VOLUME XVII POST, TEXAS "OUT WHERE THE WEST IS THE WEST" THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1944 "THE GATEWAY TO THE PLAINS" NUMBER 10

TERRACING DEMONSTRATION

Wallace Kimbrough, County Agent of Texas A & M College Extension Service

Terracing construction demonstration will be held on the Percy farm located about two and a half miles west of Post on Lubbock highway Wednesday, February 16th. The purpose of the demonstration is to make terraces promptly, thereby saving time, fuel, and labor. This would allow terraces to be built with the least amount of equipment.

R. Bentley, Agricultural Engineer from Texas A & M College Extension Service will be in charge of the educational part of the program and will supervise the demonstration. He will show how terraces can be put in most efficiently. This meeting is of interest to farmers and farm-land graders operators who will be attending.

Since there is a shortage of equipment in the county, this heavy equipment cannot build all the terraces needed by farmers, maybe some farmers have equipment on their own that they can build their terraces with provided they are shown how to properly use the equipment.

Mr. Wright has agreed to bring tractor and plow to the demonstration and it is hoped that a tractor can be obtained for demonstration.

Power's Food Store Sold To Home Town Men Feb. 7

The Power's Food Store was sold Monday to B. M. Robinson, H. A. Karpe and A. B. Haws. Robinson, who has been connected with the store for 3 years will be manager of the grocery department, Karpe will be manager of the market department and H. D. Moreman will be in charge of the produce department. Haws will continue to operate the Haws Dry Goods and Variety Store.

The managers have announced that the store will be called The Pure Food Market. The same policies of operation will be followed as those formerly employed by the late Jim Power, who had been in the grocery business in Post almost continuously for more than a quarter century.

The store is one of the most up-to-date in this section of the state and has all modern facilities for giving the public the very best service. Not only is the grocery department modern in every respect with commodious refrigerator counters but the meat department is serviced by one of the finest models of refrigerator counters on the market. The egg and cream department too is arranged to give quick, efficient service to its customers. All staple and fancy groceries and popular trade name brands are stocked in the store. Ample space surrounding the store provides parking space for a large number of customers.

The new managers extend an invitation to the public to visit their store. They extend thanks to all customers and friends for their business and invite their continued patronage.

Personnel of the store in addition to the managers are: Mrs. B. M. Robinson, Bake Robinson, jr., and H. D. Moreman.

Girl's 4-H Club Work Introduced In Garza County Recently

Girls' 4-H Club work was introduced in Garza County January 28 and 31 when five groups of girls of the county were met by the County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Mabel Ann Manley, who discussed the purpose and aim of 4-H Club work for them.

These groups were: Post High school girls, Post Grade school girls, Southland High and Grade school girls, Close City girls and Graham girls. The total attendance in these meetings was 169 girls. Approximately seventy per cent expressed a desire to become 4-H Club members. No organizations were set up but enrollment cards were given to all of those that expressed a desire to become members.

Each group will meet with the County Home Demonstration Agent again in February to organize 4-H Clubs.

Treasury Of State In Good Condition

The state treasurer reported warrants outstanding against its 116 funds it would have $23,522,473 left, based on the condition of the treasury on January 31.

The state treasurer reported cash of $50,479,963 in all funds with outstanding warrants of $2,957,489. Only the general revenue fund was in the red with a deficit of $16,827,030.

Farm Machinery Production

Farm machinery production for the year beginning July 1, will be about the same as for the current year, but the War Production Board warns that the recent schedules issued may be altered any time should circumstances demand such action. More than one million tons of carbon steel production is now tentatively earmarked for the American farmer.

Labor Needs Of Agriculture

The largest single increase in total labor requirements is the seasonal demand in agriculture, according to a recent War Manpower Commission survey of the nation's manpower needs for the first half of 1944. Between January and July about 3 million persons will be needed for farm employment. The bulk of this labor will be supplied by women and young persons.

Red Cross To Start Membership Drive On March 15th

Dean A. Robinson, chairman of the Garza County Red Cross Membership Drive announced last week that the drive would open in this county on March 15.

The national goal this year has been set for two hundred million dollars; the quota for this county has not yet been announced. This amount is the largest fund ever requested by the American Red Cross but in view of the fact that the organization is operating on the largest scale in history this sum is deemed necessary. The scope of the Red Cross field of work needs no explaining. They are servicing the furthest outposts in this global war and amazing reports from soldiers, sailors and marines in these areas justify the claims of the Red Cross that no place where there is a need is inaccessible to the Red Cross.

The chairman will probably lay plans for the county-wide drive within a short time.

Women Urged To Study OPA Rules For Waste Fat Turn-In

Now that the Office of Price Administration and the War Production Board have authorized the allowance of 2 ration points as well as 4 cents a pound for used kitchen fat, the procedure for the homemaker is simple.

Take surplus household fat to the meat dealer in clean tin can and collect money and points. There are no forms to fill out. The ration points received may be spent in any store selling meat, fats and oils or other rationed commodities.

OPA asks that fats be melted and strained, and states that fats that are discolored, burned, highly flavored, or strong in odor are just as satisfactory as clear fats.

Fats should be taken to meat dealers in clean tin cans, not glass containers, OPA advises, and less than one meat point (for less than one half pound of household fat) will not be given. For instance 1½ pounds of fat will be worth 3 points. However, one pound and 5 ounces will be worth only two points.

The meat dealer will weigh both the can and the fat. To determine the weight of the fat, he must subtract the weight of the can. The weight of the various sizes of tin cans is:

- Size 1, the typical soup can, holds 10 ounces and weighs 2.2 ounces.
- Size 1½ can, such as used for dog food, holds 16 ounces and weighs 2.7 ounces.
- Size 2 can, standard for food, holds 20 ounces and weighs 3.8 ounces.
- Size 2½, tomato or fruit can, holds 28 ounces and weighs 4.5 ounces.
- Size 3, quart can for fruit or vegetables, weighs 5.3 ounces.
- Size 4 can, used for vegetable or fruit juices, holds 48 or 50 ounces and weighs 7.0 ounces.

There are now nearly 17,000 Fat Salvage committees in the United States. In case of any question, a woman should consult her nearest committee or her local War Price and Rationing board.

Wooten said.

Mr. and Mrs. Floice Drake and Mrs. Edward Hogan of Lubbock were guests of Post friends Saturday.

Poland After The War?

NEW YORK—According to plans announced by Moscow, Poland after-the-war will look something like this. Russia proposes as Poland's new eastern boundaries, the so-called Curzon line suggested by the late Lord Curzon in 1919. The black shaded areas (center bottom and center top) are those parts of Poland which she would retain from the line of demarcation set by the German-Russian treaty of 1939, and which in other respects matches the Curzon line. To the west Poland would be enlarged by the acquisition of East Prussia and Silesia, including the Danzig corridor.

To the People of this Community YOU CAN AFFORD IT

You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds during this Fourth War Loan Drive.

Everyone in this community knows incomes are higher than ever before—that both workers and farmers have more cash than ever before. Everyone knows that more than one member of hundreds of families are income earners—and everyone knows that increases in wages and salaries have far outstripped rising prices, and increased taxes. You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds.

As a matter of fact, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra War Bonds. If you spend your money for needless, scarce goods, you are increasing prices. If you want to help with the war you can't afford NOT to buy War Bonds. If you want to help that boy in the service, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds and if you want a gilt-edged investment for your own future security, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra War Bonds.

Don't just do the expected—buy All the Bonds you can.

Post Girl Receives Silver Star Medal Awarded Husband

The Silver Star Medal, awarded to Captain James L. Minor last October, has been recently received by his wife, the former Marian Lee Mason. The following account of the action for which he received the award was released for publication by the Associated Press:

With the Fifth Army in Italy—Captain James L. Minor of Tule, Texas, has been awarded the Silver Star, third highest award given by the Army, for gallantry in action during the Fifth Army invasion of Italy.

Capt. Minor, who serves with the 36th Infantry Division, received the high award for outstanding service with his battalion in the vicinity of Altavilla, Italy.

While his battalion was repulsing a heavy enemy attack, Capt. Minor learned from his mortar observation post that supporting artillery was no longer firing. Front line troops, hard pressed in the intense enemy artillery, mortar and machine gun fire, were in need of artillery support.

Capt. Minor discovered that the wire between the artillery observation post and the radio control car was broken. He started tracing the broken line over a hill through severe artillery fire.

He repaired the line in numerous places with his pocket knife and medical adhesive tape. He then crawled over the crest of the hill, under observation and fire from the enemy, to inform the observer that communications were restored. Capt. Minor then made his way back to the radio car, verifying the establishment of communications.

"His magnificent courage, initiative, and physical stamina," the citation read, "enabled the artillery to resume fire and materially assisted in stemming the hostile attack."

The only two medals ranking above the Silver Star are the Congressional Medal of Honor, usually awarded posthumously, and the Distinguished Service Medal. The Silver Star is awarded to any member of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard who has distinguished himself conspicuously by gallantry and intrepidity in action against an armed enemy.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Cora Smith Held Here Sunday

Mrs. Cora Smith, 71, a widow living in Brownfield and her 50-year-old step-daughter, Mrs. Quinley Dunlap, were found brutally murdered in the yard of their home by neighbors about 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, February 2. Both women were slashed by an ax or hatchet on the head, death being evidently instantaneous.

Mrs. Smith's only son, Baylis, died just before Christmas and Mrs. Dunlap, who lived in Los Angeles, California, arrived in Brownfield last week to take her to Los Angeles with her.

Will C. (Dick) Brown was arrested February 4 in a cafe in Denver City. He was lodged in the Brownfield jail. Charges will be filed against him for double murder.

Mrs. Smith had lived in Brownfield four or five years. Prior to that time she had lived in the Cross Roads community, near Post, for more than twenty years.

The funeral for Mrs. Cora Smith was held in the Methodist church of Post on Sunday, February 6, at 2 o'clock and she was buried at Terrace cemetery.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Young of Draw, assisted by Rev. I. A. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church in Post.

The pall bearers were all cousins who live in Garza county.

Out of town relatives who attended the funeral were Mrs. Roy of Levelland and Oden.

Survivors are one step-daughter who lives in California and could not attend the funeral and several cousins and second cousins.

Mr. Quinley Dunlap left the Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home of Lubbock Sunday with the body of Mrs. Dunlap to take it to California for burial.

Forty-One States To Have Service Ballot

Forty-one states either have or will make adequate provisions for absentee balloting by service personnel. Senator Byrd (D-Va) told the Senate last week.

He gave this report on the basis of a poll of governors. Three governors, Arkansas, Louisiana, Michigan, did not reply. Byrd said, however, he had placed Michigan among the 41 because Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) had informed him the state intends to act.

Byrd submitted the poll in support of his plea for state control of the soldiers' vote, charging that the Green-Lucas federal ballot measure would create "military mass voting."

The five states which Byrd did not list among those which have taken action or contemplating it in time are Alabama, New Mexico, Tennessee, Texas, and Wyoming.

CONSIDER USE OF WAR PRISONERS

Possibility of using prisoners of war in farming and industry in U. S. areas where free labor is not available have been studied by representatives of WMC and the War Department. Limited use of prisoners on farms was begun last summer. The employer is required to pay the wage prevailing in his community, and the prisoner gets credit of 80 cents a day for personal expenditures, the remainder going to the government for camp maintenance.

Miss Norma Lane who is attending Texas Tech spent the week end with Miss Jackie Thomas.

Mrs. Jess Cornell and baby spent a few days in Colorado City with Mrs. Hilton Hunslee.

Amarillo Soldier Grateful To The People Of Post

Amarillo Air Base
Friday, Feb. 4
To the People of Post:

I just wanted to write a few lines to the people in and around Post, Texas. I (a soldier) was hitchhiking home one nite and got as far as Post. I was financially embarrassed (naturally) and the people I rode with offered to buy my bus ticket to my destination. I didn't want them to, but they insisted, and when I was waiting in the bus station, people offered me drinks and fountain dishes, and you really don't know how soldiers appreciate those things. If people all over the world were like you, there would never be any sort of war.

This is the second time this has happened to be in this particular city and I really appreciate it. This may never be read, or it might be published in a paper, but just the same I have the satisfaction of knowing I wrote it. Here's luck to the people of Post and vicinity.

As ever,

Staff Sergeant Chester L. Pennell who is serving with Fifth Army in Italy wrote to his brother Donald L. Pennell of Southland recently that the things he is seeing "beats the newsreels." He continued in his letter dated Dec. 16, "Gets kinda hot here some times. I haven't received the cigarettes yet but I can sure use them when they arrive. I smoke quite a bit since I got in this shooting match. It rains a lot here, but I feel fine. Would like to see Robert in his uniform. Tell everyone hello for me and do write often."

Christmas Party For Italian Children Held By Soldiers

Sgt. James Terry in a letter to his wife written soon after Christmas from "Somewhere in Italy" told of having a Christmas party for a group of Italian children after the soldiers had enjoyed a grand Christmas dinner. "There were about 20 children from a little village nearby. We gave them sandwiches, candy and chewing gum and did they enjoy it! These people over here are in pretty bad shape and all of us can appreciate what a wonderful country we are fighting to keep. If all these folks who are striking could see a few things that we see there would be less strikes."

Record Egg Crop Expected

Pick Cave, Enjoy Winter in Italy

Put There Is Not Enough To Go Around as Nazis Are Slow to Move.

ON THE ITALIAN FRONT—If you are planning to spend the winter on the front, what you need is a good cave.

Of course, you just don't go out and pick one from the nearest real estate agent. It's a first come, first served basis, and the Jerries—having planned to spend the winter here—are a little stubborn about giving up their caves, says an AP correspondent. Even when they do, there aren't nearly enough to go around, and thousands of soldiers up here have never spent a single night inside a cave.

This is a community cave high on the hillside. About 50 officers sleep here, most of them liaison men between the command post and the front. They've covered the mouth of the cave with canvas shelter halves which keep out the weather and hide the candle glow.

Bed Rolls on Floor.

Cots and bed rolls are scattered all over the sandy floor; there is a poker game going on in the back, a quiz contest in progress along one side, and a lot of guys lying around reading or writing letters home.

I have an old "C" ration box for a typewriter stand and niches in the wall for candle holders. Even if it lasts only for a few days it's the best deal I have found anywhere along the front. It's warm, dry and cheerful, safe and even the constant sound of nearby guns seems distant and muffled.

Outside it's cold and bleak and raining and you never know when a shell fragment might rip a hole in your tent and let the rain in.

The only trouble is that it's a terrific grind to get up here. Steps have been dug into the 60-degree angle hill but still, with a bed roll, musette bag, and other equipment, it's a long labored upward trek.

"Once you get here though, it's worth it," said Lieut. Don B. Hankins of San Antonio, who had just come in from smoking a cigarette on the ledge outside. "A man ought to always sit on his front porch and smoke a while every night," he said.

Candle Shadows Flicker.

Lieuts. Robert W. Plunkett of St. Paul and Roger Sheppard of Rochester, N. Y., are arguing heatedly over whether those two Greek characters made their fatal flight on wings of wax purely as a scientific experiment or because the sheriff was hot on their trail.

"Poker's going up, two kings bet five bucks," said Lieut. Harold Zukker of the Bronx, N. Y., from the back of the cave.

"I'll see it," says Lieut. Tom J. Bostock of Elizabeth, N. J.

"Reckon I'll have to buy another card, too," said Lieut. Col. Edwin N. Harris of El Paso, Texas. Their hands reaching across the army blanket on the cot make flickering candle-light shadows on the rocky walls and ceiling.

In the momentary silence, someone says, "Sure going to be tough when we move on and have to leave the cave."

Zukker wins the pot and the cards are reshuffled. Someone coughs in his sleep from the other side of the cave and it echoes eerily back from the dark rocky recesses.

The argument begins again; outside the rain drips off the rocky ledge and the guns keep rumbling.

Trail of Tough Luck Is Brought to End by Judge

HAGERSTOWN, MD.—Judge Joseph D. Mish listened to a long hard luck story from Max Turner, 19, agreed that Turner had had enough, and paroled him.

Convicted of stealing 5,000 cigarettes, Turner told the judge that he stole because he was in arrears in his grocery bill, that his uninsured horse was destroyed by fire, that his wife, a victim of infantile paralysis, fell and broke both legs, and that he himself suffers from bronchial asthma, and is 4-F in the draft.

Besides, Turner added, he must care for the baby while his wife is in bed.

Reports on Missing Are Due Every Ninety Days

WASHINGTON—The war department moved to assuage the anxiety of relatives of soldiers missing in action by announcing that hereafter reports on the status of the missing will be transmitted every three months. If new information becomes available, it will be transmitted immediately.

The system is being inaugurated so next of kin need not fear that communications from the war department have been lost or misdirected.

Cow's Hair Being Used In Clothing for Danes

Denmark also is making clothes out of paper. Flax is cultivated on 17,500 acres, the largest plantings in the last 100 years, and is providing the sewing yarn for the shoe industry.

"Heaven Can Wait" At Garza Theatre Sunday - Monday

"Heaven Can Wait," the new Ernst Lubitsch production showing Saturday night 11:30, Sunday and Monday at the Garza stars Gene Tierney and Don Ameche.

Halted as a saucy, sparkling story of the naughty, nifty nineties, "Heaven Can Wait" gives a peek through the keyhole at what made the gay old days so gay. Sparkling with forbidden adventure and stolen romance, the film reveals what went on after the ball was over—and the gas lights went out!

Lubitsch, according to those who have previewed the picture, has outdone himself—and in Hollywood the phrase has now been changed to the "Lubitsch wallow!"

Included in the cast are such outstanding actors as Charles Coburn, who enacts the role of the skeptical, fun-loving grandfather, Louis Calhern and Spring Byington as Don's mid-Victorian parents, while Eugene Pallette and Marjorie Main play Gene's father and mother, an amusing team of scrapping Kansas City folks. Allyn Joslyn portrays Don's insufferable, immaculate cousin.

All of her six children, who live between Hackberry and Lubbock, and many of her grandchildren were here. Also, her twin sister, Mrs. Cora Marton and a niece and nephew, Allie and Uilla Basinger of Oklahoma have visited her.

Mrs. Harvey Stotts received the phone message last Tuesday that her older brother had a leg amputated and pneumonia had set in. At 10:30 that night, she was informed that he was dead. Mrs. Stotts returned from Denton early Friday morning.

The Rev. Stanley, who has been pastor of the local Church of Christ since before Christmas, had to cancel his preaching date here last Sunday night because their baby has the chicken pox.

January 30th at a called conference, the local Baptist church called Rev. O. J. Harmonson as their supply pastor. Wednesday night in the regular monthly conference, the act was affirmed. The McGaws moved last week to Welch and the Harmonsons plan to move to the parsonage soon.

Sunday morning the Methodist church set the dates for their annual summer revival for Aug. 4 to 13.

His journey took him through Pennsylvania and New Jersey where he had fought many battles during the war for independence. Everywhere the people greeted him with gratitude and joy. When Washington went through towns little girls threw flowers in his path. At Philadelphia they entertained him with a great banquet. At Trenton they decorated the streets through which he rode. There were fire works and speeches. At New York Washington took the oath of office and promised to serve his country faithfully. Leon Miller, History, Grade 5

"FORGE AHEAD" IS THE COMMAND

That invincible spirit endowed to American soldiers is a heritage that delves deep into our Nation's history. It is embodied in the living memory of our country's father, George Washington. His spirit of faith and strength is a tribute to victories in the past... it fortifies us for the new victories to come. His command to "Forge ahead"—even in the face of danger or defeat—is the command our boys remember to turn any tide of events into brilliant triumphs... it shall always carry us through!

We, too, having the spirit and faith that our country is worth fighting for and will continue to forge ahead to render better and more efficient electric service in order that an early and complete Victory may be ours!

"You've earned some sort of medal yourself, I'd say, for giving lots of us drivers safe warning. Good thing you kept harping on rationing. You said limited driving couldn't keep clearing out the rank acids always left from combustion; they'd linger and corrode the engine. But you said that plating, of course, wouldn't soon let metals corrode. And you convinced me, all right, about keeping my engine OIL-PLATED with your patented Conoco Nth oil. Now my OIL-PLATED engine is seeing me through, and I say good for you!... helping the home front! They all should know how Conoco Nth gives engines protective OIL-PLATING!"

The how of it is that Conoco Nth motor oil—popular-priced—includes a costly modern synthetic. Its strong "power of attraction" fastens and maintains the OIL-PLATING on inner surfaces. Despite engine inactivity, the unavoidable acids aren't "working right through" the OIL-PLATING, and so the wartime risk of corrosion is cut! The more extras you're doing to hustle the boys home, the more you need your car and Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco Nth. OIL-PLATE today. Continental Oil Company

GET THE TAX DODGERS

A special session of the legislature has been called in California to consider various subjects, including a measure to permit state
taxation of Federal property.

When the Federal government confined its activities to the function of governing rather than entering into business competition with private citizens, its property used for governmental purposes was granted tax freedom.

Today, however, with the government going into commercial activity, a serious problem faces the states. Tax-exempt government business prevents the development of highly-taxed private enterprise. It enjoys the privilege of using all public facilities such as roads, schools, police service, fire protection, etc., without bearing any of their cost.

When government goes into business in competition with its own citizens, the products it manufactures and the property it utilizes for producing the same,
should bear the same tax burden
as does other business.

It is to be hoped that California
works out a plan for taxing gov-

JESUS ON THE MOUNTAIN AND IN THE VALLEY

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:3-8, 17-27.
GOLDEN TEXT—I believe; help thou mine unbelief.—Mark 9:24.

The vision of the mountain top prepares the believer for service down in the valley. "Where there is no vision the people perish," said the wise man of old (Prov. 29:18). For want of a true vision of God, a knowledge of His truth, and the God-given constraint which makes men give themselves in sacrificial service, the people will perish in their sins.

But let men come to know the truth as it is in Christ, learn to know Him as the Son of God glorious and powerful, and then let them translate their knowledge of Christian truth and their personal spiritual experiences into the daily ministry to the needs of their fellow men,
and there will be songs of salvation
and joy.

I. Knowing (vv. 2-7).

The transfiguration of Christ doubtless meant much to Him in preparation for His coming death and resurrection. It was a foregleam of His kingdom glory.

In this lesson we are concerned with the experience of the disciples
rather than the feelings of our Lord.
Fundamental in both Christian life
and service is a clear understanding of the person and work of Christ.
One may come to Christ knowing little more than that He is the divine Saviour, and one may enter into Christian living with a meager knowledge of the doctrines of the Bible. But the Christian who fails to grow in knowledge will not grow in grace as he should.

God sets no premium on ignorance, in fact it is quite evident that the great blight on the Christian church today is the appalling lack of understanding of God's Word.

The disciples came to a fuller conviction that He was the Son of God as they saw Him transfigured and heard the Father say, "This is my beloved Son." They learned more plainly the truth of His coming death for the sins of all mankind. They saw in the indescribable beauty of that moment the foregleam of His coming glory. What important truths these are—His deity—His redemption—His coming kingship. Do we have a clear grasp of these truths?
If not, let us search the Scriptures.

II. Growing (v. 8).

"Jesus only." He filled their vision and their hearts. They had made spiritual progress as they had seen His glory and heard the commending voice of the Father.

Great experiences of spiritual renewing and power are necessary to effective life and testimony. They may not be in outward manifestation, in fact they are more often in the inner recesses of the soul; but they transform men and send them
forth to magnificent living for God.
One wonders if much of the dearth of power in the Christian church is not to be attributed directly to the lack of such experiences with God.

The disciples had an unforgettable mountaintop experience. Even so have many others found the secret of power.

Let us remember that such privileges are not reserved for a few,
they are the birthright of every Christian. Power without knowledge is a dangerous and destructive thing, but knowledge without power is a dead thing.

Let us study God's Word, but let the truth be baptized in the overflowing spiritual power of a personal experience with God.

In regeneration all that Christ is
and has for us is made available.
If we have not taken out our inheritance let us do it at once.

III. Serving (vv. 17-27).

One of the lessons that seems hard to learn and to keep constantly effective in the life of a Christian is that mountaintop experiences of spiritual uplift are not an end in themselves, but a preparation for service. All too often we come to regard such times of peculiar blessing, whether in the privacy of our own room or in the great conference of Christian workers, as something which should glow warmly in our own hearts, making us glad in the Lord, and not as a preparation for ministry to others.

Jesus and the disciples went up to the place of prayer, into the place of glory, and down to the place of service. How fitting is that sequence.

Much confusion exists in the church because those who have foolishly abandoned God's Word and substituted the energy of the flesh for spiritual power have been most diligent in service to humanity;
while those who know and accept the truth about Christ, and who profess to believe in the power of the spirit-filled life, have failed to serve their needy neighbors.

"But Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him up" (v. 27). Verses 28 and 29 indicate that the disciples might have done the same by believing in prayer.

UNCLE SAM'S STAR SALESMEN

A few years ago no one would have thought it possible for this country to raise tens of billions of dollars voluntarily by public contribution within a space of days. It has not only been proven possible, but has been done more than once—we are now conducting the Fourth War Loan Drive with a minimum goal of $14,000,- 000.

Of course the demands of war
are the driving force behind bond sales, but those demands alone would not suffice. No small share of credit for raising the money must go to the magnificent promotional efforts of the most efficient salesman in the world—the American businessman. His ability is legendary. Before the war he roamed the world. He sold everything under the sun
from washing machines to hat pins. His customers ranged from head hunters to Eskimos.

What is more natural than when faced with the biggest selling job
in history, the American business man should come through with flying colors? Perhaps nowhere are his energies and abilities more evident than in bond selling.

The entire nation can be thankful that American salesmanship is offered unqualifiedly in helping the government raise needed war revenue.

"LET US DO OUR DUTY AS WE

Abraham Lincoln was a clear-sighted, practical man. And also one of the greatest humanitarians America has ever known. His duty as he performed it, was to consistently reject and fight against deceit and selfish greed, to uphold our democracy's doctrine of freedom. That is evident in his supreme acts of statesmanship in national crisis of the past. As a soldier in his youth, as president later, Lincoln knew the real horror of warfare. His pleas for legislation to make the Civil War "short, sharp and decisive," gave sound to his animosity to all that war meant... gave voice to his courage
... in preserving liberty and justice at even so great a cost. Lincoln's enemies again ravish peace-loving peoples today, in the form of the vicious Axis powers. Let us honor Abraham Lincoln's name in deed, by doing "our duty as we understand it"! Our duty this instant is to give our gallant fighting men all the support we possibly can... in war equipment to win this war! Buy War Bonds and more War Bonds, now!

For the past 25 years this country's boasted high standard of living has been slipping downward toward the level of that of continental Europe. It will continue to do so unless the program of soil conservation and restoration is more widely understood and practiced. There is no longer any free land to take up, exploit greedily, and destroy. Americans have got to preserve and store what is left to them, or go further and further down the scale of living standards.

Erratic and limited rainfall, high winds, high evaporation, and variations in temperature during growing seasons—these are special conditions that are found over the Plains as well as in the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, and all have worked together with the soil. With the farmers, it has not been a case of trying the land rather than serving it. Many have been blessed, caught in a mesh of economic circumstances. Driven by the need to get an income sufficient to pay their taxes, debts and living expenses, they were forced to the land in ways that exposed it to washing and blowing.

To alleviate these conditions and to provide the farmers with assistance in combating erosion on this farm, the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District was formed. Emphasis is made on soil conservation practices that increase production, and can be included with as little expenditure of labor and machinery as possible. Since the inception of the Soil Conservation Service, and from experimental results, farmers and agricultural workers have observed that the applications of wise land use and coordinated conservation measures increased the productivity of land, gradually where erosion and depletion were most severe, but in most cases the first year after treatment. The fact is that we do not yet know the full possibilities of increased production through conservation, nor have we envisioned all the changes which conservation may bring to agriculture of the future. Soil and water conservation and wise land use may be important factors in determining economic unit size, population density, and general farming patterns. Today, as since the beginning of time, soil and agriculture are the foundation of all else.

Ted Ray and Ardie Long, co-operators with the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, started to build terraces on their farms north of Post with a two disk plow last week, but found the soil too wet to plow. However, they plan to try again as soon as possible. They are exchanging labor and machinery in order to get the job done. They hope to set their terraces built in time to store the water from the expected spring rains in the ground and keep it from running off and washing their land.

Mrs. T. W. Childress and son Houston of Tulla visited Post friends last week.

Doll Up Canned Goods, Too

By Mabel Ann Manley, Garza County Home Demonstration Agent, Cooperative Extension Service of Texas A. & M.

If the Gallup Poll on home canning is correct, three-fifths of the families in this country did some home food preservation last year. And the average per family was 165 jars or cans.

Winter-time means homemakers are making raids on their pantry shelves and if fresh fruits and vegetables are short in some sections it may be necessary to "Jazz Up" some dishes to keep them popular on the family menu sheet.

Specialists of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service say the way canned food is prepared has a lot to do with its interest. And there are as many ways to prepare canned vegetables as fresh ones. Green beans, for instance, can be browned in butter, scalloped, creamed with onions or marinated with onions for a salad. Corn is adaptable, too—suitable in fritters, baked, with tomatoes in a casserole, or in an omelette.

Hominy combines well with tomatoes or cheese, and hominy loaf is a good energy food.

Thirty-nine recipes have been compiled by Hazel Phipps, Extension specialist in food preparation in a folder entitled "Attractive Ways to Served Canned Vegetables." Individual recipes are obtainable from county home demonstration agents, or a limited number of the leaflets are available from Extension Service headquarters at College Station.

Come On, America!

It's 1944!

THIS is what we've been working for all along. This is the year to hit and hurt the enemy. This is the time when everything you do counts double. If we all get together and do all we can, we'll be over this hurdle and well on our way to complete and crushing victory.

No question about the men in uniform—they'll go "all out." But can we count on you to back them all the way? Your quota is where you work—you've got to buy your War Bonds and then buy more, until every last loose cent you have is fighting. Tough? Of course, it's tough—unless it is a sacrifice you're simply not doing your share!

Make the sacrifice now—buy more than the extra $100 Bond your country counts on you for—winning the war is worth any sacrifice you make. Besides, you aren't giving, you're lending to America! You'll get back every dollar you invest in War Bonds, with interest.

An extra $100 War Bond now is the minimum for everybody—can't we count on you for more?

This sticker in your window means you have bought 4th War Loan securities.

Autos, Bicycles, Tires, Gasoline

February quota of new passenger automobiles is 10,000, two-thirds of the January quota, and of new bicycles is 7,500, one half of the January quota, the Office of Price Administration has announced. Except for a decrease of approximately one-fourth in the number of used and reclaimed (grade III) passenger tires, February quotas for tires and tubes are about the same as for January. Essential truck operators in areas where tire recapping facilities are inadequate or unavailable may obtain a ration certificate permitting them to exchange with dealers a tire which needs recapping for a used tire or a new "war" tire. Automobile drivers hereafter will find that the purpose for which they drive, rather than the distance they drive, will determine their eligibility for tires. Motorists may now use indelible pencil as well as ink to write their license numbers and state of registration on each gasoline coupon. Motorists must now present their tire inspection records when applying for special gasoline rations.

American Engineers to Complete Uruguay's Dam

With American engineering replacing German, a dam which will more than double Uruguay's power supply is expected to begin delivering power in 1945, following installation of a 30,400-kilowatt waterwheel generator.

Located on the Black river, which crosses the entire country from northeast to northwest, the dam eventually will house four generators delivering a total of 121,600 kilowatts. The project is expected to develop expansion of industry elsewhere in the nation and electrification of rural areas. It will also provide flood control, irrigation for farm lands, and navigation for delivering farm and ranch products to market, and manufactured goods to sparsely populated districts.

When contracts for the project were awarded in 1934 most of them went to a group of German manufacturers and the dam proper was nearly completed at the site chosen—Rincón del Bonete, in the department of Tacuarembó—when the war brought work to a standstill.
