Middle school term to start in grid stadium

When Post schools open at 8:30 a.m. Monday for the first day of the 1979-80 school year, middle school students are asked to assemble in the east stands of Antelope

Stadium — providing it's not raining. That's a tipoff as to how far things are running behind on the big junior high school remodeling and expansion project. Principal Bud Davis told The Dispatch Wednesday the race this week was to get five first floor classrooms "ready" for students and teachers. That means getting the rest of the classroom carpet. If this goal can be accomplished each teacher and her students will have a classroom of their own. The classrooms will be without electricity, and some of their ceilings won't be finished, but they should at least serve their basic purpose.

Davis said the electricity should be hooked up before the first week is out.

The new learning center and dressing rooms will be completed later. The gym can't be used either because none of the work has been completed on it yet, and it is full of school furniture, according to Davis.

High school students will meet Monday morning at 8:30 in the high school gym for a general session and introduction of faculty members.

Following the meeting in the gym, home room meetings will be held with the remainder of the day spent in regular classrooms on regular school schedules.

First day instructions for the primary and elementary school students are more involved.

Principal Dan Rankin announces the first bell will ring at 8:15 a.m. Monday and the tardy bell at 8:35.

Kindergarten and first graders are to enter the east front doors of the primary building. Second graders are to enter the main entrance, third graders are to enter the west front doors.

Lists of teachers, students and rooms will be posted in the halls of their respective areas.

Half day kindergarten students will be dismissed at 11:20 a.m. Half day afternoon students will start at 12:20 p.m. and be dismissed at 3 p.m.

There will be an early dismissal for the kindergarten and first grade the first three weeks of school — at 1:30 p.m.

Second and third grade dismissal will be at 3 p.m. and fourth and fifth grade dismissals at 3:45 p.m.

Parents of children who do not ride the school bus must arrange for them to come home at 3 p.m. if they are in kindergarten, first, second or third grades instead of waiting at school. Bus pupils and only bus pupils will be supervised until the buses run at 4 p.m.

The new school faculty, with emphasis on the new, gathered Wednesday morning for three days of preparations for the start of school.

Of the approximately 78 teachers, 25 of them will be in Post for their first year. One position remains to be

Jackson heads band boosters

Jim Jackson was elected president of the Antelope Band Booster Club when they met for their organizational meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Giles Dalby was appointed secretary-treasurer and Billy Green was appointed vice-president.

Approximately 85 parents, interested citizens and band members met for the get acquainted ice cream supper. Steven Clary, new band director, outlined his hopes and plans for the coming year and asked for the support of not only band parents, but anyone interested in helping support the Antelope Band.

Memberships will be sold to the Band boosters club and can be purchased from band boosters or the band director.

Dangers of alcoholism are cited to Rotarians

Father Malcolm Neyland, who is Garza county chairman of the West Texas Council on Drugs and Alcoholism, gave Post Rotarians "a blackboard lecture" on alcoholism at the club's Tuesday luncheon in the community center.

He started out by saying that alcoholism is involved in 64 percent of U. S. homicides, 30 percent of its suicides, 20 percent of its aircraft accidents, 50 percent of fatal automobile accidents, 58 percent of all fire deaths, 45 percent of drownings, and even 20 percent of narcotic deaths.

Neyland termed alcoholism "one of the worst social diseases" in America today. He called alcoholism "a disease just like cancer. Both are terminal."

Neyland traced the many diseases, some of them cancers, caused by alcohol. (See Alcoholism, Page 14)

Garza hospital head resigns

Garza Memorial Hospital directors are looking for a new hospital administrator after accepting the resignation of Ed Zintgraff from that position effective Sept. 1.

Zintgraff, who submitted his resignation at the start of the hospital board's August meeting last Thursday night, has accepted the hospital administrator's position for the Yoakum County Hospital in Denver City.

He will have served here as administrator for 23 months when he leaves for the greater opportunity of the 45-bed hospital in Denver City.

Directors set a special meeting for 8 a.m. Saturday to consider applicants for hospital administrator.

In other major actions last Thursday night, the board:

1. Received a request from County Judge Giles Dalby to participate equally with city and county in the financing of the new 15-county, hospital-ambulance communications network. The total cost share for this county is $4,500.

2. Adopted a unit dose system of hospital medication providing the contracting firm accepts the hospital board's proposal to finance the $3,500 system.

See Hospital board, Page 14

Dalby put on action board

County Judge Giles Dalby was named by the Garza County Commissioners Court last week as this county's representative on the South Plains Community Action Board.

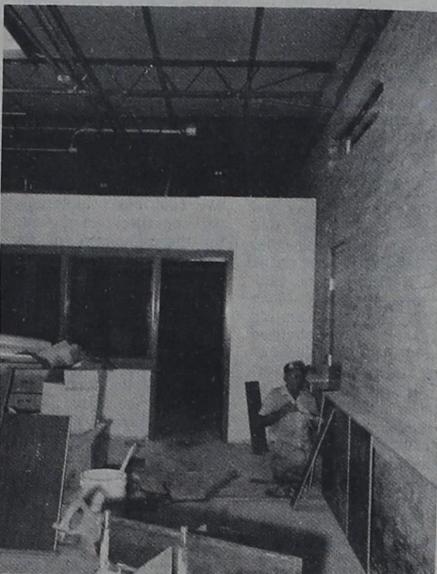

Jack Alexander was appointed as the alternate.

Ruby Kirkpatrick and Kathryn Cathcart appeared before the board to request $2,400 next year for the Algerita Senior Citizens Center and $2,000 for the Meals on Wheels program.

The court took the request under advisement and will make a budget decision on the requests at a meeting next Monday.

J. R. Johnson discussed the city-county park situation with the court.

The bond of Faye Cockrell, clerk in the county clerk's office, was accepted by the court and the termination request of Bill Posey on the maintenance of the sheriff's radio equipment was accepted effective Aug. 31.

Stenholm to speak today

Post officially received 1.84 inches of rain in two showers Friday afternoon and evening and a much heavier one early Tuesday morning.

The two Friday showers brought .51 of an inch total and the Tuesday one brought 1.33 inches. These give Post a total of 2.20 inches of moisture this month.

Rural areas reported no damaging hail in any of the thunderstorms.

"The meeting will begin at 10:30 a.m. in the Post Community Center.

Congressman Stenholm, who was elected to the 96th Congress in 1978, is a member of the committee on agriculture with subcommittee assignments to cotton, dairy and poultry, livestock and grains, oilseeds and rice.

He is also assigned to the committee on post office and civil service with subcommittee assignment to investigations.

In other areas of Congressional work Stenholm was elected treasurer of the 96th new members caucus. He is an active member of the balanced budget caucus, congressional alcohol fuels caucus, congressional energy task force (Chairman of Subcommittee on independent oil producers), congressional rural caucus, congressional solar coalition, forum on regulation and sun belt caucus.

'Lope night' due Tuesday

"Meet the Antelope Night" is scheduled for 6 p.m. Tuesday evening, Aug. 28, in Antelope Stadium.

An ice cream supper also is planned for the fans who turn out to see all the 1979 football candidates — seventh grade through high school varsity — introduced along with their coaches.

The Antelope Booster Club held its first meeting here Monday night to get things rolling.

Booster caps in "bold gold" are being sold as well as annual membership.

The Antelope Stadium refreshment stands will have something mighty new and attractive this fall which is sure to attract plenty of comment, thanks to the First National Bank. They are large plastic cups in Antelope colors in which soft drinks will be served. The yellow cups, which probably will be taken home by a lot of customers contain the Antelope head, Lopes and Does, and the Post School song. Principal Joe Giddens popped into The Dispatch last Wednesday with several just too late to make last week's paper. Needless to say school authorities are mighty appreciative of this contribution by the bank to the local sports scene.

The discussion turned to Christmas planning at the chamber of commerce directors meeting at the bank Monday night. Why talk Christmas in August? Because planning consumes so much downtime, that's why.

Post's holiday promotions over the last 15 or 20 years were recalled and we raised the point of whether the "old fashioned Christmases" we all used to know are gone forever.

For example, try to fly Santa into Post for a pre-Christmas visit in a helicopter today and you'll be surprised at all the difficulties and restrictions.

That raises another point. Do today's youngsters — and their parents — want to get involved anymore in a small town's Christmas plans. Merchants several years ago found out it was so difficult to get the high school band downtown on a December Saturday afternoon they quit asking. The kids wanted to be a dozen other places.

Cash giveaways have been "worn out" here, which is (See Postings, Page 14)

Principal door prizes were won as follows:

A step up the ladder

The resignation of Ed Zintgraff as hospital administrator here for a bigger opportunity in Denver City with a bigger hospital is something most of us could foresee.

As an able, hard working administrator, Zintgraff after nearly two years here is leaving Garza Memorial Hospital in far better shape than that in which he found it.

His accomplishments in close cooperation with a strong hospital board of directors are many.

He helped to solve this community's "doctor problem" by establishing a foreign doctor under contract in a "doctor's suite" in the hospital and through the hospital providing clerical help.

He has carried through the details of a long-needed hospital renovation program with water, heating, and air-conditioning. He has guided the city-county ambulance service and our Emergency Medical Technicians program to fulfillment.

Most small communities hire men like Zintgraff only to lose them within a fairly short time to bigger opportunities elsewhere. This is the way America works.

In the not too distant future, we will hire a new administrator to fill the vacancy left by Ed's departure. Life here will go on as usual.

But behind, Ed will leave a hospital greatly improved from his two active years of leadership.

Denver City has experienced many hospital problems too, very similar to those here in Post. Picking Zintgraff should be an excellent choice for them. His many friends here wish him well.

New taxpayers revolt

Howard Jarvis, that 76-year-old "spiritual leader" of millions of California taxpayers who crushed all political opposition to adopt Proposition 13 and cut seven billion dollars off the tax total of that state, has gone national.

Jarvis, who got his start in Utah as a weekly newspaper publisher, now heads the non-profit American Tax Reduction Movement — ATRM — which seeks to pass the American Tax Reduction Act of 1979. The proposal has been introduced into congress.

Its principal provisions are (1) to reduce personal federal income taxes 25 percent across the board, (2) cut federal spending 20 percent, (3) balance the budget — in fact create a budget surplus, (4) reduce the capital gains tax to a minimum of 15 percent, which would cut it just about in half, (5) apply all budget surpluses to reducing the national debt, (6) limit federal government spending to 18 percent of all American spending — it currently is more than 22 percent and rising, and (7) end government caused inflation, totally, forever.

These are the kind of goals most middle class Americans will embrace. "For the last 50 years I have seen our federal government abandon, one by one — and sometimes in bunches — the great free enterprise economic principles which made our country great," Jarvis says in his letters into Post over the weekend, asking for local support.

"Bureaucrats create nothing but paperwork," Jarvis writes. "I want to live to see government reduced to its much smaller size. To see government spending permanently limited to a size we can afford. To see taxes reduced at least to 1960 levels. To see ruinous inflation halted, permanently. To see government meddling with our businesses and professions sharply reduced. Free our economy from the chains of government and you will see the greatest nation on earth, re-create the most fantastic economic miracle in the history of man."

Jarvis asks those to whom he is sending letters to sign an enclosed petition to congress to pass the American Tax Reduction Act.

He also asks for contributions of $25 and up to finance the American Tax Reduction Movement so that millions more may be enlisted in the cause.

Jarvis says during the last six months of 1978, the ATRM distributed over 10 million pieces of tax fighting literature to families all across the nation. Almost 225,000 have joined the movement paying dues averaging a little over $25 each.

Jarvis warns: "The old spenders coalition of welfare recipients and workers, politicians, ultra-liberals, social planners and socialists, bureaucrats and labor union bosses are mounting a massive campaign against us. We will lose unless we, the American people, keep the heat on congress."

Certainly, we have seen enough of the American scene to know that we can't cut the horrendous size of government, loosen the bonds on business and industry, balance the budget, and cut the taxes by relying on political leadership. The only way is a true taxpayers revolt at the ballot box.

COTTON TODAY

A NATIONAL COTTON COUNCIL SERVICE

Producers Air Views

Cotton producers aired their views to a key White House leader this week on concerns ranging from energy to farm water policy. Lynn Daft, the Administration's associate director for domestic policy, participated in a roundtable discussion at a joint meeting of the National Cotton Council's Producer Steering Committee and the Industrywide Energy Committee in Dallas. He assured the group that the Administration shares farmers' concern over the energy situation, and said USDA and other agencies are keeping close check on agriculture's fuel supply through weekly monitoring. The wide-ranging discussion also covered agricultural research funds, farm policy, 160-acre limitations, and the forthcoming "dialogue" on the structure of U. S. agriculture.

public sectors shows that strong demand for diesel fuel could result in spot shortages in several areas of the Belt before the year's end. In Texas and Oklahoma, the survey showed diesel fuel availability may worsen, especially during the harvest season, if demand grows and supplies do not. The gasoline supply is currently sufficient and more should become available as the year ends. Natural gas also is in ample supply. Council economists say fuel costs generally will continue increasing for the remainder of the year.

Industrywide Energy Committee Chairman Mike Maros, Fabens, Tex., said the loss of agriculture's priority for diesel fuel, rising energy prices, and other developments have increased the cotton industry's concern. "What we are now experiencing is perhaps an early warning signal of the problems we may face in the long term if a sound, national policy is not adopted and vigorously pursued," he stated.

Exports Hit 18-Year High
USDA's Office of General Sales Manager reported this week that shipments of 60,700 running bales during the last two days of the 1978-79 marketing year brought the season's total to 6,009,900 running bales, highest since the 1960-61 years.

Meanwhile, total commitments for 1979-80 marketing year rose to 3,799,900 during the week of August 5, including a 902,900 - bale carryover from 1978-79. New sales of 265,100 bales included the purchase of 105,200 by Korea. Other major buyers were Japan, Canada, and China.

Soil test fees boosted

LUBBOCK — Fees for soil and irrigation water tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service soil testing laboratories will increase Sept. 1.

The increase in fees is necessitated by the increase in the costs of chemicals, equipment and labor, said Dr. Dale Pennington, soil chemist in charge of the soil testing laboratory at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center here. Beginning Sept. 1, the Extension laboratories will charge $4 for each regular soil fertility test, which now costs $2. A test of soil fertility plus testing for zinc, iron and manganese will cost $7 instead of $5. Testing for soil salinity, which now costs $4, will increase to $7. Irrigation water tests will cost $8 instead of $5.

Goodness is the only investment that never fails.

LETTERS to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I don't want to write to the man or men that poisoned our fish, I want to write about them.

We bought most of those fish seven or eight years ago. They weighed from two to four pounds then. We fed them and I spent hours watching them take their feed and at times it looked like they were trying to do tricks.

When the tank almost went dry in 1977 we moved them to our irrigation tank and have been pumping fresh water every week or ten days to them.

I went over there last week and no less than three dozen Buzzards flew off. I just knew there had to be a dead cow there, but when I drove upon the dam, what I saw was at least 200 pounds of what had been big beautiful catfish.

I feel like who ever did that was trying to get even with me for something, and brother they did. I hope none of you will ever have to feel the way I felt when I saw that awful sight.

That was by far the lowest blow I ever had. I don't hate them, I pity them and I think that anyone that would do a thing like that is almost ready for a mental institution.

Those were not my fish, half of them belonged to Tom, Janie and Jana, in fact half of everything out there is Toms and if he catches you doing something like that he might box your jaws.

U. S. cotton estimate same

RALEIGH — While adjustments have been made in the estimates for some regions, a total U. S. cotton crop of 14 million bales is still expected this year by Cotton Incorporated, the fiber company of American cotton producers.

The crop estimate is contained in the August issue of the Cotton Summary monthly publication of Cotton Incorporated's Economic Research and Development Division. It is based on conditions in late July and average weather to harvest.

By regions, the latest crop estimates are: West, 4.9 million bales; South-west, 5.7 million bales; Mid-South, 2.7 million bales; and Southeast, 600,000 bales.

Foreign cotton production in 1979-80 is estimated at 50.5 million bales, unchanged from the previous month's figure. This would result in total world production of 64.5 million bales, 4.7 million bales more than 1978-79 production.

Cotton Incorporated now estimates foreign cotton use in 1978-79 at 55.9 million bales, 1.2 million bales more than the previous year. Domestic mill use is estimated at 6.3 million bales for the 1978-79 cotton marketing year, which ended July 31, and 6 million bales in 1979-80. The decline in cotton use is likely, said the Cotton Incorporated economist, because of the slowdown in the economy.

Nature never did betray the heart that loved her.

Wilson church scene of Brieger-Cross nuptials

Wedding vows were pledged between Lana Nell Brieger and Ricky Kyle Cross Saturday, Aug. 18 in St. John's Lutheran Church of Wilson.

Rev. Bob Zacarias, pastor, performed the 7 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Leonard Brieger and the late Mr. Leonard Brieger and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Cross of Post.

Presented in marriage by Leland Brieger, brother of the bride, she wore a formal length gown of silken organza with scattered motifs of venice lace. The sheer V-neck line was styled in venice lace and the sheer Bishop sleeves were complimented by lace designs on the sleeves and cuffs. The gown was gracefully gathered at the back and venice lace edged the hemline of the dress which swept into a chapel length train. Her headpiece was a mid-length veil of illusion lace edged with daisies and sprinkled with motifs. The bridal bouquet was a nosegay bouquet atop a lace covered Bible with mini pink carnations and pink flowers with baby's breath and streamers.

Miss Donna Brieger served her sister as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Lynn Perkins, cousin of the bride of Slaton, Mrs. Debbie Funk, sister of the groom of Sweetwater and Mrs. Carol George, aunt of the bride of El Paso. They wore formal length gowns of Silesta swiss rose with a blouson bodice and split sleeves with a full A-line pleated skirt. They carried long stemmed silk roses accented with baby's breath and ribbons.

McBride-Norman vows exchanged

Leah Anetta McBride and Kevin Earl Norman exchanged traditional wedding vows Friday, Aug. 10 in the First Baptist Church Chapel of Brownfield.

Rev. Jack Garrett, First Christian Church pastor, performed the 7:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Auvy L. McBride of Brownfield and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams and Lester Nichols all of Post. Parents of the groom are Myron Norman and Joyce Norman.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of chantilly lace. The bodice featured a portrait neckline reembrodered with lace and seed pearls on English netting. The bust line featured a circular ruffle of crystal pleating trimmed in silk venise lace and cluney lace. The full sleeves were of chantilly lace and ended with ruffles of crystal pleating at the wrist. The three tiered skirt of chantilly lace swept to a chapel train. Each tier was edged in venise and cluney lace. Around the natural waistline was a satin ribbon trimmed in venise lace that tied to a bow in back. The bridal headpiece was a finger tip length, circular styled veil, edged in lace matching that of the gown. The sheer illusion was softly gathered to the back of a Juliet cap with silk venise lace. The cap was delicately sprinkled with seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was a Flemish nosegay fashioned of white silk daisies and blue miniature apple blossoms embellished with baby's breath and white lace and satin ribbon. Carrying out the tradition the bride wore the gold wedding ring that had belonged to her maternal great-grandmother for something old; something new, her gown; something blue, her garter and borrowed pennies minted in the year of her and the groom's birth in her shoe.

Serving as maid of honor was Debbie Jordan of Brownfield, and bridesmaids were Jane Lindsey, Betty Bartley and Andrea McBride, sister of the bride, all of Brownfield. They wore identical dresses of soft blue iridescent chiffon over crepe featuring a rounded neckline, butterfly sleeves and blouson bodices. The gathered skirts were tied at the waist with string belts and accented with side slits. They wore sprigs of baby's breath in their hair and carried nosegays like that of the bride except of blue silk marguerite daisies and white miniature carnations accented with baby's breath and white satin ribbons.

Serving as best man was Steve Jones of Plains and groomsmen were Terry Barrier of Meadow, Auvy McBride, Jr., brother of the bride, Brownfield and Rodney Bond, brother-in-law of the groom, Sulpha, Ok.

Acting as ushers were Lanny Casewell, Meadow, David McBride, uncle of the bride, Lubbock and Neil Moore, Bay City.

Wedding music was provided by Leonard Ellington, organist, and Dereesa Chidester, pianist, and David McBride, soloist, who sang "The Twelfth of Never," "The Lord's Prayer," and "You Light Up My Life."

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with his attendants wearing white coats with black pants.

A reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray D. Anderson with the bride's table covered with a floor length ecru tablecloth topped with an overlay of lace. A four-tiered wedding cake decorated with blue flowers was topped with white satin wedding bells and doves. Greek columns separated the tiers. The bride and groom toasted each other with ornate silver goblets. A circular table was covered with a wheat colored floor length linen cloth on the groom's table where finger sandwiches, cheese balls and other treats were served to the guests.

Members of the house party were Liz Scaggs, Brownwood, Billie Andress, Fort Worth, Agnes Bowen, Synder and Linda Furry, Sedan, Kansas; Mrs. Rodney Bond, Oklahoma, Mrs. Robert Qualls and Mrs. Jerry Day, aunts of the groom, Denise and Alana Day, cousins of the groom, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. San Chaffin, Mrs. Ray Anderson, Ann Anderson, Sandra Dye, Judy Dugger and Paulette Jones. Guests were registered by Laura Andress of Fort Worth, cousin of the bride. Rice bags were distributed by Beth Bowen of Snyder, cousin of the bride, and Denise Day, cousin of the groom.

Damage by rats mainly to property

COLLEGE STATION — More than $123,000 in confirmed rat damage to feed, food and property was reported last year by the 13 field offices of TRPACS.

However, control service officials indicated the estimates of unreported and unconfirmed rat damage are at least 10 times higher.

Foreign investors like Texas land

SPEARMAN — According to preliminary totals, Texas is the leading target of foreign investors in U. S. farm land, Tony T. Dechant, President of the National Farmers Union, reported here Monday.

Speaking at the County Barn, at a session sponsored by Farmers Union county organizations of the Northern Panhandle area, Dechant said that about 9 percent of the foreign investments in U. S. farm land involved Texas properties and that a majority of the acquisitions have taken place during the past three or four years.

Dechant said the alien investment information is based on the first returns under the Foreign Agricultural Investment Disclosure Act. Foreign investors, who had an interest in U. S. farm land as of February 1, 1979, when the law became effective, were required to disclose such holdings to the county ASCS Office in which the land is situated. Investors acquiring an interest in U. S. Farm property after February 1, or hereafter, have 90 days within which to make the disclosure.

"Farmers Union was instrumental in persuading Congress to approve the Disclosure Act last October," Dechant said, "because people have a right to know the truth about the invasion of foreign capital. We maintained that once the people have the facts, they can determine whether the legislature should impose restrictions."

The Farmers Union official observed that in several states a Reporting or Disclosure Law was the initial step preceding state legislation to limit corporate or alien farm ownership.

Dechant termed the influx of foreign capital into U. S. agriculture "unnecessary, disruptive and destabilizing."

"Of course, there has been a capital crunch of varying severity for several years, but the real problem is a lack of farm income," he explained. "If farmers had decent farm income, there would be no problem obtaining necessary borrowed funds for production purposes."

Dechant said that a recent general accounting office (GAO) spot survey of 148 counties in 10 states also revealed some disturbing data on alien investment in Texas agriculture.

The average price paid by foreign investors for Texas farm land was about $250 an acre higher than the average paid by domestic purchasers in the same counties, he related.

An alarming percentage of the alien owners — about 20 percent — were in the process of changing land use, GAO reported, for example, from range land to cropland in Texas.

Only about 12 percent of the foreign investors, reported in the GAO study, participated in USDA Soil Conservation activities and other farm programs.

Dechant said that the GAO Report reveals that a high proportion of foreign purchases is being concealed through the notorious Caribbean Tax Haven, the Netherlands Antilles. The report says that about 36 percent nationally and about 40 percent of Texas transactions are so handled, to conceal ultimate ownership and to obtain a virtual federal tax-free status.

It's a fact that the United States is now importing 8,400,000 barrels of oil per day at an annual cost of more than $50,000,000,000.

Only FOUR more days and counting and to get you in the mood for all those fun activities during school, don't forget the first scrimmage of the Post Antelopes in Antelope Stadium Friday night against the Ralls Jackrabbits. Just a sneak preview of exciting things to happen.

Then to follow up, a "Back to School" dance will be held Saturday night in the community center with the "Music Machine" furnishing the lights and sound. 9 to 12 with $2 per person and $3.50 a couple. See ya there!!

In the I FORGOT LAST WEEK COLUMN: Chuck Black and family visited in Dallas and attended the Texas Rangers baseball games. And Amy and Dana Babb returned home from Ruidoso following a week's stay in the Pines.

Kathy Kirkpatrick brought her cousin, Ryla Bouchier to visit at the Youth Center last week. Ryla lives in Houston.

Barry Tyler brought home honors again following the races in Lubbock last week. The big race is scheduled this week when a $2100 purse is being offered. (Not the kind you carry, but the kind you can put in the bank). Good luck to all the Post riders participating.

ON YOUR SOCIAL CALENDAR: Don't forget the "Meet the Antelopes" night and ice cream supper Tuesday, Aug. 28 in Antelope Stadium beginning at 6 p. m. You can also purchase your "Bold Gold" caps at that time, then you won't have to be stealing someone else's.

Happy Birthday this week goes out to Melissa Tatum who turned 17 Wednesday.

The football boys looked as if they enjoyed the "watermelon feast" Tuesday evening sponsored by the varsity cheerleaders. I think they had more of it "on" them instead of "in" them. STICKY!!

Summer jobs are coming to a close and kids are packing to leave for college. Details next week of where and whom and how come.

Jerri "Oz" is visiting in Idalou this week with a friend, Pam Baker.

Mike Sullivan has made his arrival back in town. Glad to have him back.

So sorry to hear of Jimmy Ticer's misfortune. He is starting all over with his broken leg. We all sincerely hope he is on the mend again and will get to come home real soon. Keep your chin up Jimmy.

O. K. BIG ANTELOPES, show your stuff against Ralls Friday night to start things off right for the big season ahead.

See ya at the dance!!!

Six Lope starting berths still up for grabs

Ralls due Friday for scrimmage

Head Coach David Thompson had plenty of praise for his Antelope footballers this week and said they are looking forward to their scrimmage in Antelope Stadium here Friday night with the Ralls Jackrabbits.

The scrimmage will get under way at 5:30 p.m. Thompson said the JV squads of the two schools probably will get the first 30 minutes of work with the varsities taking the field around 6 p.m.

Thompson told The Dispatch the Lopes' intersquad scrimmage Saturday morning went well. "We moved the ball well and there was lots of enthusiasm and aggressive play," Thompson commented.

"We're putting in a new defense and it wasn't as well coordinated as it will be later," he added.

The injury bug hit the Lopes in their first practice week.

Noel Pena, starting middle linebacker, was sidelined for four weeks Friday with a dislocated kneecap.

Mike Macy, another leterman, will be held out a week after reinjuring a knee he hurt during the summer in a motorcycle accident.

Drew Kirkpatrick, 145-pound junior, has been moved into the starting quarterback roll and has shown the ability to throw the ball.

Rance Adkins, who was the regular signal caller a year ago, has been shifted to tailback where he is involved in a battle with Alonzo Luna and Charles Curtis for the starting job as a ball carrier.

Barry Wyatt, returning junior letterman, will be the Lopes' fullback.

The wingback job is up for grabs among Jackie Ayala, Russell Fluitt and Jimmy Pruitt.

There are also battles for starting position on the "quick side" of the offensive line. Lenny Drake and Mark Holly are competing for the quick end assignment, Deb Palmer and Brent Mason for quick tackle, and Lance Dunn and Kelly Mason for quick guard.

The rest of the offensive line is pretty well set with Benny Kennedy at center and lettermen Lynn Simpson at strong guard, Chuck Black at strong tackle, and Jackie Stelzer at strong end.

Right now the defensive unit is shaping up this way:

Linebackers are Larry Rodriguez, Russell Fluitt, and Kelly Mason.

The secondary is composed of Alonzo Luna, Adkins, Drake and either Walter Perez or Mike Macy who are battling for the fourth position.

Coach Thompson says Simpson, Kennedy and Palmer have been very sharp in the line, Dunn and Macy are having a real scrap for starting guard, and that Kirkpatrick is throwing well.

The coaching staff is well pleased with the Lopes' attitude and aggressiveness so far.

There's a possibility that six Lopes will be starting both ways, on offense and defense. Four of them are lettermen — Simpson, Palmer, Stelzer and Luna. The other two are Kelly Mason and Lenny Drake.

Several are involved in real position battles so this remains only a possibility for some of them to start both ways.

Of the 21 probable starters or candidates involved in battles for starting jobs, 13 are seniors and eight are juniors. With Noel Pena, now sidelined, also a junior, that puts nine juniors right in the thick of things at the start of the season.

Forecast is good for dove season

LUBBOCK — The dove forecast for the north zone of Texas is good according to reports from Texas Parks and Wildlife Department personnel and hunters should find ample birds on the annual opening day, September 1.

The dove is a migratory game bird affected by both food and weather conditions and local populations can and will change between now and the first of the season.

Ample rains in Texas have produced good weed and wild sunflower patches and water holes for the birds and hunters should find doves at any of these areas.

The counties off the caprock are well-known for their high dove populations and good to excellent dove populations were observed in mid-August.

Northern dove hunters are hoping for some warm, dry weather to

DRIVE BY THE RULES

SAVE SCHOOL CHILDREN'S LIVES

Mr. & Mrs. Motorist: POST SCHOOLS WILL OPEN Monday, Aug. 27

It isn't that children mean to be careless . . . it's just that in their zest and vitality they sometimes forget to stop, look and listen before crossing the street. It isn't that we mean to be careless, yet the very car we drive may be considered a lethal weapon and the consequences of our negligence could be fatal. It is our moral obligation to be extra alert these days when school children crowd the crosswalks!

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Governor Bill Clements, never one to pull his punches, tilted the political gyroscope again last week with new statements on the promised special session — and left Capitol watchers scrambling to place new bets.

The Governor, speaking to members of the Texas Public Employees Association, said he sympathized with their need for a salary increase to fight inflation and would consider including raises in an upcoming special session.

Many topics have been suggested for that special session, and if Clements added to the list last week, he also discarded the possibility of including a presidential primary bill in his promised call. On his televised "Governor's Report," Clements ruled out the primary, and added he might wait until August or September, 1980 to call the special session.

That timing would move the special session to just before the general election, instead of just before the primary election in the spring, as Clements had earlier indicated he would do. Speculation has it that Clements, in the interest of building a two-party state, will call the special session to distract legislative incumbents from their respective elections, thus creating advantages for their mostly Republican opponents.

Supporters of Clements stress that he is more interested in passing his initiative and referendum and wire-tapping bills, and the close timing of the special call will pressure lawmakers to vote his way.

Clayton Opposes Unionization

Speaker of the House Bill Clayton, also addressing the TPEA meeting, warned that unionization of state employees would result in disruption of government and disension among workers.

"Any fight for unionization would pit state employees against state taxpayers. Any such fight would produce only losers."

The 31,800-member TPEA is Texas' largest state employee organization and officially opposes unionization of state workers.

Clayton now joins Clements and Hobby as top-ranking state officials who oppose the unionization concept proposed by State Comptroller Bob Bullock at a recent Texas AFL-CIO meeting.

Bullock defended his concept again last week, saying that private firms were hiring away top state workers because state pay is too low.

"Thousands of our state workers are eligible for food stamps, but are too proud to apply for them," Bullock told reporters on a television program.

Bullock called on Clements to include "a living wage" in the special session.

Border Oil Commission?

Railroad Commission Chairman John Poerner has raised the idea of a border oil commission between the United States and Mexico to oversee oil drilling in the Gulf of Mexico.

Poerner last week wrote to President Jimmy Carter and Mexico President Jose Lopez Portillo urging them to consider the joint commission to develop petroleum resources in the Gulf. Drifting oil spills could be prevented or minimized, he theorized.

The present oil spill in the Gulf, which is sending large patches of oil and "tar balls" up onto Texas beaches may be opening energy doors between Texas and Mexico.

Governor Clements thinks he is opening up "a whole new exchange" with Mexican leaders, and criticized the press for "overstating" the ill effects of the largest oil spill in history. "It's like squealing before you're hurt, and we're not hurt yet."

Clements also nixed the idea of Texas suing Mexico for damages to Texas beaches, and predicted the oil well will be capped soon. He also warned Texans to prepare themselves for $1.50-per-gallon gasoline in the future.

Lawmaker Eyes Switch

Dallas State Rep. Clay Smothers, an ultraconservative black Democrat, said he will switch parties and challenge Democratic U.S. Rep. Martin Frost next year. Smothers is the first to publicly announce he will change political parties next year, and he is not expected to be alone.

Governor Clements predicts maybe 30 Democratic office-holders will switch parties before the 1980 elections.

Another touted crossover possibility is Rep. Douglas McCleod of Galveston, who may leave the Democrats to run against Sen. A. R. Schwartz as a Republican.

Meanwhile, State Rep. Wayne Peveto intends to remain a Democrat if he runs for State Comptroller Bullock's seat. Peveto, a "lawyer-farmer" from Orange, authored the new state property tax code and may make the race if Bullock retires from politics—or runs for Governor of Texas.

Cotton's target price is 57.7¢

Target price for 1979 crop upland cotton will be 57.7 cents per pound, the same as the preliminary target price announced Dec. 26, Luther Bilberry, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee here, announced this week.

Since the target price is used as a base to determine disaster payments, the 1979 disaster payment rate will be one-third of the target, or 19.2 cents per pound, Bilberry said.

Disaster payments are made if the producer is prevented from planting cotton or other non-converting crop, or if yields are substantially reduced. ASCS county offices may now begin making 1979 disaster payments to eligible cotton producers.

The target price also is the basis for a later determination of any deficiency payments to upland producers.

If the national average price received by farmers during the 1979 calendar year is less than 57.7 cents per pound, cotton producers will receive a deficiency payment at a rate equal to the difference between the highest of such average prices or the local level of 50.23 cents.

Bilberry said to receive disaster or deficiency payments on upland cotton, farmers must comply with the 1979 set-aside requirements for any wheat and feed grains on the farm.

Don't overlook safety when sewing — a few precautions are well worth the effort.

Develop a habit of keeping pins and needles in their right place — a pin cushion, caddy, box or other container.

Pins and needles carelessly stuck in the arm of a chair, on a bed or scattered on the floor are a sure accident waiting for a victim.

Store scissors, seam rippers and other sharp pointed tools in a secure place where children cannot reach them and where they cannot be sat on or run into.

When handing scissors to another person, hold them with the handle toward the other person.

Arrange electrical cords for the sewing machine and iron so no one can trip over them.

When not in use, take the precaution to unplug cords from the outlet.

When pressing with steam, keep fingers away from the steam vents, and don't lean over into live steam.

Never rest the soleplate of the iron directly on the ironing-board cover when the iron is turned on.

Always allow the iron to cool before storing.

When changing the sewing machine needle, tighten the needle clamp screw an extra one-fourth to one-half turn with a screwdriver after tightening by hand.

This helps insure that the needle will not loosen when sewing, fall out, break or fly into the face.

In planning their income tax strategies for 1979, farmers and ranchers should consider new tax provisions.

Numerous changes due to the 1978 Revenue Act can affect income tax planning, points out Dr. Ashley Lovell, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System.

For example, owners of single - purpose livestock, poultry or horticultural structures are eligible for investment credit beginning with tax years ending after Aug. 15, 1971. This includes buildings used to breed chickens or hogs, product milk from dairy cattle, and produce feeder cattle or pigs, broiler chickens and eggs. The investment credit rate is 10 percent on fully qualifying items, including up to $100,000 of used property in any tax year.

According to Lovell, the law also allows a 10 percent investment credit for rehabilitation of existing buildings used in all types of businesses, except residential. Expenditures must have been made after Oct. 31, 1978 on buildings in use for at least 20 years. Of course, it's important to depreciate rehabilitation costs.

As a result of the Revenue Act, cost-sharing payments after Sept. 30, 1979 from conservation programs may be excluded from gross income. These programs qualify: Emergency Conservation, Agricultural Conservation, Great Plains Conservation, Rural Clean Water, Rural Abandoned Mine, Water Bank, Resource Conservation and Resource Conservation and Development, Forestry Incentive and Small Watershed. Also included are certain state conservation programs.

Before deciding to exclude income from those programs from gross income, Lovell encourages investigation of basis adjustment, investment credit, depreciation, impact upon recipients income, and recapture provisions under the 1978 Revenue Act. Also, determine the necessity for timing the receipt of such payments.

Farmers and ranchers should also take a look at the Energy Act of 1978 which provides for a refundable energy credit for business investment in solar and wind energy property acquired or constructed after Sept. 30, 1978. The credit equals 10 percent of the qualified investment in solar or wind energy property.

The Energy Act also allows for tax relief on energy-saving home improvements installed during 1979. A 15 percent credit (up to $300) can be claimed for such items as insulation, exterior storm or (thermal) windows, caulking or weather stripping.

Lovell encourages producers to consult a tax accountant or attorney regarding business details.

Beef producers' comments asked

The United States Department of Agriculture is asking for comments from beef producers concerning the beef referendum and certain proposals the secretary of agriculture will consider.

The proposed amendments provide for (1) voting by secret ballot, (2) reducing the registration and voting periods from 12 days to 4 days, (3) Reducing the number of producers needed to approve the issuance of a beef research and information order from two thirds to a majority of the producers voting in a referendum. (4) Reducing the time allowed for challenging a producer's eligibility to register and vote; and (5) Reducing the time for the county ASCS executive director to make a determination on challenges. Several editorial changes were also made to reflect a recent departmental reorganization. The amendments are intended to provide for confidentiality in ballot and to shorten the periods for registration, voting, challenging, and determination of challenges. The amendments will make the conduct of any referendum more efficient and less time consuming.

This proposed amendment in no way obligates the secretary to hold a referendum. Comments must be received no later than Oct. 9, 1979. Comments should be sent to Robert Cook, Emergency and Indemnity Programs Division, ASCS USDA, 4095 South Building, Washington, D. C. 20013.

A complete copy of the proposed amendments as printed in the Federal Register, Vol. 44 No. 153, Aug. 7, 1979, may be obtained at the Garza County ASCS office 208 W. Main.

Postings--

We recalled when our two daughters were here in school 15 or more years ago, we actually staged a Christmas parade with some of the school classes staying up all night to build floats for the honor of winning as much as the cash prize involved. The floats were the best ever to grace Post's Main street in its 72 years too. There was some interest shown in a Christmas parade at the meeting but it means lots of work at a very busy time of the year for everybody.

One good point was made. Post now has a community center which should be put to good use at Christmas time when disagreeable weather can ruin outdoor promotions.

For instance, Santa's pre-yule visits can be held in the center. You can also think up a lot of other "goodies" which could be held at the center, such as a Christmas musical, a Christmas "fair", or a carol singing.

The Chamber secretary was asked to write and see what other West Texas towns are doing at Christmas time. The only trouble here is that other towns are experiencing the very same difficulties as Post in Christmas promoting.

We offered the most "far out" suggestion, naming of a "Christmas board of directors" to plan the community's yule activities with board representation to come from all phases of community life.

That's probably too big an undertaking — just to organize such a board — but if you readers have any novel and worthwhile Christmas suggestions, the Chamber is ready to listen. And we mean right now — in August.

Two charged in theft here

Two men have been arrested by the sheriff's department and $1,300 worth of valves and connections stolen off of one of Palmer Construction Co. trucks last weekend have been recovered, Sheriff Jim Pippin told The Dispatch Wednesday.

Charlie Ervin, 27, of Post pleaded guilty in district court here Tuesday to a charge of "Theft, receiving stolen property" and was sentenced by Judge George Hansard to from two to five years in the state penitentiary.

Pippin said Ervin was also wanted for parole violation here and a hold order has been placed on him from Albany, Ore., where he is wanted in connection with an armed robbery.

Also arrested was Steve Hays, 24, of Post who remains in the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond on a felony theft charge in connection with the same case.

The stolen valves and connections were recovered from a Garza farm whose owner was not involved in the theft, the sheriff said.

Two other arrests also were reported by Pippin. A. C. Douglas of Lubbock, formerly of Post, was arrested here Sunday on a defrauding by worthless check charge in Lubbock.

John Lee Williams pleaded guilty in justice of the peace court here to a disorderly conduct charge and paid fine and costs of $28.50. He was arrested at the White Front Package Store in northern Garza County.

Hospital directors--

3. Heard a report from Zintgraff that Senator John Tower has introduced a bill in the United States Senate to admit Post physician Ricardo Rodriguez into permanent residence in this country.

4. Adopted a new hospital indigency policy which sets forth methods and resource limitations for indigents who will be admitted to the hospital for free treatment or for which the hospital will be responsible for payment of hospital bills in other hospitals.

5. Took home for individual member study a proposed budget for the 1979-80 fiscal year calling for the expenditure of $653,419.92, approximately $30,000 more than it is estimated operating costs for the current year will total.

Judge Dalby in appearing before the board said the city and county already have approved participation in the radio network project announced several weeks ago in which federal funds would provide most of the financing. The board will consider the $1,500 request when they hold a special meeting soon on the new budget.

Lee Phenix of Pharmaco, a pharmacy management company based in Lubbock, appeared before the board to propose converting the hospital's pharmacy to a single dose system in which each pill or liquid medication is packaged individually and billed through the hospital pharmacy.

Phenix asked a $3,500 fee to set up the new system with a $200 monthly service charge to provide the individual packaging and pricing.

The firm has already introduced the single dose system in the Lynn County Hospital at Tahoka and the Crosbyton Clinic Hospital.

Advantage of the system to the hospital is that it will provide considerable additional drug income to the hospital, not by increased price to the patient, but through keeping medication prices current, correct billing, cutting down on waste of medication which has to be discarded after a period of time, and through lower costs of drugs buying through Pharmaco acting as a drug wholesaler.

Since either party in the proposed contract would terminate the contract with 30 days notice, hospital directors want Pharmaco to spread the $3,500

Twenty-two soil and water conservation districts are members of the South Plains Association of SWCDs. They include: Floyd County, Rio Blanco, Lubbock County, Blackwater Valley, Upper Colorado, Lynn County, King-Stonewall, Dawson County, Hockley County, Lamb County, Hale County, Cochran, Yoakum, Terry, Duck Creek, Garza, Foard County, Lower Pease, Cottle County, Upper Pease, Upper Clear Fork and Gaines County SWCDs.

Current officers of the organization are W. L. Wilson, Jr., president, Big Spring; Milton Kirksey, vice president, Wolforth; and Sam Ellis, secretary, Southland.

The hospital's newly adopted indigency policy defines an indigent as "a person unable to pay for health services whose individual or family income for the 12 months preceding the determination of eligibility is not more than the current poverty income guidelines of the community service administration."

Such indigents must live within Garza County, which is the hospital's service area and also meet resource limitations established in the policy. The resource limitations provide the individual may exclude from his resources a home of market value up to $25,000, one automobile whose value does not exceed $1,200 on the current market, personal property such as wearing apparel, household goods and furniture, and in rural areas farm equipment and animals which are not used for income producing purposes; liquid reserves up to $300 for one person, $600 for two, plus $50 for each additional person in the family, and life insurance of individual and spouse the total face value of which does not exceed $1,500.

Resources in excess of these amounts do not disqualify an applicant from receiving medical assistance under the program but such excess may be required to be applied to the cost of medical care. The new policy also requires that any applicant for indigent care submit a written application and be interviewed by the hospital administrator, with the acceptance or rejection of the application to be determined by hospital directors at their next meeting. The policy also provides that "the hospital shall assume no responsibility for payment to another facility unless ordered by a staff physician with approval from the board of directors."

Zintgraff reported 47 patients admitted to the hospital in July for a total of 175 patient days, five babies born during the month, no deaths, and 205 outpatients treated in the emergency room.

Operating expenses for July were $55,305.52 with $25,618.95 received in cash income from collection of accounts, tax money, and interest.

School opening--

Of the 25 new teachers, seven have master's degrees and 14 have had an average of almost five and one-half years of classroom experience. The remaining 11 have had no classroom experience.

The master degree teachers include Juanita Thompson, 9 years experience; Darrell Radle, five years experience; Sonja Curry, no experience; Theresa Mullins, 13 years experience; David Joyner, no experience; and Travis Ellis, eight years experience.

Other new teachers with classroom experience are Dianne Lewallen, five years; Debbie Clary, four years; Steve Clary, one year; Dewayne Osborne, two years; Arcadio Rivera, four years; Susan Radle, four years; Lana Thomas, two years; Kathy Fluitt, six years and Karyn Howell, five years.

New teachers not already named with no previous classroom experience are Randy Josey, James Ray Conner, Susan Cardinal, Starla Stewart, Ruby Boyles, Lana Thomas, Billie Osborne, Kayla Cross, and James Easterling.

The court now hopes to have the budget ready for final adoption at either its Sept. 10 or Sept. 24 meetings.

In another action, the court accepted Shell Oil's offer of $100 monthly to monitor their alarm system for their yard here in Post. John Gist appeared before the court to discuss the matter.

Dress Code--

(Continued From Page One) to get results, the student may be expelled from school for three days for each offense, until such time they can attend classes and no longer be a hindrance to learning."

Both Flanagan and Mrs. Hays favored a "spelled out" school dress code rather than leaving "judgment calls" to teachers and principals.

It appeared the board was well on its way to adopting the Lubbock Schools' dress code until trustees started to turn against some of the specifics.

First they took out the paragraph about sideburns, mustaches and beards for the boys. Then changed the Lubbock code to read that shorts shall not be permitted in the classrooms.

What bogged the whole thing down was an argument which developed over whether caps could be worn to school advertising various brands of beer. Several trustees said they didn't see how beer brands on caps would interrupt the learning process, even though as another pointed out such beverages are barred from campus.

That's when Boren combined the two codes and made a motion for its adoption which produced the 4 to 2 vote.

In other actions, the board:

Accepted the recommendation of High School Principal Joe Giddens and approved a teacher contract for Travis Ellis of Lubbock as high school chemistry, physics and geology instructor. Ellis although he has taught science in one small school, an Oklahoma college and a Hawaiian school has only a temporary teaching certificate.

Voted for two year insurance coverage of the three Justiceburg school buildings for $121,500, at a cost of $2,790 by Bryan Williams & Son.

Authorized Trustee A. C. Cash to secure additional bids on the construction of about 500 feet of fence with four 10-foot gates to surround the primary school playground and the school bus parking area and to let the contract to the low bidder at a price not to exceed $2,500.

He distributed a five-page program on how American industry is working to cope with alcoholism which is now costing at least four billion dollars a year in lost production.

He then traced development of this program and detailed how it is carried out on a step by step basis.

Neyland also brought a table full of additional literature on alcoholism and after his talk many Rotarians stopped at the table to secure additional information.

After the luncheon, he told The Dispatch that he has referred 14 from Post to the Big Spring Alcohol Center in the last six months and that alcoholism among local youth is "as bad as the drug problem — and the drug problem is bad."
