The following news item from The Lynn County News will be of much interest to friends of Rev. A. C. Hardin. Hardin served as pastor of the First Baptist church here for a number of years.

Rev. A. C. Hardin tendered his resignation as pastor of the First Baptist Church here Sunday night to take effect on May 15. Upon hearing his reasons for resigning, the church accepted his resignation.

The pastor stated that he had long had a strong desire to go into evangelistic work and had almost yielded to the urge many times. Last week he conducted a revival meeting at Wickliff out in Ward county with wonderful results. There were many professions of faith by strong men who were generally regarded as impervious to the gospel appeal. He came back on fire, as it were, for that kind of work continuously. He will probably accept work as a state missionary under the state board, though the salary will be smaller than that which he is now receiving. Upon the termination of his work here, he expects to remove to Plainview.

He preferred to remain with the church until May 15 in order that he might be here through the coming revival services and also save time to properly wind up his affairs here.

Rev. Hardin has been pastor of the church here a little more than a year. He has made many warm friends outside his own church family, and the people of the town generally as well as his own church regret that he is leaving.

Locker Plant To Install Modern "Smoke House"

John L. Wallace was re-elected president of the Garza Cooperative Association when directors of the association met in regular session Friday night at the locker plant.

Other officers elected were T. L. Jones vice-president and C. D. Morrel was named secretary. J. P. O'Connor was retained as manager of the plant.

Outstanding among the problems discussed and decided upon by the directors was the announcement that a smoke house is to be erected in the near future.

The smokehouse, with dimensions of 8 ft. by 7 1/2 ft., is to be built on the inside of the present building and will be constructed of 16 gauge sheet iron.

This announcement will be received with approval by farmers and ranchers who follow the smoking method for curing meats. The installation of equipment will be completed by fall, it was asserted. The meats will be smoked with hickory, Mr. O'Connor said.

Reports and discussions on all departments of the locker plant were heard by the directors. The plant is one of the most up-to-date in this area and has been in operation since 1941.

Directors of the association are John L. Wallace, T. L. Jones, C. D. Morrel, Charlie Bird and S. C. Storie, sr.

County School Lunch Program Contracts Valid

In response to numerous inquiries from citizens in Garza county resulting from the recent action by the House of Representatives turning down 1944-45 School Lunch Program, Dean A. Robinson, Superintendent of Schools said he was informed by WFA's Office of Distribution that all existing contracts and those made prior to the end of June will be carried out and local sponsors will be fully reimbursed.

"Congress has not made a final decision in connection with the Community School Lunch Program for the next fiscal year, but in any event funds already appropriated through June of this year will not be affected," Robinson explained.

He said at present there are 4 schools and 336 children participating in the Community School Lunch Program in Garza county.

WFA's financial assistance to local schools is based on the type and number of meals served. For a complete Type A lunch, which provided one-third to one-half of a child's daily nutritional requirement, the government's aid may be up to a maximum of nine cents per meal. Type B lunch, which requires less facilities for preparation, but still provides at least one-third of the daily food requirements has a maximum reimbursement of six cents. Where only milk can be served, WFA's reimbursement rate is two cents per half-pint. The Community School Lunch Program is sponsored by the State Department of Education.

Orders Covering New Draft Rules Sent To Selective Service Boards

Austin, April 11—A telegraphic directive from state Selective Service headquarters, designed to clarify fully application of the latest induction orders, was in the hands of local boards today.

1. Induction of all registrants who were 26 years old or older as of April 10 (Monday) is postponed "at least for the present" regardless of occupation.

2. Status of registrants known to be evaders, delinquents or moral cases will be determined by the state director.

3. Every effort will be made to induct men under 26 who are physically fit unless their cases are covered by forms 42-A special or 42 special, or unless the men are deferred for other than occupational reasons.

4. No registrants classified 1-A-L (limited service) will be forwarded for induction.

5. Inductions calls and pre-induction physical examination calls will not be exceeded; shortages in previous calls will not be made up.

6. Students can only be considered for deferment on a 42-A special form on which the state director recommends consideration for deferment.

The 42-A special form referred to applies to men under 26 in industrial occupations. The 42 special form applies to men in such services as the merchant marine.

Gen. J. Watt Page, state director of Selective Service earlier said that it was his expectation that virtually all men in the state under 26 could be re-processed in the next six or seven weeks, and beyond that it would be impossible to say now definitely what policy would be followed in regard to men over 26.

Marines To Let 17-Year-Olds Finish School

According to an announcement received from Marine Corps Headquarters, 17-year-old men, now enrolled in their final semester of high school, can enlist in the U. S. Marine Corps with definite assurance that sufficient time will be given to complete their final year. These young men who are not yet 18 will be sworn into the Marine Corps and returned to their homes on an inactive duty status and will not be called to active duty until after their graduation.

Qualifications include: Good physical health, excellent moral character, consent of both parents or guardian, and proof of age through medium of birth certificates. It has been found in the past that most young men can qualify if they have good eyesight, are not colorblind, and do not have flat feet.

The fighting efficiency of these young men has been noted in the South Pacific and other theatres of war where Marines are "On the Job." Therefore, the quota has been increased to permit the enlistment of these "fighting men" who do not want to wait to be drafted. Any 17 year old young man who wants to fight with the U. S. Marines may make application by writing or calling at the U. S. Marine Corps Recruiting Office, Post Office Building, Lubbock, Texas.

Tire Records Must Be Kept To Obtain Replacements

Compulsory periodic inspections of tires on passenger cars will be discontinued after April 20, J. Doyle Settle, District Rationing Executive, has announced. Motorists must continue to have inspected any tire they wish to replace.

It is important that motorists will retain their tire inspection records because OPA will continue the use of them in issuing gasoline rations, Seattle stated.

Discontinuance of these inspections does not mean that the tire picture has become any brighter. It simply means that the inspection program has fulfilled its primary objective—to make motorists conscious of the extreme need for tire conservation and care, the official said.

Seattle also pointed out that a shortage of civilian passenger tires still exists and production this year will run below civilian needs. According to latest estimates of the Office of Rubber Director, 22 million tires will be produced for civilians this year as compared with more than 34 million new replacement tires produced in 1941.

Easter Sunrise Service Held At Methodist Church

The Easter Sunrise Service was held at 7 o'clock Sunday morning in the First Methodist church which had been appropriately and beautifully decorated with evergreens and Easter flowers by Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick. The decorations were centered around a luminous cross placed against a background of evergreens with Easter lilies at the foot.

While the day was changing from the dim light of early dawn to bright sunlight on this Easter morning the auditorium filled to capacity with those who arose early so as to worship together in the hour commemorating the resurrection of Christ.

The message and meaning of Easter in scripture, poetry and prayer was brought in the worship service conducted by Rev. I. A. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church, ably assisted by Rev. R. C. Tension, pastor of the First Baptist church; Rev. Grayson C. Tension, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church; Rev. A. T. Moore, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene; and Rev. Frank Crow, pastor of the First Christian church.

The singers from all the churches, united in a choir under the skilful leadership of Mrs. Skeeter Slaughter, sang five of the Easter hymns which are most beloved by all people everywhere and the anthem, "Easter Dawn," was also sung. Miss Jackie Thomas sang "Christ is King." The organ accompaniments and music were ably and beautifully rendered by Miss Betty Williams.

4-H Cow-Hog-Hen Program ARE YOU PLAYING WITH

An essay contest is to be conducted in Garza county from April 4 to May 10th. The contest is to be directed by a general committee composed of the County Agents, Assistant Agent, the District Agent, Swine Specialist, and the officials of the Lubbock Sears, Roebuck and Co. store.

Eight purebred registered gilts and one boar will be given to this county, and will represent one of the major breeds of hogs. In order to qualify for one of these pigs, the boy will write and submit an essay entitled, "Advantages of the Cow-Hog-Hen Plan of Farming." The essay to have a maximum of 500 words. The contest is open to all 4-H Club boys in Garza county.

All essays must be in the hands of the County Agents of each county by May 10, 1944, and must be written on notebook paper, typed or in ink and must contain name, address, name of club, and county of contestant. The essays must be judged by a committee in each county, appointed by the County Agent.

Pigs will be awarded as prizes on the basis of 40% for best essay showing knowledge and information the contestant has on the subject, and 60% upon his facilities and ability to successfully complete the demonstration. Judges reserve the right to talk to the contestants, to inspect the farms, and to talk to the parents and others in making their decisions.

Each essay must be accompanied agreement blank, signed by the contestant.

"Should I win a pig, I agree to feed, care for, and breed this pig under the direction of my County Agent. Should I win a gilt, I agree to return to my County Agent the choicest gilt, with certificate of registration, from the first litter, on or after the age of ten weeks, which pig will be one of the prizes in my county for a similar contest next year. Should I win a boar, I agree to furnish free service to other Sears-Roebuck gilts in my county for the first litters, and to keep accurate books of breeding records. I have read the rules of the contest and agree to abide by them to the best of my ability.

"I also agree that if I neglect the fine pig placed with me, or do not follow my County Agent's instructions, he will have authority to take my pig and place it with another boy."

This will make it possible in each of the counties to carry on an endless pig club chain year after year. Agreement blanks will be furnished at the time the contest is entered.

All pigs will be delivered into the hands of the winners of essays on a date to be set and announced later.

The pigs which have been distributed to the contestants will be returned to a show to be judged for best development as breeding stock and not as fat hogs. The Sears-Roebuck Foundation will at that time award prizes in each county as follows: 1st prize, allowed to show his gilt at the district show and receive a registered heifer; 2nd prize, 125 baby chicks, or 63 turkey eggs or 31 pounds; 3rd prize, 100 baby chicks, or 50 turkey eggs or 25 pounds; 4th and 5th, 100 baby chicks or 50 turkey eggs or 25 pounds. The 1st prize gilts and the boar from each county will be brought to a district show for competitive exhibit, and appropriate prizes will be awarded.

The County Agents in their respective counties will maintain an up-to-date breeding record on all animals including foundation stock and all-offsprings thereafter. They will make such reports as are requested by the Extension Service.

OPA Reports Prices Being Held In Line

Food prices have not advanced as much in the past year as most people believe, according to reports from the OPA.

People who have been wondering about the actual figures concerning the price control program, have done some investigating for themselves. They have taken a copy of last year's paper and compared the prices listed in a grocer's ad with those listed by the same store this year.

The findings were proof of what cooperation of grocers and the Price Panel can accomplish in holding prices down.

Six market basket items were carried in both the ads. A 10 lb. sack of sugar is selling this year for four cents less than in 1943; a large box of soap flakes costs two cents more this year; a pound jar of coffee four cents less; a box of breakfast cereal one-half cent less; longhorn cheese three cents more; canned corn one cent more.

These figures are important because they are factual proof that prices can be held in line in spite of the pressure of inflation.

Junior - Senior Banquet Held Friday Night

The Junior class of Post High school entertained the Senior class with a delightful Hawaiian banquet last Friday night in the dining room of the Methodist church which was beautifully decorated and arranged.

While the young people were gathering, music was softly played.

Following the invocation by Rev. R. C. Tension, a delicious three-course dinner was served.

Miss Iris Parker gave the welcome address and a clever response was made by Marshall Manton. A trio composed of Sue North, De-Alva Darden and Virginia Evans, accompanied at the piano by Eloise Dodson, sang "Blue Hawaiian"; Theda Gilmore, accompanied by Mrs. Ray Smith, sang "Sweet Leilani"; Marlene Edwards sang "Moonlight Cocktail" and was accompanied by Iris Parker; "Sweet Hawaiian Moonlight" was played on the violin by Darrace Probst.

The special part of the program was a boys quartet composed of Alvin Davis, Bobby Cash, Marshall Manton and Frank Stokes. They sang "Aloha Oe." A lovely "Tribute to the Seniors" was given by Lorene Blacklock. Mary Duckworth and Zora Ann Outlaw played Franz Schubert's "Serenade" as a duet on the piano. A reading entitled "Ain't Love Grand" was given by Hazel Cash. Eloise Dodson played a piano solo, "Song of the Islands," and as a fitting conclusion everybody stood and sang the school song.

After the banquet the Junior took the Seniors to a preview of the picture "Jam Session" at the Garza theatre.

SAUL'S EARLY PREACHING

LESSON TEXT: Acts 9:19-30; 11:25, 26. GOLDEN TEXT: I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.—Romans 1:16.

"A changed man"—that oft-used expression assumes real meaning as it is applied to one who has experienced the redeeming grace of God in Christ. In a special way this was true of Paul, whose transformed life amazed those who knew him before he had met Christ on the Damascus road.

In our lesson we find him in three different cities, serving his new-found Master and Lord.

I. At Damascus—Confounding the Jews (9:19-25).

"Straightway." What a good word to apply to the servant of the Lord. Paul did not hesitate to declare his faith in Christ, to proclaim that the One who had redeemed him was able also to save others.

It is the normal and proper expression of Christian faith to give testimony to others. That should be true of every believer. With Paul there was the added element of his call to preach, for God had ordained that he should be His chosen vessel for that purpose (Acts 9:15).

One is impressed by the prompt and unquestioning obedience of so many of Christ's followers of whom we read in the New Testament. No doubt that explains their power and wide usefulness. We could learn of them.

Paul's message was Christ. He proved to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ (v. 22), the One of whom their Old Testament Scriptures spoke and for whom they professed to be looking. He declared Him to be the Son of God (v. 20).

They were unwilling to accept the message. They were "amazed" at Paul and "confounded" by the truth he proclaimed, but they rejected both it and him, and he had to escape for his life. But another city must hear his witness, so we find him—

II. At Jerusalem—Disputing With the Grecians (9:26-30).

Knowing his violent persecution of the church, the disciples in Jerusalem were suspicious. Perhaps there was a measure of justification for such an attitude, but one is glad that there was present the generous, open-hearted Barnabas, ready to believe in his new brother in Christ and to sponsor him in the church.

A word of admonition to the church of our day is necessary, regarding the making of a new convert or a stranger at home in the fellowship of the saints. There is no need of putting such a one quickly into office or a place of honor, but let him know that he is accepted and believed in, and thus give him an opportunity to grow.

Paul remained in Jerusalem this time for two weeks (Gal. 1:18), going in and out, that is, in friendly fellowship. That is just what the young Christian needs, and should seek.

He also had something to make right. He had joined the Grecian Jews when they disputed with Stephen (8:9) and stoned him. Paul had agreed with and joined them on that occasion. Now by the miracle of regeneration he is a new creature and is on the exactly opposite side. Now he disputes with the Grecians, declaring that Jesus is the Christ. What a blessed change!

They refused to tolerate that word, and prepared to kill him. But the servant of the Lord was kept by Him, and delivered through the good offices of Christian brethren. How often it is true that the minister must look to the brethren for that kindness which delivers him from distress and danger.

Paul returned for a time to his home city of Tarsus, but when a need of his services arose he was called out, and we find him—

III. At Antioch—Teaching the Christians (11:23, 26).

Persecution spread the believers abroad (Acts 11:19), and like the scattered brands of a beaten fire they carried the flame of Christianity far and wide. Thus the gospel came to Antioch, the third greatest city in the world of that day. A revival broke out, and Barnabas was sent from Jerusalem to be of help.

Good and spiritual man that he was (Acts 11:23, 24), Barnabas did nothing to hinder this work of God, but admonished the people to "cleave unto the Lord," that is, to follow Him closely. Would that all spiritual advisers had such a spirit and such sound judgment.

He was also wise in sensing his need of help. So he went after Paul, the very man to teach these young Christians, and to lead them out into a radiant and abundant life for the Lord.

Here it was that the beautiful name of "Christian" was first applied to believers. It is believed to have originally been a term of ridicule, but even then it was a testimony, for it declared that these believers were devoted to Christ and concerned only with pleasing and serving Him.

War Has Made Map Business Thrive

Clamor From Parents of Men in Service Grows.

NEW YORK.—The war has made Americans so map-minded that cartographers, in the throes of an unprecedented boom, have rolled out 50,000,000 maps since Pearl Harbor. "We've never seen anything like it," said Jacques Frazin, manager of the eastern commercial department of Rand McNally and company. "We're oversold on globes and atlases. Printed color map sales have more than doubled since peacetime. They follow the headlines and the boys in camp."

As soon as a new American theater of operations is opened maps of the region become sold out. There's been a corresponding clamor for maps of the United States from parents and friends of servicemen who want to visualize and measure how far Johnny's camp is from home.

In anticipation of the big invasion, maps of Europe are most popular at the moment. For the last few months Italy has taken the lead.

"Sometimes," said Frazin, "we can guess from government orders where the next 'hot spot' may be."

"Bougainville was a dot to us in 1939 when we stopped surveys and boundary changes, and it still is," Frazin said. "But the boys' folks want detail, a couple of streets, maybe, so they can picture where the kid is."

World maps with colored pins and flags are as popular with soldiers in camp as with civilians at home.

Pictorial maps for children and luxury models for big executives are also setting sales records.

"We've done hand-painted jobs as big as 32 by 16 feet and costing a flat $4,000," Frazin said.

Window Washer Dangles Over Street, Loses Voice

CHICAGO.—Nick Kublik, the man who lost his voice five stories above ground when his safety strap broke as he was washing windows in a building at 35 S. Dearborn street, is back to normal now. He can talk.

Kublik had the most harrowing experience of his career as he dangled on one strap before onlookers. His lips were seen to move, but no sound came forth. Heads from various windows peered in horror at his plight.

Then two men, not content merely to watch, acted. Stanley J. Keldsen, an advertising man, ran from his office on the seventh floor and grabbed Kublik's leg. Samuel Lee, a furrier, also quartered on the seventh floor, grabbed an arm. A cooperative tug, and Kublik was safe.

U. S. Farmers Discover Britons Fonder of Work

LONDON.—A good harvest of comments was reaped today by British newspaper men who interviewed three American farmers who had traveled 5,000 miles in Britain.

Oscar Henline of Marcus, Iowa, said: "The British farmer is fonder of work than we are. He will walk behind a machine. We won't."

Robert J. Howard of Sherburne, N. Y., said: "I take off my hat to your land girls; they are wonderful."

Earl Robinson of Mondovi, Wis., said a Scottish farmer had financed part of their trip when they ran out of cash.

Former Post Boy Gets Taste Of Ack Ack Over Beachhead

An interview with Staff Sgt. Arthur R. Osborne of Cirpus Christi and formerly of Post, has been released by the War Department as reported by a war correspondent. Sergeant Osborne is a ball turret gunner for the heavy bomber "Nancy Ann" with the Fifteenth Army Air Force in Italy.

"I was never so happy to set foot on good old terra firma," said Osborne after completing his first combat mission in support of Allied troops fighting at the Anzio Beachhead.

"In fact it was an overwhelming feeling," the tall, slim sergeant exclaimed. "That ack ack was so intense that I thought I'd never get back in one piece. Every time a shell burst near us it rocked our ship like a toy. It sounded like a muffled explosion followed by flying fragments which beat a rapid tattoo about the framework of our ship."

"And when our fighter escort attacked," Osborne added, "You should have seen those Jerries high-tail it for home."

Sergeant Osborne was a turret gunner instructor at several air bases in this country, but since going overseas has taken part in raids over Steyr, Austria, and Nazi installations and supply bases in Italy and Germany.

Osborne entered the service in January, 1942. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCampbell and while living here was employed by Mason and Co. His wife, Mrs. Lilly Osborne, lives in Corpus Christi.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wood have received the promotion order of their son, Charles W. Wood to Private First Class from Private "Line Duty Temporary." Charles is stationed at Marine Barracks, San Francisco, Calif.

Jitters in Japan

By Joseph Newman

(WNU Feature—Through special arrangement with The American Magazine)

Japan is getting the jitters. We have it on no less an authority than Emperor Hirohito and his No. 1 war lord, General Hideki Tojo. Hirohito has told his pugnacious people that the outlook for Japan is now "truly grave," and Tojo underscored the divine insight of the god-emperor by adding that the war situation is "very complicated."

This, in the customary Japanese manner of speaking by indirection, is another way of saying: "The Yanks are coming." And the Japanese man in the street, whether he shuffles along in his wooden clogs and traditional kimono or wears the pinching leather shoes and tight-fitting sack coats copied from his occidental enemies, knows what that means. It means that the despised Yankees are on their way to the heart of the Japanese Empire—and that they're coming with skyfuls of bombs for the industrial nerve center from which stems the terror and destruction spread by the Japanese throughout Asia and the Pacific.

The Japanese, far better than their enemies, know just how vulnerable they are. They know that once their outer rim of defense is cracked, the heart of the empire will be exposed to a deathblow. That's why the Japanese, in their opening stroke of war, pushed as hard and as fast as they could go to the north, south, east, and west, so as to shove the Americans from all bombing bases within reach of the main home islands.

And that's why, now that the outer rim is crumbling, Hirohito, Tojo, and the shuffling Japanese man in the street are very unhappy. They have heard what round-the-clock bombing has done to Berlin, Hamburg, Essen, Frankfurt, and other industrial centers of their retreating German partner. They know, as do Americans who have lived in Japan for any length of time, that the six key industrial cities of Japan will burn as fast as—if not faster and more furiously than—their Nazi equivalents in Germany.

Most Vulnerable Country.

The six key centers are Tokyo, Osaka, Nagoya, Kyoto, Yokohama, and Kobe. I have had a good look at all of them—the industrial Ruhr of Japan—and I was often impressed by the thought of how quickly Japan could be snuffed out as a world power by igniting the huge, sprawling fire-traps from the air. A good, stiff wind, which invariably blew over these coastal centers from the sea, strengthened this thought and suggested how nature, combined with feverish, careless construction of these cities served to make Japan the most vulnerable country in the world.

The construction was careless because the Japanese had neither the time nor the money nor the desire to change the basic layout of their cities from a feudal to a modern one.

Thus there was a mushroom growth of sprawling factories among the flimsy, wooden, boxlike houses packed tightly together in areas through which there are often only dirt alleys or footpaths instead of paved streets. After the devastating earthquake and fire of 1923 some streets were enlarged and some modern innovations were introduced. But this was limited to the business sections of Tokyo and Yokohama.

The layout and structure of the greater part of the Japanese capital and the key eastern port of the country are about as primitive as they were 2,603 years ago.

In Nagoya, Kyoto, Kobe and Osaka conditions are similar to those of Tokyo and Yokohama. The downtown business areas are full of concrete and steel, but the larger sections of the cities, where most of the homes and many of the factories are located, are covered with a forest of wooden boxes, which millions call home. So that even the fire-proof structures are trapped in the forests of wood and paper houses which, when touched off by American bombs, will turn into infernos.

The heavy concentration of industry and other military objectives in the six leading cities provides something of a bomber's dream.

Fleets of Targets.

If he comes in from the east and flies westward over the main island of Honshu toward China, as the Do-little raiders did, the first target he will find in his bombsights will be Yokohama. Here the principal targets are the harbor, one of the two largest in the country, shipbuilding yards, warehouses, metal, machine-tool, and chemical plants, textile and rubber mills, and an automobile factory. The 18-mile strip between Yokohama and Tokyo is packed solid with industries turning out machines and machine tools.

Health Officer Says Sanitary Bedding Will Protect Health

Austin, April 11—In a statement issued today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, it was disclosed that 93,672 mattresses, pillows, and other used articles of bedding had been sterilized under state supervision during the calendar year 1943.

This figure represents the number of articles of secondhand bedding sold in the State of Texas during 1943. The state Sanitary Bedding Law requires that every used article of bedding which is offered for sale must first be sterilized by a process approved by the State Board of Health. The law further requires that after an article of used bedding has been sterilized, a law tag be attached showing that the sterilization has been applied. In the purchase of secondhand bedding this tag is the purchaser's guarantee of health protection. Dr. Cox urged that all purchasers of used bedding demand to see that the sterilization tag has been attached.

"Before buying any article of bedding, whether new or secondhand, the purchaser should demand to see the law tag since all bedding is required to show some sort of tag," Dr. Cox said.

New bedding is required to have a tag attached showing that all new materials were used in its manufacture, and also the type and grade of filling materials used. Bedding manufactured from secondhand materials is required to have tags attached showing that the article is made of secondhand filling materials and that sterilization has been applied.

Mr. Kenneth Hale of Dallas arrived here April 2 to make her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pettigrew of Justiceburg. Kenneth has been overseas since October. Mrs. Hale has been employed with the Western Union Telegraph Co.

PATRIOTISM IN REVERSE

Strikers recently tied up five big Portland, Oregon, sawmills, while the workers went into a special meeting to discuss wage demands.

What irony! If union officials or the men had any interest in the American soldiers at the front waiting for supplies, they would have held their meetings to discuss wage demands after working hours, and they would have stayed at their jobs producing lumber, just as our armed forces are staying at the front and losing their lives in order that workers at home may draw high wages, enjoy family life, and enjoy the right to strike.

Men sanctioning such work stoppages should be ashamed to show their faces in public.

Making an appropriation to buy the wife a fur coat should come under the head of defense appropriations.

NO HIGHER TRIBUTE

No higher tribute could be paid to an industry than that received by the airlines of the United States from the Truman committee in the course of its investigation of the national defense program. In a detailed report on the present status of United States air power, the committee had the following to say of the worldwide air cargo service which the airlines were instrumental in developing:— "Hundreds of thousands of tons of supplies have been moved by air to sustain military operations, which would otherwise have been absolutely impossible. Without these planes, we could not have taken or held Guadalcanal; we could not have sent thousands of American and Australian troops over the Owen-Stanley Mountains. . . . In short, we could not have prosecuted the campaigns which constituted our first great offensives against the Japanese.

"Similarly, cargo and transport planes were of tremendous value in supplying military operations in Burma, China, Russia, and North Africa, and indeed everywhere that combat has taken place. Some high Chinese officials have stated that without the aid of cargo and transport planes, China could not have continued an effective resistance of the enemy. . . .

"Thousands of wounded men have been evacuated by air to points of safety where they could obtain adequate medical attention. Many of them owe their lives to these planes. . . .

"These are contributions to the winning of the war of the very highest order and all who have participated in building and operating these planes and providing the necessary airfields and equipment to maintain them may well be proud. . . .

"This was accomplished, and could have been accomplished, only through the splendid cooperation of the private airlines, which possessed the necessary nucleus of skill and experience."

Views of Neighboring Editors:

The Lynn County News— If the negroes of Texas are to be allowed the privilege of entering the Democratic primaries, we trust that they will realize that in a sense they will be on trial. It was not because of prejudice against the negroes so much as a determination to curtail corruption in politics that caused Texas to require the payment of a poll tax as a prerequisite to voting in the first place and that prompted the Democratic party to bar them from its primaries a little later. If they allow themselves to become the pawns of corrupt white men and permit such men to buy their votes at wholesale at so much per head, as was so openly done in years past, they may expect some means to be taken to bar them again from the Democratic primaries.

Texas Spur— National unity is essential to victory, in war or peace, but we cannot have it if anybody tries to secure selfish advantages.

World Peace will be easier to secure if we are willing to let the nations of the world swap their goods. Increased world trade will improve living conditions everywhere.

After all the talk about planes, tanks and rocket guns it begins to look like the ground soldier will determine the outcome of the war.

Nolan County News (Catch All Column)— Our dog is dead. This isn't news to you if you have been anywhere in hearing distance of the Marsh family this week.

It's such an infinitesimal tragedy, the violent dying of one black and white, clumsy-footed, mournful-eyed cocker spaniel in the calm sunshine of a spring morning. My mind knows that. But my heart keeps crying—maybe because the death of a dog is one of the world's few bereavements simple enough and small enough to be wept about.

Slaton Slatonite— There are a lot of weekly newspapers being put out on the lend-lease plan, as present owners are pushed into the armed forces, and I'm wondering whether the owners are going to have as hard a time getting their property back when the war ends.

TRUCK AND BUS OPERATORS URGED TO MAINTAIN THEIR VEHICLES

All truck and bus owners are being reminded by the Office of Defense Transportation that their primary objective during the current year must be to maintain and rehabilitate the vehicles they now own if there is to be no bogging down of the nation's transportation machinery.

Manufacturing plants, equipped to make trucks, buses and cars, are engaged in manufacturing military vehicles and munitions of war.

However there is a brighter side. In spite of the great demands on truck manufacturers, the replacement parts situation is better. With a more adequate supply of parts which should be available this year, the nation's trucks can be kept in operation by minimum overhauling and by regular preventive maintenance.

The word "tip," is said to have been derived from the first letters of words in the phrase, "to insure promptness."

Science tells us that the human brain is capable of holding three billion ideas. We sometimes think the government is trying to carry all of them out.

as the Government will on the millions of dollars worth of stuff we are shipping to England and Russia.

Scurry County Times— "We have vastly more than superior mastery in the air," an observer stated this week, "and with the whole sky now full of pilots we're glad to say that many a Scurry County boy is helping to take the war to the backyard of Hitler and Hirohito." We are glad Scurry County boys are not only doing a grand job in the U. S. Air Corps, but many civilians would be surprised to learn just how many bombardiers, gunners and radio men the county has furnished to this branch of service.

In giving Nazi Germany, the French invasion coast and Italy the plastering by air they are getting we are making it possible to prepare for actual invasion of Europe with loss of as few men as modern warfare permits.

We are glad some of our county boys are helping to write history in the air, and we trust this government will take adequate steps to keep the boys flying in civilian undertakings after the peace is written and reconstruction gets well underway.

WILL YOU DIE NEXT MONTH?

According to a bulletin from the National Board of Fire Underwriters, estimated fire losses in the United States during February of this year were $38,280,000, an increase of 15 per cent over losses for the same month in 1943. These grim figures which appear with clock-like regularity month after month, hold a tale of death and destruction that can never be fully told in all its horror. Each month hundreds of people—men, women and children—meet violent death in the flaming wreckage of factories, homes and farms. Many of them had never before encountered the consuming fury of uncontrolled fire. When it struck, they were unprepared to defend themselves or their property. Others lucky enough to escape with their lives, look back with tragic regret to the things they could have done to have saved those who died.

Look about your home and place of work. Spring is the time to clean up. Attics, basements and store rooms are the breeding grounds of fire. Broom closets containing oily dust cloths are time bombs awaiting detonation from spontaneous ignition.

After everything possible has been done to prevent fire, the next step is to be ready if it starts. Is there adequate fire protection in your district? Is the extinguishing equipment handy and in good condition? How would you escape from the building in which you work? How would you escape from your home? How about your family? Do they know what to do in case of fire? Unless you can answer such questions satisfactorily, you or your family both may be among the hundreds who will lose their property and possibly their lives next month by fire.

Mrs. Dan Altman and little daughter, Judy, moved back into their home early this week. They have been making their home with Mrs. Ira Greenfield for several months. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith who have been occupying the Altman home moved into an apartment in the home of Mrs. T. L. Price.

K. Stoker underwent surgery on his neck Tuesday morning in the West Texas hospital in Lubbock. He was accompanied to the hospital by his daughter, Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick, and Mr. Kirkpatrick. It is believed that he will be able to return home in a day or two.

John R. Lamond, Jr. visited Tuesday for a few hours with his mother, Mrs. Lamond, and his sister, Mrs. Mike Thomas. John is with the Carpenter Paper Co. of Abilene.

Mrs. J. T. Cunningham and two children of Belen, N. M. are visiting her mother, Mrs. S. W. McCrary.

Mrs. Calvin Middleton and son, Tommy, of Amarillo were week end guests of her mother, Mrs. J. B. Faulkner.

Mrs. Fate Williams moved to Brownfield Sunday. Mr. Williams is manager of the market department of the Piggly Wiggly store at that place and has been there for several weeks.

Mrs. R. A. Boswell, Roberta Boswell and Mrs. D. W. Adams returned Sunday from Neosho, Missouri, where they met Albert V. Boswell, Electricians mate 3/e.

Lights of New York By L. L. STEVENSON

Information: One of this department's close friends is a gentleman of the old school which, of course, means that he is meticulous in regard to his linen. Only in recent years has he deigned to wear shirts with collars and cuffs attached and he still insists that the only proper thing is for both the collar and cuffs to be starched stiffly. ...

No Foolin': That wit blooms in the war theater as well as on the home front is the contention of "Senator" Ed Ford, who tells a story related to him by a member of the U. S. maritime service, now home on leave after taking part in the Italian campaign. ...

One Way: Joel Ashley, who played the young lead opposite Margaret Lindsay in "Another Love Story," was well started in the films before he joined the marines a couple of years ago. (He's out now with an honorable discharge and a pension after a bad accident) His first chance came when he was working with Warner Bros. as a studio electrician. ...

Turnabout: Speaking of the movies, petite Connie Haines comes into mind. Six years ago while Miss Haines was singing on the stage of the Roxy theater—at that time she was using her real name which is Marie Ja'Mais—her manager brought back a talent scout. An audition was given and at the conclusion, the scout opined: "She's just fair, and I'm afraid she will never get anywhere." ...

Music Lovers: Bidu Sayao, Brazilian soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co., whose recent singing of the Melisande role in "Pelleas and Melisande," brought high praise from the critics, gave her maid two tickets to the opera the other evening. The next morning, Miss Sayao asked her how she had enjoyed it. "It was fine, Madame," answered the maid, "except for two women in the back of me who discussed recipes all the time."

Around the Town: All-out Ariene Francis selling war bonds and stamps to customers in the Lyceum lobby before retreating back stage to make up for her role of Russian sniper in "The Doughgirls." "Early to Bed" Jane Deering lingering on-stage after every performance to salvage all the bobby pins the other girls leave behind. Al Smith standing up for applause at the Pierre's Cotillion room as Stanley Meiba and his orchestra play "East Side, West Side."

H. F. Giles left Saturday for Tulsa, Oklahoma where he will visit his father who is ill and his daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Anthony.

The Story of Kenny Method of Treating Infantile Paralysis

Just three and a half years ago—in 1940—a distinct change in our treatment of infantile paralysis was introduced, one that has since caught the public's attention because of its human drama. This was, of course, the method of treating paralysis victims which was evolved by Sister Kenny, the Australian nurse.

Many have misunderstood the nature of the Kenny treatment, and have thought it a cure for infantile paralysis. That is not true, and Sister Kenny makes no such claim. There is no cure for this crippling disease. The medical profession is still in the dark as to how to prevent it. It cannot control its spread. No one yet knows by what method this virus is carried from one victim to another. In a day when we are masters of typhoid, smallpox, and diphtheria—infantile paralysis is still a riddle, a mystery, a crippling menace prowling our country at will.

What Sister Kenny has contributed, however,—and it is a very real contribution—is a method for treating victims already stricken by infantile paralysis; a method that in the opinion of many doctors reduces the crippling after-effects of the disease.

Instead of immobilizing her patient's paralyzed limbs in casts or splints, she worked out a method of easing the pain and tightness in the muscles by frequent applications of heat—strips of woolen material were wrung out of steaming hot water. As the pain subsided she followed this with passive exercise until the patient himself could move his limbs. This treatment has prevented many of the crippling after-effects of the disease.

Eight medical colleges and one hospital devoted solely to treating infantile paralysis and to training professional people took up the burden of making the special skills and knowledge available to all doctors, nurses and physical therapy technicians.

It is the dimes and dollars of the American people that have made this possible—the dimes and dollars they have contributed each year to the March of Dimes. And those dimes have done good work.
