

Calling all grandparents! Don't forget the Valentine grandparents' "brag pages" coming out next week with pictures of all those grandkids. We have to put a deadline on this earlier than we'd like to have time to get the negatives made off the pictures you bring in.

That deadline is noon Friday. That will give us the weekend for negative making and the first two days next week to put the "brag pages" together. The cost is $6 per picture, colored pictures are accepted and pictures will be returned undamaged. So, if you want to do a little "bragging" come on in.

Updating Post's cable TV situation! Stanley Whitefield of Idalou, manager of High Plains Cablevision, was in the Dispatch Tuesday to report his firm now has an answering service here to receive complaints. It's 495-3783. The firm's number in Idalou is toll free too (1-800-692-4455) so write them in the back of your phone book.

Whitefield also reported that the "strand map" for the brand new cable system has been received here and will be checked out within the next few days. Then the map will go off to a designer who will determine the number of amplifiers needed as well as other equipment.

He reported that a semi-trailer truckload of TV cable is now enroute here from Atlanta, Ga., and should be arriving soon. Ordered were 126,000 feet of feeder cable and 25,000 feet of larger trunk cable.

So keep reporting your cable problems and try to be patient. A whole new cable system will be going in here before too long.

John Montford, Lubbock county's criminal attorney who has been bearing down on crime up there the last two years, doesn't look like the hard-nosed prosecutor we had pictured him to be in our mind's eye.

He visited Post last Wednesday afternoon in the interest of his campaign to unseat State Senator E. L. Short and move the second phase of his own political career into the Texas Legislature at Austin.

John told us he believes in hard work and he would work just as hard in the upcoming political campaign as he has as the Lubbock prosecutor. At least one poll showed him running ahead of Short something like 56 to 27 percent, but John says the vote that counts won't come until the Democratic primary in May.

On first impressions, we would say John Montford is going to be a tough candidate to beat.

Davies rites here Friday

Funeral services for Georgia Nell Davies, 66, of Post will be held at 3:30 p.m. Friday in the Post Church of Christ with Harold McSweeney, local minister, and John White of Lubbock officiating.

Burial will be in Terrace Cemetery under direction of the Justice-Mason Funeral Home.

Mrs. Davies died Tuesday morning in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock following a lengthy illness.

She was born here and lived all her life in this community. She was married to Garland Davies March 10, 1935. He died Sept. 9, 1980.

Mrs. Davies was a Sunday school teacher, had worked at Twin Cedars Nursing Home, was a charter member of the Pink Ladies, the hospital auxiliary, worked with the Girl Scouts, helped organize the hospital's Candy Strippers, was a member of the Post Church of Christ, and was a (See Davies rites, Page 14)

4th contest added for Demo primary

One other contest was added to the Garza Democratic Primary before Monday's filing deadline with the entry of Cecil Foster, Jr., into the race for county commissioner of precinct 2. He will oppose incumbent Ted L. Aten.

That brings the total contests on the upcoming ballot to four, the others being the precinct 4 county commissioners race in which Robert (Pete) Hays will oppose incumbent Hubert Walls and the two justice of the peace positions.

In JP precinct one Shelia Melton opposes incumbent Zora Robinson and in JP No. 4 Dee Justice challenges incumbent Pat Kitchens. Two other filings unreported last week were Lonnie Gene Peel for constable of precinct 1 and Cecil Foster Sr. for constable of precinct 4.

Peel resigned Monday noon as a Garza deputy and filed for constable after his resignation.

Peel told The Dispatch his resignation from the sheriff's force was made with no hard feelings on either side and that he continues to fully support present law enforcement in Garza County. Peel said his resignation as a deputy was due to "personal and family reasons."

The county at present has no constables, the pay for which is now listed at $1 per year.

The county has no races for the nominations to the three county offices appearing on the ballot.

County Judge Giles Dalby is unopposed for a new four-year term to the office he first won in 1968.

Carl Cederholm is unopposed for county and district clerk, and Voda Beth Gradine is unopposed for county treasurer.

The Democratic primary will be held May 1. As for any Republican filings for county or precinct offices, The Dispatch knows of none. In fact, the newspaper is not sure Garza County officially has a Republican county chairman. If so, his name is not currently on file with the county clerk.

Democratic Chairman Dick Tanner told The Dispatch Tuesday he has been notified that the filing deadlines for Texas Legislative seats and for certain congressional and state board of education districts have been extended due to a court fight unresolved on legislative and other voting districts.

Water hearing delayed again

Justiceburg residents opposing the location of a reservoir in their area to supply Lubbock's water needs have won a second postponement of a water rights hearing in Austin before the Texas Water Commission.

Originally, the hearing was scheduled for December. Then it was postponed until Feb. 8 to give opponents of the project additional time for preparation for the hearing.

A new hearing date will be set by the commission next Tuesday, Feb. 9. Both sides will meet at that time in Austin with TWC examiner who will set a new hearing date.

Lubbock Water Utilities Director Sam Wahl said last week the new delay is a result of opponents to the project, mostly property owners near the affected area, asking for various time delays.

The examiner will decide Feb. 9 whether any requests are valid enough for a major delay.

Water rights for the Post lake, which would be combined with the Justiceburg reservoir as Lubbock's third major water source, already have been obtained by the White River Water District.

These two reservoirs are planned to handle Lubbock's anticipated water need growth through the year 2020.

The project already is a year behind schedule and needs to be completed by 1986 in order to meet Lubbock's water demands, according to a 1979 consultant's report.

The estimated cost of the project was $109 million in 1979, but such construction costs have been escalating at an average of one percent each month. That means the cost would climb to about $200 million of the project were begun in 1984.

For benefit of Easter Seals — $1,506 raised in cage shootout

A group of 17 Post sixth and seventh graders completed the recent Easter Seals Basketball Shootout here by raising $1,506.40 for the Easter Seals charity, Coach Darrell Radle has announced.

The students knocked on doors around town to get pledges for donations for every basket they shot in a three minute period.

Tammi Braddock was first, raising $246.30, followed by Curtis Williams with $222.75, Angela Reeves with $142, Michael McLain with $127.20, Eric Reece with $115.55, and Daryl Foster with $101.80.

Others included Wade Bridgeman $93.75, Laura Crenshaw $88.25, Bonnie Ford $25, Donna Sturdivant $9, Shellee Curry $19.80, Debbie Ethridge $50.50, Gary Reese $15, Nancy Wilson $76.40, Rita Lappen $67, Rolly Holly $34.40, and Glenn Hardin $71.70.

Easter Seal officials in Lubbock were quite impressed with the size of the donations raised by the Post Basketball Shootout, Coach Radle said.

Record wait for winner

Ripley might have been interested in this if he were alive today for his believe-it-or-not feature.

The whole month of January has passed and The Dispatch has yet to get a winner in its 1982 First Baby Contest.

Several infants have been born at the hospital during the past month but none met all the qualifications for winning the contest.

Anyway, it's taken some time in some past years, but never a whole month.

Diamond Jubilee is set for July 4th

Post's Fourth of July celebration this year will be expanded into a huge three-day affair commemorating the 75th birthday of Post.

That decision came last weekend in a "diamond jubilee committee" session Thursday morning followed by a luncheon session of Post Chamber directors Friday noon.

The Thursday morning committee session cleared up one long-standing misconception. That misconception was that the committee the city named last year with Maxine Earl and Donald Windham as co-chairman was to plan the city's 75th birthday celebration.

Actually that committee was named to head the local observance of the state's 200th birthday, a few years farther down the pike.

With this misconception cleared up, the Post Chamber of Commerce took on the job of overseeing the city's diamond jubilee.

Charles Hardin, Chamber president, and Curtis Hudman, the Chamber's president-elect, attended the Thursday committee session. They then called a Chamber directors meeting Friday and that civic organization responded by taking the principal direction of the birthday celebration.

Nailed down at the Thursday committee meeting was booking the Post Stampede Rodeo Grounds for the Fourth of July weekend. Jay Hart, president of the Post Stampede Rodeo, and Tommy Young, its secretary-treasurer, sat in on this committee meeting.

Modern 'mountain men' not bothered by snow

Some Saturday snow didn't dampen the spirits of the second annual "mountain men gathering" at Will's Crook on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos near Justiceburg last weekend.

Some 45 turned out for the buckskin and black powder event at the invitation of Riley Miller of Justiceburg who launched the event in 1981 after attending other larger "mountain men" gatherings in New Mexico and Colorado.

This is not a spectator event, but one for those who retain the venturesome spirit of the mountain men but came along a century too late to be part of it in

The Fourth of July will fall on Sunday this year, which would give an ideal mid-summer holiday weekend for the Diamond Jubilee.

Chamber officers pointed out that combining the two dates would give the Chamber only one big celebration to sponsor whereas if (See Jubilee, Page 14) real life. "Such gatherings are really a big thing throughout the Rocky Mountains," Miller told The Dispatch Tuesday.

H & H Fur Company had a representative at the gathering to purchase furs from modern trappers who attended. Several checks of several hundred dollars were written for the fur purchases, according to Miller.

Riley said a lot of good black powder musket shooters were on hand, but he was too busy to watch the shoot off and doesn't know who won it.

A lot of trading went on in knives, guns, blankets, and so forth with residents of Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, as well as Texas attending together with some from the Cheyenne River Indian Reservation.

At the end of the fur season a century ago, mountain men would gather together after long periods of solitude to have a good time.

That's what the gathering near Justiceburg last week-end represented. The event began on Friday with camp broken Sunday morning.

All the food was cooked over open fires.

The site was in a cozy ravine, a quarter mile away from the nearest driving point.

The 1982 Garza County Junior Livestock Show and Fair will be held Feb. 25, 26, and 27 at the stock barn and fair building on North US-84.

All the events will begin with the weighing-in of the show animals from four until nine p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 24. Entry deadline for the animals is Feb. 15, 1982 at 5 p.m.

Entries for the fair will be taken from 8:30 a.m. until noon on Thursday morning. The association's second rabbit show will be Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. A larger number of Three positions will be filled on the school board, three on the city council, and two on the hospital board.

Candidates file for numbered school positions. Open this year are positions 1, presently occupied by Dr. Charles McCook; position two, occupied by Mrs. Juanelle Hays; and position three, now filled by Jack Lott, current board president.

The school board election is for three-year terms. Three city councilmen will be named in the city election. Present incumbents are Jim Jackson, Jim Wells, and Jack Alexander. These are for two-year terms.

In the city balloting, as in the hospital district voting, the candidates with the most votes are elected. Filing is not done by positions.

Those with two-year terms ending on the hospital board are Wayne Childers and Ignacio Varela.

The filing deadline for school and city candidates is Wednesday, March 3. Filing deadline for the hospital board is March 9. Absentee voting is scheduled to get under way March 15.

District Judge George H. Hansard has announced that he will seek re-election to the state bench he now occupies.

Hansard, who presides over the 106th Judicial District Court, sits as District Judge in Dawson, Gaines, Garza and Lynn Counties.

Looking to 1984

It was reported out of Washington last week that President Reagan has given the nod to Dallas as his choice for the 1984 Republican convention.

Governor Bill Clements has been pressing hard for this announcement.

Bringing the convention to Dallas and the Southwest will be significant politically in dousing Texas and the sunbelt with a lot of Republicanism.

It would encourage the party's growth in not only the Lone Star state but in many neighboring states.

Although Democrats may not generally agree, a sound two party system is good for everybody politically. It gives the voters choices. It also keeps the parties on their toes and working hard for voters' real interests.

A Republican convention in Dallas also would bring into Texas a lot of national figures who would get a first hand look at the dynamic Southwest. It would help "educate" them on what Texas and the Southwest really is and would dispel some of "the crazy stories" about us they undoubtedly have heard and change the concepts they hold of us.

That, my friends, would help us a whole lot while they are dumping a few million bucks into the Texas economy.

We congratulate Ronnie on his choice.

Educational challenge

The next "big push" in Texas education must come in vocational education at all levels.

Even in these days of mounting unemployment levels, the needs for basic training in a wide variety of blue collar skills have grown critical.

The health care industry is a prime example. Where does one turn for new employes in the fields of electronics, welding, automotive mechanics, machine shop ability?

The economic future is bright for new workers in all these fields, and many more.

Some of the smaller colleges, South Plains College is a good example, have gone in strong for vocational training. The state of Texas has its own technical training institute with several campuses. They are all full and need rapid expansion.

One of the problems in expanding vocational training is that parents and students traditionally look forward to a four-year liberal arts program in college which doesn't specifically train students for any occupation.

Vocational education generally is viewed as "inferior."

Changing this public concept of vocational education is a challenge which must be faced.

Liberal arts education is growing so expensive these days one can question its actual worth for half the students on college and university campuses today.

While the small, close-to-home college approach is the best economic answer, maybe the solution must eventually be found by moving vocational education onto the major campuses of the nation.

Turning it around

The new federalism proposed by President Reagan won't be a political happening this week, this month, or even this year.

Such a dramatic turn-around in the growth of the federal government after 50 busy years of expanding all kinds of social programs isn't something politicians will touch even lightly in the election year of 1982.

The administration itself has only the bare outlines of Reagan's plan to return control of these programs to the states. The practical details have yet to be ironed out, much less written down.

But Reagan has put it on the national "back-burner" as he promised in his presidential campaign. It faces a long, long road ahead, but the idea is now out on the stove.

The first public reaction, according to one of the major polls last week, was that the President had strong support for this new federalism.

The record on social programs is that once initiated they virtually pass out of governmental control. The food stamp program is one of the latest examples.

It grew so fast it was almost beyond belief. We would estimate that a third or more of the population of Post is eligible for food stamps under federal "poverty guidelines." Poverty here is quite different though than say for example in New York City.

Looking down the road to the adoption of at least some of Reagan's new federalism, once the federal trust fund for financing these programs under state control is exhausted, then either some of the programs will end or the states will assume the financial responsibility for them.

At that point, the social programs will be closely scrutinized for their worthiness and those without real social value will be chopped off.

We hope President Reagan has the staying power and is given the support to see it through.

Drug traffickers are robbing our kids of their future. Over 17,000 Texas high school seniors are daily drug users... an alarming statistic that merely scratches the surface.

Kids from age twelve to seventeen are the victims.

Their innocence earns these criminals easy money. Now is the time to shut down this business in Texas.

It won't be easy. Dealers are just the bottom of the drug dealing pyramid. These pushers get their drugs from the kingpins... those at the top of the network...the drug traffickers.

Drug dealing to minors is a hideous crime and those criminals must be stopped. A joint effort by law enforcement and concerned citizens is necessary in declaring war on drug traffickers.

There are no absolute answers but a major step has been taken. Governor William P. Clements and the Texas Legislature have created a statewide anti-crime hotline through the Crime Stoppers Advisory Council. This hotline is designed to aid law enforcement in a crackdown on drug traffickers.

For the month of February, the Crime Stoppers Advisory Council is focusing its statewide "Crime of the Month" on drug trafficking. Any citizen having information about major drug trafficking is asked to call the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council at 1-800-252-TIPS. Cash rewards are available for information leading to the arrest and indictment of criminals. Citizens do not have to reveal their names, just their information, and they will be given a unique code number for identification purposes.

Vows said here Saturday evening

Tina Ann Rogers and Robert Glenn Smith were united in a double ring ceremony, Saturday at 7 p.m. in the First Baptist Church with Steve McMeans, associate pastor, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rogers, Jr. of Post, and Mrs. Cieta Smith and Bob C. Smith, both of Big Spring.

The ceremony was read before two wicker baskets of assorted mums, gladiolas, and carnations with the altar rails covered in greenery and lighted with crystal globes. The pews were marked with candlelight bows.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a tea length gown featuring a square neckline and long bishop sleeves with a scalloped hemline. The fabric was candlelight crepe with all-over embroidery in white. The bride wore a picture hat layered with bridal tulle and a ruffle of the fabric from the dress. The crown was covered with embroidered motifs also from the dress fabric. She carried a bouquet of silk flowers in apricot and candlelight white with candlelight ribbon streamers, tiger lillies in apricot and white stephanatis.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Randy Melton, cousin of the bride. She wore an apricot crepe sheer gown over satin fashioned after the bride's dress, also tea length. She carried silk flowers in a natural wicker basket in apricot and white with candlelight ribbon, white daisies and apricot tiger lilies and greenery.

Michael Perez of Lubbock served as best man. Randy Melton of Post and Chris Smith, brother of the groom of Big Spring, served as ushers.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Glenn Norman, organist, and Mrs. Mike Flanagan, pianist, accompanying Phil Alford, music minister of the church, soloist.

A reception followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Guests were registered by Miss Tandi Rogers, sister of the bride, at a table featuring the bride's book, and a crystal globe surrounded in greenery. The bride's table featured candlelight lace and a centerpiece of two crystal globes and the bridesmaids' flowers. The three tiered wedding cake was candlelight with wedding bells featured on the top layer.

Serving in the wedding party were Mrs. Dennis McDonald, Mrs. Dan Hodges, Miss Patty McCowen, Mrs. Jerry Haire, Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey, Mrs. Clarence Gunn, Mrs. Wade Peppers, Mrs. Margie Harper, Mrs. Curtis Williams, and Mrs. Virgil Bilbo.

The bride is a 1980 graduate of Post High School and attended Angelo State University. The groom is a 1978 graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Texas Tech University.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 211 Gaston, Apt. 19, Crane, Texas.

Senior Citizens News

Senior Citizens of Garza County, if you have not been to our center, you are really missing something. We have games of different kinds, plus good fellowship with your friends and neighbors. We have games of 80, 88, Skip Bo, Bridge and if you like, pool, plus watching TV every day. Also we have exercises each morning at 9 a.m. This is also very good for you.

We have some folks who just drop by for a good cup of coffee and visit with their friends. We serve delicious meals five days a week, so if you are 55 plus, come join us. The suggested price is $1.50 and $2.00 if you are under this age. So bring a guest with you and come join us.

The Close City Home Demonstration club meets two times a month at our center.

We have bus service for our senior citizens every day, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the afternoon. It goes to Lubbock on Tuesdays of each week and it is yours to use.

We also offer blood pressure four times a month, and some of our people are getting mixed up on these dates. So write them on your calendar every first and fourth Tuesday, and every first and third Thursdays. Also the hearing aid service is offered twice a month and we will let you know later what date they will be here.

Our Senior choir sang at the local Church of God of Prophecy this past Sunday at their monthly singing.

There was a group of ladies from the local nursing home who enjoyed a ride this past Friday evening in our bus. They sure did enjoy this outing. It was the first time some of them had been out in a very long time.

We want to remember our sick and bereaved ones in our prayers each day.

We have had several out of town visitors this past month and we look forward to your visits any time you can be here.

Our piano player, for our choir, has been in the hospital, but we are fortunate to have Mrs. Edwards to fill in for her. Bea Dodson is our regular piano player, hope she will be back before long.

Due to bad weather we had to postpone our musical this past month hopefully, we will be able to have it this month.

Thanks Nannie Keeton for the plant.

Joan really enjoyed driving the bus for our Senior Citizens this past week while Roy was on vacation.

Income tax aid tapes at library

Now you can save money by doing your tax forms yourself with the help of Federal income tax instructions on cassette tapes, available at the Post Public Library.

The tapes, provided by the IRS, contain step-by-step guidelines for the preparation of IRS Forms 1040 and 1040, as well as instructions for completing Schedules A and B, the two schedules most commonly used with the 1040. Taxpayers report itemized deductions and income from interest and dividends on these schedules.

On Sunday, both churches will have their own Sunday School and Youth emphasis worship services. Then at 7 p.m. Sunday evening the weekend will climax with a joint service at the Post Community Center. This service will feature a presentation of the musical "Hello Paul" by the youth choirs of the two churches.

QUALITY ENTERTAINMENT BEGINS WITH A DEMAND FOR IT

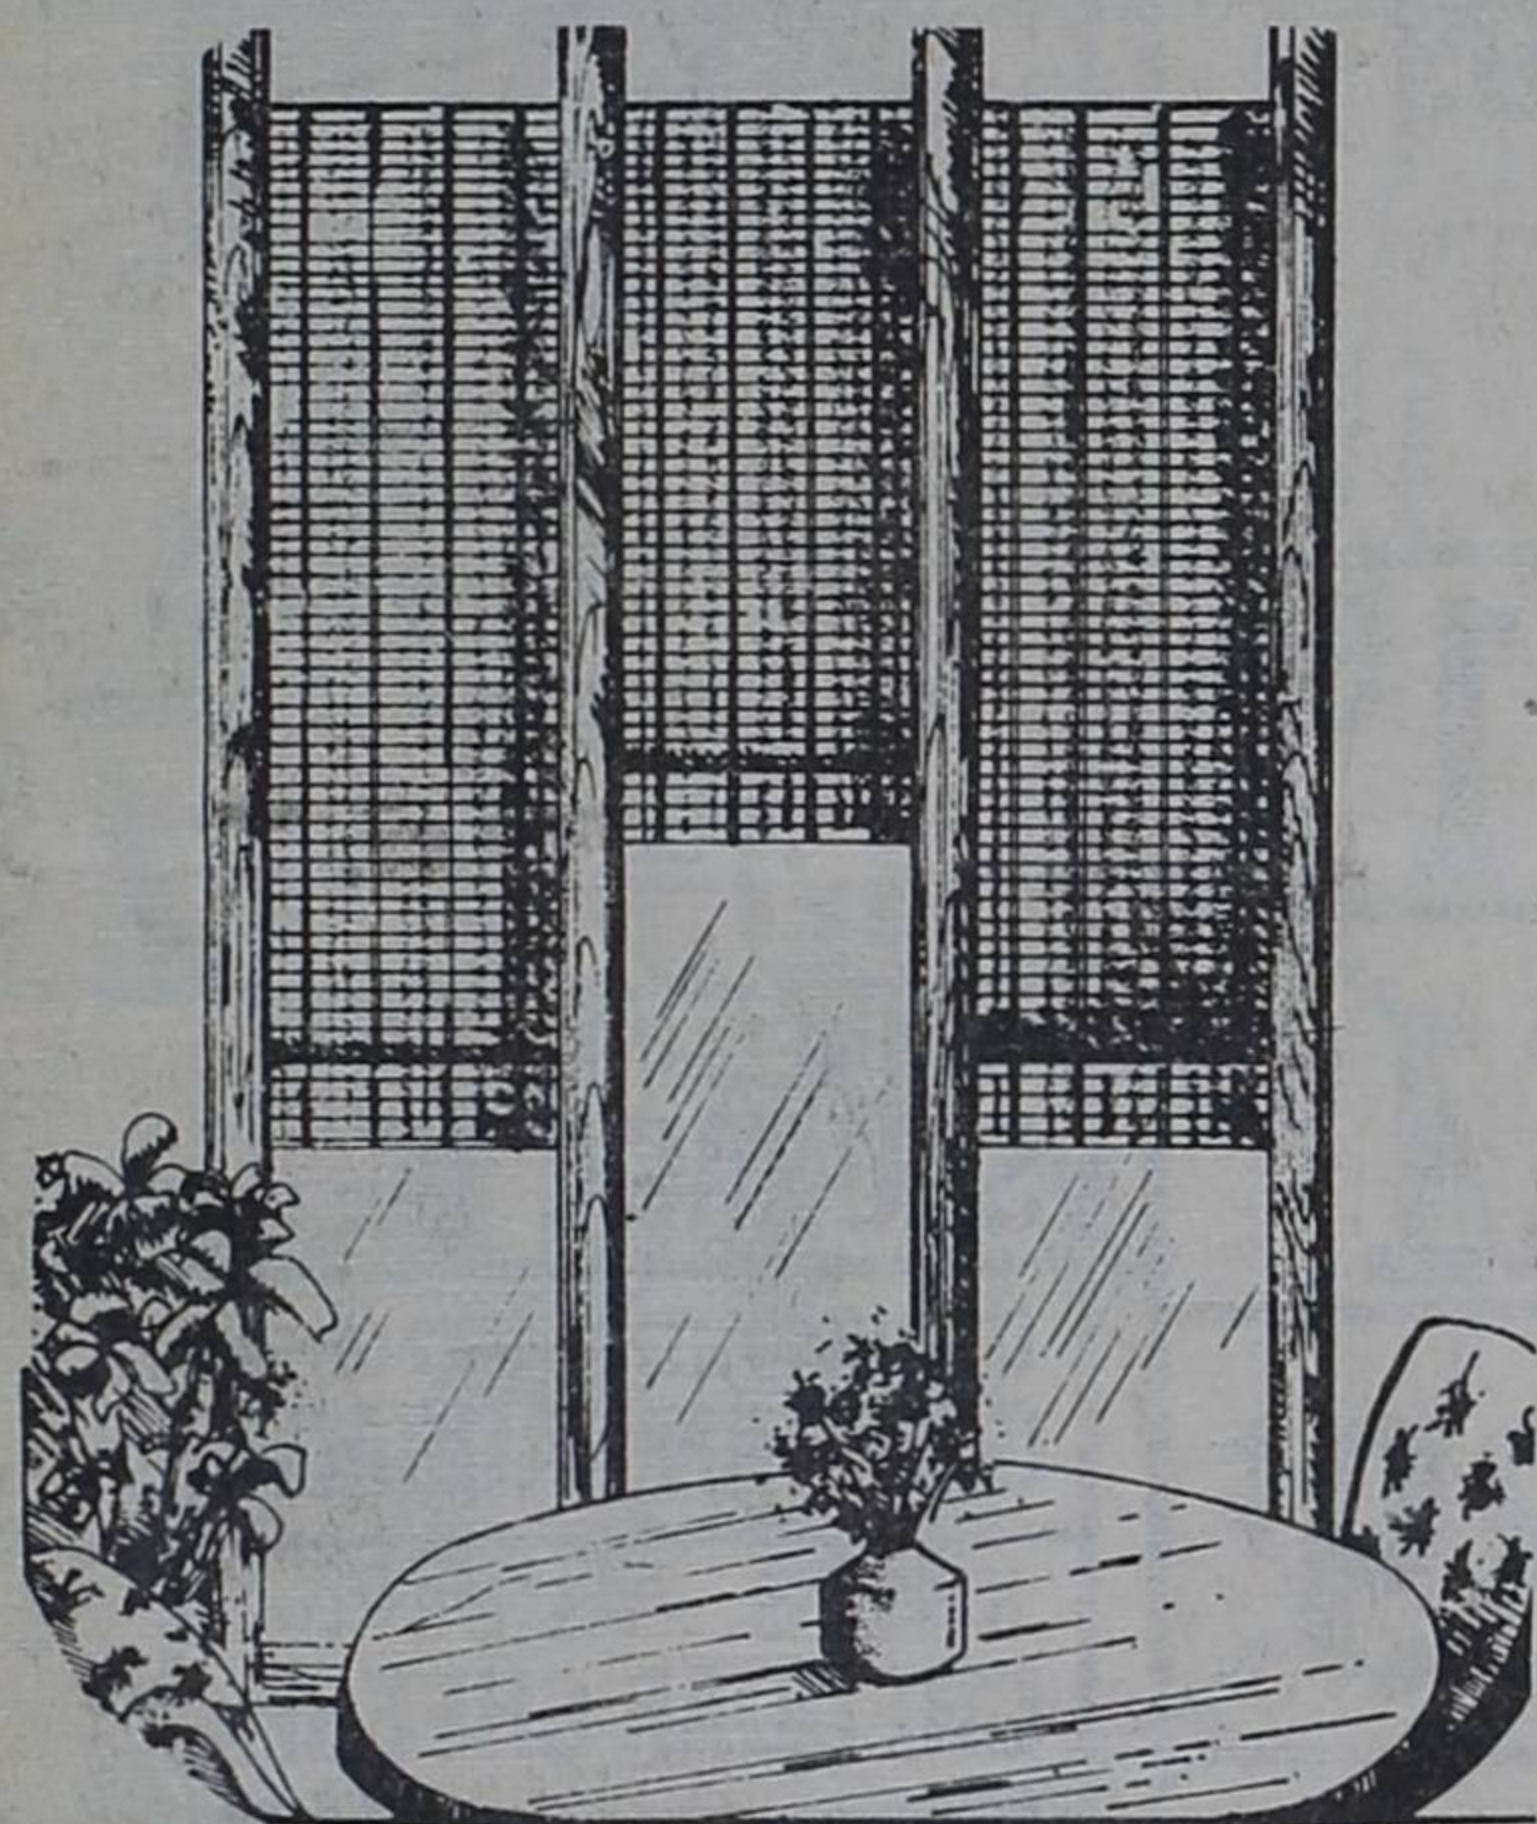

We need religion for religion's sake, morality for morality's sake, art for art's sake.
— Victor Cousin

"Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity."
— Habakkuk 1:13

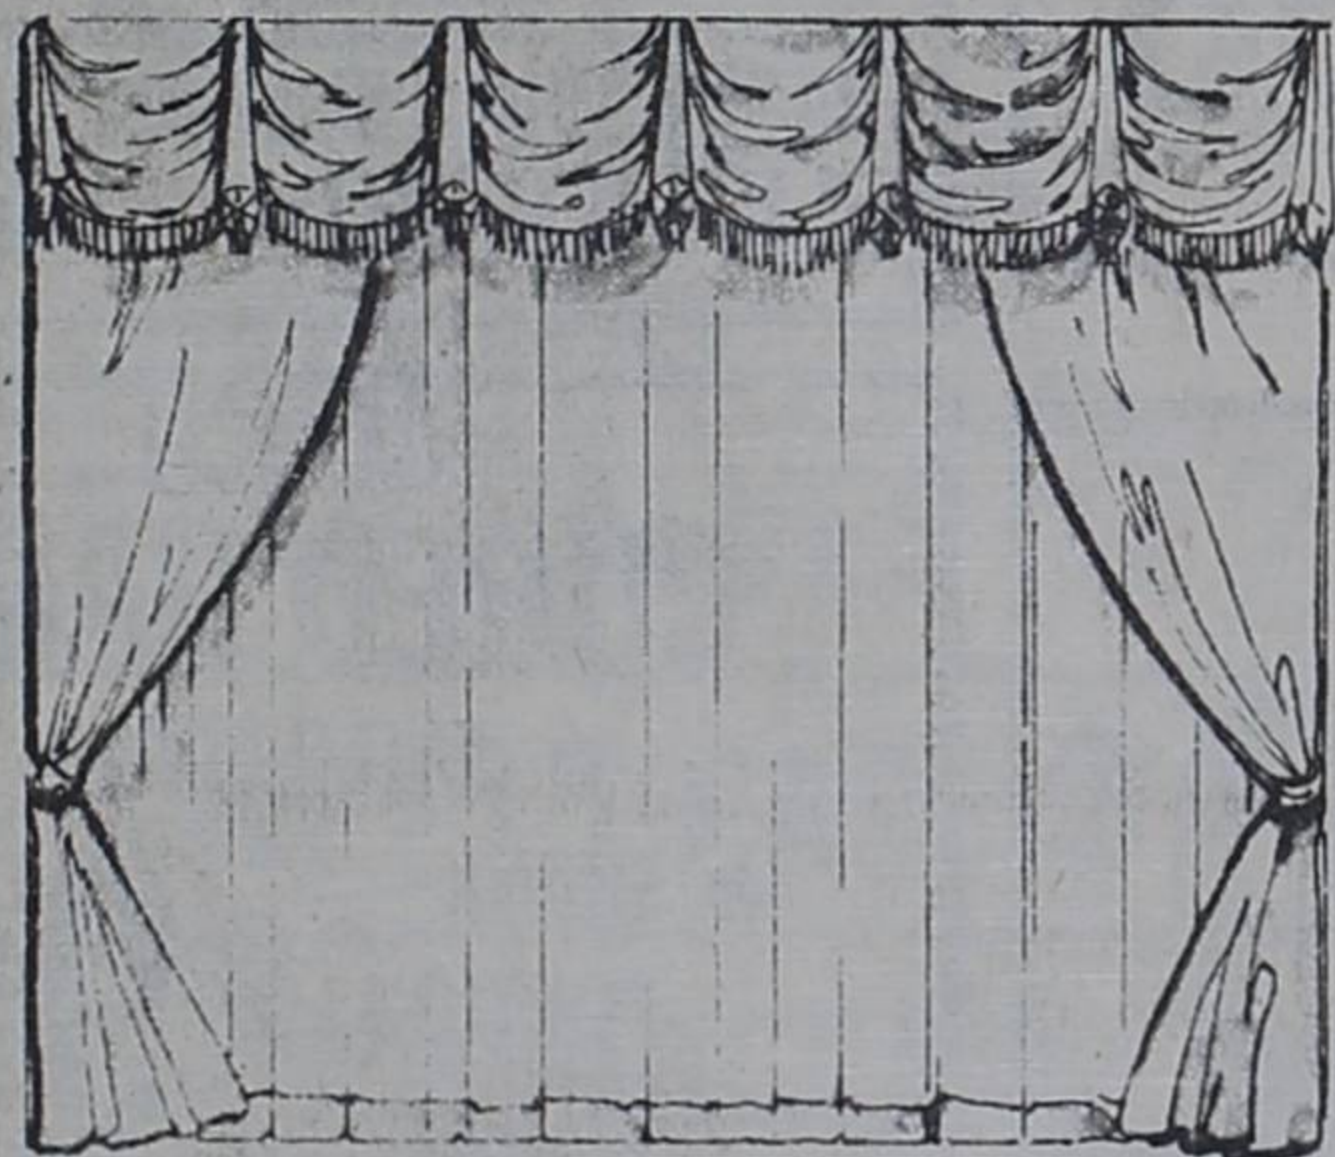

The battle over immorality on television continues to rage, and the problem of what to do about it remains unsolved. Of course, when we encounter a program that we find offensive, we can protest to the station and the sponsors. This is our right as citizens of a free land, along with the options of changing the channel or turning off the set. However, there is also a more constructive long-range solution: to give our children the proper training in the home and the Sunday school, and to persuade everyone we know to keep religion in their lives. People have a right to see whatever they want, and a widespread resurgence of faith and wholesome thinking should provide at least a reasonable choice among the types of home entertainment available for you and your family.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Observers of the Texas political scene got a surprise this week when House Speaker Bill Clayton announced that he would not be a candidate for state-wide office in 1982. Clayton's announcement was all the more surprising because the Springlake Democrat already had told supporters at a December fundraiser that he definitely would enter the race for land commissioner. The four-term speaker already had collected some $300,000 in contributions to make that race. Clayton, a 20-year veteran of the Texas House, said he decided to bow out of the race to take advantage of a "unique business opportunity" involving his West Texas farming operations. Clayton acknowledged that his legal troubles in the Brillab case had "some negative factor," but he denied that Brillab influenced his decision not to run. But don't count Clayton out of the political scene altogether. Clayton said he's going to hang on to the $300,000, and some observers already are speculating that Clayton might put the money to use in a 1984 congressional race or a bid for governor in 1986.

Oilfield Thefts
Oil industry officials announced this week that theft of oilfield equipment has gotten so bad that they are forming a special panel to combat the problem. Officials of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association called a news conference to announce the creation of the Petroleum Industry Security Council. Oil and gas producers have estimated losses from oilfield thefts amounts to some $100 million annually. TIPRO President L. Frank Pitts said the new council's first efforts will include establishment of a statewide hotline to receive tips on thefts, conducting seminars on how to reduce "in-house" thefts and creating a standard system of marking oilfield equipment. The new organization is a cooperative effort between TIPRO and several other oil and gas industry groups. The oilfield theft problem was an issue during the 1981 legislative session, and a bill was passed increasing the penalties for such thefts.

Pine Trees
Gov. Clements took time out from running the state to join St. Regis Paper Co. and Texas Reforestation Foundation officials in planting eight East Texas pine trees on the Capitol lawn. The trees, a strain of fast-growing and drought-resistant pines, were planted near the north entrance of the Capitol Building to call attention to the economic importance of pine trees in the Texas economy. Harvesting and processing of timber generated more than 52,000 jobs and $550 million in payrolls in 1980. East Texas pine trees have never been successfully grown on the Capitol grounds in the past because of adverse growing conditions in the Austin area. However, St. Regis officials say special handling of the trees and the surrounding soil should insure survival.

VISIT IN CANYON
Lucille Windham visited her aunt, Mrs. Mell Pearce, and cousin, Mrs. Vivian Garner, in Canyon recently. Mrs. Pearce is able to be up in her wheel chair for short periods of time now. Mrs. Windham was accompanied to Canyon by her daughter, Sonjia Sue Smithey, and granddaughter Reitha, and her mother Mrs. W. W. Stevens.

Redistricting Plan
The U.S. Justice Department's decision to throw out the Texas House and Senate redistricting plans on grounds that they violate the federal Voting Rights Act brought immediate response from the state's Democratic and Republican leaders, with both sides claiming partisanship in the motives of the others. GOP Gov. Clements was quick to call on Attorney General Mark White to give up his defense of the plan and to let a three-judge federal court panel draw the new district lines. Clements charged that White had a "clear cut conflict of interest" in the matter because he was on the panel of five Democratic officeholders that adopted the plans. White has asked the three-judge panel currently hearing lawsuits against the plans to uphold the district lines, but Clements says that would throw the matter back to the Justice Department.

Meanwhile, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and other Democrats charged that the Justice Department's decision was based on political considerations and aimed at increasing GOP ranks in the Legislature. The Feb. 1 filing deadline for those legislative races may have to be postponed because of the ruling. The filing deadline for 16 congressional district races already has been pushed back.

Election Study
A report commissioned by Secretary of State David Dean has determined that November's election on constitutional amendments cost $3 per vote. The election cost $2.5 million to conduct, but only 12.2 percent of the state's 6.6 million registered voters went to the polls. The report, conducted under the supervision of University of Texas marketing professor Robert Peterson, also concluded that voting patterns on Proposition 4, the water fund amendment, followed regional lines. Those in West Texas, who perceived the amendment as benefiting them, voted heavily for it. East Texas resi-

Frank Pitts said the new council's first efforts will include establishment of a statewide hotline to receive tips on thefts, conducting seminars on how to reduce "in-house" thefts and creating a standard system of marking oilfield equipment. The new organization is a cooperative effort between TIPRO and several other oil and gas industry groups. The oilfield theft problem was an issue during the 1981 legislative session, and a bill was passed increasing the penalties for such thefts.

Lopes challenge Tigers for crown here

3 Post teams thump Eagles

Coach Dwayne Osborne's Post Lopes host the Slaton Tigers here Friday night and need a victory to challenge the visitors for the district cage crown.

Slaton, unbeaten in district play, handed the Lopes their only district loss when the two clubs tangled at Slaton in January, 68 to 49.

The Lopes, however, have constantly improved their defense which sparked here Tuesday night as the Lopes hammered the Roosevelt Eagles 64 to 37, committing only six fouls in the process.

Coach Sonja Curry's young Lady Lopes are looking forward to their game here with the Slaton girls, though the visitors aren't so unbeatable this season as they have been in winning the district cage crown and state honors year after year.

The Lady Lopes warmed up for the Tigerettes with a 67 to 39 triumph over the Roosevelt girls Tuesday night here. Slaton beat the Lady Lopes in January at Slaton 50 to 42, but the local youngsters are more experienced as a team now.

The Slaton confrontation will be a four-game set with the boys and girls junior varsities playing the first two games. The girls will open the "big night" at 4 p.m.

After the Slaton contest, the varsities will hit the road for the final game in district play, playing Tahoka at Tahoka Tuesday night before finishing their seasons with home games against Cooper and Frenship.

The Lopes against Roosevelt Tuesday night jumped into a 14-6 first period lead over the Eagles and were never headed as they added a 24-point second quarter, one of their best of the season, to reach halftime intermission with a 38 to 16 advantage.

Post had three players in double figures.

Irvin Price had a "hot night" with 11 fielders for 22 points to lead the scoring parade. Bill Black added 14 and Will Kirkpatrick 10.

Melvin Wynne added seven, James Lee six, Milton Williams four, and Jerry Hawkins one.

The Lady Lopes with four players in double figures and eight of nine in the scoring column displayed a consistant attack as their four quarter totals were 16, 18, 17, and 16.

The girls went to the front early and stayed there without a real challenge.

Jean Price led the way with 19 points, followed by Doris Pringler with 14, Darla Jackson with 12, and Cindee Jackson with 10.

Other scorers included Denise Smith with six, and Rhonda Storie, Trushell Marts and Kim Carlisle with two apiece.

The win was the eleventh for the Lady Lopes in 28 starts.

Pringler and Price give the Lady Lopes two consistent scorers as well as rebounders.

Pringler leads the team in scoring with 484 points for the season for a 17.2 point per game average. Price has 334 points for a 12.9 point per game average.

Price, however, is the top rebounder with 375 caroms or over 13.5 boards per game while Pringler had 341 rebounds for a 12 per game average.

In the Tuesday night preliminary, Coach Jay Kennedy's Post JV boys lambasted Roosevelt 75 to 17 to make a sweep of the tripleheader.

Adam Mendoza led the way with 20 points.

James Brown and L. D. Harper each had 10, followed by eight each by Jeff Taylor, R. J. Greathouse and Charles Johnson. Al Reyna had seven and Lynn Allen four.

Fire safety demonstrated

By JANELL JONES
Bobby, Fire Chief of the Post Volunteer Fire Department, gave a demonstration of fire safety at the meeting of the Close City 4-H Club at their January meeting.

The club members discussed having the February meeting on Feb. 18, due to conflicting dates with the stock show.

Refreshments were provided by the families of John and Jim Bob Shults.

Members present were Lance Bland, Derick Dunn, Betsy and Debbie Ethridge, Sammy and Glen Hardin, Janell Jones, Jana Middleton, Rusty and Dana Morris, Kraig, Kayla and Keith Peel, Michael Prather, Jay Fluitt, Rance Sappington, David, Teresa, and Mandy Shults, Rodney and Steven Tidwell, Mark Tyler and Korren, Tommy and Steven Payton.

Stock show—

horse show will be Warren Young of Lubbock with Bil Hedrick serving as superintendent. The lamb show judge will also be returning for his second year, he is Kyle Smith, the Gaines County Extension Agent. Bobby Terry has served as lamb show superintendent for four years.

The steer show will begin activities on Saturday morning at nine o'clock. Steer show judge will be Dr. Jim Jenkins from the Animal Science Dept. of South Plains College at Levelland. Neal Clary will again serve as steer superintendent.

Members of the Garza County Extension Homemakers plan to serve a noon meal on Saturday. They will also operate the concession stand all three days.

The showmanship awards for each division and the overall sportsmanship trophy, along with the rate-of-gain trophy and the overall fair youth winner trophy will be presented at 1 p.m. Saturday.

At 2:30 p.m. the big annual premium sale will begin with Bobby Fletcher of Wolforth as the auctioneer.

Announcer of all the events this year will again be Jerry Thuett, one of the association directors.

Hearing—

would be required to complete project construction which includes an uphill pipeline from Justiceburg to Post to Lubbock besides construction of Justiceburg reservoir.

Lubbock is now on shakey grounds as far as its water supply is concerned unless good rains help fill up Lake Meredith, now the major source of its water.

Show cards handed out

The Post 4-H club met on January 28, 1982, at the 4-H Barn. The meeting was held at 7:30 p.m. Entry cards were handed out to all members who have a livestock project such as horses, lambs, steers, swine and rabbits, for the upcoming Junior Livestock Show.

Show rules were also handed out and explained by Syd Conner, county agent.

Members who plan to participate in the show and were not at the meeting to receive their entry cards and other information should go by the County Agents office and pick them up.

Entry cards must be turned in by February 15, 1982, no later.

Jubilee—

another jubilee date was picked they would have two celebrations on their hands.

Tentative plans call for a July 24 jubilee with a big street dance on Friday night, July 2, a parade and other events Saturday, July 3, and the barbecue in the park Sunday afternoon July 4.

On Saturday and Sunday nights, a pageant would be staged at the rodeo grounds similar to the one produced for the Golden Jubilee here in 1957.

Riley Miller of Justiceburg is planning to handle the pageant from the period of Coronado to C. W. Post, and is sure to come up with a colorful show for that period.

The rest remains to be written, but the Chamber already is working on some ideas.

Hardin said the chamber will get to work on the project immediately, map a program, appoint committees, get up a budget, and undertake a plan to underwrite the celebration to the extent that jubilee income does not cover all the outgo.

That gives the Chamber five months to work out the biggest July 4th Post has ever had — it's Diamond Jubilee.
