday by rejecting the electronic banking and other marketing association amendments and approving the other five.

Only 149 voters of the 2,715 eligible — or slightly more than five percent — visited the polling places in Garza County to register their judgments.

County officials here estimated the election costs to the county alone at $1,000 with the state bearing the rest of the cost, even though county voting places had been drastically reduced in expectations of the light turnout.

The law and order amendment permitting denial of bail to a person charged with a felony offense who has been convicted before or is on bail from a similar charge was the only one of the seven which drew almost a unanimous vote.

One hundred and twenty-seven voted yes to this one and only 19 opposed.

Even at that, the county cost per vote cast was $6.71.

The two amendments going down to defeat were: No. 5, authorizing the formation of agricultural or marine associations which may mandate the collection of refundable assessments for improvements of production, marketing, or use of their products. The vote was 80 opposed and 61 in favor.

No. 6, giving the legislature the power to authorize state and national banks to exercise banking and discounting privileges by use of electronic devices or machines. Garza's tally here was 88 opposed to 56 in favor.

The amendments which carried included: No. 1, increasing the size of the Court of Criminal

Sacred music program set
 The Post Music Club, a member of the National Federation of Music Clubs, will sponsor the ninth annual Sacred Music program on Monday evening, Nov. 14 at the First United Methodist Church.

Prelude music will be presented by Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick with the congregational hymn to be "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come."

Selections of sacred music will be presented by the First United Methodist Church, Church of the Nazarene, Post High School Choir, Calvary Baptist Church, Graham Methodist Church, Church of God of Prophecy, First Christian Church, Church of Christ, Post Music Club, Holy Cross Catholic Church, Presbyterian Church, the First Baptist Church and the Post Community Chorus.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend this evening of special sacred music.

Free turkey drawing set
 A Thanksgiving Turkey drawing will be held Saturday, Nov. 19 at 2 p.m. at radio station KPOS, sponsored by the Women's Division of the Post Chamber of Commerce.

Sign-ups for the drawing may be made without obligation at Sentry Savings, Trends for Men, Butler LP Gas, Twins Fashions, Mason and Co., Hudman Furniture, Western Auto, and H & M Construction.

Appeals to nine judges and permitting the court to sit in panels of three judges, 88 in favor, 58 opposed.

No. 2, providing for an addition $200,000,000 in bonds of the state of Texas for the Veterans Land Fund and to allow surviving widows of veterans to purchase tracts under certain circumstances. Yes 80, no. 65.

No. 3, permitting denial of bail to a person charged with a felony offense who has been theretofore twice convicted of a felony offense, or charged with a felony offense committed while that person was admitted to bail on a prior felony indictment, or charged with a crime involving the use of a deadly weapon where there is evidence such person has been convicted of a prior felony offense, providing for a 60-day limit to that person's incarceration without trial; and providing for that person's right to appeal. For 127, opposed 19.

No. 4, authorizing tax (See Election, Page 14)

H. JAMES DIETRICH
Rites held for James Dietrich
 Funeral services for H. James Dietrich, 60, were held Wednesday, Nov. 9 at 10 a.m. in the First United Methodist Church.

Rev. Conrad Ryan officiated the services assisted by Dr. Luther Kirk, retired Methodist minister of Lubbock.

Dietrich born Oct. 1, 1917 died at his home Monday night at 8:30 of a heart attack. A 1935 graduate of Post High School, he owned and operated the Caprock Dairy in Post for over 27 years.

He was married to Louise Park of Tahoka Dec. 25, 1938.

Survivors include his wife, Louise; his mother, Margie V. Dietrich; one daughter, Mrs. Claude (Frances) Wortham of Lubbock, two grandsons, Cleve and Chris Wortham; two sisters, Mrs. Arvel McBride and Mrs. Joe Hopper, both of Alvarado, Tex.; and one brother, Bob Dietrich of Brownfield.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Dietrich Rites, Page 14.

No nursing home decision
 A decision is not expected for two or three more weeks on the application of H. H. Huntley of Luling, Tex., to the Texas Health Facilities Commission in Austin for a Certificate of Need to construct a 90-bed nursing home here in Post.

The hearing was conducted before an examiner of the commission in Austin in late October.

Mayor Giles McCrary attended the hearing and testified as to the need for such a new facility here.

The proposed nursing home would include 20,000 square feet and would cost an estimated $480,000.

Financing for the home reportedly has been worked out by Huntley if he can receive the official state go-ahead.

'Caper' draws big, and is great fun
 "The Great Post Toasties Caper," The Post Music Club's melodrama, drew its full measure of boos, hisses and laughter Friday and Saturday nights at the Post Community Center after good-sized crowds had dined by candlelight on spaghetti, bread and salad.

The event was a joint fund raiser by the Music Club and the Post High School Choir, with the choir handling the supper and the club the melodrama.

Caper's hero, Dashing Dan, played by Jim Wells, finally showed up in 1910 Post in the last scene just in time to save the heroine, Sweet Nell, played by Marita Jackson, from the villain, Pedro Pancake, played by Jim Jackson.

But the real climax for most of the audience came in the "chase scene" when the Good Guys and Bad Guys, Black Bart (Lonnie Gene Peel), Loud Snort (Ray Bagby), Mr. Spill (Dwayne Capps), Mr. Whittle (Terry Gilmore) and Mr. Stumble (Cleatus Rhodes) raced across the stage and around the aisles of the center on their stick horses shouting and shooting at each other.

You just knew somebody was going to miss the steps and sprawl on the stage the next time around, but they never did—at least on Friday night.

Tom Pass, who originally wrote the "caper" but then tried to decline the credit because he said everybody changed it up so much in rehearsal, also was the narrator. Tom is pretty. (See Post Toasties, Page 14)

Council in no hurry on funding

Post's city council was in no hurry Monday night to spend any of its new motel occupancy tax receipts. Two motions to divert some of these funds to help remodel a portion of the Algeria Hotel into new quarters for the Trail Blazers Club died for lack of seconds.

David Newby, president of the Garza Heritage Association which is now legally responsible for the historic old hotel, appeared before the council to ask the city to make tax money available from "one percent of the tax" for the remodeling project.

He explained the federal government is interested in signing a contract for ground floor space in the rear of the hotel for a senior citizens clubhouse and would pay $5,000 a year for three years.

Newby said the necessary remodeling would cost an estimated $30,000, and since the state law requires use of hotel occupancy tax receipts on town promotions, historic restoration, or the arts he was proposing a portion of the tax money be used to help the heritage association (See City Council, Page 14)

Meals on wheels begun this week
 Post's "meals on wheels" program was spinning in high gear again this week after being "on the blocks" for several years.

Hot lunch deliveries began Monday on a four-days-a-week basis to 22 qualified Post residents. At present, Post is allocated a 25-meal program.

Post's original "meals on wheels" program ran out of funds several years ago after being run on strictly a volunteer basis on everything except cost of the meals which were purchased at a local restaurant because there were no cooking facilities available. It's all changed now.

The city and county have jointly contributed $3,600 to help fund the program and individuals have contributed $217 in addition. That's not counting the main financial thrust, which comes from federal funds.

The cooking is done in the Post Community Center kitchen by two Green Thumb ladies on Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays with the meals delivered hot to the various homes via volunteers.

Besides those getting their "meals on wheels" from 18 to 39 oldsters (over 55 years of age) are being fed lunches at the center each of the four days, but they pay $1.50 each for their meals (See Meals on, Page 6)

United Fund totals nearing $4,000 mark
 Garza County's 1978 United Fund drive climbed near the $4,000 mark today with the bank employees and teachers divisions reporting in complete.

The Post teachers contributed a check for $500 from the contributions fund of their local teachers association plus a $25 added individual contribution by one school administrator who wanted to do more.

D. O. (Rob) Robinson, chairman of the employees division of the First National Bank, reported complete with 100 percent participation by the 19 employees for a total giving of $274.50, a $35 increase over bank employee giving a year ago.

Jim Cornish, drive chairman, said things should start to move along at a good clip this weekend.

Most of the contributions so far are from the big business division with the Post employees and the Farm and Ranch divisions still to be heard from (See United Fund, Page 14)

Mary Sneed hospital employee of month
 Mary Sneed, 15-year-employee of Garza Memorial Hospital has been selected as "Employee of the Month" in what will be a monthly series.

Three nominees for the monthly honor are selected by a hospital nominating committee and then the final choice is made by a vote of all employees. Employees of the month are not eligible for the honor again until a full year after their selection.

The wife of George Sneed, they have two children, Bobby and Karen and three grandchildren. Mary is a member of the Graham Methodist Church and the Ladies VFW Auxiliary.

She started working as a nurses aide at the Golden Years Nursing Home and worked there only a short time when she was hired to work at the hospital.

When she went to work at the hospital, she calls that there was only one RN and two aides working the evening shift and they had to work in all capacities. Now there are five RNs.

Mary says that the hospital has really improved in the time she has been working there what with more trained staff and all the new equipment that has been added.

Equal means average

Have you had a good argument about local control of our Post schools lately?

We haven't, but it is a subject which needs to be given a lot of serious thought.

The federal government already has moved billions of dollars into the educational mill and for its dollars it has extracted a degree of control over operations that schools have never had before.

Of even greater importance, the courts have moved into the educational field in the last two decades with a mailed fist. The courts are ordering school boards around with a great degree of regularity now. And when they are not, angry parents, students or teachers are going to court in efforts to force settlements school boards do not want to make.

All this already has become a part of educational life today as we understand it.

But moving in now with an even bigger club is the state with a proposal for total school support for school operations. This is the future which may be coming up.

A lot of new items are in this Pandora's box. Supporters of the plan say it will do away entirely with school property taxes except for taxes to pay for school improvement. If this be so such gain would only be offset by a state tax someplace else to tap the same taxpayers to support the same schools. The state plan also would deny the "enrichment" of the educational process which richer districts now afford and others simply want badly enough to pay for.

If the plan ever becomes reality equal education would be achieved and most of the decisions would be made—you guessed it—in Austin and not in Post.

Thanks to the zeal, ability and hard work of Supt. Bill Shiver, Post has a unique and well established school system. This would be lost under proposed new full state financing.

All the schools would be averaged out. Sure, it would make better schools of poor ones, but it would also make worse schools of really good ones.

The well operated local school system is going to suffer if what is now termed "equal education" is every spread across Texas.

In Lubbock, where the federal government is hot after the Lubbock schools trying to force more integration, a court report filed there this week showed that really no discrimination was involved in the amount of school supplies made available to the various schools, or the size of the classes in those schools. All schools have qualified teachers.

The difference in education comes right down to incentive. When a student has it, or a school system has it, it's simply great. When he doesn't, it's bad.

As we study state proposals for full state support for Texas schools, let us remember what full support will bring with it—a leveling off of educational opportunity everywhere.

Is that what we want for our children?

We want those letters

In scanning through our pile of area exchange papers to see what's going on in the towns around us, our eye automatically locks in on the letters to the editor whenever we find them.

Personal features and letters to the editor are two of the best read kinds of items to appear in any paper's news columns. Even the magazines have found a letters to the editor page valuable as an interesting expression of readers' opinions.

The Dispatch of course would like to have more than we get. It usually takes a full blown community controversy to bring in the letters. But at other times, they arrive unheralded about the most surprising subjects.

The Dispatch has only a few rules governing its letters column, but we do adhere to them.

First, the letter must be signed and the writer's name will be printed with his or her letter. The "name withheld" tag at the bottom of a letter takes about half the punch out of it because the writer was not willing to stand up and be counted.

Second, we don't like letters which run too long. Two hundred and fifty words should be plenty. Though we seldom if ever chop them off after they pass that limitation.

Third, the letter must not be libelous because the newspaper becomes a party to any such libel. We do not want to buy that kind of trouble.

Fourth, there is that wavy line which for lack of a better term we shall call "good taste." Any letter to the editor is the editor's choice whether to print or not, and sometimes the editor must draw a line that maybe the writer wouldn't.

With these simple rules in mind, we offer our readers a standing invitation to submit letters to the editor whenever you have something to say and want to get it off your chest.

Maybe you don't have a subject you want to write about today, but tomorrow you might. So remember your invitation.

Strangely enough, few newspapers have good solid lines of communications with their readers. That's usually because the newspaper is so busy with trying to get in the week's news that staff members can't find time to communicate. But on letters to the editor we like to extend the invitation several times each year. It's that important.

It's time to consider the heat pump. Southwestern Public Service Company can suggest the system that will give you the most for your energy dollar, and come up with some accurate information on installation and operating costs.

The heat pump is the electric savings machine. And usually a machine of such sensitive operation calls for a lot of space and some pretty technical installation procedures. NOT SO WITH THE HEAT PUMP! "Split systems" — most adaptable to homes — consist of an outdoor and indoor section, easily tucked away in a closet, garage, basement or attic. The single package unit looks very similar to a central air-conditioning unit that's placed outdoors. Both systems can be installed in most every home or office that has central air ducts. If you're buying, building or remodeling, it's time you said...

CHARLES TELLS ELVIRA, who has come back as a ghost, that he still loves her.

Post High School Drama Club Presents 1977 All School Play

'BLITHE SPIRIT'

Directed by Miss Jane Tice

7:30 PM Saturday, Nov. 12 in Primary School Auditorium

EDITH SERVES BREAKFAST as Ruth and Charles argue over Charles' bizarre behavior. (David Morrow, Leanna Davis, Donna Josey.)

"Blithe Spirit" is one of the best-loved comedies of the great English playwright and satirist, Noel Coward. It has been produced numerous times both in Britain and the United States and was made into a motion picture starring Rex Harrison and Margaret Rutherford.

Termed by Coward an "improbable farce in three acts," the play takes place in the home of Charles and Ruth Condomine, near London in the late 1940's. Charles, a novelist, has arranged to have a seance with Madame Arcati (the local spiritualist) in order to get material for a new book. Unfortunately, the seance calls back Elvira, Charles' former wife who has died seven years previously.

A series of bizarre events involving Edith, the maid, and Dr. and Mrs. Bradman lead up to a surprising ending. The play sparkles with the biting wit and humorous dialogue that became a trademark of Noel Coward.

The seven-member play cast includes Leanna Davis as Edith, Donna Josey as Ruth, Cindy Polk as Mrs. Bradman, Tim Tatum as Dr. Bradman, Terry Smith as Madame Arcati, David Morrow as Charles and Danna Giddens as Elvira. Assistant director is Jay Young.

General admission tickets will be available at the door at $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students. There are still some good seats left, so plan now for an evening of British comedy and ghostly fun as Post High School presents "Blithe Spirit."

DURING THE SEANCE, ghostly voices are heard and Madame Arcati falls into a trance. (Terry Smith, David Morrow, Cindy Polk, Danna Giddens, Donna Josey, Tim Tatum, in back, Danna Giddens.)

MADAME ARCATI DESCRIBES her psychic experiences to Mrs. Bradman and Ruth. (Cindy Polk, Terry Smith and Donna Josey.)

CHARLES DESCRIBES HIS interest in the occult to Ruth, Dr. and Mrs. Bradman and Madame Arcati. (Donna Josey, Tim Tatum, David Morrow, Cindy Polk, and Terry Smith.)

Women of Post to be invited to coffee

Plans were completed for coffee to be held Saturday, Nov. 19 in the home of Mrs. Iva Hudman, when the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, Nov. 2 in the Reddy Room.

Other plans for November will be a drawing for free turkeys on Saturday, Nov. 19 with persons asked to register at various stores for the drawing. No purchase will be necessary.

A "Welcome to Post" project was also discussed for new residents.

The construction of the ramps in the downtown area are well underway and should benefit the elderly or disabled and is a project of the Women's Division.

The next meeting will be Dec. 6 in the Reddy Room and all women interested in the betterment of Post are welcome to join.

Members attending the meeting were Iva Hudman, Joy Greer, Weaver McKamie, Vada Clary, Lois Williams, Geraldine Butler, and Joan Smith.

Snyder attorney to Post Wednesdays

Gene L. Dulanev, Snyder attorney, has opened a law practice in Post on a one afternoon a week basis.

He will have offices at 227 West Main each Wednesday afternoon. His announcement of opening of practice here will be found in today's Dispatch.

Shower given Mrs. Gossett

A layette shower honored Sonja Ann Gossett and her mother, Mrs. Sonny Gossett, Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. in the community room of the First National Bank.

Approximately 30 persons registered for the shower and were served cookies, mints, nuts and punch from a table laid with a lace cloth over pink and featured a pink carnation centerpiece. Guests were served by Mrs. Oletha Hawkins.

The eleven hostesses presented individual gifts to the honoree.

Retirement dinner honors T.C. Polks

A retirement dinner honored Mr. and Mrs. T.C. Polk Monday, Oct. 31 at 7 p.m. at Jackson's Cafeteria.

Following introductions of guests, talks were given by Mickey McQuire, Sam Matthews, Don Davis, all Continental supervisors of the Midland office and Miller Ray Henry of Post. Also attending the dinner was Harold Johnson of Midland.

Mrs. Polk was presented with a gift and T.C. was presented with a pair of jeweled cuff links by the company and a money tree.

Polk retired Nov. 1 after 34 years of service with Continental Oil Company's production operation. A maintenance man here, he began his career with Continental as a roustabout at Denver City before being transferred here in 1954.

Approximately 50 persons attended the dinner.

Twin Cedars Nursing Home News

By FLETA WALLS

Sunday services were brought to us by Rev. Frank Pickett of the First Christian Church. Next weeks services will be by the Trinity Baptist Church with Rev. Gene Prevo officiating.

Visitors this week included Cludy and Lucille Walker, Paul Sherrill, Gerald and Marie Clayton, Annie Lee Nelson, Frank and Beulah Pickett, Thelma Cook, Mrs. Ruby Bostick, Sandra Bostick, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Robin White and Tracy of Buffalo Lakes, Virginia Terry of Lamesa and Sue Bode of Amarillo came and visited with her mother, Ethel Brown.

Vivian Duncan took Irene Wheeler and Nell Davis to church Sunday morning. They enjoyed both the outing and the services.

Our residents enjoy playing dominoes and bi-weekly Bible readings. Some do embroidery work and needlepoint and also some craft work. Now that colder weather is beginning, their outings will be limited. Anyone who has the time and would like to play the organ, sing or provide entertainment would be greatly appreciated by our people.

Until next week.

Thanksgiving luncheon early

The Trail Blazers will hold its annual Thanksgiving luncheon and program, Thursday, Nov. 10 at 12 noon in the Post Community Center.

All members and interested persons, age 55 and over are invited to attend and bring a covered dish. The meat and drinks will be furnished by the club.

This will be the only meeting the group will have in November as the next regular meeting date will fall on Thanksgiving Day. Birthdays will also be celebrated at the meeting and honorees will receive a small birthday cake.

The program will be by Mrs. Naomi Moore of Lubbock who has written a humorous book entitled "How Do You Know You're Old?"

Mrs. Moore has taught at Texas Tech University while working on her masters degree in drama and speech. She is interested in the aging program and spends much volunteer time working with the aging. She is an outstanding speaker and will keep the group in laughter with her tales of the aging process.

Guests of the Trail Blazers will be welcome to attend this meeting.

PATRICIA ANN HOWLE

Dec. 17 is wedding date

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Howle of Lubbock announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Ronald Lynn Metsgar, son of Mrs. Abb Smith of Spur. Patricia is also the granddaughter of Mrs. Basil Puckett of Post.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Coronado High School and Lubbock School of Nursing and is presently employed by the Texas Health Department.

Metsgar is a graduate of Spur High School and Lubbock Barber College. He is owner of the Southside Barber Shop in Post, where the couple will make their home.

A wedding date of Dec. 17 has been set for the Highland Baptist Church in Lubbock.

It's a proven fact more people read the personal items than any other. Call yours to The Dispatch at 2816.

Graham 4-H plans party

Fourteen members were present for the Monday night meeting of the Graham 4-H Club at the community center.

Pres. Brad Mason called the meeting to order. Kirk Stevens led the 4-H pledge and motto. Roll call and the reading of the minutes were by Secretary Belinda Fluitt.

Congratulations was extended to Pam Riley on winning the County Food Show. She will represent Garza Co. at the District II Food Show. Also congratulations to all those who entered the show.

Plans for the club Christmas party were made with the group to meet at the community center at 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 5 to go Christmas carolling to shut-ins and the senior citizens in the community.

Each family is asked to bring some fruit and nuts which will be carried to shut-ins and senior citizens. After returning to the center, the group will play games and be served refreshments. Each family is asked to bring a game and the prizes (suckers, balloons, bubble gum, etc.)

Hostesses for the Christmas meeting will be Barry, Phil, and D'Lynda Tyler and Patti and Roxanne McClellan.

The club voted to again purchase a Christmas gift for Ricky Morris. Belinda Fluitt is appointed to select his gift.

Everyone was reminded to be thinking about method demonstrations and share-the-fun contest.

The group discussed the possibility of having a 4-H Motorcycle Rodeo in the spring. Barry Tyler, Rynn Norman and Terry Oden were appointed to obtain further information on the subject.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies were served by Kelly Mason, Brent and Brad Mason.

Those attending were: Belinda Fluitt, Rynn and Kim Norman, Jay Norman, Kirk Stevens, Barry Tyler, Ronnie Bilbo, Terry Oden, Russell and Steven Fluitt, Helen Mason, Noel and Graheth White and the Hosts.

Meals on-

The meals which go out on wheels go to those below a certain income level who have disabilities of one type or another that keep them at home, but make it difficult for them to cook for themselves.

This way they receive one hot meal four times a week.

Shut-ins who can't meet the requirements for the regular program can have meals delivered too by paying for them, as long as the demand doesn't "swamp" the two cooks.

Mrs. Ola Kerston is the worker who calls upon the "meals on wheels" recipients to be sure everything is working out fine and they are well.

The new program is

Adult classes may be closed

More adult participation is needed for the A. B. E. classes to obtain the GED diplomas or classes will close according to Lane Tannehill, coordinator for the program.

Enrollment may be had at any time on Wednesday or Thursday night at the Post High School between the hours of 7 and 9:30 p. m.

More information may be had by calling Tannehill at 495-2770 or 495-2178.

targeted in by federal authorities for a full year now it's finally rolling.

The meal serving at the center got under way Aug. 1 but it took three more months to meet all requirements to get the "meals on wheels" rolling.

Food show-

Murphy, blue; red ribbons winner were: Kayla Peel, Cynthia Poole and Regina Roberson; breads and desserts, Terri Kirby, blue; Patti Ann McClellan, red; Roxanne McClellan, red; snacks and beverages, Tanya Bland, blue; Lisa Kocurek, blue; Mary Bassinger, blue; Jeanette Milo, blue; Fidencio Vasquez, blue; red ribbons went to Diana Basquez and Bobbie Taylor.

All honorary 4-Hers receive blue ribbons. They were Gina Basquez, Judy Kirby, Judy Kirby, Sharla Riley, Paula Roberson, Petra Vasquez, Kimberly Vasquez and Lance Bland.

Alternates to the district contest are Jerri Baumann, Jana Middleton, Cindy Harrell, Patti Ann McClellan and Mary Bassinger.

Judges for the show were Jimmie Lou Wainwright, Dicken County Extension Agent, Donna Mullin, Dickens County 4-Her, Ruby Butts, Scurry County Extension agent and Carmen Rios, Scurry County 4-Her.

Approximately 65 guests, parents and 4-H members enjoyed the tasting party and awards program. Good show plus were awarded the senior division winners, compliments of Morrison Milling Company of Denton.

4-H leaders for the food and nutrition project groups were Post 4-H girls, Shirley Bland, Sheila Melton, Winnie Harrell, Donna Nowell, Betty Striblin and Cindy Overton, Southland 4-H, Ann Chaffin and Graham 4-H Tommie Williams.

Postings-

(Continued From Page One) amendment election was the worst one Texas has held in recent years. There was absolutely no excuse for it and the cost was appalling ($6.71 per vote here in Garza County just for county costs.)

The "pols" ought to know better than to hold such elections because there wasn't enough controversy to stir any interest. We agree with County Clerk Carl Cederholm that all constitutional amendment elections should be held along with regular state elections. That would save a lot of money.

Despite all the interest for state and congressional offices, we haven't had any county stirrings yet. Of course those filings usually don't start until January, but after all this is the first time The Dispatch has ever started a political column in October, too, so one might expect somebody here to get the pot boiling a bit earlier than usual.

Probation revoked on Borger driver

County Judge Giles Dalby Tuesday revoked the probation of John Wesley Hope of Borger who had been sentenced to 30 days in jail for driving while intoxicated.

The revocation came because Hope was not reporting monthly to the county probation officer or paying his probation fees. He is now serving his jail sentence here.

Spotlight on SENIORS

This week the senior spotlight is on Shelby Barley. Shelby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Barley. He has lived in Post and attended Post schools all his life.

Shelby has participated in several activities during his years at PHS. They include football, basketball, track, and golf. He has served as Sentinel and Treasurer for the FFA, and was manager for the Antelope football team his junior and senior years.

After graduation, Shelby plans to go to Texas A & M and major in veterinary medicine.

was born in San Diego, California. He has attended schools in High Rolls and Almagordo, N.M. and Tahoka before moving to Post. Chuck has been active in football, track and the student council. He is reporter for the drama club and president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

When asked about his feelings toward Post High School, Chuck replied, "It's the most different school I have ever been to. I like it, though; I like the freedom everyone has and the way people get along."

Five named to regional choir

Five Post High School students placed in the All Region Choir Saturday, Nov. 5 in Lubbock. They are David Morrow, Pat Riedel and Bryan Elliott for tenors and Steve Shedd and Mark Williams, bass.

They competed against A, AA, AAA and AAAA choir students.

In all 13 students from PHS were entered in the competition. Others were Melodie Willson, Lee Ann Babb, Pam Taylor, Sharon Johnson, Rochelle Smith, Jelena Bilberry, Donna Nelson and Janice Bradbury.

Band given IV rating

The Antelope Marching Band traveled to UIL marching contest recently. They were rated a division IV along with Roosevelt and Tahoka.

Bands from all over the South Plains area competed in the contest at Jones Stadium. Bands making a division I were Littlefield, Frenship, Floydada, Lockney, Friona and Dimmitt. Division II ratings were given to Slaton and Abernathy. Denver City received a division III.

UIL twirling contest was held in conjunction with the marching contest. Kerri Pool, head twirler at PHS, received a division I. Peggy Jackson, senior twirler, received a division II. Kerri will be competing in the state contest at Austin in June.

Choir plans car wash

The Post High School choir will be having a car wash Saturday, Nov. 12, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. in the parking lot of Piggly Wiggly Supermarket.

The price will be $2 for complete wash and vacuum. Students can pick up and deliver the cars, or prospective customers can bring their cars to Piggly Wiggly themselves.

The choir also is selling magazines, records and tapes. For a complete selection of available items, contact any choir member.

With Thanksgiving and Christmas just around the corner, now is the time to get the delicious Manor fruitcakes. These are available in a wide selection of sizes and prices and can be purchased from any member of the high school choir.

Tune in to Morrow

By DAVID MORROW

The senior English classes of PHS have been reading feverishly every spare moment they have. The deadline for finishing their novels is coming up this week, so everywhere you look in the halls, you can see people with copies of Jane Eyre, Wuthering Heights, Ivanhoe, Pride and Prejudice or Lord Jim. It's really interesting to see the patient, humoring look on Mrs. Linn's face as she listens to the volley of excuses about why the books aren't finished. (I work 20 hours a day...my goldfish died and I went to the funeral...we have basketball practice til midnight, etc.) However, there are some super-readers that are quietly wrapping up the assignment as the rest of us struggle along. The other day, someone said, "Why are you doing your questions, Donna?" Donna calmly replied, "I've finished the book." Dead silence. Oh well, Donna, more power to you.

The Biology II class is preparing to dissect a large, black "slimy" cat. After Terry and Danna discovered the mysteries of putting on their surgical gloves, and Stacy nearly stabbed me with a scalpel trying to get the box open, the cat was laid out on the lab table in all its glory. The next few weeks promise to be extremely interesting, especially as the class walks around intoxicated from the fumes of formaldehyde.

If you haven't done so already, be sure to make plans to see the all-school play, "Blithe Spirit." The cast, crew, and director have put in a lot of hard work and the play will be very funny and entertaining for all. Take a look at some of the scenes in another section of this week's paper. Remember, that's 7:30 p.m. at the Primary Auditorium, for an evening of ghostly fun.

This week marks the last game of the season for the Post Antelope football team, and the last high school game ever for the senior players on the team. It's a little sad to think about your last football game, but these guys have played some outstanding football in their careers at PHS and the whole student body and the community should be justly proud of them. Everyone try to make it out to Roosevelt and let's finish up the season in fine style. Let's go Lopes and PLUCK THE EAGLES!!!

IN HOSPITAL. Mrs. Buena Bouchier is in Methodist Hospital and in room 501. She entered the hospital last week for tests.

Lunch Menus

The Post schools lunchroom menus for the coming week are as follows:

Monday — Taco, lettuce salad, pinto beans, apricot cobbler, hot rolls, half pint milk.

Tuesday — Frito pie, buttered corn, peaches, cowboy bread, orange juice, half pint milk.

Wednesday — Hamburger, lettuce, tomatoes, onions and pickles, sweet peas, pears, home made buns, half pint milk.

Thursday — Turkey and dressing, gravy, green beans, whipped potatoes, jello with fruit, hot rolls, cranberry sauce, half pint milk.

Friday — Paquita, pork and beans, buttered carrots, purple plums, half pint milk.

SANDWICH MENU

Monday — Bologna sandwich, celery sticks, pears, cookies, half pint milk.

Tuesday — Chicken salad, sandwich, lettuce, apple, potato chips, cookies, orange juice, half pint milk.

Wednesday — Turkey sandwich, carrot sticks, peaches, peanuts, cookies, half pint milk.

Thursday — Peanut butter and jelly sandwich, celery sticks, mixed fruit, cookies, half pint milk.

Friday — Beef sandwich, lettuce, orange, cookies, half pint milk.

Morrow sixth in contest

David Morrow, a senior Post High School, recently attended the convention contest sponsored by National Association of Teachers of Singing. The contest was held at University of Texas, Arlington.

There were over 200 school and college students from all regions of the New Mexico and Oklahoma entered in the contest. He placed sixth in the school boys division and approximately 35 entries.

David has been a member of the Post High School Choir for three years. He has been a member All-Region and All-State choirs and has won several Division I ratings at the regional and state level the UIL solo and ensemble contest. In 1976 he was named the Outstanding Tenor Soloist at the contest.

David has studied with Mr. Charles Paul, Texas Tech and Mr. William Robinson of Baylor University. He is currently studying with Mr. Post and plans to attend Baylor in the fall.

HUNTING SEASON. Deer hunting starts Saturday, Nov. 12. Get your tags ready.

Fashions, people make her job fun

Nancy Clary works at Jae's at 220 East Main. She is employed through the HECE program at Post High School. Nancy has been working at the store since the beginning of the summer.

Nancy attends classes in the mornings and works from 2 to 4 p.m. on weekdays. She works all day on Saturdays. Her main job in the store is that of a sales clerk, but she also helps with cleaning up, restocking, and keeping things in order.

Jae's, recently opened and owned by Mrs. Johnnie Norman, has a wide selection of ladies' and infants' wear. They also sell jewelry and gift items of several varieties.

Nancy says that she enjoys her job for several reasons. She gets to see all the new fashions, and she enjoys meeting people and serving the public. She feels that this job has been good experience for her and that she might like to pursue it in the future.

"I always look forward to coming to work," Nancy says. "I love my job and enjoy the people I work with."

Nancy is one student at PHS that has derived lasting benefits from the HECE program.

Garza gets 3 new oil wells, two locations

Garza County has three small oil wells and two announced drilling projects.

Witnesses held assembly

Garza's witnesses from the area have returned from a two-day assembly in Arlington this weekend.

The assembly theme, "Share Through Close Relations," highlighted the importance of good relations and the necessity of good communication and how it can have a great effect on a person.

The key note public address, "Maintain Your Independence Firm to the End," was delivered by district supervisor W. S. Denti. This lecture saw the assembly's peak attendance of 684.

The regularly scheduled meetings of the local organization will be resumed again at the Kingdom here in Post

State library helps handicapped youth

AUSTIN — Peter Rabbit talks to young Texans who can't read ordinary printed material because of poor vision or a physical handicap that prevents their reading ordinary printed material.

He's just one of the childhood favorites included in the Texas State Library's collection of materials available to all Texans who qualify for the special service. During Children's Book Week November 14-18 the Texas State Library will be making a special effort to reach young Texans who qualify for the service that provides books by mail to readers.

"New legislation regarding handicapped children in the classroom has dramatically increased the number of teachers that apply for the special service for their students," said Donald K. Bailey, director of the service. "There are, however, many others who would qualify but are not yet receiving the materials."

Books are available recorded on disks or tape and in braille. Machines on which to play the recorded materials are furnished at no charge. The number of disabilities that may qualify a young reader is large. Vision that is 20-70 with the best possible correction qualifies a reader. A muscular disability that

Lopes close at Roosevelt, Dogs scent playoff

Plucking of Eagles would bring 8-2 mark

The Post Antelopes will close out their 1977 football campaign in a game with the Roosevelt Eagles at Roosevelt Friday night with only pride riding on the outcome.

A victory will give the Lopes an 8-2 season, but they are already eliminated from the dippy-doodle 5AA championship play.

Coach Jackie Brown

Borden plays Jayton here

There will be a high school football game in Antelope Stadium Friday night even though Coach Jackie Brown's Post Antelopes are closing out their season that night against Roosevelt at Roosevelt.

It will be a Class B zone playoff game between Borden County (6-4) who were state ranked at the start of the season, and Jayton (8-2) for the 3-B title.

Borden County won the western zone outright and Jayton shared the eastern zone title with Forsan, defending league champ which the Jaybirds beat 14-13.

Officials of the two schools met here Monday to make arrangements.

Athletic Director Jackie Brown said the only request was for use of the field with the two schools handling the gate and all other arrangements.

Kickoff will be at 7:30.

reports after an open week last week that injuries have healed and the squad is in as good a shape as it has been in all season.

Roosevelt is 1-4 in district play and 3-6 for what to the Eagles has been a longer season than usual.

Wingback Randy Baker of the Lopes is tied for second in district scoring with John Johnson, the Slaton speedster. Each has 12 touchdowns in nine games for 72 points.

Clifford Bailey, the big Tahoka fullback who will be back next year for his senior season, is the district's scoring leader with 120 points on 19 touchdowns and six conversion points.

The Eagles will start seven seniors, and four juniors or three juniors and one sophomore against the Lopes.

Roosevelt has a couple of big tackles in Bobby Henson, 196-pound senior, and Charles Daniels, 194-pound senior.

The Eagles run out of the 1 with Junior Vasquez, a 188-pound sophomore, or Jerry Brown, a 178-pound junior, the tailback.

Kickoff time is 7:30 p. m. The Post Junior Varsity will attempt to wind up an undefeated season tonight at Antelope Stadium in a 7:30 p. m. game with the Roosevelt JV's.

The Post freshmen will close out their highly successful campaign against the Roosevelt frosh in the opener of the season's final twin grid bill at 5:30.

HUSTLE PAYS OFF — Karen Williams, freshman at Western Texas College, has been elected captain of that school's women's basketball team for the next two years. Her teammates were impressed by her hustle, according to her coach.

Karen Williams captains Dusters

SNYDER — Karen Williams, freshman student at Western Texas College from Post, has been elected captain of the women's basketball team, the Dusters.

Miss Williams, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Williams, was a three-year standout on the Post High School basketball team. She is the first freshman to be elected captain of the Dusters since the year the team was organized. All the players were freshmen that year.

Since she is a freshman, Miss Williams will serve as captain of the Dusters two years.

"It is quite an honor for a freshman to be chosen team captain," Dr. Sid Simpson, coach, said "I think Karen's hustle is what impressed her teammates and led them to elect her."

"She is a joy to coach because of her great attitude and hustle," Simpson added.

Ironically, because of Karen's versatility she will not often be a starter this year. She has adapted so well to the full-court game that she has been able to play guard and forward with equal skill. This makes her an extremely valuable sixth player and this is the role she will probably fulfill during her freshman year.

The Dusters will meet the Texas Tech women's team at 7 p. m. on Nov. 12 in the Slaton High School gymnasium. Gay Benson, formerly women's coach at Slaton High, is now on the Tech faculty and will be coaching the women's team. The Dusters first home game is at 7 p. m. on Nov. 28 when they will entertain Clarendon College in the WTC gym.

Post man is parachutist

FT. BENNING, GA. — Specialist Five Melvin D. Britton, son of James E. Britton, Post, Tex., recently received a parachutist badge upon completion of the three-week airborne course at the U. S. Army Infantry School, Ft. Benning, Ga.

During the first week of training, students undergo a rigorous physical training program and receive instruction in the theory of parachuting.

Spec. Britton entered the Army in December 1959. His wife, Barbara, lives at 713 West 15th, Post.

Tahoka has to defeat Frenship

The Tahoka Bulldogs, who upset Slaton's state-ranked and undefeated Tigers 9 to 7 at Tahoka last Friday night before the largest football crowd in recent Tahoka history, can win a share of the District 5AA championship and a post-season playoff berth by beating Frenship at Tahoka Friday night in their final game.

A Bulldog victory would give Tahoka a title share with Slaton—providing the Tigers defeat Cooper at Cooper in their final game—and send them into the playoffs because of the victory over Slaton.

Should Tahoka lose to Frenship, then Frenship and Slaton would tie for the title and Slaton win the playoff berth on the strength of their win over Frenship.

Should Tahoka and Frenship tie, it would go into the records as a half win-half loss for each team and knock both of them from title consideration, providing Slaton defeats Cooper.

Lots of Post grid fans were in the stands or standing around the field at Tahoka Friday night. One fan said the road back to Post looked like Post returning from an out-of-town game there were so many cars.

If Tahoka does defeat Frenship, it will be the first playoff opportunity for the Bulldogs in over 20 years.

The Tahoka victory over Slaton came on a 22-yard field goal by Rayford Harris with three minutes to play.

Slaton had taken a 7-6 lead when Picky Davis ran 49 yards for its tally on a fourth down, fake punt formation play from midfield. Tracy Angle kicked the extra point to put Slaton ahead.

All the scoring came in the final period.

Tahoka got on the board first when Defensive back Leslie White intercepted a Slaton pass and ran it back 72 yards for a touchdown. The point try failed.

Then came Slaton's touchdown and go-ahead kick.

Tahoka then buckled down with the only sustained drive of the game to reach Slaton's one-yard-line before Slaton dropped Fullback Clifford Bailey for a loss back to the five. On fourth down, Harris kicked it through for a three-point winner although Tahoka had been having trouble all season converting.

The only district loss by the Bulldogs (6-3 for the season) so far has been to the Post Antelopes, a one point 21-20 defeat here in the final seconds of play here in September.

(Editors Note: The Dispatch provides this 5AA coverage of a non-Post game because of The Dispatch's large contingent of readers in California and elsewhere who closely follow high school play here.)

$500 billed for ambulance runs

A total of $500 was billed for city-county ambulance services for October and during that month $559 was collected. Katherine Johnson of the city office reported to the city council this week.

She also reported $259 in delinquent accounts collected with a delinquent account balance remaining of $1,720.

Girl cagers to open season next Tuesday

Basketball is only next week away now with the Post Does, girls freshmen teams journeying to Seagraves for a tripeheader scrimmage next Tuesday night before all three teams open here at home against Stanton and Crosbyton the following weekend.

Coach John Morrow, girls varsity coach, has an expanded coaching staff and fans will be surprised to see all the girls teams below the varsity playing "five girl, all court basketball" under the same rules as the boys.

The University Interscholastic League has decreed that all Texas girls varsity teams will play six-girl basketball this season as in the past, but left it up to the various districts as to whether the other girls teams would make the switch to the five-girls game or retain the six. District 5AA voted to switch to five-girl basketball to get younger players a year of seasoning in the five-girl, all court game which the girls' varsity teams are expected to play next season.

A recent court ruling upholding six-girl play has brought a UIL decision for a school referendum on whether or not to switch to five-girl basketball in 1978. It originally was mandatory.

Chili Black will coach the junior varsity girls this year, Mickey Long the freshman girls, and Lu Allen the Middle School girls teams.

Coach Morrow will have seven returning letter winners to form the nucleus of the varsity team which has been working out regularly since Oct. 15.

They are Nancy Clary, Cindy Kirkpatrick, Kerri Pool and Debbie Wyatt, forwards; and Lisa Cowdrey, Sharon Johnson and Kelly Mitchell, guards.

Of these Cowdrey and Pool are juniors and the other five are seniors.

Other members of the varsity squad include Dana

Bird, forward-guard; Kyle Curtis, guard; Karla Davis, forward; Dana Giddens, senior, guard; Peggy Jackson, guard; Karla Kennel, senior, forward; and Nancy McCowen, senior, guard.

Jenny Thomas and Guthrie, sophomores, are the team managers. The junior varsity will be composed of Dana Hall, Katherine Bullard, Karla Perkins, juniors; and Dana Baumann, Leanne Day, Julie Dunlap, Carolyn Piegler, Susan Sawyer, and Christie Workman, sophomores.

The freshman squad composed of Lillian Owski, Patricia Craig, Melissa Davis, Tina Dunlap, Karla Giddens, Meridean Harper, Estella Harper, Karla Hays, Marinett Hays, Dawn Holloway, Luann Kennel, Sharla Macy, Laura Mays, Judy Morris, Sherri Murray, Cindy Polk, Rhonda Rogers, Amy Thuet, and Jolene Torres.

Coach Morrow told The Dispatch this week that the varsity Does this year will have any star scores, but better overall scoring balance.

After the Seagraves scrimmage, the Does will play Stanton here Friday night, Crosbyton here Saturday night, Nov. 19, and Loveland here Nov. 21, which the following Monday, in fact, they will play the first five ball games at home.

The Junior Varsity will open against Stanton and the freshman girls here against Crosbyton the following night in prelims.

8TH GRADERS LOSE TOUGHIE

7th graders finish with ninth straight

Post's seventh grade football team completed its 1977 season undefeated here last Thursday night by scoring an 18-0 victory over Colorado City.

It was the ninth straight triumph for Coach Joe Giddens' district champions who had won that title week before at Roosevelt.

What made this young team's record more impressive was that they won six of their victories on the road as they "paid the price" for Post having an "at home schedule" the year before.

In the nightcap of last Thursday's Colorado City twin bill, Coach Giddens' eighth graders put on a gritty defensive performance before bowing in the second half 16-6.

The seventh graders marched 65 yards in the first period with Halfback Wade Giddens scoring from five yards out on a straight dive play. The conversion point try failed.

In the second period Quarterback Tim Tannehill passed 25 yards to Giddens for the second touchdown. The game's final score came in the third period when Fullback Richard Cisneros hammered in from five yards out.

From that point on, Coach Giddens ran in substitutes and gave everybody a final chance to play.

Halfback Eric Allison put the Post eighth graders ahead of Colorado City, 6-0, at half-time, when he scored on a 35-yard power play run up the middle in the second period for Post's only touchdown.

In the second half, the breaks went the wrong way for the Post team which played excellent defense. A fumble and an intercepted pass set up the two Colorado City touchdowns and a Post back was tackled in the end zone after Post had halted a Colorado City drive on their five and took the ball on downs with the score tied 6-6.

This safety put Colorado City ahead 8-6. The visitors then ran back in intercepted pass all the way in in the final period for their final points.

The tying touchdown was set up in the third period after Post's tough defense had halted a Colorado City drive only to see the visitors gain possessions within easy scoring range on a fumble.

Surprise Tahoka is 5AA playoff 'pick'

The Old Prognosticator, who is still trying to figure out "where the Slaton offense went" these last two weekends, picks with his heart this week in naming Tahoka's "Cinderella" Bulldogs to defeat Frenship and become the surprise winner of the District 5AA playoff berth and a champion shareholder.

His head tells him while the Bulldogs have more to play for than the Tigers who can win a title share with a win but not a playoff berth, the Bulldogs will have a mighty hard time getting up again after their "high against Slaton."

But he points out that the town of Tahoka will help get the team ready. How long has it been since Tahoka won a district football championship? Well, not in the 20 years the Old Prog has been watching district teams.

Up at Lockney, state-ranked Idalou might be ripe for the upset of the week after their showdown win over Floydada last week to clinch at least a share of the district 4AA crown. But the Old Prog figures Idalou's offense isn't going to disappear like Slaton's. He'll pick Idalou.

Colorado City's Wolves, which have clinched their first playoff berth in over 20 years and at least a share of the 6AA district crown, can wrap it all up at Stamford Friday night—and should win handily.

Now that the three AA district titles have all been picked out and crowns arranged, the Old Prog likes Post to wind up a very good 8-2 season by beating Roosevelt at Roosevelt in

Open house is planned

The Post School for Special Children Board met Nov. 1 at the school with the new teacher, Mrs. Anita Tidwell, reporting that the students had successfully completed several clean-up jobs and were looking for others. She also reported that various items for Christmas would be displayed at an open house in the near future.

The school is making progress on training the students for productive places in our society.

Mrs. Nelda Dalby is president of the board.

their final.

Other picks include: SLATON at Cooper—The disappointed Tigers at least can finish as district co-champs by beating the cellar dwelling Pirates and should find their offense in doing so. If Frenship should beat Tahoka, it means the post-season berth goes to Slaton by virtue of their win over Frenship two weeks back. So all those Slaton seniors should put on a run-up-the-score.

COAHOMA at Merkel — Coahoma is second in District 6AA and will finish that way with a win. These Bulldogs have come along late too having found a fullback to run their fullback offense.

With Tahoka and Denver City winning last weekend, the Old Prog picked only three of five right to drop his seasonal mark to an 757 percentage, 56 out of 74 so far.

Last week's results: Tahoka 9, Slaton 7, Denver City 21, Roosevelt 7.

Frenship 35, Cooper 12, Idalou 17, Floydada 6, Lockney 29, Abernathy 6, Colorado City 51, Winters 0.

Coahoma 34, Stamford 14.

3-year test planned to eradicate boll weevil

RALEIGH — Cotton producers in North Carolina will soon begin an all-out campaign to bid the legendary boll weevil a lasting farewell.

Recent congressional passage of $1.7 million for boll weevil eradication completes the necessary funding arrangement required to begin a trial eradication program on about 30,000 acres in northeastern North Carolina. The U.S. Department of Agriculture, since the passage of the funding, has announced initiation of the eradication program in 1978.

The trial program will last three years. If the first two years show the expected results, the program will be expanded gradually to include the rest of North Carolina. With success the program would eventually be carried south and west until the boll weevil is driven back across the Rio Grande.

"American cotton producers have been combating the weevil for over 80 years. Now they have a chance to eliminate him and the $250 million he costs growers yearly," says cotton producer E. Hervey Evans, Jr. of Laurinburg, N.C. Evans is chairman of the board for Cotton Incorporated, the fiber company of American cotton producers.

Evans explains that the trial program will be based on experience with a 20,000 acre experimental boll weevil eradication program conducted in Mississippi, Louisiana, and Alabama in the early 1970s.

Cotton Incorporated helped fund that experiment in collaboration with the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the States of Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana, and with the support of the National Cotton Council.

Each year it becomes more and more important to initiate the boll weevil eradication program, explains Dr. George Slater, vice president of agricultural research for Cotton Incorporated.

"We never know when boll weevils will develop resistance to the chemicals we now rely on to control them. In addition, the chemicals we have had to use to control the weevil also kill many friendly insects. In the absence of weevil controls, we could rely on these friendly insects to control other pests, particularly tobacco budworm and bollworm," he says.

Total cost will depend on the number of acres planted to cotton in 1978. Based on past years, that would be about 30,000 acres in the affected area centering around Halifax, Northampton, and Edgecombe counties.

This year, North Carolina, has about 65,000 acres planted in cotton, with part of it in the northeast where it will be affected by the trial program immediately, and part in the south-central part of the state. The south-central part, in the Scotland-Reveson-Hoke counties area, won't be involved in the trial program until the first two years have proved successful.

The campaign will be funded 25 percent by the federal government, 25 percent by state government, and 50 percent by cotton growers. The North Carolina General Assembly has already approved funds for the trial program. Tar Heel cotton producers voted overwhelmingly in late 1976 to pay their 50 percent of the costs.

"The region we have designated for the trial program should give us a good idea of its effectiveness," says Slater, an expert in economic entomology. "The area is relatively isolated from other cotton production areas so there will be little danger of reinfestation."

The mandatory trial program will begin in spring 1978, but North Carolina cotton growers in the affected area are being asked to take certain voluntary measures this autumn to eliminate wintering quarters for the weevil.

In 1978, growers in the test area will plant trap crops, early planted cotton that will attract weevils so they can be systematically destroyed before they have had the chance to reproduce.

Growers will be expected to follow a complete in-season control program with insecticides. Traps using synthetic pheromones, or artificial insect scents, will be used to survey the insects and to suppress them.

In the autumn, producers will use reproduction-diapause insecticides to destroy weevils before they fatten up for hibernation. Growers will thoroughly defoliate and harvest their crop and destroy remaining stalks to eliminate places for the weevil to overwinter.

"That first year should reduce the number of over-wintering weevils by 99 per cent," says Slater. "The second year we will continue with the synthetic pheromone traps," says Slater.

"We will also reduce the population by releasing sterile weevils. By overwhelming the remaining fertile weevils with sterile weevils, we increase the odds against two fertile weevils mating," he adds.

In the second year, a new chemical growth regulator, called Dimilin, will be used, provided it has been approved by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency.

The rest of the second year and all of the third year will be spent in mopping-up exercises. The area will be surveyed extensively, and where weevils are found, they will be attacked systematically," explains Slater.

As part of the federal funding, a pest management program will be conducted in central Mississippi. That trial program will use integrated pest control techniques and voluntary participation of growers to see if weevils and other pests can be maintained at levels where their damage is not economically significant.

Results of the two trial programs will be compared to see which is most efficient and economical: a program to eliminate completely the weevil or a program to minimize his damage.

Former Post man honored

The "Jimmie W. Parks Memorial Award for Outstanding Trooper of the Year" was presented to Irvin Lee Johnson of Beaumont and formerly of Post during the Department of Public Safety Officers Association annual convention in Beaumont, Oct. 27-30.

Johnson has served as president of the association and was commended for efforts on the retirement bill and other bills in the last legislative session.

The memorial was set up by the widow of Jimmie Parks, a patrolman who died on duty. Johnson is a 1956 graduate of Post High School and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson and is married to the former Anne Harmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harmon. They have two children, Steven and Susan.

Expert coming on exercise

Mrs. Virginia Ferreebe, physical fitness expert from the Office of Aging with the South Plains Association of Governments, will be at the Post Community Center at 10:30 a.m. Friday, Nov. 11, for the purpose of advising the persons over 55 years of age in establishing their own personal programs for correct exercises for each individual.

Mrs. Ferreebe is a specialist in this type of work, and has established physical fitness programs in 12 counties throughout the South Plains area. She has visited in Post several times, and enjoys excellent relations with the persons whom she has assisted. Anyone interested in maintaining good health through exercise, or who wishes to stabilize their weight is invited to attend this session with Mrs. Ferreebe. Exercises for persons handicapped with arthritis will also be explained.

Extension Office.
"Gardening for Food and Fun" is the title of the 1977 Yearbook of Agriculture just off the press.
The yearbook is a practical book for all types of gardeners, from beginners to those with "green thumbs".

The book's 400 pages feature numerous color pictures, and the text is organized into four sections: "Introduction to Gardening", "Home Garden Vegetables", "Fruits and Nuts," and "Home Food Preservation." Of special interest should be chapters on garden tools and equipment, managing garden soil, a gardener's glossary, a guide to home canning and freezing, and proper storage of home-preserved foods.

The new yearbook should be popular, because of the increased interest in gardening throughout the country. About half the households in the nation have a garden, and in Texas that number is even higher. Home gardening has increased rapidly in recent years because consumers prefer the taste of home-grown fruits and vegetables, it allows them to save on the food budget, and it is an excellent hobby.

The yearbook is available for $6.50 from government bookstores or the U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. U.S. senators and representatives also have a limited number of books for free distribution.

season is just around the corner and hunters are prepared. Part of the preparation involves learning to care for the animal.
Successful deer hunters learned that for the quality of venison, the time that is shortened between the kill and the processing becomes the critical factor.
There are two basic ways of dressing deer, and both require a sharp knife and a large handle so that it can be held firmly. The first method is usually recommended for game that is to be mounted later. The second way is slightly different and is used for venison that is not too old or tender and will probably not be mounted.
The first method begins by holding the animal on its side and securing it by driving stones on either side of the neck. Remove the external organs first. Then make a diagonal cut from the front of the neck to the middle of the chestbone. Turn the blade up to prevent it from falling into any of the internal organs.
Remove the entrails outside the cage and cut the diaphragm layer, the diaphragm to expose the inner organs. Sever the esophagus and pull them free. Pull the entrails free from the pelvic region. Finally, remove the skin and muscles from the anus but use care not to cut the bladder. Then remove the intestines.
The second method requires two basic cuts. Begin by cutting at the belly and then to one side of the chestbone to make cutting easier. After completing the cut to the neck, sever the lungs and heart free from the diaphragm and then the diaphragm. While holding the esophagus and windpipe, lift out the liver of the viscera.
Make the second cut along the seam that holds the pelvic bones together. Steam is pronounced on deer animals and can be easily removed with a sheath knife.
Next set the animal in a head-up position with the front legs to the side. Cut on each of the hind legs. A pull on the tail should break open the pelvis and the intestinal and reproductive tracts can be removed from the body. Finally, cut the viscera free around the anus.
The head is to be removed. Hang the animal by the hind legs to allow the remaining blood to drain from the body. Otherwise, the animal by the head. Place a stick between the halves of the rib to speed the cooling of the carcass.
When the animal is skinned as soon as possible after the kill. After skinning, the carcass with a cloth material rather than cheesecloth because it can deposit eggs on the cheesecloth.
Keep the carcass clean and put it in cold storage as soon as possible to insure meat quality. Additional information on field dressing big game is available at the County

Historical marker sought for depot

Materials are now being gathered by the Garza County Historical Commission to reinforce their efforts toward a possible State Historical Marker for the Santa Fe Depot here in Post. Mrs. Gwen Boren was appointed marker chairman at the regular meeting of the commission Tuesday.

It was announced at the meeting, that a tape recorder has been provided by the Area Office of the Aging, to record oral histories in Garza County.

Mrs. Maxine Marks presented a report on the Algeita Hotel preservation efforts. She informed the commission that a $5,000 grant has been received from the Office for the Aging, through SPAG, and that work has begun on an area of the building 38 x 88 feet. A total of $1,600 in local matching funds are needed, and toward this end, Mrs. Marks reported that the rummage sale, held each Saturday, had brought in $305 and $50 has been raised by selling tickets on an algha.

Attending today's meeting were Mrs. Marks, Mrs. Boren, Vada McCampbell, Lottie Shelton, Evelyn Neff, Frank Runkles and Ray Smith, guest.

United Fund-

(Continued From Page One) Some contributions are in from the downtown employees division, headed by Mrs. Betty Posey, and a few individual contributions have been received from private citizens.

"In another week or 10 days, we ought to be moving into the final stages of the drive and have a good idea whether we are going to make it this year or not," Cornish said.

The drive has gone over the top for the last eight straight years, but never by very much.

Post Toasties ---

Tom was at his best with his "film clips", which was an interlude right in the middle of the melodrama. It had a lot of local scenes, including such things as Southland "to the north" and "no justice in Justiceburg." One bunch of the clips were of local kids on all kinds of bikes and trikes which we remember seeing Tom "shoot" one Saturday morning a few weeks ago on the back-parking lot at his church.

Cast for "the caper" also included Margie Pennell as Mary Hartmen No. 2, Terry Patterson as Flo, Margaret Bull as the cafe proprietress, and Linda Lewis, Tonya Rudd, Jack Gordon, Margie Pennell, and Mary Ann Gordon, as town folk.

Boo Olson was in charge of the music, writing a musical tribute to Post and the "hit song" "I'm Glad To Be A Post Toastie, If That Makes Me Flaky, I'm Proud."

Noel White was guitarist for the play.

A delightful start to the entertainment was the presentation in two parts of "musical love stories" by Margie Pennell and Jack Gordon. In the first part they sang bits of popular songs to each other to tell the story, and in the second part, they sang country music.

The spaghetti supper was a success too with the community center arranged in a dinner club setting.

If the music club decides to do a sequel next year, may Tom can conjure up something with General goods new "C.W. Post" cereal and 1978 Post.--JC

City council---

Newby declared he would not want any share of the tax funds for longer than three years because "if we can't do it in that time we won't be able to do it anyway."

After Newby left, Mayor Giles McCrary pressed the council for action that same night so Newby would have an indication of the council's intentions in trying to work out arrangements for federal funds.

The council refused to be pushed.

When it was determined that the new hotel occupancy tax actually was a four percent tax instead of a two percent tax, McCrary suggested that the heritage association would have sought half of it, if it had known.

Councilman Jim Jackson, after recalling the city had provided $2,500 in giving the hotel property to the association, said the amount raised from one percent of the tax was as far as he would go and made this in the form of a motion.

There was no second, so he withdrew it.

Then Mrs. Maxine Marks made the motion that the tax money raised from two percent be assigned to the hotel remodeling.

Again there was a long silence.

Dr. William Wilson indicated he saw no need for an immediate decision.

Others wanted a more detailed report on the probable cost of the hotel remodeling.

So the council moved on to other business leaving a sort of "maybe feeling" in the air.

The council briefly discussed proposed increases in the city's occupation oil tax which now brings in approximately $15,876 annually at the rate of two cents per barrel.

The council is considering a boost to a half percent of the market value of the oil produced which would bring in $58,345 annually and be a 267.5 percent tax increase.

Oil companies had been invited to meet with the council Monday night to discuss the tax if they so desired. None had representatives at the session.

Before taking action, the council asked that the city secretary find out what other cities which have oil production within the city limits are doing.

In another discussion, without action, the council was told that one of the city's four water samples sent to the state Sept. 19 was found to contain "coliform organisms."

Coliform organisms are an indicator of contamination and are not harmful in themselves, the Texas Department of Health explained in a recent letter to Mayor McCrary.

Under strict new federal water testing laws, the city is required to notify all its water users within 30 days of the "coliform organism."

It was the first city water test here ever to be cited by the state, but as Al O'Brien, White River water district manager, told the city it is easy to get a contaminated sample just in the method used in taking the sample. O'Brien said many findings were in error and White River water has never had such a sample, nor have the other towns.

In O'Brien's opinion, the test result is nothing to become alarmed about. But the public is going to have the notification of the "coliform organism" stamped on their next water card to meet strict notification requirements.

City officials are hoping all this doesn't cause any doubts or misconceptions about the purity of the city's water supply.

In other actions Monday night, the council: Approved on final reading a $1 monthly TV cable rate increase to $8 for Post Antenna Co.

Reappointed Julius Stelzer to another two-year term as a Post director on the White River water district board.

Amended city ordinance 258 to extend no parking on US-84 from 15th street north 560 feet on Broadway.

PMS yearbook goes on sale

Antelope Memories, 1978, the yearbook of Post Middle School, will go on sale Monday Nov. 14. Salespersons are being selected this week by their math teachers. The top six will each earn a complimentary yearbook.

The cost of the 40-page book will be $3.25. A deposit of $2 is required to reserve a book. The sales campaign will end Nov. 23, the day before the Thanksgiving break.

"Antelope Memories, 1978" has been increased eight pages this year so that the names of students in sports and clubs and the arts can be recorded in the book," said Advisor Priscilla Williams. Co-advisor is Mrs. Patricia Webb.
