Biggest 4th shaping up

A whole lot more community participation appears assured of making the 11th annual Post Fourth of July celebration in city-county park the biggest and best ever.

Directors of the sponsor-

Summer is here! Officially it arrived today! But actually it "snuck into town" over Sunday when the temps blasted up into the high 90's.

Whether it hit the century mark officially won't be known until next Monday when "weatherman" Glen Barley gets back from his Arkansas fishing vacation in the 'cool Ozarks.'

What we want to talk about today is the upcoming Fourth of July celebration. It promises to be the best in years and years simply because more people are involved offering more goodies to do. Nineteen booths, for example, gives you the idea that it's really catching on. And with the bank's sponsoring its fabulous frisbee futurity and firecracker 500 bike race, and with Rick's Venture Foods coming up with the ideal Fourth of July contest — watermelon eating — things are going to be mighty interesting.

You'd be surprised at all the men who are growing beards. It gives them a new macho feeling we think. Some look darn good too, and some others convert the wearers to "bad men western movie" types. We grew one in 1957 for the Golden Jubilee and had Marjorie (See Postings, Page 12) ing Post Chamber of Commerce, reviewed celebration plans Monday night at their June session in the bank lobby and found just about everything well in hand.

There will be so much "going on" during the 14-hour long event this year — it starts at 10 a.m. and will last to near midnight — that there are even going to be celebration time schedules of events printed so those attending will know what going on plus where and when.

Another big beef barbecue is planned — some 1,200 to 1,500 were fed last year — with the price being boosted 50 cents to $2 per plate.

That was the hardest decision the Chamber directors had to make Monday night and they "agonized" over it for some time before facing reality.

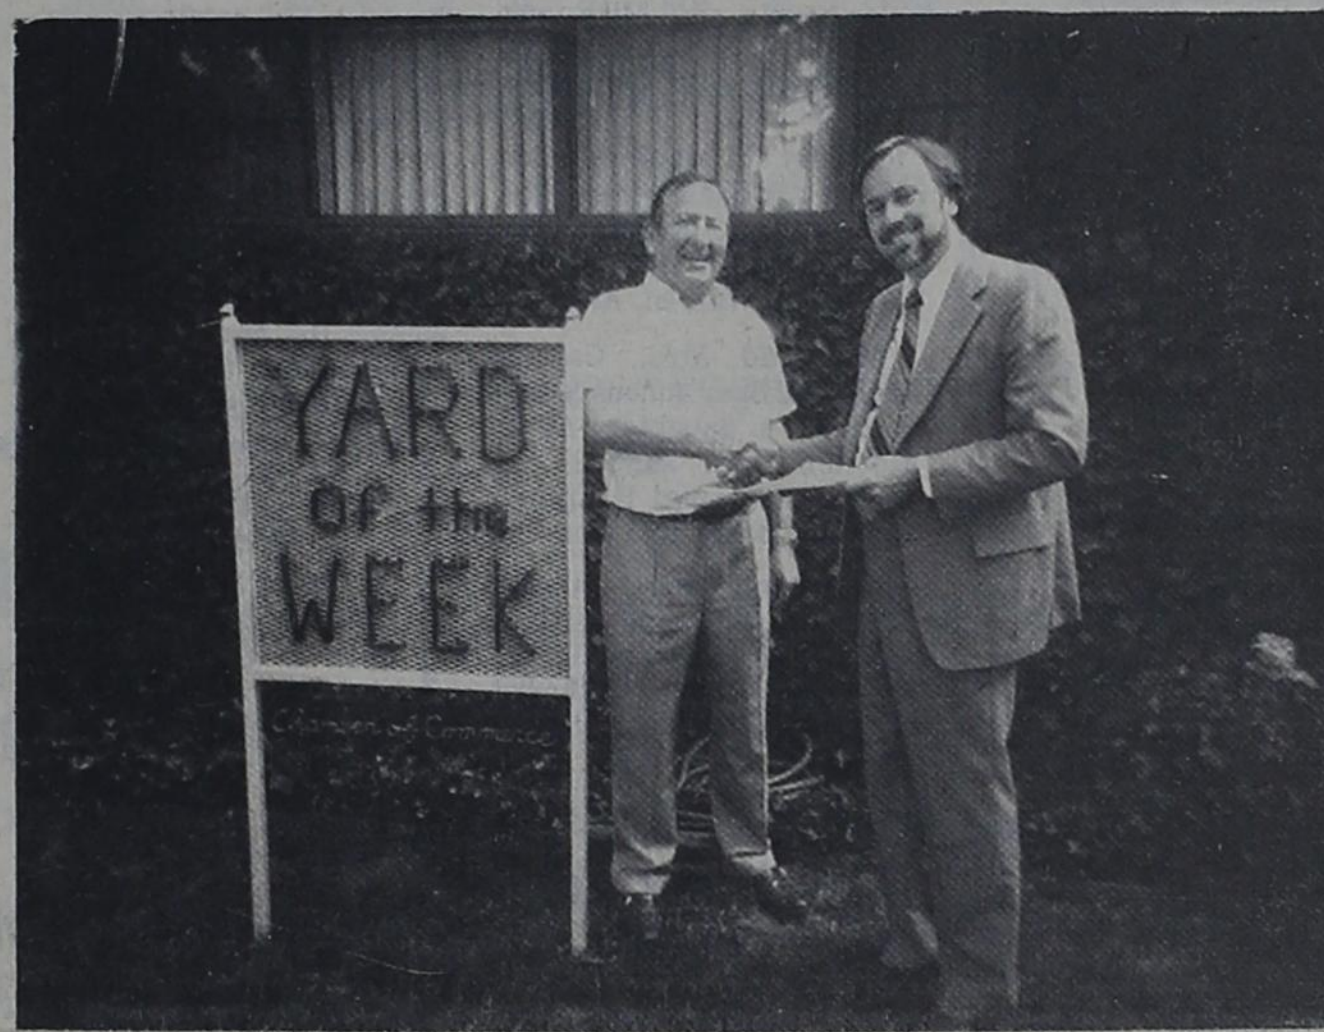

It's still far cheaper than such a good plate of food can be purchased anywhere else in this day and age (of inflation). What prompted the boost was a 33 percent increase in the price of the (See July 4th, Page 12)

Scouting in Post gain

Ron Garland of Lubbock, assistant scout executive for the South Plains Boy Scout Council, told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon that Post is playing an active role in a 1979 increase in interest by boys in scouting in the district.

He pointed out when he spoke to the council last year the only chartered scouting unit in Post was Troop 316 which the Rotarians have sponsored here for 49 years.

Now, he said, there are a total of five chartered units. Rommel Flores, International Scout from Peru, showed slides of his native country to Rotarians as a second part of the luncheon program. Flores is attending present sessions at Camp Post south of here.

THIRD WINNER — Bryan J. Williams, above in shirtsleeves, is the winner of the third "yard of the week" award at 1003 West 11th. Shown presenting the "pride certificate" to him is Chamber President Larry Willard.

Indigent hospital policy studied

Garza Memorial Hospital directors at their June breakfast meeting at the hospital last Thursday morning were given sets of revised indigent guidelines to study.

Jack Alexander, board chairman, stressed that he didn't want to be picky about them, but said that the hospital administration wanted an indigent policy which would work and not open the hospital to huge uncontrolled billings from Lubbock hospitals.

The Health Sciences Hospital at Lubbock a number of weeks ago submitted a large bill from a local cancer patient which the local hospital knew nothing about.

The hospital doesn't want to open itself up to thousands of dollars worth of charges from Lubbock hospitals.

Hospital Administrator Ed Zintgraf reported the Tahoka hospital has over a dozen large bills filed with them from Lubbock hospitals on indigents from Lynn County.

"Just defining an indigent is difficult," Alexander explained. He said he called two attorneys and discovered there is no legal definition they knew of.

Post Library helps Captain Kangaroo

The Right To Read Program of the U.S. Office of Education has funded a project to distribute Picturepages booklets through public libraries in selected cities, including Post.

Picture-pages is a daily feature on the CBS Network's Emmy Award-winning children's television program, Captain Kangaroo.

A limited supply of Picturepages booklets is available in the local area at the Post Public Library of the West Texas Library System. The Captain Kangaroo program can be seen daily on KLBK Channel 13, Lubbock at 8-9 a.m.

The picturepages program on Captain Kangaroo will begin July 9 with the first picturepages available at the library here beginning July 2, Librarian PeeWee Pierce announced.

Fall vote on lake is likely

Whether the Post Lake is built with another and bigger one to follow at Justiceburg is going to be a decision Lubbock voters probably will make within the next 12 months, possibly as early as this fall.

According to a story in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Tuesday, at today's prices a $109 million bond issue — the largest in Lubbock's history so far — will be required to build the two water reservoirs, the long pipe lines to reach them, and a filtration plant and storage area on the edge of Lubbock.

When this new water system was proposed by engineers nine years ago the estimated cost was $55 million. Inflation in those nine years has already nearly doubled the cost.

No one wants to guess how much the system will actually cost if built on a schedule over the next 10 years.

The same engineering firm which built the White River dam estimate it will cost $11.6 million annually to maintain and operate the reservoir system once it is built.

This includes an annual payment of $7.9 million in principal and interest on 30-year bonds to finance the project, assuming it costs $109 million.

Lubbock Water Supt. Sam Wahl said the power cost estimates to operate the three pump stations between Lubbock and Justiceburg and Post are two million dollars a year and could easily go "much, much higher."

He explained the water must be lifted about a thousand feet between Justiceburg's 2,200-foot elevation and Lubbock's 3,200-foot altitude.

"It's uphill all the way," Wahl emphasized.

Based on present cost estimates, Wahl said water from the fully developed Post-Justiceburg system would cost 97 cents per 1,000

Drowning at White River

Another swimmer drowned in White River Lake Monday evening about 6 p. m. He was Ricky Earl Hightower, 24, a carpenter who lives east of Lubbock.

His body was not recovered from the lake until 5:30 a. m. the next morning by Lubbock's Rescue and Recovery team.

Hightower's death was ruled an accidental drowning at the scene by Crosbyton JP Clyde Davis.

It was the lake's first drowning of the year. Hightower and another man had been working on a lake cabin under construction and decided to take a swim.

Officers say Hightower swam about 40 feet into the lake after an intertube being blown from shore by the wind when he went under. His companion dove in after him when he shouted for help but could not find him.

gallons, compared to the 30-cent price of Canadian River Authority water flowing into Lubbock. (The White River district price to Post and other member cities is 30 cents.)

Because city residents will not be totally dependent on the two reservoirs, the cost will be tempered by lower-priced water from other sources.

The city council must determine how to finance the proposed new surface water system, aided by the Water Resources Board. The Lubbock City Council is (See Water project, Page 8)

New scholarship for Kerri Pool

Kerri Pool has been selected as a recipient of the Clark Foundation Scholarship awarded through the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation. The Clark Foundation makes sixty awards of $1,000 each, annually.

Students who participate in UIL Literary competition on the state level are eligible to apply for these awards. Kerri became eligible to apply for the UIL scholarship when she represented Post in Ready Writing at the state meet in the spring. She placed fifth at the state contest.

Kerri received the valedictorian scholarship and was also recipient of the National Honor Society Scholarship which is presented to select students nationwide each year.

She will use these scholarships at Baylor University where she participated in orientation on Tuesday, June 12, and registered for the fall term there.

Gibson's to close here

Moore Brothers Company, with headquarters in Abilene, has announced it will close its Gibson's Discount Center in Post.

The news release, given to The Dispatch last Wednesday afternoon, read:

"Gibson's Discount Center of Post is going out of business due to loss of lease.

The store will be closed Tuesday and Wednesday, June 26 and 27, in preparation for the going out of business sale to begin Thursday, June 28.

Linda said, "We appreciate the past patronage of our customers and regret the store will close."

Post is one of the 17 Gibson Discount Centers operated by Moore Brothers.

The store property was sold last week by John Porter of Denton to C.B. Terry and his son, Chuck, who own the Terry Tire Store next door in the same block and also operate two service stations here.

The property was put up for auction recently by Porter. The Terrys were the (See Store closing, Page 12)

'69 class in reunion here

The Class of '69 will have a class reunion Saturday, June 23 beginning with an ice cream social in the park from 1:30 to 3 p.m. All former high school teachers and their families are invited to attend this social.

An informal dinner will be held Saturday night at the community center beginning at 7 p.m.

More information may be had by calling 2773, 2955 or 3628.

Because the building has been sold and the lease has not been renewed, Linda Oden, store supervisor, has announced the entire stock will be liquidated.

Highway approaches are 'hoed and mowed'

Post had its official, rain-postponed 1979 community cleanup last Thursday. It was an energetic, if small affair.

There were only 10 volunteers to answer the 8 a. m. rollcall, including four from George R. Brown's oil interests.

But with the aid of several pickups and mowers the group "hoed and mowed" the four major highway approaches into and through Post, including the vacant lots enroute.

They put in a hard eight-hour day and were hosted at a picnic in the park by the sponsoring Chamber at noon.

A dozen or more garbage bags were filled with trash and litter picked up along the highway routes.

The town's "cleaner-uppers" included Danny Shaw, Charles Morris, Phyllis Morris, Rick Loving, Pete Maddox, Eddie Sanchez, Kelly Baker, Jeff Riedel, Kohen Josey, Bruce Waldrip, Tony Conner and Brad Mason.

Motorists don't notice, but Dispatch survey shows—

Pinch starting at gas pumps

Local drivers aren't feeling any gasoline shortage yet, but some Post service station operators are.

In its second "service station check" Wednesday of the summer season, The Dispatch found several stations have had to close for from an hour to four days during the last two months because they ran out of gas.

One was expecting empty tanks within hours when the call was made until a Thursday delivery.

The most visible signs of a shortage which is just starting to be felt in smaller towns is that some stations are shortening their hours by two or three daily and closing on Sundays for the first time.

There are still plenty of stations open Sundays, however, and with Allsup's three all-night convenience stores here there are three sets of gas pumps running round-the-clock seven days a week.

Allsup's did run out at all pumps at their North Broadway store for a few hours last week, however. Generally speaking, each service station operator doesn't face the same problems.

If they are buying from a wholesale distributor, it is the distributor who has a rationed supply.

Fred Long's Exxon Station, which is operating on a 78 percent June allotment from the same month last year, ran out of gas four days last week and expects probably to run out again before June is out. He is closing on Sunday for the first time now because of the crunch and has shortened his hours by four daily closing at 5 p. m. instead of 9 p. m.

Pequeno & Sons Phillips 66 on the other hand is getting all the gas it needs, hasn't cut hours, and doesn't expect to run out in June.

Punk Peel's Conoco station is on a 75 percent allotment and he has shortened his hours by closing Sundays and at 6 p. m. the other days. That has whacked 30 hours off his weekly operation.

Chuck Terry reports neither Garza Exxon or Terry's Texaco in any gas supply difficulties at present but he said Garza Exxon could run out of gas for a day or two at month's end. He hasn't cut the hours. Both stations are open on Sundays.

Gandy's Gulf Station is on a 75 percent allocation. He has reduced his hours. He is now closing Sundays plus (See Gas crunch, Page 12)

Future drawing near

The future of the proposed Post Lake, as well as a larger one at Justiceburg, is headed for a bond decision in the Lubbock voting boxes within the next 12 months.

At long last, the City of Lubbock is preparing to come to grips with its water problem at a huge cost. Since the Post-Justiceburg lake water system was proposed by engineers nine years ago the cost has risen from $55 million to an estimated $109 million today. What's more nobody is predicting how high the total bill may climb before work could be completed in the next 14 to 15 years.

To put Dispatch readers in proper perspective, the White River Water district has the water rights for the Post Lake and would build it and sell the water to the City of Lubbock with the water sales financing the entire construction costs.

Thus, a Post Lake would be controlled and operated by the White River water district of which Post is one of the four members. That means that recreational development would be in virtually local hands with the recreational revenue going to the water district. Post is fortunate to have such a workable arrangement.

No local taxes would be involved in any of it. When the lake is built just east of Post the recreational development is sure to be of immense local benefit — both as to use and for business purposes.

The Justiceburg Lake proposal is an entirely different matter. The Justiceburg Lake would be much bigger and would come after the Post Lake is "already in production."

It's construction would be a Lubbock project from first to last.

The big decision on the future of the two lakes is getting Lubbock voters to approve the bonds.

In case you've been watching, the buildup program has begun — the educating of the voters on the water need. Even at great cost, it will be difficult to turn down.

How fortunate Post is to have had the community leadership twenty years ago to solve its own water problem. Local fishing and water skiing may still be a few years off, but we definitely think it's on the way.

14 on Tech's honor rolls

Fourteen Texas Tech University students from Garza County have been listed on the dean's honor rolls for the spring at the Lubbock school by achieving grade point averages of 3.0 or more on a 4.0 scale.

They are Charles D. Calvert, Robert P. Craig, Eddie V. Gannon, Danna K. Giddens, Erik A. Howard, Peggy L. Jackson, Donna G. Josey, Kent Kirkpatrick, Charles D. Morrow, Dan Sawyers, Denis C. Simpson, Nathan V. Wheeler, Curtis L. Wheeler and Kendon S. Wheeler.

It's time to anticipate

It's time to start looking forward with anticipation to Post's 11th annual Fourth of July Celebration.

Yes sir, it's billed as the biggest and best ever.

Why? Because more people are getting involved this year, that's why. And what they're doing is planning more fun things to do down in the park in two weeks when the community gets together for fun, games, barbecue, and firecrackers. It's the only real community get-together of the year.

It's sponsored for the 11th straight year by the Post Chamber of Commerce.

Lots of new things have been added this year. The program is so packed with goodies that the Chamber plans to print up give-away time schedules so you'll know where and when everything is going to happen.

With so many people involved in putting things on this year, we hope there are enough participants and spectators to go around.

This is beef country and although the price of beef makes such a barbecue expensive, it's still going to be beef this year — not chicken as was substituted twice in the past when beef shot up.

Financing the big affair is always a puzzle. A rainout, a blow-out, or even a freeze-out (it snowed once in Post on the Fourth of July oldtimers insist) would be a heavy jolt to the Chamber.

Expenses will be way up over last year when the celebration almost broke even for the first time in its history. It wasn't on a pay as you go basis even then with several hundred dollars in donations helping to pay the bills.

Some $400 in donations are in the till so far this year, but that is under every one of the first 10 celebrations by a good margin.

We're sure the community celebration is really starting to gain momentum. We hear there are even two or three PHS class reunions booked that day with all participants joining in the big barbecue.

The Dispatch finds the Fourth this year on its weekly "press day" so plans have been made to go to press on Monday afternoon holiday week. That way we can give the big celebration a last publicity push.

And we also sit back when its over and have plenty of time to rest and recuperate.

Let's sweep those streets

The biggest thing missing from last week's 1979 Community Cleanup was the street sweeper in the northwest section of town.

Tons of sand are piled atop paved streets all through that section of town. The intersections where paved streets cross unpaved avenues have been deserts.

We've seen cars driving down Avenue S raising dust clouds — right there on the paved street.

If it rains again it all turns to mud. Dry it blows here and there and everywhere.

The greatest contribution the city can make to cleaning up this community at the moment is to put its street sweeper to work.

Sue Cowdrey and Gary Luft wed

Miss Ella Sue Cowdrey became the bride of Gary Luft in a double ring ceremony Friday at the Sunset Church of Christ in Lubbock.

The 7:30 p.m. ceremony was performed by Ted Kell, instructor at the Sunset School of Preaching.

Miss Cowdrey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey, Route 3, and Luft is the son of Mrs. Gladys Luft and the late George Luft of Spokane, Washington. Grandmothers of the bride are Mrs. Ethel Redman and Mrs. Lonnie Peel.

Mrs. Cowdrey was escorted down the aisle by her husband and Mrs. Luft was escorted by her son. The grandmothers were escorted by grandsons, Curt and Clay Cowdrey.

The couple exchanged wedding vows which they had written before a fan-shaped candelabra framed on either side by two topiary trees of white daisies and greenery on each side of a spiral candle tree. The setting was tied together with draped white satin ribbons and bows.

The bridal aisle was marked with white satin ribbons bows tied with lilly of the valley and miniature wedding bells.

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, was wearing a bridal gown designed and made by her mother. The gown of bridal white crystalline over white satin featured a Queen Anne neckline. The neckline and front contour waistline were accented with French lace dotted with tiny seed pearls. Motifs of the French lace flowed down the front and around the bottom of the skirt which was edged with the lace and pearls also. The back of the gown fell into a chapel length train. The sheer full-length sleeves were gathered at the wrist into a lace ruffle.

Her mantilla style veil of tulle was fingertip length edged in the French lace and seed pearls.

She carried a flowing cascade of miniature yellow rosebuds, white daisies and baby's breath. For something old, a copper ring belonging to her paternal great-grandmother was tied with a love knot into the streamers.

Other traditions carried out were something borrowed, a pearl necklace belonging to her mother, something blue, a garter made by Mrs. Sue Maxey and a silver six pence, a gift from Mrs. Maurine Hudman.

Mrs. Craig Lacy, cousin of the bride from Seagraves, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Amy and Lisa Cowdrey, sisters of the bride and Miss Beth Flow of Bryan. They wore identical floor length dresses of yellow dotted swiss, featuring a cape collar trimmed in yellow sating ribbon and lace. The waist was accented with a crisscross sash which tied in a bow in the back.

The attendants carried nosegays of yellow love lilies, yellow daisies, baby's breath and ribbon streamers.

Miss Sara Sue Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hodges was flower girl. Her dress was also of yellow dotted swiss and featured the cape collar.

Candlelighters were Miss Keitha Beth White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel White and Curt Cowdrey, brother of the bride. Miss White's dress was identical to the other attendants and she wore a daisy wrist corsage. Cowdrey wore a black tux.

Best man for the ceremony was Mike Hammonds of Lubbock. Groomsmen were Mark Cramer, Lubbock, Gregg Luft, brother of the groom of Vancouver, Washington, and Dave Fleer of Abilene. The groomsmen also ushered the guests. They all wore black tuxedos.

Wedding music was provided by several former members of the Lubbock Christian College Acapella and Meistersinger Choral groups. As the bride came down the aisle, Miss Amy Cowdrey sang a song which she had written to her sister.

A reception followed in the church foyer. Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Noel White and registered by Susan Fair of College Station.

Those in the receiving line were the couple, Mr. and

MRS. GARY LUFT
(Sue Cowdrey)

Mrs. Cowdrey, Mrs. Luft and Gregg.

The serving table was covered with a white tiered cloth of crystalline over white satin and edged with lace made by Mrs. Sue Maxey. It featured a four-tiered wedding cake topped with fresh yellow rosebuds. The centerpiece was a silver epergne with an arrangement of yellow daisies, baby's breath and white tapers. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

The cake, punch, rosebud mints and nuts were served by Marla Innis, Yvonna Bright, both of Lubbock and Lee Ann Hodges. Miss Angela Graves passed out the rice from a white basket tied with yellow ribbon streamers.

Members of the house party were: Sue Maxey, Orabeth White, Delores Redman, Lucille Bush, Judy

Bush, Cindy Mitchell, Jane Mason, Diane Graves, Anita Lassiter, Mary Beth Stringer of Lubbock and Sherry Chadick of Weatherford.

The couple left on their honeymoon enroute to their home at 54 Cloverdale Road, Tuscaloosa, Ala. 35401, where the groom is college minister at the University of Alabama Church of Christ.

The bride is a graduate of Post High School and an accounting graduate of Lubbock Christian College. She has been employed by Behner and Co., CPA of Lubbock.

The groom graduated from Spokane High School, Washington State University and the Sunset School of Preaching.

Out-of-state guests were from Washington, California, Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico.

Garza 4-H style revue June 29

The Garza County Fashion Revue will be held next Thursday, June 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the Post Community Center. Orabeth White is fashion revue chairman for the show and the theme this year is "You Light Up My Life."

Rehearsal for the revue will be at 5 p.m. and the judging at 6 p.m. on the 28th. Janis Choate and Caterina Williamson, Lubbock County extension agents, will be the judges for the show.

Twenty-five 4-Hers are expected to enter the revue from which three winners will be selected to enter the district contest along with winners from 20 other counties.

4-H adult leaders in the clothing projects include Delores Dunn, Anne Chaffin, Sue Maxey, Shirley Bland, Patt Fisher, Sheila Melton and Betty Striblin.

The public is invited to attend the revue. Refreshments will be served between the revue and the award program which will follow.

Williams-Conner vows are pledged

Wedding vows were pledged between Karen Williams and Tony Conner in a 3 p.m. ceremony in the Graham Methodist Church Saturday, June 16.

Rev. Bob Ford of Midland, performed the double ring vows before a gold candelabra entwined with greenery holding white candles and a bouquet of blue and white carnations set in front of an open Bible, a gift to the couple, from the bride's parents.

At the beginning of the ceremony, the bride's mother and mother of the bridegroom lit the two candles adjoining the unity candle with the bride and groom lighting the unity candle following the ceremony with the congregation joining with them in the Lord's Prayer.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Williams and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Syd Conner.

Ushered to the altar by her father and grandfather, Bill Williams, the bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of Sata-glos, accented with Venise lace. The moulded bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline edged in Venise lace with the bodice defined in Venise lace and sprinkled with seed pearls.

The Bishop sleeves were gathered to a wide cuff encircled with Venise lace and a Venise lace motif was delicately placed on the upper sleeve. The empire waist line fell to a natural waist in back with self fabric bow at center and was defined in Venise lace. The circular skirt fell to a chapel length train and featured a double ruffled flounce.

Venise lace flower motifs were sprinkled over the skirt. Her silk illusion veiling was caught to a Camelot capulet covered in matching Venise lace with the double layered walking length veiling edged in Venise lace and Venise lace flowers motifs sprinkled on the top layer. The bridal bouquet was of white daisies and baby's breath atop a white Bible which was a wedding gift to the bride's parents and carried by the bride's mother in her wedding, carrying out the tradition of something borrowed. The bride's great aunt, Rena Ferguson made the blue garter, two pennies in her shoe, one her birth date, the other for the groom's, for good luck, something new, diamond earrings, a gift from the groom and something old, a gold watch belonging to her great aunt.

Melanie King of Lubbock served as maid of honor with Jodine Tipton as bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of baby blue polyester with off the shoulder ruffle, carrying a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath, they wore white daisies in their hair.

Trudy Woods served as flower girl and wore a baby blue embossed floral long gown and carried a basket of blue carnations and white daisies.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Timothy Owens of Snyder with Ricky Cross of Lubbock as groomsmen.

Acting as ushers were Jeffery and Robbie Williams brothers of the bride and Randy Conner, brother of the groom.

Patricia Bilberry Spratt and Nan Bilberry Rogers sang "Devoted to You", "You Needed Me", and "The Wedding Song" accompanied by Barbara Babb, pianist.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Graham Community Center with the serving table covered with a white lace cloth over blue satin with silver and crystal appointments. The centerpiece featured a miniature bride and groom with a bridal bouquet. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with two wedding bells and white daisies. The groom's cake was decorated with a pair of blue jeans and had Tony written on the hip pocket. Assisting at the bride's table was Penny Page and Amy Cowdrey with Christi Conner, sister of the groom, and Wanda Osborn serving at the groom's table.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M. and parts of East Texas, the couple will reside at 112 West 12th.

The couple are both graduates of Post High School with the bride attending Western Texas College and the groom attended Texas Tech and is employed by Highland Resources of Post.

Out of town guests attended from Washington, Wellington, Brownfield, Jayton, Snyder, Lubbock, San Angelo, Euless, DeLeon and College Station.

REVIVAL BEGINS
The First Assembly of God Church in Post will be in revival here June 27 through July 1. The services will be held at 7 p.m. nightly and on Sunday at 6 p.m.

Rev. Mearl Martin invites everyone to come and hear Rev. H.H. Rogers, former Superintendent of the West Texas District as he brings the message each night. Singers for the revival will be Gordon and Donna Martin of Mesa, Arizona.

Water project—

(Continued From Page One) expected to begin such discussions next week. City Manager Larry Cunningham says the council must decide when to have the bond election and whether to ask voters to approve the financing all at once or in two phases. Cunningham favors an "all at once vote" and commented Lubbock couldn't wait beyond next spring to decide whether to go on the project.

The city council also must decide whether to finance the big project with tax supported general obligation bonds, water revenue bonds paid by the water users, or a combination of both.

Either way, taxes and water rates are expected to rise.

Actual construction of the smaller Post reservoir would begin in July, 1981, according to the implementation schedule recommended by the engineers. Water impoundment would begin two years later, but it would be May of 1986 before Lubbockites could use any water from the Post reservoir.

Impoundment of water in the 10-mile-long Justiceburg reservoir would not begin for three years following the arrival of the first water from Post and Lubbock could wait until 1992 to begin using Justiceburg water.

At that time it is estimated 33 million gallons a day will be available from the two reservoirs, four million gallons of which is being earmarked for cities near Lubbock which want to participate in the project.

To keep a lid on construction costs, the engineers have recommended the Post-Justiceburg water be stored near a treatment plant to be built in southeast Lubbock, Wahl said.

Previously, the plan called for water to be stored in the final lake in the spring of Canyon Lakes. However, Wahl said that lake, known as Lake 8, is still on the drawing board.

No matter what the cost Mayor Dirk West has declared the reservoir project essential.

"Water at any price is a bargain when you don't have any," Mayor West said. "People will be hard pressed to oppose the concept for the project. Water is not something we've got an option on."

Enrico Cañiso, the famous operatic tenor, was superstitious and would not start trips on Tuesdays or Fridays.

Library Corner

by RUTH B. YOUNG

We have some new books, and some on order that have not as yet come. Some of the ones that have come in and are on the shelves are: "The Bed and Bath Book", by Terence Conran. This is a large book with many pictures of bedrooms and bath. If anyone is contemplating re-doing their bedroom or bath, there are some very good ideas. This book is ready to be checked out.

Another book (new) "Deciding What's New" by Herbert J. Gans. This is a study of CBS TV Evening news, NBC Nightly News and also Newsweek and Time magazines.

"Country," by J.W. Williams. The setting is in Texas, reaches deep down into the stories of the finest cutting horses, the meanest cow thief, the most princely cowman of them all and tells the most hair-raising details of gun play with a bad man, whose man cannot be revealed. These stories are told in bare-knuckle fashion that leaves no cushion of falsehood to soften the truth.

This is a factual story of the settling of the West and is in its second printing.

Another new book is "The Last Mandarin" by Stephen Becker, a novel.

"Sunday Punch" by Edwin Newman, first novel, was interviewed on the Today Show, NBC by Mr. Tom Brokaw. It is the fictional story of boxers in London. Mr. Newman has written two non-fictional books recently, "A Civil Tongue" and "Strictly Speaking". They are also humorous as is the new novel.

In his novel (which will be in the library as soon as the second printing is done). Mr. Newman furnishes the amusement by the names of the two boxers, Fogbound Franklin and Aubrey Philpott Grimes and he is a master of misconception and satirizing everything from TV Commercials to Congressional speeches.

Palmer rites in Megargel

Services for Ida Bell Palmer, 77, of Megargel, were held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Megargel Church of Christ with Harvey McQueen officiating.

Mrs. Palmer, a native of Gonzales, Tex., died Friday in the home of a son in Post following a sudden illness.

She was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. E.E. Lovern of Graham; six sons, Roy of Iowa Park, D.T. of Electra, Johnny of Megargel, Deb of Graham and Robert and M.L. (Monk) Palmer of Post; two brothers, Don Gleghorn of Olney; two sisters, Ada Knight of Olney and Lillian Rogers of Clyde; 20 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren.

Hudman Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

Reynolds to sell insurance

Coach Jerry Reynolds recently has been appointed to represent American-Amicable Life Insurance Co. in this area.

He recently returned to Post from Waco where he underwent an extensive training program in insurance to enable him to sell the firm's life and health insurance.

Defensive driving course offered

A defensive driving course is being offered for persons in Garza County-June 28-29 in the Post High School library. The two night course will be held from 6:30 p.m. until 10:30 p.m., at a cost of $12 per person. Reservations may be had by calling 3475 or 2210 days or 2070 or 3308 nights.

Dodgers rally to clinch Little League crown

Award night is next Thursday

Barring more rain or additional difficulties with the lights, Post's 1979 Little League season will wind up next Thursday night with Manager John Valdez's First National Bank Dodgers, the league champions.

Regularly scheduled play will end Saturday night with all makeup games scheduled for Monday through Thursday night of next week.

Presentation of awards and trophies will be made after the first game next Thursday night, at about 8 p.m., and there is no question now as to who will receive the championship trophy.

The Dodgers mathematically clinched the crown Tuesday night when they squeezed past the second place A's, 6 to 5 to take a 4½ game lead with only four to play.

The triumph not only clinched the title, but left the Dodgers still undefeated for the season with 11 straight triumphs.

The Dodgers played "catch up" in this one all the way before coming from behind with two runs in the bottom of the sixth to win it on Javier Valdez's leadoff triple and Rodney Guthrie's getting hit by a pitch with one away. Guthrie moved on around to score the winning run.

The A's had built up a 4 to 0 lead with one in each of the first and second innings and two more in the top of the fourth.

The Dodgers tied it with a four-run cluster in the bottom of the same inning on three walks and a double by Guthrie. Neither team could score in the fifth. Then the A's went ahead in the top of the last inning 5 to 4 when Mike Allison doubled with one away and worked his way home.

Sammy Basquez and Greg Massey split mound honors for the winners, each pitching three innings and giving up but two hits total, while Tracy Price went the route for the A's giving up but three hits and striking out 10.

It wasn't any easy week for the Dodgers.

The lights went out last Thursday night with the Dodgers leading the Red Sox 12 to 10 going into the bottom of the fifth and that game will be finished from that point after the trophy presentation next Thursday night. The teams had been tied 10 all when the Dodgers went ahead with a pair in the top of the fifth.

In the Dodgers' other start of the week they squeezed the Tigers 16 to 12 in another of those games in which the winning streak was on the line.

The Tigers jumped in front in the first inning and led until the fifth when Dodger bats came alive and they plated five runs to take a 13 to 11 lead. The winners got four hits in the rally including doubles by Paul Perez, Basquez, and Valdez.

Curt Greer got three hits for the Tigers in four trips and scored four times as he got aboard on an error in his other appearance.

The Cardinals had the hardest loss of the week to take when they dropped a 22 to 17 decision to the Yankees last Thursday night. They clubbed 17 hits, just about the most for anybody all season, including four by Catcher Kenneth Gill, while the Yankees were scoring 22 runs on only three hits.

Shortstop Curt Greer with three hits, including a triple, led the Tigers to an easy 13 to 4 win over the Yankees Friday night. He also had three more hits Saturday night in the yet-to-be finished game with the Dodgers when the lights went out. That gave him nine hits for the week in only three games.

The Red Sox got 11 hits Monday night, including two each by Marvin Lee and Tim Couch, in squashing the Yankees, 20 to 5.

Willie Osby with a double and triple led the A's to an 11 to 10 triumph over the

Braves take first loss in Babe Ruth

The Braves finally were knocked from the unbeaten ranks Tuesday night in Post Babe Ruth League play, when the White Sox squeezed them 8 to 7, but the Braves continued to lead the league by two games.

The Sox jumped into the lead in the bottom of the first with a four-run burst and were never headed. Two walks, an error, and a single by Brad Greer with one away.

An error and a single by Jerry Hawkins added another run in the third. The final three runs came in the fourth on a walk, fielder's choice, infield error and a single by David Foster with one away.

Three White Sox pitchers, David Foster, Bud Valdez, and Tim Tannehill walked a bunch but gave up only a single to Roy Gonzales. The White Sox attack was better. They got three.

In the other two games of the week, the Braves won both, defeating the White Sox 13 to 9 last Thursday night and the Indians 26 to 9 Saturday night.

The Braves whipped the White Sox on Thursday night with a six-run rally in the sixth to break a 7-7 deadlock. Mario Luna and Roy Gonzales got the only hits in the rally which also included three walks, a hit batsman, and three White Sox errors.

The Sox got two of the runs back in the top of the seventh when Tannehill doubled and Foster

Cardinals Monday night despite three hits, two of them triples, by Todd Angerer and two each by Keith Craig, Bruce Crenshaw and Gill for the Cardinals.

The Tigers came to life in the top of the fifth Tuesday night after trailing 2 to 0 to score six times and take a 7-3 win from the Red Sox. The Sox were held to a single hit by Tiger pitcher Danny Lester who went the route.

All players are required to be in uniform for the awards presentations next Thursday night and all will be recognized.

slammed a homerun. The 26 to 9 victory by the Braves Saturday night over the Indians was really a long one.

The Indians were leading 2-0 when the Braves exploded for nine runs in the third which included back to back homeruns by Ronnie Price and Steve Curb. The winners added seven more runs in the fourth and 10 more in the fifth.

For the game, Gonzales got five straight hits as the bottom man in the Braves batting order. All told the winners collected 16 hits to only three for the losers. The Indians did come up with Seven runs in a rally of their own in the fifth on walks and errors with Curtis Cline-smith getting the only hit in the runmaking with a double.

The Dispatch has misplaced its Babe Ruth League schedule so cannot list the upcoming games to be played.

Raymie Holly hurls big no-hitter win

The Post Teenage team had a thoroughly enjoyable evening here Monday night when they walloped the Slaton Teenagers, 19 to 2, with Raymie Holly hurling a no-hitter against the visitors and striking out 18, and Mike Holly knocking the two over the fence.

It was a tight 1-0 affair with Post having the only

3 named to all-stars

Three Post girls played in the junior and senior division all-star games at last week's girls' summer basketball camp session, sponsored by the Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

Tina Greene and Darla Jackson were among the 20 girls in the senior division selected for the all-star squad game Saturday afternoon. Cindy Jackson was named to the junior division all-stars. All three played on the winning teams.

DeLinda Tyler also attended the camp from Post among the 142 girls participating.

run when the locals broke loose for six in the fourth and then added five in the fifth and seven more in the sixth as Slaton pitching collapsed.

Holly struck out the first seven batters he faced in the game and also struck out the side in the fifth and sixth.

Slaton's two runs came in the sixth when the catcher lost a third strike to put a runner aboard, Holly walked the next batter and then an outfield error on a fly ball — the only ball hit out of the infield all night — permitted both runs to cross.

Those were the only runners Holly permitted except for a walk with two gone in the fourth.

Post got its first run in the second on a walk to Holly, fielder's choice and a squeeze sacrifice bunt by Mike Dye.

In the fourth three walks, two Slaton errors, a single by Leslie Looney and a homerun by Mike Holly brought six runs home and sewed up the game.

In the sixth, Holly smacked his second homer to highlight a five-run rally that also included a single by Dye and a double by Jeff Riedel. The final seven runs in the sixth came on five walks, four of them in a row, a double by Looney and a single by Dye.

The win was Post's only game of the week.

LEARN TO READ YOUR ELECTRIC METER AND SAVE!!!

It will let you determine how many kilowatt hours you use in a given period of time... an hour, a day, a month or a year. That's how electricity is measured — by kilowatt hours (kwh) used.

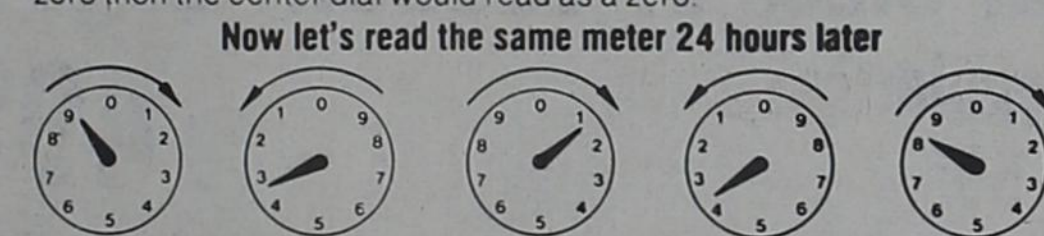

Your residential electric meter will have either 4 or 5 dials

Electric meters are easily read from right to left as you look at the meter. If the pointer on a dial is between two numbers, write down the smaller number. When the pointer is directly on a number such as one (1) (see center dial above) then read it as 1 if the pointer on the next dial immediately to the right has passed zero (0). However, read it as zero (0) if the pointer on that dial to the right has not reached zero.

The dials above read (from left to right): 9-3-1-1-5. If, however, the pointer on the second dial from the right above was between 9 and zero then the center dial would read as a zero.

Now let's read the same meter 24 hours later

The later reading is 9-3-1-3-8. Subtracting the first reading, 93115, from the new reading of 93138 — the answer is 23. Thus you would have used 23 kilowatt hours in the 24 hour period. Each kwh costs approximately five cents.

When you learn to read your electric meter, you will be able to see where your energy dollars go... then learn to use energy wisely & save!

July Fourth—

1,200 pound of beef which will be cooked all night long before the holiday by a cooking crew headed by Bob West.

The barbecue will be served again at 5:30 p.m.
Six hours of music are planned for the mobile bandstand during the afternoon and evening of the holiday.

Local music groups and individuals will entertain from 3 to 5 p.m.
"The Country Boys", a country music band has been booked by the Chamber to take over the bandstand for four hours beginning at 6 p.m. and lasting until the start of the fireworks at around 10 p.m.
Three other outside bands will alternate with "The Country Boys" during this period while the main band enjoys intermissions.

"The Country Boys" are expected to be a big added drawing card for the celebration.

Another important change
is the fireworks.
It's not going to be anything like last year's display, or that of the year before. It's going to be a whole lot better.

For example, it will open with a fiery "welcome" high in the sky. It will be followed by a blazing four by eight foot American flag — also high in the sky.

Then will come all the dazzling burst, booms, etc.

You'll know when the show and celebration is over. There will be a final aerial burst spelling out
"goodnight".

There are 19 booths signed up for the celebration so far by various sponsoring organizations. A dozen of them could be called game or display booths with seven food booths offering popcorn, Cokes, ice tea, snow cones, hot dogs, tamales, homemade ice cream and a whole lot more.

Just to emphasize and spotlight all the day's activities, all presentations to celebration event winners will be made at 7 p.m. from the bandstand.

There's obviously plenty of interest in the new July 4th beard growing contest for the men. Watch for all the details on this next week.

Another of the new events will be the First National Bank Frisbee Futurity. The bank also is sponsoring its second annual Firecracker 500 Bicycle Race beginning at 10 a.m. at Little League Park for boys ages 8 to 13 divided into three age groups.

The Frisbee Futurity is something else. It's open to everybody "under eight feet tall, 400 pounds in weight and between the ages of 6

and 100."
Trophies and ribbons will be awarded for both distance and accuracy in seven age groups.

The Frisbee Futurity will start at 2 p.m. The bank is now giving away official contest frisbees to permit
two weeks of practice.

Another new contest will be a watermelon eating contest sponsored by Rick's Venture Foods. Details on this later.

There also will be a turkey shoot from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.
with the top five marksmen (or women or kids) shooting it off for a live turkey at 3 p.m.

Details are still to come but there will be a puppet show, sponsored by the Post Ministerial Association; a swimming meet beginning at 11 a.m.; canoe rides
sponsored again by Post Lions; a big bingo game with merchandise prizes, a dunking booth, free water polo from 1 to 4 p.m. for whomever wants to play, with a thousand balloons to be given away at Post

Postings—

Merriweather Post even stroke it, but it wasn't worth it in the summer heat. We carry one of those commemorative coins this time around.

Fact is, enough cleanshavers have pocketed the coins that "the great commemorative coin project," which started out a real bust, has finally made expenses and started to make a little money.
The Chamber still has plenty of coins left though that it will have to turn by such devious means before any real profit is achieved.

The gas pinch being what it is, one of the Fourth of July specials in the park is going to be a raffle for 100 gallons of gasoline. That type of a project is called keeping up with the times. We presume they have already made the gas purchase.

young readers can sign up for library cards.

Hospital Meet—

is not more than the current poverty income guidelines of the community service administration."

The guidelines include:
"The hospital shall assume no responsibility for payment to another facility
unless ordered by a staff physician with approval from the board of directors."

The guidelines further provide for submitting an application for indigent care which provides financial status information of the individual.

The hospital board of directors will act upon each case to determine whether the applicant receives un-compensated services from the local hospital or whether the hospital will assume the cost of such patient's care in another hospital."

Should there be a dispute as to the patient's ability to pay, the board is empowered to hold a hearing to determine same with the calling of witnesses, etc.
Appeals from such hearings shall be to the district court.

What these guidelines would prevent would be for a person who would qualify as an indigent from going to a Lubbock physician and be admitted to some other hospital for expensive treatment without prior knowledge and study by the local hospital's board and the recommendation of one of its staff physicians.

Hospital trustees at the June meeting also heard brief reports from Zintgraff, Nursing Supervisor Laverne
Jones, hospital business office manager Maritta Reed, and Allen Jones on the convention of the Texas Hospital Association they attended last week in Dallas.

Mrs. Reed reported that a federal proposal for a SHUR cost accounting system has been proposed to determine whether the hospital owes Medicare or Medicare owes the hospital is now being opposed by most hospitals as an extreme case of "paper waste."

Gas crunch—

closing two hours earlier each day. Bill said he ran out of gas once in May and expects to be out again toward the end of June.

Hans Hudman at Hud-man's Texaco hasn't run out of gas yet. As to hours, he reports "mine have always been flexible anyway" and he has opened on Sundays for a couple of years. He thinks maybe sometime in August he might run out of gas.

Store closing

high bidder at the auction, but Porter refused the auction bid and the property sale was then negotiated at a higher figure with the papers finally signed last week after the Gibson announcement of plans to close the store.

Bryan J. Williams, who originally was successful in bringing the discount center to Post several years ago, and Larry Willard, president of the Post Chamber of Commerce, contacted Moore Brother officials in Abilene Monday in an effort to get them to reconsider the store's closing and to negotiate a new lease.

They were unsuccessful in their efforts to get Moore Brothers to reconsider or to show any interest in other possible locations here.

The Terrys told The Dispatch since actual acquiring the property they have been unable to even discuss a new lease with the Abilene firm.
