Shortage of meat in some markets in April is foreseen. Greater public support must be obtained for gasoline rationing.

Coal probably will not be rationed to domestic consumers.

Southern Baptists Are Sponsoring Program Over WFAA

Beginning Sunday morning, April 2nd, at 7:30 CWT, immediately following the close of the Baptist Hour Series, WFAA will broadcast a series of thirteen transcribed programs of the Southern Baptist Evangelistic Hour, with Dr. M. E. Dodd of Shreveport, as preacher, and the music by the Baptist Hour Choir, as announced by the Radio Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention, S. F. Lowe, Chairman, Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Lowe states that since Dr. Dodd is one of the best radio preachers in America, having broadcast regularly for twenty-two years, and further since he is one of the best evangelists of our day, and since the music by the Baptist Hour Choir will maintain the same high level of the Baptist Hour programs, the new series with Dr. Dodd as speaker bids fair to prove unusually popular and of genuine service.

Dr. Dodd is a seventh generation American, born in Tennessee, and was a Sergeant in the Spanish American War, and served in Y.M.C.A. uniform during the first World War, spending six months overseas. He is the author of thirteen books and of thirty-four pamphlets, some of which have been published in seven foreign lands, according to Mr. Lowe.

Olive Greiner of Evansville, Ind., who tightens Jennie's pack in real soldier fashion, before an eight-mile hike. A detachment of U. S. nurses is in training here to replace Lt. Col. Gordon Seagrave and his Burmese nurses on the Burma front. The girls, being schooled in every aspect of jungle warfare, both natural and manmade, have to carry heavy packs on long hikes, must know how to care for themselves and their patients under trying circumstances.

Nearly 6 Billion In Federal Funds Spent In Texas

Garza county received $353,000 of the nearly six billion dollars of Federal funds spent in Texas during a period from June 1940 to January 1, 1944. The total of such expenditures was $5,788,679,000.

Texas' enormous industrial growth in connection with the war effort, and the concentration of military and naval establishments between the Red River and the Rio Grande, are reflected in a report issued by the War Production Board showing that nearly six billion dollars in federal funds have been spent in the state since the fall of France.

Despite the fact that Texas always has been primarily an agricultural state, only nine other states outranked her in value of war contracts and allocations for war work.

The $353,000.00 received by Garza county was used in carrying out conservation practices of terracing, tanking, contour cultivation and strip cropping on both farms and ranches.

Mullican's Weather Forecast Indicates Good Year In Area

The wind at daybreak Wednesday morning, March 22, was slightly east of north, indicating a good crop year for the South Plains area.

Former District Judge Clark M. Mullican of Lubbock is the authority for the wind direction and prognosticator of crop condition futures on his basis.

"The wind was just a little east of north Wednesday morning, indicating better than average rainfall for the year," Mullican said. "What's more, the rain that does fall should come at the right time to foster good crop conditions."

Forecasting the year's rainfall dates back into Indian legend and was used by the late J. I. Wilborn of Post. The custom was taken over by Mullican upon Mr. Wilborn's death 13 years ago.

The wind direction at daybreak on March 22 tells the story.

The 1942 bumper crop, Mullican said, was not to be looked forward to that March 22 when the wind was from the southwest. Underground moisture from the 1941 supply was a determining factor in the bountiful crop of 1942, Mullican explained.

Indians were quite interested in crop conditions and on that point Mullican drew a conclusion. "This year the braves are on the warpath for the 'Great White Fathers' at Washington and the squaws and 4F bucks are at home tending the crops, so to speak. Thus it was with the red man.

"The squaw did the farming, while the red brother liked to get away from home sometimes attend lodge, swap wampum and pursue his personal experiments on the potency and varied effects noticeable in the white man's 'firewater.' In poor crop years, the squaw insisted they should visit her kinkfolds. In good crop years she had to stay home and run the farm. The red brother was therefore much interested in crops."

CIVILIZATIONS NOT BUILT ON CHARITY

The problem of raising a new civilization in Europe after the war will be staggering. It will be merely a question of moving shiploads of clothing, food and American products, with the expectation that a starving populace will buy them forthwith.

Europe after the war will be an example of the futility of production without adequate means of distribution. Of course we will ship great quantities of goods into post-war Europe on the basis of charity alone, to be distributed by soup kitchen methods. This will be a stopgap, nothing more. Civilization in Europe cannot rise again until her people can reconstruct self-supporting economic systems and restore distribution channels capable of absorbing the products of industry and passing them along to the people at prices the people can pay. Only then can American production hope to aid substantially in the rebuilding of war-torn Europe.

With the example of Europe before us, we should not underestimate the importance of encouraging our own magnificent distribution system. Hundreds of thousands of merchants are constantly pouring billions of dollars worth of orders into the offices of manufacturers, for goods which make American civilization a living reality. They are instrumental in keeping prices at levels that do not interrupt the free flow of trade.

Above all, we should never for a moment forget that mass distribution goes hand in hand with maximum production. Every store on every main street in every town is part of the distribution system. Unless those stores can serve consumers efficiently and economically, factories cannot produce. This must be kept in mind when legislation and regulation are proposed that retard or discourage distribution.

Views of Neighboring Editors:

Lynn County News—Ireland and Finland are two fine little countries that have proved to be a disappointment to the great democratic nations. The course they have pursued is obviously due to bad leadership. One had a grudge against big, powerful Russia and hoped to get even by throwing in with Germany. The other hates England and was so intent on getting revenge that she flaunts the friendship of her greatest benefactor, the United States of America. The American-born De Valera, premier of the Irish Free State, has always been a narrow fanatic; in his present situation, he is playing the part of a blatant fool, for his course means ruin for his own people.

Democracy does not mean, "I am as good as you are," but "You are as good as I am."—Theodore Parker in Catholic Digest.

Scurry County Times—More fathers will have to go into uniform during the next 90 days than even Selective Service System officials estimated a month ago because local draft boards rebelled and failed to induct as many pre-war fathers, beginning last October 1, than they were due to furnish. Such rebellion, in many sectors of the nation, has caused Hershey, national director, to demand that the armed services get a minimum of 200,000 men by July 1—regardless of quotas and everything else.

This area has contributed, civilians feel, its share of men, both single and married, to military service during the past six months and civilians share the belief of some draft board officials in declaring that some "straight-from-the-shoulder" pressure will now have to be exerted in crowded war work areas of the country. It's about time war plants were cleaned out, because cancellation of many war contracts will make it imperative now to get new army recruits from the sources of manpower pooling—not from the areas where men have been drained from civilian life to the danger point.

Texas Press Messenger—Frequently, someone asks the question—what contribution can newspapers make to the war effort outside of giving generously of their space to salvage drives, war bond sales, war relief agency drives, and many other campaigns?

Newspapers, both daily and weekly publications, in Texas are accorded an excellent opportunity to aid in the drive to increase the production of food.

There will be contests in many of the communities throughout the nation in the victory garden program. In most cases, awards will be made to the individual having the best garden.

That, of course, will encourage increased food production—but if the prize gardener does not conserve what he has already pro-

"HEALTH" TIPS

Life and Health recently discussed one of the most difficult "health" problems in the country—how to keep from being buried alive in your home. It asked readers: "Will your home catch fire tomorrow? 'Certainly not!' you will say.

"But tomorrow a thousand totally unexpected fires will break out in American homes, destroying property valued at about a quarter of a million dollars and killing more than ten people, mostly women and children. This happens day after day, year after year, with the regularity of clockwork. Why should not your home be one of the next thousand to burn?"

"Very likely, there is no good reason. The average American home is all set for a fire, and only a favorable combination of circumstances is required to start one.

"But, by taking intelligent care, you can make your home an exceptionally safe one, because, though some home fires are due to causes beyond the control of the occupants, the great majority are the direct result of careless or ignorant home management.

"Here are some of the principal steps that should be taken in order to safeguard the lives of your family and your property from fire: Put hot ashes in metal, not wooden containers, be sure electrical equipment is in good condition, keep available suitable fire extinguishing equipment, get proper instruction on using fire extinguishers, keep matches out of reach of small children, never let combustible rubbish accumulate in the home."

END COMBINATIONS AGAINST EMPLOYMENT

A generation ago, laws were passed prohibiting combinations in restraint of trade.

Today labor is cursed with combinations in restraint of employment.

It has become impossible for an American workman to earn a living in basic industries without paying for that privilege, and complying absolutely with the dictates of all-powerful union combinations in restraint of employment.

A soldier home from the bloodiest battlefield, where he fought to perpetuate the ideals of freedom, would find himself blocked in getting a job in his chosen industry, in the majority of cases, unless he bowed his head, signed on the dotted line, and paid the sum demanded by some labor boss for the right to work.

Our own government has aided and abetted this combination, in duced then the food production program will have been helped only temporarily. The newspapers should encourage awards for those who conserve the greatest per cent of the food stuffs they produce—either by canning, drying, placing in freezer lockers, or preserving in any of the generally accepted methods. —Luther Watson

WHEN THE GUNS CEASE FIRING

The railroads are not going to lose the peace if they can help it, insofar as transportation is concerned. They are contemplating future transport problems without a moment's let up in the hectic struggle to meet the abnormal transportation demands of war.

A railroad committee has been appointed to make a careful study of every form of transportation including analysis of 42 separate major industries which among them produce the bulk of the freight moving in the United States. In addition the committee is studying such phases of railroad operation as engineering, mechanical, operating methods and procedures, labor and personnel, traffic, accounting and statistics, finance, taxation, and many others. The membership of the committee includes men of broad experience in all sorts of transportation and all aspects of railroading. As the Association of American Railroads says: "The approach of the committee is one of healthy inquiry and experienced skepticism, embracing nothing as superior merely because it is new, but clinging to nothing old merely because it is established. In that spirit the committee is undertaking to survey the whole field of transportation in America and to look and plan ahead for the future, to the end that there shall be more adequate, dependable and serviceable transportation, more economically and efficiently performed, by the means of carriage best suited to do each of the particular tasks of transportation that are to be done."

Railroad managements know that some day the guns will be silent. They plan to be ready for that day.

A good way to keep somebody from knocking a chip off your shoulder, is to keep your shoulder to the wheel.

Te To Sell 225,000 School Land Tuesday, May 2

Winnie's Wife By Mollie Pauter-Downes

Beautiful, amusing and forthright, the wife of England's prime minister is a public figure whose looks and conduct have helped to fix her and her husband in England's warm heart.

Even the London cockneys like to say: "There's good old Winnie! Don't 'is missus look a treat!" as the Churchills drive past on their way to some function.

Her quickness on the mental trigger leads the more timid of her acquaintances to say respectfully that she thinks like a man. She adds to this, however, a typically feminine irreverence for heavy-weight personages and institutes, that a man would approach, so to speak, with his hat in his hand.

When the prime minister makes one of his own famous speeches in the house, she is always in the ladies' gallery to listen to the rolling Churchillian phrases which, acting as a critical preview audience, she has probably heard over in private before.

For 25 years, they have been devoted companions. She has always been a family woman. Possibly there's something in the idea that an affectionate daughter makes an affectionate mother.

She buys her clothes like a smart Frenchwoman, selecting perhaps one good black or navy outfit a season and then living in it. This is a fine wartime example to Englishwomen in general, who don't feel so bad about making the year-before-last winter coat do when they notice that the prime minister's wife has been photographed again in that same dress she had ages ago.

Similarly, she has probably been largely responsible for women going around with their heads tied up in scarves or net hoods. This economical form of headgear looks fine on Mrs. Churchill though, unhappily, not so good on most of her imitators, who give the impression of having absentmindedly clapped their string shopping bags on their back hair.

She is a good linguist and speaks a beautiful French, unlike her husband, whose occasional breath-taking bursts into the Gallic tongue are nevertheless said by enthusiastic Frenchmen to sound endearing and attractive.

Mrs. Churchill does an honest, hard job of work as the lady of No. 10 Downing street. If the various public bodies which beseech her to visit them had their way, she would spend her life with a bouquet in her hand and a glass of water at her elbow.

Her principal wartime activities, however, are her Aid to Russia fund, of which she is chairman, and the YWCA Wartime fund, of which she is president.

Her Pet Charity. Like the prime minister, she is good at making contacts with all sorts of people. On flag days for her funds, she is more likely to pop down to the East End centers to see how they're doing than she is to call and shed light and cheer upon the flag sellers at the Ritz.

Although the Russian and YWCA organizations are her leading wartime interests, it's possible that she has the deepest affection for her own pet child—the Fulmer Maternity home for soldiers' wives.

OPA Is Old Stuff; Cromwell Had It!

Colonies Had Something of Kind in Their Day.

CHICAGO.—Oliver Cromwell had an OPA in his day and the American colonists had one in 1776, according to Alex Elson, acting regional OPA director. He has an original of "An Act for Limiting and Settling the Prices of Wines" of 1657 and a copy of the law of Colonial days.

The first OPA on this continent was enacted by the general assembly of Rhode Island and Providence plantations "to prevent monopolies and unreasonable prices for many of the necessities and conveniences of life and for the better supply of our troops in the army with such necessities as may be wanted."

Parliament passed the Wines act at Westminster on September 17, 1656, to go into effect for one year beginning August 15, 1657. This act prescribed ceilings of 18 pence a quart for all Spanish wines, seven pence a quart for all French wines, and 12 pence a quart for Rhemish wines.

Wine retailers "exceeding the rates, proportions and prices hereby respectively limited and appointed" were subject to a forfeiture penalty of "the sum of five pounds" for any quantity sold above the ceiling.

Not only food and liquor, but labor and service and restaurant prices were covered in the act passed at Providence, R. I., at the behest of a New England committee set up for the purpose of "regulating an army, for supporting the currency, and affixing the prices of labour, goods, wares, merchandise, etc."

The ceiling on "grass-fed beef of the best quality" was fixed at three pence per pound in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire, and 24 shillings per 100 pounds in Connecticut.

Mrs. Houston Hoover and children of Levelland and formerly of Post are now residing at Grassland in the former Otis Cash home. Mr. Hoover, who is in the Marines stationed at San Diego has been here on furlough, leaving Monday.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR TEXAS IS VISUALIZED

A new industry for Texas was predicted last week. Texas' abundant supply of clay might be utilized to develop small ceramic factories, each employing up to 100 workers, to aid post-war employment problems, Dr. F. K. Pence, University of Texas expert, said recently.

Kaolin from West Texas, plastic or bell clay from East Texas, feldspar and silica from Llano county could supply such factories, Dr. Pence said.

The Texas Land

In Reading, 5-1 is studying about Little Tejas. Little Tejas was a fine young Indian. He lived with his tribe in the heart of Tejas land. His father was chief of the tribe. His name was Night Star. Little Tejas' mother was Humming Bird. She was a very smart squaw. She cooked good meals and kept the wigwam warm and clean. Little Tejas also had a little sister who traveled on a baby-board. Then there is the old Medicine Man. He is a clever man and helps in every way to make the children of the Tejas tribe strong, smart and handsome. He made a tonic to give little Tejas. It was made of ground up stones—agate, pearl, turquoise. These were to make Little Tejas handsome. He sifted in the ashes of iron, and copper to make him strong. Sometimes he would add the claw of a fox to make him crafty, the hoof of an antelope to make him swift, and the heart of an eagle to make him brave. All of these were mixed with seawater. So you see, the Indians are very strange, but interesting.

VALUE OF "A" GAS COUPONS NOT CHANGED BY REDUCTION

Value of "A" gasoline coupons has not changed by the reduction of "A" rations from three to two gallons a week for this section of the country, the Office of Price Administration announced today in answer to a great many inquiries concerning the reduction.

Though there is no change in the value of the existing coupons, "A-11" coupons and others becoming valid in the future will be to last three months instead of two, the OPA pointed out.

Accordingly, "A-11" coupons, originally announced to become invalid May 21, will now have to run to June 21, and "A-12" coupons from June 22 to September 21.

Rubber Situation Still Stringent

Although the nation is now producing synthetic rubber faster than raw rubber was consumed in this country any time prior to 1941, military and civilian demands still exceed the supply, the Office of Rubber Director discloses. Low speed limits must be enforced and all tires recapped if essential driving is to be maintained during the critical months ahead, the Rubber Director warns. He reminds motorists that the life of a tire at 35 miles per hour is 50 per cent longer than at 50 miles per hour and three times longer than at 60 miles per hour.

METHODIST REVIVAL CLOSED SUNDAY NIGHT

During the revival which closed at the First Methodist church Sunday night there were sixteen conversions and seventeen additions to this church and one addition to the Verbena church. The results of this meeting cannot be stated in mere numbers because its far-reaching effects will be felt and the great good done by Rev. and Mrs. Flowers will continue through the future.

It was one of the best all-around revivals I have been in for several years, in that it did good all over the town, especially among the young people.

SAUL BECOMES A NEW MAN

LESSON TEXT: Acts 9:1-9, 13-15a. GOLDEN TEXT: If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature.—II Corinthians 5:17.

The lives of great men inspire us with an eagerness to make our own lives count for God and for country. Particularly is that true of the life of the apostle Paul, for he combined personal greatness with an absolute surrender and devotion to Christ, which made his life doubly effective.

We recall, however, that this peerless leader for Christ was at first the bitter enemy of everything Christian and we ask, "What changed this man?" The answer is—the redeeming grace of God—but that is the story of our lesson. He became a changed man as he went—

I. From Threatening to Trembling (vv. 1-7).

The enemies of God and of our Christ are often loudmouthed and terror-spreading individuals, who, for a time, strike fear into the hearts of men. Such was Saul of Tarsus, and such are the antichristian leaders of our day. They seem to be so powerful and able to sweep all before them.

But wait! Luther said of God's arch-enemy, "One little word shall fell him," and it is true. See what happened to Saul. Off on his journeys of persecution and destruction, bold and determined, he met Jesus on the Damascus road, and the great threatener is found to be "trembling and astonished" (v. 6).

The Lord is still on His throne, and one day every mouth shall be stopped (Rom. 3:19), and all His enemies shall tremble before Him. Would that they would do it while there is time to repent.

II. From Persecuting to Praying (vv. 2, 8, 9; see also v. 11).

Paul utterly devoted to the rooting out of this hated sect of Christians was on his way with letters authorizing their imprisonment. It was all very official, zealous and marvelous in men's sight, until he met Jesus, and it all blew away.

Ananias, that faithful layman (may his tribe increase!), was called of God to go and speak to the stricken Saul. When he feared to go, God encouraged him (v. 15), for the powerful persecutor had now become a penitent pray-er (v. 11). That's what a face to face meeting with Jesus did for Paul—yes, and will do for any man or woman.

III. From Scoffing to Suffering (vv. 1, 13-16).

Saul doubtless gloried in the breathing out of threatenings and slaughter of which we read in verse 1. He was riding high in the seat of authority and of official approval. It was satisfying to his fleshly pride to make known his dreadful purposes of destruction and imprisonment for these helpless Christians.

Did we say helpless? Oh, no, they had on their side all the power of the Eternal One. He who touches the people of God touches the Lord Himself. Paul thought he was fighting a little sect of Christians, but found that he was fighting the Lord Himself (v. 5).

But now that he had met Jesus and was ready to turn in devotion to His sacred cause, he was to learn what it meant to suffer. Let us note well that suffering for the sake of one's faith may be entirely within the will of God, yes, and for His glory.

IV. From Spiritual Death to Spiritual Life (vv. 17-19).

Men have tried to explain the experience of conversion on the ground of psychology, as a cataclysmic change in the life of an individual who has gone through some great sorrow or trial, but it simply will not go down. There is in real conversion a regeneration which means a completely changed life.

Saul did have a sudden and moving experience on the Damascus road, but it was not just because of a blinding light and a mighty voice. It was a light "from heaven" (v. 4), and the voice of the Lord. Saul was "filled with the Holy Ghost," and received his sight. He was ready now to be used of the Lord as the greatest missionary evangelist and theologian that the world has ever known.

This change was one which reached down into his inmost being and transformed his beliefs. The Jesus he had hated, now became his all-consuming passion and love. He no longer looked to his works to save him, for now he knew the personal Saviour.

What happened within showed itself in his attitude toward those without. It always does. He now came to love the very people he had hated and persecuted, and turned every bit of his strength and ability into the task of working with them in the spreading of the gospel throughout the world.

Men and women—yes, boys and girls—today need this same change from death to life. Too long have we been trying to polish up the exterior of lives unchanged within.

Guardian Ready To Aid Veterans

Rights Earned in Service of Country Are to Be Fully Protected.

WASHINGTON.—When men and women of our fighting forces are honorably discharged to return to civilian life, the federally financed veterans administration steps in as official guardian of the special rights they earned in service of their country.

If the veteran has disabilities, due to or aggravated by service, he is entitled to a federal pension.

Veterans administration physicians examine the veteran and an administration board determines the pension amount on a basis of disability.

Minimum pension is $10 monthly for 10 per cent disability. Pensions scale from this amount to $100 monthly for the 100 per cent disabled. Amputation cases receive $35 monthly in addition to the amount to which they are entitled by the percentage of their disability.

Free Hospitalization. All veterans, regardless of disability, are entitled to free veterans administration hospitalization for the remainder of their lives, a $100 burial allowance and a flag to drape their caskets.

Service women of this war and army and navy nurses also may claim these rights.

The veterans administration estimates there will be approximately 15,000,000 United States veterans at the close of this war. This includes 2,000,000 veterans of World War I and the Spanish-American war.

With the present 70,000 a month discharges from the armed forces, it is predicted there will be 2,000,000 veterans from this war alone by midsummer, 1944.

The war department recently announced that as of September 30, 1943, fewer than 10,000 men have been discharged because of battle injuries.

Injury Total to Mount. However, this figure will mount as men complete their convalescence in army and navy hospitals and return to civilian life.

At this point the veterans administration steps in, handling the man or woman's claim for benefits and aiding rehabilitation through the use of existing facilities.

Pension applications show 14,000 persons have suffered vocational handicaps during service in this war. Under the administration's vocational rehabilitation program these veterans may receive training for new jobs.

More than 31,000 veterans of the present conflict have been given either medical treatment or domiciliary care through the veterans administration.

At present the administration has approximately 86,000 beds in 93 hospitals throughout the country and expects to increase that to 100,000 beds by March 1, 1945. The ultimate need is estimated at 300,000 beds.

Former Pastor Is Guest Writer For Ft. Worth Paper

Editor's Note—Rev. Harrell Read, former pastor of the first Christian church of Post and now educational director of the Christian church in Ft. Worth, was guest writer on "Lenten Meditations" for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. The article is thought provoking and the Dispatch publishers feel it is worth reprinting for our readers, especially since the approach of Easter is so near.

Text: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof; the world and they that dwell therein." (Psalms 24:1).

Every day the realization of the presence of law and order in the universe dawns anew upon the mind and heart of individuals. We discover that God did make of one blood "all the nations of men to dwell upon the face of the earth," and that the earth is the Lord's indifference, power, might, not to the contrary. In the face of the destruction, and the untold devastation which war must bring upon the peoples of the world, we must face the fact that God demands of those who would follow him certain attitudes of mind and heart.

Cities are being destroyed; thousands of people are being killed, imprisoned, starved and weakened, but Christians will cultivate in these days the attitudes of compassion and generosity. Christians can not content themselves with luxuries while our own men are under fire, and while millions of people face privation, both material and spiritual. American Christians need to face the fact that our world is God's world, and that the people of the world belong to him.

Dear Lord, Father of all mankind, forgive our feverish ways. Help us to speak always for Christ and to stand against all opposition to Him. Lead us into knowledge of Thy presence in the world, and help us to understand Thy Fatherhood in relation to all mankind. Amen.—REV. HARRELL REA, educational director, First Christian Church.

Culture Club Program Taken From Time Magazine

Mrs. Lee Davis was hostess in her home for the regular meeting of the Culture club last week. Several business matters were discussed, including the plans for the 1944-45 yearbook.

The program was based on news topics as taken from Time Magazine. Our plan of study this year has been based on a presentation of an article followed by informal discussion from all members.

Mrs. Kitchen, program leader, presented "A Post War Reconstruction Plan," being a comprehensive study outlined by Bernard Baruch, one of the ablest thinkers of our day. The gist of this plan is that there is no need for a depression following the war. Mr. Baruch presents suggestions for all types of business, particularly manufacturing and banking, along with advice to governmental agencies.

"What to Bomb and When," about the bomb attack on Cassino, was discussed by Mrs. D. C. Williams. This article presented reactions of different people to the destruction of religious shrines. Consensus of club opinion was that while it is a shame to destroy any beautiful thing which has been an aid to civilization, our soldiers' lives are the first consideration.

"What to Do with Germany" was discussed by Mrs. Cearley. Plans ranging from a complete dismemberment of the country to a federation of states have been advocated by various groups.

Mrs. Durrett provided a much more pleasant topic in her discussion of "Some Modern Trends in Modern Music," telling some interesting things about the piano duo team who performed last week in Lubbock, and about the singers, Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra.

Mrs. Davis was assisted by Mrs. Jones in serving a delicious refreshment plate to Mmes. Manly, Parker, Williams, Kitchen, L. A. Presson, W. L. Davis, Durrett, Cearley and guests. Mmes. Graeber and Sol Davis.

Mayor Walter W. Hyde has designated the week beginning April 3rd as City-Wide Clean-Up Week.

The City Commission is earnestly asking the help of every citizen in town to the end that we may give the streets and alleys of the town a thorough cleaning as well as the premises about our homes and places of business.

The city is asking you to begin now collecting up cans and trash so it will be ready for the city wagons which will start out Monday, April 3rd.

Rake up and clean off that vacant lot next to your property that constitutes an eyesore to you and your neighbors that the city may haul that rubbish off also. Every one must help if we are to make this campaign a success.

Then, we are asking you to help us keep the town clean by keeping all trash and rubbish raked up about your premises and having it hauled off at intervals.

Last Tuesday morning Ed Martin received a telegram from their son Dickie, who is in the hospital in Chickasha, Okla. Then Sunday, a letter from him stating that he might beat the letter home—he is getting a 30-day leave. The Martins also received a letter from the hospital, giving them an address to write to, to learn the nature of their son's case; but they prefer to await his arrival.

J. M. Corley of the Navy arrived here last week and is visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Peddy of Clovis, N. M. made a short visit with Post friends last week.

SOUTHLAND NEWS

Mrs. Marvin Truelock, Community Correspondent

A week ago Sunday night the Southland and Wilson Luther League met in their regular monthly devotional and social meeting at the local church. As their President, Leroy Voigt is leaving for the Marines Monday and vice president Werner Schaffner of Wilson is leaving for the army soon, they planned a farewell party for them at the Wilson church last Friday night. Edmund Wilke was elected president for the rest of the year. The young people, also the older ones, are enjoying the large collection of new books in the library. Each Luther League member drew a name of one of their members in the armed forces, promising to write to him at least once a month.

Mrs. Clyde Sartain was brought home from the Slaton hospital Sunday afternoon, where she will remain for the two months until she can enter the Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Armstrong were called Thursday night to Nolan, near Sweetwater, by the death of an old friend. He conducted the funeral services Friday.

Miss Idilla Corley and her brother J. M. spent Sunday night at the home of their sister, Mrs. Dan Siewert and family.

Saturday, the Lorne Collinsworths were selling their cottonseed meal, their largest item to keep them here. They hope to move to Midland this week. The Collinsworths will be greatly missed, as they have been a part of the community for many years. It is still unknown who will take his place as manager of the Planters Gin.

Sunday night Layman W. H. Hallman of Slaton made a talk at the local Methodist church. This conductor on the Santa Fe was accompanied by his wife and two daughters.

Charles Stotts was carried to the Slaton hospital Wednesday afternoon.

Derral Martin, the four-year-old son of the Bill Martins of Lubbock came home Friday afternoon with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Martin. The child says he is going to stay for six weeks.

Rev. and Mrs. O. J. Harmonson and Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis took dinner and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Arthur.

Last Friday night at Gordon, over $400.00 was raised at the pie supper for the benefit of the Red Cross.

The Southland Red Cross committee has turned in $304.12 to date and several committeemen have not reported.

Children Are Very Susceptible To Tuberculosis

Austin— Speaking of the susceptibility of children to tuberculosis, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today that few people realize that babies and young children are very likely to become infected with tuberculosis if they are kept in rooms with persons who have the disease, use the same dishes, sleep in the same beds, or are handled and kissed by persons who have tuberculosis.

"Babies and young children pick up the germs of tuberculosis just as readily as they pick up the germs of measles or whooping cough, or of any other of the so-called children's diseases," Dr. Cox said. "But tuberculosis, unlike most diseases, has more than one form. Babies who get tuberculosis may not show the symptoms we associate with the disease in older persons. But the disease in most cases develops rapidly and is likely to end fatally. Tuberculosis in babies and young children is a very serious matter, although recent studies have shown that if young children are removed promptly from contact with the disease and given the necessary care, many lives can be saved."

Dr. Cox said that if the presence of tuberculosis is recognized in its early stages and if medical attention is secured promptly, a great deal can be accomplished whenever the disease develops, whether in young or old.

"Tuberculosis doesn't just simply happen. Nobody is born with the disease. Everybody who develops tuberculosis gets it from some other source, and children and young people who have been in contact with persons having tuberculosis are especially likely to contract it."

JET PLANES

An Article in the official publication "Air Force" states that the new jet-propelled planes can travel at least a hundred miles faster than the present propeller-driven planes. This is because air becomes compressible at speeds of 450 miles per hour, and the effect becomes apparent on the propeller. The jet-driven plane is not bothered by this phenomenon.

You can't smile and feel mean at the same time.

New Steel Beauties on the Santa Fe

There isn't yet the ceremony in taking delivery of a new locomotive that there is in christening a ship.

But, just the same, it's a great occasion on the Santa Fe when we receive those super-powered, high-speed locomotives so badly needed today.

For every new one means "rolling" more and longer freight trains loaded with war matériel, and more trains operated for the increasing troop movements.

The three locomotives shown above are among the first delivered of the big fleet of powerful locomotives ordered by Santa Fe. And more are coming!

★ Locomotives illustrated above—new 4-8-4 steam locomotive, 2900 class, 5,400-horsepower freight Diesel; 2-10-4 steam locomotive, 5007 class. You can bet your driving wheels they'll pull a lot of freight cars fast!

Soil Conservation District News

Approximately two miles of terraces were completed for Mr. Ned Rector on his ranch last week. Mr. Rector plans to build two tanks, and have some water spreaders and fire guards constructed according to his Duck Creek Soil Conservation District cooperative plan.

Many farmers are using disc to prepare their land for planting rather than listers. When listed a third more of the surface of the ground is exposed to the wind and sun, thereby increasing the evaporation rate. A maximum amount of the natural vegetation should be left on the surface of the ground when using a disc to prevent wind erosion.

Maintaining and increasing soil fertility is the primary objective of the farmers in the District. One of the best ways of accomplishing this objective is by planting an inoculated legume crop such as peas in a planned rotation on the land. Many farmers cooperating with the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District have already made plans to plant field peas such as Black-eye, Whippoorwill, Clay, and others, for this purpose. Mechanical conservation practices like contouring and terracing help prevent soil fertility from being washed off the land but do not add to the fertility. These water-holding practices cause additional moisture to be stored in the soil so that this increased fertility can be more readily used by the next crop.

Editor Receives Letter From Cpl. Marvin Bowen

New Guinea, Mar. 15
To the Editor of the Dispatch:
Just a few lines from here to let you know how much I have enjoyed "The Post Dispatch." I have been receiving the paper from a friend that is close to me, as all of the boys here really do appreciate what you and the Home Front are doing in the way of buying bonds, working overtime, donating blood, etc.

However, we sure get plenty more when we read over here of strikes. Over here we believe that there is only one small lower than a Jap or a Nazi that (you better put on your gas mask) is a Sixth Columnist Striker.

Have been hearing from my Post friends and try to keep well posted on where and how they are. Also have been receiving some mail from the Post servicemen that are in and about all theatres of this war.

And again I wish to say that we're proud what you and the Home Fronts are doing toward the war effort. And my best regards to all, and a speedy victory and a better new world.

Cpl. Marvin Bowen, Btry. B, 61st F. A. B., APO 201, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

5 Million Men Overseas in '44

Is Plan of War Department; Many Stations and Camps to Close.

WASHINGTON.—The army expects to have about 5,000,000 men, or two-thirds of its forces, overseas by the end of this year and as a result will shut down many of its camps and stations in the continental United States.

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson disclosed this prospect at a news conference at which he also warned against overoptimism over the successful new Allied landings in Italy. He said it is much too early to predict disastrous defeat for the Nazis in Italy; the most which should be said is that the Allied position is favorable.

Oldsters to Be Retired.
The contemplated total of forces overseas by the year's end compares with about 2,500,000 at present and a total of 2,086,000 in the American Expeditionary force of World War I.

In connection with the expansion of overseas forces, the army will comb over its personnel in the United States, picking out the youngest and physically best qualified for service overseas, and retiring to inactive service a number of older officers.

Stimson explained that the war department has ordered physically qualified men in all branches of the army who have had more than a year's service at fixed stations or other activities in the United States reassigned to combat units "or mobile activities ultimately destined for overseas service."

First to be reassigned will be enlisted men under 30 in accordance with the length of their service in the United States. Next will come those over 30, with the youngest to be reassigned first. Passed over will be men who already have served overseas since Pearl Harbor and men who have highly specialized skills which cannot be used overseas.

Order of Replacements.

"Replacements for reassigned enlisted men," Stimson announced, "when necessary, will be made first from civilians, next by Women's Army corps personnel, then, in order, by men permanently disqualified for overseas service, men who have served overseas, recently inducted men with physical handicaps, enlisted men with less than 12 months' service in fixed installations in the United States."

The officers to be placed on the inactive list will come from those over 38 and particularly those commissioned directly from civilian life or in the national guard or reserve.

Caramels, Water Are New Ration for Shipwrecked

WASHINGTON.—The lives of hundreds of shipwrecked castaways may be saved by the use of a new daily ration consisting of 10 butter-scotch caramels and a pint of water, developed by five conscientious objector "guinea pigs" living on a life raft in the waters off Cape Cod.

This simple ration weighs one-third as much as the former emergency packet of dry biscuits, malted milk tablets and tinned meat. It has been recommended by doctors of the Massachusetts General hospital who conducted the experiments.

In addition to taking up less room than the former ration and thus leaving more space for precious water, the caramel candy reduces the loss of bodily water caused by somewhat salted tinned meat, present in some emergency rations. A man can live without food for 30 days but only about 6 to 10 days without water.

The five conscientious objectors, who had been drafted, volunteered for the experiments because, although opposed to aiding the war, they felt this would be a service to humanity.

Russian Wounded Given Egnog Through a Tube

BALTIMORE.—Feeding wounded Russian soldiers egnog on a field hospital operating table has resulted in more rapid recovery and a probable reduction of the death rate, Dr. Henry E. Sigerist, professor of history of medicine, Johns Hopkins university, said.

Based on his observations on reports from Russia to the American-Soviet Medical society, whose journal he edits, he said that the technique of feeding through a tube in the intestine while a patient was being operated on for an abdominal wound was perfected by the Russians to counteract the general debility of a wounded man.

He believes the Russian army is the only one using the technique.

Births in Bermuda Hit All-Time High of 955

HAMILTON, BERMUDA.—The increasing pressure of Bermuda's population on an area shrunk by United States bases is emphasized by 955 births revealing 955 births last year among an estimated 35,000 permanent residents within 1,800 square miles. This 955 represents an all-time high and is made more conspicuous by the fact that about 21 per cent of the births are illegitimate.

Farmers Preparing Ground For Planting

A check-up this week disclosed that more than 75 percent of the farm land in this county is listed. A large percent is flat-broke, in preparation for the planting season. Farmers were lucky this year in receiving good moisture from several rains and snows. Since the planting season is still several weeks away, all land will probably be prepared by that time proving that farmers in this area are really doing their job in fine fashion.

It is noted, too, that in spite of shortages of building materials, many new additions are being constructed on farms throughout the county.

Directed by Vincent Sherman, "Old Acquaintance" is the poignant story of two women, complete opposites as to character and intelligence, whose lives run parallel in the course of many years.
