Lower Interest Rates

Interest rates on Land Bank variable rate loans will be reduced to 11.25 percent on farm loans and to 11.75 percent on farm-related business and rural residence loans, said Jay Dee House, president of the Federal Land Bank Association of Lubbock-Tahoka.

These rates became effective January 1, 1983.

"The Land Bank's objective is to provide credit to Texas agriculture at the lowest possible cost, consistent with sound business practices," said Thomas H. Benson, president of the Federal Land Bank of Texas in Austin.

"For over two years the Bank's average cost of funds consistently has been higher than the loan rate," Benson continued. "However, for the past four months, we have begun to see a decline in bond costs."

"As a result of this decline, we are able to reduce the Bank's loan interest rate," he said. "We hope that the decline in bond interest rates will continue, allowing us to make further reductions in the loan rate."

The Federal Land Bank Association of Lubbock-Tahoka makes long-term real estate loans on farm and rural residence property in the counties of Garza, Lubbock and Lynn.

10 Inch Snow Slows Traffic

The New Year got off to a wet start with a 10 inch snow accumulation which began shortly after midnight and had the ground covered at 2 a.m. and continued falling until noon New Years Day with a moisture total of .85 inch received from the wet stuff.

Road crews from the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation began working at 4 a.m. Saturday with snow plows and maintainers opening the major thoroughfares through Post and continued working until nightfall, salting the bridges and overpasses with the fallen precipitation beginning to freeze.

Back on the job again early Sunday morning until late evening, the crews were again opening the roads and assisting stranded motorists who had slid off into ditches.

No major accidents were reported during the snowy weekend with the only damage reports received as being some of the highway signs hit by the sliding motorists.

Maintainers were kept busy this weekend blading off the snow on highways throughout the county. Shown is Pete Walls, county Employee, who helped blade some of the slick stuff off the streets in downtown Post Monday.

The highway department reported that keeping the roads open was relatively easy as there was no ice accumulation under the fallen snow.

County Commissioners of all four precincts were also out with maintainers during the two day weekend trying to get the county roads open along with farm-to-market roads.

Auto Theft Ring Broken

Garza County officers, keeping a close watch on the goings-on in the county, were instrumental in uncovering a bogus bank draft ring and arrested two suspects who were allegedly buying motor vehicles over part of the state of Texas and parts of New Mexico.

On December 28, at approximately 8 p.m., officers observed a three-quarter ton Chevrolet pickup pulling a vehicle dolly, illegally parked on Broadway going through Post, and the occupants were trying to load a motorcycle into the pickup.

Officers stopped to investigate and when a registration check was run on the pickup, it was found to be stolen as was the motorcycle. Officers arrested Robert Dale Cox, 28, of Liberty Hill, Texas, along with a juvenile.

Cox was charged with two counts of theft of over $200 and less than $10,000; one count credit card abuse, and one felony theft by check, and also bond forfeiture. He remains in Garza County jail under bonds totalling $57,750 in four Texas cities and one New Mexico City.

Officers in Waco and Austin were contacted, and further checks revealed an undetermined number of vehicles which had been purchased with the bogus bank drafts, and Garza officers were informed that Austin and Waco officers, along with Clovis, N.M. officers had been trying to solve the case for several months, without much success.

The juvenile involved in the arrest was returned to Waco under a $50,000 personal recognizance bond.

Garza officers stated that the case is still under investigation and several other leads will be followed.

Other arrests made recently included the arrest of Hermemigildo Noyola, December 30, on a warrant for assault with a motor vehicle, he is out on a $1,000 bail bond.

Charles Irving Chandler was arrested December 31, for public intoxication and resisting arrest.

SWEARING IN CEREMONIES — Swearing in ceremonies for newly elected officials of Garza County were held New Years Day in the county courtroom at 10 a.m. Shown l to r, bottom row, County Commissioner Ted Aten; County Treasurer Voda Beth Gradine; Justice

Commission Gives Rate

AUSTIN — The Railroad Commission today set the Texas oil production rate for January 1983 at the market demand factor of 100 percent for the 71st month in a row and the 127th time since the Commission first went to the ceiling level in April 1972.

Chairman Jim Nugent and Commissioners Mack Wallace and Buddy Temple directed the continuance of the maximum statewide allowable after receiving and reviewing purchaser nominations for Texas oil in January totaling 2,465,739 barrels per day, a decrease of 3,232 barrels daily when compared with December 1982 buyer requests. January 1982 nominations totaled 2,458,271 barrels daily.

Next month's permissible rate of output is calculated to average 2,856,600 b-d with actual production estimated at 2,355 million b-d. The maximum allowable applies to all but 10 fields in Texas that are assigned lower legal rates of flow for conservation purposes. Actual production in January 1982 was 2,384,032 barrels daily.

Nugent reported that January 1983 nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 21,834,710 Mcf-d (thousand cubic feet per day). Gas nominations for December amounted to 22,282,896 Mcf-d. January 1982 gas nominations totaled 24,895,281 Mcf-d.

She is also a member of the AATSP (Spanish Teacher's Association) and the National and Texas Associations of Bilingual Educators.

Consuelo Flores — vice president has a Bachelor of Arts degree in Elementary Education with endorsements to teach Kindergarten and Elementary Spanish. Hints for Homemakers

TIPS TO HELP YOU

One way homemakers are fighting the battle of the bulge is through good old-fashioned home cooking. There's less emphasis on the expensive, ready to eat dishes and a new stress on buying fresh ingredients and cooking from scratch. The results may taste better and cost less.

One item that's making a comeback in many kitchens is the onion. It's a tasty ingredient in such treats as crispy fried onion rings or as an onion cheese pie or a nourishing soup. With the convenience of "The Dazy Stripper™," the new appliance that peels onions automatically without tears, many good cooks are rediscovering this versatile vegetable.

Fried onion rings are a universal favorite and especially appetizing when freshly made. Combine one and a half cups of biscuit mix with one and quarter cups milk to form a smooth batter. Dip onion rings in batter and drain slightly. Fry in deep hot oil until golden brown on both sides.

"A book should teach us to enjoy life, or to endure it."

Propane Gas Energy Saving Ideas
When high fuel bills—and low room temperatures—get you down this winter, you may find that installing a low cost, supplemental propane space heater is a heart-and health-warming answer to your problem.

With chill-chasing propane gas space heaters in selected areas of your home, you can dial down, save money and still be snug as a bug. Propane—also known as L.P. Gas—is the safe, abundant energy for millions of Americans. Fuel efficient console, wall, and floor propane gas space heater models are just the thing for a cold family room, basement, or unheated porch—putting wasted space to use year-round.

NEWS

Of Housing

A crane hoists a section of a factory-built house onto an already prepared foundation, and the result, for the home's buyer, will be a lower price tag combined with superior construction quality. Some 5,000 families in six states now live in such modular homes built by a leader in the housing industry, North American Housing Corp. The homes are built in the company's factory, then brought to the building site in several sections on trucks. For the house to properly fit on the foundation, both must be built to exact specifications. These homes cost less to build because parts are bought in quantity and constructed under controlled conditions.

Speed of construction is also a big factor. Quality is improved because construction is overseen in the factory by quality control experts, and the home is not open to the weather during construction. For a free packet explaining modular houses and a list of experienced builders, write to: North American Housing Corp., P.O. Box 145, Point of Rocks, MD 21777.

A renewed commitment to our partners

As the hopeful anticipation of 1983 begins, it is time to count blessings and to think about how the accomplishments of the past year will make the new year better. Only a few weeks ago, an important energy decision made years ago became a reality and commitment to the future of the Southwest.

The decision was made by the customers and the employees of Southwestern Public Service Company, working together as partners to make a difference in the cost of electricity. The reality and commitment was symbolically begun in November, as literally thousands of Southwesterners toured Tolk Station.

the new power plant near Muleshoe, Texas. The first of two electrical generating units at this new facility is now producing electricity—from coal.

Because this and other SPS power plants are designed and built by SPS's own engineering and construction department, the cost to our customers is less than one-half the national average cost for coal-fired plants and less than one-fourth the national average cost for nuclear power plants. SPS is one of only two electric utilities in the United States which can design and build its own power plants.

That's money saved for everyone, especially our customers.

The employees of Southwestern Public Service Company thank you for your understanding, your encouragement, and your support.

As you and SPS enter 1983 together, as partners managing electricity, you can be assured that Tolk Station will make a difference in helping provide you with dependable electric service at the lowest possible cost.

You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference.

MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE Capital Punishment

By PAUL D. JONES

With the recent death sentences being carried out on some prison inmates, the interest in capital punishment has been rekindled. There are many that believe such a form of punishment is barbaric and no civilized nation will use it, even on criminals. Others believe it should be used more. Many believe that the death penalty has no relationship to deterrence of crime, while others believe it does have a great impact on it. Many believe that no one has the right to take the life of another, while others believe that the government has the right and even the obligation to see that criminals are punished. Some very concerned Christian people are pondering their position on the subject, wondering if a Christian can think capital punishment is consistent with the Christian faith of love. In this article we hope to help clear some muddled thinking on the subject and the why of such drastic punishment.

If you do not believe in God, the following comments will not interest you. If you do believe in God, you owe yourself the time it takes to read the following. In the Old Testament, we read of the relationship of God and Isreal. God was the ruler of the nation. It was His law that directed the social as well as the religious activities of the nation. With the space we have left, let's look at how God wanted Isreal to deal with certain elements of the nation. God was not only concerned with the guilty, but the innocent as well. He was concerned with how sin (crime) would affect society.

What shall we do with the murderer? Under God's rule, Exodus 21:12 reads "He that smiteth a man, so that he die, shall be surely put to death." Deuteronomy 19:13 reads "thine eye shall not pity him, but thou shalt put away the guilt of innocent blood from Isreal, that it may go well with thee." God made provisions for the person that killed another by accident. But the one that killed willfully was to be put to death, so it would go well with the nation.

If God were ruling our nation as he did Isreal, what would we do with kidnapers? Exodus 21:16 reads "He that stealeth a man, and selleth him, or if he be found in his hand, he shall surely be put to death."

Deuteronomy 24:7 "If a man be found stealing any of his brethren of the children of Isreal, and maketh merchandise of him, or selleth him, then that thief shall die; and thou shalt put evil away from among you." A kidnapper was to be killed.

We read almost daily of some girl or woman being raped in the Lubbock area. If you will read Deuteronomy 22:23-27, you will find that the man is to be killed. Thousands of women today continue to suffer the mental anguish of having been raped. They are made the culprit in many trials by silver tongued lawyers. Many women today will not report the rape due to the way they are treated by the law enforcement officers. So many rapists are shortly thereafter back on the streets to molest another victim. When God has His way, such people were removed from society by capital punishment.

For some additional crimes worthy of death, read Exodus 21, Leviticus 20 and Deuteronomy 13, 17, 18. You will find that idolatry, adultery, blasphemy, smiting a parent and being negligent with your goods that would cause another's death, are deeds that called for the death penalty under God's rule. Exodus 21:28-29 shows that if a man has an animal that hurts someone, and then later kills a person, the owner is to be killed, because he was negligent. Read that passage and apply the principle to drunk drivers...those that have injured others before, and continue to drive a vehicle after drinking. There would be no mercy for a slobbering drunk that had just killed another person. He could not plead innocent by saying he was not responsible, for he was drunk. If God were ruling our nation, we would have a lot of good people still living, and a lot less drunks continuing to run over others.

Now, to the argument that capital punishment does not or does deter crime. Deuteronomy 17:13; 20:20-21 and 21:21 says to kill the offenders, so that the rest of Isreal will hear, see and not do. God says capital punishment deters crime. God said it, I believe it and that settles it. May the day come when we live by God's rules for society. It will be a better place to live.

JV Boys Win at Whitharral

Using the press, the Post JV boys defeated the Whitharral Junior varsity in their own tournament 59 to 47 Thursday at Whitharral.

The press was effective for the JV boys which opened up their offense in the second half of play.

Behind by one at the end of the first period, 13 to 12, Post led by one at intermission 26 to 25.

Finding the net for 14 more in the third, to only six for the host team, Post added 19 more in the final period to 16 for Whitharral.

James Brown led all scorers with 19 points followed by Adam Mendoza with 18, Mike Ollison had 10, Charles Johnson eight, Lynn Allen two and Dale McVay had two.

In their previous game in the tournament with Anton played on Wednesday of last week, the JV lost 91 to 49.

Termed by coach Lane Tannehill as a "learning experience" he said the local Junior Varsity played well in the first quarter, but Anton had good height, scoring points by steals with their press and were a quick ball club.

Scoring for Post were Mendoza with 19, Brown 11, Johnson six, Allen seven and Ollison had six.

The team's next outing was against Cooper here Tuesday night.

HOT TIPS ON HEATING

A Public Service From INTERTHERM Inc.

Cutting Heating Bills Down To Size

The family is in the den watching television, playing cards and just talking. Outdoors, temperatures are sliding below freezing. The central heating system is working hard—heating rooms no one is using.

A waste of energy, not to mention money.

Energy conscious families have come to realize that they can turn down the central heating system thermostat and still comfortably and economically heat the room being used.

They put a properly sized hot water electric baseboard heater on the floor adjacent to an exterior wall. By convection heating, the portable heater automatically warms the room evenly and efficiently. When the family disperses throughout the house, the central thermostat is turned back up.

IT'S A FACT!

The first electronic computer was put into operation in 1946 and had to be kept in a place where the temperature was regulated. It used 18,000 vacuum tubes and was so large it filled an entire room.

The proposed location is 10 miles northwest of Post on FM 399, approximately 1/2 mile south of the intersection with US 84. This facility proposes to emit the following air contaminants: Sulfur dioxide, hydrogen sulfide, sulfur trioxide. The Executive Director of the Texas Air Control Board has made the preliminary determination to issue this permit. Before a permit can be issued for this facility, all emission sources must demonstrate compliance with all Rules and Regulations of the Texas Air Control Board and all applicable Federal Regulations. This includes the application of "best available control technology" to each emission source and compliance with all ambient air quality standards.

What We Do When It Snows

Larry Johnson found out that getting out the driveway with 10 inches of snow on the road is not all that easy...as he maneuvers onto Avenue F during Saturday morning's snow. (Photo by Tim Burnett)

Post's white Christmas was a little delayed with the first rain and snowfall coming on Sunday following Christmas, with some of the ice remaining until New Years Day when Post along with most of the South Plains area was covered under a blanket of snow, measuring almost 10 inches. Record cold temperatures kept the snow around longer because of slow thawing.

The snowfall was ideal, in that it fell softly and was not blown, which could have made it even more impossible for travel, which was delayed or slowed down for the whole weekend.

The wet snow which fell Friday night and most of the day Saturday, will bring very good winter moisture to the area farmers and ranchers.

Area residents enjoyed the snowfall in various ways, with a very unusual report of winter skiing in South Lake Park on Saturday.

Sleds, tractor inner tubes, and pickup hoods were brought out to be pulled through the snow covered streets, for a fun filled day for many youth.

Snow "people" showed up all over town, with a pictorial review on other pages of The Post Dispatch.

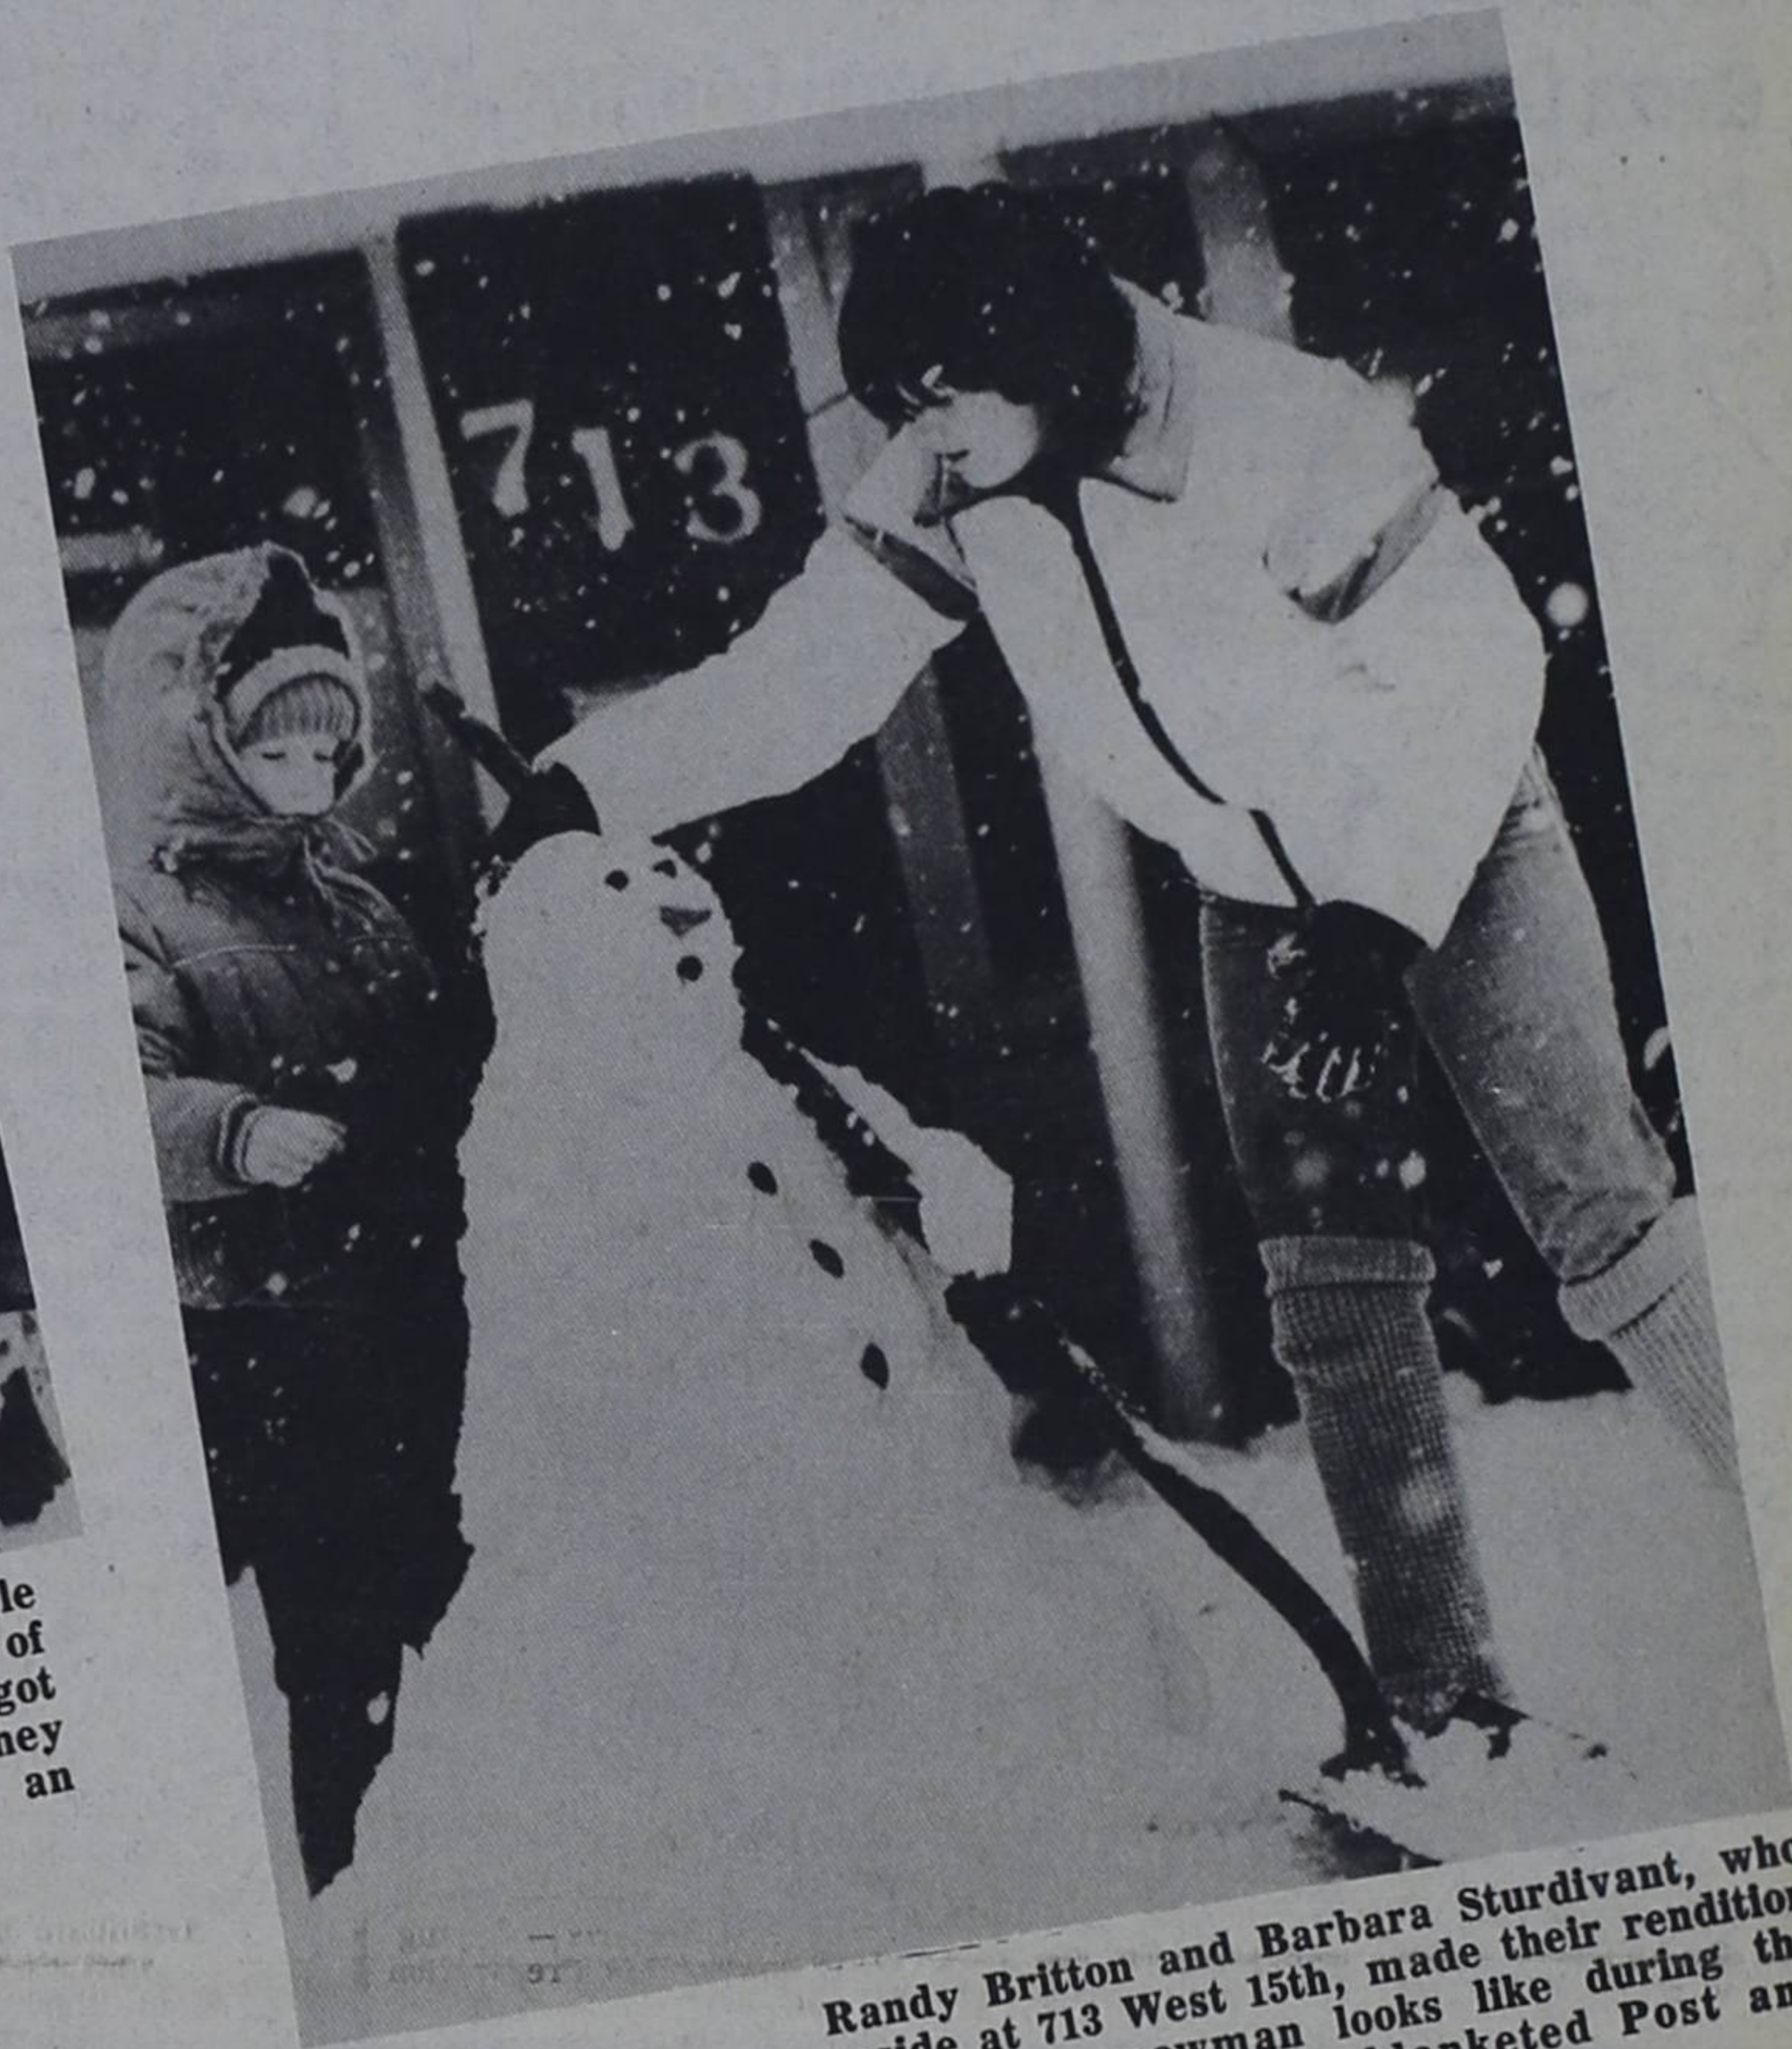

Imaginations ran wild in many instances with some really true "sculpture" showing up in the front yard of the Cook residence on West main with a very good likeness of a bowlegged cowboy.

The Highway department and county maintainers cleared the roads in the county in record time, and the city was busy Monday clearing the city streets downtown.

One can appreciate the hard work and long hours when driving out of the county, you could almost draw a line when you crossed the county line going out of Garza, our roads were clear.

Mark and Nathan Stark make a portable snowman and carried it around in the back of their pickup Saturday. When the snowman got tired of riding in the back of the pickup, they moved it to the hood to be used as an 'ornament.'

Randy Britton and Barbara Sturdivant, who reside at 713 West 15th, made their rendition of what a snowman looks like during the weekend snow which blanketed Post and Garza County.

Letters to the Seven Churches

By STEVE TRAW
In central Turkey an ancient and wealthy city once stood. Its elevation was some distance from the Lycus River. Such a location made the water supply very critical to this town of wealth and prominence. Hot mineral springs were the only near source of water for the thriving banking center and its frequent trade caravans. This alkaline solution from the underground springs was virtually unpalatable and putrid, unless it was taken quite cold or hot.

To this very church at Laodicea, the Lord appraises spiritual WBY-JURIDY?

- That a gray whale can push its head 30 feet out of water—as high as a three-story building?
- That some of these gentle giants seem to enjoy having people stroke them?
- That a newborn gray whale weighs 3,000 pounds?

conditions. Their works are neither hot nor cold; and they are spit from His mouth. Gross indifference marked the Laodiceans. They were given to compromise. Temptations and allurements of the world were not totally rejected. As a result such ones do become unpalatable to the One who is faithful and true.

Sunday at First Christian Church, Revelation 3:14-22, brings to a conclusion this series from the seven letters to the seven churches. Explore with us the cultural milieu of this first century setting and its application for this day.
