The Kwahadi Dancers of Amarillo will assist "Chief" Frank Runkles tomorrow morning in the annual Taba'na Yuan'e ceremony at South Lake in Post, just off Hwy. 84 East.

The ceremony, which is a careful observance of an ancient Plains Indian spring ritual, begins with the lighting of the fire and constructing of the circle of council and concludes at sunrise.

Visitors will want to be at the scene by 6:15 a. m. to capture the full ceremony.

The Kwahadi Indian Dancers, members of Explorer Post 80 in Amarillo, will set up teepees and assist "Chief" Runkles in preparing and conducting the ceremony.

Sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce, the annual event will again this year feature a $1 per person breakfast, catered by Jackson's Cafeteria, following the ceremony.

The Taba'na Yuan'e tradition, which dates to earliest memories of the Plains Indians, began here in 1906 when early pioneers in Garza County recalled the legend as told by the Indians.

The ceremony is held each year on March 22, as visitors and Garza County residents gather around a circular ceremonial ring to watch a dancer, clad in traditional beaded buckskins and feathered headdress, perform an Indian version of an extended weather forecast.

Taba'na Yuan'e translates to The Sunrise Wind.

The Plains Indians used the dance to check the wind direction at the exact moment of sunrise, which would determine their success in the coming year.

According to the legend, the wind must be checked at sunrise on the day after the sun reaches the halfway point in its journey from south to north.

Garza County farmers and ranchers have relied on the Taba'na Yuan'e for more than 78 years to provide a hint as to their success in the coming year.

"Chief" Runkles has been faithfully keeping the ceremony true to its original form since 1973. He is a long-time student of Indian lore.

Noah Stone preserved the custom for 40 years before "Chief" Runkles continued the tradition.

He starts the Taba'na Yuan'e with the building of a small fire, using only natural materials.

The fire is lighted by the friction of rubbing two sticks together.

Following the singing of a tribal prayer of thanks for the fire, the "Chief" performs a Four Winds dance where a pipe of peace is presented to the four directions . . . then to Mother Earth and to Wakantanka, the Great Spirit above, to seek their blessings.

A wad of grass is placed on the coals and as the smoke indicates the wind direction, a Smoke Dance is ended by kneeling and pointing a feather in the direction from which the wind comes.

For What It's Worth

By Dabney Post
Seems as though I ruffled a few feathers when I made the recent comment concerning politicians coming to town only during election year.

I received word that local officials were upset with my statement. I was not referring to local officials. I was referring to state officials.

Then I received notice that the state officials had been sent a special invitation to attend the Chamber banquet. So politicians, you have my most humble apology!!

And then if I wasn't reprimanded enough for the political statement, the city took offense over the YUK statement I made last week.

I believe I said it was a necessary evil to keep our streets in good condition, but the fact remains it's still YUK.

Spring break time at the local schools and already I've heard mother's saying they'll be glad when school starts again.

Don't forget the dance at the Youth Center Friday night from 8 til 12. No admission charge. Seventh graders through 12th grade.

I had been told of the generosity of Post residents before I moved here and now I've heard it again this week and know it for a fact.

School Board Studies Band Question

"We want to leave you with this one question . . . how successful do you think our football program would be if David Thompson were the only coach from sixth grade to high school?"

That question closed out a careful and detailed report by Mrs. Nancy Thuett to the Post Independent School District board of trustees during the March 13 meeting.

Mrs. Thuett, representing the Post Band Booster Club, showed comparisons of the student-teacher load in athletics and band, explaining to board members the need for an assistant band director.

Mrs. Thuett gave board members copies of a statistical report, which showed the band director with an average class load of 69 students.

"I want to emphasize that this is not intended to be critical of athletics," Mrs. Thuett told board members, "I am enthusiastic about our athletics achievements, but we also want to have the best band program too."

She pointed out that good bands have the same ingredients as good football teams . . . lots of practices, good coaching and leading and individual attention to players.

"We feel that our school needs an assistant band director, especially with such a large number of students in the program," Mrs. Thuett added.

There are currently 346 students enrolled in band from the fourth grade through high school.

Board member John Boren commented, "You've certainly done your homework."

He reminded board members that when Steve Ladd was hired, Mrs. Ladd was to be considered an assistant, and asked why this wasn't continued.

Mrs. Thuett said she observed that Mrs. Ladd's other classroom duties conflicted with the band schedules.

Board member Don Payne commented, "I really didn't realize that there are that many students in band."

Mrs. Thuett also presented a request from the Band Booster Club that the new elementary auditorium be named "The Steve and Dianna Ladd Memorial Auditorium," in recognition of the late band and choir directors' contributions to the school.

The board took the request under advisement for later discussion and decision.

Superintendent Bill Shiver later recommended the hiring of Ben Hawkins for the ## Post Streets Last Longer . . . .

By Wes Burnett

Dabney Post was right . . . the stuff that's been put on our streets has been an inconvenience . . . but a minor one compared to the savings to city taxpayers.

The emulsion prolongs the life of our paved streets, and according to engineers, the oily substance keeps moisture from destroying the subsurface of the pavement.

The emulsion, which is diluted asphalt, is being applied to streets by city crews and will continue during good weather conditions.

"This procedure helps keep open spaces in the pavement sealed, so that moisture doesn't get in and begin to erode the substructure," engineer George Hensley of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper Engineering comments.

City crews are starting on the north-south streets, working from west to east to complete the project before the annual seal coating project begins.

To those who gripe about the messy stuff on their cars . . . look at it this way, without this method the streets could look like those in some of our neighboring towns which are full of potholes.

At least the emulsion washes off vehicles . . . potholes and broken pavement cost everyone a whole lot more.

"I take it that it is your desire to have a Sweepstakes Band," Shiver asked board members, as they nodded in favor, "I think it'll take an assistant to get that done, and we very well might come back to you later with that recommendation."

The board approved the hiring of Hawkins to serve the remainder of this school year.

In other action, the school board accepted the low bid of $8,139 from Highland Interiors for the replacing of carpet in the east wing of the main high school building.

The bid was in response to an insurance claim filed by the school following a broken water pipe.

Woman's Culture Club hears Joe Giddens

The Woman's Culture Club met March 14 at the club house with Mrs. Buena Bouchier and Doris Wilson serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Linda Malouf, president, opened the meeting with a prayer, and welcomed the members and guests. A brief business meeting was held, and Mrs. Malouf reminded the members of two important meetings coming up in the very near future. The Caprock District spring convention being held March 23-24 at the Civic Center at the Holiday Inn and also the TEWC State Convention on April 24-27. This meeting will be very special as our own Betty Green of Tahoka will become our State President. Everyone is urged to attend.

Mr. Joe Giddens, of the Post Public School, spoke of the changes being made in the school system beginning with the first grade through middle school and seventh and eighth grades. They are very excited about the usage of the computers in all grades, which will be a great help, even with the smaller ones. There will also be an extra reading class for those who need and want it.

In high school, the students will be required to have 21 units to graduate and in the near future, they hope to have special classes for the gifted or talented students in order for them to make more progress.

Mrs. Pierce, Librarian of the Post Public Library, asked Maxine Earl to show a few of the pictures "The Way Things Were" which the Culture Club is sponsoring. These pictures are from the "Texas Humanities Resource Center" as a reminder of the structures built by 19th century Texas settlers to memorialize their accomplishments and success.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick added that the pictures will be on display at the Garza County Historical Museum and Post Public Library through March 25. Viewing hours are Monday through Friday and special group visits may be arranged by calling Pee Wee Pierce at the library. Mrs. Kirkpatrick added that this is certainly a treat and well worth your time.

Refreshments were served from a beautiful table using St. Patrick's motif and making members feel the luck of the Irish.

Those enjoying the social hour were Mmes. Malouf, Earl, Kirkpatrick, Nita Burriss, Katharine Cathcart, Estelle Davis, Doll Haire,

Read Your Credit File

Have you examined your credit file recently? By law you have the right to do so. This right was granted to consumers by the 1971 Fair Credit Reporting Act.

If you have made any purchase with a credit card in the past seven years and the account is still open, then your credit file is in a credit bureau somewhere. If you believe there is erroneous information in your file, here are some tips you need to know.

You may examine your credit file for free if you have been denied credit in the last 30 days. There will probably be a charge from $5 to $12 for reading your file just to examine its contents.

You can file a dispute form if you believe information is in error. You can request the bureau to investigate any item you believe to be either in error or misleading. If the credit bureau refuses to revise a disputed item, you should write a detailed statement explaining the controversy. Request the credit bureau to send the revised report to all credit grantors who have received your credit report in the past six months. If the dispute is unresolved at the end of three months, consider hiring a lawyer to handle the matter. If you have not paid a bill because you thought it was in error, try to resolve the problem with the merchant then notify the credit bureau.

Keep in mind that a routine credit check is important since it effects your credit worthiness.

Cooking with Sugar Substitutes Using sugar substitutes in home cooking is one way to reduce calories. Recent research shows that recipes prepared with nonnutritive sweeteners such as saccharin or aspartame produce satisfactory results with only minor flavor differences. But the non-nutritive sweeteners do have limitations as cooking ingredients. Be prepared for a few failures when cooking with non-nutritive sweeteners because the sugar-equivalency ratios given on the packages are not always reliable in cooking. Also, the degree of sweetness may vary according to the other ingredients in the recipes.

Saccharin can be used in quick breads and other simple baked goods with no adjustments, but it's risky to use in cakes, yeast breads and some cookies that require the carbohydrate of sugar for proper balance.

To reduce the after taste from saccharin, try adding it after heating, rather than before or during the process.

While aspartame does not have a noticeable aftertaste, it cannot be used in cooking or baking, since its chemical structure breaks down under high temperatures. But aspartame can be used in cold foods and dissolves easily when stirred into custards, creams or other liquids.

By Nell Mathews

When planning our Family Night, I wanted something we would enjoy, and oh my it was some smash. We sure enjoyed seeing and hearing about the roaring 20s. It sure must have been fun living in those days. Estel Barker said that it was. When Channa Williams came out with the Charleston and Leigh McCook did Fannie Brice and Wanda Mitchell danced and we sang songs from the 20s such as "If you knew Susie like I know Susie" and "Five Foot Two". So you see our Family Night was some fun and we enjoyed it very much and we hope that we can have them back again.

We enjoy the movies each Thursday. Thank you, Virginia Babb. Our popcorn is something that we look forward to on Thursday and Friday it is ice cream time and we have different flavors. We can't decide which is the best.

We have almost every Saturday afternoon a sing-along and some one just comes by to visit that can play for us and that is just what happened when Gene and Lorrye Lou Moore came by to see Doug Livingston and we sure put him to work. Thank you so much Gene.

At 7 p. m. Tuesday March 6 we had music going down all the halls with the Country Cousins. Thank you Durwood and Bill Bartlett and Ira Farmer and we missed Mildred Stewart who was ill and Esker Stone who had just come in off a trip. Be looking for all of you next time.

On Thursday, March 9 at 7 p. m. we had singing by the Gospel Trail Blazers. Mrs. Loyd Edwards, Mrs. Inez Grantham, Cleo Sappington, Marion and Nell Mathews with Juanella Hays at the piano. Thanks to all of you.

On Tuesday, March

13, the Assembly of God Church came and sang for us and they let us sing along with them. The two little girls of Gloria Freeman's sang two songs for us and they were so cute. Come again soon.

One day at noon, one of the little ladies in our home that is blind was talking about the weather, some one told her that we needed rain and she asked if anyone had asked for rain.

We do want to thank the girls at the Dairy Queen for the cones for our ice cream.

Thanks to Sue Little and Wilkie for the rose bushes. We will have fun seeing them grow.

Our yard is going to be so pretty this summer. Come by to see us and enjoy it with us.

Walker Evacuated

Former Post resident, Neff Walker was among two Texans who had to be evacuated from Beirut in February.

Neff is an assistant professor of psychology at the American University of Beirut. Having been in Beirut only four months before leaving, Walker said he had every intention of returning to Beirut as soon as he received word that classes would resume.

Walker said he felt little of the growing anti-American sentiment that became apparent after the October suicide truck-bombing and Kerr's assassination. The students don't hold any grudges and have been pretty positive about all Americans staying there.

Another Texan, Jack Everton, a music instructor from Temple, left Beirut along with Walker. They were given two and a half hours notice before the evacuation began and were allowed to take only two suitcases each.

Neff chose to take with him his portable Kaypro personal computer and the computer's printer.

Cockrum promoted to Grand Canyon

Grand Canyon National Park has a new chief of maintenance in the form of a tall Texan named Dan Cockrum, coming to the job after being chief of maintenance at Big Bend National Park for more than six years.

Cockrum, 44, has served the National Park Service for 20 years, since he graduated as a civil engineer from Texas Tech University in 1964.

Dan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cockrum of Post.

He has had quite a lot of experience at the Grand Canyon National Park before he took the new job. While in college, he worked as a seasonal ranger there during the summer. He was also one of the engineers who worked on the Trans-Canyon Waterline Project in the 1960's which pumps water up from Roaring Springs to Indian Gardens, a distance of 12 and 1/2 miles.

He worked as a park engineer and chief of the maintenance at Cape Code National Seashore in Massachusetts for two years and at Glen Canyon National Recreation Area for four years before that. His first job with the park service was as an engineer with the design and construction office in San Francisco (now located in Denver). He did work in construction and design in many parks throughout the country for seven years and was during this period that Cockrum worked on the waterline project at the Grand Canyon.

Cockrum took the job at Grand Canyon as a career move. He is accompanied by his wife, Lynda, and their three children, Mike, 14, Kimberly, 12 and Andrea 11. Lynda is a trained registered nurse and worked as a postal worker at Big Bend.

Cockrum said "he never worked at a park he didn't like." He likes to work with his hands and enjoys all sorts of crafts, including woodworking, silver-smithing and wood carving.

He finds being chief of maintenance at Grand Canyon National Park a challenging job in the scope and size of operations and the many services for visitors there. "We're gearing up for an expected high visitation this year," he said, "as a spin-off from the Olympics to be held in Los Angeles this summer."

Looking Upward

Pastor Steve Traw
First Christian Church

We are midway through the Easter season. The period of Lent, those forty days excluding Sundays between Ash Wednesday and Easter eve are half complete.

From our vantage point the view of the cross should be ever clearer. Our gaze should be upward during this time that traditionally is symbolic of the forty years of Israel in the Wilderness. It recalls as well the forty days of Jesus in prayer, fasting, and temptation before His public ministry.

Therefore the Lenten season is a time for personal restraint and spiritual renewal. It is a time to focus on Calvary.

The greek word for man, that most frequently used throughout the New Testament, means "the uplooking one." The Creator made the animal kingdom most suited for a downward gaze. Man is made otherwise. His case is helpless, apart from an upward view. There the cross of the Easter season and its hope of redemption and salvation from above are found. There the power of renewal and restraint in areas of this life can come.

Our continual search should cast our eyes in the direction of the cross and beyond. As

Our First Lady of the Church, Sister Lela Kelly is back at home recuperating nicely. Continue in prayer for her please. Sister Kelly wants to convey this message to you all:

Many words cannot express my gratitude and thanks to all my friends during my stay in the hospital. For the visits, calls, flowers, gifts and most of all the prayers and concern about me while I was in the hospital in Lubbock. A special thanks to all the churches for their prayers. Also may God continue to bless each and everyone of you.

Services very, very good throughout this beautiful day that the Lord has made for us to see and enjoy. It all began with the Sunday School lesson. Subject "Jesus uses His Power", Mark 4: 37-41; Mark 5: 35-43 with key verse, "Do not be afraid, only believe." March 5: 36. A good and beautiful lesson. Everyone were at their posts of duty.

Altar call spiritually prayed by our pastor. God the loving master's presence in the midst. Devotion led by Deacon Jim H. Osby, James 1: 17 promises, every good thing bestowed and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights.

Indeed, all good things come from above. May we keep the gaze heavenward.

Sister Fisher Wynn, Sister Thelma Moore, Deacon Willie Burtson and Sister Wynn read the entire number 13 Psalms.

Hymns of praises were sung by the choir wonderfully from their hearts and souls to the precious Savior. Rev. James read St. Matthew's chapter 5 verses 1-12. Then during the worship hour our pastor delivered a wonderful message. His scripture was from the Book of St. Luke, chapter 19 verses 1-9. His theme "A Desire to See Jesus."

He truly preached to the Master and he was still in the midst as always in this Holy Place.

Thought: "I don't believe he brought me this far to leave me. How about you?" Think about it. Do you believe? But that on the good ground are they which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it and bring forth fruit with patience. Luke 8: 15. In your patience possess ye your souls. Luke 21:19. God is not through with us yet. Let's pray always for one another. Amen and amen.

AN OLD IRISH BLESSING AS SUMMER DRAWS TO A CLOSE
May the blessing of light be upon you, light without and light within.

May the blessed sunlight shine upon you and warm your heart 'til it glows like a great peat fire, so that the stranger may come and warm himself at it, and also a friend.

And may the light shine out of your eyes, like a candle set in the windows of a house, bidding the wanderer to come in out of the storm.

And may the blessing of the rain be upon you - the soft sweet rain. May it fall upon your spirit so that all the little flowers may spring up, and shed their sweetness on the air.

And may the blessings of the great rains be upon you, may they beat upon your spirit and wash it fair and clean, and leave there many shining pools where the blue of heaven shines, and sometimes a star.

And may the blessing of the earth be upon you - the great round earth; may you ever have a kindly greeting for those you pass as you're going along the roads. May the earth be soft under you when you rest out upon it, tired at the end of the day, and may it rest easy over you when, at the last, you lie out under it.

May it rest so lightly over you that you may be from under it quickly, and up and off, and on your way to God.

And now may the Lord bless you, and bless you kindly.

1983 Garza County

Farm and Ranch Journal
Wed., March 30, 1983

Agriculture is a Constant Struggle Today
Special Edition to The Post Dispatch

Not all of us who are "off the farm" are that far away from the land. Many of us, born before, during or after World War II, are only just removed from the farm or ranch.

Like so many others across America, we were the first generation, for as far back as our family history is known, to have chosen a life-style not connected to the land. So, even though many of us "city folks" don't work the land or livestock, we are close enough in our family heritage to at least appreciate what it takes to "stay on the farm."

And we salute those of you who have decided to continue in the struggle to keep the family farm and ranch concept alive. It is widely recognized that you, who are involved in agriculture, and take this opportunity to express our appreciation and support to our communities, we couldn't survive.

It's not just the economic impact that you provide us. It's your leadership in our civic clubs, your devotion to our schools, and most importantly, your enthusiasm and persistence during difficult times. Anyone who knows a rancher or farmer surely knows that being in agriculture is one of the riskiest of businesses. Every crop, every investment, is a high-risk gamble.

We want all of you in the agriculture industry to know how much we appreciate you and what you stand for. Our 1983 Garza County Farm and Ranch Journal is our way of recognizing your hard work. The Journal is made possible by the work of the publishers who have bought space to support the publication.

Our special thanks to Rachelle Braddock for her perseverance in servicing our advertisers.

99% Signup for PIK

A total of 393 farmers in Garza County have signed up for the PIK program, according to Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county executive director Victor Ashley. That represents 99 percent of the 396 farms in the county.

Cotton farmers set aside 24,125.6 acres for a 43 percent reduction in the base (Continued on P. 2)

And to Beth Short for her collecting of information and writing interesting features. And to Tim Burnett for his outstanding photography. Thanks also to Norma Baumann for helping us get this project off the ground and in shape for the press. We hope our readers enjoy this special edition and find it informative and interesting, and urge you to say a word of appreciation to our advertisers who really are the ones who make it possible to produce the 1983 Garza County Farm and Ranch Journal.

Gov. White proclaims book Month

Governor Mark White has proclaimed March 1984 Texas Book Month, and libraries across the state are certain to join in the celebration.

In the proclamation signed February 23, Governor White urged Texans to learn more about the state's history, government, industry, arts, literature, and folklore by reading books, which are in his words "a window to Texas' history and future."

Texas Book Month was celebrated for the first time in March 1983, when the Books for Texans organization issued a campaign to place 100,000 books by Texans or about Texas in the states public libraries.

This March, Texas libraries will again join in promoting knowledge about our state. Many libraries may want to plan special events or displays during the month.

Students enjoy field trip to market

A field trip to United Supermarket Friday, March 16 was enjoyed by the morning kindergarten class of Miss Brown. Assistant manager, Richard Ledesma gave the tour to the students.

The students inspected the fruits and vegetables, learning a new vegetable.

Girl Scouts "See" Mary Poppins

For just a few hours Tuesday night, March 13, the Community Center was transformed into a Disney Fantasyland with Emcee Mary Poppins (Marita Jackson) welcoming the Scouts, their fathers and guests to the annual Girl Scout Father-Daughter Banquet.

Troop 123 did the opening flag ceremony and led the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mrs. Poppins introduced the guests, Kathy Hunt, Field Service Director from the Caprock Girl Scout Council; Mr. Warren Hunt and Melissa Hunt; Nell Morris, Post Neighborhood Finance Committee and Troop Consultant; Carol Peppers, Post Neighborhood Finance Committee and Neighborhood Cookie Chairman; Bo Jackson, Friend to Post Girl Scouts and husband of Emcee and Betty Dennis, Post Neighborhood Service Unit Chairman.

All leaders were presented certificates of appreciation and Jaynie Dickson, Carol Tobias and Rebecca Haney were recognized for having five years or more in scouting.

Miniature scout pins were presented to the Cookie Chairman for each troop. Included were Elaine Wright, Sharla Wells, Tammye Holly, Kathy Hubble and Judy Bush.

Camp folders were distributed and explained and Post's Day Camp was announced and will be held July 24-26.

Following the dinner, each troop presented its entertainment and received awards earned. All troops received year stars, and each Brownie troop received a Brownie "B" patch.

Troop 134 (Grade 3) sang and pantomimed "Hello Muddah — Hello Fadduh"; Troop 55 (Grade 1) sang the "Brownie Smile Song" and "Make New Friends".

Troop 181 (Grade 2) sang "The Rainbow Song" and "If I were a Butterfly".

Troop 123 (Grade 4) did a short version of the "Wizard of Oz." They were awarded their dance, outdoor fun and biking badges.

Troop 235 (Grades 5, 6, 7 & 8) did the new version of "Peter and the Wolf" and completed a requirement for the Theater

Badge.

Troop 123 did the closing flag ceremony.

Then at the stroke of the clock, Mrs. Poppins opened the umbrella and went off into the night and all the little Cinderellas, Peter Pans, witches and such turned back into special little girls — Scouts — and went home with their dads.

The first king and queen to be televised were King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of England when they visited the New York World's Fair in June, 1939.

Dabney Post

When a fire destroyed the mobile home of a family in the Calgary community last week, before nightfall, I was told the family already had contributions of furniture, clothing, food and money. What a great place to live.

There has been a classified ad running in The Dispatch for several weeks now concerning a family trying to give their dog away.

They would like very much to give the dog to a good home in the country where he can run and jump to his hearts delight for he has grown too large for the family back yard here in town.

The sad part of the story is that several people have called stating they would take the dog, making the family very happy, only to NOT show up. The dog's name is "Wolfie" and he is a lovable pet. And if anyone is interested, I mean really interested, please call 495-2002 and please SHOW UP.
