War Crop Goals On Individual Farms To Be Set Soon

County war crop goals were received this week, stated James A. Boyd, Secretary Garza County ACA and will be set up for individual farms within the next week.

The grain sorghum goal has been established at 36,920 acres, while the peanut goal is 9,000 acres and soybeans 588 acres. It also has been officially announced that incentive payments at the rate of $8.00 per acre on grain sorghums, $15.00 per acre on soybeans for beans, and $30.00 per acre on peanuts dug, will be made on acreages above 90% of the farm war crop goals, not to exceed 110% of the goal.

If a farmer plans to hog-off peanuts, he must plant additional acreage for that purpose in order to earn maximum incentive payments. Each acre of dug peanuts between 90 and 110 percent of the goal will earn the $30.00 payment.

At the same time, the incentive payment was announced, an announcement was made that the $1.10 per ton AAA payment, which already had been established, would be eliminated under this year's program.

B. F. Vance, Chairman of the Texas USDA War Board, has announced that all peanuts, whether grown for the edible trade or for oil, will be supported at 85 percent of the present parity price, or at $128.86 per ton or more.

Under the new program, Boyd stated, there will be no distinction between marketing quota and oil peanuts as under last year's program.

Post To Have Ten Per Cent Charge On Fire Insurance

Post will have a 10 per cent charge on fire insurance policies for the next 12 months beginning March 1, it was announced today by Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner.

The 10 per cent charge, due to heavy fire losses in Post during the past five years, was made known when annual fire records for Texas cities and towns were completed.

The fire record charge will mean an estimated cost of $968.00 over the normal premiums for the next year. The estimate is based on fire insurance premium payments in 1942. The charge compares with a neutral record in effect for the past year.

The fire record for a city or town is determined by a fixed ratio between losses and premiums figured on a five-year average. The maximum good fire record credit is 25 per cent. The maximum charge (or penalty) for heavy losses is 15 per cent. In the case of a credit, the percentage is deducted from the normal premium.

Hall explained that the fire record system of credits and charges is not to be confused with the key rate for a city or town. The key rate, he pointed out, is determined among other things by the type and quality of fire fighting equipment and water facilities, as well as official adoption of measures to prevent fires.

"Communities, both large and small," Hall added, "can reduce their insurance costs. This can be done by fire prevention. When losses are kept low year after year, a good fire record credit will pay dividends in the form of reduced premiums. Texas is the only state with a system to directly reward communities for preventing fires.

"Because fires have been prevented during recent years, thus reducing losses in many classes of insurance risks, the result has been a decrease in rates. A notable example is in dwelling rates. Reductions in insurance rates since 1936 approximate an annual saving of ten million dollars to Texas policyholders."

Garza Quota For Joint Roll Call And War Fund Set At $2700; Drive To Begin March 1

A joint session of the Garza County Red Cross executive board and the city and rural roll call chairman is scheduled to meet tonight at Imogene's Cafe at 8:00 o'clock. Plans will be set in motion for issuing a personal challenge to every citizen of the county to take up the torch and bear his share of the quota of $2,700.00 set for this county in the Red Cross War Drive that begins here on Monday, March 1. Ground work for the drive which will require a fifty per cent increase in funds over last year will be laid tonight, Dean A. Robinson, county roll call chairman asserted.

This chapter raised $1,840.75 in the roll call and the two emergency war drives last year. It is the plan of the National organization to let the roll call and the emergency war drive be pooled into one drive this year. During March the Red Cross must raise a minimum of $125,000,000.00. Of this amount Garza county has been asked to raise $2,700.00. The folks here will accept the challenge to raise the allotted amount, is the consensus of members of the executive board.

STATE'S 4-H'ERS ENLIST IN RURAL SAFETY DRIVE

Texas' 4-H Club members are now being enlisted in "The National 4-H Safety Activity" to wage a concerted drive to make rural America safety-conscious. As there are roughly 1.2 million 4-H'ers throughout the United States, the drive promises to be the most comprehensive and intensive rural-safety campaign ever conducted in this country.

The chief objective of this nationwide campaign will be to reduce the appalling annual loss of manpower resulting from preventable accidents, and of property damaged by fire due to carelessness, on farms and in rural communities. The activity, in which 4-H participants with outstanding records of safety achievements will receive awards provided by the Mennen Company, will be conjunction with other highly noteworthy wartime jobs of production and conservation under the direction of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, State Agricultural Colleges, and county extension agents.

The awards include medals of honor to county winners, and a special plaque to the top ranking county in each state; a $100 War Savings Bond to the highest rating individual in each state, and trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, as well as $200 college scholarships, to the national winners.

Notes From County Agent's Office

By Wallace Kimbrough
County Agent of Texas A.&M.
Extension Service

BABY CHICKS

February opened the baby chick season. Plans and preparations made before the chicks arrive will prevent the loss of many chicks. The source of the chick is one of the first things to consider. Buy from a reputable hatcheryman, located near you. Healthy parent stock that has been bred for livability, high production, high hatchability, large egg size, and standard qualities naturally produce chicks of the more desirable type. With transportation facilities overloaded it is wise to order your chicks from some reliable hatchery near by.

Early hatched chicks are by far the more profitable, some of the advantages of early chicks are: there is less danger of coccidiosis, they grow faster, bring more money as fryers, early pullets lay more of the high priced late summer, fall and winter eggs.

Several weeks before the chicks are to arrive, thoroughly clean the brooder house, removing the dirt and dust from the ceiling and walls. Disinfect with a good commercial disinfectant or scrub with hot lye water. If you use the lye water, dissolve one can of concentrated lye in 20 gallons of hot water. Check the brooder house for cracks that will cause drafts, cover or fill all cracks. Set up the brooder and test it for at least two days to see that it will hold an even temperature of 95 to 98 degrees two inches above the floor at the edge of the hover. Put in the litter and adjust the hover.

When the chicks arrive, place water and feed out available to the chicks. Start the chicks on a good start mash. Watch them closely for the first few days to see that a good supply of chick size grit is kept before them. As the chicks develop the temperature should be lowered. A good practice is to lower 5 degrees each week until heat is no longer needed.

Keeping the brooder house clean and all equipment around and in the brooder house will pay big profit. Clean and sanitary conditions are necessary for successful brooding of baby chicks.

By starting baby chicks off right with a comfortable place to live, with good clean food and water, clean floors and equipment your troubles will be greatly reduced.

Mrs. Earl Thaxton left Tuesday for Pratt, Kansas, where she will join her husband who began work there last week. The Thaxtons will be near the J. B. Thaxtons who have been there for several months.

Tips On Planting Fruit Trees Given To FFA and 4-H Clubs

One definite contribution Texas 4-H Club and FFA members can make to the 1943 food crop is planting species of fruit trees and vines which come into production quickly, says J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the Extension Service. He cautions, however, that only varieties suited to the climate and soils of the various sections of the state should be selected. Cherries, for example, grow well in the Panhandle, but are a failure in south and east Texas.

Blackberries and dewberries are quick producers. Planted this season they will yield a good crop next year. Figs and some varieties of plums also will produce fruit the second year.

Leading nurserymen of the state, Rosborough explains, are cooperating in the program by offering youthful horticulturists a group of plants called the Young American Fruit Collection. For central Texas it would comprise 24 berry plants, two grapes, one fig, one plum and four peach. Normal yields from these plantings, he believes, would furnish two persons with about the amount of fruit they would require in one year.

In order to give a tree the best chance to live and produce best the horticulturist advises removing all broken or damaged roots before planting. At the same time check the ends of the undamaged roots to see whether they have dried out and become brown. If so, cut off the dried portions well into the white, live tissues. New roots will develop quickly. Dig holes only large enough to accommodate the roots and set the tree at the same depth it stood in the nursery. Then pack the soil firmly around the roots and add a bucket or two of water before filling the hole. If the soil is tight, mix a shovel or two of well rotted manure with the soil from the hole.

Peach and plum trees should be cut back to about knee height, and apples and pears to between knee and waist at time of planting.

Texas Is Important State

Second most important manufacturing industry of Texas is meat packing—second only to petroleum and certainly first in food industry. Texas is also the greatest raw food materials producing state in the union.

An analysis of census reports on Texas meat packing showed a rapid expansion during the 1930-40 decade. During that period the number of workers employed at meat packing in Texas has expanded 38.7 per cent and payrolls almost 38 per cent.

Texas meat packing plants are outranked by those of only 11 other states in number of employees; by only 12 states in value added to products in manufacture.

CANNED GOODS RATIONING PLAN TO ALLOW 35 TO 40 POUNDS PER PERSON

If you are what statisticians call an average person you've been eating 46 pounds of canned foods a year.

With the rationing of commercially packed fruits and vegetables you won't get that much. The share of such producers for the coming year will be somewhere between 35 and 40 pounds. Next year the allotment may be less.

Canned foods are fighting foods and that is the reason they are to be rationed. Because foods that can be dried or packed in cans are easily shipped, 35 per cent of the 1942 supply of these products is going to the armed forces and to our fighting allies. Of the 1942 pack, from 50 to 55 per cent is being set aside for our armed forces and for lend-lease shipments.

The amounts reserved for these purposes range from 19 per cent of the grapefruit packed this year to 100 percent of the blueberries, figs, blended fruit juices and carrots.

The estimated portion of the 1943 pack allotted to civilians, for use in 1944, will provide a maximum of 33 pounds of canned goods per person.

Rationing is the method of making sure that every person has a chance to get his share.

So far all sales of food have been on a "first come, first served" basis. Rationing is intended to replace this system with a "share-and-share-alike" program.

Inspection Saves Passenger Car Tires

OPA tire inspections, required under the mileage rationing regulations, already have rescued an estimated 400,000 passenger car casings which were so worn or damaged that they needed immediate repair to save them from further use, officials said. The estimate is based on a sample survey of the experience of inspectors so far.

Cotton Sweaters

Spring will bring a host of sweaters made of cotton which will look and wear like wool. A special knitting process and a brushed finish give the sweaters a soft effect. They're made of non-priority materials and they're easy to keep fresh and clean.

May Buy Goods In Quantities

Ranchers and others who do not get to market as often as a month may apply for special permission to buy larger quantities of rationed canned and processed foods. Application should be made on OPA Form R-30, the local war price and ration board anytime after War Book Two is received. All the books for the family must accompany the application.

Views of Neighboring Editors

Slaton Slatonite— Now that pins have become so scarce, I live in deadly fear that we will have an epidemic of dipping slips beneath the hems of women's skirts which is very depressing to me. To see a well dressed woman tripping down the street with a slip that dips is like an ash can in front of the White House or like my remembrance of grandpa in his night shirt but if it takes dipping slips to end the war I'll just take them along with my one pound of coffee every once in a while, the reduction in the amounts of canned fruits and vegetables that I don't like anyway, and my three pairs of shoes that I don't need so much of, and bear up under the burden and hope that the war will soon be won so that slips can again be pinned up where they belong.

Scurry County Times— When food rationing, on the point system, becomes effective March 1, people of Snyder's trade area and elsewhere will really run up against the real kind of war-time rationing, with plenty of fangs attached. George Young of the district Office of Price Administration, Lubbock, declared here Friday afternoon to school teachers of the county.

Young declared that the point rationing system, once it got underway, would be effective for a number of years after the war ends, because the United States will be faced with the job of feeding most of the world. The District OPA official gladly took school teachers into his confidence, in explaining point rationing. Indirectly, Young took quite a bit of icing off the cake when he admitted point rationing of foods would be necessary, not only to win the war, but keep the peace . . . of which time will tell.

After point rationing becomes a reality, Mr. Citizen, you'd better keep your War Ration Book No. 2 and validation stamp with you at all times, because cash money in itself will not be sufficient to buy groceries. Not only will it take cash, but the necessary ration credentials, which may prove irritable but which will be with us for many, many months.

Lynn County News— Politicians in Washington are predicting that Franklin D. Roosevelt will be a candidate next year for a fourth term as President. They make these predictions on the assumption that even if the war is won before the next campaign opens the peace will not have been won, and the President will be drafted in order that he may help to wind up this unfinished business. It will be a persuasive argument, but the cry against the perpetuation of one man in office in violation of long-established precedent and the fear of a possible dictatorship will also be very persuasive, and if he should consent to become a candidate we predict the hottest Presidential campaign since the days of Abraham Lincoln.

DESIGN FOR EMPTY CUPBOARDS

If an army moves on its stomach, what does a nation that keeps an army supplied, move on? Its stomach also.

Calling "empty grocery store shelves and meatless markets" the tragic consequence of a national policy of holding down farm prices, Fred H. Sexauer, of Auburn, New York, predicts "the American people may find themselves really hungry unless Washington is made to recognize farmers' organizations and utilize the service they can perform in drafting effective food production programs."

Food scarcity has suddenly become news, he said. Farm organizations warned of these conditions developing as early as November, 1941. The government program of holding down farm prices was accompanied "by propaganda claiming that increases in farm prices meant inflation and disaster. No propaganda was unleashed to indicate that rising wages combined with scarcity of goods and services opens the way for inflation.

"The philosophy of low farm prices leads inevitably to rationing. With rationing started, there is grave danger of government officials assuming that we can't get higher production, so what there is must be doled out in smaller and smaller quantities." To enable farmers to produce more, "the first requisite is, prices for farm products that will enable farmers to meet their costs and have enough to support their families, rather than prices that force them to quit farming and go off to urban jobs."

Food doesn't just happen—it has to be produced the same as airplanes and battleships are produced. It is subject to all production costs—high-priced labor cannot expect low-priced food.

Congress is struggling with the problem of how to make collection of tremendous taxes easy on the taxpayer. The answer is simple, it can't be done any more than a major operation can be made a minor affair.

"Anything man can live without is a luxury," declares a Government official. Well for centuries man lived without Government officials.

TOUGH: "It's tough to be a civilian when a war's on." Uh, huh. And it isn't any picnic being a soldier.

Every man has his price—and he ought to spend it for war bonds.

EXCUSABLE

It would seem like little argument should be needed today to cause Congress to tax publicly-owned business enterprises. Former justification for tax exemption of such properties was that it would be silly for government to tax itself. That argument was sound in the case of property owned by the government for purely governmental functions—in other words, a battleship, a state capitol building, a city hall, or the like. Such properties are truly for all the people. But tax exemption for government-owned business enterprises—such as electric light and power plants, does not hold water. Such properties do not serve all the people. They serve customers in a limited territory, and because of tax exemption, such privileged customers do not pay the taxes for electric service they enjoy, similar to the taxes paid for the support of government by the customers of privately-owned electric companies. Power development is not a legitimate governmental function that serves all the people equally in a manner that would entitle it to tax exemption. When Congress is seeking every cent that can be wrung from the taxpayer, it is high time it threw the net around the publicly-owned power plants. The consumers of such service should pay taxes

"Iceland" at Garza Sunday - Monday

One of 20th Century-Fox's merriest musicals, "Iceland," will make its local debut at the Garza Theatre Saturday night 11:30 and run through Sunday and Monday. Just as in "Sun Valley Serenade," the picture is not only entertainment in its own right, but adds more laurels to those already amassed by scintillating Sonja Henie, who just seems to skate with even more enchanting grace than she has in her previous films. The film is high-lighted with ro-

IDLE COMMERCIAL VEHICLES MUST BE REPORTED TO ODT

All commercial motor vehicles which are idle during the last fourteen days of any month, except taxicabs, rental cars, ambulances and hearses, must be reported to the Office of Defense Transportation, Richard E. Wood, Lubbock district manager for the division of motor transport, announced today.

Reports are due within five days after the last day of the month covered, Mr. Wood said. They should be made on ODT Form OVN-3, a simple, single-sheet form of only eight questions, which require no exhaustive set of records. The form may be obtained at the district office and should be returned there.

Owners with no idle equipment are not required to submit a report.

mance and comedy. Sonja Henie turns in an excellent performance with John Payne, her handsome co-star, who looks even more romantic in his uniform as corporal in the U. S. Marines. Jack Oakie, that hilarious zany as usual adds the belly-laughs that climax the combined efforts of a virtual monopoly of Hollywood comedy talent—Oakie, Sterling Holloway, Felix Bressart and Fritz Field.

Miss Henie and Payne receive other excellent support, particularly from Osa Massen, the pretty Danish screen star, and Joan Merrill, the singing delight who has proved a surprisingly good actress. Finally, but certainly not the least important, an integral part of "Iceland's" success is due to the music of Sammy Kaye and his orchestra.

New Farm Loan To Help Farmers Meet Crop Goals

The new loan program, which will operate through county USDA War Boards and the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation, is to help farmers meet or surpass high production goals and at the same time insure them against loss in case of high risk crops which ordinarily would not be grown, announces John L. Wallace, chairman of the county USDA War Board.

The Garza County USDA War Board are appointing T. L. Jones as their local representative for the RCC to work with them in making loans to farmers on this year's war crops.

"This is not a substitute for other sources of credit farmers are using and was not intended to compete against other sources," the state USDA War Board said in explaining that the purpose of the special warcrop advance program was to provide additional credit for this year's program.

Producers who cooperate under the short term credit program will sign a special form of note that limits the obligation to repay to the value of the crops produced, provided certain requirements are met.

Included are that the farmer has used the money in the production of crops for which it was advanced; that he diligently applied the principles of good farming to the production of the crop; that he harvested the crops to the extent of his ability, and that he has applied the full proceeds of such crops to repayment of the advance.

Crops on which special advances may be made include soybeans for beans, flax for seed, or fiber, peanuts to be harvested and pickled, potatoes where the farm goal is 3 acres or more, sweet potatoes on farms with goals determined, American-Egyptian cotton, hemp for seed or fiber, dry beans, dry peas (excluding wrinkled varieties) and castor beans.

Vegetables for processing or sale fresh which are included under the program are tomatoes, snap beans peas and carrots; while cabbage, sweet corn and table beets must be grown for processing only.

In addition to short term advances for production of war crops, county USDA war boards and the RACC also will make longer type loans to help farmers finance other production activities. In making the longer type loans, war boards and the RACC will require full responsibility and a first lien on the crops, livestock or equipment financed, and farmers will be responsible for the full amount of the loan, in any event.

According to the state USDA war board, these loans will be repaid when crops or livestock financed are sold, and ordinarily will not exceed one year. Unpaid balances for livestock, machinery and other equipment may be renewed or extended but at least one-third of the amount advanced for necessary war production capital purposes should be repaid the first year.

WAR CROP GOALS

Growers who have not marketed their entire 1942 production of oil peanuts may now sell them to other growers for planting purposes in 1943, at the prevailing oil price on the date of sale, however, the seller must receive a certificate from the purchaser indicating approval of the sale by the County AAA Committee.

Producers should keep in mind, continued Boyd, that any acreage of grain sorghums planted will be eligible for incentive payments and meeting war crop goals. All acreage of peanuts planted will count toward meeting war crop goals, but only that acreage dug (Continued From Front Page) for nuts over 90% of the goal will be eligible for the incentive payments. Also, that only that acreage of soybeans harvested for beans will qualify for war crop goals and be eligible for incentive payments.

A questionnaire has been mailed to all farm operators requesting the number of acres they desire to plant to grain sorghums, soybeans and peanuts. This card should be filled out and returned immediately, in order that this information might be used in establishing war crop goals.

Plans for similar inter-class events are being made.

KEEP LABOR ON FARMS

(Continued From Front Page) cupation or endeavor to another, and will not be reclassified in so doing, so long as he continues to be necessary to and regularly engaged in an agricultural occupation or endeavor essential to the war effort.

As a basis of determining what each farm can contribute and to assist the farmer in increasing his output, the War Manpower Commission has adopted the 16-war-unit objective.

"At best," General Page emphasized, "the 16-war-unit represents a national objective which it is desired that every able-bodied man engaged in agricultural production will equal or exceed. Naturally, in some areas of the Nation the objective will be too high and in others too low. The Regulations provide wide latitude for consideration of local production conditions in fixing a proper objective for a given locality."

General Page stressed that a registrant should not be taken from the farm and placed in Class I-A simply because his current production efforts do not equal the 16-war-unit objective. He said:

"Every registrant should be considered for II-C or III-C classification if his own personal and direct efforts result in the production of as many as eight war-units and particularly where there is an indication that he is making diligent efforts to increase his production of essential farm products. Of course, no classification is permanent, and these cases will be reviewed from time to time to determine whether or not the registrant has increased and is working diligently further to increase his units of production."

"Where it is found that a registrant could qualify for II-C or III-C classifications but for the fact that he is not responsible for the production of at least 8-war-units, the local board should promptly advise the local United States Employment Service office of the registrant to the end that he may be placed on a farm where he would be responsible for the production of such war units. In these cases the local board will not classify or reclassify the registrant until 30 days after such advice has been given to the United States Employment Service."

"Texas is one of the leading agricultural states and this Headquarters is extremely anxious that the Texas local boards shall be as liberal as possible in interpreting the requirements for agricultural deferment and in supporting the national program for increased farm production. Local boards are urged to consult with State Head-

Federal Bill For Teachers Explained In Recent Bulletin

A Legislative Bulletin of special interest to teachers has been received by Miss Mary Ruth Haggard, president of the Garza Unit of the West Texas Teachers Association.

The bulletin is printed in part for the information of teachers in this county and is as follows:

Senators Thomas and Hill have introduced S. 637 to the Seventy-eighth Congress, which is the new federal aid bill. Briefly, this bill proposes to authorize an appropriation for federal aid as an emergency measure only. It provides for an appropriation of two hundred million dollars to the states "for the purpose of enabling states and their local public school jurisdictions to meet emergencies in financing their public elementary and public secondary schools by providing funds for the payment of the salaries of teachers to keep schools open, to employ additional teachers to relieve overcrowded classes, to raise substantially salaries of teachers, and to adjust the salaries of teachers to meet the increased cost of living." This amount is to be apportioned to each state on the basis of average daily attendance. Such a distribution will permit each state to share in the appropriation. There is also authorized to be appropriated the sum of one hundred million dollars to be apportioned to the states for the purpose "of more nearly equalizing public elementary and public secondary school opportunities among and within the states."

quartars on any problems encountered in this connection."

SCHOOL LUNCH PRICES TO REMAIN AT TEN CENTS

School patrons are notified that there will be no change in lunch room prices. This announcement came from Supt. L. V. Bearden following a conference with the lunch room supervisor this week. The WPA, after Friday, Feb. 26, will not operate the school lunch room but as long as it is possible the school will take charge and will continue to charge ten cents for lunches. "We may not be able to continue through the entire term, but will operate as long as possible and no change of policy or prices will be made at this time," Bearden said.

Homer McCrary returned home Thursday from Fort Worth where he attended a Frigidaire school and dealers meeting there the first of the week.

The distribution of this part of the appropriation is similar to the method used under the provision of S. 1313 which was before the Seventy-seventh Congress. You may secure copies of S. 637 from your Congressman, the National Education Association, or the Texas State Teachers Association.
