Jim Jackson Elected to Head EMTs

Jim Jackson was reelected president of the Post EMT Club for the fifth straight year when elections were held at the club's Tuesday night meeting Jan. 3.

Other officers elected included John Redman vice president; Cindy Johnson, secretary-treasurer and administrative staff composed of club president and three elected members, Jim Wells, Ronny Ammons and Weaver McKamie.

Following election of officers, an in-service training session was conducted by Ronny Ammons on patient assessment in the trauma victim. The EMTs were involved in a hands-on demonstration and practice session in patient assessment and treatment involved in the care of the patient.

President, Jim Jackson reported that work was progressing rapidly on the new garage for the ambulances and should be ready soon for use.

The garage being built on the west side of the hospital has long been a dream of the Post EMT Club, as there has always been a problem especially in the winter because of the windshields having to be covered with sheets as time is too critical to have to scrape ice off. Portable electric heaters have to be put inside the patient compartment to keep the IV fluids and sterile water from freezing.

The heaters have to be removed each time and set outside possibly in rain or snow and then put back inside at the end of the patient transfer and this has been a dangerous situation.

Controversial Call Defeats Lopes in Overtime

Following a decision by the 'scorekeeper' instead of the referee, the Bold Gold Antelopes suffered their third loss of the season in the Abernathy tournament Thursday morning in their game with Hale Center 47 to 49.

Tied at the end of regulation play 43 all, the two teams went into overtime and were tied 47 all when the buzzer rang and Hale Center threw up the ball hitting the net for two.

The referee consulted with the scorekeeper to see if the two points were good and the 'scorekeeper' shook his head yes, thus the win for Hale Center.

The Antelopes should have never been in the situation for the controversial call as they hit only 46 percent of their free throws or 5 out of 14 and only 30 percent from the field hitting only 21 out of 70.

Irvin Price led the Bold Gold in scoring with 15 followed by Bill Black with 10 and James Lee, R. J. Greathouse and Will Kirkpatrick each had six and Tim Tannehill had four.

The Antelopes played Petersburg Friday afternoon at 2:30 and should they lose that one, played again at 10:30 Saturday morning, but if they won, played at 1:30 Saturday afternoon.

Results of the finals of the tournament will be reported in Wednesday's Dispatch.

1982 Census Forms to Farmers & Ranchers

The 1982 Census of Agriculture gets underway this week with the mailing of report forms to farmers and ranchers in the 50 states, the Commerce Department's Census Bureau announced today.

Farmers and ranchers are being asked to report on their agricultural operations during 1982 and to return the form by Feb. 15, 1983. The 1982 census is the nation's 22nd agriculture census in a series that started in 1840.

For the first time in a mail agriculture census report forms will reflect regional cropping patterns to make reporting easier.

Farm and ranch operators will be asked to report the acreage in their operations, form of ownership, type of organization, location of the place, use made of the land, and when their operations began. Other questions will cover livestock and poultry inventories and sales, amount of government crop loans, crop acreage, amount harvested, and value of crops and livestock sold.

About 20 percent of farmers and ranchers will receive a form with an additional page which has inquiries on: selected production expenses, market value of land and buildings, machinery and equipment inventory and value, interest expenses and expenditures for petroleum and other energy sources.

A file copy of the report form is provided which operators can complete and keep for their own records.

A time extension can be granted farmers who request it. Census results will be published for each state, and the nation. The first preliminary data will be released beginning in the fall of 1983.

The law which requires farmers and ranchers to report in the census also protects the privacy of their reports. Census report forms are confidential by law and they may be seen only by sworn Census employees and may be used only for statistical purposes. Even other government agencies cannot obtain or use the individual reports, and copies retained by the farmers are immune from the legal process.

PIK Program is Explained

Officials of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. are describing U.S. Agriculture Secretary John Block's December 9 statement before the Senate Agriculture Committee as "a very tentative start" toward lifting the fog of uncertainty that surrounds many facets of the proposed payment in kind program now being discussed in farm circles from coast to coast.

The Secretary himself emphasized that his comments represented only current USDA thinking on such a program and invited suggestions from the Committee.

A PIK program, under which producers would take cotton or grain acres out of production in return for payment, not in cash but in surplus commodities now owned by Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) or in CCC reserve programs.

Such a program, Block told the Committee, would reduce production of commodities in surplus, preserve the availability of market supplies, reduce government costs and supplement farm income during the supply adjustment period.

As now visualized by the Department, eligible farmers would receive a certificate of entitlement for a specific amount of a given commodity. Eligibility would be contingent on the producer (1) participating in the existing acreage reduction program for the commodity in question and (2) reducing acreage an additional 10 to 30 percent (10 to 24 percent for cotton).

Certificates of entitlement, the Secretary said, would be in an amount equal to a yet-to-be established uniform percentage times the farm program yield. They would become effective, according to Block, "some time after the first day of the marketing year" for each commodity.

The first day of the cotton marketing year is August 1.

Farmers would have from four to six months to take delivery of the commodity but would be responsible for storage charges during any delay after the effective date. Whenever possible, the Secretary explained, commodities would be delivered to producers from local storage. If the commodity to be delivered were in storage at a distant location, he continued, the farmer would be given the option either to take delivery at the existing location or ask CCC to sell the certificate for him. In the latter case the producer would be paid whatever price he would have received had the commodity been available locally.

Upon taking delivery, the farmer could dispose of the commodity in any way he chose, including selling it on the open market.

The Secretary stressed the urgency of moving quickly to make the program effective for 1983, and said it could "largely but not totally" be done administratively. He went on to say that Congress needs to provide a way for the Department to get around the existing $50,000 per person limit on payments to producers and the legal restrictions on CCC resale prices.

Block also asked the Committee for authority to freeze commodity target prices at the 1983 level if such action were indicated by a continuing decline in the rate of production cost increases. Current law set the 1983 target price for cotton at 76 cents per pound and calls for scheduled increases to 81 cents and 86 cents in 1984 and 1985 respectively.

Reference to the loan level was made only in the Secretary's comment on S-3074, a bill introduced recently by Senators Cochran and Huddleston which calls for increasing the statutory minimum cotton loan from the present 55 cents to 60 cents. Block said loan increases at this time will be "totally inappropriate," would price U.S. commodities out of the world market, lead to reduced exports and encourage higher foreign production of commodities the U.S. holds in surplus.

In fact, newspaper advertising was up 12.1 percent in 1981.

New Regulations are Now Effective

Recent nationwide drug product tampering — which claimed seven lives in the Chicago area — has brought about two new regulations, according to Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

As of early November 1982, the Food and Drug Administration

(FDA) is requiring tamper-resistant packaging for certain over-the-counter human drug and cosmetic products, and for contact lens solution and tablets.

In addition, each retail package must bear a prominent statement to alert consumers to the specific tamper-resistant features of the package.

Purpose of these regulations is to assure package integrity and product security, Shirer explains.

Both regulations require packaging products in a way that makes tampering more difficult, and also makes it easier to detect a product that has been tampered with, she adds.

Shirer advises consumers to always look for signs of product tampering before purchasing or using an item. Tampering signs include broken seals; open or damaged containers; loose, torn or missing wrappers; discolored products, and unusual odors.

"Be familiar with the tampering signs. If a package has been tampered with, or an item looks suspicious, do not hesitate to alert the pharmacist or store manager," she suggests.

The African grosbeak builds communal nests with sometimes as many as 200 birds making their homes in a single tree.

Captain Cawthon succeeds Major Bell

Colonel Jim Adams, DPS Director, has announced a high-ranking appointment within the Department's Traffic Law Enforcement Division. Highway Patrol Captain Vernon J. Cawthon, 51, of Tyler has been promoted to Major and will be assigned as DPS Regional Commander at Lubbock effective January 1, 1983. Cawthon will succeed Major Charles W. Bell, 58, who will be retiring from DPS Service.

Cawthon, a 24-year veteran of the Department will serve as one of six Regional Commanders who supervise DPS Traffic Law Enforcement duties. The Traffic Law Enforcement Division consists of the Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Motor Vehicle Inspection, Safety Education, Driver License Service, Communications, and Motor Carrier Lease. Cawthon will command personnel in DPS Region 5, a 60-county area which includes the Texas Panhandle.

Colonel Adams said, "Captain Cawthon has a very impressive record which includes 15 years of outstanding supervisory service in the Department and his dedication to public service as a professional law enforcement officer is well known."

Born in 1931 in Childress, Cawthon graduated from Childress High School. He attended Pan American University in Edinburg, Texas; Texas Southmost College in Brownsville and is a graduate of the Southern Police Institute at the University of Louisville, Louisville, Kentucky.

After graduating from the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in 1958, Cawthon was assigned to the Highway Patrol and stationed at Perryton in the Panhandle. He rose through the ranks to Captain and has supervised Highway Patrol activities in the Tyler area since September, 1980.

Agent's Column New Poison Laws

The Texas Department of Agriculture has adopted a list of state-limited-use pesticides authorized in Section 76.003 of the Texas Pesticide Control Act. These products have been placed on the state-limited-use list because of their potential to drift into non-target areas and cause adverse effects to non-target vegetation.

The state-limited-use classification actually places the same requirements on these pesticides that are on the EPA restricted-use pesticides. This means that state-limited-use pesticides can only be used by or under the direct supervision of a certified applicator in the State of Texas. The standards for the applicators of these products will be the same as the standards for commercial, non-commercial and private applicators as set out in the State law and approved in the official State Plan for applicator certification.

Dealers of state-limited-use pesticides are required to be licensed by the Texas Department of Agriculture. The requirements for dealer licenses and for dealer records are the same as those for dealers of restricted-use pesticides and can be found in Section 76.075 of the Act. Other dealer requirements relating to restricted-use and state-limited-use pesticides can be found in Section 7.8 of the Rules and Regulations under the Pesticide Act. These regulations detail the information required for the dealers sales records. Section 7.8 (f) also states that restricted-use and state-limited-use pesticides can only be sold to certified applicators or persons working under the direct supervision of a certified applicator or to a licensed dealer.

Section 76.021 of the Texas Pesticide Control Act requires the use classification to be stated on the labeling of restricted-use and state-limited-use pesticides. The definition of pesticide labeling in the Act can be found in Section 76.001 (14). "Labeling means a label or any other written, printed, or graphic matter prepared by a registrant accompanying the pesticide or device at any time or to which reference is made on a label, or in literature accompanying or referring to a pesticide or device, except accurate non-misleading references made to a current official publication of a federal or state institution or agency authorized by the law to conduct research in the field of pesticides."

For the purposes of these regulations, we will accept supplemental labeling attached to the pesticide containers by the registrant stating that the product is a state-limited-use pesticide in the State of Texas, or supplemental labeling that is not attached directly to the pesticide container but is available to hand out to the purchasers at the time they purchase the material from the dealer.

A statement on the pesticide sales invoice from the formulator, wholesale distributor, or the retailer stating that the pesticide is a state-limited-use pesticide in the State of Texas, will be accepted as labeling since it is a written or printed statement accompanying the pesticide at the time of sale.

Failure to provide at least one of the above statements with the distribution of any state-limited-use pesticide would be considered a violation of the Act and subject the party who failed to distribute the appropriate labeling to penalties provided by law. In order to provide the necessary information to purchasers and distributors of state-limited-use pesticides, the Texas Department of Agriculture will furnish licensed retail dealers with a list of state-limited-use pesticides and posters for display purposes to inform their customers of the state-limited-use designation, and of the requirements that the products can only be sold to and used by a certified applicator or a person acting under the direct supervision of a certified applicator. The retail dealer will be required to keep the sales records on state-limited-use pesticides as outlined in Section 76.075 of the Act and Section 7.18 of the Pesticide Regulations.

State-Limited-Use Pesticides

Because of their potential to cause adverse effects to non-target vegetation all pesticide products containing the active ingredients as specified in some mixtures, alone or in mixtures shall be classified as state-limited-use pesticides when distributed in containers of a capacity larger than one quart for liquid material or 2 pounds for dry or solid material. If the products are marketed using metric measures the classification applies to containers larger than 1 liter or 1 kilogram respectively.

1. 2,4-Dichlorophenoxyacetic acid (2,4-D).
2. 2,4-Dichlorophenoxybutric acid (2,4-BD).
3. 2,4-Dichlorophenoxypropionic acid (2,4-DP).
4. 2,4,5-Trichlorophenoxyacetic acid (2,4,5-T).
5. 2-Methyl-4-Chlorophenoxyacetic acid (MCPA).
6. 2-(2,4,5-Trichlorophenoxy) propionic acid (silvex).
7. 3,6-Dichloro-o-anisic acid (dicamba).
8. 3',4'-Dichloropropionanilide (propanil).

Veterans May be Eligible

veterans with compensable, military-service-connected disabilities may be eligible for vocational rehabilitation and counseling benefits under Veterans Administration programs, advises the Director, Waco VA Regional Office.

The purpose of the vocational rehabilitation program is to overcome an employment handicap, he stressed.

The basic period of eligibility for vocational rehabilitation services has been extended to up to 12 years following discharge from active duty or the date the veteran was notified of entitlement to VA compensation for the disability — whichever is later. The period may be adjusted if the veteran received an upgraded discharge or was unable to enter or complete training for a period of time because of his or her medical condition.

The VA provides evaluation and counseling to assist in development of a comprehensive rehabilitation plan designed to suit the disabled veteran's particular needs.

For further information or assistance on vocational rehabilitation benefits, write, visit or telephone the Waco VA Regional Office toll-free number listed in your local telephone directory under "U.S. Government" or "Veterans Administration."

Small Businesses in Area May be Eligible for Aid

Small business in a 25-county area of West Texas will be eligible to receive financial help through the newly created Texas Panhandle Regional Development Corporation, U.S. Senator John Tower announced recently.

The corporation has been certified by the Small Business Administration and will be authorized to lend up to $500,000 per qualifying business for fixed assets. To qualify, the borrower must provide 10 percent of the investment package and obtain financing for another 50 percent from a commercial lending institution. The remaining 40 percent would come from the Regional Development Corporation, Tower explained. The Regional Development Corporation portion of the loan can be up to 25 years, although the commercial loan must be for at least half the period of that loan.

"Business should find it easier to get the required loan from a commercial institution because of the availability of long-term financing from the Regional Development Corporation," Tower said.

"This Small Business Administration program is particularly valuable because it establishes a partnership between private and public resources. It will spur economic development in the Panhandle area, and is an excellent example of federal funds being used in the most effective manner possible," Tower concluded.

Taxpayers reminded of laws

Taxpayers who were fortunate enough to earn awards or bonuses this year are being reminded by IRS that these amounts should be included as income on their 1982 federal income tax returns.

The IRS says rewards and bonuses include prizes such as a paid vacation trip awarded for attaining sales goals. If the prize or award is in the form of goods or services, its fair market value is the amount the taxpayer must include as income.

If the employer pays the bonus or award at a future time, it is not taxable until it is received by the employee, the IRS says.

If an employer distributes holiday remembrances such as turkeys, hams, or other items of nominal worth, the value of these gifts is not taxable. However, if cash, gift certificates or similar items that may be easily exchanged for cash are given, the value of the gifts is taxable.

Further information is detailed in Publication 525, "Taxable and Nontaxable Income." It can be obtained free by calling the IRS Tax Forms - Information number listed in the telephone directory under U.S. Government.

Twin Cedar News

To open our news we had the First Christian Church present the service this last Sunday. There was a group of children who came to sing and the residents really enjoyed them.

We are very thankful that Mrs. Billie Caylor came out well from her surgery. We are very glad to have her home again.

Pauline Kilpatrick spent her Christmas in Lovington with family members. She said she enjoyed herself, but she is glad to be home.

This week the activities have been films, bingo, dominos, arts and crafts and exercises.

We would like to thank our visitors this week, Jo Ella Sparlin, Dink Boren, Glenda Hewitt of Odessa and J. E. Airhart of Lamesa.

We want to thank everyone else who visits with us and we hope you all keep coming by to see us.

We would also like to thank the ladies of the VFW for the monthly birthday party. The residents all had a great time.

COOKING CORNER

Ideas from Betty Crocker's Working Woman's Cookbook

Recipes for quickly prepared, tasty dishes are treasured by working women everywhere—and, many point out, every woman is a working woman. As their numbers grow (there was a 2.9 percent increase in the number of women working outside their homes in just the last year), America's nearly 50 million working women like to know that they're not skimping on appetizing meals or important nutrition.

The new Working Woman's Cookbook from Betty Crocker will help them accomplish that goal. This 160-page illustrated volume offers quick-and-easy recipes and dishes that can be done ahead and refrigerated or frozen. There are loads of timesaving tips for menu planning, shopping and storage.

The book is from Random House. It's priced at $10.95 and is available at department and bookstores.

Here's a sample do-ahead recipe:

HOT VEGETABLE SANDWICHES

- 6 unsliced whole wheat or white hamburger buns
- 1 1/2 cups shredded Swiss cheese (about 6 ounces)
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon dried basil leaves
- 2 small zucchini, thinly sliced (about 1 cup)
- 1 large tomato, chopped (about 1 cup)
- 1 medium onion, chopped (about 1/2 cup)
- 1 can (2 ounces) sliced ripe olives, drained

Vegetables and cheese... a tasty team for hot, satisfying sandwiches

Cut thin slice from top of each bun; reserve. Remove center from each bun, leaving 1/4-inch wall. (Use removed bread for crumbs or stuffing.) Mix cheese, mayonnaise, salt and basil; spread about 1/4 cup in bottom of each bun. Mix zucchini, tomato, onion and olives; divide among buns. Top with reserved tops of buns. Wrap each sandwich in heavy-duty aluminum foil. Refrigerate no longer than 24 hours.

About 35 minutes before serving, heat wrapped Hot Vegetable Sandwiches on oven rack in 350° oven until hot and cheese is melted, about 30 minutes. 6 servings. NOTE: The book also gives directions for making this recipe to serve immediately.

Social Security Changes are Seen

As we start this new year, the vitality of the Social Security system is confirmed in two distinct ways. First, the whole country is watching and waiting for the legislative medicine that will restore financial health to the retirement and survivors benefit system. This public attention will assure effective treatment. Secondly, routine, annual adjustments and program refinements, already provided by law, will take place as usual in 1983. Orderly change of this type is characteristic of a stable and mature system. Beginning this year, retirees who are at least age 70 can earn any amount and still get all their Social Security benefits. This 'earnings test exempt age' had been 72 until this year. Also, retirees between the ages of 65 and 70 can earn $6,600.00 in 1983 without losing any benefits - a $600.00 increase in this 'allowable earnings amount.' For younger retirees, survivors and dependents the annual exempt amount is $4,920.00, up $480.00 from 1982.

If you loved Miracle on 34th Street, you would probably enjoy William Kotzwinkle's "Christmas at Fontaines." 'Tis the night before Christmas and Fontaine's Department Store features a young lady looking for someone with whom to share her first Christmas alone, a saintly Santa with an unsavory past, a far out window designer who can't stop, the store's manager whose fate hinges on the bottom line, and then, a mysterious presence that threatens to turn the chaos into miracle.

Irving Wallace tells the gripping story of a bitter young man who chooses to create disasters all over the world, so that he can have the headlines for his own newspaper. Victoria Weston, a journalist for the same paper, begins to suspect the manipulation of the front-page news, and gradually becomes aware of the deadly risk she is taking in pursuing her own truth. Wallace calls his novel "The Almighty."

Thunder Moon, raised as a Cheyenne by the Indians who kidnapped him, became one of the most feared warriors on the plains. Spotted Bull, medicine man, and the beautiful, treacherous Red Wind oppose him, however, from within his own tribe. "he had white skin, and a white heart," they said, "and he could not be trusted." Max Brand relates "Thunder Moon's Challenge."

High in the Himalayas, a remarkable killer stalks man and beast alike. A collapsing cave wall traps the strange creature, something between a gorilla and a man, wordless but not voiceless, affectionate toward some people, and hostile towards others. The press gives the creature the name "Brother Esau," which is also the name of the novel by Douglass Orgill and John Gribbin.

President John Adams and his wife Abigail faced the challenge of living in an evil world, and excelling, while trying to behave morally. But what about other members of that family, both ancestors and descendants? Paul Nagel offers insights into four generations of the Adams family, and tells about the greats and near-greats, the spendthrifts, misfits, alcoholics and neurotics. He concludes that the need to excel destroyed some members of the family, and handicapped the rest. The book is "Descent from Glory," and the title is most significant.

Flambard was a priest by profession, but an infamous tax collector as well, the first outstandingly successful administrator in British history. A contemporary of Red King William II, wicked ruler who was buried without bell, prayer, or candle, Flambard was chaplain to the evil king. Marilyn Durham tells their story in the novel "Flambard's Confession," 773 pages of infamy.

Judith Guest wrote "Ordinary People," but in "Second Heaven," she eloquently probes the lives of three fascinating people, an attorney, one of his clients, and the teenager the woman chooses to shelter. "How the characters respond to their problems, and how they attempt to help each other do so, is the point and purpose of the book," she says.

Graham Greene takes the humble parish priest across Spain, a man both innocent and wise, simple and complex, spiritual and real. Newly designated Monsignor Quixote, his little car takes him through adventure after adventure, pursued by police, doing deeds of faith, charity, simple kindness — and outrageous hilarity. By the end of the tale, we have learned something of the human spirit, and the meaning of love, in "Monsignor Quixote."

Snails and slugs have a remarkable homing instinct. Each has been observed to return to the same area, even the same plant, from which it was removed.

Texas A&M recruits record number of nation's top scholars

COLLEGE STATION — Texas A&M University, which last year ranked second only to Harvard in attracting new National Merit Scholars, has added even more of the nation's top high school graduates this year. University officials announced that 190 new National Merit Scholars enrolled at Texas A&M this fall. With 134 new National Merit Scholars last year, Texas A&M tied with Princeton — second only to Harvard/Radcliffe — in the number of top-ranked students it recruited.

With the addition of 190 new National Merit Scholars this fall Texas A&M is expected to have about 400 of the top students, administrators said. "We expect to move up from 13th nationally to about eighth place among all colleges and universities in the total number of National Merit Scholars enrolled," said Vice President for Academic Affairs Dr. Charles McCandless.
