

Big July 4th is planned

Preparations for Post's annual "Fourth of July celebration in the park" is well in hand, Joe Giddens, chairman of the holiday event for the sponsoring Post Chamber of Commerce, told The Dispatch this week.

Organizations planning to have booths should call Chamber secretary Linda Shedd at the Chamber office to reserve booth space, Giddens said.

The cost of fireworks have gone up, like just about everything else, but a big fireworks display is planned to end the big holiday celebration, and are now being ordered by Don Pennell, who is again in charge of the fireworks.

Jerry Reynolds is the chairman in charge of the various contests of both youngsters and oldsters which will be held throughout the day.

Giddens said Reynolds will have his program ready to announce within the next week or 10 days.

No major changes in the celebration are planned.

Bob West, who did such a good job handling last year's barbecue, will be in charge of the cooks again this year. The city of Post has accepted the task of assembling the firewood in the park for the barbecuing.

Other celebration assignments include Betty Posey and the Chamber's Women's Division who will handle the serving of the barbecue; Noel White, who is in charge of the music and entertainment; Charles Hardin, who will handle the donations to help pay the cost of the celebration; Bob Palmer, who will provide the stage; and Don Ammons in charge of the park signs for the celebration.

Pequeno rites here Monday

Funeral services for David Pequeno, Sr., 45, of Post, were held Monday, at 3 p.m. in the Bethel Baptist Church, with David Pequeno, Jr. officiating.

Pequeno, who operated the Phillips 66 Service Station, died Saturday in Lubbock General Hospital following a brief illness.

Born in Crystal City, Texas, he married Olivia Cisneros of Post and the couple came to Post in 1979 from Phoenix, Ariz.

He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Justice Mason Funeral Home.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, David, Jr. and Ricky; one daughter, Gina; his father, Pablo Pequeno of Del Rio; one brother, Lupe of Odessa; four sisters, Mary Baca, Delores Rubio, and Naomi Narios all of Odessa and Alice Torres of La Salle, Colo.

Pallbearers were Bobby Torres, Andy Torres, Sammy Torres, Pete Morales, Fabian Morales, Ray Morales, Joe Medina and Victor Cisneros.

Latham rites held Friday

Funeral services for Nancy Graham Latham, 91, daughter of Garza County pioneer N.H. Graham, of Lubbock were held Friday, June 12 in the chapel at Justice Mason Funeral Home with Silas Short of the Post Church of Christ officiating.

Mrs. Latham died June 10 in Community Hospital in Lubbock following a lengthy illness.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Justice Mason Funeral Home.

Born June 12, 1889, to Mr. and Mrs. N.H. Graham, they moved to Garza county in 1902. Graham Chapel School was named for her father. She attended the school and married Cary Latham, Dec. 28, 1910, and he died in February of 1911. She lived with her parents for many years.

She was a member of the Church of Christ since childhood and was an active member of the Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock until her illness forced her to give up her duties.

She is survived by one niece, Mary Kidd of Plainview, and one nephew, Joe Duren of Post.

Interest to stay high

Jack Alexander predicted in a talk before Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon that interest rates may edge downward, but won't go a great deal lower.

He pointed out that the economy is still growing slowly despite high interest rates. He said housing will continue to be hurt over the short run and that long term financing demands of business firms have been piling up.

He foresaw the battle over the tax cut in Washington as already becoming the most bitter fight in over half a century.

Alexander advised his hearers that "we must make up our minds what we want on the tax issue and let our lawmakers know."

Health plan to be presented

South Plains Health Systems, Inc., the regional health planning agency, will offer the public an opportunity to review and comment on the proposed Health Systems Plan, 1981-1986 and Annual Implementation Plan, 1981-1982 that impact this area. The public meeting will be held in Post on Friday night, June 19, 7 p.m. in the bank community room.

For those persons interested in previewing the documents, copies of these regional health plans have been placed in the Post Public Library and in the office of the County Judge.

All residents of this area are invited to this meeting and may submit oral or written comments there. For further information, contact William Thomas McClure, Director of Planning, (806) 747-0181.

Graveside rites for John Majors

Graveside services for John Majors, 73, a resident of Twin Cedars Nursing Home, were held Friday at 10 a.m. in Terrace Cemetery with Ralph White officiating.

Majors died Thursday, June 11 at Garza Memorial Hospital.

Services were under the direction of Justice Mason Funeral Home.

He was a retired oil field worker, and there were no survivors.

Pallbearers were Larry Waldrip, Harold Lucas, Pete Walls, Marvin Williams, Nolan Williams and Glenn Voss.

Man caught in attempted rape

Billy Eugene Chapman, 45, of Levelland was turned over to Crosby County officers Sunday after he allegedly attempted to rape a 17-year-old Lubbock girl who was camping out on the lakeshore with friends.

Chapman was brought to Post and turned over to the sheriff's office by Tony Fort and Guy Hall of Lubbock after Chapman was caught and beaten in his rape attempts.

According to witnesses Chapman crawled into the tent where the girl and others were sleeping for the attempted rape.

The Lubbock group brought Chapman to Post as School auxiliaries to get 20 percent boost—

No pay hike opposition

Post school trustees didn't take up the 1982 budget last Thursday night, but no one indicated any opposition to a 20 percent pay increase for auxiliary personnel (office secretaries and aides).

Supt. Bill Shiver told the board he had worked the pay boost into the preliminary budget, already presented to trustees for advanced study, and that if they opposed it they should so indicate.

The administrator explained that he and Jack Lott, board president, were still working over several items before the budget would be ready for board action.

Lott was absent from the meeting as was Trustee Juanella Hays.

Half the meeting was spent discussing changes in the summer construction program with Duane McQueen, the board's architectural representative.

Trustees went with McQueen to take a look at the sub floor in the gym which the gym floor sub-contractor said was in such good condition that it didn't need replacing. This would save the school approximately $4,500.

McQueen advised the board to "wait a while and let's get in further to be sure the sub-floor all looks good before making a decision."

In a split 3 to 2 vote, trustees decided the gym seating controversy. They accepted Trustee Jack Kirkpatrick's plan for the first two rows of individual seats to be sold as reserve seats and the rest of the seating to be benches without backs.

This will cost an extra $6,000. The board also considered no individual seats but backs on all benches which would have cost $4,500 to put on the backs.

Voting for the reserved individual seats, which would be sold at the same price as single admission, were Kirkpatrick, Prudencio Basquez, and Dr. Charles McCook. Voting for backs on all benches instead were Edwin Lewis and Royce Hart.

In another change, McQueen proposed that the board spend $800 for soil testing the tennis court site because it might save the school district more money.

Indigent request denied by hospital directors

The Garza Memorial Hospital directors in their June breakfast meeting last Thursday morning denied the indigent application of Olivia Torres, wife of Pete Torres, for payment of her hospital expenses for birth of a child in Lubbock General Hospital.

After reviewing the application, directors decided the Torres could sell their equity in a late model car to pay the hospital bill.

By the special law creating the Garza Hospital District, the district is required to pay for indigent hospital care for Garza residents.

Only in May had hospital directors approved payment of a Lubbock General hospital bill for the same family for an emergency appendectomy on their daughter.

In other actions, directors: Named Danny Shaw to fill the vacancy left by Colley Gatlin as one of the hospital district's two representatives on the joint ambulance committee.

Administered the oath to newly appointed board member Ignacio Varela.

Approved a medical care evaluation study on infectious hepatitis for Medicare.

Wrote off $3,422.16 in uncollectable hospital accounts and turned them over to a collection agency.

Approved $18,342.32 in monthly bills and $9,043.27 in other monthly bills paid since last board meeting.

The May hospital report showed the hospital had to use $24,897.82 in tax funds to make up the difference in operating income for patients and operating expenses for the month of May, as compared to only $16,863.76 for May of 1980.

This was due to continued lesser use of the hospital facilities here as is general all over this West Texas region.

The hospital admitted 29 patients last month as compared to 37 for the same month in 1980, bringing the total admissions for the courts and impacting a new caliche base. Trustees voted unanimously for the soil test.

Approximately 35 turned out in the district courtroom Tuesday for the morning hearing of the new Board of Review for oil and gas production, formerly the equalization hearing.

Despite the stiff climb in valuations not a single evaluation was appealed to the board of review.

Hearings on the taxable valuations of both Postex Plant and the First National Bank were postponed until probably the last week of July so that the hearing could be held jointly on both personal and real property of the two businesses.

Jean Westfall, who heads the tax appraisal office, told The Dispatch that hearings on valuations set for the week of July 27.

Associated Tax Services, Inc. of Irving, which is assessing all real property in the county except for gas, oil, and utilities has completed its work here, but hasn't as yet completed its new valuation rolls.

Notices of the new valuations must be mailed to the property owner 20 days in advance of the Board of Review hearing.

This means that notices must be in the mail during the first week of July for the hearings on real property to be held during the final week of July.

Boyd H. Latham and Boyd H. Latham Jr. both attended the Tuesday hearing accompanied by their tax engineers, and explained how the evaluations were determined at the start of the session.

Even greater increases than those this week for gas and oil properties are expected on homes throughout the county, as these haven't been brought up to 100 percent of real value for almost two decades.

What confuses many home owners in determining property taxes is that greatly increased valuations do not necessarily mean higher taxes. Unless local taxing entities need consi-$288,954,280 for 1980 to $478,132,140 for 1981. Utilities more than doubled in valuations from $7,312,883 last year to $15,448,900.

Combining mineral and utility valuations, the Post school district's valuations were boosted 74 percent to $476,883,800; Southland school district's got a 35 percent boost to $25,004,010; Southland school district's Lynn county minerals were up $4,027,260 in addition.

The city of Post got the biggest increase of all — 149 percent in minerals from $34,953,243 last year to $87,349,475 this year.

Carlton Meredith, who represents 44 different Garza Oil clients including George R. Brown for over $150,000,000 of the 1981 mineral valuations, told the group at the board of review hearing that if the real property valuations for the county, due in July, are as fair as the mineral valuations, the county will have a very fair overall valuation.

While some farmers not so many counties away are considering turning from cotton to catfish farming because of recent downpours, Garza's 1981 cotton outlook remains just great.

Several hundred acres had to be replanted after that bit of hail two weeks ago and the high winds which followed the ice. But those stiff breezes Saturday and Sunday didn't hurt it much at all.

That's the conclusion of County Agent Syd Conner.

There's one weather extreme which has little effect on this county over the years — that's flooding. In the first place it just doesn't rain all that much.

County Agent Conner thinks some of the cotton crop will be late this year because of those replantings, some of which weren't finished until this week. So far that's the only problem.

Changing the subject to libraries, we learned through a newspaper friend this week that the Texas Legislature wound up providing $4,381,000 for the Texas State Library system for the next two years in the closing hours of their recent session.

This is an 80 percent funding increase but far short of the $1 per capita sought. It works out something like 31 cents per person, but it is an essential gain at a time when federal cuts loom.

Breakfast set for Friday

Park needs caretaker

The Dispatch is pleased to learn the city has received a $10,000 state grant for park improvements. Certainly some improvements are long overdue.

The "most crying" need of course is for new playground equipment. There has been very little there for the last couple of years for youngsters to play on because the old playground equipment became too dangerous for further use. As far as we know nothing has been spend for 15 or 20 years for playground equipment.

This newspaper hopes immediate efforts can be made to get in some new swings for the swing, and so forth on the other equipment to make it usable again.

The Dispatch also would like to suggest that the park board consider employment of a park superintendent or caretaker to maintain the premises.

The city-county park is a real beauty spot that few if any other West Texas communities can equal.

It stands to reason that the best way to maintain such a facility is to employ one person and give that person sole responsibility for park upkeep.

Then you would see a real effort to keep everything in apple pie order. Or, if you didn't, a change in park superintendents could be made.

The city and county have reorganized the park board and that board obviously is moving ahead with a major swimming pool overhaul finally behind them.

This is not offered in criticism to the board, simply a reasonable suggestion. Post and Garza County can well afford these days to maintain and improve their fine park. Let's give the park some top priority.

It's budget writing time for both the city and the county. There is time to work out everything and include it in the 1982 fiscal year budget, including a park superintendent, a worthwhile park budget, and some playground equipment the kids have been really waiting for too long.

Spring cleanup void

What's happened to post's annual cleanup effort?

We are presuming it has gone by the boards this year because nobody has mentioned the subject.

In recent years, the spring cleanup has attracted less and less interest with fewer and fewer persons willing to contribute time and effort to spruce things up along the highways and in the business district.

A decade ago, Post's spring cleanup was viewed by most folks as an essential community project and it received lots of backing.

But it has been going down hill ever since.

The reason we bring up the subject is because with all the spring rains, the weeds are literally "taking off". The cleanup needs more attention in wet years than dry — and this is really a wet year.

It's probably too late for anybody to get much of a cleanup effort under way this year because it takes some planning to get enough people involved and the hot weather has already arrived.

Maybe town cleanups are a thing of the past.

Maybe this is another chore for the city administration to take over as a good business proposition for the community and conduct with its own manpower.

But it is obvious, we now have a void which badly needs filling.

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A four-year omnibus Farm Bill has been formally voted out of the House Agriculture Committee that, if passed by this Congress, is in many ways unacceptable to U.S. farmers and ranchers. I have personally fought many of the proposals in that bill throughout the drafting process and, having failed to revise some of the more unacceptable elements, will introduce an amendment calling for the expiration of the legislation at the end of the 1982 crop year. The Farm Bill, as approved by the Committee, does not address the current problem facing agriculture and that is profitability in the marketplace. We must have programs that will enable the farmer to receive a reasonable profit on his investments. The question that I have continued to raise is why we should continue the same programs that have placed our farmers in such critical financial conditions. We need to look at alternatives that will address this problem in a more favorable and realistic fashion. As a farmer, I know and realize that we cannot continue to operate as we have in the past if we are to survive. We cannot produce at an unprofitable level indefinitely. We must have agriculture prices on a paying basis if we are to continue to have a plentiful supply of food and fiber. As a Congressman, I just don't believe that we have done our best for the farmers of this country through this legislation and in calling for the unusual one-year bill I hope that we can at least, "cut our losses" to the greatest

I strongly favor a permanent change from the traditional practice of drafting new agricultural legislation in the opening days of a new administration and a new Congress. The first few weeks of a new Congress and a new administration are very chaotic under the best of conditions and this is certainly no time to be writing legislation of the importance of the 1982 Farm Bill. Congress and its committees need several weeks to organize and to become effective. At the same time, a new administration usually takes several weeks or months to get personnel on board and even longer to determine specific policy goals. Due to the requirements of the Congressional Budget Act, we find ourselves in the position of writing four-year legislation before any one has a good idea of what direction they want to go. I believe that by passing a one-year bill this session and a four-year bill next year, Congress can give the legislation the careful consideration it deserves.

Mr. Pitman and Robert Jones are kind of feeling bad at present. Hope they feel better soon. We have a new activity director at Twin Cedars, Isabel Samora. Rural Texans: More healthy?

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Living in the clean air and less congested areas of rural Texas makes you healthier than city folks. Right? Wrong, says a University of Texas faculty member.

Dr. Mary Walker, who directs the Texas Rural Health Field Services Program, says the mental and physical health of rural Texans is markedly worse than that of city dwellers.

Few health professionals, facilities or services exist where populations are sparse, says Dr. Walker, who has found rural Texans are less educated, poorer and likely to die sooner than urban Texans. It is her belief that if "health" is defined in terms of environmental, physical, mental and social factors, it is inaccurate to say rural residents are receiving health care.

Kim Lott wed to Joseph Peacock Saturday night

Wedding vows were pledged by Kimberly Kay Lott and Joseph Robert Peacock, Jr. Saturday, June 13 in St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Lubbock.

Rev. Jack Washington, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony at 8 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lott of Post and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Joseph Robert Peacock of San Antonio.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of antique ivory organza and beaded venise lace veiled over peau de soie. It featured an empire lace bodice with long tapered sleeves and sweetheart neck. Lace enhanced the pyramid skirt and formed a deep scalped border hem. Unpressed pleats swept to a wide cathedral train. The bridal veil cascaded from a matching lace calot, sprinkled with pearls, framing the English net veiling. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white dendrobium orchids, gypsophila, lily of the valley with hans foliage.

Susan Kiatta of Houston served as maid of honor with bridesmaids, Becky Ross, Tyler, Lana Lawrence, Dallas, Susan Staples, Houston, Michele Grindstaff, Ballinger, Brenda Reed, Garland and Emily Holcomb of Arlington. They were dressed in identical gowns of ivory chiffon with handkerchief hems and empire bodices and carried bouquets of yellow empire lillies, freesia, gloriosas lillies and gypsophila.

Serving his son as best man was Joseph Robert Peacock of San Antonio. Groomsmen included Trey Scott of San Antonio, Rick Smith Houston, George Kane III, Houston, David Goetz, San Antonio, Scott Swoverland, Lubbock and Randy Sandoz, San Antonio.

Acting as ushers were Jay and Jeff Lott, brothers of the bride, Patrick Gooden, Odessa, brother-in-law of the groom, Jim Hays of San Antonio, brother-in-law of the groom, David Hewlett of Dallas and John Austin of San Antonio.

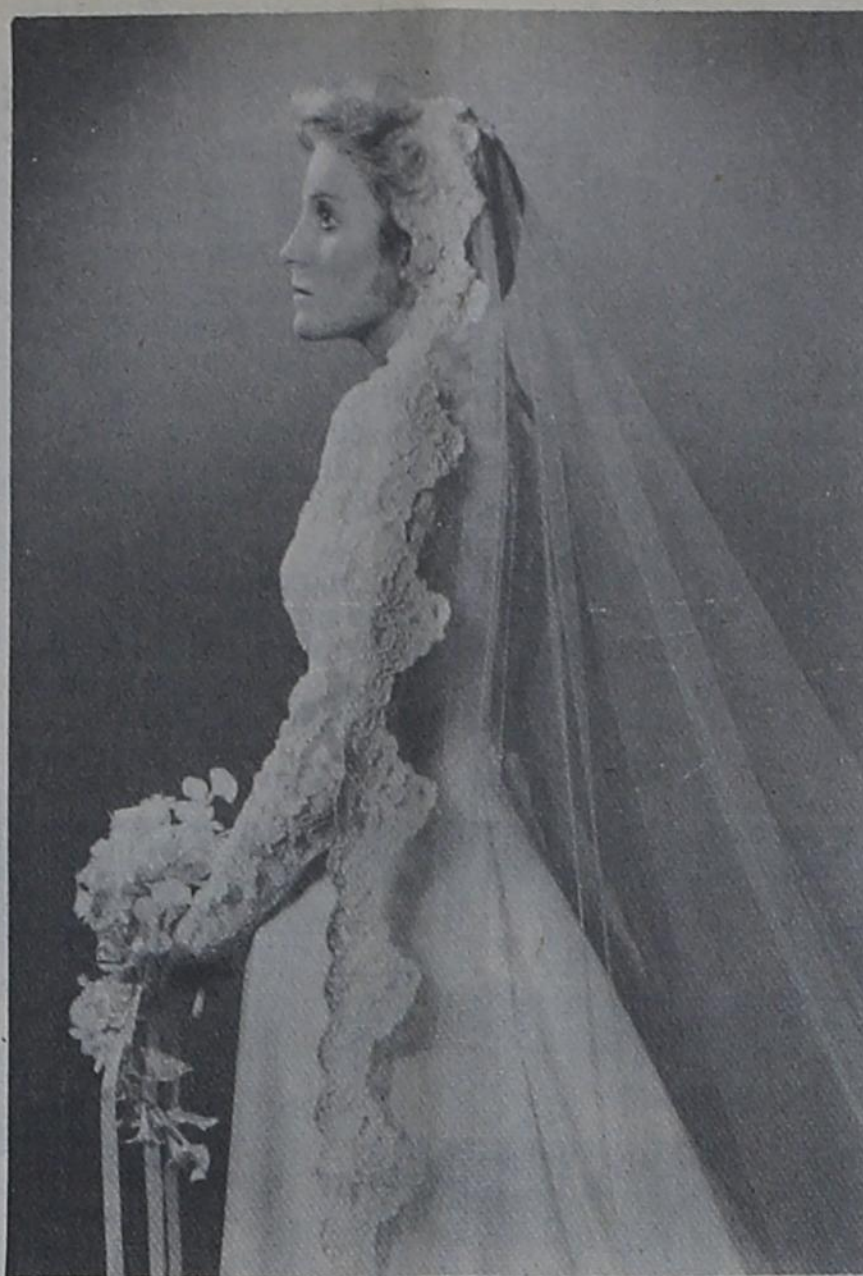

Wedding music was provided by James Watt and soloist David Morrow.

A reception followed the ceremony at the University City Club in Lubbock. Members of the house party were Mmes. Janet Peel, Mattie Collier, Janey Middleton, Ada Lou Bird, Maury Shiver, Ruby Kirkpatrick, Zoe Kirkpatrick, Cindy Kirkpatrick, Kathy Kirkpatrick, Buena Bouchier, Debbie Macy, Charla Macy all of Post and Linda and Ryla Bouchier of Houston.

Out of town guests attended the wedding from San Antonio, Houston, Abilene, Lubbock, Fort Worth, Dallas, Midland, and Nashville, Tennessee.

Following a wedding trip to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, the couple are residing in San Antonio.

Kim attended Texas Tech University and is a Post High School graduate. Joseph attended Alamo Heights in San Antonio, is a Texas Tech graduate and is employed as a petroleum landman in San Antonio.

June: Month of Weddings And Anniversaries

You want to make this a special day. After all it's your own personal holiday—your anniversary and you'd like to give him something special.

To help you do so without depressing your budget and spirits we've come up with some creative and dollar manageable ideas.

1—It's summertime, the thermometer, the calendar and the green leaves all tell you it's summertime—and time for summer games. How about giving him a pair of hard-to-get box seat tickets to his favorite baseball team?

2—Take a journey through time. Remember good times and old traditions. Surprise him with an elegant leather album with photos of your good times together.

3—Spirits have always been a part of humanities history—make it a part of yours with an outstanding bottle of Hennessy V.S.O.P. Cognac and a pair of crystal snifters to toast your future.

4—Is he a jogger? A cyclist? Or is tennis his bag? A membership in a Road Runners Club or Bicycle Club—or a subscription to his favorite tennis magazine—might be just the thing to keep him in shape for you.

Remember, the best things in life are not free but it needn't take lots of hard cash, just some hard, creative thinking to really make this anniversary a memorable one for the two of you.

Senior Citizens News

Sure has been hot here at the center. One unit of our air conditioning went out and would you believe that it was the one that controlled the cooling in the kitchen and dining area. We survived until we got it fixed which was two days, but it sure did get hot in the kitchen where we have a double oven and all top burners.

are gone on vacation but we will be back in full swing before long. We're still having good crowds even at that. They are really enjoying staying here and playing games because we do have such a nice and cool place to play. No arts and crafts takers yet. We guess people don't have time to come down and visit and work a little while each day. Maybe we will get some takers some day on this invitation.

There is to be a defensive driving course given by Bert Sinclair here at the center June 30 and July 1. The time on this will be from 10 a.m. until 12 noon and then again at 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. If there is anyone who would like to take advantage of this, please let me know and come by and sign up. There is to be a charge of $2.75 or maybe $3 for each session or that is the way I understand it. There is to be two sessions of this. You don't have to be a senior citizen to take advantage of this service offered. But please let us know by calling 2998 or come by the Algerita Center and sign up.

Births

Dr. and Mrs. Ricardo Rodriguez of Post announce the birth of a son, Rico, born June 12 in Lubbock Methodist Hospital at 1:27 a.m. He weighed 7 lbs. 8 oz. and was 19 1/2 inches long.

VISIT IN AUSTIN

Mr. and Mrs. C.V. Smith, Sr. visited their son Kenneth of Austin recently. Following their visit he and his family left Austin June 14 for Ankra, Turkey where they will be living for 2 1/2 years. He is an auditor for Boeing Air Services there.

Don't forget we are to have our monthly singing and game night Friday June 19th. We sure do have some good music and singing by different groups. This is really enjoyed by all.

The Senior Citizens sang at the Graham Methodist Church Sunday, June 4. It was enjoyed by all. We are to sing again June 28th at the Church of God of Prophecy so you will be missing a blessing if you don't come to some of the singings.

Dodgers repeat as Little League champs

A's win four, grab second

The First National Bank Dodgers have repeated as champions of the Post Little League for 1981, remaining unbeaten with a four game lead and only two left to play.

Just the same tonight's clash between the Dodgers and the A's is attracting considerable interest.

The A's have run off five straight victories in the last two weeks and with that winning string have climbed safely into the runner-up spot 2½ games ahead of the slumping Red Sox.

The regular schedule for the Little League will close Monday night. Although The Dispatch hasn't been so informed that probably will be "awards night" too for the Little Leaguers.

Lupe Perez, the Dodgers' versatile pitcher, shortstop and catcher on occasion, led the champs to their three wins during the past week.

He collected nine hits in 13 official at bats in the three wins for a batting average of .692 and scored 11 runs besides driving in a flock of others.

The Red Sox last Thursday night made one of the best runs of the season at the Dodgers before losing, 13 to 11. In that one, the champs got out in front early and stayed there.

The Sox came up with four runs in the last of the sixth to make the ending interesting.

The A's got triples from Victor Chappa and Lex Dunn, who also singled, and two doubles and a single from Eric Reece in their 14 to 7 win over the Yankees last Thursday night. Reece went the route for the win giving up 12 hits but never letting the Yankees have a really big inning.

Speaking of big innings, the Cards scored 17 times in the second inning Friday night for a 21 to 1 win over the Cards with Dewayne Warren slugging the ball for two doubles and a triple in four trips.

Greg Benham allowed only four hits in going the shortened route for the winners.

Both Steve Price and Amando Chapa rapped out two doubles and a triple in the A's 23 to 13 victory over the Tigers Friday night with Chapa also getting a single for four hits in five trips. George Benton had a four-for-four night for the losers, two of them doubles, as he took the loss on the mound.

Dewayne Warren also had a four-for-four night for the Cardinals Saturday night and Tony Angerer and Bill Rankin each had three hits for the Cards in their 23 to 8 win over the Tigers.

The A's humbled the Red Sox 14 to 11 Monday night to climb into second place with Steve Price cracking out two doubles and a triple in four trips.

It was strictly no contest as the Dodgers romped to a four-inning 27 to 6 win over the Cardinals in the Monday nightcap. They tallied 13 times in the first inning.

Lupe Perez went the route for the Dodgers Tuesday night as they rolled to a 12 to 2 win over the Yankees. Perez gave up but three hits in six innings, struck out 14, and walked only three.

The A's triumphed 21 to 16 over the Cards in the second game Tuesday although the winners got but three hits and losers five. The A's got 15 walks and the Cards nine with Rance Sappington strolling four consecutive times for the winners.

Braves take first loss, still lead

The Braves suffered their first loss in Babe Ruth League play this week, bowing to the Indians 5 to 2 Tuesday night.

But they still were 2½ games ahead of the Indians, thanks to beating the Indians 3 to 2 on last Thursday night.

The White Sox finally got their first win Saturday night when they squeezed out an 8 to 7 triumph over the Indians.

The regular schedule ends Saturday night with only one possible makeup game needed to finish it up. At least that was the game not reported to The Dispatch earlier in the season.

The Braves managed only two hits and the Indians three, as the Braves took a 3 to 2 win over the Indians last Thursday night.

The Braves got two in the first on a walk, fielder's choice and single by Daniel Gonzales. The winning run came across in the third on an error, fielder's choice, and single by Gilbert Perez. That is called making your hits count.

The Indians got one in the second on a walk, error, and fielder's choice, and the other in the seventh on doubles by L.D. Harper and Willie Osby.

Astros, Colts fight for lead

Despite a 4 to 3 loss to the Bears last Thursday night, the Astros then ran off three wins in a row to take a percentage lead over the Colts for first place in the Post Minor League. The Astros however have played one more game than the Colts who if they win that game will be back on top.

Four of the seven teams are playing 500 ball or better with the Dodgers the only club unable to get untracked in run production.

The season will close

Astronaut stress

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — America's Columbia space shuttle succeeded, but as future space flights become more routine and prolonged, more problems in psychological adjustment can be expected, says a University of Texas psychologist.

Dr. Robert Helmreich says stress may arise from the mixture aboard space shuttles of highly trained flight crews and scientists without flight experience.

Also, the reward of world adulation enjoyed by early astronauts will diminish for future space crews—but the high risks won't, he says.

For future flights, he suggests NASA seek persons with non-competitive personalities, who find satisfaction in work for its own sake and who have concern for other people.

Stenholm seeking academy nominees

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Charles W. Stenholm reminds young persons that he is presently receiving applications from young persons interested in competing for nominations to the service academies, for the classes entering July 1982. Stenholm advises that he will be using the competitive method of selection, so that all young persons meeting the necessary requirements may be considered.

The service academies are the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the Military Academy at West Point, New York; the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colorado; the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York; and the Coast Guard Academy in New London, Connecticut. These institutions offer an excellent education and a great opportunity for young persons wishing to serve their country through a military career.

In order for Congressman Stenholm to consider applicants, a candidate must meet these requirements: (1) Must be a U.S. citizen; (2) must be over 17 and under 22 years of age on July 1, 1982; (3) must be a legal resident of the 17th Congressional District; (4) must never have been married; (5) must be physically fit, including excellent eyesight; (6) must have a good overall high school record.

Stenholm stresses that political influence is not a factor in his nominations to the Academies. He is looking for bright, active, well-rounded individuals to offer as nominations.

Interested young persons who meet the above requirements should write to Congressman Charles W. Stenholm, House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515, by August 31. Upon receipt of a letter of interest, the Congressman will provide information as to further steps which should be taken. Young persons should make arrangements on their own to take ACT or SAT examinations. The competition for these nominations is keen, but Congressman Stenholm wants to assure all young persons interested in a military career that they will be given an equal opportunity to compete for nomination.

Windfall profits fight continues

Senator Lloyd Bentsen urged members of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association at their 35th annual meeting to continue their efforts to pass legislation which would exempt the first 1,000 barrels a day from the windfall profit tax. Bentsen told the group at the Fort Worth meeting, "We must push for this exemption for its places an unnecessary and unfair burden upon the oil industry when they can least afford it and when this country needs the energy to further reduce its dependence on foreign oil." Bentsen further stated, "I think you have a good chance of winning in the House, and if so, I think we will have an excellent chance to pass it in the Senate this year."

Texas Congressman Kent Hance, sponsor of the legislative proposal in the U.S. House of Representatives, also encouraged TIPRO members to push for passage of the legislation. Hance stated, "We have obtained 205 cosponsors to acquire the majority necessary for passage."

Alcohol and rats

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Using rats in studies of alcoholism can be vexing; most animals dislike the taste of alcohol.

But, researchers in The University of Texas College of Pharmacy have devised a simple way of overcoming that problem. The method involves surgically implanting a tube under the skin of an animal for up to 30 days and refilling the tube daily. Amounts of alcohol released can be controlled by the size of the tube.

Senator Bentsen has introduced legislation in the Senate, S.B. 85, and Congressman Hance in the House, H.R. 2451, which would exempt royalty owners and independent producers from the first 1,000 barrels per day of oil production from the windfall profit tax.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Round Two of the 67th Texas Legislature.

Governor Bill Clements last week announced his plans for a July 13 special session of the Legislature to consider five issues left unsolved during the regular session.

Topics for the 30-day session will be limited to 1) repeal of the state ad valorem tax, 2) creation of a Texas water trust fund, 3) revision of the property tax code, 4) congressional redistricting, and 5) licensing and regulation of the state's physicians.

Of the five items, only two are of emergency nature: congressional redistricting and extension of the Medical Practice Act.

The Legislature succeeded in regular session in redrawing political boundary lines for legislative districts, but failed to reach a compromise on a congressional plan. And present law regulating the state's medical doctors will expire at the end of the summer.

Although not an emergency, revision of the property tax code is pressing. The Legislature wants to tune up tax reforms passed in 1979 in order to keep down property taxes across the state.

The remaining two items are political favorites of Clements and House Speaker Bill Clayton. Clements wants to make repeal of the ad valorem tax his baby, and Clayton, from arid West Texas, has an avid interest in water development.

Both issues, if resolved in the special session, will make political hay for the sponsors.

Redistricting

The sticky point in redistricting is how to divide up Dallas, particularly the city's 250,000 blacks.

Clements wants a plan which will provide for a minority district, and has threatened to veto any different plan.

The problem for some legislators is that plan would endanger two Democrat incumbents, Jim Mattox and Martin Frost, and might result in two new Republican congressmen.

On this point of contention the entire special session might well be balanced. Perhaps more than any recent issue, this one might well polarize the Legislature into partisan camps.

Three-Legged Campstool

Like a three-legged campstool, the Legislature, particularly the House, is composed of three basic factions: liberal Democrats, conservative Democrats and Republicans. Playing one end against the other, conservative Democrats have maintained the upper hand and managed a semblance of political law and order. Those who go along with the leadership are rewarded. It's an age-old game.

But with the legislative seats safely decided and reelection campaigns just a year away, most of the political goodies of the season have already been given away.

Add to that the facts that Clayton has already declared he will not be coming back to the House, and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, thought to be stepping down as head of the Senate, has not issued any statement to the contrary.

Clements

Whenever the Legislature adjourns and goes home, the most visible official left in Austin is the Governor. Since the lawmakers' departure June 2, Clements has been involved in political snippings on several fronts.

He has tangled with: —Attorney General Mark White over a recent district judge's ruling that the state cannot regulate church-operated children's homes, the latest event in the on-going case of evangelist Lester Roloff. Clements, who was supported by Roloff in the '78 campaign, has said he is pleased with the decision and wants Mark White to leave it alone. White will probably appeal the ruling as overbroad, saying it is not right "to put the word church on a corporate charter and be exempt from the law."

—Tyler State Sen. Peyton McKnight over the busted deal to trade state land in West Texas for Big Bend acreage to create a state park. Clements accused McKnight of spoiling the swap, and McKnight retorted the swap needed spoiling. McKnight is also thinking about running for governor against Clements in 1982.

—Austin State Sen. Lloyd Doggett over Doggett's blockage of one of Clements' appointees to the Texas Real Estate Commission, Dr. Richard E. Box. Clements accused Doggett of violating his word. Doggett denies it and expects a realtor opponent in the primaries.

—LULAC national president Ruben Bonilla of Corpus Christi over President Ronald Reagan's proposed "guest worker program." The Reagan plan is actually the Clements plan. Bonilla criticized it as cheap exploitation of both American and Mexican workers as a means of gaining Mexican oil and gas.

LUBBOCK — Research can prove that the severity of price reductions being suffered by producers of low micronaire cottons is far in excess of any corresponding reduction in textile utility.

That was the opinion of the late Jack Towery, textile engineer and fiber technologist whose superior ability to correlate raw fiber properties with spinning performance and end product quality was undisputed around the world.

At the time of his death in March of this year, Towery was head of open-end spinning research at Texas Tech's Textile Research Center in Lubbock and was ardently developing statistics to show that the price penalties on many low micronaire cottons were greatly exaggerated, primarily because of the long-standing but false assumption that micronaire is an infallible measurement of fiber maturity.

To correct that situation Towery was dedicated to the development of a more reliable method for determining fiber maturity — a method fast enough to fit into automated fiber property testing lines, which was only one of the many fiber technology developments to which he made great contributions.

"Continuation and expansion of work to prove the value of low micronaire cottons from the Plains is a matter of high priority for us," says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, "because we aren't going to get lasting relief from inflated micronaire discounts by any other route."

To that end Johnson and other PCG officials are encouraging contributions to the Jack Towery textile scholarship and research fund. Donors may stipulate that their tax-deductible contributions be used either for scholarships or for textile research, according to TRC Director James Parker. Checks should be made to "Jack Towery Memorial Fund."

In fact, Parker says, "It can even be specified that a contribution be used for utility research on low micronaire cottons, and the money will be earmarked for that purpose only."

"Mike discounts are one of the High Plains' most severe price depressants," says Johnson, "and we are convinced that support for research to reduce those discounts will be one of the best investments that can be made by anyone in the area whose income relates to cotton."

PCG, Johnson explains, since Towery became associated with TRC in 1968, has provided approximately $90,000 for textile research to expand High Plains cotton markets, much of which was under Towery's direction and all of which has yielded handsome dividends.

"But inflation has so depleted our resources that we are no longer able to adequately fund all of the research that needs doing at TRC and it is our hope that individuals will help to make up the deficit."

The new Garza wells are American Petrofina Co. of Texas No. 325 and 326 Southeast Garza Unit, both two miles south of Post.

Starkey Oilfield Services Inc. No. 1-A Bird is the new well in the Post field, 11 miles east of Post. It produced 18 barrels of oil and one of water daily on test from an interval of 2,567 to 2,625 feet.

The new wildcat is L.R. French Jr. No. 2 Double Mountain two and one-fourth miles northeast of Justiceburg which will be drilled to a planned depth of 7,970 feet.

Taxes up—

(Continued From Page One) mailed property owners. The state law requires that the notice show what the taxes would be individually based on last year's tax rate. That will indicate taxes far higher than they will actually be and bring a real crowd to the courthouse the week of July 27 when the Board of Review convenes again.

Mexico agreement

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.)—A University of Texas unit that produces training aids for the petroleum industry has embarked on a joint venture with an institute in Mexico to develop instructional materials for personnel working in the oil industries of Mexico and other Latin American countries.

The agreement is between UT's Petroleum Extension Service (PETEX) and the Mexican Petroleum Institute (IMP).

Under the agreement on jointly produced materials, the IMP will review for style and technical content the various PETEX publications that are being adapted to meet the needs of the Latin American petroleum industry.

WINN'S ADVERTISING POLICY

Winn's attempts to please our customers at all times. That includes having ample quantities of advertised items on hand. But occasionally, due to unforeseen reasons, an advertised item may not be available for purchase. In this event, Winn's will issue a Rain Check upon request for the item to be purchased at the sale price as soon as it becomes available. If the item will not be available within a reasonable time, the customer may purchase a similar item at a comparable reduction in price. Merchandise designated as available in limited quantities will be sold on a first come, first served basis while quantities last. Winn's reserves the right to limit quantities purchased so that as many customers as possible may benefit from advertised prices.
