

Thursday to Thursday
By CHARLES DIDWAY

BEFORE ANOTHER "Thursday to Thursday" column appears in print the annual Post Stampede and Rodeo will be under way at the rodeo grounds here, with everything pointing to one of the most successful shows in the rodeo association's history. Helping to make it that will be the response of Post business and industrial firms, clubs and other organizations to appeals by Parade Chairmen TOM POWER and POWELL SHYTTLES that they enter floats or other exhibits in the opening day parade. "Anything that will move" is the way the chairmen put it in describing what they want in the parade.

IN A CONVERSATION this week with LEE BYRD, old-time cowboy, we learned that for the first time in several years he won't be a flag-bearer at this year's rodeo. Lee says that does not mean he won't take an active part in the show, since he's still a member of the board of directors. Last year, BOY HART was the other flag-bearer, but at this year's show the job is being turned over to HINTON FLUITT and WALTER BOBEN Lee, who served as the show's first arena director, says he's looking forward to an "extra good" rodeo, and that he's heard that new stock being furnished by GOAT MAYO probably will be the "safest" seen here in several years.

THIS YEAR'S RODEO will mark the first presented under the presidency of J. E. BIRDWELL, and also finds MIKE CUSTEE, BRYAN J. WILLIAMS, POWELL SHYTTLES, SHELLEY CAMP, JACK BURRESS and BOY HART as new members of the board of directors. Back again this year as timekeepers will be JIM HUNDLEY, DEAN ROBINSON, LEWIS HERRON and HENRY TATE. It looks like "big doings" from start to finish, so you all come!

ONE BATHING BEAUTY contest a year is more than most towns can expect, but Post will have two within a period of two weeks. In addition to the "big one" June 12 at the dedication of the new swimming pool, there'll be one May 29 to pick the Garza County entrant. Coming on the closing day of the rodeo, it'll make it a big weekend for Post and Garza County. Texas ranks fourth in the nation in Parent Teacher Association membership, according to state headquarters. Membership in the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers has reached 408,827, an increase of 30,000 over last year.

THE COMMUNITY'S INTEREST in its young people was happily reflected at last week's graduation exercises with multitudes of parents attending both grade school and high school programs. We thoroughly enjoyed the one hour and 20 minute program Friday night at high school commencement exercises and are looking forward to another one Monday night when our daughter receives her high school diploma at Loveland, along with all other LHS seniors. With one daughter first— at Mulberry, eight at Brokenburg and three at Loveland she is a damn, damn-rotated young lady.

MEMBERSHIP IS OPEN in two new Post organizations—the Post Chapter of the Texas Tech Ex-Students Association and the Post Hoping Club. Again this year the club has exceeded its Charter Chapter's total quota and MRS. T. L. JOHNSON, county chairman of the American Cancer Society, and ELLIS M.

Adverse Psychological Effects Upon Business Fears In Unemployment Data Presentation

ROBERT PAIK, Mass.—Last December in this column I predicted we would NOT have a sharp drop in business during 1954, but that this has not taken place, although there has been a temporary period of unemployment. The question is: What will be the pattern of business from here on? This I will discuss in a few weeks when I make my extended forecast for the last six months.

How Bad Are Conditions? Because some of my critics were overly pessimistic for the first quarter and business conditions failed to bolster their attitude they have now become pessimistic about the second half. I think they are still wrong! Retail sales have dropped some in a number of lines since the first of the year. Automobile sales for most companies have been poor. Steel production has slowed to about 70% of capacity, but is still almost 30% better than that of 1949 or 1946. The squeeze has been on, too, for the marginal farmer with the trend to larger farms, greater mechanization and fewer farm hands. Last year's 5% drop in farm income caught the farm machinery manufacturers off balance. I anticipate that addition will continue well into 1954.

The leveling off in business activity which figures such as these represent will be reflected in the business of the railroads. During this second quarter our railroads are anticipating about a 27% decline in automotive shipments, a 17% decline in steel loadings, and an approximate 8% decline in coal and coke loadings. On the other hand, some increase is expected in transporting such things as fruits, frozen foods, cotton, and cement. So I forecast that total carloadings this quarter will reflect a drop of only about 8% over the second quarter of last year.

Reasons For Optimism There are, in fact, some substantial reasons for optimism. For nearly a year now we have been working down the unsold goods on our shelves and in our warehouses. People are still in a good position to buy; they have the money. Did you know that personnel income rose to about $285 billions by the end of

KEEPING THE SPIRIT ALIVE

Next Wednesday marks the opening of another Post Stampede Rodeo, probably the city's outstanding annual event, one which draws hundreds of visitors from all over the surrounding territory and helps keep alive the spirit of the Old West. Throughout the years, the Post Stampede Rodeo has come to be generally recognized as one of the outstanding events of its kind in West Texas. There is nothing to indicate that it will not gain added stature this year; in fact, everything points to one of the best shows in the event's history. As always, however, it's going to take a "bit of doing" on the part of the average citizen, along with officers and directors of Post Stampede, Inc., who have had their work cut out for them since early in the year when plans got under way for the 1954 event.

Individuals, business firms and organizations can help make this year's rodeo great by doing more than attending one or all of the four night performances. The best way they can help is by entering into the spirit of the occasion, by dressing "western" during the week of May 22-25, and by entering floats and/or equipment in the opening day parade on Wednesday afternoon. There'll probably be as many out of town people here to see the parade as there will be at the rodeo performances themselves, and a colorful parade will make a lasting impression on every visitor.

Parade entries will be accepted right up until time for the procession to get under way, but everything will work out better if those planning to have floats or equipment in the parade will let the chairmen know about it at least a day or two in advance.

Next to the parade, the western atmosphere will be the biggest pre-rodeo factor contributing to the event's success. Decoration of store fronts, show windows, etc., and donning of western garb during the week will make the four-day event seem an even more outstanding one.

Let's hope the parade is the best ever, that Post goes "western" for rodeo week and that the weather is "fitter" for the big western event beginning next Wednesday. With such a line-up, it can't help but be the "best one yet."

The spectacle now under way in Washington proves that not all three-ring circuses are under tents.

MILLS, fund drive chairman, express their thanks to all who helped. If you're keeping up with special needs, this is Mail Box Improvement Week and Chemical Progress Week. Western Week in Post begins May 22, and Buddy League Week is May 23-30.

OUR THANKS TO MRS. JAMES STONE, Garza County chairman of the Texas Home Demonstration Association, for expressing the group's appreciation of the publicity this newspaper gave the district convention held here recently. Such attentiveness as that shown by Mrs. Stone and the other T.H.D.A. members makes it seem well worthwhile to keep trying to serve the readers by publishing events of interest. Our apologies to BOWEN STEPHENS and AUDIE VEE TRAFFY for not including their names in the list of P.H.S. scholars who won't win any in last week's Post Dispatch. We used a list given to us at school, and while the oversight was not ours, we regret it as much as if it had been. Bowen and Audie Vee were the top-scoring students in the school's verified scholarship department—a mighty important one.

Further up, banks have both cash and government securities in an amount equal to about 60% of deposits, and the easy money policy which encourages business is back with us. The construction industry keeps booming. For example, the Commerce Department reports that new construction expenditures for first quarter, 1954, were the highest in our entire national history. A number of manufacturers' reports indicate that March 1954 was either the second or third best in the history of their companies.

The Unemployment Question There has been too much loose talk about unemployment. I am especially concerned by the way in which unemployment data have been presented by many magazines and news papers. This could have an adverse psychological effect upon business which is unwarranted. Goodrich shows the country there have been some instances of local labor shortages. No one likes to see anybody out of work. But the picture is not nearly so alarming as some analysts would have us believe.

I believe the best way of presenting unemployment figures is on a per capita or percentage basis. To illustrate: In 1928 the population was 120,501,000. The unemployed totalled 2,803,000. Therefore, the per cent of unemployment per capita was only 2.4. In 1938 the population had increased to 129,825,000 and unemployment to 10,300,000. The per capita unemployment, therefore, was then 8%. Now take 1951. Our present population numbers roughly 160,000,000. Even with a high estimate of 4,000,000 unemployed, the per capita percentage figure would equal only 2.5, or about the same as in the boom year of 1928! Be careful how you let the prophets of doom lead you astray. Business conditions are good, and with your help they are going to be even better in the months to come.

Getting Out On The Limb

by EDDIE the editor

SUDDEN THOUGHT: The reason you never see any pictures of angels with whiskers is because most men who get there make it only by a close shave.

A PAGEANT of perfect coordination and teamwork is to be found in the cutting horse contest at a rodeo. Since next week's Post Stampede and Rodeo is including a cutting horse contest for the first time in many years, I believe a little more description of the event and the contest rules will help more people enjoy it.

Presenting a colorful picture of range work, the stock horses get their big chance to show the fans they can perform equally as well in the arena as on the range.

Staged under the rules of the National Cutting Horse Association, this contest will be one of the best attractions at this year's rodeo.

Here is an event in which the horse must do the thinking. The contestant starts the act by separating one animal from a herd of cattle and then for the most part leaves it up to the horse to prevent the animal from getting back to the herd.

So the horse has to rely on his "horse sense."

These are the contest rules, as established by the Cutting Horse Association.

1. A horse should have some credit for his ability to enter a herd of cattle and bring out one without too much disturbance to the herd or to the one brought out. If he creates unnecessary disturbance a penalty is assessed.

2. When an animal is cut from a herd it should be driven toward the men holding the herd, or the arena fence. If it is all right, the horse should never get around of the animal in order to get more play—all for the buyers to turn it back toward men.

3. If a horse runs into or scuffles the herd while trying to head an animal, he should be penalized.

4. If the horse makes the wrong way with his head and the animal he should be disqualified for that run unless without any scuff.

5. A horse should be penalized each time he has to be reined to the right or left. If he has to be reined several times during a performance, he should be penalized each time by a light rein. A small penalty may be enough. When a horse has to be picked up hard with a rein, a heavier penalty should be assessed against him.

6. For riding with a tight rein throughout a performance, a penalty should be given, for part time during a performance, less penalty.

7. If a horse allows an animal to return to a herd he may be penalized. If one gets back that is almost impossible to head, he should be penalized very little.

8. When a horse heads an animal and goes on past, as much as a length, he should be assessed a heavier penalty.

That Wonderful Cereal It's said that some men can't even boil an egg and I guess I must fall into that category. I made a bad attempt at getting some vittles together the other morning while my favorite breakfast was still logging sack time and the simplest thing I could think of to prepare was a couple of boiled eggs. "Three minutes eggs" kept bobbing around in my mind, so I carefully brought the water to a boil, dropped in the pair of beauties and set the gas cap to low. After about thirty minutes, hoping to get upon the eggs and they were considerably shy of being sufficiently cooked to be edible.

Generations Improving It's been a long time since we have heard anyone say, or even imply that "the younger generation is going to the dogs." Fact is, we believe each generation is getting better rather than worse. In the event of decline in the situation it can be marked up to "parent delinquency" rather than juvenile delinquency. Parent delinquency usually precedes that of the juveniles.—Abernathy Weekly Review.

Mrs. Rountree Has Been Secretary In Dallas 33 Years

Below is an article on Mrs. Gladys Rountree, mother of Dr. John R. Rountree, which appeared with a photograph in the May 12th edition of the Dallas Times-Herald. Mrs. I. N. McCrary, who knew Mrs. Rountree while attending St. Mary's College in Dallas, brought the clipping to the Dispatch.

"Thirty-three years is a long time to stay at one job, and 31 years is a long time to spend in one building. But this is the record of Secretary Mrs. Gladys Rountree.

"Mrs. Rountree has been a secretary and bookkeeper 33 years, with offices in the Medical Arts Bldg. for 31. I believe that I am the oldest worker in the building I came before they put the elevators in," said the woman, who has been secretary and bookkeeper to Dr. John M. Pace for 17 years.

"I've typed my way through a wonderful life. I own my home, put both my boys through medical school and helped raise my nine grandchildren, but I'm just enjoying my only great-grandchild," said Mrs. Rountree, who will be 65 years old in September.

"Mrs. Rountree says she's lived a quiet life, but a healthy one and her record proves it. She has received the Faye Anderson award for outstanding service and 15 years of perfect attendance to the Dallas Credit Women's Club, and this year will receive the 300 per cent National Secretaries' Association award for three years consecutive service without an absence.

"Born in Carthage, Tex., the spry woman attended St. Mary's College, then in Dallas, was graduated from Christian College and did graduate work at Randolph Macon. She came permanently to Dallas in 1921, and moved into her present home 5430 Miller, in 1923.

"Mrs. Rountree has a silver teaspoon collection and very seldom misses Theatre 54 State Fair Musicals and the symphony. "I used to play the piano, but I sold my piano and bought a typewriter to raise my boys. I was active in golf and riding, but that was when I had more money and time," she said.

"About her work, Mrs. Rountree says that the first thing is a friendly attitude toward everyone. "If you understand the other person's angle, have a pleasant outlook on life and make the customer feel at home, your ability in your work will come naturally.

"I guess I can't complain about my work, after all I'm almost 65 and have just lost my first permanent tooth!"

Operators Of 126 Garza County Farms Paid $21,110.85 For ACP Practices

Credit value of Agricultural Conservation Program practices carried out in Garza County in 1953 was $21,110.85, according to Mike E. Custer, county office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The total covers the federal funds that went to operators of the 126 farms who completed their ACP projects.

The county has been allocated $37,900 for approved practices under the 1954 program, Custer said.

To date, farmers and ranchers have approvals for $31,006.36 of federal share-cost funds, leaving a balance of $6,893.64 to be applied to approved projects for the remainder of the year.

Major practices carried out in 1953 were subsiding, deep plowing, earthen dams, terracing and irrigation pipe, Custer said.

Broken down into various practices, 1953 funds went to the following projects:

Construction of 365-384 feet of terraces on 18 farms qualified for a total payment of $2,259.48; for moving 8,084 cubic yards of dirt for diversion terraces on four farms, the government cost-share was $439.39.

Payment of $5,806.24 was made on 5,576.2 acres of subsiding on 70 farms; $4,326.90 was paid for 1,105.9 acres of deep plowing on 18 farms.

On three farms 263 acres of irrigable land was leveled, on which the government cost-share was $323.42; 5,207 feet of irrigation pipe was laid on seven farms, for which the payment was $2,006.40; and $32 was paid for construction of 16 boxes or gates on three farms.

Ten earthen dams to conserve stock water were constructed on nine farms and ranches, which required the moving of 29,047 cubic yards of dirt, and for which the federal cost share allowed was $2,904.70.

Cost sharing of $325.66 was allowed on 31,100 pounds of 21 per cent superphosphate applied on three farms; 129 pounds of guar as summer cover crop was seeded on one farm for a payment of $16.50; and 888.2 pounds of hairy vetch for winter cover was seeded on one farm, cost-share for which was $97.70.

Deferred grazing was carried out to the extent of 4,777.5 acres on six farms, on which the government paid $1,394.37; seven farm operators qualified for 1,039,586 feet of fireguards, for which they received $623.76.

Pasture seeding included 298.6 pounds of seed on four farms for an estimated planting of 314.4 acres, for which the operators were paid $194.72; and 10,475 pounds of small grain cover was seeded on 12 farms for an estimated planting of 681.3 acres, on which the government allowed a payment of $254.71.

The "Write" Prescription

Noticed three half-finished letters lying on the counter down at Jones' Drug Store last week. "Writing three at once, Doc?" I asked.

"No," Doc said, "you are—and the rest of the town. Those are for the boys from our town who are at the National Guard encampment."

"Everyone who comes in adds a line or two, and when a couple of pages are filled, I mail them. That way the boys hear from folks who might not write otherwise. They sure do enjoy it."

Buddy Poppy Sale Set For May 29

More than 1,000 VFW Buddy Poppies will go on sale here Saturday, May 29, by members of the Auxiliary of Post 6797, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Since 1922 the VFW has annually conducted a nation-wide sale of Buddy Poppies. The name "Buddy" was suggested by disabled veterans in government hospitals who assembled the little artificial flowers. Working together they reminded themselves and others they were doing it "in memory of their buddies." Their service and their inspiration gave birth to the VFW tradition that we "honor the dead by helping the living."

Funds raised from the sale of the poppies go to the post relief fund, the department service officer fund, the national service officer and rehabilitation fund and the national home for widows and orphans.

John Rogers is Buddy Poppy chairman for the VFW post, and Mrs. Virgil Priddy for the Auxiliary.

LETTERS To The EDITOR

Dear Editor: Last week the Post Dispatch ran a front page article entitled "Unmixed Bathing Time Is Allowed." The implications of the article are: 1. The mornings will be reserved at the swimming pool for unmixed bathing ("unmixed" referring not to race but gender); 2. Though previously discussed by the city commission, the decision came as a result of the Post Ministerial Alliance request.

The above implications are not my understanding of the policies to be followed at the swimming pool. My conclusions came as a result of two ministerial alliance meetings and three private discussions. On May 3rd by a majority vote the Alliance passed a recommendation that the city commission consider allowing some time for unmixed bathing. Though this recommendation was passed, not all the ministers present voted for it. On May 6th the Alliance met with Mayor T. L. Jones and city water superintendent Henry Tate. At this meeting it became evident that the ministers were by no means unanimously in favor of an unmixed swimming policy.

The Alliance agreed that previous action taken by the commission on party type swimming periods would suit the varied church policies and a motion in this regard was passed unanimously. In addition to the above meetings I discussed the matter privately with Mayor Jones, Henry Tate and Vernon Ray, the swimming pool manager.

The conclusions are: 1. The pool is to be open afternoons and evenings for anyone desiring to swim. 2. The pool will be used in the mornings for two purposes—swimming instructions and private parties. Private parties consist of any group, mixed or unmixed, with the exception of the colored race that desire to reserve the pool.

With many others, I congratulate all who are responsible for the planning and building of the swimming pool. This form of recreation is needed by our town. I am hopeful that either the city commission or the pool manager will more clearly define the morning uses of the pool as to times for swimming instructions, times for private parties, cost of such instruction and party time and other morning policies.

Sincerely yours,
Gerald N. Blackburn
First Presbyterian Church

Annual Rodeo—

(Continued From Front Page) Business firms and organizations wishing to enter parade floats still have time to order material through the Chamber of Commerce office, parade chairman Tom Power and Powell Shytles said this week.

Dances will be held each night during the rodeo on a pavilion newly enclosed by a cyclone-type fence. There will be a good dance band and plenty of dancing room, according to Mike E. Custer, dance chairman.

Prospects are good, officers and directors say, for the best rodeo ever held here. Recent drought-busting rains have brightened the economic outlook in addition to putting the rodeo grounds in tiptop shape.

H-SU GRADUATES

Monday morning's attendance was 196 and though it was raining Tuesday morning, 157 were present. The work that the children are doing is of a greater degree of quality than in the past. School will continue through May 26 and commencement exercises will be at 7:30 o'clock that evening. Pastor Shahan will speak at both services next Lord's Day. You are invited and urged to attend these worship services. Visitors are always welcome."

Band Rodeo Dates Are Set

LAND (Sp.) — Midland's annual World's Champion Rodeo will be held June 2, 3 and 4. It has been announced by Frank Cowden, Jr., president of Midland Fair, Inc., sponsor of the annual show.

Midland's biggest attraction will get under way at 3 p. m. June 2, with the annual parade. The show's 20-year history, with its parade of floats, attraction of the parade, and its giant balloon figures of favorite and well-known persons. The first of five night performances will begin at 8 o'clock that night.

Lightning C Ranch rodeo stock will be used again this year and the $11,000 purses and prizes will attract the world's top cowhands, sponsors say.

Census taking in ancient times often was followed by conscription or high taxes and the process often was bitterly resisted.

SPORTS FLASHES

"Who's On First Base?" Asks The Sporting News

The Cleveland Indians switched Al Rosen from third base to first base. Eddie Stanky, St. Louis Cardinals manager, instructs Ray Jablonski, not a star at third, to learn first base for protection. Casey Stengel winds up a tough game for the New York Yankees with an outfielder, Irv Noren, at first.

It would seem as if anybody can play first, or so the managers indicate, says a feature story in the current issue of The Sporting News. This is rather disturbing to Charlie Grimm, Milwaukee manager and a top first baseman himself back when a first baseman was a first baseman and not anybody with a nodding acquaintance with the guy who ran the team.

"When I played," Grimm reminisced, "we had first class regulars at first base in both leagues, and we were loaded with them. Now any Joe seems to get a chance at first. Well, I know it is not any old man's home out there at first, and I think the tipoff on all these experiments is how many of these first basemen stick at the job."

Let's look back with The Sporting News to 1921, when Grimm was getting set on the job. He hit .274, and was coming strong. In the National League, the Giants had George Kelly (.268), the Cards Jack Fournier (.343), the Reds Jake Daubert (.306), the Cubs Ray Grimes (.321), the Dodgers Ray Schmidt (.309), the Phils Ed Komensky (.298) and the Braves the weak man with the stick that year in Walter Holke (.264).

The American League array went with the reliable and greatest of them all George Sisler (.371) with the Browns, and George Burns (.363) and Dick Johnson (.267) with the Indians, Lu Blue (.298) with the Tigers, Stuffy McInnis (.317) with the Red Sox, Earl Shively (.304) with the White Sox, Honey Walker (.304) with the Athletics, Joe Judge (.303) with the Senators and Wally Pipp (.296) with the Yankees.

The Sporting News story says that many of the current first base guardians are not first basemen—they're merely players in a show. They catch the throw and then blindly poke the ball for the bag. Branch Rickey recently appraised the important parts of a ball club, and then added shrewdly with the seeming afterthought, "and then there is first base."

The St. Louis Cardinals might not be the leading National League, but can anybody beat the time it takes them to play the game? Through their first 23 contests, the Redbirds had an average playing time of 170 hours and 58 minutes.

Gabe Paul of the Cincinnati Redlegs comes up with this bit of wisdom: "The hard part of making good is that you have to do it every day."

If nothing else, says the Sporting News, the Pirates can claim players who are members of two of the largest families in the major leagues. Pitcher George O'Donnell comes from a healthy group of eight girls and 539 boys, while outfielder Jerry Lynch is one of 12 children.

Area Soldiers On Maneuvers

Two West area soldiers, Pfc. Earl E. Carey and John H. Shaw, are taking part in "Exercise Spearhead," large scale Army training maneuvers being held this month at Fort Hood, Tex.

Primarily an armored exercise centered around the 1st "Old Ironsides" Armored Division, Spearhead will test the utilization of personnel and equipment in a modern armored division under simulated combat conditions.

Pfc. Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Carey of Route 2, Post, is a survivor in the division's 91st Armored Field Artillery Battalion.

Pfc. Shaw, whose wife, Opal, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shaw, live in Post, is a truck driver in the division's 73rd Field Artillery Battalion. He entered the Army in February of 1933.

It is believed the Chinese were first to produce an alloy of nickel, copper and zinc which they called "paktong," but which was later called German silver and is now called nickel silver.

Post Wood Bees Score Easy Victory Over Snyder Magnolia Oilers, 9-1

Getting off to a fast start by scoring four runs in the first inning, the Post Wood Bees defeated Snyder's Magnolia Oilers, 9 to 1, here Sunday afternoon to remain undefeated.

The visitors took a 1-0 lead in the opening half of the first frame when they scored their only run. Billy Ramage, Post pitcher, walked Burns, who scored on Strange's double with two out. A double play, Ramage to Shortstop Shorty Hester to First Baseman C. Harper, had wiped out two base runners earlier in the inning.

Singles by Right Fielder Buddy Hays and Catcher Paul Duren, accounted for the Wood Bees' four runs in the first inning. Center Fielder Hugh Ingram, Third Baseman Alton Taylor, Hays and Left Fielder Nolan Williams, crossed the plate.

Ramage pitched five-hit ball the rest of the way to hold the Oilers scoreless while he and his teammates were collecting six hits and five runs off Epperson and Claybrook. Snyder chumpers.

Mills scored in the second inning after Taylor had lofted a fly to the outfield. The Wood Bee second baseman had walked, stolen second and gone to third on a passed ball.

Singles by Mills, Harper and Ramage accounted for two more runs in the fifth inning. Single runs were added in the sixth and eighth frames to complete the scoring.

Judging Of Rodeo Is Exacting Job

Rodeo judging is no job for an amateur.

Usually former rodeo contestants, they are familiar with all the "angles" taking place in the fast-moving arena show—and they rate the contestants severely.

Judges are stationed at various vantage points in an arena, an arrangement that provides a keen-eyed view of every angle of performing by the contestants. They judge by both the point system and the time system.

From the time a wildly bucking bronc jet propels itself out of a chute the rider and his bronc are watched closely by the judges until the ride is ended. It may end with the rider on the ground and glowering at a vicious bronc, or the rider may be whisked to a pick-up horse when the time horn blows.

When a call rushes out of a gale with a horn-borne report fast in pursuit, the judges tense to await the result. The rider's task, with the aid of a trained roping horse, is to rope, throw and tie the fighting calf as quickly as he can. Three legs have to be secured and every split-second counts.

When a judge's flag is waved in a circle over his head, the timers click their stop-watches. And because the judges know the rodeo sport inside out, their decisions are rarely questioned by the contestants.

Judging roping and riding events in next week's Post Stampede and Rodeo will be Charles Miller of Snyder, Weldon Johnson of Denver, Colo., and Sonny Name of Ringling, Okla. Cutting horse contest judges will be Robert Corbett of Breckenridge and Emory Birdwell of Palo Pinto.

Renew National 4-H Awards Programs

Two additional national 4-H award programs have been renewed by the State Extension Service for 1954.

The programs and the donors are: 4-H Citizenship, in honor of Thos. E. Wilson, chairman of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, and Community Relations, Gene Autry and Wm. Wrigley, Jr. Co.

In both programs, each boy and girl state winner receives a Certificate of Honor. Eight state winners in Community Relations will be selected for a sectional award, which is an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November.

The two national winners—a boy and a girl—in each of the programs will receive a $300.00 college scholarship.

County Extension agents will furnish complete information on these programs.
