Trustees rescind 'across board' lunch price vote

Following a two hour emergency school board meeting Tuesday night in the high school library, the board voted to null and void their motion on setting all lunches at 40 cents after a misinterpretation of the minutes written at the last board meeting. The minutes were read to do away with the reduced lunch program and set all lunches at 40 cents which would do away with the commodities the school district receives.

Bill Shiver, superintendent of schools, reported to the board that he had talked to a Charles Cole, director of school lunch programs with the Texas Education Agency and was informed that the Post schools were required to participate in the school breakfast program, according to House Bill 136 and that meant free, reduced and paying students. He also told Shiver that Principal II of the accreditation standards states that the Post schools must be in compliance with all the state laws.

Shiver told the board that they had to decide if it wanted to comply with state law and a decision needed to be made if it wanted to abolish free and reduced priced lunches.

Several of the board members said they did not interpret the minutes to read to do away with the reduced lunches or free breakfast program but that they understood it to mean that all full paying students would only pay the 40 cents, the same price as the reduced lunch program.

The state sets the maximum amount a school can charge on the reduced lunches at 40 cents.

After reviewing the March report of last school year, the board went into lengthy discussion on percentages of students paying reduced lunches and those paying full price.

Shiver pointed out to the board that the school had to have a free breakfast program as long as you had 10 percent of students who qualified for the program and last year Post schools had approximately 57 percent to qualify.

He pointed out to the board that if you don't have the commodities the price of the lunches would go up. After Royce Hart made the motion to strike the See School board, Page 16

'Antelope Night' is Saturday

The annual "Meet the Antelopes" ice cream supper and introduction of coaches and players will be held Saturday night, at 7:30 in Antelope Stadium.

With a promise of a great season, this is a great time to get acquainted with the coaching staff, and to meet all the players from 7th grade through the varsity team.

Ice cream will be 50 cents for all you can eat, and caps and windbreakers in the school colors will be on sale during the evening.

Free bumper stickers and schedules of all the Post games will be available.

Start the season out right, and support your teams, they are working very hard, and a full stadium at the games makes it worthwhile. The students will appreciate your support. Varsity cheerleaders and twirlers will be introduced also.

Anyone who would like to furnish a freezer of homemade ice cream is invited to do so. Just be at the football field with your freezer and join in the fun.

Saddle and tack exhibit draws 200

Some 200 persons attended the "Saddle and Tack" exhibit at the Garza Historical Museum on August 13-14. The display had been planned to coincide with the Post Stampede Rodeo.

Eighteen Garza Countians brought in their oldest or most unusual items which had been used in the working of horses. Among the 76 different items were more than a dozen saddles, all different, along with tack such as bridles, ropes, chaps, spurs, and blankets.

Other items included a horse shoeing stand along with shoeing tools, a portable rope corral, de-horning set of ice delivery bags and accessories used with horse drawn wagons.

Also on exhibit was an ancient side saddle used by women and a ladies riding habit on a manikan. Seven old time cowboys and cowgirls served as hosts by sitting in the long hallway and visiting with and telling ranching stories to those attending the show. These were Lucy Callis, Pearl Nance, Evelyn Neff, Henry Key, Jack Myers, Roy Stevens and Floy Richardson.

PARENTS NIGHT
Parents of students in grades Kindergarten through fifth grade are invited to meet their children's teachers and discuss the school program from 6:30 until 8 p.m. Tuesday August 31. There will be a short opening meeting in the Primary Auditorium and then the visit to childrens classrooms.

Garza County farmers eligible—

Guidelines set for disaster assistance

As was announced earlier, Garza County was one of the 75 counties in Texas designated by Agriculture Secretary, John Block, to receive special disaster payments. The Secretary exercised his authority given to him under the provisions of the Agriculture and Food Act of 1981, to implement disaster payments when an area receives severe crop losses due to adverse weather conditions such as the South Plains of Texas received in June of this year. Details of the special program administered by county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offices have been released.

To be eligible for the special payments, a farm must have suffered a loss in excess of 25 percent of the farm's established yield for cotton or 40 percent for wheat and feed grains. The farm must also be enrolled in the voluntary acreage reduction program and be in compliance with the terms of the program. A 15 percent reduction applies to wheat and cotton and a 10 percent reduction applies to feed grains.

A farm which has disaster affected acres that will not be carried on to harvest must have a form 574, application for disaster credit, on file before those acres are mechanically destroyed or other use made of the crop. If the crop is carried on to harvest, a 574 must be filed within 15 days from the date harvest is completed.

As in the past, pounds or bushels for the farm that receive disaster payments will not be eligible for deficiency payments. There is a $100,000 per person limitation for disaster pay- See Garza farmers, Page 16

EMTs have open house, display new equipment

The Post EMT's held open house in their recently remodeled meeting hall, in the old city hall building, and guided Post residents through their exhibits, demonstrating the new life saving tools and abilities the group has acquired.

Demonstrations were manned by members of the EMT's, and the Post Volunteer Fire Department, Post residents to view and to see how proceeds of their money is spent.

Three plaques of appreciation were presented during the afternoon, one going to Giles McCrary, for his loyal

Chamber to have breakfast

The Chamber of Commerce Quarterly breakfast will be held Friday, August 27, at 7 a.m. in the Community Center.

Sponsors for the breakfast are Bryan Williams and Son Insurance, and Cox Lumber Co.

Admission for the breakfast is $1.00.

support of the organization, one to the VFW, for their aid in the fund raising for the newly remodeled hall, and one to Jim Jackson, for his leadership and guidance in the group.

The organization is now at 25 active members. To become an EMT, many hours of study are required.

External class is planned

Adult education classes leading to a regular high school diploma will be held daily from 9:40 until 10:40 a.m. in room 7 of the Post High School beginning Monday, Sept. 30. Anyone interested in enrolling should come to the Post High School office.

The daytime adult education program is called the APL or External High School Diploma Program which is a separate program from the GED program. The GED adult classes which lead to an equivalency diploma will be scheduled at night beginning in October. For further information about either program, contact Lane Tannehill at Post High School.

as well as on the job training, with actual experience in accident handling, and these classes are taught by professionals. It is not an easy task to become a member, but a proud accomplishment when that final test is taken and has been passed.

These community volunteers, spend many hours of their time, and money to offer this service to the community, and it is a service much needed.

Benefit Dance is Sept. 3

A Benefit Dance is being planned by friends of Davis Heaton with proceeds going toward scholarship and trust funds for his family.

The dance will be Friday night, September 3, following the Post-Roosevelt football game, at the Post Community Center.

The cost for admission will be $5 per person and $10 per couple. Weldon Reed has been kind enough to agree to furnish the music for this dance. Please show your love and support of this family and attend this worthwhile cause.

U Lazy S Ranch hands prove to be varied in skills

The U Lazy S Ranch hands of Post, proved this weekend along with being top notch cowboys, that they are varied in their talents also, when they tied for second place for the honor of "The Best Ranch in Texas", in competition held in Wichita Falls. Competition in ranch skills, crafts, cooking and other talents was held in the Wichita County Mounted Patrol rodeo arena, and was sponsored by the North Texas Rehabilitation Center and Budweiser.

All funds from the round-up went towards the North Texas Rehab Center, The West Texas Rehab Center at Abilene, and the West Texas Boys' Ranch at San Angelo. Competing from Post also, was the Double U Ranch, who won 10th place in the competition.

First place honors won by the U Lazy S Cowboys included the team roping, with Sam Whitley and Steve White teaming up, the cooking team headed by Jack Lott, who presented a plate of beef tenderloin and a very tasty peach cobbler, and Steve White in the talent competition playing and singing an original song, "Loop Hound," which he had written.

Other cowhands participating in accumulating the 45 points were Jay Hart, Lonnie Gene Peel, Kraig Peel, Jay Lott, and Jeff Lott. Overall winner of the title was the Moorhouse Ranch who scored 46 points, barely nosing out U Lazy S of Post, and the Pitchfork Ranch of Guthrie each scoring 45 points to tie for second place.

Named the best all-around cowboy for the show was Junior Daniels of the Pitchfork Ranch. Overall standings were Moorehouse Ranch of Benjamin, 46 points; U Lazy S Ranch of Post, 45 points; Pitchfork Ranch of Guthrie, 45; Renderbrook-Spade Ranch of Colorado City, 36; Cowan and Son Ranch of Seymour, 31; R. A. Brown Ranch, Throckmorton, 23; Lewis Ranches of Clarendon, 20; Waggoner Ranch of Vernon, 20; Scharbauer Ranches of Midland, 19; Coldwater Cattle Co., of Amarillo, 16; Swenson Ranch of Stamford, 14; Double U Ranch of Post, 11, and the Tongue River Ranch of Paducah, with 1 points.

Ranch queen winner was Susan Stephens of the Moorhouse Ranch. Trushell Marts of Post, representing the Double U Ranch was a queen contestant.

Competing for the Double U Ranch were Glenda Shobe, cook; Vickie Diggs, talent; Trushell Marts, queen; Mike Diggs, Joe Pennell, Dale Hunter, Gale Shobe, Dewayne Elmore and Kenneth Marts.

Post can count blessings

Post like lots of smaller towns in the area, quite frequently like to sit down and count it's blessings, and when you begin listing, the list keeps getting longer all the time. Post can be very proud of its residents and their community interest, which is what makes Post such a great place to live.

One of the finest organizations in the community held an open house Saturday in its newly decorated meeting hall in the old city hall building, and the organization is the Post EMT's. This organization is one of the finest volunteer units in the area and their pride shows in their community spirit and community concern. The many hours spent in classroom study, and then the hours of training in simulated incidents, have paid off in the long run, and have turned this organization into one of the most used and counted on parts of our community.

When you need an ambulance you need it now, and it makes it even more assuring when you have a trained person riding with that ambulance to make sure you get the needed emergency treatment the minute the ambulance arrives, and not waiting until you reach the hospital for this treatment.

Of course, the hand cannot work without the arm, and the close working relationship with the Post Volunteer Fire Department, adds another note of assurance to this working community team. The local fire department, also one of the finest around, was recently presented with a jaws of life, by the city and county, which aids in the process of taking out persons pinned in wrecks or other accidents, and one cannot work with out the other. Both of the service are volunteer services, and many hours are spent keeping their abilities tuned to the finest they can be, to preserve life in our community.

Thank goodness for these volunteers who take living in Post seriously, and work so hard in making it a safer place to live.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The debate over the death penalty nearly ended and the state's new death by injection policy put into practice last week when a 26-year-old Houston man came within less than seven hours of being executed.

Charles Bass, who has been sentenced to die for the murder of a Houston city marshal, came closer to being put to death than any other condemned murder in Texas since the last execution here in 1964.

With a federal judge in Houston turning down a request by Bass' attorneys for a stay of execution, Gov. Bill Clements was set to fly home from a vacation in Taos, N.M., to be on hand to make a last-minute decision on a reprieve.

Both Clements and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby were out of state, leaving Houston Sen. Walter Mengden, president pro tem of the Senate, in charge. But Clements said he did not want to put such a heavy burden on Mengden's shoulders.

However, before the governor's plane ever reached Taos to pick him up, a three-judge panel from the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals granted the stay.

Attorney General Mark White—in what Clements' campaign staff described as a purely political action—went to two U.S. Supreme Court justices seeking to overturn that stay. White is Clements' Democratic opponent in this year's gubernatorial race.

However, the matter eventually was referred to the full court for later consideration.

The 5th Circuit Court action means that Bass cannot be executed for at least 30 days because of a state law that grants an automatic 30-day reprieve to any prisoner whose execution is not carried out on schedule.

made Gov. Bill Clements steaming mad.

Collins held a press conference last week to release a poll which he said showed him now only 10 percentage points behind incumbent U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen . . . but also revealed that his poll showed Clements trailing his opponent Mark White by four points.

The press corps perked up at that information, since Clements claims his own polls show him leading White comfortably.

Clements campaign staffers spent much of the week discrediting Collins' pollster, Arthur Finkelstein of New York.

Finkelstein, the chief pollster for the National Conservative Foundation (NCPAC), also came under fire from Bentsen himself last week. Bentsen wants the Federal Election Commission to investigate Finkelstein's relationship with NCPAC for alleged impropriety.

While NCPAC in the past has claimed credit for knocking off such liberals as U.S. Senators George McGovern, Frank Church and Birch Bayh, the East Coast group is viewed with suspicion by many Texans as an outsider group . . . and especially hated by Democrats. Republican arch-conservative Clements has avoided the NCPAC aid, but GOP lieutenant governor hopeful

PROGRESS IN MEDICINE

New Hope For Millions

Many of America's 10-12 million diabetics can now lead freer lives. Pregnant diabetics can now carry their babies safely to full term. Reversal of the dangerous complications of diabetes is now a strong promise.

That's because of a revolution in the way diabetes is handled. Doctors are now teaching their patients how to check their own blood sugar levels and then how to make the necessary adjustments to diet, insulin and exercise.

The patient must first prick a finger and obtain a drop of blood (it's virtually painless). The blood is then put on a chemically-treated strip called Chem-strip bG, which was developed and produced by Bio-Dynamics, a Boehringer Mannheim company. After 60 seconds, the excess blood is wiped off. After another minute, the colors on the strip are matched to a chart on the test kit's container.

Comptroller Criticisms

And while Collins was slipping up, another Republican, comptroller candidate Mike Richards, was making even a bigger blunder.

Richards, a state senator from Houston, called a press conference to disclose allegations that incumbent Bob Bullock was using state employees in his re-election bid.

Richards released a tape recording he said proved that workers in the comptroller's office were searching out information on a computer system for Bullock's campaign.

The first-term legislator, however, must have forgotten to read the Texas Election Code prior to making the accusations because he later found himself in hot water for the methods he used to obtain the tape.

Richards' campaign workers, posing as employees of a computer consulting firm, called the comptroller's office and taped the conversation without revealing their true identities or that the call was being recorded.

Bullock criticized Richards as "sleazy," said he was "getting into a slime pit" and cried that the Republican's tactics amounted to entrapment.

On further election issues, Secretary of State David Dean announced that his office definitely will be taking over the chore of adding up the votes this November from the Texas Election Bureau.

Dean praised the bureau for its work in tabulating election results since 1916, but said it was time for the state to assume that function.

The result, Dean said, will be "minimize the opportunity for election fraud" and "maximize the flow of election results" to the public and candidates.

The bureau, a consortium of news media, will continue to assist the secretary of state with the vote count.

Bell Rates

The Texas Municipal League has asked the Public Utility Commission to grant Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. less than half of the $471.5 million rate hike it has requested.

TML officials say that Bell is entitled to no more than $217.9 million. The league has proposed only a 15.5 percent rate of return for Bell stockholders, compared to 17.1 percent requested by the telephone company.

Bell asked for an almost identical increase last year, but only received about half that amount.

CHANGING ATTITUDES ABOUT DWI

Few things in this country have changed as much during the past few years as public attitudes on drunk drivers. It is a change we can all be thankful for.

Most of that change, in my opinion, can be attributed to the organization of Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD), and the attendant publicity and editorial support they have received from our newspapers. They have succeeded, where others have failed, in drawing attention to the tragedy that has claimed the lives of thousands of Texans.

It was not long ago, for instance, when some public officials who ought to lead by example were openly contemptuous of our laws against driving while drunk. Much of this problem started nine years ago when my opponent became Lt. Governor and helped pass the law reducing the legal drinking age from twenty-one to eighteen years of age. Now Mr.

Hobby, feeling the heat of irate parents and loved ones, and perhaps personal remorse, has said he favors tougher drunk driving laws—another switch from a previous position.

Political promises, however, are easily made. If a politician can't get excited about an issue of this magnitude in nine years, it seems unlikely that he would get excited and pursue corrective legislation in another four years.

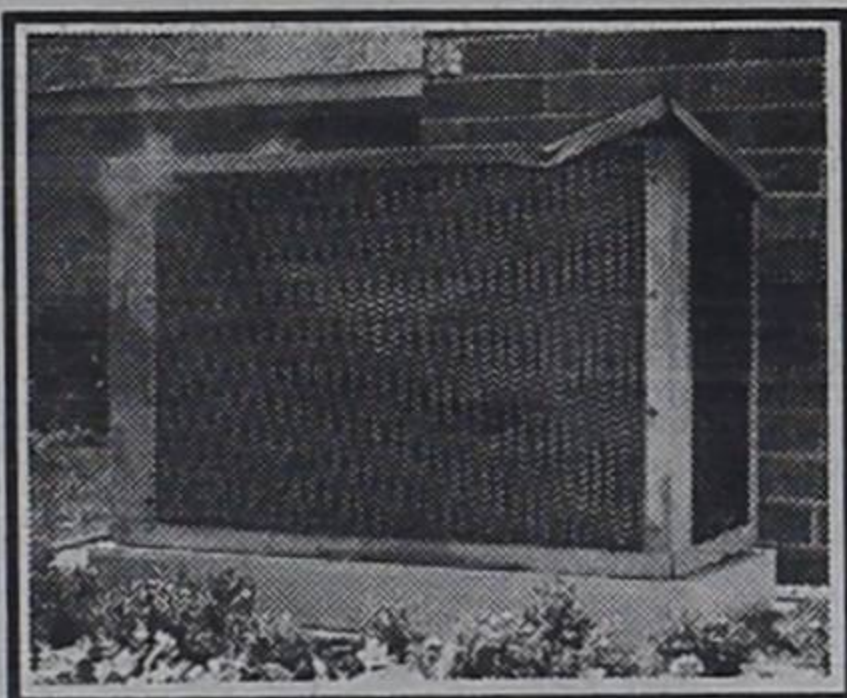

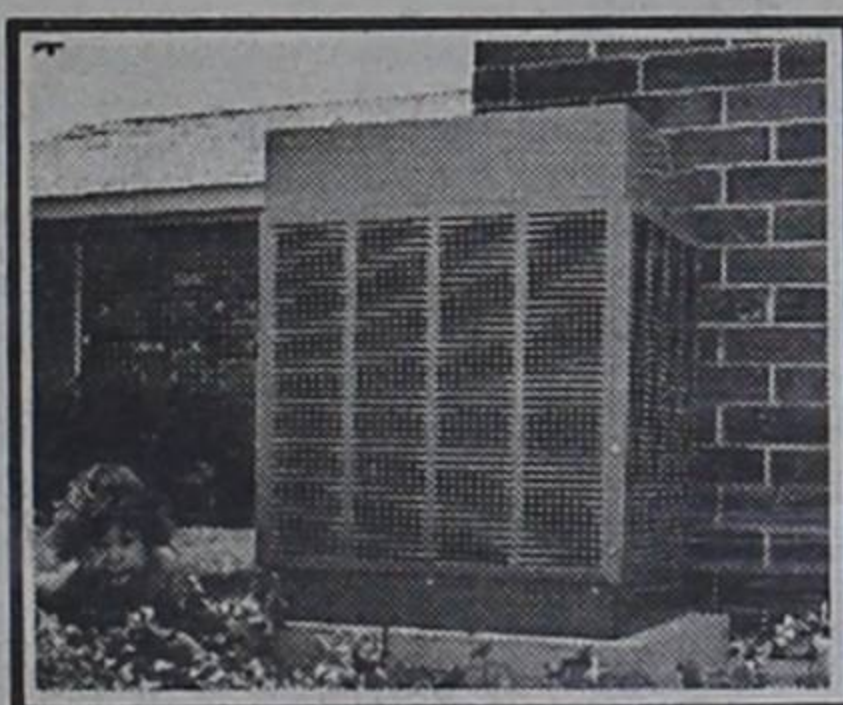

So I hope the Mothers Against Drunk Drivers will stick to their guns, and I hope they continue getting support from the people of our state. Their efforts to put an end to this carnage on our highways has my support, and I hope it has yours.

Of one thing we can be reasonably sure: Starting next year we will have a new Lt. Governor, and that will make it easier. If you have thoughts on this subject, please write me at 1213 W. 34th, Austin, 78705.

Senior citizens of Post have been saddened by the loss of Raymond Young. He was very active in our Senior Citizens program wuch as being there everyday for lunch. He had been on SPAG in the project council as one of our voting delegates, also on the board of directors. He belonged and worked on the Green Thumb program as the crew sponsor, who helped renovate the old Algerita Hotel into our beautiful Senior Citizens Center which is one of the nicest on the South Plains area. He will be missed by all of us here at the center. We loved him very much. Our prayers go out to his family and also to all the others who have lost a loved one. Our prayers are with you.

We always remember those who are ill each day in our daily prayers before lunch. We miss each and every one who doesn't come as they are one of our regulars. We welcome each and everyone who is a Senior Citizen to come and join in our fellowship and games and have each day plus we sure have good lunches five days a week, Monday through Friday at 12 noon. Regardless of who you are, you are welcome to come join us.

There were thirty Post residents traveled to Lubbock Civic Center Friday, August 20 to the third annual "Good Ole Summer Time" which is a supper served and lots of good entertainment. Also there is door prizes drawn and Post came away with four winners this year. They were Verna Roberts, Granny Holly, Joan Blacklock, and Cleo Sappington. I think they thought Post had rigged the drawing box. It was enjoyed by all and hope we will have it again next year. This is sponsored by the City of Lubbock for Senior Citizens. We appreciate this very much.

There was a mix up on our musical this past Friday night. Don't know how many attended as I wasn't there due to other commitments.

Brother Cook's church had their fourth Sunday singing this past Sunday. There was a lot of good singing and singers there. If you missed this you sure missed a blessing.

Calvary Baptist Church will have a singing this coming Sunday which is the fifth Sunday so be sure and come to it and receive a great blessing. It will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday evening.

We are still accepting memorial donations in memory of Raymond Young. So if you want to make a donation we would appreciate it and these will go to the Algerita Center.

Pete Pennell is in the hospital at Lubbock. Don't know just what his problem is but we want to remember him in our prayers. Harold Voss, is home after suffering a spell with his heart. Also Sexton Huntley is home and we are thankful for this.

Thank you Garza County for the use of the bus to go to Lubbock. We certainly appreciate you for all you have done for our Senior Citizens.

Senate Passes Immigration Bill

The State has approved an immigration bill by a 81-18 vote. Strongly supported by the Administration and organized labor, it provides amnesty for illegal aliens who have lived in the U. S. continuously since 1977 and temporary residence status for those residing here since 1980. It also calls for civil and criminal penalties for employers who knowingly hire illegal aliens, development within the next three years of a counterfeit-proof national identity card, and a revised program for temporary foreign workers. The bill now goes to the House where the Judiciary Committee is working on similar legislation.

SBA Disaster Loans

A Small Business Administration official notified National Cotton Council President Ed Breihan this week that economic injury disaster loans will be made available to businesses in the weather-stricken West Texas area. The action hinges on Agriculture Secretary Block's approval of a request by Texas Governor William Clements to make 26 counties in the area eligible for emergency loans. Breihan earlier had urged the SBA loans in support of a request by Earl Julufka, president of the Texas Independent Ginners Association.

Export Sales Advance

Net new cotton export sales for 1982-83 delivery were 66,200 running bales during the week ended Aug. 12. The National Cotton Council reports that South Korea bought 48,000 bales of the total and Japan, 7,700. Total commitments for the new season stand at 1,936,600 bales. The week's export shipments totaled 69,500.

AUTO TIPS

Checking Treadwear
 A tire's ability to hold the road decreases as the tire's tread wears down. When the depth of a tire's groove is one-sixteenth of an inch or less, lateral wear bars appear across the grain of the tread.

A tire that reaches this point is potentially hazardous, particularly on wet pavement, and should be replaced, according to Bill Woehle, manager of industry standards for Uniroyal Tire Company.
 The tread depth of a tire can be easily measured with a ruler, or with a Lincoln-head penny, he says. If a ruler is not available, insert the penny with Lincoln's head down; if you can see all of Lincoln's head, the tread is less than one-sixteenth of an inch and the tire needs to be replaced.

Card of Thanks

GOOD DEEDS CONTINUE
 Once again I have been shown love by Doctors, nurses, family and friends. I'm sure many prayers have been said, and words in person, by phone and beautiful flowers, and other gifts. A special thank you to the ones who took care of Douglas, bringing him to Lubbock and those who sat with family while I was in ICU and in the room with me. I am home again and perhaps I'll be able to do for others as you have done for us. Thanks for everything. Helen Livingston

The Smith family wants to thank each of the nice ladies that served us a wonderful lunch. It was so kind of each of them to give their time and food for us. We will always remember the kindness of each of you. God Bless you all.

We wish to express our appreciation to everyone for the many ways you helped us. A special thanks to the EMS for their efficient performance. The family of Raymond Young

We want to thank Frances, Mrs. Cravey, Eric, Aunt Bula, Jerry, Doris, and the Post Fire Department for their part in averting a disaster in our home recently. Walton

There's no words to express all the acts of kindness shown us during the loss of our loved one, Norris Workman. But perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair. Perhaps you sent a funeral spray, if so we saw it there. Perhaps you spoke the kindest words, as any friend could say, perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us that day, whatever you did to console our hearts, we thank you so much whatever the part. The Family

Kerri Pool, Larry Taylor united in marriage

Kerri Layne Pool and Larry W. Taylor exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Post, Texas, at eight o'clock Saturday evening, August 21.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pool, Jr., of Post. She is a graduate of Post High School and Baylor University where she was an honor graduate. She received her B.S. Degree with a major in Speech Pathology. While at Baylor she was affiliated with Kappa Delta Pi, an Honor Society, and Zeta Phi Eta, a National Professional Fraternity in Communication.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. J. Truman Taylor of Friendswood. He is a graduate of Friendswood High School and an honor graduate of Baylor University. He received his B.B.A. Degree with a major in insurance. He was given the Outstanding Insurance Student Award for 1982 from Baylor School of Business and was affiliated with Delta Sigma Pi, a National Business Fraternity.

Rev. Glenn Reece, pastor, and Rev. John Taylor, grandfather of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony with the couple standing before a background of candleabra flanked with garlands of English Ivy and baskets of Boston fern. Spiraled and clustered candleabra set in greenery flanked the railing around the altar. Candle lamps surrounded by greenery and lilac silk flowers were placed in the windows. The pews were marked with clevia and greenery. A unity candle placed before a heart shaped candleabra completed the nuptial setting.

Mrs. Jere Saur, organist and aunt of the groom, offered a prelude of wedding selections. The bride's uncle, Vernon Scott, sang "Lady", and Marita Jackson, friend of the bride, joined him in the song, "Endless Love". Mr. Scott sang "The Lord's Prayer" following the lighting of the unity candle. At the close of the ceremony Mrs. Jackson sang "We are One in the Bond of Love."

Guests were seated by Bobby Norman of Midland, brother-in-law of the bride, Raymond Wells of Houston, brother-in-law of the groom, and Mark Buchorn, a friend of the groom from Friendswood.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of white silk organza accented with wedgewood sequined lace. A bertha collar enhanced in the sequined lace formed the portrait neckline. An A-line floor length organza skirt fell from the natural waistline and formed a double lace flounce hemline and a chapel length train. The entire hemline and train was completely encircled in wedgewood lace. To complete her ensemble, the bride chose a wreath of silk flowers, lace petals, and pearls which held a walking length brussel embroidered veil.

She carried a dreamspun cascade of regal lavender cattleya orchids, white sweetheart roses, gypsophila accented with violet spike flowers and flanked with English ivy and streamers of lace and love knots.

For something borrowed the bride wore a strand of pearls which was worn by her friend, Mrs. Margaret Bull, on her wedding day. For something old she wore a pin that was worn by her grandmother at her wedding and an antique cameo ring belonging to her great-great-grandmother. The ring was brought from Scotland in the 1700's. She wore a blue garter made by Mrs. Q. R. Maxey. Something new was her gown. Pennies minted in the years of the bride and groom's births were placed in each shoe.

Mrs. Dana Norman was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a floor length violet silk chiffon gown. The flowing A-Line skirt, highlighted with high split sleeves was accented by a peplum attached to a cummerbund at the waist. She carried a mini cascade of violet and lilac clevia and bougainvillea accented with lily of the valley and ivy.

Bridesmaids were Tonya Patterson of Breckenridge, Kim Culvahouse of Midland, Becky Scott, cousin of the bride, of Lancaster, and Pam Scott, also cousin of the bride and from Lancaster. Bridesmaids wore dresses fashioned like that of the matron of honor. They carried contemporary crescents of clevia and bougainvillea highlighted with tone on tone leaves.

Jonathan Scott of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, served as ringbearer. He carried a pillow bearing the rings with the names of the bride and groom embroidered in the middle. The pillow was a gift and made by Marjorie Compton, friend of the bride.

Lisa Bartley of Rociada, New Mexico and friend of the bride presided at the registry. The groom was attired in a silver gray tuxedo with tails. His boutonniere was a violet African daisy and gypsophila.

Truman Taylor, father of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Joe Hollier, Dan Gloger, Scott Grooms, and Breck Bell, all of Friendswood and friends of the groom. All groomsmen and ushers wore silver gray tuxedos.

The mother of the bride wore a periwinkle and silver gray chiffon dress. Her corsage was a white and mauve cattleya orchid. The groom's mother wore a mauve lace dress. Her corsage was also a white and mauve cattleya orchid.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Post Community Center. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Teri Wells, sister of the groom, Karla Morris, Susan Sawyers, Larisa Shiver, Lisa Bartley, and Patti Park. Rice bags were distributed by Darrell Scott of Lubbock.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth. A floor length table skirt of gathered white tulle fell below the white cloth. The table was centered with an arrangement of candles and silk violet and lilac clevia and bougainvillea banked by ivy and greenery in a silver candleabra. Violet napkins engraved with the bride and groom's names were placed on the table. Silver appointments were used. Fruit punch was served along with the three tiered wedding cake which was topped with white silk flowers and wedding bells. The bride's bouquet completed the setting.

The groom's table was laid with an ecru linen cloth and featured a brass coffee service and brass candleabra with violet tapers. The groom's cake, made by Lisa Bartley, featured a surfer in a Hawaiian scene. Finger sandwiches and cheese rolls were also served along with nuts and mints.

The registry table was covered with a gathered floor length skirt of white tulle. A basket of violet tulle rice bags tied with lilac ribbon was placed on the table, and the bouquets of the bridal attendants surrounded it.

Following a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will reside in Honolulu, Hawaii, where the bride will be attending graduate school at the University of Hawaii, and the groom will be employed in Honolulu.

Out of town guests attending were from Lubbock, Friendswood, Midland, Waco, Big Spring, Houston, Lancaster, Tow, Shreveport, La., Hobbs, N.M., Rociada, N.M. and Lawrenceville, Georgia.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Tara Restaurant in Lubbock on Friday evening, August 20.

McNeely anniversary and reunion held

ITSAFACT

Just because a motorcycle rider has passed his state's license examination doesn't mean he is equipped to handle emergency situations when they crop up. The truth is that many states' licensing systems aren't adequate in testing what cyclists really should know out on the streets and highways. In fact, there are five states that still don't require a separate motorcycle license—if you can drive a car they consider you qualified to ride a motorcycle, too.

The U.S. Department of Transportation, with cooperation from the Motorcycle Safety Foundation and others, has developed and tested a licensing system, the Motorcycle Operator Skill Test, that can make a big difference for motorcyclists. When it was tested on license applicants in California there was a 15 to 21 percent reduction in accidents for those who took the new test when compared with those passing the old test.

The test is designed to insure riders can handle emergency stops and evasive maneuvers to avoid an accident. Many states are considering the test for their motorcyclists. Its adoption could go a long way toward reducing motorcycle accidents and injuries.

The original meaning of the word "clue" was a ball of thread—so, we "unravel" a clue.

Descendants of the late Oran R. Cearley and Agnes Hill Cearley met in Broken Arrow, Okla., August 14, commemorating the 100th year of the birth of the founding couple and to celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary of Gladys and Frank McNeely. The event took place in the Fellowship Hall of Oneta Road Baptist Church near Broken Arrow.

During the afternoon a public reception was held honoring the McNeelys.

Gladys Cearley and Frank McNeely were married Sept. 15, 1932 at Close City in Garza County, Texas. She was a teacher in the Close City School and Frank was a farmer.

After moving away from Garza County, they lived in Levelland, and Bluffit, N.M., then settled at Broken Arrow on Jan. 1, 1946. Gladys taught in the public schools in Wagner and Tulsa counties. Frank farmed and worked for Braden Lynch Mfg., in Broken Arrow.

Children of the couple are: Ruth Wilson of Whittier, Alaska; Frances Leonard of Dallas, Pat McNeely of Danville, Ill., and Jane Callison of Norman, Ok. The couple also have nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Other relatives attending were: Stanley and Geraldine Cearley Butler of Post; Jess and Mildred Cearley of Denton; Bonnie Cearley, Marthana and Coy Hudson, John Glenn and Brendon

Study Focuses On Crime Prevention

Communities nationwide are assessing the country's crime statistics and focusing on approaches to prevent or solve the problems.

The newly-released Figgie Report on Fear of Crime, Part III outlines four solutions that received widespread support in its survey of crime in 14 key areas throughout the U.S.

Such as neighborhood block watches.

Increased funds for law enforcement. Many surveyed agreed that the overburdened criminal justice system is a major problem.

Swift and certain punishment. Many call for legislative and judicial reforms to assure justice.

New approaches. Effective assistance for victims and witnesses of crimes. Mandatory community service for youthful offenders.

Kerri Pool honored at luncheon

Miss Kerri Pool, bride elect of Larry Taylor was honored at a luncheon Friday, August 20. Special guests were her bridesmaids, Tonya Patterson, Kim Culvahouse, Pam and Becky Scott, and Mrs. Dana Norman.

The back yard patio, deck, and pool of Mrs. Marita Jackson, was the setting for a Hawaiian Luau theme. Each guest was greeted with a lei and a flower for her hair by hostesses Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Sharla Wells. The tables were decorated with colorful flower tablecloths and silk flower arrangements.

Lunch began with chocolate cheese, strawberry cheese, crackers and sparkling cider followed by pineapple boats filled with chicken salad and trimmed with fresh fruit and raisin bread. Dessert was ice cream pie.

Guests included the honoree, bridesmaids, and Mrs. Joy Pool, Mrs. Sita Kibler, Mrs. Bettye Scott, Mrs. Jo Ann Scott, Mrs. Denise Scott, Mrs. J. Truman Taylor, Mrs. Teri Wells, Mrs. Jere Saur, Miss Andrea and Mrs. Lisa Bartley.

Swimming was enjoyed by many of the guests after lunch.

NEW DRUG HELPS ANGINA PATIENTS

Over two million Americans suffer from chest pain that doctors term angina pectoris. Some experience this pain after physical exercise. Doctors call this angina-of-effort. For others, the pain seems to occur without physical stress. This is known as angina-at-rest.

Most often associated with atherosclerotic heart disease, angina is brought on whenever the heart is not getting enough oxygen to meet its needs.

If you think you have angina pectoris or if you have unexplained chest pain, you should see your physician. A doctor is the only one who can diagnose the illness and prescribe for it.

Of interest to patients with angina is news of a drug that has recently received approval from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Its generic name is verapamil HCl, the prototype of a new class of drugs in the United States called calcium antagonists. These drugs represent a significant

"Culture is the best that has been said and thought in the world."
Matthew Arnold

The new heart drug Calan™ allows patients with angina to lead a more normal life. breakthrough in cardiovascular therapy.

Verapamil HCl, marketed here under the name Calan™ by Searle Pharmaceuticals Inc., has been used in more than 100 countries during the past two decades. It has accumulated more than 3.8 million patient-years of experience.

The drug works to restore the balance between the heart's oxygen supply and its demand, allowing a greater tolerance for exercise. Searle officials believe that Calan should give angina patients a "green light" for much more physical activity.

DRIVE BY THE RULES

SAVE SCHOOL CHILDREN'S LIVES

Mr. & Mrs. Motorist: POST SCHOOLS WILL OPEN WEDNESDAY, AUG. 25

It isn't that children mean to be careless . . . it's just that in their zest and vitality they sometimes forget to stop, look and listen before crossing the street. It isn't that we mean to be careless, yet the very car we drive may be considered a lethal weapon and the consequences of our negligence could be fatal. It is our moral obligation to be extra alert these days when school children crowd the crosswalks.

Tower asks SBA to assist

WASHINGTON — U.S. Senator John Tower today called upon the Small Business Administration to assist businesses in West Texas communities bearing the economic impact of disastrous agriculture losses this year.

"The survival of West Texas communities is largely dependent on agriculture, and in light of the catastrophic damage to the cotton, wheat, corn, barley and grain sorghum crops, many small businesses in the affected communities face tremendous economic hardships," Tower said in a letter to SBA Administrator James C. Sanders.

Tower asked Sanders to activate the Economic Injury Disaster Loan Program authorized in 1981 legislation, and to extend and restructure current outstanding Small Business Administration loans. Secretary of Agriculture John Block has declared farmers in more than 75 West Texas counties eligible for various types of disaster assistance.

"The Small Business Administration plays a major role in supplying the capital needed for development in the West Texas area. Knowing that these people are now struggling to recover from the devastation of unprecedented weather conditions and natural disaster, I would ask your assistance," the senior senator from Texas told Sanders.

Earlier this month, the Department of Agriculture approved disaster payments amounting to more than $300 million for farmers who suffered crop loss from weather damage.

Mounting illiteracy threatens democratic process

COLLEGE STATION — A mounting illiteracy crisis threatens to create an educated elite in which fewer Americans have great influence in public policy decisions, says a university professor.

"Our country hasn't really begun to cope with the illiteracy problem," said Dr. David Stewart, professor and head of Texas A&M University's English Department, "yet a person can't develop very far in this kind of high-tech society without skillful reading abilities."

"As the percentage of educated people shrinks, more and more of the uneducated will be excluded from public policy decision-making," he said. "This threatens democratic procedures."

Stewart said while more Americans are literate today than ever before, the number of illiterates is also larger and growing more rapidly. Today, 23 million Americans — one in five adults — are functionally illiterate, or haven't acquired reading and writing skills necessary for daily living. More than a third of the adults haven't finished high school and 13 percent of those who graduate only obtain the language skills of a normal sixth grader.

Emergency nursing seminar August 28

The essential skills and techniques needed to provide basic life support in an emergency situation will be examined in the final seminar of a five-part emergency management series for nurses. The program will be offered in Levelland, Post, and Plainview.

The one-day seminar will allow participants to re-examine the procedures involved in performing a physical assessment of a person involved in an emergency, and in providing life support at the scene, during transportation to a hospital and during initial hospitalization.

"Essential Skills and Techniques for Emergency Nursing," will be held August 27 at Cook Memorial Hospital in Levelland, August 28 at the First National Bank of Post and August 30 at the Central Plains Regional hospital in Plainview. Each seminar will last from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Seminars will be conducted by Jane Reddell, R.M., M.S.N., and Barbara Brown, R.M. Reddell, an instructor at Methodist Hospital School of Nursing, has experience in critical care nursing in both medical and surgical intensive care units and in emergency room nursing.

Brown, a doctoral student in physiology at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center has taught critical care nursing in schools of nursing as well as in continuing nursing education programs.

The course is sponsored by the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center School of Nursing Continuing Nursing Education Program, and in part, by a grant from the Texas Department of Health, EMS division.

Participants in the course may earn 0.6 continuing education units through the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center School of Nursing Continuing Nursing Education Program.

The program is accredited by the Western Regional Accrediting Committee of the American Nurses' Association as a provider for continuing education in nursing. The course also has been submitted to the Texas CEAP program for recognition points.

For registration and course information, contact the Continuing Nursing Education Program at 806-743-2743.

Invite Chunky Cheese Spread To Your Next Party

Chunky Cheese Spread is perfect for summer entertaining.

Warm weather and socializing seem to go together, just like cheese spread goes with crackers. Include them all in your next gathering with friends, especially Chunky Cheese Spread, the perfect accompaniment to patio entertaining.

The recipe meets all the requirements for a summertime dish — quick and easy, with just top-of-the-stove cooking needed. Also important, Chunky Cheese Spread can and should be prepared ahead of time, leaving you time to spend with guests. After all, that's what the gathering is all about!

Either crackers or party breads make a perfect base for Chunky Cheese Spread, boasting the flavors of onion, olives and hard cooked eggs in a savory and smooth process cheese spread.

Chunky Cheese Spread will

green olives
2 eggs, hard cooked, peeled, chopped
In 2-qt. saucepan melt margarine. Add onion; cook over med. heat, stirring occasionally, until onion is tender (4 to 5 min.). Stir in flour. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until smooth and bubbly (1 min.). Stir in milk. Continue cooking, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a full boil (2 to 4 min.). Boil 1 min. Stir in cheese until melted; stir in olives and eggs. Pour into 1-qt. serving bowl or crock. Cover; refrigerate at least 2 hrs. Serve with crackers. YIELD: 3 c. spread.

HEALTH HINTS

Thanks to the effective management of mild high blood pressure thousands of lives are saved each year. About 17 percent of all Americans between the ages of 25 and 74 are estimated to be suffering from mild high blood pressure. Until recently, this generally symptomless condition was believed to require no treatment.

To rule out the possibility that you have this disease, the best thing to do is to visit a doctor.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Simeon the Stylite of Syria spent 37 years on different pillars in seeking a holy life through ascetic practices. Each time a loftier and narrower perch was ascended. Finally the last achievement was 66 feet high. While his fame was noteworthy, the value of such a life seems more notable in his ability to hang on during sudden and violent win storms than any sanctity or merit gained.

The ruins of the church over the base of his once tall pillar remains as a testimony to this kind of fortitude. Paul the Apostle also addressed self-made religion and self abasement and severe treatment of the body. These words of scripture will be examined in the Sunday morning message from Colossians chapter 2.

A loftier position belongs to the one in Christ than anything gained by pole-sitting. Knowing this exaltation of Christianity over things which only appear to be wisdom free ones from such taboos and excesses.

First Presbyterians offer new program Sunday

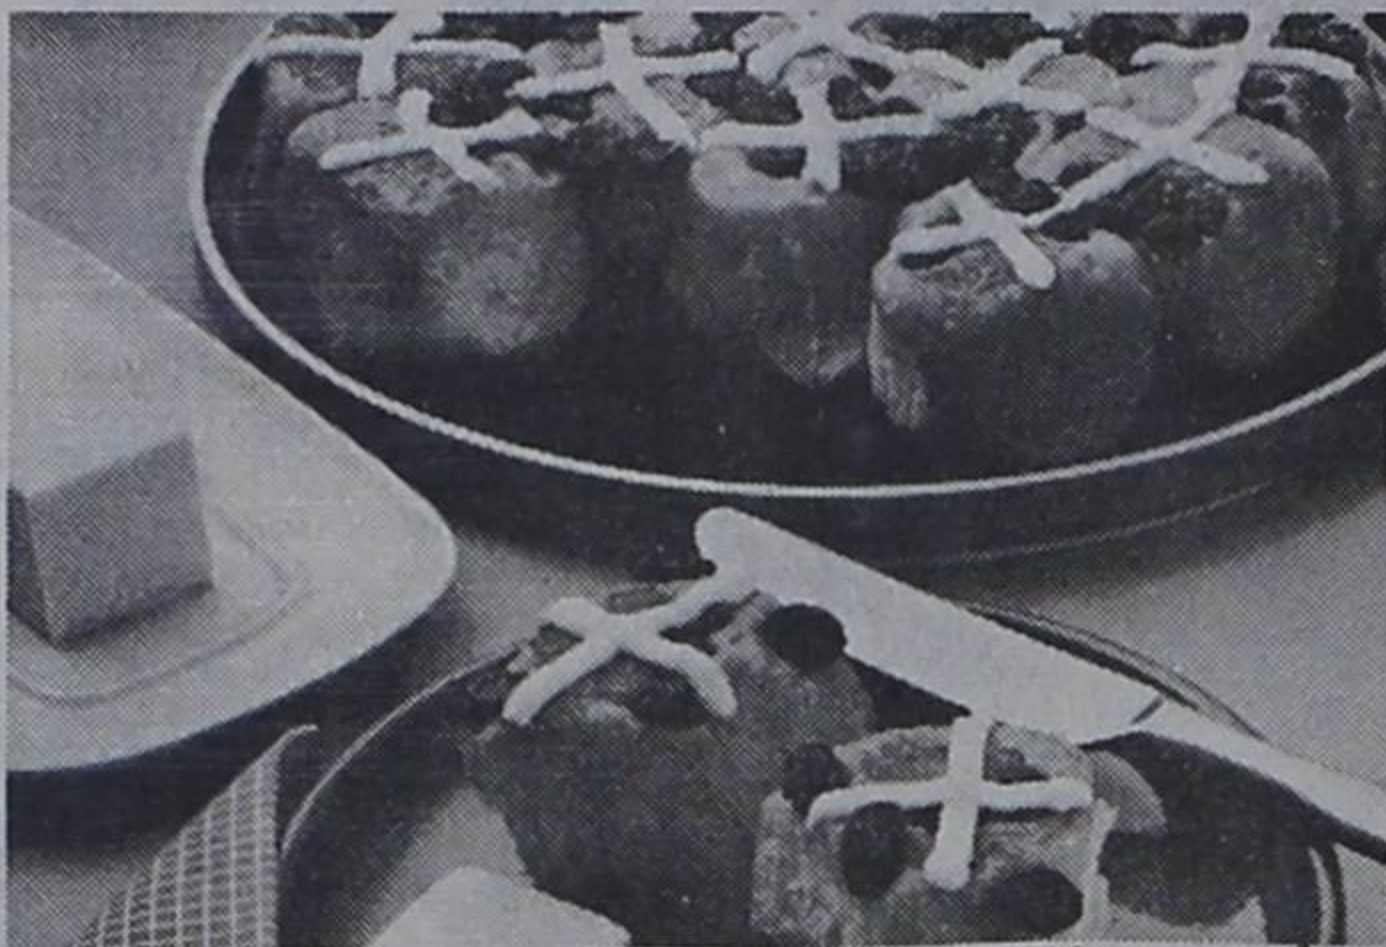

A traditional sermon with a brand new application will be presented this Sunday, August 29, at 11 a.m. at the First Presbyterian Church at 910 West 10th.

The tradition is based on, first, Christ's method of preaching, parables, and second, the medieval church, using story-telling prolifically to communicate to its followers who could not read or write. The brand new application is covenant players, who will be presenting the sermon through drama — drama chose specifically for the congregation. Ancient truths with a modern touch — here is an opportunity for people to see themselves, to examine their faith in today's world. You'll see, and you'll enjoy this traditional form of modern preaching by covenant players.

From Los Angeles, California, this international repertory drama group has, in its 16 years of operations, performed over 525,000 times in 18 countries around the world. With 68 full-time touring groups, they have stirred and challenged people to take a closer look at themselves and the practice of their faith.

Easy, Buttery Hot Cross Buns Guaranteed To Please

Don't let lack of time or "yeast bread jitters" keep you from baking special treats for the Easter holiday table this year. That traditional Easter bread — Hot Cross Buns — is easy to do, using this simplified version of an old favorite.

Melted butter, cinnamon and raisins combine to form the flavorful topping, while more raisins are tucked inside each bun. The easy part comes from using refrigerated flaky buttermilk biscuits in place of yeast roll dough for Buttery Hot Cross Buns. Once the buns are tipped out of the pan and onto a serving platter, white frosting crosses add the decorative final touch.

Buttery Hot Cross Buns, warm from the oven, are guaranteed to please everyone — especially the cook.

Buttery Hot Cross Buns

1/3 cup Land O' Lakes® Sweet Cream Butter	2 (10 oz.) pkgs. refrigerated flaky buttermilk biscuits
1/4 tsp. cinnamon	1/4 tsp. cinnamon
2/3 cup raisins

Frosting

1/2 cup confectioners' sugar	1 tbsp. Land O' Lakes® Sweet Cream butter, softened
1 tsp. milk

Heat oven to 400°. In ungreased 9" round baking pan melt butter in oven (4 to 6 min.). Stir in 1/4 tsp cinnamon and half the raisins; set aside. Separate biscuits. On each biscuit place about 1/2 tsp. of remaining raisins; wrap biscuit around raisins, pinching rough edges together to form a ball. Place smooth side down in baking pan, placing 13 around the outer edge and the remaining biscuits in the middle. Sprinkle 1/4 tsp. cinnamon over biscuits. Bake for 20 to 30 min. or until golden brown. Let stand 5 min. Meanwhile, in small bowl combine all frosting ingredients; stir until smooth. Invert buns onto serving platter. Place frosting ingredients in a decorator tube or small pastry tube. Decorate tops of buns with a cross. YIELD: 20 buns.

What's Happening in Home Economics

By MRS. CHERYL WALKER
County Extension Agent — Home Economics

Snacks are a part of the day's total intake of nutrients, and calories so plan them with totals in mind and you can actually snack pounds off. Snacks are an excellent time to include nutritious fruits and vegetables, and dairy products. Of course, foods from all food groups including meat, fish, poultry and breads and cereals can be nutritious snacks. The key is to choose a balance of nutritious foods from each group. Make sure they include a variety of necessary nutrients and that they meet calorie needs.

Calories can be a problem if the snacks selected cause us to eat more calories than our bodies can burn. Excess calories are stored in the body as fat leading to overweight. Weight watchers should consider calorie-conscious snacks like fresh fruits and vegetables, low fat milks and cheese, breads without added fats and sugars and lean meats.

Dental cavities are another problem related to what and when we eat. Sweet, sticky foods eaten between meals promote tooth decay and provide little in the way of good nutrition and lots of "empty" calories.

To help you make snack decisions, I have a free publication called "Be A Super Snacker". You can call or come by the extension office for a free copy. I have one publication for adult snackers and one for youth.

So watch those snacks and keep an eye out for more snacking tips during September from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Gulf of Mexico sites

Seven sites in the Gulf of Mexico are currently being evaluated for possible designation as National Marine Sanctuaries, says Dr. Thomas Bright, a Texas A&M University oceanographer who leads the selection team.

The Marine Sanctuary Program is intended to establish a system of national marine sanctuaries for the long-term benefit and enjoyment of the public.

Bright said he expects about two sanctuaries to eventually be established in the Gulf region. He said the "sanctuary" designation would not preclude uses of the sanctuary and its resources by the public as long as the basic ecological integrity of the area is maintained.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

DAVID R. GIBSON, O.D.
DOCTOR OF OPTOMETRY

CAN YOU "OVERUSE" EYES?

Can you harm your eyes by using them too much? The answer is "No." Eyes don't wear out. You do not damage the eyes by excessive use even though there is discomfort from strain or fatigue.

There are elderly persons who have little else to do but read or watch television, but who deny themselves such pleasures in order to "save" their eyes — for fear they will "wear them out" and lose their sight. They are frightened by the symptoms of eye strain which are normal with excessive use and which cause discomfort but no physical damage.

The eyes are made to be used at all ages. With rare exceptions, you need have no qualms about using your eyes as much as you wish. As long as your eyes are open they are working. They won't deteriorate from use, no matter how much use they get. Barring accident or disease, the eyes will last a lifetime. If you do get eyestrain or fatigue, it is probably not from visual over-activity but rather that you do not have the proper corrective lenses.

TIPS

It's that time again, and with the dollar increasing in value, more vacationers and businessmen will be traveling abroad. To help prepare for your trip, here are seven tips from experts in foreign currency exchange and other travel services:

- When changing dollars or traveler's checks abroad, do not exchange them at hotels, restaurants and shops. They usually give lower exchange rates. Banks are better, or you can...
- Shop around for traveler's checks. Some outlets offer a wider variety of for-

Invitations to Girl Scouting extended to all girls

Invitations to join the "Five Worlds of Girl Scouting" will be extended to all girls, first through twelfth grades, early in September, according to Mrs. Nolen Swain, President of the Board of Directors, Caprock Girl Scout Council.

A council-wide organization meeting has been set for 7 p.m. Sept. 2, at all neighborhood schools. All interested girls and their parents are invited to attend.

Allowing the organization meetings, the program committee of Caprock Girl Scout Council, will host the "Great Fall-In" an old-fashioned family picnic, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 11. For all Girl Scout and non-Girl Scout families and friends in the eighteen county council, the "Great Fall-In" will be held at Buddy Holly Park located on North University, Lubbock. New games for all, snow cones and fun will be featured and families are encouraged to bring picnic lunches and "sit-up-on", stated Mrs. Daniel Krieg, chairman of the committee. Caprock Girl Scout Council with headquarters at 2567-74th Street, Lubbock, served more than 4,000 girls this past year. In addition to regular troop programs, other council activities scheduled will include a Brownie Holiday for first, second, and third grade girls; a Junior event for fourth, fifth and sixth grade girls, and for older girls a style show luncheon, a Campercrafters Holiday, Nite-Life Bus Tour, Heritage

Trip to Austin and other events through the year. A council-wide Girl Scout Day is scheduled in March. Day camping, troop camping and resident camping make the out-of-doors a year round program. The council owns two camps: Camp Rio Blanco located at Crosbyton and Camp Haynes at Silverton.

Girl Scouts welcome girls of all ages regardless of race, creed or national origin. The $3.00 registration fee provides for accident insurance for both girl and adult members. Adults are invited to join the ranks of other volunteers by calling the Girl Scout service center, 806-745-2855. Caprock Council is a member agency of the United Ways and Community Campaigns.

SAMPLE OF CALCULATION OF COUNTY'S EFFECTIVE TAX RATE AND PUBLICATION OF ESTIMATED UNENCUMBERED FUND BALANCES

I. Ruth Reno for Garza

County, in accordance with the provisions of Sec. 26.04 of the Property Tax Code, have calculated the tax rate which may not be exceeded by more than three percent by the Commissioner's Court of Garza County without holding a public hearing as required by the code. That rate is as follows:

Springer to head Food and Energy Council

Berl M. Springer, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Southwestern Public Service Company, will be inaugurated in Denver as chairman of the board of directors of the National Food and Energy Council.

The National Food and Energy Council is a non-profit "think tank" and educational organization headquartered at Columbia, Missouri. Its focus is on energy supplies and energy use in food production, food processing, and food distribution systems in the U.S.

Springer characterizes the National Food and Energy Council as an "organization dedicated to helping the agri-business industry and all the people that industry serves."

Springer's inauguration will open a three-day annual conference in Denver.

"The conference was called to address critical issues that affect our nation's ability to produce adequate food and energy supplies on a timely basis," said Ken McFate, NFEC president.

Subjects to be discussed are vitally important to people in Southwestern Public Service Company's service area, Springer pointed out. Topics and speakers include:

"Water Availability, Use and Distribution," addressed by Senator Maurice Kremer, Chairman of the Public Works Committee, Nebraska Legislature, Lincoln, Nebraska.

"A Timely Look at the Future of Farming," by George Stone, president, National Farmers Union, Denver.

"Effective Management of Irrigation Loads," by Rolland Skinner, manager, Northwest Rural Public Power District, Hay Springs, Nebraska.

The NFEC for years has been telling farmers to use minimum tillage, he said. The Council also suggests farmers should grow genetically engineered crops which require less nutrient from the soil and which require less water.

"Because our petroleum fuel resources are finite — there will be an end to them, someday — we're counseling food producers to hold petroleum fuels in reserve for only the largest mobile field requirements," Springer continued. "We're telling farmers and other managers throughout the food system, 'Whenever possible, substitute electricity — manufactured from our truly abundant fuels, such as coal — to power your stationary operations.'"

Another major thrust of the National Food and Energy Council, the new chairman said, is youth education. The NFEC recently published a 15-unit school study guide called "Food, Energy and Your Future," which reviews major food and energy issues. And NFEC has for many years taught 4-H and FFA youth about electrical wiring and wise management of energy, Springer

One of the 1982 conference speakers, Springer pointed out, will be Kenneth Pollard of the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Texas A & M, speaking on "Youth Education Opportunities." Pollard often helps Southwestern Public Service Company employees plan and conduct electrical wiring and energy workshops for service area youth.

Southwestern Public Service primarily provides electric service to a population of more than 1 million in a 45,000 square-mile area of the Panhandle and south plains of Texas, eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the Oklahoma Panhandle and southwestern Kansas.

Texas A&M offers nutrition degree

COLLEGE STATION — A new undergraduate degree in scientific nutrition at Texas A&M University has been approved by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of the College of Agriculture, said the new curriculum will draw on experts from the departments of Animal Science, Biochemistry and Biophysics, Food Science and Technology and Poultry Science. The program will be administered through the Department of Animal Science.

Bullock unveils big budget surplus

AUSTIN — State Comptroller Bob Bullock unveiled the biggest budget surplus in Texas history Thursday, but warned, "there are thorns among the roses."

The record $1.3 billion budget surplus will mean the Legislature will have $5.1 billion available for spending in January 1983, over and above what was available in January 1981.

"This surplus is the result of the good times we have had," Bullock said in a capitol press conference. But the Comptroller cautioned Texans that "the growth we are predicting today is substantially less than we have seen in the past 20 years."

Although Texas is the "flagship of the United States economy," and had led the nation in the creation of new jobs, Bullock said, "The recession has come to Texas. Our economy has begun to slow down. We are beginning to see significant drops in some major revenue sources."

The Comptroller pointed out Texans do not pay corporate or personal income taxes and have not had a tax increase since 1971. "Last year alone," Bullock said, "31 other states burdened their citizens with higher taxes."

Bullock announced the surplus with an official revenue estimate, which the Texas Constitution directs him to make for each session of the Legislature and "at other times as may be necessary to show probable changes."

Bullock noted an expected drop in federal funds coming into the Texas Treasury will make other revenue sources more important to the state budget in years to come. He cautioned those involved with the investing of state funds and leasing of state lands to "be looking closer than ever to make sure these important revenue sources reap the greatest possible benefits for the state."

TTI studies ways to make highways safer for road repair crews

COLLEGE STATION — Engineers with the Texas Transportation Institute, a research agency at Texas A&M University, have begun a 22-month study for the Federal Highway Administration of ways to improve traffic control on roads where construction or repair is taking place.

"Researchers will examine different methods for controlling speeds at construction sites," said project director Dr. Conrad Dudek.

Examples of speed control methods to be evaluated include changeable message signs, rumble strips and selective use of police officers.

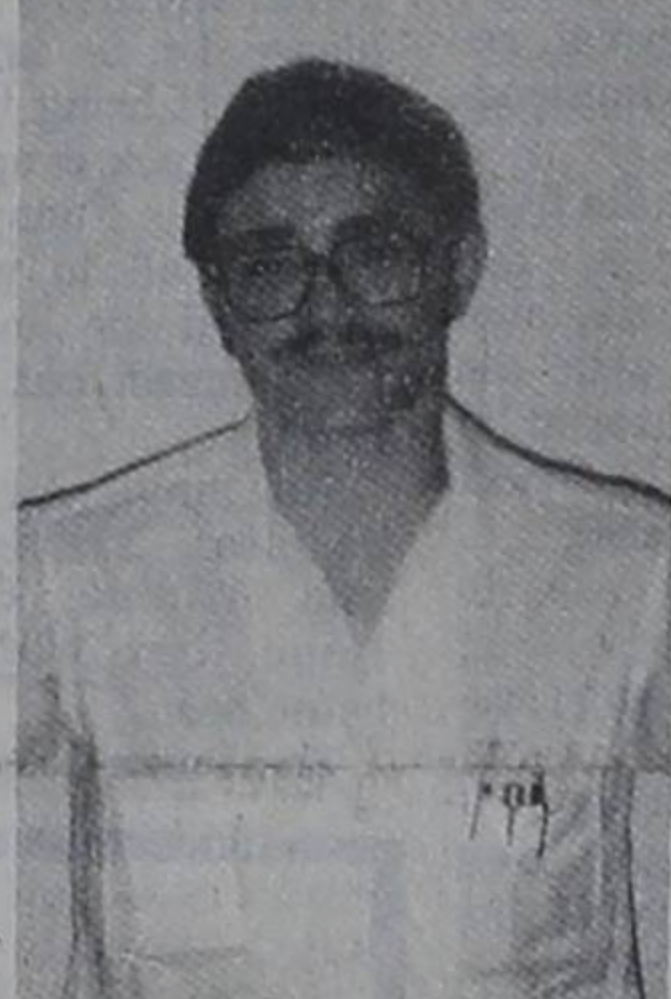

Worker safety will also be addressed by the transportation study. During an 18-month period, over a dozen Houston area road crew workers were killed in accidents at construction sites, said Dudek.

America show added to Six Flags program

ARLINGTON — When the Six Flags production staff began putting together this season's show for the Southern Palace, they were searching for something special.

"We wanted to do a show that made a statement," said Linda Doty, production manager. "We wanted to be patriotic, but not red, white and blue. So we decided to go with a Broadway look."

The result is "America!," a dramatic, uplifting and energetic show that takes a look at our country through its exciting music. David Blackburn, vice president of Six Flags Show Productions, wrote the show. Tom McGeehee choreographed it, and the production staff selected 19 very talented young singers and dancers to perform it.

Oh, and they found that something special, too.

Considering that the show, performed six times a day, seven days a week, rarely does not receive a standing ovation, be it Monday afternoon at 2 or Saturday night at 8. Consider that some cast members will spend their day off back at Six Flags, enjoying the show they already know like the back of their hands.

After Neil Diamond's upbeat "America" opens production, the 35-minute show takes off on a paced journey through Broadway, jazz, boogie, rock 'n' roll and anything in between. From "I've Got Rhythm" to "Chicago" to "Oklahoma" and "The Twist," "America!" celebrates our dance songs, love songs, war songs and musicals.

The show is a joy to watch, though physically very hard to perform day in and day out — a credit to the professionalism of the young cast, who range from age 16 to 25.

"This is probably the most demanding theme park show in the nation," said cast member Eddie Keener, a veteran of Six Flags Corporation shows. "It's very hard to do six times a day."

Gred Dulcie, in his third year as a Six Flags performer, agreed. "This show is a lot more professional than some past shows," he said. "It's more slick. This is a real step for Six Flags."

The show requires singing and dancing abilities on the part of each performer, in addition to a good deal of stamina. A daily cast of 14 men and women perform each show, with five others alternating through the week. They were chosen from a field of nearly 1,000 auditioners who came from all over Texas and the Midwest.

And though the show requires a lot of energy from the cast, its uplifting nature also helps produce it. "The energy between performers keeps us going," said Paul Norris of Memphis. "If we had to depend on ourselves individually, we wouldn't make it."

Everett Caskey, known in the area for his recording of the Dallas Cowboys theme song last year and whose job it is to know all the male parts in "America!," is one of those who will come back to the park on his day off to see the show.

"It still gives me goose bumps to watch it," he said. "It's so full of energy. You feel good just to be a part of it."

Caskey is one of many performers in the show who aspire to a career in the entertainment field. Keener, a 22-year-old from Cordell, Oklahoma, has his eyes set on New York. For the Six Flags is a stepping stone to even bigger and better things. After all, now-former Betty Buckley and Jay Johnson once passed through the Six Flags show scene.

But several of the cast members do not wish to make a profession of performing. Bruce Douglas of Lawrence, Kansas, the oldest of the group at 25, has graduated from the University of Kansas and is a Director of Vocal Music in the city of Lakin. Kendi Brown, a former Miss Oklahoma, teaches dance in Wichita Falls and plans to remain primarily an instructor instead of a performer.

For this summer, however, they're one big happy, performing family. "You see these people four or five months for eight hours a day and then go out together at night," Norris said. "You get mad at them, laugh with them and cry with them. You really do become a family."

Then at the end of the season they must go their separate ways — back home, back to school or back to work. Next year some of the family will be back, others will have gone on, and new members will join the cast for yet another show's celebration of music.

One type of purely American music that is not a part of "America!," however, is country-western. It has become such a popular fixture on the American music scene that it earned a show all its own — "Texas Bound!," performed hourly at the Crazy Horse Saloon in the park's Texas section. A cast of six performs the show, which utilizes the music's informal style.

With popular songs such as "9 to 5," "Elvira" and all-time favorites "Deep in the Heart of Texas" and "Old-Time Religion," the audience and cast sing and dance together. The 25-minute show passes by all too fast.

"You really get to show your personality," said Craig Ellis. "It's more relaxed and informal. There's a lot of interacting between the audience and cast."

"America!" and "Texas Bound!" have become very popular attractions at the park, and there is almost always a line gathered outside the Southern Palace and Crazy Horse Saloon for each performance. The youthful enthusiasm that typifies both shows will bring many visitors back again and again.

"This isn't work," said Roslyn Early, whose "Almost Persuaded" is one of the "Texas Bound!" highlights. "It's getting paid for doing something I enjoy."

Blackburn knows that kind of attitude is vital to the shows' success. "It's the philosophy of young people," he said. "These shows are an extension of those people."

According to Sue Alsbury, also in "Texas Bound!" that philosophy is simple: "We enjoy entertaining — period."

Accent On Health

The bee buzzing around your head as you admire your flower garden or participate in outdoor activities may be more dangerous to you than a rattlesnake.

Fewer people succumb each year to snake bites than from reactions to bites and stings of insects such as bees, wasps, hornets, and ants. Fortunately, considering the number of stings occurring, only about five percent of the population experiences severe systemic reactions to stings.

The Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health reports that only one death occurred due to rattlesnake bites in Texas during 1981. Spiders and wasps caused two deaths each, and a bee sting accounted for one death. Nationally, the deaths of about 50 people each year are directly attributable to bites and stings of venomous insects or animals. A San Antonio physician has reported two deaths in recent years from fire ants.

Allergic reactions to insect bites vary, ranging from itching, swelling, dizziness, headaches, stomach cramps, nausea, and death. According to the National Safety Council, the number of fatal or close calls is increasing.

People should be aware of the possibility of a sting any time they are outdoors. Those who have more than a mild reaction to a sting should contact their family physicians or allergists. Several things can be done to avoid stings.

1. Avoid strong perfumes, hair sprays, and suntan lotion. These sweet odors attract bees in particular.

2. Wear off-white, dark green, or khaki clothes when you are outdoors. Always wear shoes. Bright colors and prints attract insects.

3. Keep picnic and kitchen food covered. Never leave garbage uncovered.

4. Avoid swift movements that alarm insects and cause them to bite or sting.

5. Use of commercial repellents also is recommended.

While few people die from first insect stings, the danger increases with subsequent contacts with the venom. Fatalities caused by allergic reactions to insect stings or bites increase with age, due in many cases to the cumulative effect of venom on a victim's system.

When a bee stings, it leaves the stinger and venom sack attached to the victim's skin; therefore, it is important not to scratch the sting. A knife may be used to scrape the stinger from the skin without causing more venom to be injected. For milk reactions, antihistamines may be beneficial, while an ice pack is helpful in slowing absorption of the venom.

The best first aid for bites and stings, however, is prevention.

Understanding Your Insurance

Facts From Experts At American Insurance Association

Q. I'm young but I've never had an accident or even gotten a ticket. Why should I pay the highest insurance rates?

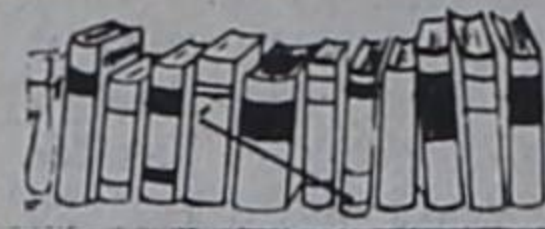

A. Good question. The fact is that good drivers as well as bad drivers have accidents. That's why insurance protection exists.

No one can predict which individual is going to have an accident. The accident potential for groups of drivers who share similar characteristics however can be predicted. This is the only possible way to make insurance rates.

Year after year, without exception, statistics show a consistent pattern: young drivers have more accidents than older drivers. Young males have more accidents than young females. And young unmarried males have more accidents than young married males.

The fairest way to distribute accident costs is for each driver to pay an insurance rate that reflects as closely as possible the exposure to loss of his or her group. If you have a good driving record, you will pay less than others in your group who have been involved in serious accidents. As you get older the accident potential of your group will decline, and so will your rates.

Library Corner

Well, the kids are back in school. And you want to "improve your mind." The library has three new books for the adult reader, all novels.

Every man who fought in the Pacific during World War II, who saw the rivers of Manila, remembers the people, especially the women. Whoever took a dusty jeep ride up to Baguio, the summer capitol of the Philippines, remembers. Twelve thousand miles and forty years away, who can forget the "Pacific Interlude?" Sloan Wilson, who wrote, "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit," vividly recalls what the interlude was like.

Ivor and Sue Maddox both work for the Los Angeles Police Department. Detective Sue expects a baby. Sergeant Ivor doesn't know what to expect. In addition to the usual assaults, hit-and-runs, vandalism, and hold-ups, Ivor keeps finding "Skeletons in the Closet," a series of unexplained murders. Strangest of all, corpses keep turning up under abandoned houses, all the way to the East Coast. Elizabeth Linington tells the chilling story.

Audrina Adare grows up in the decaying splendor of Whitefern Estate, protected from the terrible secrets that steal her self-confidence and keep her from feeling "normal." Even when she falls in love, and tries to begin a normal life, her dead sister haunts her, a spiteful cousin pursues her and emotional demands of her possessive father entrap her. Finally she confronts her father, and learns of the intricate web of lies that he has spun around her life, to protect her sanity, and his own. V. C. Andrews tells this intriguing tale.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower

U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS

Last week the Senate approved a bill which would substantially change our immigration laws, particularly in the area of enforcement. Much as I would like to see much-needed and long-overdue reforms in the laws relating to illegal entry into the United States, I felt compelled to vote against this legislation because of my serious concerns about its provisions regarding penalties for employers who hire illegal immigrants.

Under the provisions of the bill approved by the Senate, an employer of four or more individuals will have violated the law if he does not obtain documentation from each employee to show his legal status. The employer must attest that the documentation was sufficient to make a "reasonable" person believe it to be genuine, and he must keep the form making this declaration on file for at least five years.

This record-keeping burden for each of some 70,000,000 employment transactions each year in the United States is mind-boggling, particularly for small business owners for whom this new requirement will be particularly onerous. Additionally, the employer is put in the position of having to judge the validity of the documents.

Simple failure to obtain the documentation could result in a $500 fine. Hiring an illegal alien would lead to a $1,000 fine per alien for the first offense, a $2,000 fine per alien for the second and a jail sentence for the third.

I am terribly concerned that these provisions, in addition to their unfair impact on employers, will have a discriminatory effect against American citizens or legal aliens. If an employer faces still penalties for unwittingly hiring an illegal alien or accepting forged identification, can we be surprised if he elects not to hire anyone who appears foreign?

I introduced an amendment which would have directed penalties toward employers who willfully and knowingly recruit or hire illegal alien workers.

The employer who attempts to comply — and I am convinced that the vast majority of businesses will — would not suffer. My amendment also would have eliminated the requirement for documentation. Instead, a voluntary program would have been created so that employers who chose to participate could use the documentation records as a defense against charges that they hired illegal aliens.

Taken together, I believe the provisions of this amendment would have greatly diminished the risk of discrimination while effectively controlling the intentional hiring of illegal workers. I do not believe that even the worthy goal of making certain that people who break our immigration laws are not allowed to work in the U.S. justifies creating an unconscionable burden for employer or employee.

My concerns were shared by a broad spectrum of groups and individuals. The United States Chamber of Commerce endorsed my approach. Leaders of the League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC), the American GI Forum, and other Hispanic organizations also advocated the measures in my amendment.

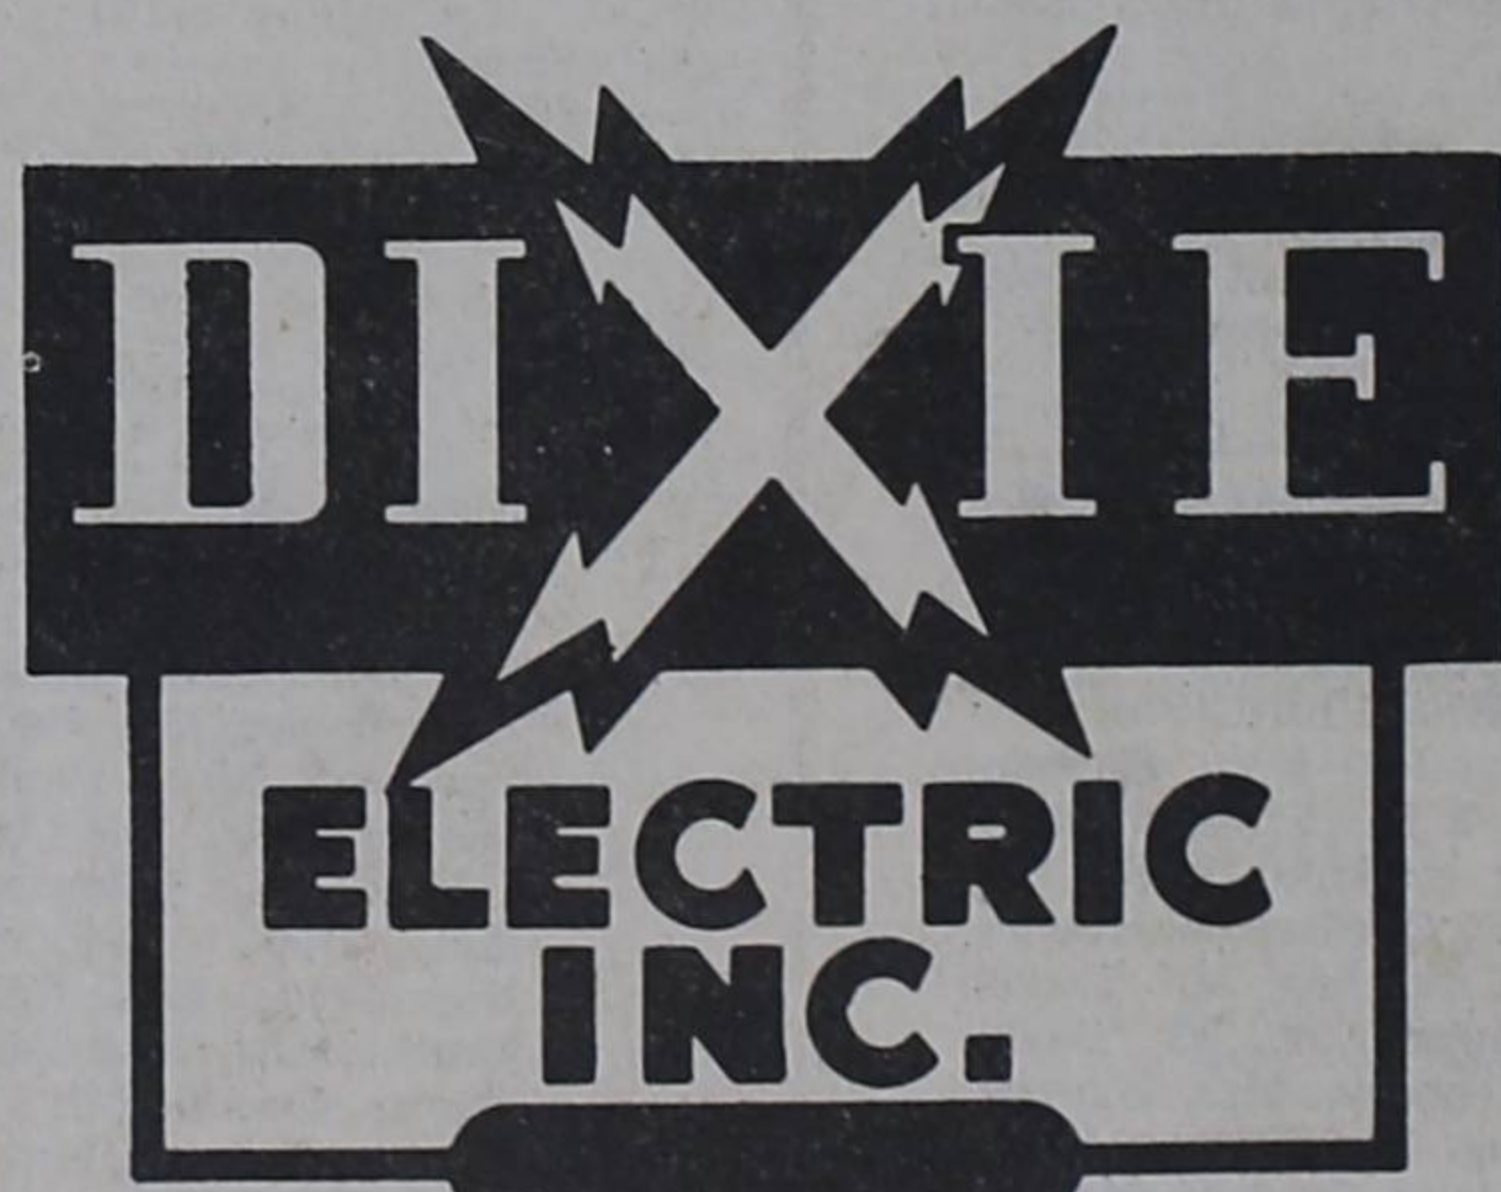

Unfortunately I must report to you that the amendment was not agreed to on the Senate floor. Because of my concerns for the impact on both employers and employees from this section of the bill, I thus could not in good conscience cast my vote for this legislation.

Lopes take revenge over Frenship

Score four times to three

Following a 35-0 defeat by the Frenship Tigers in Antelope Stadium during the regular season last year, the Antelopes took revenge on the Tigers at Frenship last Friday night in their first scrimmage with the first team scoring three touchdowns to one for the Tigers and the Lope second team scored once for two for the Tigers.

The Lopes raked up 313 total yards on offense compared to 303 for the Tigers who are rated No. 1 in their district. Frenship is coached by Bobby Davis, former Antelope coach.

Milton Williams, playing tailback for the Lopes carried the ball 12 times and was the Lope leading rusher for 83 yards. Daniel Gonzales carried 11 for 69 yards followed by Tim Tannehill with 8 carries and 46 yards. Tannehill, quarterback for the Lopes also completed five of five passes for 84 yards.

Williams scored on a 30 yard run and a 29 yard pass, Tannehill scored on a one yard run and Gonzales on a 15 yard run.

Coach David Thompson said he was very pleased with the way the team played Friday night and they put forth a tremendous effort. He said the club still made a few little mistakes but they were working on correcting them. Thompson said the boys were having excellent workouts during two-a-days and were getting better with each workout.

The Lopes came out of the scrimmage with bumps and bruises but nothing serious. Adam Mendoza had a twisted knee and Curtis Clinesmith a sprained neck but both were fine and working out with the club.

The freshman will be scrimmaging today (Thursday) at Snyder at Travis Field at 6 p.m. The junior varsity, depending on if Cooper has a JV team will scrimmage here Friday night at 6:30 with the varsity following at 7:30.

The public is invited and encouraged to come and support the Lopes during the scrimmage Friday night.

Semi-pro ball team has good summer

Post Semi Pro baseball team consisting of a group of young men from Post, participated in the Slaton Semi-Pro league with several other teams.

This group of young men are a great group of ball players and won several games during the league play this summer. They finished second place in the league tournament.

Coaches for the team included John Valdez and Boog Holly, and players were Danny Gunn, Raymie Holly, Bryan Compton, Roy Sappington, Lee Roy Holly, Jay Bird, Randy Ammons, Steve Shedd, Ronnie Bratcher, Charlie Clanton, Barry Tyler, Casey Zachery and Lanny Fluitt.

They were sponsored by Palmer's Well Service, B & B Liquor, Pewitt Welding Service, VFW Post 6797 of Post, and the First National Bank.

The team would like to thank all the sponsors for their support.

Lloyd Bentsen upset by horse meat sells

How many times have you heard someone say, "I'm so hungry I could eat a horse?"

Many times, I'm sure, but did you ever take it literally?

I was certainly taken aback recently when I learned that the U.S. Navy was selling horse meat for human consumption in its commissaries.

This did not sound like a palatable idea to me.

In the first place, I wouldn't want anyone to get the impression that our sailors, or soldiers for that matter, are being fed horse meat by their government.

Further, I was disappointed to think that our own military would be promoting horse meat in competition with American beef.

The production and sale of cattle for beef is a major industry in this country and especially in Texas. It is also an industry that has been experiencing a virtual depression.

For the two years before this January, cattle were selling for less than their cost of production. And because of the current recession, consumer consumption of beef has recently been declining.

Our cattle raisers do not need unnecessary competition, especially from their own back yard.

But beyond the commercial concerns, there are humane considerations. I have been told that there are serious problems related to the transportation of horses for slaughter.

Often the horses are overloaded in trucks that are not designed to carry them safely. They are not provided with adequate food and water.

Moreover, horse meat has become popular in Europe. Increasing demand for meat from American horses has driven up their price. Firms buying horses for slaughter now are frequently outbidding prospective riding horse purchasers.

Wild horses running free on public lands have also reportedly been captured illegally for the horse meat trade.

Although the sale of horses for meat does exist in the United States, it is not a major organized industry. There simply are not enough horses. So we certainly don't need our armed forces to be promoting the development of a domestic horse meat market.

With these thoughts in mind, I wrote to the Secretary of the Navy protesting commissary sales of horse meat. Other senators from beef producing states also wrote expressing similar concerns.

By the next day, a Navy spokesman contacted my staff, explaining that the horse meat sales had been a test project in selected commissaries.

For both commercial and humanitarian reasons, I am pleased that the U. S. Navy responded so quickly in terminating the sale of horse meat in its commissaries.

BASEBALL'S LEGENDS MAKING COMEBACK

Wouldn't it be great to see Hank Aaron hit another home run? See Yogi Berra step out onto the field with his catcher's mitt just one more time? See Stan Musial and Willie Mays recreate their special brand of baseball magic?

It's happening this year, when many of baseball's most fabled players step onto the field once more this summer at an Old Timer's Baseball Classic game in Washington, D.C. They are playing in the First Annual Cracker Jack Old-Timers Baseball Classic, a reunion of former National and American League greats in a five-inning game.

Baseball fans can help select the starting lineups, using write-in ballots and player guides available at Cracker Jack displays at local grocery stores. From Musial to Spahn to Aaron, there will be an exciting array of talent to consider. The guides list the League's all-time greats and their accomplishments, including Hall of Fame and All-Star awards, MVP, and other awards.

Says Herb Southwell, Cracker Jack vice president and general manager, "Baseball and Cracker Jack are a natural. They have been partners for nearly a century. We think the balloting is an exciting prelude to the game and we hope families everywhere take us up on

Many of baseball's most fabled players will step onto the field once more this summer at an Old Timer's Baseball Classic game in Washington, D.C. Our offer to 'take them out to the ballgame again'.

Part of the game's revenues will benefit the Association of Professional Baseball Players of America (APBPA), a benevolent organization dedicated to caring for ill or indigent former players.

Fans everywhere may be singing "take me out to the ballgame."

Ballots and player guides are in magazines and at Cracker Jack displays. Fans can also write to Cracker Jack Old-Timers Baseball Classic, P.O. Box 8818, Clinton, Iowa 52736.

Welch selected Outstanding

Richard Lee Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Welch of Post, has been selected as an Outstanding Young Man of America for 1982.

Richard in receiving this distinctive honor, joins an elite group of young men from the entire United States who have demonstrated their excellence in professional endeavors and civic activities.

These men work diligently to make their cities, as well as their country, a better place in which to live, and deserve recognition for their outstanding achievements. Richard now lives in Montgomery, Alabama.

Researchers study oil field traffic road damage

COLLEGE STATION — Transportation researchers at Texas A&M University are helping the state highway department put an emotional issue — damage to roads from oilfield trucks — in proper perspective.

"It was only logical that these roads would fail under heavy oil field traffic," said John Mason, a research associate with the Texas Transportation Institute (TTI). "The pavements on most of the damaged roads were never intended to carry anything but farm-to-market traffic. When the roads were built, nobody anticipated the oil boom in such areas as Brazos and Burleson counties."

Mason said the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation is trying to understand the road problems associated with the oil industry so that proper maintenance can be scheduled and plans made for future construction.

Lions International honors Clements

AUSTIN — Governor Bill Clements has been awarded the Medal of Distinction from Lions Club International for his outstanding contributions toward drug abuse awareness and anti-drug legislation. The medal is the highest service award given by the club to a non-member.

Everett J. "Ebb" Grindstaff of Ballinger, President of Lions Club International, presented the award to the Governor in Austin recently. With strong support of the Texas law enforcement community, 14 of the 16 elements of the Governor's anti-crime and War on Drugs legislative package were adopted by the Legislature and signed into law during the 67th legislative session. Lions Clubs around the world are using Governor Clements' War on Drugs program to pattern drug awareness and education programs nationally and internationally. The program was presented at the International Lions Club convention held July 3 in Atlanta. Lions Club is the world's largest service organization, with 35,000 clubs and 1.4 million members.

The Governor has also been honored for his leadership in anti-crime, anti-drug legislation by the Texas District and County Attorneys Association, the Institute of Criminal Justice Studies of Southwest Texas State University, the Texas Crime Prevention Association, the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, the Greater Dallas Crime Commission, the Texas Sheriff Association, the Commanders of the Regional Organized Crime Units in Texas, and the International Narcotic Enforcement Officer Association.

Let's ask the experts

Is There A Social Security Ability-To-Pay Problem?

Social Security seems to be in some financial difficulty, but, according to the experts at the American Academy of Actuaries, there are solutions, and they need not be severe.

The financing of Social Security is actuarial in nature. With the program facing a shortage of funds, America's actuaries have some advice for Congress on how to make Social Security more secure.

First, they say, hold down future benefit increases. Presently, benefits are tied to the Consumer Price Index. If, instead, benefit increases were tied to wage increases, the result should help the system in the short-run without being unfair to any age group.

Then, for the long-term, the actuaries say, the government should gradually increase retirement age to 68 between 1990 and 2000, since by 2000, persons age 74 are expected to have the same life expectancy as those aged 65 in 1940. Requiring government and non-profit workers to participate in Social Security might help too, as would government encouragement of IRA and private pension plans.

BANANA SPLIT, ITALIAN STYLE

- 6 egg yolks
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 6 tablespoons Amaretto di Saronno
- 6 large bananas
- 1 pint each strawberry, vanilla and pistachio ice cream
- Whipped cream, cherries, sliced almonds

In the top part of a double boiler, mix egg yolks, sugar and Amaretto di Saronno. Place mixture over hot simmering (not boiling) water and beat with an electric mixer until very thick and creamy, about 7 minutes. Remove from heat and continue beating until mixture is warm. Peel bananas and slice lengthwise and place in serving dishes. Top each banana with 3 scoops of ice cream — strawberry, vanilla and pistachio. Spoon warm Amaretto di Saronno mixture over ice cream. Top with whipped cream, cherries, almonds. Serves 6.

RECEIVE SERVICE AWARDS — Two long time Postex employees, Iva Lee Bullard, left, and Ruth Hill, right, are shown with Plant Manager, Don Smith, who presented them with service awards in a meeting held in their honor. Mrs. Bullard has completed 30 years continuous employment with Burlington Industries, all in the spinning department. She was a spinner for many of those years, then a spooler tender, and now is in the roll coverer position. Mrs. Hill has completed 20 years as a lab technician in the quality control department.

Damage and thefts head crime news

Officers arrested several during the week and received reports of some damage and some thefts.

David Josh Zimmerman was arrested for theft by check on a Potter County warrant, was unable to make bond, and was taken back to Potter County by their officers.

Abraham Guitierrez was arrested Sunday night for driving while intoxicated, and was released on a $750 bail bond.

Timothy Paul Brown was arrested Saturday night for having an open container of alcohol in a dry area, and released on a $56 cash bond.

Onesimo Armendariz was arrested Monday on an assault warrant, and was fined $26.

James W. Fields remains in Garza County jail following his arrest for issuance of a bad check.

Friday, August 20, two Doberman dogs were reported stolen from a fenced area at 613 May Street, valued at $250.

Wednesday, August 18, officers were called to the Western Lounge to investigate the breaking of a windshield of a 1978 Datsun pickup belonging to Ron Walker.

Thursday, August 19, an AM-FM Cassette and booster equalizer was reported stolen from a vehicle owned by Doyle Carruth at 307 West 15th. A juvenile was arrested in connection with the burglary and put on 6 months probation.

OPEN HOUSE EXHIBIT — The fire department joined with the EMTs Saturday in their open house and exhibited several pieces of new equipment which have been recently purchased. Shown l to r, Delbert Rudd, Ronnie Metsgar, fire chief Bobby Terry and fire marshall, Ray Bagby.

War II planes to fly August 28

World War II planes will fly again on August 28, over Brownfield, Texas, as Colonels of the Confederate Air Force take to the air in a dazzling and exciting display of various fly-bys and maneuvers. Types of historic combat aircraft included in the display are several types of trainers, medium and heavy bombers, and fighter planes of many varieties.

The Panhandle Squadron of Brownfield is sponsoring this event and invitations have been extended to Colonels throughout the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma area to participate.

Gates will open at the Terry County Airport, 5 miles east of Brownfield, at 10 a.m., and the aircraft will be on display to the public until airshow time at 2 p.m. Admission is $5 per person, with children under 12 admitted free. Concession stands will be available, along with a mobile PX with various WWII memorabilia.

John Forburger, Airshow Chairman, anticipates a great deal of interest in this area and estimates a large crowd will enjoy a "close up" look at the historic aircraft as well as the excitement of seeing them in action.

The Colonels participating in the show are members of the Confederate Air Force, an organization dedicated to the preservation of the combat aircraft of World War II, to be maintained in flying condition.

Women's CofC in meeting

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce met at the Reddy Room, August 11, to discuss future projects.

Those members present included Iva Hidman, Betty Posey, Geraldine Butler, Donna Stelzer, Lois Cook, Voda Beth Gradine, Diane Graves, La Gayluah Feagin and Shirley Hardin.

School board—

(Continued From Page One) previous motion of all students paying 40 cents from the record and to follow board procedure, Dr. Charles McCook and Don Payne voted "no" with the motion carrying.

Jack Lott, president of the board asked the board members what they would like to see done about the lunch program and the board said that it would like to see the 15 percent of paying students brought down to as near as reduced lunch fee as possible.

Following several motions on set figures which did not carry, the board decided on setting the reduced lunch program at 40 cents, free breakfast program for those who qualify, $1.45 for adults and 50 cents for all full paying students, and 70 cents for full paying on the breakfast, with 30 cents set at the reduced breakfast rate.

This revised motion on set prices will be in effect for the first school semester with the board to look the program over again at the end of the semester to see if it needs to be revised at that time.

Farmers may be eligible for ECP assistance

Hail and excessive rains during the month of June have caused severe crop and land damage in parts of Garza County. Farms suffering severe damage may be eligible for assistance under the Emergency Conservation Program (ECP) administered by the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) if the damage:

1. Will be so costly to rehabilitate that Federal assistance is or will be required to return the land to productive agricultural use.
2. Is unusual and is not the type that would recur frequently.
3. Materially affects the productive capacity of the farmland.
4. If not treated will impair or endanger the land.

Eligible farmers qualifying for ECP assistance may receive cost-share levels not to exceed 64 percent of the total eligible cost of performing the following types of measures:

1. Grading and shaping severely damaged farmland.
2. Restoring damaged terraces and ponds.
3. Establishing a protective cover on damaged farmland.

Farmers who feel the damage is sufficiently severe and their capabilities are such that assistance is necessary to correct the problem should contact the county ASCS office and request assistance by not later than September 20, 1982, the deadline for filing requests.

Practices should not be started until an "on-site" inspection of the damaged area has been made by the county committee or its representative. The county committee will review this inspection when considering the request for cost-share assistance.
