GTE Gets Franchise, Cable Gets $1 Rate Hike

By Wes Burnett

A marathon city council meeting, including 37 agenda items, stretched to near midnight Monday as council members approved the General Telephone franchise and a Star Cable TV rate increase.

The GTE franchise, which has been rewritten, was limited to five years, at the insistence of council member Maxine Earl.

Cable TV subscribers will see a $1 per month basic service fee increase, which is expected to take affect following the second reading of the issue in February.

Star Cable TV's Stan Whitefield explained system improvements and cost increases were reasons for the hike. The new fee will bring Post in line with other West Texas Star Cable TV systems.

Whitefield also emphasized that customers are encouraged to call the toll free number 1-800-692-4455, to report problems.

A. Arthur Davis, CPA, presented the annual audit and reported the city is in good financial condition, but questioned the effectiveness of fine collections compared to city costs of law enforcement.

For What It's Worth!!

By Dabney Post

I have had lots of comments concerning last weeks column about the soap opera drama.

—O—

Some said "Keep it to yourself", others said "when you find out, let us know too."

—O—

If you are not interested in "soaps", then this next item may be skipped over and go on to the next.

—O—

A call was placed to Channel 28 in Lubbock about "All My Children" and the two missed days on Dec. 29 and Dec 30. The receptionist at the desk was asked what happened on those two days, and she said "I don't know, I don't watch it." So she gave me the number in New York City and ABC.

—O—

After much debate as to whether I should call them or not, I did at the prodding of some others who wanted to know too. After obtaining prices for calling that "other country" and finding them more reasonable than calling 'down state'. The call was made.

—O—

When ABC answered the phone and I explained the situation, she replied, "just a moment," another phone rang and another lady answered with "All My Children." Golly, I was actually talking to the show.

Davis pointed out to council members that 1983 showed a $11,000 decrease in fines collected and that the city's share of law enforcement cost was $109,000.

The city collected $15,000 in fines during the reporting year.

Davis also explained that oil revenue and sales tax rebates were down, which was no surprise.

He recommended, and the council agreed, that a new policy be established for all city appointed agencies to centralize all funds through the city office.

Agencies such as the library and community center will continue to work through regular budgeting, but all purchases and obligations will be disbursed by the city secretary.

Chamber of Commerce

Post Chamber of Commerce president Jack King presented a request that the motel occupancy tax fees be designated to be used by the Chamber of Commerce for development of tourism and industrial prospects.

The four percent tax is collected by motel operators and amounted to approximately $4,600 in 1983.

The council approved the request, limiting the amount to be used by the Chamber of Commerce to $5,000 in 1984.

King explained that a top priority of the funds will be to develop an attractive and professional brochure.

Post Merchants Association

Mike Barber, chairman of the Post Merchants Association, petitioned the council on behalf of the PMA, that the current itinerant vendors ordinances be updated and that the council help enforce the fire zone limitations in the ordinances.

Barber explained that the 1919 ordinance charged $25 per month for a permit, and that in 1984 a fee of $100 would be more reasonable.

He reviewed the itinerant vendor ordinance which prohibits all such vendors in the primary fire zone . . . which is both sides of Broadway extending the length of the city and both sides of Main Street east to Hwy. 207.

Mayor Giles McCrary suggested that merchants should inform the city manager of violators and appropriate action would be taken.

Amendments to the ordinance will be included in the drafting of the zoning ordinances now under review.

In other action, the council rescinded its November decision to terminate a portion of its liability insurance policy with Lucas Insurance, leaving in force a $1,000 blanket medical coverage for accidents on city property.

The council took formal action to approve the new medical clinic building owned by Dr. Stephen Chun and renewed a

New Policies Approved by Court

New Community Center policy changes were given to the commissioners court Monday and after reviewing such changes approved the new policies.

The policies will become effective after approval by the city council.

New policies will include a fee of $10 with a $30 deposit and a key deposit for $5 for the small meeting room with no access to kitchen facilities. If parties interested in need of a kitchen, they must rent either the large tile area or the entire building.

The large tile area with the use of the kitchen will be $30 for one half day or $60 for one day. Deposit is set at $30 with key deposit to remain the same, $5.

Front carpet area will have no access to kitchen area. Use fee is $20 for one half day or $35 for an all day function. Refreshments only to be served (finger foods). An additional $25 will be charged for a sit down dinner (catered). Deposit will be $50; key deposit of $5 to remain the same.

Entire building per day or any part of a day, the use fee will be $75 with a $100 deposit. Key deposit of $5 remains the same. Additional days has been increased from $17.50 to $50 for each additional day.

The use of the entire building for the use of a dance or wedding has been increased from $150 to $175 with a deposit increase from $100 to $200. Key deposit of $5 remains the same.

One half day is defined as from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. with center completely clean and in order for next function at 2 p. m. and from 2 p. m. to have the center completely clean and returned to proper order no later than 8 a. m. the following day.

The Community Center Board did a lengthy comparison with area community centers and the Post facility is still in the lower range of rental prices.

Members of the board include Ruby Williams, Dr. Larry Mills, Jane Davis, Sue Chun, Jerry Osborn, Lewis Earl and Carol Dean.

In other action by the commissioners

POST CITY HALL

Last week we published a photo of the remodelling going on at city hall...we thought our readers would be interested in seeing what the finished product will look like when the job is done. The architect's drawing shows an attractive front and will enhance the appearance of the city as it faces busy Hwy 84.

After explaining that 28 had been off the air for two days and wanting to know what happened, her reply was "I don't know, I was busy during that time when the show was aired." GOOD GRIEF! Talking to New York City and the show itself and THEY CAN'T GIVE ME THE ANSWER. I asked for a script and she said that was against the law. She said she was sorry, but for me to just keep watching the show.

After being thoroughly disgusted with the whole thing and almost swearing off 'soaps', a call came from Mason, Texas and a Miss Paige Posten who explained the whole situation for me during those lost two days.

Greg did tell his mother off and moved out of the house. I knew it. I missed what I had been wanting to see. END OF SOAP OPERA!!

On to more pleasant things, the welcome mat was put out for D'Linda Chapman at the courthouse this week. D'Linda began her new duties in Judge Dalby's office Monday.

Happy Birthday to Ashley Holly this week as she celebrates her first. Ashley was the 1983 Baby last year.

Congratulations goes out to Jimmy Ticer and Nettie Moss on their marriage recently. May you have many happy years together.

Files for Sheriff

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself and to announce that I will seek the nomination for the office of Sheriff of Garza County in the Democratic Primary to be held in May.

I began my law enforcement career in 1975 and became a state certified peace officer in 1976. I moved to Post in 1978 and was chief deputy sheriff of Garza County for approximately 2½ years.

My name is Donney Walker and between now and the Primary election, I plan to talk to as many of you as possible.

The $94,000 block grant for improvements to east Post residential areas was approved, with funding for the project coming from the Community Development Program Grant.

Other action included the contract with Parkhill, Smith and Cooper for engineering services, a cooperative bidding contract with the city of Lubbock and authorizing city manager Rebecca King to seek estimates on the repair of the library and community center roofs.

The council approved advertising for bids for purchasing five vehicle communication radios, sale of the used street sweeper and replacing the water main on Main St., west to Ave. S from the First Baptist Church.

A. Arthur Davis was approved to serve as city auditor, and a new policy was approved for installation and extension of water meters.

The council accepted the Soil Conservation Service offer to help in landscaping and other improvements at the cemetery, subject to availability of funds.

Mayor Giles McCrary proclaimed Saturday, Jan. 14 as "Bold Gold Antelope Day" in recognition of the achievements of the 1983 Post High School football team.

City Manager King reported on the progress of extending the sewer line to serve property owners on the Clairemont Hwy., and council authorized her to proceed with notification and collecting funds from property owners for the project.

If you thought you had problems with frozen water pipes during the past holiday season, taking care of a family, home and business was nothing less than chaotic for Mrs. Joe (Diana) Poe, wife, mother of seven school age children and owner of South Plains Answering Service.

According to Diana, their household is never quiet normal, but with Christmas shopping, cooking and baking without water, it became downright near impossible. The bad weather also added another dimension to her answering service with extra calls and messages for her customers more than double their norm. Despite the added work load it caused, the Poe family enjoyed their traditional favorites by stringing popcorn and cranberries to decorate the tree, along with the singing of carols and munching Christmas goodies through the holiday.

Diana began operation of South Plains Answering Service out of her home two and one half years ago. She now provides service with sixteen phones and ten radios to customers in and around Post. The majority of her customers are oil related in this area. Joe is a welder and recently began operation of his own company, South Plains Welding.

The Poes' oldest daughter, Dana is 18 and is married to Wayne Smith. She works with her parents in their businesses by helping with the paper work and as phone operator.

Their son, Joe Poe III, is a 14 year old ninth grader. Thirteen year old Joyce Ann is in the sixth grade and Lanny, 13, is in seventh grade. Tina is 11 and a fifth grader. Twins Dawna and Shawna are nine and are in the fourth grade.

The Poes' all enjoy the outdoors and love fishing, hunting and camping. They are also a scouting family. Joe works with the Boy Scouts and when time permits and Diana has been a leader in the Girl Scout Troop 123 for four years. Their other family interests include games of Atari, school activities and playing with Dolly, their eight inch high, 18 inch long Daschound.

The following are two of Diana's favorite recipes.

This Time Last Year

By Wes Burnett

Our Jan. 12, 1983 edition reported on a caustic soda fire on the southbound lane of Hwy. 84 north of Post, with Post Volunteer Firemen at the scene most of the day.

County Commissioners heard a discussion concerning the use of a county road by heavy trucks, and voted to require permits from operators.

City council members reviewed the franchise for General Telephone and tabled the matter, until legislation at the state determined the future of the Public Utility Commission.

United Fund directors, Jack Alexander, Jimmy Mitchell, Wes Burnett and Bryan Williams III announced the 1983 goal was exceeded by $750.

The First National Bank reported total deposits as of Dec. 31, 1982 a 13 percent increase over 1981 with $42,495,673.46.

The January 16 issue featured 1983 First Baby Ashley Lynn Holly, who was born Thursday, Jan. 13 at 5:04 p. m. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymie Holly.

An investigation into the break-in at the Caprock Veterinary Hospital and Clinic was being conducted, following the burglary sometime during the previous weekend.

School board members split votes on raising the lunch room prices, leaving the rate at 50 cents and 40 cents.

Architect Duane McQueen met with the board to provide a progress report on the building project.

A "Womanless Wedding" was announced to be held Jan. 29 with members of the Post Antelope Booster Club providing the talent.

We published an editorial pointing out the poor behavior by a few fans at the Slaton-Post basketball game as being an example of poor sportsmanship.

A thoughtful and welcome gift to someone who loves to read, but has impaired vision, is a publication with large-size print.

COOKING NOW!
Although stoves have been known to man for more than 1,000 years, their use of cooking food is actually fairly recent.

THEN: The Chinese were using stoves for heating their homes as early as the 700s. However, popular use of stoves for cooking didn't begin in America until the last century. Most of these early iron cookstoves used wood for fuel.

- Potash production is important to hungry Third World countries because of its usefulness as a fertilizer.

Island Hopping...

Pastor Steve Traw First Christian Church

It's been twelve years ago that I spent thirty days on military duty in the Canal Zone in Central America. I was to navigate our cargo transport plane to a nearby drop zone on a practice mission. Given such an opportunity, I carefully planned and plotted a twenty minute route over the Pacific waters off Panama with four or five of the very small islands as check points on our route of flight. Flying at 500 feet elevation gave an enjoyable and scenic excursion of the remote and isolated patches of land. All but one of the islets appeared void of human activity. The flight has many times reminded me of the English writer John Donne, who said, "No man is an island." The thought of the quiet remoteness of those islands often important witness. When he identified Jesus to his followers as the Lamb of God they followed the Savior immediately. He could be believed. His life had made an impact on those who knew him and testimony of the Savior was accepted without reserve. We all influence others. That effect can be constructive as we maintain a godly life and testimony. Perhaps, like John, others will follow the Master because of our influence. After all, no man is an island.

The Calvary Baptist Youth Service on Sunday evening, January 1, was a great success. The young people led in almost every part of the service. Kenda Williams, Mary Ann Cooper, and Matt Holly brought a special message in song. Melanie Reece made the announcements and led in prayer. Colorful puppets read the scripture for the evening under the direction of Lena York and Liz Bilberry. Eric Reece led the congregational singing. The Youth Choir led by Reece also made a special presentation. Ushers for the service were Aaron Odum and Jonathan Petty. About 15 young people in all participated in the service. Plans are already being made for the next youth led service which is set for Sunday evening February 5.

Pleasant Home Church News

By Annie Gilbert

Our New Year is still off to a wonderful start at Pleasant Home Sunday School. Schedule at usual time 9:30 a. m. and morning worship began at 11 a. m. Sister Rosiland Fields did a splendid job in teaching the Sunday School with the lesson subject (Song of the Vinyard), scripture Isaiah 5: 1-7. Morning devotion by Deacon Jim H. Osby, Sister Fisher Wynn, Sister Iona Smith and Sister Wynn read entire number 121 Psalms. Altar call truly very highly and spiritually prayed by our pastor who really poured out his soul and heart to Christ. The choir at their post of duty sung sweet praises to the Loving Master.

Pastor Kelly delivered a wonderful message from the Book of St. Luke, chapter 11 verse 1. His theme "The School of Prayer". Our pastor really preached his soul and heart to the Loving Father. God really was here in the midst as always. I thank God for Jesus, Lord we should all thank God for Jesus. God is not through with us yet. Let's pray for one another always.

Thought: Don't go it alone. Let Jesus help you this is God's holy word to you! Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measure to you again. Luke 6: 38. Rev. Arthur Kelly Pastor Rev. John J. Jr. Associate Pastor

Lewis Earl Attends Parks Workshop

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department held a two day public workshop at the Sheraton Crest Inn in Austin Wednesday and Thursday, January 4-5 to review drafts of their 1985 plans and 1984-85 action program. Lewis Earl of Post was one of some 130 persons from all across the state who participated in this planning and review session. The Texas Outdoor Recreation Plan, commonly known as the TORP will provide the guidance for park and recreation development in the state for the five year period beginning in 1985. Comments on the draft plan will continue to be considered for the next several days by the Comprehensive Planning Staff of the TPWD as they incorporate input from the workshop into the document. Lewis Earl has a copy of the current draft of the 1985 TORP which can be made available to anyone interested in reviewing it or making comments. The TORP contains statewide goals, issues and recommendations, with regional summaries for some 24 planning areas, including the South Plains region. Post and Garza County have an application to the Texas Parks Commission for matching funds to make some improvements on Post-Garza Park south of town. A hearing on this application is expected at the March meeting of the commission.

All New Homes Require Regular Ventilation To Maintain Indoor Air Quality

By Susan Fiske

How often have you heard (or exclaimed) "It smells so new!" upon entering a newly constructed building? That "new" odor is often caused by the vapors emitted from the formaldehyde compounds used in the manufacture or bonding of almost all building materials - plywood, fiberboard, particle board, formica, carpeting, textiles - the list is almost endless.

Fertilizer Needs Affected

By Syd Conner
Extension Agent
Texas fertilizer needs will be influenced by government programs, good wheat and corn harvest, heavy fall rains and an early frost. How have these factors influenced the land we farm? The best method to grasp an understanding is to examine each category separately and look at the present soil fertility trends from soil analysis.

Soil Under PIK
Soils under the government PIK programs have been treated different on the farm. Soil building crops have been planted, wheat crops have been grazed off or the land has essentially laid fallow.

Soil building crops such as Blackeyed peas or Chinese red peas will begin to break down sooner due to the wet mild fall. If you are depending on all your nitrogen to be furnished by the pea crop, you may run short next August if the rains and snows continue. This information is especially true for the Southern High Plains where sandy soils lose their nitrogen. "Test soil nitrogen levels prior to planting," the county agent says.

Soils where wheat was grazed out have gained some nitrogen this summer but the nitrogen removed from the graze out will normally negate any nitrogen increase for next year. One should soil sample these fields this fall. (Removal of all the stubble generally removes from 20 to 30 lbs.-a of nitrogen.)

Summer fallowed lands where the soils are a clay loam or the finer texture clays all are showing an increase in soil nitrogen. The nitrogen levels seen in soil samples are running from 25 up to 35 lbs.-a higher in nitrogen. This situation is good for our dryland wheat producers. After the heavy October rain, insufficient soil samples from the sandy soils have been analyzed to establish any trend this month. But it is expected that sizeable amounts of mineralized nitrogen has been leached downward by these heavy fall rains. "These fields should be sampled prior to planting in 1984".

Good Wheat and Corn Yields

Examining yield reports from the agricultural producers working this area indicate some bin burster yields. Many of the dryland wheat fields yielded from 25 up to 50 bu-a of wheat. Irrigated wheat showed reports of 100 to 125 bu-a. Records on the 125 bu-a wheat field indicated nitrogen required was 1.8 lbs.-a of nitrogen per bushel. This nitrogen rate is very close to the 2 lbs., of nitrogen per bushel suggested by the Extension Soil Testing Laboratory at Lubbock.

Corn yields indicate several fields exceeded the 180 bu-a and some over 210 bu.-a. Not a bad yield for about a $50 to $80 per acre fertilizer input. These top yields have drained soil fertility levels somewhat. If one is planning on going back again, such as wheat on wheat or corn on corn, one should sample these fields this fall to check for nitrogen levels. One may need to apply additional nitrogen for stubble break down. "It requires about 20 lbs.-a of nitrogen per ton of residue to prevent the stubble from tying up the nitrogen," the county agent says.

Heavy Rains
October brought record rains to many locations on the High Plains and Rolling Plains. To what effect this amount of rainfall has leached the clay loam soils, we can not say. (In most cases, on clay loam soils, we seldom see nitrogen loss.) Sandy soils south of Lubbock have been leached considerably.

Early Frost
Early frost this fall stopped sorghum and soybean growth. Yield estimates for soybeans range from 15 to 40 percent loss.

Traditionally, soybeans are known as a soil builder which adds nitrogen to the soil. However, soil analysis on the High Plains show that soil samples following soybean are more frequently lower in nitrogen (90 times out of 100) than the nitrogen level following any other crop. This year a little more nitrogen should be observed in soybean soils due to the immature beans killed by the frosts and left by the combine. Don't count on the soybean furnishing the nitrogen for next year's crop.

The early frost has also taken its toll on the late milo crops. Some milo was cut for silage. Here approximately 200 lbs., of nitrogen was removed with immature grain and stover. Nitrogen levels on these sites should be tested and checked again next June.

If one needs assistance and information on soil testing, consult with Syd Conner, county extension agent.

PMA Plans Sale

The Post Merchants Association membership approved a set of by-laws, established dues and discussed plans for a special George Washington Birthday promotion during the meeting last Thursday evening.

The February promotion is being planned by a committee and details will be presented at the next regular meeting on Thursday, Feb. 9 at 7 p. m. in the First National Bank Community Room.

Members approved dues at the rate of $7.50 per month, payable quarterly, semi-annually and annually.

Any retail business in Garza County is eligible to participate in the promotion-minded Post Merchants Association, which is a part of the Post Chamber of Commerce. Members of the PMA must also be a member of the Post Chamber of Commerce.

The purpose of the association is to promote retail sales of members and work for common interests of the business community.
