Staff Occupies New City Hall

Staff occupies new city hall offices at the corner of Broadway and Main in downtown Post.

The Way I See It.....

Let me tell you that you can go on a short vacation on a "Shoe-string" budget.

We just did it, and although I am not in the mood to repeat the trip in the near or distant future, I can testify that vacations do not have to be expensive to be fun.

We had been planning this particular trip to Portland, Oregon to visit close friends for the past three or more years.

Since daughter Kimberly was born in Oregon (she does claim to be a Texan) and our boys were born in California and Washington, we really wanted to make one last trip as a family to see familiar old sights and share memories with our Air Force friends.

Last year we set up a potential budget, and Pat began stashing away pennies, "stealing" change lying around the house and saving for the trip.

We originally figured it would take comfortably $1,000 to make the 4,000 (more or less) round trip.

First, we dreamed of flying all five of us out of Lubbock.

Airfare costs quickly changed us to thoughts of taking Amtrak out of Nebraska or Denver.

Finally, about two weeks before leaving, we came down to the old stand-by... we'll just have to drive.

We were determined to make this family trip to share the wedding of our friends' daughter, whom we have known since her birth.

Son Tim, the same age as the bride, was unable to join us on the journey as he had just started to work at a new job.

Let me emphasize that this is not intended as a travelog, nor will I bore you with our non-existent slides.

I intend to share information on how a family of four can make a 4,000 mile trip across the Western United States on less than $500 cash.

Before leaving Post I had the Oldsmobile serviced and checked. Starting with a car in sound mechanical condition is a must.

Son James pitched in his final paycheck from his job at Wal-Mart in Stephenville as his contribution to the family trip.

Packing the trunk wasn't easy, but Pat supervised the baggage packing so that only the bare essentials were included.

After all, we had to have room on the way home for rocks and such.

I managed to get the trunk shut and with another pile in the back seat, we headed off north with our tent.

Tent? You bet, we just knew that with motel rates running $50 or more per night, some of the evenings would have to include camping out.

After attending the annual Rowell reunion in Tulia, we left on Sunday morning, Aug. 12, with the ice chest full of fried chicken, boiled eggs and other goodies.

Just north of Pueblo, Colo., we stopped at a roadside rest area off Interstate 25, relaxed, gobbled up some chicken and trimmings, enjoyed watching the thunderheads billowing over the majestic Rocky mountains, then headed north to Wyoming.

Stopping about every two hours or so, either for rest or fuel, we landed at Rock Springs, Wyo. at 2 a.m. Central Standard Time.

It had been a long hard 900 miles, but we were met with a surprise, the motel room for four of us was only $40, including tax.

I felt a sigh of relief as we prepared for the second day. Leaving at sunrise, after our traditional breakfast at McDonald's, we made it to Salt Lake City by noon, got a quick glimpse of the famous genealogical library, promising ourselves to plan a special trip to that facility later, we then took off up Interstate 15 to Idaho.

We saw on the map a National Forest campsite near Sun Valley, so we aimed our sights in that direction.

It was an almost perfect campsite, nestled among high pines just a few yards from the picturesque Wood River. The only handicap was arriving there at dark, cooking and eating hot dogs and chili by flashlight.

Camping wasn't all that bad, but it wasn't all that good either...it depends on what you expect from sleeping in a tent made for two with four people.

Up at dawn, damp tent folded, packed and trunk (Continued on P2)

Westminster, Tex., he died August 24 in Houston.

August 25 at 10 a.m. in Sanders Memorial Chapel with the Rev. John Ballard officiating.

Survivors include her husband; one daughter Drura Sherrod of Slaton; two sisters, Ethel Sanders of Lubbock and Betty McCampbell of Amarillo; a brother, Woodrow Dent of Dayton, Nev.; two grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Graveside services were at 2 p.m. Saturday in Terrace Cemetery with Rev. Tom Pass officiating. Burial followed under direction of Sanders Funeral Home.

The Way I See It

finally closed again, and we were off down U.S. Hwy 20 west, where we ran into a full-fledged cattle drive down the middle of the road, complete with cowboys and cowgirls and hundreds of Herefords blocking the road.

We got back on Interstate 84 near Twin Falls, Idaho, cruising through the desert-like country into eastern Oregon.

Then just north of Baker, Oregon, the highway skirts alongside the indescribable Columbia River Gorge into Portland.

Looking at more than 2,000 feet depth of volcanic rock is a reminder of the power of volcanos.

We arrived at our friends' home the evening of the third day.

Saw lots of sights, enjoyed the fellowship, the wedding and the wonderful hospitality of our Oregon friends and renewed old acquaintances with their family.

Leaving Portland with a little over $200 cash, we zipped south to Crater Lake, Klamath Falls and Reno, Nev.

An Oregon friend had told us motel rates were really cheap in Reno, so we planned to check it out. We stretched it, but we made it there by 11 p.m., and sure enough, we got a spacious room at one of the downtown motels for only $32, using a coupon we had picked up earlier in the day at a restaurant in Alturas, Calif.

Using the traditional McDonald's breakfast, we left Reno and hit the worst part of the trip, 400 miles of absolute isolated desert, punctuated halfway by one town, then another 200 miles to Las Vegas.

No gambling in our budget, we passed by the big-name hotels and casinos and rounded the curves across the famous Hoover Dam and Lake Mead before heading south to Kingman, Ariz.

At Kingman we were "spaced" out from the desert, and found another inexpensive but comfortable motel, this time for $28.

Heavy rains in New Mexico delayed our return home on Wednesday, as we stayed the final night at Santa Rosa, N.M. rather than test the possibility of being the first to find a washed-out bridge.

I made a joke about needing to get back to work so I could get some rest... but, you know, there is a lot of truth in that statement.

We enjoyed the trip, but mighty happy to settle back into our routines at home.

Next week we'll take a trip out west to Kermit... perhaps we'll see you on the road or at the stadium.

Girl Scouts hold picnic

Third grade Girl Scout Troop 181 started their year with a Mother-Daughter Picnic, August 23 at 7:00 p.m.

The picnic was moved from the park to the Girl Scout House because of rain.

The girls and their mothers enjoyed a meal of hot dogs, chips, cookies, and kool-aid. After eating, a Brownie Ring was formed and a discussion on goals for the year was held.

Next, they were involved in a knot tying relay race where everyone had to tie a square knot correctly. Some songs were sung and the girls voted on the Dabblers Badge they would like to do. The meeting was closed and a pre-registration was held with six girls and five adults registering so far.

Those attending the event were: Rosa & Sharron Villa, Courtney & Jenny Francis, (leader) Kathie Hubble (leader), Tina, Josey, Pauline Basquez, Danielle & Maude Cade, Shelly & Rebecca Haney, Lisa & Aurora Benavidez, Amanda & Linda Richardson, Brandy & Sue Warren, Christie Edwards & Shirley Wise, Stephanie & Becky Castro.

Defense Impresses Coaches

"Our defense is strong... maybe the best we've had and they look better at this stage than the team last year," Post Bold Gold Antelope coach David Thompson comments following last Friday's scrimmage at Lockney. "Offensively, we need to get better, although I thought our players were in really fine condition," the coach adds.

The Antelope offense ground out 300 yards on 60 plays in the controlled scrimmage while the defense held the Longhorns to a meager 98 yards on 60 plays.

Thompson reports that there are 61 players suited out on the varsity and junior varsity teams with another 35 tabbed for the freshmen team.

"We are blessed with so many players," the coach observes, "that it looks like we'll only have one or two players starting on both offense and defense."

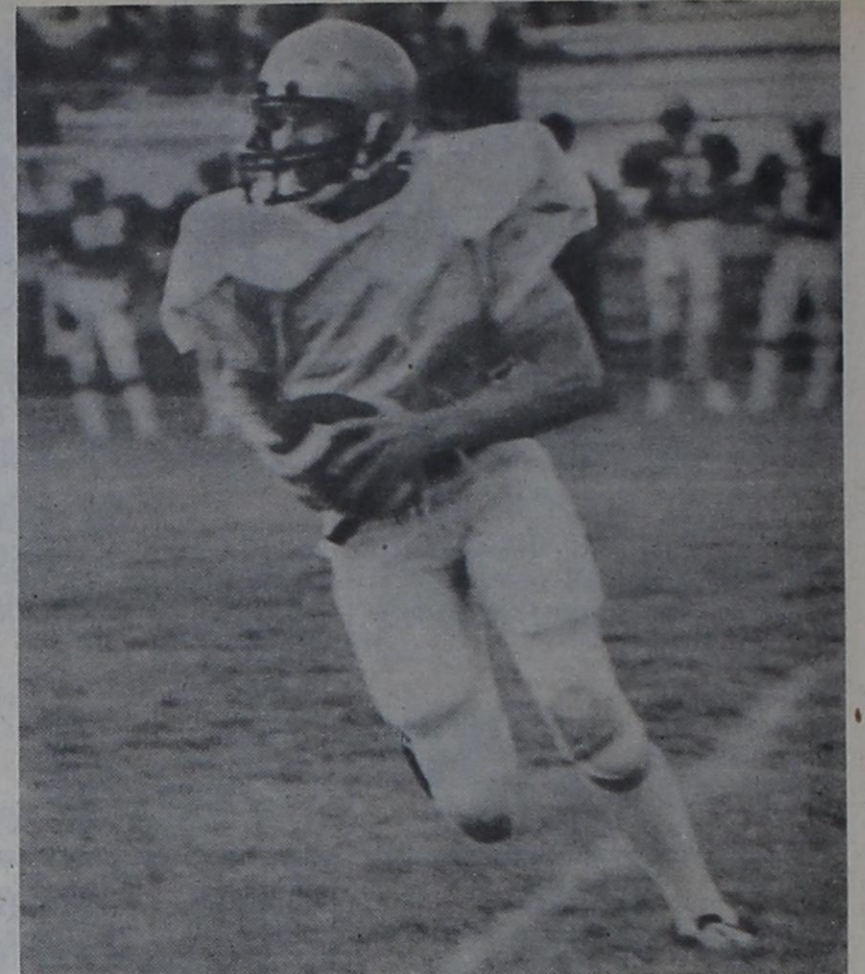

With junior running back Greg Adams out for four to six weeks with a broken arm, junior fullback Tracy Price due to return to practice this week from a bruised knee and lineman Jim Rainbolt returning from an automobile accident, the injury situation is not serious.

"Overall I think we're in pretty good shape and we're anxious to see how we match up this Friday with Littlefield," Thompson adds.

The Wildcat scrimmages open Thursday there with the freshmen starting at 4 p.m., then Friday here as the junior varsity begins at 6:30 p.m., followed by the varsity scrimmage at 8 p.m.

"We are still studying players for starting positions," Thompson reports, "and by the time we suit up at Kermit on September 7, we're going to be ready."

OPTION RUNNING - Post Antelope junior quarterback Joel Kirkpatrick skirts around left end on an option play during last Friday's scrimmage at Lockney. The Antelopes scored four times during the controlled scrimmage.

DEFENSE SHINES - Stacking up the middle and stopping Lockney for a total of 98 yards, with fumble recoveries and intercepted passes was a highlight of the Post Antelope defense during last Friday's scrimmage at Lockney. The team gears up for one more scrimmage this Friday as they host Littlefield.

Cawthorn Urges Special Caution on School Busses

It's that time of year again, when vacations end and back to school studies begin. "Unfortunately this also means an increase in traffic accidents involving school buses and school children," stated Major Vernon Cawthorn, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety. "Most of these accidents are caused by drivers who fail to follow safe operating procedures as well as laws pertaining to passing a stopped school bus," Major Cawthorn stated.

State law requires drivers on the same roadway as a school bus that has stopped to load or unload school children; to stop and remain stopped until one of three things happen. The bus driver signals you to go on by or they turn off the flashing red lights, or the bus itself goes into motion. This law applies whether you are meeting the bus or whether you are going in the same direction as the bus. It also applies inside the city limit as well as outside the city limit. The only exception to the law is that drivers on the other side of a divided highway (roadways separated by a physical median) are not required to stop. Motorist who fail to stop for a school bus could be fined up to $200.00

"We, as drivers, should realize the dangers involved and do everything possible to prevent these needless deaths and injuries involving our school children," Major Cawthorn stated.

Organizational Meeting set for Girl Scouts

Area girls will be offered an opportunity to become active in Girl Scouts during an organizational meeting to be held Thursday, August 30 from 4 to 6 p. m. in the Girl Scout House at 507 West 7th in Post according to Field Service Chairman Betty Dennis. Parents of prospective members as well as members who are re-registering are asked to attend. Ninety eight girls in Post are among the 2,217,174 who registered in 1983-84 nationwide.

"Girl Scouts is the largest voluntary organization for girls, and one of the oldest. By appealing to girls through activities that are fun and personally fulfilling to them, the movement helps girls to develop socially, physically, emotionally and morally," explained Betty Dennis. She added that the organization is part of a worldwide movement for girls and that Girl Scouts not only welcomes, but seeks members from all ethnic, religious and socioeconomic backgrounds.

In a contemporary setting, girls learn leadership skills and traditional values of love of God, country and mankind. Girl Scouts offers a wide variety of opportunities for girls who may choose to join a troop or not. Many of the activities available (field trips, workshops, camping, etc.) do not require troop affiliation, although they are available to troop members also.

In addition, Girl Scouts offers personal satisfaction and growth to the adults who make the program possible. For more information about Girl Scouts, U. S. A. contact Nell Morris, 495-3214; Betty Dennis 495-3444 or Carol Peppers 495-3191.

Experiment Station Observes 75th Year

Pride of accomplishment is certain to show clearly on Tuesday, September 11, at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES), Lubbock.

On that day research scientists there will celebrate the Station's 75th birthday by hosting hundreds of visitors to the annual TAES Field Day. Activities, according to cotton breeder Dr. John Gannaway, 1984 Field Day Committee Chairman, will begin at 10:00 a.m. with a slide presentation depicting the Research Center's history since establishment in 1909.

Static and automated displays "will review the past and inquire of the future," Gannaway says, and there will be tours of laboratories, water use efficiency, weed control and breeding research. A barbecue lunch will be served at noon.

Of special interest to cotton producers, notes Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., will be a historic look at cotton plantings, featuring cotton from the oldest varieties to the latest, including true hybrids.

The field day will be a great opportunity, Johnson says, for farmers to see and hear about the latest production research successes achieved through the expenditure of "their own hard-earned dollars."

Producers have money invested in TAES work from at least six sources, he reminds, including research grants from PCG and the Plains Cotton Improvement Program, the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program, Cotton Incorporated and state and federal taxes.

Some of the dues money paid by cotton producers to PCG and all producer contributions to the Plains Cotton Improvement Program goes into cotton research, Johnson points out. And an intensive bollworm research project, initiated in 1981 after the escalation of worm problems on the Plains got its start with cotton producer money paid into PCG's 20-year-old High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program.

PCG research priorities over the years have included the development of short-season varieties with improved yields, fiber and seed quality, high strength, disease resistance, irrigation efficiency, insect control, weed control, and in later years, hybrid cotton pollination.

"Our PCG members can obtain valuable information on these projects at the field day," Johnson says, "and we are urging as many of them as possible to take advantage of the opportunity."

Gannaway emphasizes that there will be specialists at all of the field tour stops to discuss specific producer problems. "In fact we are encouraging producers to initiate such discussions, to the end that we can be of maximum service to the area's agriculture," he says.

Summer Camps Highlights 4-H

By Derick Dunn

September will find us back in the swing of things at school. It also signals the time of year when 4-H activities get underway for 1984-85.

The summer months have been busy ones. Electric camp, Leadership Lab, Texas 4-H Roundup, Texas Congress, horse shows, steer shows, and clothing projects - not to mention record books - have taken much time for Garza County 4-H members. Now we choose projects again and get busy for another year.

If you are between 9 and 19 years old, and not enrolled in 4-H, come join us. The purpose of 4-H is to learn good citizenship and leadership, and to build character, but we have lots of fun while we're learning.

If you are between 20 and 100 years old, and want to be involved in 4-H, GOOD! We need adult leaders, too! Go by the extension office at the courthouse or call 495-2050 for information to join the fun bunch in a Garza County 4-H Club!

September 30 Last Day to Apply for Ins.

September 30 is the last day to apply for Crop Insurance for Wheat in Garza County, Texas, according to Ross Smith, District Director for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC).

Crop Insurance covers unavoidable loss of production resulting from adverse weather conditions, wildlife, earthquake, or fire.

"Three coverage levels (50, 65, or 75 percent) are available for insurance protection. Additionally, FCIC offers three optional price elections for valuing production lost or damaged," says Smith.

"To assist producers, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation will cost-share up to 30 percent of the cost of carrying insurance. For more information about the program, producers should contact an authorized Crop Insurance agent," says Smith.

"To select an agent, producers should check the list of agents available at their county ASCS office. Applications should be made no later than September 30.

Stenholm hears wide range of views

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm (D-Stamford) said his agricultural staff heard a wide range of views in a recent series of 11 farm policy workshops throughout the 17th Congressional District.

"There's broad agreement that American agriculture is in a crisis," Stenholm said. "There's less agreement on how to solve the food and fiber sector's problems. And yet there's a greater chance for unity among producers than ever before."

Stenholm said the diversity of agriculture in the 17th District almost guarantees that producers will have different perspectives on some issues.

"I doubt there's a Congressional district in the country any more agriculturally diverse than the one I represent," Stenholm said. "From grain and cotton farms in the west, to cattle ranches in the middle, to dairy and peanut operations in the eastern part, this district is big and varied."

The 17th District stretches between Lubbock and Fort Worth but does not include either city. Many of the district's 35 counties are predominantly rural, with agriculture a major part of the economy.

Dale King and Randy Green, members of Stenholm's staff, held a series of farm policy workshops between August 9 and August 16. Meetings were held in Big Spring, Snyder, Post, Haskell, Breckenridge, Abilene, Ballinger, DeLeon, Stephenville, Weatherford and Gainesville.

There was wide agreement that exports are vital to the health of U.S. agriculture, Stenholm said. In addition, the need to control surpluses was a major concern. Just how to do that brought more varied views, as did questions about price supports and target prices, which support farm income.

Stenholm said he and his staff are preparing for major farm legislation next year, when Congress must revise the nation's basic agricultural policies.

"The new legislation will affect every citizen of the 17th District, not just farmers," Stenholm said. "I intend to make my best effort to put a workable farm and ranch policy into a bill to be introduced early next year. These meetings were intended to help us get ready for that."

We have been having so much fun let me share a little with you.

On Tuesday we were entertained by the Country Cousins, consisting of Durwood and Bil Bartlett, Mike Bartlett, Virgil and Eskar Stone, and Ira and Modena Farmer. We had such a good time. My goodness of all the singing we did. We danced until we thought our legs were going to fall off. We had cake and punch for refreshments. Thanks to Rowena Pierce. It was so nice and thoughtful of her to bring us refreshments. We always have such a good time when the Country Cousins are here and we always look forward to the next time.

The Seniorettes were here Wednesday evening and also again Sunday. Evelyn Gurdy and Billie Caylor played the piano and organ for us while we all sang. We had a great time. They are always so thoughtful to come and entertain us. We would like to thank you for coming each Wednesday.

Our Sunday services were brought to us by the Graham Church of Christ with Rev. Peoples officiating. We really had a big crowd and enjoyed all of the singing and preaching. We always appreciate you coming and bringing us the message from our Lord.

We have really been having some good fresh vegetables out of Dee's garden. We sure do enjoy vegetables fresh out of the garden. Thank you Dee for sharing your vegetables with us.

We would like to thank Hettie Dudgeon for the chocolate cake that she made for us. We would also like to thank Lola Ledbetter for the cakes, Charlene Nelson for the jelly and Robert and Patsy Craig for the honeydew melons and canteloupes. Nita Dean made us cookies. We sure do appreciate you thinking of us and being so thoughtful.

Freda Harmon went out to church Sunday with Carolyn Lewis. She sure did enjoy it. Irene Wheeler also went out to church with Vivian Duncan. They always enjoy going out to church.

Visitors this past week were Jewell White, Irene Mitchell, Darrell Roberts, George and Rowena Pierce, Thelma Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Smith, Mrs. S. W. Hair, Mary Baldree, Angela and Laura Tobias, J. P. Jones, Steve, Jamie, Amber and Aaron Cooper, Glenn Roberts of Lubbock, Larry, Debbie, Chandra and Meagan Moreman, David, Linda, Renee, Scott and Lisa Peeblus from Lubbock, Bessie Baucom, Ambers and Jewell Parrish, Ivy Young, Lula Jo Stewart, Paul, Donna and Chad Harmon.

We would like to thank Ola Keeton for the cookies from the Trinity W. M. U. We sure do appreciate the thoughtfulness.

Irene Wheeler, Pauline Kilpatrick, and Artie Young went out Thursday morning for a ride with Chris Howle. They sure did enjoy getting out and riding around.

Until next week

Going in Circles

Pastor Steve Traw
First Christian Church
Five years the busy streets and thoroughfares were an everyday confrontation. This steady fare of traffic, tie-ups, and encounters of a different kind found its way into daily living in Dallas and the busy metroplex.
By contrast, the return to small town driving was quite a reprieve. There are not too many times one can say their were late because of the traffic jam at either of our two stop lights in town.
But much of life is so down-right complicated. A traffic sign at one of the intersections on a highway near Chicago says, "To make a left turn, make two right turns." In another city, a man rented a car at the south end of a large airport. He had a couple of hours between flights and wanted to tour the city. An hour later he turned his car in at the north end of the airport. He had put seventeen miles on the speedometer but never found his way out of the parking lot!

Fortunately, this sort of confusion doesn't happen to many people. But another, similar, tragedy does happen often. It, too, is a bit like going in circles and never leaving the starting point. All those good intentions, the very best of what was in store was missed completely.

People structure their personal lives in such a complex way that they can't experience the very best that is in each week.
How about you? What, in your life, do you need to simplify?

Pleasant Home Church

Now here we are again. Holy Greetings everyone this nice beautiful day which the Lord has made for us to see and enjoy as his children. I'm still living for our Lord and Master with a mind made up to be what God would have me be. Think about it.
Lesson subject: into Exile. 2 Kings 25:1-12 Golden Text and the Lord said, I will remove Judah also out of my sight, as I have removed Israel, and will cast off this city Jerusalem which I have chosen, and the house of which I said, my name shall be there. 2 Kings 23:27. What a beautiful lesson. Everyone at their post of duty.
Devotion Hour led by Deacon's Burleson Osby and Sister Wynn she also read Hebrews 11:1-10. Choir's presentation in praises sung to the Master great. Spirit filled prayers at Altar Call good to the Lord Saviour Jesus Christ by our visiting missionary Rev. F.B. Bell from Lubbock during the a.m. service. Rev. Bell the visitor spoke from the Book of St. Matthew 22:42 and back up to the 35 verse his thought was - What do you think about Jesus? God still here at his Holy Temple in the Midst as Rev. Bell spoke from his Heart and Soul to our Father.

God is not through with us yet, Let's pray for one another always Amen, and Amen. The 6th Anniversary Service of our pastor and wife Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Kelly - Pre-opening Sunday, September 2, 1984 start back 6-7-8 and close-out the 9th. We invite our many friends to join us in this service. Our "motto:" preserve me, O God for in thee do I put my trust." Psalms 16-1.
