The Post Dispatch

Fifty-Second Year Post, Garza County, Texas Thursday, March 27, 1980 Number 43

At sunrise Saturday in Taba'na Yuan'e rites—

Wind says 'fair crop'

The strong wind suddenly changed directions just at sunup here Saturday from south to southwest to bring a prediction of "fair crops" from Frank (Chief) Runkles at Post's annual Taba'na Yuan'e rites. The prediction would have been for "poor crops" had the wind stayed from the south.

The Indian-garbed Runkles took a peek to the east to catch the first rays of the sun before stopping his dance to kneel and point dramatically to the southwest.

Chamber president Danny Shaw announced the results by loudspeaker to a crowd of 200 gathered for the occasion on the Garza County Junior Livestock barn parking lot.

Even with all that, one of the three Lubbock TV station crews got the results wrong and channel 13 reported "poor crops" on Saturday night's news show.

Shepherd rites are held here

Funeral services for Lorene Shepherd, 53, of Post were conducted at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church by the Rev. Clayton Pennington of Abilene.

Mrs. Shepherd died early Tuesday after a lengthy illness in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital.

She had been a nurse in Garza Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Shepherd received her license as a registered nurse in 1975. She had attended the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing and became a licensed vocational nurse in 1970.

Born March 17, 1927, in Hamilton, she moved to Garza County in 1933 when her family came to the area to farm. She was a Post High School graduate and attended Texas Tech University.

Mrs. Shepherd was a member of the Emergency (See Rites held, Page 14)

Nance rites held Friday

Funeral services for Lois (Cowboy) Nance, 60, of Justiceburg were held at 2 p.m. Friday in Bell-Seale Chapel in Snyder, with Dr. Frank Pickett, minister of the First Christian Church of Post, officiating.

Burial was in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

She died at 6:12 a.m. Thursday in Snyder's Cogdel Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness.

The Justiceburg native had been employed by the Phillips Petroleum Co. for 30 years.

She is survived by her mother, Pearl Nance of Justiceburg.

Newspaper evangelism is termed big success

Newspaper evangelism and "I Love America" rallies are two of the newest methods now being employed by the First Baptist Church of Post to carry the message of Jesus Christ to others through its "Echoes of Revival Ministries."

Church pastor Glenn Reece, who started this new ministry in 1974 with his development of a personal cassette tape loan library which has now grown to over 2,000 sermons and Bible studies by the greatest preachers in America, is its director.

Many laymen of the church are also directly involved.

The newspaper evangelism began only a few months ago with the publishing of a page article by Tom Lewis, junior high teacher, in The Dispatch, entitled "This Is A Warning."

Since that time page articles have been published in 15 other newspapers in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana and Indiana.

The newspaper advertising space has been purchased basically from contributions mailed in to Echoes headquarters at the church here from readers of the articles who want to help.

Director Reece told The

SPS, cities in rate agreement

Bert Ballengee, executive vice president of Southwestern Public Service Company, has announced that Southwestern Public Service Company and the steering committee representing South Plains and Panhandle cities have reached an agreement on the Committee's recommendation of its member cities concerning SPS's 1980 rate case.

The Steering Committee recommended the following: municipalities in the SPS Texas service area set the revenue deficiency at $31,923,000; rates to correct this deficiency should become effective with the May billing cycle; there will not be any differential in the summer-winter rates and the Public Utility Commission should eliminate the (See Higher rates, Page 13)

Booster club to meet Monday

The Post Antelope Booster club will meet Monday, March 31, in the Bank Community Room. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Plans for the all-sports banquet will be completed at this meeting and members are urged to be present.

CONCLUDING DANCE — Concluding number of the Taba'na Yuan'e ceremony was a dance to drum beat around the embers of the wind fire with all the "Indians" participating. Post group visits Guatemalan ruins

Eight Post residents were among the 28 who returned home Saturday from the West Texas Museum Association's "Grand Tour Colonial City and Ancient Mayan Civilization" in Guatemala.

The eight were Mayor and Mrs. Giles McCrary, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cornell, Mrs. Frances Camp, Mrs. Mary Prather and Mr. and Mrs. David Newby.

Highlight of the tour was a day's visit to the ruins of Tikal, a stone city of 50,000 people on a 50 square mile site inhabited in the thick Guatemalan jungle from about 600 BC to 900 AD.

Some 52 Mayan settlements of an advanced Indian culture have been discovered in the Guatemalan jungles with Tikal the one on which the most excavation has been done. Tikal has temples which rise 195 feet in the air. Rulers are buried in vaults beneath them.

The city is surrounded by (See Post group, Page 14)

Rites Friday for Burl Ford

Burl Ford, 66, retired Postex Plant worker, died at his home here Tuesday night. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday in the Trinity Baptist Church with the Rev. Erenest Lee Newson of Hamilton officiating.

Assisting in the service will be Othel Cumbie of Odessa and the Rev. Ralph White, Trinity pastor.

Burial will be in Terrace Cemetery under direction of the Hudman Funeral Home.

Driver booked in Odom death

Doyle Ray McClellan was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Zora Robinson here Monday on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

A car, driven by McClellan, crashed into a parked trailer loaded with 50,000 pounds of cotton early on the morning of Jan. 26 five miles northwest of Post on the shoulder of US-84. Jimmy Odom, 19, a passenger in McClellan's car, was killed in the crash and it is on Odom's death that the involuntary manslaughter charge is based.

McClellan was released on a surety bond following his arraignment. He was recently released from a hospital after recovering from injuries suffered in the wreck.

'Highway shooter' hits car, truck

A "highway shooter" was loose on US-84 between Post and Lubbock about 3 a.m. Monday.

Heading in this direction, he hit a semi-trailer truck three times and a passenger car once with 22 caliber bullets firing across the median at traffic headed in the other direction.

Sheriff Jim Pippin said the sheriff's office here received calls from both Lubbock and Slaton police

'80 census forms due in Friday mail

On Friday, every household in Post and Garza County — as well as across the entire nation — will receive by mail a 1980 United States census form.

Approximately four out of every five households, chosen at random, will be asked to fill out the 19-page question short form. The other 20 percent of the households, will receive the longer census form with 46 additional questions.

It is estimated it will take the person who fills out the census short form for the household about 15 to 20 minutes to do it. Those asked to mail back their filled-in census forms. For the other 10 percent, in sparsely populated areas, which includes parts of (See '80 census, Page 13)

If there is anything worse than eating too much, it is not eating enough. That's why dieting is one of this world's greatest problems.

You'll find full page ads in the Sunday comic sections on "fad diets." People yearn to take off those pounds without hurting a bit.

Our doctor is like most physicians. He doesn't believe in that foolishness. He has a whole stack of "thousand calories a day diet" sheets in one of his office cupboards. Over the years we've probably been given a dozen of them.

The nice thing about his "thousand calories a day" diet is that one is usually caught up in the process of trying to transform 125 calories into something yummy. Just for a little while you find that fascinating.

The first thing your mind locks onto is the list of vegetables which contain no calories. For example, raw carrots, lettuce, cabbage, tomatoes, cucumbers, celery, and a half dozen more.

Dieting is not at all easy for bachelors. The first reason is because there is nobody around to nag them about eating. The second reason is that they do their own grocery shopping. The third reason is how to get out of the weekend "snack habit."

This is the way that, bad (See Postings, Page 14)

Two jobs well done

Thirteen means different things to different people. To A. C. Cash and K. W. Kirkpatrick, who are quietly retiring from the Post school board in April, 13 stands for the number of years of community service they have each contributed to make Post schools better.

Neither faced an opponent at the ballot box in all the years they served on the school board.

Both also are second generation Post school trustees. Their dads, W. A. Cash and Willard Kirkpatrick, each served many years on the school board in their day.

There probably isn't a tougher, more time consuming job in any community than being a good school trustee. You have to know a lot, keep up with it, and stand against criticism of your decisions which is bound to come.

Both A. C. and K. W. deserve this community's heartfelt thanks. It's too bad testimonial dinners have gone out of style except for show people on the terrible tube.

This pair deserves a good old fashioned one as a way of saying thanks for a job well done.

In your mailbox tomorrow

Probably the biggest operation in the history of federal bureaucracy hits the public fan Friday with the mailing of millions of census forms to just about every household in America.

Everybody is given three days to fill out the 19 basic questions. The big "mail-back" will come next Tuesday, April 1, which has been designated as Census Day.

Ninety percent of the nation's 86 million households are scheduled to mail them back that day. The other 10 percent living in sparsely settled areas will have theirs collected by census enumerators.

Here are three reasons why you should cooperate in this census, even though you might hate nosey question-askers and even hate Jimmy Carter with real political passion:

First, you'll be a lawbreaker if you don't fill it out and send it back. We doubt if there will be any criminal cases filed over this issue, however. It's just the principle of the thing if you like to think of yourself as a law abiding citizen.

Second, if you don't fill it out and mail it back, some census enumerator is going to come knocking at your door later after you've lost the form and run through the whole question routine with you just when you were sitting down to a good supper. The best way to keep them off your back is to turn in your form just like you avoid IRS audits by paying your income tax on time if you have the money.

Third, you count for something right here in Post. It's as simple as that.

What we mean by "you counting for something" is that experts have estimated every person missed in this census will cost his state, county and community at least $250 in federal benefits doled out over the country in various federal programs in an effort to keep politicians and voters happy. Revenue sharing is one program which can be materially effected.

So there are three good reasons to fill out your forms like a good American and mail them back.

You'd be surprised how many millions of dollars Uncle Sam has already spent just to get that form on the way into your collective hands, here and across the nation.

And they'll go on counting right on through the summer.

Here in Texas one of the big census issues is counting all the aliens who have infiltrated the state from across the Mexican border. This head count too is deemed important for federal handouts.

Your social security number is not required and an elaborate system has been set up to prevent disclosure of any of your own particular answers. As far as we know there has never been a census scandal in this country. The individual's rights to his privacy have never been violated by the census takers.

The big thing though we think about the whole thing is simply not to throw the census form away in disgust with all your regular junk mail. We bet Sam hasn't figured out an answer to that one.

Some tornado tips

The West Texas spring tornado season is at hand. With this in mind, a tornado safety seminar for hospital and school personnel was held recently in Lubbock under the joint sponsorship of the National Weather Service and the regional Education Service Center.

While much of the time was spent in examining specific problems on tornado safety pertaining to hospitals and schools, there were any number of safety tips given which apply to everyone of us.

Here are a few:

About 80 percent of West Texas tornadoes are of the "mini" variety, usually last only 10 minutes, are hard to spot, but are rarely "killers."

Medium tornadoes, which comprise almost all the rest, pack winds to 200 miles an hour and last 20 minutes at most. It's the third type of tornado that is the most dangerous. It is the "maxi" or killer tornado. It was "maxis" which smashed through Lubbock and Wichita Falls in the 1970s.

Do not get into a car and try to run from a tornado because you cannot estimate how far away it is and how quickly it is moving.

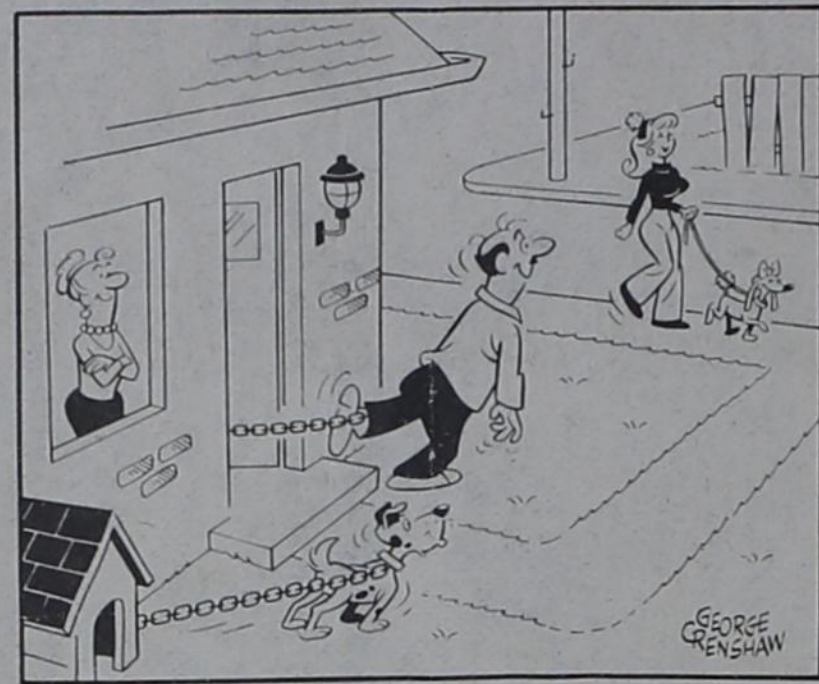

Of the 34 persons outside buildings who lost their lives in last year's Wichita Falls tornado, 25 of them were inside vehicles.

Persons caught in a car when a tornado strikes are advised by weather experts to get out of the vehicle and seek shelter inside a building, or in a ditch or ravine.

The best place inside a building is the center of the building, preferably inside a closet, hallway or bathroom. The more wall space a person can get around him or her the best protection he or she has. (Editor's note — of course at such moments, a storm shelter underground is ideal).

Most fatal injuries during a tornado are caused by debris hitting the victim in the head. Persons are advised by safety experts to assume a croched position on their knees with hands clasped behind the neck while waiting out a tornado, whether inside a building or outside.

These suggestions are worth remembering, especially if you're a mother who in the past has been rushing down to the school house to get her kids after the siren has blown to warn of the approach of a funnel.

Another BIG Reason to Buy at Home!

While labor and parts may be free for repairs on your TV set or appliance while in warranty, all such warranties require the customer to pay:

- (1) Mileage charges
- (2) Diagnostic fee
- (3) And-or pickup and delivery

That means a Post customer can no longer afford warranty work on TVs and appliances purchased in Lubbock.

That 39 miles and return today is going to cost Post customers a whole lot more than the considerable and rising cost to go to Lubbock to make the original purchase.

5th to 8th band in concert April 1
 The 5th, 6th and 7th and 8th grade combination of band students will be presented in their Spring Band Concert, Tuesday night, April 1, at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium.
 The outstanding band members from each band represented will be presented at this time, according to Steven Clary, band director.
 Everyone is invited to attend this concert.

Two arrested here this week
 Elizardo Santos was arrested Sunday here for driving while his license was suspended. He was released on a $750 bail bond.
 Cynthia Diane Isbell paid fine and court costs totaling $61 in county court this week after being arrested Monday on a worthless check charge. She also made restitution on the $12.50 check.

The first two speakers on the PCG program after the President's report to the membership are expected to address the controversial and divisive issues that have surfaced around certain phases of CI operations, explaining what has been done and is being done to bring and keep the company above all suspicion of impropriety. One of the speakers is Murray Williams, Chairman of the Cotton Board, the producer board responsible for CI budgets on a project by project basis.
 The U.S. Department of Agriculture is also required to approve CI budgets along with its obligation to assure that the Cotton Board fulfills its responsibilities and that the entire program is carried out in accord with the intent of the law. Representing the Department on PCG's program will be P. R. "Bobby" Smith, Assistant USDA Secretary for Marketing and Transportation, under whose jurisdiction CI falls.
 The trio of speakers on CI affairs will be rounded out by Nick Hahn, Vice President for CI's Sales and Marketing Division. Hahn's department directs a highly complex marketing program aimed at getting more cotton into everyday products such as apparel and home furnishings.

Cancer Crusade to open April 1

A kickoff coffee for the upcoming Cancer Crusade was held in the ranch home of Mrs. Giles Dalby Thursday night, March 21 at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Faye Mathis, Education Chairman, presented a talk on the crusade which will begin April 1 and continue until April 30, and explained the packets to be used during the crusade.

Volunteers will begin a door-to-door campaign for donations to the Cancer Society which spends its campaign monies for cancer research, professional education, fellowships and services, public education, service to cancer patients, program development and administration (and has the lowest administrative cost of any other organization of this type) and for the crusade held annually.

Coffee and angel food strawberry cake were served by the hostess to Margie Pennell, Faye Mathis, Velma Brown, Ann Mitchell, Ruby Carpenter, Joyce Teaff, Voda Gradine, Iris Truelock, Jana McCallister, Ruby Williams, Anne Leake, Linda Dye, Norma Baumann, Judy Bush, Helen Miller, Thelma Epley, Wanda Mitchell, Kim Mills and Donna Stelzer.

Shower for Ann Patrick

A miscellaneous wedding shower for Miss Ann Patrick, bride-elect of Rodney Compton, was held Saturday, March 22 in the home of Mrs. Lois Kennedy.

Approximately 40 guests registered between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m. by Mrs. Jana Kennedy.

Special guests for the occasion were the honoree, Mrs. Marjorie Compton, mother of the prospective bridegroom and Mrs. Julie Mason, his sister.

Cookies, nuts, mints and punch were served from a table laid with blue and white and featured a blue and white silk flower arrangement made by the future bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Compton. The centerpiece was presented to the honoree.

The couple plans a May wedding following his graduation.

PTA hears Joe Giddens

The Parent Teachers Association heard Mr. Joe Giddens, high school principal, speak on "Parenting An Older Student," at their March meeting held Monday night, in the community room of the bank.

Approximately 40 were present to hear the talk and also a report on the successful teacher luncheon held recently. Laverne Jones gave the report.

Entertainment for the meeting was provided by the Elementary Flutophone students of Steven Clary, high school band director.

Giddens, Clary and students present were presented with Ivy plants in appreciation of their efforts.

A special thanks goes to Larry Willard and Walter Didway for making the community room available for the meeting.

92nd birthday party given

Mrs. Blanche Clayton was honored on her 92nd birthday with a party held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harmon, Sunday, March 16.

Relatives and friends attending were her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Clayton of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Duncan and Traci Leigh, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harmon and Chadwick Paul of Floydada, Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Edward and Donnie of Post.

The St. Patrick's theme was carried out in the party.

Lunch Menus

Monday, enchilada, pinto beans, lettuce salad, no bake chocolate cookies, cornbread and 1/2 pint of milk.

Tuesday, corn dogs, buttered corn, blackeye peas, lemon pudding, and 1/2 pint of milk.

Wednesday, turkey and dressing, gravy, green beans, whipped potatoes, jello with fruit, hot rolls and 1/2 pint of milk.

Thursday, stew, cheese sandwich, fried okra, peaches, cookies and 1/2 pint of milk.

Friday, Easter Holiday.

BREAKFAST

Monday, assorted cereal, fruit and 1/2 pint of milk.

Tuesday, oatmeal, sausage, toast, orange juice and 1/2 pint of milk.

Wednesday, Cheese toast, applesauce and 1/2 pint of milk.

Thursday, assorted cereal, fruit and 1/2 pint of milk.

Friday, Easter Holiday.

Mrs. Parrish is honored

A bridal coffee Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Quannah Maxey honored Mrs. Ronnie Parrish. Approximately 35 guests called between 9:30 and 11 a.m.

Special guests included the honoree's mother, Mrs. Docia Whitehill of Slaton, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. A. O. Parrish.

Sausage balls, miniature donuts, a fruit bowl, juice and coffee were served by Mrs. Jim Parrish and Mrs. Jimmy Lee Parrish, both of Lubbock.

The serving table was covered with a blue cloth and centered with an arrangement of blue silk irises made by Mrs. Maxey. Milk glass and silver appointments were used.

Hostesses for the coffee were:

Mmes. Bobby Cowdrey, Jerry Bush, James Stone, Lonnie Peel, Elmer Cowdrey, Noel White, Lewis Mason, Bryan Maxey, Viva Davis, Bob Lusk, Jake Sparlin, Elva Peel, Carl Fluitt, Ray McClellan, Delwin Fluitt, Mack Ledbetter, Pearl Wallace and Maxey.

Graham EH to meet Friday

The next meeting of the Graham Extension Homemakers club will be March 28 in the community center. The club met recently to discuss the final plans for the flea market and auction sale held recently.

Roll call was answered with "How to disguise an eye sore."

The program, "Color Your World," was presented by Nona Lusk, as she presented slides during her discussion.

Refreshments were served to one guest, Vera Tyler, and the following members, Bernita Maxey, Nona Lusk, Viva Davis, Sue Maxey, Mary Peel, Jewell Parrish, Orabeth White, Pearl Wallace, Myrtle Peel and the hostess, Rene Fluitt.

New Arrivals

Chanda Moreman announces the birth of a sister, Meagan D'Lynn, born at Garza Memorial Hospital March 19 at 8:21 p.m. and weighing 8 lbs 7 3/4 ounces. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Moreman of Post and grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Moreman and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Ledbetter, all of Post. Her great-grandmother is Mrs. G. H. Newberry of Post also.

Originally, oatmeal was actually meal — coarsely ground grain — but now it usually consists of oats processed as flakes.

Jarita Norman given shower

The new home of Mrs. Mason McClellan was the scene of a miscellaneous wedding shower Sunday afternoon, honoring Miss Jarita Norman, bride-elect of Jeff Greene.

Approximately 45 guests were registered by Misses Patti and Roxanne McClellan.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. McClellan, the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Jim R. Norman, and the prospective groom's mother, Mrs. Billy Greene and the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Travis Gilmore.

The bride's chosen colors of orchid and candlelight were used in the decor. The serving table was covered with a candlelight lace cloth and featured an arrangement of orchid silk flowers flanked by candlelight tapers and a crystal wedding bell, a gift to the couple. Crystal appointments were used.

Assisting with serving duties were Misses Tina Greene, sister of the prospective groom, Darla Jackson and Mrs. Tim Morris.

Hosting the occasion were:

Mmes. Pete Maddox, Louis Cardinal, Elmo Bush, Morris Tyler, Quannah Maxey, Bobby Cowdrey, Noel White, Lewis Mason, Carl Fluitt, Delwin Fluitt, Jim Jackson, Joe Williams, Jerry Hays, Jody Mason, Curtis Williams, Neal Clary, Bud Sparlin, Clarence Gunn and McClellan.

Doctors to be honored

Garza Memorial Hospital will observe National Doctors Day Friday morning with a breakfast honoring the hospital's staff physicians.

Red carnations, which is the national symbol for the day, will be presented to the physicians.

National Doctors Day actually is Sunday, March 30.

Quilting technique demonstration set

Patsy Sanderson and Paula Cawthon will be giving a quilting program on Thursday, April 3, at 2 p.m. in the courtroom in the Garza County Court house.

The program will be on basic quilting techniques and machine quilting. There is no cost to attend.

Purchase award to Glenda Morrow

Glenda Morrow, local artist, was the winner of one of the purchase prizes at the Snyder Palette Club's ninth annual exhibition held last weekend in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Mrs. Morrow received her purchase award for her painting, "Rustic Evening." There were 308 entries in the art show from 32 cities. Naomi Brotherton of Dallas was the judge of the show.

Public asked for its conservation views

USDA's Soil Conservation Service (SCS) is currently making a study of alternative ways in which a National Plant Materials Centers Program can be conducted that responds to resource conservation needs. Dwaine Binford, SCS district conservationist at Post, says his agency is asking the public for their views on alternatives under consideration and for other proposals.

Binford says SCS, in cooperation with other Federal and State agencies and through other arrangements, presently operates and maintains 22 plant materials centers (PMC's) in the United States. Each center develops new plants for conservation purposes in the geographic area it serves that are released jointly with the State's agricultural experiment station and other State and Federal agencies to commercial growers for production.

The plant materials center serving Texas and Oklahoma is located at Knox City, Texas. Plants that have been released from the Center in the past are:

"Aztec" Maximilian sunflower. This plant was released from the center in 1978. "Aztec" has a wide variety of uses, ranging from livestock browse and wildlife food and cover to landscaping, beautification, and screening. This multiple use plant is adapted to most of the state of Texas where 18 inches or more of rainfall is received each year. Its lush green forage makes a very valuable range plant.

"Mason" sandhill lovegrass is another plant that was released from the Plant Materials Center. This plant was released in 1972. Mason is an attractive warm-season bunchgrass well adapted to the coarse sands of the Southern High Plains and Edwards Plateau. Livestock prefer it and it produces abundant seed.

"Selection 75" kleingrass was released from the center in 1968. Since its release, there has been over 620,000 acres of "Selection 75" planted in Texas. Forage produced is palatable, nutritious, and is readily grazed by all livestock. The seed is eaten by many species of songbirds and quail. Deer relish the young, tender forage.

"Alamo" switchgrass was released in 1978 and it has proven to be an excellent forage producer. "Alamo" is also effective in controlling erosion on the shorelines of watershed structures when used in combination with other plants. "Alamo" has the potential of being one of the top forage producing grasses in the state.

"The range of alternatives being studied for conducting a National Plant Materials Centers Program vary from continuation of the program as is to transferring complete operations and management of the centers over to nonfederal entities," Binford said. "First, we need to know what the public needs and wants — and possible alternative ways national conservation plant materials needs might be met."

Additional information concerning the plant materials program may be obtained at the SCS office in Post at the Williams Building, Binford said that SCS would welcome concerned citizens inquiries and expressions of views.

Interested persons wishing to comment about the direction they think the future plant materials program should take are being encouraged to write letters, by April 1 to George C. Marks, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, P. O. Box 648, Temple, Texas 76501.

Truth to sing in Lubbock

LUBBOCK — A free concert by Truth will be presented in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday, April 3.

Truth is composed of 17 college-age musicians from all parts of the country which have received nominations for both Grammy and Dove awards.

The group has produced 19 albums and is the only Christian group in the world to record a direct-to-disc album.

The vocal group, organized in 1971, as a youth choir in Mobile, Ala., travels over 100,000 miles a year on the "gospel road" from coast to coast and also has made tours in Alaska, Jamaica, Mexico, Canada and Europe.

Public Notice

Southwestern Public Service Company, pursuant to law and the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of its intent to apply for a general rate increase affecting all classes of its retail consumers in the county of Garza whose rates are subject to the original jurisdiction of either the municipality of Post or the Public Utility Commission of Texas. A copy of the Company's statement of intent and proposed tariffs has been filed with said municipality and said Commission.

The revised tariffs are proposed to become effective April 4, 1980. Applied to all affected consumers in the 31 counties comprising the Company's Texas service area, they will increase the Company's retail operating revenues by approximately 14.8 percent.

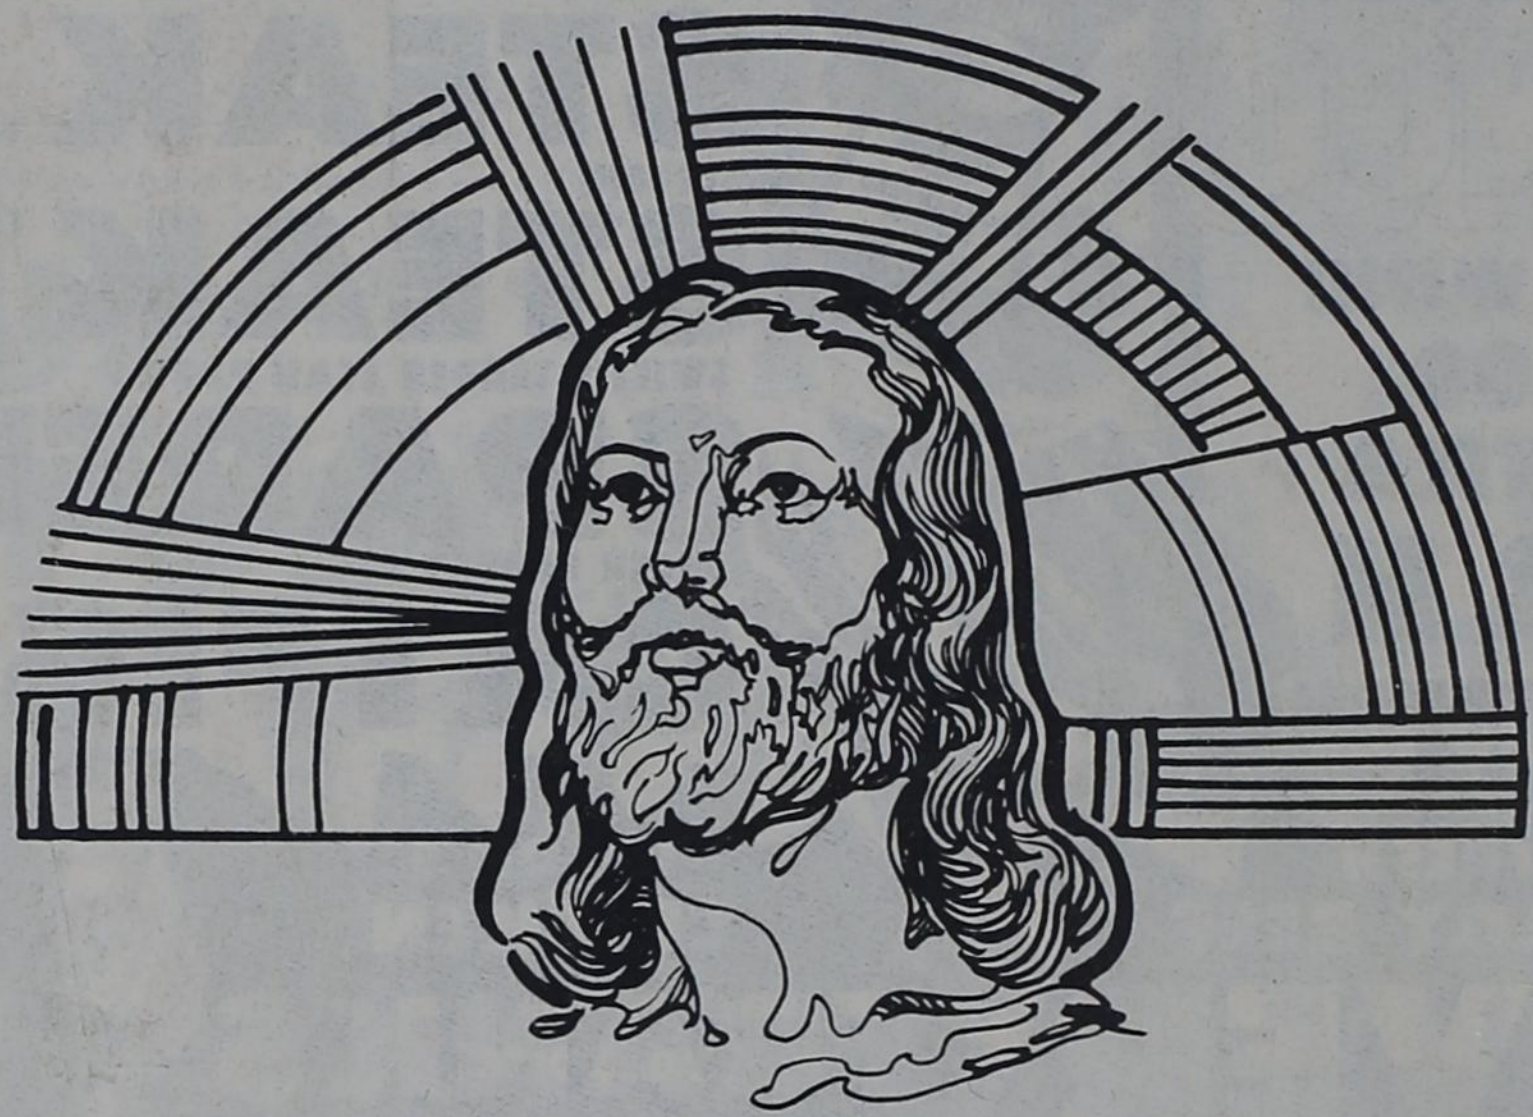

Tiana Shiver is UT scholar

Tiana Shiver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shiver of Post, and a student at the University of Texas, has been designated a College Scholar by the dean of that college and will be honored in recognition of her scholastic attainments Saturday, April 12.

The ceremony, the Thirtieth Annual Honors Day convocation will begin at 2 p.m. in the Special Events Center, 1701 Red River, Austin, Texas.

Students honored are only those registered for a minimum of nine semester hours of work for the current spring semester in an under-graduate college and must have been registered at the University of Texas at Austin at least once during the calendar year 1979, and must have a grade-point average of 3.50 or greater on all UT Austin hours.

Lope track coach wants 'turnaround'

Coach Lane Tannehill's Post Antelope track team hit what he calls "the low point of our season" Saturday when the 20-man Lope squad was either shut out or scored only two points in the Canyon Reef Relays in Snyder, which had a classy AAA and AA field.

The coach said the team departed before learning whether Post was awarded two points for a possible sixth place finish in the mile relay. The points depend upon whether judges disqualified the Sweetwater team for stepping off the track.

Tannehill told The Dispatch two of his runners couldn't compete because of leg problems, Drew Kirkpatrick was disqualified for running out of his lane in the intermediate hurdles, and Alonzo Luna, who had the sixth best time of the day in the preliminaries of the 200 meter dash, then failed to place in the finals of that event.

Coach Tannehill says he hopes the Lopes can "turn the season around" this weekend at the San Angelo Relays.

"We're finally over the shin splints and the squad is getting a better attitude," Tannehill told The Dispatch.

"We try to peak for the district 5AA meet which means the squad is brought along later than other area

AA track squads. He added that to begin building toward that peak next month, the squad needs to show real improvement at San Angelo.

The preliminaries of the San Angelo Relays will begin at 2:30 p.m. Friday with the finals starting at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Post entries in the relays include:

400 meter relay: Jackie Ayala, Alonzo Luna, Drew

Kirkpatrick and Mark Holly; 800 meter run, Lance Dunn, Leslie Willard and Roy Gonzales; 110 meter hurdles, Rance Adkins, Will Kirkpatrick and Jerry Hawkins; 100 meter dash, Ayala, Danny Martinez and Toby Craft;

400 meter dash: Holly, Barry Wyatt and Richard Cisneros; 300 meter hurdles, D. Kirkpatrick, Adkins and W. Kirkpatrick; 200 meter dash, Luna, Ayala and Wyatt; 1600 meter run, Walter Perez, Gonzales and Willard; 1600 meter relay, Luna, Adkins, D. Kirkpatrick and Holly; long jump, Luna, Martinez and Tim Tannehill; discus, Mario Luna, Billy Martinez and Craft; shot put, M. Luna, Mike Anthony and Craft; high jump, Holly, D. Kirkpatrick and Adkins; and pole vault, Mark Odom, Tannehill and Wyatt.

Under new state law, indirectly— Texas criminals paying victims

COLLEGE STATION — Thanks to a new program launched by the Texas legislature last year, a victim of crime in Texas now stands a chance of getting something more than a black eye or a knot on the head, according to a director for the state comptroller's office.

Under the Compensation of Victims of Crime Act, Texas residents can now recover damages for certain crime losses, said Jim Ray at a recent County and District Clerks Seminar sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System.

goes a long way toward putting an end to the old saying that "only the bad guys get the good breaks," Ray said.

The Industrial Accident Board has received less than 100 claims since the act went into effect in September, said the official. However, the first 40 seek more than $300,000 in aid. Although available funds are insufficient to cover these claims, Ray viewed the funding problem as temporary. Time must be allowed for the criminal to be caught, tried and convicted. Then the collected fine must be channeled through a number of officials before the Board receives the money, he explained.

Ray said most counties have been responsive in filing monthly statements on crime funds. Only three counties have failed to file any type of report. Several have filed reports with zero amounts, and these are now being audited, he noted.

Problems arising when only part of court costs are paid can be remedied by prorating the monies received, Ray said.

Kennedy 1st in high jump

Coach Sonja Curry's Post Doe track team scored 24 points Saturday in a 10-team girls track meet at Coahoma.

Luann Kennedy won the only first place points for the Does when she won the high jump with a leap of five feet, one inch. She also placed sixth in the 800 meter run.

Marinette Hays also scored points in two events with thirds in the long jump with a 16 foot, 9 inch leap, and in the triple jump with an effort of 32 feet, 11 3/4 inches.

The 880 relay team, composed of Dee Dee Redman, Hays, Kennedy and Trushell Marts, finished seventh for the other Post points.

Other Does participating improved their times and distances, Coach Curry reported.

The Does will go to Lorenzo Saturday to participate in a girls meet there.

Larissa Gordon is birthday honoree

Larissa Lee Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gordon, celebrated her second birthday with a party in her honor Sunday afternoon in her home.

Those attending to help her celebrate were Jim and Bessie Strawn, Oscar and Lorene Gordon, Susan Strawn, Nancy Pendley, Carolyn, Codie, and Amanda Hair, Rocky and Kim Shaw, Silas and Beth Short, Suzanne, Jack and Mary Ann Gordon.

Her birthday cake, baked by her aunt Carolyn Hair, was a double layered heart shaped cake carrying out the Easter theme used in the decorations.

Articles on home furnishings offered

A series of articles titled "Furnishing Your Home" is now available from Mrs. Paula Cawthon, Garza County Extension agent, she announced this week. The series of free articles are available by writing in care of Mrs. Cawthon or by calling her office in Post, 495-2050 to enroll.

The series of publications feature how to arrange furniture, identify and select different periods and styles of furniture, buy upholstered furniture and case goods and to develop a furnishing plan.

The three vital ingredients needed to successfully furnish and decorate on even the tiniest budget are a long range plan, a good portion of imagination and the smart use of color, one publication of the series explains.

Post netters in Abilene tourney

Mike Macy and Jackie Stelzer, Post's No. 1 boys doubles team, won one match in the tennis tournament at Abilene last Friday and Saturday before being eliminated.

The local duo downed Ives-Jones of Colorado City before bowing to Tippent-Holgren of Mann Junior High in Abilene.

Jim Pruitt in the singles defeated Rudolph of Abilene's Franklin Junior High and Zarate of Ranger, before bowing to Guerera of El Paso. David Foster lost to Holt of Mason in his first match.

In the other boys singles, Kevin Craig lost to Wood of Brownwood, and Benny Kennedy defeated Morsan of Abilene's Franklin Junior High before losing to Nichols of Forsan.

The other boys doubles team of Gary Lamb and Chuck Black were eliminated by Gentry-Hey of Mason.

In the girls singles Julie Davis bowed to Nicholson of Madison Junior High of Abilene, Leanne Davis lost to Gidley of Lincoln Junior High of Abilene, Donna George was defeated by Shipley of Mason Junior High of Abilene, and Lisa Holly defeated Trothy of Lubbock Dunbar before being eliminated by Cavitt of Abilene's Mann Junior High.

In the girls doubles, Sharla Macy and Melisa Tatum lost to the Wichita Falls Hirci team of Bussy-Lucek, and Karen Davis and Holly Giddens defeated Parker and Aguilar of Iron County before losing to Jackson-Wiginton of Abilene's Madison Junior High.

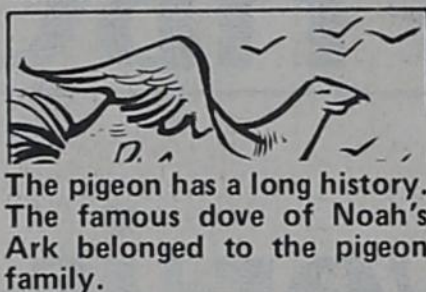

PHS loses tennis dual

Post high school boys and girls tennis teams dropped a dual meet to Big Spring at Big Spring last Thursday with the locals winning but four of the 26 matches.

David Foster and Jimmy Pruitt defeated McMahon-Franklin in boys doubles 7-5, 7-6, and Benny Kennedy and Kevin Craig downed Williams-Sizemore 7-6, 6-3 for the two boys wins.

Melisa Tatum won a tough three set singles match from Amy Burleson of Big Spring 6-7, 7-6, 7-5; and Norma Samora and Cynthia Poole downed Minchen-Lawrence of Big Spring 6-7, 6-2, 6-2 in the girls doubles.

Big Spring is a AAA school.

Warning given on work at home ads

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Council of Better Business Bureaus warned today that work-at-home schemers continue to prey on those who can least afford to lose money. The CBBB alert followed a recent nationwide investigation of 55 work-at-home promotions, each of which was geared to attract the elderly, fixed-income individuals, students, the handicapped — anyone struggling to meet the ever rising cost of living. The Council's findings disclosed that those wanting to supplement their incomes by investing in work-at-home opportunities were losing their money to unscrupulous promoters using misleading advertising claims.

The promotions investigated by the Council were the time-worn and wide-spread work-at-home schemes that advertisers use to create false expectations of high earnings and, in most instances, gainful employment. The investigation revealed that advertisements promising hundreds of dollars for a few hours' work were simply lures by the advertisers to sell information on how to set up your own business or conduct the same scheme as the advertisers'. No actual employment existed; instead, would-be workers would have had to first pay for details purporting to show how to make the claimed income, and then invest sums of money in ads, envelopes, postage and sundry other items.

In an effort to encourage advertising media to obtain all the facts before deciding on the acceptability of work-at-home advertisements, a Council "Media Bulletin" on the subject is being distributed to hundreds of advertising media, including newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations. In addition, the Council of Better Business Bureaus is referring to postal authorities those work-at-home scheme cases which appear to be frauds.

A typical advertisement for a work-at-home opportunity claimed "$356.00 Weekly Guaranteed. Work two hours daily at home."

Investigation revealed that the "guarantee" did not apply to the earnings, but only to a refund of the $15 paid for how-to details if the worker's own efforts failed to produce the weekly income. Another typical ad promised "$1,000 - $3,000 monthly stuffing envelopes." Council's shoppers answering such ads did not receive envelopes for stuffing as expected, but merely promotional material requiring payment of $8 to $25 just to buy the details on money-making plans. And to make matters worse, to pursue the plans would have required expending several hundred dollars.

A pessimist is a guy who sizes himself up and gets sore about it.

Troop 316 of the local Boy Scouts of America now has "a new home", or meeting place, following several days of good old hard labor. The troop, along with scoutmaster Jerry Stegall has spent the last two weekends cleaning up around the outside and on the inside of the old American Legion Hall just behind the Community Center.

One could really appreciate the change a little hard work made in the building that has not been in use for a number of years. The boys pulled weeds, hauled them away, raked and shoveled years of sandstorms level in the adjoining yard.

Robert Cox Lumber and Higginbotham-Bartlett donated rock to put in the new walkway, following the outlining of the grounds by cross-ties donated by Father Malcolm Neyland. Several shrubs have also been set out to grow and make the yard even more attractive.

Scouting has just celebrated its 50th year here in Garza County and is getting stronger, with growing interest. There are now 13 active Boy Scouts, with a good Cub Scout organization, which will be adding to the program in the near future.

Regular meetings held every Monday night at 7 p.m. will be held in the hall at 112 South Avenue K or directly behind the Community Center.

Jerry Stegall announced this week also, that the troop is starting a 'uniform bank', which means if you have any old scout uniforms laying around your home, outgrown or forgotten, please call him at 495-3011 and donate them, so they can be used by the scouts now meeting. There is always a boy that needs a little help, and the uniforms would be appreciated.

Scouts now active in the program are Sammy, Tommy and Kelly Binford, Shannon Adkins, Russell Smith, Gary and Jeff Lamb, Wayne Smith, Bobby Garcia, Jimmy Ticer, Wade Smith, Bobby Smith and Dicky Odom.

Large gift for cancer cause

AUSTIN — Mr. and Mrs. James Lacy of Midland have given a $27,365.00 gift designated for research on a new anti-tumor agent called Interferon; according to Frank J. Rauscher, Jr., Ph.D., Senior Vice President for Research, American Cancer Society. The Lacys have also announced they intend to raise an additional $2 million for the research project through recruitment of other large contributors.

Interferon is a natural body substance which has been shown to be active against virus and cancers in humans.

The American Cancer Society has allocated $5.4 million toward purchase of the material for use in clinical trials against cancer.

M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston is currently conducting tests with Interferon on breast cancer, melanoma, multiple myeloma, lung cancer and non-Hodgkins lymphoma. The cost of treating a single patient may run as high as $40,000 because of the limited supply of Interferon available and the high cost of producing the substance.

TEEN SCENE By Norm

The senior class and room mothers thank each and everyone for supporting their dance Saturday night. The response was great, and I think most everyone had a good time, even though most attending had been participating in some sporting event during the day and were dragging before the night was over.

Pat Mitchell, Lennie Drake and Randy Teaff are not yet teens, but they spent a lot of time preparing the system and lights and did an outstanding job. Thanks to Barry and Chuck Morris for your equipment.

Deb Palmer celebrated his birthday Sunday, so belated HB Deb!

Brent Mason has to be one of the luckiest people around. He was one of a few kids that crawled out of bed early Saturday morning to attend the Tab'na Yuan'e and he went home $150 richer. Yep, he won the big door prize. I asked him what he was going to do with it and his reply "I'm going to buy $150 worth of jeans." That's a lot of jeans, Brent!

David Poole got to show off his talents Tuesday morning during an assembly with a group from Hardin Simmons. David is still trying to figure out how they knew to call him by name from the audience. I don't know either David, but I understand you did a BANGUP job.

Glad to see that Rachelle Smith has been dismissed from the hospital. She is at home recovering and would enjoy anyone coming by to visit.

Since Mike Tatum started working at the highway department he has developed muscles, even he didn't know he had. You see he has to load and unload a lot of materials, thus building up his muscles. To make a long story short, he was arm wrestling his dad, Ted. Now Ted is sporting a dislocated shoulder. Shame on you Mike.

I know the third graders are not yet teens, but the students and Mrs. Jackson deserve a great big CONGRATS for an outstanding job in presenting "Bambi". Everyone who saw it, enjoyed it tremendously and I know a lot of the teens are a little jealous that they can't get that rhythm down quite like that Charles Wilson.

The countdown has started! Just eight more days until SPRING BREAK.

I know there's lots of competition scheduled for next week before you can take a break. Monday the UIL play will be given at Bordon extension agent is named

Mrs. La Rhea Pepper, Extension Assistant, will be in the Garza County office for a training assignment. Mrs. Pepper will be the agent in Borden County beginning April 16.

She is a 1979 graduate of Abilene Christian University. She has been teaching kindergarten in Lamesa this year. Her husband, Teri, is engaged in farming Freemanship; Tuesday and Wednesday, the UIL Literary events at Slaton, and Thursday, the girls district track meet will be held at Seminole. So good luck students in all your events and I sincerely hope you bring back the big one.

Public School Week has come and gone this month without much mention in the media. But after subbing last week, I have discovered that teachers have to be the most DEDICATED, PATIENT, and MOST UNDERPAID individuals in the whole world. I may be late, but I SALUTE YOU TEACHERS ONE AND ALL You do a terrific job!!!!!!!

SYD CONNER
Garza Extension Agent

If your job causes you to itch, you may not be alone. Occupational dermatitis — any skin abnormality caused by the work environment — is a common complaint among workers.

"Of all occupational diseases, skin disorders account for about half of all cases and for about 25 percent of the cost," points out Dr. Gary S. Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Nelson cites at least two reasons for occupational diseases of the skin. First, the skin has a large surface area for possible contact with hazardous substances. Second, the work environment contains many materials capable of damaging the skin.

"Chemicals are by far the most common cause of dermatitis since they are everywhere in modern industry, on the farm, and in every household," says Nelson.

"The best defense against dermatitis is to eliminate the offending chemical or irritant from the workplace or at least substitute a less hazardous substance," suggests the engineer. "But this is not always possible."

Many experts believe the major means of defense against all forms of dermatitis is keeping the skin clean and protecting it with gloves, special clothing and other personal protective equipment.

Such defenses require washing the skin frequently, cleaning protective equipment periodically, and always wearing protective equipment during exposure. Protective creams are being developed to apply directly to the skin before exposure, says Nelson.

"Numerous cases of dermatitis are not caused directly by substances used in the workplace but by materials used to 'wash up,'" adds Nelson. "Many times the most available cleaning agent is a dermatitis-producing solvent. Properly selected soap dispensers placed in the work area have proven an effective and simple method of combating this problem."

1980 GRASSHOPPER PLAGUE?

Rangeland and crops on the High Plains are facing a potentially serious grasshopper problem this year. Late summer adult grasshopper surveys conducted last year by the USDA indicated that that over 6.4 million acres had 8 or more grasshoppers per square yard. This is considered a heavy infestation. The same census completed in 1978 identified only 1.7 million acres as having heavy adult populations. And we all know how bad grasshoppers were in 1979.

If favorable conditions exist for egg survival and hopper development, both ranchers and farmers can expect a rough fight. Ideal conditions include a long open fall, a late spring, and a warm, dry summer with some rain. Cool, damp weather in the spring for 1 or more weeks will kill a lot of hopper eggs. But, since each grasshopper can lay an average of 200 eggs, the potential for an outbreak is staggering.

Farmers will have to fight grasshoppers on their own. Ranchers can get help from the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Cooperative Rangeland Grasshopper Program.

Maine and most of the western half of the United States, householders will be asked to keep their forms until census takers call to pick them up.

What happens if your household doesn't mail back its form?

First, you break the law. Second these households will be visited by census takers who will obtain the required information.

Taxpayers will be saved two million dollars for every one percent of the population that cooperates and mails back their forms. The savings comes from not having followup costs.

A temporary census work force of 270,000 persons has been hired to check the returned questionnaires for completeness, carry out door-to-door interviews where necessary and handle office tasks.

After the census questionnaires have been checked in 409 temporary district offices, they will be shipped to three major processing centers in Indiana, Louisiana and California. They are processed through high-speed microfilming equipment. This data then will be transmitted electronically to computers at census bureau headquarters in Suitland, Md.

No names or addresses from the questionnaires will be transmitted to the computers and the census form does not ask for social security numbers.

By law the census bureau must report the state population counts to the President by Jan. 1, 1981. Exactly a year after Census Day — April 1, 1981 — the bureau must make available to each state legislative totals for all counties, cities and certain recognized political and statistical subdivisions in the state.

Most of the 1980 census questions also were asked during the 1970 census, including subjects such as age, race, sex, marital status, type of housing unit, education and occupation.

This census will gather more information about racial and ethnic origin, national energy usage and journey-to-work patterns.

While federal law requires everyone to answer the census, the same law assures that every person's answers to the census are confidential.

No charge of breaching this confidentiality has ever been filed in the United States.

Census data will directly influence decisions on matters of national and local importance, such as economics, education, employment, military manpower potential, social security, business cycles, highway use, and the needs for health services, parks, water and energy.

American business firms up to multinational corporations rely on census statistics when selecting new sites, evaluating product lines, analyzing trends, designing sales program, and developing marketing and advertising strategies.

The census bureau estimates that 11 seats in the U.S. House of Representatives will shift among several states as the house is reapportioned for the 1980s on the basis of equal population representation.

Texas, along with California and Florida, is expected to gain two seats.

The final 1980 census count for this nation's population is expected to total 222 million.

More than 100 federal programs now guide their spending of an estimated $50 billion annually with census statistics. That's why an accurate count for Post and Garza County is important.

All Garza's 1980 census forms have been in county postoffices for the last two weeks, so a final check could be made through route carriers to be sure that there is an addressed form for every stop on every postman's route.

Reports have been made here on households with no addressed forms and these have been provided. Quite a few were missed here in

Twin Cedars News

Sunday services were brought to us by the Church of God of Prophecy with Rev. Leon Flemmer officiating. Next week's services will be brought to us by the Trinity Baptist Church with the Rev. Ralph White officiating.

I am very sorry I failed to mention some of the guest during our picnic among these were Mary Margaret Thorn, our administrator, Joanne Blacklock, Margie Redman, Jan Stelzer, LVN and Nannie V. Littrell. There were so many people that attended the picnic it was very easy to miss somebody. Nevertheless we would still like to say thank you.

Films featured this week were Blind Sunday, Young Women in Sports, and Ferdinand the Bull. Everybody enjoyed the films tremendously.

Winners at Bingo Monday were Evelyn Roach, Irene Wheeler, Blanche Graham, Anna Shelnut and Valeta Burks. Each of them won fruit. We all hope next week that some of our other players win.

We would like to thank Patsy Craig for bringing us the flower arrangement from the First Baptist Church. They are very beautiful and we would like to thank you.

Visitors this past week were Lottie Sanders, Virginia Terry, Loucille Walker, Fern Strange, Roberta Heron, Sybil Cockrum, Kim Cockrum, Andi Cockrum, Rose Askins, C. A. and Lucille Walker, Elita Roz, Inez Grantham, R. L. Warren, Jewell Greenfield, Alicia Pettyjohn, Edwina Pettyjohn, Burnice Newdiger, Elder Nealey, Zelma Richardson and Glenn Roberts.

Evelyn Roach has been feeling poorly with a cold but seems to be perking up some now.

Our hearts and prayers are with the family of Lorene Shepherd during this time of bereavement. Lorene was a dear friend and co-worker to all of us at Twin Cedars.

Until next week.....

HOST DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ray were hosts for a dinner honoring their grandson, Barry Ray, Sunday in their home. Barry is home on a two weeks leave from Boot Camp for the Marines. He will report back to Camp Pendleton. Attending the dinner were Mrs. Jerry Ray, Traci and Andy of Slaton, his mother and sister and brother, Mrs. W. R. Greer of Slaton, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Matthies, Sandra and Tammy of Post and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ray of Grassland visited during the day.

Post and on the local rural routes.

Census Day — April 1 — is the day on which the household count is official. A person who dies or moves away that day should not be counted.

Special enumerating methods also have been planned to count students at all colleges and universities not living at home, and those living in hospitals, prisons, orphanages and nursing homes. On April 1 everybody staying in hotels, motels and camp grounds will be checked. They will find packets containing individual census forms attached to their doors, vehicles or tents. Then on April 8 enumerators in cities will visit missions, flophouses, train and bus stations, all-night movies and live shows and city or county jails to be sure no one has been missed the week before.

One last thing. The census isn't going to cost you anything. The census forms coming Friday have return postage on them.

You don't even have to buy a stamp.

Gun safety skit given

A skit on gun safety entitled "What Not to Do" was presented at the Thursday meeting of the Graham 4-H club when it met in the community center. Brent and Brad Mason presented the program.

Johnny Kemp and Danny Richardson will be in charge of the rifle team this year and members interested signed up for the team.

A joint meeting with Close City 4-H was discussed during the business meeting.

Bart Mason led the 4-H motto and pledge.

Members present were: Trevah and Traci Bush, Sam Butler, Clay Cowdrey, Steve Fluitt, Russell, Ron and Angela Graves, Brent, Brad and Bart Mason, Kelly Mason, Roxanne McClellan, Jill Richardson, Keitha White, Blair Didway and Krista Kemp.

Adults present were Johnny Kemp, Danny Richardson, Willa Didway, Diane Graves, Jane Mason, Kathy Fluitt, Jerry Bush and Salli.

Rice grid star to speak here

David Stockwell, a graduate and former athlete from Rice University, will be the featured evangelist at a youth emphasis revival at the First Baptist Church. Stockwell was a Behavioral Science Major as well as a three year letterman at offensive guard for the Owls. He was also president of the Rice Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

DAVID STOCKWELL

Thousands of students have heard David "tell it like it is" at rallies and assemblies at universities, colleges, high schools, and junior high across America. Stockwell spoke last fall here at the Community Center and saw over 100 young people make commitments to Christ.

Also featured during the revival will be singing groups from the Calvary, Highland, and Oakwood Baptist Churches in Lubbock. Services will be at the church at 10:50 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Sunday, 7 p.m. on Monday, with a final rally at 7 p.m. at the Community Center Tuesday.

Open house for self-built home

SNYDER — A self-built new home by A. Alvarez, Jr., will be opened for public inspection Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5. The home is located at 419 34th street.

The home is a two-story style, one of the many designs available through Miles Homes, one of the nation's pioneer pre-cut, do-it-yourself home marketers.

Michael Lewaren, Miles Home representative in this West Texas area, says the home is being shown before actual completion so that visitors may examine the quality of materials which go into the home.

Miles Homes markets 50 home designs in 42 states.

Huntley Nursing Home News

We are very happy that our open house on Sunday, March 23, was a huge success. Approximately 250 people attended. Post was well represented and we had guests from Tahoka, Justiceburg, Roby, Slaton, Lubbock, Idalou, Littlefield, Levelland, Ja., N.M. and Eunice, N.M.

Our serving table was covered with a yellow cloth with a centerpiece of spring flowers. Pineapple frosted punch, coffee and cake were served. Mrs. Sexton Huntley served the punch and Mrs. Dennis Huntley served the cake. Lisa Huntley was in charge of the guest book.

We want to thank Don and Allane from Ammons Printing, Mrs. E. M. Norman, Gerald, Jim and Mary Etta, Strawn Transport, Victor, Iva, Curtis and Julie Hudman, Tom Power, Connie Jones, Sherry and Laveta from the Prairie Flower Shop, Bob Collier, Don Payne, Nita Burress, Doll Haire, Hans and Maurine Hudman and Bob and Suzanne Hudman for the beautiful plants and floral arrangements sent for our open house.

Thanks go also to the members of the Chamber of Commerce who participated in our ribbon cutting ceremony and to The Dispatch for covering the story.

Special recognition goes to Juanita Smith for the delicious cake served at our open house and to the dietary department for their help with the refreshments.

Sincere thanks to all of our staff for the outstanding job they did in caring for our residents and greeting our visitors.

We have had many volunteers to work in arts and crafts. Mrs. Elmer Cowdrey helped us to make flowers and Mrs. Dodson is helping us with cloth paintings. Mrs. Joe Ella Sparlin instructed us in making foam owls. We appreciate all the materials they donated for our craft program.

Our Wednesday Bible Class was "Nicodemus Comes to Jesus" brought to us by our faithful teacher, Patsy Craig.

Bingo winners this week were Bonnie McMahon and Henrietta Nichols. We enjoyed the movie "Where Timber Wolves Call". We are looking forward to some movies on our National Parks.

We had a treat last week when Mrs. V. M. Norman came to our home and played the accordion for us. We had a good old fashioned sing-a-long with Mr. Huntley joining in.

Mrs. Winnie Rodgers latest saying, "There once was a wise old owl who lived in an oak. The more he heard the less he spoke. The less he spoke the more he heard. Why can't we be like that wise old bird?"

Welcome to three new residents. Mr. Bill Gass, Mrs. Emma Jones and Mrs. Bernice Miller. We are happy to have them with us.

requirement to show the fuel cost adjustment as a separate item on the bills.

Ballegee said the Southwestern Public Service Company accepted this proposal for three reasons, "we have settled because of SPS's need for immediate relief in order to maintain its current construction program and the quality of service our customers require. Our original request was projected for two years; however, present economic uncertainties on the national scene make it very difficult to project exactly what will happen in the future. By accepting less, we may have to ask for additional rate relief sooner than previously anticipated. By implementing the rates in May, we will hopefully be able to save our financial bond ratings which are vital to our customers' long range benefit," Ballegee concluded.

Echoes of revival—

Some $2,000 in donations were received from publication of Lewis' article in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

A second page article by Don Smith, Postex Plant manager, entitled "Wake Up America — or This Could Well Be Your Last Decade as a Free Nation", has also been published in the newspaper ministry.

Several thousand copies of the two articles have been printed for distribution at rallies conducted by the mushrooming ministry.

The "I Love America" rallies are even newer than newspaper evangelism, though just as unique in the evangelistic field.

The first rally was held here only two weeks ago. Six more have now been scheduled. One is upcoming in Lubbock this Sunday night. Another is planned for Abilene April 11. There will be three more in Louisiana in April and another in Snyder in May.

The film, "The Salt Syndrome" is shown in these rallies. It tells the real story of this country's military inferiority to Russia. Then a strong appeal for both patriotic and spiritual commitment is made. Local laymen discuss the moral, spiritual and political decay in the United States and what part Christians should play in turning the tide.

Both Lewis and Smith also play major layman roles in these rallies and will be leading the rallies in Louisiana next month.

Scripture distribution is another of the Echoes Ministries. Several thousand New Testaments in both the King James and New American Standard versions. These have been distributed to those who have no Bible both in this country and also in the Caribbean area where Echoes is moving forward on several fronts. Thirty-two cases of testaments have just been received here for future distributions. A ten dollar donation buys 18 of the testaments.

Echoes sent a team of Post laymen to St. Kitts island there for a week-long revival effort last March and work in that area has never slackened since.

In Echoes' radio ministry, recorded 30-minute evangelistic programs are broadcast weekly all over the Caribbean, reaching across Cuba and Central America, from a 100,000

Post group—

The Mayan Indians raised corn and beans, but why they choose to live in the hot jungle area instead of the mountain highlands where Guatemalan Indians now live no one is sure.

Neither do historians know what happened to this civilization, but they believe it was not wiped out by a natural disaster such as earthquakes or volcanoes of which Guatemala has many. Historians believe the civilization was lost, like many others of ancient times, because of a combination of drought, soil erosion, epidemics, and possible foreign invasion.

The tour group spent five days in Guatemala, being headquartered in Guatemala City. They flew to Tikal in an old DC-3 two-motored plane of World War II vintage and landed on a small jungle airstrip from which they were bussed to the ruins.

First discovery of the Mayan ruins was made in 1895 and the first excavations began in the 1930s by the University of Pennsylvania. They are continuing today with many of the settlements not yet excavated.

The tour group also spent a night on the shore of a large mountain lake, Lago de Cetitlan, on whose shores are three volcanoes, one of them still active.

Another day was spent visiting a huge market in the town of Chichicastenango where all kinds of native crafts are exhibited and sold.

The group flew home Saturday watt radio station on St. Kitts island. This began in April of 1979.

Another Echoes-led revival may be conducted on St. Kitts this June. The date is only tentative right now, but Director Reece told The Dispatch he and local laymen have been invited back for a revival in an outdoor stadium.

Echoes also has a ministry of music and concerts.

The Sisters in Song, composed of Marita Jackson, Lee Ann Hodges, Kay Lamb and Sharla Wells, contribute heavily in this ministry of music, as well as Phil and Rhonda Alford.

Tina Lewis, former church secretary, who has moved to Louisiana has volunteered to help the Echoes of Revival Ministries in that state and has helped arrange the expansion of the ministries into communities and cities in that state.

Echoes of Revival also includes gospel literature, with several special publications already printed, two of which were written by Director Reece and a book on Bible prophecy, This Is a Warning, by Tom Lewis; provides strong Bible teachers for Bible Conferences, and provides trained laymen for soul winning seminars to teach others how to win others to Christ.

Echoes of Revival is a missionary extension of the local church. All funds for the ministry raised by the church are through designated offerings.

This ministry is directed by the pastor and a committee of five members elected by the church. The committee is presently composed of Smith, Lewis, Dwayne Capps, Homer Cawthon and Patsy Craig.

The Rev. Reece calls Echoes of Revival "both a dream of mine and a commission."

Postings—

Not so weekends. Then you're around the house for two whole days. You can spend your afternoons watching TV sports after getting the household chores out of the way in the morning. Celery and cucumbers, if you like them, can get you by for a weekend or two.

The first time we went to the super market after starting on our 'spring 1980 diet' we just about wiped out their produce department, filling the cart with calorie-free vegetables, and then going around adding all kinds of new food on the diet list. When the cashier rang up the total we found we'd overspent our weekly "allowance" by 50 percent. How's that for a start?

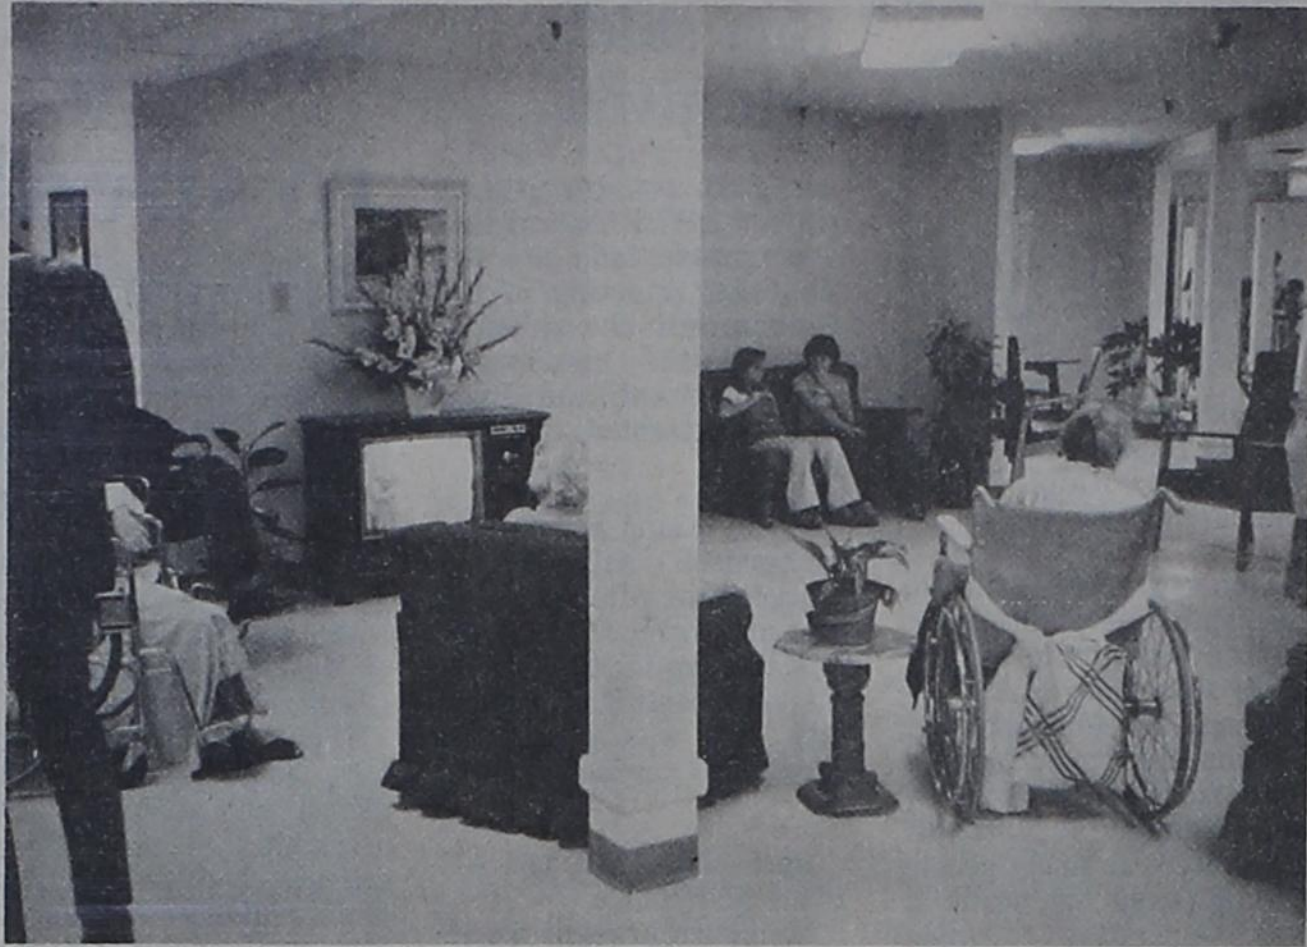

The trouble with "bachelor cooking" is that old saw, nobody likes to cook for just one person. But "diet bachelor cooking" is much worse. You cook such small portions it doesn't seem worth the effort.

The whole "trick" to successfully dieting we learned 20 years ago was how to make the transition from the renewed interest in "diet mechanics" to concentrating on getting some results on the bathroom scales.

Once you can convert from one to the other then you can say you're "on" your diet.

We dropped four pounds over the first weekend. But we are just getting started. We still like celery, half grapefruits, and quartered small canteloupes. We're not close yet to that mental transformation from "looking forward to the next meal" to "getting on the scales" in the morning. (You weigh less when you get up to face the day, so that's the best time to face the scales when you're dieting.)

Our new hero is Carl Cederholm. He's lost 18 pounds already on his "thousand a day."

Nursing home insight given

Jane Carlisle of Anchorage, Alaska, who is the training coordinator of the new Huntley Nursing Home, gave Post Rotarians Tuesday noon at their weekly luncheon in the community center a new insight into the care of the aged in nursing homes.

She spoke at length on the aging process and many of the real problems which nursing home employees must be taught to understand the nursing home residents.

Miss Carlisle, who also was employed seven years by Hank Huntley in the Lulling nursing home here, said she had never found a community more cooperative with a nursing home than Post.

Rites held—

County buys car equipment

The Garza County Commissioners Court voted Monday to spend $3,360 to equip with police radios, light bars, and sirens two used Department of Public Safety cars the city is purchasing from the state for the sheriff's office here.

Chief Deputy Donnie Walker told the commissioners two 40 watt Regency radios will cost $1,610, one light bar with siren $1,200 and one set of grill lights with siren approximately $650.

In other actions, the court:

Voted to purchase an IBM correcting Selectric II with 13½ inch carriage for the tax assessor's and Collector's office for $864;

Approved right-of-way on a county road for General Telephone to bury a phone cable for 3,670 feet and then trenching it across the road;

As a matter of record entered into the minutes the letter from South Plains Emergency Medical Services.

Kirkpatrick to command A&M cadet corps unit

COLLEGE STATION — Mark W. Kirkpatrick of Post has been chosen to command a unit in Texas A & M University's 1980-81 Corps of Cadets.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick, 1010 West 10th St. will command the 1st Wing, composed of Air Force ROTC units organized in three groups. The junior animal science major serves this year as the wing sergeant major.

Cadet Corps leadership is drawn from the senior class. Next year's Corps commander, Kenneth Cross of Richardson, will be Kirkpatrick's only cadet superior.

Kirkpatrick and other unit commanders will assume their posts May 3 at Final Review, the Corps' last formal military activity of the school year. Kirkpatrick will be sworn in with other cadet officers from the Class of 1981 at the start of the fall semester.

A 1977 Post High School graduate, Kirkpatrick, serves on the Class of '81 council and in the Ross Volunteers, an elite honor military unit.

Sunrise winds say 'fair crop'—

The Tabana Yuan'e crowd which got up early got some extras this year with some Indian "singing" and dancing following the wind-determining weather prediction. A lot of bundled up youngsters watched with interest.

Several Kwahadi dancers, a noted Amarillo-based Indian dancing group, were on hand in full Indian regalia to treat the crowd to some "extras".

Ed Berg of Canyon sang a Kiowa song accompanying himself on an Indian drum. Joe Hays of Kress and Paxton Fabro of Borger, also attired in bright Indian clothes, demonstrated an authentic Indian dance.

At the end, all the "Indians" danced around the coals of Chief Runkles dying "wind fire", including Tom and Debbie Nystel of Lubbock with Mrs. Nystel carrying her five-month-old child in her arms.

CANCER MEMORIALS
Memorials to the Garza County Chapter of the American Cancer Society may be made through Mrs. Ruby Williams at 495-2073 or Mrs. Nelda Dalby at 495-3428, or may be left at 228 E. Main.

The Nystels were in civilian clothes, but Tom said afterwards they would have dressed in Indian outfits had they known the Tabana Yuan'e ceremony was to be so elaborate.

Chamber president Shaw was interviewed for the Texas State radio news network.

After the ceremonies, the crowd moved rapidly into the junior livestock pavilion to eat a catered Chamber-sponsored breakfast.

Gift certificates worth $375 were awarded in a Chamber drawing following the breakfast.

Certificate winners were Brent Mason, $150; Mrs. Marshall Tipton, $100; Victor Hudman $75; and Boy Hart $50.

Hudman immediately donated his $75 to the junior livestock association's building fund.

Chamber president Shaw thanked all the farmer and rancher guests at the breakfast for turning out. He said later that contributions from Post business firms assured the event of "breaking even" financially.
