

Neighbors Help Shelton Harvest

During the Christmas season every year, a little more "brotherly" love usually shows in each one of us, it's just the season and the spirit that flows during this time.

But a good old show of "West Texas brotherly love", was shown to James Shelton last Wednesday, when neighbors and friends showed up at his farm just north of Post, with 43 cotton strippers, 12-15 module builders, and lots and lots of helping hands to completely harvest and gin his cotton crop.

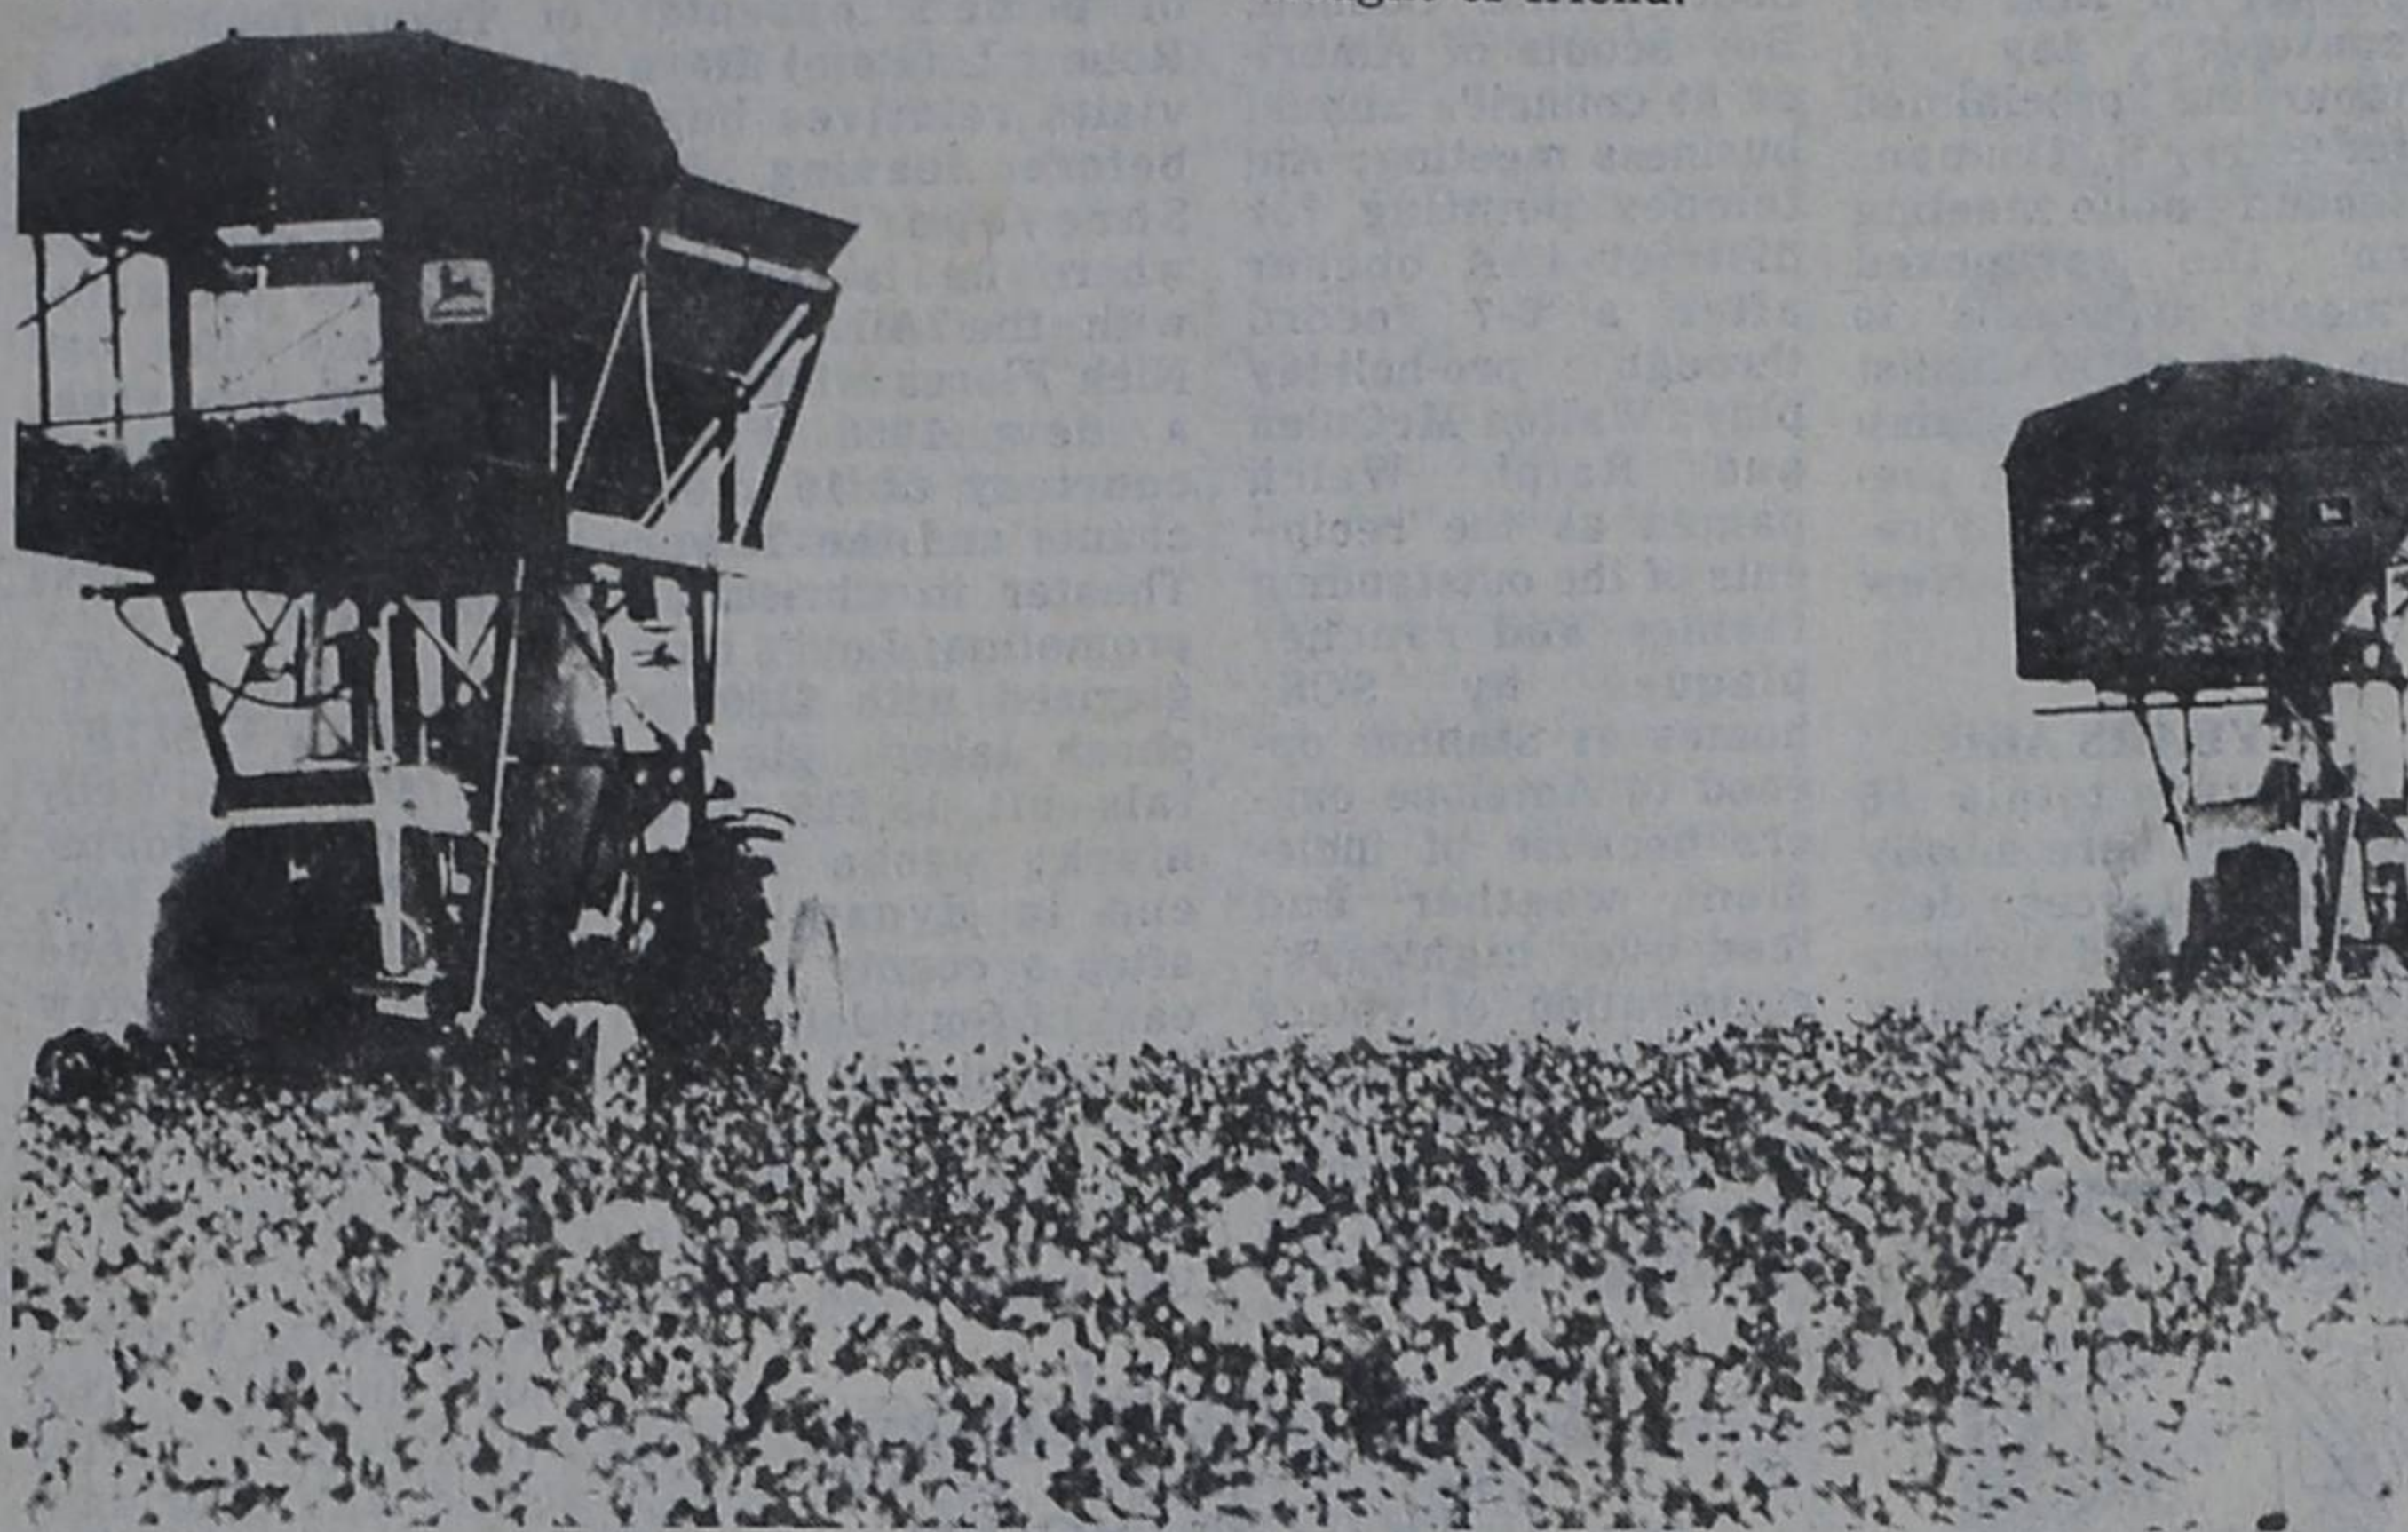

Morton Smith, manager of the Hackberry Coop Gin, tried at the beginning of the day to make a list of those farmers coming to help with the work, but soon found that it was futile as more and more people came, some he knew and some he did not know, and he finally decided that it was useless to try and name all of the helpers.

What started out as neighbors and friends turned into a "community" project as farmers from Post, Slaton, Southland and many more area communities came to make short work of harvesting approximately 600 acres of cotton, finishing the job before 3 p.m.

The Hackberry Coop Gin ginned the cotton as it was brought to the gin and so in just two short days, Mr. Shelton is completely through with his harvesting.

The noon meal was served at the Hackberry Gin, hosted by James Shelton, and wives of those men helping with the harvest.

Mr. Smith reported that approximately 150 people were served a meal of barbecue and salads and desserts in the gin office coffee room.

Who says Christmas can't come a little early, and what more meaningful way to show your love and concern for a trusted and well thought of friend.

LETTERS to the Editor

I am grateful for the devotion of her time and effort toward the endeavor of making the Christmas season a reality for many children in our city.

Without her and her helpers, what is taken for granted by so many of us would have seen many children sad and disappointed that Santa forgot to make a stop at their home.

It also means much to the parents of those who, for whatever reason cannot do for their children what others do.

To those of us who have never known the feeling of not seeing the joy that Christmas morning brings to our children cannot possibly know the sorrow it must bring to those who do not.

So, Mona, thank you, for reminding us of our responsibility to help our neighbor and for giving of yourself to help those less fortunate than so many of us.

Sincerely,
Margie Pennell

Partners map progress.

Lewis and Clark were men of destiny who challenged over 2,000 miles of trackless wilderness west of the Mississippi. Captain Meriwether Lewis, army officer and frontiersman, chose the artist and mapmaker Lieutenant William Clark for his partner. From 1803 to 1806 the two young men combined their skills and talents to search for a northwest passage to the Pacific Ocean.

As partners, Lewis and Clark provided detailed maps and valuable scientific journals which later encouraged rapid settlement and development of the West.

Today there is a new frontier to challenge — an energy frontier. You and Southwestern Public Service Company are partners like Lewis and Clark. Partners working together making energy decisions to make a difference. For instance, when you install a High-Efficiency Add-On Heat Pump in your home, you and SPS work together to better manage electricity. And when electricity is efficiently managed, it makes the difference.

Together, Lewis and Clark charted the maps that made the difference which helped win the West. Together, you and SPS can work as partners, charting progress for a new frontier in electricity management.

United Convalescent News

Christmas was a very busy week with parties and family coming and going and lots of excitement around here.

We thank Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rnkles for the cakes they made and brought to us. Thanks to the First National Bank for the beautiful poinsettia.

We had beautiful door decorations, thanks to Mrs. John Ward, and Mrs. Wanda Blacklock, who brought things for us to decorate our doors with.

We had mistletoe hanging all over the place, some of the residents got kissed if they didn't watch where they were going. If you don't believe that ask Mr. Lewis Babb, Mr. Thomas Warren, Mr. Delbert Funk and Mrs. Leta Mathis.

We had our employee party last Friday night and we sure had fun and a lot to eat. We sang Christmas carols and had gifts for everyone.

Thanks Chester Morris for the boxes of candy.

Bill Bartlett, Mildred Stewart and Esker Stone came last Thursday night and played and sang for us. We learned that some of the nurses can do the Charleston, how about that.

Mrs. Nettie Barrow is home from the hospital and Mr. Albert Sparlin is in the hospital. Hope he will be home soon.

Thanks to the Assembly of God children and Brother J. W. Brown and Mrs. Brown for coming and singing Sunday night for us.

We wish you all a Happy New Year.

The reception was hosted by the couple's daughter and husband, Col. and Mrs. Jack Calvert, and their children, Doug, Lee Ann and Mary Calvert.

Mrs. Buchanan has taught school in Verbena, Slaton, Roswell, Pecos, Burkburnett and then in Post until she retired.

They took second high point team honors in horse judging, third in swine, fourth in sheep and sixth in cattle judging. Other members of the team include Tim Addison of Plains, David Lust of Lubbock, fifth high point individual over all and second high point man in horse judging; Benton Easter of Floydada; Mark Thomas of Wolforth, first high point individual in sheep judging, and the coach Jim Jenkins.

Pipelines... make good neighbors

America has over 220,000 miles of petroleum pipelines carrying crude oil and products to refineries and storage terminals across the United States. Each day, more than 1.5 billion ton/miles of crude oil and products move through this network. These pipelines have a safety record second to none in the transportation industry... and we want you to help us keep it that way.

- liquids on or a mist above the ground in the area of a pipeline.
- Flames originating from an opening in the ground.
- If you become aware of a pipeline leak...
  - LEAVE THE LEAK AREA IMMEDIATELY.
  - Avoid driving into vapor clouds.
  - Avoid direct contact with the escaping liquids.

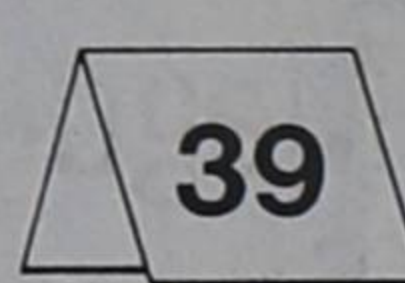

GROUND MARKER

GROUND MARKER

CASING VENT

AERIAL MARKER

When you see signs like those shown above, they tell you that there's a pipeline nearby. If it's underground, you can't see it, of course. But it's there, working quietly to provide energy for you and other consumers throughout this nation.

Some of these signs list the commodity transported in the pipeline, the name of the operator, and a telephone number where the operator's representative can be reached at all times.

Although pipelines have an exceptionally good safety record, once in a while a leak can occur. Indications of a leak might include:

- A strange or unusual odor in the vicinity of a pipeline.
- A hissing or roaring sound (caused by petroleum or product escaping from a pipeline).
- A dense white cloud or fog.
- A spot of dead or discolored vegetation.
- An accumulation of petroleum

Avoid creating sparks or sources of heat which could cause the liquids or vapor to ignite and burn. If you find yourself in a suspected vapor area, do not light a match, start an engine or even switch on an electric light.

Notify the pipeline operator as soon as you reach a safe area. Call collect. Give your name, a description of the leak and its location. If you do not know who the pipeline operator is, call your local fire, police or sheriff's department, or the state police. Advise them of the nature and location of the emergency.

If you see someone digging near a pipeline or doing other construction work... or if you plan to do such work near a pipeline yourself... please call the telephone number shown on the sign and let the pipeline company know so damage can be avoided. It's in your interest... and the nation's.

America's Petroleum Pipelines

Pipelines are the safest way to move petroleum and products and you can help keep it that way!

Cpl. Guitron Deployed

Marine Lance Cpl. Johnny Guitron, son of Manuel and Reyna B. Guitron of Route 2, Box 158, Post, Texas, has departed on a deployment to Okinawa.

He is a member of the 3rd Battalion, 9th Marines, 3rd Marine Division, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The unit will spend six months overseas as part of the Marine Corps Unit deployment program. The concept is designed to rotate whole battalions or squadrons at a time instead of individuals at separate intervals. In this way, unit integrity is retained and the actual time they spend overseas is shortened.

Ministerial Alliance God Is God

By REV. TOM PASS

It's not coincidence that the winter solstice, the shortest day of the year, falls just before Christmas. It's a dark time...some daylight, yes, but less of it, and it darkens more quickly...and the air chills so quickly when the sun is out of sight.

Humanity knows its own darkness...clouds of fear and confusion. The occasions of insight and truth seem so brief. We need light and warmth so much, and yet they elude us, so we shiver in the cold and dark.

This is also the season of dormancy: Animals hibernate, the trees and grass lose their green. It is a time of sheltering, of waiting, wondering what is really going to happen. The earth chooses its color for this time, and paints the greyness everywhere.

But there is a reason for waiting, for hoping, for expecting. There's a promise of life in the dormancy. There is an assurance of light and warmth to come, even in the midst of the cold, cold darkness.

The messenger said, "Wait...and see! Light is coming! You are soon to know real warmth."

And the messenger said, "Do not be afraid! Do not be afraid! Something good is going to happen, something to take away the shadows, the darkness, the cold."

The promise is God's own. He wants us to remember that he is genuinely in charge, that he has never relinquished his oversight, his direction, his responsibility. He will keep every promise he made. He is still in charge, and we don't have to be. God is God! The messenger announces. Amen! we answer, for the darkness and the cold have been great. Tinsel doesn't give off much light or heat. "All real works of art look as if they were done in joy." - Robert Henri
