

Riley Miller will stage old time Wild West Show

Riley Miller of Justiceburg is teaming up with Bobby Estes, rodeo producer from Callahan County, to stage "The Miller Bros. and Lone Star Wild West and American Heritage Show" on the Miller Ranch Saturday and Sunday afternoons, May 24-25.

The two-hour performances will start at 2 p. m. on each of the two days at the rodeo arena on Miller's ranch two miles west of Justiceburg.

The shows are a benefit for Amy Pratt, eight-year-old former Post girl who is a victim of cancer and will undergo an operation at M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston May for the removal of one lung.

Amy is the daughter of Jim and Barbara Pratt and now lives in Benjamin. When the family lived here, her daddy worked on the Bill Sharp ranch south of Post.

Miller told The Dispatch over the weekend the show will be patterned after the show he staged at the Borden County celebration at Gail in 1976 only it will include Jack Himes of Pueblo, Colo. and Darrell Jones of Burk Burnett, Tex., and possibly Howard Hunter of Kyle, S. D., currently in fourth place in the RCA bronc riding standings, and Tom Miller of Faith, S. D.

Other top saddle bronc riders who are expected to appear on the program include Jack Himes of Pueblo, Colo. and Darrell Jones of Burk Burnett, Tex., and possibly Howard Hunter of Kyle, S. D., currently in fourth place in the RCA bronc riding standings, and Tom Miller of Faith, S. D.

The bronc riding will be as an exhibition and not as a contest with prizes offered, Miller told The Dispatch. Also on the big western show are: Johnny Seay of Cleburne, country and western singer who has a gold record for a million sales of his single, "Day for Decision." J. W. Stoker of Weatherford, champion trick rider and roper.

Hospital board is unhappy

When informed the hospital district will be required to pay over $51,737.40 in the next two years and five months for the new Garza County tax appraisal system, one Garza Memorial Hospital director declared, "We should refuse to pay the money and let the new Garza County Appraisal Board sue us."

The comment was made last Thursday morning at the May breakfast meeting of the hospital directors at the hospital when Hospital Administrator John Murray presented directors with a breakdown of the costs to set up the new Garza County Appraisal Board and secure new 100 percent appraisals of all taxable property in Garza County.

The hospital board has been assigned 27 percent of the costs by the Garza County Appraisal Board although the hospital district is not represented on the five-member board.

The only "catch" to refusing to pay the big bill is that the hospital district already had agreed to accept the billing before the total cost had been determined.

The Garza County Appraisal Board has contracted to pay $56,620 to Associated Tax Service of Irving, Tex., for a complete appraisal of all Garza taxable property except minerals.

The board also has contracted with Latham and Stults to appraise minerals in the county in 1981 and 1982 at a cost of $57,500 each year.

There is almost $20,000 estimated cost for "start-up" of the appraisal board office here, plus the on-going expense of this office for each year in 1981 and 1982.

The hospital district's 27 percent share of these expenses figures at $8,100 for the contract payment to Associated Tax Service through Sept. 30 of this year, $5,400 for start-up office expenses during the remaining five months of the fiscal year, $22,712.40 for payments of balance to Associated Tax Service and first year of Latham and Stults contract, due in 1981, and See Hospital board, Page 14

Blaze guts motor home

A motor home was completely destroyed by fire Friday night about five miles east of Post on US-380.

The motor home belonged to a Littlefield couple according to information from the state highway patrol, Fire Chief Neal Clary told The Dispatch.

He said the owner of the motor home apparently had hitch hiked into Post to report the blaze. The vehicle was completely destroyed by the time the fire department arrived.

A car fire here in Post Monday afternoon about 5:30 was the only other fire during the past week.

Beer salesman, liquor store hit—

Trio escapes with $4,200 holdup loot

Three armed blacks held up a Coors beer salesman and the White Front Package Store, 15 miles north of Post on FM-651, Tuesday evening and escaped with $4,200 in cash and checks and a case of beer.

The trio got a 15-minute head start over pursuit officers because the liquor store did not have a telephone. Deloris Lindsey, one of the co-owners, had to drive clear to Calgary to phone the sheriff's office here concerning the robbery.

Several highway patrolmen and sheriff deputies from other counties joined Garza officers in the search for the trio over a wide area but no trace of them was found.

Sheriff Jim Pippin gave this account of the holdup to The Dispatch:

Jimmy Duncan, driver of the Coors beer truck, drove up to the package store and went inside between 5:30 and 5:45 p.m. to see how large a beer order the store wanted.

The trio of blacks drove up and parked behind the beer truck so the truck driver and Mrs. Lindsey, the only two inside, didn't see them arrive or see their vehicle.

The three entered the store armed with a rifle, shotgun and pistol and told Mrs. Lindsey and Duncan "to stand still — this is a robbery."

They took $4,000 in cash and checks from Duncan and $200 in money and checks from Mrs. Lindsey. How much of this was cash, Sheriff Pippin said he didn't know.

The holdup men then ordered the pair into the beer cooler and threatened to shoot them if they "stuck their heads" out of it.

The holdup man with the shotgun then fired once into the floor of the liquor store apparently to scare the pair in the cooler before the three ran out of the store.

By the time Duncan and

Mrs. Lindsey could get outside, the trio were a half mile away in their car, heading north and taking the turn to Spur which is within

Grand jury here indicts eleven

Ten men and one woman were indicted here Monday on a wide variety of charges in one of the busiest grand jury sessions in recent years.

Two of the four men indicted Jan. 11 for murder in the death of Guadalupe Vasquez were re-indicted Monday on additional evidence.

They are Carlos Romero and Joe Perez. They are charged with the fatal injuring of the Post woman on the night of Dec 10, 1979.

Other charges in indictments returned by the grand jury included welfare fraud, involuntary manslaughter, criminal mischief, possession of a controlled substance "listed in penalty group 1", theft, and driving while intoxicated subsequent offense.

Doyle Ray McClellan was indicted for involuntary manslaughter for causing the death of Jimmy Odom by colliding with a parked semi-trailer while operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated the night of last Jan. 27.

Barbara Curtis, the only woman indicted, was charged with welfare fraud.

Her indictment alleged she unlawfully appropriated Oct. 1, 1979, one authorization to purchase food stamp coupons, the value of which was over $20 and less than $200, and one public assistant treasury warrant of value of over $20 but less $156,000 up for 'hopper spraying'

Over 260,000 acres of Garza range land has been signed up for a possible government aerial spraying campaign next month against a heavy grasshopper infestation.

Already ranchers have put up $156,000 in cash as their one third share of the estimated cost at a rate of 60 cents per acre.

County Agent Syd Conner said Tuesday afternoon that in all probability thousands of more acres will be signed up for spraying before the final deadline next Tuesday when the county's request must be turned over to the USDA officials.

The county agent said he drove 139 miles inside the county Monday checking grasshopper infestations throughout the county and found from nine to 40 grasshoppers per square yard in the spot checks made southwest and northeast of Post.

Eight grasshoppers per square yard are enough to eat twice as much grass as Garza's pasturelands normally produce, Conner pointed out.

There are 465,000 acres of rangeland in the county. How much will eventually be signed up for the program, Conner wouldn't guess.

The county agent pointed out that this is only a spraying program for range land and that spraying is not allowed on cultivated land.

He also said for the government to consider spraying range acreages, spray blocks of 10,000 acres must be secured.

"We won't know until after Tuesday whether the government will accept our Garza acreage for spraying even if we meet the 10,000 acre block requirements," Conner said, pointing out

Final margin now 3 votes— Recount gives vote to Foster

An official recount last Thursday of Garza's Precinct 3 county commissioner's close race did change one vote — but R. G. (Wilke) Wilkerson, who paid for the recount, didn't get it.

Instead the vote went to Cecil Foster, Sr.

So Foster wound up getting into the runoff June 7 against incumbent commissioner Mike Cisneros by three votes instead of one.

The final tally was 93 votes for Foster to 90 for $1.20 an acre, of the estimated spraying costs.

The county agent said if the spraying program is undertaken in Garza County it probably will be done in the first half of June by four-engine planes with electronic guidance equipment aboard.

The proposed grasshopper spraying, if undertaken, will be the biggest ranch project in Garza since all the county's cattle were blood tested in 1962.

When are those spring showers going to amount to anything more than a few black clouds in the sky, some great moisture smells and a small patter of rain which disappears into thirsty Garza soil without a trace?

County Agent Syd Conner was telling us Tuesday afternoon when we were interviewing him on the grasshopper aerial spraying plans that right now there is very little Garza grass for hoppers, cows or anything else to eat.

Here it is mid-May and so dry that cattle are still on feed in this county.

Syd can recall only one year in the past 20 when cattle were still on feed because of drought on June 1. That, date my readers, is now little more than two weeks away.

Have you been out to the cemetery lately? It looks the worst we've ever seen it a week before the Memorial Day weekend, lack of moisture is the cause of course.

As for our yard at the Castle, not even a stray weed is growing yet because our fertilizer is still in two 50-pound sack falls in the carport storage shed and we hesitate to try to green it up with the hose because the yard is a mite too big — and we hate yard work anyway.

A pair of neighborhood boys knocked at the front door one night this week to ask if they could mow our yard this summer. We told them we were going to wait and see. The way it looks now the yard just may skip 1980.

One really for the kids

When Riley Miller of Justiceburg teams up with Bobby Estes of Abilene to stage the two afternoon performances of "Miller Bros. and Lone Star Wild West and American Heritage Show" on the Memorial Day weekend May 24-25 he will be starting something he will find hard to turn loose of.

Those of my generation can well remember when the circuses would come to town and how after the thrills of the circus show were over there usually was a second show — a wild west extravaganza with wild riding horsemen and painted Indians plus lots of trick riding, trick roping and trick shooting.

Of course in those days you went to the movie on Saturday afternoons for a dime to see all of Hollywood's cowboy stars in their white hats who would do battle with the bad men in their black hats and not kiss any of the heroines.

The Wild West as it used to be. Today's cowboy stars all ride the rodeo circuit in their pickup trucks, or if they're real good good they compete in two or three rodeos the same weekend by flying back and forth to the next night's work.

Anyway, what we're trying to say is that the nostalgia for the old days should be preserved, not forgotten.

Things like a longhorn cattle drive, the stage coach holdup, an Indian war dance, a buffalo stampede, a mariachi band, bronc riding, and the delights of watching an exhibit of trick riding and roping need to be passed on to every new generation of youngsters.

It sounds to us like Riley has mapped a wonderful afternoon's show — and we feel sure there will be a big turnout for both performances, especially when all the kids under 12 will get in free.

Right there you can see that Riley Miller is going to do his best Memorial Day weekend to pass along some of the most romantic parts of the old wild west to our new generation.

We hope the whole ranch is simply filled with kids.

It's for a great benefit cause too — to finance a cancer operation for a former Post youngster.

We asked Riley this week when we called if the new show was going to be a permanent fixture.

He thought a half minute and replied he had no such intentions.

Well, we're not quite sure.

And we hope there will be such a big crowd on his ranch Memorial Day weekend that he can't resist coming back with No. 2 in 1981 — and so on.

"He just saw my bill!"

John deserves support

The delightful angle to John Anderson's quest for the presidency as a political independent is that if he stays in there to election day he could free the American people from four more years of Jimmy Carter.

Not that Anderson could be elected president. Instead he would take enough liberal votes away from Carter to propel Ronald Reagan all the way from California to Washington, D.C.

The media this week reported Anderson is now receiving $50,000 a day in response to his appeal to the voters for funds to finance his independent campaign.

Polls taken in several states also show that the votes Anderson would reap at the polls would be mainly Carter votes. The president's supporters admit this, but there is nothing they can do about it unless somewhere between now and November Anderson withdraws again — just as he did for the Republican nomination.

It ought to be worth a few bucks of any citizen's money to help finance John Anderson — and thereby probably close the door to Jimmy Carter's reelection.

How about February 21?

Sunday was something else besides Mother's Day. It was Tax Freedom Day.

Up until 11:52 a.m. Sunday, according to calculations, the average American had worked all year for Uncle Sam. It took the average American that long to pay his federal taxes.

From that moment on, he began to earn something for himself.

Total it up, the average American worked 131 days this year from New Year's Day to Mother's Day to pay his taxes.

The federal tax burden has increased 115 percent in just the last five years.

By 1985, if this federal tax burden continues to grow at its current rate, Tax Freedom Day will be moved from Mother's Day to the fourth of July.

Said one senator in Washington: "It is absolutely intolerable that in a free society our workers toll 131 out of 365 days each year for government.

Commented another senator: "We are prisoners of our own government."

The trouble is simply that things have gone so far that nobody in government today dares turn off the spigot.

The efforts of the current administration to balance the budget was a sham. We balanced it by spending more — not less.

And now Congress lies besieged by those who oppose what cutbacks have been made and are restoring many of them.

How nice it would be to really celebrate Tax Freedom Day on a cold winter day in February, like say on George Washington's birthday.

Sisters tour South in their quest for 'roots'

Mrs. Quannah Maxey recently returned to her home, after accompanying her sisters, Mrs. Louis Sinclair and Mrs. John Kirksey of Lubbock, Mrs. Grady Webb of Roaring Springs; and her cousin Mrs. Dalton Hill of El Paso, on an extended tour through the southern states in quest of their "roots."

They did genealogical research in county court houses, libraries, and cemeteries, and also at the State department of Archives and History in Jackson, Miss.; and the State department of Archives and Records in Atlanta, Ga.

In touring the city of Vicksburg, they were surprised to find the historic and ancestral "Duff Green House" (also the name of their father), built in 1840 and used as a Confederate hospital during the Civil War.

These ladies searched for the grave-site of their maternal great-grandmother Trimmier in Louisville, Miss.; and their great grandfather Trimmier in Walhalla, So. Carolina. At the Walhalla Library, they were able to secure a book titled "Horseshoe Robinson" (first published in 1835, and still in publication). This story depicted the life of their grandfather Trimmier and his family, and the early history of South Carolina politics when he was a State Senator.

In Culpeper, Va., their father's cousin accompanied them to the paternal ancestral homes of the Green, Lewis, and Yancey families. Robert Green the first of their lineage in America from England built "Liberty Hall" in 1710; and it was owned and occupied by the Green families until 1876.

There are five generations of Greens buried in the family cemetery at "Liberty Hall." Just across the Hazel River from "Liberty Hall" is their grandmother Green's ancestral home "Mountain View," built by the Lewis family in 1839. Near-by, is "Arlington" the home of their great-great grandmother Yancey. The Yancey family occupied this home from 1710 until 1939. Seven generations of Yanceys lie buried in the adjacent private cemetery.

One of the high-lights of their trip was a visit to the "Little Fork Episcopal church" of St Mark's Parish (the only colonial church in Culpeper County), where the Green, Lewis, and Yancey families worshipped. It was built in 1776, and was restored and re-dedicated in 1979. On the restored pulpit, which was built from the floor to the ceiling, an engraved plaque reads: "Pulpit given in memory of Robert Green 1695-1748. Member of the first vestry. By His Descendants."

Before returning to their respective homes, these ladies met Mrs. Sinclair's daughter and their niece, Mrs. Dan Guy of New York City, for a week-end of sight-seeing in Washington, D.C. They also visited Mount Vernon and the Arlington National Cemetery, where two of their second generation grandparents were buried.

Teen curfew is rejected

TAHOKA — The Tahoka city council last week rejected a request for a curfew of teenagers here.

The request was in the form of a petition signed by 248 residents, including about 12 merchants.

A spokesman for the petitioners told the council that "people are sick and tired of the vandalism and littering" which he claimed was on the increase here.

Council members agreed there is a problem with such offenses, but said such curfew laws have been held illegal and also would not be in the best interests of the community.

The council told the spokesman that an increased effort would be made to enforce existing ordinances on drinking, littering, and traffic.

False Rumor

It is not true that a voter will not be allowed to vote in the June 7 runoff if he or she didn't vote in the May 3 primary.

You can vote June 7 whether or not you voted May 3. And I'm asking Pct. 3 voters to consider my business experience and vote for me for county commissioner.

Your vote and support will be appreciated.

Texas treasury mighty healthy

COLLEGE STATION — Although the single most compelling problem facing our country today is inflation, the Texas treasury retains a healthy balance, the state treasurer said here recently.

State spending has increased greatly in the past nine years, but a phenomenal growth in existing tax revenues has kept pace with the growing budget, said Warren Harding at the annual County Treasurers Seminar sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System.

"The people of Texas have been fortunate in the past several years as far as increased taxes are concerned," Harding said. "Not since 1971 have state taxes been an important item on the legislative agenda."

The federal revenue sharing program and the adult welfare programs have also been a big help in relieving some of the burden on the state budget, he said. These two federal programs have added more than a billion dollars to the state's spending capacity over the past eight years.

"Thanks to the greatly increased revenues from our state taxes, plus a little help from Washington, the state ended fiscal year 1975 with an unexpected and unheard-of billion dollar surplus. However, four years later, the surplus was down to $677 million," said the state treasurer.

"The budget for the state of Texas for 1980 amounts to more than $10 billion. In the vault in the state treasurer's office, we hold more than $13.5 billion in securities," he said.

Harding said about $300 million is received each year from the state tax on cigarettes alone.

But the healthy treasury may soon have to ward off a few menacing problems. Recently, the U.S. Senate passed the federal budget which called for the end of revenue sharing for states and a reduction in aid to welfare programs, Harding reported. This precludes the introduction of three major fiscal issues to the next regular session of the state legislature:

1. The issue of how to adjust to a more modest growth rate in state revenues.

2. The issue of highway financing and especially the question of an increased gasoline tax.

3. The entire issue of financing government services.

Yet, Harding predicted much optimism for the Lone Star State.

"According to U.S. Census Bureau projections, the 1980 census should show a decrease in the number of 'Snowbelt' seats in the House of Representatives by eight or nine while 'Sunbelt' seats will increase by the same amount," he said. "A shift of eight seats would give the Sunbelt a one-vote majority in the House for the first time in history."

A new study by the labor department showed the Sunbelt and Western states took two out of every three new jobs created in the U.S. from 1968 to 1978, Harding reported. The main reason for such a high employment rate was stated as "the South and West appear to have a better business climate," he said.

Texas was the most favorably rated state in the survey.

advantaged according to one of the following criteria: a, be from a family whose income would qualify the student for a free lunch under the national school lunch program, or (b) be unable to speak and comprehend the English language.

TEEN SCENE By Norm

What can I say about the senior play other than IT WAS GREAT and all the actors, crew, and everyone connected with it in any way deserves a big bouquet of roses.

To elaborate just a bit about the play, I think each and everyone played their part just perfect. If there were any missed lines it was it was unbeknown to the audience. It is hard to imagine that three pretty girls such as Susan Sawyers, Susan Strawn and Lea Ann Babb could make such ugly faces and that Texas accent that David Poole had was so natural. So to Donna Baumann, Leanna Davis, Mark Greer, Donna Simecek, Melodie Yarbro, Donald Edwards, David Poole, John Bill Hedrick, Tina Rogers, Susan Sawyers, Susan Strawn, Lea Ann Babb, Pat Mitchell, Randy Teaff, Melissa Tatum and Donna Nelson we salute you for a great evening of entertainment.

Jerri and I traveled to San Angelo last Friday and Saturday to attend graduation of ASU and to help Kelly move home. Well, as I was wondering around by the swimming pool at the Holiday Inn Friday night I walked right into Derek Wall who asked "Are you lost again?" If you remember, he was one of those lucky people who helped me find my way around Tech recently. "no," Derek not this time.

He along with nine others from Post were attending the FFA Convention. Adolpho Varela, Drew Kirkpatrick and Lynn Simpson passed their test while in San Angelo and will travel to the state FFA Convention to be held in July in Houston to receive their Lone Star Farmer Degree. So Congrats to the three of you. Others attending the convention were Chris Belongia, Derek, Jana Terry, Patricia Sepeda, Dana Hodges, Drew, Adolpho, Lynn and sponsors, E. A. Howard and Ray Conner. There was just one thing I never found out. The motel goofed and the Post group had only two rooms in which to stay. The three girls had one room, so that left seven to fight over the one remaining room. Who wound up in the floor????

The Sophomores should have a great time Friday. Their end of school party is going to be a HOBO Hay Ride and if I understand it correctly, the only way you're able to go on this party is if you are dressed for the occasion. Should be some funny sights.

Our condolences to Casey Zachary. He somehow managed to sit down on a knife and had five stitches. Enough said!!!!!!

And then there's Mike Tatum who's sporting around several bruises and scratches. Someone forgot to tell Mike that you can't drive a motorcycle while standing.

The seniors gave a big sigh of relief Wednesday as they turned in those research papers. Another mile stone reached.

Anticipation is growing towards the Junior-Senior Banquet a week from Saturday. It promises to be a big sensation. If you haven't asked her, you'd better hurry.

National focus on care of resources

COLLEGE STATION — Focusing attention on the care of our natural resources — that's the purpose of Soil Stewardship Week sponsored annually by the National Association of Conservation Districts in cooperation with the nation's nearly 3,000 soil and water conservation districts.

This year's observance is this week, May 11-18, and the theme will be "The Judgment of Nature," points out Dr. B.L. Harris, land and water use specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"We must consider the role of nature as we consider the current condition of our soil, water and related resources," points our Harris. "Through nature, we are linked with the past and committed to the future."

"Nature is a continuing process that rewards care and constructive attention, but at the same time it penalizes negligence and deliberate damage," Harris adds. Some three million acres of productive agricultural land are most each year through urbanization and other uses, notes the specialist. In addition, the productivity of topsoil continues to decline due to destructive erosion, and pollution of our nation's waters is a threat to everyone. "Today, the continued productivity of our soil remains our nation's most precious natural resource," contends Harris. "We depend on it for the food we eat as well as to provide food for export abroad. "Our nation has abundant natural resources that have been entrusted to our care," emphasizes Harris. "What we do with them is up to us and our God-given talents. Nature will be the one to make the final judgment."

LUBBOCK — The Board of Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. in called session on Thursday, May 8, voted by the strong margin of 28 to 4 to support a bill commonly known as the "Kent Hance 65 percent parity bill," numbered 6815 by the House Agriculture Committee.

The bill calls for minimum Commodity Credit Corporation loan levels at 65 percent of parity on wheat, feed grains, cotton and other farm commodities. PCG's action came on the heels of a PCG Board session with Congressman Hance the previous Monday in which Hance told members he would like to have strong support from the organization.

The new PCG position represents a dramatic reversal of standing PCG policy favoring cotton loans based on an average of U.S. spot market prices. That basic policy had been in effect without serious challenge since 1977.

A Budget Committee waiver and clearance from the House Rules Committee are now necessary before the Hance bill can be brought to the House floor. Hance has said he expects both the Budget and Rules Committees to act on the bill sometime this month, but in the meeting with the PCG Board gave it only a 10 to 20 percent chance for survival in the House.

Immediately after the Thursday meeting, PCG President Joe D. Unfred of New Home sent Congressman Hance the following telegram.

"PCG Board of Directors Thursday, May 8, voted 28 to 4 to support H.B. 6815. We stand ready to support your efforts. Please let us know your plans to move the bill to the floor and what we can do to expedite its enactment in time to be of assistance to producers in 1980."

Cotton's parity price as of April 30 was 106 cents per pound. Should the Hance bill beat the odds cited against it and become law, that parity price would set the cotton loan level at 68.9 cents per pound on the base quality, Strict Low Middling one-sixteenth inch, 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire at average location.

Parity prices are announced as of the end of each month, and presumably the actual loan level under the Hance bill would depend on when it became effective. Should the Hance bill not become law, and barring other legislative changes, the loan for 1980 will remain at 48 cents per pound as announced at the end of October.

The loan value of cotton qualities that cominate High Plains production of course would be below that of the base quality. For example the base 1979 loan rate at High Plains warehouse locations was 50.35 cents while strict Low Middling Light Spot 31-32 inch, 3.4 micronaire (used by statisticians as the average High Plains quality), was 64 "points" less, at 43.90 cents.

Premiums and discounts that determine the loan value of individual qualities change from year to year. They have not been announced for 1980, but the 64-point 1979 discount applied to the hypothetical 68.9-cent base loan rate used above would bring the loan on the average High Plains quality to 62.46 cents. Years when the quality of High Plains cotton falls below average, obviously its loan value would be lower. A case in point is 1979 when most High Plains cotton "miked" far below the multi-year 3.4 average, increasing the loan discount by as much as 540 points.

Soil Stewardship Week declared May 11 - 17

MAKE IT OFFICIAL — Governor Bill Clements is shown signing a proclamation declaring May 11-May 18 as Soil Stewardship Week in Texas. Standing behind the Governor are members of the Soil Stewardship Committee of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation District.

Governor, Judge sign proclamations

Governor Bill Clements and County Judge Giles Dalby have signed proclamations declaring this week as Soil Stewardship Week in Texas and Garza County.

The governor in his proclamation points out that "the soil and water resources of Texas are God given resources and are of basic importance to the welfare of all the citizens of the state."

"Soil and water conservation districts provide a practical and democratic organization through which land owners are taking the initiative to conserve and make the proper use of these resources.

"Soil and water conservation districts are committed to improving our state through the wise use and development of our soil and water resources and are sponsoring Soil Stewardship Week," the governor added.

Judge Dalby declared that the well being of each individual depends upon the production of ample supplies of food, fiber and other products of the soil; and the quality and quantity of these producers depend upon the conservation, wise and proper management of the soil and water resources.

SIGNING PROCLAMATION — Garza County Judge Giles Dalby signs a proclamation designating the week of May 11-May 18 as Soil Stewardship Week. With Judge Dalby is L. G. Thuett Jr., secretary-treasurer of Garza Soil and Water Conservation District. — (Staff Photo)

The Judgment of Nature

How vast and teeming, this world where we live —
Full of power and wonder, with so much to give.
God made it for us — just one of a kind —
To test us and feed us in body and mind.

No place else has the rivers, the corn and the trees.
No place else has our cattle, our cotton and bees.
Only here do men grow with the will to survive.
Only here are the means for families to thrive.

God's nature enfolds us in ten million ways.
It joins us with life throughout all our days.
You were born into nature; you're a part of its being.
All your actions and outlooks affect its full meaning.

Each new morning's a challenge, if you'll give it a chance
To sharpen your purpose and plan an advance.
There are problems to solve; goals yet to be won;
So lend us your strength while there's work to be done.

We've been moving along over ten thousand years
With our ups and downs, bringing joys and some tears.
It's been a long, hard march, from Eden to space —
All of it possible through God's good grace —
But it's clear nowadays to all who'll perceive
Man and nature together have just begun to achieve.

Consider nature. Consider it well.

KTXT-TV is Texas No. 1

LUBBOCK — A recently released Nielson Report shows KTXT-TV to be the number one Public Broadcasting Station in Texas based on percent of prime-time audience.

According to John Henson, Station Manager, 25 percent of Channel Five's metro audience watches the station at least once a week during prime-time. Henson added, "We're not only first in Texas but we're ranked 13th in the nation for percent of metro households viewing per week. This represents an 8 percent growth over last year.

Henson felt there were a number of reasons for the growth. "I think the biggest one is that people are discovering KTXT-TV and that Public TV is more than classroom lectures. They are finding out it is really great television!"

Baby shower honors Kathy

A layette shower to greet Kathy Leigh Gerner, infant daughter of Gerald and Helen Gerner, was held in the bank community room, Saturday, May 10.

Honorees were the new baby, her mother, her sister

Tamra, and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Gerner of Post. An Aunt and cousin, Peggy and Penny Stowers of Friona were out-of-town guests.

Approximately thirty guests were served sausage balls, bran muffins, a fruit bowl, mints, and coffee or punch.

The serving table was covered with a lace ecru cloth over mint green and the centerpiece was a white rabbit vase holding spring flowers of yellow and green. Pink roses were placed around the room, and a pastel colored vase arrangement adorned the register table.

The mother wore a pink and white bootie corsage, a gift from the hostesses along with a mesh "play yard" for Kathy.

Hostesses were Jennie Francis, Julie Hudman, and Cindy Mitchell.

My Thanks to Everyone

I want to personally thank each and everyone of you for your prayers, cards, phone calls, flowers and visits while my confinement in Highland Hospital. May God bless each of you for your thoughtfulness during my illness and again for the confidence you placed in me in the Democratic Primary Election that gave me a lead in my bid for re-election to a second term as your County Commissioner. I appreciate your support and confidence.

Thanks to God that I'm back home, and, according to my doctors, my leg will be better than ever and well enough to start working again.

I ask those who supported R. G. (Wilke) Wilkerson and Bill Gandy to consider my qualifications when you go back to the polls June 7, 1980, for the run-off election.

Garza cemetery survey planned

The Garza County Historical Survey Commission made plans at its May meeting Tuesday in the community room to complete a county cemetery survey as a summer project.

Maxine Marks brought reports to the group from the State Meeting recently held in Corpus Christi.

Survey questionnaires concerning community needs and goals for the 1980 decade were given to members present to be filled out and returned to the city council.

An article "The Founding of Post, Texas," recently published in the Pasadena Citizen, was forwarded to the group by Mr. C. David Pomeroy, Jr. of Pasadena, Texas.

It was announced that color prints of the former Presbyterian Church (now the Faith Lutheran Church) by Ronald Thomason are now on sale in the local museum sales shop.

Wild West—

A Longhorn cattle drive. A Mexican Mariachi Band.

Bucking horses, bucking longhorn bulls and steers. A stage coach holdup.

A group of Indian dancers from either Anadarko, Okla., or Dallas that will perform their own tribal war dances. Both of these groups have competed in the Indian War Dance championships.

Plus clown acts.

Admission to each of the two shows is $4 per person with children under 12 admitted free.

Miller has arranged to import bleacher seating from the Reece Air Force Base at Lubbock for the wild west weekend.

He hopes to draw from a wide West Texas area including Lubbock, Lamesa, Big Spring, Snyder and Post and all communities in between.

There will be a concession stand at the ranch both days.

Miller points out that rodeos were derived from the early day wild west shows. He said he and Estes hope to recall through the two-day show the glamour and exhibition quality of the old time wild west.

Mrs. Lindsey then drove to Calgary to call in a report of the robbery.

All the pair could tell about the escape car was that it was "light colored." They described the holdup trio as each "between 25 and 30 years of age" with one tall and slender, the second of medium build, and the third one short in height.

Sheriff Pippin says the trio probably followed Duncan around in Post most of the day Tuesday during which time he sold an unusually large amount of beer and then followed him to the remotely located package store.

"They probably were after the beer driver's collection more than the package store and figured it was easier to catch him inside the store than to try to stop him on the road," Pippin said Wednesday morning.

This was the second holdup of the liquor store in the last five years.

Library will hold cost line

Post Public Library trustees voted unanimously to again request $1,800 each from the city and county for operations of the library for the next fiscal year.

The decision was made on funding so that letters could be sent to the city council and county commissioner court for consideration in their June budget making process.

Librarian Pee Wee Pierce reported the sheriff's department has agreed to call on library patrons who have fished to return overdue library books in an attempt to pick up the books.

The board unanimously adopted a set of bylaws for its operations and was given library policies for study prior to their rewriting at monthly meetings over the summer.

Librarian Pee Wee Pierce reported on her attendance at the annual meeting in Dallas in April of the Texas Library Association.

Hospital board—

Jack Alexander, who heads the hospital board, said the hospital's cost share of 27 percent was figured on the number of parcels each taxing district had. Since the hospital district is county wide, the expense figured on a per parcel basis left the hospital district and the county with the second largest amount of expense behind the school district.

He added that the state law clearly gives the hospital districts involved no representation on the board. In past years and this year, all hospital district taxes have been collected and are being collected by the county.

Generally speaking, the entire board appeared dissatisfied with the cost share allocated to the hospital district which up until now has had every little tax collection expenses.

Hospital directors put off until a special called meeting this week consideration of raises for hospital personnel. One member of the board, Colley Gatlin was not present and it was decided to have the full board present for the salary decisions.

In other actions, the board appointed Shirley Wise as dietary assistant, designated all the board members and the hospital administrator as trustees for the Garza Memorial Hospital Employee Retirement Plan, approved a policy of permitting the administration to spend up to $300 for purchase, repair or replacement of equipment without prior board approval, and wrote off $5,274.78 in old accounts as uncollectable.

The directors also authorized the hospital administrator to make seven surplus hospital beds available for loan to ill individuals without cost through the Veterans of Foreign Wars here which now loan crutches and wheel chairs. The beds became surplus when a doctor's suite was created two years ago at the west end of the hospital.

The board also asked Murray to look into the cost of a new phone system for the hospital which would include phones or phone plugs at least in some of the patient rooms.

The April hospital report showed 54 patients admitted in April as compared to 56 in April of 1979 for a total of 202 patient days during the month and for an average of 3.7 patients per day.

Twelve babies were born in the hospital during the month. One death was reported and 193 outpatients treated.

The hospital collected $51,200.86 on accounts during the month.

The hospital billed $36,176.52 for April with total expenses for the month of $52,862.12, for a net loss of $12,700.56 without use of tax revenues.

County asked—

Sheriff Jim Pippin appeared before the court to request the purchase of two shot guns to be placed in the two sheriff cars the city is purchasing from the state.

In another action involving the sheriff's department, the court voted to no longer pay any future meal tickets unless they are for transporting a prisoner.

Cotton Update Given
National Cotton Council directors in their spring board meeting this week heard that the unusually large 1979 cotton crop is being balanced by "equally impressive" strength in markets. Dr. Arlie L. Bowling, NCC director of economic and market research, said the 14.6-million-bale crop, added to the carryover from 1978, gave the U.S. a supply of 18.5 million bales.

The largest exports in more than four decades and the increased popularity of denim and corduroy fabrics were among the reasons for cotton's continued strength, Bowling said.

"Although the stability of domestic markets in the face of a slowing economy has been encouraging, the export market is most responsible for the close balance in supply and offtake which developed in 1979," he stated.

Reporting on export promotion, Cotton Council International (CCI) President Dan Miller, Arkansas cotton producer, said that trade teams, overseas cooperative projects, the Maid of Cotton, and other programs will extend into 21 countries during the first seven month of the year.

Agricultural economist Kendall Keith told the board that cotton plantings this year could increase as much as 6 percent above the 1979 planted acreage "could easily" reach the 14.8 million acres projected by USDA in April.

Exports Continue High
Exports of 212,300 running bales of upland cotton during the week ended April 27, brought the season's total to 6,567,400, compared with 4,360,200 a year ago. New sales for the current marketing year deliver were 97,300 bales. Sales of 129,400 bales for 1980-81 delivery included 33,200 to China and 21,300 to Hungary.

And Cotton Yesterday
S.S. Rush was the first successful cotton grower in Lubbock County, harvesting 16 bales in 1902.

(Continued From Page One) than $200 with all of said amounts appropriated in one scheme and continuing course of conduct and the aggregate amount of that which was stolen was valued at over $200 but less than $10,000.

The two drug possession indictments were against Florinteno Hernandez and Pedro Saucedo Criado, both on March 13, for possession of Lysergic Acid Diethylamide.

Ronald Edwin Bratcher was indicted on a criminal mischief charge of allegedly "unlawfully destroying or damaging two highway stop signs and two highway identification signs" April 27.

An indictment was returned against Wesley Shankles for theft over $200 and less than $10,000 in unlawfully appropriating a 1976 Chevrolet pickup from Edmund Wilke March 3 without the owner's consent.

Three men were indicted for DWI subsequent offenses. They were John Wayne Woodward for a Feb. 4 offense, Thomas Edward Hart II on March 6, and Lowell Doran McMahon on April 18.

Woodward pleaded guilty to the charge Monday shortly after his indictment was returned. District Judge George Hansard gave Woodward a five year probation of a 29-day county jail sentence.

J. D. McCampbell honored at dinner

J. D. McCampbell was honored on his birthday Friday, May 9, with a dinner in Lubbock at the "50 Yard Line", hosted by his children, Judy Bush of Post and Jerry Don McCampbell of Roswell, N.M.

Attending the occasion were Mrs. J. D. McCampbell, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don McCampbell, Eric and Laura all of Roswell, N.M. and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bush, Trevah, Traci and Salli all of Post.

To finish the weekend, Jerry Bush cooked, and served dinner to the mothers for Mother's Day and an extra, plus, cleaned up the kitchen afterwards.

Pay hike—

In another action, trustees voted to purchase 19 Hamilton tables from American Desk Co. for the cafeteria which will be remodeled and expanded this summer, at a cost of between $7,500 and $8,000.

Eighteen of the tables would be the fold-up benches at a cost of $395.40 each. The other table seating 12 would have individual attached seats, would cost more, and would be used for a table for teachers and guests.

All 19 tables would have green tops with gold seats on a black table frame.

The special colors chosen will not cost more but would require 60 to 90 days delivery time whereas tables not requiring special colors would be delivered in 45 days.

In another major action, the board accepted the resignation of Basketball Coach Jerry Reynolds at the end of the current school year and employed Miss Elaine Wright as a new Spanish teacher for both the high school and middle school, and Sid Wright, no relation to Elaine Wright, as the new high school basketball coach and teacher in government.

Reynolds was reported resigning to enter private business.

Coach Wright, 31, is completing his fourth year of basketball coaching at Miles High School, a class B school near Sweetwater.

His teams won two district cage titles at Pilgrim, a Class B school in south Texas, before Wright moved to Miles, a school which won only one basketball game the season before Wright arrived.

At Miles last season Wright had an 8-5 basketball record. Wright is a graduate of West Texas State University and did not play college basketball but was on the WTSU golf team.

Wright will also be a football assistant coach here.

Trustees put off until their June meeting a decision on blacktopping new areas on both sides of the Post Middle School this summer for parking, along bus row behind the primary and elementary schools, on two sides of the band hall, and by the expanded school lunchroom, and also a topping around the Post High School and the high school gym.

The architect had prices from one Lubbock paving firm to submit. The cost, if all this work is undertaken, would be in the neighborhood of $75,000 to $80,000.

Trustees wanted a look at the proposed new budget to check on available funds before making a paving decision. Supt. Shiver said the new budget should be

In other actions, trustees: Approved a considerable list of budget changes; paid the bills; called for bids for the 1980-81 school year for milk, football programs, gasoline, oil, anti-freeze, and wash-grease and oil filter changes on school buses; and approved the giving of three years of credit for teachers who have met Southern Association Bilingual Educational requirements on recommendation of Supt.
