was bound from Amarillo to Sweetwater. Three of the six derailed cars were turned on their sides and the other three were left leaning. Santa Fe work crews figured to clear the siding by Wednesday evening. — (Staff Photo)

'OS weekend' will open second decade

The OS Ranch Steer Roping and Art Exhibit will open its second fund-raising decade here this weekend with a 15-event western program and almost too many champion ropers to count.

Heading the Sunday afternoon steer roping field of 36 ropers will be Arnold Felts, the new 1981 world steer roping champ who won the OS roping in 1979. Up front in the field of 50 invited calf ropers for that big Saturday afternoon event is Roy Cooper, well on his way to the 1981 calf roping championship with $66,994 in prize money, far ahead of his nearest competitor.

Then there's another spectacular western art exhibit which will fill the OS ranch house with about a quarter-million dollars worth of paintings and sculpture.

Actually, that's the first of the major events with the Friday night Art Preview Party expected to attract several hundred art lovers hoping to purchase some of the goodies, dine in the ranch house yard, from a buffet, and listen to the music of Red Steagall and his Coleman County Cowboys.

A greatly expanded colt sale is already attracting added attention. It will be held Sunday morning beginning at 9:45 a.m. following the Brush Arbor Worship Service in the Chinaberry Grove at 8:45 a.m. and the old timers breakfast at 8 a.m.

Something new for the weekend is the washer pitching contest Saturday morning in which some 36 two-man teams will compete in a double elimination tournament after paying entry fees of $200 per team. Big beef barbecues are scheduled at the ranch both Saturday and Sunday, beginning at 11:30 a.m. each day. Red Steagall and the Coleman County Cowboys will entertain at the Saturday barbecue and champion fiddler Johnny Gimble will provide the fun at the Sunday barbecue. (See OS Ranch, Page 14)

Justiceburg water rights to come up for hearing

The Texas Water Commission will decide in Austin Monday when to set a date for a public hearing on Lubbock's Justiceburg Reservoir project application.

Lubbock seeks to build a 115,937-acre foot capacity lake eight miles east of Justiceburg on the South Fork, Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River.

Cost of the water supply project has jumped from slightly over $100 million when first announced to an estimated $200 million if undertaken by 1984.

Lubbock officials hope to get the hearing in late November or December. The big water project already is a year behind schedule in obtaining the water rights because of an incomplete hearing application and lack of communications between the city and the state water board.

Mayor Bill McAllister and City Manager Larry Cunningham went to Austin last week to confer with Harvey Davis, executive director of the Texas Department of Water Resources, seeking to speed the process.

Davis agreed to waive the environmental study report and to put the hearing date decision before the water board.

Only possible future delay in the application, McAllister said this week, would be stiff opposition to the project by adjacent Garza land owners.

The Justiceburg Reservoir is the second half of the Post-Justiceburg Reservoir to provide Lubbock its third water source.

The White River Water District several years ago obtained water rights to build a lake just east of Post. Under the plan, Lubbock would purchase water from the lake with the water income guaranteeing payment of revenue bonds which would be used to finance the lake's construction.

Lubbock would build a pipeline to Post to obtain this water first and then extend the pipeline on to Justiceburg as the Justiceburg Reservoir is later developed. Originally Lubbock was scheduled to receive water from the Post Lake in the mid-1980s, and from Justiceburg in 1993.

The White River district would be in charge of the Post Lake's operation and (See Water rights, Page 14)

Keeton rites held Friday

Funeral services for Chester Keeton, 69, a resident of Post since 1951, were held Friday at 2 p.m. in the Trinity Baptist Church with Ralph White, minister, officiating.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Justice-Mason Funeral Home.

Keeton died Wednesday, Sept. 23, at Garza Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness. He had taken ill in Brownwood some time earlier and they had stayed in the home of Richard and Diana Marr in Brownwood.

He married Ola Mercer Dulaney, March 3, 1951 in Carlsbad, N.M. and the couple moved to Post at that time to make their home. Keeton was a long-time employee of Garza County, as a maintainer.

City manager search narrows —

Four applicants to be interviewed

Grand jury indicts five

Five men were indicted here Monday by a new Garza County grand jury, all on charges of theft.

Curtis N. Bowen was indicted on a charge of theft Aug. 6 of property valued at $5,000.

Joe Lopez and Ricky Gill were indicted for theft of one head of cattle Sept. 6.

Daniel Salinas and Lucio Rodriguez Rodriguez were indicted on a charge of theft over $200 but less than $10,000 from Martin Garza Sept. 5.

The grand jury included Lester Josey, foreman, Mrs. Wilma Williams, Mrs. Ruth Ann Newby, Tommy Young, Joel Dennis, Leon Clary, Mrs. Abraham Moreno, Jerry Tom Smity, Robert Sneed, George W. Miller, Billy James Criswell and Jerry L. Lynn.

The grand jury "no billed" Terry Lee Schutte on a burglary of habitation charge and Janet Hair on a charge of aggravated assault for lack of evidence.

The city council at a Monday night "work session" selected what it considers the top four candidates seeking the position of Post city manager and decided to hold interviews here with the quartet during the second week of October.

The four were selected after a study of the resumes of 13 applicants for the administrative post.

The city will pay the travel expenses of those who come for the interviews.

The applications were secured through advertising in the monthly publication of the Texas Municipal League.

The ad advised that the local salary is negotiable in the $20,000 range.

The municipal post has been vacant here since the late June resignation of Pete Maddox.

In another action, the council put off until its regular October meeting Monday night, the setting of the 1981 city tax rate.

The delay came when

Mayor Giles McCrary pointed out that President Reagan is seeking to wipe out federal revenue sharing as part of a new round of federal tax cuts.

Sheriff officers have busy week

The sheriff's department has recovered the stereo stolen recently from the Southland schools and came within minutes of catching burglars at the VFW in the act of stealing 20 cases of beer and six cartons of cigarettes early Monday morning.

A deputy discovered the burglary at 12:37 a.m. after the veterans club had closed at 11:40 p.m. Entry was gained through the back delivery window.

The Southland school stereo was recovered after officers obtained a search warrant for 513 Pine Street last Friday. Sheriff Jim Pippin said no arrests have been made as yet in the

Rites held for Mrs. Hudman

Funeral services for Mrs. Marvin (Jimmie) Hudman, 74, longtime resident of Garza County, were held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church with Rev. Glenn Reece officiating.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home of Post.

Mrs. Hudman died Monday at 2 a.m. in West Texas Hospital in Lubbock following an illness.

The Bosque County native married Marvin Hudman, Oct. 5, 1927 in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudman began Hudman Furniture Store in Post, in partnership with his brother Victor, in 1945. They later in 1948 bought and operated the Hudman Funeral Home until Mr. Hudman retired in 1972. She was a member of the Baptist Church, and was very active in several community organizations during her lifetime.

Correcting her mistakes

We write this in defense of Town Founder C. W. Post and the agricultural colonization experiment he undertook here in 1907.

In the October issue of Texas Monthly is an illustrated article entitled "The Failures That Made Texas" by Ann Dingus.

The article begins by terming the Battle of the Alamo "clearly a failure...with due respect to the Daughters of the Republic of Texas", neglecting the important fact that 178 determined men by forfeiting their lives bought time to prevent Santa Anna from conquering Texas.

That is about the only example, illogically cited, which was of enough historic importance to merit the article's title.

Post gets a half-page mention in the article as a failed attempt by Cereal King C. W. Post to build "the model Texas city," including a four-color drawing of a big box of cereal with the familiar Post emblem followed by the word Texas instead of the name of a cereal.

In this instance, the article's illustrator showed far more insight than did its author, although generally this magazine's illustrations, or the lack of them, is one of its major shortcomings.

This was what Ms. Dingus wrote about Post:

"Cereal King C. W. Post, creator of Grape Nuts and Post Toasties, decided in 1906 that he would build the model Texas city. Post had come to Texas from Illinois for the warmer weather, but as a health food fanatic, and a Christian Scientist, was dismayed at the rotten moral fiber of Texans. He selected Garza County, at the edge of the High Plains, as the site for his ideal city and began building the town of Post. He then marked off 150 quarter section farms, each complete with farmhouse, barn, and low interest loan.

"Alas, Post had difficulty luring settlers, partly because of his stringent rules (no liquor, for one) and partly because of the lack of rain in the area made the success of pre-irrigation farming unlikely. Post tackled the aridity problem with a vengeance by exploding dynamite on the theory that agitation of the air would produce rain. Sure enough, it did — but the cost per explosion was excessive and the noise further discouraged prospective citizens. When the railroad ultimately bypassed Post in favor of Lubbock, the lack of commerce was just one more factor that kept Post from becoming the model city its founder had envisioned."

We say "Grape Nuts" to most of Ms. Dingus's conclusions and her many inaccuracies of fact.

First, C. W.'s aim was not to build a "model Texas city" but to undertake an agricultural colonization experiment in ranch country and to make a little money while he was doing it. He often said he founded his town to prove that "American free enterprise works."

He spent $50,000 in one of the most unusual privately financed "rainmaking experiments" in American history, cannonading the heavens for four years. The "war" was not called off because of excessive cost or the noise, but because Post's farm colony got a wet spring in 1913 when extra moisture wasn't needed and because Post died in 1914 before another drought arrived. The "rain battles" produced rain only about 50 percent of the time and then not always on the Post farming area but miles beyond.

The railroad did not "ultimately bypass" Post but came right on through after C. W. Post offered the Santa Fe Railroad a sizable amount to put a track down the Caprock, which was quite an engineering feat in that early day.

C. W. was not a "health food fanatic". Health foods made him a fortune of over $20 million so he could hardly be said to be "over enthusiastic" about them. As for Grape Nuts and Post Toasties, C. W. built his cereal empire by peddling Postum, a breakfast cereal drink which he developed into an early rival of coffee.

Nor did C. W. have difficulty in luring settlers. He organized a real estate sales campaign in the East, promising to pay the train fare west for settlers who bought his farms. In the 10-year period which followed the founding of his town he and his heirs sold 612 farms.

C. W. came to Texas from Battle Creek, Michigan, not Illinois. He was born in Illinois. He was already a rich, middle-aged man in 1906 when he visited his parents in Fort Worth and got interested in Texas real estate through association with a group of Fort Worth real estate men. That led him to buy 200,000 acres of West Texas land, much of which his heirs still own.

C. W. was a remarkable guy. So remarkable that the Texas Historical Association in 1952 published a history book of his colonizing effort, "Post City, Texas". It was written by a Texas Tech history professor, "Charles Dudley Eaves, who became interested in Post as the subject of his doctoral dissertation at the University of Texas.

We know the book well because when we first came to Post 24 years ago we rewrote the book into eight pages of articles for the Golden Jubilee edition of The Dispatch published on Sept. 12, 1957.

For the seven years Post lived after he founded his town, it was one of the most famous communities in the fast-developing West. It certainly was no failure.

We don't believe Post ever wanted to build "a model city." He was a practical business man and laid out a practical town. In those days West Texas was a hard place to live and make a living. And, for that matter, it still is, as far as the weather and farming is concerned.

Post has basically an industrial and oil economy now. C. W. built our cotton mill himself (that's our industry) and he looked for oil but stopped the drilling bit 300 feet above the oil that now has brought some 2,300 oil wells to this county.

"I found out your insurance claim covers falling off the roof all right, but not hitting the ground."

All-Savers CDs explained

Jack Alexander spoke at the Post Rotary Club's Tuesday luncheon on the subject of the new All-Savers certificates for which the first $1,000 of interest for a single person is non-taxable with $2,000 in interest non-taxable to those filing joint returns.

The new program, part of President Reagan's economy packages, goes into effect today, Oct. 1.

The yield will be 12.61 percent at the start.

The basic benefit of non-taxable interest is for those in the income tax bracket of 30 percent or higher.

Alexander gave full details of the plan and answered questions concerning it.

Some postal gripes

The discontinuance of mail service in and out of Post on Sundays and holidays has stirred some local ire because as we understand it the "economy cutback" in this West Texas area applies only to the smaller towns around Lubbock, and not Lubbock itself.

Post folks who have postoffice boxes don't object to this on the grounds of economy. The objection is because of postal discrimination against the small towns.

Certainly, if you can save money cutting off Sunday service to small towns, you can save even more cutting it off to the cities.

We'll take our lumps along with everybody else when it comes to less debit spending by government. The postoffice despite high postage rates, can't pay for itself with revenues. It requires a billion or more taxpaying dollars to keep it in black ink.

All the small towns want from big government is an equal shot.

We're still rankled over the loss of the Post postmark on letters going out of town. So is every other small town. That was a bureaucratic idea of economy which we believe was actually no economy at all.

There is plenty of help at our postoffice to get the Post postmark on each and every letter without any problem.

If the postoffice department wants to get on a pay-as-you-go basis, all it has to do is to up the rate on all that junk mail which crowds everybody's mail box.

Its moving all that unwanted "junk" which makes postal service so costly. There's just no way present "junk mail" rates can be justified.

COTTON TODAY

A NATIONAL COTTON COUNCIL SERVICE

Export Date Relaxed
The National Cotton Council has received notice that the purchase-date requirement for South Korea to buy U. S. cotton under a $70 million credit guarantee agreement has been relaxed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Sales orders made before July 9, 1981, will now be accepted for financing under the GSM-102 program. Credit guarantee previously was available only for purchases after that date.

NCC Board Chairman Herman Propst, Anson, Texas, grower, hailed the action as both timely and significant. "With prospects now pointing to a 15.5-million-bale crop this season, we need to step up our selling efforts," he said, "and relaxing the date requirement will be a big help in making it easier for our Korean customers to buy U.S. cotton."

Natural Fibers Sought After
Retailers across the country are combing the marketplace for men's dress shirts and other items containing more natural fibers for spring 1982.

Both specialty and department store retailers say they are planning to carry more all-cotton goods or more reverse blends such as 55-45 or 60-40 cotton-polyester combinations than the did last spring, the National Cotton Council reports.

Export Sales Still Strong
Latest U.S. Department of Agriculture report shows cotton export sales for the 1981-82 marketing year delivery topped 100,000 running bales for the ninth straight week. Net new sales of 101,400 during the week ended September 17 brought the season's total commitments to 3,144,300. Major buyers were Taiwan with 25,200; Japan, 20,800; and South Korea, 19,400.

VISITS GRANDMOTHER
John Young of Midland, surprised his grandmother, Artie Young of Post, last week with a visit and also her granddaughter, Carolyn Carroll of Roby visited with her.

Thank You

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the Post Volunteer Fire Department for their prompt help in extinguishing the fire at our home recently. Also thanks to Dewayne Capps for bringing plywood and helping to board up the windows. So many others have helped in so many ways that it is impossible to thank each one personally, and in this way we want to tell you how much we appreciate your many acts of kindness.
Terri and Treva Williams

In times of trouble and grief, we realize how much the love of those around us really means. To each one who remembered us in prayer, for each offering of food, flowers and friendship, we are grateful. Words cannot express our gratitude and appreciation to Dr. Wilson, Dr. Rodriguez, the nurses and personnel at the hospital for their caring and help, to Bro. Ralph White for the service and his many kindnesses, to Margie and Sharla for the lovely music, our eternal love and thanks. May God richly bless each of you.

Easy Freezer "Cookery"

Summertime, and the cooking is . . . infrequent! That's why this refreshing, light and easy pie is a "must" for your summer collection. Yogurt, frozen whipped topping and fresh strawberries are a tasty trio, especially when spooned into a pie crust. It's pretty enough for company, simple enough for everyday, and just plain delicious!

STRAWBERRY-YOGURT EASY-AS-PIE

2 containers (8 oz. each) vanilla yogurt
1 container (8 oz.) Cool Whip non-dairy whipped topping, thawed
2 cups sweetened diced, sliced or finely chopped strawberries
1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cooled

Fold yogurt into whipped topping, blending well. Spoon yogurt mixture and strawberries alternately into crust. Cut through with spatula to marble. Freeze until firm, 4 hours or overnight. Remove from freezer 30 minutes before serving and keep chilled in refrigerator. Garnish with additional whole strawberries, if desired.

Class of '76 has 5-year reunion

The graduating class of 1976 held a reception prior to the homecoming game Friday at the bank community room to celebrate its five year reunion.

Cynthia Morris of Snyder. From Post were Linda Wynne, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neal Clary and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mason and daughter, Ronald Case, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Humble and son, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Roberge and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Strawn and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donny Stelzer and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Holly and family, Richard Fuentes, Stella Torres, Dr. and Mrs. Larry Mills and daughter, Lesa Windham, Susan Fumagalli and daughter, Jennifer Knight and son, and Alice Rivera.

Salad supper is given rushees

The theme, "You're the Apple of our Eye", was carried out in tables centered with apples and English ivy, red name tags, and a get-acquainted "Grab the Apple" game.

Jane George, as rush chairwoman, asked the members and guests to introduce themselves with a little history to the group. Later, she led the "Paper Game" in which each person told some unique experience she had, thus stumping the other participants. Irene Fry collected the most pieces of paper and a prize. Debbie Mason won the door prize for the night.

Following grace by chaplain Sara Briley, the group dined on a variety of homemade salads and iced tea. They ended the meeting with an informal visit over the scrapbooks of past years of the sorority.

President Orabeth White invited the guests to join Gamma Mu and went over the ideals and activities for the year. Special visitors were Lois Cook, Diane Josey, Vicki Gannon, Shirley Hardin, and Sherry McNeely. Other members present were Jane Mason, Barbara Hardin, Helen Gerner, Carol Williams, Janet Justice, Jana McCallister, Julie Hudman and those preceding names involved in the night's program.

FRUIT 'N CORN MUFFINS for an Autumn Breakfast

What sounds better on a frosty fall morning than warm muffins, fresh from the oven?

While muffins began as an old English tea-cake, today in the U.S. they're a popular breakfast item. This recipe for Fruit 'N Corn Muffins, from the Kraft Kitchens, combines a number of breakfast-related ingredients like eggs, orange marmalade and applesauce into a flour and cornmeal dough. The result—a flavorful, quick-to-eat morning snack.

If there's no time to bake in the morning, make the muffins the night before or over the weekend and freeze. Reheat them in the oven just before serving.

When serving, remember muffins should never be cut, but pulled apart and spread with marmalade or marmalade if desired. What isn't finished at breakfast can be eaten as a mid-morning snack.

FRUIT 'N CORN MUFFINS

|---------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 2 cups flour | 1 cup milk |
| 2 tablespoons sugar | 2 eggs, beaten |
| 4 teaspoons baking powder | 1/2 cup applesauce |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 1/2 cup Parkay margarine, melted |
| 1/2 cup cornmeal | Kraft orange marmalade |

Combine dry ingredients. Add combined milk, eggs, applesauce and margarine; mix just until moistened. Spoon into well greased medium size muffin pan, filling each cup 2/3 full. Slightly indent center of each muffin. Top each muffin with 1 teaspoon marmalade. Bake at 425° 20 to 25 minutes or until golden brown.

Amity Study Club meets

Amity Study Club met in the home of Helen Miller Sept. 22 with Marion Wheatley serving as co-hostess.

Janet Peel, president, presided. Interesting bits of information were shared by each member during roll call as everyone responded concerning a particular topic assigned to her for which she will be responsible during the entire year.

The theme of the year's programs is "The Way We Were." The program for the night was taken from studies during the 1930's. Joy Pool and Thelma Clark presented a program on Nova Scotia and Canada. They did a brief study of the poem "Evangeline", by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Boo Olson and the Amityheirs entertained the group with a celebration of Canadian and Cajun music.

Those attending the meeting were Debra Adams, Barbara Babb, Margaret

Bull, Mattie Collier, Inez Hartel, Linda Linn, Judy McAlister, Janey Middleton, Boo Olson, Janet Peel, Joy Pool, Carolyn Sawyers, Sue Shytle, Ida Wilks, Ida Jones, Thelma Clark and the hostesses.

Conservation program given

The Woman's Culture Club met Wednesday, Sept. 23 at 2 p.m. in the First Christian Church parlor with the president, Maxine Earl presiding.

A letter from Girlstown was read inviting all of the members to attend the opening of the restored dormitories on Sunday, Oct. 25, at 2 p.m.

The president announced the TFWF State Fall Board meeting and workshop scheduled for Sept. 29 through Oct. 1 in Odessa, and the Caprock District Fall Workshop for Oct. 10 in Silvertown.

Roll call was answered with some very instructive ways to conserve natural and human resources in this country.

A very interesting and topical program on "Conservation and the American Dream" was presented by Ruth Duckworth.

The following members were present: Lillian Potts, Nita Burress, Estelle Davis, Sylvia Evans, Buena Bouchier, Pearl Storie, Maxine Earl, Ruth Duckworth, Lois Williams, Ruby Kirkpatrick, Opal Pennell, Ruth Young, Beulah Pickett and the hostess, Doll Haire.

A lump of butter or a tablespoon of cooking oil added to the water cooking rice, noodles or spaghetti will help prevent sticking and boilovers.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The Redistricting Board heard public testimony during two days of public hearings last week but no new map is close to being approved.

Apparently, only three members of the board are drawing maps to submit to the whole panel: Lt. Gov.

Bill Hobby will plan for the Senate. Speaker Bill Clayton will map for the House, and Comptroller Bob Bullock will counter with alternate maps for each chamber of the Legislature.

At issue again is where the five-member board will be able to legally split counties to comply with the one-man, one-vote constitutional provision. In August, a state district court judge threw out the Legislature's plan for the House of Representatives on the grounds it illegally divided counties.

The Texas Constitution prohibits cutting county lines in redistricting to discourage gerrymandering. However, more recent court decisions allow counties to be split in order to comply with the one-man, one-vote provision which assures all districts must be equal in population.

Last week's testimony was centered mainly on particular districts in Bexar County, Dallas County, El Paso County, Harris County and various rural counties.

Also at issue is whether minority voting strength will be diluted.

Bullock Missing

Comptroller Bullock was missing from the public hearings because he is undergoing alcoholism treatments in California. His aide, Robert Spellings, sat in his place ... and word from the Comptroller's Office is that Spellings wields the redistricting pencil there.

Bullock plans on being back in time for the hard-ball action in mid-October, when the board will need to reach a compromise in order to make its Oct. 29 completion deadline.

Mike Martin

Longview State Rep. Mike Martin, charged with lying to a Travis County grand jury about staging his own shotgun wounding, pleaded not guilty last week.

Martin is also being investigated for matters relating to his personal financial statements and his campaign contributions and expenditures reports.

Travis and Gregg county officials will decide who may probe the financial aspect of Martin.

Mutscher Cleared

A former House Speaker, now Washington County Judge Gus Mutscher, was cleared by a grand jury of charges he and other county officials illegally leased school land.

Almost ten years ago, Mutscher was convicted while House Speaker for conspiring to accept bribes allegedly paid in the so-called Sharpstown scandals. Mutscher said last week the recent charges were politically motivated.

Strake vs. Hobby?

Texas Secretary of State George Strake, Jr. is finding plenty of support for his expected candidacy against Hobby ... and Hobby is apparently not taking it lying down.

While Democrats have speculated that Hobby may not seek another term, Hobby himself has been traveling the state and setting up fundraisers.

Strake is considered an attractive candidate, not only because of competency and personal diplomacy, but because his family ties can compete with Hobby's for political contributions in Houston and other urban areas.

Strake's intent to make the race may be a good reason why State Sen. Bill Meier said last week he will not run for lieutenant governor as expected. Meier, a Democrat lately turned Republican to make that race, will instead work to re-elect Gov. Bill Clements.

Proposed Amendments

As the Nov. 3 election approaches, legislators are beating the boons for favorite proposed constitutional amendments on the ballot.

A number of farm and ranch groups have joined to support Proposition Five, which exempts livestock and poultry from property taxes.

Opposing them are school board associations whose districts will lose revenues from the exemption.

Field crops are already exempt from taxation, and a new law also exempts farm equipment.

The gain to farmers is estimated between $6 million to $10 million, if the voters approve the proposed amendment.

A spokesman for cattle feeders said some ranchers send livestock to feedlots in other states to avoid the added cost of property taxes.

Scanning Social Security

By JIM LATIMER

Today's column covers the changes that have become law in 1981. These changes are extensive and cover a wide range of subjects.

Student Benefits

Beginning August 1981, student benefits are being phased out. Students fall into several classes for eligibility, but student benefits will be lowered every year from now until April 1985, when all student benefits will cease.

Until then, students who have questions about how their specific case will be figured, should read all releases sent to them by Social Security and contact the SSA offices only after they have done all they can to get the facts.

Minimum Benefits

As a result of the new law, there is no longer a floor in minimum benefits. At this time, with the minimum floor now removed, some persons now applying, may receive no more than a few dollars per month.

This change is effective with November 1981.

Limit on Disability Benefits

The new law provides a cap on disability when a person is receiving Workman's Compensation checks. This provision is applicable until the person is age 65 instead of 62 as it was in the law before 1981.

Survivor Benefits

Surviving mothers or fathers no longer will receive a check because they have a child in their care, once the child reaches age 16. This provision is effective with applications filed in August 1981 or this month.

For those already receiving benefits will be paid until 1983 or until the youngest child is age 16 whichever is first.

Senior Citizens News

The Senior citizens Algierita Center opens each morning at 8 a.m. and our people start coming in for a good cup of coffee about 8:30 or 9 a.m. and then we start our exercises around 9 or a few minutes after. These are very good for you especially if you have poor circulation or stiff knees.

Then around 10 a.m. they come in to start playing 80 or 88 or pool. These they do until around 2:30 or 3 p.m. plus watching TV or just sitting around and visiting one another.

They start gathering around 11:30 for lunch which is served at 12 noon. We always have a very good meal and a good crowd for lunch.

We then gather around our piano for music and singing which we all enjoy very much.

This coming Thursday night we will be having a group from Tahoka who will come and participate in our first monthly singing along with some of our own people. So don't forget to come and join us. Everyone is invited. We are hoping to have Noel White and his son Steve, Bro. Kenneth Cook, and others including our

Benefits Paid First Full Month of Eligibility

Beginning with September 1981, payment can be made only to those who have retired and are retirement age for a full month. This provision precludes payment for the first month of eligibility unless the applicant is retirement age all month long. This means that anyone not age 62 the first day of the month, will not draw a check for the month he becomes age 62 if he becomes that age on the second or later day of the month.

Age 72 Benefits

Once again age 72 is the month in which benefits can be paid regardless of how much a person earns working.

Anyone interested in literature may write the SSA office at 1205 Texas Avenue, Room 102, Lubbock, Texas 79401. Ask for Pamphlet No. 05-10314 and it will be sent to you free.

own Senior Citizens Choir. We went to the United Nursing home Saturday night and entertained them with our singing. They joined in singing with us. We certainly enjoy doing this for our shut-in friends.

We sang at the Church of God of Prophecy Sunday afternoon, along with several other singers.

We have been invited to sing at the Trinity Baptist Church Sunday, Oct. 4. So come on out and join us.

Hurrah, we have our quilt painted and put together, thanks to Joe and Alma Williams. It is beautiful. Now we need someone who likes to quilt to come and help us as soon as we get the lining for it. Then we will be seeing you about donations for it and then we will have a drawing to see who our winner will be. You would really be getting a pretty queen size quilt if you are the lucky person.

Our prayers go out to those who are ill and those who have lost loved ones. We always remember you in our prayers.

Our mini bus starts picking up passengers at 9 a.m. in the morning so if you need the bus for anything, please call 2998 and we will see you get where you need to go.

Don't forget we have blood pressure check four times a month and if you need assistance, such as Garza County has a new deep oiler this week. It's Supron Energy Co.'s No. 3 Supron Koonsman in the Red Loflin field, 15 miles southwest of Post.

Drilled to 8,223 feet, the well produces 27 barrels of oil and 58 barrels of water from an interval of 8,000 to 8,012 feet.

Supron also has announced a new wildcat try.

The wildcat is the No. 1 Parks, 10 miles west of Justiceburg, which will be drilled to 8,200 feet.

when you may come, call 2998. Also the hearing aid man is here twice a month and this is offered at no charge.

We certainly enjoyed Nancy Flanigan this past Thursday playing the piano for us and also everyone enjoyed seeing her new month-old son. He is very sweet.

We enjoyed having Joann Blacklock sing with our singing group Sunday. We appreciate her very much.

United Fund gears up for '82 drive

The Garza United Fund organization last Thursday afternoon reelected its officers for 1981-82 and set its 1982 budget hearing for 4 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 8.

All organizations wishing to receive funding from the United Fund should contact Jack Alexander for a time appointment for the budget hearing.

Such organizations must send representatives to the budget hearing to make a specific request and to explain how the money is to be used and answer any questions concerning use of the money.

The 1981 fund goal was $11,175 with participating agencies including the Red Cross, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Little League, Minor League, Babe Ruth league, Teenage team, Salvation Army, Post Special School, USO, Garza United Fund (for drive expenses), Meals on Wheels and Texas United Fund.

The fund goal has been fully subscribed here for the last 12 consecutive years.

The 1982 drive is scheduled to get under way Monday, Oct. 19 with an all-out effort to be made to wind it up before Thanksgiving.

Reelected officers include Jack Alexander, president; Jimmy Mitchell, vice president; Janie Davis, secretary-treasurer; and Jim Cornish, campaign chairman.

The 12 United Fund directors including the years their terms end are: 1981-82, Alexander, Mitchell, Janie Middleton and Delores Dunn; 1982-83, Cornish, Victor Ashley, Janie Davis and Curtis Hudman; 1983-84, Kathy Rankin, Charles Hardin, Bryan J. Williams III, and Charles Adams.

Jail not in compliance

The Garza County Commissioners Court authorized Sheriff Jim Pippin to correct the nine deficiencies found by the Texas Jail Standards Commission in its Sept. 14 inspection of the county jail here.

The deficiencies included door stop on corridor door damaging wall, processing room needs better lock, soiled laundry storage not provided, jail mattresses must be replaced because they are not non-toxic and fire resistant, smoke detectors are not located properly in inmates' area, plus a couple of mistakes made in prisoner record keeping.

In another action, the court authorized Judge Giles Dalby to sign a renewal contract with the Lubbock County Juvenile Detention Center.

Nothing can be burned again that has already been burned once.

FIRST STATION AWS — ACCS Bobby Paul Gibson, Air Traffic Controller, now sports the Aviation Warfare Specialist insignia which he earned through his initiative and study.

Former PHS grad wins navy honor

Bobby Paul Gibson, son of E. W. Gibson of Denver City and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Adams of Post, has become the Oceana, Va. station's first Aviation Warfare Specialist after 14 years of Naval knowledge and four months of hard study.

The AWS designation must be attained through a formal qualification program. ACCS Gibson completed the required checklist of Personnel Qualification Standards in four months, working hard every day. "I found it easy in some places because I have a thorough knowledge of aircraft maintenance, which is a major portion of the checklist," said Gibson of the qualification requirements. He added, "I feel proud to represent the 'first' of anything I guess it gives you that feeling of accomplishment."

The program was started in March of 1980 and it covers every rating in the aviation community. To become eligible for the wings, one must complete a checklist of 296 different fields. Each category is signed off by someone qualified in that rating.

Gibson is a 1965 graduate of Post High School and after completing his enlistment at Oceana, Va., in December, will be transferred to the Aircraft Nimitz where he will be the senior leading chief of the air traffic control division of the ship.

Bobby is married to the former Deanna Adams and they have one daughter, Kimberly.

Rush brunch is planned

Xi Delta Rho held its meeting Monday, Sept. 28, in the home of Lois Kennedy.

Plans were finalized for the Rush Brunch which is being held Oct. 10 in the Bank Community room. Menu, decorations, and games were discussed and planned.

Cheryl Blair, Susan Cardinal, Trisha Cockrell, Jenny Francis, Johnnie Francis, Voda Gradine, Margaret Price, Nancy Shaw, Janice Smith and Joyce Teaff.

The next meeting will be a model meeting on Oct. 12 in the Women's Clubhouse.

Two 4-Hers Lunch Menus win at fair

Two Garza County 4-H members who entered the South Plains Fair brought home ribbons for their efforts. They were Steven and Korren Payton, children of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Payton.

Steven entered a crop exhibit of field pumpkins and won second place, then baked a pumpkin pie and won third with his entry.

Korren entered the culinary division and placed first with pickled peaches, second with squash pickles and third with her canned corn.

Both 4-Hers are junior members of the Close City 4-H Club.

$650 more given to EMT's fund

An additional $650 has been donated to bring the amount raised by the recent benefit barbecue for funds to purchase EMT training equipment to $4,785. The benefit was staged by the Veterans of Foreign Wars here in Post and in Lynn County.

George R. Brown oil interests here contributed $400 of the amount, and Buddy Hitt and Dowe Chemical added the other $250.

The Post Lions Club contributed $300 to the fund earlier.

QUICK QUIZ

Here's a quiz that may help you keep in sight some first aid do's and don'ts for eye emergencies.

1. In case of eye contact with chemicals (a) use an eye cup (b) flood the eye with water immediately, continuously and gently for at least 15 minutes?

3. If you receive a blow to the eye (a) apply cold compresses immediately (b) apply heat?

4. For a cut or puncture of eye or eyelid (a) bandage lightly and see a doctor at once (b) wash out the eye with water?

ANSWERS: 1. (b) Try to keep eye open as widely as possible during flooding. Do not use an eye cup or bandage the eye. 2. (a) Then let tears wash out speck or particle. If it doesn't wash out, keep eye closed, bandage lightly and see a doctor, says the National Society to Prevent Blindness. Never rub. 3. (a) This will reduce pain and swelling. 4. (a) Above all, do not try to remove an object stuck in the eye yourself.

$100 million made in student loans

AUSTIN — The Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation announced today that over $100 million dollars in student loans had been guaranteed by the corporation since it began its administration of the guaranteed student loan program for the state of Texas in January of this year. The corporation, TGSLOC, was created by the Texas Legislature in 1979 as a public, nonprofit corporation to guarantee loans to college students made by private lenders in the GSL program.

TGSLOC was created, in part, to improve private lender participation in the guaranteed student loan program and to provide college students greater access to student loans. Joe L. McCormick, Executive Director of TGSLOC noted

Dalby named on amendment drive

AUSTIN — Judge Giles Dalby has been named on a statewide steering committee for a statewide campaign push for passage of Constitutional Amendment No. 4 to finance future Texas water resources and facilities.

Austin Mayor Carole Keeton McClellan is general chairman of the support campaign for the amendment. Three former Texas governors are on the steering committee.

that the positive response of banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions throughout the state has been tremendous. McCormick pointed out that of the $100 million dollars guaranteed to date, over 96 percent of these guaranteed student loans were made by private lending institutions.

Recently passed federal legislation will restrict the student's eligibility to families with $30,000 income or less. Families with higher incomes will have to demonstrate financial need in order to qualify for a guaranteed student loan. It is difficult to predict just how many Texas students will be adversely affected by these new restrictions which go into effect today.

TGSLOC is confident that the lending community in Texas will continue to provide loans to students and the corporation is dedicated to administering the guaranteed student loan program to maintain their support. In addition, Texas is fortunate in having its own state loan program, the Hinson-Hazlewood Student Loan Program, to assist eligible students who may qualify. Hinson-Hazlewood Student Loans are also guaranteed by the Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation.

Students interested in making application for a Texas Guaranteed Student Loan are encouraged to contact the financial aid office of the school they plan to attend.

There are approximately 300 million cars in the world.

Senator
Lloyd Bentsen
Watching
Washington

Skyrocketing interest rates are the number one issue in America today, and I'm determined to do something about it.

One of my colleagues on the Senate Floor recently pointed out — correctly — that it is easier to criticize the Federal Reserve Board for the current crisis than to propose concrete policy suggestions.

I have proposed a concrete policy suggestion for the Fed. Recently I introduced a resolution in the Senate proposing that the Federal Reserve Board discourage loans for big business mergers.

Anyone who surveys the economic landscape today can see that our achievements of recent months and the whole process of economic recovery are in dire jeopardy from high interest rates.

As the Fed raises interest rates higher and higher, the people are beginning to ask some hard questions. They want to know how it is, with capital in such short supply, a chemical company can arrange a $7 billion line of credit to buy an oil company.

How many new jobs are created by this kind of transaction? How does it improve productivity in our economy? Does it represent a rational or efficient use of a scarce resource?

The American people are asking why they can't qualify for a mortgage, but large corporations can tie up more than $50 billion in lines of credit to affect mergers or to fend them off.

I believe the Fed should be "jaw-boning" member banks on their lending policies. And I believe the purpose of this campaign should be to make less credit available to these huge corporations for mergers.

This is not a new or radical idea. In 1966, in 1974 and again in 1980 — when Paul Volcker was Chairman — the Federal Reserve Board "jaw-boned" member banks and other lending institutions in an attempt to persuade them to alter their lending policies.

I don't pretend that "jaw-boning" by the Fed, all by itself, is going to solve the high interest crisis. But it can provide some relief. It can bring interest rates down a notch while Congress and the Administration work on further spending reductions necessary to bring the budget into balance and keep it there.

For too long our home-builders, our farmers and our small businessmen have been asked to be the inevitable first victims in the periodic high interest crusades against the fortress of inflation. That policy just isn't fair and the American people will not stand for it much longer.

I'm not suggesting a return to the policies of inflation. I'm not suggesting that there are easy or painless remedies to the present crisis.

But I do maintain that the Federal Reserve — as it has three times in the past — should be doing everything possible to help those who are most vulnerable to cope with punishing and protracted high interest rates.

I believe the Federal Reserve Board has an obligation to help us create a climate in which we can treat the root causes of our problems without destroying our economy in the process.

Kirkpatrick leads Lopes over Mustangs

Returns punt for 72 and td

"Centerfielder" Will Kirkpatrick brought Post's big homecoming crowd to its feet roaring four times in the second half of the Antelopes' 20 to 8 triumph over Denver City here Friday night.

He returned a Mustang punt 72 yards for the "put-away touchdown", intercepted two Denver City passes on the Lopes 20 to end two thrusts by the visitors, and after Denver City's only score returned the Mustang kickoff 30 yards to midfield, almost breaking away for another td.

In fact, Kirkpatrick was just about the whole show for the Lopes in the final two periods.

Coach David Thompson's club played a superb first half. The defense completely throttled the Mustang offense, holding the visitors without a first down, only 31 yards rushing, and nothing in the air but a Post interception.

Meanwhile the attack unit cranked up for a 53-yard scoring march from the opening kickoff for the first touchdown and then drove 83 yards in the second period for another to take a 14-0 lead into the dressing room at intermission.

Either the Lopes lost their intensity or the Mustangs reached back for a second effort in the second half as the two clubs exchanged roles — except, that is, for Kirkpatrick.

Post managed only three first downs and a total of 28 yards net offense in the second half, while the Mustangs rang up seven first downs, 105 yards net rushing and 66 more through the air.

The visitors never actually threatened to win, as Post commanded a 20-0 advantage up to the final 7:37 when Denver City put its only touchdown on the board and then ran over the two conversion points.

The Lopes, picking up 165 yards in 48 rushes for a 3.4 yards per carry average, had a balanced attack.

Milton Williams picked up 42 yards in 13 carries, Kirkpatrick 40 in 11. Quarterback Tim Tannehill 15 for 35, despite losing 23 yards on 7 of those carries, and Richard Cisneros 33 in six. Fullback Marvin Wynne had 11 yards in one carry and Fullback Mike Sullivan four in two.

Tannehill completed two of six passes, all in the first half, for 49 yards and one touchdown, and was intercepted once. The other Denver City interception came when Kirkpatrick threw a halfback pass and had it picked off for the only aerial put up by the Lopes in the second half.

The tough Lopes defense was led by defensive end Cisneros and Linebacker Toby Craft — and of course Kirkpatrick back at safety.

Here's how the game went: Irvin Price, who is recognized more for kicking off, returned the game-opening kickoff to the Post 47 and from there the Lopes zinged 53 yards in 13 plays with Williams slipping through tackle from the one-yard-line for the score. The "big play" was Tannehill's 10 yard scamper for a first down from a fourth and nine on the DC 35. Kirkpatrick converted and it was 7-0 with 7:22 left in the quarter.

Melvin Wynne picked off a Mustang throw by Quarterback Johnny Botello and returned 20 yards to the visitors' 20, but a Lope clip on the play set the Lopes back on DC's 36 and the Mustangs held and took over on downs on their 29.

Tannehill had 39 yards on two keepers, including a 25-yard broken field td scamper, called back on penalties in the second period, but the Lopes were not to be denied.

They put together an 83-yard drive for their second touchdown after starting the march with 20 yards in losses on two penalties and another three on a fumble recovery as Tannehill dropped a center

Cisneros kept the drive alive with a five-yard gain on a fourth and two at the Mustang 30 for a first down. After Tannehill's touchdown weave was called back, Tannehill found End Gary Lamb on a 29 yard pass-run play for the score with 3:36 in the half. Kirkpatrick converted.

Post had one more scoring opportunity before intermission. A 20-yard pass to End Bill Black who caught it lying on the ground, put the Lopes with a first on the DC 25. This time Rodney Curtis intercepted a Tannehill throw in the Mustang end zone to end the threat.

Denver City drove the Post third period kickoff from its 33 to the Post 39 picking up their first two first downs of the game before Kirkpatrick intercepted a Botello throw on the Post 20 and ran it back 20 yards.

A 50-yard Tannehill punt with the wind at his back put DC in a hole and the Mustang return kick was good for only 19 yards into the wind. That gave Post an opportunity at the Mustang 34.

The Lopes lost 12 yards in three plays and Tannehill punted 46 yards into the end zone.

When the teams exchanged ends of the field to start the fourth, the punting shoe was on the other foot.

Ken Bell booted a 47 yarder with the wind at his back. Kirkpatrick fielded it on his 28 with an over the shoulder catch and started upfield.

He broke a couple of tackles with hard running and suddenly was in the clear surrounded by Lope black shirts. He went 72 yards for Post's longest punt return in years. This time his conversion kick into the wind was wide right.

Denver City finally got it together and in 10 plays from the Post kickoff went 67 yards for their only touchdown with hard-running Charles Moore running it across from the three and then getting the two conversion points on a sweep around right end. A 33 yard pass Botello to End Paul Inabnet was the "big one" putting the Mustangs on the Post four.

Tannehill had his punting average ruined when he attempted a coffin corner kick from the Mustang 36 after Kirkpatrick had returned the kickoff to the 50 and Post picked up one first down. The ball was blown out of bounds after traveling only 11 yards.

With 1:25 left, Kirkpatrick intercepted a long Botello desperation heave on the Post 20.

No. 1 team invades Floydada —

Littlefield favored by 6

The "big AAA game" this week in West Texas is Littlefield's invasion of Floydada Friday night.

Littlefield has been the No. 1-rated AAA powerhouse in Texas since the second week of the season and Floydada has climbed steadily to the No. 6 position in the Harris Rating System rankings.

Both clubs are undefeated. Tammy Johnson to head Junior 4-Hers

By JIMMY HOLLEMAN
Tammy Johnson was elected president of the Post Junior 4-H club at its meeting held Sept. 22. Other officers elected were Shawn Bevers, vice-president; Tracy Craft, secretary; and Jimmy Holleman as reporter.

Council delegates elected were Gina Basquez and Jimmy Holleman.

Those attending the meeting were Tammy Johnson, Tracy Craft, Shawn Bevers, Gina Basquez, Christy Allen and Jimmy Holleman.

Harris picks Littlefield to win by six in what it terms "should be the best show in West Texas this week."

The Post Antelopes, who are idle this week, climbed from 24th to 23rd place by virtue of their 20-8 triumph over Denver City. Tahoka, still unbeaten, retained its No. 16 position in the Harris ratings. The Bulldogs are the only district team ranked higher than the Lopes. Despite its loss to the Lopes, Denver City climbed from 109th to 102nd.

In other games this week, Denver City is a 25-point favorite over Cooper, Seminole a 7 point favorite over Slaton, at Seminole, Tahoka a 33-point favorite at home against Ballinger, Coahoma is a five-point favorite over Colorado City, and Brownfield is a one-point favorite over Frenship at Brownfield. Lockney and Roosevelt have open dates.

The only Harris miss last week for area AAA teams was Roosevelt's win over Abernathy.

Game called by lightning

Post's eighth grade game with Idalou in Antelope Stadium last Thursday night was "called on account of too much lightning" after one play in the third quarter.

Neither team scored in the two quarters of play.

Post drove to Idalou's 10 yard line for its only penetration and Idalou had one scoring opportunity, reaching the Post 15 before losing the ball.

7th graders in first win, 6-0

Post's seventh grade footballers got into the win column here last Thursday night with a 6-0 decision over Idalou's seventh graders.

Post drove 73 yards from the opening kickoff for the only score of the game with Fullback Ben Kirkpatrick rambling the last 35 yards for the touchdown.

A passing try from

JVs ring up 8 to 0 victory —

Long Dalby run is winner at Idalou

Fullback Giles Dalby raced 50 yards for the only touchdown of the game — that counted — last Thursday night as the Post Junior Varsity returned to its winning ways with a 8 to 0 victory over the Idalou JVs on a rain-hail slick field.

Tailback Daniel Gonzales ran over the extra points as he turned in his second straight "100 yard plus night" with 112 yards in 16 carries.

He also crossed the Idalou goalline twice on runs of 37 and 8 yards but both td runs were erased on Post penalties.

The first one came in the first period when Post was flagged for clipping.

The other was in the third when Post was called for motion.

Post was inside Idalou's 20-yard-line five other times. The locals let time run out at the end of the game with possession on the Idalou two yard stripe.

Besides Gonzales 112 yards, Dalby had 83 in nine carries, Fullback L. D. Harper 14 in three, Wingback Steve Fluitt 18 in four, and Felix Bustos 15 in three.

Post ran up 210 yards rushing and 16 first downs to Idalou's 141 yards rushing and nine first downs. Post stayed on the ground as the game was played on a wet field following a rain and hailstorm.

Frosh thumped at Idalou

The Post freshman grid-ders took a 48 to 12 pounding from a good Idalou frosh eleven at Idalou last Thursday night in a game called with 4:57 left in the fourth due to a heavy hail-rain storm.

The Post club lost three fumbles in the first half as Idalou rolled up a 30 to 0 lead by intermission. The four touchdowns came on a 33 yard pass-run play and runs of 4, 5, and 30 yards with three of the four conversion efforts good.

Post put two touchdowns on the board in the second half, one on a 50 yard run by Albert Nava and an eight yard run by Tailback Mike Ollison.

Idalou scored twice more in the third period on a 70-yard kickoff return and a 20 yard run. Its final td came in the fourth on a 15 yard run. Nava had 50 yards in two carries, Ollison 37 in 15 carries, Greg Massey 15 in four carries and Curt Greer, five yards in two.

Idalou rang up 299 yards total offense to 107 for Post.

The freshmen will be open this week before entertaining Coahoma here next Thursday night, Oct. 8, in Antelope Stadium.

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — With primary attention directed toward the economic recovery program, which will be continuing, other major issues to be addressed by Congress this year have been overlooked to some degree.

I have discussed the Omnibus Farm Bill, due to be considered by the full House either this week or next, at considerable length, but I would like to touch on some other important issues that Congress will be tackling sometime this fall or the beginning of 1982.

IMMIGRATION — Some heated battles are expected during hearings on the White House's comprehensive immigration and refugee policy during hearings expected in Congress in late September. Most controversial provisions deal with granting amnesty to illegal aliens already in the country, as well as plans to set up an experimental "guest worker" program; create penalties for employers who knowingly hire illegal aliens; and enforce existing statutes more strictly.

Because Texas shares such a large border with Mexico, these proposals will be of special interest to the state and its economy, especially those aimed at stemming the flow of nearly 500,000 undocumented aliens per year into the country.

CLEAR AIR ACT — The Act comes up for renewal September 30, but could be extended in its present form until an agreement on proposed changes can be reached. The White House is seeking to ease the standards, especially those controlling emissions from cars and coal-fired plants.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE — Both the House and Senate are considering legislation aimed at reducing crime and improving the criminal justice system. The House will consider a bill that would reauthorize federal funds for state and local law enforcement agencies to use in their fight against crime. We expect this bill to come to the House floor by the end of September.

The Administration also has been considering strengthening existing legislation, but has yet to bring any specific plans to Congress.

AWACS SALE — A negative vote by either the House or the Senate could block proposed sale of five Airborne Warning and Control Systems (AWACS) surveillance planes to Saudi Arabia. The President feels the sale could help slow Soviet inroads into the Middle East, while some members feel the sale, part of an $8.5 billion package, could endanger Israel's national security.

MX MISSILE — Indications point to the White House proposing a scaled-down version of the MX missile, placing about 100 missiles in about 1,000 underground shelters in two counties in Nevada. There had been some discussion of considering portions of West Texas and New Mexico for the sites, but plans for that secondary site have evidently been dropped.

Those are some of the highlights of major legislation that is "waiting in the wings" for action by the House this session, but primary focus of action on the Hill continues to be the economy and related problems.

Accent On Health

Texas Department of Health
Robert Bernstein, M.D., Commissioner

Approximately 1.1 million hunting licenses and 37,000 trappers' licenses will be issued in Texas this year. The traditional hunting season began September 1 and hunters already are being exposed to environmental dangers.

Outdoorsmen going into the field after game normally are aware of the danger posed by firearms, but hunters and trappers should be aware of four infectious diseases spread by wildlife.

Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever (RMSF), tularemia, plague and rabies are present in the wildlife population of the state. Increased risk of exposure to these diseases is associated with:

1. Exposure to ticks and fleas;
2. Use of bare hands in skinning and dressing animals;
3. Unusual behavior patterns in wild animals; and
4. Rodent die-offs in a given area.

Through early September, 30 cases of RMSF were confirmed in Texas this year. The disease, caused by small, bacteria-like organisms called rickettsiae, is characterized by fever, headache, malaise and often a rash which gave the disease its name. While the most common means of infection is through the bite

He added that officers also are working on the VFW burglary.

In other items on the local law enforcement front:

The probation of Charles Harper was revoked here Monday by District Judge George Hansard and after Harper waived his rights to a jury trial on a charge of possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute. The judge sentenced Harper to six years in the penitentiary.

Harper has been in jail here for the past six weeks unable to make $50,000 bond.

A computer in one of the National Crime Information Centers led to the arrest of Robert Abbott near Des Moines, La., after Sheriff Pippin sought Abbott on bad check charges here.

Sheriff Pippin said about $1,500 worth of worthless checks passed by Abbott in Post already have been reported here with the checks still coming in. Several, Pippin said, are over $200 which would bring felony charges.

The sheriff is not waiting to see if extradition papers will have to be filed to bring Abbott back from Iowa or whether Abbott will waive extradition. Abbott worked in the oil fields in this area for several months, coming to Post from Illinois, according to Pippin.

The sheriff urged merchants to be careful about cashing checks from strangers and urged them to always call the bank to be sure the account is good.

"It will save the merchants the money," he told The Dispatch, "and it will save us both time and money in chasing and catching them."

Jackie Hair was arrested here Monday on an Odessa warrant No. 956 for burglary of a habitation. He was released on a $25,000 surety bond, the recommended bond amount asked by Odessa officers.

Wilma Ray Preston of Snyder was arrested for DWI, no driver's license and failure to drive in a single lane. He paid $311 in fine and court costs and was sentenced to 90 days in jail in county court for DWI and failure to drive in a single lane, and assessed fine and court costs of $162 in city court for not having a driver's license.

Juan Jose Perez of Hale Center was arrested here Sunday for public intoxication of marijuana under two ounces. He paid $56 in fine and court costs on the PI charge in city court and pleaded not guilty in county court to the possession charge. He was released on $1,000 bail bond.
