General Telephone begins new service here Monday

The City Council, in a busy agenda Tuesday night, heard General Telephone Division Manager, O. D. Hearn give a report on a new service that is being offered to Post residents beginning Monday, June 14. The phone company is opening a new local service agency to be located in the Prairie Flower Shop at 232 East Main. Customers will be able to apply for service, pick up telephones that they have ordered, small repairs may be made on telephones at this location, bills may be paid and will be able to shop for telephones. This will be very much like a Phone Center such as the one in Brownfield.

A grand opening will be held June 28 at which time Post customers will be able to meet Hearn. Information on this new service will be sent out in the telephone bills this month.

Hearn also gave the council a brief talk on the new rate increase with the rates going under bond June 4. The bonding process is a method established to protect all parties and permit adequate time for the regulatory process without excess penalty to the utility.

Hearn explained that the current one party business phone is now 18.30 with the bonded rate being $23.30. A one-party residential phone is $6.95 with the bonded rate $8.80.

He asked for complaints but none were received from the council. The council did voice their approval of the new phone center saying that it could do nothing but good for Post.

Gene Williamson met with the council to request a permit for a garage at his residence. City Secretary Wanda Wilkerson, said that letters had been sent to neighbors of Williamson and the city had not received any response, therefore the council agreed to the permit for the garage.

Jake Webb, manager of the Lubbock district for Southwestern Public Service also met with the council. The City of Post is a member of the steering committee on the utility company's request for a rate increase. The company had requested a 12.7 rate increase but received a 9.1 increase. Webb asked the council's permission to put this increase into effect with the July 1 billing, which the council approved. Webb also received a signed franchise from the council.

Jubilee are coming along on schedule. Rehearsals for the Cabaret will begin Sunday, and rehearsals for the band and choir will begin in the future.

Very good response was reported on the plea for band members to make up the Diamond Jubilee Band, but others are still needed and anyone interested is urged to get involved in this effort. One former band member who now lives in Odessa is already getting excited about being able to participate in the band and other festivities.

Keep in mind the big parade and that floats are still needed. Any organization or individual can enter a float.

Era Aten rites held

Funeral services for Era Aten, 85, longtime resident of Lynn and Garza County, were held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. in the Graham Chapel Methodist Church, with the minister, Gary Cotton officiating.

Burial was in Grassland Cemetery under direction of Justice-Mason Funeral Home.

Mrs. Aten died Saturday, June 5, in Lubbock Methodist Hospital, following a lengthy illness.

She moved to Lynn County from Shelby County in 1916 with her family. The family also brought the first cotton gin to the Grassland area. She married Henry Aten in 1919 in Lynn County, and the couple since farmed in Lynn and Garza Counties. She was a member of the Methodist Church and Eastern Star.

Survivors include two sons, Ted L. of Post, and James of Grassland; one sister, Mrs. Eva Childs of Post; four grandchildren, Ann Stelzer, Bill Aten, Terri Eaton, and Mike Aten and great-grandson, Larry Don.

Pallbearers were W. H. Childs, Harold Childs, Bill Aten, Mike Aten, B.L. Thomas, and Elmo Bush.

MUSEUM MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Museum Association and other interested citizens Wednesday, June 16 at 10 a.m. at the museum. Following a general business meeting, plans will be discussed for the upcoming Diamond Jubilee.

International scout on Camp Post staff

The first summer session for Camp Post, Boy Scouts of America, is in full swing this week, with a total of 10 Boy Scout Troops camping at the newly remodeled facilities. This includes 90

Scouts, 15 adult leaders, and 28 staff members all present for the week of activities, according to Ron Garland, camp director.

They are joined at Camp by a very special visitor,

Martin Hartley, of Bristol, England, a 21 year old Scout who is visiting in the United States for the very first time. He is an Assistant Venture Scout, the equivalent of our Explorer Scout, and has been in scouting for a total of eight years. He is on the Camp staff this year and will also be spending some time at Camp Tres Ritos in New Mexico later in the summer.

Martin is very impressed with Post, but stated it is "a bit warm," but the people are very friendly.

Martin is employed in England by Rolls Royce in the Aero Engines Division.

Martin had a friend who spent some time as an exchange scout in the United States, and he was very interested in being able to come here also. He applied to the Scouting Council and was chosen from quite a few entrants.

He is interested in improving International Scouting, himself, and to receive a better insight into Scouting.

Staffers and campers are really enjoying the new facilities at Camp Post this year, and with the rains Garza County has had, it is very pretty out at the camp.

Campers are busy in the swimming pool, the archery classes, the rifle range, nature studies, and the many other activities scheduled during the week-long camp session.

Ron Garland, assistant Scout Executive for the South Plains Council is camp director for the summer. He lives in Lubbock.

Jerry Stegall, the camp ranger who lived on the Camp premises is very excited with the new facilities and the campers for this year.

Housing project now underway

The $1,330,000 housing contract has broken ground and is now under construction for the 32-unit housing project here.

Work by the Hoover Construction Co., of Burnet, Tex., got underway May 10. The "turn key job" is hoped to be completed by December 1.

The project is being built on 4.8 acres of land purchased from Earl Rogers which borders on Avenue S from the east and south of eighth street and US-380.

Eighteen of the units will be designated for the elderly and 14 for lower income families, with the units including one, two or three bedrooms.

The elderly units will be grouped separately from those for the lower income families and each will have a separate entrance from Avenue S.

Those interested in signing up for the new project may do so by contacting Sexton Huntley at 495-2233.

The housing board is also still negotiating for land on which to build 30 more elderly units.

Runaways top crime news

Garza County officers took into protective custody, two juvenile runaways and held them for their parents to come for them this week. William Rodeaux was released into the custody of his family from Arkansas early in the week and Donna Ray, a runaway from Indiana was still waiting for her parents to come for her on Wednesday morning.

Other arrests made during the week included Manuel Pena and Rolando Carrasco for possession of marijuana under two ounces, both were released on $750 bail bonds each.

Delbert Wayne Harrison was arrested for operating an unregistered vehicle.

Epifanio Garcia was arrested for no drivers license, and no liability insurance on his vehicle.

Students may pick up cards

Students wishing to pick up their report cards may do so at the Post High School office Monday through Friday.

The office is open between the hours of 8 a.m. and 12 noon and 1 p.m. until 4 p.m.

Three students attend state

Three local choir students of Post High School, came home from the Texas State Solo and Ensemble contest held in Austin May 31, with some very good scores.

Jack Rylant, a senior student, received a III rating, which is rated good; Todd Wilson a sophomore student received a III, or good, and Mark Stark a sophomore student received a II, which is rated excellent.

Mrs. Diana Ladd, who is choir director was very pleased and stated that the competition was very hard, and she felt the scores were very good.

Attending the contest with the students were Rhonda Alford, who accompanied the three students on the piano, and Mr. Steve Ladd, who drove the bus for the group.

Post schools receive evaluation results

A Blue Ribbon panel of educators has submitted an interim evaluation covering all three schools in the Post ISD. Since the last evaluation, in 1974, the system has de-emphasized personalized instruction, and concentrated on textbook and whole-group instruction.

The report, written by Dr. Carl Ashbaugh of the University of Texas-Austin, commended the system for having abundant materials and equipment, a disciplined, relaxed, and comfortable atmosphere, improving teacher morale, a strong financial base, and recent renovations of the gym, cafeteria, and completion of all-weather tennis courts and track.

The study made twelve general recommendations. The need for a comprehensive teacher evaluation system was emphasized, along with a need for high expectations, greater application of fundamental concepts, learning objectives at every level, a way to coordinate student progress in moving from level to level. If a district curriculum council were established, this might help students progress in logical sequence through the system. The report also urged the district to move in three directions: away from textbooks, into greater use of technology, such as micro-computers, and toward greater employment of community resources in the instructional design.

Each campus of the system received its own commendations and recommendations. The external degree program, one of only eight in the state, received high praise in the high school, along with the English department, the learning center, the excellent music system (choir and band), the addition of an art teacher, the Physical Science 2 course, and helpful Homemaking program. The panel also commended the high school principal for the way the building is maintained.

The following areas of the high school were highlighted as needing additional attention: what happens to Post graduates? Where do they go, and how well do they do, and why? Could the library be opened in the evenings to the community, and staffed by community volunteers? Because of the nature of current occupational demands, a true industrial arts program in junior and senior high school would be a boon to students. The report also pointed to the need for enrichment programs for high-achievers.

The Panel commended the Outdoor Education Program in the junior high, praised the purchase of micro-computers to teach remedial math, and stated that the principal is "providing excellent educational leadership, and has implemented a thorough teacher evaluation system."

The Junior High would benefit from the hiring of an arts-crafts teacher, a full-time counselor, or even a counselor to share with the elementary school, and more emphasis on meshing the junior high and senior high programs. In perhaps the most challenging statement of the nearly-twenty-page report, the Panel called "for the establishment of a linkage among the three buildings."

Moving to the elementary school campus and program, the evaluation praised the principal for being "genuinely interested in the instructional aspects of his program, and working to improve his effectiveness in instructional leadership." "The bilingual program is strong," said the observers, and the teachers accept and offer help to all students with learning needs, both in formal and informal school contexts.

The panel developed a list of twelve recommendations for the elementary school, beginning with well-defined lists of learning objectives based on student needs, more attention to individual student needs, especially for gifted and talented students. Though learning materials were abundant, said the report, they need to be focused on specified, desired student goals to be effective. Individual classrooms need more storage space, and central storage needs improvement.

The school system needs to implement an early childhood enrichment program, especially for ethnic minority children, and concentrate more on teaching science and social studies in the elementary school. The two elementary school buildings should be joined, with a true learning materials center in the middle, the Kindergarten program should be more structured, and a full-time art teacher and full-time guidance counselor would fill "obvious gaps" in the present elementary school program.

By way of conclusion, the evaluation pointed to sufficient financial and structure resources for the future, but called for increased effectiveness in teaching individual students.

Bonnie is very busy with our books to start our library, all we need now is a shelf to put them on, and it will be ready to go.

We are very busy with our yard, the flowers are blooming. We are very proud of our yard in the front of the home. The flowers and the rose bushes are very pretty. Now when we get our fence up it will be nice.

Our resident of the month is Mrs. Nettie Barrow.

Born in Colorado City, May 7, 1886, she came to this county at the age of 3 weeks by her mother on a stage coach. She graduated from Gail High School at the age of 16. They paid their taxes in Gail before Garza County had a county seat, before Post was even built. She married Leonard Barrow in 1904 in Ema Texas, sitting on a buggy.

Her father-in-law, Joseph Leonard Barrow, and her uncle Sam Wilks were the first commissioners in Garza County.

Her father Ben Franklin Wilks was the first county treasurer.

She lived on Open A Ranch for 60 years. She moved to the city of Post when her husband died in 1943.

How's Your Honey

Is your honey raw or processed? How can you tell? Raw honey is that which has never been heated above 100 degrees F. or strained. Processed honey has been heated and filtered to remove any foreign particles.

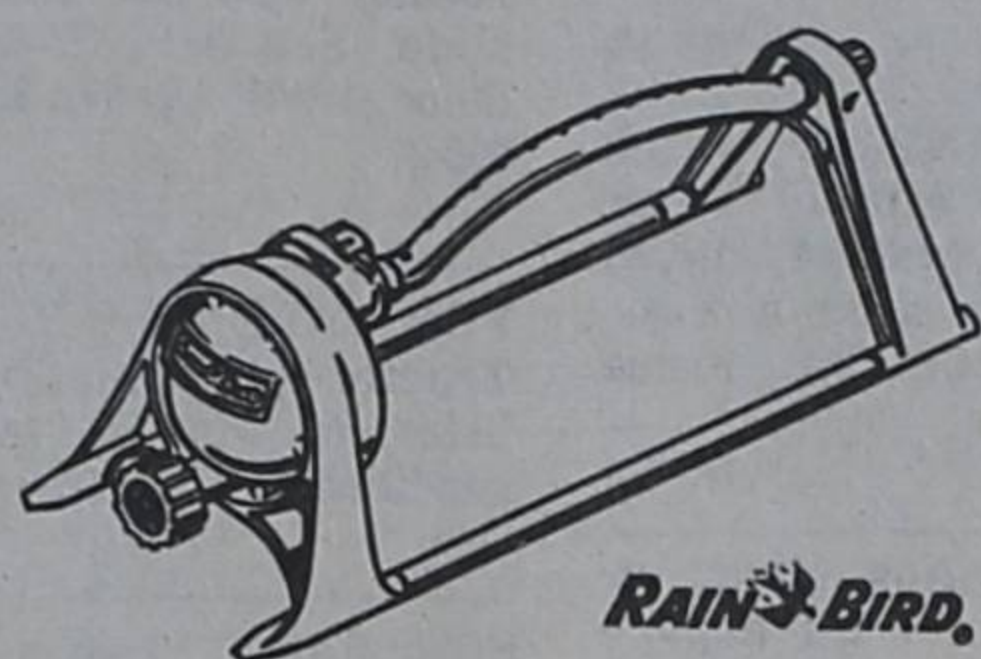

The color of honey varies depending on where the bees collect the nectar. In addition, heating honey can cause it to darken slightly.

To store honey, keep it in a tightly covered container in a dark, cool place. Freezing or refrigeration will not harm the product, but may cause it to form granules. If granules do form, place the honey in a bowl of warm water until the crystals melt. For pure-honey users: remember the pure product won't ever spoil and needs no preservatives.

Southwestern Public Service Company is part of the Southwest Power Pool, a voluntary group of power suppliers. Membership in this pool increases the reliability of SPS' electric service, since such membership allows transfer of power from another utility system to ours if necessary. Power pools are regularly reviewed by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC).

Oscar Hernandez, Local Manager, Tucumcari.

SPS is planning for your future energy demands. Because it takes many years to finance and construct a power plant, SPS' long-term forecasters begin planning 15 to 20 years before the plant will be needed. Through "load forecasting," SPS can predict how much electricity our customers will require in the future. If our forecast is too high, we could build expensive plants prematurely. If it is too low, we might not have enough energy to go around. SPS takes its forecasting responsibility seriously, to bring you reliable electric service next week, next year, and into the next decade.

Larry Simms, Division Superintendent, Lubbock.

Buildup of indoor pollutants may present a serious health risk, since people spend more than 85% of their time indoors. Indoor pollutants can be found in some furniture cleaners, office machinery, fireplaces and building materials. SPS encourages our customers to insulate their homes, yet they should be aware that an airtight home requires daily airing, particularly during winter months or on cleaning days, when household cleaners that may contain dangerous chemicals are used.

Peggy Jackson, Jay Lott wed here Saturday

Double ring wedding vows uniting Peggy Lynn Jackson, and John Minor Lott were read Saturday, June 5, at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Post. The Reverend Glenn Reece, minister of the church, officiated the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Jackson of Post, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lott, Jr., also of Post.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white Gerogette, fashioned with a high neckline of Schiffler lace. The bousant bodice was accented with small tucks and inserts of Swiss embroidery. The full A-line skirt cascaded into a chapel length train, featuring a band of Schiffler lace forming the hemline of the skirt and train. To complete the ensemble the bride selected a picture hat of matching lace with one side caught up with a cluster of silk flowers, and a fingertip veil flowing down the back.

The bride carried a cascade arrangement of silk white catalaya orchids, yellow rose buds, baby's breath, stephanotis, and daisies laced with pearls, featuring pearl streamers.

The altar centerpiece was an arrangement of white gladiolas, daisies, yellow mums and Iris. The altar rail was decorated with votive cups entwined with greenery, with the altar flanked by candleabra and greenery entwined with white lace bows. Pews were marked with white lace bows.

Susan Strawn, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, with Tricia Lofgren of Amarillo, Donna Aten of Post, Kim Peacock, sister of the groom of San Antonio, Cindee Jackson, sister of the bride of Post, and Gena Garrett of Lubbock serving as bridesmaids. They were attired identically in formal length gowns of yellow chiffon, fashioned with a sleeveless blousant bodice, featuring a bateau neckline. The floor length skirt was accented with a side drape of chiffon and satin ribbon encompassed the waistline.

Darla Jackson, cousin of the bride registered guests, with Jamie and Jackie Pewitt, cousins of the bride lighting the candles.

Jeff S. Lott, of Post, brother of the groom served as best man with Rex Cash of Post, Kurt Chapman of Post, Charlie Orr of Longview, Joe Peacock, brother-in-law of the groom of San Antonio, and Danny Gunn of Post serving as groomsmen.

Ushers were Randy Conner of Post, Richard Kirkpatrick, cousin of the groom, Lance Dunn, of Post, cousin of the bride, Mike Macy, of Post, cousin of the groom, and Jay Strawn of Post, brother-in-law of the bride serving as ushers.

Wedding music was presented by the Sisters in Song, as they sang "Surley the Presence of the Lord is in the Place", Marita Jackson and Connie Miles, singing, "Perhaps Love," accompanied by Morris Tyler on guitar, and Patty Kirkpatrick on the electric piano, "The Lord's Prayer, and "Flesh of My Flesh", sung by Connie Miles.

A reception followed the ceremony, held in the Post Community Center.

The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of daisies, yellow spider mums and Iris featuring a silver candleabra. The bride's cake was tiered and decorated in yellow roses and white daisies.

The groom's cake was made of chocolate fudge in the shape of a lucky horseshoe, and iced in chocolate.

Serving in the house party were Kathy and Cindy Kirkpatrick, cousins of the groom, and Rena McGraw of Kerrville, Nancy Norman of Post, Nancy Norman of Post, and Debbie Eubank of Midland.

Following a trip to St. Thomas in the U.S. Virgin Islands, the couple will reside in Post.

The bride graduated from Post High School and Texas Tech University. The groom graduated from Post High School and attends Texas Tech.

Out of town guests registered from Brownwood, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Dallas, O'Donnell, Abilene, Hobbs, Denver City, Azle and Houston.

YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE - A REAL BARGAIN

All things considered, talking is a real bargain. The chart below shows how your telephone costs compare against other goods and services you use daily.

(Figures based on data gathered from U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics from October 1976 to October 1981.)

* Away from home
 Basic local service in QTSW's Texas exchanges

Frequently, the convenience of the telephone is taken for granted.

For instance, a few things you use your phone for:

1. Shop ahead, save gas.
2. Make appointments (doctor, sales calls, lawyer, preacher)
3. Emergencies (police, fire, ambulance)
4. Talking with loved ones in other towns
5. Conducting business via long-distance, save on travel cost
6. Calling scout troop, civic club, little league team, etc.
7. Visit with a friend across town.

Talk is cheap and also a real bargain. For a true picture, divide your basic local service rate by the days in the month. For just pennies a day, excluding long distance and special services, you have your town at your fingertips.

Assembly Lines

Assembly of God Church

Even though our bus broke down we still managed to get 10 kids to the Camp in Roaring Springs. Our thanks goes to Clarence Warren for carrying a truck-load of them. Our kids for Christ will have a film day this Saturday at 10 a.m.

If anyone needs a ride, call 2359. Mrs. Mary Baldrée has been appointed as our new advisory committee person to fill the vacancy left by Ricky Farris, who recently moved to Hillsboro, Tx. Bucky Phelps will be our new Sunday School Superintendent. We sure hated to see the Farris family move, but our love and prayers go with them. We are glad to see the Phelps family home from California, and also the Billy Warrens home from East Texas and a trip to Six Flags. Friday, June 11, is our pastor's 37th birthday. Lets all remember this and the activities scheduled in honor of it.

ATTENDS WEDDING
Vera Gossett, accompanied by her grandchildren, Lee Allen and Sonja Gossett attended the wedding of Lisa Morris, her granddaughter, in Clovis, N.M. Saturday, June 5. Lee Allen and Sonja both participated in the wedding. Also attending the wedding were Junior and Sonny Gossett. Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Morris, former Post residents.

TWINS CEDARS HOME NEWS

Due to the pretty weather some of the residents have been getting out and enjoying the sun.

Juanita Vasquez went out with friends for a cake. Pauline Kilpatrick is in Denver City visiting with her daughter.

Irene McCommis was out for the weekend to visit her mother and family, she had a nice time.

Irene Wheeler is thrilled she is getting her hair fixed so she can look pretty.

They enjoyed playing Bingo, and the winner was Pauline Kilpatrick and Lucy Clary.

We have a new resident at the home. Her name is Betty Newberry. We are proud to have her. We are also glad to have Maria Jimenez back with us. She has been in the hospital.

We are proud of our residents, they are a nice busy bunch. They are making crafts so come by and look.

Lucy Clary, her granddaughter, and her daughter from Plainview, visited with her Sunday. She had a nice visit. Sunday services were brought to us by the Methodist Church with Bro. Don Travis bringing the message. They served cookies and punch. We sure did enjoy it all. It was a farewell service for Don Travis, we sure hate to see him leave.

We had lots of visitors this past week. They were Lois and C. W. Ramsey of Lubbock, Terri Hesser, Angela Reeves, Lorena and Becky Benham, Patsy Sanderson, Tooter Ammons, Hattie Dorsey, Mozelle Hutchins, Joy Parker, Dorothy Travis, Marquerite C. Hotaling, Faye Maddox, Debbie, Chanda and Meagen Moreman, Donna Hea-ther and Athena Wiley of Plainview.

Granddaughter wins horse show

Stormy Gass, 6 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Butch Gass of Gail and the granddaughter of Adele Gannon, was first place winner in the grade gelding class and also reserve champion in the Borden County Horse show held recently.

She also placed fourth in showmanship, sixth in western pleasure, and eleventh in poles and barrels.

Also attending the show from Post was her uncle, Eddie Gannon.

One out of every two households in the United States has a pet.

Library Corner

Summer's here. And you would like to give your undivided attention to a brand new book. How about one of these? They are all new, and on the shelf at your public library.

How would you like to be the daughter of Ann Landers? To have Dear Abby for an aunt? Margo Howard described her relationship with her aunt as being "like being nibbled to death by a duck." She tells the candid story of the world's most famous advice columnist — a person who could solve everybody else's problems, but not her own. The book is called "Eppie: The Story of Ann Landers."

Christine Bruckner, a German novelist, introduces us to Maximiliane Quint, a beautiful, brave, ruthless woman who flees from her native Germany as the Russian army approaches, and tries to rebuild her life. Look for "Flight of Cranes."

Short story fanciers should look for Frederick Forsyth's "No Comebacks," a collection of stories which take place on planes, trains and armchairs, in London, Spain, and Ireland. In 23 pages, for example, Forsyth explains that "There are No Snakes in Ireland" — except one deadly viper smuggled in to do murder, a viper that keeps getting loose.

You believe that diamonds are beautiful, scarce, and valuable? Before you buy one, read "The Rise and Fall of Diamonds," by Edward Epstein, with his expose of the Diamond Invention.

Jim Berry's novel, "The Moon Stallion," tells the story of a tribe of South American warriors, and especially Harkana, their chief, who returns from an exile among white settlers, and leads his followers into battle against them. There's also a love story involved, but I won't tell you about it. Read it for yourself.

Closer to home, "Skycastle," by Steve Krantz, takes place in Texas, — in Houston, in the oilfields, in Austin. Delvin Younger, a modern Texas beauty gambles for love, oil, and the honor of her family. If I had to gamble, this is the book of all the lot which you might find most interesting. Or maybe that is why I plan to read it.

"The Copenhagen Connection" is seasoned with romance, spiced with surprise, a frothy novel that centers around a woman's bathrobe. It's by Elizabeth Peters.

Louis Auchincloss, a New York attorney, has written a book called "Watchfires," a noble of the Civil War. Actually, the War between the states only mirrors the personal war between a man and wife, with hot debate, a separation, full conflict, and the reconstruction. This one sounds good too.

The name of Robert Heinlein is well-known to Science Fiction lovers. His newest is called "Friday." A hint: Friday is a secret courier, employed by a man she knows only as "Boss". She operates from and over a near-future Earth in which North America has been divided into a dozen new nations, and culture is vulgarized, and chaos is the norm.

You remember "Jaws," and "The Deep," and "The Island," bestsellers by Peter Benchley. His new novel, "The Girl of the Sea of Cortez," is different: it's a romantic, lyrical story, a novel of wonder about the sea, and about those who live in it and love it. Paloma lives alone in a world of magic, and while diving one day, discovers an amazing secret.

"Home of the Brave," by Joel Gross, is a novel of the early American spirit and the men and women who struggled, fought, loved, and built this great nation. See American history unfold through the eyes of memorable people you have never heard about, but whose stories you want to know. From the blurb: "Here the characters make love as well as speeches. Bleeding on the battlefield they cry more for a lover than for an ideal. The freedom that each generation fights for is a freedom born of passion and independent spirit. Will Campbell is a Baptist preacher, a "steeple dropout," a preacher without a pulpit, but thousands know him through his writing, like "The Glad River," which tells why Doops Momber refused to be baptized, who his real granddaddy was, and what he did when his friend Fordache was accused of a brutal murder.

The gorgeous California model, Teresa Blair, is the total case against mobster Tony Fluto, but she turns up missing, and detective Tanner must find her in "State's Evidence," by Stephen Greenleaf.

ATTEND FUNERAL
Mr. and Mrs. Billy Greene and Tina, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Greene, and Benny Greene were in Iowa Park, Texas over the weekend to attend the funeral of their Mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Greene. Mrs. Greene, 92 years of age died Thursday in a Nursing Home in Odessa. The funeral was Monday at 2 p.m. in the Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home Chapel in Iowa Park. Grandsons were pallbearers and included Benny and Jeff.

184 runs scored in six games

The Rangers scored six runs in the top of the last inning to break a 7-7 tie with the Mets, and claim a 13-7 win, Thursday night. Catcher Robbie Francis started the winning rally, scoring ahead of Michael Harper, John Fields, Jason Cook, Brandon Bird, and Eli Quinonez. The Mets took a 4-2 lead in the first inning, scoring their first two runs on Robert Brumley's home run.

In second-game action Thursday night, the Colts started strong on Pitcher

John Bilberry's first home run of the night, and went on to beat the Astros, 10-8. Pitcher Shane Horton had two homers for the Astros, and Michael Clark and Marcial Crider added homers for the Astros. Bilberry matched his mound opponent's two homers with a solo shot to start the winning, five-run rally in the fourth inning.

The Dodgers won a 20-18 slugfest Friday night, holding the Bears to "only" seven runs in the last inning. Dondi Finch pitched the win, and hit two home runs. James Levrett also had two homers. The Bears scored five times in the third, paced by Shannon Scott's home run with the bases loaded.

Pity the poor baseballs at the Minor League park Monday night. The Bears scored 24 runs on homers by Patti DuVall, Shannon Scott, Cecil Martinez, and a host of other ways, and then had to settle for a one run, 24-23 win over the Texans. Hiram Gutierrez had a homers for the Texans, who scored at least three runs in all five innings, but still fell short of victory. The Texans put ten base runners on base with walks, and all but two of the Texans who walked came around to score runs in the contest.

As if the 47 runs scored by the Bears and Texans were not enough for one night, the Mets and Colts took the field and scored 32 more times in the second game of Monday night's schedule, the Mets claiming a 20-12 win. Slugger Robert Brumley added two round-trippers to his already-impressive season total, and Jack Sapp hit for the circuit for the Mets also. Tonia Jefferson homered for the Colts.

The Colts and Bears boomed out 29 runs Tuesday night, before the Bears pocketed a 15-14 win. The Bears battled back with five runs in the last inning to erase a Colt lead. John Bilberry hit two more homers, and Tray Payne added one for the Colts, who also waited on 13 walks.

In the scheduled second game, thunder and lightning and rain finally silenced the Minor League bats, postponing the contest between the Astros and Dodgers.

The totals for the last week of play: 184 runs scored in six games, with four of the high-scoring games settled by a difference of two runs or less. Imagine what the Astros and Dodgers could have added to that total if they had not been rained out Tuesday night.

SOFT CONTACTS AND HEAVY SPORTS

It was the final set of the tennis match. Sally was hot, nervous and tired. Her glasses kept fogging and slipping down. How she envied her opponent who did not have to contend with this problem. What Sally did not know was that her opponent WAS wearing glasses. Not the visible spectacles — rather, soft contact lenses.

No matter what your sport, good vision is essential. And since many individuals have less than perfect vision, some form of corrective lenses are called for. Eyeglasses are a common solution — but not for everyone.

If this is your case, consider soft contact lenses. They're soft and pliable which means they won't pop out — even during the most rugged activities. They're comfortable right from the start. Every day more and more athletic eyeglass wearers are enjoying the new freedom and confidence that comes from converting to soft contact lenses. Whatever your sport, soft contact lenses will help you see better, play better and look better.

White Sox in 10-9 victory

The White Sox won both their games in a limited Babe Ruth schedule this week. The Indians were victimized in the last inning of Thursday night's game, as the White Sox scored twice in the last inning to take a 10-9 win. Tracy Price pitched the complete game victory, and Dan Storie took the loss for the Indians. Dan Storie also scored three runs, and Greg Storie scored twice for the Indians. Tracy Perez, Dennis Lee, and Tom Basquez scored two runs each for the White Sox.

The White Sox continued their winning ways Tuesday night, outscoring the Braves, 12-8. The White Sox could manage only six hits, but eleven walks by Braves' pitchers helped their cause. Simon Salinas and Tracy Price limited the Braves to only four hits, but also gave up six walks and hit one batter.

This could mean added hours that the library would be able to be open for the public and the additional help is needed for cataloging and various other jobs in the library.

The library board also asked the council to consider purchasing the old theater next to the library for expansion in the future.

Gratex Corp. to reorganize finances

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was taken out of text from a newspaper in Abilene concerning Compton Corp. Since several Garza County residents have holdings in Compton this article may be of some value.)

A procedural change by major oil companies that led to a $1 million shortfall in April for Gratex Corp. has forced the firm to file for reorganization under Chapter II of the Federal Bankruptcy Act, the firm's Abilene attorney said.

Gratex, a division of Compton Corporation, received $3 million instead of $4 million in income in April for oil delivered to buyers in March, because of a change in when major oil companies paid for oil.

Gratex purchases crude oil from leases, which is trucked to pipelines and moved to several major oil companies.

The $1 million shortfall led to a Wichita Falls oil lease firm, Cutchess Inc., to file a petition seeking to force Gratex into involuntary bankruptcy. The suit charged Gratex with failure to pay $52,389 owed for March's oil, to be paid in April. Compton Corp., also was named in the petition.

A hearing on the suit was held before U.S. Bankruptcy Judge John Ford in Wichita Falls recently. At the hearing, one of Gratex's secured creditors, an Abilene bank with which the company has a long-term financing agreement, moved to have set aside a portion of Gratex-Compton funds.

The bank's lawyer alleged that the filing by Dutchess constituted an act of default by Gratex-Compton. The bank wanted to set aside more than $3 million of the estimated $8 million-plus in cash assets Gratex-Compton would have had on deposit at the end of the business day, May 20. The company's lawyer said those funds would have more than paid all the firm's creditors.

to put its finances in order. No trustee was appointed by the bankruptcy judge and Gratex-Compton will continue to manage its own business affairs. The U.S. Trustee in Dallas will supervise a formation of creditors from 10 of Gratex-Compton's largest unsecured creditors Thursday, May 27. As soon as the committee allows Gratex-Compton to make expenditures all creditors will be paid in full. The two corporations also will be re-establishing long-range loans in order to pay off their former banking institution. Another hearing will be held before Ford in Wichita Falls June 10 to inform him of the reorganization progress as required by law.
