

Tragic days here recalled

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This unusual story was written and brought to The Dispatch this week in the hope that "these terrible memories" may spur local citizens to vaccinate their pets and help rid the city of strays and thus spare the fate of the two 10-year-olds in this story for one or more of Post's children today.)

The realization that rabies is a danger again to Post stirs memories of terrifying days and nights in the mind of at least one of Post's senior citizens, Mrs. Letha Thompson, who is 92.

It was in the early spring of 1923 that this widow found herself slaving to feed and clothe her four children.

In the house across the street, a 10-year old boy had been chained to his bed after being bitten by the family dog which was rabid. The boy screamed and begged to be released, and foamed at the mouth. Despite the care of his family and neighbors, his condition deteriorated rapidly. Soon he was to die of rabies. All the while, the rabid dog remained tied in the yard.

Meanwhile evading her widow mother's watchful eye, the 10-year-old daughter slipped across the street with the intent of borrowing some rouge to "dress up." While bounding up the neighbors' porch steps, the rabid dog appeared and instantaneously bit her knee.

Immediately, upon realizing what had taken place, the mother grabbed her daughter and rushed to the family physician. The doctor instantly asked the local "Klu Klux Klan" to kill the dog, pack its head in dry ice and send it to Austin. He then ordered the frightened mother to pack clothes for herself and her daughter and leave for an Austin hospital on the first train.

That night at 11 p.m. with financial help from relatives, mother and daughter were able to board the train to Austin. After securing a room in a home across from the hospital, the mother took her daughter to the hospital to begin the 21 days of grueling treatment. The child was placed supine on a table while a pint of "Green Solution" was slowly massaged into her abdomen.

The treatment usually took all morning and left the child nauseated and physically drained. She lost weight and became very nervous. She did survive the nightmare of rabies and was allowed to return home. She only recently died of cancer.

Meanwhile, in Post, the Klu Klux Klan spent time going door to door to

Strays pickup lagging badly

Post pet owners have responded to the city's "emergency call" last week by having about 70 of their cats and dogs given rabies shots.

But the surprising thing was only one dog bounty hunter turned up.

The city was prepared to pay a real dollar harvest for stray dogs turned into the pound over the last week, but only one stray was caught and "cashed."

Veterinarian Larry Mills reported pet owners kept him busy vaccinating at his clinic at 318 East Main. The single shot per pet costs $5.

Mills will also be available this coming Saturday morning to give more vaccinations with no ap- (See Stray dogs, Page 7)

Jamboree coming up

The first annual CB Club Jamboree will be held in Post this weekend Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 18-19 in the Post Community Center.

Over 700 CB'ers are

Maybe it's the "cool" August weather, but we're starting to get football fever. We don't blame it on the weather so much as the drive and enthusiasm with which Head grid master David Thompson and his new coaching staff are approaching the 1979 season.

They've been ready to go for three weeks now. We called up David Monday night for an interview date on a football story Tuesday and was told by his wife that he was at the field house and wasn't expected home until 10.

By Tuesday, we had a mimeographed copy of his prospective 33 player varsity squad roster complete with jersey numbers, positions, class, heights and weights.

This is supposed to be a rebuilding year, but Thompson's enthusiasm is catching. He's figured out some position switches already. He admits it's hard to tell anything "until they put the pads on" but he's already convinced the Lopes have a stable of capable backs. When he runs down the roster, he makes comments on this player and that, mostly favorable. "They (meaning the players) are getting to" (See Postings, Page 12) expected to attend the two-day affair from as far away as West Virginia and other states such as New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and all parts of Texas.

Doors will open to the event at 10:30 a.m. Saturday with the Jamboree starting at 12 noon.

Over $3,000 in door prizes will be given away during the two-day event including a 40 channel tube type Teaberry base station with antenna, 40 channel mobile radio with antenna, AM-FM 8-track multiplex stereo tape player, $100 in cash and others.

Trophies for "almost everything" will also be presented.

A $1 gate fee will be charged during the Jamboree which includes a prize ticket.

A dance will be held in (See Jamboree, Page 12)

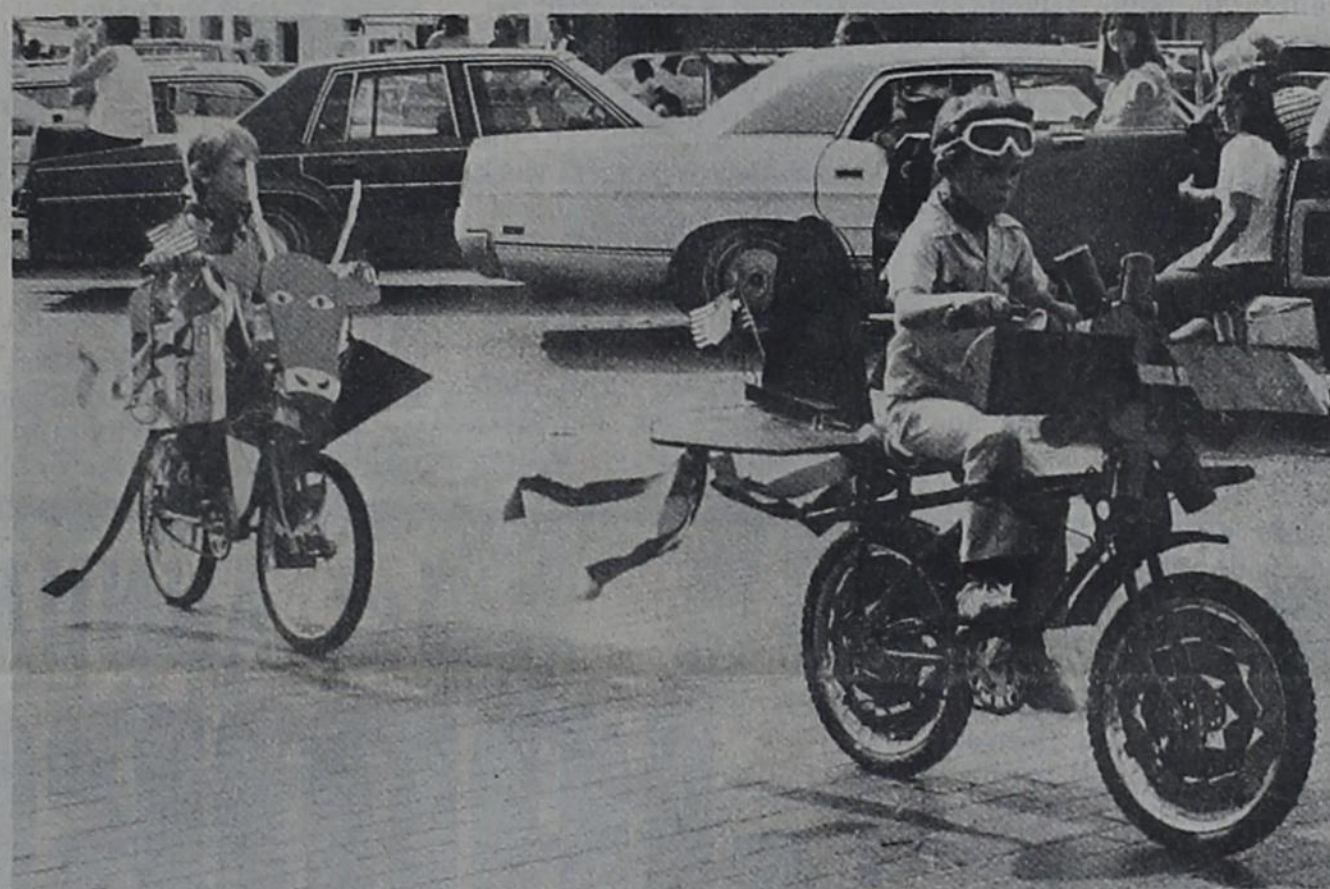

Shults rites held Friday

Funeral services for Guy Chandus Shults, 85, a resident of county and city for the last 45 years, was conducted at 3 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church.

Shults, a retired farmer and father of Jim Bob Shults, was found dead in his home at 109 South Ave. Q Wednesday morning. Justice of the Peace Pat Kitchens ruled death by natural causes.

Born in Montague County, Texas Jan. 4, 1894, Shults moved to New Mexico in 1915. He was married to Tina Tipton in 1934 in New Mexico and that same year the Shults' moved to Garza County.

He farmed until he retired in 1966. Mrs. Shults died in September of 1947. Shults was a life-long (See Shults rites, Page 12)

Rodeo and parade are big successes

Post Stampede . . .

Stephen Myers of Lamesa, former Post resident, led the way to the pay window here Saturday night at the conclusion of Post's 39th annual Post Stampede Rodeo.

He won the biggest share of the $1,830 prize money for the bull riders by winning that event over 60 competitors with a fine score of 85 for his Saturday night ride.

The 272 cowboy and cowgirl entries in the six-event program for the three nights divided up a total jackpot of $9,510.

From virtually every standpoint, the rodeo was another outstanding success.

Kris Brown, the "bull jumper", caught the crowd's eye every one of the three nights with his agile antics and graceful leaps over the bulls and his darting little runs right in front of them.

Results by events with the number of entries (See Rodeo results, Page 12)

Parade . . .

Probably the best Post Stampede rodeo in the last two decades rolled eight or nine blocks long down Main street right on time last Thursday afternoon, featuring eight floats and a wide variety of attractions.

The Garza 4-H club's "Texas to Japan" float featuring Tomoko Fukasawa, 14-year-old Japanese girl who is visiting in Post for a month, won the $200 first prize.

Second prize went to Don (See Parade, Page 12)

New retention policy sought

After employing 13 new teachers, many of them without prior classroom experience, only two weeks before the start of the fall school term, school trustees Tuesday night decided to look into early formulation of a teacher retention policy for the 1980-81 school year.

Supt. Bill Shiver told trustees that the basis for the retention of experienced teachers here generally comes down to one word — money.

After school principals declined to give their "off the top of their heads" views on teacher retention, Shiver offered the opinion that Post schools could retain experienced teachers if Post equals the Snyder policy and paid teachers annual salaries of about $2,500 above state which would enable them to purchase local homes in which to live.

The subject of teacher retention was brought up by Mike Flanigan who asked principals if the board couldn't help them retain experienced teachers.

The board agreed to consider formulation of such a policy in November so that word of Post's salary scale could be given universities and colleges well before spring hiring began.

Shiver said such a policy would provide for the retention of many more teachers but it would require a few years — say five — to obtain such results.

It was proposed that any salary payments above state-set salary levels be established on a merit basis.

Post teachers are now paid $400 over the state level. This has been in effect for many years.

The board approved teacher contracts for six new high school teachers, (See School board, Page 9)

PHS dress code to be written

Post school trustees will meet Tuesday night for a special work session to formulate a new dress code for high school students.

That decision came at the board's regular August meeting Monday night after Trustee Juanella Hays said she was satisfied with board policies on discipline, drugs, and alcohol which had been adopted in August of 1978 unbeknownst to her when she proposed her "5 Ds" at the board's July meeting, providing such policies are enforced. (See Dress code, Page 6)

Oil output turns down

Garza County's oil production, after a seven-year climb, dropped slightly in 1978, according to figures released this week by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

The county produced 6,800,000 barrels of oil last year, a drop of approximately 200,000 barrels from 1977.

From 1970 through 1977, Garza's oil production climbed from 4,460,000 barrels annually to 7,000,000 barrels, the production total for both 1976 and 1977.

Despite the slight downturn in production last year, the oil dollar volume to Garza's economy remained very high—over 442 percent of that of 10 years ago in 1969.

The 1978 value of Garza oil production was $62,800,000 as compared to only $14,200,000 in 1969.

Besides last year's gas production, 1,100,000 thousand cubic feet of natural gas, valued at $1,100,000 were produced in this county.

Owners of royalties in the county received $8,000,000 last year as their share of the output, the association said.

In addition to paying a very high percentage of local, county and state property taxes, producers in the county supported (See Garza oil, Page 12)

Morton briefed in White House

Harvey Morton of Lubbock, attorney for the city, spent Tuesday along with between 100 and 200 other Texans in seven and one-half hours of briefings in the White House and the state department.

The trip cost Morton $500 but he said it was well worth it — when you're invited to the White House you don't turn it down.

President Jimmy Carter spent about 45 minutes talking to the group and meeting each one individually.

Morton said the President "wanted everybody to work together with him to solve the energy problem."

The Lubbock attorney said he found the energy problem overshadowing everything else.

A couple of the Texans got "out of hand", according to Morton, waved their (See Morton visits, Page 12)

Dandy, a poodle, is home at last

By BETH SHORT Howard Sprayberry's pet poodle, Dandy, didn't get home for weeks after his master's death in Ruidoso May 28 on a weekend holiday.

Dandy was lost in Ruidoso following Sprayberry's death by a heart attack and it took three trips back to Ruidoso by Mrs. Sprayberry before she finally got him.

About seven days following the return home of the family, Mrs. Sprayberry received a call from the Ruidoso police saying they had found the poodle, who had been living at the Methodist Church and going to a Kentucky Fried Chicken nearby for his meals. He was placed in the pound, but managed to get away before Mrs.

Teacher retention needed

Post school trustees had probably three of the toughest school problems dumped into their collective laps Tuesday night — teacher retention, property reappraisal, and citizen initiative and referendum.

There is of course no easy solution to any of them.

For the first time in maybe a decade, trustees decided to study the problem of retaining experienced teachers. That boils down to the bottom line of how much the school district will pay above state minimum salaries.

Right now it's only $400 above state minimum, which anymore isn't more than half a drop in a big bucket.

The reader must understand that Post as a small school district has no unique problem here. All smaller school districts unless they pay premium wages have to be content with too big a turnover and too many inexperienced teachers as teachers keep trying to move up the pay scale.

The weekly newspapers which have been arriving on The Dispatch's exchange desk are filled with stories of many teacher hirings in neighborhood districts.

The point here in Post is that our trustees are aware of the problem and want to try to solve it.

How to work that out, how much to increase salaries, how it could be done on a merit plan, and many other factors must be considered.

We, for one taxpayer, are glad to see the start because the basic quality of any school system rests in its teachers.

If the state continues to raise the teacher minimum salary, it may give the teachers a better economic toehold, but it will not solve the local problem.

Even a higher state salary level, the teachers will still strive for a better economic return and the more a teacher is paid above state will remain the principal drawing power to attract experienced teachers.

This is a local problem which can only be solved at the local level, and can't be helped at the state level.

The Dispatch thinks the current board extremely capable. If it tackles this problem headon, it may well as Supt. Shiver told its members Tuesday night, be taking one of the most important steps possible for the future of our local school system.

There will be lots of thought and discussion involved. There probably will be dissent. All this is good. It reflects our community attitudes.

As for the other two problems trustees took a quick look at the other night — property reappraisal and citizen referendum and initiative — the board wasn't prepared to deal with them although it well realizes property reappraisal is coming. The reluctance here is that reassessing property opens not a can of worms but a whole case.

LOOKS NATURAL — George R. Brown's entry in the Post Stampede parade was this mobile drilling rig. Those who looked closely noted that its drill stem was turning as it moved down Main street. — (Staff Photo)

If you care, help CARE

Most Dispatch readers probably have been following the Nicaragua revolution in the news media.

This is to report what CARE, the international aid and development agency, has been doing about the situation in Nicaragua where 80,000 desperate victims of that civil war have been given top CARE priority.

Some 860,000 pounds of emergency food has been rushed here by CARE in recent weeks.

The big job is to reopen Nicaragua schools on schedule in September. War refugees have made a shambles of these schools, living in them after being forced from their homes by firefights and bombings.

Desks have been broken up for firewood.

CARE recently imported equipment for a school furniture workshop in Managua where desks and chairs will be constructed by Nicaraguans themselves. CARE also will distribute tools and equipment to help Nicaraguans repair the damaged schools.

That's the way CARE works — helping the people to help themselves.

Other CARE plans call for a distribution of a variety of basic grain and vegetable seeds to small Nicaraguan farmers. These farmers were unable to plant cotton this year because of the revolution.

So many men were killed that women must go to work so day care centers are needed for the children of working mothers. There are many rehabilitation and reconstruction projects with which to help.

CARE also is rushing drugs and medical supplies.

If you care enough to want to help send your donations to CARE, Suite 917, 109 N. Akard Street, Dallas, Tx. 75201.

CARE is one of the best places we know to send your money for relief projects such as this.

Also attending were her grandmothers, JoAnn Smith and Johnie Wallace, her aunt Lea Ann and her great-grandmother, Pearl Wallace.

Tipton-Williams vows exchanged Saturday

Wedding vows were exchanged between Varsa Jodine Tipton and Mark Lynn Williams Saturday, Aug. 11, in the First Baptist Church.

Rev. John T. Williams, Sr., of Tulia, grandfather of the bridegroom, performed the double ring ceremony at 3 p.m. before a double candleabra framed on either side with brass spiral candleabras and arrangements of silk apricot carnations and baby's breath.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marshall Tipton and the late Mr. Tipton and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Williams, Jr., of San Angelo.

Presented in marriage by her grandfather, T. H. Tipton Sr., the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight satin with a Queen Anne neckline and front contour waistline accented with French chantilly lace dotted with tiny seed pearls.

The circular skirt fell to a chapel length train and the long sleeves featured tapered cuffs closed with tiny satin covered buttons. The bridal veil designed and made by the bridegroom's mother, cascaded to a chapel length train of silk illusion veiling edged in French lace and seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was of ivory silk roses, baby's breath and lily-of-the-valley with love knot streamers. Carrying out the tradition of something borrowed, she wore a necklace from her sister, Mrs. Marsha Norman, something new, her dress; something old, a gold wedding band that was worn by her great-grandmother on her wedding day and a blue garter.

Serving her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Marsha Norman and bridesmaids were Mrs. Arthur Spragg of San Angelo and Mrs. Tony Conner of Post.

They wore identical floor length apricot gowns and carried bouquets of silk apricot roses nestled in a background of baby's breath and greenery with brown streamers tied in love knots. All flowers for the wedding were made by the bridegroom's mothers.

Laura and Janie Norman, nieces of the bride served as flower girls and wore matching apricot gowns and carried baskets of apricot flowers.

Candles were lighted by John T. Williams III of San Angelo, brother of the groom.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Steve White of San Angelo with groomsmen, Jack Fannon and Greg Kent of San Angelo.

Acting as ushers were Lee Norman, brother-in-law of the bride and Arthur Spragg of San Angelo.

MRS. MARK WILLIAMS (Jodine Tipton)

Traditional wedding music was provided by Mr. Georgie Willson, organist. Miss Tiana Shiver, pianist, accompanied soloists, Amy Cowdrey as she sang "God A Woman and a Man" and Terry Doyle of Marble Falls who sang "My Tribute."

Upon entering, the bride presented her mother with a rose and following the ceremony presented her mother-in-law a rose.

Guests were registered by Darlene Gunn.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

A three-tiered wedding cake was served by Terry Doyal of Marble Falls and Olga Perez of Eagle Pass.

The table was laid with an ivory lace cloth centered with a silver candleabra. Clusters of white satin wedding bells topped the wedding cake. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Miss Tiana Shiver and Lynne Hickey of Eagle Pass attended the groom's table which featured a chocolate cake with a ring of apricot carnations. A brass candleabra and coffee service completed the table laid with an ecru linen cloth.

Members of the houseparty were Oneita Gunn, Barbara Morrow, Joy Pool, Maury Shiver and Amy Cowdrey.

The bride is a graduate of Post High School and attends San Angelo State University majoring in nursing. The bridegroom is a graduate of San Angelo Central High School and is employed by West Texas Trailers.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado and Wyoming, the couple will reside at 2905 Armstrong, San Angelo.

Out of town guests attended from Pampa, San Angelo, Lubbock, Eagle Pass, Marble Falls, Wilson, Clovis, N.M., and McAlister, N.M. Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, Jr., hosted the wedding rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the community center with 40 guests attending. Gifts were presented to the attendants by the prospective bride and groom.

PHS dress code----

Mrs. Hays, who was elected to the board in the spring, said she had not been given a copy of these school board policies until after the board's last regular meeting.

She said she would not have proposed her plan on discipline, drugs, drinking, driving and dress had she known the year-old policies were in effect.

Dropped for lack of any board support was her proposal that students who drive cars to school leave them in the parking lot during the noon break.

As for the dress code, the school board had abandoned most of its dress code several years ago when the courts were ruling against such policies, particularly when they came to boys' hair length.

The only policy on dress here is a one sentence statement to the effect that students will not dress in such a manner as to distract from the learning process.

Joe Boerner of Lubbock, one of the board's attorneys who attended the meeting, brought with him a copy of the dress code of the Lubbock schools.

At first, Mrs. Hays said she would be willing for High School Principal Joe Giddens to write a dress code incorporating what he considered to be the best ideas from the Lubbock code.

Later in the discussion, she suggested that the high school student council be asked to work up its ideas on student dress.

There were some objections to the board delegating a dress code decision either to administration or students.

Trustee Charles McCook proposed that the board consider portions of the Lubbock dress code and meet next Tuesday night in advance of the beginning of the fall term to write such a policy. The motion was adopted with one dissenting vote.

Boerner told trustees the Lubbock dress policy was formulated several years ago as a result of recommendations of a committee containing representatives of administration, teachers, students and parents.

The Lubbock code is quite general, but some specifics are stated such as a bare midriff being unacceptable, as well as strapless dresses without covering jacket, see-through blouses, or low-cut sundresses.

As far as boys' hair, the Lubbock code requires that "the hair shall be clean and well-groomed with modern hair styles permitted if extremes are avoided." It also states "sideburns should be kept trimmed so as not to form a beard, and shall not be extreme in fullness. Mustaches shall be acceptable if neatly trimmed. Beards shall not be acceptable.

The board spent the first hour of its meeting discussing the dress code.

A "letter to the editor" written by students as their reply to Mrs. Hays' "5 Ds" is contained in The Dispatch's account of the July school board session was passed around the board table and read by each member at the start of the discussion.

The letter had never been submitted to The Dispatch for publication as students decided first wait and see what the board did at the Aug. meeting.

Jack Lott, board president, obtained the letter. The students' signature had been removed from the letter before it was offered to the board.

The letter offered sensible views and concludes "we firmly believe these Ds will only stir up great problems than solve a that already exist. We a teenagers who face the same problems as you faced when you were growing up. Surely things haven't changed that much."

Lopes to scrimmage Saturday

47 to don pads here Friday

The "word" from new Antelope grid boss, David Thompson, Tuesday was "the boys can't wait to get the pads on Friday" and "we can't wait for them to get them on either."

Enthusiasm, as football workouts began this week, is sky high.

Forty-seven sophomores, juniors, and seniors reported Monday and more are expected when school starts. The group includes 10 lettermen.

"Our workout this morning was the best yet," Coach Thompson told The Dispatch Tuesday afternoon.

Thompson, who is starting his 15th coaching season, points out: "You really can't tell much until they put their pads on."

What he meant was that until the "hitting" starts it is difficult to rate a player. If they can "hit", they can play.

Right now, the new coaching staff is busy trying to put in both the team's offense and defense, work on the kicking game, and stress conditioning.

UIL rules require four days of conditioning drills before players can don football pads and start the real heavy work. That will come Friday.

Coach Thompson reports the players are "working hard" and have "a tremendous attitude."

The new head man was a bit cautious about making predictions but did say: "We're not big, but I think we'll be all right."

Freshman football candidates will be issued their equipment Friday afternoon and will begin daily workouts at 3 p.m. Monday, Aug. 20.

Coach Thompson expects to have between 85 and 90 footballers working regularly in the four high school classes by the time school starts Aug. 27.

He has already set the first varsity scrimmage for 9 a.m. this Saturday morning at Antelope Stadium and all boosters who want to watch are welcome.

Thompson also reported that the first scrimmage with the Ralls Jackrabbits probably will be held in Antelope Stadium Friday evening, Aug. 24, rather than in Ralls as previously scheduled.

"It depends upon whether our new lights are ready," Coach Thompson said. "Even if they aren't we may have the scrimmage here anyway. Ralls wants to come to Post."

The ten returning Post lettermen include Mike Macy, Rance Adkins, Larry Rodriguez, Barry Wyatt, Alonzo Luna, Lynn Simpson, Noel Pena, Chuck Black, Deb Palmer and Jackie Stelzer.

Macy, 145 pound senior, is listed as a quarterback-safety; Adkins, 170-pound senior, is listed at tailback and safety; Rodriguez, 155-pound senior, returns at fullback and linebacker; Wyatt, 175-pound junior at fullback and defensive end; Simpson, 175-pound senior, returns as a guard, defense tackle; Pena, 180-pound junior, as a guard-linebacker; Black, 225-pound senior, and Palmer, 185-pound senior, at both ways tackle; and Stelzer, 170-pound senior, as a both ways end.

Other candidates for the varsity squad include: Drew Kirkpatrick, 145-pound junior quarterback; Charles Curtis, 155, junior, tailback and cornerback; Jackie Ayala, 150, senior, wingback and cornerback;

All these 79-80 licenses will be valid for one year ending August 31, 1980, including the resident hunting license for $5.25; resident fishing license for $4.50; or, the combination hunting-fishing license for $8.75.

Non-resident-small game license is $37.75 and is required of out-of-state hunters after small game such as quail, prairie chicken, pheasant, dove, and similar species. These out-of-state hunters after bigger game such as deer, antelope, aoudad, and turkey, will be required to purchase the non-resident general hunting license for $100.75. This general license ($100.75) will allow these hunters to hunt all legal Texas species during the regular open seasons.

All licenses are printed on waterproof, tear-resistant paper and each hunting license contains tags for buck and antlerless deer and turkey. If the license holder is successful at bagging one or more of these species, the date and month of the kill on the correct tag must be marked out in ink or cut out and the tags attached securely to the carcass prior to transporting or moving the carcass. The place and county of harvest must be filled in at this time.

There are spaces on the back of the hunting license for affixing a white-winged dove, archery, or federal migratory game bird - conservation stamp. The white-winged dove stamp and archery stamp can be purchased at license vendors. The federal migratory game bird stamp is available at U. S. Post offices for $7.50 each.

A resident hunting license is required of every Texas citizen hunting outside of the county of residence between the ages of 17 through 65 years old. Persons hunting on land where they reside or persons hunting deer and turkey in their county of residence must have an exempt hunting license available for $1.25. Certain disabled veterans may hunt deer or turkey while in possession of a valid exempt hunting license.

A legal citizen of Texas is any person except an alien who has been a bona fide resident of Texas for more than six (6) months immediately preceding application for a license. Members of the Armed Forces with proof of assignment on active duty at any federal installation within the state for a period of more than 30 days may purchase a resident hunting license.

A special archery stamp for $3.25 will be required of all persons who hunt wild deer, turkey, and javelina during any open archery season in which only long bows and arrows are used. This archery stamp will be required in addition to the regular hunting license for both non-resident and resident hunters.

School board-----

(Continued From Page One) one new junior high teacher and six new elementary teachers. This leaves the school faculty still two short of being completed.

New high school teachers are Mrs. Juanita Thompson, David Joyner, James Easterling, Miss Kayla Cross, Mrs. Billie Marie Osborne, and Miss Dianne Lewallen.

William Michael Mullin will be the new junior high librarian.

Elementary teachers employed include Misses Karlyn Howell, Ruby Boyles, Starla Stewart, and Lana Thomas, and Mrs. Kathy Fluitt and Mrs. Theresa Mullins.

Teacher resignations of Richard Wheelus, Mrs. Donna Northam, Mrs. Pat Thompson and Mrs. Carroll Shell Newcomb, also were accepted.

In another major action on a long agenda, Flanigan's proposed board policy change that "no building or remodeling project, with an estimated cost in excess of two percent of the total budget, will be started without a two-thirds approval of the voters" died for the lack of a second.

Other trustees voiced objections particularly to the two-thirds majority proposed as the state law requires only a bare majority approval for major bond proposals.

Flanigan said such a policy would "get the community more involved" and that the board would have "to sell the community" on major remodelings or improvements.

Flanigan said his proposal was in line with Governor Clements' initiative and referendum proposals.

Flanigan did succeed in having adopted another policy change that would require that "no school property will be disposed of without the prior approval of the board."

He said this would keep trustees knowledgeable on disposition of any school property so they could reply to public questions, such as why an old band uniform is found at the city dump.

The school District's board of equalization, composed of Lee Norman, Johnny Kemp, and B. L. Thomas, appeared before trustees to propose a reappraisal of all property within the school district for tax purposes.

They pointed out that it was impossible to adhere to the guidelines that property be assessed at its market value when "the value of residential property has risen to about 300 percent of its original value due to inflation" since the last property appraisal in the district many years ago.

It was pointed out the new state law requiring single appraisal offices for all local taxing units in each county with one set of appraisals probably will "take care of the situation."

The new state law will go into effect in 1980.

The new band and choir directors, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Clary appeared before the board to present their plans for these two organizations.

Mr. Clary reported band practices already have begun with 34 students originally turning out.

He says he has only one senior in the band, a transfer student, with six juniors, 39 sophomores, and 19 freshmen.

His goals, he said, were to instill pride in the band, to get the whole community involved, and to improve on the band's contest ratings which were only III, V, and V last year.

There was considerable discussion of Mrs. Hays' proposals that trustees approve bills before check payments are mailed, that bills paid by statement and that the check register be itemized.

She said she had no complaint as to any discrepancies, but she didn't want to sign checks without knowing what she was paying for.

Supt. Shiver explained that checks are written on invoices with the materials or services listed on the invoices signed as received before such invoices are considered for payment. A letter was also given the board from the Lubbock accounting firm which has been auditing Post schools since 1964 saying in effect that the local schools are closely following the accounting principles and policies required by the Texas Education Agency.

In other agenda items, trustees:

Voted to insure Justiceburg school buildings owned by the district for a coverage of $121,500 on a year to year basis with Bryan J. Williams & Son.

A three-year policy had been proposed by the insurance agency for a premium of $3,345.

Finally adopted the 1979-80 school calendar which provides for a two weeks Christmas vacation and a week's spring break at Easter with school ending on May 29.

Adopted new lunchroom guidelines required by federal authorities which hiked family income standards for those eligible for free or reduced eligibility for free meals and milk.

Approved a letter from Mrs. Margaret Barley school bookkeeper, explaining why Tiana Shiver was employed in the superintendent's office beginning July 31 for a total of about 32 hours during a personnel emergency in which another office employee was out of the office for surgery. When someone asked who had complained, Supt. Shiver told the board he was the one who wanted the matter presented to the board.

Agreed without a vote to include in the new budget $9,300 for a joint communication system in the primary and elementary schools requested by Principal Dan Rankin.

Took under advisement the suggestion by the architect that new locker numbers be purchased for repainted lockers in the junior high building at a cost of $400.

The board was advised by Joe Hall that it will be "a tight situation" to get the junior high building ready for classes in the next two weeks. The plan is to have the renovated portion of junior high ready for classes with the new additions to be completed later.

Adopted federal required grievance procedure policies similar to those now in force but worded to suit federal authorities.

As the final item on the agenda, trustees went into "executive session" on what was announced as "a personnel problem." The closed doors portion of the meeting lasted well over an hour with trustees not going home until almost midnight. No board action was taken following the long discussion.

Band boosters to organize

The Post Band Booster Club will hold a reorganization meeting in the band hall at 7:30 p.m. Monday night, Aug. 20. It is extremely important that everyone be in attendance if at all possible.

This organization is not just for the high school band backers, but for all supporters of band students. Anyone wishing to support the Antelope Band invited to attend.

New officers will be elected at this meeting and a time will be set aside for those present to ask questions about the new band program.

After the close of the meeting, there will be an ice cream social for all present.

Swimming pool to close Aug. 22

The local city-county swimming pool will close its doors Wednesday, Aug. 22 for the summer.

Today (Thursday) is the last Thursday night for the pool to be open but will be open on Monday, Aug. 20. The pool is usually closed on Mondays.

Smartness, rather than sincerity, ruins many people.

Leon Flemmer is new pastor

Leon Flemmer, 30, was appointed pastor of the local Church of God of Prophecy during the 46 annual State Convention in Abilene recently.

Pastor Flemmer was born in Bismarck, North Dakota and has pastored churches of God of Prophecy in Visalia, California for two years.

He served in the army for 19 months as a meteorologist and was stationed in Vietnam for 13 months.

A graduate of the Church of God of Prophecy Bible Training Institute in Fullerton, Ca., he also attended the University of Montana and Delta College in Stockton, California.

He and his wife, Pricilla, have two sons, Leon Jr. (Chip) five years of age and Brian, three years old and will reside in the church parsonage located at 703 West 12th.

AUSTIN VISITORS
Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur C. Love of Austin stopped by the Dispatch office Monday afternoon to renew their paper. They were just passing through. Many will remember Mr. Love. He taught school here in the 60's.

LEON FLEMMER

Attends Youth Meeting
The Rev. Tom Pass returned home early Sunday morning from Montreat, N. C., where he attended the Presbyterian Church Youth Conference with a group of 17 high school students and four adults from the Palo Duro Union Presbytery. Some 1,146 Presbyterian youth from all over the nation attended the conference. The Rev. Pass in late July in Buffalo Gap, Tex., led a workshop in small church ministry for clergy, spouses, and lay leaders of the Tres Rios Presbytery.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Legal Services Corporation, a private, non-profit organization established by Congress to provide financial support for legal assistance to poor people in civil matters, will be allocating limited funds to establish new programs or expand existing programs, starting January 1, 1980, to serve eligible clients in various unserved counties throughout the United States.

Counties in Texas under consideration for this purpose include:

TEEN SCENE By Norm

Only 10 more days until the ole school bell begins to ring again and the last days of summer fade away. No more sleeping in til noon, no more watching the "soapies" on TV, no more water skiing or swimming at the pool. But most of the kids I have talked to are anxious for school to start and get back into the routine things again.

I owe David Foster and Benny Kennedy an apology. I promised them a month ago I would mention in the paper that they had attended a tennis camp at New Braunfels for a week. Somehow, this kept slipping my mind and now Benny isn't speaking to me. Hope this makes amends Benny!!!

All of the cheerleaders, twirlers, flag girls and horsemen looked real sharp in the rodeo parade last week.

Brad Greer visited in Austin and Dublin, Tex., recently with friends and relatives.

Barry Tyler won second place honors at the races last week in Lubbock and will be participating again this weekend along with Daniel Yarbro and others.

Band practice has been changed beginning tonight starting at 8 p.m. instead of 6. PARENTS: Don't forget the band booster meeting Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the band hall with ice cream social to follow.

For you girls out there that were interested in the driver of the pace car during the rodeo parade, I have my pictures back and I have an excellent shot of him and they are now on sale for $1 apiece.

I for one will be glad when school starts so I can find some column material again. Things are a little on the BLAH side.

Keep hanging in there football boys. It's going to get better!!!!!!

Woman hurt in car fall

Yvonne Sapp is in Lubbock Methodist hospital recovering from multiple injuries which resulted when she jumped or fell from a car on Pine street about 7 p.m. Monday. She was treated at Garza Memorial Hospital and taken to Methodist by ambulance.

Edgar Osby was treated in Garza Memorial Hospital for an accidental rifle wound in the leg last Thursday when he reportedly shot himself while practicing shooting in the country.

Charles Rodney Jones of Lubbock has been released on $1,000 bond on charges of DWI and possession of marijuana under two ounces. He was arrested here Sunday.

Steve Hays and Joe Baker were released Sunday on $750 surety bonds each after their arrests Saturday on charges of possession of marijuana under two ounces.

Tot Soto of Post was booked early Wednesday on two counts of assault and drunkenness.

Garza oil-

Based on Texas Employment Commission figures, some 256 oil and gas industry employees in the county received wages of about $3,300,000 in 1978, the highest Garza oil and gas payroll on record.

In the search for new petroleum reserves in the county, oil and gas operators spent a reported $11,600,000 in the drilling of 61 wells last year, including 20 wildcats or exploratory tests. This resulted in the completion of 36 new producers although some $4,900,000 was lost in the drilling of 25 dry holes.

The Dispatch conducted a survey of these annual reports on Garza's oil and

Decorated bike winners were Chad Morris on his "Red Barron", Chad Davis with "School Days" and Lance Bagby's "Texas Bull Rider" third.

The only parade disappointment was the failure of several riding clubs to show up. Only five riding clubs participated.

The Lubbock Saddle Club won the first place trophy in the riding club judging with the Dawson County sheriff's posse second and the Scurry County sheriff's posse, third. The Lubbock Rangers won the trophy as the best junior riding club.

Rusty Lawson and Tyra Hart received trophies as the outstanding little cowboy and cowgirl in the parade.

A very large group of mounted cowboys and cowgirls brought up the rear of the parade.

Other parade features, included, Richard Little of Jal, N.M., dressed as Indian leading Indian pony and Indian boy; Jane Hart and Lori Byrd, flag bearers, Post Sheriff Posse with Tina Greene, queen and Darla Jackson, sweetheart; Jim Jackson as Peto Bandito; Borden Milk train from Lubbock, Kiva Kart Patrol from Lubbock, Sunshine Sally, Lubbock TV personality, with trailer-full of local youngsters; gas production for the last 10 years with some interesting results.

Miss Becky Albers, queen of American Association of Sheriff Poses and Riding Clubs, from Abernathy; George R. Brown's mini oil derrick; 1979 Ralls Lions rodeo queen, Darlese Wilson; high school, freshman, and Middle school cheerleaders all throwing candy; plus all the other floats and riding clubs.

In the last nine years, for example, 560 oil wells have been drilled in the county with 399 of them completed as producers at a total cost of $63,950,000, with approximately $20,000,000 of this cost going into the drilling of 161 dry holes.

The cost of drilling has climbed tremendously over the last nine years. In 1970 it cost $67,977 to drill the average new producer in this county and $77,555 for the average dry hole.

Last year that cost has climbed to $186,111 for the average new producer and $196,000 for the average "duster."

Another interesting sideline is that total payments to Garza royalty owners in the last 10 years have exceeded $45,300,000, indicating it pays to have one or two on one's land.

The biggest jump for 1977 to 1978 in the oil and gas business in Garza were the big salary boosts paid to oil and gas workers. According to association figures, oil and gas workers in the county climbed from only 201 to 256 during the last year but the payroll jumped $1,200,000 from $1,900,000 to $3,300,000. Garza's oilfield payroll has climbed almost 300 percent in the last 10 years from $831,000 in 1969 to last year's $3,300,000.

Last year's 36 new producers was the lowest total of new wells put on the pump in five years. The high was 73 in 1976, with 68 in 1975, 65 in 1974 and 50 in 1977.

Ninety-three of the 406 Garza tests drilled in the last five years have been wildcats. The association does not provide figures

Morton---

(Continued From Page One) cigars around and offered Carter a lot of obnoxious advice. "They embarrassed the whole group," Morton said. The group included John Hill and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, neither of whom had been in the White House before.

Besides having a good "give and take session" with the President, the group were given briefings by Presidential Assistant Brzezinski on foreign policy and Salt II, Secretary of the Treasurer William Simon on the administration's anti-inflation program, Stewart Eizenstat, presidential assistant, on domestic policy and energy; Hamilton Jordon, Carter's chief of White House staff, and Bob Krueger, now special ambassador to Mexico. They lunched at the state department.

Morton said they were given a compact presentation containing lots of things "we don't hear out here in West Texas" such as a reduction of 20,000 in federal employees and Carter's halving of the budget deficit.

Morton said the visit didn't change his opinion of Carter, which is that "he is a very good man who is trying hard, made some early mistakes and is paying for them."

He said from what he heard all over Washington people in the capital think Carter is doing a good job.

showing the number of wildcat completions each year.

If you want to go away back to when Garza oil production began 53 years ago in 1926, the county has produced 162,760,000 barrels of oil up to Jan. 1, 1979.

One final statistic, the average barrel of oil pumped in Garza last year brought $9.23.

Whether you're in favor of that all-weather track or not (we are), you have to give Thompson credit. He wanted that track very badly, and he "sold" a majority of the school trustees on that need, and got it.

We know the Lopes are picked low in the district this year because many other clubs have a lot of talent and experience coming back. But we can't wait to see the Lopes get into action. We're pretty convinced Thompson and his coaches are going "to sell" those kids a lot of football in the next few weeks.

After the rodeo parade last Thursday, we got to thinking how nice it would be if somebody would put on a free barbecue for all the visiting riders who take part in the Post Stampede Rodeo parade.

Low and behold, Jim Jackson, the Post Posse president, has the same idea and reports the posse will host the barbecue if the Post Stampede rodeo association and the Post Chamber of Commerce will pay for the food. It's done at the other rodeos, he says — and it's time we did it here.

Then two weeks later Mrs. Sprayberry was called that they had again found the dog and would hold him for her to come for him. Mrs. Shirley Moore accompanied Mrs. Sprayberry to Ruidoso. This time they were told that when the police had found a temporary home for the dog and left him there, he had again escaped from the lady that was to keep him until Mrs. Sprayberry arrived.

Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Sprayberry searched the canyons around the ladies home and again returned home without the pet.

Mrs. Sprayberry was contacted the third time by a family that lived on the edge of the canyon outside Ruidoso. They told her the dog was hiding in the canyon and they had some small children who would see the dog come to their fence, but would not let them get near him. They began leaving food for him and he would stay out all day in the canyons and return to the food at night. They believed that he could be caught by his owner.

Mrs. Sprayberry had left a favorite toy with the first lady who was going to keep him and she sent the ball to the family. They got close enough one day to the dog to give him the ball, and he grabbed it and ran under a small shed near the couple's house. There he stayed, but still refused to be touched or caught and would only take the food left for him.

Mrs. Sprayberry again, accompanied by some friends, went to Ruidoso and went to the couple's house. She approached the shed and called the dog and he came out to look at her, but would not come to her. Only when she said "let's go see Sprayberry" did the dog finally come to her.

She is overjoyed to have her pet home again. She
