

Stenholm's farm bill will feature 30% set aside

Congressman Charles Stenholm said here Saturday he will introduce legislation in congress this week to require a 30 percent set aside for cotton, wheat and feed grains.

"We don't need to produce for foreign consumption to those who are not willing to pay a fair price for it," Stenholm told a group at an 8 a.m. breakfast at Jackson's Cafeteria.

He pointed out such a set aside would save 200 million barrels of oil a year and large amounts of water besides helping the land.

He said the bill now being drafted would also provide for a nine and one-half percent increase in the loan price of cotton, wheat and feed grains and a seven percent increase in the sorghum loan rate.

In answer to a question, he said no set aside payments would be made to farmers.

Stenholm termed it "the only legislation on the farm problem we have a chance to pass in this session."

Such a bill, he told The Dispatch afterwards, would increase the release level of reserves to 80 percent of parity.

"We are going to have to go to a set aside program," Stenholm explained, "because we've got to control production."

He said with no set aside this year, Texas cotton farmers are preparing to plant fence row to fence row and unless adverse weather conditions are encountered should produce a "tremendous crop" after they have been told there's not going to be a market for it.

The congressman predicted cotton prices will fall to the loan rate in the fall.

When Elvius Davis asked him why the United States didn't get together with Canada and Australia to form a "wheat cartel" similar to OPEC in oil, Stenholm said the problem was that oil is limited in total amount and wheat is not.

He said other countries would grow wheat if the big grain producers sought forced price increases.

Germany, pays $8 a bushel for $2.90 American wheat shipped to him and from it is produced bread that he sells for 46 cents a loaf.

In America, the baker can buy the same bushel of wheat for $2.90 but sells his break for 66 cents a loaf.

Stenholm said he was sought out by the news media "the first week the tractors came to town" last winter as a freshman congressman from a Texas farm district.

The young congressman provided an interesting viewpoint on the wide range of problems now besetting congress and the Carter administration.

He said a diesel shortage does exist in certain farm areas and by certain suppliers and that he doesn't know why but hopes to find out through hearings next week.

On the energy problem, Stenholm said he thought President Carter was ready to deregulate U.S. oil production last week, but is hopeful he will do it Tuesday, April 3, despite heavy pressure being put on him not to do it.

Stenholm says there is definitely a "short fall of energy" in this country.

He contends the federal bureaucracy "is attempting to run the energy business in this country and have just about got it all fouled up."

He cited the refusal of the bureaucrats to purchase Mexican gas as a good example.

Stenholm predicted the president will soon deregulate crude oil in two steps.

"Our American economy can't stand $1.50 a gallon gasoline," the congressman said. "It will throw us into a depression."

On gasoline rationing, Stenholm says he opposes it because "whatever congress passes will not be beneficial to Texas, especially to rural West Texas."

"One more major disruption in our overseas oil supplies, however, and we will have no choice but to accept gasoline rationing," he added. "I will oppose it until that time."

On a balanced federal budget, Stenholm said the majority in congress wants a balanced budget but the question is "where do we make the cuts?"

The congressman said he opposes a constitutional convention to rewrite the constitution to require a balanced budget because he

Election interest on three school races

Principal interest in the spring elections here Saturday will focus on the three contested races for four school district trustee positions.

It will be the first time in many years in which voting control of the board will be determined by voters in a single election.

Neither the city nor hospital district ballots will offer voters any choices. Consequently, voting is expected to be light on both ballots.

Eight candidates are on the school district ballot, but they are concentrated in contests for only three seats as school candidates file for specifically numbered school trustee positions.

Jack Lott, the board's current president, has no opponent for position 3.

Mrs. Wanda Mitchell, the only woman on the present board, is opposed by two other local women, Mrs. Mary Ann Gordon and Mrs. Juanella Hays, for position 2.

Mike Flanagan, who was narrowly edged out last spring by John Boren in a runoff, and Jay Pollard, five years out of Post High School, seek position 6. This position is for a two-year unexpired term left by the resignation last year of Royce Hart and the appointment of Don Payne to fill the position. Payne is not seeking election.

Contesting for position one are Charles Morris, incumbent, and Charles McCook.

Mayor Giles McCrary, who is completing a full decade as Post's mayor, heads the city ballot. He will be unopposed for his sixth two-year term.

Also unopposed are Bill

Pool and Mrs. Maxine Marks seeking reelection as councilpersons.

Seeking three two-year terms on the school board of directors of the Garza Memorial Hospital District are Jack Alexander, board president and newcomers Danny Shaw and David Nichols.

Voting hours Saturday are from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The school district election is being held in the Post High School Library. The city election is being held at city hall, and the hospital election will be next door in the Post Public Library.

The Dispatch will be open from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. Saturday to provide election returns via its two telephone lines.

Seven of the eight candidates in the school trustee race have political ads in today's Dispatch concerning their candidacies.

New record in awards for Easter Art Show

A new record high of $2,175 in purchase and cash awards will go to the best of the participating artists in Post's Easter Art Show which will be held in the Post Community Center this weekend.

The awards have climbed steadily in the years the annual show has been held.

The show, sponsored by the Post Art Guild, will be judged by Don Hedgpeth of Midland, who is familiar to followers of the OS Art Exhibit.

Hedgpeth, when director of an art museum in Cody, Wyo., wrote the paragraphs on OS artists one year for the OS Catalog, demonstrating his wide acquaintance in the world of western art.

The show will be open to the public both Saturday and presentation of the long list of awards made at 3:30 p. m. Sunday.

Entries will be received at the center Friday from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and from 8:30 to 11 a. m. Saturday. Entry fees for drawings, paintings and small sculpture are $4 for each entry.

Mrs. Lil Conner is director of the show this year.

A jurors choice $100 cash award will be presented by the sponsoring art guild.

Purchase awards include $500 from combination of donors for selection to be hung in Algeria Senior Citizens Center; $250 by Palmer Well Service; $200 by Post Contractors and Sioux Lodge; $200 by First National Bank; $150 by Giles C. McCrary; $150 by Dalby Cattle Co.; $150 by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tipton; $150 by Palmer Oil Field Construction; $100 by Dr. and Mrs. Charles McCook; $100 by Sentry Savings Association; $75 by Syd Wyatt Oil Properties; and $50 by Strawn Transport.

POSTINGS...

By Jim Cornish

Congressman Charles Stenholm said after his breakfast talk here Saturday that President Jimmy Carter is "getting an awful lot of bad advice and taking too much of it."

He said he was hopeful that the president "will bite the bullet" this week on deregulation of oil.

As for the 1980 presidential race, Stenholm figures it to be Carter all the way to the Democratic nomination unless California governor Jerry Brown can whip him in a couple of the early primaries.

The congressman doesn't look for Senator Ted Kennedy to get into the nomination race unless...

The "unless" being Brown's proving that Carter is really vulnerable and he then sees the possibility of Kennedy jumping right into it.

Stenholm told his breakfast listeners in discussing the fast approaching oil shortage that he drives an Opel in the nation's capital to conserve fuel and uses only six gallons a week.

The congressman emphasized a couple of times that he "votes his mail." In other words, his congressional votes are determined by what the majority of his district constituents tell him to do in their letters.

Rites held Mrs. Pierce

Funeral services for Edna May Pierce, 82, longtime resident of Post, were held Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Faith Lutheran Church with Rev. Don Neumann, pastor, officiating.

Born August 5, 1896 in Hereford, she died March 31 at 10 a.m. in Twin Cedars Nursing Home where she had resided for the past two years.

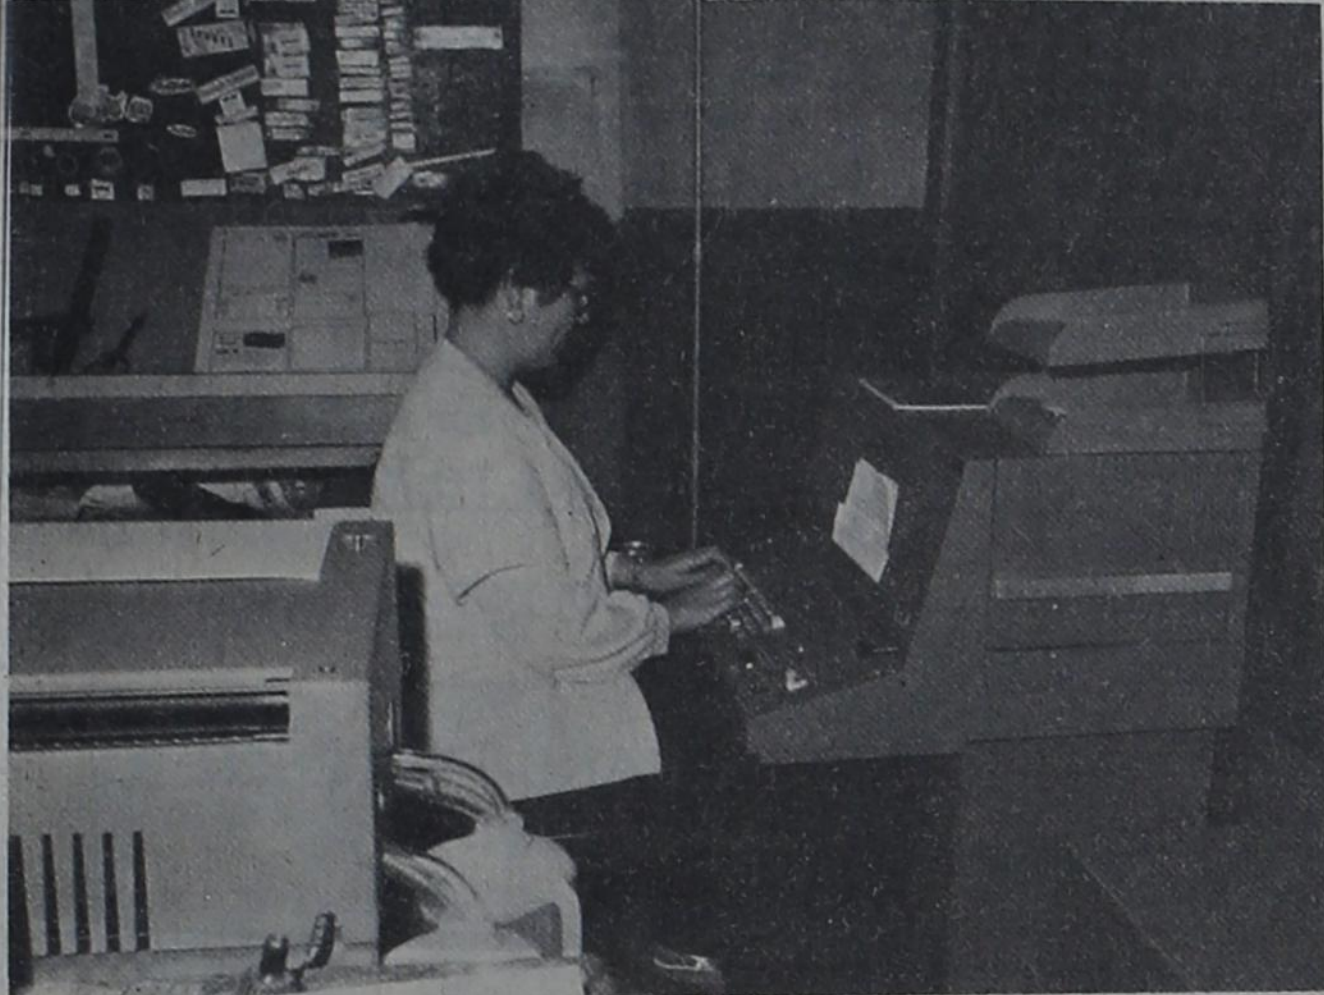

She came to Post in 1914 from Bosque County and was a charter member of the Faith Lutheran Church.

Survivors include one daughter, Ann Stelzer of Farmington, N.M.; one son, W.E. of Amarillo; three sisters, Annie Lee Nelson of Post, Ester Stanley of Tahoka and Ruth Martin of Seagraves; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by one son, Bobby and one daughter, Nadine.

Palbearers were nephews and members of the Faith Lutheran Church were honorary pallbearers.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Many complain of livestock in city

Many local residents have complained to city hall about a large variety of livestock now being kept within the city limits in direct violation of a city ordinance passed 12 years ago.

Mayor Giles McCrary told The Dispatch this week the council will take up the complaints at their April meeting Monday night. He said he expects arrest citations will be ordered for all citizens in violation.

Included among the animals being kept in the city in violation of the ordinance are calves, chickens, goats, pigs, fighting roosters, ponies and rattlesnakes.

Yes sir, believe it or not, one of the complaints is about a little backyard house in which rattlesnakes are kept. According to one report there are 38 rattlers in the house and neighbors worry that a spring storm might blow over the house and release the rattlesnakes all over the neighborhood.

Driver of stolen pickup jailed here

James Lee Hodges of the Southland-Slaton area is in the Garza County jail here, in lieu of $8,000 bond, facing a felony charge of unauthorized use of a vehicle in the theft of Nathan Little's pickup Sunday night from a local parking lot.

The vehicle was recovered undamaged when Hodges was arrested Monday by Lubbock County Sheriff officers who were on the look out for him and the pickup.

According to Sheriff Jim

Pippin, Hodges also stole a stock trailer from a Lynn County farmer Sunday night.

Besides that authorities also recovered an outboard motor, several fly rods, and life jackets, besides whiskey and beer which were in the back of the pickup.

Pippin said authorities aren't sure if this is stolen property and if so from where it was stolen.

Missing from the pickup, however, were a .22 rifle and two cue sticks belonging to Little.

The sheriff said he is continuing in his efforts to find out what Hodges did with them.

Pippin also said that Hodges had just been released Friday by the Lubbock county sheriff's department on $8,000 bail which he made on charges of taking three other vehicles.

Optimist club to be organized

Another meeting to organize an Optimist Club for young men in the Post area will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday night, April 10 in the bank's community room.

All interested in joining the club are urged to attend.

135 guests at sport dinner

Some 120 high school athletes and their dates as well as coaches and their wives will be guests for the annual All Sports Banquet in the Post Community Center Monday night, April 23.

Tickets priced at $6 each are now on sale by members of the Post Lions Club, Antelope Booster president Jimmie Redman and Martha Compton.

Approximately 200 tickets must be sold to meet banquet expenses, Redman told The Dispatch this week.

Rex Dockery, Texas Tech University's head football coach, will be the banquet speaker.

Jury session called off

The Garza district court's jury session, scheduled to begin Monday with both civil suits and criminal cases on the docket, has been cancelled by District Judge George Hansard.

District court clerk Carl Cederholm told The Dispatch he was told almost all the cases were not ready for trial.

Saturday to be 'extrication day'

EMT class to get eight hours of training in handling car wrecks

If you wonder why the ambulances and what all those people are crawling around those wrecked cars in the vacant lot just north of the hospital Saturday, it's because it's "extrication day" for Post's second class of emergency medical technician trainees.

The 11 trainees will spend eight hours, as required by state law, in learning how to take victims out of wrecked cars, bandage them and load them in ambulances.

Hospital Administrator Ed Zintgraff, who is the class instructor, told The Dispatch Wednesday that the class will be divided up into five teams and each team will extricate "victims" from five different types of wrecks.

Each wrecked car already on the lot is there to represent a different type of wrecked vehicle.

The training session will begin at 9 a. m. and last until 5 p. m. "with something going on all the time."

Zintgraff will be assisted in putting on "extrication day" by the 14 remaining local members of the first EMT class who are now operating the city-county ambulance service.

Some of the EMTs will serve as "victims" and will be doused with catsup to help simulate bloody injuries.

The public is invited to stop by at any time and watch.

Zintgraff reports all members of the class successfully passed their third interim exam Saturday in the community center. This exam was in preparation for the final exam which will be administered by state examiners.

Upon successfully completing the final exam trainees will become state licensed EMTs eligible to help operate the local ambulance service.

Twister workshop is here tonight

Bill Couch, meteorologist in charge of the United States Weather Bureau in Lubbock, will conduct a "tornado workshop" in the bank community room Thursday night, beginning at 7 p. m.

The 90-minute presentation is designed primarily for volunteer weather spotters in the Garza area, but anybody interested is invited to attend.

Short heads diesel probe

State Senator E. L. Short of Tahoka has been named chairman of a new sub-committee on diesel fuel shortages in agriculture, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who chairs the Texas Energy Advisory Council.

Short called the first meeting of the sub-committee Tuesday to investigate the diesel fuel shortage in the High Plains area and its serious impacts on the agricultural industry.

Mighty important vote

It's spring election time. The voting comes Saturday.

The Dispatch has never been a believer in turning out all the voters just to go through the democratic motions. We prefer knowledgeable, interested voters to mark ballots.

The da-de-dah kind are better off for the American way of life staying as far from the polls as possible. That's our opinion only, of course.

Anyway, the school district has an unusual ballot coming up. We can't remember in the 20 school board elections in Post before this one in which a majority of the seven-member school board was up for voter selection at a single election, though it may have happened several times before. Normally two are elected each year for two years and three on the third.

Well, this is the third year of rotation so three places on the board are open for regular three-year terms. The other place is to fill a vacancy left through resignation and it will be for the next two years.

To us, this means we must give careful thought to our selections and that as many as are interested in good schools should go to the polls and vote.

What happens Saturday is going to be mighty important to the future of Post schools no matter on what side of whose fence you're standing on.

Visit your library

This is Texas Library Week (April 1-7) and Texans are invited to visit their libraries and acquaint themselves with all the treasures they have to offer.

The Post Public Library is an excellent facility for a community of this size and came into being because a good number of folks were willing to work and work to really get it rolling.

The library started in a narrow vacant room in city hall — and grew and grew until a 20-foot lot between the library and theater was given to the city for library expansion and some $35,000 raised through private donors and a great variety of fund raising events to build the new addition and equip it.

The library was staffed completely by unpaid volunteers for the first few years. Public support was so great statistics on library use here have amazed library authorities ever since it was opened.

The city and county offer full financial support.

Steadily the library's books are being built towards its 20,000 goal.

Many excellent services are offered to all residents in the county.

Through its membership in the state library system which the library has been careful to maintain, the library is in position to acquire any catalogued book in any Texas library for its local readers with the only charge being the return postage. That puts all Texas library research materials at local fingertips.

The library periodically receives shipments of movie films, on a variety of short subjects, which are available to individuals and organizations without charge.

The library has a 35 millimeter movie projector for loan with screen.

For the pre-school age youngsters it conducts story hours each Friday morning, and each summer it organizes a reading club for youngsters out of school with time on their hands.

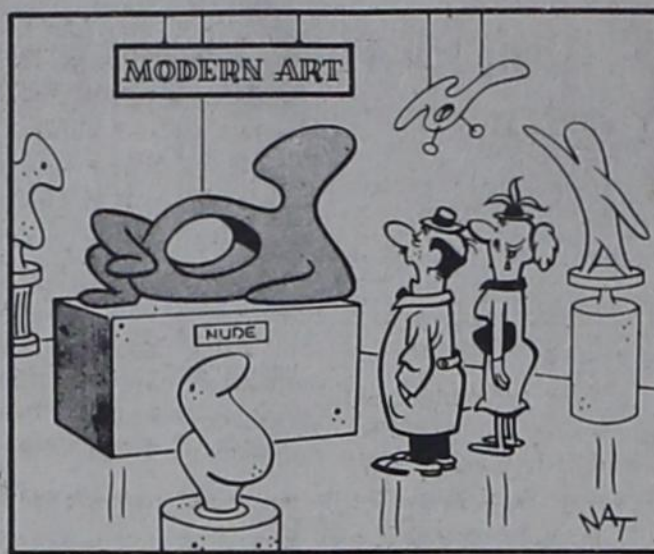

Shelves in your library are not stocked with only adult books. The library has a special department and hundreds of books for youngsters from the easy readers for the very young to books written for the junior high level.

Speaking of youngsters, your library gives them the opportunity to pursue almost any interest. But first, the boy or girl must be taught the love of reading.

This is an area too many parents are overlooking — encouraging them to read.

For a child who loves books, your library is literally a stairway to the stars — besides everything on this earth. No one holds him back. He or she is free to roam at his or her own pace.

If you and yours have not been taking advantage of your library, pay the library a visit this Library Week. Take the whole family along. There's a whole lot more pure enjoyment there than any night of watching television.

We Have A Good School System — Let's Make It Better

TRUSTEES — Our school system should be guided by individuals that think independently yet work cooperatively. While maintaining a positive attitude toward all people, a trustee means to represent an entire district, not any single group. Exercising sound judgment and having an open mind, all policies and plans should be realistically evaluated by all trustees.

TEACHERS — Good teachers need to be recognized for their efforts. Some carefully planned adjustments would help us to attract better teachers, reduce our turnover rate, and increase overall morale.

DISCIPLINE — A controlled learning environment is necessary for students to receive a good education. With secure administrative support, a teacher should provide high positive learning standards to children that have outside exposure to rules and regulations. The home and school should reinforce each other in creating a respect for authority.

EDUCATION — A child's natural intelligence and ability will be strengthened through education but knowledge is useful only when it is applied. While the best in educational quality should be provided to all students, attitudes formed in the individual child will determine the effectiveness of his education.

COMMUNICATION — More direct contact and genuine cooperation among the school board, community, and administration will lead to a better working relationship while promoting an open line of communications.

Cotton price to fall

13-million bale crop seen with normal yields

COLLEGE STATION — "Cotton prices for the 1979 harvest season will likely fall if plantings increased as expected," says Dr. Carl G. Anderson with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The marketing specialist says prospects for more production, small U.S. 1978 cotton supplies, and strong export demand will highlight this year's cotton picture.

"With normal yields, this year's production could develop into a 13-million-bale or larger crop, thus pushing prices down. Plantings should total 13.5 to 14.2 million acres compared to 13.4 million last year. Prices could approach the 1979 Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) loan rate of 50.23 cents a pound for Strict Low Middling, one and one sixth inch cotton by late this year," projects the economist.

With prospects for lower cotton prices, producers may want to consider forward contracting or hedging in the future market during the next several months when and if a favorable price can be established, says Anderson.

He expects exports to total six million bales this year, with cotton disappearance for the 1978-79 marketing year reaching 12 million bales. The estimated 1978 crop was 10.8 million bales.

"Cotton stocks will total about four million bales by Aug. 1 down 1.3 million bales from last year. However, carryover stocks will remain close to the average since 1974," believes the economist.

U.S. cotton supplies will likely increase from one to two million bales during the 1979-80 crop year, resulting in a carryover of five to six million bales by Aug. 1, 1980.

Foreign cotton supplies are also smaller, with carryover declining one million bales to 18 million. This is the smallest foreign carryover since Aug. 1, 1971, notes Anderson.

"Cotton prices strengthened last fall largely because of the small U.S. crop and strong foreign demand. Yet heavy sales in January contributed to a sharp slump in prices. Average prices to Texas growers dropped from about 60 cents a pound in November to around 52 cents in February. Currently, overall demand for existing cotton supplies appears soft," says Anderson.

Over the short run, spot prices will probably move up and down several cents a pound as new developments (reflecting supply and demand) surface. Reports of intended plantings on April 16 will be an important indicator of prospective supplies.

"Relatively weak prices for feedgrains and rice may give cotton enough price advantage for growers to increase production this year," Anderson says. "However, domestic demand will probably be curtailed due to an expected slowdown in economic activity and the threat of stricter dust control standards."

The economist looks for exports to slip a little because of increased foreign production.

Cotton growers overseas are expected to increase production in response to higher prices than a year ago. These higher prices may encourage competition from manmade fibers and dampen growth in foreign mill use of cotton, says Anderson.

Post navyman on cruise

Navy engineman Fireman Jerry Ayala, son of Miguel and Francisca V. Ayala of 506 South Ave. 1, has departed for deployment in the Western Pacific.

He is a crewmember aboard the repair ship USS Jason, home ported in San Diego. While deployed, his ship will operate as a unit of the U.S. Seventh Fleet.

The missions of the Seventh Fleet are to protect U.S. citizens, shipping and interests in the Western Pacific; to deter aggression against our Western Pacific allies by maintaining mobile striking forces; to promote peace and stability in the Western Pacific and to create goodwill for the United States.

During the cruise, his ship is scheduled to participate in training exercises with other Seventh Fleet units and with ships of allied nations. His ship will provide fleet repair services to deployed and overseas based naval units. Additionally, he and his shipmates will have the opportunity to visit Japan, Korea, the Republic of the Philippines and Hong Kong.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAVING A Healthy Garden

YOUR VEGETABLES—DO YOU TREAT THEM WELL?
You should have little trouble turning your garden into a movable salad bowl if you sow vegetable seeds once a week over the planting period. Here are some other tips on the tender treatment of your plants.
• Be sure not to crowd your vegetables. Thin most of them while they are still seedlings to give the entire crop room to grow. Remember that radishes, lettuce and other leaf vegetables should be thinned just at the point when they are good enough to eat.
• When sowing seeds directly in the garden, mulch between all the rows, but not on top where the young plants will come up. Wait till the plants are well formed, then weed around them if necessary, and mulch again.
• Be sure to treat your vegetables for soil insect pests before planting. Use an insecticide evenly over the surface of the soil then mix it in. One insecticide is Spectracide® Crawling Insect Control Granules with Diazinon®. This all-purpose insecticide controls many harmful insects that attack onions, radishes, cabbage, carrots and many others.

• Though your vegetables are food for you, they in turn need food, too. Spectrum® Earth Care™ Professional Plant Food (20-20-20) is now available, which can be used effectively on all growing plants. Mix one tablespoon in every gallon of water for your vegetables. Feed every one to two weeks by drenching the soil thoroughly.
• Remember, too, that your garden should never be located too close to the north side of buildings or too near shade trees or tall growing hedges.
By treating your vegetables well, you'll have no trouble making a grocery list, since many of your groceries may be growing in your own garden.

To All Concerned Voters
The education of our community's young should be one of our greatest priorities. The active interest and involvement of the entire community are our guarantees of a quality educational system. I believe:
1. A diploma should be proof that a graduate can write legibly, speak clearly, think logically and read at grade level.
2. No part of the community, especially the student, benefits from advancement without meeting grade level standards.
3. All rules and regulations should be enforced fairly and equally. Discipline is the backbone of all education.
4. Trustees should insure that raising the educational level of the school system is the primary goal of spending taxes.
5. Trustees should actively seek inputs from all citizens—parents, teachers, students, taxpayers — on the educational needs of the community.

Charity Smith and Cy Willson exchange vows

Wedding vows were exchanged by Charity Smith and Cy Willson March 23 in the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Glenn Reece, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. The altar was decorated with the bride's chosen colors of apricot and white arrangements of gladiolas and roses with baby's breath and candleabras on either side. The back of the church also had arrangements on either side. Pews were marked with apricot and white bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Smith of 212 South Ave. F and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Georgie Willson of 908 West 12th.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of chantilly lace featuring a fitted peaked waist, with a lace edged scooped neckline and traditional fitted sleeves. The full skirt was in multiple tiers and swept back to a chapel train. To compliment her gown, the bride chose a fingertip length silk illusion veil edged in reembroidered aloncon lace cascading from a cap of matching lace and applied flower motifs. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of apricot roses and baby's breath atop a white Bible. Carrying out the tradition of something old, she carried her grandmother's ring tied to the Bible; new, her dress, blue, her garter and borrowed, pearls belonging to her mother.

Serving as maid of honor was Brenda Weaver who wore an apricot floor length gown of knit featuring a V-neckline with a silk rose at the V. She carried a nosegay of apricot roses and wore baby's breath in her hair. Bridesmaids wore Debbie Gray and Melodie Willson, sister of the groom, dressed identical to that of the maid of honor.

Flower girl was Jenny Strickland, cousin of the bride, from Lubbock.

Candles were lit by Mike Smith, brother of the bride, and Daniel Yarbro, who also served as ushers and groomsmen.

Standing as best man for his son was Georgie Willson.

Wedding music was provided by Jackie Gordon and Margie Pennell, accompanied by Mary Margaret Norman, organist. They sang "River of Love," written by the bride's father; "Evergreen," "The Lord's Prayer" and the "Wedding Song."

Wedding guests were registered by Debbie Tyler, cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Members of the house party were Nellie Tyler, Katie Strickland, Hazel Gary, Mary Jo Tanner, and Debbie Tyler.

Following a trip to Ruidoso, the couple are residing in Post.

Both graduates of Post High School, the bride is employed with Burlington Mills and the bridegroom with the Santa Fe Railroad.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Herman Raphael and Mr. and Mrs. John Adams all of Lubbock, and Cruz Reina of Brownfield.

Program on Russia given

The Woman's Culture Club met March 28 at 3 p.m. in the Woman's Club house with president, Beuna Boucher presiding.

Roll call was answered with "Unusual Facts About Russia."

A short business meeting was held and a decision was made to cooperate where ever possible with the Woman's Division of the Chamber of Commerce in its Welcome Wagon project.

Mrs. Nita Burress, a member of the Club House Board resigned her position and her resignation was accepted with regrets.

The program "Russia" was presented to the club in a book review in three parts given by Analue Clinesmith, Opal Pennell and Ruby Kirkpatrick. The book "An American Family in Moscow" is by Leona and Jerrold Schecter.

Maxine Smith gave a presentation on the woman's role in Russia.

Following the program, the club collect was led by Pearl Storie.

Members attending the meeting were Beuna Boucher, Opal Pennell, Linda Malouf, Estelle Davis, Ruby Kirkpatrick, Loree Thaxton, Ruth Duckworth, Pearl Storie, Maxine Smith, Nita Burress, Analue Clinesmith, Lillian Potts and Beulah Pickett.

Hernandez shower held

A miscellaneous wedding shower honored Mrs. Linda Kay Hernandez, nee Linda Martinez, Monday night, April 2 in the home of Mrs. Glenn Reece.

The approximately 50 guests attending registered between the hours of 7 and 8:30 p.m.

Guests were introduced to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Sophie Martinez, and Mrs. A.G. Guajardo.

Carrying out the honoree's chosen colors of blue and beige, punch, cookies and nuts were served from a table laid with a beige cloth and featured a flower arrangement of blue, white and beige silk flowers with blue candles on either side and streamers with "Linda and David." Serving guests were Jenny Thomas and Tammy Reece.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. Tammy Holly, Betty Looney, Carol Waters, Patsy Craig, Alice Varela, Jo Thomas, Syan Nichols, Sue Reece, Mary Basinger, Rosie Horton, Pat Heidelberg and Kay Lamb.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a patchwork bedspread.

MOBILE HOME SALES ON MOVE

According to the Manufactured Housing Institute, mobile homes now account for nearly 30 percent of all new single family housing. While as luxurious and spacious as many regular homes, owners cite the mobile home's low initial cost and low upkeep cost as their main reasons for purchase.

The book also chronicles the success of outstanding women achievers such as Amelia Earhart. In addition to being a pioneer aviator and the first woman to fly the Atlantic solo, Ms. Earhart was also a teacher, social worker and settlement house volunteer.

Kelly Mitchell, Steve Hair wed

Miss Kelly Mitchell and Steve Hair pledged wedding vows in an 8 p.m. ceremony in the Nazarene Church Saturday, March 31.

Rev. Philip Daniels, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of spring pastel flowers and two candleabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mitchell and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hair.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Ecru chantilly lace gown fitted at the waist and with a V neck. The gown featured a net flounce at the bottom. Her bridal veil was of net with a cascade of daisies fitted at the head. Carrying out the tradition of something old, she wore pearls belonging to her mother; something new, her dress; something borrowed, a Bible belonging to her sister that she carried in her wedding and something blue, her garter.

Maid of honor was Christi Conner who wore a light blue gown featuring a cape of blue sprinkled with pastel spring flowers.

Attending his son as best man was Jack Hair. He and other attendants wore light blue tuxedos.

Serving as ushers were Pat Mitchell, brother of the bride and Mike Hair, brother of the bridegroom.

Steve Mason, solist, accompanied by Keith Wilks on the guitar sang "Annie's Song" and Margie Pennell was pianist.

A reception followed the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with pale blue bells was served from a table covered with an ecru cloth made by the bride's grandmother. Silver and crystal appointments were used. Serving the guests were Patti Hair and Kim Mills, sister of the bride and Vicki Gannon registered guests.

Out of town guests attended from Brownfield, Lubbock, Odessa, Levelland, Stamford, Aspermont and Big Spring.

Palm Sunday Cantata here

A Palm Sunday Cantata "Praise the Lord" will be held at the First Christian Church at 7 p.m. Sunday, April 8.

The special music will be accompanied with Bible readings and Holy Communion. The cantata will be sung by the First Christian Church choir under the direction of Mr. Todd Barkley. Organist is Mrs. Don Pennell.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

'43 class to hold reunion

Five win way to regional

How would you like to walk out and find your pickup missing? Well that's what happened to Gail Scott, but luckily it was recovered, still in one piece.

Scott Walker called Tuesday and said he was getting FAT. Can you imagine that red head fat? I think he's exaggerating.

Congratulations to the winners at the UIL competition. Even the HULK got a fifth in headline writing. I better watch it or he'll have my job.

Happy birthday to that dear 18-year-old Puddin'. (Alias, Dale Redman).

The class favorites and Mr. and Miss PHS results are in and the winners announced. Congrats to all of you. They are favorites: freshmen, Mario Luna and Karen Davis; sophomores, Tricia Craig and Drew Kirkpatrick; juniors: Tammy Reece and Brent Mason and seniors: Dale Redman and Beth Elliott. Mr. and Miss PHS honors go to Nita Jo Gunn and Dale Redman.

The Does track team is Seminole bound Thursday for their district track meet and the tennis team will leave bright and early the following day (Friday) for Denver City. Now the kids can't go and support these teams, since they'll be in school, but if possible, the parents can go and cheer them on.

Speaking of support, the annual Post Relays will be held here Friday and if you haven't been to watch, now you have no excuse, so come on out and watch the kids. They give it all they've got.

NOTICE: Junior Mothers. There is a called meeting of all junior class mothers Monday, April 9 at 5:30 in the high school library. This is to discuss the annual Junior-Senior banquet and we need all of you there. See you then.

We're starting something new at the Youth Center. Have you have your picture taken recently? Well if you haven't come on down and get yours put on the bulletin board. You see, I have a new camera and to learn how to use it, I'm taking pictures of everyone and anything. We will have a bulletin board put up with an array of subjects. Some are really prize winners. I HOPE. We're waiting for the first batch to come in.

Would you believe that I have contracted Willie and Waylon to play for a dance at the Youth Center. (If you believe it, you're a fool, cause APRIL FOOL was Sunday. I just had to do that.)

'Sixty Minutes' on Tuesday night

"Sixty Minutes", an evening of drama and speech class performances, will be presented Tuesday, April 10, in the Primary School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

The UIL competition play "To Burn A Witch", a scene from a full-length play, and a readers theatre script will complete the playbill for the evening.

Set in the 1680's in Salem, Massachusetts, the one-act play cast includes Tim Tatum, Benny Jackson, Debbie Tyler, Rhonda Rogers, Judy Morris, Susan Sawyers, Kerri Pool, Larisa Shiver, Leanna Davis, and Cindy Terry. Randy Hudgens, Jay Young, and Jody Palmer are on the crew. The play is directed by Miss Christy Morris, high school drama teacher.

Tim Tatum and Rhonda Rogers will also perform a duet acting scene which they prepared for speech competition at West Texas State University several weeks ago. It is a scene from Act II of "The Fourposter" by Jan de Hartog, in which middle-aged parents learn to accept the maturing of their teen-age children.

"My Daughter, My Son" is a readers theatre production presenting little known facts about several famous and infamous people. It was originally prepared as a speech class project and is directed by Mrs. Priscilla Williams.

Included in the cast are Benny Jackson as the Narrator and Cristal Didway, Terri Guthrie, Gina Lee, Tammy Reece, Rhonda Rogers, Susan Sawyers, Donna Simecek, and Robin Stewart as the mothers who reminisce about their offspring.

Tickets for "Sixty Minutes" are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. They will be available at the door.

$131,000 grant for community action

Omar Harvey, executive director of the Texas Department of Community Affairs (TDCA), announces approval of a $131,000 Community Services Administration grant to South Plains Community Action Association in Levelland.

TDCA's Economic Opportunity Division has reviewed responsibility for the grant.

Funded under Title II of the Community Services Act of 1973, the grant is for a 12-month period that began March 1, 1979. The grant includes $18,000 in administration funds and $113,000 in local initiative funds.

Administration funds are being used to provide more efficient administration in the areas of general and fiscal management, planning, program development, coordination, mobilization of resources, data collection, evaluation and delegate agency support. Funds are also being used to increase participation of the poor in programs effecting them.

Local initiative funds are being used to achieve active participation of seven county advisory committees; maintain twelve Neighborhood Centers for service delivery of transportation, outreach and referral, and general social counseling; maintain a system for delivery of health care to senior citizen programs; assist migrant and seasonal farmworkers in resolving their social and economic problems; and to develop summer youth programs.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Top oil industry executives came to the State Capitol this week to deliver what amounted to somber predictions about this country's ability in the future to get reasonably priced fuel needed to power the nation's economy.

Oil company executives spoke at the Texas Railroad Commission's annual state-of-the-industry report. And, from the outset, it must be said that the "state" of the industry appears good. Government figures show that oil company profits jumped almost 30 percent in the first quarter of this year.

Overall, corporate profits increased more than 26 percent in the same period.

And, the 1978 federal decontrol act is expected to mean $1 to $3 billion in additional revenues this year for oil and gas companies.

But it wasn't skyrocketing profits that oil executives came to talk about this week. It's the forecasted shortages of what they sell that has them worried.

Executive vice president James E. Barnes of Conoco Oil Co. said a serious gasoline shortage may grip the nation in two months unless the tap in Iran is turned back on and oil begins to flow to the U.S. again.

Barnes and John K. McKinley, president of Texaco, Inc., sounded what has become the oil industry's catch-all phrase to end all problems: "more decontrol."

Barnes, McKinley and colleagues claimed Texas alone has 100 billion barrels of known reserves not being sucked out of the ground with present technology because there is no profit in such undertakings and present regulations are prohibitive.

But U.S. Congressman Bob Eckhardt of Texas said in a press conference in Washington this week that more decontrol would not produce a surge in exploration.

Eckhardt pointed out that U.S. oil producers plan to drill 49,379 wells this year. That's the highest number of planned drillings since 1959. But on the other side of those numbers, is the simple fact that for more than 100 years the U.S. was the world's largest producer of oil. No longer.

Today, the United States is by far the world's biggest consumer of oil. And as a nation we have slipped to third behind Russia and Saudi Arabia in the production of crude oil. While our appetite for oil has gone up, our ability to find it and get it out of the ground has gone down.

Meanwhile, predictions are that gasoline will soon climb to $1 a gallon. The rising price of fuel already is one of the biggest contributing factors to a 10-12 percent annual inflation rate.

But even more importantly, the primary reason for our worldwide economic power—cheap fuel—may be long gone. For years, Europeans and the rest of the world have paid heavily for gasoline and other crude oil products.

Spot shortages of gasoline already exist in the U.S. One spokesman for a farm supply cooperative in the Texas Panhandle claims some tractors are standing idle because of no diesel fuel.

Sunday closings at gas stations are for the most part the rule now not the exception. And those who remember the oil crunch of 1973, say what may be around the corner is something we didn't see during the Arab oil embargo—gas rationing.

what they probably already know, the Labor Department said the price of food went up, the cost of paying off a home loan went up, and, as might be expected, the price of gasoline jumped too.

Higher home loan interest rates contributed heavily to the February jump in prices. Mortgage interest costs rose 3.1 percent last month due almost primarily to the fact that New York and California lifted state usury law ceilings.

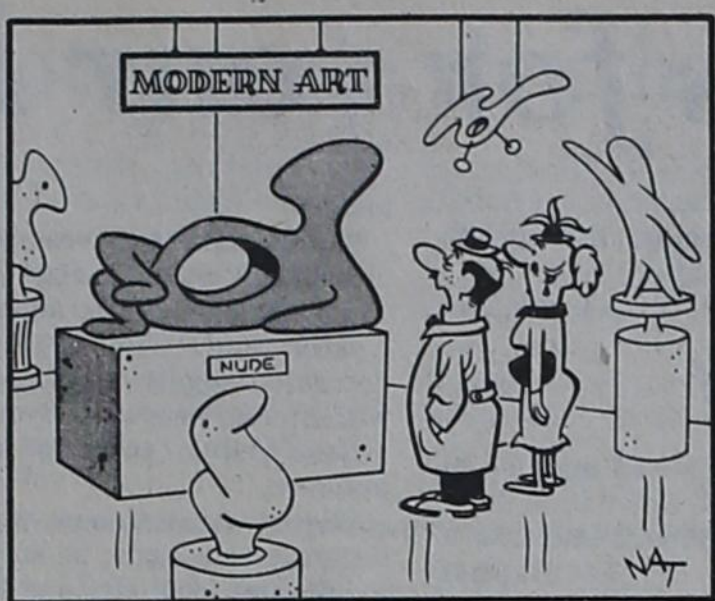

Bills still pending in the Texas Legislature would raise the ceiling in this state, but, so far, legislators have been waiting to see what interest rates will do on their own before taking any action. Some surveys indicate that for the average house buyer, mortgage money in the state is drying up.

Texas is now one of only 12 states with a 10 percent or lower usury limit.

Short Snorts
Some heavyweights—Sen. Grant Jones of Abilene, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and even Gov. Bill Clements—have been kicking around the idea of a one-year state budget because of the unpredictability of state revenues.

But Speaker of the House Bill Clayton says the Legislature has had experience with one-year spending drafts and everytime they have ended up "costing more money."

Sen. Babe Schwartz of Galveston said this week that next to the 55 mph speed limit, playing bingo is "the most singularly violated law in the country." Moved by that claim, senators approved a constitutional amendment legalizing bingo under certain circumstances. The amendment now heads

"That reminds me — your brother Bluto is dropping by for dinner tomorrow."

Homeowners will be paying less for property insurance beginning July 1 thanks to a move by the State Board of Insurance that reduced rates by 4.1 percent statewide. Texans will cough up $38 million less for property coverage in the next 12 months.

Gov. Bill Clements won one and lost one in the Senate this week. Senators confirmed the governor's appointment of William P. Daves to the State Board of Insurance but rejected William B. "Monk" Edwards who had been named by Clements as judge of the 125th District Court in Harris County. Charges that the governor had used "unbelievable pressure and threats" to salvage the nomination were called "political garbage" by Clements.

Finally, the Texas State Teachers Association approved by a vote of 884-549 a resolution backing the concept of collective bargaining and ordered efforts in that direction.

Four years ago, TSTA delegates to the Texas State Teachers Association convention opposed a similar resolution by a 10-1 margin.

Parents, don't forget the Children's Hour each Friday morning from 10 until 11 o'clock. This is for pre-school children from three years to five years old.

Mrs. Diane Stelzer has graciously accepted the teaching of this hour.

The little fellows have their choice of stories, film strips, (a projector is in the library), finger plays or record for this group to use and enjoy together.

The following books were put on the library shelves this past week, "America for Sale" by Kenneth Crowe; this is an alarming look at how foreign money is buying our country.

"A Dangerous Place" by Daniel Patrick Moynihans, who is U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, Mr. Moynihans has been assisted by Suzanne Weaver; "A Ceremony in the Lincoln Tunnel" by Richard Cunningham — a novel of conspiracy; "Dead to Right's" by Sylvia Angus; "Good as Gold" by Joseph Heller; Mr. Heller served his country in Vietnam and is the author of "Catch 22"; "Good as Gold" is in its second printing.

"The Adoption Triangle" by Arthur D. Sorosky, a medical doctor, assisted by Annette Baron MSD and Reuben Panner MSD.

Each month the display counter is changed. The display counter is located toward the front of the library so it can be seen easily from the street or entering the library. During January there was a display of Mexican Pottery Animals from the collection of Mrs. David Newby. There was an interesting display of the Heart, since February is generally accepted as heart month. Is that because Valentine's is in February?

For March, Mrs. Don Robinson has had a beautiful display of Afghans, one large one and several baby blankets. Mrs. Robinson does beautiful hand work and has so much to show for idle time. Idle time is not exactly what I mean, but

Congressional Comment

By Rep. Charles Stenholm

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Few people realize that the United States State Department operates one of the largest welfare agencies in the world. This vast system of doling out American tax dollars is commonly called foreign aid. This is a massive effort to "buy" friends around the world. We give money to almost everybody — including our enemies. Direct outlays of assistance go to such anti-American countries as Syria and Afghanistan and indirectly (through international financial institutions) to Vietnam, Uganda, and Laos.

I do not mean to imply that all foreign aid is bad. Certainly in some instances foreign assistance is justified for our national security and to promote a good neighbor policy. The Marshall Plan prevented Western Europe from disintegrating after World War II, contained the spread of communism, and provided a market for American products. Military and economic assistance is often necessary to stabilize pro-western regimes and insure an American presence in strategic areas of the world that are important to our security at home. But we should not continue to give away tax dollars to nations who ridicule our system of government and way of life. Many Third World countries have become like welfare recipients — dependent on the public dole and resentful of those who they rely on for their economic survival.

One of the most highly publicized examples of the pitfalls of our "generosity" is the giving away of the Panama Canal and paying them to take it. One of my colleagues recently toured Panama and visited with prominent citizens there. He found a consensus among Panamanians that the U.S. owed them the Canal despite the fact that we built it and have maintained it at a loss for many years. This attitude is myopic on the part of the Panamanians because their economy is supported by American civilian and military personnel who spend their money in this region. Also the continued U.S. presence is necessary in order to insure the efficient operation of the waterway.

When the senate ratified the treaties, it did so with assurances by the President and his representatives that there was a valid agreement between the U.S. and Panama, and that the transfer of the Canal would not create any financial burden on the American taxpayer. During recent Congressional hearings, however, it has been learned that the transfer could cost the U.S. taxpayer as much as $4 billion. Panama also demands certain "contingency" costs. They demand that the U.S. restore Coco Solo Naval Base and France Field, unused for more than 20 years to their original state. Also churches on property turned over to the government of Panama will probably have to be repurchased by members of the congregation. Thus we cannot buy friends, no matter how hard we try.

I once knew a man who freely loaned money to his friends. One day he found he had no money and no friends. This is a lesson nations must learn also.

Decorating tips for your Easter eggs

COLLEGE STATION — Easter eggs are rich in history.

Dr. David B. Mellor, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says it's easy to see how the egg came to be a traditional Easter symbol. "The egg has long been a symbol of renewed life, especially in the pre-Christian spring festivals. In some faiths, it even symbolizes the beginning of the world."

"According to American folklore, Easter eggs really come to us from the Easter bunny. This tradition supposedly comes from Germany and France," Mellor explains. "Some French children still believe the rabbit runs to Rome to get eggs from the Pope."

Even though our custom of decorating and giving

Funeral services for Eddie Ray McCowen, 38, of Odessa were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Western Hills Baptist Church of Lubbock. McCowen, the brother of Joe McCowen of Post, was found dead Thursday, March 29 in the wreckage of an airplane that crashed near Afton, Wyo. The aircraft had been reported missing since Tuesday.

The Snyder native had also lived in Post and Singapore and was a tool pusher for Parker Drilling eggs at Easter is a symbol of resurrection, this custom actually started in China about 750 B.C., points out

Co. McCowen was married to Edna Jane Redman in July, 1962 in Lubbock and was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors included his wife; two sons, Rodney and Robert, both of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.V. McCowen of Slaton; a sister, Carolyn Countryman of Lubbock; two brothers, Joe of Post, and Bobby of Houston; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S.E. McCowen of Snyder.

Mellor. The specialist believes one of the most unusual eggs is the pysanka — a Ukrainian Easter egg. The highly decorated egg is developed with stylus, beeswax, dyes, artistic ability, and a lot of patience.

"But no matter how you decorate your eggs, be sure to use pure food dyes and to prepare them properly so they are safe to eat," Mellor cautions. He offers these suggestions, taken from a leaflet, "About Eggs...Cooking in the Shell," available at any county Extension office.

First, age eggs at room temperature for 24 hours before cooking to simplify peeling. Place eggs with small ends down during this period.

Prior to cooking, put eggs in a pan of warm water. This helps prevent cracked shells when eggs are placed in hot water.

Bring water to a rapid boil, using enough water to come one inch above eggs. Transfer eggs to boiling water with a spoon. Reduce heat to keep water just below simmering. Hold for 18 minutes.

Cool eggs promptly and thoroughly in cold water. This makes the shells easier to remove and helps prevent dark surfaces on yolks.

Be sure to use only clean, sound eggs — Grades Fresh Fancy, AA or A — for cooking in the shell," advises Mellor. "To prevent gray-green discoloration of egg yolks, avoid overcooking. Immediate plunging into cold water also helps prevent yolk discoloration."

No helmets jump motorcycle deaths

COLLEGE STATION — The repeal of laws requiring mandatory use of helmets by motorcyclists is showing some shocking effects, according to a safety engineer. For years experts have been saying that head injuries are the most frequent cause of death in motorcycle accidents and that helmets reduce the risk of fatal head injury by 30 percent. Now that many states, including Texas, have repealed helmet laws, experts' claims have been shown to be more than accurate, says Dr. Gary S. Nelson with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Deaths and injuries occurring to Texas motorcycle operators and passengers who were not wearing helmets increased dramatically after passage of the "no helmet" law for persons 18 years of age or older, points out Nelson. During the 12-month period following the repeal of the Texas helmet law, deaths involving head injury increased 120 percent and total deaths increased 55 percent. The Texas experience is not unlike that found in other states that have repealed helmet laws, notes the safety engineer. About two years ago Colorado repealed its helmet law. During the following year, helmet usage dropped from almost 100 percent to 60 percent. Head injuries jumped 260 percent while fatal injuries rose 57 percent. In April of 1977, Minnesota repealed its helmet law. That year it reported a 67 percent increase in motorcycle accident fatalities over the previous year. In the two months following the repeal in Kansas, fatalities were three times the number reported for the same two months in the previous year. In September of 1977, Indiana repealed its helmet law. The following year helmet use dropped from 75 percent to 37 percent while motorcycle accident deaths increased 32 percent. Most of the repeals were prompted by protests from cyclists who felt that mandatory use of helmets violated their personal freedom and restricted their hearing and vision, notes Nelson.

The engineer points out that the vision issue may be more psychological than real. Also, recent studies have shown that a helmet reduces wind noise, a cyclist can detect warning signals like sirens more easily with a helmet on.

Exhibits and special events for men and women, young and old, will be featured at the second annual South Plains Farm Show, Thursday-Saturday, April 5-7, in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center and Coliseum.

The Farm Show brings to the South Plains the largest display of new farm implements and equipment ever assembled in the area. Millions of dollars worth of the latest farm machinery will be on view, free of charge, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Civic Center.

A special addition to this year's show will be Lubbock's first indoor invitational tractor pull. Top modified tractors and 4-by-4 trucks will roar down the track in the Coliseum at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, April 6 and 7.

Tickets for the tractor pull are on sale at Hemphill-Wells and at Furr's Family Center ticket offices in Lubbock or from Civic Lubbock, Inc., P.O. Box 5486, Lubbock.

Other features of the three-day exhibition include a public forum on farm financing, a fashion revue featuring apparel created locally from materials of natural fibers, a special display saluting the Future Farmers of America, a state championship micro-mini tractor pull, and a special computer program to help families discover possible problems in their budgeting. All of these events are free.

The Farm Forum, at 10:15 a.m. Thursday, April 5, in the Civic Center banquet hall, will have as its theme, "Money for the Farmer — Where It Will Come From and Where It Will Go." Speakers will be Tom Benson, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, and Dr. Ron Knutson, Extension specialist in economics and marketing policy at Texas A&M University, College Station.

At 2 p.m. Thursday, in the Civic Center theater, the Natural Fibers Fashion Revue will be staged. Seamstresses from throughout West Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico will compete for hundreds of dollars in prizes. They will display garments they have made of fabrics which are at least 50 percent wool, cotton and mohair.

Friday, April 6, will be FFA Day. Chapters from high schools throughout the area will be special guests at the exhibition and will receive lunch.

YOU make the difference in your electric bill

With the cost of everything going up, it sometimes seems like we're losing control of where our dollars go. There is one expense you and your family can help keep down this summer — your electric bill. You can make your home more energy efficient with simple improvements like insulation, weatherstripping, caulking and adding storm doors and windows. Teaching your family to use energy wisely — like keeping the thermostat turned to an efficient 78° in the summer, changing filters on your air conditioner regularly, keeping lights and appliances turned off when not in use — will help keep your bill down. You and your family make the difference — it's that simple. Call your SPS manager for more information and keep your cool this summer.

New Lope relay record is set

A new school record was set by the Post Antelope track team in the 1600 meter relay at San Angelo Saturday when Alonzo Luna, Cliff Kirkpatrick, Johnny Williams and Bryan Compton ran it in 3:26.14. When converted to a mile, the time was 3:27.2 breaking the old record of 3:28.1. The relay team finished third. Holding the old school record was the team of Alfred Pena, Steve Davis, Ed Price and Randall Wyatt. Post finished sixth in the relay meet with a total of 45 points. Winning the AA division was Breckenridge with 113, Idalou, 55; Llano 53; Colorado City and Frenship tied with 46 and Post right behind with 45. Besides the third place finish of the 1600 meter relay, other Lope points were won by a third place finish in the 400 meter relay by Jackie Ayala, Johnny Williams, Luna and Compton; 100 yard dash, fourth place, Bryan Compton; 300 meter hurdles, third, Cliff Kirkpatrick; 200 meter dash, fourth, Johnny Williams; and long jump, Johnny Williams, third and Compton, sixth.

Also qualifying for the finals were Mark Holly in the 800 meter run and Walter Perez in the mile run. The Lopes will journey to Colorado City Saturday, April 7 for their last competition before district April 12 to be held in Denver City.

Ten teams will participate in the Colorado City meet with teams attending from Breckenridge, Eastland, Colorado City, Coahoma, Merkel, Stamford, Abilene Wylie, Clyde, Post and Ballinger. The running preliminaries will begin at 10 a.m. with field events scheduled for 9:30 a.m. and finals will start at 3 p.m.

Girls win, boys lose

The Post girls tennis team swept a dual meet with Abernathy March 27 by a 7-0 score, but the Post boys were edged by Abernathy boys 5-4, losing all four singles matches plus one doubles.

In the girls singles, Julie Davis defeated J. Smith, 8-1; Holly Giddens edged Lane 9-7; Karen Davis downed Gist 8-3; and Susan Sawyers beat C. Bentson, 9-8.

In the doubles, Melinda and Melissa Tatum defeated Gist-Fondy of Abernathy 8-0; Leanna Davis and Kerri Pool downed Lane-Lane 6-2, 6-1; and Sharla Macy and Holly Giddens downed Lane-Bentson 8-5.

In boys singles Newton of Abernathy defeated David Foster 7-6, 6-4; Pinson of Abernathy downed Jackie Stelzer 6-2, 6-1; Ortis of Abernathy defeated Jackie Stelzer 9-7; and Roen of Abernathy downed Gary Lamb 8-2.

Post won four out of five doubles matches. Jimmy Pruitt defeated Cuevas-Dominguez 6-4, 6-4; Randy Ammons and Barry Tyler lost to Howard-Salvazar 6-3, 6-7, 6-3; Mike Macy and Jimmy Pruitt ousted Bettis-Morrison 6-4, 7-6; and Ronnie Bilbo and Benny Kennedy defeated Dibbs-Fanner 9-8.

The annual Post Junior Relays will be held here Friday, April 6 with nine teams participating in the seventh, eighth and ninth divisions and five teams in the Junior Varsity level. Entered in the competition are Post, Cooper, Colorado City, Lockney, Coahoma, Crosbyton, Idalou, Stanton and Floydada. Field events will begin at 9:30 a.m. and continue until 1:15 p.m., ending with the JV discuss. Running events preliminaries will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 12:35. Finals will be held beginning at 2:15 with the 440 relay followed by the 880 yard run, 120 yd. hurdles, 100 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 330 yard hurdles, 220 yard dash, mile run and mile relay. Presentation of awards and trophies will be held at 5:30. The district track meet for the middle schoolers will also be held here Wednesday April 11 at the local track.

Jr. Relays here Friday

Mid school girls finish 4th and 5th

The Post Middle School seventh and eighth grade girls finished fifth and fourth respectively in a recent Coahoma Puppy Relay track meet. Scoring for the seventh graders were Rhonda Storie, Paula Morrow, Cindee Jackson and Doris Pringler in the 400 meter relay, fourth; Denise Smith in the 200 meter dash, fourth Hope Castro, 1200 meter run, third Storie, Morrow, Jackson, Pringler, 800 meter relay, second Storie, Tonya Bland, Jackson and Smith, 1200 meter relay, fourth; Bobbie Taylor, shot, third; Michelle Hill, discuss, sixth; and Pringler, third in the tripe jump.

sixth; Taylor, fifth in 200 meter dash; Monique Claborn, third, 300 meter dash; Charlotte Murphy, first in the 600 meter run; 800 meter relay, Taylor, Greene, Dalby and Samora, third; 1200 meter relay, Claborn, Rhonda Adams, D'Linda Tyler and Kathy Boulware, fourth; Shot, Claborn, second; Claborn, second, discuss and Claborn fifth, high jump. Coahoma won the seventh and eighth grade divisions.

Net team to 5AA tourney

Post High School's boys and girls teams scored victories here Monday afternoon in a dual tennis meet with the Slaton net teams.

The Post boys edged Slaton four matches to three while the girls had a 5-3 match margin as the tennis squad prepared for the district 5AA tennis tournament at Denver City Friday and Saturday. The team journeyed to Brownfield Tuesday for another dual meet to wind up district preparations.

In boys matches against Slaton Monday Post split four singles matches and took two out of the three doubles.

In singles, David Foster lost to S. Blake of Slaton 6-2, 6-4; Jackie Stelzer was defeated by Conners of Slaton 6-2, 4-6, 6-3; Kevin Craig defeated Gordon of Slaton 8-6, and Gary Lamb downed Linn of Slaton 8-2 in a pro set.

In boys doubles, Mike Macy and Jimmy Pruitt lost to Ladesma and Conners of Slaton 6-2, 2-6, 7-5; Randy Ammons and Barry Tyler defeated Chapman and Houston of Slaton 6-1, 6-1; and Chuck Black and Barry Wyatt defeated Gordon and Fisher of Slaton 8-5.

The Post girls won three out of the four doubles matches and also split the four singles.

In singles Julie Davis lost to B. Gary 6-4, 6-3; Karen Davis defeated L. Cox 5-7, 7-6, 6-4; Susan Sawyers defeated T. Wright of Slaton 8-5; and Donna George defeated T. Kitten of Slaton 8-4.

In the doubles Kerri Pool and Leanna Davis defeated Tumlinson and Linder of Slaton 6-2, 6-1; Melinda and Melissa Tatum beat Haire and Bruedigan of Slaton 6-4, 6-1; Sharla Macy and Holly Giddens defeated Thommeck and Wright of Slaton 8-3; and Patti McClellan and Jerri Baumann lost to Brewer and Conners 8-4.

Texas 'Golden days of fishing' coming

LUBBOCK — Talk about a bargain, perhaps one of the greatest recreational hedges against inflation today is your Texas fishing license.

This small, fixed price of $4.50 for a resident fishing license, an annual non-resident fishing license for $10.50, or the economical $15.50 non-resident fishing license for $4.50 allows the purchaser an opportunity to enjoy a variety of fishing across the state.

Texas fishing also affords the chance at a really big fish or even a new state record. For instance, a Texas angler has already caught the new, unofficial state record Florida largemouth bass when he landed the 12 lb. 4 oz. lunker at Lake Monticello near Mt. Pleasant on Feb. 4.

This large fish has been determined to be a Florida bass stocked by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and is only one of the results of good fish management in our state.

At the rate these fish are growing, it will not be long before the state record for both Texas and Florida bass (13-pounds, eight ounces) will be broken. This record has stood for 36 years, but 1979 or 1980 could be the year of a new record bass.

Fishermen are facing a changing situation in Texas as pointed out by Fisheries Division Director Bob Kemp.

"I believe the best fishing we have ever had will be a reality in the 1980's," Kemp predicted last month. "In fact, I think the 1980's will be the 'Golden Age' of fishing in Texas."

This optimism by Kemp is based upon the results of work done during the 1970's which saw the emergence of the striped bass as a major freshwater gamefish, the unofficial record catch of the Florida strain of largemouth bass and numerous catches in the 10-11-pound class, and a reproduction population of smallmouth bass in several state lakes including Lake Meredith in the Texas Panhandle.

Texas anglers should get out the road map and find some of the smaller lakes like Blundell, Palestine, Murvaal, Lake 'O the Pines, Conroe, Calaveras, Monticello, Welsh, Braunig, or Medina for largemouth bass.

A state record also is anticipated for smallmouth bass, which have been stocked in a number of lakes including northwest Texas. The record fish will probably come from Lake Meredith in the Panhandle, the Guadalupe river below Canyon reservoir near San Antonio, or the Canyon reservoir itself.

Walleye are considered "northern" fish but they are really taking hold in Texas. Lake Meredith has produced two state records over 10 pounds and a number of other lakes are producing "keeper" walleye. P&WD fishery personnel are continually netting walleye that exceed the present state record of 10-pounds, 14-ounces caught in Lake Meredith last spring.

An angler does not have to catch a record or even near-record fish to enjoy the sport of fishing or the variety of fish in Texas. The act of fishing itself will provide hours of fun for you and your family in Texas this year.

SUPERMARKET SAVINGS

Are you feeding an extra mouth, a bottomless pit—your garbage can? Tag ends of a roast, tired fruit, left over vegetables, and the last serving of a casserole are frequent casualties in many households.

THE GARBAGE CAN MAY BE EATING UP your savings.

Supermarkets, which are expert at saving money because they have to work on such a low profit to pass savings on to you, suggest you follow their inventory control system: FIFO, "First in, First out."

Experts at the Food Marketing Institute suggest that you can cut losses to the garbage can by trying these tricks with refrigerator odds and ends.

Grate hard ends and pieces of cheese into a cheese jar for seasoning casseroles, scrambled eggs or spaghetti dishes. When apples and pears get slightly beyond the point that you want to eat them raw, turn them into gelatin salads. Use leftover meats and vegetables in soups, stews and casseroles.

Play a "choose your own" night regularly. That's when the family chooses from the leftover dishes—spaghetti, meat loaf, chicken—whatever the refrigerator inventory has identified as needing to be moved on its way. The kids often are pleased to get seconds of a favorite food, and the cook has a meal in the bank.

VISITS PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Dan E. Cockrum and children of Big Bend National Park recently spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cockrum. Dan then flew to Harper's Ferry, West Virginia where he attended a two week training school.

DRIVELINE

History Lesson: 1913 was the first year that Americans purchased more automobiles than carriages and sleighs...

Gone With The Wind Department: As late as 1970, three years before the great Arab oil embargo, there were 225,000 old style "full service" gas stations in the U.S. Today there are only 170,000, and we'll probably lose another 40,000 in the next three years.

These figures are what's behind another interesting statistic — sixty percent of all gasoline is pumped into cars by the drivers themselves. (Maybe the stuff is getting so expensive you can't trust anyone else to do it for you. They might spill it.)

How much gasoline does the average American family use? About 1390 gallons a year.

The disappearance of the "full service" station has reintroduced lots of folks to their own gas tanks. Don't forget that you might have to meet the rest of the "family", too, for safety and preventive maintenance. Check battery, belts, oil and brake fluid regularly.

WHO'S A DRUNK DRIVER? A reader wants to know the official definition. Texas law presumes you are drunk if a breath or blood test shows the alcohol content in your veins is one-tenth of one percent or higher. A 120 pound woman would probably reach that level after two mixed drinks in one hour.

It all depends on your weight, how recently you've eaten, etc. But don't forget, any alcohol will reduce your efficiency. You can be "drunk" and unfit to drive even though your blood alcohol level hasn't climbed to the "official" level.

The first traffic ordinance in America was probably the one passed in 1652 in New Amsterdam, not long after the Dutch bought Manhattan from the Indians. It ordained "that no wagons, carts or sleighs shall be run, rode or driven at a gallop in this city." Traffic laws were nothing new, even then. Julius Caesar issued a decree against reckless chariot drivers in ancient Rome...

Famous Last Words: In 1899 the federal government reported that America was producing a million bicycles a year and that "it is believed that the bicycle may entirely eliminate the pedestrian."

Spring 1979 — fashion's brightest fling!

Vivid color palette and sleek new lines

The spring fashion story for 1979 is one of the most exciting ever to burst onto the scene. And spring is abuzz—with a vibrant, rich color palette that rivals Nature's boldest blossoms.

There's a new silhouette to go along with this new trend in color. Spring fashions are sleek, pared-down, body revealing and definitively feminine.

Skirts are slim and slashed up the front or side to reveal lots of long, sexy leg. Pants are narrow, with Bermudas, Capri pants and pedal pushers making a fun return.

The jacket is all-important to the spring look. Call it the "retro" look, the Joan Crawford look, a return to the Forties—the cut of the jacket for spring is broad in the shoulders and defined at the waist, setting the tone for dresses and coats, as well.

With the return to the jacket as a fitted, very important part of the fashion wardrobe, watch for the reappearance of one of fashion's all-time greats—the two-piece jacket dress. This dress and all others feature a very well-defined, fitted waist often belted wide and tight.

Think of taffeta, body-clinging silks and lace, lace, lace. Shoulders are bared, with strapless dresses seen everywhere.

Red is the color for spring evenings, the ultimate high fashion color to go with spring's sultry, superbly sexy new nighttime looks.

But black is a better basic than ever, perfect for revealing rather than concealing in sheer little cocktail dresses and glamorous gowns of Chantilly lace, pointelle and net.

Add to this fantastic drop-dead evening look the rich touches of glittering rhinestone accents, upswept hairstyles pinned with pearl and diamond clasps, revealing rich drop earrings, wrists and necks covered with luxurious bangles.

Hats take top honors for spring, from sassy little straws to wear with a suit to sultry veiled evening hats that top off a cocktail dress or formal gown.

Which leads us to evening, where spring fashion is at its most knock-out, sophisticated best.

THE LUXURIOUS LOOK OF LACE, the rich rustle of taffeta—Albert Capraro sees spring evenings as the time for drop-dead glamour and all-out femininity. A strapless black chantilly lace bodice makes for a devastating formal entrance, followed by the romantic billows of a huge taffeta skirt, wrapped and slit in front. To accentuate the small waistline, a self belt is rhinestone buckled—the perfect final touch for a perfectly sensational new evening look.

Orange Blossom Cake For Passover

As the Passover season draws near, it brings forth happy memories of former Passover celebrations... the beautiful Seder table with its heirloom candlesticks and goblet... Father's rendition of the Seder Service... the happiness of the little children... and those rich aromas drifting from the kitchen.

The excitement of preparation for Passover begins weeks—even months—before the holiday. There is wine to be made... russell, the special Passover vinegar made from beets, must be started... and meals for the 8 days of Passover must be planned.

Many Jewish cooks serve traditional family favorites during the Passover season. The aroma of kugel and knaidlach, mendlen and chicken soup fills most Jewish households across the country.

Desserts are always a happy ending to a holiday meal. Suggested here is Orange Blossom Cake, a delicious orange flavored sponge cake garnished with fresh orange slices. The recipe uses Planters Peanut Oil which is the favorite choice among Jewish cooks for Passover dishes. It is the lightest of the polyunsaturated cooking oils and its delicate flavor blends well with other ingredients. Planters Oil is kosher and pareve for Passover.

ORANGE BLOSSOM CAKE juice and grated orange peel. Sift together matzo meal, potato starch and salt, and blend into yolk mixture. Beat egg whites until foamy, then gradually add remaining 1/2 cup sugar and continue beating until stiff peaks form. Fold egg yolk mixture into beaten egg whites. Pour into an ungreased 9-inch tube pan. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) 50-60 minutes, or until done. Invert cake pan thick and light. Beat in until cool. Makes 1 9-inch cake.

5 eggs, separated
3/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup Planters Peanut Oil
1/3 cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
3/4 cup matzo meal
1/4 cup potato starch
1 teaspoon salt
Fresh orange slices

March 22 storm damaged 7,500 acres in county

As seen in this picture Garza County has had its share of sand storms this year. By far the worst storm came on March 22 with over 7,500 acres of cropland damaged. This year to date we have had well over 10,000 acres of soil damage.

Windblown soil, unfortunately, is the most productive soil. The soil's upper few inches contain the largest concentration of fertilizer, nutrients and basic components needed by crops. Even worse, that inch of soil that blew away in one day took almost one thousand years to form.

American technology has made tremendous steps through advanced farming techniques and modern machinery in curbing erosion. Yet still a tremendous amount of our productive soil is being lost. Can more be done?

The Soil Conservation Service feels it can. Field windbreaks of trees and alternating strips of grain with cotton can lessen the effect of wind damage.

Of course, there is the question of economics. Other than less soil erosion what benefits are received from replacing valuable high yielding cotton with weak marketing low yielding grain. A hot dry southwest wind stuns and causes our cotton to wilt. If windbreaks are used and strip crops to protect soil, crops also receive protection from the same wind.

Scientists have proven stresses caused by high wind are lowered by windbreaks. The Soil Conservation Service has other information concerning benefits of field windbreaks and or strip crops. Area farmers are encouraged to drop by the SCS office and check into the possibilities of windbreaks and strip cropping.

Heatly favors tax change

AUSTIN — Representative W.S. "Bill" Heatly said today that the rebate for Texas cities from the one percent city sales tax will be based on population whether it was spent at home or not, according to House Bill 941 by Rep. Ray Keller of Duncanville.

At the present time, the bill is in committee.

Representative Heatly also said he will support this legislation because the cities in District 101 will profit by it. The net gain for Post would be $54,795.

COTTON TALKS
 FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

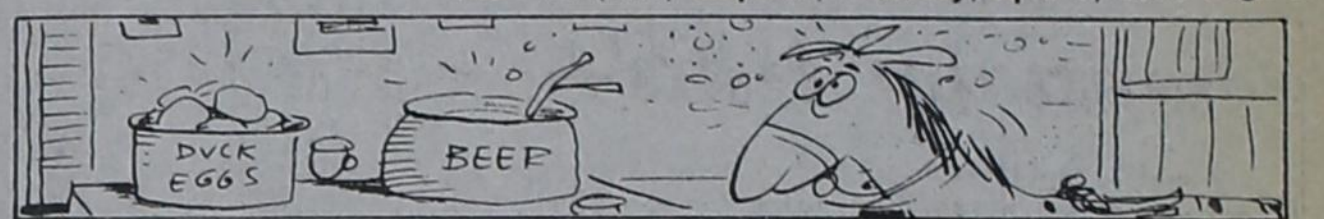

LUBBOCK — Officials of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., have announced that the organization's Twenty-Second Annual Membership meeting will be held May 2 in the Aztec Room of the South Park Inn, South Loop 289 and Indiana Avenue, Lubbock. Starting time will be 2:30 p.m. and the meeting should conclude shortly after 5:00 p.m. Emphasis of the meeting will be on existing opportunities for cotton in foreign markets, how those opportunities can be expanded and how the High Plains can fully realize its potential in those markets.

To broaden cotton producer knowledge of the international cotton trade, PCG has secured "two speakers who are among the world's most knowledgeable and respected men in the field," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson.

Traveling from Liverpool, England to be on the PCG program will be John Garner, a principal owner and editor of the "Cotton Outlook" magazine. An international publication, "Cotton Outlook" each week covers cotton production, consumption, prices, government policies, exports and imports from every country of the world that exerts a significant influence on cotton trade.

From his base in Washington, D.C. will be David Hull, Associate Director of Foreign Operations for Cotton Council International. CCI organizes and supervises trade teams, technical services and various cotton promotion programs in countries around the world, including cooperative advertising programs with some 40 textile mills, garment manufacturers and retailers.

School District Voters

Dear Voters:

Elections will be held this Saturday, April 7, for trustee positions on the Post School Board. This election cannot be taken lightly. The members put on the School Board by you, as voters, should be taking the responsibility to voice your opinions and ideas and to keep you notified of actions taken by said board.

I feel very sure I could uphold this responsibility, given the chance. It has just been five years since I completed 12 years of education in the Post School System. I was acquainted with how the school was run all 12 of those years. After college and being in business in Post, I also feel I have matured enough to accept the responsibility of helping to make Post Schools better for your children and mine.

Stenholm visits—

Stenholm pointed out the new federal department of energy now has $12 billion annual budget and most of that could be saved. His proposal was to cut out much federal regulation of the energy business, deregulate American oil production and then put on an excess profits tax on the domestic price rises.

Another budget cut, he said, could be the elimination of farm price supports if we are given the tools to get farm prices up to a fair market level.

On growth of federal regulations: American business and citizens now spend a non-productive $100 to $150 billion annually as their costs in complying with federal regulations.

On environmentalists: "They have gone way too far."

On last week's nuclear power plant accident: "I have great confidence in the nuclear industry that it can handle and control nuclear energy. This is the first major accident. I am a supporter and will continue to be a supporter of nuclear energy. It took 12 years of hearings to get a construction permit for a new nuclear power plant before that accident. It probably will take much longer now."

On keeping Dr. Ricardo Rodriguez in this country to practice medicine in Post: "We have a six months stay for him now and have introduced a bill in his behalf and I am hopeful we can get it passed."

On the Israel-Egypt peace treaty: "Certainly it is a positive action by President Carter, Sadat and Begin. It

How to MAKE WORKING for peanuts PAY OFF by George Washington CARVER.

George Washington Carver made more than 300 products from peanuts. By doing so he revolutionized the agriculture of the South. And he made working for peanuts pay off.

Today, folks who buy U.S. Savings Bonds know how to turn peanuts into cold, hard cash. When you buy Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan, you're letting those hard-earned dollars you make work for you automatically.

So join over 9 1/2 million Americans who took a hint from a man who worked for peanuts. Buy United States Savings Bonds.

A few peanuts now can shell out a lot of savings tomorrow.

U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

is good for America's well being, but it is a very tragic reality.

"I admire Sadat. He has flat put his life on the line with the rest of the Arab world."

"We have to establish our military presence in the Mideast immediately to serve notice on the Soviets, whom in my opinion were largely responsible for the overthrow of the Shah in Iran."

"We must draw a line in the Middle East and protect our oil supply interests there. I believe other western friends of the United States, including Japan, should share in the costs of the treaty to us (estimated five billion dollars.)"

On taking controls off energy: "Within 12 months time after controls come off we could tell OPEC to 'shove it' on their price increases."

"We should take our surpluses of grain and sugar and build refineries to turn them into alcohol which can be mixed with gasoline to add to our gasoline supplies."

On HRI, the house bill for public financing of congressional campaigns: "I am totally opposed. A big effort is approaching to pass it."

On the Panama Canal: "The house is going to become involved. We were not told the truth about the treaty provisions. We are now looking at a tremendous American taxpayer cost in transfer of the canal to Panama, estimated to be three billion dollars."

"This is a tricky issue and a close vote is expected, but it probably will pass because of the embarrassing position our president has gotten us into. I believe in a short period of time, our military intervention will be required at the canal."

On high and rising social security costs: "It's eating us up. I don't have the answer. It is one of our toughest political problems, but we will have to solve it in the 1980s."

On the California to Texas pipeline to carry Alaskan oil to Texas refineries: "I am in favor of a bill to waive all regulations and say build it."

On national tax relief: "As I said in my campaign, I think the only logical approach to cutting taxes is cutting expenditures first. It won't work the other way. Some $250 billion of our federal money is spent in transfer programs, taking it from one American's pocket and putting it in another's. For example, every time unemployment goes up just one percent, it costs the federal government $19 billion through laws already on the books."

"By eliminating some of the federal bureaucracies we could save hundreds of million dollars, maybe billions. I am supporting the elimination of revenue sharing for states. That will save the federal government $2.3 billion."

Asked his position on revenue sharing to cities and counties: "I have no judgment yet on that though most every city and county who has talked to me admit they can cut revenue sharing. Revenue sharing is more justified for them though than for the states."

On controlling federal expenditures: "It's baloney to say our federal budget is too big and 75 to 80 percent of it is uncontrollable. We vote on every penny we spend."

Post has been successful in always having a school board which represented the whole district instead of special interest of a few.

I have enjoyed serving the entire district for a one year unfilled term and will appreciate your vote in allowing me to represent you for a full term.

Today's Version Of A Classic Postings-

When the chef of the famous Waldorf hotel created the classic Waldorf Salad for the opening of the hotel in 1893, the recipe called for equal parts of raw apples and celery, bound with mayonnaise. Since then many variations have been popular, including this version prepared with Jell-O raspberry flavor gelatin. Now, raisins and chopped walnuts are added for texture and crunch in a molded salad for five people to enjoy.

MOLDED WALDORF SALAD

- 1 package (3 oz.) raspberry flavor gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 3/4 cup cold water
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 cup diced peeled apple
- 1/2 cup thinly sliced celery
- 2 tablespoons raisins
- 2 tablespoons chopped walnuts

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water and lemon juice; chill until thickened. Stir in apple, celery, raisins and nuts. Pour into a 2-1/2- or 3-cup mold. Chill until firm, about 3 hours. Unmold. Makes about 2-1/2 cups or 5 servings.

Reading in March gains

Post Public Library patrons checked out 730 books in March to boost the library circulation for the first quarter of 1979 to 3,004 volumes.

Adults outread juvenile library users by better than 5 to 1 for the first three months of the year with adults checking out 1,667 books to 337 for juveniles, but juvenile reading picked up considerably in March to 157 books.

Forty-seven volumes were added to library shelves during the month to bring the total acquisitions for the first three months to 98. The library's movie projector was checked out six times during the month. Seven film strips were shown at the library with a total attendance of 31.

Fines, book sales, and donations for the month totaled $63.70.

IT'S THE LAW!

A number of working men and women, resisting union organizers, have been glad to find that law has been on their side.

THE LABOR LAW can also protect workers against union organizers.

Although some union people made one charge after another against J. P. Stevens, which employs 44,000 workers, more than 150 charges have been decided in favor of Stevens, or dismissed.

On the other hand, there have been at least 25 Labor Board and court decisions against the union. The union violations have ranged from suppressing individual rights to flagrant acts of violence.

Stenholm had his positions all mapped out when he stopped off to talk here Saturday enroute home to Stamford from Lubbock where he was one of three to receive the Gerald W. Thomas Outstanding Agriculture Award from the Texas Tech University College of Agricultural Science Friday night.

He made an excellent impression as a freshman congressman who has jumped right into the middle of it, works hard, and loves it.

After the breakfast, he told us he wasn't doing a lot of talking in Congress because first-year congressmen can get "tagged" with a "solve-it-all" reputation and are thereafter seldom listened to and of course can't be effective.

Stenholm spoke of the strong conservatism in the majority of the large congressional freshman class, of which he is secretary. He is working with many others toward a balanced federal budget and thinks its "time" is almost here.

All in all, we were more impressed with Charlie on his first visit back from Washington than we were in this district's previous congressman.

'78 harvest: 19,020 bales

Garza County's 1978 cotton production totaled 19,020 bales with 48,028.2 acres harvested for a 200 pounds per acre yield.

Total low yield payments totaled $1,597,060.34. This summary of last year's harvest are contained in the ASCS Newsletter mailed farmers this week by Joe D. Barnes, county executive director of the ASCS office here.

TO THE PEOPLE OF GARZA COUNTY

I would like to take this opportunity to express my reason for being a candidate for Place 2 on the Post School Board, April 7, 1979.

First let me say I will not make promises to anyone. The only thing I will say, is that I shall do my very best to see that your child gets the best education our tax dollar can buy. After all our system did not get this way overnight and it will not be corrected overnight. My greatest concern is the discipline problem we have in our schools. I have not talked to everyone, but the ones I have contacted feel the same as I do. I do not have an instant remedy for this problem, but I feel sure that everyone wants the same results. I will have to be very honest with the people of Post in how I feel and this has worked for my family throughout the years our children were in the Post schools. Don't be so quick to take your child's side of an issue. That teacher has a right to be heard. In the end it has always worked to our children's interest. I cannot believe that there are always exceptions to any rule, but basically what it comes down to is the fact that without discipline, that teacher cannot control that class and teach your child what he or she needs to learn. There are a number of results from discipline.

First of all you get a child's attention.

Second you are able to teach them what needs to be taught.

Third, discipline sets a foundation for pride in whatever activity your child is involved in, be it football, basketball, track, tennis, volleyball, band, choir, or just class work in general.

I shutter to think that our kids are someday going to run our city, county and even our government. Please don't misunderstand me, I love and cherish kids friendship and want their respect, but we as parents better stand back and take a good hard look at what needs to be done. Work with our teachers, but don't tell them how to teach, they have been trained for the jobs they are doing. If they are not doing their job to the fullest then action can and must be taken not to renew that person's contract.

Visit in the classroom and see what your child is doing. Show some concern and interest both to the child and to the teacher.

Kids are going to be kids and as a whole they want and need discipline. With a good discipline program all these other gripes and grievances can be worked out. We must all work together for a better school system.

This is just one issue that I am very concerned about. I know there are a lot more problems that needs to be solved, but I cannot express myself in all areas in this limited space. If you feel as I do on this matter, then I would appreciate your vote on April 7, 1979. I will leave this thought with you.

Spare the rod and spoil the child, also teach a child in the way he should go and when he is old, he shall not depart.

THANK YOU,

Juanella Hays
