It could have been worse. Ask Teresa Mesa, who was the victim of a firecracker thrown into her baby's face as she held the youngster at the park.

Fortunately, neither mo-ther nor child were injured, but the incident puts new light on the continuing nonsense that goes on at the park every year during July

Silly me, I thought that perhaps after last year's criticism of poor law enfor-cement at the park, that maybe some controls would be evident this year.

Not so. The total, wide-open explosion of fireworks in the park received little or no attention from the sheriff or deputies.

The Post Chamber of Commerce sponsored July 4th celebration was another example of a great community-wide event with a lot of good for a lot of people. What galls me is that a

Commissioners Sign Resolution

County Commissioners meeting in regular session. passed a resolution honoring Senator John Montford for the work he did on behalf of the citizens of Garza County in opposing the site for low-level waste.

The resolution stated:

Whereas, the Commissioners Court of Garza County, Texas, in regular session Monday, July 9, 1984, has been notified that Garza County will not have a low-level radioactive waste disposal facility located in the Northeast part of the

And Whereas, the Commissioners' Court is aware of the efforts and diligent work done by Senator John Mont-ford on behalf of the citizens of Garza County.

And Whereas, the Commissioners' Court wishes to commend Senator John Montford for his efforts on behalf of Garza County, and wish to express the appreciation of the Court as well as that of the citizens of this county in opposing the location of a low level radioactive waste disposal facility in Garza County.

Therefore be it hereby resolved on the 9th day of July, 1984, that the Commissioners' Court of Garza County hereby commends and applauds Senator John Montford for his exemplary service as a Senator of the State of Texas.

In other action during the regular meeting, commissioners heard a report from County Agent Syd Conner and then Conner presented Voda Gradine, County Treasurer with a certificate for having completed a 12 hour treasurers' course at Texas A&M recently;

Renewed the Motorola lease on the radio tower for a one year contract rather than the present two year at $78 a month;

Approved the bond for new Sheriff's deputy, Robby We-deking; And approved the DPS officers and Game Warden to move to the third floor of the courthouse in the now present law library with the exception of moving a desk and the intoxilyzer to be left in their present office in the Jail complex.

Before adjourning, commissioners approved the monthly invoices, reports and minutes.

one was killed, maimed or and inconsiderate young people, with the obvious consent of their parents, are allowed to violate the law, ignore common sense and roam the park throwing dangerous explosives at people's feet and faces.

It is a disgrace to our city to allow such practices to

Chamber of Commerce president Bryan Williams III tried to make it better this year...he posted "No Firework" signs throughout the park.

Too bad, the law enforcement folks didn't see them. I understand that July 4th is traditionally a time to skirt at the edge of disaster for some folks who think it is neat to blast sidewalks and picnic tables with explosives.

But, surely, there must be a better place and time for that kind of nonsense than in the middle of hundreds of families with little children who have no protection from the indiscrimate fireworks.

I fear that to get adequate enforcement of the city ordinance against fireworks in the city limits we will have to witness a major injury.

Short of that happening, I call on the Post City Council to either (1) demand enforcement of city ordinances, or (2) strike the ordinances from the books and forget about the myth of protecting the people from the dangers of explosives.

If the city can not be assured that law enforcement will enforce city ordinances, then the money that city taxpayers spend to support the joint city-county law enforcement effort should be withdrawn and put that money to a useful purpose.

In case anyone cares, the reason there is a fireworks ordinance in the first place is the overwhelming abundance of evidence that these little "harmless" firecrackers maime, kill and blind people by the thousands throughout the U.S. every year.

If the law is important enough to be on the books...it ought to be important enough to enforce.

Let's be realistic about our situation...perhaps we ought to write the fireworks ordinance with a new provision making it legal to pop off the little doodies only at the park during certain holidays...at least then people who want to protect themselves will know ahead of time what to expect. Also, why not re-write the alcohol consumption law to allow beer at least to be consumed by legal age adults during the same times. What we now have are two sets of law violators, those popping off explosives and those popping off the beer

If it's okay . . .then why have a law saying it's not?

A fair warning...this is not the last time I'll be writing about this subject...as long as there are dangerous explosives being allowed to go uncontrolled amoung our people who are gathered to enjoy a day at the park...I will continue to remind our elected officials of their duties and obligations. Garza County "Off the Hook County Judge Giles Dalby was informed by John Simek, chairman of the board of directors of the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority, that the authority has withdrawn from consideration a potential disposal site located two miles South of Kalgary in Northeast Garza County.

The reason for withdrawal was given as geological Initial data indicated the possible existence of deep clays at the site, but after finding sand at a depth of approximately 40 feet, the technical requirements could not be met at the site and withdrew the site from consideration.

State Senator John Montford, whose district includes Garza County, agreed with Simek, stating, "the authority has assured me all along that if the site didn't meet the technical requirements, they would walk away from it." The authority has been working closely with Senator Montford and Representative Steve Carriker who have both expressed interest in the authority's activities in Garza County.

The Garza County site is the fifth tract of land examined in detail by the authority. Four of the five sites have failed to meet the authority's strict technical criteria. The other potential site is located in Dimmit County, three miles south of Asherton, Texas.

Depending on how you look at it, most people are glad that the low-level waste site has been dropped from Garza County. I am.

Hope you all had an enjoyable Fourth of July and did what you wanted to. It's good to see that some of us are still patriotic and believe in the things that made us free. I congratulate those of you who have erected flag poles in front of your homes. It looks great! And especially to see Old Glory blowing in the breeze any day of the week, not just holidays.

Thank you for all your calls wanting to tell me you missed me last week, it's nice to know someone cares.

Restaurant Robbed Sunday night, suffered cash loss

The Chaparral Restaurant was robbed of a substantial amount of cash Sunday evening by two unidentified black males. Jim Jackson, owner, reported that he had gone outside of the restaurant at approximately 7:30 p.m. when a tan vehicle parked on the West side of the establishment. Two males got out of the vehicle with one remaining inside.

Jackson reported that he made the two welcome and went over to the parked vehicle and invited the driver to come in also, but he refused.

After the two suspects entered the restaurant, they asked the cashier what kind of food they offered "to go", and placed an order for a pound of barbecued ribs to

While waiting for their food, the two reportedly were looking around.

Dortha Jackson, bookkeeper, was in the upstairs office at the time and went down the stairs for "5 minutes." When she went back up, she was startled by one of the suspects as he was coming back down from the stairs and commented to Mrs. Jackson that "they had a nice place." She said, "thank you." The two then left the restaurant without their food.

Several minutes passed by when Mrs. Jackson noticed that the money was missing and called Jim Jackson upstairs to inform him of the incident when he immediately called law officers.

Mrs. Jackson reported to The Dispatch that she had made out three deposits that evening and only part of the money was missing from the bag and that there was also money lying on top of the desk which was undisturbed.

There were several patrons in the restaurant at the time of the incident and all were unaware of what was taking place.

The suspects are described as being clean cut and in their early 30's.

The search and study of ancient artifacts of the biblical era has become a science. Biblical archaeology has aided our understanding of scripture.

These detailed studies have given insight to the manner of life in biblical times while adding meaning to obscure passages and historical accounts in scripture. Accuracy of the text of the Bible is verified showing a remarkable degree of precision in the copying and preserving of its pages.

For example over 3000 portions, some complete, of the New Testament dating to the second century AD are now known and cataloged. Its words have been remarkably kept intact from that early

Other research has esta-blished the meaning of the languages and words of eras of the Bible. Don't Take Food Poisoning on Picnic

July begins the peak picnic -- and food poisoning -season. But with a few simple precautions, this unpleasant and sometimes serious illness can be avoided, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service food and nutrition specialist.

The "Poison" is actually produced by a certain bacteria, a type of staphylococ-cus, which contaminates the food, says Mary K. Sweeten. The poison is eaten with the food and produces symptons such as nausea and vomiting.

For most people, food poisoning is just a miserable experience, but it can be serious for babies, elderly people and those with other illnesses, she notes.

The bacteria often reach food from the hands of the person preparing it. But even when you're careful to wash your hands, bacteria from the skin, hair or throat, can be spread to food, she explains.

Since these bacteria are especially fond of protein, Sweeten recommends precautions when taking high protein foods -- such as meat, poultry, salads containing egg, custards and some baked foods -- on picnics.

The most likely sources of food poisoning are those dishes that you don't normally heat or reheat before serving on a picnic.

County Extension Agent Drip Irrigation Can Combat Dry Weather A drip irrigation system can be the answer to growing plenty of quality vegetables during dry weather. Such a system applies water to the soil at the center of the row with great precision and economy. It's possible to reduce water usage in a garden by more than 50 percent with a well designed drip system.

Drip irrigation involves a system of plastic pipes with tiny openings called "emit-ters" which deliver water, drop by drop, into the soil at the base of plants along the row. The water soaks in immediately when the rate of irrigation is adjusted correctly. No water is wasted because there is neither flooding nor runoff.

Home garden drip systems operate at low pressure -- 4 to 10 pounds per square inch of tubing. Most gardeners quickly learn how often and how long to operate their drip systems to satisfy their plants' water needs.

Even when a drip system is on, the middles between rows are dry enough to walk on, permitting harvesting and other garden work during irrigation. On the other hand, sprinkler and furrow-irrigated gardens are too wet to walk in for a day or two after each irrigation.

Drip-irrigated plants are more productive, and water is not sprayed over the leaves as with sprinkler irrigation, thus reducing disease pro-blems. Soil is not waterlogged as with furrow irrigation, so more oxygen is available to plant roots at all times. The entire soil surface can be mulched without interfering with irrigation; this stops moisture loss by evaporation.

At the current rates for city water, savings in water cost alone can pay for a drip system in less than two growing seasons. A homeowner using furrow irrigation on a 1,000 square foot garden twice weekly for a month in midsummer applies about 10,000 gallons of water. That amount could be cut in half with a drip irrigation system. Thus, over a full season of gardening, water savings can be substantial.

Drip irrigation system costs vary widely but are reasonable for the home gardener. A system can last for 4 to 10 years, depending on its care.

How Good Is Wheat Hay? Some farmers made wheat hay this spring due to dry conditions which hurt grain prospects. This hay should be tested for nutritive value. The quality of wheat hay can vary widely depending largely on the stage of maturity when cut. A cool season forage such as wheat is naturally higher quality than forages growing during the warm season. But all forages lose quality rapidly as they begin to mature.

A forage analysis can reflect these differences. Wheat that was cut for hay when seedheads were beginning to form could have a protein content of 12 percent or higher. If seed were beginning to ripen when wheat was cut, protein would be much lower. For instance, wheat straw that is baled after the grain harvest would be quite low in protein.

In addition to the stage of maturity, fertilizer improves the protein content of wheat hay. Wheat that received topdress applications of fertilizer this spring should be higher in protein than nonfertilized wheat.

We suggest sending sam-ples of wheat hay to the Forage Testing Lab at Texas A&M University to determine the hay's protein content and feeding value. Information sheets for submitting hay samples are available at the County Extension Office.

Several other laboratories in Texas also do forage analysis.

Keep Grass Clippings

For Compost
Instead of throwing away grass clippings when you mow your lawn, put them to use in a compost pile. Compost is a good source of organic matter for gardens and flower beds. Furthermore, composting is an excellent way to dispose of garden debris, leaves and similar plant material.

Make the compost pile 4 to 6 feet wide and any length, depending on material and space available.

The simplest composting method is to alternate 4 to 6-inch layers of plant matter, such as leaves or grass, with 2 to 4-inches of good garden soil. Add manure to the soil layer if it's avail-able, and sprinkle commercial fertilizer on each layer of plant matter to hasten decomposition. Use a cupful of fertilizer with a 1-1-1 ratio per 10 square feet.

The top layer of the compost pile should be soil and the surface should form a basin to hold water. Water each layer of organic matter before adding the soil layer. Water the pile thoroughly when completed. Add water as needed to keep the material moist but not soggy. Leaves decompose slowly if too dry. Turn the compost every three to four months to aerate the material and speed decomposition. Within six months to a year, your compost will be ready to use and you'll be glad you saved those grass clippings.

Listening sessions

The fifth in a series of U.S. Department of Agriculture "listening sessions" to discuss future food and agriculture policy will be July 19 in Dallas, TX. The announcement was made today by President Reagan during an address to the Agricultural Communicators' Congress.

The session will begin at 10:00 a.m. at the Ramada Hotel (formerly the Le Baron Hotel), 1055 Regal Row in Dallas.

It will be designed to give the public an opportunity to express views to the Secretary of Agriculture and other U.S. Department of Agriculture policy leaders. Previous sessions were in Chicago, IL; Riverside, CA; Atlanta, GA; and Syracuse, NY.

"Our recent session in Syracuse, like those before it, was a great success," Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block said. "The grassroots input we are receiving will be very helpful to us as we begin the task of formulating farm policy. The participants at these sessions are aware of what we are trying to accomplish and they are offering constructive and serious thought."

Block said as many people as possible will be given a chance to make oral presentations. A time limit will be established and announced at the beginning of the session. Also, anyone may submit full written comments whether or not they participate at the listening session.

Ranches to Compete

The working cowboy and the great cattle ranches are still a part of the Texas landscape and not just American folklore. Tough skilled men continue to ride in the legendary kingdoms of cows and horses, unwilling to surrender their place of honor in the Lone Star state to TV's J.R.s or any urban counterpart.

Once again, these descendants of the Wild West will gather to compete in traditional contests in the fourth annual Texas Ranch Roundup, scheduled for August 17-18, at the Wichita County Mounted Patrol Arena in Wichita Falls. More than 200 real working cowboys, wagon bosses, cooks and immediate ranch family members will pit their skills against each other in roundup competition, which features events patterned after activities on a working ranch. The roundup will benefit three state charities.

In addition to selecting the "Best Ranch in Texas" and "Top Hand," judges this year will also pick a "Top Horse."

Roundup participants will represent fourteen of Texas' largest ranches, boasting a combined acreage totalling about 2.5 million, or more than half the size of New

The Lewis Ranches of Clarendon will return to defend the best ranch title they won twice -- in 1981 and in 1983. If they win for a third time, the Lewis ranch hands will ride home with a replica of the prized Lex Graham traveling trophy for keeps. Others included in the competition will be the R.A. Brown Ranch, Coldwater Cattle Co., Inc., Cowan & Son Circle Bar Ranch, Double U Hereford Ranch, Moorehouse Ranch (1982 winner), Pitchfork Land & Cattle Co., Scharbauer Ranches, Renderbrook-Spade Ranch, Swen R. Swenson Cattle Co., Tongue River Ranch Corp., Triangle Ranch-Burnett Ranches, Inc., U Lazy S Ranch and the W. T.

Waggoner Estate.
The roundup opens Friday, August 17, at 7:30 p.m. Teams of cowboys from each ranch will compete in saddle bronc riding, team roping, team branding, wild cow milking, team penning and a wild horse race. A country and western dance will begin at 9 p.m.

On Saturday, jackpot roping and barrel racing, two events outside regular competition, will begin at 8 a.m. A ranch food cookoff, talent contest and the first lady contest will be held Saturday afternoon before the final roundup events begin at 7:30 p.m. Another dance will begin at 9 p.m., with the awards ceremony getting underway at 10:30 p.m. in the Points will be awarded on a team basis in each event to determine the ranch, that will take home a traveling trophy, a bronze sculpture by Lex Graham. Judges will cast ballots for the top hand, who receives a hand-tooled saddle. Team members of individual events also will receive awards.

Roundup tickets are available for $9, reserved seats, and $4, general admission. Tickets to the dances are $5 per person per evening. Tickets to the Saturday afternoon contests are $4 for adults and $1 for children.
