11-Mile Stretch Highway 380 To Be Rebuilt

The Texas Highway Department has secured approval for re-construction of U. S. Highway 380 from Post to a point 11 miles east and is seeking an agreement from the Garza County commissioners' court to secure right-of-way, according to a letter received this week from the Department by County Judge Oscar Graham.

The Department informed the county that plans are to widen the road on the north side and that a 20-foot strip of right-of-way is needed on that side. They point out that widening of the road on the north side will cut in half the expense of moving fences.

It is also believed that these plans will make moving of power lines unnecessary and will permit lengthening of culverts on only one end. This will make unnecessary the removal and re-building of protection work now in place at the downstream end of these structures, the Department points out.

Widening and strengthening the 11-mile stretch will cost in excess of $250,000, according to the Highway Department. The letter states that since a new bridge has been built east of Post over the Yellowhouse River, the Department would like to provide a modern road with asphalt-surfaced shoulders and a total width of 40 feet.

Judge Graham said the Highway Department's request for right-of-way agreement probably would be acted on by the commissioners court at its next meeting, May 11.

May 18-22 Is Designated 'Clean-Up Week' In Post

Post city officials this week designated May 18-22 as the five-day period for the city's annual clean-up drive—designed to eliminate health hazards and at the same time make the city more attractive for the hundreds of rodeo visitors expected the following week.

Citizens will be asked to spend the first four days of the week—Monday through Thursday—cleaning up about their premises and piling the accumulated trash where it can be picked up and hauled away on Friday.

In last year's clean-up campaign, a number of trucks were made available for hauling away the trash and are expected to be on hand when needed again this year.

Mayor T. L. Jones said Wednesday that he will appoint clean-up campaign committees in time for them to be announced in next week's Dispatch.

While it is hoped and generally expected that no widespread polio or other disease outbreaks will occur in the state this summer, State Health Department officials are requesting all communities to conduct clean-up programs to eliminate fly and other insect breeding places and to cut down on health hazards.

Grand Jury Returns Single Indictment

A Garza County grand jury, in session only a few hours Wednesday, returned one indictment—a forgery charge against G. E. Stephens.

Shortly after the indictment was returned, Stephens pleaded guilty to the charge and was given a two-year probation sentence by District Judge Louis B. Reed.

Judge Reed also sentenced Kenneth Finchum to two years in prison for theft. Finchum pleaded guilty to the charge several weeks ago, but Judge Reed has passed sentence until this court session.

Members of the grand jury are: W. S. Duckworth, George Carpenter, Roland Sullenger, S. E. Camp, Charley Bowen, Clint Herring, Floyd H. Hodges, L. A. Nance, D. H. Mayfield, Victor Hudman, Harold Lucas and Truett Fry.

Worst Dust Storm In Recent Years Hits; Chokes Area And Erases Signs Of Rain

The exact opposite to the kind of weather the area needs most moved in Tuesday in the form of one of the worst dust storms in recent years, and up to 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon still hadn't let up to any appreciable degree.

Strong winds pushed the choking dust into the Post area shortly before mid-morning Tuesday and by noon the city and surrounding territory was gasping through a real "old-timer"—one of the type which brought the Dust Bowl its name.

Visibility was almost zero at times Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning, A peculiarity of the dust storm has been the way in which it casts a pall of almost complete darkness for a few minutes, lifts for awhile, and then darkens the landscape again.

Among other things, the "duster" has completely erased signs of last week's rain, which left .44 of an inch moisture to bring the year's total for Post to 2.57 inches.

Members of the grand jury are: W. S. Duckworth, George Carpenter, Roland Sullenger, S. E. Camp, Charley Bowen, Clint Herring, Floyd H. Hodges, L. A. Nance, D. H. Mayfield, Victor Hudman, Harold Lucas and Truett Fry.

SIX-YEAR-OLDS TO VISIT SCHOOL MAY 8

The Ralls High School band will present a program in an assembly at Post High School at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday, May 5. Principal C. D. Lee announced.

The band's appearance here will be the Ralls High School's part of an assembly exchange program, the Post High School a cappella choir having presented a program there a few weeks ago.

The exact opposite to the kind of weather the area needs most moved in Tuesday in the form of one of the worst dust storms in recent years, and up to 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon still hadn't let up to any appreciable degree.

Pre-Registration Day Is Set

Pre-school children, accompanied by their parents, will visit the first grade rooms and other rooms and departments of the building in order to familiarize themselves with the surroundings preparatory to entering school next September.

"The procedure will somewhat parallel that of the first day of school for those beginning pupils," Mills said.

There will also be separate meetings for the parents during the pre-registration round-up. Speakers will include the principal, Mrs. Travis Everett, school health nurse, and a representative of the Parent Teacher Association.

"In addition to other information, the correct names, addresses, etc., of each pre-school child will be listed in order to make registration simpler at the beginning of the 1953-54 school year," the principal said.

Parents of all children who will be six years old on or before next Sept. 1 are urged to bring them to the round-up.

Post Bandsmen To Compete In Area Contests

Director Bob Robbin's Post High School band will wind up a busy period of activities Saturday by competing in the Texas Interscholastic League, Region 1, instrumental music contest at Plainview.

The contests will follow by only a few days the band banquet held Tuesday night and by little more than a week the annual spring concert presented last Thursday night.

The 55-piece band will leave about 1 p. m. Saturday, arriving in Plainview in time to go into a warm-up session for the concert and sight-reading contests scheduled for 5 o'clock, Robbin said. The band is to compete in the marching contest at 9:15 o'clock.

Soloists from the local band who will compete are Tommy Mayfield, clarinet; Carolyn Winkler, alto saxophone; Gene Young, cornet; Bobby Dunlap and Kenneth Mills, French horns; Jimmy Bowen, baritone horn, and Freda Kennedy, twirling.

Peak School Enrollment Sign Of More Crowding In Future

A peak enrollment of 333 in Post High School this school year makes extremely over-crowded conditions in the building during the 1953-54 school year a virtual certainty, Principal C. D. Lee said Tuesday.

"We were over-crowded even before reaching this year's peak enrollment," Lee said. "Next year, we expect a minimum of 375 students and a maximum of not less than 410."

At the same time, reports from Principal Ellis M. Mills of the Post Grade School point to extremely over-crowded conditions in that building next year.

"Our peak enrollment this school year has been about 630—which is approximately 100 more students than the 18-classroom building was meant to accommodate," Mills said. "The huge increase in the number of pre-school children counted in the 1953 scholastic census indicates that the over-crowded condition will be even worse next year."

Peak enrollment in the high school grades this year has been as follows, according to figures released by Lee: Senior, 53; junior, 50; sophomore, 79; freshman, 75; and eighth grade, 67.

In the grade school, the following approximate figures for peak enrollment were released by Mills: 7th, 81; 6th, 72; 5th, 81; 4th, 89; 3rd, 88; 2nd, 99; and 1st, 120.

The grade school principal pointed out that each of the 18 classrooms was built to accommodate 32 pupils. This would mean, he explained, that 576 pupils could be adequately cared for if the average for each room remained at 32—which it does not.

The high point for enrollment in both schools sets a new record for the number of students in the local schools according to the officials.

Fire Siren To Signal Mental Health Week

When you hear the fire alarm at noon Monday, it will be sounding to signify the opening of Mental Health Week, which has been proclaimed by Congress and by Texas Gov. Allan Shivers as May 3-9.

Fire Chief Homer McCrary of Post announces that Chief J. C. Swadley of Grand Prairie and president of the State Firemen and Fire Marshal's Association, has requested that the fire alarm of every city and town in Texas sound Monday, May 4, at noon to call attention to the state-wide campaign being conducted to acquaint Texas with Mental Health problems.

While its primary purpose is educational, the Mental Health Week campaign will also attempt to raise $148,796, which will be used to broaden the scope of mental health work at local, state and national levels.

Campaign contributions can be made by anyone by addressing an envelope to "Mental Health," care of Postmaster of any post office in Texas.

Garza County Cancer Crusade Goal Is Passed

With one community yet to report, Garza County had doubled its 1953 Cancer Crusade by Wednesday noon, according to a report from Mrs. Katherine Bird, Crusade treasurer.

The report disclosed that a total of $1,277.85 had been turned in to the secretary by noon Wednesday. The county's quota was only a little more than $600.

This year's Crusade is even more successful than last year's, when the county exceeded its quota, but not by such a large margin.

The Crusade began here April 21, following a kickoff dinner attended by The Rev. Joe S. Boyd, Crusade chairman; Mrs. T. L. Jones, Garza County chairman for the American Cancer Society, and other workers.

Both chairmen this week expressed their appreciation of the generous response of citizens of Post and Garza County to this year's fund appeal. They also thanked each of the volunteer workers.

Blood Program Is Gaining Headway

Volunteer workers for the Red Cross bloodmobile's visit to Post on May 13 will be briefed on their duties by Miss Jean Fitzsimmons, Red Cross field worker, at a meeting at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, May 6 in the men's Bible classroom of the First Baptist Church.

Meanwhile, Ralph Kirkpatrick, general chairman, reports that pledge cards have been given workers for distribution throughout the city and are to be turned in not later than Friday, May 8.

Mrs. O. G. Murphy and Mrs. C. A. Prater, residential contact chairmen, this week announced appointment of captains for the various sections of the city. They are: Mrs. L. A. Barrow, south west; Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick, northwest; Mrs. Ralph Welch and Mrs. Walter Bowen, northeast; and Mrs. Jack Ballentine, southeast.

A minimum of 200 donors and 150 pints of blood has been set for this year's visit of the bloodmobile, which will be making its second appearance in Post. The city easily met its blood quota last year.

Ticket Meeting Slated Monday For Barbecue

All ticket sales committeemen for the barbecue to be given here May 19 in honor of Drs. A. C. Surman and D. C. Williams are urged to attend a meeting at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, May 4, at the City Hall.

Ticket sales reports at Monday's meeting will be used as a basis for setting a deadline on the sales, according to Ira L. Duckworth, general committee chairman. This is necessary in order that the catering service preparing and serving the banquet may be advised of the approximate number expected to attend.

Another development in plans for the event came this week when the Rev. Dick O'Brien of Big Spring accepted an invitation to be principal speaker at the barbecue. He will replace Jeff H. Williams of Chickasha, Okla., who canceled his engagement.

Rev. O'Brien is widely known throughout West Texas and is an outstanding speaker.

The barbecue, which is to be held at the Boy Scout mess hall at C. W. Post Memorial Scout Camp, will honor the pioneer Post physicians for their more than forty years of practice in Post and Garza County.

Attending the ticket committee meeting here Monday will be citizens in charge of ticket sales in every community of the county.

Weather Forecasts Are Being Posted

Dr. Irving P. Krick's seven-day weather forecasts will be posted at four places in Garza County every Monday afternoon, according to John F. Lott, president of the West Texas Weather Improvement District.

The forecasts will be posted here at the Chamber of Commerce office and Collier's Drug Store, the C. R. Baldwin Store at Graham and the Southland Hardware Store.

These weather forecasts, Lott said, will be for the four-county area comprising the West Texas Weather Improvement District.

James King, temporary chairman of the local group, said it is hoped that more Post men between the ages of 21 and 35 will turn out for tonight's meeting than the small number present at the two previous meetings.

Hodges, representing Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, was selected Outstanding Farmer in an area comprising 51 counties in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains. He was one of 13 farmers considered for the award.

Hodges farms 400 acres in the Cross Roads Community, which is on Post Star Route. He has been a SCD cooperator for three and a half years and his conservation program plans are over three-fourths completed.

Type of the conservation practices carried out on Hodges' farm are: Contour farming, 170 acres; cover cropping, 120 acres; crop residue management, 170 acres; seeding of range, 21 acres; seeding of pasture, one acre; terraces, 7.6 miles; field diversions, 1 of a mile; waterways, one, and pond management, two ponds stocked to fish.

Officials of this Soil Conservation district describe Hodges as "one of the more conservation-minded farmers in the Post Work Unit Area of the district."

Hodges, who is gradually turning his farm into a complete livestock farm and reducing his cash crop acreage each year, also has been active in encouraging his neighbors to practice soil and water conservation. Nor are his activities confined to his own

Thursday to Thursday...

By CHARLES DIDWAY

Tomorrow is May 1st, the first day of a month that holds promise of being the most eventful of the year for the City of Post and County of Garza. For hundreds of students it's the month ending their 1952-53 school year, and some fifty Post seniors will be completing their high school education.

At about the same time, the annual Post Stampede and Rodeo, always an outstanding event, will get under way for a four-night stand. In between, there'll be the visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile to Post on May 31, and other outstanding events.

On the national level there are also a number of noteworthy days and weeks during May. May Day observances still are a custom in many localities, and Mother's Day is May 10. V-E Day is May 8; Memorial, or Decoration, Day, May 31, and Straw Hat Day comes somewhere around the middle of the month.

Some of the better-known special week observances during the month are National Cutlery, Be Kind to Animals, National Hearing, National Family, National Raisin, Cotton, First Aid, Let's Go Fishing, National Foot-health, National Luggage, Park and Recreation and National Pickle.

Back to the local scene, there'll also be a City Wide Clean-up Week in Post during the month, with city officials making plans to stage the most successful drive to date and enlisting the aid of every citizen and every organization.

It looks like "big doings" from now until June 1st!

RANDOM THOUGHTS—Whatever became of flying saucers? ... have you made your Cancer Crusade contribution yet? ... or signed your blood donor card ... is anyone from here going to the Kentucky Derby this week end? ... that 22 hour, 26 minute speech made by Sen. Wayne Morse against the tidelands oil bill is a point in favor of the men in the argument over who can outtalk women.

In addition to the clean-up campaign, mentioned a few lines north of here, the city Council also is planning air-conditioning of the City Hall's second floor, which is Post's most widely used meeting place—the nearest thing to a city auditorium. It'll be a wise move. Any one of the large crowd which attended the West Texas Chamber of Commerce membership luncheon there last Friday can imagine how uncomfortable it would have been in mid-summer.

We've got to give the youngsters credit for doing the best they can to establish a youth center. Saturday night there were ping pong games going at the makeshift center at the corner of Main and Washington, but a large number of youngsters were standing around with nothing to do. The fact that a few local adult groups have pledged assistance to the Teen-Town project is encouraging, but time is short if the center is to be put in shape in time for the summer vacation months.

Governor Shivers proclaimed Tuesday of this week as Doctor's Day in recognition of their "devotion to duty and to the needs of humanity." Post and Garza County are going the governor one better by setting aside a day—May 19—for honoring two of their plan-

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week...

Current Educational Procedures Giving Too Little Thought To Needs Of The Inner Man

BARSON PARK, Mass.—The Dean of a city university recently said that he could teach a class of 600 as well as 16. He laughed, but I doubt how well! The students were exposed to a public address system with music and lectures, but never did they get a chance, like Mark Hopkins' students, to "sit on the other end of a log and know their teacher." The Dean "short changed" those students.

Emphasis On What?

Maybe I'm old fashioned, but I think the purpose of education, in addition to giving a man the tools of language and arithmetic is to teach him to think and pray. Quite frequently I have the chance to talk with young people who are applying for jobs. Often I ask them what kind of work they want, what they think they can do on a job, and why they think they can do it better than the next fellow.

Such simple questions usually stump the average high school and college job hunters. They know little about the world of work. They have never appraised themselves to know their job strengths and weaknesses. So I turn to something I think they do know. I ask a simple arithmetical question. I find they can't even figure compound interest!

College Graduates Often Ignorant

I try to discuss a little current events and I find they have no adequate historical knowledge to hang events upon. I turn to economics, as my Professor Stephens did with a college senior the other day. He asked the student if he could give some reasons why business had a bad reputation in the minds of some people. What do you suppose was the answer?

"People think the average business is out to gyp them. Prices are too high. Business needs to learn how to mass-produce more and waste less on advertising so that prices will become lower." He hadn't heard about the problem of over-production, nor could he explain the great advantages of advertising. If this is the end-product of modern education, then let's do something about it in a hurry.

EVERY CITY NEEDS ONE...

With the summer season nearing, most every newspaper we pick up has a story about a swimming pool making preparations for opening or one being built. Such an occurrence in Post would warrant a banner headline in this newspaper, since there are few towns of similar size more in need of a swimming pool. Slaton's new swimming pool is nearing completion, work is under way on one at Tahoka, and most other area communities are getting ready to open the one they already have or to fill the void if they don't have one.

A swimming pool can be so much a part of a community's recreation program that it would be a worthwhile project for every civic group to go to work on. The only time they're used is when they're needed most—during the summer months when hundreds of children are out of school with time on their hands and when equally large numbers of adults are seeking some form of recreation which will help them escape the summer heat.

In fact, a swimming pool can be so important to a community's recreation program, that it wouldn't be amiss for some of our civic spirited organizations to drop projects of less importance and go to work on it. Of course, they can't do it all—they may even not be able to do anything on it until the ball is started rolling by the city government. Some say that the only way a public swimming pool will be built in Post is through a city bond issue. No city needs bond issues if it can get along without them, but every city needs a swimming pool.

OIL AND BACTERIA...

This nation's proved oil reserves were increased again last year, despite an all-time record production of 2,516,000,000 barrels, an increase of some 65,000,000 barrels over 1951.

The constant search for improvements in the method of getting oil out of the ground plays a vital role in stretching our reserves. The technique of pumping gas, air or water into a well to force the oil out has resulted in the production of 1,250,000,000 barrels in the past 25 years that would otherwise have been lost.

Still, using the best techniques, only about four fifths of the oil can be recovered. A new discovery turned up in a research project sponsored by the American Petroleum Institute may result in the recovery of millions of barrels of oil which is now locked securely in the earth. It has been found that certain types of bacteria which grow on solid surfaces literally crowd oil off coated grains of sandstone. Others placed in oil-bearing limestone manufacture an acid which dissolves the limestone and leaves free oil. There are limitless possibilities in the use of different bacteria on different rock in varying conditions.

ever doctors—A. C. Surman and D. C. Williams, whose "devotion to duty and to the needs of humanity" have been such during the past forty odd years that hundreds of their friends and acquaintances will honor them on that day, with the highlight being a barbecue at Camp Post.

Anyone interested in improvement of the airport, just northeast of the city limits, can help a lot if they know the whereabouts of discarded material which might be used to cover a drainage ditch cut across the landing strip by the Highway Department. The Department has promised to cover it if materials are furnished. Concrete will be needed to cover the ditch, which cuts the 2,600-foot landing strip in half.

What's Wrong In Education?

There is something frightening about the ineffectiveness of current educational procedures. Too much emphasis is placed on the "degree" aspects of education. Too little thought is given to the needs of the inner man. Look about your own city or town and note what you see.

Communities call in specialists to survey their educational needs. A grand new steel and concrete school building is recommended, functional in every respect. They want "the best for their children," they say. Never mind whether the people can pay for it or not. A modern, one-story structure doesn't need to be built like a bomb-proof bank vault.

Teachers Should Be Paid More

They forget that educational theory and practice change, and that their expensive rockpile will be outmoded long before it is outworn and probably before it is paid for! When they get the school built, they can all point with pride to the building. But then, there is little money left to pay a decent salary to attract good teachers to that school. I wonder if we haven't lost our perspective.

If America is to stay strong and if American business is to grow and prosper, it needs intelligent and praying teachers. Low salaries—you know, too well—don't buy competent workers for you; they don't buy competent teachers either. You are paying, through taxation or rent, part of the education bill. What are you doing to see that your community is putting the emphasis where it belongs?

Elections Coming Up

Hundreds of cities and towns have during the past few years, strapped themselves financially with luxury school buildings which they cannot afford. This ends, for a good long time, the possibility of paying good teachers enough to keep them on the job or to get other really good instructors to take their places. City elections will come this fall. In many cases there will be special referenda on education. When voting, remember bricks and mortar don't make a school.

Getting Out On The Limb

by EDDIE the editor

Best way to stop the noise in your car is to let her drive.

Some folks think they're bearing their crosses when they're only putting up with themselves.

About the only reason I can think of that we haven't any elephants in Post is that no one has tried to sell them at a dollar down and a dollar a week.

If your feet don't sweat there is likelihood of you being a "hot papa" or a "hot mamma" ... you may be dangerous and if you don't watch your doings about, you are apt to electrocute someone ... this I learned several days ago.

According to a Brooklyn professor, who heads an engineering association, some persons can generate up to 30,000 volts. No one can charge higher than that. If they do their hair stands on end and the electricity is discharged into the air through the hair tips.

This professor, who is noted as the nation's best shock hunter, claims that many mysterious fires are caused by persons whose bodies are contaminated with electricity. In his article he points out that not so long ago he was called in to check up on a series of mysterious fires which broke out in a rubber-products plant. He immediately began search for a "hot papa" or "hot mamma" who might be responsible for the outbreak of fires. One by one the employees of the plant were asked to step on a small metal plate and hold an electrode while he took readings from an electrostatic voltage meter. He found a young woman who had recently been hired. When she stepped on the plate, the needle of the meter took a big jump. The woman was transferred to another department and the fires ended.

Under certain conditions, almost anyone can become a "hot papa" or a "hot mamma," the professor declares. Primarily responsible is an abnormally dry skin condition. The professor thinks about one person in a hundred thousand has this condition, and it can be corrected by diet and vitamins.

Under normal conditions, a person who is walking or standing at work, will perspire from his feet sufficiently to have this slight moisture act as a conductor. It helps to "leak off" the static charges, so says the professor. He warns against wearing shoes with rubber soles as they store up electrostatic electricity.

Me, I'm not worried about his finding. I've got sweaty feet and a fuse I can blow about three time a day.

THE WOMEN, God Love 'Em—Women know they are judged by their surroundings ... that's why they wear girdles.

A steering committee is what it takes to get a woman driver parked.

A lot of people sow wild oats all week and go to church on Sunday to pray for a crop failure.

Have you ever thought about what milady's fashions will be in 1973 ... what she'll be wearing for spring, or any other time.

Whatever she wears it will bear out little resemblance to the garments of today, so the experts say. They predict such things as metallic formal gowns which can be treated chemically to change their color. They foresee costumes of all-white, specially treated fabrics for women in the coastal areas. White fabrics suffer less destruction from atomic blasts.

In 1973, they say, milady will be able to select not only the style and color of a new dress, but the perfume also. Dresses may be impregnated with a perfume that will last the life of the garment, perhaps one that suggests the flower that shares its color with the dress.

For playclothes, they predict throw-away dresses. These will be of soft, tough paper composition and will be inexpensive enough to discard after a wearing or two.

The young Miss will find blind dating simplified by 1973's shoe fashions. One peek at the stranger she'll be dating and she can decide which heels to wear. There'll be at least two and maybe more pairs of detachable heels, some low, some high ... a heel to match a heel.

The artistically inclined lady in 1973 can design hats to her heart's content ... all with the same hat. Designers, the experts say, will come up with a shapeless metallic-mesh hat which can be stretched, pulled, moulded and patted into thousands of different shapes.

Hemlines will rise and fall, as usual. But the woman of 1973 will accept it calmly. Most of her skirts will have adjustable hems which rise or fall at the flip of the wrist, if you can ima-

In Idalou the other day, a Lorenzo citizen stopped at a little joint to buy some cigarettes. As is the custom nowadays, the proprietor had installed a cigarette vending machine. Said proprietor charged said customer the sum of five cents for changing a dollar bill so said customer could patronize said proprietor's said machine. Enuf sed!—The Lorenzo Tribune.

Oops! Wrong Boy!

Clyde Watt has told us an amusing story about his experiences in accompanying a group of Cub Scouts on their excursion to Lubbock last Saturday. More than 2,000 of the small boys, from 9 to 11 years old, rode the Santa Fe from Lubbock to Slaton and inspected the Santa Fe shops. In the milling throng of uniformed Cubs at Slaton, Clyde said he tried to keep track of his particular covey of Seagraves Cubs. He grasped one of them by the hand in the melee and ushered him through the crowd for several minutes. Finally, turning to speak to the youngster, he noticed that he had a patch on his shoulder that read "Levelland." He had picked up a stray by mistake—Gaines County News.

Slipped Up On Him

Chet Atkinson told me how a couple of city slickers took him one day this week. They stopped on the porch at the hotel and seemed to be in some kind of argument. Finally they came in to register. Said Chet: "You fellows seemed to be having a friendly argument just now." "Yeah," said one. "This guy was trying to tell me that coconuts grow in the ground, but I told him they grow on vines like watermelons." "Why, gentlemen," said Chet, "hasn't anyone ever told you they grow on trees?" "See," said the man. "I told you we would come across a monkey somewhere who could tell us." —Hamilton Herald-News.

How Mistakes Happen

Mistakes in a small-town newspaper are far from unusual and this paper makes its share of them. If they happen to turn out a little funny, we really hear about them. Of course, this makes us feel good because it's a mighty good indication that our subscribers are reading even the fine print on the inside pages. But we had never thought about how any chances we had of making errors until another small-town editor took time to figure it out. Here are his figures: "In an ordinary newspaper column there are seven possible wrong positions for each letter, making 7,000 chances to make errors and several million chances for transpositions. There are 48 columns in this newspaper, so you can readily see the chances for mistakes. Did you know that in the sentence, 'To be or not to be,' by transposition alone, 2,759, 022 errors can be made? Now aren't you sorry you got mad about that little mistake last week?"

Yes, ew muts amidt taht ew maek tis mistakes!—The Crosbyton Review.

The dieting shopper in 1973 will probably expect two small bottles of liquid with each outfit she buys. The liquid will be special chemicals. One bottle, when sprayed on the dress, will enlarge the garment. The other will shrink it.

In 1973 men will be wearing clothes, too, of course.

orean War One Of 'Unknown Factors' In Cotton Outlook

EDITOR'S NOTE— Following is a series of articles in a series of articles in the situation facing cotton producers in 1953 and the outlook for the next few years ahead. Information is being prepared by the Extension Service by the request of the Secretary of Agriculture. The aim of the Extension Service is to help cotton producers so they can make their own decisions.

Effort has been made out through questions and answers that should be considered in "sizing up" the cotton outlook in order that farmers may have a better basis to make their own decision.

Questions And Answers

Q. What are some of the "unknown" factors that will affect the outlook for cotton?

A. The greatest unknown factor is the present war. Which way is the Korean War going? Will it spread into a much larger war? Will the Korean War continue in the present pattern or will we have peace? We don't know. The answers to these questions are unknown. Furthermore, laws governing acreage allotments, marketing quotas and price supports may be changed at anytime if Congress deems it necessary.

Q. Assuming that the unknown factors will not change much from the present, what are some of the more important known factors that should be considered in analyzing the cotton situation in 1953?

A. The supply of cotton, the demand for cotton, the part the government will play, and the trend in prices that cotton producers will have to pay for production items.

Q. Since supply is important, what will be the carryover in the United States on Aug. 1, 1953?

A. The carryover is expected to be about 4.3 million bales, approximately 1.5 million bales above that of Aug. 1, 1952. This is a 55 per cent increase in carryover compared to the same date in 1952. One reason for this increase is that disappearance (consumption, exports, etc.) of cotton for the year Aug. 1, 1952, to July 31, 1953, will probably be more than 1,000,000 bales less than the year before. As a result of this increase in carryover, our 1953 harvested cotton will have to compete with increasing supplies.

Q. What is the outlook for the foreign cotton supply?

A. It is estimated that in the non-Communist foreign producing countries the carryover on Aug. 1, 1953, will probably be about 600,000 bales larger than on the same date in 1952. The accuracy of data for Communist countries is so uncertain that the above information excludes them.

There is also a tendency for foreign cotton production to increase and this may well extend into the 1953-54 crop year.

Therefore, from a world standpoint, it appears that our 1953 harvested cotton will have more cotton to compete with.

Q. Will total disappearance of cotton increase or decrease in the United States for the crop year Aug. 1, 1953, to July 31, 1954?

A. Disappearance of cotton in the United States in the 1953-54 crop year will probably be smaller than in the previous year of 1952-53. Business activity may level off in the last half of 1953, if defense expenditures are stabilized. It is estimated that inventories of textiles on July 31, 1953, the end of the current season, will be adequate.

Q. Are exports of American cotton increasing or decreasing?

MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN FLASH!

FORD BEATS ALL IN ECONOMY!

Economy Winner 4 Years in a Row!

MILEAGE MAKER "6" WINS SWEEPSTAKES!

Score a blazing victory for Ford's dollar-saving gas economy! Ford's high-compression Mileage Maker "6" with Overdrive beat every car entered in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, regardless of size or weight, to sweep the sweepstakes! Ford's winning average was 56.70 ton-miles per gallon.* And Ford's high-compression 110-h.p. Strato-Star V-8 with Overdrive was right up there in economy, too, with a record of 48.55 ton-miles per gallon!

The winning Ford was a regular production car, just like thousands of other '53 Fords you see on the road today. This 1,206-mile trip from Los Angeles to Sun Valley covered all types of driving conditions. The route threaded through city traffic, where stop-and-go driving tests an engine's fuel economy under the toughest conditions... and out along the highways of four western states.

The Ford Mileage Maker "6" took all this in stride, maintaining a speed above the required 44.25 m.p.h. minimum, to finish 1st in the sweepstakes! What better proof is there that Ford is the thriftiest car of all? What better way to show why Ford is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it!

FORD 101-h.p. Mileage Maker "6" WITH OVERDRIVE

56.70 TON-MILES PER GALLON*

Ford is the first car in its weight class... in the history of the Economy Run... to win top honors in ton-miles per gallon over all other cars regardless of size or weight.

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-miles per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

TIPS FROM YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By JESSIE PEARCE

I am writing this especially for the 4-H girls but any girl can, and I hope will, follow these suggestions.

You may not have looked at the calendar to see when Mother's Day is but May 10 is that important date. As you know this is a day set aside especially to honor our mothers.

What are you going to do for your mother on that day? I have a suggestion. Why not give her a holiday from the kitchen—that means dish washing as well as cooking. If you plan to prepare one or all of the meals yourself remember this: make something you have done before and are sure you can do well, plan ahead of time to be sure you are on schedule and everything will be prepared. We don't want mother to have to come in and straighten out our mess in the kitchen on this day of hers.

For a good breakfast that is easy and a little different serve: fruit juice, cinnamon toast, bacon, coffee, milk. Dinner could be something like this: pot roast with potatoes and carrots, crushed pineapple in lemon jello, salad, brown and serve rolls, butter, ice cream and cake, milk or food tea. Supper may be a hurry-up meal that can be eaten by various members of the family at different times, so try this: cheese sandwich spread, thin sliced bread, potato chips, celery and radishes, cookies and fruit, chocolate milk. Put this out on a tray and let everyone fix his own sandwich.

These menus I have suggested are quite simple, much of the preparation can be done the day before—salad, cake, cookies and sandwich spread. The pot roast can be left in the oven to cook while the family attends church together. The rolls will burn while you are getting dinner on the table, so you will have a holiday meal for mother without her even having to come near the kitchen.

I am sure most mothers will appreciate a gift like this as much as any other you could get to express your love for her.

Shedd Wedding Reception Is Held Friday Evening In Bratcher Home

Ordinarily, receptions immediately follow the wedding ceremony, but one here last Friday night was an exception to the rule. It was the reception for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shedd, whose wedding took place at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon on Christmas Eve, at the Church of the Nazarene.

An automobile accident, in which both Mr. and Mrs. Shedd and their attendants, Miss Naomi Watson, sister of the bride, and Gene Strange, were seriously injured, occurred while the group was riding around waiting for guests to assemble at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bratcher, where the reception was to have been held. Original reception plans, and the cake baked for the occasion which had been in cold storage for four months, were carried out Friday.

Mrs. Shedd was attired in her wedding suit of powder blue gingham with black accessories. Miss Mary Trammell presided at the registry table where 40 guests signed the bride's book. Punch and cake were served from a lace covered table by Miss Wanda Mitchell and Mrs. Elton Mathis.

Among the guests were Miss Lora Nelson and Mrs. Pinkie Racker, nurses at Lubbock Memorial Hospital, where the couple was hospitalized for two months following the accident. Other out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gray of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gray of Levelland, uncles and aunts of the bridegroom; and Gene Strange of Slaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Shedd will move to Lubbock next month where he will resume work with the Highway Department on May 11.

The refreshment table was laid with a green linen cloth and was centered with an arrangement of roses surrounded by white tapers. Coffee, cookies, mints and nuts were served by Mesdames Tipton and Moore.

Mrs. Charles Nelson presided at the register and Mrs. Douglas Tipton assisted with hospitalities. Floral decorations were used throughout the entertaining rooms.

Large Crowd Hears Frank Kelly's Report Here On Accomplishments Of WTCC

A surprisingly large crowd of business and professional men—and two women—attended a West Texas Chamber of Commerce membership luncheon at the City Hall Friday and heard Frank H. Kelley of Colorado City report on the WTCC's legislative program and other work.

Kelley, a veteran employee of Magnolia Petroleum Company and immediate past president of the WTCC, included school legislation, redistricting and the farm-to-market road program in his report on the work the organization has done for West Texas.

After pointing out that West Texas' three main assets are land, water and oil, Kelley briefly described what the organization has done the past few years to further the development of each. Conservation, he said, has been the keynote.

The speaker described the WTCC set-up as "the most Democratic on earth," and stressed the point that no community can enjoy prosperity for long unless the same conditions exist in the area surrounding it.

Following Kelley's talk, Alden L. Cathey, WTCC public relations and membership chairman, passed out membership pledge cards after explaining that this new

Notary Publics Are To Be Reappointed

Secretary of State Howard Carney has announced that he will reappoint all persons who now hold Notary Public Commissions and that all such persons must qualify by filing an oath and bond with the County Clerk of their residence between June 1, 1953 and June 10, 1953. The law specifically requires County Clerks to approve Notary bonds and individuals should not send money or requests for commissions direct to the Secretary of State. All Notary matters can only be received by the Secretary of State after the County Clerk acts thereon.

Any person who has not heretofore been a Notary Public should apply to his County Clerk between May 1, 1953 and May 23, 1953, if he desires to have this application given prompt attention in the State Department, as the rush of reappointing all old Notaries may slow up the ordinary process of making new appointments and issuing commissions.

Secretary of State Carney said, "Each person applying for a commission as a Notary Public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the County for which he is appointed; exact names and permanent address should be given to the County Clerk in applying for a commission, as location of the Notary may be necessary long after he has notarized a particular instrument."

Guy Troy Harrison New Canyon Coach

Guy Troy Harrison, a 1941 graduate of Post High School, has been named new head coach at Canyon High School. He goes there from Phillips, where he had been "B" squad football coach and head track coach since 1949.

Following his graduation from Post High School, Harrison received his Bachelor's Degree from East Texas College in 1947 and his Master's Degree from the same college in 1948. He spent three years in military service with the 99th Artillery. Eighteen months of that time was spent overseas in the ETO.

During his four years of coaching the Phillips "B" team, his charges lost only five games while winning 29. His track team was first in its district and second in the state meet in 1952. He was also "B" squad basketball coach at Phillips during the 1950-51 season.

Harrison, 28, is married and has two children, Guy Troy, Jr., five years old, and Paula, seven months old.

Play Is Presented
A one-act play, Elizabeth's Young Man, was presented by the sophomore class in a Post High School assembly Friday morning. Members of the cast were Gladys Askins, Hazel Shultz, Mary Lou Hedgcock and Lennie Welborn.

Mrs. R. W. Babb and Ganell spent the weekend in Meadow with Truett Babb.

Another visitor at the luncheon was Ralph E. Duncan of Colorado City, WTCC chairman of community services.

G. L. Weakley, Post director on the WTCC board, presided at the luncheon. Others attending included George Samson, president, and Mrs. Fritz Greenfield, secretary of the Post Chamber of Commerce, and Miss Maxine Durrett.

Following the luncheon, the three visitors were taken on a tour of the Postex Mill.

High School Graduate Decorated Bravery In Korean Battle Action

High School graduate, Joseph B. Stokes, son of Mr. J. J. Stokes of the Granite Community, has been decorated in Korea.

Stokes' wife, who teaches in Tampa, recently received a description of an action in which her husband and another soldier saved the life of a comrade after his tent had been looted by Communists.

Stokes has been in Korea since 1952, and his wife has been in the States for several months. At the time Stokes was in the service in July, he was employed at Memorial Hospital by Anderson-Clayton.

Upon graduation from High School in 1946, he attended Texas A. & M. College, where he majored in farm and home management and graduated in 1950. He received his commission as a second lieutenant upon graduation and was promoted during Korean service.

The following story, as told in his division newspaper, describes the mission which led to his decoration.

A wounded soldier lay helpless in the snow, his right leg cracked and open at the knee. His left foot was severed by a potato-masher grenade.

Somehow he sensed he was being searched. About him stood several Communists, pointing bayonets at him.

He didn't move.

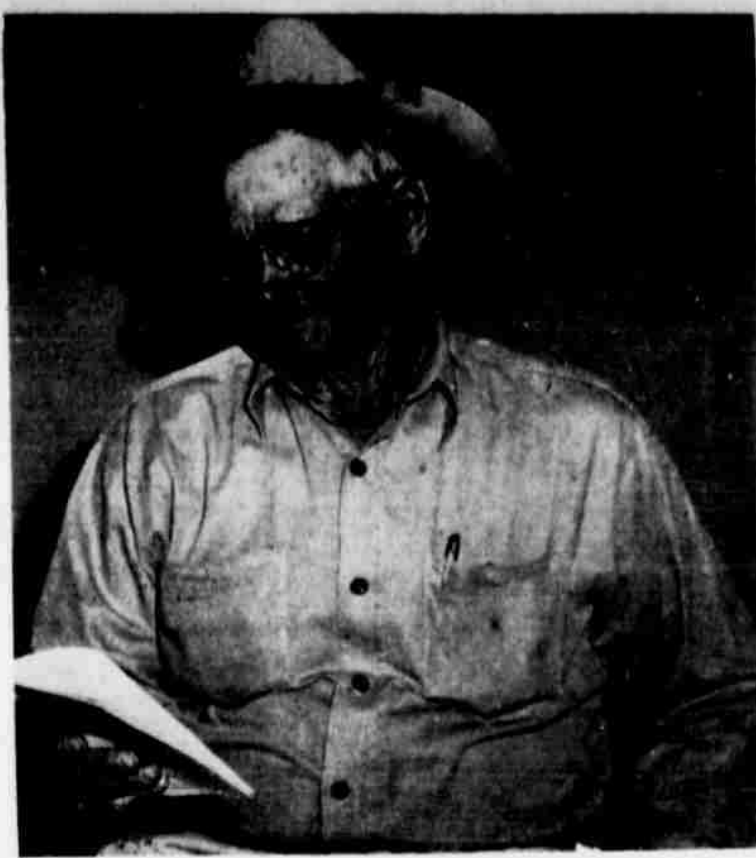

As if dead, he turned over in response to a foot which cracked into his ribs. One Red held his arms up as another lifted the armor vest over his shoulders.

Eyes half open, his mouth twisted grotesquely, he feigned death while his watch was torn from his wrist and his boots taken from his feet.

The point of the bayonet, the cold muzzle of a burp-gun . . . these he awaited with fists clenched, teeth jammed together. Then he could feel nothing, but a gradual weakening of the body.

In his ears, the sound of rifle fire grew fainter as the wounded soldier became unconscious.

Unknowingly, he moved into the arms of Cpl Reynaldo M. Arriaga, Artesia, N. M. The medic tied a tourniquet over the knee and foot, then shouted to the support element platoon leader.

It'll Be A Good Rodeo, Anyhow, But Rain Would Make It Better One, Says Lee Byrd

"This year's Stampede and Rodeo is bound to be a good one, but it'll be a better one if we get a rain," says Lee Byrd, one of the directors of the rodeo association.

Byrd has taken an active part in administration of the rodeo since its beginning 13 years ago.

For the past few years, he has been flag man in the parade, but he modestly describes his duties as those of a "general flunkie."

He also served "for a spell" as arena director several years ago.

Other directors have come to depend on Byrd for seeing that the square dancing, always a feature of the Stampede and Rodeo, is made as attractive as possible to the large crowds of visitors. He says he gets a big kick out of this part of the work, because it's easy to watch the square dancing and tell that those taking part are really enjoying themselves.

Thursday, April 30, 1953 The Post Dispatch Page 7
"After all," Byrd concluded, "that's what a rodeo's for—so people can enjoy themselves."

ALBERT DARBY

First Lt. Joseph B. Stokes.
"We've got to get him out of here now, sir!"

Onto an improvised field jacket litter, the unconscious soldier was lifted and carried toward Company F, 223rd Infantry Regiment positions, 800 yards away.

From the start, the medic fought off exhaustion as the platoon leader led the way through a clearing and down into a draw, frantically racing against time.

Communist riflemen seared the route of evacuation with incessant fire. Bullets ricocheted off trees as the pair lurched toward the little cover offered by the ravished valley floor.

They crossed a creek, dropped into a draw and crossed another clearing. Arriaga slipped, and fell in the mud. Up again, maintaining the rapid pace, they looked ahead at the remaining 300 yards.

Suddenly, the wounded soldier lifted his head from the litter, yelling deliriously, "My carbine! My carbine!" Then he sank back again.

Communist artillery and mortar fire shook the ground to their sides and rear as they passed strands of barbed wire at the foot of the American-held hill. Again, Arriaga fell and lay there for several seconds, breathing heavily, as artillery concussions sent shrapnel flying over the wounded man's body.

Up the hill they looked and found they had no strength for the climb. The litter was torn, the two men were completely exhausted, the soldier almost given up for dead. Hollering as loud as they could over the murderous barrage, they called for help and waited in a vigil over the unconscious body.

Fifteen minutes later, after platoon medics had placed the soldier into a litter jeep, which raced to the Battalion Aid Station, the medic and the platoon leader heard the results of their evacuation. Although he would lose his right leg, the soldier would live.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Oden spent the weekend in Lawn with her brother and family, the Leroy Potters.

ROADMASTER

Custom built by Buick

JUST finger-tip pressure on the steering wheel lets her park and slow-manuever with far less effort.

For Power Steering—standard equipment at no extra cost on every 1953 Buick ROADMASTER—gives her easy turning of the front wheels, even when this two-ton automobile is standing still.

Just a toe-touch on the gas pedal gives her dazzling getaway, or gentle cruising pace, or soaring power to glide easily up the long, steep hills.

For Twin-Turbine Dynaflow and the world's newest V8 Engine give her a combination of quick, quiet getaway and infinite smoothness that no other car in the world can equal.

She can gentle this big, beautiful bundle of high-powered energy to a swift, sure halt with merely light pressure on the brake pedal—for Power Brakes* reduce needed pedal pressure by 50%.

She can replace summer's humid heat with refreshingly cool air by a flip of a switch—for Buick Airconditioning circulates up to 300 cubic feet of cooled, dustless, filtered, draft-free air per minute.

Actually, the wonders—and the thrills—never seem to cease as you drive this superb ROADMASTER—the greatest Buick in fifty great years.

We'd like both the Mr. and the Mrs. to see it, try it, judge it. Why not drop in this week?

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster and Super models only.

What Made You Give Blood?

Capt. Mary M. Younger, Army Nurse Corps, Asks Four Americans at a Cleveland, Ohio, Blood Center...

"I'm stationed at an Army Hospital—far from any front-line fighting. But here the battle for life still goes on. "Helping these men, watching them, I've come to understand why the need for blood is always urgent. Day after day, I've seen the blood you donate restore health to the shattered, life to the lifeless. "After a while you think—'Who are these people that make this miracle possible? Why do they give blood?' I came here to find out . . . and right away I sensed an easy-going, relaxed warmth about the people. Something about this painless act of giving blood seems to draw people closer together . . . make them proud and humble at the same time about telling you why they were rolling up their sleeves . . . and giving blood . . ."

"It Might Have Been My Kid"
LEO CANAVAN, salesman, told Capt. Younger: "I saw her dash out in front of this car. She was in blue-jeans—and with the sun on her hair—she might have been my kid. At the hospital it took 3 pints of blood to save her. I only have to remember the sound of those screaming tires to know why I'm here . . ."

"Supposing The Planes Are Theirs"
JOHN SHARKEY, Civil Defense worker, spoke up: "I'm watching the skies one night and I hear the jets way off in the distance. Supposing the planes are theirs? Then what? No enemy is going to wait until we have enough blood reserves for the people wounded in that first attack. We've got to be doing it now."

"I Missed The Boston Fire!"
EDWARD GRAY, advertising artist, said: "My wife and I tried to get into the Cocoanut Grove the night of that awful fire in 1942. We were turned away. No room. Well—I think now—there's no room, either, for losing American lives needlessly in disasters like that because we don't have enough blood reserves!"

"A Privilege And A Pleasure!"
JOHN LYDEN, business executive, smiled when asked the question: "Haven't got a very exciting reason like these others. I think a person living in this country has some obligations. Like helping to run the community, if he can. Or, like volunteering regularly or giving blood. It's a privilege—and a pleasure."

Conquers 'Age' Here Sunday First Of 11-Game Baseball Card

Consensus of opinion following Sunday's baseball game at Post Mill park is that a group of young players is developing into a team.

Youngsters defeated a 11-3 in the 11-game series to be a victory at the Post Mill. The team's first game was more of a practice affair, but in the 11-game series, it is Oscar Garner, who is promoting the baseball attraction.

Garner also announced that a game has been matched for the young team with the Lubbock Rangers at 2 p. m. Sunday, May 10, on the local diamond.

The Lubbock nine is reported to be a "fast" semi-pro outfit and has a number of Reese Air Force Base players on its roster. The Post nine will play a return game with the Rangers at Hubber Park in Lubbock later in the season.

The two post teams will resume their series at 2 p. m. Sunday on the local diamond. The May 10 game will be postponed because of the scheduled tilt between the Post and Lubbock teams.

Anyone interested in trying out for either of the two Post teams is invited to attend workouts.
