With filing deadline March 3—

Too few candidates

With the filing deadline for city council and school board candidates less than a week away, not only does neither race have a contest as yet, but both lack enough candidates to fill all the positions.

Jim Jackson was the first to file this week in the city council race. He is seeking reelection. Incumbent Jim Wells has announced he won't seek reelection and Jack Alexander, the other incumbent, hasn't as yet announced whether or not he will make the race again.

The only new development in the three school board races this week was that Mrs. Juanella Hays announced she would not seek reelection. She is completing her first term.

Jack Lott and Charles McCook the other two incumbents have filed for reelection.

Next Wednesday, March 3, is the final day for both (See Elections, Page 14)

"I am 47 years old, am married to the former Juanella McClellan. We have four children all of which graduated from Post schools.

$1,271,879 will be spent for 32 units—

Housing contract agreed

A $1,271,879 contract between Hoover Construction Co. of Burnett, Tx. and the Post Housing Authority is expected to be signed within the next two weeks at regional HUD offices in Dallas for construction of a 32-unit housing project here.

Donald Windham, representative of the local housing authority, told The Dispatch that negotiations on the price of the "turn key job" were completed in Dallas conferences last Wednesday and Thursday which he attended.

The original bidding on the housing contract was opened 18 months ago and last week's negotiations were to bridge the 18 months gap in construction costs.

Windham, who is vice chairman of the local housing board, said the housing will be built on 4.8 acres of land to be purchased from Earl Rogers which borders on Avenue S from the west and south of Eighth street and US-380.

The contractor purchases the land and builds the 16 brick duplexes for the $1,271,000.

Eighteen of the units will be designated for the elderly and 14 for lower income families with the units including one, two or three bedrooms.

The elderly units will be grouped separately from those for the lower income families and each will have a separate entrance from Avenue S.

Windham said the construction firm will have nine to ten months to complete the work and hopes to complete it in seven months.

The project had been delayed on account of various site problems, including the moving of a pipeline.

Windham said the contract signing will come (See Housing, Page 9)

JULIAN SMITH

Stepping down after 35 years

Retirement reception Sunday— Julian Smith to be honored

By BETH SHORT Sunday, Feb. 28, is supposed to be a quiet day for Julian Smith, who will officially retire that day from his position with the Texas Highway Department, completing 35 years of service.

Not so, a reception will be held that Sunday afternoon from 2 until 4 p.m. in the community room of the First National Bank.

Julian wanted no recognition, which is just like him, since his service to this community over the years has been just that, quiet constant service, never wanting a "thank you" for his many services.

But who can let these many years go by without saying a big "thank you" to someone who gives of himself unselfishly and is so nice while doing it.

Julian was born in Elgin, Texas, and was graduated from Bastrop High School. His father was Julian O. Smith who served several terms in the Texas Legislature. He married Maxine Hensley on Christmas Day, 1937, while attending Texas (See Julian Smith, Page 14)

Officers here solve California murder

A two and a half day investigation by Sheriff Jim Pippin and Texas Ranger Joe Hunt over the weekend solved a California murder before the victim's body had even been discovered.

Garza night deputies about midnight Friday noticed three persons pouring gasoline from a can into a pickup near the city dump.

The trio waved them on when the officers drove up, saying everything was all right. Since the pickup had a Nevada license plate, the officers stopped and talked to the three.

The officers became suspicious and brought them to the county jail.

They booked Darren Keith Yaws, 18, of Shafter, Calif., and Mary Frances Miller, 18, of Bakersfield, Calif., for minors in possession after noting they had been drinking and had beer with them. The third person, Thomas Alonzo Dickens, also of California, was charged with public intoxication. Officers found a pistol, holster and belt and a box of shells in the pickup. (See California, Page 14)

Stock show to open Thursday

Weigh-in of the 291 animals entered in the Garza County Junior Livestock Show this weekend began at four p.m. Wednesday afternoon at the stock barn.

All of the animals except

The big question this week is whether or not Post and Garza County, with some interested outside help, can generate enough money to keep the Garza County Junior Livestock auction premiums on the upgrade Saturday afternoon.

If everybody takes an interest, the grownups can come through for the kids. So give it your best shot.

All the talk about the May (See Postings, Page 14) the 25 horses entered were weighed during this time. Re-weighs will be from 11 a.m. until 12 noon Thursday morning.

Work has been going on at the show barn for two or three weeks preparing for the five shows scheduled from Thursday afternoon thru Saturday noon.

New additions and repairs made to the barn include new vent fans on either end, a new announcer stand and PA system, and a used ice machine has been donated and installed. A big clean-up job has been in progress also.

The approximately 125 young people entered in the show have been feeding, grooming and training their animals for at least 90 days.

A break-down of entries include 10 pens of meat rabbits, 110 hogs, 25 horses, 95 lambs and 31 steers. The rabbit, horse and steer entries are all up this year with the hogs about the same and the lamb exhibitors down some.

A noon lunch is planned for Saturday by the Extension Homemakers with proceeds going to the building fund.

Duckworth rites held

Garza County lost its oldest pioneer continuously living in the county Tuesday morning when Mrs. Elvy Duckworth, 94, of Justiceburg died in St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock.

She had been a resident of Garza County since 1894.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Church of God of Prophecy here with the Bishop Lefoy Parker of Abilene conducting assisted by the Rev. Oscar Newdiger of Lubbock and the Rev. Kenneth Cook of Post.

Mrs. Duckworth was born Feb. 10, 1888 in Colorado City, Tx. She was married to George Duckworth in Post in 1908. He preceded her in death in 1965.

Survivors include two daughters, Mary Florence Cross of Lubbock and Dede McLaurin of Justiceburg; six grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Post schools preparing for classroom computers

The Post Schools are "getting into" computers.

A group of approximately 36 high school teachers and students will meet for the first of four computer training sessions here Thursday afternoon from 4:30 to 9:30 p.m.

the other three sessions will be held at the computer center in Lubbock the evenings of March 9, 10, and 11 where a computer will be available for each trainee.

"We will be trying to learn the computer basics for the use of computers in high school classrooms," Principal Joe Giddens told The Dispatch Tuesday.

At the present time the high school has one micro-computer in its learning center.

"We want to learn the operation and see what software programs are available before we start buying machines," he explained. He said the high school hopes to have some computers in high school classrooms next year as training aids.

They are especially effective in training remedial math, Giddens points out, (See Computers, Page 9)

Thank you in order

Julian Smith, the residence highway engineer here, will step into retirement Sunday after 35 busy years of loyal and faithful service to what we still call the Texas Highway Department though it now goes under a longer and fancier name.

Fittingly, Julian will be honored with a reception Sunday afternoon, Feb. 28, from 2 until 4 p.m. in the bank community room. There ought to be a real crowd there to say "thank you" for all his community service as well as to wish him well at the conclusion of his professional career.

Julian has been a real "community do-er" in the 25 years he has lived in Post.

It would be difficult to cite Julian's full community service record here because he did all kinds of things when asked without any fuss or bother, and completed most of them without a whole lot of people even knowing he had been involved.

You probably could say that he has "baby-sat" the park swimming pool and all its plumbing problems through more years than he would like to count as a member of the park board.

As a pilot himself, he also has given some yeoman service in past years to this community's efforts to develop and maintain an airport here as a member of the airport board.

Those are just two of his contributions to this community by putting his engineering skills to work gratis for his hometown.

We are happy to report that Julian and his wife, Maxine, plan to continue to make Post their home after Julian's retirement.

He shouldn't have any trouble "keeping busy" when he steps down from those 8 to 5 days because there are a lot of community chores he probably will continue to handle with quiet skill.

At General Telephone... We're Not Simply Talking About Service Improvements We're Making Them In Post

At General Telephone, better service isn't just a goal, it's a solid commitment. General Telephone spent over 354 million dollars in 1981 on capital expenditure projects (i.e. new electronic switches, expanded cable project modernization), and GTE will spend over 410 million dollars in 1982 to provide you the best telecommunications available.

For Post this investment in service improvement is working as shown below. General Telephone is working hard to continually provide you with the best of service.

The Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC) has established certain standards in public hearings, and our service results are listed against those standards.

Library board in computer session

Post Public Library trustees spent an hour discussing the library's new mini computer and in actually operating it at their quarterly luncheon meeting in the library last Thursday.

Jim Brown of Postex Plant discussed programing computers with the board and Jim Scheppeke, West Texas Library Systems coordinator, and Jo Amandes, library consultant, both from Lubbock met with the board for the discussion.

The Post Library was the first library in the West Texas System to purchase a small computer for use of its patrons.

The library trustees will meet again in two weeks to consider additions to its computer, including a hardware printout and some additional cassette software programs both for juveniles and adults.

told trustees that three grade school boys were working with the library computer recently when one of the boys told the other two, "This is more fun than Atari because you learn something too."

Trustees and the librarian mapped plans to bring in as many school classes as possible in library visits this spring to be "introduced" to the computer.

Librarian Pierce points out that the computer has been purchased to give both youngsters and adults the opportunity to familiarize themselves with today's new world of computers.

Adults generally shy away from computers because they think they won't be able to operate one.

Scout Cub Pack 314 holds Blue and Gold banquet

Pack 314 Cub Scouts held their 1982 Blue and Gold Banquet on Monday, Feb. 22, at the Post Community Center. Boys representing three Cub Scout dens and the one Webelo den, had their families as guests for the occasion.

Cubmaster Curtis Hudman called the group to order and Ray Bagby gave the invocation.

A buffet of fried chicken, pinto beans, potato salad, relish trays, desserts, iced tea, and coffee were served to approximately 115 in attendance.

The tables were decorated in blue and gold streamers with a floral centerpiece and individual name cards designed by the dens. The Webelo table followed a blue and red decor, with a miniature "Webelo Scout" as centerpiece.

The Cubmaster introduced the incoming Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 316, Jimmy Mitchell. He also brought to the group's attention that Post's Pack 314 has the largest number of Cub Scouts of any in the district, excluding the Lubbock Packs.

The following den skits were presented for the parents enjoyment. Den 4, under leadership of Mrs. Carol McDonald and Mrs. Joann Williams, did "Adventures in Good Health," a take-off on the importance of each part of the body and its care. Den 2, under the leadership of Mrs. Carolyn Hodges and Mrs. Iva Cruse, did a spellout on their den yell and "Mmmmm" for dessert. Den 1, under leadership of Mrs. Debbie Morris and Mrs. Tammy Holly, showed a poster of a huge Cub Scout pocket and how a boy earns his ranks to place in position on that pocket.

Boys were called forward by dens to receive their advancements earned since the last pack meeting. Cubmaster Hudman presented beads of "immediate recognition" for young boys working on their Wolf badge. Each yellow bead worn on a thong attached to the right pocket signifies that its wearer has completed three requirements toward the next rank. Those Cubs receiving these advancements were: Rex Wilson, Robbie Francis, Michael Radle, Dondi Streamer and Joshua Salinas, one bead each; Shane Horton, Jay Mitchell, Jackie Cruse, Scott Farris, Jerry Hodges, Chad Kirkland and Dustin Massey, 2 beads each. Riley Holly earned 4 beads.

Next, Den 4 made up of older Cub Scouts was brought up. Aaron Odum was awarded both his Wolf and Bear badges and a Gold Arrow point to go with them.

Others earning arrow points were: Sonny Storie and Jacob Bustoz, Gold arrow each; Lance Bagby and Brent McDonald, Gold arrow and Silver arrow each; Bill Rankin, Gold arrow and 3 Silver arrows; Roger Adams, 3 Silver arrows and Kevin Williams 4 Silver arrows.

To conclude the awards, four Webelo Scouts were introduced to receive activity pins to be worn on their shoulder ribbons. The "Webelo Scout" is a transition program for boys aged 10 to 11 before they reach troop age. Those boys were Paul Robinson, pins for scholar, scientist, and outdoorsman; Richard Hudman, pins for artist, citizen, geologist, naturalist, and showman; Jarrett Dickson, pins for citizen, forester, geologist, naturalist, and sportsman; and Tyge Payne, pins for citizen, engineer, geologist, naturalist, showman and scientist.

Following refreshments, games of forty-two were played by Mr. and Mrs. Geroge Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cockrum, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Epley, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hudman, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McLendon, Mr. and Mrs. James Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor.

Texas Flag Day March 2

March 2 is Texas Flag Day. Over 10,000 flags are expected to be flying for this official Texas Heritage Day.

Around Texas, organizations and individuals are taking this opportunity to pay tribute to their state and its flag by flying the "Lone Star" on their homes and public buildings. Local activities will include flag raisings, proclamations by mayors and county judges, speeches and special programs by service clubs, historic organizations and patriotic groups.

The Texas flag was adopted in 1839 at the official standard of the Republic. It became the state flag after the Treaty of Annexation was signed in 1845.

FRED STORY
Master of Fantasy

Lions sponsoring fantasy show here

The "Now you see it, now you don't", art of the Story Variety Revue will be on display at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 6 at the Primary Auditorium when the Fred Story opens his show entertainment under sponsorship of the Post Lions Club.

For theatre goers who like variety revues, the appearance of Fred Story and Company is an adventure into the impossible. Fred Story is unique at the moment in that he presents a performance that runs a full evening and utilizes over two tons of stage equipment. Of course, there are the small deceptive effects also which are a highlight of the masters alone. Some of the high spots in the show are "Where Do The Ducks Go?" "The Dancing Handkerchief" and the ever popular and beautiful "Fantasy in Flowers."

Fred Story is a master in his field and his artistry and skill of presentation all rolled up with the dramatic touch make the Fred Story Revue one of the most entertaining evenings you have ever witnessed.

This is a show CHILDREN TAKE THEIR PARENTS TO SEE!!!! Tickets are on sale by the members of the Post Lions Club.

Librarian attends Snyder workshop

Pee Wee Pierce, librarian at the Post Public Library, attended the Library Information Services workshop at Western Texas College in Snyder on Feb. 10 and 11, sponsored by the West Texas Library System at Lubbock and the Big Country Library System at Abilene. The workshop was designed to help local librarians provide better information services to adults and children in West Texas communities.

Librarians heard Margaret Nichols from North Texas State University at Denton discuss the kinds of questions library patrons ask and how librarians can help patrons find the answers to those questions accurately and quickly both in-person and over the telephone. Common reference books, such as dictionaries, encyclopedias, almanacs, directories, that all libraries own, were recommended as good sources for the kinds of questions that the average library user asks.

Ken Dowlin and Anne Harrington from the Pikes Peak Library District in Colorado Springs discussed the question: How will patrons get answers to questions in the future? Dowlin and Harrington believe the future is now. The computer system developed for the Pikes Peak Library District serves homes and businesses, by allowing users to telephone the library and receive information delivered on their home or business computer screens. Dowlin described other electronic services available to library users in some parts of the country — a video reference service that enables questions to be answered over cable channels or provide community television programming originating from the library.

Although many of the librarians attending agreed that such electronic reference service is not likely to be available in public libraries right away, they all agree that such service is right around the corner. Dowlin stressed that the time is coming soon when all libraries, large and small, will be linked together by computer terminals, so that library patrons will have access to books and information from a wide geographic area.

Million cotton bales into loan

LUBBOCK — Lubbock's spot cotton trading increased from the previous week, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director for USDA's Marketing Services Office at Lubbock. Grower owned cotton supplies remained heavy. Merchant demand improved as shippers filled March delivery commitments.

Growers with qualities not in demand or dissatisfied with current prices continued to move cotton into Commodity Credit's loan program. Bids for loan equities ranged from $4.00 to $10.00 but no equity trading was reported, Bennett said. An estimated 1.1 million bales of 1981-crop

High Plains cotton had entered the loan as Form A, Form G or seed cotton by early this week.

USDA's Crop Reporting Board estimated that U. S. growers will plant 12.6 million acres to cotton this spring. This compares with about 13.8 million harvested during the 1981-crop year.

High Plains growers sold mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and 52, staples 31 and 32, mike 35-49 at about 44.50 cents per pound, unchanged from a week earlier. Grade 52, staple 32, mike 30-32 sold around 39.15 cents, down 25 points from a week earlier.

WE MUST SAVE A PLACE FOR NATURE IN TODAY'S WORLD

The relentless burgeoning of our population brings a corresponding increase in the problem of what to do with our ever-shrinking public land areas. Naturally, we don't need to be reminded that we must grow crops and graze livestock if we want to eat; and that we must find new sources of energy if we want to drive our cars and heat or cool our homes at affordable costs. However, we should still find room in our land and in our hearts for the wild creatures and the plants that feed them; not only for their beauty and cultural value, but also because our lives are interdependent with theirs in ways that most of us will never understand. Your faith will teach you that God made them all, and saw that they were very good. Let us believe this, and do all that we can to preserve them.

— Aristotle

In all things of nature there is something of the marvelous.

"And God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good."
 — Genesis 1:31

In fighting criminals— Montford asks cooperation

Lubbock Criminal District Attorney John T. Montford told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon that "we're going to have to band together and fight the criminals."

Speaking on "crime prevention and some of the new techniques now being employed", Montford emphasized the need to "burglar-proof" homes and businesses and urged the public to get into the statewide program, "Operation Identification."

He demonstrated with locks that a dead bolt lock which extends a full inch into the door frame is needed to secure doors and windows should be nailed shut or other devices to lock them used.

He demonstrated electric engraving devices which can be used to engrave one's Texas driver license number on all kinds of items so they can be identified as to ownership in a matter of seconds.

"Don't use your social security number because it will take us two years to find out whose number it is we find on stolen goods," Montford said.

The district attorney, who says he is proud of the fact that Lubbock county now has more prisoners in the state penitentiary with 99 year sentences than any other county in Texas, also demonstrated an ultra violet marking pencil which can be used on furs, clothing, oil paintings and other items which is not visible to the criminal but shows plainly for 17 years under ultra-violet light.

"Their eyes almost pop out when we show burglars these numbers under our ultra violet lights," Montford said.

Lubbock has some 700 electric engraving devices purchased with donations for this program. They can be used on power tools, firearms, lawnmowers and agricultural equipment.

Most burglars are supporting some kind of a narcotics habit," Montford told Rotarians. "Because of this the modern burglar is often very violent and an increasing number are armed with firearms."

Montford also handed out a roll of stickers warning burglars that the home on which it is posted at door or window was participating in Operation Identification.

He also handed out booklets to Rotarians on both identification and how to best burglar-proof homes. He promised full cooperation with any effort sponsored here in either project.

Montford, who is completing the final year of his four year term, is a candidate for state senator from this district in the May Democratic primary.

The Rotary Club also heard from Noel White, president of the Garza County Junior Livestock Association, on the upcoming Garza Junior Livestock Show opening today for a three-day run.

The civic club gave White a $250 check for the association's building fund from receipts from its most recent pancake supper.

The club will meet in the bank community room next Tuesday because of the need to prepare the community center for the Chamber Banquet that night. State Senator E. L. Short will be the speaker on future legislation.

Asked by a Rotarian if the crime situation "was getting any better", Montford bluntly said "it won't until the federal courts get out of our business."

He pointed out that Federal Judge Wayne Justice has gotten so involved with the operation of the Texas prison system that "they are returning more criminals to us on early release than we are sending down there."

Montford said 28 arrests for major crimes have been made in Lubbock of early return prisoners living in the "halfway house" there.

CAR THEFT CHARGED
Richard Koehler of Indiana has been released on a cash bond here following his arrest last Friday for theft of a motor vehicle. The automobile, stolen here, was recovered.

Booster club to meet Monday night

The Antelope Booster Club will meet at 7 p.m. Monday, March 1, in the bank community room to elect officers for the new club year and to plan the annual All-Sports Banquet to be held in April.

All members and other interested persons are urged by Jimmy Redman, booster club president, to attend.

Post fights phone boost

Post was among three cities granted status as inventors in the $110 million rate hike request by General Telephone Co. of the Southwest following a pre-hearing conference by the Texas Public Utility Commission in Austin Tuesday.

Grand Prairie and Sherman were the other two along with the Texas Association of Telephone Answering Services, Communications Workers of America, Texas Municipal League, and the American Airlines.

The PUC has set a public hearing on General Telephone's rate request for 10 a.m. April 15.

Mayor Giles McCrary told The Dispatch Tuesday the city also would participate with other West Texas cities in seeking the advice of a rate consultant over Southwestern Public Service's upcoming rate increase request announced last week.

Voter lists contract set

The Garza County Commissioners Court voted Monday to enter into a contract for voter registration computer lists with Western Data Services, Inc.

The court also voted to open the new county road in precinct 3.

Mrs. James Feagin of Commercial Radio met with the court to discuss the county's radio service contract. No action was taken.

Computers—

The Post Middle School has "been into" computers for the last 18 months and are now ready to expand into more general classroom use beginning with the 1982-83 school year.

Principal Bud Davis told The Dispatch we have three micro-computers now basically for use in remedial math.

"We have been studying how we can best use the micro-computer and have found out that the type of machine purchased in great measure depends upon software aids available for that machine," Davis said.

"For example, our history teachers want maps and graphics and the Apple computers offer the best software for this. Our math teachers want software on remedial math and the Radio Shack computers are best for this."

Davis said several teachers are ordering micro-computers this spring and plan to work them in their homes this summer preparatory to introducing them into their classrooms next fall.

All cheeses except those made for low-sodium diets are high in salt content. Processed cheeses can contain up to twice as much salt as the natural varieties.

Lubbock team is winner

The Shallowater Beds of Lubbock, women's volleyball team, won first place in Taylor Tractor Volleyball Team tournament held in the Middle School Gym over the weekend. Winning first place in the men's division were the Rounders of Guthrie.

Winning second place in the women's division, was the host team, Taylor Tractor of Post, and third place was Mash 4077 of Lubbock.

Second place winners in the men's division was High Plains Service of Plainview and third place was Merchants of Ralls.

First baby—

Ancient drawings on stone and bone attest to the fact that horse racing is at least 3000 years old.

Housing—

(Continued From Page One) when all necessary paper work is completed and at that time the federal funding will be made available to the housing authority.

The final session, like the two last week over the final contract negotiations, will be held in Dallas. The possibility still exists that Post can also secure another federal housing project designated for the elderly only if an option can be obtained on a HUD-acceptable site. Funding is said to be available.

While the 32 new rental units won't come close to solving Post's current housing shortage, they certainly will be a step in the right direction.

Little League meeting set

A meeting for the 1981 organization of the Post Little League and Post Minor League will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, March 8, in the bank community room.

All interested parents are invited to attend.

Senior Citizens News

Well, here we are again hoping you have had a good week since our last news. We are still having a lot of fun and real good fellowship here at our Senior Citizens Center.

musical this past Friday night. Our musical players were Ethel Edwards, Ira Farmer, Aubrey Ritchie, Brother Moore, Bea Dodson, and Brother Kenneth Cook. Along with Brother Cook's singing, we had a group of our own people and some from Tahoka sing several songs together. Also we had a sing-a-long.

But you guys and gals, it is quite embarrassing when we have something for you and our visitors outnumber our own people.

There were at least 40 or more people from Tahoka and we thoroughly enjoyed them. We have been invited to their musical the first Monday of each month, which we hope we are able to attend.

We have had a lot of sickness and sorrow among our Senior Citizen family, but our prayers are always with you all. May God bless each of you. We will not try to name them all, they are too numerous and we might overlook someone. Just remember we love you all and are here if you need us anytime. Just call 2998.

We have the mini-bus service for those who need it from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. and if you need the bus, call 2998. It takes those to Lubbock on Tuesdays to the doctor, so make your appointments on Tuesdays. This service is available to all Senior Citizens of Garza County, so take advantage of this, it is offered to you at no charge. This service is made possible by Garza County and SPAG of Lubbock. So it is yours to use.

We also offer blood pressure checks four times a month to you plus having hearing aid service twice a month.

We always have a good hot meal five days a week at a minimum donation. Exercises each morning are at 9 a.m. and these are very good for you, so join us every day.

Still taking donations on our quilt and haven't got enough to let it go yet. So come on folks and take a chance, it is a very pretty queen size comforter. We need your cooperation on this.

We would like to have any one who is interested in helpign us with our entertainments here at the center

California murder — Jr. Stock Show — Julian Smith —

On Saturday morning, Sheriff Pippin talked to the trio and none could establish ownership of the pickup.

Suspecting foul play and with an out-of-state case on his hands, the sheriff called in Joe Hunt of the Rangers for assistance.

Further questioning of the trio revealed that the girl was Yaws' girl friend and that they had picked up Dickens, a hitchhiker, in Amarillo.

Finally, Mary Miller broke down, went into hysterics and gave Pippin and Hunt a statement of Yaws shooting the pickup's owner who had given them a ride and dumping the man's body 10 miles east of Mojave, Calif.

They had taken $800 from the man, his watch, ring, pickup, possessions and even his Labrador Retriever dog which was still in the pickup when the trio was arrested here.

According to the girl's statement, Yaws and Miller were hitchhiking and stopped for coffee at a truck stop in Winnemucca, Nev., where they struck up a conversation with Joseph Wedemeyer who also was having coffee with a lady friend.

Wedemeyer offered them a ride to California, saying he was going there to take a job.

The girl gave this story of the slaying:

En route, Wedemeyer stopped at a sporting goods store and purchased a pistol, holster, belt and shells. While he was out of the pickup the young hitchhikers found a 22 automatic pistol under the seat.

Wedemeyer was drinking and when he became sleepy he asked Yaws to drive and he went to sleep on the passenger side with the girl in the middle.

The hitchhikers decided to shoot Wedemeyer for his money. The girl said she agreed to do it but couldn't bring herself to fire the shot so Yaws leaned across and shot the sleeping man in the temple.

Wedemeyer was still breathing when they drove into Mojave, so the pair decided to dump the man. They drove 10 miles east of Mojave and a quarter mile off the highway on a dirt road. They dragged Wedemeyer's body from the pickup and hid it behind a bush about 15 feet off the dirt road. He was still breathing but unconscious.

The pair drove back into Mojave where at a filling station they traded the murder weapon, the 22 automatic pistol, to an attendant for a quarter pound of marijuana.

They then "went on tour," driving through Arizona, New Mexico, and Colorado, the girl said, before heading into West Texas probably en route to Mineral Wells where the girl knew some people.

Sheriff Pippin called the sheriff of the county in California where Mojave was located. He asked if he had an unsolved murder there.

The California sheriff knew nothing about any murder which the girl had told officers here occurred on either Feb. 5 or 6.

So the girl was put on the phone and she described to the California sheriff where Wedemeyer had been dumped from the pickup.

California officers then found Wedemeyer's body exactly where the girl said it was.

Wedemeyer's relatives have been located, a brother in New Jersey and a sister in Nevada.

The lady friend Wedemeyer had been having coffee with when he picked up the two hitchhikers in Nevada was located and she told officers she could identify Wedemeyer's watch which was found in the couple's possession here. His ring, however, had been lost.

Hunt took the girl from Post and placed her in the Lubbock county jail to separate her from her boyfriend who still did not know she had given the statement on the slaying.

Both agreed to waive extradition to California.

When Sheriff Pippin told Yaws that the girl had given the statement and that officers from California were coming to pickup him up on a capital murder charge, Yaws first denied it, then went into hysterics and smashed his fist into the bunk chain in his cell.

When he regained his composure, he told Pippin the officers were "framing" him to clean up an unsolved killing.

The California officers were due here Wednesday to pick up Yaws.

Sheriff Pippin said he didn't know what charges if any will be placed against the girl.

Meanwhile he still has the Wedemeyer pickup, all his personal possessions and the Labrador Retriever.

(Continued From Page One) primary may be a mistake. The federal counts have still to approve legislative district boundary lines. If the judges can't come up with a verdict next week look for a primary postponement to who knows when in the summer.

This doesn't sit well with candidates trying to plan campaigns. There is such a thing as momentum in campaigning and candidates try to peak it on election day. Consequently until they know when election day is they can't properly plan their campaings. The open house for Julian Smith in the community room Sunday afternoon should spark a real turnout. Julian has done so much for this community in the past 35 years, there is no way we can appreciate him enough.
