

Yellow Flag Kills Playoff

By WES BURNETT

It wasn't just the pass interference call at the end of the game last Friday night which kept the Post Antelopes from continuing in the playoffs, a review of the game film also shows that Bill Black recovered David Gardner's fumble at the one yard line, and that Gardner went into the end zone without the football.

Three officials signaled a touchdown, as Black tried to show them that he had the football one yard away from the end zone.

No amount of complaining, stomping or yelling could change the outcome of either official ruling...the pass interference was left standing and the no-football touchdown.

Stamford took the regional trophy and the Post Antelopes, along with the coaches and fans, left Snyder stunned, dazed and bitter about the officiating which cut the winning season short.

The final official score of 18-14 came with only 23 seconds remaining in the game.

One play earlier, Stamford quarterback Ray Alvarez dropped back from the Antelope 32 yard line on third down with 31 seconds on the clock and threw a desperation pass to David Pruitt in the end zone.

The pass went sailing over Pruitt's right shoulder, out of the would-be receiver's reach.

A sigh of relief went up from Antelope fans, players and coaches as Pruitt fell to the ground, with Daniel

HITCHHIKER ROBS LOCAL

One Post resident will be a little more careful about picking up hitch hikers in the future. Nov. 24, a Post resident picked up Samuel Bruce Miller and gave him a ride. In exchange for the ride and room and board, Miller was to help the Post resident with some odd jobs. But somehow, Miller was able to get the ignition key to the man's car, and during the night took both the car and a TV set and left. Miller was picked up by Snyder police, charged with the unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, and is being held under $10,000 bond in Snyder.

Early Monday morning, a breakin was reported to Garza Officers at the Church of the Nazarene. Entrance was gained by prying open a west door at the church, and the burglars went directly to the pastor's office, prying the door to the office open, where they scavenged the office. The incident is under investigation.

Several arrests were made including the arrest of Danny Ray Wright, resulting in revocation of probation, and charges of assault and public intoxication.

Billy Martinez was arrested Nov. 21 for DWI, and released on $750 surety bond.

Nov. 21, Guadalupe Campos, was arrested for DWI, and released on a $750 bail bond.

Nov. 17 a windshield was reported broken out of a pickup parked in front of the Post office on Main Street, by persons throwing rocks.

The Lacopa Inn was the scene of a fight recently with damage of over $200 reported.

Robert Eugene Abbott was arrested on a warrant for threatening to do bodily injury to another person, and remains in Garza County jail.

SPS Opens New Tolk Plant

Employees of Southwestern Public Service Company showed off their second coal-fired power plant, Tolk Station Unit No. 1, near Muleshoe, Texas, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 20 and 21.

The new coal-fired unit will be of significant help in Southwestern Public Service Company's effort to hold down the rising costs for the fuels required to generate electricity, said Glen Barley, local Post manager.

When it is generating at capacity, the 561,000-kilowatt Tolk Unit No. 1 — the largest unit ever built by SPS — will be able to supply the electricity needs of 225,000 people.

Tours of the plant were held at 10 a.m. and continued until 4 p.m. on Saturday. Tours continued from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. on Sunday, Barley said.

Tolk Station is located just south of U.S. Highway 70, about 10 miles east of Muleshoe.

The power plant is easy to find, Barley said. The building which houses the boiler is 237 feet tall — about the height of a 20-story office building. The chimney stack, from which cleaned flue gases from the boiler exit, towers 400 feet above the sand hills which surround the power plant.

The great size of the plant is required to house equipment large enough to supply the region's ever-growing demand for electricity, said Berl Springer, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of SPS.

"We're immensely proud of Tolk Station, which was

The Way I See It . . .

By WES BURNETT

When we allow ourselves to get close to a group of people...we also take the risk of sharing their pains...as well as their joys.

That's just what happened to us this football season as we have shared the thrill and excitement of winning...and the sheer devastation of that one loss last Friday with the Post Antelopes.

The entire community, it seems, has been nothing short of mesmerized by our football team, as we watched and cheered them on from victory to victory through the 13 game season.

But we also are happy to share with the disappointment they felt at the close of the Regional Championship in Snyder.

Winners, everyone of them, we are impressed with the maturity and dignity the team and especially the coaches showed following the game.

We have believed for a long time that the mark of real champions is how they handle themselves in times of distress.

The 1982 Post Antelopes fit the championship category to a tee.

Well, we certainly found out this past week the importance of not missing an edition...in an attempt to meet what we thought was a community tradition, we only published one edition before the Thanksgiving holiday...with all the complaints and questions, we've decided that wasn't such a good idea...and in the future we'll be more careful in our planning for holidays.

Not too sure I like the newly proposed five cents per gallon federal tax increase on gasoline.

If we put more expenses on our farmers, we may see a repeat of depression days on the farm...I suggest we tell our legislators that this gas tax is not good for our farmers.

Christmas season is almost on us...well, it is on us. We urge all our readers to look for Christmas bargains in the Dispatch and shop at home first. Our retail merchants are working extra hard to offer the kinds of merchandise you want and are competitive with their prices.

And the more bucks we can keep at home, the better our community will be.

The Chamber of Commerce and participating merchants are launching a new campaign to encourage you to shop at home...the Post Pesos...give 'em a try.

Preceding the Cowdrey-Easterling wedding rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Buchanan of Harrison, Ark., parents of James Easterling, hosted a dinner at the Post Community Center.

The catered meal was served from a table centered with an arrangement of silk mauve and burgundy flowers and tapers in brass candleholders.

The couple and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey and the hosts were seated at the head table.

The round dining tables were covered with white cloths and centered with brass candleholders and votive cups entwined with mauve silk flowers and ribbons.

Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan presented each guest with burgundy velvet framed pictures of the honored couple.

As a special thank you for their hospitality and to welcome their new daughter-in-law, Mrs. Buchanan presented both Miss Cowdrey and her mother, with a long stemmed red rose. Following the dinner, a selection of special songs were presented by Noel White on the guitar. He sang a song he had written especially for the couple entitled "Amy Lenora."

Amy Coudrey, James Easterling exchange wedding vows

Miss Amy Leonora Coudrey became the bride of James Lloyd Easterling in a double ring wedding ceremony at the Post Community Center at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Coudrey, Route 3, and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Buchanan of Harrison, Ark., and Mrs. Bill Easterling of Coahoma.

The vows were performed by Gary Luft, brother-in-law of the bride, and the college minister at the Sunset Church of Christ in Lubbock, before a brass sweetheart candelabra and two angled candelabra with crystal votive cup candles entwined with greenery, burgundy fall leaves and mauve ribbon bows. The candelabra were flanked on either side by large arrangements of burgundy mums and mauve flowers.

The bride carried a bouquet of tiny mauve rosebuds, baby's breath, and English ivy. It was entwined with ribbon streamers and for something old, had an antique handkerchief belonging to the groom's maternal grandmother tied into the streamers. She wore a blue garter made by Sue Maxey and wore a penny in her shoe.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her roommate at college, Mrs. Keith Mask of Plano. She wore a burgundy gown of pima cotton which featured a square neckline and full elbow length sleeves. It was accented at the waistline with a sash which tied in the back. She carried silk mauve and burgundy calalilies tied with mauve ribbon streamers and wore a single strand of pearls. Bridesmaids were Tiana Shiver of San Antonio and Lisa Easterling of Dallas, sister of the bridegroom. They were dressed identical to the maid of honor. All of the attendants dresses were made by the mother of the bride.

The ring bearer was Ryan Buchanan, brother of the bridegroom, of Harrison, Ark. Serving as best man was Barry Stephens of Canyon. Groomsmen were Ray Conner of Post and Phil Knoll of San Angelo.

Ushering the guests were Curt and Clay Coudrey, brothers of the bride, Dale Redman of Lubbock, a cousin of the bride and Scott Lewis.

Wedding music was provided by Marita Jackson, Boo Olson and Morris Tyler. Mrs. Jackson sang "Flesh of My Flesh" and Tyler sang "Years from Now" and played "Somewhere My Love" on the guitar. Mrs. Olson played "The Trumpet Volunteer" and "Mendelssohn's Recessional" on the organ.

The reception followed immediately also in the Community Center. The bride's table featured an original wedding cake made by the bride's sister, Mrs. Lisa Bartley of Rociada, N.M. It was four graduated tiers on individual pedestals with each tier centered with silk flowers and handmade icing lace butterflies. The lace edging on the cake of frosting was identical to the lace on the bride's dress. The bride's and attendants' bouquets were laid at the foot of the pedestals. A silver candelabra and mauve tapers entwined with burgundy silk flowers and mauve ribbon was also used. Nuts and mints were served. Punch was served from a large silver punch bowl and other crystal and punch appointments were used. The bride is a graduate of Post High School and Abilene Christian University. The groom graduated from Coahoma High School and Angelo State University. They are both teachers at Post High School.

Out-of-town wedding guests were from Plano, Pampa, Groom, Abilene, Lubbock, Amarillo, Bowie, Tahoka, San Angelo, Dallas, Temple, Hawley, Canyon, Coahoma, Houston, Waco, Arlington, San Antonio, Rociada, N.M., Harrison, Ark. and Springfield, Mo.

"Say So"

MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE

BY J. R. SMITH

David, under inspiration of God wrote: "Oh, give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good; for His mercy endureth forever. Let the redeemed of the Lord say so." Psa.:1.2.

The theme of this Psalm is gratitude for the enduring mercies. Gratitude is a grace that struggles for expression. It does not shut itself up in the heart. It does not allow itself to be merely felt...It wants to speak...It wants to say something. The writer of the Psalm shows us that he thinks well of this tendency to give expression to grateful feeling. It would appear that he regards it as a duty. Hear him as he exclaims, let those who are among the redeemed of the Lord, those who have experienced God's mercies (and who of us has not?), those who have tasted of His goodness...Let them, "say so". Let them give voice to, recount the number of their favors and their grateful feelings in regard to them.

Giving thanks to God is always a beautiful thing to do; but especially at this period of our national Thanksgiving it seems we ought to stir ourselves all the more to this delightful duty.

The very fact that we have received so bountifully the gifts from God's good hands should make us desire to express our sincere 'thanks' to Him. "Saying so" is a far more present and pressing duty than many people think. This is certainly true in our human relations of every day life. In hard fought campaigns, whether it be literal wars, political pursuits or whatever, it is customary for commanders to make mention of men who have distinguished themselves for service. It is not to minister to pride or to flatter them. It is rather to fulfil an obligation. It has been interesting to note paid 'thank you' notes following the recent political campaigns by those politicians who were grateful for persons who supported them in their respective campaigns.

If we are genuinely grateful for what others do for us then it seems that the very least we can do is to express our appreciation... "Say so"!

A young artist showed a picture to which he had devoted his very best efforts to a great master. He stood breathless waiting for the master to speak. When the time seemed longer than he could possibly wait he turned to the great artist and cried, "O speak say something; say anything!" Deep in the heart of the young artist was the natural but almost inexpressible desire to have the master, if he liked his picture to, "say so."

It was a strikingly human and pathetic appeal a young boy made to his father, when he cried, "I often do wrong, I know, and then you sold me, and I deserve it; but, father, sometimes I do my very best to do right! Won't you let me know when I do please you?" Sometimes our children need reproof and punishment, but quite often they need, and will respond better to kind words of encouragement and appreciation. Oh, that when our children, or anyone else, pleases us we would "say so."

How many who are reading these words would give much just to hear someone, 'say so'. How long has it been since you expressed 'thanks' to a loved one, friend or even a business associate?

"Let the redeemed of the Lord say so." (Psa. 105:2)

Gonzales running along side and Will Kirkpatrick close behind by a couple of steps.

Then, the dreaded yellow flag hit the ground...

With disbelief, Antelope fans, coaches and players watched the official mark the ball at the two yard line, with 23 seconds left on the clock.

Stamford had no times-out remaining.

Gardner got the call over right guard and jumped over the top, losing the football as he began his upward move...Black pounced on the ball as Gardner continued his dive over the top into the end zone.

The officials gave Stamford six points.

The two-point conversion attempt failed.

The Antelopes took the kickoff and couldn't get to the other end, lost the ball on a fumble at their own 29 and Stamford ran off the remaining seven seconds.

That ended a record-breaking winning season of 12 wins and a 14 game winning streak for the 1982 Post Antelopes.

"Our team played an outstanding football game," coach David Thompson comments, "it's just a crying shame that the game was decided on a poor call by an official."

Although an official complaint will be filed with the University Scholastic League (UIL) in Austin, the outcome will remain the same.

The tandem sets up for the sweep...Richard Cisneros (44) and Tim Tannehill (10) in front of Milton Williams (33).

Defensive Battle

The Bulldogs won the coin toss and elected to receive, defending the east goal with the northwest wind at their face.

Miserable field conditions mired both area championship teams, as the first quarter was mostly a defensive battle.

The cold rain, accompanied by 15-29 mph winds and 35 degree temperature, along with the soggy field, kept the offenses from mounting any consistent drives.

Antelopes Score First

Early in the first quarter the 'Lope defense held the Bulldogs on fourth down from their own 22, forcing a punt with the wind to their backs.

Kirkpatrick brought the Post fans to their feet as he took the punt on the Stamford 45 and returned it behind good blocking to the nine yard line.

With 10:26 on the clock, the four play drive opened with Richard Cisneros over right guard for a few inches, then Milton Williams blasted to the five, quarterback Tim Tannehill pulled a keeper around his left end to the one and Williams went behind great blocking over right tackle on fourth down for the touchdown.

Kirkpatrick's kick made it 7-0.

The Antelopes got another chance to score late in the second quarter, after stopping a determined Bulldog drive, but the 'Lopes bogged down at the Stamford 18.

On fourth down Kirkpatrick's field goal attempt into the wind was short.

The 'Lope defense took over and ended the half.

Second Half Action

Stamford took the second half kickoff and drove from their 23 to a touchdown in 18 plays quarterback Alvarez went around right end for the score, with 4:30 left in the third quarter.

The two-point conversion pass attempt was intercepted by Kirkpatrick in the end zone. The 'Lopes held on to a 7-6 lead.

Antelopes Score Again

Jeff Taylor got the kickoff and handed the ball off to Williams, who dashed to the 46.

The nine play drive included Williams over right tackle to the Stamford 43 for a first down, Cisneros over left guard to the 34 and Williams over right guard for another first down at the 32.

Tannehill lobbed a pass out of the reach of James Lee, was sacked for a loss to the 37 and then threw an incomplete pass to Kirkpatrick, setting up a fourth down.

Stamford called time out.

Tannehill came to the sidelines, consulting with coach Thompson.

The critical first down play opened up with Tannehill rolling to his left...then finding Kirkpatrick in a crowd of three Bulldogs...as the pass was completed at the nine yard line.

On first down Williams went over right tackle to the five and then over left guard for the touchdown.

With 1:48 left in the third quarter, Kirkpatrick's extra point put the 'Lopes ahead 14-6.

Then Stamford took over and in 10 plays countered with another six, with Mark Odom stopping the two-point conversion on his tackle of Gardner on a pitchout around right end.

Crucial Fourth Quarter

Leading 14-12, the 'Lopes got the kickoff and started from their own 21, and moved the ball to the 48 yard line before running out of steam and punting to the Stamford 25.

With 5:25 remaining in the game and with no times-out left, the Bulldogs began their move.

In 11 plays they went to the Post 32...with 31 seconds left in the game...trailing 14-12.

On third down, Alvarez dropped back and threw to ball deep in the end zone.

We've already relived that play too many times.

The yellow flag and a no-football touchdown sent the Stamford Bulldogs to the quarter-final championship against Littlefield, which outscored Breckenridge 21-14.

Seniors Will Be Missed on '83 Team

By WES BURNETT

The Post Antelopes will see 17 seniors graduate this year, and next year's pollsters will probably not even list the 1983 team as a top 20 contender.

All starters, the 17 seniors were part of the record-breaking Area Championship team, are: James Lee, Curtis Clinesmith, Derek Walls, Wade Giddens, Mark Odom, Toby Craft, Bill Black, Irvin Price, Tim Tannehill, Will Kirkpatrick, Melvin Wynne, Marvin Wynne, Richard Cisneros, Jimmy Valdez, Larry Jackson, Kenny Bullard and Keith Bullard.

They will be missed.

But with an excellent returning team of 15 lettermen and seven starters, the 1983 Antelopes will also be championship caliber and can be expected to start their own winning streak.

Returning starters are next year's seniors Milton Williams, Giles Dalby, L.D. Harper, Daniel Gonzales and Felix Bustos and juniors Keith Osborne and Curt Greer.

Other returning lettermen are seniors-to-be Jeff Taylor, Robbie Williams, Steven Fluit, Adam Mendoza, Michael Valdez, Bobby Saldivar and James Brown along with junior-to-be Jay Valdez.

"We have a good crop of younger players," coach David Thompson observes, "and we may see some of this year's freshmen come along to play on the varsity next year."

"And with 36 on the freshmen team and 29 on the junior varsity," the coach adds, "we feel next year's team will have plenty of depth."

Working on an aggressive physical conditioning program, the Antelope coaching staff has a spring training plan which should keep the team ready to recapture the district championship.

This year's freshmen team has been undefeated for two years and some of the younger linemen are bigger and stronger than the Antelopes have had in recent years.

"We'll still be insisting on quickness and speed," Thompson continues, "and big or not, if the players can't move they won't see much action."

The 1983 Post Antelopes will play the same teams in the regular season as this year, with the reverse sites.

"Our second game will be with Amarillo River Road at Plainview on Saturday night," Thompson explains, "that's the only major change in the schedule."

Non district match-ups will be at Roosevelt, River Road, at Ralls, Littlefield here and at Tahoka.

We can hardly wait to share the excitement of next year's season with the champion Post Antelopes.

Lady Lopes edged by Spur 59-57

The Lady Lopes, coached by Sonja Curry, were edged 59 to 57 in their first outing at Spur last Tuesday night in a nip and tuck game throughout.

Tied 10 all at the end of the first period, the Lady Lopes led by two at the half 26 to 24. The third quarter cost them the game when they were outscored by Spur 21 to 14.

Three Lady Lopes were in double figures for the game with Denise Smith leading with 19, followed by Doris Pringler with 16 and Jean Price had 10. Other scoring was done by Cindee Jackson with six and Darla Jackson, Channa Williams and Leigh McCook each had two.

Besides her 19 points, Smith had 13 rebounds with Pringler and Price each having 19 rebounds.

The Lady Lopes hosted a return match with Spur here last night (Tuesday) with results in the Sunday edition.

Frosh boys win 39-37 JV girls defeat Spur

In an excellent defensive game with few mistakes, the freshmen boys took a win over the visiting Slaton Tigers here Monday night, Nov. 22, with a score of 39 to 37.

Jumping to an early lead in the first period, 13 to nine Post added 13 more in the second to nine for the visitors. The locals added 10 more in the third to eight for Slaton but went cold in the fourth to hit but for three when Slaton hit for 11 but it was not enough to overcome Post's lead.

Tracy Price had 11 for the frosh followed by Greg Adams with nine. Other scoring was done by David Shults and Greg Storie each with four and Danny Foster, Sammy Hardin, Lance Fredricks, Bruce Crenshaw each had two and Joel Kirkpatrick had three.

Coach James Easterlings JV girls had an easy time with Spur in their first outing at Spur last Tuesday night, Nov. 23 when they managed 28 points in the winning effort to 18 for the hosts.

Scoring was pretty evenly distributed when Patricia Price and Marta Holly both had nine followed by Roxanne McClellan with six and Pam Ehret and Jackie Wartes each had two.

The locals hit only 28 percent of their free throws or two out of seven.

The girls played host to the Spur team Tuesday night with results in the Sunday edition.

8th grade girls lose

With a bad case of the "first game nerves", the Middle School eighth grade girls rang up a score of 77 points, but not enough to overcome the talents of the Slaton team which found the mark for 132 points.

Kim Smith led the team with 18 points followed by Tina Pena with three, Tyra Alexander, Tammy Johnson, Nancy Wilson and Donna Boles each had two and Jana Cook one.

Coach Lu Allen said the team had some outstanding plays on offense and defense, but was not consistent resulting in 33 turnovers.

Lubbock lake landmark is living textbook

LUBBOCK — This year more than 4,500 students from kindergarten through high school will experience a history and science lesson through a living textbook — the Lubbock Lake National and State Landmark.

The unique outdoor learning laboratory is one of the most significant archeological sites in the nation, charting the cultural sequence of man from 12,000 years ago to historic times.

A typical educational experience at Lubbock Lake might be like one experienced recently by 109 fifth graders from Hodges Elementary School. Their morning included a guided tour of the site; lessons in flint-knapping (tool making) a study of artifacts uncovered at the site; games relating to archeology; and tales of the Indian way of life.

Excavation areas at Lubbock Lake are quiet for the winter, but tour guides speak of recent summer finds and earlier discoveries in the distinct areas representing different cultures.

On the first stop, the tour guide tells students about Clovis Man, who roamed the area about 12,000 years ago hunting mammoths, camel and bison — bones of which have been excavated in the area.

"We have found cut marks on the bones which tells us that early man slaughtered these animals," the guide says.

Shrieks shoot through the crowd of fifth graders.

"Oh, what do you mean?" the guide asks. "Haven't any of you ever eaten meat? This is the way Clovis Man got his food."

As the guide talks of carbon dating, she explains that all living things absorb carbon and the amount of carbon left in their bones after they die, enables scientists to determine the approximate date of death.

The guide cites other discoveries from the Clovis Man era, the earliest at Lubbock Lake. They include remains of a giant armadillo, extinct horses and the huge, short-faced bear.

The availability of water at Lubbock Lake is probably what made it the home of so many cultures, she says.

"Lubbock Lake has always been a source of water on the Caprock. It has been continuously inhabited through the years because of man's need to be close to water."

In fact, there was so much water there when its archeological resources were discovered in 1939, that extensive research had to be put off until the early 1970s when the water table dropped.

Water, also, is what caused history to be written in the walls and canyons of Lubbock Lake.

There was a meandering stream in the times of Clovis Man and environmental changes brought about ponds and marshes of the Folsom period (10,500 years ago) and, eventually, dry lands of the Archaic period (8,000 to 2,000 years ago).

"Soil and sediment layers are built up as the stream meanders through the area depositing remains, if nothing drastic happens for many years," the guide says.

"What's meanders?" asks one fifth grader while another questions the meaning of "drastic."

The guide says the soil layers then tell the story of man as the students approach the 20-foot wall, revealing distinct layers of soil, like a painting.

"It was previously believed soil development and burial took many thousands of years," the guide says. "But there are eight different soil layers developed at Lubbock Lake within a 10,000-year-period."

Students move in for a closer investigation of the well-defined stratigraphic map wall, a rare occurrence in most archeological sites.

Next, the group moves to the site of Plainview man who lived in the area about 10,000 years ago.

Summer excavation at this particular site uncovered the longest spear point ever found at Lubbock Lake. Evidence showed the point was attached to the shaft so it could be thrown.

As students pick cockle-burrs from their socks and clothes, the guide tells them that even ancient cockle-burrs have been discovered at the site along with evidence of various kinds of plant life.

For a moment, they talk about George Singer, a man out of Lubbock's historical past who built the first store in the area — somewhere at Lubbock Lake, perhaps at the top of the stratigraphic wall or along the draw rim.

Stories of life at Lubbock Lake by a 90ish-year-old Singer descendant and his son have helped piece together some of the information about the store along with cartridges, tin cans, square nails and a Ginger Beer bottle excavated at the site.

The results of a summer land survey of Lubbock Lake may help archeologists pinpoint more closely the location of that store.

Students meander back to the temporary learning center where Claude Brown demonstrates how Indians made fire — for food and warmth — by rubbing sticks together. And he talks about their nomadic, wandering lifestyle.

Brown, retired and a member of the Texas Archeological Society, is a museum volunteer who enjoys work at Lubbock Lake.

Pat Northington, programs coordinator for Lubbock Lake, demonstrates flint-knapping — breaking flint with a hammerstone so it can be used to make flint tools.

Inside, looking at artifacts, the students are amazed at a giant mammoth tooth: "Is that really a tooth?"

They also view an elephant tusk, a piece of elephant skin and a bear tooth.

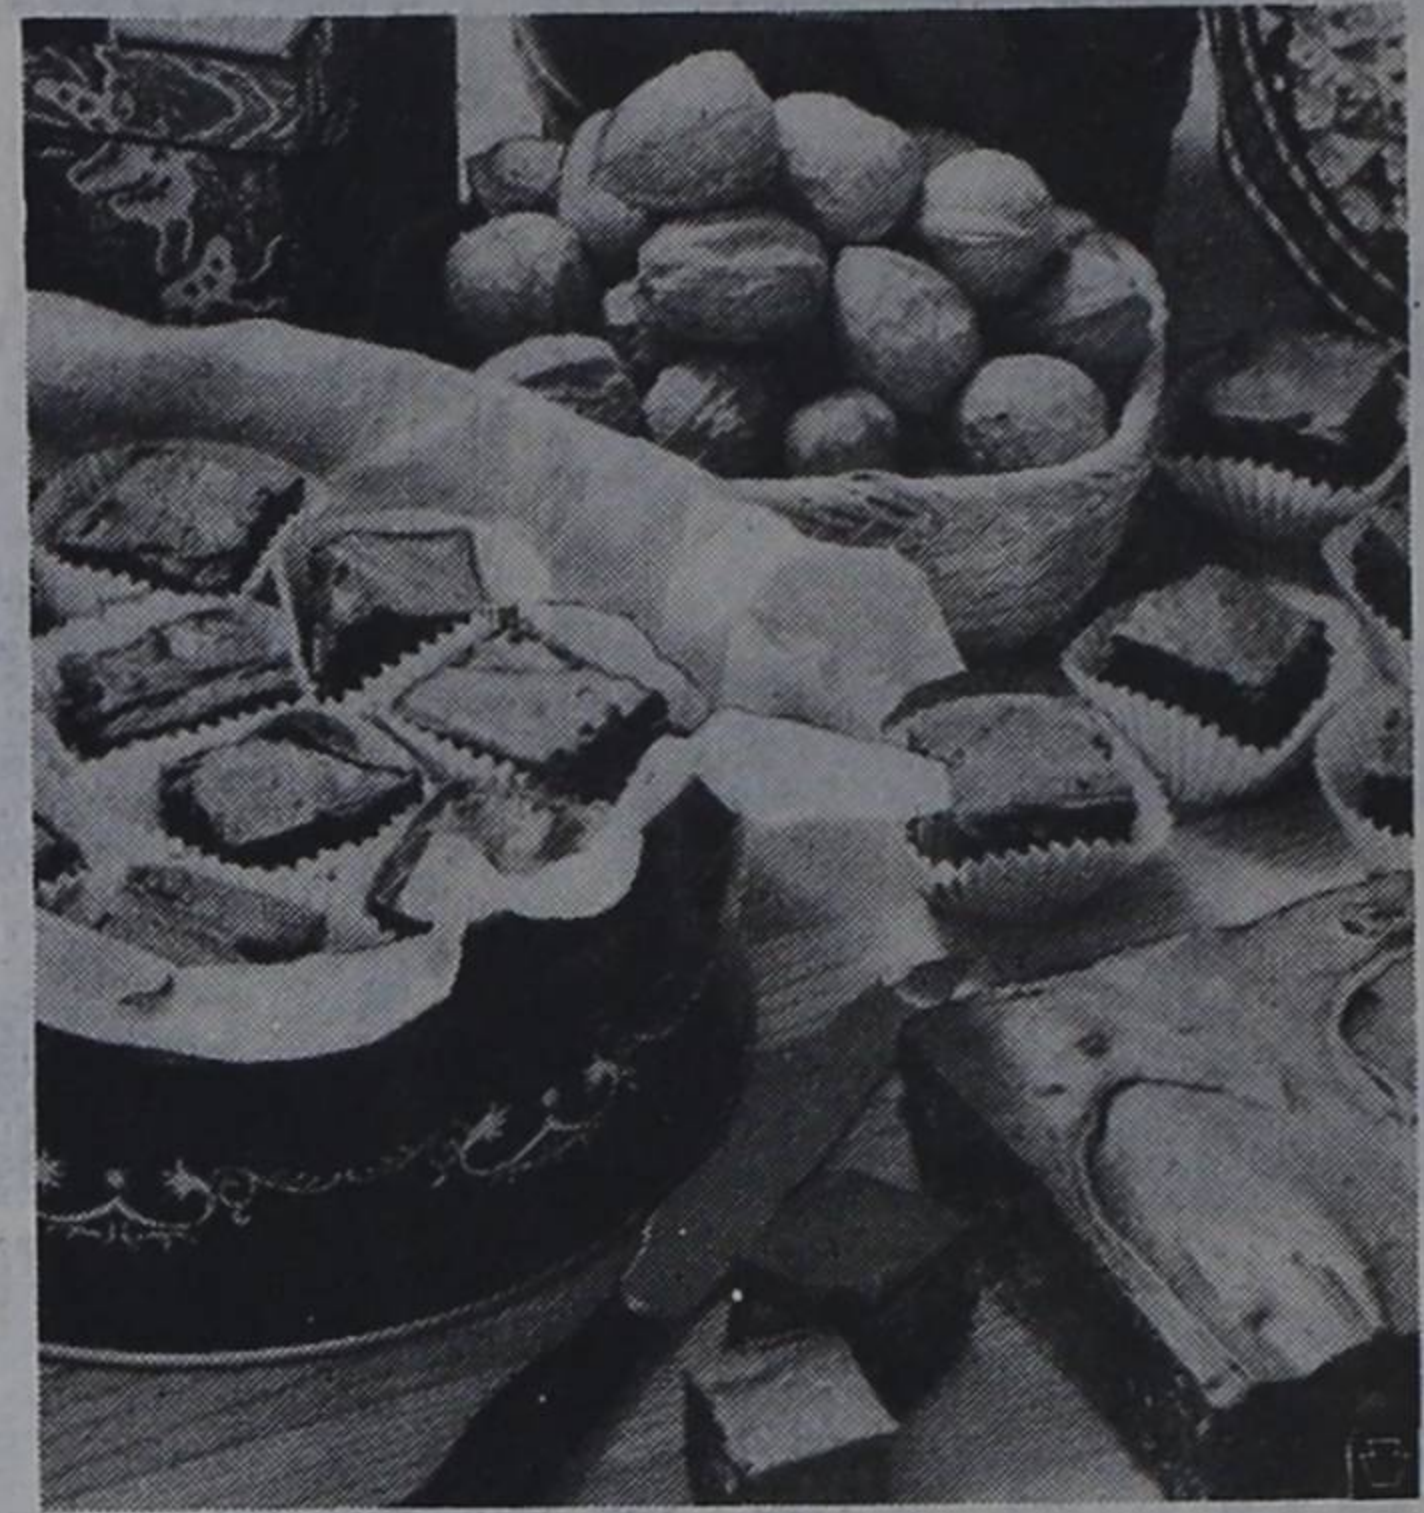

Then, it is back to the classroom and the books to absorb some of the knowledge reaped at Lubbock Lake.

Educational year-round tours of Lubbock Lake were first available last year, but have really escalated this year as work has spread about the tours.

For information on group or school tour opportunities at the archeological project, contact Northington at 742-2479.

FASTER WAYS WITH MICROWAVES

A perfect gift for those hard-to-buy-for friends is a pretty tin or holiday wrapped box of Remarkable Fudge and Caramel Pecan candies, say Whirlpool home economists. These delightful treats are creamy and delicious, and easy as 1-2-3 to prepare with a microwave oven. Holiday get-togethers call for generous hospitality and good things to eat. Greet well-wishers with a festive tray of Holiday Shrimp Rounds. They can be prepared ahead so that they're ready to serve when the guests arrive.

- REMARKABLE FUDGE (shown)
- 2 cups granulated sugar
 - 1 5/4-ounce can evaporated milk (3/4 cup)
 - 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 - 1 12-ounce package semisweet chocolate pieces (2 cups)
 - 1 7-ounce jar marshmallow creme
 - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1/2 cup chopped walnuts

In 2-quart bowl, combine sugar and milk. Add butter or margarine. Cook, uncovered, at HIGH 5 minutes till mixture comes to a full rolling boil, stirring twice. Reduce setting to MEDIUM (5) and cook 6 minutes, stirring twice. Stir in chips till melted. Add marshmallow creme, vanilla, and nuts; stir till well combined. Pour into buttered 8x9x2-inch baking pan. Cool. Cut in squares. Makes 2 1/2 pounds candy.

- CARAMEL PECAN CANDIES
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
 - 2 tablespoons milk
 - 1 15.4-ounce package creamy white frosting mix
 - 8 ounces vanilla caramels (28)
 - 2 tablespoons milk
 - 1 cup chopped pecans

In 1 1/2-quart bowl, melt butter at HIGH for 1 minute. Add the 2 tablespoons milk. Stir in frosting mix till well blended. Form into two rolls 6 inches long. Roll in waxed paper; chill. In 1 1/2-quart bowl, melt caramels with the remaining 2 tablespoons milk at HIGH for 2 minutes, stirring once. Spread caramel mixture over chilled logs. Roll in chopped pecans. Wrap and store in refrigerator. Slice to serve. Makes 48 slices, 1/4 inch thick.

- HOLIDAY SHRIMP ROUNDS
- 1 cup butter or margarine
 - 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
 - 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
 - 1/2 cup (2 ounces) shredded sharp cheddar cheese
 - 1 8-ounce package cream cheese
 - 2 tablespoons milk
 - 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 - 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 1/4 teaspoon dried dillweed
 - Dash garlic powder
 - 1 1/2-ounce can small shrimp, drained

In mixing bowl, cut butter into flour till mixture resembles small crumbs. Stir in sour cream and cheddar cheese. Divide mixture in half; wrap and chill 4 hours or overnight. Working with half the dough at a time, roll on floured surface to 1/16-inch thickness. With 2-inch floured biscuit cutter, cut into 48 rounds. Place 16 rounds at a time on ungreased glass pizza plate. Cook at MEDIUM HIGH (7) for 5 to 6 minutes. Cool on rack. Repeat with remaining dough.

Top with Shrimp and Cheese Filling: Unwrap cream cheese and place in small mixing bowl. Soften at LOW (1) for 5 minutes. Stir together cream cheese and milk. Add lemon juice, Worcestershire, dillweed, and garlic powder. Stir in half of the shrimp; cover and chill. To serve, spoon 1 teaspoon of mixture onto each pastry round. Stack in pairs; garnish with remaining shrimp. Sprinkle with additional dillweed. (Filled rounds may be stored up to 2 hours in refrigerator. Remove from refrigerator 10 minutes before serving.) Makes 4 dozen.

Lockjaw, the old-fashioned name for tetanus, is a disease which affects practically all warm-blooded animals, including humans. The name came into use because of the intense spasms of muscles about the head of affected animals. However, many different groups of muscles are affected by tetanus. For instance, the animal may show a "saw horse" appearance and be hypersensitive to sudden noise and other stimulation.

Because the tetanus organism needs dead tissue or organic material as well as a lack of oxygen to grow and produce its toxin, dirty wounds which are closed to outside air are the most dangerous.

Horses and sheep are most commonly and severely affected, often through a puncture wound or injury. Sheep commonly become infected through castration, docking wounds and shearing cuts.

Young pigs can also develop tetanus when infection gains entrance through castration wounds, fight wounds or navel infection. Since pigs only rarely develop tetanus, producers seldom do anything to protect against the disease. If facilities are known to be heavily contaminated with tetanus spores, an injectable antibiotic could protect swine.

Spores of the tetanus organism are found almost everywhere in nature, including the digestive tract of animals such as horses and cattle. They are more prevalent in intensively cultivated soils, are resistant to chemical disinfectants, and may live in contaminated soil for several years.

Horses, the species most sensitive to tetanus infection, can be protected effectively with vaccines called toxoids. Two doses of toxoid given four to eight weeks apart gives good immunity for at least a year.

Veterinarians may recommend an annual booster dose of toxoid vaccine in areas where tetanus is a serious threat. It's especially important that brood mares receive a toxoid injection during the latter part of pregnancy. This assures the mare's colostrum will have a high level of antibodies to the tetanus organism which are passed on to the newborn foal.

If vaccination history is not known and a horse is injured, a veterinarian will usually give a dose of tetanus antitoxin to protect against the disease.

Lambs can be given antitoxin or a dose of antibiotic to protect against tetanus at the time of castration and docking.

Producing more energy from less ... makes the difference.

Their discovery would shake the worlds of communication, medicine and defense, but Charles Townes and Arthur Schawlow knew only that they had discovered an entirely new source of light. They called it an "optical maser." Today we know it as the "laser."

Their discovery was a light beam so concentrated it could produce power densities millions of times as intense as those on the surface of the sun — a light source so dense, the energy produced was greater than the energy required to produce it.

Arthur Schawlow and Charles Townes

This principle of more energy from less applies to the High-Efficiency Add-On Heat Pump — more units of heat than units of electricity needed to produce that heat. And while the Add-On Heat Pump works with your existing furnace to heat your home during the winter, the Add-On Heat Pump functions with the same efficiency to cool your home during warm weather.

As partners, Townes and Schawlow made a significant difference in our world with their work on the laser. As partners you, Southwestern Public Service Company and the Add-On Heat Pump can make the difference managing electricity in your home. Call SPS to see what your savings could be.
