

U Lazy S, Double U cowboys to Roundup

Cowboys of Garza's U Lazy S and UU Hereford ranches are taking their ranching skills and their horses to Wichita Falls this weekend for the first annual Budweiser Texas Ranch Roundup.

They will compete with cowboys from nine other "big spreads" in Texas for annual "bragging rights" as being Texas' best plus a bronze sculpture by Lex Graham which goes to the winning ranch as a traveling trophy.

The cowboys will compete in seven rodeo events — team roping, saddle bronc riding, team penning, team branding, wild cow milking a wild horse race, and jackpot roping.

Team points are scored in the first six of those events with the jackpot roping not a part of the roundup competition.

Besides the rodeo events, there also will be a chili cook-off, a ranch queen contest, and a talent competion among ranch employees with team points being scored in all of these three events.

The two Garza ranches have no entries in the chili cook-off, the ranch queen contest or the talent contest.

The U Lazy S Ranch has a seven-man team for the rodeo events. Team members with individual events entered include Foreman Sam Whitely, 63, in team roping, team penning, and team branding; Jay Hart, 30, in saddle bronc riding, team branding, and the wild horse race; Gary Workman, 28, in team penning, team branding and wild cow milking; Ronnie Hart, 36, in team roping, wild cow milking and the wild horse race; Jeff Lott, 19 wild horse race; Jack Lott, 44, team penning and team branding; and Jay Lott, 20, wild cow milking.

The UU Hereford Ranch entries include Kenneth Marts, 45, ranch foreman, in team penning, team branding, and wild cow milking; Gail Shobe, 33, in same three events as Marts; Mike Diggs, 30, in team roping, saddle bronc riding, team penning and team branding; and Joe Pennel, 28, in team roping, team branding, and wild cow milking.

Other ranches in the

County holds budget line

Garza County is holding the line so far on its new budget with the only major increase coming in salaries

Readers will find a letter to the editor on the editorial page which strongly endorses both a new school auditorium and the air conditioning of the school system.

It is signed by a large number of parents and as we understand it, the group is even more strongly in favor of air conditioning than the auditorium although it wants both.

The Dispatch would suggest if school trustees are going to consider the continuation of the school improvement program, it might budget air conditioning installation next summer. (See Postings, Page 14)

Bloody night at Justiceburg— 40 head of cattle die in two wrecks

The Justiceburg postoffice almost received its largest delivery in history last Wednesday night.

A large semi-trailer cattle truck loaded with 94 head of livestock ran off US-84, overturned and slid within a few feet of the postoffice's front door.

Some 40 head of livestock were killed in the expensive accident.

Five of the cattle were killed on the Justiceburg US-84 bridge when hit by a 1981 Chevrolet recreational vehicle driven by Samuel A. Placencia of Lubbock, according to the investigating highway patrol.

They had wandered on to the bridge after getting out of the wrecked truck.

Neither Placencia nor two women, one of them 87 years old who were passengers in the vehicle, were injured.

Approximately 40 to 45 head of livestock got loose after the cattle truck overturned and were not rounded up until the following day.

Rancher Jim Prather and "Windy" Terrell worked through the night unloading

Higgins rites to be today

Funeral services for Wesley Dennis (Higgie) Higgins, 52, will be held today (Thursday) Aug. 20 at 2:30 p. m. in the Trinity Baptist Church with the Rev. Ralph White, pastor, officiating.

Born May 11, 1929 in Eldorado, Oklahoma, he died Tuesday in Garza Memorial Hospital following a fatal heart attack.

He had attended schools and graduated from Olney, Tex., and was married March 13, 1953 in Newcastle, Tex., to Margie Bruton. He was an assistant manager and bookkeeper for Continental EMSCO having gone to work for the company in 1952 in Wichita Falls.

Claude Sanders, highway maintenance foreman here, and Arnold Fry, also of the highway department, aided the two cowmen in the transfer of the livestock from the wrecked truck. A

By tax appraisal board— Old business buildings cut

Biggest major development to come out of last week's three-day session of the Board of Review of the Garza Appraisal District is that business and commercial property on East Main street is being reduced at least 20 percent in taxable valuation.

This was due to so many complaints received by the board as to these properties being reappraised too high.

The board agreed to reduce these buildings by a 20 percent depreciation factor and also to reduce the valuations placed on the second stories of the older buildings which have no use today but for storage.

Vacant lots on West Main street were lowered from an appraised value of $4,600 per 40-foot lot to $2,200. Other vacant lots in residential areas remained unchanged at $1,500 each.

Some gin equipment valuations also were lowered as the result of a visit by three gin representatives to the board.

The board also finalized the appraised value of Burlington's Postex Plant here at around $7,000,000 for plant and equipment. The only appeal made by Postex was on the equipment appraisal, not of the real property, according to County Appraiser Jean Westfall.

The 11-year-old received a year's probation. The two were arrested for

Nominated for American Farmer Degree— FFA honors Howard

E. A. Howard, Jr., vocational agriculture instructor and FFA advisor at Post High School for 17 years and taught Vocational Ag for a total of 30 years. During that time he has had two students who earned the American Farmer Degree, 18 students who received the State Farmer Degree and two students who earned state proficiency awards.

Each year at least 50 of the 12,000 teachers of vocational agriculture in the nation are awarded the Honorary American Farmer Degree. The Degree is awarded on the basis of points scored by a teacher for his accomplishments as a vocational agriculture instructor, FFA Advisor, and is a participant in professional vocational agriculture teachers' organizations.

Howard was nominated for the Degree by the Texas FFA Association and the nomination was approved by the National FFA Board of Directors which recently met in Alexandria, Va. ## Auditorium arguments

Several good reasons support the proposition that the school trustees should upgrade school auditorium facilities before ending the current school improvement program.

Obviously the first one is that the program is not complete without improved auditorium facilities.

Another is that the Post school district is now in the process of losing its state aid funds because of its large taxable valuation which will make it more difficult in each succeeding year to finance what it can today.

Third, Post has been able to finance all its improvements on a cash basis, without bonds. This makes cost of the improvements a whole lot lower than would be the case if the financing had to be accomplished through a bond issue.

Fourth, school trustees don't yet know any auditorium details because the board hasn't had the project under study. It may not be necessary for example to build a 1,000 seat auditorium. Maybe 750 to 800 seating capacity might well be the maximum need even for future graduation exercises.

With the school budget hearing coming up next Monday, there is little time for board or community consideration.

The Dispatch favors both an auditorium and air conditioning over the long run. We recommend the auditorium first because trustees only last spring expressed opposition to the classroom air conditioning.

Cost of building a school auditorium will only increase as the years go by. Like the car dealer advertisements have said for years: You'll never get one at this price again.

Wrong placed blame

Lubbock sources are beginning to blame the Texas Water Resources Board for delays in the proposed Post-Justiceburg water project which now admittedly is already a year behind schedule.

Those who have been following this project over the last several years are inclined to differ on the point. Lubbock's city council has been dragging its feet on the project for years, probably because it is apprehensive of handing such a big bond issue to the voters.

This is the nature of politics — to postpone tough decisions.

Delays in this water project, however, continue to work against the probability of its success because the cost of the big project keeps rising week by week, month by month, and year by year.

In 1979, Freese and Nichols, Lubbock's consulting engineers on the project, estimated the total cost at $109,000,000. With inflationary construction costs rising at an estimated rate of one percent a month, construction costs in 1984, the earliest possible start now, will be $175,000,000.

Lubbock proposes to pay for the water project by revenue bonds tied to water rates. All of which means Lubbock's water rates are really going to jump.

According to the water project story appearing in Sunday's Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, Lubbock applied for its water rights permit for the Justiceburg reservoir in February and is still amending its petition to meet state requirements and has yet to have a hearing date set on its application.

The Post-Justiceburg reservoirs are projected to provide Lubbock with about 10 billion gallons of water annually and should meet that city's needs for 30 years.

The Lubbock city council is starting to split too over water developments with one council member last week complaining Lubbock shouldn't be seeking new bond money to buy additional water field rights but should push hard right now for the Post Justiceburg project.

The Dispatch would point out to Lubbock that it should have obtained its water rights permit a year or two ago and got that out of the way. That public hearing isn't the simple, routine public hearing. It's the time and place for any opposition to Lubbock being assigned those water rights to appear and make themselves heard.

The White River Water District, which would build the Post reservoir and sell its water to Lubbock, obtained its water permit five or more years ago. Lubbock should have done the same thing.

The two biggest factors in the Post-Justiceburg water project are obtaining the state water rights and getting the voters to approve the bonds.

Lubbock has put off both of these far too long. Then there might be the matter of a courthouse fight over land acquisition. You remember the White River water district had to face that too.

Working with the advantage of hindsight as it relates to the White River project, The Dispatch's advice to Lubbock is to put all other major municipal projects on hold and concentrate on this water project.

Lubbock now faces a tough job in climbing out of the deep hole it has dug for itself in this water project — and it won't be easy.

Gasohol is back

Gasohol is back for Texas — and big. After months of delay, the Texas Legislature last week on the final day of its special session passed the Gasohol Tax Exemption bill and sent it to Governor Bill Clements for his signature.

That's the green light for the creation of a new multi-billion dollar industry for Texas which will provide a ready new market right at home for Texas farmers.

In fact, more than 1,300 Texas farmers already have completed plans to spend $200 million on three gasohol production plants in West Texas and dozens more are likely. It's a case of farmers creating their own profitable markets.

The only trouble with gasohol is that it couldn't compete with gasoline in the retail market place.

That's why all the gasohol plant planning begun last year ground to a halt until the gasohol exemption bill became law.

What it does is provide gasohol distributors a five cents a gallon subsidy in the way of a tax credit for the next five years. Then beginning in 1986, the credit will decline one cent a year until 1990 when gasohol will be taxed at the same rate as gasoline.

This gives the new gasohol industry a decade to get in place and win public acceptance.

The first proposal for the five cents a gallon subsidy was to decrease the tax on gasohol by five cents a gallon. But this would have meant millions of dollars less for highway construction which is where Texas gasoline tax money goes.

The highway department was already dreadfully short of funds because high gasoline prices have meant less gas consumption by motorists, not to count the highly inflationary nature of highway construction and maintenance.

If there was any real opposition to the gasohol subsidy, it came from all the supporters of the Texas highway program, including influential construction firms who build and rebuild our highways.

So the gasohol subsidy bill languished in committee all through the regular legislative session and got pushed aside in the closing day for measures considered more important by legislative leaders.

It wasn't until the final days of the special session, when most of its work was accomplished, that Governor Clements permitted the legislature to consider the gasohol subsidy.

A clause in the bill was changed so that the five cents a gallon was termed a "tax refund" instead of a "tax exemption." Thus the refund is paid from the state's general fund and not from its gasoline tax fund. The "road people" were satisfied and the gasohol subsidy was born.

Look for real gasohol plant development now wherever there are available crops to fuel them. It means a huge new market for Texas farm products as the Lone Star state

LETTERS to the Editor

TO THE TAXPAYERS

Dear Editor:

Our school administrators have our respect. We feel they are well trained and have our students welfare at heart. Even at best it is very difficult to see goals from every point of view. We would like the board to consider some issues that they have not viewed from the eyes of ALL in our school district.

For a school of our situation we get angry every May when we sit through a Graduation which we only view — NEVER HEAR! This is not even mentioning the temperature. The gym is stifling, so is the Primary Auditorium. On occasion, the stadium has been damp, another time chilly. It is our opinion that an auditorium would accommodate numerous other activities besides graduation.

Perhaps some of the board members have felt out the opinions of their constituents regarding air conditioning. Has each board member put his or her self in the place of the faculty and students? Would you go and sit in an un-air-conditioned classroom 7 or 8 hours? No, you wouldn't. We challenge you to go try it on an AVERAGE day in August, September, October, April or May. (8 hours) We can't understand why its so cool and tolerant for the wiggly, active pupils and (assume) "industrious" teachers and their aides, but it's really hot for our administrators and they have to have refrigerated air. Why the double standard? What percent of our students have air conditioning at home? That could not make them then studious when they change to a hot, sultry classroom.

We wish to question how advantageous it is for the future of our pupils to take part in sports for 4 years and then not make it a career — (how many do?) What about those pupils who are not involved in the athletic program? What about the serious academic student? Doesn't he have needs also? We feel the athletic director and coaches fight for athletic needs. Good. Who fights for the needs of our other students? We don't desire to fight but our desires are deep and we don't want to be overlooked. Let's consider other issues!

We urge all interested taxpayers to attend the school board meeting at 1 p.m. Monday in the high school library to encourage school trustees to consider air conditioning and auditorium needs.

Thank you.

Ask Your Pharmacist

Your pharmacist's expertise with medications can help protect your health and save you money. Being professionals, pharmacists are always glad to help and ready to answer your questions.

Watch out for drug interactions. If you're having a prescription filled—and if you're already taking medicine prescribed by a doctor—mention this to your pharmacist. He may warn you about the possibility of a drug interaction that could hurt you.

Watch for effective new medications. Your pharmacist may read about scores of new drugs in a professional publication. Until recently, hydrocortisone was available only on prescription and has been widely used by doctors. Today pharmacists know (and most consumers don't) that hydrocortisone is available in an anti-itch cream and spray, sold under a trade name such as Dermolate, that helps with poison ivy, insect bites and heat rash. It will stop the itch quickly to let the real healing begin.

Hydrocortisone has been prescribed by doctors since the early 50's, because it was found to bring dramatic, effective relief for common itch problems. It also relieves minor inflammation. After a long history of safety and effectiveness, it was given government approval to be used at low levels in products sold directly to consumers, that is, in over-the-counter drugs.

What's Happening in Home Economics

By MRS. CHERYL WALKER
County Extension Agent — Home Economics

4-H RECORD BOOK RESULTS

Each July 4-H'ers submit a record of their 4-H accomplishments. These records are judged on county, district and state levels. This year 32 Garza County 4-H'ers completed records for the county competition. After the county judging 18 local records were judged on Friday, July 31, at the District Competition in Lubbock.

All juniors (ages 9 to 13) received blue, red and white awards. Garza County juniors did very well by receiving 13 blue ribbons and 1 red ribbon.

Junior winners were as follows: Blue Ribbons:

Shooting Sports - Curt Cowdrey, Swine-Derick Dunn, Home Environment-Angela Graves, Poultry - Ron Graves, Beef - Bart Mason, Horse - Jana Middleton, Field Crops - Rusty Morris, Foods and Nutrition - Korren Payton, Agriculture - Tommy Payton, Sheep - Rance Sappington, Photography - Mary Tyler, and Clothing - Keitha White; plus a red ribbon to Michael Johnson on his Gardening record.

In the senior division the first three winners are announced and others in the division received participation ribbons. Competition in the senior divisions is high among the twenty counties in this district. Our four seniors came home with the following ribbons: Cindy Basquez third place in Sheep and participation ribbons were received by Tanya Bland in Sante Fe, Jana Terry in Horse, and Ken Young in Swine.

Congratulations to the district participants for their accomplishments.

There could be good news for people concerned about the effective use of nuclear power in the world. Because of its strong leadership role in the development of the nuclear industry, the U.S. has been a powerful influence on the use of nuclear power for peaceful purposes throughout the world.

The Department of Energy Nonproliferation Alternative Systems Assessment Program concluded that if the United States wants to positively influence foreign programs, we must show leadership as a Liquid Metal Fast Breeder Reactor (LMFBR) developer.

Foreign countries with LMFBR programs have reaffirmed their commitment to continued development, despite the previous Administration's "example" of a restructured breeder program. The International Nuclear Fuel Cycle Evaluation concluded that the LMFBR has no significantly greater risk of proliferation than other advanced reactors and gave strong support to LMFBR development.

A strong U.S. LMFBR program that includes construction of the Clinch River Breeder Reactor Plant, the experts at Westinghouse suggest, will increase U.S. ability to positively influence international breeder reactor development because the Clinch River plant is the one that is closest to completion.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The first special legislative session ended last week with only one issue left unresolved . . . but Gov. Bill Clements immediately served notice he intends to call a second special session soon.

He wants to hold legislators' feet to the fire until they vote right on his pet issue: repeal of the state ad valorem tax.

The most important issue of the special session, congressional redistricting, was approved by the Legislature only two days before adjournment.

In the end, the Legislature narrowly approved a compromise plan by House Speaker Billy Clayton after a long, complicated, partisan struggle. Clayton claims his plan gives Republicans only six seats in Congress, his opponents claim it actually sets the stage for nine seats.

For Clayton, now a lame-duck speaker finishing his fourth term in the chair, victory was all the more sweeter after the battle drove him closer than ever before to the brink of defeat.

In both the Senate and the House, the plan was passed by only a one-vote margin on the crucial votes. Three times in a row, the crucial House vote was supplied by the Speaker himself before the tide was turned.

Clayton found himself pitted against a new Democratic coalition which was led, not by his old foes the liberals, but by conservative Democrats who have long stood by him: Bob Bush of Sherman, Carlyle Smith of Dallas, Gerald Hill of Austin and Don Rains of San Marcos. Democratic party chairman Bob Slagle has been active and influential.

In defending his compromise plan, which had the strong support of Republican Clements, Clayton was not understood by the Democrats.

In fact, they have fielded a Speaker candidate in Carlyle Smith to run against Clayton's heir-apparent, Gib Lewis of Fort Worth.

Ad Valorem Tax

On the final day, the Senate gave the House leadership and Clements a choice: either lower the 10-cent ad valorem tax to 3 cents, or watch the whole issue sail out the window. The leadership chose to watch it sail, and with nothing else to do, adjourned early in the day.

In short, the Legislature did not repeal the ad valorem tax.

To give a short recap, early this session the House passed a proposed constitutional amendment by Killean Democrat Stan Schlueter which repealed the tax, but the Senate, led by Pete Snelson of Midland, was reluctant to follow suit. Revenues from that tax are dedicated to construction at 17 state colleges and universities, which would be left without any source of money.

Clements would not allow the Legislature to consider alternative ways of funding those schools this session, but he might include it in the next session. Snelson amended Schlueter's bill to lower the tax to three cents and sent it back to the House with only half a day left. Schlueter wasn't about to pass out a tax bill with his name on it, so he moved to kill all action.

Where will the replacement funds be found if the tax is repealed, as Clements says it eventually will? Clements claims the state will have some $700 to $800 million in surplus revenues which could be channeled to college construction.

Bullock Says No

The Governor's statement last week drew a prompt dispute from Comptroller Bob Bullock, who said there is no $700 million surplus.

Bullock, who oversees the state's tax revenues, said he had not discussed the subject with Clements and wondered where the Governor got his information.

Clements explained he was talking about a surplus at the end of this biennium, August 31, calculated by his Office of Budget and Planning.

Political Candidates

The season is arriving for prospective political candidates to lay their plans on the table, and some indications are already in.

Secretary of State George Strake, a Houston oil man said he plans to run for lieutenant governor against incumbent Bill Hobby. Hobby will seek re-election and has already knocked the dust off his organization.

Strake's election would give Republicans a lock on the top two state offices, if Clements were re-elected.

Running for Agriculture Commissioner will probably be Rep. Pete Laney of Hale Center, a close associate of Clayton's. Incumbent Reagan Brown will probably also be challenged by Jim Hightower, who lost a Railroad Commission race two years ago.

Dallas Republican Congressman Jim Collins will try to unseat U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen, and former Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach has squelched all rumors he will run.

Still unannounced are the plans of Clayton, who up to now was thought to be eyeing the Land Commissioner's race against announced candidate Garry Mauro.

Clayton said he will come forth in four or five weeks, and his delay has set many to wondering if he really plans to seek another office, perhaps the State Comptroller seat now held by Bullock.

Stories on two Garza Ranches entered in Roundup

EDITOR'S NOTE — A thick press packet on the Budweiser Texas Ranch Roundup in Wichita Falls this weekend, was mailed to us, including a background feature on each of the 11 ranches which paid $100 entry fees to enter their cowboys. The "Backgrounders" on the U Lazy S and the Double U Hereford ranches are reprinted here to give Dispatch readers an insight into the two Garza ranches.)

U LAZY S RANCH
Remember the Alamo? Members of Jack Lott's family sure do. The first of their ancestors to settle in Texas, Geroge Webb Slaughter, carried a message from Houston to the Alamo during its attack by Mexicans. He was one of the last persons to escape the building before it fell. Slaughter came from Mississippi to Sabine County, Texas, in 1830. He became a circuit rider in 1845, and moved to Palo Pinto County with his family in 1857. His son, John

B. Slaughter, followed the westward progression of settlers, and established the U Lazy S Ranch in Garza and Borden Counties. The ranch home and its brand, are a mixture of Slaughter's whimsey and the "Lazy S" brand of his brother C.C. Slaughter. John added a "U" to the "Lazy S" and said with a grin, "Well, that's us." By this time the Slaughter family, all ranchers, had expanded. The family owned ranches spread out across Texas from Palo Pinto County in Texas to Socorro, New Mexico. Like Slaughter, Jack Lott, a fifth generation Slaughter rancher, raises Herefords on the U Lazy S Ranch. Lott runs 15,000 cattle on the 60,000-acre ranch and rents 4,000 acres to farmers. Like most old Texas ranches, in fact, like most of Texas itself, legends surround the 81-year-old ranch. It is said that Indians stampeded herds of buffalo off a cliff on the ranch. They then scavaged the bones, meat and hide. Today, for this reason, the cliff is known as "Buffalo Point."

onto Texas soil, taking a good look at his newly purchased land for the first time. So impressed was he with the sprawling open spaces that he dug deep into his pocket and pulled out a shiny silver dollar. Tossing the coin high into the air, he shouted excitedly, "This is where I'm going to double you."

Established in 1906 and owned today by the Post-Montgomery joint venture, the Double U Hereford Ranch encompasses some 55,000 acres in Garza, Lynn and Hockley Counties. Each October the Double U holds its production sale, offering cattle from both its commercial and registered breeding operations. About 80 commercial heifers are sold each year, along with 60 registered bulls and 30 registered heifers. In addition, the ranch also produces about 12,000 acres of cotton. Run by seven employees, one of whom has been at the Double U for over 20 years, the ranch is worked from both horseback (for cattle) and by pick-up truck (for general chores, such as mending fences). Almost 50 percent of the ranch's water is still generated by windmill, a practical use for the ever-present West Texas wind.

The Double U has seen and adapted to many changes in the cattle business, including the public demand for leaner beef, which the ranch has met through selective breeding. But even as things change, things stay the same. According to foreman Kenneth Marts, two of the biggest challenges today are brush control and drought, the same challenges which faced the ranch's original owners.

Ranch work is hard work, Marts asserts, and cowboys spend as much time with general chores as they do working cattle. "You have to really want to be a cowboy," he says.

$29,503 in plant fund

CROSBYTON — The Crosbyton Industrial Fund has grown to $29,503 cash in the bank with total cash and pledges of nearly $50,000 with some donors paying over two or more years.

A perpetual fund is designed with the money initially used by the Texas Knitting, Inc., which will repay it in full. Once repaid, the money would be used to attract other job-providing companies.

Meals on Wheels needs volunteers

Garza County's Meals on Wheels program is now providing 30 take-out hot lunches daily Monday through Friday each week delivered to the homes of senior citizens and the handicapped here in Post.

The program is under the direction of Ms. Janice Smith.

Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb program provides three workers, two cooks, Ms. Lena Ferguson and Mrs. Allie Norman, and van driver, Ray Gary.

The nutritious meals are invaluable to the recipients.

Even with the help of the three Green Thumb workers, Ms. Smith could use some volunteers to help deliver the meals for 30 minutes daily.

Anyone interested in donating 30 minutes just before the noon hour to deliver meals and who has a valid driver's license are asked to call Ms. Smith at 495-3019 between the 9 a.m. and noon

Notice

Energas Company, a division of Pioneer Corporation, hereby gives notice of its intent to implement new rates for domestic and commercial type, small industrial and large air conditioning/electric generating customer classes residing in the unincorporated areas (environs) of its West Texas System. It is anticipated that the new rates will result in a 1.6% increase in Energas' gross revenues, which increase is not a "major change" as defined in Section 43(b) of Article 1446c, V.A.T.C.S.

A Statement of Intent to change said rates was filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas on or about August 7, 1981, and is available for inspection at the Company's Amarillo office, 301 S. Taylor Street.

The proposed increase will not become effective until or except to the extent that the same rates are approved for service within the municipalities on the West Texas System.

Texas facing possible fall screwworm disaster

AUSTIN — A screwworm disaster for Texas this fall? That's not a prediction of things to come, but it is a distinct possibility, warns Dr. J. E. Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission. "The potential for an outbreak of screwworms is in place, and we must take steps to thwart it," he said.

He urges all livestock producers to perform routine inspections on all livestock, and submit suspected screwworm samples to the fly lab at Mission. "Pet owners and veterinarians need also to be alerted to this task," Dr. Holcombe said.

An increase in the number of confirmed screwworm outbreaks in Mexico near the U.S. border is one of the major reasons for fearing a screwworm disaster in Texas this fall. Twenty-seven known screwworm cases in Mexico, all well within the insect's flying range of this state, were reported during July.

"This is not our only worry. A wetter than usual spring and summer caused an explosion in the number of Gulf Coast ticks which feed in ears of cattle in large numbers, leaving wounds when they drop off; these are made-to-order targets for screwworms.

Shearing of sheep and goats is underway, and this will create wounds which will be ideal for screwworm infestation.

"But perhaps our biggest problem is complacency. The screwworm eradication program has been so successful that we forget that continued checking of livestock for possible screwworms is essential to an eradication program. Producers along the Rio Grande River need to be especially watchful; in fact, producers throughout the state need to get back in the habit of submitting suspected samples to the fly lab at Mission," Dr. Holcombe explained.

Mailing kits for sending in the samples are available free from a number of outlets, including veterinarians, county agent's offices, and Texas Animal Health Commission area field offices.

The confirmed cases in Mexico are from 50 to 120 miles south of the Texas border.

7 two-way Lope starters for scrimmage

JVs first at Ralls at 4:30

Starting lineups for the Post Antelopes in their season-opening scrimmage with Ralls Friday afternoon will see seven of the returning letterman going both ways.

Coach David Thompson announced his scrimmage starters this week after an hour's controlled scrimmage here Saturday morning.

The Ralls scrimmage will be held at Ralls with the junior varsities of the two schools starting it off at 4:30 p.m. and the varsities taking over at 6 p.m.

With the quick development of some badly needed reserve strength top priority, Coach Thompson told The Dispatch that "everybody will get to play" in Friday's scrimmage.

Some of the grid candidates whom Coach Thompson is counting on for reserve strength include Irving Price, a 175-pound junior who plays end both ways; James Lee, 140-pound junior who plays offensive end and defensive secondary; Kenny Bullard, 150-pound junior offensive tackle and defensive end; Wade Giddens, 140-pound junior center and defensive end; Roy Gonzales, 140-pound junior center and defensive end; and Roy Gonzales, 140-pound senior wingback and secondary; Marvin Wynne, 140-pound junior fullback and line-backer; Dana Scott, 135-pound senior tailback and defensive secondary; and Curtis Clinesmith, 155-pound junior offensive tackle and defensive end.

All eight are up from the 1980 junior varsity. Then of course there is Milton Williams, the 135-pound sophomore who is a tailback and secondary player who will be returning punts and kickoffs after a sparkling year as a freshman.

Some 45 grid hopefuls were hard at work by the time the Lopes put on the pads for the first time Friday for what Coach Thompson termed "the heaviest hitting I've seen since I came to Post."

Only one injury was reported during the first week of two-a-days. Senior Mario Luna, who is being counted on as one of the anchors of the Post offensive and defensive lines, twisted a knee Friday.

It was swollen and Luna was held out of the Saturday morning scrimmage.

There isn't a single 200-pounder on the entire grid squad with the heaviest players weighing 185.

The starting scrimmage lineup would have seniors at 10 starting positions on the two units and juniors at 12.

Biggest weakness right now appears to be a woeful lack of depth. That can be attested to by the fact that seven players are slated to start both ways against Ralls.

While the players aren't big, they are quick.

Coach Thompson said the Saturday controlled scrimmage showed the Lopes as "rough on timing but giving a good effort."

Cutting Firewood? Heed These Chain Saw Safety Tips

Last year, more than 50,000 Americans required hospital treatment for chain-saw injuries, many of which could have been avoided, the safety manager of a major forest-products company says.

"With more people using wood in their fireplaces and with wood stoves increasing at about a million each year, we're seeing a lot more inexperienced chain-saw users in the woods," Stovall Farmer of Georgia-Pacific Corp. observes, noting that chain saws in use have tripled to about 15 million over the past decade.

Most chain-saw injuries involve kickbacks and falling on the saw, Farmer explains.

"A lot of people don't consider tripping hazards—like tree limbs and uneven ground—when they're cutting wood," he says. "Then they get caught up in what they're doing and go from one job to the next with that saw just buzzing away."

"They can stumble and fall with that thing running... and those chains can really chew you up."

As for kickbacks, which can result in a sudden and violent loss of control when the moving chain binds or touches some object, Farmer recommends a careful reading of the safety literature provided with every chain-saw.

"Keep a tight grip," he says. "Don't let the tip of the saw come in contact with other objects. Keep your left arm straight. And make sure your chain is adjusted."

"Never, never cut above shoulder height," Farmer emphasizes, pointing out that a kickback and loss of control can have disastrous consequences in such a case.

Other safety rules are largely common sense, but bear repeating, Farmer notes, because so many people seem to forget them when it comes time to fire up their saws. These include: —Think ahead; don't work too fast; quit before

Allsup Marathon to be run Oct. 3

CLOVIS, N.M. — The 7th Annual Allsup's Marathon is slated to be held here Saturday, Oct. 3.

Those interested in participating are requested to register no later than Sept. 25. Registration fees on or before that date will be $7. Registrations after that date will cost $9 and will be accepted through Friday, Oct. 2 at the race headquarters in the Holiday Inn, 2700 E. Mabry Drive. All proceeds go to the Clovis Track Club. Marathon activities will begin Oct. 2 with a spaghetti dinner at the Holiday Inn.

The marathon, sanctioned and certified by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU), will give runners a choice of the full 26.2 mile course, a 13.1 mile course or a 10 kilometer course.

The race will start at the Clovis High School track at 7 a.m.

According to Lonnie Allsup, president of Allsup's Convenience Stores, Inc. and sponsor of the race, "At 12 noon T-shirts will again be given to all contestants who complete the race and 117 trophies will be awarded to the winners." The number of trophies in three categories has been expanded this year to reflect the growing number of runners competing in the following age groups: Female 0-15 years; Males 15-29 and 30-39.

Competition reached new heights last year with 440 runners participating, some from as far away as California and Florida. An individual record for the state of New Mexico was set in the half marathon with Al Waque winning in 1:07:47.

In fact, the first five finishers in the half marathon all bettered the old state mark. Benito Arrelano took the marathon with a time of 2:34:27 and Kyle Smith the 10 kilometer in 33:59. A field of over 500 runners is anticipated for this year's race.

—Keep others away from cutting area.
—Dress to protect head, feet, legs and hands; and preserve your hearing with ear protection.
—Be careful with fuel.
—Do your cutting with the engine running wide open.

According to Farmer, a "safety attitude" is the most important factor of all. He says he has seen this to be the rule in all lines of work.

"Bad attitudes and poor work habits cause injuries," he observes. "Eighty percent of your injuries involve only 20 percent of your work force. We've got some employees who've worked 45 years and never had an injury."

Farmer points out that owners of wood stoves and fireplaces shouldn't wait until cold weather sets in to cut their firewood.

"You should be cutting next year's firewood now to give it time to season," he explains. "Better yet, you should be cutting it for the year after next."

"And when it comes time to burn it, do it safely. Wood stove and fireplace accidents are also on the rise."

FACTS & FIGURES

The nuclear power plants known as breeder reactors not only will generate electricity, but will also make more nuclear fuel than they consume. They can use our abundant domestic energy resource—Uranium-238, which cannot be used by today's nuclear power plants.

As a result of the process by which today's nuclear fuel is produced, the experts at Westinghouse report, the U.S. has stockpiled over a quarter million tons of U-238. This represents an energy source equal to 100 times the energy generated from all sources in the U.S. today.

Well here it is news time again, don't have much to report. But we have sure had some nice rain and we are very thankful for this. Still enjoying our good meals and fellowship, also games of 80-88 and of course Pool and TV watching.

There are several of our people who need our prayers in their times of sickness, death in their families and other needs.

We want to remember Irene Mitchell as she goes into the hospital for possible surgery on her leg. Also Chester Keeton suffered a heart attack at Brownwood Saturday and was in ICU the last we heard. Let's remember him in our prayers. Rebecca Babb and Louzell Chandler, on the loss of their sister, Verna Hester. Also there may be others we have overlooked and don't know about. Please forgive us if we have.

Sterling Julian is in the VA hospital in Albuquerque, N.M. He needs our prayers very much.

Hey, we sure had a nice time and fully enjoyed our outing at Lubbock Friday night at the Senior Citizens "Good Ole Summer Time" at the Lubbock Civic Center. There were 34 senior citizens who went. Thanks to Donald Windham for the use of the Mini Bus and also to Roy Gary for driving for us. We appreciate you "Donald" and thanks again. This Friday night will be our regular musical night. There will be only folk songs and country and western this time. We may set a date and time later on for a gospel singing night. We will have to discuss this later on and make our decision. We all enjoy singing at our local churches at their monthly singing. We will be singing at the Church of God of Prophecy this next Sunday and then the fifth Sunday at Calvary Baptist Church. We sure enjoy getting together and singing praises to our Lord.

We have gotten one of our ceiling fans up and will get the other up in a few days. "Thank you" Mike Custer and Joe Williams. We appreciate this very much. We want to thank Ben Brewer, Mike and Virginia, Carol Peppers, for the nice vegetables they have given us. Also Mr. Moore and Arlie for the nice peaches, also to the Siewerts for the nice tomatoes.

Well I better close for this time, see you next week. Don't you ladies forget we have exercise each morning at 9 a.m. also you men can join us if you wish.

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Perhaps the cruelest hoax that the U.S. government participates in is the belief in a free world market as the answer to the nation's agricultural industry.

Let's take a look at that free market. First, let's examine the actions of our own government and see how those actions perpetuate that hoax:

Just last summer, in response to Russia's aggressive actions in Afghanistan, this country announced that we would no longer honor our commitments to sell grain to the Soviet Union. We have just seen an end to that embargo and its effect on grain markets. It was not the first embargo nor will it be the last. Trade embargos are an effective tool in our foreign relations policies. The majority of this country's farmers supported this last embargo, myself included. We questioned this industry being singled out for export restrictions, while other exporting industries went unscathed, but, in general, we supported the move so long as it was effective.

The embargo is not the only government action that interferes with agricultural marketing. Price controls in times of commodity shortages are another. Tell me what is going to happen the first day we get a shortage of any food commodity in this country? Are we still going to sell that commodity to the highest bidder on the free market or are we going to slap price and export controls on that commodity and take care of the American consumer first? You know what we will do. The free market system will go out the window the first time any shortage begins to have a real affect on the American consumer.

Ask any cattleman if he remembers what happened when beef prices went up several years ago in response to cyclical production shortages of beef. No amount of explaining kept our government from opening up the import floodgates as well as placing price controls on beef to ease that shortage.

The, let's turn to the actions by other governments operating in this "free world market." Look at the number of Toyotas that come into this country from Japan on an unlimited basis. At the same time do you think we can expand our exports of beef into Japan? No. The Japanese government carefully protects its domestic beef producers and prohibits further imports of American beef.

Take a look at the rice market that our producers have developed in Korea. That market was developed over a course of years and yet the first time that Japan, with its heavily subsidized rice producers, had an oversupply of rice, where do you think that Japanese rice went? To Korea, of course, with the blessings of our State Department.

I am not ignoring the sensitivity of balance of trade agreements nor the value of the export market that we now serve. I'm simply saying that the quicker we recognize the fallacies of the so-called free world market, the sooner we are going to begin to recognize the necessity of establishing a "farm desk" at the State Department to enable and require our government to

As of August 1, the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates the 1981 cotton crop at 14,789,300 bales from 13,794,000 harvested acres.

Yield was estimated at 515 pounds per acre. The expected crop is 33 percent above the crop of 11,122,100 bales harvested in 1980, and yield is expected to rise 27 percent above the 404-pound average of 1980. Arizona is expected to produce almost 1.5 million bales; California's estimate was 3.3 million; Oklahoma's 395,000-bale forecast is virtually double 1980's 205,000; and Texas is expected to turn out 5.4 million bales.

Net new sales of U.S. cotton exports for 1981-82 marketing year delivery totaled 481,600 running bales during the week ended August 6. China purchased 300,000 bales, bringing its commitment for the season thus far to 536,300.

Until we are willing to do that, don't confuse the agricultural profitability issue with a lot of "free market" rhetoric.

New desert aviary is popular

CARLSBAD, N.M. — Visitors to the Sonoran desert walk-through aviary at Living Desert State Park here are enjoying the experience of walking among the birds, said Park Manager Den Ricer.

The new aviary is less than a year old and Ricer says the facility is already "very popular with visitors."

The $160,000 aviary features plants and birds native to the warm Sonoran desert, located in southern Arizona and northern Mexico.

Living Desert State Park itself opened in 1971 and contains exhibits of over 1,000 cacti and perhaps the most complete collection of southwestern desert and mountain animals in the nation.

Among the birds flying over and around visitors are mocking birds, curved-bill thrashers, cardinals, cactus wrens and Gambel's quail.

The five-sided Sonoran exhibit, built in Spanish-style architecture, has 19-foot walls that support a screened roof and leaves the display open to the elements. Heat cables buried in the ground give plants all the warmth then need during Carlsbad's mild winters.

A walkway curves through the middle of the exhibit, allowing visitors to see such cacti as Saguaro, organ pipe and barrel, jojoba plants, Washington palms and acacia and palo verde trees.

The entire park has large interpretive signs for both plant and animal exhibits. They are written in English and Spanish.

Visitors to the park leave the entry building and wind their way along paved paths bordered with rare and common cacti to animal exhibits containing American bison, antelope, bear, otter, and prairie dogs, to name a few.

In another building, visitors see something that gives most people goosebumps: it's a collection of reptiles including several varieties of rattlesnakes, lizards and Gila monsters.

Living Desert State Park is one of three parks in the area.

Carlsbad Caverns National Park is open every day of the year and offers 800,000 people from over the world each year of a safe and easy peek at one of the largest and most beautiful caves in the world.

Improvements at the Caverns include new high-speed elevators that whisk visitors from the surface to the lunchroom underground.

Opened to the public in 1972, Guadalupe Mountains National Park is a breathtaking combination of mountain, canyon and forest jammed into 77,500 acres of desert 45 minutes south of Carlsbad on the road to El Paso.

Guadalupe Peak, at 8,751 feet the highest point in Texas, is located in the park. McKittrick Canyon contains a rushing stream and is home to both broad-leaved and conifer trees, cactus and succulents.

Carlsbad itself is famous for its hospitality and its modern hotels, motels and restaurants.

Trip to Spain is Prize in Tennis Sweepstakes

Who will win the men's and women's 1981 U.S. Open Tennis Championships this September at Flushing Meadow, N.Y.?

Answer that question correctly and you may win an all-expense paid week for two in Spain.

That's the first prize in the Dry Sack Sweepstakes, according to Julius Wile Sons and Co., a division of the Beverage Group of Standard Brands Incorporated.

Julius Wile President, Cornelius Marx, says the first prize winners will fly to the birthplace of sherry, Dry Sack's home in Jerez, Spain. Twenty-five Wile Son Autograph tennis racquets will be awarded as second prizes.

The Sweepstakes closes on Labor Day and the winners will be announced at the Transamerica Open Tennis Championships in San Francisco's Cow Palace,

If tennis is your racquet, a correct answer may win you a free trip for two to sunny Spain.

scheduled for Sept. 25 through 27. In event of a tie, a drawing will determine the winner.

Texas cattlemen launch new beef promotion plan

Texas cattlemen are concerned about beef's current demand level — and they're doing something about it.

On July 1, Texas cattlemen initiated a voluntary 25-cent beef market investment program whereby all money collected is remitted to the Beef Industry Council of the National Live Stock and Meat Board for national programs of research, education and promotion, all of which are designed to increase beef demand.

Thus far, the voluntary investment plan has been quite successful. As of August 1, more than half of all cattle in Texas were passing through participating checkoff collection points (auction markets, order buyers and packing plants).

This type of participation has been encouraging to the Beef Industry Council and the other five Texas cattle organizations — Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn., Texas Cattle Feeders Assn., Texas Farm Bureau, the Independent Cattlemen's Assn., and the Livestock Marketing Assn. of Texas — all of which have been working with collection points since last May.

Why have certain collection points decided to encourage their customers to participate in this investment program?

"Because I feel we (the beef industry) have done a very poor job of merchandising our product in relation to our competition. Who would have thought ten years ago that turkey and chicken would make such marketplace gains," said Cecil Sellers, Sweetwater (Texas) Auction Manager and president of the Livestock Marketing Association of Texas.

"We need to get something going now more than ever," said Sellers, "and the way to do it is by aggressively promoting our product. That's why the Sweetwater market is participating in the Texas beef investment program."

George McDonald, manager-owner of Longview Livestock Commission Inc. agrees that now is the time to try a new approach to return the beef industry to profitability.

"We (cattlemen) can no longer sit back and say that this or that program may or may not work. We should be giving this new investment program a try — we can't sit back and watch our market share erode," McDonald said.

How will funds collected from Texas cattlemen be used by the Meat Board's Beef Industry Council?

For openers, the BIC has earmarked a substantial portion of funds for a fall media blitz of its highly successful "Make Ends Meet — With the Great Taste of Beef" campaign, which promotes lesser-priced cuts of beef to budget-conscious shoppers. The campaign calls for television advertising in six major U.S. consumer markets, including Dallas — Fort Worth.

Long-term beef industry plans (1982 and beyond) include an extensive television, magazine, radio and billboard advertising campaign which will bring messages about beef's value, versatility, convenience, taste appeal and nutrition to consumers in either the nation's top 10 consumer markets, top 20 markets or the entire U.S., depending on budget levels.

The plan also calls for extensive retail tie-ins and annual consumer attitude and awareness studies to measure the effectiveness of the campaign in general.

TIPS ON TRIPS

Traveling With Children

Traveling with children may be a unique art—but it can be mastered. Start out by including your children in the planning of your vacation.

• Allow them to help in choosing your destination and the route to take. Make your lodging reservations in advance considering the distance your children can travel in one day.

• Let your children help you pack their clothing and toys for the trip. This adds to their excitement and makes them feel a part of the adventure.

• Plan car games to keep your youngsters occupied. Try "spotting contests"—a prize for the child who spots the most out-of-state license plates, for example.

The Mobil Travel Guide can be invaluable in planning your trip. It describes and quality rates more than 22,000 hotels, motels, resorts and restaurants across the United States and Canada using the recognized one-to-five star system. The Guide includes information on where you can find children's menus and accommodations with family rates and special recreation facilities. Sightseeing attractions, color road maps and discount coupons are also included.

BRIGHTEN MEALTIME WITH A GREEK DINNER

Bacardi Marinated Shish Kebab won't be Greek to you if you follow this simple recipe. Rum adds a special flavor to the accompanying mint marinade. Parthenon Rum Cake is a family recipe, handed down for generations, tastefully accompanied by a "rumderful" Mykonos Shake. Decorate your table with posters of the Parthenon or other points of interest. Then, have the family do some reading about Greece so each person can contribute an interesting fact no one else will know.

BACARDI MARINATED SHISH KEBAB

- 2 pounds of lamb, cut into 1-inch cubes
- 4 medium onions, halved and partially cooked
- 1 large green pepper, cut in 12 squares
- 16 cherry tomatoes
- 1 can (10-1/2 ounces) condensed chicken broth
- 1/2 cup Bacardi dark rum (80 proof)
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 tablespoon dried, crushed mint leaves
- 1 large clove garlic, minced
- Hot cooked rice

In shallow baking dish, arrange meat and vegetables. In saucepan, combine remaining ingredients, except rice. Heat to boiling. Pour over meat and vegetables, turning to coat all. Cover and let marinate at least 1 hour. Mixture may be refrigerated overnight. To cook, arrange meat on 2 skewers and vegetables on 2 other skewers. Broil meat kebabs on broiler rack in pan about 4 inches from heat for 10 minutes. Turn and add vegetable kebabs. Cook 10 minutes longer, turning kebabs occasionally and brushing frequently with marinade. Serve over hot cooked rice. Makes 4 servings.

PARTHENON RUM CAKE

- 3 cups water
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 stick cinnamon
- 1 slice lemon
- 1/4 cup Bacardi dark rum (80 proof)
- 1 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1 cup sugar
- 6 eggs
- 1 cup unsifted flour
- 1 cup farina
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1 cup finely chopped walnuts or pistachios

Make syrup by combining water, sugar, cinnamon stick, and lemon in saucepan. Bring to boil and boil for 10 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in rum. Set aside to cool. In large mixer bowl, cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, beating well after each addition. Add flour, farina, baking powder, orange peel and cinnamon. Beat well. Stir in nuts. Spread batter into greased 13x9x2-inch baking pan. Bake at 350° F. for 30 minutes or until cake tests done. Pour cooled syrup over hot cake. Cool and cut into diamond shapes. Makes 8 servings.

- ### MYKONOS SHAKE
- 1 cup Bacardi dark rum (80 proof)
  - 2 eggs
  - 1 tablespoon sugar
  - 4 dashes Angostura bitters
  - 2 cups finely crushed ice
  - 1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg
  - Ground nutmeg
  - Orange slices

Makes 4 servings. In blender container, combine rum, eggs, sugar, bitters, ice and nutmeg. Blend until smooth and frothy. Pour into chilled cocktail glasses. If desired, garnish with nutmeg and an orange slice.

WEATHER WISDOM

Arica, Chile, is the driest place on earth. The town once went 14 years without rain. The wettest place is Mount Waialeale, Hawaii, which averages 460 inches of rain per year.

The strongest surface wind ever recorded was at Mount Washington, N.H., on April 12, 1934. The wind blew steadily at 188 m.p.h., and one gust measured 231 m.p.h.

You can use a cricket as a thermometer. Count the number of chirps in 15 seconds and add 37. The result will approximate the Fahrenheit temperature.

A tornado funnel-cloud can be about 300 yards across. According to Figgie International's Thermometer Corporation of America division, its winds may swirl at 300 m.p.h.

COTTON CANDIDS

PRETTY ROBES

Prettily suitable for busy mothers and executives alike, cotton lives a dual life at home and on the road when it has its own easycare convenience built in. That's the case with this handsome robe by Kayser; nice and neat, opaque so it is ready to appear when you are, it's made out of 100 percent cotton. Available in solids as well as prints, and in short or long lengths. The natural fiber, always comfortable, washes like a dream and needs no ironing, according to Cotton Incorporated, because it has been treated with Sanfor-Set for durable press.

Plea draws $203.50 fine

Danny Wright pleaded guilty in Justice of the Peace Court No. 1 to a charge of disorderly conduct and ordered to pay fine and court costs totaling $203.50. He was arrested Aug. 17 when a warrant was sworn out for his arrest after raising a disturbance at Harmon's Hamburger Hut and Arcade. Sheriff Jim Pippin said Wright is in the county jail "laying out" the fine.

Man caught after chase

John Vasquez of Lubbock is in county jail here charged with burglary of a vehicle and driving while intoxicated.

Vasquez was arrested Monday night when a neighbor of Roy Josey saw a man taking a box of tools from Josey's pickup at 120 North Avenue S.

The man dropped the tools and ran to his car and drove away. Deputies alerted by the neighbor chased Vasquez all over town before catching and arresting him.

Vasquez has pleaded not guilty to both charges, but is unable to make $2,000 bond.

Bloody night—

Prather, Terrell and others then rounded up the cattle which had gotten away from the wrecked truck after daylight came. Most of them had found their way to the river bottom.

Carl W. Cross of Abilene was the cattle truck driver who was shaken up but not seriously injured in the wreck.

Investigating officers said the right wheels of the cattle truck got off on the shoulder and the load shifted when the driver tried to steer back onto the pavement, thus overturning the truck.

Both the cattle truck and the recreational vehicle were headed northwest toward Post when the accidents occurred.

The highway patrol told The Dispatch it wished to express that department's thanks to Prather, Terrell, Sanders and Fry for their volunteer assistance in handling the wrecks.

The Dispatch for one wants to see school improvements brought to their logical conclusion while the impetus is still strong and the work is financially feasible.

A lot of our ranch folks will be in Wichita Falls this weekend for the big "shoot-out" as cowboys from 11 of the state's biggest ranches compete against each other in the new Texas Ranch Roundup. We're rooting for the Double U and U Lazy S cowboys to do themselves proud.

Somebody sent us a clipping from the Dallas Times Herald of Aug. 12 which contained a big feature article about our 180 million year old reptile, the Postosuchus, which has been named for Post by Dr. Sankar Chatterjee. The article, a really good one, was written by Jere Longman of Lubbock. Our Chamber of Commerce ought to put the Postosuchus to work for us. He ought to get us some attention.

School opens —

The first day of the in-service workshop Monday will be a business day and there will be a staff luncheon at noon in the school cafeteria.

The school administrator said teachers will work Tuesday and Wednesday completing a Southern Association interim report on how well Post schools accomplished their goals set in 1975.

Teachers will work on building assignments Thursday with Friday another such work day.

Meanwhile, school trustees scheduled their formal budget hearing for 1 p.m. Monday, Aug. 24, in the high school library although they still have some major decisions left on the budget.

Whether the board will consider them Monday or at a later date when the tax rate is set is a question. Law does not require the full board, or even a quorum of the board to attend the

Appraisal—

Mrs. Westfall said notices of changes in appraisals made by those who appeared before the Board of Review will be mailed later. She said property owners who did not appear will not be sent notices on reductions of appraisals.

The Board of Review hasn't completed its work as yet. It still has a morning hearing set for Sept. 9 to hear taxpayer complaints on personal property, including cows, cars, farm equipment, recreational vehicles, and airplanes.

Mrs. Westfall said the board probably will certify the tax roll that day, which will enable local taxing units then to complete budget work and set their tax rates.

The county appraiser said she hoped to have a new preliminary tax roll total by sometime next week which should be quite close to what the certified figure will be.

All told 45 Garza taxpayers appeared before the board of review last week and 10 others submitted phone complaints to the board for consideration, according to Mrs. Westfall.

3.74 inches recorded here

Garza's 1981 cotton crop isn't lacking for moisture anymore. It's received 3.74 inches in the seven-day period ending Tuesday.

Nick Vukad reports rainfall on five of the seven days.

The rainy period began Aug. 12 with 1.06 inches officially recorded here with .46 and .87 inches falling the next two days, followed by a two-day weekend lull before .35 and 1.00 inches were recorded Monday and Tuesday.

Farmers will be satisfied with plenty of sunshine for the next few weeks.

Co. budget—

With the court meeting Monday, it is possible the tax rate will be set at that time although the whole budget won't be finalized and the rate set until final the taxable property total is received from the county's appraisal office.

That may not come until sometime in September.
