

Justiceburg landowners will fight lake

Landowners in the Justiceburg area who will have to give up some 3,000 or more acres of their land if the proposed Justiceburg Lake is built announced this week they will fight all the way to keep that land.

The 3,000 acre proposed lake site include Billy Huddleston, John Ward, Billy Wayne Williams, John Reed and Walter and John Boren. They have employed an attorney collectively to represent their interests. John Blakey, who owns land that also is involved in the proposed site, has hired an attorney on his own to fight the case. The Dispatch has been informed. On page 8 in today's Dispatch appears the notice of hearing for the City of Lubbock seeking the water rights at the Justiceburg lake site before the Texas Water Commission in Austin Dec. 5. The notice serves to legally notify all those opposed to the granting of the water application that they may file written protests with the commission or appear before the commission in person to express their feelings. The notice of hearing sets forth that the City of Lubbock seeks a permit to build and maintain the Justiceburg Dam creating a 115,937 acre-foot capacity reservoir on the South Fork, Double Mountain Fork Brazos River, tributary of Brazos River, about eight miles east of Justiceburg and 21 miles southeast of Post in Garza and Kent Counties, to use 200 acre-feet of water per year for five years for construction of the dam; to use 35,000 acre-feet of water per year from municipal purpose; and to use the reservoir for recreational purposes.

The Justiceburg dam site landowners have a whole list of complaints against the proposed water project. The major one for several years now is that they have been unable to find out what was going on, planned, and so forth. Mrs. Billy Wayne Williams of Snyder wrote a letter to the editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal some time ago listing the complaints, but the letter was never published.

Her more recent letters to the A-J editor have been printed in the Lubbock paper, however.

Mrs. Williams told The Dispatch that Justiceburg area folks don't understand why Lubbock would want that water when even the cows won't drink it because it is too salty.

She questions if a proper sampling of the water was made with samples being taken only at the US-84 bridge at Justiceburg and at

The Dispatch is told that an engineer employed by the landowners tells them that ranchers downstream from the proposed dam would not benefit from an underflow.

"We're concerned about both the quality and quantity of the water," Mrs. Williams told The Dispatch. "We're upset because the corps of engineers waived an environmental study normally required."

"We are concerned about this being developed as a lake recreational area and taking how much more land we cannot even guess for possible recreational purposes."

Joined by Slaton over game forfeitures —

Tahoka parents will sue UIL

Parents of players and other football fans in Tahoka and Slaton were scheduled to file a suit in Lynn County District Court sometime Wednesday seeking a permanent injunction against last week's UIL ruling that the high school football teams of the two towns forfeit their first seven games because of an ineligible player on each team.

Tahoka Attorney Calloway Huffaker said the suit will be filed against the University Interscholastic League, its state executive committee, the District

4-AAA executive committee and the superintendents of Slaton and Tahoka.

A temporary restraining order without notice will first be sought in the suit, then a temporary injunction, with the case culminating in a hearing on the suit to obtain a permanent injunction against the forfeitures, according to Huffaker.

Dalton Wood, publisher of the Lynn County News, told The Dispatch Tuesday that approximately 100 persons, including parents of the high school players and other football boosters, had met in the school cafeteria Monday night and decided to file the suit. The meeting came after a school board session in which no action was taken.

He said Tahoka Attorney Calloway Huffaker has been employed in the case and $1,100 raised in Tahoka for a legal fund.

Slaton has joined Tahoka in the suit protest and is raising a like legal fund to fight the case.

According to Wood, a restraining order will be sought in the Lynn County District Court this week. After that an injunction will be sought and then the suit tried. Wood said Tuesday night he didn't know if the suit had been filed Tuesday.

The group hopes to have the restraining order signed by District Judge George Hansard by Friday.

The suit, as The Dispatch understands it, would be directed against the five superintendents of Tahoka, Slaton, Post, Frenship, Cooper and Roosevelt who as the district's UIL executive committee last Wednesday declared all Tahoka and Slaton games played before last week's round forfeited because each team played an ineligible player.

The five school superintendents had virtually no choice. Had they upheld Tahoka and Slaton, the district would have lost its entry in the post-season playoffs. There is no appeal from the executive committee ruling.

The ruling came because each school in the spring semester of the last school year reported the two players in question as fulltime VAC students. The UIL rule states that credit

Teenage prank to go to grand jury

Lynn County Sheriff Stanley Krause said he will present the Lynn grand jury this month the case of four Post High School students who broke into the Tahoka fieldhouse and stole some helmets and shoulder pads.

The incident occurred the night after the Tahoka Bulldogs defeated the Post Antelopes here in a district 4AAA football game.

Eleven football helmets and some of the shoulder pads stolen have been recovered through the investigative of the Garza sheriff's department.

The four local teenagers, according to Krause, have admitted their participation in the break-in but denied they were responsible for breaking windows and other vandalism which occurred at the Tahoka school the same night.

Rosenbaum rites held

Services for A. O. Rosenbaum, 82, of Post were held Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Trinity Baptist Church with the Rev. Ralph White officiating, assisted by Rev. Glenn Reece.

Rosenbaum died Oct. 30, in West Texas Hospital in Lubbock following a lengthy illness.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Born March 14, 1899, in Hemstead County, Arkansas he later moved to the Close City Community where he farmed. He was a resident of Garza County 58 years. He married Lois Brown, Dec. 14, 1922 in Post. He

Rotary supports Sr. citizen plan

Post Rotarians haven't got all the details worked out yet, but the civic club plans to initiate a volunteer program for members to help the community's senior citizens work out little problems the oldsters can no longer do themselves.

It's hard to explain because the program is yet to be named.

The volunteer helpers for senior citizens idea was proposed at the club's Tuesday luncheon by Dr. Frank Pickett, chairman of the club's senior citizens committee who might be considered one himself.

He proposed the club sponsoring a Senior Citizens Day in Post, local mer-

When The Dispatch's Norma Baumann went "over the hill" Tuesday with her 40th birthday, she vowed there would be no birthday ad slipped into the paper to announce the event to one and all.

But we have a better idea. We'll put the item right on the front page in our column. That will be even better and Norma shouldn't be too upset about that because of that old American constitutional right of freedom of the press.

Employees of the newspaper and commercial printing shop here wore black armbands Tuesday to observe the occasion.

Lubbock's hearing Dec. 5 at Austin for water rights to build the Justiceburg lake ought to be a humdinger. The landowners in the southern end of the county are up in arms and are already loading up for the hearing. If they lose that round, the courthouse fight to condemn the land ought

Castro rites held Friday

Funeral services for Alphonso Castro, 20, were held Friday Oct. 30, at 10 a.m. in the Holy Cross Catholic Church with Father George Roney officiating. Castro died in his home Wednesday, Oct. 28.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home. Born August 12, 1961, in Corpus Christi, he had been a resident of Post for 15 years.

He married Lynora Andersen June 28, 1980 in Post. He was a Catholic.

Survivors include his wife, his parents, Oley Castro of Three Rivers and Margarita Romero of Post; one brother, Herman of Amarillo and four sisters, Patti Ayala and Hope Castro both of Post, Mary Alice Riedel of Las Vegas, Nev. and Sarah Elizondo of Corpus Christi; his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Simon Castro of Corpus Christi.

Pallbearers were Albert Castro, Fred Elizondo, Felix Castro, Antonio Dodier, Pedro Torres and Lupe De La Santos.

really to be a super humdinger. That scrap will take place right here in Post as we understand the situation before a Garza jury.

Lubbock thought it was going to "ho-hum" its way through the legal process to build the dam. But it's going to be a whole lot different from that.

If they spread out the football districts any further, the school district will soon have to provide buses for the fans too for the Special invitations have been extended public officials here to attend the Veterans Day program which also is open to the public.

The high school band and choir also will play and sing patriotic selections during the program.

Garza voters favor in light vote, but —

Water amendment turned down

The "water amendment" was given strong support here Tuesday in light voting but went down to defeat statewide.

Only 433 of Garza's 2,600 eligible voters turned out to cast ballots for the seven constitutional amendments and supported the "water amendment" 378 to 59, carrying every one of the voting precincts.

The amendment to be "beaten" in the county was No. 3 which would have provided for the setting up of a state financing committee to handle distribution of funds when the legislature was not in session.

The amendment lost 242 to 179 in the county and also went down to defeat statewide.

The other five amendments which carried here, also were being approved statewide according to reports with about 78 percent of the votes counted.

These other five with the vote totals here in the county are as follows:

No. 1, which would permit tax exemptions to develop blighted areas, 247 yes, 178 no.

2 outhouses are burned

Post's "outhouse tradition" was maintained here Saturday night (or early Sunday morning) when two outhouses were hauled into Post and set afire by teenagers on local streets.

There were a rash of Halloween fires starting about midnight and keeping volunteer firemen busy to about 3:30 a.m.

Two outhouses, tires, a

No. 2 was an amendment specifically for one man, bundle of hay, a trailer, and even a tree stump in the park were set afire.

Sheriff Jim Pippin told The Dispatch that no arrests were made and no real damage done.

A truly great idea

Dr. Frank Pickett handed Rotarians a beautiful idea this week — volunteer work to help our senior citizens.

A good many senior citizens can handle life for themselves and enjoy doing it. But there are some, maybe further down the road, who can no longer take care of everything around the house and can't afford today's high priced repairman.

(The repair man of course must charge a high price for odd jobs just to make a living.)

Helping those people sounds like a great idea.

But here's the "kicker" in Frank's idea. In helping the senior citizens, Rotarians or anybody else who volunteers would be benefitting a whole lot themselves.

It's the giving, not the getting that's the most fun. That's what makes Christmas so great.

This newspaper also likes Frank's plan for a Post Senior Citizens Day, which will take a bit of time to work up into a solid effort, and the giving of discounts to senior citizens who often have to get along on small fixed incomes inflation or no.

Our Senior citizens have done a fine job in building a community of which we can all be proud. Let's honor them — and show our respect for them and give them a little boost wherever we can.

Let's keep a tight grip

The sheriff's department here is doing such a good job of law enforcement that most of us now take it for granted.

The courthouse is our Wednesday morning news beat and we have a regular date with Jim Pippin over a coffee cup to get the community's crime news.

We are generally impressed with how the sheriff's department solves almost each and every crime committed here within a reasonable length of time.

There are of course many factors involved in what we consider one of the community's brightest success stories.

Uncle Sam in his fight against crime over the last ten years has changed the face of small town law enforcement by pouring millions of dollars into officer training programs.

Today's law man is trained for his task — and therefore a great deal more successful.

Another part of the success story is the organization of our joint city-county law enforcement here. This enables a large enough group of trained officers to be put under the command of a single officer to keep the peace. That gives the officer the necessary wherewithal to get the job done.

The third season for our success story is the ability of the sheriff to do a good job. And in this case, Jim Pippin is doing just that.

Slaton has a banquet annually for their lawmen. Post ought to work out something which would bring the average citizen and the lawman together for a better understanding of keeping the community peace.

If some kind of a crime stopper program is needed in this community — as other nearby communities have undertaken — let's sit down and organize one. The Dispatch certainly would cooperate in such a program and we feel it would be well worth the time and money.

We're just beginning to really get a handle on crime in Post and we ought to be ready to put a tight grip on the handle.

4-H group begins project

Monday afternoon, seven members of the Graham 4-H Club met at the Community Center to begin their foods and nutrition project.

They learned to measure, read recipes, set a table setting, and begin the study of the four basic food groups.

They divided into three groups and made cookies as a part of their bread and cereal study. Making rice krispie cookies were first year members, Tyra Hart, Krista Kemp and Dusti Cash. Baking peanut butter cookies were Traci Bush and Tammie Braddock. Keitha White and Trevah Bush made chocolate chip cookies.

To end the meeting, they had a tasting party of all the cookies and Koolaid. The rest of the cookies were served by Keitha White to the 4-H Horse Club members at their night meeting.

This project group will meet twice a week preparing for the Nov. 21 county food show. Adult leaders working with the girls were Jennie Cowdrey and Orabeth White.

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK — Favorable prospects for an unfavorable 1982-85 farm bill and the classing of cotton by instruments dominated discussion and actions taken Oct. 21 by the 50-man board of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

What the board considers a far-too-low minimum base loan price of 55 cents per pound and elimination of the disaster payment program that has been a part of farm law since 1973 were two provisions of both senate and house bills that drew strongest objections.

Those objections, plus other parts of the cotton section of the senate and house bills that are not in accord with PCG legislative policy, led the board to passage of the following resolution:

"That PCG reaffirm its legislative policies in a four-year farm bill, PCG would support a one-year extension of the current farm program including continuation of the current disaster program."

The senate bill's "Heflin amendment" which is not a part of the bill passed Oct. 22 by the house, also was severely criticized by the High Plains producer representatives, and the PCG staff and officers were instructed to "voice strong opposition" to its inclusion in the farm law that will later come from a house-senate conference committee. The amendment would mandate that quality differentials in the loan schedule be based on a simple average of the previous year's loan schedule and recent spot market quotations, plus require the establishment of a study committee to consider alternative methods of setting quality premiums and discounts.

The committee would be made up of eight producer representatives, two from each of the four major cotton producing areas, one representative of merchants and one textile manufacturer. Both PCG's support for a one-year extension of the current farm program and its opposition to the Heflin amendment were conveyed to congressmen and senators in a mailgram Oct. 22.

PCG President Gary Ivey of Ralls reported to the board that USDA is considering, but is not committed to, expansion of High Volume Instrumentation (HVI) to more of its classing offices. The first such office went into operation at Lamesa in 1980.

After discussion revealed that several major textile mills already are using instruments to evaluate cotton quality and are getting good results, there was general agreement that "the time for instrument classing is here."

There was no strong consensus however on whether PCG should take the lead in seeking conversion of the Lubbock classing office to instruments or, if so, the timing of such an undertaking. Therefore it was decided only that PCG should further pursue the possibility of getting the Lubbock classing office on HVI and report its findings to the board as early as possible.

Tech museum plans old time Christmas Dec. 2-3

LUBBOCK—Visitors to the 4th annual "Candlelight at the Museum", Dec. 2-3 will walk down Christmas memory lane at The Museum of Texas Tech University and the Ranching Heritage Center.

Christmas scenes will include an austere 1840s Christmas at the El Capote Log Cabin, a traditional frontier German Christmas at the Hedwigs Hill Log Cabin and an elegant turn-of-the-century Christmas in the Barton House.

At the museum, visitors will see "Holiday Excursions," demonstrating ways people travel during holidays, and "Collector's Treasures," with collections such as dolls, Christmas plates, nativity scenes, 1930s toys, toy lead soldiers and music boxes.

Focusing on the theme, "A Time for Remembering," "Candlelight at the Museum," will be 6-8 p.m. both Wednesday and Thursday. Admission is $2 per family or 50 cents per person. The annual event is sponsored by the museum.

Caroling, a Christmas puppet show by the Texas Tech Puppeteers, music by the South Plains College Country and Bluegrass Department, and refreshments served by the Women's Council of the West Texas Museum Association will be part of the festivities.

Volunteers and staff members of the museum, dressed in pioneer attire, will be housed in the lighted buildings at the Ranching Heritage Center to demonstrate Christmas activities typical of the era and heritage of each building. Activities will include baking, tree-trimming, wreath-making, gift-wrapping, needlework and whittling.

Corn grinding and corn-husk doll making will be part of the activities in the El Capote Log Cabin while a pinata will be the center of attention in the Picket and Sotol House.

The Victrola will be played in the Harrell House, the pump organ in the Box and Strip House and the piano in the Barton House, while guitar strumming and harmonica playing take place in the Masterson JY Bunkhouse and the Matador Half-Dugout.

A Christmas ball is planned in the Las Escarbas ranch headquarters.

Girl Scouts will make tree decorations and trim the tree in the Bairfield Schoolhouse. After "Candlelight at the Museum," the tree will be donated to a local nursing home.

The doughnut was brought over to America from the Netherlands more than 300 years ago by Dutch colonists.

Cowboys will be gathered around the campfire near the Reynolds-Gentry Barn, settlers will be feasting on Christmas goodies at the Jowell House and a cowboy will be awaiting the arrival of Christmas in the Long S. Two-Story Dugout.

Lanterns, candles and luminaries will light the paths of visitors during the event as firelight flickers in the fireplaces of several buildings and in the Edith McKanna Whitley Parlor.

Gas heating saves $226 per year!

Compared to the heat pump, gas heating can save you $226 per year on your utility bills. So if you hear that a heat pump is "more economical", remember, that is comparing it to other electric heating... not to gas! No other heating system even comes close to gas for economy. At Energas, we are committed to help you get the most for your heating dollar. Gas heating, combined with good conservation practices, saves energy, too.

Basketball Soon
Basketball time is just around the corner and Southland girls have several returning starters from last year. Sherri Alvis and Samra Rush are two year lettermen with other lettermen, Olga Hiracheta, Terri Heracheta and Bonnie Koslan also returning. Others that will see varsity action this year are Monique Adamek, Marlana Adamek, and Lisa Nelson.

The freshmen will play a large part in the outcome of the season, and how quick they gain experience and mature will be important to the season play.

The first scrimmage is scheduled for November 10, in Southland against Borden County. The first game is November 17 at Cotton Center.

The team's depth is not as great, but fundamentally is more sound than last year. The season should be interesting.

"I feel if we continue to improve, our girls have a good chance to win district. New Home should be the strongest contender in our district. Our season before district play will be much tougher than last year. We will play New Deal, Sundown and the always strong Jayton Classic. If we survive this test, we will be toughened and ready for a run at the district title."

SEEING DOUBLE

This week we interviewed the two sets of twins attending kindergarten. Their names are Mandy and Matt Valadez, and Jason and Justin Haire.

Mandy and Matt are the twins of Penny and Ronnie Valadez. The twins are five years old. They both like school and being twins. Matt likes having a twin because he always has someone to play with. Mandy said, "I like being twins because he is my brother." Mandy sometimes fights with Matt, she says he is the meanest.

Jason and Justin are the twins of Johnny and Sherry Haire. They also are five years old. Jason does not like school, however, Justin does. Justin also likes being a twin, while Jason doesn't.

He said, "Justin is rough and trips me, so I box him and punch him in the stomach." Jason said, "I look like myself and Justin looks like Dolly Parton." Their teacher said, "I love having twins. At first it was hard knowing them apart, but now I really like it."

'African crisis' film to be shown

The Rev. Glenn Reece announces the showing of a special film report produced on location in Ethiopia, Somalia and Kenya on Crisis in the Horn of Africa to be shown at the First Baptist Church, Thursday, Nov. 8, at 6 p.m.

"Crisis in the Horn of Africa", produced by World Vision, is a fast-moving documentary of unforgettable stories on how war and drought have disrupted the lives of more than six million people in East Africa.

An African proverb says: "When the elephants fight, the grass gets trampled." This is what's happening in the Horn of Africa today. Those who get trampled are sick and the weak — those who cannot defend themselves against the cruel, cold implements of modern warfare.

On the Kenya-Uganda border, viewers will see what happens to local villagers when the cattle rustlers use guns, and the locals have only bows and arrows. Dramatic documentary footage, shot only moments after a raid, puts an international conflict into human perspective.

Viewers will walk the barren sands of Las Dure camp in northern Somalia where 76,000 refugees must survive on an average of 400 calories per day. Here, where there is no sanitation at all, World Vision medical teams care for the sick and the dying — with special concern for trying to save the children.

The public is invited to attend this showing and share in a special offering to help alleviate the hunger and suffering of East African refugees.

Sodium can come from many sources. One is the salt shaker on the table.

But sodium also is contained in many processed foods. Dr. Hayes is asking the food industry to reduce the amounts of sodium they add to their products, and to provide consumers with more label information about sodium.

Cotton set-aside program possible

COLLEGE STATION — With a lot of cotton being produced this year, prices are down. This dilemma may lead the government back into agriculture to create a cotton set-aside program — a program in which farmers would be paid not to grow cotton a certain amount of their land.

"Interest in set-aside programs are down," says Dr. Ron Knutson, economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System. "Since Secretary of Agriculture, Block recently announced a 15 percent wheat set-aside, interest has grown regarding a similar program for cotton."

Such a program would be optional for cotton farmers, explains Knutson. If they opted to participate, they could not plant cotton or any other crop for harvest on the deferred acres. Failure to set aside the acreage specified once in the program would result in the farmer losing any benefits from farm programs, including target prices and loans.

How much would a set-aside program help cotton prices?

"Based on past experiences with set-aside programs, a 15 percent set-aside would result in only a 3 to 5 percent decrease in production," points out Knutson. "This reduced production would roughly increase cotton prices by 5 percent."

One reason why production would not be reduced more with such a set-aside program is that only one-half to two-thirds of the farmers normally participate. Also, those who do put their poorest land into the program and increase inputs on the remainder of their land to boost production.

So, cotton farmers and their organizations need to ponder the possible effects of a set-aside program as they study the issue suggests Knutson.

NEWS OF HEALTH

As many as 60 million Americans may benefit from watching carefully the amount of sodium in their diets, according to the Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration, Dr. Arthur Hull Hayes, Jr.

People often can control high blood pressure by cutting back on the amount of sodium they eat, Dr. Hayes points out. And people who take drugs for high blood pressure often do better when they also reduce their sodium.

$4 million sought for Ranching Heritage Center

LUBBOCK — More than 100 people gathered Monday at The Ranching Heritage Center to kick off a $4 million development program to provide a permanent fund for continued operation and growth of the unique, outdoor exhibit depicting the history of ranching in America.

The Anne Burnett and Charles Tandy Foundation in September announced a $1 million challenge gift to the development program, sponsored by the Endowment Fund for the Preservation of Ranching Heritage in America.

Mrs. B. F. (Anne W.) Phillips made the announcement of the challenge gift. She is a member of the governing board of the endowment. She also is the daughter of the late Anne Burnett Tandy and the great granddaughter of the pioneer rancher Burk Burnett. She is the heir to the historic 6666 and Triangle ranches, and she is a member of the Texas Tech Board of Regents.

The $4 million fund will be used for the Ranching Heritage Center on its 14-acre site at The Museum of Texas Tech University. John R. "Rich" Anderson, Gail rancher, is chairman of the Development Council, the Board of Overseers of the Ranching Heritage Association, and of the Board of Directors of the Endowment for the Preservation of Ranching in America.

"The successful development program," Anderson said, "will make possible a permanent fund to help provide for the operation, maintenance and administration of the present facilities as well as for continued expansion in the future."

Harold P. "Bo" Brown, president of the Ranching Heritage Association, which has supported development of the center, said that the development program will be conducted throughout Texas. The Nov. 2 kickoff will precede the Lubbock area campaign scheduled to begin Nov. 9. Similar events are scheduled later for Amarillo, Midland, San Antonio, Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston.

"Texas is where American ranching-Western style began," Anderson said

"and it is our belief that Texans will want to help assure the center's future as an important cultural force in the society, preserving for future generations an understanding of the vision, the spirit and the contributions made to our society by the ranching industry."

Antelopes literally 'give away' title shot

Frenship wins on 7 fumbles

Tim Tannehill will return to lineup

"Giving away" their "second chance" to win the 1981 district 4AAA grid crown, Coach David Thompson's Lopes fumbled the ball to Frenship seven times here Friday night as the Tigers took advantage of Post errors to ring up a 35 to 0 triumph.

The win, which turned into a rout in the final two minutes of play, gives former Post coach Bobby Davis's Tigers the inside track to the post-season playoff berth.

They need only to defeat either Cooper or Roosevelt to clinch the crown following a surprising week which saw both Tahoka and Slaton each forfeit two district games and thus virtually take themselves out of the district race.

The game should have been played 24 hours later on Halloween night, but for the Lopes it was spooky enough.

The forfeits set up the Post-Frenship clash as the "title game" for district honors, but the Lopes were never really in it though they scrapped hard for the full 48 minutes.

The first four times Post got the ball in the first period the Lopes handed it right over to the visitors inside their 30 yard line.

The Tigers took advantage of two of the opportunities to score touchdowns and take a 14-0 halftime lead.

In the third period, Frenship Quarterback Brent Davis broke away on a keeper to zigzag 63 yards through a broken field for the third Tiger tally.

That was all the scoring until with little more than two minutes left in the game End James Hitt picked off a Post pass into the flat and rambled 50 yards for the fourth td.

Frenship held Post after the kickoff and took the ball on the Post 25 as the Lopes "went for it" on fourth down and failed to make their yardage.

Wingback David Payne zipped around right end on the first Tiger play for 25 yards and the final Tiger touchdown.

Post's fifth fumble in the second period stopped the game's longest drive as the Lopes punched 72 yards to a first down on the Frenship four before Tailback Milton Williams lost the ball on a jarring tackle.

The Lopes only other scoring opportunity came when Davis fumbled when he was sacked for a big loss and Tackle Mario Luna covered the football on the Frenship 20.

The Tigers surrendered only one yard in four plays and took the ball back.

Although the Tigers had a 120 yard advantage over the Lopes rushing, they were unable to sustain a long drive during the game.

Quarterback Davis who lived in Post for six years rang up 137 yards for Frenship with his darting keepers in 15 carries.

Sophomore Williams had his best rushing night of the season for Post in his second starting assignment at tailback. He totaled 92 yards in 18 carries.

Wingback Will Kirkpatrick had 41 yards in nine rushes, quarterback Melvin Wynne five yards in six carries and fullback Richard Cisneros 14 in six.

The Lopes played for the first time without their regular quarterback Tim Tannehill who suffered a knee injury at Roosevelt which could keep him out of action for the remainder of the season.

The Lopes' rash of fumbles included four on kickoffs. Two kickoff hand-offs were lost and twice the visitors forced other fumbles, one on a low kick which bounced off a Lopes linesman the other on a short kick in the final minute of the game.

The first Frenship touchdown came with 7:24 left in the first. Wynne fumbled on Post's first scrimmage play on the Lopes' 22. Fullback Raymond Green scored from the one on the fifth play. Dave Melton missed the conversion kick.

Post fumbled a handoff on the kickoff and the ball went over to the Tigers again on the Post 21. The Lopes dug in and held for downs right there not giving up a yard.

Two plays later Cisneros was separated from the pigskin and Frenship was back in business on the Post 27.

The Lopes appeared to be holding for the second time before a 15 yard face mask penalty was called giving the Tiges a first down. Davis then passed 14 yards to Ronnie Nelms for the second touchdown. Davis ran a keeper for the two conversion points to make it 14-0.

Post again fumbled the kickoff handoff play, but Frenship fumbled the ball back to Post on its 22.

Starting on their own 24 in the second quarter, the Lopes moved 72 yards in 143 plays before losing the fifth fumble on the Frenship five. Williams got 56 yards on the drive including a 26-yard burst up the middle on a draw play to ignite it.

The wild cherry tree, "brother" to the fruit-bearing orchard cherries, is native to America. It's fruit is rarely tempting but it's wood is prized for making furniture of high sheen and polish.

JVs still unbeaten in district play

Highlighted by touchdown runs of 89 and 67 yards by Tailback Daniel Gonzales and Fullback Giles Dalby, the Post JVs rang up a 32 to 12 triumph over Frenship at Frenship last Thursday night.

The win brings the Jvs' record to 6-1 for the season with the club remaining undefeated at 3-0 in district play.

In the first period, Post drove 79 yards in 18 plays for their first touchdown with Wingback Felix Bustos scoring on a 14-yard run. Gonzales ran in the extra points. The drive consumed almost the entire first period.

At Frenship, 15 to 14—

Frosh lose first district game

The Post freshmen dropped a 15 to 14 decision to the Frenship frosh at Frenship last Thursday night after having a 60-yard pass interception return for a touchdown by Defensive End Chuck Morris called back on a clipping penalty on the final play of the first half.

Morris slapped the ball into the air, then caught it and raced into the end zone.

Frenship took a 7-0 lead in the second quarter on a 25-yard scoring pass and kicked the point after.

In the third period, Fullback Albert Nava topped a 65-yard Post drive with a 20-yard touchdown run. The extras failed.

Frenship got its other touchdown on a four-yard pass in the fourth period

In the second, Dalby's 67 yard touchdown gallop was the big play of a five-play 82-yard march. Gonzales again ran in the extras.

Frenship scored first in the third period on a 63-yard drive to make the score 16-6 for Post.

Opening the fourth, Gonzales broke loose on his 89-yard kickoff return to ice the win. Dalby ran in the conversion.

Frenship came back to drive 63 yards in 15 plays for their final tally.

Post wound it up with a 64-yard drive in three plays with Dalby scoring for 27 yards out for his second touchdown. Gonzales had the other big play in the drive with a 37-yard gainer.

Quarterback Robbie Williams passed to James Brown for the conversbn points.

Post ran up 363 yards rushing to 157 for Frenship. Dalby had 163 yards in a dozen carries to lead Post rushers. Gonzales also had a 100 yard night getting 115 in 19 tries. Bustos had 38 in four, L.D. Harper 30 in six, and Steve Fluitt 20 in six.

The JVs will entertain Cooper here tonight at 7 p.m. in their final home game of the season. They then will close out their schedule the following week at Slaton.

The freshmen will entertain Cooper here at 5:30 p.m. tonight in their final home game and then close the season next Thursday night at Slaton.

The first films with synchronized sound accompaniment, to be successfully shown to a paying audience, were presented at three temporary cinemas, during the Paris Exposition, between April 15 and October 31, 1900.

Quarterback Tim Tannehill is expected to be back in the starting lineup Friday night when the Lopes try to rebound from their "Frenship disaster" against the Cooper Pirates at Cooper.

Coach David Thompson reports Tannehill has been working out all week and should be ready to play although he was still limping slightly Tuesday.

Coach Thompson refused to comment on Post's 35 to 0 defeat by Frenship here

Friday night other than to say, "It was the worst we've played in the three years I've been here and I don't know why."

The loss virtually eliminated the Lopes from any district title hopes.

The Cooper Pirates play just about everybody tough the first half, Thompson reports, and "we're going to have to get after it if we want to win."

The Pirates run out of the I and also use split backs.

They're bigger than the Lopes, but all opponents this season have been.

Post is favored by 19 points in the Harris Rating system.

The Lopes dropped from 24th to 53rd in the Harris ratings this week following their big loss to Frenship and the Tigers moved up to No. 42.

8th graders win sixth in row

The Post eighth graders remained unbeaten last week, defeating Frenship 16 to 0 in Antelope Stadium last Thursday evening despite an attack by the flu bug which knocked two starting linesmen out of the game and weakened a tailback.

It was the sixth straight win for the team which needs only two more victories to complete an undefeated season.

Stevc Gomez started the Post scoring early when he returned a Frenship punt 62 yards for a touchdown. Quarterback Jay McCook ran in the two-point conversion.

Post got its other score in the second quarter when tailback Simon Salinas broke off tackle for 51 yards and six-points.

Tracy Price ran in the two points on another off tackle play.

Post had another scoring opportunity late in the first half but fumbled the ball away on Frenship's 12.

Salinas had 10 carries for 95 yards, Greg Adams four for 21, Price seven for 42, Gomez two for 13 and Kirkpatrick one for 13.

The Post defense held Frenship to a total of 92 yards, while Post's offense was picking up 174.

The eighth graders will play Cooper at Cooper tonight in the wrapup of a grid doublebill with a 77 p.m. kickoff.

Cotton farmers seeking delayed pricing strategy

COLLEGE STATION — Cotton, cotton everywhere — and what to do with it. That's the dilemma facing Texas cotton farmers.

"Because of this year's bumper cotton crop, cotton supplies are plentiful, the demand is weak and prices are below the cost of production," points out Dr. Carl Anderson, economist in cotton marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System.

Thus farmers are trying to decide what to do with this year's crop — sell now, hold and hope for a higher price, or try to work a delayed pricing strategy.

"Deciding when and at what price to sell is not easy," says Anderson. "However, developing a 'feel' for the market and following a good marketing program can pay off big."

"With a current depressed cotton market, many farmers are trying to decide whether to place cotton under the government loan program or to try a delayed pricing strategy such as the seller's call contract," notes the economist.

Under the government loan, cotton comes off the market and provides some cash flow for farmers. But it costs about a cent a pound per month to hold cotton in the loan program. Eventually, it has to move to market, so the loan program may not help market prices that much.

Under the seller's call contract, the farmer's price for cotton is tied to the futures market price, explains Anderson. This gives the farmer an opportunity to actually establish a price for his cotton after delivery. However, the farmer must be sure to understand contract terms and conditions.

Here's how it works. The farmer agrees with a broker or buyer to deliver his cotton and to transfer ownership at that time. In Texas, terms of most seller's call contracts for a cash advance to the farmer of an amount equal to the loan value at delivery time. Also, most contracts specify the loan value as a price floor.

"Once he delivers the cotton, the farmer has no further storage costs but he can participate in a market upswing," explains the economist. "The seller's call contract specifies that the farmer's price will be a certain number of points off a given futures month. The farmer decides the date for the price relationship to the futures contract month."

Anderson gives this example. Assume a farmer selects the March 1982 futures for his contract. If cotton in the March Strict Low Middling one and one-sixteenth inch futures contract is trading at 68 cents a pound and the farmer's current spot price is 58 cents for the same quality, his spot price is fixed 10 cents under the March futures contract if he signs a call contract. Thereafter, if the March futures goes up or down, the farmer's price will be 10 cents a pound less.

"A seller's call contract should allow for changing to a new contract month for a small fee," notes Anderson. "This allows the farmer to watch the market and sign the call contract when the difference between the futures price and spot price is relatively small. In other words, the smaller the difference between the two market prices, the better off the farmer is."

To use the seller's call contract wisely, a farmer must follow changes and reasons for changes in both the futures and spot markets, emphasizes the economist.

"The key point to remember is that the farmer benefits from the call contract when prices increase," notes Anderson. "However, the spot price must have been fixed under the call contract or there would be no price protection in a falling market."

While both the loan program and the call contract can benefit a farmer if market prices increase, carrying costs tied to the loan can be excessive, depending on the length of storage. On the other hand, the call contract offers immediate transfer of cotton and gives farmers more flexibility in a changing market, believes Anderson.

Q. What is government doing about metric conversion?

A. Most federal agencies have representatives on the Interagency Committee on Metric Policy and have established their own internal structures to consider metric conversion. The Department of Defense, for example, uses the metric system in some activities involving European Allies, as well as in procurement of some products from the private sector.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Those of you holding your breath waiting for the redistricting issue to be resolved can let the air out now—but be prepared to take a big gulp real soon.

The five-member Redistricting Board finished its work last Wednesday, remapping legislative districts for the Texas House and Senate, ending Act II of the reapportionment drama in the Lone Star State.

However, several officials predicted a legal challenge arising from the El Paso area will send at the least the House plan into federal court, where the congressional redistricting plan already lingers.

Many observers have predicted all along that all three of the redistricting tasks will eventually end up in court, where the lines will be drawn by a three-member panel of federal judges. If that becomes the case, it is quite possible that new district lines will not become valid until 1984 elections.

Nevertheless, the all-Democrat board staunchly went about its job last week, amid much political dealing.

In the end, the board voted for a House plan that regained probably seven seats from the jaws of the Republican party.

The Senate plan, too, was more Democratic, but no unusual pairings were drawn.

Clayton, White, Bullock
After Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby pushed through his Senate plan 4 to 1 over Comptroller Bob Bullock's plan, the Board turned to the House and the action began.

Time after time, the Board met in the Senate chamber only long enough to recess into the back rooms. As predicted by many all along, Atty. Gen. Mark White provided the swing vote which eventually passed a compromise House plan 4 to 1.

The Board accepted Speaker Bill Clayton's map for the rural areas of Texas, and took Bullock's plan for the urban House districts. Bullock couldn't take all the credit for deciding the metropolitan seats, however.

State Rep. Paul Colbert, a Houston freshman legislator, drew the Harris County plan; Speaker candidate Rep. Carlisle Smith of Dallas shaped the Dallas map; and Rep. Tommy Adkisson negotiated the San Antonio plan.

Bullock's plan for El Paso held up when the Board voted final approval, perhaps his only victory in the hardball remapping.

Bullock's Opposition
The week wasn't the best for the Comptroller, who came back from a California alcoholism clinic in time to vote on the Board. On the very day he was losing in the Senate, a former Travis County sheriff, Raymond Frank, announced he planned to run on the Republican ticket against Bullock.

Frank charged that Bullock couldn't manage his own personal finances, much less the state's tax office, and the ex-sheriff disclosed three court judgments in which Bullock has been ordered to pay on defaulted loans, totaling more than one million dollars.

White To Announce
Mark White, the man who played the middle perfectly in the redistricting action, is expected to announce sometime this month that he will run for governor. Already announced is Tyler State Sen. Peyton McKnight.

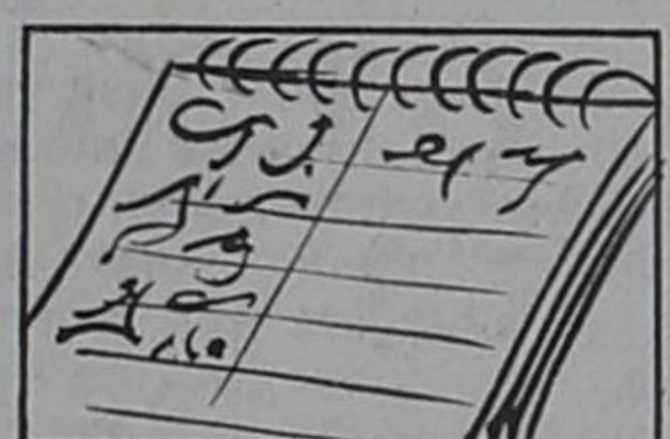

The pair might find a third Democrat in the fight for the privilege to run against Republican Gov. Bill Clements: outgoing Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong. Armstrong put off his intended announcement last week to sit on the Redistricting Board.

Although Armstrong was not the heavyweight on that panel, he has received considerable encouragement from Democrats who felt Mark White neglected them in his search for campaign backing.

White's vote appeared carefully designed to protect conservatives, even Republicans, and he sometimes confessed abhorrence to the thought that his plan might be considered "liberal." Still, on the final night he worked with a representative from organized labor, John Rogers, at his side constantly.

Yarbrough's Passport
Former Texas Supreme Court Justice Don Yarbrough, who avoided a prison term by fleeing to Granada, may be extradited to the United States. Yarbrough resigned from the Court in 1977 during an investigation of charges he lied to a grand jury and allegedly tried to set up the murder of a South Texas banker.

The former Justice is now unable to leave Granada, unless he returns to the United States, and he is considered to be living there illegally.

The first shorthand system known to the modern world was published by Dr. Timothy Bright, under the title "Characterie: The Art of Short, Swift and Secret Writing," London, 1588. Despite the author's claims to the contrary, it was as difficult to learn as would be a foreign language.

Outlook is dim for stocker cattle

COLLEGE STATION — There's little good news about stocker cattle enterprises this fall and winter.

"High costs relative to livestock prices offer a dim outlook for owning and grazing stocker calves," says Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System. "Such operations have experienced substantial losses the past two years."

"When venturing into the stocker cattle business, accurate cost and return estimates are crucial," notes Lovell. "Valid decisions in choosing the most profitable combination of calves and grass are dependent upon accurate production cost estimates and correct expectations of the future cash market prices for calves."

Estimating livestock and forage production costs is usually more accurate than anticipating stocker prices at shipping time next year, he adds.

Lovell offers this example to point out the limited-profit picture facing stocker cattle operators. A 425-pound calf would have to gain 250 pounds in 6 months on small grain pasture and sell for 75 cents a pound to reap a mere $6.06 profit. Either a lower selling price, a lower rate of gain or above-average expenses would bring a loss. (This example is based on a stocker purchase price of 68 cents a pound, 2 percent death loss, 16 percent interest rate and 1.25 acres of winger pasture costing $103 per acre.)

In the above example, a selling price of 67.5 cents a pound is needed to cover variable costs and a selling price of 74.1 cents to cover total costs.

Rather than the usual practice of grazing stockers until May or June, Lovell offers these options for stockmen to evaluate:

1. Graze wheat from fall through winter but remove calves early enough to harvest a grain or forage crop.
2. Pull calves off small grain in late winter and ship them at that time.
3. Shift calves from wheat to other pastures — oats and ryegrass or a grass-legume mixture.
4. Spread the price risk by considering multiple purchases of stocker calves or multiple marketings in the spring.

"Just how stocker operators deal with this year's dilemma will have a marked effect on the future of the traditional stocker cattle business," believes Lovell.

Weak market for cotton

High Plains cotton growers sold their earliest 1981 ginnings in a fairly weak market during the week ended October 29. Mixed lot of mostly grades 42 and 52, staples 31 and 32, mike 35-49 brought about 50.00 cents per pound according to Mack Bennett, Area Director at USDA's Marketing Services Office in Lubbock.

Earliest ginnings have been from fields treated with harvest-aid chemicals in an effort to beat the seasonally heavy traffic. Most growers are expected to delay harvest until after freezing temperatures provide a natural kill, Bennett said.

USDA's Marketing Services Office at Lubbock graded 6,400 samples during the week ended October 29. This brought this season's total to 6,900 and compares with 117,000 graded by the same date last year.

About 50 percent were grade 52 and 20 percent were grade 42. Below Grades accounted for 18 percent. About 46 percent were reduced one grade because of bark.

Staples were 35 percent staple 31, 35 percent 32 and 14 percent staple 33. Staples averaged 31.7 thirty-seconds of an inch under the week. Micronaire was 33 percent 35-49, 16 percent 33-34, 30 percent 30-32, 16 percent 27-29 and 4 percent 24-26 for an average of 33.

UIL suit is filed—

(Continued From Page One) must be obtained from at least two separate courses in order to be eligible to participate in football until their senior years. Both were juniors last year.

When the UIL office in Austin first notified Tahoka of its ineligible player last Tuesday, all other district schools were checked for similar cases and Slaton found its player at that time.

J. Weldon Bennett, Frenship superintendent, made the motion to rule the Tahoka and Slaton players ineligible. It was seconded by Harold Carpenter, Cooper superintendent. It carried unanimously.

Both of the players involved were special students.

Tahoka contends that federal guidelines make it impossible to flunk any special student and such students must be carried as passing no matter how great his disabilities to actually maintain a passing grade.

Slaton Superintendent J. C. McClesky told The Slaton Slatonite that "we called the UIL people before the season started to make sure we were clear on this particular rule...but our interpretation of their explanation was wrong."

The Dispatch understands that the UIL office refuses to go along with the federal guidelines on not flunking special students as far as eligibility is concerned.

From a UIL standpoint, it appears to this newspaper if all special students automatically remained eligible for sports and other UIL activities, it would be possible for any school to move students with failing grades into special student status and keep them playing. That could be a real "can of worms".

Each school forfeited two district games — Tahoka to Post and Frenship and Slaton to Frenship (a tie) and Cooper.

Thus the winner of the Post-Frenship game would represent the district in the playoffs providing the winner could later defeat last place Cooper.

The Dispatch had gone to press for the week at 11 a.m. Wednesday and was already in the process of being printed at the press plant in Slaton when the district's executive committee reached its unanimous decision.

Citizen plan—

(Continued From Page One) chants giving discounts on purchases to senior citizens who have to live on fixed and often small incomes, and formation of volunteer group to take care of little "Jobs" for the senior citizens like lighting furnaces, repairing this, and fixing something else.

The pastor of the First Christian Church told the club he had spent a day recently doing just this sort of thing for a number of his older church members and got the idea it might be organized into a much bigger and more beneficial program.

Rotary officers and directors wholeheartedly endorsed Pickett's plan in a short session following the club luncheon. Details will be worked out and announced soon and a name sought for the program.

Rotarians next week will be given the opportunity to sign up as volunteers. Senior citizens under Pickett's plan would call their requests for handy man help to the Algerita Senior Citizens Center who would turn them over to the civic club for action.

Pickett intends to work up a Senior Citizens Day later and also is working on a plan for discounts for senior citizens purchases from local merchants.

Postings—

Politics runs in the Dalby "family". For example the sister-in-law of State Rep. John Whitmire, who is the son-in-law of County Judge Giles Dalby, having married his daughter Becky, won her way into the runoff in Houston Tuesday in her effort to become the first woman mayor of Houston. She is Kathy Whitmire, who is the city comptroller and will face Sheriff Jack Heard in the runoff. With about 59 percent of the vote counted, Mrs. Whitmire had 62,001 votes or 37.1 percent and Sheriff Heard had 44,788 or 26.8 percent. Mayor Jim McConn seeking his third term was running fourth in a four-candidate field.

This will be the second of four service award dinners held throughout the company's territory.

Rosenbaum—

Survivors include his wife, Lois; two daughters, Geneva Foster of Cisco and Imogene Rosenbaum of Post; three granddaughters Diann Guthrie of Post, Paula Hair of Mineral Wells and Melba Cochran of Cisco; and 9 great grandchildren.

Pallbearers were J. C. Steel, Carter White, Noel White, Jo Ray Rosenbaum, Leon Clary and Larry Wayne Brown.

Lake fight—

(Continued From Page One) poses. We're upset because we can't find out anything, and because they haven't approached us to tell us anything. All we know is what we read in the Lubbock paper and we question some of those statements.

"There are going to have to be a lot of roads and highlines built into the area if the lake is built," she said. "That is going to take more land from us and other landowners. We don't have any idea how much. The acquiring of the dam site and lake site land will cut up a number of ranches into pieces. They may be hard to get to or to work."

The landowners also are stirred up because they think Lubbock is trying to avoid even a bond vote in Lubbock on the Justiceburg lake issue.

They think the $200 million bond issue would go down to defeat right in Lubbock and that's the reason Lubbock is trying to get the Brazos River Authority to undertake the financing.

They point out they shouldn't be forced to give up their land if Lubbock Citizens aren't even in favor of it.

The Dispatch learned the very obvious fact Tuesday that the folks who own the Justiceburg area land for the lake site are now fearful of the future and determined to fight together for their rights.

They have some fear too of the political power in Texas of a city the size of Lubbock.

District move—

Coach Thompson points out there will be no open dates in next year's grid slate as beginning in 1982 the top two teams in each district will qualify for post-season playoffs which means the playoffs will be extended to six rounds and will start a week earlier.

As for the problem of filling the open slot on the second weekend of the season, Coach Thompson says Colorado City, Denver City and Coahoma, all on the 1981 schedule and beaten by the Lopes, refuse to play Post.

"Andrews asked us for a game but I turned them down," Thompson said. "I've called every team within a hundred miles."

Thompson said he even offered to play AAAA teams such as Lamesa, Snyder, Levelland and Brownfield without success. Also AAA Kermit, Dimmitt, Sea-graves and Friona.

He said many teams named already had completed their schedules, others didn't want to play Post, or a mutual date couldn't be agreed upon.

Post and Slaton were moved into 3AAA to replace Abernathy and Tulia. Those two teams were moved to 2AAA to join Dimmitt, Friona, Littlefield and Muleshoe.

Denver City and Seminole were moved from District 6AAA to 4AAA to replace Post and Slaton. Cooper, Roosevelt, Tahoka and Frenship will remain in 4AAA.

District 6AAA will be composed of Ballinger, Coahoma, Colorado City, Crane, Ozona, and Sonora. District 5AAA will be Alpine, Canutillo, Fabens, and Kermit.

Coach Thompson said there would be no appeal of the new realignment here. "I don't mine playing any of the new district teams, but I don't like to travel so far as to Childress," he said. That's the only thing I don't like about it.

The UIL realigns schools into district every two years so the newly announced lineup will apply for the 1982 and 1983 seasons.

Magazine crew fined

A magazine crew, consisting of four girls, six boys, and one man were arrested Tuesday by the sheriff's department for door to door selling in violation of a city ordinance.

Each of the 11 paid fine in court costs totaling $56 in city court.

"Complaints were being called into the sheriff's department faster than our switchboard could handle them," Sheriff Jim Pippin said.

Gary Bob Bilbo was arrested Tuesday on an assault charge filed by his wife and was released on a $200 cash bond.

Henry Ray Samora of Lorraine, Tx., was charged Friday with possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages in a dry area and was released on a $112 cash bond.

Sheriff Pippin announced that Night Deputy Jim Doughty resigned last week and he is considering two applicants for the vacancy.
