VOLUME XVII POST, TEXAS "OUT WHERE THE WEST IS THE WEST" THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1943 "THE GATEWAY TO THE PLAINS" NUMBER 26

L. Morris Died Here Saturday

In the midst of the warmth and brightness of the noontide splendor of last Friday, May 28, a messenger quietly entered the home of M. L. Morris in West and whispered a sweet word to the waiting spirit who in the frail and pain-wrecked body of "Dad" Morris, one of the most beloved and respected of our citizens, seemed to have the death chamber as a final resting place. A holy hush seemed to fall upon the room as the death angel winged his flight and even in the midst of the heartache and grief the men seemed to sense the nearness of an unseen presence as they hovered over the form of their loving Dad. The thought of what a glad reunion was taking place even as their parents were again in that land of cloud-days to enjoy the endlessness of eternity together.

L. Morris was born in Wylie, Garza County, Texas, December 24. In early life he felt his "strangely warmed" and "still small voice" identified himself with the Methodist church and lived a life of consistent membership through the years.

When he had lived a quarter of a century he wooed and won Ella Walden, dainty and demure as the wild flowers in that garden in such profusion on the sloping hillside. To gladden this Christian life as the years sped their course came four stalwart sons and charming daughters.

Mr. Morris taught school over a period of perhaps two decades and was recognized as an educator of some note. The older children learned their three R's in the home if not sterner atmosphere of father's strongly disciplined school room. He loved his country and served it well, his country had a great place in his life and he was Sunday school superintendent, choir director and organist.

More or less years ago he and his wife moved to Garza County and became identified with all the worthwhile activities of this section of the county. He served for many years as an officer and for the past years has served as president of the Post. During those years of public service it is said that not a day did he vary from his conscientious scruples of what he believed to be the right in the face of his duties.

Many of people testify to becoming men and women for whom close contact with him was a privilege to bask in the strength of character. His funeral services were conducted from the Methodist church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Herring, the pastor officiated. He was assisted by the Rev. W. S. Slaton, his former pastor, and Rev. H. L. Armstrong of Southland. Appropriate scriptures read, based on back page, Col. 4).

McCormick Makes Report To The Nation's Farmers

An interesting report that every farmer will study carefully was made recently by Fowler McCormick, president of the International Harvester Company. Mr. Fowler heads the largest farm implement concern in the nation and is vitally interested in serving the nation and the farmer. Excerpts from his report were given to the Dispatch by T. R. Greenfield, hardware dealer and agent for the McCormick products.

"We have learned with surprise that in some parts of the country farm equipment manufacturers are being charged with responsibility for the inadequate supply of farm equipment now available. Certainly our industry is interested in producing war materials. No one would want it to be otherwise. But we have never forgotten that to enable the farmer to meet wartime food production goals we must build farm equipment, and we have constantly urged on the government the need for greater amounts of farm equipment, a view which has been acknowledged to be correct.

"To supply farm machines and replacement parts today, a manufacturer must have five things: First, plants and facilities; second, men and women to operate the plants; third, authority from the government to build a certain amount of machinery and replacement parts; fourth, materials out of which to make the machinery and replacement parts; fifth, an adequate system for timely distribution of these products.

"Our company and other farm equipment manufacturers have the plants and facilities. We have, or can speedily train, the men and women needed. We have a large and capable organization which, left to itself, can do that job properly. But both authority to manufacture and materials for manufacture can be provided only by the government. And at present the distribution of farm machinery is also completely controlled by the government.

"For all these reasons, the

1,500 Japanese Killed On Attu By U. S. Forces

Washington, June 2—More than 1,500 Japanese were killed and four were captured during the first 20 days of fighting on Attu Island, the Navy reported Wednesday, as operations on the formerly enemy-held island continued in a mopping up phase.

A communique said that from the start of the American invasion of Attu May 11 through midnight of May 30 the enemy casualties were so estimated. A Navy spokesman, emphasizing, said that the estimate was based on an actual count of bodies and that the number killed might have been 36 or 100 per cent greater.

The number of enemy soldiers remaining on Attu could not be estimated, however, even though the Japanese have reported that there were approximately 3,000 of their forces on the island to start with, and also reliable estimates have ranged around 3,000.

Date Extended For Purchase Of Seed Peanuts

Texas peanut producers have until June 30 in which to purchase seed for planting instead of May 31, according to the state USDA War Board.

Due to dry weather and the late planting season in the major producing areas, many farmers have not completed planting and would be handicapped in obtaining sufficient seed by the original deadline.

Under a plan whereby producers are guaranteed sufficient seed for planting purposes, county AAA committees have been cooperating with farmers in issuing planting certificates. The certificates, which are issued only to peanut growers, then are presented to dealers, where the seed are purchased.

The cash price to peanut producers obtaining seed for planting is $129 per ton for U. S. Spanish type No. 1 farmers' stock peanuts and $155 per ton for Spanish type cleaned.

Texas farmers were assured fair prices for this year's crop when the price support recently was increased from $125 per ton to an average of $140 per ton for Spanish 1942 peanuts.

In addition, producers also have been assured that additional orders will be available for unexpired 1942 type Appropriately 220 pounds are being made available now and others will be produced later. A total of 1,981 pounds of seed were made available during 1942.

As the new machines are received, they will be rented on a cost basis to producers and applied for by their purchase approved by county AAA and County Agricultural Agents. LADA will be available in making the purchases at a maximum loss of all growers during the marketing season.

Empty Bottles Needed Now... Get Busy, Women

"Load 'em up and haul 'em away," is the advice of one columnist who scouts news for women. She is referring to empty bottles.

Closets, cellars, and garages are full of empties. This information was released recently from bottling companies. The shortage of glass containers is acute. If women would take the time to hunt in the three places they use to store unused glass containers, we know many of our problems along this line would be remedied, they declared.

Dozens of bottles can be put to use if the women over this county will take the time to hunt them out and return them to their milk man and to the grocers. This is one small bit housewives can help in wartime. Get busy Garza women.

Sugar Supply For 1943

On the basis of prospective 1943 supplies of sugar, the current level of consumption in this country probably can be maintained, the War Food Administration has announced. The allocation of the prospective supply will be as follows: 1,133,000 tons for the armed forces, Lend-Lease and other exports, and 4,600,000 tons for civilian uses. The civilian uses include an estimated 2,258,000 tons for household use and home canning, and 2,342,000 tons for industrial and institutional sugar users.

Prices Set On Pressure Cookers

Specific ceilings on three war models of pressure cookers have been announced by OPA. The consumer will pay $13.90 for the National model, $14.90 for the Wisconsin model and $15.90 for the Burpee. In the far western zone prices are 60 cents higher because of transportation costs. Production of another 125,000 pressure cookers has been authorized by WPA, bringing the total during 1943 to about 275,000, more than in any other year.

Raenell Hodges Is Employed With Consolidated Aircraft Plant

A letter from Raenell Gollebon Hodges indicates that she still considers Post and the great state of Texas tops in the races to live even though she likes California and is happy about her job in the great Consolidated airplane factory. Raenell has been in California several weeks and started work on the "swing shift" the 17th. "We really do stay busy but I am glad. It was quite a thrill to me to get to go through the different buildings and thru some of the bombers. I just had no idea what made them "tick" and it was very interesting to me." Raenell writes that Clyde is somewhere in Africa and that he insists that he is fine and is seeing some pretty country even though some of his letters sound rather lonesome. "He doesn't seem to think much of the living conditions, however. He hasn't seen Dee or any of the other boys from home. We were really glad to get an issue of the Dispatch last week."

Sgt. Clyde F. Hodges is with the 36th Inf. Div. somewhere in Africa.

Servicemen To Get Free Sweaters From Red Cross

Red Cross sweaters are free to servicemen.

This was emphasized today by Mrs. T. L. Jones, production chairman of the Garza County chapter, in explaining arrangements under which knitted garments are available to men of the armed forces.

Sweaters, mufflers, helmets, gloves and other extra-warmth items, cannot, however, be given to men at home on leave, she stated. Distribution is through the units in which the men serve.

"The government has asked the Red Cross to help conserve wool by making sure all woolen garments go to the men who need them most," Mrs. Jones said.

"Garments produced in this county and in the many other chapters are sent to Red Cross distribution centers. Through requests made to Red Cross field directors serving with their units, commanding officers get the knitted articles for men needing them. This holds good for the army, marine corps and coast guard. Men in the navy get them on requests made to the Brooklyn clothing depot.

"The army and navy want us to distribute them in this manner. There is only so much wool available and the aim is to help the men who have the coldest jobs. If men are out in the elements for long periods on their jobs the Red Cross wants them to have the knitted garments. And we know those not so liable to severe exposure prefer that the garments go to the men who have the coldest jobs."

Mrs. Jones explained that knitting for servicemen has been a Red Cross tradition, production of these extra garments for the armed services resulting in a saving to the government and giving millions of knitters opportunity to make a tangible contribution to the comfort and safety of the men. Red Cross production in the last 15 months has exceeded two million knitted garments.

Next time you repaint the stovepipe, be sure it is free from stove polish and grease. Washing in a hot solution of soap suds and rinsing in clear water is usually necessary. After the pipe is clean and dry, apply a good grade of stovepipe enamel. Do not use the stovepipe until it is thoroughly dry.

To cover worn spots in stained floors it is not always necessary to refinish the entire floor. Remove old wax from the area to be refinished by wiping it with turpentine. On the worn places apply a thin coating of oil stain and wipe off immediately. After the first application has dried repeat the staining operation until the floor is uniform in color. Varnish the floor when it is dry and wax.

A LIBEL ON WEEKLY PRESS

The Washington Daily News in a recent editorial argues that if payments are made to weekly newspapers for war bond advertising they will lose their independence, in other words, that we will have a kept press.

This is a libel against the weekly newspapers of the country, than which there is no more loyal institution. Public opinion has been moulded by men of vision, who have used the pen in season and out, not for personal gain, but as a contribution to the cause of a free and independent press.

Senator Bankhead of Alabama in introducing the bill would authorize the treasury department to spend 25 to 30 million dollars a year for advertising of war bonds, not less than one-half to be expended in weekly newspapers. Senator Willis, publisher of the Angola (Ind.) Republican, supported the measure and why not? The government cannot expect these publications to render this service continually without pay, and in face of a gradual decline in advertising. Weekly newspapers are curtailed to a limited territory and they have many problems that do not fall to the lot of the metropolitan press.

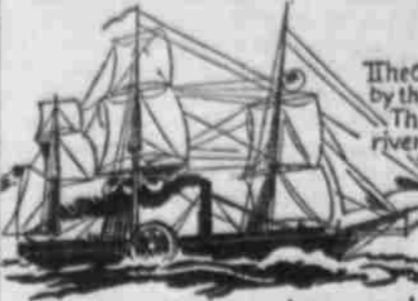

The Washington Daily News by inference, yes, almost a positive statement, would have you believe that the individual publishers

Our Merchant Marine

To America goes the credit of the first successful steamship voyage—that of Robert Fulton's little Clermont, between New York and Albany, on August 7, 1807

The Clermont was followed in 1816, by the larger and faster Livingston. Thereafter our coastal and river steam shipping grew rapidly.

American daring and genius startled the world in 1819 when our Savannah was the first steamship to make the transatlantic crossing. This feat is celebrated annually on National Maritime Day, May 22d, by Presidential Proclamation.

Early steamships, even up to 1860, were also equipped with sails, averaged only about 10 miles per hour, and were considered unreliable by the captains of our mighty clippers and packets.

In sail we were supreme - our wonderful clippers could sail circles around the early steamships - a fact which unfortunately blinded some Americans to the coming dominance of steam.

To-day steam engines, diesel motors and turbo-electric drives are all used as fast means of propulsion for the steady stream of cargo ships sailing the world's oceans.

The telephone was partly responsible for a curious error on a ribbon for a wreath, which the mourner intended to place on the grave of a friend. "Please print 'Rest in Peace' on both sides," was the order to the printer over the phone, and the ribbon when finished bore the inscription: "Rest in Peace on Both Sides."

An unfortunate error protruded itself from the columns of a Bridgeport, Conn., paper about twenty years ago, in the description of a wedding. It read: "The bride carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. 'Pink' was the word intended, but it seems the gods are powerless in the hands of the printer. Else, how could one account for the display line in an advertisement reading, 'We shot the entire family,' when 'shoe' is more profitable and healthful?"

To keep water pure the Army uses large sterilizing water bags made of cotton fabrics. The bags are slung from trees or tripods, each bag holding 36 gallons or nearly 300 pounds of water.

would sell their birthright for a pot of gold. We came up the hard way, and we are familiar with the trials and tribulations of the weekly newspaper; likewise we know the honesty and integrity of these editors, and to the editor of the Washington Daily News we might say all the money Uncle Sam has would not influence them in the least. The weekly press and its editors are truly American. —Sheboygan (Wis.) Press.

Views of Neighboring Editors:

The Scurry County Times—Since Scurry County's first wartime rodeo in 24 years is only one month away, people of this trade area—and especially Scurry county—should begin planning with rodeo officials now to make the county's Seventh Annual Round-Up one of the outstanding in this section of Texas—despite difficulties which may be encountered in staging the four-day event.

Scurry county Rodeo Association officials deserve your fullest support, Mr. Rancher, Farmer and Business Man, in plans to stage this year's annual roundup and we believe you will be only too glad to evidence that cooperation by whatever it may take to get the job done.

Let's one and all get behind the Scurry County Rodeo Association, and make this year's show one the boys in Africa and Alaska and New Caledonia will be proud to refer to when this life-consuming, money-drawing war is over! With your help we can crowd the grandstand seats beyond capacity July 1, 2, 3 and 4.

The Texas Spur—If people can't travel around as freely as usual this summer, they will need home recreations. The young people and the kids will get restless without plenty of fun.

Our people can have many entertaining home sports. Lawn tennis, one of the most thrilling games, and many home lots are big enough for this sport. A good tennis court will keep the young folks so busy that they won't ask for long joy rides. Croquet was a favorite home sport of the horse and buggy days. Many love affairs ripened on the croquet ground, and the kids rarely wandered if they had these fascinating mallets and balls to play with. We don't have to travel thousands of miles to find happiness. It can be had under the kitchen windows.

The Colorado City Record—There has been much "scare" talk since this war began. There have been rumors and rumors of rumors. They're going to ration clothes. They're not going to ration clothes. They're going to freeze hose. They're not going to freeze hose. They're going to ration travel space. They're not going to ration travel space. And so on and one.

But it remains for Eugenia McMurry, five-year-old granddaughter of Mrs. Y. D. McMurry, to touch the bottom "Grandmother," she said solemnly the other day, "They're gonna start rationing babies, I betcha. Everybody seems to want one and there won't be enough to go 'round."

They probably just haven't thought of it, Eugenie! Give 'em time and they'll work out something.

BAKED NOODLE DISH SPARES RATIONED FOODS

Here is a hearty main dish which has nothing to fear from point rationing, for it employs unrationed noodles to make one-half pound of meat serve six! The crisp topping of oven-popped rice cereal adds an extra-flavorful touch.

Nutrition-conscious homemakers are serving this popular cereal even more often for breakfast these days and at other meals as well. For the world's largest manufacturer of ready-to-eat cereals has restored his oven-popped rice to whole rice values of thiamin (vitamin B1), niacin and iron, all important in the daily nutrition requirement.

Such restored cereals are excellent food buys. In addition to the vitamins and iron, they provide generous amounts of energy—and they supply all these food elements at low cost.

Saturday Casserole

1-2 pound fine noodles or macaroni
2 quarts of water
1 tablespoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
*2 cups meat stock
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon pepper
1-2 pound cooked diced meat
3-4 cup oven-popped rice cereal
1 tablespoon melted butter
Dash paprika

Cook noodles or macaroni in boiling water to which salt has been added. Drain. Melt butter in sauce pan, add flour and stock. Stir until thickened. Add salt and pepper. Dice meat and mix with noodles. Add thickened soup stock. Pour into casserole. Crush oven-popped rice cereal and spread over top. Sprinkle with melted butter and paprika. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 20 minutes.

*If meat stock is not available, dissolve 2 bouillon cubes in 2 cups boiling water.

Yield: 6 servings.

Four Quilts Made For Red Cross By Graham Club Thurs.

The Graham Homemakers club sponsored an all-day meeting at the Graham school house on Thursday, May 27th. The tops, linings, cotton and thread had been donated to quilt four quilts for the Red Cross. Each lady brought a covered dish and a bountiful lunch was served in the lunch room at the noon hour. By five o'clock all the quilts had been quilted and hemmed.

There were about 30 women who either spent the entire day or the afternoon. We had a few visitors from other places. Among them were Mother Mitchell of O'Donnel, Mrs. Sadie Langley of Houston, and Mrs. Nora Kiker of Close City. The club wishes to thank all the ladies for their help. The club also expects to quilt again in the very near future. Anyone wishing to donate in any way is asked to get in touch with the president, Mrs. Iris McMahon.

There has been a call from the flooded states for help thru the Red Cross. Let's all get behind the Red Cross and do our part to help the flood sufferers.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Letha Porterfield on Thursday afternoon, June 10. —Rep.

More Canned Food For Civilians

Civilians will gain 30 million cases of canned fruits and vegetables as a reduced government requirements. The reductions are mainly for corn, peas, spinach, tomatoes, snap beans, fruit cocktail, sweet cherries, peaches, pineapple, and pineapple juice. Since the 1943 production is not known, current point values for these items will not be immediately affected.

McCORMICK REPORT—

(Continued From Front Page) great bulk of our farm equipment production facilities is available and has been available at all times throughout the war. Those facilities are capable of turning out many times the amounts that they are now producing.

"Production cannot be increased overnight and this authority to manufacture will be useless unless it is accompanied at once by necessary materials. Undoubtedly many farmers and some county ration committees have expected machines to appear immediately. It must be remembered that it requires from 60 to 120 days to get steel and other materials and it takes time to turn these materials into machines."

In answering the question "Will There Be Enough Machinery In 1944?" Mr. McCormick sums up the situation as follows:

"Yes . . .

"If the government draws up its farm equipment production program for 1944 in accordance with the needs of American farmers, and

"If the government makes that program definite and effective in the immediate future, and

"If distribution down to the retail level is fitted to the needs of the food program and carried on by experienced and tested manufacturers and retail dealers' service organizations, in cooperation with the government, and

"If above all, the government will provide the needed materials regularly and on time.

"Then, the farm equipment industry will certainly build the machines to do the job."

MORRIS RITES—

(Continued From Front Page) the sincere prayers offered, the sweet tones of the organ emphasizing the comforting messages in the hymns that were sung, the beautiful rendition of his favorite "Rock of Ages," the lovely floral tribute all attested to the true worth and high esteem in which was held of citizen Morris.

The acting and assistant pall bearers were the following business associates and county officials: Lee Bowen, Dean Robinson, Ray Smith, Lon Cross, N. C. Outlaw, H. M. Tucker, V. J. Campbell, Percy Printz, Mr. Mills, Talmadge Tipton and Wallace Kimbrough.

The honorary pall bearers constituted the official board of the Methodist church of which he was a member.

Interment was made in Terrace cemetery in the flower carpeted family lot beside his faithful companion of over half a century but who preceded him in death two and one-half years ago. The members of their golden wedding anniversary observed so beautifully January 22, 1939, will forever live in the hearts of loved ones and friends who were present on that memorable occasion.

We know the earthly tabernacle of "Dad" and "Mother" Morris is dissolved, but we know too their great influence will continue, to live on, especially in the lives of their special sons and daughters who are: Earl Morris of Southland, Max Morris, formerly of Lubbock but who is now stationed in Pearl Harbor, Mrs. Edna Cash of Post whose privilege it has been to live with and care for her father since the Mothers home-going, Mrs. Fay Cogswill of Lubbock, Cecil Morris of Gonzales, Ray Morris of Los Angeles and Hazel Lewis of Rule, all of whom were present at the funeral except Max and Ray. There are twenty-one grandchildren and four great great grandchildren.

In the language of a portion of the text, we can truthfully say of "Dad" Morris: "He fought a good fight. He kept the faith. He finished his course," henceforth we know there was laid up for him a crown of righteousness and we believe he has had his coronation.

We commend the bereft ones to a loving heavenly Father who can heal even broken hearts.

"Keeper of the Flame" At Garza Sunday-Monday

After two comedy hits in "Woman of the Year" and "The Philadelphia Story," Katharine Hepburn has veered to deep-dyed, stark drama in "Keeper of the Flame," in which she is again teamed with Spencer Tracy, and in a newspaper drama. The picture will play at the Garza theatre Sunday and Monday with a preview Saturday night 11:30.

Tracy plays a newspaperman who, investigating the strange death of a prominent American leader, comes to fall in love with his widow, played by Miss Hepburn, then, as circumstances point, to suspect her of complicity in the death of her husband. Torn between love and duty, Tracy figures in a series of intensely dramatic incidents with Miss Hepburn, including a dramatic climax in a burning arsenal during which the truth clears the heroine and clears up the mystery.

Laid mostly in and about a great country estate and nearby small American town, the production is elaborately staged and interestingly photographed. A vivid musical score points up the dramatic highlights and tense scenes between Tracy and Miss Hepburn.
