School Board Studies Stadium Repair

Jimmie Bartlett and Don Payne took the oath of office at the opening of last week's Post ISD board of trustees regular meeting.

Jack Kirkpatrick was elected to serve another term as president of the board, with Tom Middleton named as vice president and Royce Hart as secretary.

The board accepted the recommendation of superintendent Bill Shiver to appoint Mrs. Patricia Thompson on the Career Ladder Selection Committee, pending clarification from the school's attorney.

The decision was made following an executive session to discuss the issue.

Board members were unable to reach a decision concerning the repair of stadium seats, but did agree that "something has to be done," and at the recommendation of Kirkpatrick, the board scheduled a meeting Tuesday morning (May 21) to continue the matter.

The discussion also centered around the best ways to correct overcrowding at the athletic facilities.

During the discussion, Middleton reminded board members that the vocational training facility is also overcrowded and that he felt it should be included in the improvements.

The board approved a contract to Jenkins and Saffel Heating and Air Conditioning of Rule, Texas on a low bid of $5,237.50 for air conditioning the Junior High learning center.

A request by Mrs. Amy Easterling for a leave of absence was approved.

The board also approved the training program, to be paid for by a local benefactor, for providing education in Post for special reading skills.

The students in this program are currently being transported to Lubbock.

Board members Hart and Payne quizzed First National Bank president Jack King about the interest rates paid on the school system's certificates of deposit.

King said the rates were in line with the market and that the bank provides the quality of securities mandated by law as a measure of protection for the school.

King also reminded trustees that the bank puts thousands of dollars every year back into the community and especially school-related programs in support of 4-H, FFA and other student programs.

The board approved the renewal of a $2,491,400 certificate of deposit at 8.0 percent interest.

veterans beginning at 10 a.m. at Terrace Cemetery.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Steve Traw, pastor of the First Christian Church.

W.F. Shiver, superintendent of the Post ISD, will deliver the main address at the ceremony.

Names of the deceased veterans will be read by one or more members of the VFW Post.

The benediction will be given by Rev. Arthur Kelly, pastor of the Pleasant Home Baptist Church.

Taps will be sounded by Mike Hair.

Flags will be placed on veterans' graves by the VFW and Ladies' Auxiliary, also by friends and families of deceased veterans.

Hospital Board Approves Computer Plan

Garza Memorial Hospital board members approved at the regular meeting last Thursday the bid of Professional Software Inc of Oklahoma City for the hospital computer system.

Hospital administrator Maritta Reed told board members that she had checked into the various proposals and found PSI to be the best of the three bids.

The board also approved the transfer of $5,750.59 in delinquent accounts to the attorney for collection.

An amendment to the by-laws got its first reading, which will bring the hospital rules into compliance with the Medicare Survey, which requires that the by-laws specify medical staff to be on rotation call 24 hours a day.

An indigent application for a diabetic patient of one of the hospital's doctors was approved, pending review of the patient's employment status. Materials for the patient will be supplied for one month before reviewing the situation.

Dr. Charles McCook, D.D.S. was accepted by the board for membership to the medical staff.

The First National Bank was named as the depository for the hospital.

A new resuscitator will be added to the surgical equipment to replace one that "is worn out." The cost of the new resuscitator is $669.

The board also approved the installation of radiant heat panels for bathrooms at a cost of $822.12.

Attending the meeting were Jack Alexander, David Nichols, David Newby, Zoe Kirkpatrick, David Tyler and administrator Mrs. Reed.

Garza County Fair Set for Oct. 11 - 12

The Garza County Fair planning committee chose October 11 and 12 as the date for the 1985 fair, with exhibits to be displayed in the Post Community Center.

The committee approved exhibits to be accepted for awards in two categories, one for youth enrolled in Garza County schools and an open division for all other entries.

In addition to fair exhibitors, the committee is actively seeking commercial exhibitors, who will be provided sidewalk space along West Main Street from the Community Center to the courthouse.

Jay Pollard is chairman of the commercial exhibits.

Other booths on the street will feature a wide variety of food concessions, with the Post Lions Club coordinating that portion of the fair.

A full day of live musical entertainment is also scheduled, with Ronnie Dunn serving as chairman of that committee.

The committee will meet again June 12 at Jackson's Cafeteria.

At the meeting last Monday were Charles Wallace, Danielle and Earl Chapman, Sue Maxey, Nona Lusk, Wes Burnett, T.L. Smith, Ellis Ivey II, Wilma Smith, Pru Basquez, Victor Ashley, Voda

Gradine, Faye Payton, Diane Graves, Cindy Johnson, Sara Ault, Peggy Wheeler, Betty Dennis, Jearye Wester and Jay Pollard, along with county extension agents Syd Conner and Colleen England.

Post Notes

by Wes Burnett

It certainly wouldn't qualify as a scientific survey, but just hearing talk around town and listening to clerks at the grocery stores gives me the impression that there is a wide-spread revolt by Coca-Cola lovers.

The "new Coke" isn't fairing very well in Post.

Bill Cosby may think it's great, the people in New York may love the new taste, but folks around here flat don't like it.

My theory is that there are "Coke" people, and there are "Dr Pepper" people and "Pepsi" and so on.

Now, store clerks are finding out who those "Coke" people are.

I jokingly told Kenneth Williams at the Corner Grocery that he could set all the "old Cokes" on one shelf, triple the price and take a vacation.

The search around town for the "old Cokes" is serious business.

Kenneth didn't think that was such a good idea, although he has stashed away a few of the precious "old Cokes", but not for sale.

Just a personal opinion, not being a "Coke" freak, but to me the "new Coke" tastes too sweet.

Dustin Ammons has a theory about the whole thing. He says that Coca-Cola intentionally changed the taste to make a bundle, all the while knowing they will change back when the public demand gets strong enough.

Dustin's theory claims that their sales will go up with lots of people trying the new Coke, then when the true-blue Coke freaks scream loud enough, the company will change back to the old formula and make a big hoopla about that and sell more Cokes than ever before.

Hmmm...interesting marketing concept.

I wonder if something like that could work in the newspaper business...never mind, it was just a theory.

Postman (that's like in postal service) Bill McBride told me last week that on his mail route people grab the newspaper on Wednesdays out of his hand...and some folks look for their Dispatch before their checks.

I don't know if he was just trying to make me feel good, but whatever, we appreciate knowing that there are a lot of folks in town who enjoy the fruits of our labor.

Intense weekly readership and quality customers, that's what this newspaper offers its advertisers...

Thanks for the tip, Bill.

Didn't have time Tuesday morning to do any checking, but our rain gauge at home showed two inches from Monday's rain.

During the storms U.S. Hwy 84 north on top of the cap was almost shut down as the hail cut visibility to near zero and part of the highway were underwater.

Some flooding was reported, but mostly on the streets that usually flood during a fast rain...Avenue S looked like a river.

The moisture should be good for farmers and ranchers...hope the hail didn't hurt any newly planted fields.

Dr Charles McCook has an interesting letter to the editor in this issue...which asks some questions about our welfare system and state or federally funded "freebies."

As a Christian I believe in caring for those who can not care for themselves.

I think most people feel that way.

It is the times that we see the few take advantage of this generous Christian spirit that seems to bother most of us.

We wrestle with how to administer the caring and sharing so that those who really need help get it.

We are outraged when we find out that there are some folks who sneak in the backdoor to grab a handful even though they don't really need it.

To me, that is the time when our Christian charity is stretched and seriously challenged.

How we behave when we feel ripped off...that is a measure of our Christian faith.

I do not know the answer.

But I do not like the idea of government taking on the role of what we as individual and corporate citizens ought to be doing. Before the government handouts, there was a crying need for help to the impoverished.

Perhaps the "Great Society" Lyndon Johnson had in mind was created because of our general lack of concern for those in need.

It seemed like a good idea at the time.

I only ask that we carefully consider the consequences of both the "freebies" we pass out and our actions to cut off the help that is needed.

Both courses of action demand careful thought.

We are a generous people...and most of us try to follow the example set by Christ...

But then, there were and are those who take advantage of His generosity too.

It's really too tough a question for my feeble mind to handle.

Letter to the Editor

Something for nothing. Sounds good, doesn't it? Kinda tickles the ears... but you better sit before reading this bit of news meant to enlighten those who pay the bills and encourage those who just don't care. Indigence is a state of poverty, or refers to those in need.

Do you know that over $35,000 worth of food stamps are dispensed in Garza County every month?

To really rattle your brains out of neutral gear, think of what is doled out in Slaton, Lubbock, Dallas, San Antonio, Houston and so forth, and that's just Texas!

Should we be against helping those in need? No, not exactly.

Observe the recipients of these food stamp goodies... take notice of their effort to shoulder some of the load...investigate their real desire to secure employment...compare year and value of their automobiles with your own...notice the interest they take in education of their children and involvement in extra-curricular school activities...and most of all, consider their attitudes in accepting something for nothing.

Now at the same time, notice the elderly folks who really need help, yet receive $10 to $100 per month in food stamp assistance, while others drive late model Suburbans and Ford Supercab pickups and receive over $400 per month

"free groceries." The former group gets less, but deserves more... because they have worked hard all their lives...the latter group deserves nothing because they are willing to drain the backbone of America, the middle class taxpayer!

Sure the local farmer has it tough, a loaf of bread costs too much, a gallon of gas is too high and a gold crown isn't worth $200.

But when fewer taxpayers are feeding more mouths, prices will continue to soar.

They have to; the money has to come from somewhere!

Back to meal time...let's go to the school lunchroom at Post ISD.

Taxation (oil companies and local taxpayers) paid for $117,000 improvement in recent years and we can be proud of our lunchroom and the people who prepare and serve the meals there.

But 70 percent of the meals are free and reduced prices, with breakfasts offered to the same folks.

Then the majority of those kids have "extra" change in pocket to buy junk food and play video games after school.

What about dental and medical care?

Sure it's expensive, because the same people charging high prices for goods and services are the same ones feeding and keeping up health standards of the others, as well as their own families.

In May and June the Texas State Department of Health is sending a dental team to this county for "free dental care" to the "indigents."

Good deal, huh? Consider the following:

1. Will the visiting dentist be as kind to you as your local family dentist?

Not very likely, since he lives elsewhere and won't have to face you year after year.

2. Can he educate you to have fewer bad dental experiences?

It's doubtful, since you won't see him again for five years, if then, because he has 32 counties to cover.

3. Does he pay taxes in this community?

No.

4. Will he take extra kids to out-of-town games and meets, plus buy hamburgers and cokes for them while there?

No.

5. Will he give a ride home to other kids when they have practice late and are stranded at school?

No.

6. Will he make donations to local and surrounding junior livestock associations functions?

No. 7. Will he contribute to school annual and newspaper?

No.

This could go on forever, but enough is enough.

And what about free prescriptions?

Less than one month ago in this town...two "indigents" entered a local pharmacy with a medicare slip, which had the wrong month and no carbon copy, so the pharmacist cannot legally give out the medicine.

He informed them of the rules, they said it was for a sick baby, but they understood the legality and would return the next day with correct copy and carbon.

But on their way out they bought two bottles of cologne, costing $12.69 and they paid in cold, hard cash.

By the way, the medicine for the sick baby was only $8.35. Were they really in need?

Did they really give a flip about the health of the baby?

As long as the taxpayers are willing to dole it out without question, the burden of bringing home the bacon will get heavier.

As long as the indigent is getting something for nothing, he will continue losing integrity, self-esteem, self-worth and will be completely dependent on the very same people who resent him.

It isn't good for either group and the feelings will stay poles apart.

You know what? Another Boston Tea Party just might be in order.

A concerned citizen

Charles L. McCook, D.D.S.

editor's note: Dr McCook echoes a cry from beleaguered taxpayers, but a major problem of removing the socialistic trend in America is the fact that the majority of the people today who vote are on the federal or state payroll in one form or another...either directly or indirectly. Legislators get elected in this country by giving the most they can to the most number of people...and that means finding ways to give money from those who have it to those who don't. (See Post Notes for more on this subject.)

PLAY IT SAFE AROUND ELECTRICITY

REMEMBER THESE SAFETY TIPS

- Watch for power lines when climbing in trees.
- Do not climb electrical poles, towers or structures.
- Do not trim trees near power lines.
- Do not set ladders or scaffolds near power lines.
- Do not shoot at insulators on poles, towers or structures.
- Never climb on or go inside a substation fence. Call SPS to help you retrieve anything thrown into the substation or caught in its fence.
- Avoid using electrical tools like lawn mowers or hedge clippers when grass and leaves are wet.
- Be careful when digging. Call SPS to find out if there are any buried electrical lines in the area.
- Electrical cords should not be spliced or taped. Repair by shortening them or replace them entirely.
- Beware of exposed wires.
- Don't touch portable appliances (coffee makers, radios, hair dryers, etc.) with wet hands or while standing or sitting in water.
- Don't post signs on utility poles. A lineman hitting a nail with his cleat can slip and fall. Also, nails can snag protective gloves and destroy their insulation value.

Scott - Redman Exchange Vows

Miss Penny Scott of Loop and Dale Redman of Post were married in an evening ceremony on Saturday, May 11, at Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert Scott of Loop, and Mr and Mrs Jimmie Redman of Post are parents of the groom.

He is also the son of Mrs Marshall Higgins of Enid, Oklahoma. Don Fleming of Loop officiated the double-ring ceremony in a setting of tropical spring flowers imported from Holland and Southeast Asia.

Kim Smith, step-sister of the groom, and Monty Scott, and the bride's brother, lighted leaf-entwined candles surrounding centerpieces of palm leaves, bird of paradise, calla lilies, and peonies.

Carla Lacotta, pianist, accompanied Cheryl Karr of Seagraves and Matt Haddock of Hobbs, New Mexico as they sang a medley of modern love songs. Robert Owens of Loop played the wedding march on the trumpet as the bride entered the church, escorted by her father who presented her in marriage.

At the close of the ceremony, Mrs Karr and Mr Haddock sang "God Bless You, Go With God", requested by parents of the bride and groom.

Guests were seated by Cliff Kirkpatrick and Lance Dunn, both of Post; Scotty Scott, brother of the bride, Loop; and Jimmy Thomas, the groom's uncle, from Meadow.

Kim Kirkpatrick of Dallas registered guests and programs were distributed by Cherry Foster of Artesia, New Mexico and Hollee Helton of Seminole, cousins of the bride.

The bride's dress was white organza and satin fashioned with schiffli and Venice lace.

The princess bodice was beaded, with a basque waistline, and the ball-gown sleeves were ruffled organza.

The cotillion skirt, accented with European schiffli lace had three tiers of ruffled organza, going into a cathedral train.

Her headpiece was a tiara of silk roses with Venice lace and pearl sprays and a two-tier waltz-length veil with european cut-out schiffli motifs.

The bridal bouquet was composed of orchids, gardenias, lillies, peonies, and other spring flowers.

She wore a blue garter worn by her mother at her wedding.

Kenda Windham of Post was maid of Honor and other attendants were Renee Rutherford of Claude; Suzy Boren, Borger; Tanya Sellers, Loop; Jana Price, Eastland; Dee Dee Brinker, sister of the groom, Lubbock; and Denise Smith, the groom's step-sister, Post.

The bride's attendants' dresses were emerald green taffeta, fashioned similar to the bride's dress, with ball-gown sleeves of ruffled chiffon and full skirts, accented by a bow at the dropped waist.

Each attendant carried long-stem pale-green lillies.

The groom's father, Jimmie Redman of Post, was best man.

Groomsmen were Greg Landry and Mark McDowell, both of Houston; Richard Kirkpatrick, Dallas; Sam Law and Gene Segrist, both of Lubbock; and Mike Macy of Post.

The groom and his attendants wore black tuxedos.

The bride's mother was attired in a floor-length emerald green silk and she wore a gardenia headpiece.

Mrs Higgins, the groom's mother wore a floor-length dress of green polyester, and his stepmother, Mrs Redman, chose a mauve floor-length dress accented by a lace jacket.

Autumn Hill of Seagraves and Tanner Helton of Seminole, cousins of the bride, were flower girl and ringbearer, respectively.

Autumn wore a white eyelet tea-length dress over matching eyelet pantaloons and a white organdy pinafore, accented by emerald green ribbons and pink flowers.

Tanner wore a black tuxedo.

The bride's parents hosted a reception at the church following the wedding ceremony during which time Lori Griffith of Plainview, Jamie Scholl of Amarillo, and Michille Smith of Loop served at the Bride's tables and Terri Cook of Lubbock attended the groom's table.

The three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with fresh spring flowers served from a round table covered with white taffeta, overlaid with a cloth of white lace.

Punch was served from a round table with a green taffeta cloth overlain with white lace.

Fresh flowers surrounded the silver punch bowl.

A green linen cloth, monogrammed with the letter "R", accented the groom's table.

Coffee was served from a silver samovar, and silver trays of relishes, cheese, and strawberries completed the table appointments.

A large cheese block, on which the letter "R" was carved, and a tropical fruit pyramid also served to decorate the table.

Rose petals were distributed by cousins of the bride, Tara Hill, Vanessa Hill, and Robyn Hill, all of Seagraves; and Honey and Heather Helton of Seminole.

Each wore a dress of

Happy 13th Birthday Aaron
Love Mom, Dad, Dicky & Carla

In loving memory of our cherished mother and grandmother. Dorothy Moore.

Rest in Peace
You cannot say, you must not say
That she is dead. She is just away!
With a cheery smile
and a wave of the hand
She has wandered into an unknown land and left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be,
Since she lingers there;
So think of her faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here, Think of her still
as the same, and say
She is not dead, she is just away.

How to Understand

by Glenda Baker

"No, you can't. Why can't I? Because I said so! Well, everybody does it! Well you're not everybody, you're my child!"

A time-worn argument repeated over and over again as parents and teenagers buck heads on every issue from staying out past curfew, driving before they get their unrestricted license, to drinking beer with friends on Saturday night.

How many parents give in, simply because they can't come up with a better argument than, "Because I said so,"?

Teenagers have to have a positive reason before they can understand the consequences of breaking the law or ignoring the rules of the home and society.

Thankfully, everybody doesn't "do it," as teens would have us believe, but unfortunately, the one's who do, have a very strong influence in exerting peer pressure for others to drink, take drugs and defy authority.

Parents can avoid being taken in the "everybody does it" bit by arming themselves with knowledge of the laws concerning minors in possession, and other juvenile offenses.

Also knowing about alcohol and drugs, their effect on a person's physical health and damage to their mental and emotional well-being, is of utmost importance.

It is also important to take time to set down with your teenager and discuss openly alcohol and drugs without moralizing or being shocked at how much she or he may already know on the subject.

In every study, children are found least likely to use drugs when they come from families with a clearly stated policy toward drugs.

These families also instill self-esteem by allowing responsible decision making, based on accurate knowledge, about alcohol, drugs, driving and the choice of friends with whom they spend their free time.

In almost all instances, a teenager will say no to drugs when he or she is
