GTE Reps Report to Council

New Deregulation Effects Explained

General Telephone representatives, O. D. Hearn and Jerry Slaughter met with the City Council in a heavy agenda Monday night at the city hall and asked the council to renew the franchise for General Telephone Co. Hearn said he had originally come over to speak to the council on another matter when it was brought to his attention that the franchise with Post had expired in June of 1976 after 35 years in existence. The proposed ordinance-franchise is to be reviewed by the council and discussed with the telephone company at a later date.

Hearn also gave an excellent report to the council on the upcoming deregulation of the telecommunication industry which will become effective January 1, 1983. He said the first primary step happened this past summer when the telephone company no longer sold new business systems, that customers had the option to go wherever they pleased to purchase their equipment or they could buy direct from the telephone company, this being the initial step towards deregulation. He also talked of the competitiveness among all telecommunication companies and what customers could expect in the future. He said more news releases and handbills in the telephone bills would try and explain the deregulation process in the future. Hearn was complimented by Mayor McCrary on his public relations with Post and the council in the past and present.

Tom Pass with the Child Welfare Board also met with the council and thanked them for their assistance in their action on hiring a part time librarian, but said he was there for another reason and that was to introduce child welfare workers, Jody Longoria and Rick Miller. Both workers are from Lynn County but serve the Garza County area also. One of the workers was recently issued a warrant for his arrest after making a legitimate call in Garza County and Pass wanted to inform the council of the action taken and said that the county needed the services of these young people, this kind of work and vigilance.

Maritta Reed and J. W. Rogers met with the council concerning a LP gas permit to put a tank on the hospital grounds. An application has been filed with the Railroad Commission and asked the council's permission for this set up. The council approved this motion and one other motion for another LP tank by Eddin-Walcher to be placed on property for Bergstein Hot Oilers, subject to the approval of fire marshal, Ray Bagby.

Clayton Yeager of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper discussed the drainage problem on Avenue S with the council and said most of the problem came from an area approximately 200 acres from the west to North Avenue S. This area is in cultivation but still contributes a large quantity of runoff and silt to the city streets. He gave a more detailed summary of the advantages and disadvantages of each solution with the council tabling this matter until a future date.

Donald Windham with the Post Housing Authority gave a report to the council on the project on the Tahoka Highway and Avenue S and said the project was on schedule and that the council needed to take into consideration the naming of the two streets in the project.

Bud Davis, auditor for the city, met with the council and gave them a detailed report on the year's audit with a detailed explanation found elsewhere in today's Dispatch.

The council took under advisement the new tank ordinance and will discuss this at the January meeting to be held Jan. 10.

They also approved on first reading the new animal ordinance with the second reading to be held in January.

After receiving more complaints concerning the High Plains Cablevision Co., on the TV cable, the council decided to write a letter to the company asking them to appear before the council or their franchise would be dropped. The company is not living up to their franchise and the council wants quick action in the very near future.

Mayor McCrary was given authority by the council to sign a 99 year lease over to the hospital district for the EMS garage which is being built.

They approved the city's vehicle insurance which was to expire in January and also approved the year-end statement from the Post Volunteer Fire Department in the amount of $15,634.

Before adjourning, the council also voted to approve the month's invoices and pay the bills.

Two Men Arrested, Charged in DWI

Leroy Saldivar was arrested by Garza County officers recently for public intoxication and threat to kill. He remains in the Garza County jail.

Julian A. Saldivar was arrested on a DWI charge, assault charge, and threat to kill. He is out on a $750 bail bond, and a $400 appeal bond and plead not guilty.

The Way I See It

By WES BURNETT

There's been a lot of talk recently...and much written...about the social security system and the mess it's in.

There's so much wrong with the way the system works, it almost offsets the so many good things it does.

And if the politicians don't get their act together and find some solutions fast...the whole thing will come crashing down and leave a lot of good folks stranded.

The saddest part about this problem is the inaccurate picture that has been painted over the years to people who thought their social security deductions were going into some sort of savings.

There are people today on social security retirement who believe the check they get every month is their money being returned.

The sad truth is, the check they receive this month is coming from the money those of us who are paying into the system coughed up last month.

Actually, the social security system goes in the hole two-and-one half percent every month...in other words, some of that money goes to our social security retirees has to be borrowed by the government just to make current payments.

No wonder our economy is in such a turmoil.

Try to tell a senior citizen on social security that his or her check isn't really coming from the money they put in while they were still employed full time.

Many of these hard-working folks simply don't believe they were misled over all those years.

I certainly don't have any quick answers either, but the people we elect to represent us in congress are directly responsible for finding the solutions.

The Way I See It, we're going to have to bite the bullet and come up with more money and at the same time trim the automatic increases and some of the other benefits.

Otherwise, the social security checks in 1983 will bounce or not be sent at all. Then, who will support our senior citizens.

What did we do before there was social security?

There are still people alive today who remember that families and communities found ways to take care of the elderly and the destitute.

Some good old fashioned Christian charity was replaced by the impersonal federal government.

The Way I See It, we could use some more Christian love and charity and less dependence on the government to do the sort of caring for people that we could do better ourselves.

We just this past weekend saw the movie, "E.T." and are reminded that the expression of love by the child toward E. T. was the clincher for a healthy return to normal.

What better time of the year than now to express our love for one another?

Sharing of care and concern for our fellow human beings could be the difference we need to offset the uncertainties of our economic condition.

The Meaning of 'Noel'

POST MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE

By Steve Traw
There are but 12 shopping days til Christmas. The kids are counting the days til grandparents arrive for the holiday visit. The tree is up and decorated. Letters to Santa are finished. And Sunday past we sang, "The First Noel." That makes Christmas seem quite imminent. But what does the word Noel mean to you? It has come to stand as an expression of joy in our carols at Christmas or it is used for Christmas itself. Yet the origin of the word is uncertain. Thus the scholars give us various definite possibilities. from French origin comes the meaning "a shout of joy". Now that seems appropriate for the birth of the Savior. But older Latin has a similar word meaning birth or another Latin root that means news. We can imagine the shouts of joy and good news following that first Christmas morn. It is a feeling we still associate with the Advent season. More likely, the correct English spelling of the word is nowel or nowell which still appears in our dictionaries. It is the archaic form of noel. Thus historians say our noel is another contraction of the familiar in our language. For example, the often repeated and too quickly uttered phrases, "Good be with you" and "Fare thee well" now remain in our vocabulary as the shortened "Goodbye" and "farewell."

So too, the word nowell may quite likely have first appeared as the phrase, "Now all is well". Surely our forefathers greeted one another every Christmas season with shouts of "Now all is well", since God had now given His revelation of light to man. "Now all is well" soon became merely "Now well", then "nowell". As we look expectantly to Christmas Day this Advent season, remember that all indeed is well as in the message of the angels to the shepherds, "Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be all people". And later, later we read, "who with His blood making hath bought." The mystery of His birth is linked with the mystery of His death. What greater news! God has come to us through the Son. It is news worth sharing, worth shouting "Now all is well." May our community respond with the chorus, "Noel, Noel, Noel, Noel, Born is the King of Isreal."

Presbyterian
Women
Hold Party

The Presbyterian Women's Association held its annual Christmas party-meeting in the home of Louise McCrary, Monday afternoon.

After the meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Linda Malouf, President Louise McCrary conducted a short business meeting. Ruth Ann Newby suggested that various members sign up to coordinate the various meal-events during the church life for next year.

She then announced that Suzanne Pass was the newest recipient of a Life Membership in United Presbyterian Women. The honor, which is not bestowed every year, was given to her "an expression of appreciation and love."

A declaration of faith, as it might have been written by women was read.

Each of the guests then wrapped bottles of lotion for distribution to the nursing homes this Christmas Season, gifts were exchanged, and refreshments served.

Those present for the celebration were: Peggy Ashley, Frances Camp, Peggy Ellis, Jenny Francis, Johnnie Francis, Louise McCrary, Linda Malouf, Wanda Mitchell, Ruth Ann Newby, Suzanne Pass, Wanda Simecek, Diane Stelzer, Donna Stelzer, Lois Williams and Ruby Williams.

Thyatira to be sermon

By Pastor Steve Traw
Lydia was a dealer of purple dye. This woman of Thyatira became a true follower of God after hearing the Apostle Paul teach the Word of God. The home of Lydia became the first private home to be used as a meeting place for the Christians in that area.

A generation later a letter to the church at Thyatira was recorded from Christ. The penetrating words of that correspondence is recorded in Revelation 2:18-29. Its message is given "to the churches". Therefore it is a fitting and profitable study for the church today.

Sunday, at First Christian Church, this ancient city once noted for its trade guilds and wool and dyeing industry will be revisited during our morning worship service.

Veterans News

The Veterans Administration is changing its home-loan guarantee regulations to make it easier for veterans to participate in local housing programs where there are income restrictions.

Over the past several years, various state and local governments have developed housing programs designed to benefit persons of low and moderate income. Restrictions, such as rights of first refusal or agreements to forfeit excess sale proceeds in the event of sale, are imposed to assure that the program benefits accrue only to the targeted beneficiaries. Amending VA regulations now allows veterans to participate in those programs.

The decision to guarantee loans on homes where there are restrictions on the ages of residents or owners will allow VA loans in housing developments where the program has been of limited value up to now and will open up new possibilities to veterans nearing retirement age.

The amended regulations apply for both conventional homes manufactured homes. Details about those changes are available by contacting the nearest VA Regional Office toll-free telephone number listed in your local telephone directory under "U.S. Government" or "Veterans Administration."

1982 ADVANCE PAYMENTS

Producers who participated in the 1982 cotton or grain sorghum program may request an advance of 70 percent of their deficiency payment to be received in December 1982 or January 1983. These advance payments will be made only if you request them. Request forms were mailed to all known cotton and grain sorghum producers on November 3rd. These need to be returned to the office by December 1st if you want the advance.

FARM DEBT

On January 1, 1982, the total farm debt was estimated to be $194.9 billion (including Commodity Credit Corporation loans totaling $8.0 billion) This is an increase of 11.2 percent over 1980. The non-real estate portion of this debt totaled $92.8 billion or 47.6 percent. Non-real estate debt grew by $9.7 billion or 11.6 percent during 1981. Farm real estate secured debt grew to 52.3 percent of the total farm debt but was still below the peak of 55 percent on January 1, 1978. Real estate debt grew by $10.0 billion or 10.9 percent during 1981 to $102.0 billion.

We buy sewage effluent (liquid sewage) from the cities of Amarillo and Lubbock, chemically treat the effluent, then use it as cooling water for our power plants. Working together, SPS and the cities of Amarillo and Lubbock are making a difference in the availability and quality of one of our area's most precious resources—water.

Christmas trees can be a fire hazard if not cared for properly. Before setting up your tree, help "fireproof" it by cutting across the base diagonally. This will allow the tree to absorb more water and keep it from drying out too rapidly. When decorating your tree, check all tree lights for loose sockets or frayed wiring before placing them on the tree. And never use any lights that do not display the Underwriters' Laboratory seal. Caring for your Christmas tree properly can prevent a holiday tragedy.

Using this plan, you pay a set amount each month, rather than the dollar amount of electricity actually used. This monthly rate is figured by averaging the dollar amount of your past 12 monthly bills. Contact one of our people at your local SPS office for more information about this free service.

Deregulation of your telephone ...how will it affect you

Deregulation. What does it mean to the nation's telephone industry — and the customers it serves? All of the hows, whys and maybes are not determined, but here are answers to some often-asked questions.

Q. What is deregulation?

A. Simply, it's the process of removing state and federal controls from many services provided by the telecommunications industry. It means customers can select equipment and services in a competitive market without regulation by a regulatory commission.

Q. When does it happen?

A. Deregulation isn't new. Federal Communications Commission rulings over the past three decades have allowed some competition in terminal equipment (telephones, multi-line systems, etc.) and in long-distance services. But deregulation surfaced as a major public issue when the FCC mandated total deregulation of new terminal equipment, effective January 1, 1983.

Q. Why does the FCC want the telephone industry to be deregulated?

A. The FCC believes competitive markets are most efficient. Deregulation — and competition — will encourage new services and open more options to customers.

Actually, the FCC is but one of the driving forces behind deregulation. Congress, the Justice Department and the Reagan Administration (like others before it) all are eager to deregulate the American telephone business.

Q. What is GTE's position regarding deregulation?

A. GTE feels that deregulation ultimately will benefit all concerned. Competition is the American way and GTE expects to compete aggressively.

Q. Just what services will continue under regulation?

A. After January 1, the basic local and long-distance switching networks will continue to be regulated. So will all in-place equipment on customer premises. New equipment will be excluded from regulation, as will "enhanced" services, which combine basic service with computer processing to provide additional, different or restructured information.

Q. How does this affect customers?

A. The big change is in lease and purchase arrangements for telephones, multi-line systems and other equipment in a customer's home or business.

After January 1, existing customers may continue to lease their phones from General Telephone. In addition, they have the option of purchasing phones — either from General Telephone or another supplier.

New customers also will be able to buy phones anywhere they choose (including General Telephone). Cost of equipment purchased by customers will be determined by the marketplace — not regulatory commissions. Lease options also will be available to new customers, but again will be determined by the marketplace — not the regulators.

There's another important point. By definition, anyone who alters existing service will be classified as a new customer. People who move from one residence to another — even though both are served by General Telephone — would be considered new customers under deregulation guidelines.

Q. Will all customers be affected by deregulation?

A. No. The FCC's order applies only to single-line service. Customers on multi-party lines may continue to lease phones from General Telephone with all the traditional services. For a period after deregulation begins, party line customers may have some options that will not be available after January 1, 1983 to single-line customers.

Q. Will it affect the cost of telephone service?

A. Deregulation will have an impact on virtually every aspect of the telephone industry — including cost. It should result in lower prices for some services and higher prices for others. The net effect of deregulation — and the competition it creates — is that each product or service provided by General Telephone must pay its own way, without subsidies from other segments of the business.

For example, revenues from various optional services have traditionally subsidized the cost of providing basic local service. That ensured basic telephone service was affordable to nearly everyone. But competition will force prices to more closely reflect the true cost of any service. Local rates probably will rise; others may decrease. Either way, customers will be asked to pay for the cost of the services they use.

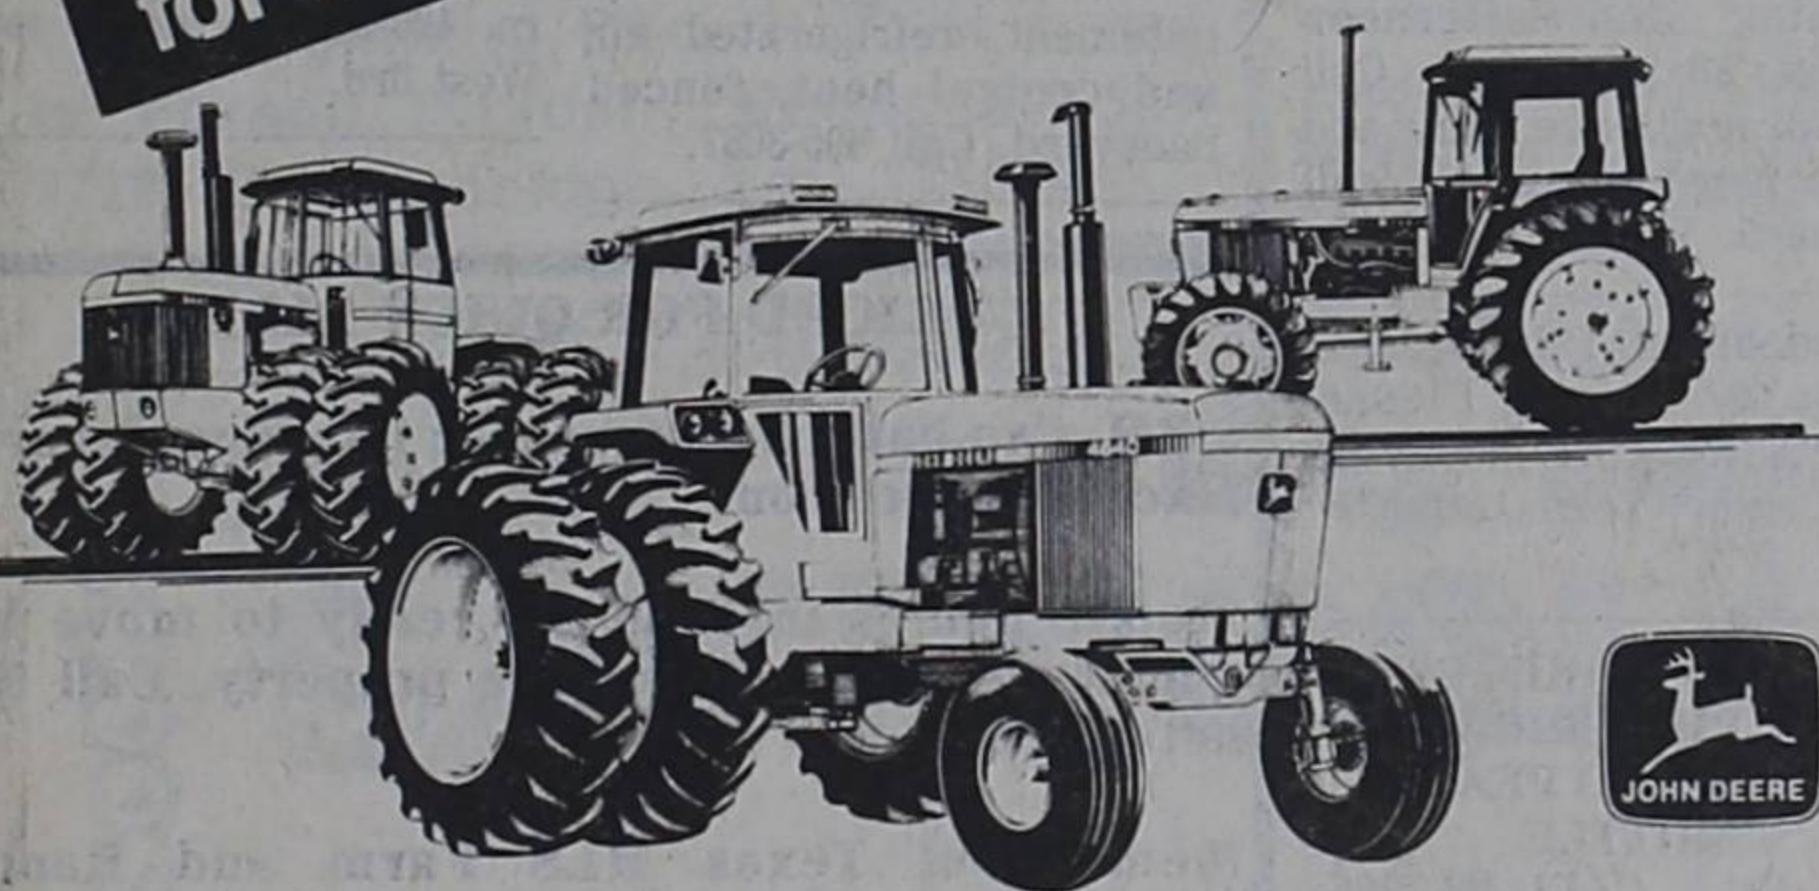

Q. So what are the benefits to the consumer?

A. With deregulation comes competition. With competition comes the suppliers' desire to provide customers with what they want, when they want it, resulting in many options, introduction of new technology and keeping costs at the lowest possible level.

Q. Won't there be a lot of people who will be unable to afford a telephone?

A. GTE expects to help customers meet increases in telephone rates by phasing in certain options for flat rate pricing, including Usage Sensitive Service (USS) which is a measured service.

Oilfield Hotline

The Petroleum Industry Security Council (PISC) oil field theft hotline became operational June 1, 1982. Thanks to the cooperation of many publications across the state, people are calling 1-800-OIL-COPS toll free to report oil field thieves. Information received on this hotline is being forwarded directly and immediately to law enforcement officials.

Oil field theft in Texas is costing citizens millions of dollars in higher prices and lost tax revenues. The OIL-COPS hotline, which offers anonymity to its callers and a reward up to $5,000, is an ideal tool to fight this costly crime. The OIL-COPS hotline program must be made well-known to the public to be effective.
