UF drive to open Monday

Garza's 1981 United Fund drive will kickoff Monday with a $11,175 goal and 14 participating organizations.

The problem, as it turned out at the fund's budget committee hearing last Thursday afternoon, was that so many local organizations asked for major fund increases that United Fund directors didn't feel they could grant them all and still have a chance of reaching the goal.

The goal this year is almost a thousand dollars over the 1980 goal of $10,195.

Some agencies were cut this year in an effort to put the funds where they were most needed.

The girl scouts and the summer baseball program benefitted from the major increases.

The scouts which are expanding their local program was boosted from $1,000 a year ago to $2,500. Practically all of this will go for the operation of the Girl Scout Little House here. The girl scouts had been cut last year because of a reduced program.

The summer baseball program was boosted $500 from $3,000 total to $3,500 but the program was divided into four parts by the United Fund.

The Little League, which asked for considerably more will get $1,500 for 1981, the Monor League $500, the Babe Ruth League $1,000, a slight reduction of about $250, and the teenage baseball program $500.

Other participating agencies in the 1981 United Fund drive with their 1980 amounts in parenthesis are as follows:

Red Cross $500 ($300), Boy Scouts $2,500 ($2,700), Salvation Army $500 ($1,200), Post Special School $200 ($500), USO $25 ($125), Garza United Fund, for campaign expenses, $50 ($50), Meals on Wheels $1,250 ($1,000), and Texas United Fund $50 ($100).

The Texas Rehabilitation program, which received $220 last year, will not be a participating agency this year because directors felt local needs were more important and an unlimited amount of money could not be raised.

Several participating agencies which were reduced did not make a presentation before the budget committee so the committee did not actually know their needs.

Jim Cornish will serve again as campaign chairman.

Over $1,300 already has been contributed toward the United Fund goal by individuals and organizations who haven't waited for the campaign to be organized.

Cornish said he planned to organize the various drive divisions this weekend.

It is hoped the campaign can be completed by Thanksgiving.

Rites here for Mrs. Bright

Funeral services for Eugenia Bright, 64, of Post were held at 10 a.m. Monday in the First Christian Church in Post.

The Rev. Edgar Fox, pastor of the First Christian Church in Quanah and the Rev. Frank Pickett, pastor of the First Christian Church in Post, officiated.

Entombment was at Resthaven Mausoleum in Lubbock under direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Mrs. Bright died Friday afternoon in Garza Memorial Hospital after an illness.

She was a member of the First Christian Church.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Jim Carnes of Canyon; two sons, Haskell Odum of Hurst and Nonnie Bright of Post; and See Rites here, Page 14)

REAGAN RALLY PRINCIPALS — Former Lubbock Mayor Jim Granberry, left, makes a point as he discusses the presidential campaign with Garza's Reagan-Bush chairman A. C.

Bush Jr. hits hard at Carter in rally

"The oil producers of this country — the can do people — are being penalized by Jimmy Carter with his windfall profits tax," George Bush, Jr., of Midland told Post's first presidential rally in at least 20 years in the community center Tuesday night.

The son of the Republican vice presidential candidate who lost a tough congressional race to Kent Hance in 1978 said he understood the tax would take $8,000,000 this year from Garza County alone.

In a 15-minute off the cuff talk, Bush hit hard at Carter and stressed his father's conviction that Ronald Reagan has the soundest judgment on world affairs of any of the candidates.

Carter's calling Reagan a warmonger is the silliest thing I ever heard, Bush declared. He added: "I've been somewhat ashamed of the way the president has conducted himself in the last three months."

"Reagan and Dad are in concert on Reagan's positions in the campaign," Bush declared. "Dad thinks Reagan will bring in excellent men to staff his administration when he is elected."

A crowd of approximately 100 persons turned out for the Reagan rally and showed a great reluctance to leave when the speaking was finished. Most of them stayed 30 minutes to discuss politics with Bush and other Reagan backers from out of town.

"We've got something good to brag about," Bush said. "Ronald Reagan did a fantastic job as governor of California."

A bit later Bush referred to California as "the seventh nation of the world."

"I'm convinced we're going to win Texas and the nation Nov. 4, but this campaign is tough and we need every vote we can get," Bush told his hearers.

Bush was introduced by Jim Granberry, who served as Lubbock's mayor in 1970-72 and who ran for governor as a Republican in 1974.

Granberry told the attentive crowd that "it's so important this year that you use your influence in your community." He said the nation must put somebody in the White House who "understands that farmers must make it like everybody else."

"Don't be afraid to take a stand," he told his hearers. "Your influence is important in this election."

County Judge Giles Dalby welcomed Granberry and Bush to Post in the absence of Mayor Giles McCrary who was out of the city.

Garza Reagan chairman A. C. Cash opened the Reagan rally by thanking the many volunteers who had worked to make the rally a success.

He said he was proud to be a small part of something like this.

Weldon Reed and a three-piece western band entertained the crowd during the coffee and cookies portion of the rally before the speaking got under way.

Blue and white Reagan and Bush signs were arrayed along the wall behind the speaker's stand under a larger Reagan and Bush commitment '80 banner.

The rally drew a channel 11 television camera crew and direct coverage by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Absentee voting began

Six absentee ballots for the Nov. 4 presidential election already have been cast here via personal appearance and 26 ballots have been mailed out to those making written requests.

County Clerk Carl Cederholm says absentee voting to date is about normal.

Absentee voting began last Wednesday and will continue through Friday, Oct. 31.

Mrs. Walden's rites Sunday

Funeral services for Stella Walden, 82, of Post were held at 1 p.m. Sunday at the Church of Christ in Post with Jack Sneed, minister, officiating.

Burial was in Trent Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

She died Friday morning in Lubbock's West Texas Hospital following a lengthy illness.

She was a native of DeSoto and had lived in Post for 15 years.

Survivors include a daughter, Mary Alice Serene of Post; a sister, Lillie McRee of Post; five grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Deljuan Wilson, R. A. "Shorty" Duncan, Ted Tatum, Loyd Reed, Grant Lott and Lester Josey.

Reappraisal of all Garza property about to start

The reappraisal of all Garza County property will get under way here in the immediate future, according to Jean Westfall, new chief appraiser of the Garza County Tax Appraisal District.

Mrs. Westfall said representatives of Associated Tax Services of Irving were here Monday to get lined up on the reappraisal of all county property in time for the 1981 tax year.

Latham and Stults of Dallas have contracted to handle the Garza appraisals of minerals, utilities, railroad and industry.

Mrs. Westfall is already at work in her new office on the first floor of the courthouse where the county agent and HD agent previously were located.

Barbe Beavers is her clerk. The office has been completely remodeled.

JEAN WESTFALL
New CTA

Mrs. Westfall said her office is now busy doing research preparatory to mailing a rendition form to every taxpayer in the county.

It really won't be open to the public until Jan. 1.

Since the organization of the new Garza County Tax Appraisal District, Mrs. Westfall's office will handle all renditions for the various units of local governments.

Mrs. Westfall has resigned her previous position as assessor-collector of the Southland Independent School District. That position has been taken by Frances Albright.

Mrs. Westfall has been recently designated as a certified Texas Assessor by (See Tax office, Page 14)

This Oil Progress Edition of The Dispatch is one of the bigger papers The Dispatch has published in a number of years. It was an 18-pager last year, and this year it's a 22. It just seemed to keep growing, and growing, and growing as the hours went by.

All of which will give Dispatch readers a good idea of how big the oil business is these days in Garza County.

You'll find two big ads slamming Jimmy Carter's new windfall profits tax on oil — one, a full-pager by Reagan for President Chairman A.C. Cash, and the other a cartoon ad offered by Andy Stelzer with Carter drawn as a "black raider" and a touch of humor adding to the zing of the message.

As for the windfall profits tax, taking eight million dollars out of Garza County for this first year is what most folks would call a very conservative estimate. Since the tax started March 1 it only covers 10 months of the year but takes up to 36 percent of oil income depending on a lot of things. We would guess the Garza "take" in a normal year would be closer to $16 to $20 million.

George Bush, Jr., is following in his father's footsteps in more ways than one. Besides showing a real attraction to politics Bush is trying to make a family stake in the oil business. He operates the Arbusto Ener- (See Postings, Page 14)

Rotarians hear pair

Post Rotarians heard a lot of beautiful singing by Judy Sutherland and a short message from her husband, Jim Sutherland, on the subject: "The Speed of Life."

The pair are here this week from Lubbock conducting services at the First Christian Church.

Sutherland advised Rotarians to (1) take a few minutes of every day to be alone with God, (2) take some time every day to develop quality relationships with other people, and (3) take some time each day to get outside.

That punitive tax

The constitutionality of the new windfall profits tax is going to be tested. A suit seeking to declare Jimmy Carter's new windfall profits tax unconstitutional has been filed in federal court.

The tax is the most important new oil development of 1980. It deserves some examination this Oil Progress Week.

Becoming effective March 1, this year alone it will take an estimated $8,000,000 from Garza producers and royalty owners.

Programmed for 10 years, the new tax well may take $100 million out of Garza alone in the 1980's. That probably is a very conservative estimate too.

The windfall profits tax is going to provide federal bureaucrats with billions of new tax dollars to spend. It will also prevent the drilling of thousands of new wells in this country because it will take such drilling funds from the energy companies and independents.

The tax was proposed by Carter in a much tougher form than was finally adopted. But Congress gets its share of the "credit" for approving it.

It is hard to remember now what Carter's reason was for advocating the tax.

When the tax bill was passed and signed into law none of the so-called experts seem to realize it was going to apply just as much to the little royalty owner as it was to the biggest energy company.

The oil industry is the most taxed industry in the nation today. But it was already that before the punitive windfall profits tax.

It remains to be seen whether enough incentive remains with the tax now in effect for the expensive search for new oil in this country and just off its shores to continue at the present pace.

A real slackening of the drilling pace has been forecast because of the windfall profits tax. If this proves true, Carter's "energy program" will only have strengthened this nation's dependence on Arab oil.

Important rural vote

Rural Texas well could name the next president of the United States Nov. 4.

Four years ago Jimmy Carter carried Texas by only 110,000 votes — but every bit of that margin and then some came from rural Texas.

Gerald Ford came out of the state's metropolitan areas with a 10,000 vote lead. He lost the state in the towns and rural precincts which gave Carter a 120,000 vote margin.

Political experts are saying things could be a little different this time around big city populations in Texas are much bigger than four years ago and there are thousands fewer in the rural precincts.

Four years ago, Carter carried Texas and Illinois by small margins as his edge to win the White House. The Lone Star state may be just as decisive this time too.

Have the political winds changed in rural Texas in the first four years of the Carter administration? We are convinced they have.

Most voters in towns and farms are genuinely disappointed with the Carter record. They fault him for his failure to handle the nation's economy, and particularly the farm economy which is now in terrible shape. They see U.S. prestige at its lowest point ever around the world and they fear that Carter has permitted the Soviets to take a commanding lead in military power over this country. This windfall profits tax has grown into a real threat to future oil growth.

They point to the fact that Carter simply forgot his campaign promises once elected in 1976. His failure to balance the budget has been a major factor in the current roaring inflation.

Most rural voters are conservative Democrats. Herin lies their problem for 1980.

Dissatisfied with Carter, these voters are faced with three choices: (1) leave the party and vote for Ronald Reagan, a real conservative, (2) "stay home" on election day, (3) or vote for Carter again and another four years of disaster.

There is little organized effort in rural Texas this year on behalf of the Carter ticket. There are no prominent state races either to interest voters.

What makes an educated guess as to the outcome Nov. 4 difficult is that in the last decade voters have quit "talking politics." They keep their thoughts to themselves. Even candidates who work hard at it will tell you they hear very little from the voters.

Polls show Texas in the toss-up category. But polls aren't always right because they reflect the public's position the day the poll was taken — and that wasn't election day.

The only thing the polls really tell us in Texas this year is that the "undecided vote" less than two weeks before the election is larger than ever.

The rural conservative Democrat to a large extent has yet to make up his mind on his or her course of action on the three choices. Or if he has, he isn't telling anybody — even the pollsters.

A Little more control

State Constitutional Amendment No. 6 to be voted upon in November would give the governor power to remove his own appointees but only with the two thirds vote of the state senate.

At present it is a long and time consuming process to either remove by trial or in the case of state officers and judges by impeachment.

This amendment would provide an additional method of removal that eliminates the requirements that cause for the removal be specified and that a trial or impeachment procedure be conducted. It would permit the governor as chief executive officer to initiate the removal instead of the legislature.

But it is narrow in scope. A governor could not remove appointees other than his own.

Arguments in favor of the amendment are that current methods for removing officers are time-consuming, expensive and difficult. Consequently they are rarely used. The governor appoints hundreds of officials each year and a simpler, quicker method for removing those who are incompetent, neglectful or otherwise inadequate for their tasks should be available.

The governor at present has little formal control over actions of more than 200 agencies which compose his executive branch, although he is held accountable by the public for their actions. The proposed amendment would give the governor some power to control the actions of many subordinates, and it avoids abuses by requiring two-thirds of the senate to agree to the proposed removal.

Arguments against the amendment include:

Assuming the governor needs more control of the executive branch of government, this amendment does little to give him that control. A governor will be able to remove only his own appointees, although most offices will be filled by appointments of his predecessors, and the requirements that two-thirds of the senate concur eliminates real control over his own appointees.

Also, the governor can control the general direction of a state agency by careful selection of appointees. This proposed amendment would give the governor too much control over an agency's day-to-day activities, subjecting all agencies to the threat of increased political influence.

As for The Dispatch, we think it makes sense to give the governor at least a little more control of his branch than he now possesses. We'll vote in favor.

"I'M SORRY, I MUST HAVE DIALED THE WRONG NUMBER — WHAT'S NEW?"

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — "Do we really need it? Can we afford it? Can the need best be realized at the local level?"

Those three questions have become as close to the "Stenholm philosophy" as anything I can devise. Those are the questions that I believe the people of the 17th District elected me to answer each and every time their money is to be spent through the federal budget. Sometimes the resulting answers aren't easy ones.

I recently proposed an amendment to the Department of Transportation (DOT) Authorization Bill which would have answered those questions in what has appeared to some to be opposition to the transportation needs of the handicapped. That amendment would have created a local option which would allow transit authorities, in consultation with members of the local handicapped community, to establish programs which effectively meet local transportation needs, rather than leaving those needs to the discretion of "Big Brother" in Washington.

At issue are DOT regulations that require that all public transportation systems receiving federal financial assistance become accessible to handicapped persons, including wheelchair users. For the most part, this requires lift-equipped buses and modified rail vehicles and stations. One-half of peak-hour bus service must be accessible by 1982, which could be extended to 1989 in the case of "extraordinarily expensive" compliance. However, beginning July 2, 1979, all new transit buses purchased must be lift-equipped. Rail systems must be made accessible over 30 years.

Do we really need it? There is no question about the need for adequate transportation for the handicapped. But we have to look at the results: The Congressional Budget Office has estimated that full-system accessibility would serve only about 7 percent of the handicapped population while special services (such as portal-to-portal van service) would benefit about 26 percent of the handicapped in this country.

Can we afford it? Cost estimates for complying with these regulations range from $6 billion to over $8 billion (current dollars, excluding inflation). Specialized services designated by the local community would cost an estimated $4.4 billion.

Can the need best be realized at the local level? My amendment (which was narrowly defeated) and a similar amendment, the Cleveland Amendment to the Surface Transportation Act which will be debated later this session, would allow communities to pursue alternative approaches for meeting the transportation needs of handicapped persons. Programs created as local options to full system accessibility must be developed in consulta-

NEWS OF ENERGY

Oil and natural gas fuel most American homes, industry and transportation—and probably will for the rest of this century.

Although many alternative energy sources look promising, practical reality demands that we keep finding oil and natural gas until other sources are developed.

Oil and natural gas: Seek and ye shall find!

Fortunately we are finding them. For one thing, we are drilling deeper than ever before: a well recently dug in Texas went down to a depth of 5.5 miles.

Some companies have modified their refineries. Gulf Oil, for instance, invested over $500 million so its refineries can handle heavier grades of crude oil in order to maintain its supplies of gasoline, home heating fuel and lubricating oils—and to protect the environment.

New technologies in recovery will allow us to get new production from oil fields that a decade ago would have been abandoned.

There is some light in America's energy picture!

PET FACTS & FIGURES

Dogs, as members of the family, carry a lot of weight around the house. But they run the gamut in the weight column from the Chihuahua, which generally tips the scale between two and four pounds, and one of the heaviest of the heavies, the St. Bernard. One St. Bernard in Wisconsin holds the record: 295 pounds.

Whatever their size, dogs do litter up their homes. Not only does dirt and hair collect on carpeting but persistent animal odors cling there too. Luckily, there's Lestoil Deodorizing Rug Shampoo, the clean way to keep odors away. Just foam it on, let it dry 15 minutes, and vacuum. Result: a clean, odor-free rug.

Among the many things manufactured as gifts for pets: doggie sunglasses, doggie pajamas and, for the kosher canine, a doggie yarmulke (skull cap).

How to spend without worry.

Buying the things you want makes you feel good. But spending that "little extra" you should be saving makes you feel guilty. And you worry.

One answer is to buy U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. They'll take out that "little extra" from each paycheck for Bonds.

You're automatically saving the amount you want to save, without ever seeing it. So you can't spend it. You won't even miss it. But you can spend what's left of your pay (after bills) without feeling guilty. Without worry.

When you put part of your savings into U.S. Savings Bonds you're helping to build a brighter future for your country and for yourself.

SPECIAL COFFEE CAKE FOR LEISURE DAY BREAKFASTS

A delicious surprise is in store for those who are invited to try Swirl Coffee Cake. Biscuit mix is the basic of this quick coffee cake, and the surprise comes from the addition of Baker's Angel Flake coconut and Baker's semi-sweet chocolate. This recipe makes nine servings. If you're fortunate enough to have leftovers, wrap in portions and freeze to enjoy on "rushed" mornings or for snacks.

SWIRL COFFEE CAKE

- 2/3 cup flaked coconut
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 squares semi-sweet chocolate
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 2 cups biscuit mix
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons oil

Combine coconut, butter, 1 tablespoon sugar and the cinnamon; set aside. Melt chocolate with 2 tablespoons milk in saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly; cool. Meanwhile, combine biscuit mix, 3/4 cup milk, 1/4 cup sugar, the egg and oil; beat vigorously about 30 seconds. Add half the dough to the melted chocolate; blend well. Alternately spoon chocolate mixture and remaining dough into greased 8-inch square pan. Cut through batter with spatula or knife in zigzag pattern to marble. Evenly sprinkle reserved coconut mixture over batter. Bake at 400° for about 30 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool; cut into squares. Makes 9 servings.

Congressman

Charles W. Stenholm

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — With the recent passage of the Rail Act of 1980, Congress has now taken significant steps toward deregulation of our three primary transportation industries: air, trucking and rail.

Two years after the deregulation of the nation's airlines, we are all aware of the many changes in that industry, particularly the increased competition by which small commuter airlines are serving the public well with increased service at competitive costs.

Now, only four months after passage of the trucking deregulation bill, we are beginning to hear of initial effects of competition on that industry. Members of the trucking industry have reopened contract negotiations with the Teamster Union this week, a move thought by many to have been brought about by the increased competition by non-union firms after deregulation.

In both cases, I applaud that increased competition, feeling that it supports my strong belief in the Free Enterprise System, even though there may be economic dislocation of major importance in the short-run.

In the case of rail deregulation, however, it is the lack of competition in many areas that may lead to trouble. Many areas and industries of our state are served by only one railroad and must depend solely on that transportation for the movement of such bulk commodities as grain, steel, coal, auto parts and chemicals. The Rail Act of 1980 may have failed to provide a balance in railroad ratemaking with respect to those captive shippers.

I supported a provision, the Eckhardt Amendment, which would have given the Interstate Commerce Commission greater flexibility for review of rates where railroads enjoy monopoly power and can extract exorbitant rates from these captive shippers.

The City of San Antonio presents a representative case of the problems caused for captive shippers: After being locked into plans to convert the city-owned electric utility from oil and gas to coal, the city has seen a 260 percent increase in the transportation rate initially proposed in 1973. That amendment did fail (296-83) and I subsequently supported the compromise legislation because it was the best we were going to be able to pass.

There can be no doubt that the railroads need increases in rates to be able to afford desperately needed improvements to lines and equipment. (Competition — from coal slurry pipelines or such — will dictate eventual rates.) A return on equity of only 2.6 percent last year is solid evidence that if some changes were not made, this important means of transportation was simply going to become so unprofitable that every track in the country would soon be just a piece of rusty iron headed for the scrap pile.

The choice was to pass a solid, although imperfect, bill; give up on the railroads as a viable means of transportation and turn to even more expen-

Weather Wisdom

The lowest temperature ever recorded on Earth was -126.9° F (-88.26° C), at Vostok, Antarctica, on August 24, 1960.

The thermometer was invented in 1593 by Galileo. The more accurate mercury thermometer like those used today was developed by Gabriel Fahrenheit in 1714.

A barometer helps us predict the weather by measuring air pressure on the earth's surface. A rapidly falling barometer signals a coming storm while a rising barometer indicates fair weather.

According to A-T-O Inc.'s Thermometer Corporation of America, the temperature at the center of the sun is believed to be 27 million degrees Fahrenheit (15 million degrees Celsius).

Tracy White leads Tahoka to 20-0 win

Lopes fail to cash 4 chances

The Post Antelopes had four good scoring opportunities at Tahoka Friday night — twice reaching the Bulldog's one-yard-line — but couldn't cash in a single one as Tahoka put together long touchdown marches in each of the first three periods for a 20-0 victory.

When the Bulldogs had their backs to their goal line, the best defense in the district was just too tough for the Lopes to run against. It was the first District 3AAA game for each club. Tahoka marched the game opening kickoff back 61 yards in 12 running plays for their first touchdown, added another a couple of minutes before the half on a 76 yard drive, and concluded the scoring with a relentless 78-yard march the first time they got the ball in the third period.

Tailback Tracy White rang up 181 yards and two touchdowns for the Bulldogs in 26 carries.

Alonzo Luna was Post's leading ball carrier with 66 yards in 19 tries and Fullback Barry Wyatt added 55 yards on only eight carries.

Tahoka lost their all-district two-way player, Jerry Jolly, when he was ejected from the game in the second period for a personal foul. Jolly is the Bulldogs' top linebacker and No. 1 offensive blocker.

Punter Mark Holly had the best kicking game of his career thanks to a booming 59 yard punt early in the fourth period which the Lopes downed on the Tahoka four.

Strangely enough, Holly was called on to punt only twice, both in the second half, and came away with a 47.5 yard average. One first half punt was nullified by a Tahoka penalty which gave the Lopes a first down. Twice in the second half the Lopes despaired to kick and went for it on fourth down.

This is the way the action went:

White ran the opening kickoff back to the Tahoka 39 from where the Bulldogs drove 61 yards in 12 plays with White scoring from the Post four with 7:17 left in the quarter. Kevin Elmore converted and the score was 7-0.

The Lopes countered with a 63-yard drive of their own

Post	Tahoka
14	First Downs 22
123	Net Yds Rushing 268
3 of 9	Passes 1 of 2
52	Yds Passing 6
1	Passes Int. by 1
4-40	Penalties 6-60
2-47.5	Punts 3-24
1-1	Fumbles-Lost 6-1

which bogged down after a first down on the Tahoka 15 and the Bulldogs held and took the ball back on their 22. Tahoka penalties on fourth down plays twice kept the drive going.

Mario Luna recovered a Tahoka fumble two plays after the Bulldogs took over the ball and the Lopes had the ball back on the Tahoka 23. Quarterback Drew Kirkpatrick got six on a keeper and then Wyatt broke in the clear up the middle for 15 yards to a first down on the Tahoka one.

On the next play, the ball was knocked from Luna's grasp as he tried right tackle and Tahoka recovered on its one.

The Lopes forced the Bulldogs to kick out to the Tahoka 40 after one first down. A 15-yard Tahoka penalty and a run got the ball to the Tahoka 20, but again the Bulldogs held and "sacked" Kirkpatrick for a five yard loss on fourth down.

From their 24, the Bulldogs marched 76 yards in 12 plays for their second touchdown with White scoring from the Post four again with 1:44 left in the half.

Tahoka recovered their own short kickoff on the Post 37 after the touchdown, but Will Kirkpatrick intercepted Quarterback Mark Huddlin's second and last pass of the game to end the threat.

Tahoka drove 78 yards early in the third for their final score with White getting 63 of them in seven carries. Medlin sneaked over from the one for the touchdown. A bad center snap ruined the attempted conversion kick and Medlin was tackled trying to run it in.

Post marched the next kickoff back to the Tahoka 43, but Kirkpatrick's fourth down pass was intercepted by White on the Tahoka 19 as the quarter ended.

Midway through the fourth, Post started after a poor Tahoka punt on the Tahoka

SPORTS

JVs score twice to whip Tahoka 12-0

The Post and Tahoka junior varsities battled evenly for three and one-half quarters here last Thursday night before Coach Lane Tannehill's club scored two touchdowns in the final five minutes of play for a 12-0 victory.

Post got its first score with only 5:07 left on the clock when Quarterback Tim Tannehill threw a screen pass to Wingback Roy Gonzales who ran 17 yards for the touchdown. The play capped a 42-yard drive which came after a short Thoka punt.

It was the only pass completion of the night for Tannehill who was "sacked" four times for 25 yards in losses trying to find open receivers.

A pass for the conversion points failed.

Tahoka's deep receiver on the kickoff after the touchdown grounded the ball inside the 15. Tahoka unable to gain, and penalized, despaired to kick on fourth down and surrendered the ball on their 10.

Tailback Melvin Wynne got the final four yards for the touchdown.

Tahoka had slightly the better of the statistics, gaining 147 yards rushing and 11 first downs to 127 yards and nine for Post and 49 yards passing to only 17 for Post.

Tahoka threatened twice in the first half, once getting to the Post six. The visitors had a touchdown called back for having an illegal receiver downfield.

Tailback Melvin Wynne was Post's leading ballcarrier with 96 yards. Fullback Marvin Wynne had 52 yards in eight carries and Tailback Dana Scott four yards in two carries.

The JVs next start will be tonight against the Roosevelt junior varsity at Roosevelt.

212 yards, 4 tds —

Milton Williams runs wild again

The Tahoka freshmen took an early lead here last Thursday night, but that was before Tailback Milton Williams got rolling for 212 yards and four touchdowns to lead the local freshmen to a convincing 34 to 8 win.

two-point conversion.

Post totaled 164 yards rushing and 73 passing with 15 first downs to 182 yards rushing and 16 yards passing for Tahoka with 14 first downs.

Williams had 212 yards in 16 carries, including the long pass-run play. Fullback L.V. Harper had 11 yards in two carries and Fullback Giles Dalby 10 yards in two.

The Post freshmen will hit the road tonight to meet Roosevelt's frosh at Roosevelt with a 5:30 p.m. kickoff.

7th graders bow to Tahoka, 14-0

Tahoka's seventh graders scored twice in the first half at Tahoka last Thursday night on long end sweeps for touchdowns, but the second half belonged to the Post visitors in statistics, if not the scoreboard.

Post absorbed a 14-0 loss after Tahoka broke loose for 40 yard and 65 yard end sweeps.

The second half was a different story with Tahoka being held to no first downs and a minus seven yards rushing.

Post on the other hand drove to the Tahoka one-yard-line but couldn't score.

Lopes, Eagles will clash here Friday

Both the Roosevelt Eagles and the Post Antelopes have winning streaks important to them to keep "alive" when they meet Friday night in a district clash in Antelope Stadium at 7:30 p.m.

The Eagles have won two in a row, after some early season losses in a row. They thumped Cooper 40 to 6 last Friday night and edged Denver City's Big Red 7 to 6 the weekend before that.

As for the Lopes they will be trying to win their fourth straight at home for 1980.

Coach David Thompson, disappointed at the Lopes' offensive unit to score against Tahoka after getting inside the Bulldog 20 five times, is going to experiment a bit.

Wingback Will Kirkpatrick will see some action at tailback.

Coach Thompson credits his defensive platoon with a real effort against Tahoka and commented "they just had to play too much."

Sophomore Toby Craft received a slight hip pointer against Tahoka after a strong first half, but is expected to be back in the lineup at middle linebacker against the Eagles.

Nobody will be out with injuries, Thompson reports.

Thompson is experimenting trying to get more of a scoring punch into the Lopes attack after the locals were held twice on the Tahoka one-yard-line.

Bill Black, a sophomore, will be given a good look against Roosevelt at strong end after logging some playing time against tough Tahoka.

As for Roosevelt, Coach Thompson reports: "Those Eagles are really big."

Lopes team and fans have been hearing that all year, but Roosevelt has four linemen over 200 pounds.

How's that for starters.

The Eagles are primarily a running team using the veer attack. Their leading ball carrier is Ignathius Caraway, 185-pound senior who is so quick he can break them. Steve Dawson 175-pound junior, is the quarterback and throws only about 20 percent of the time.

Best Roosevelt linemen are Center Steve Gomez, 170-pound senior center, and Homer Rocha, 220 pound junior guard.

Defensively, the Eagles play a 5-2 with Caraway at linebacker leading the defense. Decarlo Williams, a 200-pound junior tackle, is Roosevelt's best defensive player.

Tahoka thumped by 8th graders

Post eighth grade team's alternate tailbacks, Greg Massey and Mike Ollison, each had over 100 yards rushing at Tahoka last Thursday night as the locals thumped the host club 30 to 0.

After the game opening kickoff, Post moved 56 yards in three plays with Massey slipping off tackle for 24 yards and the first touchdown. Ollison scored the two conversion points on a sweep.

In the second quarter, Ollison ran 10 yards for the second touchdown to cap a six-play 39-yard drive.

Post's other 16 points came in the final two and one-half minutes of play.

Post drove 95 yards for the third score with Massey and Ollison alternating on sweeps to the Tahoka four from where Fullback Kenneth Gill slammed it in.

Ollison ran outside for the conversion points. Tahoka fumbled with David Redman recovering for Post on the Tahoka 21. Massey picked up 14, then Quarterback Dannie Storie threw seven yards to End Rod George for the final touchdown. Fullback Albert Nava ran up the middle for the final two points.

Massey had 124 yards in seven carries, Ollison 101 yards in seven carries, Nava 11 in three, Gill nine in two, Curt Greer one in two, and Storie four in one. Storie completed one of three passes.

Coach Darrel Radle told The Dispatch the entire squad played well and that he was very pleased with the offensive line which picked up blocking assignments against a defense they hadn't seen before. The second team also looked good, he said.

The eighth graders will play Roosevelt here at 7 p.m. tonight in the second game of a twin bill in Antelope Stadium.

RECEIVES PLAQUE ON BEHALF OF CITY AND COUNTY — Mayor Giles McCrary receives a plaque from Karen Hall, field representative of the Texas Easter Seal Society, on behalf of the city and county for its construction of two railings on Main Street to aid the handicapped. (Staff Photo)

Local ramps bring plaque

The week of October 12-18 was declared Handicapped Awareness Week by Gov. Bill Clements and the Easter Seal Society. Karen Hall, representative of the Easter Seal Society from Lubbock, made a plaque presentation to Mayor McCrary last week on behalf of the society. The presentation was made due to the two ramps located on either side of Main street in the 200 block which were constructed by the city and county. Ms. Hall said "disabled citizens of Post are lucky to have such ramps for a town this size," adding that she knows of only one other town in the South Plains the size of Post that has made ramps available to its disabled citizens.

Martha Compton is the local treasurer for the Easter Seal Society, which is one of the oldest and largest voluntary helath agencies in Texas. Its purpose is to assist disabled persons and their families in finding and making effective use of all resources which will be helpful to them in developing their abilities and living more useful lives.

Texas produced 4.4 percent of world oil in 1979, 7.2 percent in 1970, 12 percent in 1960, and 22 percent in 1950.

CONGRATS to the 4-H Gold Star Boy and Girl, Sam Butler and Jana Terry, a great choice. Also to Benny Jackson and Tanya Bland for the "I Dare You Awards" and to Debbie Ethridge for the Foley Award. Jana also received the second annual J. L. Hedrick Memorial Award and it was made even more special to have Bill Hedrick present it to her. Congrats to all you kids.

Speaking of the 4-H banquet, Ken Young and Kraig Peel will someday make great Emcees' or After Dinner Speakers if someone will just get their notes straight. Some adults, they presented pins to, others they told to sit down cause they didn't have a pin for them.

Happy Birthday this week goes to Gail Scott, Karron Hays, Billy Martinez, Jerri (Oz), Rhonda Adams and Chris Belongia.

Curt Greer and Greg Massey got the jump on most hunters around here when they went deer hunting at Dublin last weekend with their bows and arrows. But as the saying goes, the big one got away, so not to lose the weekend, they practiced on armadillos and ended up with a bunch of bent arrows!!

David Poole and roommate, Barry, visited in Post after watching the Tahoka-Post ballgame.

Donna and friend, Paige Loyd of Plainview, went to Tahoka with her roommate, Melanie Tekell, to enjoy the Tahoka homecoming festivities and then made Melanie bring them to Post EARLY Saturday morning, so we could take them back to San Angelo.

Speaking of San Angelo, we had a great time there this weekend along with about 18 other Post people. We met Kelly there Saturday afternoon and also saw Jana Terry and Ray Don Underwood, Karen Davis and Benny Kennedy, Ken and D'Lynn Young and Lenny Drake was visiting Jackie Stelzer. We were treated with a great parade which had 22 bands, numerous floats and clowns, which Lea Ann Babb took part and her group won first place in the clown division. Angelo was playing Abilene Christian University and Angelo won. We were also entertained by the Ray guy with the Dallas Cowboys. You know, the one that's always kicking towels and riding stick horses and whatever.

You can always tell who comes from a small town, cause there was so much going on at halftime, you didn't know what to look at. Jay Young and the Ram band did a SUPER JOB of entertaining, and they take the field and make chills on your arm, they also have a rifle corp., numerous twirlers and the Angelettes, all going at once. And the Abilene band was no slouch either.

The only draw back to the whole affair is that your back is a little out of whack from sitting so long after the game and that 90 degree hill is for the birds. I had to get Donna's suitemate, Mary Ann, who is a nursing student, to put the old back on the mend again.

Back to Tahoka, I talked to Jeff Williams and his girl Jami. Don't see Jeff out much anymore, but he sure has a cute friend. Also saw Larry Rodriguez, Bruce Waldrip, Chuck Black, Jimmy Pruitt, and Kurt Stevens. That Chuck is one hard working dude, he rarely gets to come home.

Be sure and go out and support the seventh and eighth grade teams here tonight (Thursday), the 8th graders have only lost one game all year and they're well worth your time to go and support as is the 7th graders.

And the Lopes will be playing here against the Roosevelt Eagles who clobbered Cooper last week. So the Lopes need you too, see ya there!

Bank honor to Post grad

Deborah (Medlin) Stevens of Groveton, was recently honored by being elected "Employee of the Quarter" by her co-workers at the First Bank in Groveton. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Medlin of Post and a graduate of Post High School.

Deborah has been employed at the First Bank since September 25, 1979. She is a teller in the bookkeeping department. Following her employment at the bank, Deborah took a course in Typing and Accounting offered by Angelina College to better enable her to serve the Banking customers.

Deborah is a member of the Church of Christ and is very active in all civic and community affairs.

INFLATION-FIGHTING IDEAS ON DECORATING

A shabby-looking home or apartment need not be the natural consequence of inflation. You can make your abode's interior comfortable and handsome-looking with a few inflation-wise changes that are long on impact and short on ready cash, according to the home fashions experts at Sears.

Some of their advice:
—You can defer such major purchases as upholstered sofas and chairs by buying furniture slipcovers. The newest slipcovers are made of stretch-knit fabrics for good fit and come in a variety of fashion-conscious patterns, prints and colors. The key to handsome-looking slipcovered furniture is to measure properly, say the Sears experts, and there are measuring guides in catalogs to help you. Properly fitted slipcovers can give furniture and the room part of a new lease on life, and cost very little. A standard size sofa can be slipcovered in a heavyweight, cotton-blend stretch-knit slipcover in coordinated florals, solids or stripes for as little as $50.

—You might also consider furniture throw covers as a thrifty way to brighten furniture or protect it. Throws now come in designer patterns and can provide a real lift for tired sofas and chairs.

—Don't throw away a chair or bar stool with a ripped or worn vinyl or leather seat. Instead, buy replacement seats, chair backs or cushions, usually available only in catalogs, for a like-new look. Handmade leather-look vinyl replacement cushions for a standard dinette chair are under $18. In some cases, the quality of the replacement will beat what came with the chair.

—When the loose cushions on your wood-frame furniture go, check out your catalog. Replacement cushions, for chairs, rockers or even a piano bench, come in a wide selection of sizes, colors, and fabrics.

—Do-it-yourself upholstery kits are easy to use these days. Complete instructions and special upholstery tool kits can help even the rankest amateur turn a shabby piece of furniture into something that looks like new.

—If the covers still look good, you can replace worn sofa or chair inner-cushions or upholstered pillows with replacement polyurethane. It's now available in many sizes and shapes, including T- or ear-shaped cushions for sofas and armchairs. Sears 1980 Fall general catalog features polyurethane cushions in three densities for gentle, firm and extra-firm support.

—Colorful throw pillows can perk up a room for a small price. And matched floor cushions can add extra seating to a room without a big investment. Brightly colored pillows and matched or contrasting floor cushions are available at larger retailers and in catalogs.

—"Knock down furniture" is the variety that comes unassembled or partially assembled and can mean big savings when buying accent or upholstered pieces. Styles range from snap-together plastic accent furniture in a variety of colors, to brass-plated tables, etageres and serving carts, to solid teak tables and bookshelves with cane panels, to adapt to any decor. Knock down furniture can help make moving easier because the pieces can be disassembled and packaged.

—Ready-to-finish furniture pieces can offer you more for your money on all wood product of comparable quality. Many pieces are available in solid pine, aspen hardwood and solid oak in chairs, stools, tables, rockers, benches, cabinets, buffets, platform beds, dressers and bookshelves. All you have to do to most pieces of ready-to-finish furniture is apply a wood stain or paint finish.

—Bonded cushion-back carpeting eliminates the need for separate carpet padding, making installation easier and less expensive. Most of the new cushion-back carpets can be cut with an ordinary scissors or carpet knife. You can purchase them as finished room-size rugs or wall-to-wall carpeting. Because you install it yourself, and don't need to purchase a separate cushion, you can save from $4 to $6 a square yard. On the average order of 40 square yards, the savings can add up to $160 to $240; on a smaller room like a kitchen, you can save from $80 to $120. Bonded cushion-back carpeting comes in a variety of styles, colors, patterns and fabrics for all rooms of the house.

—If your wall-to-wall carpeting wears out and there are wood floors underneath, consider area rugs to "warm" your floors instead of broadloom. They can be less expensive and are easier to clean and can be moved from place to place. They come in a wide variety of patterns now, including the popular, and inexpensive, braid rugs.

New oil pumpjack saving big money

MIDLAND — The Permian Basin recently saw its first installation of a revolutionary pumping device that cost one-third the price of the conventional beam pump it replaced.

The new pumpjack operates on a pneumatic principle, with compressed air driving a large piston inside a chromed cylinder through a stroke ranging from 44 to 120 inches, determined by the depth of the well.

The first well to be equipped with this pump is the 1-9 Wilson Federal operated by HNG Oil Co. in the Sioux field, about five miles southwest of Jal in Lea County, N.M.

The well produces about 30 barrels of oil per day (bo-d) from approximately 3,300 feet in the Yates formation.

On this particular well, a small compressor is needed to produce the 140 psi pressure required to raise the piston 44 inches, lift the column of fluid in the well, and push the oil to a tank battery one-quarter mile away.

The pneumatic pump, marketed by Pneumatic Sales Inc. of Dallas, cost $5,400. The air compressor, capable of producing 175 psi, cost $5,000, bringing the total price tag to $10,400 for the equipment needed to pump this well.

The pneumatic system replaced a "114" beam pumping unit which costs about $30,000 with its concrete slab foundation.

More striking than the cost difference is the weight difference. The pneumatic pumpjack weighs 650 lb. in contrast to the 6½-ton weight of the beam pump it replaced.

The difference is compounded by the concrete slab needed as a foundation for the beam pump. Weight of the slab is 7½ tons. All the pneumatic pump needs for mounting is a wooden skid.

The new pumpjack caused quite a stir in the oil-wise Permian Basin, which produces about a quarter of the nation's domestic supply of oil from over 100,000 wells.

The NBS affiliate in Midland-Odessa, KMID-TV, took a 90-mile trip from station headquarters to film the pump for broadcast on the Channel 2 evening news.

Channel 2 reporter Chuck Barth explained the stations interest: If a device which costs one-third and weighs one-twentieth of a conventional beam pump can do the same work, a revolution in the way wells are pumped might occur.

Shortly after the pneumatic pumpjack appeared on television, it made the front cover of Drill Bit magazine, a trade journal for the oil and gas industry in West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.

The bottleneck in manufacturing conventional beam pumps has been limited capacity for production of herringbone gears. The new designs in pumping equipment employ everything from chains to belts to hydraulic rams for driving the pump.

What sets the pneumatic pumpjack apart is its diminutive size and low cost. Other manufacturers that have arrived on the scene to ease the shortage are offering heavy-duty equipment at prices comparable to regular beam pumps.

Price competition is unnecessary at this time because operators have been unable to obtain conventional pumps and must get some kind of equipment on their wells if they want to get any oil.

The pneumatic pumpjack has been the only product to appear with a design that is revolutionary but simple enough to offer savings of 50 percent or more on costs of equipment, installation and power consumption.

Charlie McCoy, general manager of Pneumatic Sales Inc., points out that the dramatic cost savings of his pump offers three potential benefits to operators in addition to lowering their expenses.

Converting a well from beam pump to pneumatic frees up the beam pump, which may be sorely needed by the operator for a new well producing higher volumes than the one it is on.

The pneumatic pumpjack's low cost opens up the possibility of producing thousands of low-volume, "stripper" wells that are now plugged because the costs of surface equipment and the power to run it are greater than the proceeds from the oil produced.

A typical example is a deep stripper well west of Odessa that produces 5 bo-d from about 9,500 feet. The string of sucker rods needed to reach the pay zone is so long and heavy that a mammoth "456" pumping unit is needed to pump the well.

On the current market, a "456" sells for over $60,000. McCoy says the pneumatic pumpjack needed for this well, plus compressor, would cost less than $20,000.

On some wells, the pneumatic pumpjack can operate without fuel, reducing operating costs to near zero. The ideal well for the pneumatic is one with a high gas-to-oil ratio of 2,000 or above.

In such a case, the well needs to produce enough gas to put 100-150 lb. of pressure in the cylinder in order to raise the piston.

FIRST INSTALLATION — The first pneumatic pump to be installed in the Permian Basin was on this HNG Oil Co. well near Jal, N.M.

Saudi Arabia life shown by slides

Twenty-one Graham 4-H'ers were present for the club meeting Tuesday night at the community center. A short business meeting was conducted by president Sam Butler.

The club voted to help decorate and have some games at the Annual Community Halloween Carnival, Tuesday, Oct. 28.

Reports were given on two foods and nutrition projects by Trevah Bush and Leigh Ann Sneed.

Extension Agent Syd Conner congratulated county winners at the achievement banquet held Monday night.

A very interesting slide program was given by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ramage of Lubbock. The program was on "Their Life in Saudi Arabia". Also they told of their travels in the Far East and had several items on display they had purchased during their travels.

Hosts for the meeting were Blair Didway and Keith and Keri Hart.

The next meeting will be Nov. 17 with Leigh Ann Sneed and Jarett Dickson serving as hosts.

The program for the next meeting will be on arrowheads and will be presented by A. J. McAlister and Daymon Ethridge.

Adults attending the meeting along with the 21 club members were Extension Agent Cheryl Walker, Extension Agent Syd Conner, Lil Conner, Marianne Hart, Diane Graves, Linda Sneed, Jane Mason, Wella Didway, Danny Richardson, Jennie Cowdrey, Jerry Bush, Noel and Orabeth White.

VISITS SON

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robinson visited in Odessa last weekend with their son and family, the Gary Robinsons.

It's Our
29th
Anniversary
IN BUSINESS
IN POST

A large segment of the oil industry is composed of independent business men like ourselves, working in a very competitive field to make America bigger and better.

Caylor's

Service
301 S. Bdw.

Since there's no combustion, the gas emitted on the downstroke can be routed into the sales line and sold. The oil goes down the flowline into the tank, and the operator possesses a perfect closed system.

Another highly economical way to power the pump is with a gas compressor already on the lease to move gas from other wells into a gas pipeline. In this case, the operator need purchase no other equipment to make the pneumatic pumpjack go.

When no gas is available to drive the piston, an air compressor is needed as an external power source. As long as fluid volumes in the well are low to moderate, cost of the pneumatic system is substantially lower than a comparable beam pump.

McCoy notes that the cost advantage of his system declines as fluid volumes increase because of the need for larger, more expensive compressors to drive the piston at more strokes per minute.

The first purchases of the pneumatic pumpjack in the Permian Basin was J. W. Clifford, production foreman at the Pyote, Texas office of HNG Oil Co. He initially took an interest in the pneumatic because of an inability to get beam pumps.

Clifford's first installation at 1-9 Wilson Federal permitted transfer of a "114" beam pump for a 30 bo-d well to a new well producing 200 bo-d. Satisfactory performance of the first pneumatic pumpjack led to two more installations which released two more "114's" for use on new wells drilled in HNG's development program for the Sioux field.

Another operator, based in Dallas, turned to the pneumatic pump as a source of needed working capital. Installation of an $8,000 pneumatic system on one of his wells released a "114" which he turned around and sold for $26,000. However, the benefits of the pneumatic pumpjack do not end with its ability to substitute for a beam pump. Clifford is finding some other advantages that have prompted him to put in orders for several more systems.

His operating costs are greatly reduced. "Our electric bill has been cut in half," he says, as a result of reduced power requirements by the compressor, which has a much smaller motor than the one needed to drive a beam pump.

The simplicity of the system makes it virtually maintenance free. "It's a whiz" was the comment of an HNG pumper whose only responsibility was to check the oil used to lubricate the cylinder once a day. An oil change with 30-weight motor takes three minutes.

"YOU SAY HE SIPHONED THE GAS FROM YOUR CAR INTO HIS CAR? YES, I THINK THAT WOULD BE GROUNDS FOR DIVORCE."

Texas royalty owners received $2.5 billion from oil and gas production in 1979. Texas has 56 refineries which processed 1.4 billion barrels of crude oil in 1979.

Texas drilling and well service firms employed 106,981 workers in 1979 with wages of $1.9 billion.

He encouraged all 4-H'ers, both adults and youth to "join hands sooner" and help the community and youth grow.
 Special guests for the occasion included County

 Also presented during the evening was the Friends of 4-H Award, which is presented to deserving individuals who have donated their time and effort in special ways to help Garza County 4-H. This year, Danny Burns and Kevin Hutson, who have auctioned 4-H projects for several years in Garza county and also have spent quite a lot of time soliciting buyers for many of the 4-H projects and for the Garza County Junior Livestock Farm Sale. They are presently operating an auction service out of Sweetwater.
 The 1980 Foley Award was presented to Debbie Ethridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Damon Ethridge.

This award is presented to an outstanding 4-Her in the area of Foods and Nutrition.

McCrary joins 40 Texas mayors supporting Reagan

AUSTIN — Mayor G. C. McCrary of Post has joined with more than 40 other Texas mayors in supporting Governor Ronald Reagan and Ambassador George Bush, Governor Bill Clements, chairman of the Reagan-Bush campaign in Texas, and Ernest Angelo, deputy chairman and campaign manager, announced today.

Serving as chairman of the committee is Mayor Bob Folsom of Dallas. The co-chairmen are Mayor Woodie Woods of Fort Worth and Mayor Othal Brand of McAllen. Governor Clements and Angelo, who was Mayor of Midland for eight years, said that as city officials, the mayors particularly feel the brunt of the ever-increasing federal bureaucracy. "The failure of Jimmy Carter to control the growth of the federal government is one of the great disappointments of his administration. Not only did he fail in his promise to streamline the bureaucracy, but he has also gone out of his way to create more bureaucracy," Governor Clements said.

The Governor pointed out that Carter personally pushed for the creation of the Department of Education, which has a $14 billion-a-year budget, and the Department of Energy, which spends $13 billion a year and employs 20,000 people.

"Overall, Jimmy Carter has added 400,000 new employees to the federal payroll since he took office, and he has increased federal spending by 60 percent. What's more, he has nearly doubled the budget of the White House staff over what it was when President Ford was in office," the Governor added.

"During Jimmy Carter's administration, we have seen a tremendous increase in federal intervention into purely local matters, literally tying the hands of state and local governments. Ronald Reagan is committed to reducing federal meddling in state and local matters. In addition, he has pledged to institute an immediate hiring freeze in the federal government, as well as initiating regulatory reform," he said.

Governor Clements stated, "The fact that these mayors from different size cities and different parts of Texas are supporting the Reagan-Bush ticket is indicative of the widespread support that Governor Reagan and Ambassador Bush are winning in our state."

Nation's supply of engineers is falling short

COLLEGE STATION — The dean of the nation's largest college of engineering warned recently the nation's supply of engineers falls far short of industry demand and there is no sign of relief.

Shortages have developed for petroleum, chemical, electrical, mechanical, aerospace, civil and safety engineers, said Dr. Robert H. Page of Texas A&M University.

Although Texas A&M graduated a record 881 engineers in 1979, including 80 women, recruiters from industry and business still demand more.

Texas oil men drilled 16,149 wells in 1979, 31.5 percent of all the drilling in the United States.

Petroleum accounts for 70 percent of the tonnage handled in 13 Texas ports.

Wildcat wells were drilled in 220 of Texas' 254 counties during 1979.

THESE OIL FACTS TELL GARZA STORY!

Garza County last year produced 6,847,327 barrels of oil worth a record $85,660,061. Besides that, Garza's natural gas production totaled 1,132,227 thousand cubic feet, valued at an additional $1,347,350.

The county's royalty owners received $10,900,000 as their landlord slice of this oil business.

Based on Texas Employment Commission figures, oil employes in this county received a record $5,000,000 last year — the highest oil payroll for the county ever with 324 workers receiving regular checks.

In the search for new petroleum reserves, a reported $28,300,000 was spent to drill 98 wells in Garza County last year, including 20 wildcats.

This resulted in the completion of 81 new producers, although some $4,907,900 was lost in drilling 17 dry holes. Last year it cost an average of $288,700 to drill for oil in Garza County.

In the last 10 years, a total of 658 oil tests have been drilled in this county with 470 of them completed as producers at a total cost of $92,200,000.

Royalty payments in the last 10 years have exceeded $56,200,000.

One hundred and thirteen wildcats have been drilled in the last six years alone.

Totaling up the oil business in Garza County since its beginning in 1926, Garza has produced 169,607,327 barrels of oil.

Texans involved in suit on windfall profits tax

AUSTIN — Texas independent oil producers and royalty owners are actively involved in the major lawsuit filed in Cheyenne, Wyo., attacking the constitutionality of the Crude Oil Windfall Profits Tax. Dallas L. Frank Pitts, president of the Austin-based Texas Producers and Royalty Owners Association described the tax as "a capricious and arbitrary excise measure" that hits hardest the nation's 12,000 independent producers and some two million royalty owners.

Said Pitts: "The so-called windfall profits tax is totally unrelated to profits and amounts to the biggest excise tax in history. More than $227 billion will be siphoned from the producing industry during the next decade, assuring that literally hundreds of thousands of badly needed domestic wells will not be drilled. Furthermore, it endangers the economic livelihood of the more than 1.5 million royalty owners who average less than $300 monthly in royalty income and find themselves losing more than one-third of it under this unreal tax. Most of these owners rely on Social Security and modest royalty income to pay their bills.

"Some 700,000 Texans are paying approximately one-third of the gigantic tax measure, and the State's economy as a whole will suffer even more loss as plans for more than 200,000 wells are cancelled during the next ten years to finance the tax burden. Ironically, the expressed purpose of the tax is to expand domestic energy and thereby reduce costly oil imports from the security-sensitive Mid-East and other foreign sources. In fact, the tax does the opposite, and this will be the main argument pressed in the court case.

"As the case proceeds to the U.S. Supreme Court in the future, additional arguments will be pressed. The Constitution requires that an excise tax be levied uniformly. The windfall tax fails to do this, since it exempts production north of the arctic circle in Alaska. The tax also is levied on a minority to finance as yet unknown objectives for the common good without providing appropriate compensation under due process requirements of the fifth amendment.

Light rains hold up harvest again

LUBBOCK — Light to moderate rains slowed early harvesting efforts in central and northern High Plains counties last Thursday morning. Weather had been favorable for harvesting before Thursday, according to Mack Bennett, area director at USDA's Marketing Services Office in Lubbock.

Dryland and semi-irrigated cotton was estimated 100 percent open, Bennett said, while irrigated cotton was about 75 to 90 percent open. Sample receipts at Lubbock climbed sharply during the three-day Columbus Day week-end. About 12,000 samples came in during the holiday weekend.

Lubbock's office graded 12,500 samples during the week ended Oct. 16 as the classing staff increased to 17 from only four a week earlier. This brought total samples graded for the season to 17,400. No samples had been graded by the same date last year.

Predominant grades during the week were grade 42 to 40 percent, grade 52 - 30 percent and grade 43 - eight percent. About six percent of the samples were reduced one grade because of bark, about unchanged from the week before according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Staple statistics showed staple 30 was predominant at 35 percent. Staple 31 was 28 percent while staple 32 accounted for 14 percent. The week's average staple was 30.7, up from 30.2 a week earlier.

Micronaire readings in the base range of 35 - 49 accounted for 88 percent. Four percent miked 50 - 52 while 53 and above amounted to one percent. Average mike for the week was 42, down from 43 one week earlier. Average breaking strength was 91,000 pounds per square inch against 92,000 PSI a week ago.

Gins paid growers $110 to $125 per ton for cottonseed mostly $110 to $115.

Growers sold small mixed lots of mostly grades 32, 42, and 52; staples 30 and 31, mike 35 - 49 at around 72.50 cents per pound, down 100 points compared to one week ago.

USDA has already made NCA compliance a part of the wheat program announced in August, and there are indications it plans to do so for all the other program crops," Propst said.

"While not mentioned in the cotton proposal, we have determined that USDA will also demand cross-compliance among crops and compliance on all farms owned and or operated by a grower on which a program crop is planted," he explained.

You don't need a banker to tell you —

$28,300,000 Is A Lot of Money!

That's the record amount which was spent here in Garza County last year in the search for more of the oil that America so desperately needs.

At an average cost of $288,700, 98 oil tests were drilled in this county in 1979. The result was $2,907,900 lost in 17 dry holes, but 81 more producing wells.

We're proud of the job Garza's Oil Industry is doing each and every a day to help keep our America strong.

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Occasionally, the U.S. Congress passes legislation which some of us realize is going to come back to haunt us in later months and years. Final approval of the Federal Crop Insurance Act this week is going to be just such a case. I opposed this legislation down the line. I said at the beginning, and I still say, there is no such thing as a "free lunch." The House-Senate Conference Report, approved by the House on September 17 by a vote of 235-150, provides for coverage of $15.2 billion, compared to $6.1 billion currently provided by the disaster program. I have asked, again and again, "who is going to pay for the additional $9 billion worth of protection?" With a return on equity to farmers of only 4.6 percent, the American farmer can't afford it. That leaves Uncle Sam and we all know who pays Uncle Sam. A second point of opposition is that, at a time when Congress is being asked to reduce big government and to cut costs at every available turn, this legislation will establish one more government bureaucracy for the farmers of this country to deal with and the taxpayers to pay for.

When I first heard of a "new" Federal Crop Insurance program over three years ago, it was explained that the program would be administered within the existing Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS). That made a great deal of sense to me and I supported that concept, as we already have an ASCS office in every county and those offices have the people and the records necessary to deliver and administer an actuarially sound program.

This would have avoided duplication and the need to eventually build another office with the staff, equipment and records in each county that will now be necessary to carry out this program if we are to meet the needs of the farmers.

Under the 1977 Food and Agriculture Act, our current agricultural commodity programs were established through the 1981 crop year, except for the disaster program which was due to expire effective with the 1979 crop year. I strongly believed that any expanded Federal Crop Insurance program should have been approved within the context of a complete re-examination of our farm program, not during the middle of an existing program.

After a long and difficult fight, I was able to obtain a one-year extension of the disaster program. Without that extension, passage of the expanded program would have been a breach of trust on the part of Congress toward the entire farm economy.

I'll stand by the comments I made to members of the House when I opposed the bill, "... when our farmers come back to us in the years ahead, when we find out that it (this program) is not serving the needs of our farmers and is costing the taxpayer tremendously, we are going to wish we had done a better job — when we had the chance — than what we have done in putting together this package."

A TEXAS TRAGEDY

Beginning with 1980, the new federal windfall profits tax on oil production will take $13 billion annually from the state of Texas which will go to Washington to be spent willynilly by federal bureaucrats.

This is far more than the $11 billion it costs to run the state government of Texas each year.

Half of all the windfall profits tax which will be paid in the entire United States each 12 months will be taken from Texas.

This unjust tax not only applies to producers, but to all royalty owners as well including thousands of small royalty owners who depend upon it for their retirement years.

It truly is a Texas tragedy which demands correction.

U.S. SENATOR FOR TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

America's energy producers are proving they meant what they promised all along. If the government would remove controls so they could make enough money for more exploration, production would increase — and we would become less dependent on foreign suppliers for vital oil and gas.

Well, we succeeded in getting limited and phased decontrol of oil and gas profits. And sure enough, the nations oil and gas fields are teeming with activity. After 25 years of steady decline in the number of wells drilled, producers this year are expected to complete a record number of new wells.

American oil output will increase this year for only the third time in this decade. Last year, we recorded the largest jump in natural gas reserves in more than a decade. Demand is lower also.

The result has been a temporary oil glut, causing a leveling off of gasoline prices and plunging oil imports.

All of this is good news, for the energy industry and for our nation as a whole. Still, it would be a mistake to think our problems are over.

The Administration negated much of the positive effect of decontrol with the windfall profits tax. This tax is a classic example of political expediency winning out over sound reason and economic reality.

I have spoken at length before on the unfairness of "punishing" the oil companies — and scores of small producers and royalty owners — with this so-called windfall profits tax. But beyond the inequity of the tax is the counterproductivity of it. The imposition of this tax could cost us up to two million barrels a day in domestic production. That's two million barrels a day we could produce domestically instead of importing from OPEC.

The Administration also has hampered domestic production by holding hostage millions of acres of federal lands, refusing to allow even testing for oil reserves. This is depriving the American people of their own energy resources.

We simply cannot afford to import one more drop of crude oil than is absolutely necessary. The more dependent we are on foreign sources, the more vulnerable we are to attempts by OPEC countries to use the threat of a supply cutoff as a political weapon. Even without that consideration, though, we leave ourselves more subject to whims of OPEC on both the amount we can buy and the price we pay.

OPEC's likely response to leveling prices from a drop in world demand for oil will be to cut back production to keep the price from falling. And we are promised regular price increases for the indefinite future.

Further, one of the primary reasons for the much-celebrated drop in oil imports — and corresponding drop in overall energy consumption — is the recession which has hit American industry this year. When the economy begins to recover, use of oil and gas almost certainly will increase. Without an equivalent increase in domestic production, our import bills will increase also.

Only immediate steps to encourage — not discourage — production can keep economic recovery from increasing our energy vulnerability. In my view, getting rid of the windfall profits tax and opening up federal lands — with reasonable safeguards to the environment — are essential steps toward something approaching energy self-sufficiency.

Objections raised to new cotton proposal by USDA

MEMPHIS — Cotton growers have a high stake in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's proposal to require growers to plant within their normal crop acreage (NCA) to be eligible for 1981 upland cotton program benefits.

USDA announced the proposal in the Federal Register Oct. 3.

National Cotton Council President Herman Propst, a grower of Anson, Texas, has asked producers and other industry members to petition USDA for re-consideration of the NCA proposal.

"USDA has already made NCA compliance a part of the wheat program announced in August, and there are indications it plans to do so for all the other program crops," Propst said.

"While not mentioned in the cotton proposal, we have determined that USDA will also demand cross-compliance among crops and compliance on all farms owned or operated by a grower on which a program crop is planted," he explained.

Propst said the NCA requirement discriminates against cotton producers because crop acreage is a much higher percentage of the NCA in the Cotton Belt than in most other regions. In most cotton states, present crop acreage exceeds the official NCA by a substantial amount. NCA is the total of all major non-allotment crops planted in 1977.

"Besides the obvious problem NCA compliance creates for a farmer who is cropping land that was not in crops in 1977, there is another problem that many producers may not be aware of," Propst said.

He referred to the customary USDA reduction of field acreage in measuring row crops to allow for turnrows and other service areas, but said no such allowance is given for close-planted crops such as small grains.

"Growers who plant wheat or barley behind row crops this fall to a greater extent than in 1977 may find themselves out of compliance with 1981 NCA unless the same amount of turnrow acreage is idled," Propst explained.

He added that Council delegates this year went on record opposed to letting the Secretary of Agriculture require farmers to plant within the NCA if there is no set-aside program, and USDA has indicated there is not likely to be a set-aside for 1981.

Until this year, farm law prohibited the NCA requirement in any year when set-aside was not in effect.

Propst said he is urging Council members with an interest in the acreage rules to write USDA-ASCS, Room 3630 South Building, Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Farms, ranches and oil wells. Sometimes during an election year you begin to think that's all there is in Texas.

Both candidates in the presidential slugfest, or at least their proxies, tuned in to those two BIG ISSUES all last week. Texas is regarded by both President Jimmy Carter and former Calif. Gov. Ronald Reagan as a must-win state.

Carter's Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland started the ball rolling with a swing through the Panhandle, then the Central and Northeast Texas farm belts.

Following him all the way were a band of angry, protesting farmers who staged a public walkout wherever Bergland began to speak. Although the small band of radicals, generally considered to belong to the American Agriculture Movement, they nevertheless have won sympathy from the farmers who stay home in the fields. Their message: enough of Carter, let's try Reagan.

Whether or not they are actually winning farmers over to Reagan is another matter. Just an hour after the farmers plagued him at a Temple breakfast, Bergland toured the prototype "on-farm" gasohol plant in Rockdale built by Rep. Dan Kubiak and spoke of the need for several more such plants in Texas.

Dollars for Gasohol

Bergland also promised Kubiak, a gasohol advocate in the Legislature, that $260 million in Farmers Home Administration loans are available for gasohol plants across the nation immediately including two in the Texas Panhandle. Kubiak apparently was relieved at Bergland's commitment of gasohol dollars for Texas, having stuck his political neck out for his pet project. The radical farmers had angrily threatened to picket Bergland in Rockdale, then reportedly promised Kubiak's aide they would back off only out of respect for Kubiak's 100 percent pro-farm voting record.

Carter's folks then released the Farmers and Ranchers for Carter/Mondale steering committee, which contained a few noteworthies in the agriculture world. Heading it is former chairman of the U.S. House Agriculture Committee Bob Poage, and also Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown. Also named were six members of the Texas House Agriculture Committee: Kubiak, vice chairman Pete Patterson, solar advocate Bill Keese, Tip Hall, Betty Denton and Tony Garcia. State Senator Ray Farabee was named as Jay Naman, president of the well-respected Texas Farmers Union.

Republicans: "Big Deal"

Texas Republicans were unimpressed. Vice Presidential candidate George Bush was stumping the Panhandle area, pointing out the inadequacies of Carter's farm program and getting loud applause from AAM members and others.

State party chairman Chet Upham unveiled Reagan's program for farmers, in which expanding international export markets will play a big part.

Upham, swinging through south Texas, also predicted Republican voters will turn out over 50 percent while Democrats will muster a little over 30 percent . . . thus assuring a Reagan victory. Democratic national chairman John C. White, a former Texas Agriculture Commissioner, aimed higher, saying Republican turnout will near 80 percent and Democrats could lose the race with lower than a 50 percent turnout.

Now for Oil

Republican Gov. Bill Clements and Democrat Atty. Gen. Mark White may finally have found something to agree on: they both dislike the windfall profits tax Congress levied this summer. Clements has asked White to file suit attacking the tax, and White already had indicated he may do just that. White's staff met last week with Louisiana and Oklahoma officials to discuss various legal strategies to fight the tax.

Clements and White have different politics behind their action, though. Clements is committed to President Carter's political defeat and wants to hang the windfall tax around Carter's neck. White reminds people that the whole issue of oil price decontrol, including the Windfall Profits Tax (which actually was shaped by Congress), never would have been necessary had it not been for the controls imposed by Republican President Richard Nixon.

And so it goes . . . One certain thing is this: neither Clements, White nor few other Texas officials like the manner in which the new tax eats into the small royalties of independent oil well owners, particularly the aged.

Medicaid Imbroglia

In the latest chapter of the state Medicaid contract imbroglia, in which two insurance companies are battling for the right to administer the lucrative program, the two companies may fight the final round in the courtroom.

Last week Atty. Gen. White ruled the state had made a binding contract allowing Bradford Corp. to oversee the $2 billion program. His ruling, in effect, took the contract away from the insurance company owned by Dallas millionaire H. Ross Perot, now administering the contract which will expire in 1981.

Perot, who had personally contacted all three board members of the Department of Human Resources seeking an appeal of their original decision, filed suit last week to fight White's ruling and enjoin the department from finalizing the contract. His company contends the state did not create a legally binding contract when it awarded the contract to Bradford in July.

Cost of drilling a Texas offshore well averages $2,106,650 — seven times the cost of an average onshore well.

It's True.

"We put the heat pump in our home based on the recommendation from a builder. He said, 'by having a heat pump, you will save money over a long period of time on heating and cooling costs.' And, he was right! We are saving money with a heat pump. The heat pump really does do an efficient job of heating and cooling the home. If we were doing it all over, we would put a heat pump in again based on the results we've seen with lower electric bills. We are extremely pleased with the way the heat pump has performed."

Jack S. Lopez

The things said about the heat pump are true. Find out more about the heat pump. It can save for you.
